Senate Delays Today's Closed Session in Holt Impeachment Trial

Top News In Brief

MIAMI — Little Billy McCoy won parents of her very own today when a Florida judge made her the legally adopted child of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis after a long, bitter, faith battle in the courts.

PARIS — A government of socialists today said that France would not extradite a former American officer and his wife accused of spying for Russia unless the United States can prove they were criminals.

WASHINGTON — Experts placing the recent Kremlin shake-up together said today Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Soviet Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev apparently failed to see eye-to-eye at an important stage of the party's power battle.

JERUSALEM, Israel — Israel officials described the Syrian border situation today as "grave" and there were reports the Soviet Union was urging Syria on to further attacks on Israeli villages. But the officials said it was unlikely Tuesday's 10-hour artillery duel would precipitate an all-out war, observers thought it more likely Israeli troops might attack, occupy and destroy the Syrian positions then return across the border into Israel.

Graham Holds Outdoor Rally On Wall Street

NEW YORK — Evangelist Billy Graham tackled "big money" today, precisely where he hopes his words will have their most potent effect—in the heart of the Wall St. financial district.

The North Carolina Baptist minister holds an outdoor rally at Nassau and Wall Sts. on the steps of the U.S. Subtreasury Building, where George Washington honored his historic first inaugural address.

Graham's 25-minute talk to the men of high finance was not to be his first on "money corrupts," as he puts it. He has said repeatedly in his Madison Square Garden sermons that materialism, "the greed for and love of money" is one of America's great failings.

He also announced that he will conduct a crusade in Charlotte, N. C., in the fall of 1958. Graham has lived in Charlotte and maintains his home in Montreat, N. C.

Disturbing the Pizzeria

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — A craving for pizza pie proved the undoing of James Thurston, 22, a recent graduate of Michigan State University.

Smith and Moore said that crews were immediately called back to work and that by the end of the day all of the 1,000 Dade and Broward workers would be back at their jobs.

Parks In 'Terrible' Condition

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners inspected county parks yesterday afternoon and reported "conditions are deplorable in all of them."

Opinion of the commissioners following the tour was "some action must be taken immediately or take the county name off the map."

TALLAHASSEE — The Senate today delayed a scheduled closed session in the Holt impeachment trial in order to hear opposing attorneys discuss the actual law governing sufficiency of impeachment charges.

Rotarians Quiz Quizmaster

A well-known public relations director and "good will ambassador" for a local automobile concern was on the receiving end of a good natured "ribbing" Monday afternoon at the weekly meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club.

Everything seemed to be running smoothly until Morrison, in a "True or False" category, made the statement that the word most used over the telephone was "Hello". Jimmy Holtzclaw, manager of the Sanford Coca-Cola Bottling plant, was of the opinion the statement was correct.

Reck, of the verge of appointing a committee to search several dictionaries, finally told the program conductor to proceed. "Mister Goose was an imaginary character," was the next statement he made followed by "George Washington was the first president of the U. S."

Five-Day Wildcat Strike At 2 FPL Plants Settled

MIAMI — Company and union officials announced today that the five-day wildcat strike at Florida Power and Light Co. facilities in Dade and Broward counties had been settled.

One of the major points of the dispute had been the status of Orin F. Patten, superintendent of the Fort Lauderdale plant. The striking Brotherhood of Electrical Workers had asked that Patten be removed. The company had refused to until late Tuesday night.

McGregor Smith, chairman of the board of FPL, and Alvie Moore, business manager of the union, announced that agreement was reached at the conference today at 1:30 a.m. after a long session.

Smith and Moore said that crews were immediately called back to work and that by the end of the day all of the 1,000 Dade and Broward workers would be back at their jobs.

Excessive Theatrics

FARMINGDALE, N. J. — State police said Tuesday realism was carried a bit too far at nearby Cowbey City, a recreated Old West town where bank holdups and train robberies are staged for tourists.

"It is a step in the right direction," Commissioner Krider said this morning. "It was also revealed that the commissioners are looking for a site to be used as a picnic area which would include swimming facilities."

"We are also looking for an area for our colored people to use as a park. This area," said Commissioner John Krider, "would include picnic grounds, swimming areas, and boating facilities."

The present caretaker of Big Tree Park has been notified to vacate the area in 120 days. The action was taken at the July 2 meeting of the Board of Commissioners which would mean that the county would take over supervision of the park on Nov. 1.

ColC Directors Recommend Okay Of Airport Site

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors last night recommended the approval of an International Airport site near Sorrento in the west central portion of Central Florida.

Directors discussed the proposal and commented that "should all of the nine counties which the airport would serve get together—it might be built."

Representatives of the local chamber of commerce attended a meeting in Tavara when the proposal to locate an international airport in the area came up.

Another meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon, it was announced, at which representatives of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will voice the local recommendation. The meeting is to be held in the commissioners room of the Orange County courthouse.

Kariyle Householder, of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Armed Forces Committee, reported to the directors on the airport zoning bill.

The committee is already at work, said Householder, "in preparing to bring about a hazardous area around the Sanford Naval Air Station."

Representative Mack M. Cleveland Jr., told the group "people will appreciate the bill in years to come," as he spoke of the general zoning bill which authorized the Board of Seminole County Commissioners to set in motion a countywide zoning plan and regulations.

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors approved a recommendation "that the Board of Seminole County Commissioners, in cooperation with the County Tax Assessor, do everything possible to bring about a thorough and realistic reevaluation of properties in Seminole County."

The Skelton family flew here after making a brief stopover in Copenhagen. With Skelton on the polar flight from Los Angeles were his wife, 10-year-old daughter Valentina, and Richard, who is suffering from leukemia, a fatal blood disease.

Richard, asked what he wanted to see most while in Sweden, said "Historic places—I like history best at school."

The Skelton family will go to Denmark before continuing on to Germany, Italy and Spain.

Khrushchev Starts 9-Day Tour Of Prague

Chief Attacks West

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — Soviet Communist leader Nikita Khrushchev began a nine-day visit to Prague today by accusing the West of trying to start a "counter revolution" in Czechoslovakia and other Communist countries.

"But this, comrades, will never happen," Khrushchev told a cheering crowd estimated by Czech officials at 200,000 persons.

The Soviet party chief looked fresh and buoyant as he swung down from a special train. In contrast, Premier Nikolai Bulganin appeared tired and drawn after their 24-hour "shuttle" trip across Czechoslovakia from the Soviet border.

Khrushchev told a respectfully attentive audience that the West planned to "regenerate" Germany "in the role of a shock force in the preparation of a new war."

"We must be vigilant," Khrushchev said. "There is a constant danger as long as imperialism exists."

"The Hungarian event's quite clearly showed the real character of the designs of the imperialists," he said. "Our enemies would very much like to subvert her."

"But this, comrades, will never happen. No one will ever succeed in shaking and destroying our great commonwealth. The peoples of the Socialist countries will understand that in their fraternal unity and solidarity lies the most reliable guarantee of their freedom and independence."

The crowd in City Hall Square had been matched only once before this year—when American Olympic athlete Harold Connolly of Boston cut through the Iron Curtain red tape to marry his Czech Olympic sweetheart, Olga Fikolova.

The globe-trotting Soviet glad handlers arrived by train at 9 a. m. 4 m. EST at Prague's Central Station and were greeted by a crowd of 20,000 which packed the square in front of the station.

Czech Communist Party leaders including President Antonin Zatopecky were in the reception committee.

Blackburn Has Wide Experience With A3D's

Captain J. T. Blackburn, USN, who has been Commander Heavy Attack Wing ONE since August 1955, until relieved by Captain James K. Reedy on July 8, has had wide experience with the Navy's biggest carrier based bombers.

His previous background includes a stint as Commanding Officer, Heavy Attack Squadron FIVE, and his more recent accomplishments include a cross-country speed run piloting the A3D Skywarrior in connection with the Oklahoma City Air Show '55 year.

The recent flight from the West Coast to Oklahoma City was flown at a speed of 606.6 miles per hour, with the aircraft continuing on to Florida to finish the 2618-mile dash in 4 hours and 30 minutes.

In addition to Captain Blackburn's many and varied duties as Commanding Officer of Heavy Attack Wing ONE he devoted much of his time in planning the present and future expansion of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

His cooperation with civilian and military authorities in the program to retain the Naval Air Station at Sanford was responsible, no doubt, to a great extent for the present expansion that is underway.

His intense interest in Sanford and the Sanford community played an important part in many of the conferences and planning sessions prior to the announcement that the Sanford Naval Air Station would remain here.

Captain Blackburn was unable to attend the Change of Command ceremonies and inspection which was held Monday morning. He is presently improving from a recent illness at the Orlando Air Force Base Hospital. He delights in hearing from his many Sanford friends with whom he associated during his tour of duty here.

Captain Blackburn's naval career commenced with graduation from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1931 after which he served as a newly commissioned officer aboard the USS Mississippi. He completed naval flight training in 1937 and was assigned to bomber and fighter squadrons aboard the carrier USS Lexington. In the early part of World War II he was Commanding Officer of Fighter Squadron 29 aboard the USS Santee and took part in the North African invasion. He was (Continued On Page Ten)

Captain Blackburn Is Devoted To Navy

AN EDITORIAL One of the by-products of a military career is the continual moving from one place to another.

As one becomes more experienced as a military man his services are needed at this base or that one to increase the efficiency of the defense of our country.

That is the reason we lose such valuable citizens to Sanford as Captain J. T. Blackburn, who for two years has commanded Heavy Attack Wing One at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Jaycee Directors Propose Club's Name Be Changed

The Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors has agreed to change the name of the organization with the stipulation that club members voice their opinion by vote on the proposed change.

The name change would involve the adding of a name to their present title. The proposed name change would be Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Reasons for the proposed change, proponents in the young businessmen organization pointed out would provide better advertising of Sanford and Seminole County by trying them together. It would also provide a better identification at conferences and conventions; pave the way for new Jaycee Clubs in the county and give a more realistic name in the club which is not now countywide.

A charter and bylaws committee was appointed to investigate the proposal and recommended these changes.

Other proposals in bylaw changes were: to increase the value of real estate the club may hold and increase the indebtedness to which the club may subject itself. This change, it was stated in the Jaycee Journal, is necessary to carry out the Jaycee Building Project.

Another change would increase the number of directors by adding a third vice president, a historian, and two additional directors.

The entire proposal will be discussed at tomorrow's luncheon meeting at the Yacht Club and a vote taken.

Shipmates Say Last Farewells

A hot wind blew across the str station as it baked under the summer sky. The chapel was white and cool after the hot sun. A single wreath was a reminder of this solemn occasion.

They came in slowly. Men in khaki and men in white. Men who had come here today to say farewell for the last time to their friends and shipmates who perished Saturday night in the flaming horror of a plane crash.

Slowly they came and slowly they filled the chapel until there was no room. Each man had sorrow written on his face. The services began, and the quiet voices of the priest and chaplain were disturbed only by the roar of planes in the background, a reminder that no matter what the tragedy life must go on. These four men died serving their country and their fellow men must fill the gap. The defense of our country cannot be denied.

As those assembled united in prayer for the dead, there was no one present who did not feel that the souls of those who died were purged and rested. The loss will hurt for a long time, but a feeling of peace replaced this afternoon the compelling disturbance of grief.

Blood Donors Offered Free Steak Dinner

The bloodmobile of the Central Florida Blood Bank will be at the Elks Club tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 6 p. m. to accept donations of blood from members of the Elks Club or from any citizen who would like to place blood to their own account or to the account of some organization.

Members of the Elks Club who contribute blood to the Elks Club Blood Bank will receive a free steak dinner, according to Ralph Wright, chairman of the Elks Club Blood Bank Committee.

When Rushing To Accident Scene Don't Get In Way Of Rescuers

It is a natural tendency for most of us to be curious.

And when the unusual happens, such as the tragedy of last Saturday night when a Sanford Naval Air Station plane crashed nearby, most of us take off in our automobiles and trucks to get a first-hand look at what has happened.

Very few ever think about what might happen in an area such as that of the Saturday night occurrence.

The roads leading to homes and camp on Silver Lake are narrow. As a matter of fact, they're hardly wide enough for two cars to pass on now, under normal conditions.

When the A3D Sky Warrior went down into the wooded area to crash, it was necessary that hundreds of men and officers reach the scene quickly. Some of them were driving huge crash trucks with equipment to cope with the fiery flames of the burning plane. Others were ambulances carrying doctors, corpsmen, stretchers and other supplies necessary to meet any situation. There were jeeps loaded with members of the security detachment to police the immediate area in which the plane was located.

And there were the roads crowded and blocked by automobiles parked in any position just so long as they were placed where the occupants could get to where fire could be seen.

The tragic part of the whole thing is this: there could have been many lives lost on that road Saturday night. Lives of citizens in those automobiles.

Every Navy man on that road Saturday night had one thing on his mind—carrying out orders to "get to that scene as quickly as possible to accomplish an assigned mission"—whether it be to pour fire consuming foam on the burning wreckage, help an injured mate in distress, complete a security guard around the wreckage so that investigators could carry on unhampered, or to administer soothing medication to someone injured.

Several instances stood out "like a sore thumb" where automobiles were all matted up in a conglomerated mass hindering the progress of vehicles that were ordered to reach the scene as quickly as possible.

Red lights flashed, sirens blasted—but the automobiles were in the way and hindered the proper carrying out of necessary relief of one kind or another.

And here's another thing that most of us are prone to forget about. The planes that leave the runways of the Sanford Naval Air Station—as has been stated time and time again—are fully loaded. At the time of a crash no one knows whether or not there might be gasoline tanks, oxygen tanks and other types of tanks that might explode with the least provocation laying around anywhere in the vicinity. There is actual danger lurking at every turn wherever you might step or go.

There may be times in the future when the loss of a second—when a minute might mean the loss of a life—as ambulances shriek their way back to the hospital or dispensary. And goodness knows, none of us want to be in the way when a life may be saved.

The next time there is an accident, think first before you take off for the scene. Remember that you may lose your life one way or another. Or you may be responsible for the loss of a life.

If you must go to the scene of an accident, park far enough away so that your car will never be in the way. Stay out of the way of fast-moving vehicles.

And above all listen to the instructions given by law enforcement officers who coordinate their activities with those in charge at the scene of the tragedy.

Navy Says Grateful To County

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has received three letters from the Navy Department in response to an equal number of resolutions passed by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The resolutions were presented to Captain Robert W. Jackson just prior to his leaving the Sanford area after serving as Commanding Officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station for two years.

From the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy the letter read: "The Chief of Naval Personnel is pleased to receive such favorable tribute and appreciates your courtesy in bringing this matter to his attention. These resolutions

Six Satellites Expected To Be Launched In '58

WASHINGTON — Scientists expect at least six American earth satellites to be launched into space-paths around the earth before Dec. 31, 1958.

But, it was disclosed, they are banking on no more than four "successful" flights.

In any event, the first U. S. satellite is not expected to soar skyward before early 1958. The Soviet Union, also is working on satellites, but its expected schedule for launching them is not known.

American plans were reported to the national committee for the International Geophysical Year by Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the earth satellite panel.

Porter's paper was a highlight of a three-day symposium on the eve of I.G.Y., which starts at 8 p.m., Sunday and will continue through 1958.

Porter disclosed that scientists now expect the satellite's 18,000-mile-an-hour flight to last some three months with the moon approaching as close as 200 miles to the earth and soaring as much as 1,200 or 1,500 miles away.

Ultimately it will spiral down and be consumed by the heat of friction with the atmosphere. It was supposed previously that this would occur in a matter of weeks.

The rocket program, Porter said, "is progressing in such a way as to indicate a reasonable probability that six fully instrumental launchings can be made before the end of the I.G.Y."

But he said it is not "realistic to expect the successful flight of more than four different satellites." Porter said "the probability of success on any flight will almost certainly not be as great as 67 per cent."

Foreign News Commentary

Georgi M. Malenkov will be a lucky man if he is not shot as the result of the big Russian Communist Party purge.

It is evident now that Malenkov is regarded as the most dangerous of the big three "anti-party" men involved in the dispute among Soviet leaders.

Charges amounting to criminal conspiracy have been made against him by Nikita S. Khrushchev and other victors in the dispute.

If these charges, made in speeches, are not followed by a formal prosecution, it surely will mean that there has been a radical change in Communist Party procedure.

Vyacheslav M. Molotov and Lazar M. Kaganovich, the other two members of the "Big Three," have been linked with some of the offenses attributed to Malenkov.

Last of "Bolsheviks"
What seems to put Malenkov on the spot is the fact that he is the youngest of the three, one of the new generation of Soviet leaders.

Molotov and Kaganovich are survivors of a past generation.

Molotov is 67. He is the last of the "Old Bolsheviks" who had already reached the top, at the time of the 1917 Revolution. Kaganovich is 63. Both have been on the down grade since the death of Josef Stalin.

But Molotov is only 55. He is one of the new generation of Communists who are able administrators and technicians as well as politicians. Some people regard him as the brainiest of Russia's big men.

If Khrushchev and the rest of the victorious leaders in the Kremlin dispute decide to follow up their present charges by formal legal action, they may or may not spare Molotov and Kaganovich.

But Malenkov will remain a potential danger as long as he remains alive.

Khrushchev and his colleagues may be doing some serious thinking about their proper course.

If they shoot Malenkov or put him in prison—possibly with the other two—it will be a confession that the Communist system in Russia is no different than it was in Stalin's day.

The so-called "collective leadership" which was supposed to usher in a new day in Russian Communist policy will have been exposed as a fiction.

It will be clear evidence that a dictatorship is essential in Russia, even if there are several "collective" dictators instead of one.

But from reports now leaking out of Moscow, there are strong indications that Malenkov, Molotov, Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov, who was purged from the Communist Party Presidium with them, really did make a bid to oust Khrushchev as the No. 1 collective leader by replacing him as first secretary of the Russian Communist Party.

There are indications also that for a time they had hope of succeeding.

Miss Patricia Ann Lischauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lischauer, 627 Avenida Aiegra, West Palm Beach, and her erst Martin Neiswander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Neiswander, also of West Palm Beach, were united in marriage on Saturday, July 6. The service took place at the Memorial Presbyterian Church and was performed by the Rev. Ryan L. Wood.

Cardlight cast a glow over the altar banked with fish tail palms and baskets of white gladioli and pompanos. Mrs. Robert Roberts was the organist.

The maid of honor, Miss Nellie Manda, was crowned in blue taffeta and carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Johnson and Mrs. White Watkins of Cookeville, Tenn. They too, wore blue taffeta and carried white bouquets.

Andrew Ringer was Mr. Neiswander's best man, and ushers were Charles Lischauer, brother of the bride, Charles Williams, Thomas Benton, and Lowell Morse, all of West Palm Beach.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of chintilly lace and nylon tulle with fitted bodice and portrait neckline. The full ballerina length skirt was of nylon tulle with sunburst pleating and Chantilly lace. Her illusion veil was attached to a clip headpiece decorated with seed pearls. The bride carried a crescent shape bouquet of white orchids and white carnations.

The mother of the bride was gowned in blue linen, and the groom's mother wore a coral nylon frock.

Paint brushes need cleaning after each use. If paint, varnish or shellac is allowed to dry in a brush it never again is free of dried flecks. To clean, scrape off excess paint from the brush, against the edge of the can. Then swipe back and forth on newspapers. Wash several times in the liquid used as a thinner. Then, wash the brush in soap or detergent suds, rinse and dry.

Recreation Proves Success For Young People In Church

The Recreation Program of the First Baptist Church is continuing with great success throughout the summer. For the past six weeks the church has held Open House each night for young people sixteen years of age and up. There is fun for all each evening with such games as volleyball, shuffleboard, badminton, and ping pong. When rain threatens there is singing, television, and parlor games. Several special activities such as ice cream freezes and marshmallow roasts have also been a success and more such socials are being planned frequently. The First Baptist Church cordially invites all young people to join in on the fun and fellowship enjoyed there each evening, except Wednesday from 7 to 10. Service men are given a special welcome. Those taking charge are Ken Turner, Monday nights; the Sunday School Department, Tuesday nights; Bobbie Morton, Thursday nights; Juanita Wynn, Friday nights; Grace Marie Stinecipher, Saturday nights.

Hints From Pauley On Styles To Come
NEW YORK — Designers give us women plenty of fractions for fall calculation. They talk in terms of half-belts and coats either three-quarter or seven-eighths length. Some designers also provide only a fraction of 50."

Half-belts show through our suit collections, although there are just as many fully belted, or unbelted and fitted loosely at the waistline.

The number of three-quarter and seven-eighths length coats equals the number of full length ones in collections being shown this week to visiting fashion reporters. The shows are held semi-annually by the culture group of the New York Dress Institute.

Balloon-Like Shape
Cost silhouettes run the gamut from the slim and wrapped to those of luxurious fullness. Monte Sano and Prusan introduced a balloon-like shape — coat cut straight as a pin in front but with the back curving out like a blister, but bunched in again at the hemline or waistline.

Most suits and many coats feature the bracelet sleeve, loose fitting and ending just a few inches short of the wrist. Shoulders follow the natural curve of the body. Collars usually are flat and constructed to stand away from the neck.

Fur rims everything from evening dresses to coats. Original teamed black lynx, beaver, mink or lamole, a south African lamb, with tweeds and fleeces in a handsome daytime group.

Monte Sano and Prusan lined a cotton gabardine raincoat with ocelot and priced at $990.

Baring Bare Ringlets
Cecil Chapman is a ringlet in the daring baring for evening wear. One of her boldest necklines shows the bodice opened to the waist, but laced like a corset with thin satin acids drawn through rhinestone eyelets.

She doesn't even bother to lace other necklines with a pliance to waist. Those she calls the Venus dresses.

Her Cleo silhouette makes the beehive wonder what next. A comically demure bodice has triangular cutouts under each arm to expose most of the rib section.

Another Chapman design is the Etruscan silhouette, which she said "is one of the earliest glamour girl fashions, predating Grecian costumes." The Etruscan is a horizontal draping of fabric around the hips, to give a giraffe-like cling.

Rock Springs Park Is Scene Of Picnic
The Young People's Training Union Department of the First Baptist Church and their guests spent an enjoyable evening at Rock Springs last Saturday. Following a hayride to the springs, hot dogs were roasted and then eaten along with potato salad and baked beans, topped off with chocolate cake. Soon after this several could be seen diving in to the icy spring.

Those enjoying this fun-filled evening, which ended all too soon with a hayride back to the church, were Hilda Eargle, Bill Russell, Margaret Guy, Dee Wee Owen, Lynn Yearke, Howard Alfred, Shirley Turner, Wesley Giles, Grace Marie Stinecipher, Danny Osburn, Gar Smith, Betty Carpenter, Ken Turner, John Livock, Johnny Bowen, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Knight.

Polly Savage. Our television is out of order, so I saw no reason why they should enjoy theirs.

Carle and Jack Stribling gave Jean Stetson a surprise birthday party Monday night. The news had leaked some how, but Jean still managed to look amazed. Among her presents she received a magnificent red cowboy hat for her hard rides across the plains of Corpus Christi. Carle served her guests beef stroganoff with rice, and what could be better?

Wishing Jean a happy birthday were St and In Johnson, Forrest and Ruth Norvell, Gretchen Hall, Betty and Jim Guy, and some Stribling friends from Jacksonville, John and Mary Hill and Betty and Larry Flint. The Hills and the Flints are staying at the new Mayfair Motel. They plan to go to Cocoa Wednesday. The Hills brought their boat with them, and promptly sold it to Riddle and Lionel Arthur.

Carle and Jack are going to New Smyrna Beach the fifteenth for a vacation. They have taken a house of course. Phyllis and Ed Graham are over there now, and were preceded by Ernie and Alice Mills.

A recent neighborhood birthday party was given for Sydney Savage, now aged four, and several little guests. Polly knelt herself out on this one, and it was two days before the guests caught on that the party was over. At that age hints are not good at all. The table was laden with gifts. Sydney and favors for the other children, but I did not stop to investigate. Patsy brought a lot of loot home in a paper bag, in fact the same one she had wrapped Sydney's present in. Invited were Jan and Joy McCracken, Patsy Gunn, and Jimmy Simmons.

Howe Hansen is applying for his caterpillar, after falling out of an AJ Friday over Dallas, Texas. Have never had the chance to find out who else went with him. They were all most fortunate.

Paul Grunder's brother and two friends were briefly in town, trying to see all the sights in Florida in a few days. If they stay long, Lois will really learn how to cook; although for a bride, I understand she is very good. But she doesn't like vegetables. The Grunders are fortunate that they were born in the era of plenty and don't have to eat out of the family pail.

Jeanie and Mac McGuire left Tuesday for Kansas City. This is the first stop on the way to Monterey. McGoo will journey to Tennessee to Dusty Rhodes' wedding the twenty-first.

As I was leaning over the fish counter in a grocery store yesterday, I found a dandy little morsel with no price on it. It was actually a very large sea horse, but even when a sea horse is large it is very tiny. The manager of the meat department had found it while fishing at Titusville last weekend, wrapped it in a meat container with cellophane over the top, and deposited it in the frozen fish locker. I've noticed he hovers around quite a lot. One of these days a customer will try to take it home to feed uncle George a delicacy.

Something else I saw downtown was good Samaritan Tommy Peterson taking care of an unknown's M.G. I accused him of trying to make off with it, but he convinced me he was only trying to take it out of a no parking zone, so it wouldn't get another ticket.

Wilson-Maier Takes Both Ends Of Last Nite's Doubleheader

Hoad Pro Since April 17

HOAD 30-3 bold SPTS
NEW YORK — A piece of Wimbledon silverware parlayed with the Yankee dollar finally paid off with the revelation that Aussie tennis star Lew Hoad turned professional three months ago.

The time in between has been consumed by what promoter Jack Kramer calls a "secretive game of cops and robbers." Actually it was a cloak and dagger opus which was more of a who-cares than a whodunit.

Technically Hoad has been a pro since April 17 and his sole aim since that time was to win at Wimbledon for an extra $25,000.

Hoad stopped to see Kramer en route to Europe and at that time they put the deal on paper and shipped it to Hoad's attorney in Australia. Kramer offered him $125,000 over a two-year span if he won at Wimbledon; and only $100,000 if he lost the big one in Britain.

Examined By Doctor
Hoad was examined by Kramer's doctors to see whether the blond bomber was pulling a fast one because of an arthritic condition and pronounced a good gamble. Hoad went to Europe, wrked out the kinks in his sore back and arm, breezed at Wimbledon and came back to pick up the marbles.

All of which means that, barring an actual signature, the agreement was in the bag that the amateur fathers were holding.

Hoad takes a very matter of fact view of the whole bit.

"I have to get mine while I can," he admitted, looking very little the polished pro in his tieless shirt and brown suede shoes and socks. "I never know what this back of mine will do."

Kramer is, of course, too smart to be caught off base. He has an escape clause permitting cancellation of the contract if Hoad comes up lame and halts for a period of four weeks.

Pancho's Dim View
Big Jake's oyster isn't filled with pearls, however. Pancho Gonzalez, the world professional champion, takes a dim view of Hoad turning pro at this point.

His fear is that Hoad will take a capping in two tournaments ahead as well as in a European tour with Ken Rosewall, Frank Sedgman and Pancho Beggs. Thus the shine would be off the apple when Gonzalez opens a 100-match tour against Hoad in Australia come January.

There has been much talk between Kramer and Gonzalez dealing with possible contractual lawsuits and appearances before "the man in the robe." All probably will be straightened out in good time.

Meanwhile, with Hoad poised for playing certain tennis when he isn't in the mood, Kramer has set up a bonus system to keep him on his toes. Now Larrupin Lew is ready to take spring training in August pro style, and Kramer's three-month plan has really put the pro in business.

Wilson-Maier Furniture Co.'s team came out on top of the scoreboard calculations last night when they took both ends of a double headed. The citywide recreation department's softball league pitted the furniture men against Burpee Seed Co. in making up for a game lost on account of rain.

In the first game of the twin bill Wilson-Maier took the lead with a home run in the first inning and another in the fifth backed up by 10 hits to come out on top with a 10-0 score.

The seedmen collected two hits off the Wilson-Maier battery. Pitching for the furniture company was Don Merritt. Graham was behind the plate.

For Burpee Seed Co. Meitz was on the mound, Lockett behind the plate.

The second game of the double header was a tighter one with Burpee Seed Co. collecting 3 hits on which they scored 4 runs. Wilson-Maier Furniture Co. added up 6 hits on which they collected 11 runs.

Batteries were Hart and Sheffield for Burpee Seed Co.; Churnat and Graham for Wilson-Maier Furniture Co.

Champ Is Offered $10,000 For Fight With Alex Mitelf

NEW YORK — Promoter Teddy Brenner offered Olympic heavyweight champion Pete Rademacher $10,000 for a Madison Square Garden fight next month with Alex Mitelf, who registered his 10th straight victory Monday night.

Young Mitelf of Argentina won a technical knockout over Fernando Pala of Philadelphia at the end of the second round of their TV bout in St. Nicholas Arena.

Brenner of St. Nick's wired the $10,000 offer to Rademacher, who is training at Houston Lake, Ga., for a tentative scheduled title fight with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson at Seattle, Aug. 22.

Monday night, Mitelf's left hooks ripped a 15-stitch gash in young Pala's right brow. It bled so badly and Pala was so groggy when he went to his corner that Dr. Samuel Switnick stopped the bout before the bell could ring for the third round. In New York state it was a second-round TKO.

Frick Will Remain 'Ball Commissioner

ST. LOUIS — Ford Frick will continue as baseball commissioner for another seven years, but his election contained some what of a snag even though he remains in the job.

The 16 major league owners, who voted unanimously to retain the former sports writer until Sept. 21, 1963, failed to give him a raise. He will get the same $65,000 per year for the new term that he has received on his current seven-year contract, which expires Sept. 21, 1958.

Frick had virtually no comment when notified of his re-election.

Finishing Touches On Moore-Anthony Bout Being Planned

HOLLYWOOD — Representatives of singer Frank Sinatra hoped to put the finishing touches on arrangements for a heavyweight title bout between Archie Moore and Tony Anthony here early in September.

Attorney Jules Covey, who represents Sinatra, was in conference Monday with Moore, who drove here from his San Diego, Calif., home and with Anthony's manager, Ernie Braca, and his adviser, George Galfond, who is Sugar Ray Robinson's manager.

Covey said he hoped to be able to submit documents to the California Athletic Commission today which "would indicate that we have arrived at a meeting of minds on this matter."

Covey said he planned to telephone Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission and the World Championship Boxing Commission, to report on a status of the negotiations.

Helfand Monday denied reports that he had stripped accident Archie of his 175-pound title. Covey said, however, that Helfand had set noon v.d.t. today, as the deadline for the completion of arrangements for the bout.

U. S. Davis Cup Hopes Soaring

NEW YORK — United States hopes of regaining the Davis Cup soared while Australian tennis officials blasted Lew Hoad for turning pro.

"The Davis Cup competition is wide open now that Lew has turned pro," said Renville H. McCann president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. "His decision certainly has helped our chances and the chances of other countries, too. We have great hopes."

When Hoad accepted a record $125,000 contract Monday from promoter Jack Kramer, he left the Lewis-mad Australian without an experienced Cup player to defend the amateur game's most coveted trophy next December.

The Lawn Tennis Assn. of Australia reacted by accusing Hoad of breaking a written promise not to turn pro until Jan. 31, 1958, and moved to bar Kramer's troupe from its big stadium.

In Los Angeles, Pancho Gonzalez said Kramer would have to get a man to take his place in the Tournament of Champions at Forest Hills, N. Y. if Hoad is an entrant. The tournament starts Saturday and will mark Lew's pro debut.

"If Hoad is in the Tournament of Champions, I'm out of it," Gonzalez said. "This is unfair to me. I had been looking forward to playing Hoad in a 'head to head' Any previous meeting in tournaments would detract from next year's big tour."

Now Hear This!

JACKY FENWICK

Well, I'm back in that well-worn rut again! And I'm sending out the usual S. O. S.

If you think things were at a standstill a couple of weeks ago, you ought to see me sitting here right now, "pulling my hair out."

The absolute ONLY thing I have to report on is Monday night's square-dance at Lake Golden. Attending that night were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brinn, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sundvall, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Higgenbotham, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walton, and two new ones; Mr. and Mrs. James Gregus. Moving and dancing to Lake Golden was an inspiration indeed, and everyone was very happy with it. It was much, much cooler, and Chief Brinn made arrangements the next morning to have the dances out there for at least the next three weeks! (I guess that's as far ahead as they would let him reserve it!)

Also a reminder that the Chief's Wives Club will have a meeting one week from tomorrow, July 18. That will be the night before their dance at the Chief's Club, which will be on Friday night, July 19.

Do wish I'd hear from lots more of you on the subject of a P.O. Club. The response has not been what I expected it to be, and that really amazes me. Is it because there are some of you who don't know what a P.O. Club of our own would be like? From what I was able to find out, it would be similar to the E.M. Club, with one major difference, and that one is the line of beverages it would sell. Because of newspaper policy, I can't come right out and tell you what I mean by that, so you'll have to read your own meaning into it! But it would mean a nice place to have parties and dances etc., and I for one would like to see lots more going on at our base. You'd enjoy it once we had it, I'm sure.

Do wish that all those who have promised to call me from time to time would come through now!! I know people do less and less, as the weather gets hotter and hotter, but PLEASE, isn't anyone doing anything???

I know we haven't lately. Friend husband has himself all tied up with the town softball league, so his nights are well occupied. Guess I can't complain though, as I'm always telling him to get off the couch and go do something! Softball wasn't exactly what I had in mind, but it does force him to move around in this heat!

Glad to see that they're expanding our Navy Exchange. It has needed it, and though it does away with that nice long porch, they really do need the room.

Want to make a correction on yesterday's column. I stated that Lt. (jg) Gerald Ryman flew one of the AJ's in Monday's "fly over" in honor of Capt. Reedy. My husband has corrected me, and tells me that Ldr. Osterholm and Lt. (jg) Ortmann were the two AJ pilots from VAH-5. Sorry!

Well I've stretched nothing into a little of something, which fills up space, if nothing else. HOPE I'll be back tomorrow!!!

Tell it! Sell it!

vidence, it was stated was not signed on July 4, 1776, but on July 2, 1776. The statement that the Battle of Bunker Hill did not take place on Bunker Hill was declared as true, much to the chagrin of a Rotarian who was on the way to win a silver dollar by having correctly stated that Stonewall Jackson was the Confederate general killed by one of his own men and that Pocahontas was an American-Princess who married an Englishman. (John Rolfe) No one present knew that Frank Knox ran for Vice-president on the ticket with Alfred M. Landon in 1936.

Questions on Sanford and on Rotary were answered by Walter Hayes and Morton McDonald of DeLand, a past district governor of Rotary International. Others participating in the program were Orville Touchton, "Bill" Bush, Robert Lamont and R. L. Shedd of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., who said Morrison was correct in his statement that there were approximately 3,000 telephones in the Sanford area. Rotarians did not know that there were 20 buses entering and leaving Sanford daily and that six passenger trains did likewise. Morrison erred in his statement that the population of Sanford corporate limits was 28,000. The Chamber of Commerce advised later that 28,000 is the figure for Sanford "and its environs".

Two guests who, according to Tommy McDonald of The Abstract Corporation, who arranged the program and offered the awards, seemed to enjoy it thoroughly were Capt. I. A. Arthur, commanding officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station and Dr. R. E. Rutland, pastor of the First Methodist Church, here. The latter got a big "kick" out of Morrison's 21st questions and their answers, McDonald said.

Science Today

United From Science Editor
NEW YORK — If there hadn't been an Andrew Conway Ivy, there would have been no Krebsian controversy. Only an Ivy could have maintained himself against the scientific community for almost six years—and only an Ivy would have investigated the stuff in the first place.

He is a two-way doctor, a Ph. D. as well as an M. D. In his youth he enjoyed nothing more than putting on boxing gloves. In 1949 when Krebsian first came to his attention, he was vice-president of the University of Illinois in administrative charge of the Medical, Dental, and Pharmacological Colleges, and he was head of the Department of Clinical Science and professor of physiology.

Nor was that the full measure of his eminence. He was universally recognized as a cancer expert, a director of the American Cancer Society, an influential figure in the councils of the American Medical Assn. which has honored him with medals and scientific appointments, chairman or member of many scientific committees, frequent advisor of the federal and state governments on scientific matters, recipient of six honorary doctorates and many other recognitions.

Hobby, Craft Shop To Open Saturday

With more people now having more and more leisure time on their hands, a need has long been felt in Sanford for a crafts and hobby shop to provide these people with equipment and supplies.

Such a shop will be opened here Saturday by IA. Cmdr. (Retired) Howard Taft Rollins and Mrs. Rollins. The Rollins Hobby Shop is located on Hwy 17 1/2, immediately south of Park Avenue intersection.

Mr. Rollins was stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Station for two years previous to his retirement on December 1, 1955, after which the family decided to make Sanford their permanent home. The Rollins have two children age 7 and 9, and reside on Fourth Street.

Blackburn

then sent to the South Pacific where he commanded VP-17 of the USS Bunker Hill. His squadron received a Naval Unit Citation after downing a record of 184 enemy planes with Captain Blackburn personally accounting for 11. His decorations include the Navy Cross, Distinguished Flying Cross and three Air Medals.

After the War, Captain Blackburn was assigned various duties, including service in the fighter aircraft design section of the Bureau of Aeronautics and a tour as Executive Officer of the USS Salpan. In 1952 he graduated from the Naval War College and then served on the Joint Strategic Plans Group of the Joint Chiefs of Staff immediately prior to becoming Commander Heavy Attack Wing One.

The Blackburn family represents many years of Naval Service. Captain Blackburn's father, Captain P. P. Blackburn, USN retired, graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1904 and a brother, Captain P. P. Blackburn Jr., completed the Academy in 1930.

like on a summer day in 1946, he was, most definitely at the top of the hoop. His secretary said a man wanted to see him, and he said, let the man come in. Being Ivy, his door is always open to anyone at any time. For years he had thought that the day might come when someone would walk through that open door with the answer to cancer. The man spoke no English and was accompanied by a French-speaking American businessman. Through this interpreter, he said his name was Steven Durovic and he was a Yugoslav emigrant living in Buenos Aires and engaged there in a pharmaceutical business with his brother, Marko. He was a doctor of medicine. Durovic continued, having gotten his degree from the University of Belgrade where he had been a professor of medicine until forced into exile by the post-war revolution which overthrew the monarchy.

His only credentials were his own say-so. He was a scientific unknown—he had never contributed a word to "the literature." But he made sense at once to Dr. Ivy. He said he had obtained from the blood of horses, a substance which he believed horse body chemistry and produced for the purpose of protecting horses from the overgrowth of new body tissues. Uncontrolled growth is the essential mechanism of cancer.

Agrees To Test
What Durovic wanted to know, would this substance protect other animals, particularly man, and would Ivy test it and find out? Ivy said he would. Being Ivy, he had tested anything which made even a little sense theoretically; indeed, his major scientific reputation was for being an utterly tireless investigator.

Naturally, he asked Durovic for the details. Durovic said he would not disclose the precise methods he had used in obtaining the material; nor would he provide the pure substance for chemical analysis. He was the discoverer and he expected to profit from it. He said, and he was afraid other pharmaceutical interest would pirate it. He added that he had already put well over a million dollars into his experiments — his family's money and the money of investors.

To any other scientific investigator, Durovic's secrecy would have closed the door. The secret remedy, the unknown chemical compound, the magic potion rouse blinding suspicions in practically all scientific minds, and you can see why because the secret remedy is the essence of medical quackery. Scientific ethics enjoin very strictly against secrecy. But Ivy had always been an orthodox.

Entitled To Profit
Being Ivy the mere possibility of Durovic's material being "biologically active" against cancer in man was the paramount consideration. Believing in "the American system of free enterprise," he believed the discoverer of such a substance was entitled to profit from his discovery, he explained to the reporter, adding that, anyway, he was concerned with the scientific aspects, not the commercial ones.

So Durovic supplied the material, which he had named Krebsian. It was discovered in vegetable oil in ampules. Ivy had only Durovic's word that it was a "white powder" even to this day he has never seen the substance in its pure form. Nor has anyone else, aside from Durovic and his brother. That is the basis for opposition charges that perhaps it doesn't exist.

Sand Shark Gives Bathers Scare

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH — A sick and helpless sand shark kept a few bathers hopping along the beach here Wednesday.

W. H. Craven, his wife and a year-old son were swimming when the eight-foot shark bumped Craven's leg. He thought it was a man-eating tiger shark. Craven and his family got to shore very quickly.

Lloyd Hock of Cairo, Ill. lunged into the water, grabbed the shark by the tail and with the aid of other bystanders hauled it onto the beach.

A policeman killed the shark with seven shots into its head.

Mrs. Girard Gets Threatening Letter

KAGOHARA, Japan — Mrs. William S. Girard told police today she had received a letter threatening her with death unless she divorced her U. S. Army husband by Monday.

Mrs. Girard, known to her friends as "Candy," received the long, rambling letter at her home near Camp Whittington where Girard is held.

The letter called her a "traitor" to Japan and said "we cannot believe you were in your right mind" to marry a man who killed a Japanese.

The letter was sent to the 30-year-old bride by a man who identified himself as Hakuru Munechika and said he was head of a 100,000-strong "aikoku" patriotic party.

"If you do not listen to us," the letter said, "we must swallow our tears and kill you in the name of the 80 million people of Japan to preserve national respect and honor."

Two housing projects in Seminole County soon to get underway. Above are artist sketches of a low rent housing project for Ocala. The lower photo shows a similar project for Sanford.
