BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH,
"HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

I have often noticed the different freaks who go to moving picture shows and thought about their different doings in scholarship in Chattanooga. It is evident that my friend, Thorndike, of the Palm Beach Post has also been studying this species and gets off into the movies. He has also been writing about some of them.

If there is one thing more than another that I dearly love it is to sit in a movie show close beside the man or woman who will nod along every word that is thrown on the screen. I always fancy that I can read to myself a little better than the other fellow can because it is not aloud.

Next to the fellow who is always telling how the "best act in the play" is coming out, and the one who relates the whole history of the book he is loaning you, I think that he who reads the movie titles is the near limit. He would drive any man to desperation via the cocoa route, eat at least one of the commandments to be shivered, and spoil a fellow's membership in any church in the land.

There is a little malice throwing peanuts and candy in the theater, and another against smoking; why not put the soft pedal on the man who thinks that he is the only one in the whole house that can read? What?

I have remarked several times in this column of nonsensical dope that the tourists or the usual rump of them coming to Florida expected more for the money than any of our people when they went north and that the story of people getting trimmed down here in the winter time by the cracker was all nonsense. The man who goes to Florida in the winter gets more for the money than we get in our peripateticians in Yankee Doodle land. My old friend, Goode Guerry (at least the article is signed G. M. G. in the Tampa Tribune) sets forth his ideas along this line in plain language in an article about "Trimming the Tourist," and it is so much to the point and echoes my sentiments so nearly that I reproduce it here:

Every year some unimformed boot lines and asserts that it is the open season for plucking the tourist in Florida. We are in the midst of that supposedly opulent period just now. Others have come and gone, and our observation is that the average visitor from the north escapes total insolvency without much trouble while in Florida, and many usually make their trip down this way per. This talk of plucking the tourist is all tommyrot.

As a matter of fact nearly every southerner comes to Florida looking for something. That he usually gets it is evidenced by the return trips he makes. He spends his silver sparingly for Florida's golden sunshine, and many of our more insolvent citizens have absorbed thrift and close dealing by association with the visitors. They all carry their money in a sack with a string around it.

Stories are brought to us of the lavish expenditures of the plutocrats who infest the East Coast, but they usually get their money's worth. It is about as hard to separate a northern tourist from his coin in Florida as it is to divorce a raw Mid-Cracker in New York from his forty-four. We do not mean that our doors are not always open to these visitors, no matter where they halt from, but we do wish to correct the impression that they stuck in and threw their money over the transom, or wear it loosely fastened to their coat sleeves. They don't, for if they are able to make the trip down here they are usually thrifty and industrious and few of them fall even for land by the quart without seeing it first.

The truth of the matter is that our home people are really the most liberal spenders. The average business man will tell me that this is true. There is no closer student of the tipping microbe in the world than the black who waits upon diners in our cafes. They will tell you that this pest has been well frozen out of the average tourist, who arrives here and dines out. They hand their nickels and dimes and present an example which we all might do well to emulate.

Whenever we hear anyone talk about trimming the tourist we call to mind an incident of last winter, when a tall, weather hardened, prosperous looking citizen from Indiana, with a portly wife and several children, trailing in his wake, entered a restaurant. He marshaled his forces in front of the cashier's desk and demanded to see the bill of fare before he would allow any of his family to enter into any obligation by being seated. Regular meals were marked on the bill at 35 cents each. When ascertained that he could not split three dinners among six people he marched out to look for a closer bargain.

The tourist is not a goose with a tendency to lay golden eggs. He is a turkey looking for crackers.

The struggle in our Congress over battleship is like the struggle in the leading countries of Europe. France borrowing hundreds of millions to pit England appropriating about $250,000,000, may have some effect to stimulate the armor plate men in our country to fan the war flame.

At regular intervals we are assured that war is just on the verge of breaking out with Japan. We are warned that Japan would stand if huge armament makers in the United States will not stand up to our unpreparedness and the people refuse sturdy to get excited over such things and congress reflects that sentiment in its refusal to go into greatly extensive system or policy of naval expansion.

The great body of the people have the interests of self preservation at heart, but a few of them have the personal interests of armor plate makers and warship builders and allied interests, which are organized and have a paid press, and have representatives in public life to do everything they can to stimulate the fighting spirit.

They would keep the country stirred up with the idea that some morning after breakfast we shall hear that the Orient has moved and we are at the mercy of Asiatics, or, on the other hand, that Germany has resolved to conquer a large section of South America, in spite of the Monroe doctrine, and we are powerless to stop it, though of course we should have to go to war if such a move were made.

"I thought," said the second member, "that you always rode a wheel Sunday?"

"So do I," replied the first member "that's why I'm here."

"I don't understand," stammered the second member in bewildered tones.

"It's this way," replied the first: "Providence has enabled me to miss 16,000 gumblasted automobiles in the last month. I'm a good Hopalong. Therefore, I visit church in the morning, square myself with Providence, and then go riding on my big job in the afternoon."

"It sounds foolish," commented the second member.

"Of course it does to you," retorted the first. "You're a howling Democrat, and you'd rather get run over by a automobile than pay tariff to Providence." —Washington Star.

Rudolph Was Wise.

A man who was a regular patron of a certain restaurant, said to the waiter:

"Rudolph, instead of tipping, you every day I'm going to give you your tip in a lump sum next Christmas."

"Thank you, sir," answered Rudolph, "but, er, would you mind paying me something in advance, sir?"

"H'm. It's a funny request," said the patron, "but before—she's five dollars for you. What's the matter, do you need the money, or don't you trust my memory?"

"Oh, no sir," smiled Rudolph, pocketing the bill. "It isn't that, only I'm leaving here today, sir."

Worth Knowing.

Tennis balls can be cleaned with pipe clay mixed with enough water to form a smooth paste; add to this a melted tallow candle and allow it to cool. Then brush all the dust off the balls, take a lump of the pipe clay tallow mixture and dissolve it in cold water to the consistency of cream. Apply to the balls with a sponge, let dry and wipe off gently.

Appreciate Your Blessings.

Don't kick because you have to button your wife's waist. Be glad your wife has a waist, and doubly glad you have a wife to button a waist for. Some men's wives' waists have no buttons on to button. Some men's wives' waists who have buttons on to button don't care a continental whether they are buttoned or not. Some men don't have any wives' with waists with buttons on to button.—Teague (Tex) Chronicle.

Gigantic Bog Oak Tree.

Twenty tons of bog oak were recently unearthed at Llanwryd Wells, Wales. It measures 48 feet long with a diameter of 2 feet 9 inches. This giant oak tree is by far the largest which has been found, within memory on the peat land near Llanwryd. Portions of it have been exposed for some years, but no one thought it of such dimensions and no interest was taken in it until a few days ago.

Having Too Many Things.

Many nervous, irritable, dissatisfied, unhappy women would become calm and contented if they would store, give or throw away half of their belongings. Some have abandoned elaborate residences and taken their families into hotels or boarding houses who could have continued to keep up their homes if, instead of giving up the houses themselves, they had done away with the superfluous furnishings.

FOR THE AUTO VISITOR.

Cinnamon Toast a Delight That Is Easily Prepared.

It is the frequent experience of the tourist in the suburbs in these days to receive visits unexpectedly from friends who are touring in automobiles, and the finds that she does not have enough knowledge to entertain ten always on hand. First among delicacies easily prepared is cinnamon toast.

Use a dark butter of fancy shape and cut thin slices of white bread, spread with butter, then sprinkle thickly with powdered cinnamon and sugar on one side. Put the buttered sides together sandwich fashion, and toast. This leaves the exposed toasted sides absolutely dry, and the sandwich can then be eaten without the use of a fork.

Another delicacy in the way of a sandwich is called dream cake. This is prepared in the same way except that instead of the cinnamon and sugar a slice of dainty cheese is used as a filling, while a dash of paprika, a little salt and a bit of mustard, if desired, are added.

The combination of Boston brown bread and white bread spread with cream cheese proves also palatable to many and cut in fancy shapes is attractive as well. Chopped nuts may be mixed with the cheese when desired.

Tomato sandwiches are another appealing adjunct to the afternoon tea table. Cut slices of white bread, but do not butter them. Cut very thin slices of tomato, being careful to choose those not too ripe; add mayonnaise or, if preferred, French dressing.

A combination of tomato, lettuce and green peppers, all chopped very fine and made into a paste by adding creamy cheese, a little oil and vinegar, pepper and salt and put between slices of graham bread, is also a delicious sandwich.

If one has soft-baked rolls ready, it is easy to prepare them by toasting the rolls lengthwise and fill with watercress, well salted. No oil or vinegar is used in this case.

Kitchen Chat.

A preserve for which our English cousins are rightly famous is a combination of green grapes and damsons. First of all, a syrup should be made of five cups of sugar, the juice of six very sweet oranges, one-half pint each of brown brandy and port wine. Cover and let simmer for an hour. Allow it to come to a boil then add two quarts of green grapes and one of damsons—the stones having been removed.

One teaspoonful of their kernels, however, is to be added. Again the pan must be covered and the contents allowed to simmer for an hour. Remove from the fire and leave jam to stand over night in the same pan. On the following day bottle the mixture and seal. This is warranted to keep for months if properly sealed. It also makes a good tart filling.

An Easy to Copy Style.

This delicious little frock is of thin lace, crape in perky blue, with a peg top skirt divided to form a slightly slashed effect at the bottom of the skirt, which, by the way, has an inset of plaid cotton.

Pointed lace is used on the bodice of the crape crossed over a chemise.

A. VAUGHN

For County Commissioner.

My experience thus far in answering and equalizing the tax of Seminole county has convinced me that the best method to do this is to have a thorough investigation of the various properties obtainable in the county, and to make a statement of the various taxes of Seminole county, the very best of which is to be done by the County Auditor. I offer to serve as Auditor for the forthcoming Democratic primary.

MARSHAL BROWN HONORED

Former Engineer Is Remembered

By Tim Boy

In the private office of United States Marshal J. Clifford Brown, on the third floor of the government building, the marshal for the Southern District of Florida, was taken completely unawares yesterday afternoon just as the clock in the tower of the building was striking the hour of four.

During the early part of the afternoon there had been several former railroad co-workers of Marshal Brown coming in, telegraphically visiting him finally they arrived in a body while at the same time the deputy marshals entered by another door, the occasion being one of those which come to men who are esteemed by their friends. United States Marshal Brown being armed with a handgun.

The Judge just received a telegram from his wife, Mrs. Clifford Brown, telling him that he had been shot in the heart and was dead.

In addition to the preservation remarks of the committee, consisting of W. M. Parkes and R. H. Witham, a message in writing was delivered to Mr. Brown from a group of his fellowmen.

"My brother, during your years of service among us, you have always been a good example to us, and I hope to believe that a person finds in nearly every church what he earnestly seeks."

Mr. Judge just received a telegram from his wife, Mrs. Clifford Brown, telling him that he had been shot in the heart and was dead.

Marshal Brown, previous to his appointment, resided in Lakeland and during his last session of the legislature was representative from Polk county and was chairman of the committee on labor. MARCH 6, 1914

Committee Will Meet
Chairman of Palatka, chairman of State Democratic Central committee, has called a meeting of the committee for March 14 at Jacksonville under such arrangements as the committee needs to make up for the June primary will be taken up.

The meeting will congege at the Aragon hotel at 11:30 o'clock and will probably be in session most of the day.

There is a good deal of uncertainty as to what functions the committee will have under the new state law which puts the expense of making the primary arrangements on the state and the counties and cuts the county and state committees out of it. A good deal of work that they have been accustomed to perform.

However, it will afford an occasion for the first real gathering of the clergymen since the session of the legislature and the politicians will be glad to get together and talk over the line up for the congressional fight. The lines have been well drawn long before this of course, but this is the first time they have had the chance of making a show down or of estimating the justice of the other fellow's claims. George P. Raney of this city is the Hillsborough county member of the committee and will probably be in attendance.

County Chairman B. L. Blackburn has called a meeting of the county committee on the same date to be held in the courthouse. There is considerable uncertainty as to who are members of the committee on account of the rearrangements of the precincts and the fact that two precincts are added. Two or three members of the committee have resigned or moved away, too. In all probability the present member will still be a member of the new committee until there has been an opportunity to make a readjustment.

OVIEDO RISING FROM THE ASHES

HUSTLING LITTLE CITY OF SEMINOLE COUNTY IS BUILDING FIVE FINE BRICK STORE BUILDINGS

BY R. J. HOLLY

Phoenix has risen from the ashes of Seminole county. B. G. Smith is also erecting but a few feet from the site of his former home, a new brick house, soon to be ready for occupancy, describing a city rising from the ashes. H. B. McCall was another who began the task of a destruction fire and was the first to start the work. The first of the five immediately erected has been completed, exemplified by a grand, two-story, four-bay brick block on the ground floor across the front of Main street and Seminole Avenue, Oviedo, the second city of Seminole county when finished will contain three store rooms on the ground floor and a bay that bids fair to grow large stores.

and the other two are now occupied that are nothing short of marvellous when one contemplates the size of the building.

The main street of the town presents a picture of a broad avenue of solid stone, paved and bounded by trees, street is worthy of commercial and in a few years the town will be a picture of grandeur, the streets being wide and spacious, the buildings substantial and attractive.

The new building is to be a two-story structure, the lower story to be used for a new and up to date hotel, the upper story for a bank and two story residence.

W. H. Dawson, architect, says the building will be a credit to the town.

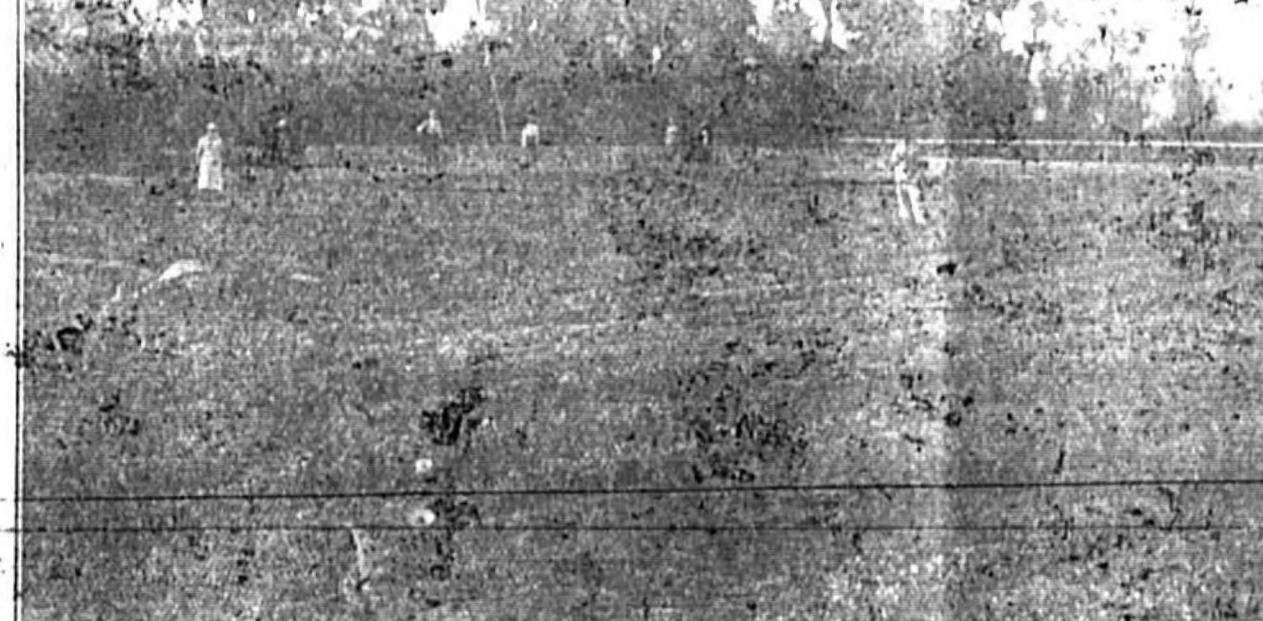

He has been offered a contract for major department store, but has enough business to keep him busy.

He has also been offered a contract for a two-story building on the corner of Main and Seminole.

Two smaller buildings were erected last fall, but have not yet been completed.

The new buildings will be a credit to the town and the people.

It is expected that the new buildings will be completed in time for the opening of the new school year.

But the new business is to be housed in the brick building contracts have been let to Mr. John McKenzie, who were the only merchants unbroken by the ravages of the flames as they swept the entire block.

Pecan
Culture
Means Ready
Money for Farmers

Every farmer should have at least a few pecan trees. While coming into maturity, the trees will not interfere with other crops. They will begin to bear in five to seven years from planting and if properly grown will produce 25 to 50 pounds a tree by the tenth year.

The big pecan orchards may or may not prove profitable—much depends upon the management. There always will be a good market for pecan nuts, however, and the farmer who grows the trees along with other crops will find them a sure investment—a dependable source of ready money year in and year out.

Griffings' 1914 Tree Book

This work shows how pecans may be made profitable—gives instructions as to planting, care and culture. It shows the original Big 2 pecan tree and describes this grand new variety. Griffings has introduced several splendid pecans but in many respects Big 2 is the best yet. Every farmer should plant it.

Other fruits that farmers should grow more generally have special attention in this book. It covers fully all the fruits that are adapted to the South, also shrubs, trees and plants for decorative purposes. The book is a complete planting guide—write today for a copy. Nurseries at ten convenient Gulf Coast points. Address Griffings Brothers

With the number of plain Sanford citizens who understand perfectly how the Mexican trouble should be quelled, it is surprising that Mr. Wilson hasn't determined a more effective policy before now.

Went to open the Sanford Herald and the heading "Kiss," struck me a sideswipe. Thought it was another case of Holly—and they the paper wholly opened and I saw the rest of the line was summer boxes for oil. It was a happy relief.—Palm Beach Post.

J. E. Worthington of the Tampa Times has been up in the air this week, being the first Florida newspaper man to try the air boat at Peterburg. Worthington says it was one time in his life when he looked down on other people.

The man who would kick in Sanford this season should either be sent to jail for life, or to some other equally undesirable place, at least one that is hotter than this. We should now form the Boosters Club with a life membership.

Every man, woman and child ought to save. That is the earnest and repeated exhortation of practically all the good and wise men who have ever lived. To learn to save is really one of the most important lessons of life. HAVE YOU learned it yet?

On general principles a war is a bad thing; it is a reproach to civilization, kills off the male population and fastens life long and destructive habits upon countless thousands. Moreover, a war may breed another Theodore Roosevelt. A nation, especially this one, should proceed with great care and much regard for precedent.

E. G. Johnson, known among his many friends as Pat Johnson, is a candidate for the legislature from Osceola county and will take the stump against Editor Trippet of the Kissimmee Gazette. Both are good men and Osceola is bound to be well represented, no matter which one wins.

Isn't it a fact that the Sanford stroller opines Orlando needs a manager in her prosperity? Orlando City.

The joke will be on you, Bro. Howard, if you fail to wake up in time to get one, and when we think about it we believe Howard himself would be the very man for the place.

The Orlando papers are all complaining of the drought of politics in their respective bailiwicks and in order to liven up things for our brethren in distress the Herald will suggest some few candidates who ought to represent Orange county in the legislature.

The Sanford celery crop is going forward to market freely and is bringing excellent prices. Fifty-two cars were shipped last week, making a total up to date of 302 cars. The shipments this week, it is estimated will run to 125 to 140 cars, which will make it the heaviest of the season. The condition of the crop is good, about the best that has ever been raised in that district. The crop is running in good size and well balanced stock is being forwarded.—Tampa Times.

Says a Kansas editor. We attended church a few days ago and listened to a good sermon. We also enjoyed the singing and stood up with the brothers and sisters as they sang that good old hymn, Shall we know each other there? While it was being sung we looked around us and counted thirty members of the congregation who did not speak to each other, on the street or elsewhere, and the thought occurred to us, why should they know each other there, when they seemingly didn't know each other here?

It is also folly to say that a child's time isn't worth anything. It is of infinite worth to the child to be out of doors playing. They are confined in a school room with some degree of sacrifice of their health. They should not be confined two hours to do one hour work. No teacher can give proper attention to 40 or 50 pupils, and yet we find many who desire the reputation of high brows insisting on compulsory education which would add 30 or 40 or 50 per cent to the number in our already over crowded schoolrooms. It would be much better to not permit any pupil to attend school more than half the year. By halving the attendance the teachers would have an opportunity to teach their pupils instead of merely keeping them in a room.

As a matter of fact with many parents the chief idea of school is a place where somebody else goes to the trouble of keeping their children out of mischief, and that is about all a teacher, with 40 or 50 pupils can do.

A fine school house would be a credit to any community if it were built, out of a surplus of funds after enough good teachers had been employed at reasonable salaries. Where this is not true the buildings are at the expense of the teaching, for the money spent for them might be used to get more or better teachers.—Times Union.

THAT LITTLE PRESS CLUB

The editor of The Herald is a great believer in getting together and realizing the vast amount of good to be obtained by a press club or association of the newspaper men and job printers in this territory, comprising the counties of Seminole, Orange, Osceola, Lake and Volusia. Who would like to hear them on the subject and if every one of them in these five counties will write us about it a meeting can be called for Wednesday March 25th at any place centrally located for the purpose of organizing a Lake Region Press Association. This counter attraction will not in any way interfere with the Florida Press Association but will be of great assistance by demonstrating the value of association and affiliation of printers. Let this fact be known to the boys of the five counties and if the date and place meets with the approbation of all we will meet.

EDUCATIONAL HUMBUGS

All over Florida new school buildings are being erected, and the communities that build them take great pride in them. We are not sure that they should not be ashamed of them.

Does a new and fine school building show that a community takes great interest in education? Rather it shows that it takes a great interest in a pretense of education. A costly school building occupied by thirty or thirty-five-dollar-a-month teachers is a shame but it looks well in a picture.

We regret to see Florida so much interested in splurging educationally. A negro book gets from $13 to $20 per month and board. We refer to the ordinary book—not to the more skilled. There are more white teachers in Florida who don't get $20 per month above their board than there are who do. There are many who do not get $13 per month above their board. But quite a number teach in $50,000 schools, and the janitor who makes the fires and sweeps the floors receives better pay than many of the teachers.

In educational matters the state of Florida is either dishonest or wasteful. If the teacher who gets from $30 to $15 per month are worth more, it is dishonest not to pay them more. If they are worth less, it is foolish to waste the time of children on a teacher not worth more than $10 or $15 per month.

POOR BOYS WHO BECAME RICH

If you want to be anything in life or in your own community, save your money, and begin to do it right away. Saving puts a man together, makes him fit and able to do things. Before you know it you are getting on—adding money and becoming a solid citizen. Save out of every ten successful men have grown up that way. Marks Hadim.

There is a veritable palace on Madison Drive, New York city, the residence of Charles M. Schwab, former president of the United States Steel Corporation. Over on Fifth avenue there is an even more magnificent one for Henry C. Frick, holding millions of dollars, while nearby on the same famous thoroughfare, is the New York residence of the cigar "Laird of Skins," Mr. J. A. Siegel, who has been the making of his two neighbors just mentioned, to say nothing of about twenty other millionaires whose early industry and thrift were rewarded by this famous steel magnate—a very poor boy himself in the beginning, starting his gainful work as a bob bin boy in the cotton factory.

James J. Hill, the railroad president and empire builder, who was a farmer's boy in Canada and New York state; Frederick Weyerhaeuser, the millionaire lumberman; H. L. Doherty, the Columbus, Ohio, newspaper, who became a New York banker; Edward Hawley, who died in control of several railroads, although his first job paid him only four dollars a week, a farmer's boy, who got married on $50, and now owns 600 stores and the highest building in the world; Frank A. Vandeventer, the Illinois farm boy, who is now president of the biggest bank in the country; E. H. Harriman, A. H. Wiggin and C. D. Morton, three sons of poor clergymen, who became, respectively, the greatest railroad magnates and presidents of two of New York's largest financial institutions; these are only a few of the great cloud of witnesses to the wisdom of thrift and saving from income for future needs and opportunities.

But, after all, it is not the testimony of the millionaires that counts so much as it is the consensus of opinion of the great number of modestly successful people in every community who owe their success to steady saving.
