AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHIEL
SOME RANDOM THOUGHTS

In 1939 the City of Sanford gave the government some 700 acres to establish the naval air station. They forgot to put in a reverter clause.

Heaven help us, if when the base closes the city fights the county, the county fights the city and everyone battles the proposed Industrial Potential Authority for the property. Goodbye Seminole.

The county may give the St. Johns Canal authority a 200-foot strip of land by Mallet Lake Park for use when the canal is constructed. . . . Checking out reverter clauses with the state now.

Douglas Stenstrom, chairman of the long range planning committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, will attend the opening for the interchange "diamond" connecting Lake Mary Boulevard and Interstate 4 Thursday by the State Road Department at Tallahassee.

It was nice of the County Commission to give ourselves an extra day off for Christmas. . . . No meeting next Tuesday. . . . Gee, Daddy, when I grow up I'll be a County Commissioner?

Six years ago the County Commission discussed the possibility of eliminating the home economics agent. . . . They dropped it when the protests came in.

Four years ago the same issue came up but those protests from 4,000 women were too much for the courthouse crew.

And now it comes up again. Will the Commission give in? Can they stem the tide of outraged women? Tune in and find out.

Actually the county is asking the Farm Bureau to make the Farm Bureau on the County Economics Agent. . . . Now, that's getting the monkey off their backs. . . . How come they pay out some $30,000 in commission salaries if they continue to pass the buck?

There's absolutely no truth to the report that when with the Valdez on the Courthouse steps the Go-Go girls will be included in the bargain. Absolutely not.

County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick really looks out for county employees. Usually they are paid on a monthly and twice a month basis. Well, John decided to pay "Santa" yesterday and asked the board to pay the troops this Friday instead of the regular pay day. . . . Dec. 30. . . . Of course, the rest of the money went along with the motion.

The County Commission sure takes a lot of time zoning a piece of property on Lake Mary Boulevard extension to commercial. . . . Zoning Board apparently has okayed the change but the County fathers still hedge around. . . . It's been postponed at each meeting since Nov. 8.

QUOTE OF THE DAY: The little girl who said, "Mama, there may be a little old man somewhere who makes toys but I just don't believe reindeer can really fly."

One indignant member of the far sex bawled me out yesterday for criticizing people and politics so close to Christmas. . . . Himmum.

Tell you what—I promise to stop writing when they stop killing in Vietnam. When they remember what the true meaning of Christmas is.

When people stop killing themselves on the highways. When we stop fighting among ourselves and work for Seminole County.

When we have public officials that aren't afraid to take a stand near election time. When people stop saying "me" and say "we" and "that's when I'll stop writing."

Part One In A Series Why Courthouse Is 'Everyone's Business'

Picking up and moving any building (literally) is a not too complicated chore for a heavy equipment mover. That's his business.

Even though the average resident has business in the courthouse no more than once or twice a year—driver's license, file for homestead exemption, register to vote (all of which can be accomplished by mail)—a militant few now wish to "pick up" the courthouse and move it from Sanford to another point in Seminole County.

North Orlando, Casselberry, Altamonte Springs or Longwood. . . . because the law states a county seat shall be in an incorporated municipality. And that rules out the talked about Five Points locale.

Presently, school offices overflow the administration building on Commercial Street in Sanford and various offices are scattered around the city.

scattered offices but also a library, board room, space for vaults, etc.

water, sewer and refuse collection. Nearly all of these have come under the county's tax free status. These services will continue to be provided in an ever improving operation. We hope for at least another 53 1/2 years.

The End For The Fee Office?

The fee offices of county tax assessor and tax collector may be eliminated in the new constitution revision committee member, reported to the Herald today.

"No provision is made for the fee system in the charter," Davis said.

The complaint of young people that they are old enough to fight and die for their country, but are not permitted to vote, will be resolved with the provision giving 18 year olds the right to voting.

CHARBONNEAU brothers, Maurice (left) and Thomas, a sergeant, has been awarded the Bronze Star for heroism in action. He now holds the Purple Heart. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest T. Charbonneau, of 407 Willow Avenue.

The Governor's office will be strengthened by permitting the legislative branch of government to succeed himself. Davis stated his concern that this provision would permit "the possible creation of a political machine."

Yank Sent To Soviet Labor Camp

LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R. (AP) — A Soviet court today sentenced Buel Ray Wortham Jr. to three years in a restricted labor camp and fined Craddock M. Gilmour Jr. 1,000 rubles — $111.11.

The two American youths were found guilty of violating Soviet currency regulations. Wortham also was convicted of stealing a statue of a bear.

Wortham was sentenced to two years on the theft charge and three years on the currency charge, the two terms to run concurrently.

Wortham first learned of his sentence after it had been read in Russian in the courtroom, where a spectator held up three fingers.

The North Little Rock Ark., resident shook his head sadly and knowingly but otherwise showed no emotion.

The sentence was later read in English.

Gilmour showed no emotion during the reading. He was also charged with the theft of a watch.

At the court session ended, Wortham, 25, turned to Gilmour and shook hands with him. Wortham looked downcast as he might be close to tears. He was marched out by four armed guards.

Herman G. Moen, embassy official from the U.S. Embassy in Moscow who attended the trial, said that Wortham's lawyer would appeal within the seven-day period allowed by Soviet law.

The three-year sentence on Wortham begins Oct. 1, the day the two youths were arrested when they tried to drink at the Soviet Union to Finland after a one-week tourist visit.

The 18-inch cast-iron statue of the bear was found in their car, starting criminal proceedings which led to the three-day trial that ended today.

Wortham's sentence included confiscation of his car. He was also charged 163 rubles — $18.11 — as his share of court costs.

The sentence of Gilmour also included confiscation of souvenirs that Gilmour had bought with illegally obtained rubles. Gilmour was assessed $5.50 rubles — $2.22 — as his share of costs.

The type of labor camp to which Wortham was ordered is one of a restricted regime. Such camps are used for first offenders who committed dangerous crimes. They worked about eight hours a day on crafts and trade work such as woodwork or machine operating.

During nonworking hours the prisoners are allowed to move about freely within the camp, including using whatever libraries and recreational facilities are available.

The three Soviet judges returned their verdict after deliberating and writing it out for four hours, 45 minutes.

The findings, which took 14 minutes to read in Russian, said that the charges against the two youths "have been fully confirmed."

Both defendants admitted their guilt at the opening of the trial Monday.

The defendant to Presiding Judge Ann I. Isakova, Nicolai A. Trunov and Boris A. Derugin after Gilmour, 24, of Salt Lake City, Utah, made a final statement.

"I plead for the mercy of the court in the light of the basic human kindness of the Russian people," Gilmour said.

The prosecution asked he be fined 1,000 rubles — $111.11.

Wortham, 25, of North Little Rock, Ark., stared at the floor with a worried look as his friend spoke. In his closing statement Tuesday, Wortham appealed for freedom after the prosecution demanded a five-year sentence for him and confiscation of his automobile, which he and Gilmour had driven to Moscow and back to the Finnish border after their Army service in Germany.

The two Americans, both former Army officers, were arrested Oct. 1.

Citrus Growers Told To Dry Tears And Get To Work To Keep Up Prices

LAKELAND (AP)—Florida citrus growers, crying the blues over the state's record orange crop, were told by one of their own Tuesday to dry their tears and get to work.

State Sen. Ben Hill Griffin said that the industry is in danger of falling under federal control. "I don't see the starting criminal proceedings which led to the three-day trial that ended today."

Griffin made the statements at the final federal hearing at Lakeland on how the growers should market the huge crop, estimated at 42.4 million boxes.

Griffin was the only grower during the two-day hearing to strongly oppose a proposed marketing pact by which the growers would keep 3 million gallons of orange concentrate off the market in an effort to keep prices up.

"Most of the growers look stepped to the witness stand and predicted the industry would suffer losses in the vicinity of 15 million should the marketing agreement fail to materialize. They were supported by all Florida citrus mutual, largest grower cooperative.

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman will study the testimony before deciding whether to allow the agreement.

Griffin said he expects to market 6.5 million boxes of citrus and charged that growers aren't going to be hurt "like they say they are."

Griffin said he didn't think both sides of the question had been properly presented. "Most statements I have heard were prepared by Florida Citrus Mutual staff members," he said.

The Frotoproff attorney said the industry has gone overboard in planting and charged that many professional people "who know nothing about the citrus industry have gone into grower purchases because of tax advantages."

Griffin said growers can cut their production costs. "I cannot see why we cannot sell fruit in the same markets as they term secondary, with or without a marketing agreement," he said.

Griffin said that all available funds to buy orange juice concentrate for the federal school lunch program, which would be considered a secondary market.

Joseph P. Strazzulla, a Fort Pierce grower, suggested withdrawing the bottom 20 percent of the orange crop from the market by grade. He told those present the marketing agreement would be agreeable to him only if the provision for determining grade was incorporated.

Testimony favoring the agreement came from John Nelson, a Umatilla packer. He said the proposed agreement is "our best and only hope to save the Florida citrus industry from severe financial loss."

Herman Steele, consultant for Florida Citrus Mutual, urged Freeman to bypass customary procedure and make a quick decision.

"It is of utmost importance that the program underway immediately so concentration can plant their pack," he said.

Advocates of the agreement say withdrawal of 15 million gallons of orange concentrate from the market would make the difference between "a possible break-even price and a profit."

If approved by Freeman, the agreement then would be voted on by concentrators and would require a majority of 80 percent. The plan would be for one year.

Bobby Baker Faces Trial Jan. 9

WASHINGTON (AP)—The court will hand over to Bobby Baker's attorneys this week a secret recording that eventually figures large in the government's prosecution of the former secretary to Senate

Plans for the transaction were disclosed following a ruling by U.S. Dist. Judge Oliver Gasch that Baker's lawyers are entitled under the federal rules of criminal procedure to any such recordings or written statements in government hands.

Baker faces trial Jan. 9 on tax evasion, theft and conspiracy charges.

The judge didn't identify the nature of the material when he issued his written opinion Tuesday. William O. Bittman, first vice president of David Beane, second vice president; Gene Rucker, secretary; and Charles Hunter, treasurer.

A brief resume of the past year's achievements and projects was given by LeLand Jacobs, outgoing president. The four fund-raising events for the annual, all completed, were the annual fertilizer sale, a fish fry, turkey shoots, and an auction.

Bittman said separately that whatever material was covered by Gasch's ruling indeed would be in the hands of Baker's lawyers before the week was out.

The one unfinished project which the association will continue to pursue is installation of a traffic light at the intersection of SR 436 at the SR 434-ER 431 crossover. Efforts have been underway for the past five years to get the light at the hazardous crossing.

The California Democrat, talking with newsmen in Washington after a visit to New York to check on the status of Powell's plea for contempt of court, did not give the source of the "indications" he cited.

Many members feel Powell's plea of retaining his seat may lie with Speaker John McCormack and Democratic Leader Carl Albert. McCormack and Albert have remained silent publicly on the issue.

Powell, a Harlem Democrat, faces jail sentences totaling more than a year in New York stemming from his failure to pay a long-standing $164,000 libel judgment against him. His legal troubles prompted Van Deen's pledge to challenge Powell's right to take his seat when the new Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Van Deen's comments Tuesday came as a House Administration subcommittee neared the windup of a three-day probe of the payroll and travel expenses of the Education and Labor Committee, which Powell heads. The inquiry ends today.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, subcommittee chairman, said he would have a representative present.

Stephen Powell, Carol Lederhaus Win Top Honors

Stephen J. Powell, of Sanford, and Carol Marie Lederhaus, of DeBarry, are among 57 top scholars from the University of Florida tapped this week for membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

The fraternity selects members from those students whose scholastic achievement places them in the top 10 percent of their graduating class.

Powell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. (Sunny) Powell, of 471 Rosalia Drive. He was graduated from the university college of law this month, one of the top eight students in his class. He is a graduate of Seminole High School.

Miss Lederhaus is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lederhaus, of 10 Plantation Road, DeBarry.

She has received her BA degree in sociology and is scheduled to school in September to study for her master's degree.

She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, executive committee of the AFROTC Angel Flight and a member of the Honor Council, as well as two other honors fraternities.

Miss Lederhaus is a 1962 graduate of DeLand High School, one of his most outspoken critics within the party.

It was Hearnes who said last week that, unless Johnson changed his ways and took a new look at the political situation, the Democrats might be well advised to "start all over with a new candidate" in 1968.

The visit of the governors overshadowed a Johnson conference at the ranch with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who arrived late Tuesday for discussions on next year's defense budget and other military matters. McNamara was an overnight guest at the ranch.

John B. Connally, Democratic governor of Texas and a long-time friend of Johnson, said he would attend the ranch session.

At least two governors, however, sent word to Johnson that they could not be on hand —

Ouster Proceedings Stepped Up For Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Lionel Van Deen says he has received indications House members won't try to stop his promised attempt to block seating of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell in the 9th Congress.

The California Democrat, talking with newsmen in Washington after a visit to New York to check on the status of Powell's plea for contempt of court, did not give the source of the "indications" he cited.

Many members feel Powell's plea of retaining his seat may lie with Speaker John McCormack and Democratic Leader Carl Albert. McCormack and Albert have remained silent publicly on the issue.

Powell, a Harlem Democrat, faces jail sentences totaling more than a year in New York stemming from his failure to pay a long-standing $164,000 libel judgment against him. His legal troubles prompted Van Deen's pledge to challenge Powell's right to take his seat when the new Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Van Deen's comments Tuesday came as a House Administration subcommittee neared the windup of a three-day probe of the payroll and travel expenses of the Education and Labor Committee, which Powell heads. The inquiry ends today.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, subcommittee chairman, said he would have a representative present.

Inaugural Program Jan. 3 To Be Jam-Packed

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A special prayer service, 10 a.m. at the Florida National Guard coliseum, parade and ball are all features Florida will witness on Jan. 3 when they inaugurate the first Republican governor since 1873.

The inaugural committee of GOP Governor-elect Claude Kirk has released a program showing a jam-packed day for participants.

The program also disclosed that the three newly-elected Cabinet officers will be sworn in individually, not as a group as once reported and denied by sources involved.

As is traditional, Kirk will be sworn to at noon, taking the mantle of government from Gov. Haydon Burns.

Activities begin at 8:30 a.m. with a prayer service—a new feature.

Kirk and Burns will arrive at the inaugural platform after being brought from the Governor's Mansion by a military escort.

The inaugural parade follows the swearing in ceremonies. The inaugural ball will be held in Tully gymnasium at Florida State University.

The complete program: 8:30 a.m.—Inaugural prayer service.

10:15 a.m.—Official military escort accompanied by Gov. Haydon Burns and Governor-elect Claude Kirk Jr. to Capitol State and federal offices to be inaugurated.

10:45 a.m.—Governor and Mrs. Burns and Kirk and family and distinguished guests begin arrival at the Capitol.

DeBary VFW Has Christmas Meeting

By MRS. JOHN LEONE
Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 8088 of DeBary, and its Auxiliary Unit, held a joint Christmas social following business meetings this month at the Pivemen's Recreation Hall. A film, "Our Home," showing activities and progress at the VFW orphans and widows home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., was shown with Howard Middleton operating the projector. The post and auxiliary contribute 10 per cent of the annual poppy sale donations to the home. Christmas tree at the meeting, which was decorated under direction of Mrs. Francis Hackley, was hung with silver tokens for children from Florida who live at the home. In business of the auxiliary meeting, conducted by Mrs. Alice Bennett, president, reports were heard from Mrs. Greta Danning on the recent poppy sale and the annual pie and cake sale. Contributions voted included $10 to DeBary Library Fund; $5 to Radio Free Europe; $25 to assist a DeBary veteran for Christmas; $4 to Memorial lighted tree sponsored by the DeBary Business and Professional Women's Club with donation made in memory of four deceased unit members, and contribution to firmen for use of the hall as a meeting place. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Mobile X-ray Sked Posted

Schedule of visits by the Christmas seal mobile chest X-ray van has been posted for Jan. 5 through 7 by Dr. Kenneth M. Comedian's Estate Low
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The estate of the late comedian Ernie Kovacs, once estimated at $2 million, is worth only $16,184, says his widow, actress Eddie Adams. Mrs. Adams testified in Superior Court Monday that debts and taxes reduced the estate's value. She said many of her late husband's holdings were mortgaged and about $300,000 in unpaid taxes were due when the comedian was killed in an auto accident nearly five years ago.

Dollar Signs Showing In Book On JFK

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — Over-shadowed in the dispute about the possible publication of "The Death of a President" are some of the biggest dollar signs in publishing history. William Manchester, the author, would become a wealthy man under his contract with Look magazine, and his agent would receive one of the highest commissions on record. The John F. Kennedy Library would benefit by hundreds of thousands of dollars. Look, which offered $665,000 for serial rights, would have a circulation apart. Dell Books, which reportedly hopes to obtain reprint rights for a million dollars, could hope for a sale in the millions of copies. This book, nevertheless, is not so much an exception as the continuation of a trend. Publishing, which still retains remnants of the muckraker and tabloid atmosphere, is expanding rapidly today. As the Authors Guild will attest, many of its members have very meager incomes. The Guild estimates only a few hundred authors make a living solely from books. But of these, about a score have become wealthy in the past few years. Profits of some publishers have risen sharply. Their purses have been in demand on stock exchanges. And they have been eagerly sought as merger candidates.

The American public is literate not only in the basic sense knowing how to read and write, but it is becoming more avid in its demands. In response, publishing receipts last year rose 10 per cent over the $2 billion. Competition to publish quality works also stiffened. The office of Manchester's agent, for example, said the serial rights for his work brought a higher bid than anyone expected. Manchester reportedly intended to give to the Kennedy Library most of the hard-cover book profit beyond expenses. He was advanced $40,000 presumably to cover expenses and other cash needs while working on the book. Under a popular form of contract, an author receives 10 per cent of the retail price for the first 5,000 copies sold, 12.5 per cent for the next 5,000 and 15 per cent for all copies beyond 10,000. On the sale of 50,000 copies of $5 books, which would mean it close to the best-seller list—an author might receive $80,625. After that, the author and his agent may have receipts for British and foreign markets, if such markets exist for the work. An author has other rights also. The first serial rights give him the opportunity for magazine or newspaper presentation of part of the book in advance of publication. Manchester's income will come primarily from the first serial rights, sold to Look for $665,000. Under a standard contract, 10 per cent of this goes to his agent, a figure confirmed by the agent's office. In most contracts provision is also made for income from performance rights — television, motion pictures, plays. These rights generally remain with the author.

RVAH-13 "O" Wives Plan Program For NOWC Coffee

By DOTIE AUSTIN
GOOD HEALTH for the Modern Woman will be the theme and subject of the program for the NOWC change of board election and coffee, set for Jan. 12. Hostess squadron for the event will be the "Bat Girls" of RVAH-13 who have scheduled at their guest speaker, Fran Section of Channel 9, whose show, "Exercise for the Modern Woman" is seen daily over WFTV.

The Bat ladies have been working on decorations for the coffee that will be in keeping with the overall theme. Refreshments will be a delightful and very different surprise and we expect they'll all be "low-cal."

That was not the case however, when the Thirteen wives were entertained at the 14th-wide home of Libby Cox who served doughnuts, frozen pie and coffee.

Charlote Crombie was welcomed as a new member.

BEVERLY BULLARD has been elected new president of the RVAH-13 EMW Club. Gladys Morgan was named vice president, Pat Kelly secretary and Rose Harless, treasurer.

Janette Hendrix is the new chaplain with Yvonne Sechrest as historian and publicity chairman. Pat Niemi as social and hospitality chairman and Rose and Janette on the telephone committee.

Next meeting has been set for 7:30 p. m. Jan. 10 at the wives meeting room with free baby sitting in the Sunday school nursery.

Janette Hendrix and Pat Kelly will be in charge of refreshments.

Recently the members and their husbands enjoyed a potluck supper. Food of many kinds was served with Cdr. and Mrs. Don Sullivan and Cdr. and Mrs. C. S. Hopper as special guests.

BULLETIN of "Dates to Remember" has been published by the RVAH-13 Wives Club members with the first event the invitation to tea with wives of McCoy Air Force Base, which took place Tuesday.

Friday at 6:30 p. m. in the ballroom, the annual Christmas party will be held under the direction of Ulla Ganderton and Sue Cenowas.

Jan. 11 will be the board meeting at Ben Jarrell's home and Jan. 18 is the regular meeting date with new officers to be elected.

Jan. 23, the two membership teams will have a luncheon at 12:30 at the CPO Club. It is said that the losing team will serve

"steved black cat on broken mirrors!"

DINNER PARTY for members of the RVAH-13 Officers' Wives and their husbands was followed by a party at the home of John Brubaker in Deltona and this was followed by a moonlight soiree.

Special guests were the parents of Robert Schlemmer. During the recent coffee at Bernice Walker's home, the wives discussed plans for holiday activities. They also welcomed Olivia Thorne, a new member.

Friday, the group is planning a formal dinner dance at Orlando Air Force Base and most all the couples are planning individual parties during the holidays.

CASSADAGA HOTEL was the scene of the RVAH-13 luncheon honoring Mary Deum, wife of the squadron executive officer, Cdr. Ted Deum, who is being transferred.

Hostesses included Mary Lois Webster, the skipper's wife; Rainey Olson, wife of Cdr. Jim Olson, the new executive officer; Rozanne James, Norma Schneider and Johnny Jubay.

Mary Lois presented a beautiful silver water pitcher to Mary on behalf of the club and commented that Mary's spirit, amiability and never-exhausted energy will be greatly missed.

"However, we are not saying goodbye yet. Although Ted will be leaving for training at VAW-123 at Whidbey Island, Mary will remain in Sanford for three more months before the family leaves for Rota, Spain. It is hoped she will attend the RVAH-13 Officers' Wives functions," said Mrs. Webster.

Special guests included Peggy Wood, Claire Deum, Bea Coffey and Inez Rose.

BETTY GREGONIS has been named new president of the Station officers' wives with Norma Wheeler as vice president and representative to the NOWC board. Carolyn Holt will be secretary-treasurer.

Election and coffee was held at the home of Mickey Anderson with Carolyn Courtney as co-hostess.

Yvonne Montgomery received a spoon for her new baby girl, Jay Michelle. Two newcomers, Laurie Nadel and Jill Patterson, were welcomed to the group.

Mrs. Mary Washburn complimented the club on their faithful work for the USO. It was noted that E. Quellan and J. Albers will work on a mural to decorate the entrance to the ballroom.

THREE ATTRACTIVE officers' wives, two blondes and a brunette, will make elections difficult for the office of vice president of the Naval Officers' Wives Club, Jan. 12.

The three women running for the office are Pat Burch, Jo Kuhlke and Betty Hurlbutt.

Fresh Flowers Say Merry Christmas

Combining fresh carnations and the more traditional holly is an old-yet-new Christmas decoration suggested for the holiday season by the Society of American Florists. Such a bouquet looks particularly appealing when it is arranged in a child's toy sleigh.

Every family has its own customs when it comes to flowers and plants for the Yuletide. Traditions are wonderful and help to build the feeling of community that is so important to a happy family life. However, it is fun on occasion to vary traditions — to add just a little something new.

Decking the halls with boughs of holly has been told in song and story for centuries. Though never featured in a Christmas carol, carnations—those vivid, sweet-scented flowers—take their place graciously in a holiday arrangement.

The holly leaves themselves say "Merry Christmas" in a way that only these glossy, thorn-bedecked leaves can. The carnations add a flip and a touch of bright color to an arrangement that might be considered almost too traditional.

Deck the halls with boughs of holly—and fresh flowers too!

Pastor And Family Hold Open House For Members

Rev. and Mrs. Freddie Smith hold open house at the Central Baptist Church parsonage, Sunday from 4:30 to 6 p. m.

Rev. Smith is the new pastor and the Church recently purchased the residence at 2118 Park Ave. for the parsonage. It had been completely remodeled and the Smiths graciously entertained for the members.

A Christmas theme was used in decorations with a beautiful tree, an open Bible and Nativity scene on the coffee table and hanging over the fireplace were two stockings with the names of the pastor's two sons, Scott and Steven. A large red poinsettia adorned the hearth.

The Christmas theme also was carried out in the refreshments. The dining table was overlaid with an ecru lace cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of red poinsettias in a crystal container, flanked by two large red and white candles.

Refreshments of a variety of cookies, including Christmas tree wreaths, home made holiday cookies and a salted Christmas assortment were served along with strawberry punch, coffee, nuts and mints.

Mrs. J. Q. Galloway, church hostess, presided at the silver coffee service and assisting her with the serving were Mrs. Everett Harper, Mrs. R. L. Reeves, Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mrs. Cecil Davis.

TASTY Fresh orange holiday cups are appropriate for either appetizer or dessert. For 6 servings, peel and slice 6 medium size fresh oranges or cut them into sections. Mix fruit with 2 1/2 tablespoons of bottled green mint syrup, divide among 6 sherbet glasses and garnish each serving with a maraschino cherry.

Make Unusual Holiday Swag

The Society of American Florists suggests using glossy magnolia leaves combined with matte velvet ribbon and artificial grapes to make a swag to hang on the front door this Christmas holiday. Sparkle can be added to the swag with a few small Christmas tree decorations.

Wreaths are beautiful on doors and should not be neglected, but there are times when it is fun to try something different. A swag can be as unusual and as different as the imagination allows.

Decorating the swag is purely a matter of choice. However, the weather in your locality will dictate whether or not fresh flowers or fruits may be used. Christmas tree balls, ribbons, artificial fruits are all practical for outdoor use in any climate.

Buie-Normann Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Vause Sr. of South Daytona Beach announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Lucile Buie, to John G. Normann, of Ormond Beach.

The wedding was solemnized Dec. 16 in the First Baptist Church, of Ormond Beach, with Rev. Paul Lack officiating.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. David Dove of Ormond Beach. When they returned from a trip to New Jersey, the bride couple will reside at 763 North Beach St., Ormond Beach.

Turkey Can Be Delicious Second Time

Try a big turkey this year! Then, when the Christmas feast is over, you'll have turkey for other delectable meals. Turkey leftovers needn't be dull and uninteresting. They should be unusual with ingredients which add sparkle and zest. Seedless grapes and toasted slivered almonds combined with slices of turkey in a delicate cream sauce and served in crisp patty shells make a delicious entrée.

Delicate turkey pie is made by simply pop them into the oven and the puff pastry rises into delicate layers of flaky crisp pastry.

TURKEY A LA QUEEN

 1/4 cup slivered almonds
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 2 tbsp. flour
 Dash pepper
 1 tsp. salt
 Dash paprika
 1/4 cups light cream
 1 egg yolk, beaten
 2 cups cooked turkey
 1/2 cups seedless raisins
 1/2 cups sliced mushrooms
 Prepare patty shells according to package directions.

In 2 tablespoons butter in skillet, saute almonds until light golden brown; set aside. Then, in double boiler, melt 1/4 cup butter; add flour, pepper, salt, paprika, stirring until blended smooth. Slowly add cream, stirring constantly. Then pour small amount of sauce over beaten egg yolk; return yolk mixture to remaining sauce, continuing to stir until smooth and thickened. Add turkey and grapes.

Spoon mixture into warm patty shells; fill with almonds. Bake 4 servings.

Justice-Adams Wedding Plans Announced

Final plans are being announced for the wedding of Miss Nancy Karen Justice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Justice, 709 Cherokee Circle, and David W. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adams, 709 Country Club Road.

The ceremony is planned for 3:30 p.m. Dec. 23 at the First Baptist Church, with Rev. Fred Chance officiating.

All friends of the couple are invited to attend both the wedding and reception, which will follow immediately in the Social Hall of the church.

Ruth S.S. Class Installs New Officers At Meeting

The newly formed RUTH class of the First Baptist Church met at the beautifully decorated country home of Mrs. T. C. Thompson for the installation of the new officers and teachers.

During the impressive ceremony, Mrs. W. I. Crabtree, church executive officer as to the responsibilities of her duties.

The following officers were installed: Mrs. M. D. Walker, president; Mrs. T. W. Mero, vice-president; Mrs. J. G. Davis, secretary; Mrs. T. C. Thompson, treasurer; Mrs. Herold Herkenbach, captain of group leaders and Mrs. Con Chamot, class teacher.

The Thompson home was beautifully decorated, in keeping with the season of Christmas. The Nativity scene, with each member of the Holy Family done in ceramic by Mr. Thompson, was exceptionally inspiring.

The door prize, a beautiful cake decorated by Mrs. Thompson, was won by Mrs. Crabtree.

Each member attending was given a handsome ceramic piece made by Mr. Thompson. Refreshments were served, and Christmas gifts exchanged. The class teacher, Mrs. Chamot, also was presented a gift from the class.

Other members present were Mrs. Walter Brooks, Mrs. Tom Fulton, Mrs. John T. O'Donnell, Mrs. Garfield Walker, Mrs. Carl Moyer, Mrs. S. M. Richards and Mrs. H. E. Taffer.

Sanford Personals

Cadet Tom Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Jones, 1919 Sanford Ave., has arrived home to spend the Christmas holidays. He is a student at the Sewanee Military Academy in Sewanee, Tenn.

Navy Couple Complimented

Cdr. and Mrs. C. R. Smith Jr. were honored at a farewell cocktail dinner party given by officers and wives of RVAH-16. They also received a punchbowl and cocktail set.

Mrs. Smith was presented with a beautiful corsage of white rose buds by Mrs. W. S. Thompson.

Lt. (jg) Robert Gzybowski was most entertaining as he recounted many anecdotes associated with Cdr. Smith's past three years with the squadron. He concluded by presenting the couple a beautiful punch bowl with matching cups and a cocktail set.

Cdr. Thompson then presented the honored couple with a stunning portable bar. Attached to one corner was an engraved memento and displayed across the front was the Navy Wings.

Guests attending included Captain and Mrs. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Hoops, parents of Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Holton and Chaplain Holland.

Cookman Senior Completes Tour As Intern Teacher At Goldsboro

By ROBERT B. THOMAS JR.
222-5784

Miss Elmira L. Judson, a senior at Bethune-Cookman College, has completed practice teaching at Goldsboro School. She will return to Cookman following the Yuletide season and head into the home stretch leading to her graduation in May.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Judson of Pompano Beach, she is a graduate of Blanche Ely High School.

Miss Judson was very active at Blanche Ely. She was a member of the marching and concert band, Library Circle, Future Teachers of America Club and Dramatic Club. As a sophomore, she was queen of the class and was the football team's sweetheart her senior year.

Also, during her sophomore year, she was inducted into the National Honor Society and maintained a 3.5 average through graduation. As a Senior Superlative, she was voted "most likely to succeed."

Her hobbies are reading, writing crossword puzzles, and working short stories.

This writer asked the native Miami woman who chose teaching as a profession. "I chose teaching as a profession because I like children and enjoy working with them and helping them," she said.

Mrs. Sallye F. Bentley, who was her directing teacher, feels that Miss Judson will be an asset to the profession. "She works hard and shows great eagerness to learn," said Mrs. Bentley, with that familiar smile of hers.

Stephanie Lydia McClain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus McClain, and Toni Michele Singleton, daughter of Airman and Mrs. Johnny Singleton, celebrated their birthdays Friday at Rest Haven Kindergarten. Cup cakes, ice cream and assorted candies were served. Each child at the kindergarten was given a birthday cap and a whistling blow-out.

Prince Albert (Toby) Sherman of Washington, D. C., is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. J. Sherman, of 1320 Lake Avenue. Sherman is a former football great of Crooms. He also is a former prize fighter.

David Wright is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Wright Sr., of 1412 Lake Avenue.

Columbus Burke, of Newark, N. J., is visiting with relatives during the holidays.

Miss Irene Katrina Jackson is spending the Christmas holidays here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Jackson. She is a student at Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tenn.

Crooms High School Broadcasting Club will present a Christmas program tonight at 6:30 on radio station WTRR. Be sure to tune in on this special broadcast featuring the Crooms High Senior Chorus under the direction of E. E. Minott.

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y and Future Teachers Clubs of Crooms High will participate in a county-wide Christmas carol-cast encounters in trying to produce Yiddish accents (which they mostly failed to do) the message comes across.

The dialogue is bright, fast-paced and entertaining. Tom Green portrays the agonized David—"a good boy, but mad," with feeling and understanding.

Good directing is very evident in this play. Jesse Villegas has gotten the maximum creativity out of a green cast with only three persons in the cast of 14 with any previous experience.

We have to mention David Tison, who had a small part, but made the most of it and probably got the loudest laughs in the show.

Pat Villegas "overacts" just the right degree as "the actress," and of course, Manuel Bolanos, as a real director of former Attic Theater plays does a good job as the director in the "play within a play."

Villegas takes a small part as "Pike," the director's assistant and Faye Smith is the pretty, innocent young Jewish sweetheart of David.

We heartily recommend that you drive down to Casselberry during the Dec. 28-30 presentations and see the show.

It will definitely brighten your holidays—Dottie Austin.

Warplanes Pound Fresh Red Drive

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—U.S. B52 bombers pounded at North Vietnamese troops just north of the demilitarized zone today in a continuation of raids to smash a fresh Communist drive south before it starts.

The big bombers struck less than half a mile above the buffer area. U.S. Marines clashed with Communist forces about 15 miles south of the demilitarized zone.

Fighting for an hour and a half in heavy fog, the Leathernecks beat off a Viet Cong mortar and small-arms attack and reported killing 14 of the enemy and capturing four. Marine casualties were termed light.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, told his troops in a Christmas message that the "will move closer to reality if we continue to assist the Vietnamese people in their search for peace and tranquility."

The B52 raid was only the ninth of the war to hit inside North Vietnam, but it was the seventh heavy bombing by the Strotoforts since Saturday of the zone or just north or south of it. The objective is to smash a new buildup by North Vietnamese regulars believed massing for a drive into South Vietnam. U.S. pilots flew 47 strike missions over North Vietnam Tuesday and ranged close to the border of Communist China in one of them. Air Force F105 Thunderchief pilots reported destroying a railroad bridge on the main northwest rail line about 20 miles from the Chinese frontier and 135 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Most of the raids, however, were in coastal areas of the southern panhandle and in the west around Dien Bien Phu. U.S. pilots claimed damage or destruction to 13 bridges, 7 military buildings, 12 storage areas, two rail yards and an oil storage area.

The order was sent out as fresh public appeals were addressed to use U.S. Christmas truce as a means of arranging peace talks. The latest appeals came separately from Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and from Abdul Rahman Parbhavak of Afghanistan, president of the U.N. General Assembly.

Most of the raids, however, were in coastal areas of the southern panhandle and in the west around Dien Bien Phu. U.S. pilots claimed damage or destruction to 13 bridges, 7 military buildings, 12 storage areas, two rail yards and an oil storage area.

The order was sent out as fresh public appeals were addressed to use U.S. Christmas truce as a means of arranging peace talks. The latest appeals came separately from Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and from Abdul Rahman Parbhavak of Afghanistan, president of the U.N. General Assembly.

The B52 raid was only the ninth of the war to hit inside North Vietnam, but it was the seventh heavy bombing by the Strotoforts since Saturday of the zone or just north or south of it. The objective is to smash a new buildup by North Vietnamese regulars believed massing for a drive into South Vietnam. U.S. pilots flew 47 strike missions over North Vietnam Tuesday and ranged close to the border of Communist China in one of them. Air Force F105 Thunderchief pilots reported destroying a railroad bridge on the main northwest rail line about 20 miles from the Chinese frontier and 135 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Experience Invaluable To Roundaliers

Experience gained in two previous productions was evident in the Roundaliers third little theater presentation, "The Man in the Dog Suit."

In fact, it was invaluable when some dropped lines caused the actors to "practically rewrite the script" as they went along, but the audience never knew the difference.

They obviously enjoyed the whole thing, tremendously. "Man in the Dog Suit" is a comedy, but even so, it is said commentary on the way we sacrifice our dreams for security and safe niches.

We predict a bright spot on the stage for Dennis Carr, a newcomer, who played the part of Anthony Roberts, a relatively minor character.

Carr has a natural poise and stage presence that is instinctive and his "Anthony" was very real.

That veteran scene-stealer, Jim Talmadge, made his several brief entrances as a strangely debute "Mr. Bear" were delightfully funny and earned him spontaneous applause at each exit.

Claudia Blythe played the pretty lush to a hit and Bunny Logan in her first role with the Roundaliers, deftly portrayed the aristocratic mother's cold steel hand in the soft velvet glove.

Ronald Lee, in his initial venture as a director did a fine job of polishing his characters and bringing out their abilities and talents.

Sandra Conway made a pert, pretty and properly frustrated wife who has the good sense to recognize that safety and security do not make a happy husband so sacrifices her own dreams to restore her man's life for living and through him, her own.

Jim Blythe, properly wooden as the frustrated Oliver was not quite able to throw off his inhibitions in the dog suit to make a sufficient contrast between Oliver "Out" and Oliver "In," but in his first starring role, Jim carried his part well and shows promise when he gains enough stage presence to relax a bit more.

Valerie Colbers, Joel Conway and Jerry McCabe were adequate in their parts and Bill Sharp, a newcomer, also demonstrated a lot of natural ham that gave believability to his portrayal of the stodgy bank president. Bill looks like a bank president and was well cast.

Dennis Carr gets our nomination as the "most promising new actor" and we hope he'll stay with the Roundaliers and come up with a starring part in a future production.

Much credit for the smoothness of the show goes to the backstage workers who kept the sounds and lights on cue.

We thoroughly enjoyed "The Man in the Dog Suit" and regretted to see there were not many more people in the audience to support the hard-working cast.—Dottie Austin.

Just Asking RUSSELLVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Elder Paul Powell was halted by speeding Robarge in a nearby town and taken before the judge.

"Do you know Father?" asked the judge. "Yes, he's a good friend of mine," the somewhat relieved priest answered.

"Well," the judge continued, "I fined him too, just last week."

Forest City Traffic Hazard Is Under Study

NEW PRESIDENT of DeBary Civic Association, Charles B. Cottrell, accepts gavel from Chester Riearick, retiring president, after election of new officers at the organization's annual Christmas party and business meeting.

Charles Cottrell Prexy Of DeBary Civic Assn.

DeBary Civic Association elected Charles B. Cottrell as president for the coming year at the group's annual Christmas party and business meeting at the DeBary Community Center. Cottrell succeeds Chester Riearick who has served the association as president for five different terms.

Other officers elected are Claire H. Fellows, vice president; Mrs. Charles Creasey, recording secretary; Miss Louise Fisk, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. E. Butler, treasurer; and Harvey D. Jones, financial secretary.

In stepping down from the office, Riearick thanked officers and chairmen for their efforts in past programs and paid special tribute to Keesa Walter for his services as house chairman during the past six years.

Citing work of the association, Riearick called special attention to growth of the Community Library and the entertainment programs brought to DeBary.

Life memberships were voted for Mr. and Mrs. Riearick and Mrs. Butler.

Accepting the gavel, Cottrell stated "I am humbled by the record of the past accomplishments." He stressed that by-laws call for an expanded program with emphasis on determining needs of the community and in seeking new members. He proposed setting up a civic affairs committee to use to advantage some of the administrative talent and experience in DeBary on problems of the community.

"The present membership of 800 is not enough. I ask that all influential and talented people of DeBary join the Civic Association and help make the community a better place in which to live," he concluded.

A musical program on the Christmas theme was presented by the Seminole High School Glee Club.

Refreshments were served following the meeting with Mrs. C. E. Butler as chairman in charge.

A study of the intersection of SR 456-454-451 in Forest City, where a number of accidents have occurred recently, has been scheduled by the State Road Department, it was announced at the meeting of the County Commission yesterday.

The intersection has been termed "hazardous and dangerous" by law enforcement officers.

In other action, the board of County Commissioners:

Accepted for deposit in escrow $10,000 from Conmar Corp. for the Spartan Drive outfall and drainage and correction of related drainage problems on a participation basis with the county and instructed the road department to schedule the work;

Agreed to provide emergency maintenance on Oak Street off West Lake Brantley and on Stanley Street in Rolling Hills;

Accepted Arnel Drive in Eastbrook, Unit 11, into the road system subject to the one year maintenance bond and returned completion bond to the developer;

Contributed $125, which is one-twelfth the cost of the study of pollution of the St. John River, being conducted by the St. Johns River Advisory Committee with co-operation of all the counties bordering the river;

Adopted a resolution setting license fees for building contractor (unlimited), class 1 at $100 per year with inactive license at $20 beginning Oct. 1, 1967;

Accepted the only bid submitted by Stickland-Morison for a one-half ton pickup truck at $1,736.68 and the low qualified bid of C & C Tractor, Inc. of DeLand for a four-wheel utility tractor at $3,900.00 on recommendation of the engineer and road superintendent;

Abandoned Charles County right-of-way, accepted a drainage easement across the westerly 40 feet of block 11 on the adjacent property and authorized the owner of the property to clean and dredge the easement and dispose of the fill dirt;

Temporarily rejected the plan of Indian Hills subdivision, Unit 11 until bond is provided not only for streets in the subdivision but also for construction of a necessary pre-stress concrete bridge;

Set a public hearing for Jan. 10 to consider rezoning of the southeast corner of Lake Mary Blvd and E 4 to permit construction of a gas station and

Continued until Jan. 3, a public hearing on rezoning a plot of property in Lake Mary.

On To Tallahassee

The Seminole High School band has been honored by being invited to march in the inaugural parade of Governor Claude Kirk in Tallahassee the first of the year.

While finding a location for overnight lodging will be no small problem, Bandmaster William Ellmore and the Marching Seminoles are delighted with the prospects of the trip.

The SHS Band has brought honor to the city with its superior rating in the district marching competition held earlier this month. This is but one hurdle, next spring, and then state competition of the Florida Bandmasters Association, for those who succeed on the district level.

To finance their trip to Tallahassee next month band parents are presently conducting a drive for funds and selling awarded trees. They need your help. We remember the band's last performance at the Christmas Parade, and your contribution to Sanford's prestige.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — At this moment in history one of the most futile endeavors seems to be any attempt to start peace negotiations in Vietnam.

What Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, did Monday is just more of the same. He did it all before, and he did it this year. The whole thing is beginning to sound like a record played over.

Monday the United States through Goldberg asked U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to do whatever he thought necessary to bring about talks aimed at getting a ceasefire in Vietnam. It pledged full cooperation.

But only last Friday Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, after reporting to President Johnson at the White House, told newsmen he sees no sign of interest in peace by North Vietnam.

Late in 1965 Johnson sent a number of emissaries to American camps to sound out the possibilities for a negotiated settlement of the war.

But the North Vietnamese

Communists called all this a camouflage to expand the war. The United States and the Viet Cong agreed to a Christmas truce — which Pope Paul VI had urged — and this country stopped the bombing of North Vietnam from Dec. 24, 1965 until Jan. 31, 1966.

On Jan. 5 Goldberg, at the United Nations circulated a letter appealing to U Thant and U. N. members to employ "any appropriate measure" to "advance the cause of a peaceful settlement."

He said the United States was prepared for discussions or negotiations without prior conditions. But the months passed, the war went on, and the Communists neither negotiations nor a settlement nor a sign of either.

Now the Pope has appealed for peace again. This year the two sides in the war have agreed to 48-hour truces for

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

I find it regrettable indeed that you would print something in your paper without first finding out what the facts really are.

Your statement in "around the clock" on December 19th, concerning our Home Economics Agent, Miss Myrtle Wilson, is unbelievable. Not only is there no truth in what you say, although you infer, but unfortunately it is defaming and casts doubt upon the work of one of our best Home Economics agents in our state in the waning hours of her career.

Of course the statement you printed will be denied, since there is not one element of truth in it. Another unfortunate thing is that your printing it in the manner you have done does damage and will forever have doubt in the minds of some due to those words "it will be denied, but." The least that can be done now is for the Agent, Miss Myrtle Wilson, to be unbelievably, not only is there no truth in what you say, although you infer, but unfortunately it is defaming and casts doubt upon the work of one of our best Home Economics agents in our state in the waning hours of her career.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Put two or more professors in a room together and they will likely talk about their biggest problem — where to get the money to finance the education of the masses.

More than one-third of the average state budget goes for education, and the proportion seems to be rising in many places. Quite a few states allow up to 45 per cent of their revenues to this purpose.

New York and California alone spend around $5.5 billion annually on schools — roughly half the federal budget in Franklin D. Roosevelt's highest spending year before World War II.

Many state leaders say frankly that the "school lobby" representing pressure for funds from teachers, administrators, etc., is today virtually the most powerful in their areas.

I am attaching to the chairman, a copy of the notification of Miss Myrtle Wilson, Home Economics Agent, of her intention to retire December 21, 1966; as well as her resignation, effective on that date.

As County Extension Chairman, I regret very much to accept her resignation, but because of the federal retirement incentives that were available at this time, I advised Miss Wilson that it was to her advantage, as I saw it, to accept this early retirement.

I am exceedingly as much as possible, the preliminary procedures for securing a replacement.

Miss Wilson has been one of the most cooperative and industrious co-workers with whom I have ever had the pleasure of working. Her efforts and her compliments have touched far more homes in the county than most of us realize, and because of her modesty, we probably will never know the extent of this work.

Sincerely yours,
 Cecil A. Tucker II
 Seminole County
 Agricultural Agent
 (Editor's note: We are reliably informed Miss Wilson's retirement was brought about solely because the U.S. government is "a bind" financially and is cutting back wherever possible. In other words, there will be no replacement of Miss Wilson for some time.)

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Lorna now faces a social crisis that confronts most girls during the teens. So memorize the 5-point yardstick for determining the right decision to make. Discuss this in high school classes or at Sunday School. For millions of girls are being played for fools and then live with regrets all their later lives.

CASE B-315: Lorna Z., aged 17, is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane," she asked, "what should a girl do when her steady boy friend demands that she give in to him?"

"I am dining the most popular boy in my class, and we have had a lot of happy times together."

"So now my boy friend insists that I give in to him or else he will jilt me."

"I don't want that to happen, for it would be too humiliating to be cast aside when everybody knows we go steady."

"I know my parents would be shocked, so what can I do?"

Social Cowardice

Cowards are usually focusing on themselves. That's why Lorna is tempted to give in to her boy friend.

She is simply afraid of being jilted. The resulting humiliation to her own ego is thus the club her boy friend is holding over her.

If she were looking ahead to future goals and thus widening her social horizon, she would be able to show far more courage.

For example, if she had her mind set on becoming a nurse or a teacher and were thus planning on college, then a high school boy friend could not exert as much illicit pressure on her.

Remember, there are very blunt reasons why premarital sexual relations are WRONG.

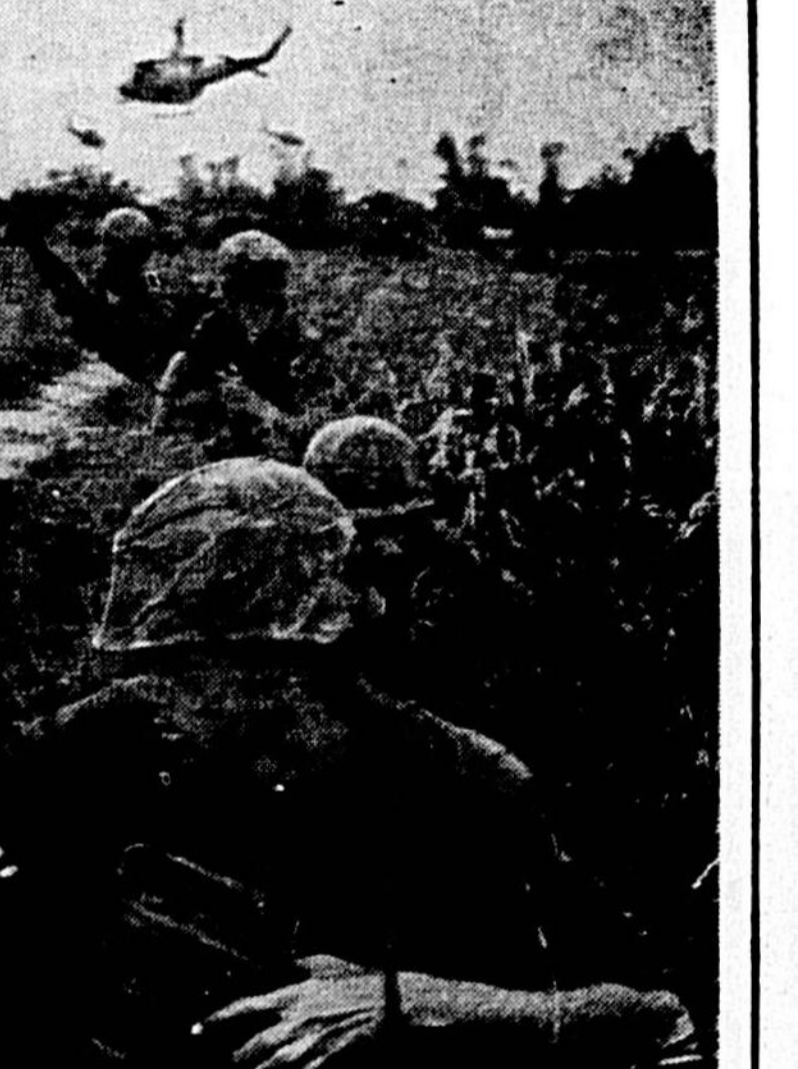

If your sophisticated parents or family background have failed to give you the scientific religious reasons against illicit sexual affairs, then get the straight facts as follows:

- (1) Premarital sexual affairs reduce your chances of being happy after you get married, whether to the present boy or another man.
- (2) For they dissipate the idealism that should be linked with marital fidelity and cheapen the intimate bond that makes marriage sacred.
- (3) Without this idealism attached to sex, a girl becomes no more a "special" event in a man's life than a stein of beer, passed around sloppily among several drunken pals.
- (4) So a girl loses her greatest charm for men, namely, her spunk and ability to look all boys straight in the eye.
- (5) The Bible even describes such a girl as "humbled," meaning she becomes fearful, and she loses her self-respect.
- (6) And others likely will learn of it, especially if the boy uses liquor, for such fellows usually boast of their conquests.
- (7) Their friends and fraternity brothers soon know which girls have succumbed to the heartache of deciding what to do, or letting the baby be adopted.
- (8) The shock to the girl's parents is likewise acute.
- (9) Syphilis and gonorrhea are the two venereal diseases that are zooming by 200 per cent, especially among teenagers!
- (10) Beware! These diseases can make you die of heart attacks, or produce insanity and especially sterility of the woman ever afterwards.
- (11) Men that thus assault strange girls just for sport or because they want to get even or merely as a means of boasting to their conquests to other men!
- (12) So send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a long stamped, 7-cent envelope, plus 20 cents.
- (13) (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Gassy

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — The nation's proved reserves of natural gas total 286 trillion cubic feet, according to the independent Petroleum Association of America.

Since drilling for gas and oil began in 1859, 257 trillion cubic feet of natural gas have been produced.

JACKIE MADISON, one-year-old daughter of Nancy and Ed Madison, was burned to death early Tuesday afternoon when fire destroyed the family home on S.W. 46 near Sipes Avenue. Acting Chief Gus Stephens, of the Midway Volunteer Fire Department, said the blaze was caused by an explosion of oil heater. The mother was in the backyard at the time. Stephens estimated loss at $5,000. No life insurance. The house was owned by Thola Hillery. Lake Mary VFD also responded. (Herald Photo)

Miami Chief Under Fire

MIAMI (AP)—City Manager on the city attorney's opinion, Reese said. The City Commission Monday directed the city manager to sue Miami Chief Walter E. Headley Jr. The move came after Mayor Robert King had asked City Atty. Richard Stone for a legal opinion on Headley's responsibility as chief of police. Raines, mentioned in the Bible, were grown at least as early as 2000 B.C. in Persia and Egypt, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

By LARRY VERSHUEL There was a game the man played alone Christmas week five years ago in the visitors room at Seminole Memorial Hospital which looked down on First Street. The man's right eye was infected and he couldn't read or watch television for two months. His vision was obscured by the medication the nurses dropped into his eyes every hour around the clock. The sedatives dulled most of the pain but not of

So at dusk, led there by boredom, the man would go down to the visitors' room. He closed both his eyes and then, slowly, opened the lid one to see the most beautiful sight he had ever seen. The lights of Sanford ran together in a furry confusion. They didn't collide or sparkle but blended together in a glowing softness. The lights of the town were more like petals of flowers strewn together across the night which seemed to be made of silk.

After while the man strolled to the night nurse's desk to chat. They had sent most of the patients in the children's wing home for Christmas. The ward was almost shut down there. Three of the children had been brought to the floor where the man was to spend Christmas. One was Penny. There stood Penny, small and sedate in her bathrobe, imbedded in silence, proudly aloof, primly defiant. She came on this floor of adults as an equal. Penny was too stern, too poised, too serious for childhood. "This is Penny," the nurse explained to the man. "She is a little lady" she was, the nurse said, the perfect patient who had become accustomed to the routine of hospitals. It seemed logical for her to be there at Christmas time. The man thought it must be terrible for a child who had been in hospitals so much that she did not find them strange. The other children cried, the nurse said, but Penny was brave and dignified and not even afraid of needles.

Penny had a cleft palate. There had been a series of operations. One of the best doctors in Sanford had become interested in the case. It was slow but Penny had been taught to wait. Penny, the nurse said with a sorrow that wasn't professing, had been limited by her cleft. The ridicule of other children had shut her up. The unnatural voice had been limited by her cleft. She had been limited by her cleft. She had been limited by her cleft. She had been limited by her cleft.

"My name is . . ." the man said. "You're Penny, aren't you?" The blue eyes, clear and interested, were blank in his beauty. So the man asked her about her dolls and her story books. The little girl never replied. Later on the nurse said that Penny had been found wandering in the corridors, tapping on doors and calling the man's name in a tortured voice. It was, the nurse said, the first time she had heard the child speak.

The nurse took Penny to the man and then left. The man, who finds all children strangers, sat on the bed and Penny pretended to read from a book. The man will never forget that voice, struggling and grotesque, and he was very close to weeping. After that Penny came every day and read to him. But she would not utter a sound if anyone else was in the room. They spent most of their Christmas together in that room. The man is everlastingly grateful to her. She gave him the most precious of all gifts when she took him into her heart. Never before had he felt the true meaning of the day which he heard Penny say MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Bids Opened On 'Diamond'

Two bids, within less than $5,000 of each other, for the contract to construct the Lake Mary interchange on Interstate 4, were opened this morning by the State Road Department at Tallahassee. AP reported further that the

Boost For Lake Mary

Getting the Lake Mary Boulevard-Interstate 4 interchange event to take place in the Lake Mary area in many years by Donald Jackson, president of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce. The C of C played an instrumental part in getting approval for the new connecting link, pushing the drive to provide rights of way which have been donated and decided to the county by property owners. The interchange is vitally important to the entire county and most especially to the Lake Mary area. It will pump in new blood, cause growth to jump, reshape the area and to some extent, change the look and character of the area," Jackson states. He reported the aim now of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce, working with the county planner and county zoning commission, is to try and retain the "country living atmosphere" while at the same time developing the area into one of high residential value. It will be necessary for some commercial development but this will be contained where best suited and required and will have buffer separation. Jackson continued "the interchange has been made possible through donations, hard work, time and the like, of the local Lake Mary people and the

Four Teens Get Terms For Shooting Santa

Four mothers sobbed uncontrollably this morning as their teenage sons were forcibly removed from the County Courthouse and sentenced to county jail - until they can be moved to the boys detention home. Juvenile Judge Karylle Housholder gave the sentence to the four who admitted shooting Claus, clown, motorcycle driver and horses in the Christmas parade. Youths involved were Nathaniel Williams, Jerome Johnson, Edward Graham and Richard Lamarr, all 15 to 16 years old. Names of defendants are reported at request of the judge. Judge Housholder emotionally told the boys the case was one of the worst instances of vandalism and premeditated damage and damage to people he had seen in his years on the bench. He pointed out the "grave harm" which might have been done if the motorcycle driver, who was shot, had had control of his vehicle and gone into the crowd. "To put it bluntly, you boys plain damn goofed off," Housholder said. "You boys are going to jail and to a school for boys," he declared. The teenagers, all begging for mercy, were led from the courtroom by Deputy Lon Huddleston and Det. Sgt. Charlie Fagan. (Continued on Page 5)

Mrs. W. V. Roberts Gets U. S. Honors

Mrs. W. Vincent (Shella) Roberts has been named one of 6,000 outstanding young American women for 1966. Announcement was made today by Patricia Hagler, editor of the biographical compilation, sponsored by leaders of women organizations, internationally and nationally. "These young women between the ages of 21 and 35 are honored because of their outstanding contributions and accomplishments in civic endeavors, religious, professional and political activities," said Mrs. Hagler. "I think of nothing better in life than working unselfishly for church and community. This I learned from my parents' example. I am grateful for receiving such an honor," said Mrs. Roberts, wife of Dr. W. V. Roberts, Sanford city commissioner and local physician, is a native of Boston, Mass., and a graduate of Boston University. She has gained state and national recognition for her work with the Democratic Women's Club of Seminole County and the Democratic party on state and national levels. During the year she served as president of the club she increased the membership by 1,000 per cent, enabling the club to win the Christine Maxwell Award. She was elected a state committeewoman, nominated for "Woman Doer of the Year" and served as hostess for the Florida delegation at the national campaign conference in Washington, D. C. last April. In addition to these and other political activities, Mrs. Roberts has been active in women's work for All Souls Catholic Church, for the Seminole County Medical Society Auxiliary, Knights of Columbus and is a member of the Parliamentary Law Unit of Winter Park and the National Association of Parliamentarians. She is a state director for Catholic Charities. She is the mother of three children - two sons and a daughter. The Roberts family makes their home at 1601 E. Seminole Boulevard.

Part 2 Of A Series They All Talk About Five Points

By FRED VAN PELT (Second in a series) The area known as "Five Points" pops into the news whenever there is a discussion about a site for a governmental project, whether it be a dog pound, state university, junior college . . . or a courthouse. Simply because it is about the geographical center of Seminole County. This should not necessarily hold true in this day of modern transportation, when it is only a matter of minutes to cover any area of small Seminole County. The placing of a new courthouse, in the current argument, has centered, somewhat, about Five Points, only because it is in the center of the county. But to place a new county government building there would entail so much legislation, incorporation of a municipality, purchase of a site, construction of a water supply system, and all extra added expense. One solution spoken of has been for the City of Sanford to annex the Five Points area. "Annexation is not a simple problem," says Sanford Mayor A. L. Wilson. "The State Supreme Court recently has curtailed state law in this field. Sanford has a special act, chapter 27185, allowing it to be accomplished by petition. No matter what method is used, the majority of the owners must agree to be annexed. "In addition to finding a majority of the people willing to incorporate land between our city limits and Sunland Estates. There is considerable "opportunity" to allow the city limits to Sunland and there are no plans to annex to Five Points. John Alexander, chairman of the Seminole County Commission, said that "the decision to start toward a proposed courthouse at Sunland, next to the jail, is a continuation of plans originally begun in 1959. "Sixth is the county seal and does not include the Five Points area, and the courthouse and jail must be located in the downtown area. These provide a public hearing to move a courthouse out of the county seat, nor does the Constitution prohibit for special act to re-locate a county seat. The general law of Florida provides the procedure for a petition and election for changing a county seat. A governmental complex - new courthouse adjacent to the county jail and present courthouse - is a "must," in the opinion of Alexander, who says "the board of County Commissioners takes a position of sound fiscal responsibility and

LITTLE BOY . . . BIG DRUMSTICK. Seven-year-old Billy Lee, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lee, Sr., Sanford fireman gets a turkey leg at the annual Sanford Firemen's Christmas party enjoyed by 25 firemen's families. Food was prepared by wives of the firemen and Santa Claus (top photo) enjoyed a turkey dinner, too after he finished distributing the gifts he brought for the children. In case you're wondering - he did manage to eat that piece of devil's food cake, despite the flowing beard. (Herald Photo)

Sanford Opens Bids On Gas, Oil For '67 The City opened bids yesterday afternoon for some 60,000 gallons of gasoline and oil for the coming year at City Hall. The official bid opening will be held Tuesday night at the City Commission meeting. The apparent low bid on premium gasoline was from Sinclair for $21.33 per gallon. Gulf got the apparent low bid for regular at $19.29 per gallon and Cities Service, the low bid for diesel at $11.61.

City Hall To Be Closed At Noon Friday

Sanford City Hall will be closed at noon Friday in observance of the Christmas holidays. City Manager W. E. Knowles said the facility will reopen for business on Tuesday. However, there will be refuse collections throughout the city during that period of time, Knowles added. Offices in the County Courthouse will be closed up until Monday in observance of the Christmas holidays. The offices will be open for business as usual on Friday and closed as is normal practice on Saturday. Municipal offices in the cities of Longwood and Casselberry and the towns of Oviedo and Altamonte Springs will also observe Monday as a holiday and be closed. Longwood City Hall, normally to open Saturday mornings will be closed.

Man Dead In Area Motel

A 44-year-old Alabama man was found dead at a Fern Park Motel yesterday apparently as a result of monoxide poisoning. The man, identified as Harvey F. Rigby of Georgiana, Ala., was found by deputies slumped over in his room. He was overcome by smoke and deputies speculated that a flash fire from a faulty heater caused the blaze. An autopsy is being performed today. (Concluded Monday)
