Power Crew, Planters Meet Tonight After Colery Hearts, NYA Girls' Play Opener

By BUD FORD
Scott's Service men needed an extra meeting to finish their work on the St. Johns Trunkers 6-5 when they played on the softball park on the team front last night.

The Trunkers came back in the first half of the second to utilize a pass tossed to Altkman. He missed on his way on an error and later took home for the only time run of the inning.

The game was again tied in the fifth when, with two down, Altkman was safe on a fielder's error. He later stole home on a safe play.

Advocates Of Ship Canal Ask Its Completion

Buckman Attempts To Show Public Is Demanding Waterway Across Peninsula

Defense Value Of Project To Be Discussed By House Group

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8.—(AP)—Friends of the Florida ship canal urged the House Rivers and Harbors Committee today to recommend the completion of the $200,000,000 waterway.

H. H. Buckman, consulting engineer for the Florida Ship Canal Authority, read into the record a letter in which President Roosevelt asked for the revival of the project.

Chairman Mansfield said the railroads were taxpayers and entitled to be heard, to which Hankin replied "All right but I want to serve notice I'll expect them to put somebody on the stand who can answer my questions about discriminatory freight rates."

Joseph McDonough, representing the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the Florida Federation of Labor, endorsed the project, as did Joseph Rivers, speaker for building and construction trades department of the American Federation of Labor.

Sam Byrd Seeks Negro Cast For Broadway Play

Sam Byrd, Sanford boy who made a successful migration to Broadway, is in Tampa after a 4,000-mile trip through the deep south in search of a hand-picked negro cast for Roark Bradford's play, "John Henry," which Sam will produce this fall.

Sam spent the last month in New Orleans with Bradford, famous author of negro stories and creator of old man Adam and his "chillun," and is now on his way back to New York.

He is stopping in Tampa for a brief visit with his sister, Mrs. Ruth St. Johns.

During his southern circuit the former University of Florida boy "discovered" nine negroes, all sure enough southern blacks, whom he will take back to Broadway to appear in his "play with music."

He found them at negro revival meetings, among negro serenaders and in the negro sections of the southern country through which he has traveled in quest of a "John Henry."

To date no "John Henry," who must be a powerful black equal to the role of the legendary cotton loader and pile driver, has been located.

He will, however, be chosen before August, when the play goes into rehearsal.

"John Henry," as it was written by Bradford and as it will be produced by Sam in October, sets a precedent for theatrical production. Its dramatic action, shifting from rhythmic scene to scene, will be accompanied by orchestration and the voices of an all negro cast. All music is to be composed by Sam.

Boyle Says State Ready To Try Jarrell Case At Once

By GLENN GOVOCEK
"I am ready to go to trial with the new case against Jarrell tomorrow morning. Are you ready?" Assistant State Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle asked George A. DeCottes, attorney for Joseph W. Jarrell, convicted "Cuba" operator, in my presence at the Court House this morning. Mr. DeCottes was leaving the Court House after filing a plea in abatement, seeking to throw out the second indictment against Jarrell on the grounds that the Grand Jury for this term of court was improperly drawn by Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith. It was not indicated when a ruling would be made on the plea.

"I understand your client is seeking an early trial," Mr. Boyle told the attorney for Jarrell, who was indicted several days ago by the Grand Jury for conducting a lottery in Seminole County from November 1938 to February 1939. Mr. Boyle added that a petit jury is "already drawn" and the State has everything in readiness to prosecute its case "if you are ready."

"I have just filed a plea in abatement," Mr. DeCottes replied, adding that he would await a ruling of the court before taking any further action.

"After the judge rules on the plea in abatement will you be ready to go to trial?" Mr. Boyle asked, adding that he would seek an early ruling or immediately file information in the case if the attorney for the defendant so desired.

"When will you be able to go to trial?" asked Mr. Boyle. "About Monday," was the reply.

"But your client must leave Monday for his hearing before the Board of Pardons and Parole," Mr. Boyle said.

McLucas outlines High School Sport Program At Lunch

Kiwianians Told Of Problems In Financing Athletics

Coach L. L. McLucas today briefly summarized the results for the year of the athletic program of Seminole High School in an address before the members of the Kiwanis Club at their regular Wednesday noon luncheon at the Valley Hotel.

Starting with football, Coach McLucas went on to explain how football must carry financially the other sports of the school which do not draw the gates this Fall sports does.

He mentioned the expense involved in placing a football team on the field. It costs $48.40 per man just to get suits and proper protection for each man, and the cost per game averages $170 for the seven home games played last season.

Added to this was the cost of various "incidental" tackling dummies, transportation costs and other items which when subtracted from the $2,700 grossed at the gate last year left approximately $300 in the financing of the remainder of the athletic program of the school.

Other sports, including basketball, tennis, and track, although not as expensive as football, do not draw the crowds and therefore must be supported by football.

Coach McLucas reminded the members of the club, "That in the last nine years we have not asked the merchants or business men of Sanford for one cent of donations, or solicited advertising from them for the support of Seminole High (Continued on Page Two)

John Martin Comes To Aid Of Jarrell

In Letter To Herald Former Governor Explains Kinship, Defending Operator

John Martin, former Governor of Florida and later a candidate for United States Senate, today came to the aid of Joseph W. Jarrell, convicted "Cuba" salesman, and explained his kinship with Jarrell in a letter to the editor of The Sanford Herald.

Former Governor Martin revealed that he had asked Gov. Cone to grant Jarrell a 60-day reprieve in order to give him a chance to go before the Pardons Board before beginning his one year sentence and declared that "those who know him (Jarrell) know he is not vicious or mean, and nothing can be gained by sending him to the penitentiary for one year, when other punishment could be had that would teach him to obey the laws of the State and give him an opportunity of going straight in the future."

Martin's letter in full is as follows:

"Jacksonville, Fla., March 7, 1939.

Mr. Robert Dean, Editor, The Sanford Herald, Sanford, Florida.

"My Dear Mr. Dean: Since the indictment of Joseph W. Jarrell in your County some year and a half ago, you very excellent paper and other papers in your locality have stated repeatedly that Joseph W. Jarrell and myself are vicious and unduly degenerate of kind."

The writer desires that you may have the correct information on this subject, and has no idea of disclaiming any kinship with Joseph W. Jarrell. His Grandmother and the writer's Mother were sisters. The writer to set at rest the degree of relationship between Joseph W. Jarrell and John W. Martin, which he is in no wise disclaiming or has any desire to conceal from the people of your splendid County.

"Had Joseph W. Jarrell done something meritorious, the writer is sure that you never would have mentioned the degree of relationship. You could have said, 'That he is a descendant of Daniel Boone, and that he is a Great-Grandson of James B. Owens, who organized the Pineapple Orange of Florida, and I think he was distinctly related to George Washington's wife. However, this genealogy of Mr. Jarrell would not have interested you, because these others are dead and I feel sure that you really wanted to do was to reflect on the living."

"The writer must state that he feels very sorry for the young man, and regrets extremely that he should have violated any laws of the State of Florida, particularly the gambling laws. The writer is not an advocate of gambling, and must say, just by way of explanation, that he has never played a game of Poker in his life, bet on a horse race, or swam near a dog race, and in no way had anything to do with gambling and holds no brief for gambling whatsoever.

"You also state in your column that powerful political influence will be used to cheat the State and County of its just demands in keeping Mr. Jarrell from going to the Penitentiary. This is not correct, insofar as the writer is concerned. The writer had never laid eyes on Joseph W. Jarrell but twice before he got in this trouble. At the request of his widowed Mother, he interested himself in the matter. Jarrell cannot be altogether bad; when he was nothing but a boy, he went to work on a railroad locomotive as Fireman and earned enough to support his Mother and his younger brothers.

"The writer did ask Governor Cone to give this young man a sixty day reprieve, in order that he might make provision to take care of the nice little lady he has married, if he has to go to Sanford, and to possibly give him the opportunity of asking the Pardons Board to reduce a most severe sentence given a young man for a first offense. And I am happy to say that Florida's big-hearted, big-handed Governor had manhood enough to do it.

Jarrell Issues Statement To Public On "Cuba" Case

In a signed statement given The Herald for publication today, Joseph W. Jarrell thanked all those who have signed his petition to the Pardons Board and denied that he is guilty of the recent indictments filed against him by the present Grand Jury for continued violations of the State's lottery laws.

Mr. Jarrell's statement in full is as follows:

"I desire to thank the people of Seminole County, who have so kindly signed my Petition to the Pardons Board of the State, where I propose to ask the Pardoning Board to reduce or commute the very severe sentence given me last Fall.

"I would not take this means of thinking them, but it is impossible for me to see them all in person, and since the Grand Jury of the County has indicted me again, alleging other offenses, I particularly want to assure them that I am in no wise guilty of these recent indictments, and that I have had nothing whatever to do with any gambling in Seminole County since November, 1937.

"These recent indictments by the Grand Jury allege that I have been guilty of promoting gambling in Seminole County in November and December, of last year, and January, of this year, which is absolutely untrue, and I most positively deny that I have done any such thing. Had I been guilty, I would not ask anybody to sign my Petition to the Pardoning Board.

"The facts are that the Assistant State's Attorney, immediately after I published in the paper that I would apply to the Pardoning Board to see if I could not get them to reduce the severe sentence given me, recalled the Grand Jury on the last day of the Term and had them reconsider me. The Grand Jury considering no other case, the Court adjourned, and now I won't have (Continued on Page Three)

George Rollins Will Head Salvation Army Fund Drive

George E. Rollins, City Commissioner and traffic supervisor for this division of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, has accepted the chairmanship of the annual Salvation Army fund campaign, according to an announcement today by Capt. H. E. Rose, commanding officer of the local Citadel.

Mr. Rollins, a man who is well known in this county and well liked by all who know him, Capt. Rose said, adding that "in addition to being a member of the City Commission and a railroad superintendent, Mr. Rollins is president of the Rotary Club and in general is interested in all worthwhile civic and philanthropic enterprises."

Following a previous announcement that Charles E. Broadshaw, of Altamont Springs, would be chairman of the annual drive, Mr. Broadshaw declined to serve because his business required his being out of town much of the time and he said that he would be unable to give the campaign as much of his personal attention as he desired.

He expressed an interest in the work of the Salvation Army, however, and assumed Capt. Rose that he will assist in any way possible to make the annual campaign a success, according to Army officials at the campaign headquarters on Magnolia Avenue between East and Second Streets.

Mr. Rollins announced that J. W. Hall, manager of the Sanford Gas Company, had been appointed vice chairman of the drive and that plans are under way for the appointment of a corps of workers to assist in the county-wide campaign for funds to carry on the activities of the Salvation Army during the ensuing year.

Those desiring to get in contact with campaign workers may do so by visiting the campaign headquarters on Magnolia Avenue or calling telephone No. 644.

Andrews Seeks Okey Of Florida Air Base

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8.—(AP)—Senator Andrews, of Florida, said today he would make a determined effort to include in the naval air base bill a proposed base for the southeastern United States, at Jacksonville, Fla. Authorization for this base was not included in the bill passed by the House.

"The southeastern United States is four or five times as likely to be attacked as the North Atlantic coast," Andrews told reporters. "Democracies of Europe stand between the northern coast and possible opponents. The Caribbean sea will be in the battleground if an attempt ever is made to overthrow the Monroe doctrine."

Andrews said he favored the $5,000,000 Guam harbor improvement rejected by the House because he thought it would be worthwhile as an aid to commercial aviation and trade.

Judge Smith Denies Motion Filed By Mayo

Circuit Judge Holds Eckerson Contracts Do Not Preclude 32-Cent Payment

Supreme Court Will Get Case

Grimes Says Commission Anxious For High Court Ruling

On the grounds that the grower contracts of the Eckerson Fruit Canners, Inc. do not preclude the grower from obtaining the cost of production for his grapefruit, Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith, in a ruling filed this morning, denied the motion to dissolve and the motion to dismiss the temporary injunction granted to C. H. Eckerson, president, last week, restraining Mayo from interfering with the operations of the local plant.

The local suit is the first actual test of the legality of the law which permits the Citrus Commission to set the cost of production as the minimum price for Florida grapefruit.

Given 15 days in which to answer, Glen Grimes of Bradenton, attorney for the Citrus Commission, said defense attorneys planned to appeal Judge Smith's ruling to the State Supreme Court immediately "unless there was something in the decision that prevents it."

"We are anxious to get a Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of the grower cost guarantee law one way or the other so we can go to work," Grimes said.

The coming plant proposed by Eckerson for growers in the area in coming their grapefruit. The grower then would have 90 days to dispose of the fruit and if it remained unsold at the end of this period the grower would sell the fruit and give the proceeds to the grower after deducting the processing cost and a commission.

George A. DeCottes, Eckerson's attorney who obtained the temporary injunction, told the court here last week the growers cost guarantee law was unconstitutional. He said the statute impaired the right of producers to make contracts.

Glen Grimes joined former Governor Boyle E. Carlton and William Pierce, both of Tampa, and Assistant Attorney General H. E. Carter in asking Judge Smith to dismiss the suit.

When Eckerson and the growers were notified of the court decision, they were notified of a plan to circumvent the minimum price program. They asserted that an advance by the cannot prior to the sale of the cannot product would be, in effect, all the producer would get.

The ruling is as follows: "Accepting as true, as on the pleadings here involved we must, the allegations of the bill of complaint, it does not seem to me that there is anything in the contract involved which would warrant a finding that it is a contract, plan, scheme or device whereby it shall be attempted to preclude the grower from recovering the cost of production." The only kind of a contract the Growers Cost Guarantee Act declares void is one attempting to preclude the grower from recovering cost.

"It was suggested in argument that in any event a contract whereby grapefruit is handled by a dealer, after the price has been 'pegged,' such a dealer must guarantee the grower the 'pegged' price. I do not so construe it."

The contract involved in an executory one. The price which the fruit might ultimately bring, cannot be determined until after the contract has been executed (Continued on Page Three)

Survivors In Auto Wreck Get Damages

Court Awards $5,000 Each To Widows Of Victims In Auto-Truck Collision

Damages in the amount of $5,000 each was awarded to the widows of the late Duncan L. Cameron and E. H. McDonald, who were killed in a collision with a produce truck early in the morning of Feb. 20, 1938, by a jury yesterday in the only civil suit to be tried by Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith in this term of the Circuit Court.

The collision occurred two miles west of Sanford on a curve in the road, about 3:30 A. M. Sunday morning, Feb. 20, as Mr. McDonald, owner and driver of the car and the party of six were returning to their homes in Sanford.

A coroner's jury, following a lengthy inquest, exonerated the driver of the truck, A. W. Michael, of Charlotte, N. C., from criminal blame, ruling that "E. H. McDonald and Duncan L. Cameron came to their deaths in an auto accident through no fault of the driver of the truck, A. W. Michael."

The witnesses called by G. W. Spencer, attorney for the plaintiffs, to testify in the case were Mrs. Alva Cameron, Mrs. McDonald, St. Clair Cameron, Dr. S. Polston and Dr. A. W. Knox.

Planes Used To Quell Riots In Loyalist Ranks

Die-Hard Communists Persist In Rebellion Against New Defense Council

Self-Sufficiency Planned By Japs

1,500 Reported Killed In Japanese Air Attack In Ichang

Spanish republican warplanes today bombed groups of rebellious Communists on outskirts of Madrid in the new "war within a war" that clouded hopes for a swift end to the Spanish conflict.

The die-hard Communists persisted in their rebellion against the peace-seeking republican defense council, causing troops to be shifted from the trenches facing the powerful nationalist forces outside the republican capital.

At the same time, both Britain and Japan disclosed peace-time preparations against possible future war.

Official French reports said the new Communist rebellion in republican Spain was aimed at the conquest of Valencia and the control of the Mediterranean coast.

Britain's war plans, announced by War Minister Horne yesterday, call for the sending of 14 divisions to the continent in event of conflict.

Secrets of a gigantic industrial expansion program designed to make Japan self-sufficient in war materials within three years were disclosed to Japanese Parliament.

Foreign sources reported 1,500 persons had been killed in a Japanese air bombardment of Ichang in the heart of China.

Generalissimo Franco, determined to crush all possible sources of supplies for republican Spain and quickly bring the 11-month war to an end, ordered a blockade of all coastal territory held by the Madrid government.

He instructed his warships to torpedo any boat, regardless of nationality, which attempted to reach a republican port, and in effect assumed belligerent rights to himself.

Well-informed circles in London said it was doubtful if Great Britain would recognize Franco's blockade. Despite British recognition on Feb. 27 of the Franco regime as the legal government of Spain, belligerent rights were not accorded him.

Belligerent rights, giving a combatant the legal right to stop, search and seize ships conducting commerce with his enemy, have been sought by the Nationalists almost from the beginning of the war.

The blockade was made effective at once.

The generalissimo marshaled his submarine forces and warcraft which began patrolling the coast as soon as the order was issued. They were prepared to take whatever action was necessary to enforce the blockade.

All vessels were warned not to approach within three miles of the coast between Sagunto, north of Valencia near where Nationalist lines reach the eastern coast, and Alira, west of Almeria on the southern coast.

Ships en route to Spain were advised to make only for Nationalist ports.

Texas Tribunal Studies Price Peg Program

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. Mar. 9.—(AP)—The fourth court of civil appeals took under advisement yesterday the contest over prices fixed by the Texas department of agriculture for the lower Rio Grande valley's grapefruit industry.

State Commissioner of Agriculture McDonald brought an appeal to the fourth court from an injunction granted in Hidalgo county, prohibiting McDonald from revoking the license of members of the American Fruit Growers association.

Under the Texas citrus marketing act, McDonald set a minimum price at which grapefruit could be bought from growers, and when certain buyers and shippers allegedly ignored the order, McDonald threatened to revoke their licenses.

The growers association then obtained the restraining injunction from District Judge Black. The injunction restrained revocation of members' licenses, enforcement of the minimum price program, suspension to finance the state's citrus program, and examination of books and records of the association. McDonald appealed.
