TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

We never heard of a mortal who regretted walking in the way of the Lord. Millions have regretted that they did not walk in the way of the Lord which had led me in the right way.—Gen. 21: 48.

Retail sales in Seminole County last year are reported by the State Chamber of Commerce as $25,308,000. Of this sum, food sales accounted for $6,984,000, general merchandise for $1,037,000, household furniture and radio for $899,000, automotive for $3,706,000, and drugs for $786,000.

One bright spot looms in this week's Florida State Market report. "Slight damage, if any, was suffered by crops in the Sanford State Farmers' Market area," it says. "Prices are not entirely satisfactory on most items; however 101,478 units in 38 varieties of produce were reported at $144,156 valuation. Variety in fair to good volume is expected this week."

Bob Eastman, publicity director for Cypress Gardens, says publicity has brought millions of tourists to Florida. "Tain't so, says you, the climate did it. Maybe so, but we had climate long before we had tourists. Eastman says income from the tourist business in 1934 was five million dollars. This year it is expected to top one billion dollars. Something brought about that change besides climate."

It is no small job to be a truck driver. Their annual wage is $4,043 as compared with $3,281 for the average worker in private industry. There are about 100,000 "professional truck drivers" in Florida who must undergo periodic psychological tests to determine their fitness to drive. Their color discrimination, visual acuity, depth perception, foot and hand reaction time and many similar functions are carefully tested, and if they cannot pass these tests their truck driving days are over. It would make a big difference on the highways if ordinary motorists were similarly restricted.

Congratulations to the Florida Forest Service on the 25th anniversary of its founding on Apr. 2, 1928. Much has been accomplished since the organization of the Service 25 years ago, says State Forester C. H. Coulter. There are now five fire control units in 32 counties, including Seminole, protecting almost 13 million acres of timberland from fire. If the Forest Service had done nothing more than to bring to the attention of the public the importance of preserving our forest, it would have been worthwhile, but even more important perhaps is its job of putting out fires. Last year 63 percent of the 7,692 fires on protected lands were deliberately caused by man. But in spite of this only 1.7 percent of the protected land burned, but 47 percent of Florida's 7 million acres of unprotected land was destroyed.

From Sanford's First Federal Savings and Loan Association comes a beautifully engraved folder containing the words of President Eisenhower's prayer uttered upon the occasion of his inaugural as thirty-fourth president of the United States. It reads "Almighty God, as we stand here at this moment, my future associates in the executive branch of the government join me in beseeching that Thou wilt make full and complete dedication to the service of the people in this throng and their fellow citizens everywhere. Give us, we pray, the power to discern clearly right from wrong and allow all our works and actions to be governed thereby and by the laws of this land. Especially we pray that our concern shall be for all the people regardless of station, race or calling. May co-operation be permitted and be the mutual aim of those who, under the concept of our Constitution, hold to differing political beliefs, so that all may work for the good of our beloved country and for Thy glory."

Measure Of Success

President Eisenhower has proposed a plan which will grant more power to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson in the re-organization of his department. The plan will allow Secretary Benson to delegate authority to whatever officials or agencies he might choose without regard for agencies which already exist.

President Eisenhower, long experienced in dealing with the delegation of authority is aware that a man must have the ability to hold responsible for how that organization functions. For this reason he has proposed increasing the authority of the Secretary of Agriculture at the same time giving him greater responsibility for the efficiency of the department.

Congressional approval is expected without too much opposition. Congress is aware that a new president has new ideas of how the executive department of the government should operate. For this reason legislators are usually willing to grant the President certain re-organization powers. How wisely a President uses them, and how successful he is in keeping Congress in a state of mind willing to grant such authority, may be a measure of the success of his administration.

Durable Satisfaction

Professor Irwin Edman of the Philosophy department of Columbia University says that schools and colleges have been negligent in teaching the arts. Professor Edman believes that many educators believe art is something for the average person.

In defense of the schools it must be said that there has been a great deal of progress made in teaching appreciation of the arts. Interest in painting, sculpture and music seems to be on the increase. But there are still too many people who have had the opportunity of high school or college education and who have ended their studies without developing an appreciation of the arts.

Professor Edman is right in urging the importance of art. A civilization is more than the aggregate of its wealth and material production. History must often judge an era by what lasting beauty it contributed to the world. Charles W. Eliot of Harvard University once called art "the durable satisfaction of life" as distinguished from the passing interest of immaturity.

Divide And Conquer

The late Joseph Stalin once announced that the Soviet policy for domination of the world would follow the old formula, "divide and conquer." In some ways it seems that his successors are still following that plan. The Kremlin may be trying to drive a wedge between the Americans and the British.

Malenkov at the moment seems to be dealing more gently with the British than with us. Russia has hinted that ten British subjects interned by the Korean Communists may be released soon. England had sought the release of these men before but until now all such diplomatic pleas fell on deaf ears. Russia's handling of the protest about the English plane shot down by a Communist fighter was much more conciliatory than the handling of a protest of a similar nature made by the United States.

If the Communists can get Britain and the United States to look at the cold war with two different attitudes the policy of divide and conquer will be working well. Such a division is not likely, however. Our ties with Britain are strong.

Too Late To Classify

Long before pirates began burying treasure in the sands of Florida, a vast treasure-hunting operation known as the Everglades has been in progress. Only in the last few years has man begun to realize that the forest for greater than any ever dreamed of by the Spaniards and buccaniers lay waiting here for those with courage, vision and the will to seek it. Only the surface of this vast area has been scratched; no one really knows what wealth man will wrest from it in the years to come.

Every time I visit the 'Glades area I am amazed at the progress being made there and firmly believe that this section will someday become Florida's greatest industrial and agricultural section, with giant operations beyond present-day comprehension that will swell the state's wealth and give employment to countless thousands.

Indications of this future are already apparent. As drainage and flood control open more and more Everglades land, scientists in the laboratory and field continue their research to determine new ways and means of reaping the benefits of this great treasure house.

We are all familiar with what has already been done in the growing of winter vegetables, raising of sugar cane and cattle. Each season sees the expansion of all these activities. This season the United States Sugar Corporation will break all production records; vegetable growing and processing is on the increase and cattle farming is a major operation.

Newer activities are found in experiments under way with fiber crops such as ramie and kenaf which promise to someday provide raw material for great textile industries. It has been demonstrated that these crops can be successfully grown and machinery has been developed that permits de-cordication on a profitable basis, but progress has been slow to date as scientists and engineers seek to overcome problems that sooner or later will be solved.

Of interest to every newspaper publisher is the information recently announced that a mill to manufacture paper from saw grass is soon to be established. Paper made from Everglades saw grass will sell for around $80 per ton, and as this column is written

Palm Sunday

The multitudes hail Jesus as He enters Jerusalem.

Jesus teaches in the temple.

ONE OF THE most crucial weeks in the world's history opened with the arrival in Jerusalem of Jesus and His disciples. As He entered the city He was greeted by multitudes who "cut down branches off the trees, and strewed them in the way." As He made His way to the temple, the crowds surrounded Him, crying, "Hosanna. Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord."

The Way to the Cross

Judas receives thirty pieces of silver from the priests to betray Jesus.

Jesus leads His disciples in the Last Supper.

AMONG HIS disciples was one who plotted with the scribes and the chief priests to betray Jesus. This one, Judas Iscariot, contracted with them for thirty pieces of silver to deliver Jesus into their hands. At the Last Supper, Jesus revealed His knowledge that one of the 12 would betray Him. As He broke the bread, He said, "Take, eat, this is My body," and as He lifted the cup He said, "This is My blood of the new testament, which is shed for many."

A Library For Sanford

FEW TOPICS have greater appeal to the average citizen than something in the form of authenticated history about the home town, and how it got to be that way. Residents, young and old, always enjoy the opportunity to learn something about the pioneers whose energy and foresight made possible the modern city of today. The City of Sanford is particularly fortunate in its municipal forebear, Gen. Henry Shelton Sanford, distinguished world traveler and American diplomat, who came to Florida in 1871, established his home on an elaborate 12,000 acre estate and laid out, nearby, the town which now bears his name. Emphasizing the interest of Sanford's present-day residents in the city's history and its founder, patriotic citizens groups are bending their efforts toward the construction of a memorial structure to Gen. Sanford — a fire-resistant building that will house a library and museum in which can be placed a valuable 2,700 volume library of the general, and a collection of his paintings and antiques. The project is a wholesome one which merits wide public co-operation in bringing it to fruition. It will be a lasting testimonial to the memory of the man who was the first to recognize the great future of the City of Sanford.

Poppell Served In First Marine Raiders

Henry C. Poppell, one of the members of the firm of Berry-Poppell Furniture Co. which will open for business at 901 West First Street tomorrow, was a life insurance salesman in Sanford just prior to World War II. He is a former president of the DeLand Hospital Board, co-captain of the Quarterback Club of that city, and a member of the Lake

Beresford Yacht Club

He joined the Marine Corps at the outbreak of war and was one of the last five enlisted men to return from Pacific Ocean action with the famed First Marine Raiders under General Merritt A. Edson. After being discharged, he returned to DeLand to go into business for himself. Mr. Poppell started Poppell's Furniture Store in that city six years ago with the one thought to operate his business in such a manner that newcomers would be attracted to the economy of living in Central Florida.

Dr. Charles T. Thrift, Jr., vice president of Florida Southern College, was elected president of the Florida Historical Society at the meeting on the PSC campus. He succeeds John C. Blocker, of St. Petersburg, as president of the 97-year old organization.

WEDNESDAY APR. 1, 1953
TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

But we do not always appreciate our blessings because they are so commonplace. The humblest of us is free from fear, we can worship and labor and speak as we please. Half the world are not so fortunate. The suffering, the longing soul, and the hungry soul he bleth with good.—Pc. 107:9.

Seasons may come and seasons may go, and some of them are not as good as others, but Seminole County had, according to the 1950 census, 541 farms of 155,595 acres, which produced an annual income of $13,600,000 and that ain't hay, even in these slim plaster days.

Remember, "Abba dabba dabba dabba dabba dabba," said the monkey to its mate. Well, the man who wrote "Abba Dabba Honey-moon" and many other popular songs of a generation ago, Arthur Field, was among the 33 men and women who died in the Largo Nursing Home fire the other morning. Suffering from a stroke a few weeks before, he had been admitted to the home only the day before the fire.

Farmers and fishermen, some of whom are favoring a bill to compel the state to refund to them gasoline taxes paid on farm machinery and outdoor motor fuel on the grounds that gasoline taxes are used for road construction and tractors and boats don't use them on the highways, should think twice before they embark upon any such foolish course. Florida now collects $63,938,000 a year in gasoline taxes, but once the policy of tax refunds is adopted, even though it may seem small in amount at first, this huge fund for road building purposes will be seriously jeopardized. And farmers and fishermen do use roads, even if their beats and tractors don't.

The State Road Department is going to four lane Highway No. 1 down the east coast, but it is not going to abandon the proposed turnpike down the center of the state. Latest figures indicate that some sort of four-laning could be accomplished for about $40,000,000, instead of the $110,000,000 originally estimated, not including rights of way (which are apt to be pretty high). And it is confidently hoped that the turnpike can be built through private interests and paid for by tolls without putting a burden on the taxpayers. It sounds almost like getting a rabbit out of a hat, but if it can be done it is a good trick.

Believe it or not, but simple as Florida driver license tests are, 81,549 persons flunked the test last year, according to the State Safety Department which explains that they failed because they simply didn't know the rules of the road. That is why you sometimes see a driver with his arm straight out to the left suddenly turn to the right, and why so many of them give no hand signal at all when they are going to turn to the left. And when we are told that over 81,000 persons who had to take the tests failed, we are moved to wonder how many would have failed if all those who drive, but didn't take the tests, had been compelled to do so.

Easter Seal envelopes were in the mail yesterday to thousands of Sanford supporters of the Crippled Children's Association and the Forest Park School for Central Florida in Orlando. The money raised in the drive will help to pay the transportation cost for children who need the kind of training which can be found in this area only at the Forest Park or Eccleston schools in Orlando, and to buy the special braces, wheel chairs, and therapeutic equipment which they need. If you cannot visit the Forest Park school personally, and see the fine work which is being done, take the money which is and send a contribution to Mr. E. G. Kilpatrick, Treasurer, at the Florida State

Special Weeks
New Jersey's Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll has put his foot down. He has declined to proclaim Potato Chip Week. This follows calls which left him cold for such world shaking occasions as Cotton Week, Sisterhood Week, Anti-Depression Week and Expectant Fathers' Day. Even so he issued 75 indorsements for such occasions in 1952.

Some of these requests are purely commercial in inspiration, and these the governor firmly rejects. Others are backed by worthy enthusiasts. If they can furnish detailed information and sound reasons for proclaiming a special week and if the state department concerned thinks the request legitimate, a proclamation to that effect is apt to be issued.

Of course the whole thing is futile. No one, except possibly the men who pay the public relations firms that inspire the requests, pays any attention to them, or could tell what special week any given one might be.

Change in Russia?
There seems to be a definite change in the attitude of the Russian rulers since the death of Stalin and succession to power of Georgi Malenkov. The speeches of Soviet leaders have been a great deal more moderate and free from invective against the West. Recently an amnesty was granted to a large number of short term, non-political prisoners. The Chinese Reds, doubtless at the inspiration of Moscow, have offered to resume the peace talks in Korea.

Western leaders are being cautious in appraising the meaning of the change in Soviet behavior. Some fear that it may be nothing more than a prelude to another hostile move. They see the Soviet's conciliatory attitude as part of a plan to disrupt the Western powers' attempt to unite against Communism.

Certainly caution is in order. But it is not impossible that Malenkov is faced with the necessity for making some kind of peace which will reassure his people and allow him to get set more securely in power. China has been bearing the brunt of the battle in Korea and the Red Chinese may be exerting some pressure to end the useless conflict there.

Whatever the motives for the recent Red moves the United Nations can lose nothing by re-opening the negotiations with the Reds request. If the Communists are sincere it will not be too difficult to end the fighting in Korea and stop the senseless waste of lives. If they are not sincere it will soon be apparent from their actions.

By Tragedy's Light
The way to reform, too often, is lighted only by the flames of disaster.

This is tragically true of the movement to obtain better state supervision of the nursing homes which flourish among the frailties of Florida's older citizens.

The well-ignorant operation of these institutions, which trade many old folks a skimpy security for a small pension, long has been a source of concern to welfare authorities.

A bill was submitted to the 1951 legislature to give the State Board of Health power to prescribe and enforce minimum standards for nursing homes. Opposition developed and legislators, occupied with more important matters, pushed the proposal aside.

Thus, from neglect, the issue died.

In the shrieking horror of a Sunday morning (1948) patients and a nurse at the Littlefield Nursing Home at Largo died, too.

Perhaps they were victims of the same neglect, perhaps not. Pending an official investigation, it is impossible to say whether the tragedy could have been prevented by stiffer safety requirements.

But, as it matter of common sense, it seems unlikely that proper regulation would have permitted 57 patients to be housed in a frame building of this size with no more protection than that afforded by a few hand-operated fire extinguishers. Especially so, when many of the patients were immobilized by illness or senility and therefore unable to help themselves.

Officials now rush in from all directions to stir the ashes and sift out evidence of blame. This is, of course, necessary. But whatever the investigators may find among the blackened bedsteads and the foundation blocks, standing like cemetery markers among the ruins, the central fact already is plain: The ultimate responsibility rests with the state.

The problem of caring for the aged is not solved by writing a pension check. What happens then? Does the money assure for the helpless oldster a measure of comfort and security in the gathering darkness? Or does it merely buy for him a hazardous bed in a neglected refuge?

It is the state's duty to know and to take action accordingly.

We have no doubt that the legislature now will quickly recognize this responsibility. The pity is that the lawmakers could not see it except by the light of tragedy. — Tampa Tribune.

Hunt Continued For Two Missing Airmen
PENSACOLA (AP)—Deep sea divers and sea-air rescue units today continued a hunt for the bodies of two Navy airmen who died in separate crashes in Bizabooster Bay.

The two died Monday in unrelated accidents about 500 yards apart.

The Naval Air Station identified them as Richard H. Bloomberg, Youngstown, O., aviation technician third class, missing after a helicopter crash; and Ensign Ronald R. Swanson, Lake Bronson, Minn., whose trainer plane fell into the waters of the bay.

Lt. W. C. Russell, Pensacola, pilot of the helicopter, swam to a channel buoy and was rescued unhurt.

THE WORLD TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—The Korean armistice would not settle the Korean problem. Peace talks begun when the shooting ends. Hagglng over peace terms may make the 22 months of haggling over truce terms look mild.

An armistice is not peace, even though it means stopping the shooting stops. It's a temporary agreement, supposedly until a final peace settlement can be worked out.

Representatives of the United Nations and the Communists agreed long ago they'd begin discussions about a permanent peace within three months after the armistice went into effect, if they could ever agree on an armistice.

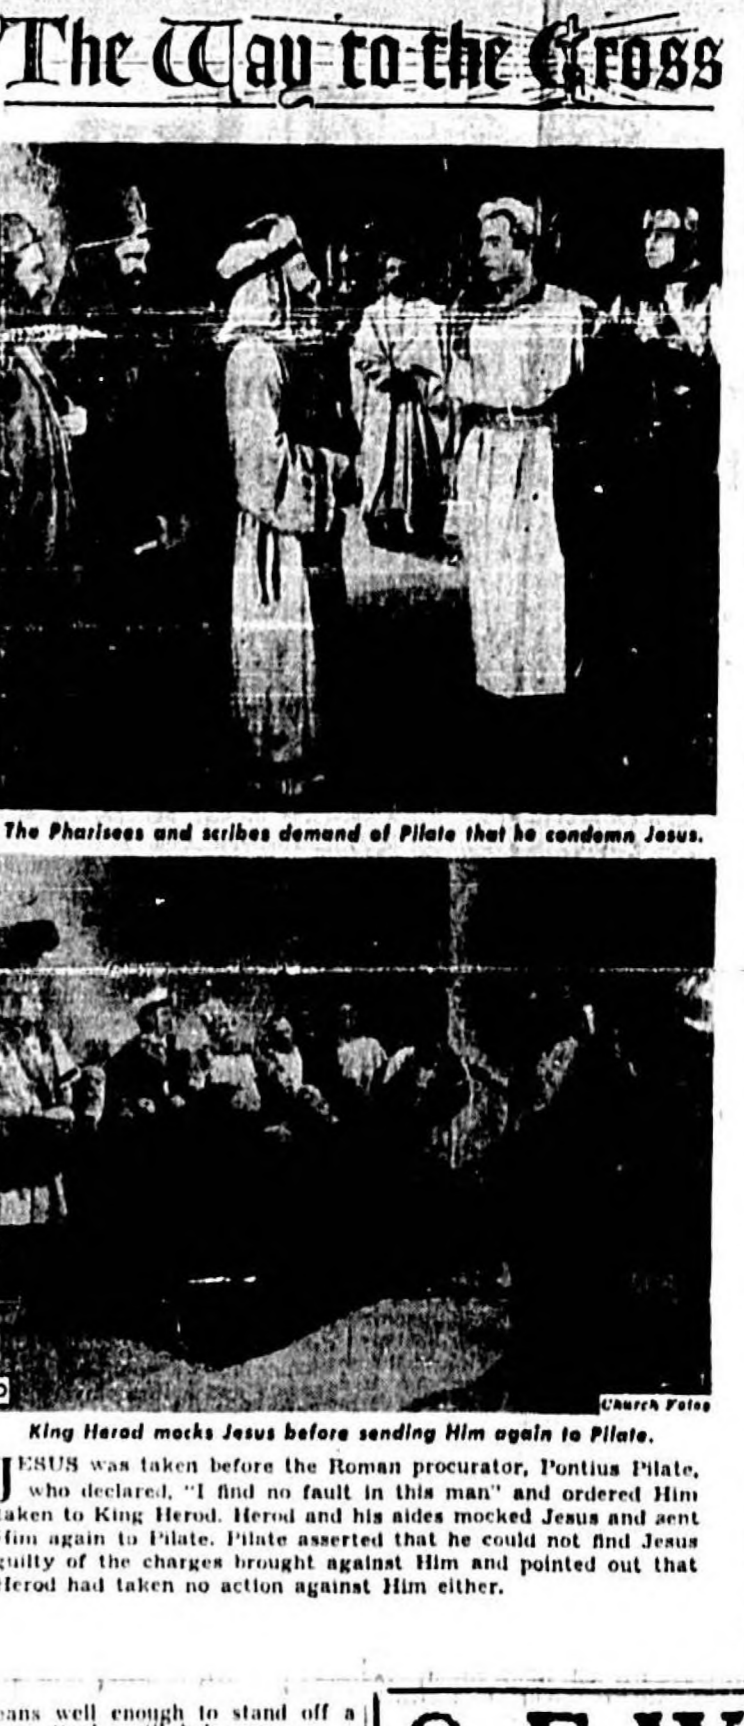

When an armistice begins the U. N. troops and the Chinese Communists would not suddenly turn and walk out of Korea. Each side would withdraw one mile from the fighting front, leaving a demilitarized zone of two miles between them.

And there, presumably, they would stay until peace was agreed upon. Neither could clear out before then for fear the other would suddenly resume the attack. How long would that go on? It's anyone's guess.

The U. N. probably would continue training South Koreans, eventually letting them take over the forward positions. Other U. N. troops could then withdraw to supporting positions in the rear, just in case.

Both sides also agreed long ago that with the coming of an armistice neither could thereafter bring in more troops or build up its armament, although each could rotate its troops and replace beat-up equipment.

If the U. N. found the Com-

...ists cheating and building up strength for a new attack, again it's anyone's guess what the U. N. would do. It could hardly sit still. But the problems of a final peace settlement are greater than those which bogged down the armistice-talkers for almost two years. Here are some examples: once peace was signed, Should Korea be left divided into two by the 38th Parallel, as it was before the North Koreans attacked the South Koreans in June, 1950?

The Chinese Communists and their North Korean allies could hardly settle for anything else. To do otherwise would be to accept from Korea and South Korea a defeat which the U. N. hadn't been able to inflict on the battlefield.

But would the U. N. and Chinese troops have to withdraw from Korea and, once peace was signed? The Chinese might welcome that idea. They could withdraw just across the border and be ready to pour in suddenly at any future time. Withdrawal of the U. N. would mean clearing out to Japan, at least.

If the U. N. and the Chinese withdrew, would the North Koreans and South Koreans be disarmed? If they weren't, they might start war on one another again and the whole thing would start over.

The U. S. withdrew its troops in 1949 from South Korea and the North Koreans attacked in 1950. But neither North nor South Korea is likely to agree to being disarmed. And if the U. N. withdrew from South Korea, what assurances would it have that the Chinese or Russians wouldn't secretly build up the North Koreans for a new sudden attack?

Meanwhile, the United States, which has paid out so much in live and money to protect South Korea, would hardly agree to withdraw and not reform the South Ko-reas well enough to stand off a new attack until help came.

And the Chinese Communists might want some guarantees that the U. S. would not only not encourage Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa to invade China but that it would stop military help to him.

That the Chinese would raise the Formosa question seems pretty sure.

Mrs. Kirtley Named Chairman Of Seminole County Cancer Campaign

A drive to raise $18,000,000 throughout the United States to fight cancer was launched today in Seminole County under the leadership of Mrs. Kirtley.

The chairman of the 1953 Crusade announced that Seminole County has been assigned a goal of $2,000,000 as its share in the national campaign.

Brightly colored posters displaying the Crusade motto have been placed in a number of local stores and offices under the direction of Mrs. David E. Hach. Her committee has also located canisters at many of the stores for the collection of contributions to the 1953 Cancer Crusade.

A thermometer which will record the collection of contributions is on display in the window of Sears and Roebuck. It will be marked daily to indicate the progress of the drive.

As the 1953 drive opened, Mrs. Kirtley announced the importance of volunteer work in raising funds. Informal meetings have been held to help people understand cancer. Anyone interested in helping Beta Sigma Phi during the crusade is urged to call either Mrs. Kirtley or Mrs. Rudy Sloan.

From the Florida division of the American Cancer Society came a message congratulating the local chairman, Seminole County executive committee members and Beta Sigma Phi members on their prompt start in the campaign.

"You are to be congratulated," said Mrs. Kirtley, state campaign chairman, wrote.

Your share of the $18,000,000 goal is vitally important. Every contribution is helpful. Ten cents buys a test tube. Twenty dollars will support a research bed for one day. Five hundred dollars will buy a special microscope while $65,000 will provide a million volt X-ray machine.

Mrs. Kirtley added to Mr. Carey's message the information that of every dollar contributed to the American Cancer Society, 60 cents remains in the state, 25 cents goes to a national research program, and 15 cents is used by national headquarters for preparing films, publications and exhibits for professional and public education, for fellowships to physicians, for planning and supervision of program of service to cancer patients and for administration and fund raising.

Contributions by check should be made out to "The American Cancer Society" and can be mailed to Mrs. Dale Scott Jr., Seminole County treasurer.

DAR Meeting

ing propaganda entirely in favor of UNESCO. Not one word of unfavorable information have I ever heard from the top officials of the University of Florida about the UNESCO movement.

"The students of the University of Florida are entitled to know the truth about UNESCO. The great body of patriotic alumni of the University of Florida are entitled to know the truth about UNESCO. This they have not learned from officials of that institution.

"There is not the slightest reason for the taxpayers of the State of Florida to put up one dime to be used by the University of Florida for this deadly UNESCO propaganda. The taxpayers of Florida have been most generous in providing funds to build up that wonderful institution and they are certainly entitled to have the officials of the University of Florida protect the freedom of the school children of the State of Florida by telling them the truth about UNESCO.

"And who is principally responsible for the fact that no effort is being made to expose the UNESCO movement and root it out of the school system of Florida?"

It's President J. Hillis Miller? "I do not question President Miller's loyalty or patriotism in any way, I do question his judgment and his ability to think clearly on this subject.

"A situation of this kind can only be changed by aggressive action on the part of some patriotic organizations." Lowry concluded.

"The DAR is the best qualified group to undertake the job."

The conference opened Tuesday night with a memorial service and will close Thursday.

Betty Jean Hendrickson, Moore Haven high school student, was announced as Florida's good citizen—winner of a contest judged by the DAR on essays and good citizenship qualities. Miss Hendrickson, sponsored by the Jonathan Dickinson Chapter of Delray Beach, received a $100 savings bond and a pin.

Mrs. Austin Williamson, Jacksonville, state DAR president, said the group is putting more emphasis on youth—trying to get more young people to join and bring fresh ideas with them.

Another aim of the DAR is to work with new citizens and those seeking citizenship. Mrs. Williamson said the Jacksonville Chapter conducts classes in English for newcomers to the United States.

Tomorrow Hugh Richards, PMS, NAAS personnel officer, is to be transferred to duty with the Security Group in Sabana, Puerto Rico. "Rich" has been attached to NAAS since the air station was reactivated in May of 1951.

"Rich's" home is Flint, Mich., and he plans to visit his family there before reporting for his next duty. Best of luck, "Rich!"

SHS-Seabreeze Play In Memorial Park Tomorrow Night

Game To Mark Local Baseball Opener

By KENT CHETLAIN

Tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock the lights will be turned on to the Memorial stadium for the first time this year to usher in the 1953 baseball season as the Seminole High School baseball team races out on the field to engage the mighty Seabreeze team from Daytona Beach.

It will be a proud night for local fans. They will be watching probably one of the most promising SHS diamond contingents in recent years in the City's ultra modern $200,000 baseball plant.

Deprived of the usual minor league spring training activities and pre-season workouts of a local entry in the Florida State League, this City's baseball hungry enthusiasts will quench their thirst for some organized baseball competition at tomorrow night's 11th-12th annual "BIBLIOTHECA" CHAMPIONSHIPS!

Sanford Coach Bill Fleming has already designated his right-handed hurler, ace, "Mighty Mel" Fletcher for the starting position. His battery mate will be Terry Cordell.

Both players were stars for last year's crack Campbell-Lessing Post No. 53 Junior League diamond team that swept through both the Orlando and Wauchula districts to gain a final berth in the coveted state championship tournament at Starke last summer.

Boosted by the complete return of all these Legion vets and a few other returning left-overs, namely Ed McCall and Joe Hutchinson, the Seminoles have been labeled favorites to snare the Southern East Florida conference flag and strong contenders for the EFL pennant, not to mention their lofty position in the state championship ratings for class A schools.

Tomorrow's clash under the marquee will be the first of three after-sunbon encounters to be played in the Memorial Stadium in the next 10 days before the arrival of the Sanford Cardinals from their Albany, Ga. spring training encampment on Saturday, Apr. 11.

Next Tuesday night, Apr. 7, the mighty Edgewater Eagles of Orlando invade the confines of Memorial Stadium for a battle with the Celery Feds. Then on Friday night, Apr. 10, the Deland Bulldogs will play Sanford in the stadium to wind up the Sanford Seabreeze series.

Fleming will announce shortly about the same team he fielded in New Smyrna last week when the Seminoles dropped a close 10-9 decision in the season's opener.

Junior Matts will be in the cleanup and playing third base with shortstop Bill Sheffield leading off. The outfield will consist of McCall, Larry Bates, Frank Stafford and Jack Kridler. Incidentally, Fleming might prefer a standard button chest in sending Kridler to the hill, rather Fletcher for relief duty on the Tuesday game with Edgewater.

Hats Lose Promising Outfielder To Draft

DELAND (Special)—Deland Red Hats' hopes for another good season took another dent last here yesterday when the second promising youngster in less than a week received "acceptance" from Uncle Sam. The boy called yesterday was Fletcher Moore, an outfielder, who was being counted upon to fill the shoes of Ken Trauseke, sold to Miami last fall. The Greenhaman Co. boy has played third and second base and had been tabbed by Mgr. Ray Dunne as one of the brightest prospects to appear in the Florida State League since Trauseke walked into camp three years ago.

Hawkins Bats And Hurls Giants Into Rotary First Place

DELAND (Special)—The Sanford Rotary Giants' first place position was solidified yesterday when Jim Hawkins' second win in three decisions, mashing the Giants into first place while dropping the Tigers into second place.

Jim Hawkins two-way deal today with the Cubs for second place.

Today the Tigers and Cubs met in the main while hurling an unexciting game at the Ninth Street Diamond beginning at 8:00 p.m. Tomorrow, the Giants and Pirates tangle.

Allen Thomas Paces Lyman Over Tavares

LONGWOOD (Special)—Sophomore Allen Thomas, third baseman, paced Lyman over Tavares in the main while hurling the Greenhams to a 2-0 victory over Tavares.

Making his mound debut, Thomas fanned 11 batters and allowed but two passes in seven innings. Meanwhile, the lanky right hander fished out a double and pair of singles to pace the Lyman 10-hit onslaught.

It was the first Lyman 10-hit baseball game in the history of the Greenhams who have lost one game to their cross-county rivals, the Oviedo Lions. Hudson was charged with the defeat.

Fields To Speak On Cards At J.C. Meet Tomorrow

DELAND (Special)—For three years, a young Minnesota lad has been in correspondence with Joe Holup, owner of the Deland Red Hats, trying to get a spot on the baseball team. This year it looked as though he'd make it.

That official decided, after reading letters from the boy telling what a great pitcher he was... and how he could throw every pitch in the book... and some even unknown... that they would give him a chance.

After several conferences it was decided to send the boy a telegram for expense money. Shortly afterwards, another message was received from Minnesota. The sender was sorry but neither the train ticket nor the telegraphed funds could be delivered. The lad is an inmate of a state mental institution.

The boy is still "crazy" to play ball.
