Doyle Carlin was looking for the entire state to find a suitable person to be principal of the new Junior High School at Lake Mary. Mrs. Kipp was recommended by the Board of Education and was appointed principal there. Finding farming not to his liking, Mr. Kipp decided to complete his education, and so entered Seminole High School in 1930-31 and completed his high school work.

He then attended the summer and winter terms of the University of Florida, in 1931-32 and by February, 1933 had received his degree in education. This was a honor to each. This was an honor to each. This was an honor to each. This was an honor to each.

Mr. Kipp began teaching mathematics in Sanford High School in March, 1933, filling the unexpired term of Mrs. Ben Steele, who had resigned. In the following October he bought his present home in Floral Heights, where his first child, Flora Corinne, was born some five weeks later. The other child, Robert Earl Jr., will enter kindergarten next year.

After teaching at the high school for more than four years, Mr. Kipp was appointed as principal of the Sanford Grammar School a position he has held for the past six years. Continuing his studies during the summer periods, he received his Bachelor of Science degree in August 1935 at the University of Florida where he graduated with honors at the head of his class. His scholastic rating gave him membership in the honor society, Phi Kappa Phi. He is also a member of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic society, Kappa Delta Phi, educational and professional honor society and Kappa Phi Kappa, men's honorary educational society.

He received his Master's Degree in Education from the University of Florida in February, 1940 after preparing a thesis on "The Problem of Educating the Children of Seminole County, Florida." To attain this degree he did special research work in curriculum construction at Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, Ala., and in elementary geography at Stetson University. At present time he is chairman of the Florida Department of Elementary Principals, a director of the Florida Education Association for the Fifth Congressional District, a member of the Child Welfare Committee of the State of Florida, and the Child Welfare Committee of the State of Florida.

Mr. Kipp, serving on various state educational committees has helped launch statewide school measures. In 1943, he was a member of the textbook rating committee which selected new arithmetic books for the elementary grades. In 1940, he served on the state guidance committee which recommended the Florida State Guidance Folder. During the same year he assisted in writing a handbook for County School Board Members of Florida.

Pattern bombing, similar to that used in high-level attacks on heavily defended ports, will increase the chances of scoring on ships but a destroyer might even dodge the anti-aircraft barrage. A carrier caught while receiving or discharging planes will be unable to maneuver abruptly but will continue to operate. A frequent tactic for assaulting a carrier is to split the bomber formation into flights, converging over the target. The carrier might drop its launchers, while the other wait momentarily for a movement of the vessel to indicate the direction of attack.

Many bombs must necessarily be wasted in pattern bombing of ships, but it is the way to high altitudes. (Continued from Page One) those in the armed forces, indirectly at least. More optimistic than some at how soon the war will end, Senator E. H. Moore, Republican of Oklahoma said he thought a great many men now overseas will be back in the United States in a few days.

These boys are going to participate in the next election and what they have to say is going to count," he asserted. Oklahoma Congress already has felt the weight of the soldier vote in its mail, one place where a private's opinion counts for about as much as a general's.

Senator Tom Connally, Democrat, of Texas, says overwhelming approval by Congress of the war law is due in part to demands by soldiers and their relatives that something be done to prevent work stoppages in war industries. Some of the mail supporting that bill came from members of the armed forces in North Africa.

Before issuing his statement, the President received from a group of coal mine owners a protest that government acceptance of Lewis terms would penalize the owners who, they said, had complied in every way with the government's wartime labor policy. It was similar to a communication sent to Chairman William H. Davis of the War Labor Board. The group asked that W.L.B. insist that Lewis and the U.M.W. sign a contract insuring "normal operation of the mines and their restoration to their ownership and control."

To do otherwise, the letter declared, would be to punish the miners and to reward Lewis "for his defiance of government."

Director Vinson Turns Down Wage Hike On Railroads

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The wage increase of eight cents an hour recommended for more railroad workers was turned down Wednesday by Fred M. Vinson, stabilization director. There were indications that a solution of the war demands involved might be sought in application of time and a half pay to working hours above 40 weekly. The men, now on a 48-hour week, would receive an average increase amounting to a little over six cents an hour under such a plan.

President Roosevelt has indicated favor for the overtime pay for the non-operating brotherhoods, in line with the pay of other workers in interstate commerce. No comment. Favorable reaction by the workers to such a solution was not assured. Heads of the 12 unions expressed disappointment at the time the eight-cent hike was recommended to the president by an emergency board May 25.

Spokesmen for the workers had no comment to make today but the Railroad Labor Executive Council said it would accept the offer of service up to May 1, 1943 was about in line with the number booked in recent normal years. However, less than 40,000 cars have been sold to the public since the "freeze" order of Jan. 2, 1942, and replacements necessarily have been limited to a like amount.

Crawford Bids Editors Uphold Press Freedom

N.A.M. President Says Loss Means End Of U.S. Free Enterprise

CINCINNATI, June 25. (AP)—President C. Crawford, president of the National Association of Publishers, told publishers of the nation's smaller newspapers recently that loss of freedom of the press would mean the end of a free competitive system which, in 150 years, has raised the masses from poverty and degradation.

In a speech prepared for delivery before a convention of the National Editorial Association, Mr. Crawford, a Cleveland industrialist, deploras what he describes as any trend toward government subsidies to newspapers in the form of dilapidated advertising.

"The heart of the matter is this: We need a reaffirmation, a re-echo of faith in the system of free enterprise. The greatest drawback to prosperity in the post-war area is the uncertainty of government's real attitude toward private enterprise.

"America can solve all her other problems and a free press. Give us confidence in its own ability, within humanly reasonable limits, to create new jobs for the American people in the future as it has done in the past. Industry does not guarantee jobs; it does something more important. It creates jobs. Free and easy talk of government subsidies and spending programs by government only shakes men's confidence in a good future.

"The past record of American industry is overwhelmingly on the side of health and sanity. This is the popular verdict for which industry will continue to strive with the indispensable help of your editors. . . . This is the story which industry will be able to tell before the foreign and public opinion. Industry is not cut off from access to the public eye.

Detroit Race Trouble of Long Duration

DETROIT, June 25. (AP)—The racial tension which has plagued Detroit Monday was not unexpected. Conditions in Detroit have steadily pointed toward an outbreak. The Negro population from rural areas in the South and Midwest have been flocking to the Motor City for more than fifteen years, drawn by reports of high wages paid in automobile plants.

During the depression years the Negroes lived in poverty and degrading conditions that caused a rumbling of rebellion among them. In the last three years there has been steadily mounting racial feelings.

Last year, serious disputes between whites and Negroes occurred over opening of a new Federal housing project in a section formerly used as a residential section exclusively for whites. In that case the Negroes maintained they should be able to live in the Federal housing units, and despite considerable trouble, they finally were able to share the buildings.

However, a number of violent attacks were made on Negroes by whites before the housing dispute quieted down. Ten days ago, white workers at the Packard Motor Company left their jobs to protest grading of Negroes to assembly line. By white thousands of man hours of war work were lost before production was resumed, and the case still is in the hands of arbitrators.

Ten days ago, a group of about 125 white youths blocked the entrance to Eastward Amusement Park in Detroit, threatening to turn around without making.

Colored Group Asks FDR To Go On Air

NEW YORK CITY, June 25. (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People yesterday asked President Roosevelt to make a grand radio appeal to Americans against Axis and other propaganda which the organization held responsible for such outbreak as the one in Detroit.

In a telegram to the President, Walter White, secretary for the association, said: "The riot which broke out in Detroit this morning climaxes a condition that has been checked only by your personal intervention. No lesser vote than yours can arouse public opinion sufficiently against these deliberately provoked attacks which are designed to hamper war production, destroy or weaken moral, and to deny minorities Negroes in particular, the opportunity to participate in our effort on equal basis as other Americans. We are certain the unless you act, these outbreaks will increase in number and violence."

The new idea of that unbridled racialism within us is the most serious in human nature. Chairman said.

A man cannot have an idea of perfection in another which he was never sensible of in himself. Made.

Be so therefore perfect even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.—Matthew 5:48.

Want Advertisements Increased By War

NEW YORK, June 25. (AP)—War-time wanted advertisements have pushed up the total for the week ended June 23 to the highest level in 14 years, according to figures which have been compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The figures show that the number of wanted advertisements increased 10 percent over the corresponding week of the previous year. The increase was due to a sharp rise in the number of wanted advertisements for skilled labor.

WHAT HAPPENED TO FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

After seven weeks of intensive work laboratory researchers have discovered the reason why certain batches of Fletcher's Castoria cannot be used.

Methods of preventing recurrence of the trouble are now known and manufacture of the product resumed.

No Fletcher's Castoria has been made during the seven week period, and at the beginning the makers issued a nationwide warning to consumers and retailers not to use or sell the product and to return all stocks for destruction.

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration has been kept informed of all these developments.

What caused the trouble?

The sugar content of Fletcher's Castoria was reduced to conserve sugar under wartime conditions. A year ago, Castoria was made with this reduced sugar content and was up to standard in every respect. This year, in March, we again started production with reduced sugar.

However, at that time a chemical change—harmless in itself—occurred in the character of the water used in making Castoria. But this change, in combination with the reduced sugar, increased the danger and rate of normal fermentation. The more rapid fermentation retarded normal oxidation during the ageing process, resulting in a product which caused nausea.

Why didn't normal tests show that something was wrong?

The changes which occurred were so elusive that they could not be detected by the regular testing procedures which had kept Castoria a respected product for more than seventy-five years. In fact, even after the nauseating effect was discovered in actual use, it took weeks of laboratory research to identify the factors that were causing the trouble.

What are the makers doing to prevent a recurrence of the trouble?

Now that the cause is known, procedures have been put in effect which will assure normal re-oxidation of the product. Additional safeguards have been set up. New laboratory controls have been installed. New biological and chemical tests will be applied to every batch of Fletcher's Castoria. Each bottle will be stamped with a plainly visible control number in verification of these tests.

Is Fletcher's Castoria now on sale?

No. Manufacture has been resumed but because of the time required for manufacture and distribution it may be about two months before Castoria will again be on sale at your retailer's. When it is, you will be notified in your local newspaper.

Will the package be the same?

No. Fletcher's Castoria now being made will bear a distinctive green band. This green band is for your protection in case any old Castoria has not been returned.

War Farming

American manufacturing industry has done and is doing a wonderful job in this war emergency...

Farmers have been handicapped in many ways. They have lost a good deal of their labor to industrial plants...

Dr. William Martin, director of the New Jersey College of Agriculture, says: "What we need is more coordination at the top, more decentralization of administrative authority..."

It may not have occurred to many city dwellers that in a time like this, agriculture really is a "war industry."

Champion Of Them All

Measuring present day sport champions against those of the past is rather a hard job. In the case of runners, on four legs or two, the stop-watch tells a conclusive story.

Tom Sharkey can and has. Sallor Tom, who began his career in Uncle Sam's navy, is hale and hearty at 70.

His choice is surprising. He picks Jim Jeffries, the boiler-maker who knocked out Fitzsimmons, the crafty middleweight who was heavyweight champion as well.

Boiler-maker Jim had less glamor than some other champions. Glamor, however, counts less in the ring than some other qualities.

Bathtub Scarcity

"Yes, madam, that is a bathtub, something our ancestors used to keep themselves clean. Very rare now."

Thus the antique dealer of the future may show off his wares, as one unlooked-for outcome of the war.

This means that new houses are likely to be without bathtubs. Life without one is hard to imagine.

Some families recklessly cast out bathtubs which were no longer ornamental, and converted them into lily ponds.

As Clear As—

For purposes of clarification the War Production Board issues the following explanation:

"Molasses means any molasses, sirup, sugar solution or any form of fermentative sugar (derived from sugar cane or sugar beet) and hydrol (corn sugar molasses)."

"The term, however, does not include sugar as defined in rationing order No. 8 or sugar intended for and used for the manufacture into sugar as so defined, or edible molasses as defined in food distribution order No. 51.

"Thanks. We have been puzzled about that—Miami Herald.

The President On Forced Savings

The President's sudden and offhand espousal of his fiscal conference this week of a fiscal program embracing forced savings...

Moreover, the President, of this issue, is on the wrong side of the issue. Why this is so is illustrated by a column that occurred here on Monday of this week when Secretary Morgenthau held a press conference...

The point has been reached in the financing of the war where this vital distinction between those with fixed incomes and those enjoying windfalls as a result of the war boom should be recognized.

Two apprentices, Robert Reaves and Charles Busham, romped off with Johnny honors at the 19-day Churchill Downs meeting, Reaves rode 77 winners and Busham placed 14.

Dr. Kathryn Hanna Publishes Maps

WINTER PARK, Fla., June 25. (Special) Florida is well represented by a series of maps in the recently published "Atlas of American History," a companion publication to the five-volume Dictionary of American History. These maps tell the story of American history from pre-Columbian times to 1912.

These Florida maps are chiefly the work of a Florida historian, Dr. Kathryn Abbey Hanna, author of "Florida, Land of Change" Under her supervision these guides to the story of Florida history indicate French and Spanish settlements from 1562 to 1585, outline the extent of Spanish Florida from the years 1570 to 1763, and provide information about British Florida, 1763-1781.

Commented by the New York Times in a recent review for filling a definite and obvious need, these maps give Florida its proper perspective in the development of American history and enable the historian to understand what happened by showing where it happened.

LONDON, June 25. (AP) Brigadier Nathan Bedford Forrest, a grand old man and ancestor of the famed Confederate general, was last June 13 in one of history's greatest aerial fights during the mass American day flight attack on Kiel, Germany.

The official announcement of flight dated the 18-year general, who rode as an observer on a heavy bomber which led the assault, was made today.

It was said, however, that Forrest, one of America's youngest generals, might have come through alive though his plane was shot down when hundreds of enemy planes rose to meet the American raiders.

The Kiel attack has been described officially as the greatest air battle over Europe. In a twin blow at Kiel and Bremen that day the Americans lost 24 bombers.

Trouble With Earle Mack Is Fans Expect Too Much Of Him

By JACK SMITH

PHILADELPHIA—A hot-headed Irishman sat in the 23rd Park stands on a September afternoon in 1911 and permitted himself to come to a slow, sizzling boil.

"Mack catching! That guy couldn't catch a volley ball at sight!"

Whereupon young Earle Mack, son of Connie, caught several innings for the Philadelphia Athletics against the New York Yankees.

Most Famous Father and Son

Connie and Earle Mack probably are the most famous father and son in sports—the 80-year-old Connie as boss of the A's and the 33-year-old Earle as assistant manager—and remaining famous as a father and son in baseball entails some problems.

For example, before the ruddy-faced, brown-haired Earle became his father's understudy in 1924, he was in 1919 went to Illinois to manage Molins of the Three Leagues.

Moline was so excited about having a Mack arriving to head the ball club that it set its first players to raise money for a reception for him.

A lesser man might have tossed in the towel and turned to some other line in which the name of Mack wasn't surrounded by a halo.

Earle, however, shy and different mannered though he is, settled down to work—and three years later came up with a pennant winner.

Respect and Courtesy

This story, too, gives you an idea of the father-son problems of Connie and Earle T. McCleddy, the Mack's real names.

They solve them by maintaining respect for each other and the respect and courtesy that embellish less-publicized father-son relationships.

The other day, Connie, 60 years old and gray-haired, she swift passage of the days, confirmed publicly that Earle would be a better baseball manager than he.

Yet a decade ago, Earle Mack, an interview in Cleveland, said that no one would be able to inspire athletes and lead a team like Connie.

Further, Earle has the authority of his father's name, without first attending to Connie the courtesy of talking over the transaction, even though they invariably agree.

"Earle has been a wonderful help to me," Connie says.

Earle, on the other hand, says Connie has given him the bulk of his knowledge of the game.

That, incidentally, is plenty. It was Earle in the minors who discovered—and sent on to the Athletics—such baseball greats as Jimmy Dykes, Cy Perkins and Fred Heimach. His father says he has a keen eye for players.

Perfect Team

Earle and Connie make a perfect team, Earle learned the game at his father's knee and now has Connie's full confidence. Connie has taught him every phase of operating a club.

Generally, they divide the managerial chores. Connie handles business management and Earle works with the players. Connie, however, directs the team on the field, signing as always with the scoreboard, but he considers a competent understudy.

When Earle finally succeeds, he will have secured Connie the longest cooperation in the history of the game.

Earle, however, has begun playing in his child hood on the sand lots of Brookfield, Mass. He played during his one year at Wesleyan University and then joined the old Atlantic City "College" made up of college players.

At 20, he entered the minors, played first base for Raleigh of the Carolina Association, then went to Asheville, Charlotte, Harrison, Pa., Meigs and finally Montgomery, W. Va. of the Blue Ridge League. An eye for an eye, he missed a strike, he was

Dick Romney Has 25 Coaching Years To His Credit

By LOUDON KELLY

LOGAN, Utah, June 25.—Square-jawed E. L. (Dick) Romney, dean of Rocky Mountain football coaches, is heading toward his 25th anniversary as grid leader at Utah State college.

Starting his 17th annual coaching school on the Utah Aggie campus this summer, Dick took time to think back and talk about the famous football professors who have come out to this college in the northern Utah mountains for its annual coaching schools.

This is how Romney recalls them: 1927, Knute Rockne—"Colorful, dynamic, magnetic and creative. A great man who just happened to be a football coach."

1928, Pop Warner—"Colorful, inventive and philosophical."

1929, Bob Zuppke—"Daring, resourceful and versatile."

1930, Howard Jones—"Thorough, set, candid, exasperating and particularly hard worker."

1931, Wallace Wade—"Thoroughly sound and analytical. Also a polished gentleman."

1932, Bernie Bierman—"Quiet, friendly, thorough and imaginative."

1933, Harry Kipke—"Frank and conservative, probably because of an inherited system of play. Very likeable."

1934, Fritz Crisler—"Adaptable, creative and a good organizer."

1935 and 1941, Clark Shaughnessy—"Possesses a great imagination, especially on offense. Has the ability to get favorable results with little material."

1936, Bill Spaulding—"Decidedly philosophical with a great sense of humor. A good debunker."

1938, Francis Schmidt—"Very daring, a lover of offense, and a hard worker."

1937, Dana X. Bible—"A great teacher with the confidence of everyone. Thorough with disarmingly gentleness."

1938, L. B. (Stub) Allison—"Realistic, a hard worker, detail-minded and genial."

1939, Lynn Waldorf—"Original, generous in his opinions, stimulating."

1940, Carl Swasey—"Thorough, a detailist, especially resourceful in the laboratory."

1941, Lou Silner—"Young and full of fire, with excellent demonstrations of line play."

1942, Henry Fritts—"Coach of Tulsa University is the star attraction at this year's school."

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spuds Johnson

NEIGHBORS IN WAR FOSTER SPIRIT OF UNITY AND COMMUNITY PRIDE

During this war farm families are facing the enemy, because they supply materials vital to the food supply.

It has been shown time after time that people working together can accomplish many things they cannot do alone.

Florida Grower for June carries a story of rural pride and unity built largely by work of rural women of the home demonstration clubs in Gadsden County.

Not only do rural communities cooperate, but town and country stick together in Gadsden, each realizing its dependence on the other.

This spirit of unity, of town and country cooperation, has been growing in Gadsden for more than 16 years.

The Grower story opens with this paragraph: "Just one big happy family. That's the people of Gadsden County, Florida, where rural women produce and town families purchase, where the town takes pride in its country surroundings, where the country trades with the town, where relief from outside agencies is little needed, because—"

"In track he set a couple of district records and won the low hurdles in the State meet. The following year he was back at the State meet to tie the national record. 'I made up my mind to shoot at the State record,' he said. 'I had no idea that the national record was in the same time. If I had known this, I sincerely believe I could have put just a little more into my race for a national record.'"

Max Minor, Speedy Texas Runner, Is West Point Bound

By HAROLD V. RATCLIFF

AUSTIN, Tex. June 25.—Max Minor, the chunky guy with the piano legs, is going to West Point July 1—and that means the U. S. Military Academy will get an athlete just reaching his college stride.

Minor comes from Little Tahoma, Tex., where he first attracted attention by trying the national scholastic record for the 220-yard low hurdles at 23.5 in 1940.

He went to the University of Texas and earned varsity letters in football and track but was not until the past year that he really began to go places. He was on the Southwest Conference and Cotton Bowl championship Texas team last fall, and was a star for the Longhorns in the dashes during the past track season.

But it wasn't many years ago that Minor was told he never could compete in athletics again. As a sophomore in high school Max underwent two serious operations. It not only kept him out of part of the football season but all of the basketball and track.

And the doctors informed him he never could participate in any of these contests again.

"I took things easy until the next football season," Minor recalls. "That was as long as I could stand it. I finally persuaded my parents to let me try again. They had some crafty taping and padding me up, I was able to play in every quarter of every game my junior year. After going through the football season, I felt as good as new."

In track he set a couple of district records and won the low hurdles in the State meet. The following year he was back at the State meet to tie the national record. "I made up my mind to shoot at the State record," he said. "I had no idea that the national record was in the same time. If I had known this, I sincerely believe I could have put just a little more

Owners Will Regain Mines, Ickes Insists

Government Does Not Intend To Keep Possession Of The Mines Permanently

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—Secretary Ickes told the House Ways and Means Committee the government has "no desire and no plans for the nationalization" of the coal industry and hopes to return the mines to private ownership "at the earliest possible moment."

He was unable to say when the return would be possible, but said the government would "take the first opportunity to return them to private ownership." That will be when there is "reasonable assurance" that the miners would work for the private owners, or when a contract is signed.

In Pittsburgh scattered gains in the number of men working in the coal fields was shown in early reports which indicated the movement to restore full shifting in the partially operating fields might be a slow process. The back-to-work movement showed some progress in Alabama but the Alabama Mining Institute estimated about three-fourths of the fields closed through 1942.

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—Administration leaders were reported attempting today to salvage from the wreckage of their coal price restraint program congressional authority for direct subsidy payments to farmers instead of processors to hold down living costs.

Block houses have voted to prohibit further payments to processors to cut back the retail price.

Nazis Flak Curtain In West

IN A DESPERATE attempt to stop the relentless Allied bombing fleets now raining death and destruction on Germany, the Nazi High Command is reported to have mounted at least 40,000 anti-aircraft guns and tons of thousands of searchlights in an area (white) along the country's western border. More than 1,000 fighter planes, about 90 percent of her entire fighter strength, are said to be based at fields in the same area. In the Ruhr Valley, over 1,000 heavy flak guns, and 500 searchlights have been set up. (International)

Dean Is Presented With Rotary Past President's Pin

Rudrecht Discusses Plans For Sanford After War Is Over

The Past President's pin of the Rotary Club was presented to Rudrecht Dean at the regular meeting of the club today by R.W. Rudrecht in recognition of a year's service as president of the club. Mr. Dean accepted the gift with an expression of appreciation for the help of the committee chairman and members of the club during his term of office.

Dr. Rudrecht, who was also the principal speaker on the program discussed "The Future of Sanford After the Present Unpleasantness is Over" and recommended a number of projects which he thought would be of value in the development of a better city.

Chief among the public projects suggested by Dr. Rudrecht was the construction of an adequate sewage disposal plant which he said could be built at Grassy Point in the Lake and to which the present sewerage system could be extended without tearing up existing sewers.

Dr. Rudrecht declared that we should stop dumping our sewerage into the lake and insisted that some way be found to make up the health of the lake.

Dr. Rudrecht, who was introduced by Herman Lehman who had charge of the program said that farming in this section is far from gone for and he does not subscribe to the theory that Sanford cannot compete with the Everglades. Admitting that crops can grow more cheaply down there, he said that the yield per acre is not as great as the one crop idea and pointed out that the most successful farmers were the ones who practice diversification. He said that the Experimental Station is constantly trying to find crops which can be grown successfully here in place of citrus and said that much progress has been made in the study of some 25 varieties of cabbage, in the development of tobacco and in the cultivation of English peas.

A report on the future plans for the school was made by Dr. Rudrecht. George Cochran of Orlando, a former member of the Sanford Club, was introduced by Gordon Brison and President Rudrecht.

The Sanford committee began working on a bill to increase the amount of contributions by 15 percent to meet their living costs and the War Department moved up the question of a bill to increase the amount of contributions to 25 percent.

Secretary Rudrecht suggested that the club should provide a fund to assist in the construction of a school building.

Higgins Sees Early Action On New Road

Delegation Confers With Road Department Meeting With Navy

Favorable action in regard to development of the new road from Sanford to Geneva and to the Naval Air Station new satellite field now under construction at Ocala, was today reported by Mayor Edward Higgins following a conference during the week with J.H. Dowling, engineer of the State Road Department.

Mayor Higgins added that he and Mr. Dowling had a conference with the Naval authorities at Jacksonville in regard to this road, which has now been recommended to the Bureau of Docks and Wharves in Washington.

Accompanying Mayor Higgins for conference with Mr. Dowling in Tallahassee, and to Jacksonville on several matters pertaining to County and City business, were W.A. Leffer, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Commissioner H. James Gut, Rep. M.B. Smith and County Commissioner W.G. Hill.

The group also conferred with Mr. Dowling regarding the roads going through Sanford which will probably be developed after the emergency as part of a post-war planning plan. Plans are being made to fit Seminole County objectives into the general planning, Mayor Higgins said.

At Jacksonville the group discussed the matter of building a cold storage plant at the State Farmers Market, with William L. Wilson, manager of State markets.

As a result of this meeting, Mayor Higgins said, there is now a possibility for us to acquire such a cold storage plant for the local market. It will require local support.

County Tax Collector John D. Jenkins today issued a final warning to property owners who have not paid their 1942 County taxes and advised delinquents that liens on their property will be sold at the annual tax sale at the County Court House beginning at 12:00 o'clock noon on Thursday July 1, unless the taxes are paid before that time.

The first item on the delinquent list will be sold promptly at 12:00 o'clock noon on Thursday and the sale will be resumed and continued as long as necessary to complete the sale, Mr. Jenkins said.

County tax certificates bought at the sale will draw interest at the rate of 10% per annum for the first year and 8% per annum for succeeding years, except in cases of competitive bidding.

The method of competitive bidding is to bid a lower rate of interest for the first year, Mr. Jenkins explained. If no bids are made the Tax Collector is required to bid in the property in the tax sale by individuals as known as "Individual Certificates." At the tax sale last year ninety individual certificates were sold and 3,197 County certificates were issued.

Lands advertising for sale are lands on which the 1942 County taxes have not been paid, and on which there are no prior County tax certificates for unpaid taxes of 1941. However some of these lands may have State certificates for years prior to 1941.

Property owners have two years in which to redeem property on which County Tax Certificates are issued.

The list of lands delinquent for 1942 taxes was published in the Sanford Herald of May 31, and June 7, 14, and 21. Lands advertised as delinquent, and on which the taxes have not been paid, are struck from the selling list.

Shipworkers Cut A Little Concrete

RELAXATION AT THE RIGHT TIME spurs work on the shipyard and these workers at the Cramp Shipyard in Philadelphia, Pa. saw the concrete floor and plenty of spectators are on hand to watch the construction.

Company C of the Florida State Guard held a successful practice with small firearms on the outdoor range west of the Golf Course yesterday morning despite threat of rain.

Members assembled at the Army at 7:00 A.M. and were transported to the range by bus. Practice included rifle, machine gun and shot in 200 yard course.

On account of the inability to secure clay birds, a staggered numbered stationary target was used as a means of giving the men practice at concentrated targets.

Capt. Ray's company broke new records on the firing range at Camp Hood, Tex. setting a new high of 87 percent in the machine gun range and raising the all time high on the 87 mm range by 5 percent.

Capt. Ray attended Seminole High School, and was one of the first of the National Guard group which left Camp Blanding to be appointed to the officer's candidate school at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Airdromes In Greece Are Hit By U.S. Planes

Lashing at Axis targets in Greece for the second time in a week American heavy bombers numbered two airdromes near Athens Sunday, it was disclosed today and Saturday in a powerful Allied air offensive over the Mediterranean.

High explosives were tossed effectively by American heavies of the Middle East Command upon the Eleusis and Haissas airdromes dramatically reviving the threat of an Allied invasion in the eastern Mediterranean.

RAF Wellingtons from the northwest African command delivered a Naples punch hitting docks and industrial areas in the rail hub of southern Italy.

The heavy Mediterranean actions brought frank warnings from Italian newspapers that the invasion was imminent.

Meanwhile over Europe British typhoons and hurricanes sank two enemy ships early today, drove another blazing onto a beach and brought three more to a standstill after a night in which RAF mauling squadrons winged deep into Allied aerial offensives.

A Reuters report from Stockholm said United States battleships have reached the Mediterranean and joined the British battle fleet.

Reuters also reported from Algiers that Pierre Boulson has resigned as governor general of French West Africa. He is succeeded by Charles Dakar. The French Committee of National Liberation also reported the resignation.

Mr. Boulson had been appointed strongly to determine the Japanese situation in preparation for an invasion by land troops.

Medium bombers—Army Mitchell's and Navy Ventura's—exploited the advantage of a break in the weather which had slowed operations in the Aleutians for several days, scored over the island in the half dozen assaults Friday afternoon.

With them sped Lightning fighter planes ready to beat off any attempted interception as the bombers dropped their loads. But the aerial resistance did not develop.

Bombs blasted into the Japanese camp area on the island of Unyusho in the American island chain. Other bombs struck enemy gun positions and probably put some Japanese anti-aircraft pieces out of action.

Farmers Are Urged To Plant Food Crops As Essential

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace today urged farmers to plant food crops as essential to the war effort.

Wallace said that the government is not asking farmers to plant more food crops than they can handle, but that they should plant enough to meet the needs of the war.
