Soviet War Commissar Predicts Nazi Attack By Late 1941

Hungary, excited by its military occupation of about 4,875 square miles of Czechoslovakia, raised clamor today for further territorial expansion while Japan paved way for new exploitation of the conquered areas of China.

In Moscow, Soviet Russia celebrated 21 years of Communist rule, but, with rejoicing for her "coming of age," looked to the future with dark foreboding.

War Commissar Voroshilov emphasized that the Soviet Union was prepared to meet forces with force and George Dimitroff, secretary general of the Communist International, predicted that terrorism might be at war with Pusan by late 1941.

In Spain, insurgents reported they had reduced Mora de Ebro, the last government stronghold on the west bank of the Ebro River, to ruins and had encircled the town.

Japanese forces in central China were reported attacking Chinese positions along the border of Hunan province.

Seminole County Is Given Publicity In Times Union

Seminole County received far-reaching publicity of nationwide value when the Sunday edition of the Florida Times-Union carried a story about Seminole County farming written by Editor Averey Powell and published under an eight-column headline.

The photographs included a bird's eye view of the farm-section of Sanford, showing the lake front and a part of the Seminole Boulevard, a picture of a celery field in which a crew of negroes were cutting and packing celery, two views of the State Farmers Wholesale Market, and a picture of an auto field.

Calling attention to the current move on the part of Seminole County farmers toward diversification of their crops, Editor Powell stated that "it has been repeatedly demonstrated that the fine bottom land of the county will produce practically every type of vegetable and the higher farm lands will grow as good cotton, corn, peanuts and other heavy crops, as can be grown anywhere in the State."

Among the particular farm industries which he mentioned as making some progress besides celery were dairying which he said represents an investment of well over $100,000, poultry, characterized as among the best with special reference to J. H. Hiltline's Longwood farm; and the fern industry which was said to produce approximately $300,000 worth of ferns every year.

In this connection the work of Gordon Barnett received special mention.

The success of the State Farmers Wholesale Market, and the efforts of Manager J. G. Michael to make it a real help to the farmers received particular praise from Editor Powell.

Key West Citizen. Is the final analysis, the people pay, and how?

Every citizen who is entitled to vote in any of tomorrow elections should do so. If you are a resident of Sanford, you should vote for two of the City Commission candidates. If you are Seminole County freeholder, you should vote in the hospital referendum. If you are a good Democrat, you should vote for your Democratic nominee in the general election and for the proposed constitutional amendments.

Vote For The Hospital

Tomorrow Seminole County citizens will again be given an opportunity to secure for themselves a modern, sanitary, well equipped hospital. If they do not take advantage of this opportunity, it is likely that they will have to do with the present outmoded structure for many years to come for it is doubtful if ever again the cost of a new hospital can be raised under such favorable conditions.

During the past few weeks those who have seen most clearly the need for a new hospital here have demonstrated beyond all possible refutation the complete inadequacy of the present hospital. The danger is contained there from the fire hazard, the extreme overcrowding, and consideration for the taxpayers' pocketbook, with which the plans for the proposed hospital have been drawn.

It is no longer by a single bed, or a single room than the absolute minimum requirements of this county. The structural costs have been kept to the lowest possible figure in keeping with safety, sanitation and health of the patients who will be confined there. The financial arrangements by which the hospital will be built are the best under which any City or County building here has ever been erected.

Sentiment in this county has been shown to be approximately four to one in favor of the hospital. But because of a certain new stipulation in the law that no bond election is valid unless a majority of the freeholders have voted in it, there is the danger this time, as there was before, that the hospital may be defeated by a few persons neglecting to vote.

We cannot overemphasize the importance of every-one's voting. The outcome of this election may hinge on one or two votes. A sudden shower in the afternoon keeping a dozen persons away from the polls may deny to Seminole County people for years to come the hospital they need so badly right now. The indifference of a dozen freeholders, who, though they may want a new hospital, do not take the trouble to vote for it, may end the campaign in disaster.

So do not be satisfied simply by voting yourself for the hospital. Do your part by getting others to vote for it. Remind your friends and neighbors to go to the polls. Show them the importance of voting for the hospital. Tell them of the necessity of providing a place where their friends and neighbors, their children, where they themselves may be taken when they are sick or injured, where they can be restored to normal healthful life.

Remember that though you may never have been sick a day in your life, there are few of us who get out of this old world without feeling the vital need at some time or other of a good hospital. When that time comes, when you are being on your back by the side of a road after an auto crash, or when your little child looks up at you and complains of a sharp pain in his side, your one thought will be to get to a good hospital.

You won't worry then about the little two mill tax you'll have to pay.

The health and fitness organization decided that this county custom contributed to the spread of illness.

Twenty-one hours one very three minutes was the average number of forest fires occurring in the United States last year.

TOMORROW'S ELECTION

In addition to the hospital referendum, several other important questions will be submitted to the electorate tomorrow. Though the November election is not usually considered a time when the subject of politics occupies the center of the stage in Florida, it is important upon this occasion that a sound sampling of public sentiment be recorded.

The only individual contest upon which the people will vote in the general election is for United States Senator where Claude Pepper, who won overwhelming nomination against a whole field of opponents in the Democratic primary, is now opposed by the Republican candidate, Thomas E. Swanson. A number of other candidates appear on the ballot, but they are all Democrats and have no opposition. However a complimentary vote should be cast for them by all good Democrats.

Also appearing on the general election ballot are the four proposed constitutional amendments which have been previously explained in this and other newspapers of the state. Briefly they are: (1) to extend the benefits of homestead exemption to widows without dependents; (2) to provide for public notice before enactment of certain local bills by the Legislature; (3) to place the schools on a parity with other departments and activities of state government; (4) to make the National Guard free from politics.

All of these amendments in our opinion are good ones and should be supported. We have given them a good deal of thought and can see no reason at all why they should not be incorporated as a part of the fundamental law of our State.

Sanford voters, when they have already voted in the general election and the hospital referendum, should not forget to go to the City Hall and cast their ballots in the City Commission election. This, too, is an important election, the outcome of which may have a decided bearing upon the future course of our City.

There are two seats on the Commission to be filled. In Group No. 1 H. James Gut is opposed by James G. Sharon, Jr. And in Group No. 2 there are no less than five candidates: Henry McLaughlin, Jr., George Rollins, Andrew Carraway, J. H. Truluck, and R. J. Holly, Jr.

In voting for City Commissioners, the fact should not be overlooked that Sanford is an enormous business institution with many departments and many financial problems, the proper solution of which vitally affects everyone who lives here. The position of Commissioner should go only to one who is eminently qualified for the post.

SANFORD FORUM

Editor Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir:

Please give this letter place in your Forum column today.

Tomorrow the freeholders of the County at the polls settle a question which is fraught with vital importance to every one of free citizens, a question which, if settled the wrong way may do irreparable harm to thousands of citizens yet unborn. The question is, shall Seminole County vote another heavily bonded and indebtedness upon the property owners, upon a county already too heavily bonded, with which to provide her share of the cost of the erection of the proposed hospital. This writer assumes the position that we should not. The question is not, do we need better hospital facilities? We may all agree that we do, but do we need a new hospital? Efficiently to cause us to load upon the county this enormous additional debt? The need for another plant should not blind us to the fact that we are not able to have this luxury. Most of us have been brought to the realization that we can not have everything we think we need. The thing that done this county no little harm is the fact that during the fat days following the world war, when money was the cheapest thing to be had a time when we were able to have about everything we desired, we were brought to where we lived in the land's paradise, believing that there could be no end to prosperity. Then came, like a great earthquake, the days of depression when cities, states and individuals were caught empty handed and millions of our fellow men were thrown out to tramp the streets in all kinds and poverty. This condition brought us to the present price of land and spending. We were led to believe that our government could borrow itself rich; that hungry people could be fed by destroying foodstuff; that the way to clothe the naked was to plow under the cotton, kill the sheep that produced the wool out of which to make clothing. The results has been that the national government has given an added to individual states, and until there has been created a widespread depression that these huge sums of money will never have to be paid back. We seem to be unmindful that there must inevitably come a day of settlement. Where is the money to come from? Certainly not from those who are on relief. This government whether national, state or city, has but one way of raising funds through taxation, and only property taxes will settle the bill. Let us not be deceived in this issue by the plan that taxes for this undertaking can be raised only by a piggy. Granting that this be the case we are still faced with the fact that there is no assurance that a new hospital when property will not be grossly increased, which is just another way around to increase the tax. We understand that the national government is to be a hard creditor. If this is done, recall the large number of bonds taken over by the government when default of payment occurred. When these bonds fell due Uncle Sam will demand payment and if necessary will repossess the county commission and a higher rate of a session will have to be made to raise the money, and don't kid yourself with five thousand dollar amount. Some may have to pay. Some county commissioners may no more in the matter. Citizens will say how many dollars to be levied to pay the bonds. The danger signal is on the ballot. Don't vote FOR AGAINST the issue. STOP LOOK and LISTEN before being this dangerous trap in the DARK.

Yours very truly,

J. J. CATER

Marcus Fagg Requests Aid For Thanksgiving

November brings Thanksgiving Day, one of the true really big days in the lives of orphan and homeless children who are under the care of "Florida's Greatest Charity," The Children's Home Society of Florida, which has four big families of homeless young boys in its Receiving Homes at Jacksonville, Lakeland, Miami and Pensacola.

For many years, Thanksgiving Day has meant special happiness to the hundreds of homeless children under the care of the Home Society, for on that day, thousands of the Society and children, all over the State, are invited to send in all that it takes to assure a Big Happy Thanksgiving Day Dinner, one that the poor little tots will never forget.

Right now, therefore, Marcus C. "Daddy" Fagg, for the past twenty-eight years the State Superintendent of the Home Society, is asking everybody in Florida to help him provide the happiest day and the best Thanksgiving Dinner that these hundreds of helpless, homeless children have ever had.

Fagg hopes to have enough "cents" left over to provide for his four big families of the Society's four Receiving Homes at Jacksonville, Lakeland, Pensacola and Miami, for some time after Thanksgiving Day.

Food of every kind will be warmly welcomed, particularly turkeys, chickens, ducks, geese, oysters, canned goods, preserves or vegetables, and any "goodies" that will add to the joy of the day.

Children's wearables, shoes, underwear, clothing for children from wear babies up to sixteen years of age, for boys and girls are also greatly needed.

Articles should be addressed to Children's Receiving Home, 2500 Riverside Avenue, Jacksonville, Fla. and may be sent to one of the Branch Homes at Lakeland, Pensacola, Miami.

Applications for homeless children should be sent to State Superintendent Marcus C. "Daddy" Fagg, P. O. Box 60, Buckingham Building, Jacksonville, Florida.

Tuesday, you will go to the polls to elect two of your City Commissioners. The future course of our City depends largely upon this election. Consider carefully the men you choose for these places. You want to elect men who have had experience in dealing with finance and with people. Men who have ideas of their own and who have the ability to carry out the wishes of the people. Men who will sit around the council table and weigh carefully each problem that comes before them. Men who cannot be swayed to be a party to anything that looks of distrust, for this is no time for YES men on your City Commission. Therefore I ask you to go to the polls Tuesday and exercise your privilege to vote for the man you think will be of more service to the City.

This picture was given the Dies committee in Washington by Steve Gaudier, St. Paul consulting engineer, shown top right as he charged Communists actively direct the Farmer-Labor party. Similar testimony was given by Albert Kitzick, lower right, of Minneapolis, who said he once belonged to the Communist party.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO US?

In 20 Years Since Armistice Force Is More Than Ever The Dominating World Factor

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Twenty years ago a weary, bloody world was staggering to the close of four years of World War.

People were told it was the end of an era, the beginning of a Brave New World.

And it was the end of an era. But the new era that began then was not the world envisioned by the muddy, bloody rain in the trenches.

Three million victims of 20 wars rot in their graves since the War to End War.

The League of Nations, which was to bring a new world order of reason and peace, drifts like a leaky and abandoned ship. Democracy is on the defensive in a world which was never less safe for it.

Everywhere the haunting fear of insecurity ends men exclaiming after strange causes, economic and political. Children born since 1918 have never known, may never know, the independence of Americans who used to say "Shucks! I can get a job anywhere!"

Force has become the criterion, and might makes right in international affairs. In personal affairs, the idea that the end justifies the means is more and more generally accepted.

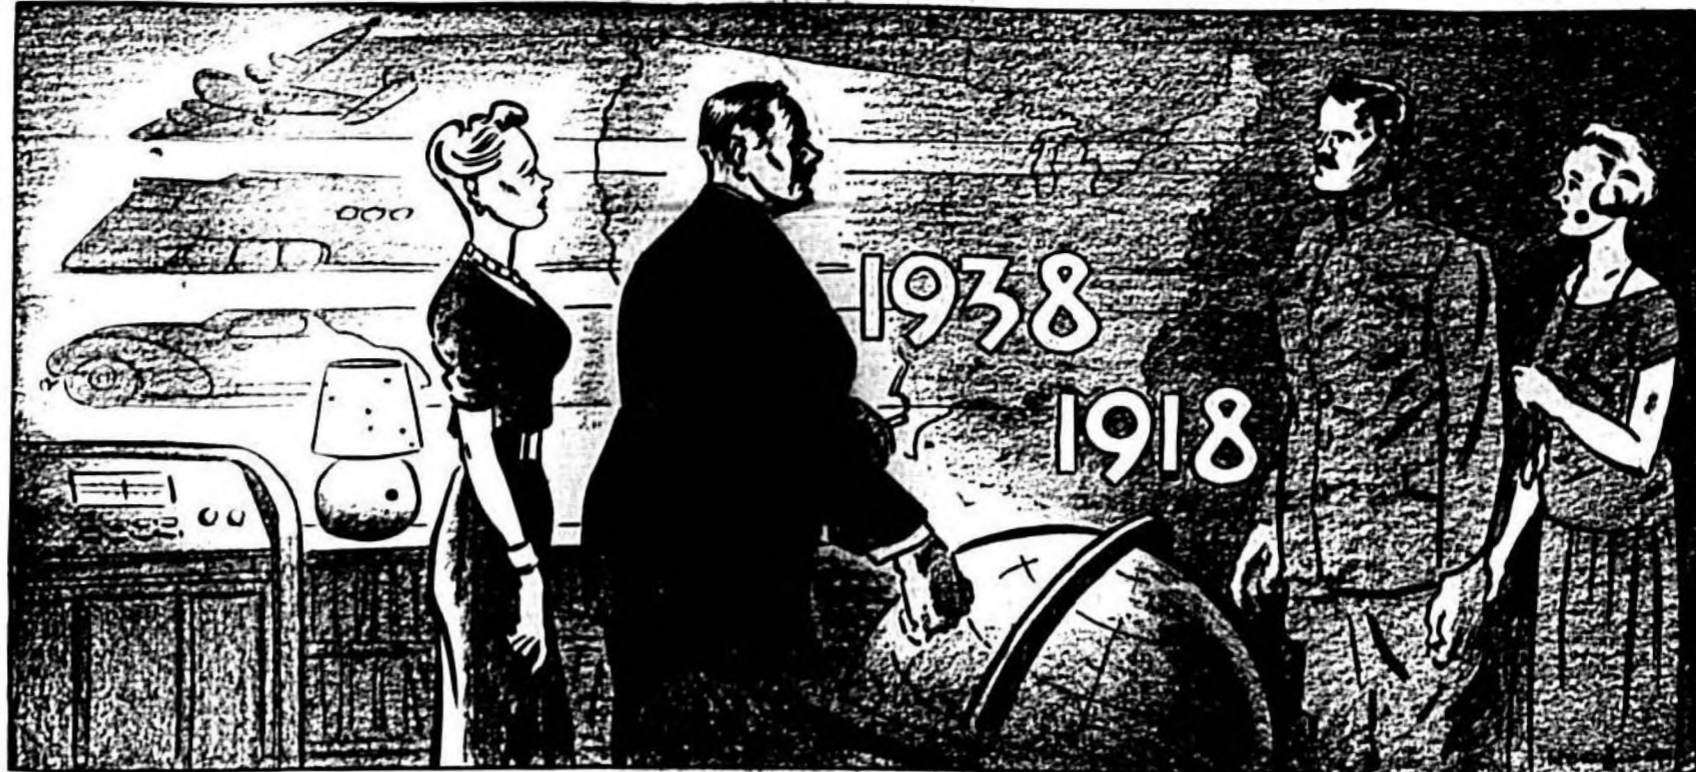

IF THE DEAD COULD LIVE—

Nevertheless, in the 20 years since "Cease Firing" sounded across Flanders fields, a new world has arisen. Every country in the world would already seem a strange land to a man who died in that war, if he could come back and see it. In 20 years, the population of nearly every country in the world has increased by millions. What to do with this population is the acute problem of every government. The United States alone has 130,000,000 people to contrast to the war-time 100,000,000.

But while population has been increasing, the world itself has been struck by man's inventive genius. One can pick up the telephone and talk to a person on board a ship in mid-ocean, or to a friend in Europe.

Transcontinental and trans-oceanic airplane service has reduced journeys that formerly took weeks to days. From New York to Rio is a mere five-day flight. San Francisco to Hong kong can be made in only three days to Dr. Young. An illustration of the same time.

WOMEN'S INFLUENCE GROWS

Women have come into their own during the 20-year period. Before the World War, a woman earning her living at anything but teaching school was almost a curiosity. Today there are nearly 11,000,000 women wage-earners in the United States.

more than one woman in five. And they vote. Before the war they did not.

There are more old, fewer young people. Before the World War there were about 4,000,000 Americans over 65 years old. In 1936 there were 7,500,000, and by 1960 it is expected that there will be 15,000,000.

Great strides made in public health and disease prevention are partly responsible. Despite depression years the people are healthier this year than at any time in history. Unless an unforeseen epidemic comes, 1938 will see the lowest death rate ever known, below the 1917 rate which was only 11 for every 1000 persons. Influenza, pneumonia, auto traffic deaths and the social diseases are being successfully attacked.

The rush of people from farms to the cities has practically reversed itself in the United States. By 1935, for instance, 2,600,000 more people were farmers than in 1930. The growth of great cities formerly taken as inevitable, has been checked. Faster transportation is causing such cities to spread out and spill over into suburbs and rural sections. The era of the great skyscrapers came to its peak, and many believe it has passed.

WAR SCARS REMAINED

But more important, the country has "grown up" mentally. People are bright and hard instead of mellow and sentimental. This course is traced by the tran-

Voters Make Preparations For Election

Unopposed nominee for County Commissioner from District No. 1, E. A. Dyson from District No. 2, W. B. Ballard from District No. 3, J. E. Partin from District No. 4 and W. G. Kahne from District No. 5.

In Justice of Peace District No. 6, voters will approve the nomination of Roy Burkholder and W. A. Lewis for Justice of Peace and Constable respectively. Since the hospital election on Sept. 27 failed to be valid by a narrow margin of 51 votes, freeholders again will be given an opportunity to express their wishes on the bond issue and tax levy for the proposed hospital.

The final figures released by Supervisor of Registration W. J. Thigpen show that there are now 2,807 persons listed as freeholders, approximately 50 more than were qualified to vote in the first election. A total of 1,404 freeholders must cast ballots in tomorrow's election before it is valid.

The amendments on which voters will decide tomorrow would extend the benefits of Homestead Exemption to persons other than heads of families; another would require 30 days notice before a local or special bill is filed in the legislature; the third would place State appropriations for schools on a parity with other state expenditures and the fourth provides for the appointment, suspension, discharging, or retirement of Florida National Guard officers only on a basis of proficiency, character and service as set out by the War Department of the United States.

County Judge R. W. Ware stated that over 10 absentee ballots have been voted in his office and City Clerk Frank Lamson reported more than 20 for the City election. Friday night was the deadline for casting absentee ballots.

Polls for the City primary will be set up in the Commission room while voters living west of Park Avenue in Precinct No. 1 and I.A. will enter the south door of the City Hall and cast their ballots at the polling places set up in the corner. Polling places for the other precincts are the same as for the primary.

The City Commissioners will meet Wednesday to make an official canvass of the City election returns. The Sanford Herald, in accordance with its custom, will give out the unofficial returns of the election over a loud speaker as they come in.

would be 642,000. He admitted Johnson's strength in New York City and set the governor's plurality here at 371,000, somewhat under the 600,000 votes which early polls gave Johnson's nomination plurality in the city.

Despite the leaders' contradictory predictions, many pollsters regarded the contest as so close that they hesitated to hazard a guess on the outcome and some of them held that a 50,000 shift in votes either way might determine the winner.

The tight contest for governor has dominated the intensive campaigning, although neither major candidate has assented the new deal issue. The governor has campaigned on his record of three terms at Albany and has held up his administration as financially sound and progressive. He has emphasized his knowledge of state affairs as against Dewey's "ignorance" and held with chairman Farley that Dewey is "the voice of inexperience."

The policies of the Roosevelt administration are directly at stake in the senatorial contest. John Lord O'Brian, Republican opponent of the veteran Senator Wagner, and Edward Corsi, opposing James A. Mead, have announced they will, if elected, work for amendments to the Wagner act and that they favor reduction in government spending, though not at the cost of needed relief.

of which has never been devised or brought to the attention of the Department in applying moisture to plant growth.

"Because of these natural resources, there has been developed a highly efficient system of agriculture in the Seminole County delta. "Production of celery has reached such magnitude that it has made necessary the special training of labor, the construction of many railroad sidings, hard roads, wash houses, packing houses, pre-cooling plants and erte facilities. The largest initial icing plant in the world is located at Sanford. "The distribution of this enormous production of celery has caused the organization of efficient shipping associations—both cooperative and independent. The first Farmers' Wholesale Market has been located at Sanford."

Special tribute was paid to C. R. Dawson, county agent, to whom a large measure of credit was given for the success of Seminole County agriculture. The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce was characterized as being composed of "a large membership of thrifty, keen, far-sighted business, professional and agricultural workers" through whose "untiring efforts the county has pushed to the front with great strides."

Seminole County's newspapers were also mentioned as contributing to the welfare of the county, and the article was concluded with the following: "With a live, working Chamber of Commerce, a county agent who knows his business, a fine daily and weekly newspaper, and lands that will rival the famed Nile delta of Egypt, how can Seminole County fail to grow?"

Distance Record Set By British Airmen

PORT DAWRIN, Australia, Nov. 7.—(AP)— Nine young British airmen captured the world's non-stop distance record for the Royal Air Force today after a flight across the Indian jungles and Southern Seas from Ismailia, Egypt.

Two of the three Vickers Wellesley bombers in which they flew roared into Port Darwin shortly after noon, having covered approximately 7,160 miles in a few minutes over 48 hours at an average speed of 149 miles an hour.

The third landed at Kupang, Timor Island, about 8,000 miles from Ismailia, due to fuel shortage but it also broke a previous record of 6,506 miles established in July 1937 by three Soviet fliers who flew from Moscow to San Jacinto, Calif., by way of the North Pole.

SENSITIVE to Your Wishes
Succussions from customers like yourself were responsible for thirty-nine changes in the practices and operating methods of your telephone company during the last six months of this year.
Telephone men and women strive constantly to provide a service of steadily improving quality, through adequate research for developing better apparatus, and training to create a more skilled personnel.
But, in addition to furnishing you with telephone service that is technically excellent, they want to provide it in the way that suits you best.
Keeping your telephone service in tune with changing conditions is aided by knowing what you want, when and where you want it, how you want it. This requires organization, to see that no voice is lost.
A committee representing the different departments first considers suggestions from customers and employees in the immediate district. Suggestions then go to a similar committee, and finally to a general committee for the entire Southern Bell Company, insuring complete consideration.
Over nine million times a day, the telephone system in the South is called on to set up a million-mile wide channel between two folks who may be across the continent or across the continent. Handling all nine million calls daily, obviously, as if they were only one, the one you are making, is one moment of the size of the job that is involved.
It is a job that keeps many thousands of telephone workers busy, but not too busy to make sure that your telephone service is the way you want it to be.

Election To Decide New Deal's Future; Local Voting Heavy

35 Senate, 432 House Seats And 32 Governorships Are In Hands Of Voters

Victory Claims Of Parties Vary

Roosevelt Policies Predominate In Congressional Races

The Associated Press reports that America's sovereign voters today to determine the New Deal's future course by choosing congressmen and state officials in a momentous "off year" election.

The outpouring of citizens from factory and field, from kitchen and office, gave every indication of setting a voting record equal only by the 45,000,000 of 1936.

The major offices at stake were 35 Senate seats, 432 House seats and 32 governorships. Only in Maine, which elected a Republican governor and three representatives in September, was no vote being cast.

Candidates were many and issues varied, but in the bulk of the congressional contests the question of support or opposition to Roosevelt policies predominated.

Specific claims of victory by opposing party leaders varied widely. Senator Brown (D-Mich.) and he was convinced there was no recession in Democratic strength. Many other Democrats, however, contended that the Republicans would gain two or three Senators, as many governors, and between 25 and 50 House members.

Republicans predicted gains of from eight to a dozen senatorships and as many governorships.
