Heavy Taxes Levied On British Subjects To Pay Costs Of War

Heavy Tolls Known Levied To Meet Huge Two Billion Pound War Budget

Income Taxes Are Increased

Tax To Be 37.5 Percent Of Income For Financial Year

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The British today levied on her citizens the heaviest taxes they ever have known to meet an estimated two billion pounds outlay in the current financial year, greatly swelled by the costs of war against Germany.

Sir John Simon, chancellor of exchequer, presenting his first budget in the House of Commons announced the standard income tax rate for the next of the fiscal year—ending Mar. 31—would be 35 percent and for the 1940-41 year 37.5 percent. Rates are to be seven shillings in the pound ($1.37 in $3.95) until March 31 and seven shillings six pence (1.48), thereafter. These rates are levied on incomes in excess of exemptions ranging from 125 pounds—about $430—for single persons to 400 pounds—about $1,584—for married men with three children.

At the same time Sir John levied drastic direct tax increases on beer, whisky, tobacco, sugar, wine, death duties, and other luxuries. The tea tax was untouched, however.

Hitler May Return Envoy To U. S. As Move Toward Peace

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, who returned to Berlin yesterday from the Polish front, is considering returning his ambassador to Washington as a "peace gesture" toward the United States, it was reported in well-informed quarters last night.

The German ambassador to Washington, 63-year-old Hans Heinrich Dieckhoff, who was a cavalry officer in the World War, was ordered by Hitler to return to Berlin last Nov. 18 to explain President Roosevelt's "strange attitude toward Germany's anti-Jewish crusade at that time."

Previously, the U. S. ambassador to Berlin, Hugh R. Wilson, recalled to Washington for "report and consultation" and since last November neither nation has had an ambassador in the other's capital.

Central diplomats said that if Dieckhoff returned to Washington, it probably would be for a two-fold psychological purpose:

1. To offset the influence of British-French propaganda in the United States.
2. To work against the raising of an army embargo by Congress.

It was said that the decision of any kind had been reached by Hitler and his advisers regarding the possible return of Dieckhoff to his Washington post.

Some quarters believed that the reported "peace gesture" toward the United States might be a diplomatic trial balloon to sound out American opinion in regard to Germany, instead of a move actually underway.

Sparting To Speak At Townsend Meeting

J. L. Sparring, prominent Orlando lawyer, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Sanford Townsend Club in the Court House Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, according to a statement made today by W. E. Sparring, president.

Mr. Sparring has been returned from a trip to Chicago where he participated in the Townsend Club's annual convention. He will be accompanied by his wife and two children.

Mr. Sparring has been a member of the Sanford Townsend Club since its inception in 1937. He has been a member of the club for the past two years.

Hyalinth Control Patrols Seek Project Continues Storm Victims In St. Johns River In California

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Fair weather and calmer seas came to aid of rescue ships, seeking 30 or more pleasure boats missing after an unprecedented September storm.

The barricade will consist of a fence to the channel of the river, leaving only a small passage for boats, which will catch the flowers, keeping them from blocking the narrower river channel.

Whenever necessary, special equipment developed by the U. S. District Engineer's office is sponsoring the work will eradicate the troublesome water plants which have been trapped by the fence. Several small barges are planned at intervals along the river.

A hyalinth eradicator, an innovation in this type of machine, will be used.

Former Sanford Man Dies In Washington

D. C. Hodgkins, former Sanford resident, who had been living at 814 Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., died of double pneumonia at 8:30 o'clock last night in Washington following an illness of two weeks.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. D. C. Hodgkins, who lives with her young son, Steve, at their home on Lake Ocoee. Mrs. Hodgkins, who is a sister of Percy Mery, left Sanford by car Monday night and arrived in Washington yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Hodgkins left Sanford several years ago and has been connected with a stock brokerage firm in the nation's capital and was preparing to take over the publicity program for the Paul V. McNutt presidential campaign.

In the past Mr. Hodgkins had been prominently connected with a number of other publicity campaigns of the Democratic party. He lived in Sanford for about six years where he published the Seminole County Sentinel.

Cows Roaming On Florida's Roads Flayed

Fuller Warren Quotes Figures To Show Kiwanis Toll Taken Annually In Lives

Lashing out at the vested interests of the cattle industry for permitting cows to roam the highways and endanger human life, and at the Legislature for "fully and obstinately refusing to pass laws against them," the Jacksonville attorney and several times a member of the Legislature, addressed the Kiwanis Club today at its regular weekly luncheon at the Valdez Hotel.

Mr. Warren quoted facts and figures which show great loss of life and property caused by permitting livestock to roam state highways.

In 1936, he said, 654 persons were killed in auto accidents in the state; in 1937 there were 709, in 1938 there were 741 and in the first quarter of 1939 there were 215 deaths. How many of these deaths were attributable to collisions with livestock is unknown, he stated, pointing out that no figures have been kept.

To support his contention that cattle should be ruled off the highways in the interests of public safety, Mr. Warren declared that "not all the cattle in the state are worth the loss of a single life."

"Why, every day," he asserted vigorously, "newspapers carry stories of some person or other being in an accident because of collisions with cattle."

In addition to the safety of human life, the Jacksonville attorney stated, "there is another reason why we should want cattle ruled off the highways and that is the loss of the lives of our livestock."

Local National Guard Units Get Orders To Increase Personnel

First Of New Automatic Rifles Received By Units

In line with the nationwide military strengthening job, two of the three local National Guard units have received orders from Col. Preston Ayers, commanding officer of the regiment, to increase the strength of their units.

Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion, under the command of Capt. W. D. Hoffmann, was increased from 70 to 80 men under the new plan. Company D, machine gun company under command of Capt. H. C. Washburn, was increased from 65 to 75 men. These figures are 300 below the full wartime strength for these units.

Numerous applications have been made during the last few weeks and the commanding officers of the units expect to encounter no difficulty in increasing the strength of their respective units without calling into action the men who are now on reserves.

Those interested in qualifying for service in the National Guard are requested to contact the commanding officers of the three units on Monday night. The appointments for Guard units are between the age of 18 and 35, of good moral character and ability to pass a physical examination.

In line with President Roosevelt's advice that a local national emergency exist, the commanding officers of the three units have received instructions for automating the training of the personnel.

Two of the companies have already received their automatic rifles, the new battle equipment of the National Guard. The 1st Battalion of which the local unit is a part, is one of 10 National Guard regiments in the nation to be equipped with the latest development in arms which will greatly increase the potential fighting strength of each unit.

Before being accepted as regular equipment for the United States Army, the new automatic rifle has been tested and approved through a rigorous and thorough examination.

Chastain Cites Effectiveness Of Maturity Laws

Florida Regulations Are Termed Most Rigid In World

LAKE WALES, Sept. 27.—There has been a "backlog" of applications for Florida liquor licenses which are not probably attributable to confusion in the market place at this time of year," Charles F. Chastain, secretary of the Florida Liquor Commission, told the Lake Wales Rotary club in a brief talk today on the new maturity law.

Effectiveness of Florida's new maturity law, discussed by Mr. Chastain at the most recent of several "pushing" areas in the world, was illustrated by figures showing that last year approximately a quarter million boxes of grapefruit and nearly 300,000 boxes of oranges had been shipped from Florida through Sept. 16. The shipping season of the year did not begin until Sept. 14 and a negligible amount of fruit had been shipped.

Apartment House Owners Hold Meet

Drivers Must Have Licenses By Oct. 1

Sanford's tourist season this year will extend from October 1 to May, apartment house owners and agents decided Monday at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Members of the group agreed on a uniform difference in prices to be charged during the summer and winter seasons. In apartments where rents amount to between $25.00 and $45.00 per month during the winter, the summer rate will be $10.00 less. In apartments where rents amount to between $25.00 and $35.00 the summer rate will be $5.00 less.

Mrs. W. A. Leffler and Mrs. C. O. Marchant were appointed as a committee to get a more representative group of apartment owners and agents to the next meeting which will be held six weeks hence.

Mrs. W. T. Langley presided as chairman of the meeting.

State Gets Title To Some Seminole Land For Taxes

LAEMMLE LEFT $4,000,000

A list of all property in Seminole County against which there are delinquent state and county tax certificates which have not been auctioned under the provisions of the Murphy Act which expired last June, has been prepared by County Clerk H. H. Herndon and forwarded to Tallahassee.

Under the provisions of the Murphy Act the title to the property against which these certificates are outstanding passes to the State in Seminole County. Mr. Herndon estimated that there were 3,605 such certificates, including thousands of lots and hundreds of acres of land which were not sold under the Murphy Act and which now pass to the State.

In one instance, the only certificate against a parcel of land was one issued in 1934 for 81 cents. Certificate ranged from that date to the date of the sale in 1934, and included a number of farms and homesteads.

Warsaw Is Reported Ready To Surrender Ending Nazi War On Eastern Front

Reich Reports Plane Successes

Germans Say British North Sea Fleet Damaged From Air

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The German high command announced tonight that Warsaw had capitulated unconditionally and added that "handing over of the city probably will occur Sept. 29."

MOSCOW, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The Soviet government tonight announced the Russian steamer Metallist had been torpedoed and sunk by an unidentified submarine near Estonia. The attack was said to have occurred near Narva Bay on the northern coast of Estonia. Soviet patrol ships rescued 19 members of the Metallist's crew. Five others were reported missing. Official announcement of the sinking came as the Soviet press published sharp attacks on Estonia for her handling of the submarine problem, accusing the small Baltic nation of providing naval bases for foreign powers.

The European war mounting in intensity at sea and on the western front entered today an apparently final phase at its starting point, the eastern front.

Germany said Warsaw's defenders had agreed to surrender. A Warsaw radio, describing the terrific German assault on the capital, declared, however, that "we will never give in while one of us is left."

The German communiqué mentioned no German losses.

Dies Committee Requests Purge Of Communists

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Charles Dies, of the house committee on American activities, and a majority of the Roosevelt administration last night asked the justice department to begin "purging" about 500 known Communist agents held by government agencies.

In addition, he said he had received word that one of the country's most prominent labor leaders had decided to conduct a similar purge in his organization's "high command."

Communists will be asked either to renounce communism or step down from their positions," Dies asserted.

He said the justice department would proceed quickly to eliminate from federal employment a list of persons it has been checking for many months.

"The investigation will come in a few days," Dies said, "and we have gotten together and the communists are considered as known enemies." Dies said.

Dies said that as a result of the European conflict and of testimony before his committee the committee probably would ask Congress to "outlaw" the German-American bond and the Communist party of the United States.

Dies said Fritz Kuhn, German-American bond leader, was "afraid to reappear" before the house committee on American activities "because he knows we've got him."

Kuhn said in an interview in New York that he would no longer "cooperate" with the committee because he had been "treated so unfairly." To this Dies said:

"That is just an excuse on his part to get out of a tight situation. He knows the committee has got him in close quarters and he wants an excuse not to testify and furnish the names of the officers of his bond posts and sections as he promised to do. If he doesn't show up, he'll be cited for contempt."

The World Without Britain
If the United States gets into the present war in Europe, it will be not because of British propaganda, not because of the thinking of some modern Louisiana by a German submarine, not even because of the millions of dollars of American money—these ancient subterfuges which are now so often blamed for getting us into the war—but because the national interests of the United States are so closely aligned with the welfare of the British Empire, and because the American people, cosmopolitan as they may be, are so much more like the British in thought and deed than any other people on earth.
A strong British Empire is something which the people of this country have taken for granted so long that it is difficult to imagine what any other kind of world would mean to us. Like our individual liberty, our freedom of speech and the press, and presidential elections every four years, Great Britain, as the strong and just policeman of the world, with its mighty fleet and firm but fair means of disposing of nations, something we have become so accustomed to that we no longer fully appreciate it. Let us consider what this world would be like if Germany should ever take the place of Britain.

RAIN IN GUADALUPE, MEXICO
From The American Mercury: The American Mercury will have to be a little more than a little heavy on the rain. The rain in the Guadalupe region is a little more than a little heavy on the rain. The rain in the Guadalupe region is a little more than a little heavy on the rain.

In the first place, there would be no British fleet in the Atlantic, guarding our shores from hostile invasions. If Germany were the war, she would immediately have possession of the British fleet, and she would use it to sink in the first place, or if the British did not scuttle it before they surrendered it. The Germans would certainly try to get possession of it first, but in any event, whether they did or not, they would have complete control of the Atlantic as far as the eastern side of it is concerned.

There are some who may be naive enough to think that would not make any difference to us just so long as the Germans did not have the fleet. However, we have no assurance that they would not do just this. We remember that Canada, which is also in this hemisphere, is already at war with Germany, and that might be that little map of England for more than a hundred years has taught us that we can trust the British fleet; we do not know what a German fleet in control of the Atlantic would do. At any event we would not feel very safe unless we had a fleet of equal size and strength guarding our own Atlantic coast. That is not to say that we could not get a German fleet in control of the Pacific coast to be transferred to the Atlantic. Thus the Pacific coast would be left unprotected against another aggressive totalitarian nation.

General Tuthill, adjutant general of Arizona says, "Victory for Germany in the European war would render this nation virtually helpless economically and militarily. If Germany wins and takes over the fleets of France and Great Britain, it would have complete control of the sea and its air force would outnumber us 15 to 1. Where will we be? What becomes of our overseas trade? Speaking of our national defense, he said, "We haven't any." The point of all this is not that we should go to war against Germany, but rather that the national interests of this country plainly indicate a victory for the Allies. They do not need our men, but they do need planes and supplies. If we can help Britain and France win the war without sending men to Europe, we had better do it. If we can protect ourselves against the menace of dictatorship by the sacrifice of a few planes and guns, the price is cheap. We do not have to fear the hostility of Germany now. It is only if they win the war that we will need to look out.

Parents Have New Responsibilities In School Term

By A. D. MCCREARY, M. D.
 JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 27. (P)—Parents sigh with relief when school opens. They think it means sister and Johnny will be the school's sole responsibility for the next eight or nine months. But they are mistaken, especially in regard to the child's health.

Parents responsibility increases, if anything, when school opens. The school draws from every home in the community. It draws not only health but the disease and insanitary habits that may be harbored in those homes.

Two weeks ago the health insurance measures that should be put into effect before the child enters school were outlined. They were complete physical examination; correction of any defects found; and immunization against smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid, scarlet fever, whooping cough, if it was not done during infancy.

Today we call the parents' attention to their responsibility after school has opened. The importance of keeping the slightest ill child at home until the doctor can diagnose his case, cannot be too strongly emphasized. Even if disregarding slight illnesses may not undermine the health of the child who is ill, he has no right to endanger the health of every other member of his classroom and school.

For when a child becomes ill after school opens, he is not only a hazard to his own family and the few children with whom he plays. He becomes a hazard to every child in the school even though that child may live many blocks away.

Thus, the school becomes a concentration center for health, or disease as the case may be. It is largely the responsibility of the parent to decide what it shall be. Too many parents allow children to go to school with runny noses, sore throat or headaches. They dismiss the condition with "Oh, it's just the sniffles."

Many teachers inadvertently and unintentionally encourage this when they feature honor rolls for perfect attendance. School boards who control salaries and other expenses of the school have their part of the responsibility for attendance records, in that school funds from the state treasury are allocated to counties on a basis closely akin to average daily attendance in schools within that county. The large attendance, the more the state assistance is forthcoming.

Since it is impossible to change this situation until someone devises a more workable plan for attendance, it devolves upon parents to watch their children closely and not permit them to go to school with even so slight a hazard as "the sniffles" regardless of how that child's absence affects attendance records.

Another responsibility of the parent is to see that good health habits taught children in school are duplicated in the home. If the child is taught in school to wash his hands after going to the toilet and after eating, what chance has he of making this habit a perpetual one if his parents do not require the same safeguard at home.

If a child is taught the necessity for eating slowly and working in a properly ventilated and lighted room at school, what

Miller Has Small Docket At Session Of Police Court

Only four white persons appeared before City Judge Frank L. Miller in City Court this week, the docket being one of the shortest of the entire summer.

J. H. Bowden, charged with drunkenness, had his case continued. Fannie Harper, charged with disorderly conduct, was sentenced to pay $5 or spend 45 days in jail. Luther Harper, charged with disorderly conduct, was sentenced to pay $5 or spend 45 days in jail. John Davenport, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to spend 30 days in jail. The sentence was suspended.

The following negroes appeared in court: Henry Stewart, charged with disorderly conduct and reckless driving, had his case continued. Rosa Stewart, charged with disorderly conduct, had her case continued. Guy Frasier, charged with disorderly conduct had a $10 bond extracted by the Court. Gary Gibson, charged with speeding, was sentenced to pay $5 or spend 15 days in jail.

Ether Brown, charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed. Buddie King, charged with disorderly conduct was sentenced to pay $10 or spend 30 days in jail. Buddie King, charged with possession of liquor, was sentenced to pay $35 or spend 70 days in jail. Mann James, charged with possession of liquor, was sentenced to spend 30 days in jail. Mack Williams, charged with possession of liquor, was sentenced to spend 30 days in jail. Elliot Hampton, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was sentenced to pay $5 or spend 10 days in jail.

Tearful pleading of Baroness von Oppenheim, member of German banking family, failed to persuade commander of Italian liner Rex to allow her to sail from New York. Orders were issued shortly before sailing time to disembark all German, Czech, and Slovak passengers.

Mr. Chastain went into the technical differences between the old and new maturity laws, showing the various ways in which requirements had been strengthened. He also referred to the commission's decision yesterday, following a formal hearing, but there would be no change in enforcement of the new law. The commission eliminated one word from its regulations covering a "break in color," making the new physiology cover fruit on which a "yellow tinge is apparent" instead of "readily apparent."

"Up to Sept. 30 last year," Mr. Chastain told the Rotarians, "there had been 631 cars of grapefruit, figured at 400 boxes to the car, and 109 cars of

Efforts To Settle Power Squabble Made

MIAMI, Sept. 27.—A dozen men will take their places around a table this week to tackle anew Miami's biggest jigsaw puzzle, the longstanding controversy between the city and the Florida Power and Light Company.

Present indications are they will either solve the puzzle or toss the pieces on the floor within 30 days.

Nothing has been done on it lately because, first, it was city budget-making time, and then city members of the city commission were absent on September vacations. A full board is expected this week, and several other developments point to the likelihood of decisive action before Thanksgiving.

Celery Feds Work Hard For First Game With Eustis

Tentative Lineup For Clash Is Released By Coach L. L. McLucas

Gridders Are Light And Inexperienced But Have Improved Rapidly Since Start Of Training Season

Head Coach Leonard McLucas will send his 1939 edition of the Seminole High School Celery Feds through their final practice session of the week tomorrow afternoon before traveling to Eustis Friday night to meet the little but strong eleven tutored by Coach Memory Martin.

McLucas put the squad through their last rough workout late afternoon with a light scrimmaged mixed with a long passing and kicking drill of his backfield men and with the linemen undergoing a tough blocking session.

McLucas has not yet named his starting lineup for the tilt with the Panthers but in all probability the game time Friday evening will find Charles Lewis and L. M. Telford 156 at the end positions, Jimmy "Blister" Benard, 220, and Andy "Bubbles" Jones 240 at the tackle posts, Robert Stanzland, 180 and Don Jones 160 at the guard positions and Jim Riser, 175 a veteran of three campaigns, at center.

His backfield most likely will lineup with Art Beckwith, 160, at quarter, John Angel, 164 at full and Billy Ward, 176 and Dub Epps, 160 taking care of the halfback positions.

McLucas explained to the squad earlier in the week during a skull practice that the Eustis aggregation man to man but the Feds will meet all kind of opposition in all departments with Eustis' two veterans, Lewis Marshall and J. C. Peterson in the leading roles.

The Celery Fed mentor who is starting his tenth season at the helm of Fed gridiron eleven also said that from plays the Panthers used against Groverland last week Eustis will use single wing plays with an unbalanced line and plays from the double wing shifts with a balanced line.

The local outfit will use single wing, double wing, and a modified Notre Dame style of play.

The Feds this season will be slightly heavier than the 1938 edition but will be inexperienced. Lewis at end played in a few games last season before he was injured. Telford had a second string job but still saw a good bit of action. Andy Jones at tackle will begin his third year as a regular with Eustis.

In his first season as a starter, Stanzland at guard saw little action last season and Jones at the other guard post gathered experience with last season's Baby Feds. Beckwith will start his first game along with Billy Ward and John Angel. Jones at tackle will begin his third year as a regular with Eustis.

The next meeting of the State Pardon Board is scheduled for Oct. 16, at Tallahassee.

Sanford Looks Forward To Series With Miami Semi-Pros

Dean To Start In First Fray, Hudson To Pitch Tuesday

CHALKING 'EM UP

With CHARLIE CHALKER

With a post-season clash with the Augusta Tigers hanging fire, the Lookouts today looked forward to a three game series with the Miami All-Star Semi-Pros Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

The arrangements with the Miami semi-pros have been made by Peter Schaal, statistician and secretary of the Florida State League during the season just past.

Information from Schaal today indicates that Dix Dean will open on the mound Sunday while either Cleo Jeter or Frank Hudson will open Monday night's game, and Sid Hudson will be held back for the finale on Tuesday.

Red Lane will act as manager of the Lookouts as Dale Alexander has already returned to his home in Chattanooga to re-join with Ellis Layne who played third base. A first baseman and third baseman will have to be secured to plug the holes left by the departure of Layne and Alexander.

Ed Levy, who played in the Pacific Coast League this year, has been prominently mentioned for the first sack position as has Whitely McMullen, crack first baseman for the Greenville G-Men the past season. Sid Hudson probably will handle third base when he is not pitching. A replacement will have to be found for Rick Gillespie for the Monday and Tuesday games as Gillespie has to return to work Monday.

The projected series with Augusta, winners of the Sally League playoff title, hinges on whether Augusta loses or wins tonight from Pensacola. If the Tigers win or are rained out chances are they can't play here until Friday. If they lose tonight, they will play here Thursday and Friday. Rain might prevent the meeting of the two teams altogether.

The action of the City Commission in setting up a Department of Recreation and providing funds of $4,375 to carry on the work of the department shows foresight and progressiveness. Neglected for many years, recreational activities have been given much thought and consideration recently. This has been mainly because of sociologists' recommendations that such activities not only help keep young people occupied when they might be getting into mischief but that they broaden one's personality. This point, as we've mentioned before, is well brought out in Dr. Henry C. Link's "The Rediscovery of Man." But modern views of recreational activities are not confined solely to young people. Older people need recreation just as much as the younger ones and every provision will be made to provide adequately for both under the City's new recreational program which will be conducted by the new department under the direction of M. Hardaker. Mr. Hardaker has been appointed full time director of recreation. He formerly held the same position with the City, which received aid from the WPA.

There is little need to launch into a panegyric for those responsible for the creation of the department but a word may be said for H. James Gut who, as chairman of the Recreation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, had long advocated the establishment of the department.

The Miami Series

Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday the Sanford Lookouts will play the Miami All-Star Semi-Pros of Teen Gallegos. The Miamians split a two-game series with the Daytona Beach Islanders and thereby proved they were no-slouches. Sanford should have the edge in the three games but there is no certainty they will wallop the Gallegos' outfit. Biz Donnelly had to pitch four-hit ball to beat them Monday and then the Islanders were able to eke out a 1 to 0 victory. A sizeable delegation of Sanford fans may go down for the series, especially persons who have long wanted to visit the Magic City but who, for one reason or another, have been denied the privilege or occasion. Those who are unable to stay for the three games may ride down Saturday and return Sunday night after the game which will be played in the afternoon. For the information of those planning on making the trip, the Lookouts will make their headquarters at the Monterey Hotel on the beach. It is operated by Bob Pearman, former secretary of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, and he's making big plans for the Sanford crowd.

Rams Stack Up As Top Prospect For Eastern Laurels

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—(AP)—With Jock Sutherland and his No. 1 team of last year gone, Pittsburgh passes its perennial position as the top Eastern gridiron threat to Fordham, with Cornell, Dartmouth, Carnegie Tech and possibly Brown ready to take the pole if the Rams bump into a stone wall somewhere along the road.

James (Sleepy Jim) Crowley's Rams were butted into defeat only by Pittsburgh a year ago, although Fordham was tied by Purdue and North Carolina.

Graduation took away a half-dozen forward wall pluggers, including the co-captain, Henry Jaucinski, and Mike Ketcher, the team's leading rusher. Crowley is feeling sorry for Crowley after taking a look at his material. Jim admits that if trouble strikes the Rams it'll be through the line for his backfield should be one of the best in the land.

In Leonard Eshmont, 170-pound halfback, Crowley has a real ace, a runner who needs only a slight opening to go to town. Eshmont, so Pittsburgh statisticians say, was the country's leading ground runner last year with 831 yards.

Fordham is all set, too, to spring a sophomore sensation as James Blumenth, the best kick in the East, has a year and a half, a crack passer and a good runner, although not in Eshmont's class as a ball carrier.

Even with all their strength, the Rams will have a tough job getting through the season unscathed against such foes as Alabama, Tulane, Pittsburgh, Rice, Indiana, St. Mary's and New York University.

Charles Bowser, who follows Sutherland at Pitt, hasn't the material the door dentist enjoyed. Dick Cassano is the only ace from last year's backfield who is on hand and most of the line aces are gone. Bowser definitely does not have any perfect season dreams.

Cornell lost several key men, including the All-American end, Brad Holland, but more material has been flowing into Ithaca and Carl Snavely isn't crying.

From Providence come reports that Brown led by coach Ted McLaughry's son, are loaded to beat Carnegie Tech, one of last season's surprises and the Sugar Bowl rival of Texas Christian, will be in the thick of the fight again. Seven of the 11 players who walloped Pitt last year are available. The reserve strength isn't any too good.

Prospects aren't so good among the Big Three—Princeton, Yale and Harvard—and the service schools—Army and Navy—probably won't cut any serious capers. Columbia will be stronger, particularly on the defense. Temple, Duquesne, Villanova, Colgate, Dartmouth, Holy Cross and West Virginia look for better than average seasons.
