Nazis Execute 3 More Czechs For Anti-German Acts

Anti-Treason Law Is Extended To Whole Of Bohemia-Moravia Protectorate Today

Total Deaths Now Number About 12

Britain Contracts For 400 To 600 Training Planes

Nazi authorities today executed three more Czechs in the second day campaign against alleged anti-German acts in Prague. At the same time their own Anti-Treason law was reported extended to the whole of the Bohemia-Moravia protectorate, widening powers dealing with the Czechs.

The executions raised to 12 the number which were announced officially to have been shot. Severe penalties were contained in the law against a wide variety of offenses. The death sentence in extreme cases, the Nazis said was the order in the protectorate.

Activities remained restricted to the European war. In addition to yesterday's German flights over British and French territory, German reported British fliers had attempted an attack on Wilhelmshaven.

London heard that a raid which sank a British tanker off the African east coast earlier this week had been identified as the German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer. The report was confirmed by the British navy.

48 U.S. Ships Detained By Belligerents

Britain Was Respon- sible For 33 De- tentions, France 10, Germany 4

4 Vessels Held More Than Once

American Operators Say Boats Held Unreasonably Long

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—The State Department today reported 48 cases of belligerents detaining American ships for examination of papers or cargo. Of total detentions, Britain was responsible for 33, France for 10, Germany 4, and an unidentified vessel for one.

The report included information received between Sept. 1 and Nov. 17. Forty-four ships were detained, four were stopped twice. In most cases, the ships were not stopped by warships on the high seas, but detained when docked in belligerent ports.

With time and money tied up into operation of ocean-going ships, American operators contended ships had been held unreasonably long periods. A report showed an average period of eight days. The longest detention was the City of Flint, for 27 days.

BEHLE VERSE FOR TODAY

EVIL CANNOT WITHSTAND A BOLD ATTACK: And the three companies blew the trumpets, and took the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow withal; and they cried, The sword of the Lord, and of Gideon.

THE DUST (From Voices)

So from repeated disaster you find and foolish, You have learned nothing, have you nothing at all? Your wails have blown your ash on the seven waters, And nowhere a town but is sick how you lurch and fall.

You have plucked high brick on brick on brick to save you, Harmed with streaming flags and a mass of steel. Taken wings to the stars, even dark, like you still kept falling.

Now here I stand on this street and this old calling. Black-crested clouds in the troubled heavy swirls.

But tomorrow, I know, when the city is back on its feet, The dust will come forth, will laugh, will assume proud lines.

JOHN FREDERICK NIMS

President Roosevelt is certainly having a good time with this third term scare.

Sanford should be making extensive plans for a bigger and better Christmas shopping season.

The war is said to be costing the belligerents $100,000,000 a day. We'll bet they are glad it hasn't started yet.

Most of us would just as soon celebrate Thanksgiving on both days this year as could get the WPA to furnish the turkey.

The Lake Wales Highlander is concerned lest some of those deer hunters down in Collier county killed the deer and let the ticks go.

We have yet to find a single Florida newspaper which defends the action of the Florida Press Association on the subject of football passes.

Germany has closed the institutions of higher learning in Poland. The Nazis evidently figure that these ground down under their heavy yoke need higher learning.

New York State has decided to institute the first mutual system of betting. First thing you know New York is going to catch up with the moral progressive states like Florida.

Another gubernatorial prospect has been eliminated with the announcement from Dan Chappell that he will not be a candidate. He understood that Dan is supporting Francis Whitehall.

Retaining such hunters report that they believe shooting deer is still a profitable business.

This "Funny" War

Three thousand miles away from the battlefield, temporarily secure behind our mighty navy and coast defenses, separated from hostilities by the broad deep Atlantic, unaffected by the conflict except insofar as the constant static over the radio has shattered our nerves, we here in America are inclined to say that the war has not yet begun.

We wonder how the young seaman on a German U-Boat feels about that as his tiny tub gropes its way blindly along the bottom of the North Sea, dodging in and out among high explosive mines, seeking the entrance to Scaev Flow, or plays dead as the dread destroyers of the British navy rumble overhead, dropping depth bombs which make the sub creak and groan in abject agony.

We wonder what those poor devils on the Bay of Biscay who were blown out of their berths by exploding torpedoes to drown a few minutes later in the cold waters of Scaev Flow, would say about the war not having begun yet. We read occasionally about mass flights over Germany, or England, from which a certain number of planes fail to return. To the pilots of those planes, the war is indeed stark reality.

Yesterday nine students of Prague University were lined up in front of a wall and shot. Their offense was that in a funeral procession they had shouted, "Long live Liberty!" A few days before two young Germans, only 19 years of age, were caught stealing during a blackout in Berlin. They too were shot by a firing squad. Such things can happen only in war.

As battles were fought during the World War when half a million men might perish in two or three days, there has been no real fighting in this war, except in Poland where Polish soldiers might testify there was some action around Warsaw, but when German patrols scouting through No Man's Land run into a French machine gun nest, and for a few minutes a thousand men mow each other down with every implement of modern warfare, we wonder if it doesn't seem to them that the war has really begun.

Be that as it may, we here in America should not be the first to say there is not enough fighting in this war. It may be a "phony war," as some of us have said, but to the men who are actually in the line, we dare say there is nothing funny about it.

C'est La Guerre

During the World War the French had a rather common expression which covered all conceivable sins and every possible emergency. If the toast was "burned or the coffee cold, they would simply shrug their shoulders and say, "C'est la guerre." If the husband stayed out too late at night, or came home drunk, his wife would be just as complacent and blame it on the war.

So if The Sanford Herald comes to you next week in abbreviated form, if it has boiler plate on its front page, or bull copy where the sports are usually found, if the police court stories are left out and the City Commission meetings go uncovered, if you catch a ten pound bass and there isn't a line in the paper about it, if your best friend commits suicide and there's barely a mention of the fact; we hope you will accept our explanation, "C'est la guerre."

For our star reporter is off to the wars. Like other National Guardsmen in this area he leaves Sunday for seven days of intensive training at Keystone Heights near Gainesville. This is the second time this year that he has been instructed in the basic rudiments of bayonet sticking, machine gunning and many of the other fundamental principles of mass annihilation. Before long he should be pretty well equipped to take care of himself either as a reporter or a soldier.

But in all seriousness, while most Americans do not like this sort of thing, they recognize that in the world as it is constituted today there is nothing else to do. We must either be prepared to defend ourselves effectively against any combination of foreign foes, or we will suffer the fate of China, Ethiopia, and Poland. In this modern civilization there is only one voice which speaks with authority and that is the voice of superior force.

The United States Army is an efficient organization, but it is small and could hardly be expected to cope with the troops of even a second class power. In the event of hostilities, it is the National Guard which will have to carry the brunt of the fighting, at least until a new national army and trained reserves can be whipped into shape. For this reason the National Guard must be kept constantly on its toes.

Employers everywhere have been asked to give National Guardsmen in their employ leaves of absence "without prejudice" so that they can resume their training in the art of war. Under the circumstances The Herald is glad to do its part by making this sacrifice.

Upon a white handmade lace cover, the three layer wedding cake was placed with a miniature bride and groom on top. A cluster of gold bells hung from the chandelier to the table. Mrs. Robinson of Orlando, mother of the maid of honor, poured coffee.
Assisting in serving were Miss Helen Peck of Orlando, Miss Caroline Hill, Miss Doris Hill and Miss Nancy White. Miss Herschel Hamby was in charge of the bride's bouquet.
About 75 guests attended. Following the reception the newlyweds left on their honeymoon trip with their destination unknown. They plan to make their home in DeLand where Mr. McCormick is in the insurance business.

If you want your favorite belle to head the style parade on the "football specials", you'll be sure to "say it with flowers". Fragrant blossoms bloom romantically on the smartest bonnets, muffs and fur collars in the stadium-bound processions. Megaphones are bedecked with gay bouquets; and twin corsages proclaim glamor girl standing. Chrysanthemums continue to hold their honors as stadium favorites. Moderistic scroll arrangements of gardenias, tight clusters of fragrant roses, and, of course, the glambrown orchid, are making a strong bid for the stadium fashion spotlight.

Sanford Celery Feds Defeat St. Augustine 13 To 6

Jimmy Page Sparks Seminole Gridders To Second Victory

Danny Altman, Dub Epps, Jimmy Rerraud; And Bobby Newman Out Of Fray Due To Illness, Injuries

The Sanford Celery Feds steamrolled over the St. Augustine Mallets last night in St. Augustine for their second victory of the season by a score of 13 to 6. The Feds' only previous victory came against DeLand.

Jimmy Page sparked the Sanford team to its victory with his hard running. Late in the second period the Feds pushed across their first touchdown after a 74-yard march with Page showing the way with his line plunges and sweeping runs that kept the St. Augustine secondary wide open.

The Feds went straight down the field without losing the ball and after making a first down on the Mullet one yard stripe, Page smashed into the center of the Mullet line and went over for the touchdown. Leale Howard's kick for the extra point was good.

Page again scored just before the second half came to a close by intercepting a St. Augustine pass and running 20 yards for a touchdown. The play was good for 70 yards from the point where the pass was thrown.

The St. Augustine team was able to collect but three first downs compared with 10 for Sanford.

Despite the absence of several of its best players, the Feds displayed some of the best form of the season in winning their second game. The blocking was better than usual and the tackling was the most vicious yet displayed by the Feds.

Three first stringers were out of the fray, Dub Epps, Danny Altman, and Jimmy Rerraud were missing from the lineup. Bobby Newman a second stringer, was also out.

Next week the Feds tackle New Smyrna here.

Miami Is Favored Over University Of Florida Team

MIAMI, Nov. 13. (AP)—Miami's favored Hurricanes edged their high-geared scoring machine yesterday as they won up preparation for today's state championship football game with Florida's downtrodden Gators.

Interest began to reach a fever pitch as the first of Florida's out-of-town supporters arrived at Miami's 25,000-seat stadium. A select crowd of more than 30,000, Ten thousand bleacher seats went on sale yesterday and the way they were being gouged up indicates all would be filled by game time.

Miami, on the upgrade after a slow start this season, ruled the favorite over a Florida team beaten by Georgia and South Carolina in its last two starts. The Hurricanes, heading into a four-game campaign against Southeastern and Southern conference teams, has just finished polishing off Texas Tech and Drake.

Both teams will be using the Pittsburgh system, with Miami having the advantage of greater familiarity with it. Florida, incidentally, decided to install the system after Miami went up to Gainesville last year and walloped the Gators 19-7 in the first football meeting of the school.

As it looks on paper, it will be a contest of crushing power engineered by Miami against a rugged Florida defense.

Miami's offense, while not spectacular, has been effective lately as the Hurricane backs pounded away for consistent gains behind a bone-crushing line.

The Hurricanes thus far have developed no outstanding stars, but have rolled in relays of backs capable of keeping the ball rolling. Every man on the Miami squad is ready to play.

Florida looked to 147-pound Hubie Houston to do much of its pushing. Charlie Tate at fullback, Ephraim Hilli Cowan at wingback and Tex Hanna dog in the blocking. Bud Walton has been alternating with Houston at tailback this week.

Edison Defeats Orlando Tigers By 13 - 6 Score

ORLANDO, Nov. 13. (AP)—Miami Edison played heads-up football for three minutes in the second quarter of its game with Orlando in a high school last night and won a 13-6 victory, 13 to 6. Eddie Hausenbauer, a quarterback who has been on the sidelines most of the season with an injury, ran 90 yards for the first Edison score when he picked up Percy Entzinger's 57-yard kick and ran through the entire Orlando team.

Three plays later Fred Caldwell fumbled on his 23-yard line and Edison recovered. A 15-yard pass, Bob Dowd to Frank Chandler, accounted for the second score. Caldwell kicked the extra point.

Orlando came back after the half with a pass-lateral combination, Shepherd to Morris to Caldwell, which carried the ball to Miami's 25. A pass, Caldwell to Shepherd, brought the Tigers their score. Caldwell missed the try for point.

Score by periods:
Orlando—0 0 0 6
Miami Edison—0 0 13 0 13

Oglethorpe Team Favored To Down Stetson Hatters

ATLANTA, Nov. 13. (AP)—A veteran Oglethorpe football team was slightly favored yesterday to turn back Stetson University in today's test to make it 12 straight homecoming victories for the stormy Petrels.

The Hatters from DeLand trimmed Oglethorpe 13-0 last year and have won three of four in the series with the Atlanta school, but heavy graduation losses cut into their power this year.

Handicapped by loss of Ace Back Troy Hall through injury, Stetson counted on a sugged defense headed by their great guard "Coon" Chatham and locked to Russell Darst and Harold Wagner to tear the brand of the ground attack.

With Georgia Tech away from home the game at Hemanee stadium was expected to draw a gate of 5,000 or more.

Frank Brown, investment and commercial banker of Jacksonville, announced this week as a candidate for state controller in the Democratic primaries next Spring. Brown is the oldest son of the late Frank Brown, for many years clerk of the Duval county circuit court.

T. Bradford Byrd Points To Gala University Homecoming Nov. 24-25

Homecoming at the University of Florida, set for next Friday and Saturday, Nov. 21 and 22, promises a gala program of entertainment to raise in attendance, according to T. Bradford Byrd, who has been named Homecoming chairman for Sanford.

"Greatest of all events on the program," said Mr. Byrd, "is of course the football game between the Florida Hurricanes and Georgia Tech. Yellow Jackets on Saturday afternoon; however there are many other features which will make this Florida Homecoming a most colorful and enjoyable one."

Other features of Homecoming, pointed out by Mr. Byrd, are: FRIDAY—Phi Alpha, Delta, Lambda, Florida Blue Key Homecoming banquet, Freshman get parade; the great Gator bowl at Florida Field that night followed by fraternity open houses.

SATURDAY—Law School reunion, general reunion, dedication of Fletcher Hall and Marple Hall; fraternity luncheon reception in Florida Union by Dr. and Mrs. John Faget which will follow immediately; the Phi Alpha Tech game; Alumni banquets of fraternities and the Homecoming "F" Club dance which will begin at a clock and wind up the festivities.

Clyde Parker Wins Badminton Singles Title Of Sanford

Jim Higgins Is Defeated In Two Games 15-2, 15-3

Clyde Parker won the badminton singles championship on Monday last night by defeating Jim Higgins 15-2 straight games in the final of the city badminton tournament at the City Hall before a large crowd of spectators.

The semi-finals and final, to be played in the women's division, Miss Dot Powell and Miss Vard Ramsey will play on the semi-finals Monday night, the winner to play Miss Dot Powell for the women's singles championship.

In the match last night Parker demonstrated clear superiority over his opponent in taking long straight games. Parker's main advantage came through his use of tactical play in not permitting Higgins to get set for his smothering shots.

Higgins had to run consistently to return Parker's lob, smother and chip shots, whereas Parker was usually set for Higgins' shots. Never did Parker send a shot straight down the court unless it was a smash kill that was almost impossible to get. On several occasions, however, Higgins made remarkable retrieves that caught Parker almost flatfooted.

Several of Parker's points were mentioned in both games as Higgins' serve failed him, either being out of service area or netted. One or two lengthy rallies drew a roar of approval from spectators.

H. James Gut served as official scorer.

The University of Florida will be playing its sixteenth Homecoming football game when it meets Georgia Tech Nov. 25. The first Homecoming game was played in 1924 when Drake University invaded Florida for an inter-sectional game.

John Neppenberg, University of Miami punter, has averaged 42 yards a traction yards on 37 punts this fall. He average 48 yards for eight kicks against Tampa.

Periodical Tells Of Experiments Of Florida Engineers
 GAINESVILLE, Nov. 13.—Results of University of Florida engineering college experiments in recording storm static electricity and following the paths of tropical storms are published in the current issue of "Proceedings of the Institute of Radio Engineers," just off the press.

Written by Joseph W. Lee, dean of the college of engineering, and S. P. Shaffer, associate professor of electrical engineering, the report describes the technical method for picking up and charting the static at various charging stations, and thereby locating the static location, which is near the center of the storm track.

The major recording station is located at Gainesville, while other recording stations are located at the University of Florida, Miami, and Panama.

Results pictured in the report were based on observations of the tropical storm observed during the 1937 hurricane season, and in each instance the path followed by the static method was very nearly identical with the path observed by the static method.

The report says that the static method is intended to complement the static method by making possible more accurate and rapid location of storm centers, thereby reducing the loss of life and property in tropical storms.

Florida-Gulf is preparing for the winter season by the purchase of a new 100-hp motor, which will be used to power the static method.

The report also says that the static method is intended to complement the static method by making possible more accurate and rapid location of storm centers, thereby reducing the loss of life and property in tropical storms.
