

Connections Are Seen As Obstacle By Radio Pianist

By AP Feature Service
New York, Nov. 20—Joan Edwards, 19-year-old radio pianist, thinks the greatest obstacle to success is "good connections."

Joan should be something of an authority on the matter, too. Her father is a music publisher, for whom a great many band leaders and others of stage, screen and radio, would be glad to go to a favor. Her uncle is Gus Edwards, whose vanguard will have played practically every show in the land, and who is credited with "discovering" Eddie Cantor, George Jessel, George Price and a score of others.

Two years ago Uncle Gus offered to take Joan under wing, wangle some choice spots for her, pave the road to the top. Joan said definitely... not! Joan offered to see what he could do. Joan said nothing doing.

Of her own, the youngster, went to her hunter college, just to Brooklyn, got a job on a small radio station. Six months later, she was playing the piano for a Man... not! Joan offered to see what he could do. Joan said nothing doing.

Joan's intimates have nicknamed her "Lousiana." Her great extravagance in perfume, the blue velvet colors, tailored suits, Mexican tamales.

"The trouble with good connections," she says, "is that they get you into a spot before you are ready for it."

Lewis R. Mitchell Is Indicted On Lottery Charges

Sheriff's Office Is Unable To Locate Him Since Action

Lewis R. Mitchell was indicted last Monday by the Grand Jury on charges of conducting a lottery, records at the Seminole County Court House, disclosed today.

Up to the present time, members of the Sheriff's Office have been unable to locate Mitchell whose activities in connection with local lotteries are said to have come under the scrutiny of the Grand Jury in its drive against the "Bulfinch Barons."

Mr. Mitchell is reported to have left Sanford at about the time of his indictment and officials indicate they have been unable to obtain any information as to his whereabouts since that time.

The Grand Jury recessed after returning the indictments earlier in the week but it has been intimated that they will continue their work to rid Sanford and Seminole County of the "big shot" in the Cuba racket here.

Shortly after the convening of Court this morning, Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith sentenced three persons who had been convicted earlier in the week.

Ed English and Joe Dixon who were convicted Tuesday on a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor, were sentenced to one year each in the State Penitentiary and David O'Neal, negro, charged with assault with the intent to commit murder in the second degree, was sentenced to serve 18 months in the State Prison.

After sentencing the three, the Court recessed until 10:00 A. M. Dec. 3 at which time the remaining defendants to be tried in this term of the Circuit Court will be arraigned and their cases set for trial.

It was indicated today that the remaining criminal cases would probably be tried during the week beginning Dec. 6, and will include the trial of those indicted recently by the Grand Jury for alleged lottery operations.

Charles S. Jordan, former employee of the Cowan Company Store, who was arrested in Jacksonville several months ago and charged with theft of clothing from his employer, withdrew his plea of not guilty when the case came up for trial Wednesday and entered a plea of guilty.

Scrimmage Planned By Blackcats Tonight

Tonight's session will be one of the best and most complete drills of the year as all forms of the second national pastime will be practiced. The drill field has been marked off into a regular football field and a scrub game will be played tonight by the first and second teams.

Spicy Cookie Treat

With crisp, cold winter days making hot drinks and spicy cookies most appealing, Walnut Molasses Bars become a special treat. Few cookies can equal their fragrance and flavor as they come freshly baked right out of the oven. One of the favorite points about these bars is that the dough can be made up ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator to be baked on short notice.

When the youngsters come home from school or play, these delicious bars will quickly appease their appetites and renew their energy. Served with hot coffee or chocolate, the bars provide a delightful late evening refreshment after cards or conversation.

FLORIDA HIGHLIGHTS

seven-year peak and tops the 1936 mark by 10 percent.
 Up-to-the minute adult technique has gone into playland architecture, transportation and handicrafts, and many "luxury toys" have been produced in low price ranges for the first time.
 "Children of 1937 want toys which will help them imitate grown-up activities in every possible way, just as children have done since the days of the cave men," says the toy association.
 To supply this want, there are miniature steam engines with boilers fired with electricity, modern houses with glass walls, a real airplane motor that takes gasoline and yet is small enough to fit in the palm, trailers, a dial telephone in a television model—it's done with mirrors—and a new gun that shoots pictures on the wall.

The neutrality policy of the United States is reflected in the toys. The G-man, the engineer, the cowboy and even cartoon celebrities hold the stage, with war toys totalling only one percent of the $230,000,000 pack.

For the one-year old, or less, there is a streamlined rattle with a rubber head for safe thumping. New ABC blocks are tipped with grooved surfaces. A new model "drinking doll" contains the contents of her bottle lying down. Complete wardrobes are the last word in style for this year's "smart" doll.

As usual, there are toys which proud papa will buy with an eye to his own amusement as well as his junior's. There are electric trains that do their six equivalent of 100 miles an hour, with new automatic signals and illuminated crossing grades to add to thrills.

The first miniature polariscope will give scientific-minded youngsters a chance to test light phenomena. A micro-projector includes dissecting needles and slides. A new science scope, using the principle of the projecting microscope, magnifies molecular explosions in full color.

XENOPHORA
 ONE OF FLORIDA'S STRANGEST CREATURES

Almost hidden by beautiful tropical foliage is a modest Forty Myers home built over fifty years ago by the world famous inventor, Thomas A. Edison. At the time it was constructed, the villagers did not realize that they had a genius in their midst. Today the old EDISON HOME on McGregor Blvd. is one of Florida's most interesting show places and visitors to the charming city always want to see where the great inventor lived. It is said that the incandescent lamp, the phonograph and the Edison storage battery were all perfected in the splendidly equipped laboratory adjoining the old Edison home.

In some mysterious way the curious Mollusk, XENOPHORA which inhabits Florida waters, picks up pieces of shell or other hard materials and securely cements them to the growing edge of its own low conical shell for protection. When mature, its surface is so solidly covered with fragments, that it is extremely difficult to distinguish the strange creature from its shelly surroundings.

Student Operated Bank Takes Books

DETROIT, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Students at the Detroit Institute of Technology are learning banking by operating their own bank, which is chartered by the Michigan banking department.

Known as the Educational Credit Union of Detroit, it is believed to be the only student bank in the United States under state supervision.

The credit union pays 4 per cent interest on deposits and charges students 6 per cent on loans made for educational purposes. Books as well as promissory notes are accepted as security.

Settlement Of New Smyrna Is Revealed By AP

Britain's Desire For Colonists In Florida Promoted Plan

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 26. —(P)—Britain's desire for colonists in her newly obtained Florida territory led to the establishment of New Smyrna by the Minorcans in 1767.

Dr. Andrew Turnbull, a member of the Governor's council, conceived the plan. His execution of it, however, forms one of the darkest pages in the history of British occupation.

Turnbull sailed to the Mediterranean and, on payment of 400 pounds sterling to the governor of Modon, obtained permission to convey a number of Greek families to Florida. On his westward voyage he stopped at Minorca and other islands, where he recruited a total of 1,500 persons.

He promised to transport them to Florida free of expense, supply them with provisions and clothing and at the end of three years grant 50 acres of land to the head of each family and an additional 25 acres to each child. If, at the end of six months, they were dissatisfied, Turnbull agreed to return them to their original homes.

With high hopes and these fine promises, the immigrants braved a stormy passage of the Atlantic. After four months of sailing they reached Florida. Sixty thousand acres of land were granted them.

Arriving in the fall, they built ramshackle huts to shelter them through the winter, and in the spring set to work on the plantation.

They called their settlement New Smyrna. In time all the settlers became known as Minorcans. For three years all went well.

There was some complaint over the quality and small amount of clothing given them, but the colonists looked to the time when the land would be their own. They raised great stores of provisions, and turned their attention to sugar.

Turnbull declined to divide the land as he had promised. Instead he selected a few overseers who reduced the others to slavery. Tasks were assigned as large as they possibly could perform during the winter.

The envoys returned. There followed what is described in some histories as an "insurrection." This was a secret meeting in the presence of Turnbull at the home of their leader, a man named Pallio. There they organized a column.

The women, children and old men were placed in the center. Young men, armed with wooden spears, took places in front and to the rear. Then, like the children of Egypt, they started a march through the wilderness.

Turnbull was informed and rode furiously after the band. He made every effort to induce them to return, but they marched on. On the third day they reached St. Augustine. Meantime there had been a change of Governors. Governor Grant, suspected of having been in league with Turnbull, was succeeded by Governor Tompkins. The latter ordered provisions served to the strange group that had marched out of New Smyrna.

Any complaining or alleged shirking of duty brought the lash, wielded usually by Negroes. Many died of brutal beatings, others perished of exposure after being left, stripped and tied, overnight in the open for the mosquitoes to bite. A bumper ran away and died in the forest.

At the end of nine years, of the 1,500 who set out for Florida, and their offspring, only 600 remained alive.

In the summer of 1776 some Englishmen from St. Augustine dropped in on New Smyrna while on an excursion along the coast. They were astonished by what they saw. One of them questioned a boy, then remarked to his companions that if these people knew their rights they would NOT put up with such slavery.

The boy told his mother, who summoned a "council of friends" during the night. They decided upon a course of action. Three of them asked permission to go on a turtle hunt. Instead of seeking the reptiles, they trekked to St. Augustine, where they laid their wrecks before the attorney-general of the province. He promised protection.

Winter Park Boy Dies By Accident While Hunting

Pulling Rifle From Car By Barrel Is Disastrous For Boy

The first tragedy in Seminole County during the current hunting season occurred late Wednesday near Lake Harney and just east of Geneva when an accidentally discharged bullet from a .22 rifle pierced the heart of Albert Wells of Winter Park.

The Sheriff's Office reported today that the 18-year-old youth died a few minutes after the shot entered his body while his companion, Byron Grandee also of Winter Park, was administering first aid.

The fatal accident occurred when young Wells pulled the loaded .22 repeating rifle from the car barrel first and caught the trigger on a projection discharging the gun.

Seminole County law enforcement officers investigated and termed it an accidental death. A coroner's jury was summoned to view the body and an official verdict will be made today.

The two boys, both members of the public committee.

At the suggestion of Mr. Fagg, the phasias of the work in Seminole County will be handled by several committees. The committees and chairman named at the meeting were: Extension, Julius Dingfied; Finance, Maxwell Stewart; Contributions (other than cash), L. M. Cornac, Mrs. F. S. McCauley and Mrs. Gladys Kendall; Reporting needy children, Mrs. Gladys Kendall; Securing Homes for Children, Dr. E. D. Brownlee; and Special Occasions, J. H. Van Hoy.

The chairman of the Sponsoring committee, Randall Chase, presided over the meeting. The secretary is Miss M. Reimsie.

Any contributions, Rev. Bram stated, may be turned over to Raymond Monsivatte, treasurer of the committee.

The Children's Home Society, in the 38 years of its history, has taken care of 38,000 children. Rev. Bram stated, adding that during this period only 48 of the number have died. At normal death rate for that number of children in Florida there would have been 2,000 deaths. This, Rev. Bram concluded, is sufficient testimony to the expert care and attention the children receive.

of the Winter Park High School, were enroute to Lake Harney where they planned a hunting expedition over the holiday, and had stopped to make a temporary camp when the accident occurred.

Funeral services were held in the St. James Catholic Church in Orlando this morning at 9:00 o'clock.

Japan Seizes Wire Control Over Shanghai

All Communications Even In International Area Are Held By Japanese

Armies Advance Against Chinese

Matsui Intimates Advance May Continue Far Beyond Nanking

SHANGHAI, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Japan tightened her grip on Shanghai today by taking over the control of all communication facilities hitherto held by the Chinese government in the International Settlement as well as in native parts of the city.

Post offices, telegraph and radio administrations and broadcasting stations were all placed under Japanese rule. Many of the principal offices of these services were in the International Settlement.

The spearhead units of Japan's Shanghai army tore into the heart of the Chinese defenses today in a drive their commander-in-chief declared would force the speedy collapse of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's regime.

Field officers sent back word to Japanese headquarters that their troops had crossed Lake Tai, the great natural barrier between Shanghai and Nanking, for a push against the virtually evacuated capital.

Tag Day Planned For Children's Home

"On Saturday morning you will be approached by Junior Legionaires and others for contributions for the Children's Home in Jacksonville and the Crippled Children's Home in St. Petersburg, Mrs. H. B. Lewis, welfare chairman for the local post of the American Legion Auxiliary, said today.

"This Tag Day," Mrs. Lewis continued, "is an annual affair sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary and in previous years has been a success through the splendid cooperation and generosity of the people of Sanford."

In conclusion, Mrs. Lewis urged continued cooperation on the part of Sanfordites in order that the unfortunate children in these homes might be made a little more comfortable and happy.

Fund Is Short For Payment Of School Teachers

Lawton Advised That Only One Third Is Ready For Dec. 1st

Only one-third of Seminole County's appropriation of the State Teachers Salary Fund can be paid on Dec. 1, according to a telegram received today by Superintendent of Schools T. W. Lawton from the State Superintendent Colin English.

There is a good prospect, however, State officials advised, that the remainder of the appropriation can be paid by the middle of the month if sufficient persons purchase their 1938 auto license tags during the first few days of the month.

Seminole County's monthly appropriation from the State fund for payment of teachers' salaries is approximately $17,433 and Mr. Lawton stated that there were not sufficient funds available in the County's School funds to take care of this item without borrowing money.

He also urged that the people of Seminole County co-operate with the schools throughout the State and purchase their auto license as soon as possible after they go on sale Dec. 1 in order that sufficient State funds may be available for payment of the teachers' salaries.

Beginning Jan. 1, sufficient funds should be available to make possible full payment of the regular monthly allocations to the counties, state official indicated.

Work Goes On In Ford Plant Despite Strike

Greyhound Buses Also Continue To Operate Under Protection Of Police

By Associated Press Striking automobile workers failed today in a second attempt to halt production at the Ford Motor Company's St. Louis assembly plant while Greyhound buses moved in and out of terminals under police protection in several cities.

A picket line, formed at the St. Louis plant by members of the United Automobile Workers of America, was broken by automobiles loaded with workers and escorted by police cars into the plant.

John J. Connor, labor department commissioner, said he would meet again today with representatives of eight Greyhound lines operating in 14 states and with leaders of the drivers who struck when the lines turned down their demand for a closed shop and a mileage rate increase.

Connor said both sides were "pretty well deadlocked." R. H. Hoxey, assistant Brotherhood president and lone negotiator for the strikers, claimed 1,000 drivers—88 percent of whom are members of our organization—were affected by the midnight walkout. Greyhound representatives said about 1,000 drivers were normally employed on the lines.

"We are running on schedule, with many points entirely unaffected," said Ivan Bowen, general Greyhound counsel. Harvey said local union committees had reported to him "from all major points" that "the lines' buses are tied up."

Harvey said the Brotherhood planned organized picketing, because it is "necessary." Strikers and non-strikers staged a series of flat tire attacks at the Cleveland terminal after a man identifying himself as Ray Krause, a striking driver threw himself under a New York bound bus and defied the driver to proceed. Police held Krause and three other men for investigation.

The suits seek to collect $125,000 from the American Distributing Company, $60,000 from the King Distributing Company and $20,000 from Distributors Brands, Inc.

Sanford Halts Famed Razzell Dazzell Play Of Leesburg But Lose Holiday Tilt, 25 To 14

Celery Fed Eleven Holds 7 To 6 Lead At End Of First Half As Ferguson Throws 59 Yard Touchdown Pass To Lawson

By JULIAN STENSTROM LEESSBURG, Nov. 26.—A sturdy team coached by Sanford High School football team nearly forced the Northeast Conference game of 1937 to end in a three way tie yesterday afternoon in Leesburg when they outfought and outplayed a Lockett coached Leesburg eleven but dropped the annual Turkey Day tilt by a score of 25 to 14 before 1,500 fans who braved wet and threatening weather to see the two teams in action.

It was Leesburg's last game of the season and a victory was needed for them to clinch the Conference title and the Yellow Jacket came back in the second half to swamp the Feds who left the field at the end of the first half leading by a score of 7 to 6.

The game was started as Leesburg kicked off to Sanford, who received the ball and placed it on its own 27 yard line. Three downs failed to get any yardage so Morgan punt to Golden, who was downed on his own 23 yard line. In several plays, George Andre and Jack Roundtree brought the ball to the Sanford 45 with fast punting plays. A pass from Golden to Roundtree placed the oval on the Fed 29 yard line and another trick play in which English, a guard, carried the ball to the Sanford 20 yard stripe.

Sanford's defense strengthened from that point until the game was over. However, after running two plays and losing three yards, Golden dropped back and passed to Roundtree for the touchdown. Sanford's kick was blocked by Bumley.

Sanford came back along with Morgan calling double wingback formations and plays which from that point seemed more effective than Leesburg's famous razzell-dazzell system which the Sanford line completely stopped during the second and third quarters.

In the second period Sanford threw a group of passes, used razzell-dazzell quick plays and brought the ball down in Leesburg's ten-yard line where it was lost on downs. The Jackets kicked to safety and Sanford took the ball on their own 35 yard line. On the first play, Ferguson faded back to his own 23 yard line and threw a 59 yard pass which "Flash" Lawson took on the Leesburg 18 and he scampered in the open rear of the distance and scored Sanford's first touchdown.

Morgan, later, another late charge from the Sanford operators as Darrell Ferguson placed the extra point that sent the Feds into the lead. The game was played in mid-field for the remaining portion of the second period and neither team (Continued On Page Six)

Hull Charges Florida Law Great Menace

Inspection Fee For Cement Imports Is Called Unconstitutional In Court

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull charged in a federal court affidavit today that the Florida Cement Inspection Law was a menace to the government's program of negotiating reciprocal trade treaties with foreign nations.

The statute upheld by the Florida Supreme Court places an inspection fee of 15 cents a hundred pounds on cement imported into Florida from foreign countries.

Gene Viosea, United States district attorney here, said he appeared in the case at the request of the state department. Secretary Hull, in an affidavit filed by Viosea said the Florida act had been called to his attention officially by the Belgian government.

The case was brought before the three-judge federal court here by the Ilmeo Trading, Incorporated, a New York firm which imports cement from Belgium and Denmark, on the contention the act is unconstitutional.

Lewis R. Mitchell Is Indicted On Lottery Charges

Sheriff's Office Unable To Locate Him Since Action

Lewis R. Mitchell was indicted last Monday by the Grand Jury on charges of conducting a lottery, records at the Seminole County Court House, disclosed today.

Up to the present time, members of the Sheriff's Office have been unable to locate Mitchell whose activities in connection with local lotteries are said to have come under the scrutiny of the Grand Jury in its drive against the "Baldy Barons."

Mr. Mitchell is reported to have left Sanford at about the time of his indictment and officials indicate they have been unable to obtain any information as to his whereabouts since that time.

The Grand Jury recessed after returning the indictments earlier in the week but it has been intimated that they will continue their work to rid Sanford and Seminole County of the "big shots" in the Cuban racket here.

Shortly after the convening of court this morning, Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith sentenced three persons who had been convicted earlier in the week.

Ed English and Joe Dixon who were convicted Tuesday on a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor, were sentenced to serve one year each in the State Penitentiary and David O'Neil, negro, charged with assault with the intent to commit murder in the second degree, was sentenced to serve 18 months in the State Prison.

After sentencing the three, the Court recessed until 10:00 A. M. Dec. 3 at which time the remaining defendants to be tried in this term of the Circuit Court will be arraigned and their cases set for trial.

It was indicated today that the remaining criminal cases would probably be tried during the week beginning Dec. 6, and will include the trial of those indicted recently by the Grand Jury for alleged lottery operations.

Views On Tax Revision Given By Roosevelt

President Says Tax Revision Desired As Soon As Congress Is Ready For It

Housing Program Is Also Planned

President To Urge Cut In U. S. Aid For Road Building

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he wanted tax revision as soon as Congress is ready to go ahead with it. As further moves to restore confidence and stimulate industry, the President told his press conference he would send a message to Congress on Monday recommending legislation to spur private financing of a large scale housing program and another Tuesday proposing curtailment in annual appropriations for federal aid in road building.

The fourth step Mr. Roosevelt disclosed involves a presidential letter to department heads instructing them to anticipate federal purchases of supplies for the remaining seven months of the current fiscal year and to speed these up instead of spreading them over until June 30.

Asked if he favored tax revision as an aid to business now or at the regular session starting in January, the President looked with his questioner and asked if he had been reading the newspapers.

Mr. Roosevelt advised reading his message to the special session which he said had made very clear that tax revision was needed. In other words, he added, he wanted tax changes when Congress had them ready to be made.

Mr. Hickson stated that he was shot while fishing on the banks of the Oklawaha River about dusk Saturday evening by a youth from Orlando who stated that he thought he was a turkey.

Most of the 28 pellets from the gun of the youth entered Mr. Hickson's arm and shoulder, it was stated, and all were removed later by a physician with the exception of 8 which Mr. Hickson stated were painful.

Vittorio Mussolini has written a book. Because he happens to be the son of the ruler of one of the most belligerent nations in the world, and because the author himself has recently been a visitor in this country after participating in a number of bombing raids in Ethiopia, the book has a significance which it would not possess were it written by any ordinary mortal.

"War is the quintessence of beauty," this son of Caesar proclaims in his "Flying Over Ethiopian Mountain Ranges." Describing an attack on Ethiopian cavalry, he says, "We arrived upon them unobserved and immediately dropped our loads of explosives. I remember that one group of horsemen gave me the impression of a budding rose as the bombs fell in their midst. It was exceptionally good fun and they were easy to hit as we were not too high up. They offered a perfect target."

"The bombing of Adowa, he says, "failed to give us any satisfaction owing to the fact there were only small huts which flattened out without raising smoke or flames as one would see in any American film."

But the bombing of Ado-Ado was more satisfying apparently. "This was swell and had a tragic but beautiful effect," he wrote. "Our best fun was trying to hit a large hut which stood in the middle of the town. I had to fly over it three times to make it. The third time I hit it and saw it begin to burn. Ethiopians leaped out and tried to escape. . . . We started enough fire to heat half the globe."

All in just good clean fun. This bombing and machine-gunning of innocent and helpless people from the air. The quintessence of beauty! This blowing of horses and horsemen in thousands of pieces. Magnificent sport! Wonder how Mr. Mussolini would write about his adventures if the tables were turned on him and he happened to be on the other end of the bomb?

Train Robbers

A couple of boys from Brooklyn had evidently been reading too many hair-raising dime novels, of the "Forty Buckets of Blood" variety, before they staged that holdup in New Mexico. Dressed like moving picture cowboys, they were as obviously incompetent in the cattle game, according to the conductor, as they were amateurs in the holdup racket.

Nervously fingering a gun one of them covered the conductor and trainman, while his pal went through car after car ordering the 150 passengers to fork over, and occasionally punctuating his remarks with pistol shots, as much to bolster his own courage as to intimidate his victims. Everything went along well enough, considering, until the bandits started to leave the train.

Then one of the passengers engaged one of the bandits in a struggle. The other bandit started to run to his rescue when a 65-year old negro passenger stuck his foot out to trip him up. Other passengers, as well as the conductor and the trainman immediately piled on in a general effort to get the intruder off the train. The result of the fight should have a wholesome effect on other young men who have been reading too many tales of the wild and woolly west. This holdup didn't turn out at all the way they thought it should.

EYE OPENERS—by Bob Crosby

A 'GUILLOTINE' IS USED TO TEST THE FINISH ON THE CABINET OF THE GAS REFRIGERATOR.

ONE DOLLAR AN OUNCE WAS CHASED ON LETTERS TO ENGLAND FROM THE UNITED STATES IN 1928.

COMANCHE A HORSE WAS THE ONLY SURVIVOR OF THE CUSTER MASSACRE AT LITTLE BIG HORN, JUNE 25 1876. HE WAS WOUNDED TEN TIMES.

General George A. Custer fought the Indian, Sitting Bull, and thought he was attacking 1000 Indians. . . . Instead of 5000! His band of 300 men was completely wiped out. The only survivor was Colonel Keogh's horse, 'Comanche.' The sold today is marked by marble monuments, each placed where a man fell.

A "guillotine" painting machine is used to test the finish of the gas refrigerator. Many times more severe punishment is administered than would be received by years of usage in the average kitchen. This is but one of many thorough tests given the gas refrigerator by testing engineers.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By RUSSELL KAY

While other states may brag of their "snap box" derbies, if the Florida Waterways Congress has its way, Florida may establish a name for herself as the home of the "orange box" derby.

The novel idea, hatched in the fertile brain of Walter F. Cochran, Jr., chairman of the Congress, is designed to educate boys and girls of Florida as to the value and use of the state's enviable waterways system.

A few years ago someone conceived the bright idea of staging a so-called "snap box" derby, and prizes were offered kids who designed and built the most unique and speediest home-made coasters constructed as miniature motor cars.

The idea caught on, and in no time "snap box" derbies were being staged all over the country and the winning kids won trips to the National Soap Box Derby, an event of such importance that sports editors of great press services assigned their best men to cover it, newspaper companies vied with each other for favorable spots, and both great broadcasting chains cleared all channels to put the event on coast-to-coast hook-ups.

Last summer in Ohio it was my privilege to witness the event and I was truly amazed at the interest and enthusiasm it created, not only among the kids but with thousands of spectators.

Hilarity was being staged, states and cities sent delegations to boost and encourage their entries. Dignitaries of national reputation greeted and feted the winners; manufacturers showered them with prizes and awards; news-hawks and camera men swarmed over them in droves.

Under the plan of the Waterways Congress, desirable prizes will be offered boys and girls of Florida who build miniature yachts, cruisers or other water craft at a certain minimum cost and enter them in competition at regattas to be staged at various points in the state.

Counties, communities and sections will be urged to enter contestants and stage local elimination contests—winners to be sent to a state contest at a later date.

Unrivaled waterways are one of the state's greatest assets and it is fitting indeed that Florida, with her glorious coastline, her countless beautiful lakes and many scenic rivers, should employ this practical means of making the youth of the state conscious of this great natural advantage and encourage them to take an active interest in the further development of this God-given resource.

The plan has limitless possibilities and would serve to advertise, as nothing else could, the advantages Florida offers the yachtsman and waterway enthusiast. The successful staging of such a contest would undoubtedly lead other states to sponsor similar events and in time perhaps a National Orange Box Derby would result.

Florida has long overlooked a real opportunity in not pushing harder than she has the improvement and development of her waterways. Yachtsmen will seek Florida waters when we bring to their attention the opportunities this state affords.

The completion of the cross state canal and the connecting of a few important links would make this state a yachtsman's paradise, and would bring millions to new business to every section of the state.

The proposed "orange box" derby is a step in the right direction. Every Florida community should cooperate in the plan and encourage the youth of their community to enter these contests. Chambers of commerce and civic clubs can help by in-

75,000 Children In New York Schools Aiding Experiment

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW
AP Feature Service Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 24—Seventy-five thousand New York City school children are participating in a national experiment in the United States—and taking it.

In 67 schools, nearly 10 per cent of the entire school system, more children than the total combined populations of the New York and New Jersey state capitals are partaking of a new curriculum. Called an "activity program," it actually is a supercombination of progressive and conservative methods.

Dr. John J. Loftus, associate superintendent, who oversees the program, is forever on a tour of the institutions involved, ranging from Hall's Kitchen to Park avenue.

He says the experiment has worked well, so far, and that it is his belief that by end of the six year period allotted for the test, every school in the city will want to join in. At present it is confined to the first six grades of the designated schools.

In the experiment, now, in its second year, textbook material is taught, not only from textbooks, but from "experiences."

A visit to the local grocery store (that's an "experience") may mean a lesson in arithmetic—what food costs; geography—where food comes from; and spelling—try broccoli; with a little study in human nature throws in for good measure.

But the 75,000 children don't spend all their time touring the city. They do plenty of work right in their own classrooms. They may build a model of the coming World's Fair—and learn a lot of history while they're doing it.

If their teacher is alert, they can tie in the French and Indian war, the battle of Gettysburg, and other historical landmarks with past World's Fairs.

The activity program means plenty of work for the teachers. At the start of the school year, they must choose the sort of experiences they're going to teach.

If the experiences chosen for the fourth grade—there still are grades in the activity program—do not include the usual textbook material covered by fourth graders, the experiences can't be in-cluded. There must be a tie-up with subject matter.

Why, ask the ultra-progressive Dr. Loftus, has three answers ready.

1—New York City students have to pass Regents' examinations at the end of their elementary school work.

2—Many New York City students transfer to other schools during the elementary period, and must meet standard requirements.

3—Elementary schools lay the foundation for college preparation—and the majority of colleges as yet adhere to regulation grade systems and traditional examinations, where textbook knowledge is necessary.

The activity program may be extended to all schools at end of the six-year period—at least, through the first six grades—and eventually through Junior and senior high schools.

Human Snake Says He Has Deadly Bite

SIDNEY, Australia, Nov. 24.—(AP)—George Althen, 44, who styles himself "Pambars, the Snake Charmer," says his bite is poisonous enough to kill a man.

"It's because I have so much venom in my body," he explained, while recovering from a leg amputation.

Althen said he had been bitten by poisonous snakes at least 300 times during his 40 years as a carnival showman. Recently physicians diagnosed the cause of a swollen leg as "slow snake-venom poison" and took off the leg to save his life.

The world's largest steel job plant is to be built in Hamilton at a cost of $1,250,000. It will specialize in the turning of airplane parts.

Get down TO BREAKFAST You, too, Ma'am!

Every time you think of a woman running herself ragged getting breakfast—well, it makes no sense. We feel like pinching with a sign that reads "Unfair to Wives!" It's so unnecessary.

You can do everything right at the table—electrically. Make coffee. Steam or poach eggs in one of these amazing little egg cookers. Or fry them with ham or bacon on the grill. And you can toast bread golden brown merely by flicking a switch, while the aroma of perfect coffee, from your new glass coffee maker, softly fills the air.

Lady, you've been missing something. Sit down to get breakfast. If necessary, stage a new woman pin the sign on the wall. You get this sit-down-for-breakfast equipment!

With crisp, cold winter days making hot drinks and spicy cookies most appealing, Walnut Molasses Bars become a special treat. Few cookies can equal their fragrance and flavor as they come freshly baked, right out of the oven. One of the favorable points about these bars is that the dough can be made up ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator to be baked on short notice. When the youngsters come home from school or play, these delicious bars will quickly appease their appetites and renew their energy. Over 200 Million Toy Markets This Christmas

By AP Feature Service
Santa Claus will need all his reindeer—and maybe an early start—to haul in the toy pack which will be parceled out to American children this year.

Thus far, say the Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A., Inc., $280,000,000 has been earmarked for toys, a figure which hits a seven-year peak and tops the 1928 mark by 10 percent.

Up-to-the minute adult technique has gone into playland architecture, transportation and handicrafts, and many "luxury toys" have been produced in low price ranges for the first time. "Children of 1937 want toys which will help them imitate grown-up activities in every possible way, just as children have done since the days of the cave-men," says the toy association.

To supply this want, there are miniature steam engines with boilers fired with electricity, modern houses with glass walls, a real airplane motor that takes gasoline and yet is small enough to fit in the palm, trailers, a flat telephone in a television model—it's done with mirrors—and a new gun that shoots pictures on the wall.

The neutrality policy of the United States is reflected in the toys. The G-man, the engineer, the cowboy and even cartoon celebrities hold the stage, with war toys totalling only one percent of the $280,000,000 pack.

For the one-year old, or less, there is a streamlined rattle with a rubber head for safe thumping. New ABC blocks are tip-proof with grooved surfaces. A new model "drinking doll" consumes the contents of her bottle lying down. Complete wardrobes are the last word in style for this year's "smart" doll.

As usual, there are toys which proud papa will buy with an eye to his own amusement as well as junior's. There are electric trains that do their size equivalent of 100 miles an hour, with new automatic signals and illuminated crossing grades to add to thrills.

The first miniature polariscope will give scientific-minded youngsters a chance to test light phenomena. A micro-projector set includes dissecting needles and slides. A new science scope, using the principle of the projecting microscope, magnifies molecular explosions in full color.

FLORIDA HIGHLIGHTS

ONE OF FLORIDA'S STRANGEST CREATURES

Almost hidden by beautiful tropical foliage is a modest forty Myers home built over fifty years ago by the world famous inventor, Thomas A. Edison. At the time it was constructed, the villagers did not realize that they had a genius in their midst. Today the old EDISON HOME on McGregor Blvd. is one of Florida's most interesting show places and visitors to the charming city always want to see where the great inventor lived. It is said that the incandescent lamp, the phonograph and the Edison storage battery were all perfected

in the splendidly equipped laboratory adjoining the old Edison home.

In some mysterious way the curious Mollusk, XENOPHORA which inhabits Florida waters, picks up pieces of shell or other hard materials and securely cements them to the growing edge of its own low conical shell for protection. When mature, its surface is so solidly covered with fragments, that it is extremely difficult to distinguish the strange creature from its shelly surroundings.

Settlement Of New Smyrna Is Revealed By AP

Britain's Desire For Colonists In Florida Promoted Plan

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 26. (AP)—Britain's desire for colonists in her newly obtained Florida territory led to the establishment of New Smyrna by the Minorcans in 1767.

Dr. Andrew Turnbull, a member of the Governor's council, conceived the plan. His execution of it, however, forms one of the darkest pages in the history of British occupation.

Turnbull sailed to the Mediterranean and, on payment of 400 pounds sterling to the governor of Moden, obtained permission to convey a number of Greek families to Florida. On his westward voyage he stopped at Minorca and other islands, where he recruited a total of 1,500 persons.

He promised to transport them to Florida free of expense, supply them with provisions and clothing and at the end of three years grant 50 acres of land to the head of each family and an additional 25 acres to each child. If, at the end of six months, they were dissatisfied, Turnbull agreed to return them to their original homes.

With high hopes and these fine promises, the immigrants braved a stormy passage of the Atlantic. After four months of sailing they reached Florida. Sixty thousand acres of land were granted them. Arriving in the fall, they built palmetto huts to shelter them through the winter, and in the spring set to work on the plantation.

They called their settlement New Smyrna. In time all the settlers became known as Minorcans. For three years all went well. There was some complaint over the quality and small amount of clothing given them, but the colonists looked to the time when the land would be their own. They raised great stores of provisions, and turned their attention to indigo.

But Turnbull declined to divide the land as he had promised. Instead he selected a few overseers who reduced the others to slavery. Tasks were assigned as large as they possibly could perform during the winter.

The boy told his mother, who summoned a counsel of friends during the night. They decided upon a course of action. Three of them asked permission to go on a turtle hunt. Instead of seeking the turtles, they trekked to St. Augustine, where they laid their wrongs before the attorney general of the province. He promised protection.

The envoys returned. There followed what is described in some histories as an "insurrection." This was a secret meeting in the absence of Turnbull at the home of his leader a man named Pallio. There they organized a column. The women, children and old men were placed in the center. Younger men, armed with wooden spears, took places in front and to the rear. Then, like the children of Egypt, they started a march through the wilderness.

Turnbull was informed and rode furiously after the band. He made every effort to induce them to return, but they marched on. On the third day they reached St. Augustine. Meantime there had been a change of Governors. Governor Grant, suspected of having been in league with Turnbull, was superseded by Governor Tany. The latter ordered provisions served to the strange group that had marched out of New Smyrna.

Leesburg again gained possession of the ball and took the ball on its own 14 yard line and began to beat drive of the game. St. John's went off to the left and for a first down and Ferguson went off tackle for a first down. Sanford plowed through the Leesburg line and placed the ball down on Leesburg's 29 yard line with a second down and three yards to go. Sanford pulled a quick play which Morgan intended a pass for Ferguson but it was intercepted by Roundtree who went through the entire Sanford team for a 70 yard touchdown run and placed Leesburg in a good lead. Andrew dropped the extra point.

Leesburg again gained possession of the ball and another long pass placed the ball on Sanford's one yard line and Jimmy Golden took it over for the first touchdown in his four years of football with the Yellow Jackets.

The Peds made their final score when Ferguson passed to Sam Wells who placed the ball in scoring position and Ferguson plunged over center for the tally and also kicked the extra point.

Sanford outgained Leesburg in scrimmage and also gained more yardage in the passing department.

Sanford made ten first downs to eight by Leesburg.

NO MORE FIGHTING FOR THESE CHINESE

Linked together with a strong rope, a group of Chinese prisoners, captured near Shanghai, is led to the rear of the fighting zone by Japanese guards. Nipponese soldiers, now in possession of all the city not under international control, daily round up Chinese who were left behind. Most of them are barefoot; some are hardly more than boys.

Leesburg Wins From Sanford 25 To 14

The Sanford line was stopping Leesburg's tricky attacks and the Sanford guards were surprising even Bob Lockett, the Leesburg coach, due to the fact that a give-away had been discovered by alert eyes of Coach-McLucas and that was the fact that after Leesburg was in the huddle and returned to their formation, the short man, nearest the center, would unknowingly shift in the direction the play was to go and both Sanford guards would shift over in that direction and the play was easily broken up.

When the second period opened, Sanford's long point lead was not held long for on the second play, Golden passed to Kenny Mathews who was on the 40 yard line and Jacket end went over to bring the score up to 12 and 7 in favor of Leesburg as Andrew's kicked was no good.

Leesburg gained possession of the ball again but was forced to punt and Sanford took the ball on its own 14 yard line and began to beat drive of the game. St. John's went off to the left and for a first down and Ferguson went off tackle for a first down. Winter Park Boy Dies By Accident While Hunting

The first tragedy in Seminole County during the current hunting season occurred late Wednesday near Lake Harney and just east of Geneva when an accidentally discharged bullet from a .22 rifle pierced the heart of Albert Wells of Winter Park.

The Sheriff's Office reported today that the 18-year old youth died a few minutes after the shot entered his body while his companion, Byron Grande also of Winter Park, was administering first aid.

The fatal accident occurred when young Wells pulled the loaded .22 repeating rifle from the car barrel first and caught the trigger on a projection discharging the gun.

Seminole County law enforcement officers investigated and termed it an accidental death. A coroner jury was summoned to view the body and an official verdict will be made today.

The two boys, both members of the Winter Park High School, were enroute to Lake Harney where they planned a hunting expedition over the holiday, and had stopped to make a temporary camp when the accident occurred.

Funeral services were held in the St. James Catholic Church in Orlando this morning at 9:00 o'clock.

Children's Home Grown Holds Meeting To Further Plans

The Sponsoring Committee of Seminole County for the Florida Children's Home Society in Jacksonville met with Marcus Fagg, superintendent of the Home, in the Parish House of the Episcopal Church recently to formulate plans for work to be conducted in the county during the year 1937.

The Children's Home Society, in the 25 years of its history, has taken care of 38,000 children. Rev. Bram stated, adding that during this period only 48 of the number have died. At normal death rate for that number of children in Florida, there would have been 2,000 deaths. This, Rev. Bram concluded, is sufficient testimony to the expert care and attention the children receive.

The chairman of the Sponsoring Committee, Randall Chase presided over the meeting. The secretary is Miss M. Ramsey. Any contributions, Rev. Bram stated, may be turned over to Raymond Monaghan, treasurer of the committee.

U.S. Protests Over Customs Aim Of Japan

Concern Is Expressed Over Japanese Interference With Shanghai Customs

Britain, France Join In Protest

Jap Says His Government Has Right To All Authority

The United States formally expressed concern over the Japanese government over any attempt to interfere with the integrity of the Chinese maritime customs system.

Secretary Hull announced the step had been taken in commenting on reports that Japanese authorities in Shanghai intended taking over the Chinese customs organization.

Similar action has been taken by other world powers, including Great Britain, the United States and other foreign powers are interested in the Chinese customs because these revenues are largely pledged for the payment of foreign loans.

Since conquering the Shanghai area the Japanese have greatly increased their power in the customs and have taken control of all Chinese communications facilities there.

A spokesman for the Japanese at Shanghai declared his government considered it had a clear right to take over all authority and agencies of the Chinese government in the Shanghai region and intended to exercise its rights immediately.

Japanese legions continued their drive toward Nanking, China's evacuated capital. In the Spanish civil war the government reported minor victories for its bombing planes blasted at communications between Madrid and government territory to the east.

Over Two Million Tourists Expected Here This Winter

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 26.—(Special)—W. M. Taylor, Florida hotel commissioner, today predicted that more than 2,500,000 winter visitors will come to the state this year to surpass previous records of vacation travel to the winter playground of the nation.

Taylor, who has just completed a tour of the state in the interest of preparing hotels, apartments, lodging houses, cafes and restaurants for the winter trade in accordance with hotel commission rules said he found evidence of an increased tourist influx in every section.

"Florida's commercial hostess-ship by that I mean the operators of hotels, apartments, restaurants and other similar facilities—are more than ever in the spirit of welcoming our winter time residents," he said. "This year, as never before, hotel commissioners records show that there has been every effort made to give every accommodation and comfort to these friends of ours from the north who come down here to spend from two or three days to as many months."

A check of railroad and bus companies, as well as agencies for other means of travel, Commissioner Taylor continued, displays new attractions on every hand for the winter visitor to Florida. These, he said, take the form not only of increased facilities upon arrival, but attractive rates and methods of travel.

"Our hotel commission records show," he continued, "that the hotel and apartment business has kept pace with other lines of business in preparing for the hordes of visitors we expect."

"So far this year, more than 18,000 permits have been issued to hotels, apartments, lodging houses, restaurants and cafes over the state. This is more than 2,000 more than have been issued at any other similar period previously."

Taylor maintains a force of inspectors who, covering the entire state, supervise the operation of hotels and smaller businesses under strict hotel commission rules for cleanliness and other features.

ATTACK STALK BEFORE A TAX TALK

Attack stalk before a tax talk was the policy of these two members of the House Ways and means committee in Washington who refreshed themselves by disposing of a bunch of grapes before a session on finance. Rep. Fred M. Vinson (left) gets his last drop, while Chairman R. L. Doughton gets a seed.

Figures Disclose Farmers Warned Florida Grows As Against Evils Of Industrial State

Retail And Wholesale Stores Lead In Furnishing Jobs

Milk Dealer Insists Bill Places Burden On Small Farmers

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Statistics released by the State employment compensation division show that Florida has taken her place in the Sisterhood of Industrial States, according to an announcement by Wendell C. Heaton, chairman of the Florida Industrial commission.

"While these statistics are not complete and only indicate reports we have received up to Nov. 1," Heaton said, "they definitely show the trend of industry in the State."

"As in most other States, wholesale and retail stores lead all other industries in the number of workers, and the amount of contributions, but pushing this classification closely for the lead is manufacturing. Reports received from employers throughout the State show a large and varied assortment of manufacturing units of which the public as a whole is in complete ignorance. Leading in the following order are railroads, citrus in industry; lumber, saw mills, and allied industries; contractors; and hotels and restaurants."

"Our statistics also show that seasonal employment is another fallacy. Heaton continued, 'taking the State as a whole employment reaches its peak in January and its lowest level in July, but the difference in these two months is negligible when we consider the State as a whole.'"

"These figures include only 2,286 employers who have eight or more workers and represent a total pay roll of over $116,000,000 paid to 150,000 workers in employment covered by the State unemployment compensation law for the first nine months of this year," Heaton concluded.

8 Persons Arraigned Before Judge Miller

Eight persons were arraigned before City Judge Frank L. Miller in a session of the Municipal Court yesterday afternoon to be tried on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to leaving the scene of an accident.

Joe O'Connor, charged with leaving the scene of an accident and reckless driving, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or serve 30 days in the City jail.

Sam Haines, negro, Mary Ellen Hardy, and Rosa Lee Alexander, arraigned on charges of disorderly conduct were dismissed. Herman Davis and James Gibson, charged with improper parking were also dismissed when they pleaded not guilty to the charges.

Annie Mae Davis and Samuel Davis, negroes, charged with disorderly conduct, pleaded guilty and were given fines of $5 each.

Mason Asks Help Of Hunters In Checking Birds

Banded Birds Should Be Reported To Aid In Tracing Flight

Seminole County hunters are likely to run across a number of birds this year bearing the metal leg bands of the United States Biological Survey, due to activity of bird banders in this section of the country as well as throughout the Northern States, according to C. R. Mason, president of the Florida Audubon Society.

Such bands are attached to the legs of the birds by survey operators, he said, with the idea that if the birds are captured or killed later, their movements during a migration may be traced and then are determined.

Mr. Mason will forward these bands to Washington and upon checking serial number on the bands with records in Washington, the place at which the bird was banded will be reported to anyone possessing in such a band and useful knowledge of the bird will be known.

Quail are not likely to stray far from their homes on hunters finding guns will probably bear Seminole County bands. However, many of the Turtle Dove in Florida during the winter come from the North while the majority of the ducks were probably banded during their nesting season in either Northern United States or in Canada.

Harold S. Peters of the Biological Survey Staff, who visited Sanford last winter, spent several weeks far north with an American Expedition, one purpose of which was to band ducks. Mr. Mason said this morning that he would not be surprised to find some of these birds this winter in Seminole County.

Jinkins Reports - Increase Of Over 10 Thousand Dollars

Collection of State and County taxes this year is over $10,000 in excess of collections for the corresponding period last year, according to Seminole County Tax Collector Joe D. Jinkins.

Up to the present time, Mr. Jinkins stated, $37,412.50 has been collected and distributed in addition to this amount the Tax Collector pointed out that there were approximately 500 letters in his office from persons who have notified him their taxes which members of his staff have not had time to tabulate.

For the corresponding period last year only $47,284.75 had been paid, last year's records show. Mr. Jinkins indicated that he was well pleased over the fact that so many persons are paying their taxes early this year, even though he and his staff are kept busy almost night and day.

Of the amount collected up to the present time, the State's share was $32,222.50 and the remainder has been distributed to various accounts for the County and school funds, Mr. Jinkins said.

As for those who mailed money orders or checks for payment of their taxes, Mr. Jinkins stated that their receipts would be mailed in this county and that they would be allowed the 4 percent discount if the letters were mailed before Dec. 1.

Mr. Jinkins also advised the taxpayers of Seminole County who have not paid their taxes that two days still remained in which they might take advantage of the 4 percent discount allowed for payment of taxes in November. Only 3 percent will be allowed for December payments, he said.

The Tax Collector also advised that the 1938 automobile license tags will go on sale Dec. 1 and that the prices this year will be identical to those of last year.

The new tags will be black with contrasting yellow numerals.

$500,000,000 Is Top Set For Farm Measure

President Writes To Barkley In Saying That Expenses Be Kept Within Income

New Taxes Are Seen Possible

Sound Financial Administration Is Said To Need A Balance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today suggested that expenditures under the new farm program be kept within the $500,000,000 mark in an effort to bring federal spending within income.

In a letter to Senator Barkley, Kentucky Democrat, the President took note of Senate discussions on the possible costs of the farm program now being debated.

"It is obvious," the President said, "that a constant increase of expenditures without an equally constant increase in revenue can only result in a continuation of deficits. We can not hope to continue on a sound basis of financial management of government affairs unless regular annual expenditures are brought within revenues."

"I feel that every effort should be made," he said "to keep the new farm program within the present limit of $500,000,000 per annum."

If this is found impossible, the President said, "I then urge that steps be taken to provide the necessary increase in revenue to meet any expenditures under the new farm program in excess of this sum."

Yesterday President Roosevelt announced a four-point program for ending the business slump, including—the gratification of a tremendous bloc in Congress—tax reduction as soon as a bill can be prepared.

In addition, he listed at a press conference an interview with the stimulation of a boom in large-scale home building, on which he said he would send a message to Congress Monday.

2. Curtailment of government expenditures for road building, on which he promised a message Tuesday obviously part of the general campaign for a balanced budget.

3. The immediate purchase of some $245,000,000 worth of government supplies, which ordinarily would be acquired gradually over the next six months.

4. A continuation of his series of conferences with public utility executives, in the hope of promoting a utility construction program, which is taking far below normal.
