

JAP PREMIER ASSASSINATED BY TERRORISTS

Mob Invades Home And Slays Aged Statesman As He Hurries Down Into Their Faces

TOKYO, May 16.—(A.P.)—The premier of Japan, Suyeichi Inukai, fell mortally wounded at dusk yesterday before the revolver fire of military terrorists.

Simultaneously five buildings in Tokyo were bombed. These included the headquarters of the dominant political party, of which Premier Inukai was president.

At the scene of some of the bombings, the terrorists left handbills signed "the young army and navy officers' association," and expressing their dissatisfaction with the political parties, and the way they had handled internal and foreign affairs.

Within a few hours 18 young men, five of them naval gun-tenants, and the others "former military cadets," surrendered in uniform to the police.

Such was the political unrest in the wake of these sudden terrorist activities that transactions on the Stock Exchanges at Tokyo, Osaka, Kobe and Nagoya were suspended.

Nine uniformed young men dashed up to the official residence of the premier in an automobile late yesterday, and opened fire on four policemen and a maid servant who tried to halt their entrance. All five were wounded.

Inside, the premier was covering with a pistol identified only as Mr. Tanaka Inukai's daughter-in-law, bearing the disturbance outside, rushed in and warned him to flee.

The shooting of Inukai was planned in advance.

When the assassins burst into the drawing-room brandishing revolvers, Inukai crossed and upbraided them in strong terms.

"Shoot if you dare!" he said. Their answer was a volley from nine revolvers. The premier fell, blood streaming from his face. The visitor also was wounded.

Every second word uttered to save his life, including blood transfusions, but six hours later at 11:25 P. M. the second head of a state to succumb to assassins' hands within 10 days. President Paul Doumer, of France, was shot May 8.

Three hours later a hurried ceremony was held with imperial pomp, transferring the powers of government to Gen. Kameyama Takashi, former minister of the cabinet. Takashi had become acting premier.

Meanwhile police reserves were mobilized throughout the city.

Just at the time the terrorists attacked the premier, five other groups of uniformed young men, traveling in automobiles, swung into action.

One attacked the office of the metropolitan police board at Sakurafunon, the cherry village gate of the imperial palace. Seven or eight shots were fired and two hand grenades were exploded as they sped on down the street. A policeman and a newspaper man lay wounded behind them.

Meanwhile a similar group threw hand grenades at the Seiyunai party headquarters, inflicting slight damage.

Others placed bombs at the Bank of Japan in the heart of the financial and at Mitsubishi bank. Slight damage was done to these buildings.

Then the home of Count Makino, lord keeper of the privy seal, was struck by a bomb with but little effect.

The handbills left by the raiders also denounced the present state of economic affairs in Japan, the systematic education and the naval and military administrations of the country.

PLEA MADE FOR NEW CRUSADE TO AID TEMPERANCE

Dry Exponent States They Are Fighting With Backs To Wall

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 16.—A call for a new, revitalized temperance crusade to keep in force the prohibition law was sounded yesterday before the men's council of the Methodist general conference.

"Today we are literally fighting with our backs to the wall," Prof. George Croft Cole of Boston university school of theology asserted. His statement later was adopted as a council declaration.

"The wetts have surpassed us in thought and strategy for the past decade. They have outthought us, outguaranteed us, outflanked us."

"We may not witness the political debacle of the temperance movement. We may not lose the legal and constitutional bulwarks, but right now there is the greatest danger of it, far greater than we think."

Besides the threat of repeal, Professor Cole said, the dry cause was facing an "even greater peril" in the fact that although 35 states voted against the prohibition law, the remaining 13 states could keep prohibition a federal statute.

Citing a bloc of 13 dry states "of tremendous strategic importance" and an encouragement to dejection, Professor Cole said the cause of temperance needed more than 13 states for victory.

"Thirteen states can always veto repeal, but how much virtue will that veto have in once the outlawry of the alcoholic drink business has ceased to be the majority opinion of the American people?"

Local Red Cross officials and several generous-minded citizens rendered a distinct service to indigent families of this county when on Saturday afternoon they assisted in distributing flour purchased and milled for $10 families.

The car-load of flour, comprising 1760 twenty-four pound sacks arrived here Thursday, according to Mrs. Linton E. Allen, local Red Cross official who assisted in its distribution.

Distribution was made on Saturday from the car, located near the Atlantic Coast line freight depot. Every issue of flour was made to a family whose actual need for it had been investigated by Mrs. Helen T. Morse, county welfare worker. Not all the flour distributed was in 24 pound lots, it was announced, for some of it, going to small families, totaled only 12 pounds in weight.

The remainder of the flour was stored in the old County Jail this morning, some of it to be distributed on Saturday, May 23.

Mrs. Allen expressed the appreciation of herself and Mrs. E. O. Chase, Jr., as well as the local Red Cross, to the following persons or organizations who assisted in placing the flour in homes where it was needed: Mrs. Morse, James Moughtin, R. A. Goodspeed, Allison Niblack, Alex. Shaw, B. J. Overstreet, C. W. DeLong, E. F. Long, Mrs. Wm. Mangrove, Mrs. W. F. Grimes, Mrs. W. C. Hutchison, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Joe Malach, Mrs. Clyde Brock, Mrs. W. L. Morgan, the Baptist Church, the Salvation Army, and the Atlantic Coast line railroad.

DRIVE TO BEGIN AGAIN IN FAVOR OF ROOSEVELT

Backers Of Governor Claim Over Hundred Delegates Will Be Added During Week

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(A.P.)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination will start up again today with his supporters claiming a hundred or more delegates will be added to his column before the week is over.

Opposition to the New York governor will take New Jersey's 22 in Tuesday's primary without a contest. Alfred E. Smith, who is expected to control this group along with Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, also is conceded a majority of Connecticut's 16 to be named in convention Tuesday.

The Roosevelt forces, however, expect to offset the loss of these 40 odd convention votes by capturing possibly all of the following: Kansas, 20; New Mexico, 16; Montana, 8; South Carolina, 18; Vermont, 8; District of Columbia, 6; Tennessee, 24; Oregon, 10, and Nevada, 6.

Those in Oregon and the District of Columbia will be selected in primaries; the others in state conventions.

Roosevelt has no delegates in the field in New Jersey. The delegation will be unstructured but controlled by Mayor Hague, who is allied with Smith. He reputedly favors Oweh D. Young, however, as his first choice for the presidential nomination and either Newton D. Baker or Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland as his second.

Roosevelt will come to grips with Oregon's primary on Friday with Gov. Alfalfa Bill Murray, of Oklahoma, over whom he has already scored smashing triumphs.

In all, 184 Democratic delegates will be chosen this week to bring their total to 1060. This will leave only 194 to complete their convention total.

President Hoover, who needs only 44 more pledged votes to clinch re-election, is expected by city managers to pick up these easily out of the 87 Republican delegates to be selected during the weeks as follows:

New Jersey, 35; Montana, 11; Alabama, 19; Vermont, 8; and Oregon, 13.

Little interest attaches to the Republican selections. What to do about prohibition is the biggest problem confronting the party in power.

The statement of Postmaster General Brown in Toledo Saturday night that the anti-prohibition victories would have a definite influence on the shaping of the party platform was read here with interest, but no comment was forthcoming.

The prohibitionists maintained Brown was opposed to the Eighteenth Amendment himself and he might have been expressing a hope rather than a conviction.

"The national convention will adopt a platform to which we all can subscribe," Brown said after a meeting of the Lucas county Republican central committee.

EIGHT THOUSAND POUNDS OF MEAT TO BE BARBECUED

Extensive Plans Made For Feeding Through During Farmers' Day

Eight thousand pounds of choice Seminoles County pork and lamb, much of it cured in the meat cooling plant erected by the Seminole County Agricultural Department some months ago, will be placed on long screen racks shortly after 6:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the rear of the Court House, to be barbecued and served to an anticipated 15,000 persons on Farmers' Day, Thursday, May 19.

This meat, the largest amount ever collected to be served at barbecue in this county, will be distributed at noon on Thursday, when officials of the Farmers' Day committee will direct visitors to Sanford that day into one of 24 long lines that will lead to the serving stand.

Last year, only seven lines of persons were established, and as a result much confusion resulted, and many persons went without the barbecued meat they had come for. This year, it is the hope of the committee that in the establishment of 24 single lines, they will be able to serve every person quickly and in an orderly manner.

As a new and special feature, the committee has arranged for a special barbecue for negro farm help to be held at Lake Jessup at the end of Sanford Avenue. Colored persons who hold tickets given them by farmers who have employed them, will be invited.

At 11:00 o'clock today, exactly 1000 persons had paid their 1921 poll tax which makes them eligible to vote in the June primaries, according to Jim D. Jenkins, tax collector, who reported that an unusually large number of persons had called at his office Saturday.

With a total of about 800 persons exempt from paying tax, there are now about 2100 persons eligible to vote. While there is no barometer which may be turned to in an effort to arrive at the intensity of the remaining 1750 or more registered voters in regards to their desire to vote, it is estimated that at least 250 or more persons will pay their taxes during this week.

Mr. Jenkins today announced that his office will be open daily through next Friday from 8:00 o'clock in the morning until 6:00 o'clock in the evening. Saturday, Mr. Jenkins and his assistants will remain in the office until 11:00 o'clock at night, to give every person in the county an opportunity to pay his or her taxes.

Workers To Share In Feast Planned For Farmers Day

Laborers on Sanford's farms and in Sanford's industries producing articles used on those farms, will share in some of the activities attending second annual observance of Farmers' Day here on Thursday, it was announced today.

Arrangements were completed Saturday whereby these laborers will be entertained at a barbecue to be held on the shores of Lake Jessup at the extreme end of Sanford Avenue, starting at noon Thursday.

Two thousand pounds of pork will be served at that place to all laborers who present a ticket which will be furnished them if they ask their employer for it. During the barbecue, lunch entertainers will keep the crowd together in a jovial mood, while special deputy sheriffs and other police protection will be afforded to keep order.

This barbecue is absolutely free to all workers who have tickets, chairman of the barbecue committee said today. The tickets will be available for all farmers or industrial owners if they will call at the Mahoney Walker building on Commercial Street to day, tomorrow, or Wednesday.

Failure Of Papers To Arrive Tonight May Get Freedom

James K. Hicks, young white man, is in the County Jail today, awaiting the serving of extradition papers which, if presented before midnight tonight, will tear him back to Kentucky where he most swears to a forged charge.

Hicks was arrested Thursday by Chief of Police Roy G. Williams, who had telegrams from Boone county, Kentucky police officials, declaring that the youth is wanted on a forged charge. He was placed in jail and remained there until Saturday morning.

At that time, he appeared before Circuit Judge Milford Smith, his attorney asked his release on the grounds that he had been arrested without a fugitive warrant having been served. Later a fugitive warrant was served, and he was re-arrested by Sheriff J. F. McCalland.

Upon a second hearing, Judge Smith ordered, upon information furnished by Sheriff J. F. McCalland, State's Attorney Lloyd P. Boyle, and Chief Williams that the youth be held in the County Jail until midnight tonight when he may be released if Kentucky authorities do not appear for him. Efforts to post $1000 cash bond set by Judge James G. Sharon were unavailing.

Roosevelt Backers Will Hold Meeting

Sherman Lloyd, Seminole County chairman of a Roosevelt for President Club, has announced a meeting of all persons interested in this movement, to be held at the City Hall Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock.

Election of officers will be one of the features of this meeting, while a discussion of all delegates favorable to the nomination of the New York governor will be held.

Ridley J. Nix, Sanford Attorney, will deliver a short address on the life of Roosevelt, and some of the highlights of his recent years in office.

NORRIS ASKS DISMISSAL OF P. O. OFFICIAL

Seeks Removal Of Assistant To Brown Because Of Speech Boosting President

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(A.P.)—Dismissal of Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general was demanded in the Senate today by Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, for his order to Missouri postmasters to "get out on the firing line" for President Hoover's reelection. Glover addressed the postmasters Saturday at Springfield.

Norris' speech from Glover's speech as reported in the press demanding the resignation of his postmaster who does not wish to go to work for the reelection of the President. Norris asked a resolution of Glover by the President.

Extra policemen watched the doors of the Supreme Court after reports that communists planned a demonstration but the justices took their places with nothing to interrupt the calmness of the judicial atmosphere.

An overnight return of national confidence was predicted in the Senate by Senator, Republican, of New Jersey, if Congress should legislate and tax here.

President Hoover requested that supplemental appropriations totaling $17,000,000 be made available immediately for army and navy pensions and the maintenance of homes for disabled servicemen. Implication of wartime income tax rates was demanded in the Senate by Borah, Republican, of Idaho, in order to finance a federal unemployment relief program.

Despite a national political campaign a few weeks ahead, party lines have virtually vanished in the unified effort to assure the government's credit and to make provision for the needy.

Night sessions of the Senate will be urged beginning tonight with the vital billion dollar revenue raising bill for action. The whole program is now in the hands of the Senate.

Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee announced yesterday a determination to hold continuous sessions of the Senate from 11 A. M. to 10 P. M. daily in an effort to speed the law bill.

The speaker of confidence that the non-partisan committee's revenue program would go through in its present form with the support of a majority of both Republicans and Democrats apparently in back of it.

The big test comes today on the income tax schedule the crux of the bill.

The amendment of Senator Cullen, Republican, Michigan, to boost the income rates to the wartime level and to eliminate many of the excise taxes is pending.

Salvation Army's Advisory Body Has Conference Today

Members of the local Advisory Board of the Salvation Army met at the Campaign Headquarters this afternoon to discuss results of the annual maintenance appeal drive which netted approximately $2000 in pledges.

Reports from committees throughout the county, brought to the office today indicate that the goal of $4251.16 fell short of its mark by about $2000, but that the response was practically a large as it was last year.

The advisory board delegates a committee of workers who will visit several homes and business houses this week, as well as call on scores of persons who were not contacted owing to a lack of work extra during the drive. Through this extra service, it is hoped to raise at least another $500, according to H. E. Stevens, general chairman of the drive.

Captain Annie C. Harris and Cady Jewell Cleveland, officers of the Sanford Corps, this morning expressed their appreciation to the persons who contributed to the success of the drive, either in time or money.

They were joined in expressing appreciation by Eugene Charles Johnson, state representative, who left for Ocala late this afternoon to assist in the annual campaign in that city.

Ransom Currency Again Considered In Kidnaping Hunt

CONDON IS SAID TO HAVE SEEN 5 OF KIDNAP GANG

Met Them On Boat In Long Island Sound During Negotiations

NEW YORK, May 16.—(A.P.)—Dr. John F. Condon (Jafie) is quoted by the Daily News as saying the man he paid $50,000 ransom for the return of the Lindbergh baby was one of a gang of five, all of whom he met later on a boat in Long Island sound.

"Jafie," it was previously understood negotiated with only one individual—the man to whom he turned over the money in a Bronx cemetery the night of Apr. 2 (John Hughes Curtis, the Norfolk intermediary, has numbered at five the band with which he and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh were dealing).

The Daily News story further quotes the elderly Bronx lecturer as disclosing the nicknames of two of the gang—"John" and "Doc"—and as describing three of them as of German, Italian and Spanish extraction. He was said to be on extra police guard for fear of reprisals from the criminals.

"It was about a week after I had met the first one—John," Dr. Condon related, "that I was told I would be taken on board the boat where the baby was. I was blindfolded and rowed out to a vessel off Turgoose Neck in the Bronx."

"When I got on deck they took the bandage from my eyes. I was in the center of a circle of five men. Each one had a pistol pointed at me. I'll admit I was a little nervous but I didn't show it."

"But down your gun? I said, 'I'm not armed. I've been a school teacher most of my life and I'm used to settling arguments without weapons.'"

"They all lowered their pistols except one fellow they called 'Doc.'"

"That may be all right," he said, "but there is a fixed penalty for the crime we've committed—five years. We aren't going to take any chances. If you ever tell a soul what our meeting was like you'll be in the big house."

They made the effort to conceal the faces of the men talked with a treatment accord, one with an Italian, and another with a Spanish accent. I couldn't make out the nationality of the other two."

"I asked John when he was going to show me the baby. But he said they had decided the day before to transfer the child to a hiding place ashore. It was at that time they promised to send me the baby's sleeping garment, which I received through the mail a few days later. They sent the exact suit and the baby was wearing the night it was taken."

Dr. Condon was told that the gang had two women associates, one of whom the newspaper identified as the woman who called on him in the Bronx with a message and later met him by appointment at the Tuckahoe, N. Y. railroad station with further instructions.

It was "John"—the German—who accepted the ransom payment, "Jafie" added, and it was "John" who most distinctly remembers he described the man as about 35 years old, blond, about 5 feet 7 inches in height and of a heavy build. He wore a cap several sizes too small and kept it pulled low over his eyes.

Pilot Rattlesnake Killed In Hammock

Harry Gustavson, young resident of Mecca Hammock, this morning reported that he had killed a pilot rattlesnake, measuring over five feet on his father's farm in that section. Only last week he killed what he says was the mate to the reptile.

Young Gustavson is a member of Seminole Chapter, Future Farmers of America, and he said to have captured and killed scores of rattlesnakes during the past several months.

South Celebrating Cotton Week In U. S.

ATLANTA, May 16.—(A.P.)—Dixie, land of cotton, rallied to the support of its greatest industry today as the United States celebrated national cotton week. Officials of socially elite clubs and institutions adopted cotton for wear at various functions. Letters were written on cotton stationery and restaurants and dining rooms displayed cotton products in their windows.

Treasury Appealed To Exert Renewed Vigilance In Extensive Search For Notes

HOPEWELL, May 16.—(A.P.)—Police turned again today to the ransom currency bills as its chief hope for success in running down the kidnaper and murderers of the Lindbergh baby. In a news bulletin Colonel Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, disclosed he telegraphed the Treasury of the United States asking renewed vigilance in a countrywide search for the notes. The fifty thousand-dollar ransom was paid by Colonel Lindbergh through Dr. John Condon, aged educator, who negotiated with persons he believed to be the kidnapers through a series of newspaper advertisements signed "Jafie".

Lindbergh kept a list of the bills and when the baby was not returned he appealed to the treasurer for assistance in tracing them. Schwarzkopf also disclosed in a bulletin that Condon had never seen but one member of the gang with which he negotiated.

Meantime New York City officials announced all evidence available concerning the payment of the ransom by Condon will be presented to a Bronx county grand jury tomorrow.

The feverish hunt over land, sea and sky, for the Lindbergh baby killers, was given momentum by the personal efforts of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh yesterday while the aged "Jafie" of the New York City area gallery the likeness of the extorcionist to whom he paid $50,000 ransom.

Dr. John F. Condon, the 72-year-old educator who took the post of intermediary in the country near his New York home, appeared at New York police headquarters yesterday afternoon.

He was accompanied by three men believed to be New Jersey associates.

They went up to the bureau of criminal identification, where thousands of identification pictures were on file. Thereafter they still were going on to the post office.

When they finally emerged from the building, Dr. Condon made the following statement:

"I could not find a thing."

Dr. Condon already has said he knew the name, nationality, and physical characteristics of the man who perpetrated the hoax upon him.

"I know all a man's sin," the aged man said, "and I know all a man's virtue."

Whether this man and the five gang members, with whom John Hughes Curtis and Colonel Lindbergh himself negotiated played a part in the kidnaping and murder of nearly 1000 in commercial crime committed by others, was the major most question confronting officials.

In the words of Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf:

"Colonel Lindbergh is actively cooperating with the police authorities and is assisting us in every way he can."

Up and down the eastern coast coast a fleet of 25 cutters, some hundred smaller government craft and a complement of airplanes, all heavily armed, in spite of the vessel used by the gang which torpedoed Colonel Lindbergh with explosives repaid about 11:30, whom they claimed to be their captives.

The coast guard searchers had a full description of the boat and the men, furnished them by Curtis through New Jersey officials.

Hardee Stressing Need Of Efficient Economy In State

PANAMA CITY, May 14.—Principles of sound government, presented in a plain, impressive way left a trail of permanent convictions in the minds of the voters who heard Cary A. Hardee, former Governor of Florida and a candidate for nomination in the June primaries. The former state executive is touring the state in behalf of his candidacy.

In his addresses the former Governor has stressed the need of efficient economy in the administration of state governmental affairs. He has declared his belief that when elected to the highest honor within the state that he will be able to reduce the operating cost of the tax payer by the elimination of needless jobs and overlapping bureaus.

Former Governor Hardee, during the course of his political talks strictly confines his remarks to subjects based upon records and available figures. He carefully compares the records of his office, during the time he served Florida as Governor, with the records of more recent state executives. In every particular case Mr. Hardee is able to quote comparative records, compiled from and attested to by proper officials and transcripts. Many instances of extravagance in the operation of the state government are shown tion of the body. They already watched it lowered into the rotunda by attendants and peered for a moment through the transparent opening provided for official witnesses. When this sad duty had been performed in silence, Colonel Lindbergh turned to Supt. M. L. Howard, of Rose Hill, shook hands, and said:

"I thank you."

The party then departed and it was understood the ashes of the baby would be left at Rose Hill over night. A Trenton undertaking establishment has been instructed to call for them today, but where they would be taken was not revealed.

Meantime the wife-klung man hunters were gripped with the growing belief that the criminals who stole the infant Mar. 1 sought ransom after they had killed him.

The focal point of this school of thought was the little white cover-all sleeping suit the child wore on the night of the kidnaping. This baby, wasting to a skeleton, was stumbled upon in a woods by a negro truckman Thursday less than five miles from the Lindbergh home.

And a garment purporting to be this same sleeping suit was the "token" by which Colonel Lindbergh and his 72-year-old agent, Dr. John F. Condon, were brought to pay $50,000 ransom in the murky darkness of a New York City cemetery.

These were the salient facts scrutinized by New Jersey's crack detectives gathered at a distance from the Trenton morgue where the famous flier looked at his first-born for the last time.

Mrs. Lindbergh, who is expecting a child within the next few months, stayed close beside her mother here, preferring to remember her curly haired boy as she knew him alive.

Haggard and worn, Colonel Lindbergh called upon his intimate friend, Col. Henry Breckinridge, to drive him by motor to Trenton.

When he entered the room where the body lay the coroner, Walter H. Swartz inquired:

"Colonel Lindbergh, do you positively identify this baby?"

A covering obscured all but the face of the child.

"Take that off," requested the coroner, in a low, tense tone.

An attendant complied and all but the Colonel retired from the

THE DEER

Applied, like sunlight sated by October beech, they step through law, or green blades diamonded.

A good name for a first class all artist is Huey Long.

To err is human but to make the same mistake twice is a sign of weakness.

A person who always trips on the first rung of the ladder will never reach the top.

And then another reason why we depression and the great shortage of money, is the bootleggers have got it all.

Commenting upon the attempt of the Army to resist pay cuts, the Fort Myers Press dubs them "Don't give up the dough boys."

Arthur Brisbane has signed a three year lease on a house in Miami where he plans to make his winter quarters. He came, saw, and was conquered.

The slaying of the Lundbergh baby is no worse than a countless other crimes of a similar nature which take place in this country continually except that it shows that no one is immune to the depredations of criminals.

As the society pages would say, Mr. Alphonse Capone, one of the nation's leading merchants in vice and crime, will be at home for the next eleven years in Atlanta, Ga. Not counting time off for good behavior.

Strong language was contained in a demand on the President by the political parties through the press to demand a vote.

The message which will not be given to the President by the political parties through the press is that they will not support a candidate who is not a member of their party.

The political parties through the press are demanding a vote for a candidate who is not a member of their party.

Back To The Farm

As a means of relieving unemployment throughout the nation many, well meaning but impractical, sociologists have advanced the so-called "Back-to-the-Farm" movement.

Henry Ford has even brought forward a plan where the workmen in his factories can continue their work with him and at the same time cultivate their own little farms.

Secretary Hyde of the Department of Agriculture, discusses this "Back-to-the-Farm" movement at some length recently and his conclusion is that the picture is not as pretty as it is painted.

He further reveals that the over-production which has characterized the industrial depression is no different from the over-production in the field of agriculture.

From the viewpoint of the man already in the farming industry, he continues, "new producers present a serious menace to his chances of finding a market for his product."

Furthermore, modern farming requires considerable capital. In the old days if a man had enough ready cash to buy a hoe, he could homestead his land and start farming.

Popularity of the bathing beaches this summer will attain new heights, if sketches of bathing suits contained in advertisements are any indication of what the well-dressed swimmer will wear.

Adieu from the fact that countless thousands will find the beaches more alluring from a purely artistic point of view, manufacturers have taken into account another angle of sales promotion.

The manufacturers are very smart in this idea but there is one thing which they have not stopped to take into consideration and which may have an opposite effect upon their business.

Just what the ultimate result will be no one knows. It will rest in the season records of the bathing suit makers whether or not scanty suits promote sales.

From past expectation and realization the Sanford people know that Mrs. Munson's recital are always musical gems, and the recital of Monday evening in the auditorium of the Sanford High School, given by Mrs. Munson's piano pupils, assisted by Mr. W. Clay Inman, of Rollins College, Winter Park, was no exception to the established rule.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradshaw, Mrs. C. W. Goodrich, Miss Margaret Hart, Miss Lilla Shine, all of Orlando, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fatje were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lake at the recital given by Mrs. Munson's piano pupils at the high school this week.

Mrs. Cruse Barnes entertained the Book Circle in her charming suburban home Wednesday afternoon. Those present had the pleasure of receiving their interesting new books from the secretary. They were also pleased to have with them Mrs. M. F. Robinson, Mrs. E. L. Hughes, Mrs. E. M. Papworth, Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. F. J. Gonzalez, Mrs. T. A. Neal, and Miss Margaret Hart, of Orlando.

Lou Reichers Tells Of His Experiences On Hop Over Ocean

(Continued From Page One) I flew north, for another half hour returning to practically the same position and decided that the best thing for me to do was to fly due east for the following reasons:

1-I figured I was 100 miles south of Ireland to be able to make it with my remaining gas and also I was afraid I would be unable to come down through the clouds and locate my position as it had already turned night.

2-I thought, possibly land would be just as close to the east as to the north and by heading east I would be nearer the shipping lanes.

3-I was thoroughly convinced even though I found land I could never get away with a landing on account of the rocky nature of the coast line, so had already made up my mind that the best thing to do would be to jump.

(Note: Reichers probably means he would attempt to fly his plane over land and make a parachute jump rather than attempt a forced landing on rocky coast.)

Because of the night and poor visibility, plus my landing speed and the fact that I was tired, I felt incapable of judging a forced landing.

When sighting the lights of the President Roosevelt, and still no land and with very little gas left, I decided here was only one thing to do and that was to set the Liberty down on the water. I signaled the boat to stand by and came down in the sea about 60 yards away.

It was very dark and visibility so poor that I had to hang my head out to see when landing. A I needed both hands to land, I could not protect my face and the shock threw me forward, hitting my nose out of shape, that required two stitches to straighten it again, there was no other damage.

It was impossible to salvage the ship due to the rough sea. Captain Fried had to abandon the rescue boat for the same reason. I am very grateful to Captain Fried and his crew for the very efficient and courageous rescue and also to the ship's surgeon for his consideration and kind attention to a nose that was pointing in the wrong direction.

I am sorry I had to lose Mr. Berner, MacFadden's ship but he had done enough flying himself to realize that there was no way out. He was a mighty good sportsman to let me use the Liberty, which was one of the finest ships ever built and which was dear to my heart; and he showed his fine sportsmanship further by radioing me aboard the President Roosevelt that he did not give a thought to the loss of the Liberty so long as I was safe.

That's what I call a swell fellow. ARGENTINE ELECTION NET RIO DE JANEIRO, May 16. (A.P.)—Provisional President Getulio Vargas yesterday set May 19, 1933 for elections to the constituent assembly.

To-Night

What is the story of the tragedy that confronts a woman when she finds her husband has succumbed to a beautiful delusion?

There is another man to offer her happiness, but she is afraid after the anguish of her last experience.

John Miljan, as the errand boy, is sympathetic and human. Admire him from an interesting account of the "live pirate" who single-handedly captured the heroine who threw herself at the scoundrel's feet in a splendidly done by Betty Davis. Virginia Hammond, Gordon Graybill, Walter Walker and numerous others in the large cast also deserve commendation.

Miss Katharine Bronner, of Orlando, G. W. Hanson, of Haines City, Miss Margaret Berner, and Mrs. Katharine Bronner plan to leave tomorrow morning by motor for Haines City, Fla., to attend the ordination of Joseph Gotwell into the priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church. Cecilian Music Club Has Meet Saturday

"The Piano in Music" was the subject of the talk given by Mrs. Fannie S. Munson at the meeting of the Cecilian Music Club held Saturday afternoon at Mrs. Munson's studio on Edgewood Avenue. In her talk she stated that the piano is the basic instrument in musical education, adding that many conservatories require from one to two years piano for all voices and violin pupils.

Mrs. Munson also said that radio stations, motion picture halls, schools, and churches find the piano necessary, that composers must have an available piano, and band and orchestra writers use the piano to make up their scores. It is estimated that over one million children in the United States take piano lessons.

In addition to the regular piano sessions, Miss Cornelia McGee gives a group of readings. The program was presented as follows: Walton, (two pianos), John Strassner—John Martin Lacey, Mrs. Munson.

"Dance of Gnomes," Ambrose—June Boyd.

Ruth Chatterton Has Lead in Miljan Film

A new Ruth Chatterton flashed across the screen last night, when her latest picture, "The Rich Are Always With Us," which is her first First National starring vehicle, had its premiere at the Miljan Theater yesterday.

One cannot help being delighted and astounded that the creator of "Madame X" and Warwick Deering's "Baruch" can so vividly and accurately portray the poised and ultra-sophisticated leader of the "800" as Miss Chatterton does in this story of the riches and idle rich of New York, Paris and Palm Beach.

Smart and sparkling as the story is, there is a note of tragedy—the tragedy that confronts a woman when she finds her husband has succumbed to a beautiful delusion.

There is another man to offer her happiness, but she is afraid after the anguish of her last experience.

John Miljan, as the errand boy, is sympathetic and human. Admire him from an interesting account of the "live pirate" who single-handedly captured the heroine who threw herself at the scoundrel's feet in a splendidly done by Betty Davis. Virginia Hammond, Gordon Graybill, Walter Walker and numerous others in the large cast also deserve commendation.

Miss Katharine Bronner, of Orlando, G. W. Hanson, of Haines City, Miss Margaret Berner, and Mrs. Katharine Bronner plan to leave tomorrow morning by motor for Haines City, Fla., to attend the ordination of Joseph Gotwell into the priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church. Mr. Gotwell is a nephew of Miss Bronner.

Ransom Currency Again Considered In Kidnaping Hunt

(Continued from Page One) of the quintet whose boat for weeks had maneuvered up and down the seaboard, sending cryptic messages to Curtis and Colonel Lindbergh; making appointments only to break them; harassing an already frantic father with messages of hope and then messages that plunged him into despair; leading him on until the very moment when he received the tragic news he would never see his first born alive again.

The coast guard units were not reporting direct to the garage on the block Lindbergh estate where the colonel was aiding crack detectives in mapping out the hunt. But arrangements had been made for receiving there the news of any important discovery.

With a full story of Dr. Condon's negotiations and the efforts of Curtis before them, the officials were making a wide-flung effort to determine whether the two intermediaries had been hoaxed by the same gang, and whether this gang included the kidnapers and killers, as well as the extortionists.

Using a grand jury inquiry as his agency, District Attorney McLaughlin in New York City looked forward to piecing together the complete narrative of the "Jaffie" negotiations, conducted in part through newspaper advertisements.

For assistance he said he would subpoena Dr. Condon, Frank Rosenheim, owner of a restaurant where Dr. Condon dines frequently; Al Reich, former boxer and bodyguard to Dr. Condon; Milton Gaglio, a friend of Rosenheim's who drove Dr. Condon to the Lindbergh estate before the latter was empowered to act for the aviator, and an unnamed taxiab driver reputed to have delivered a note from the extortionists to Dr. Condon.

Patman Resents Certain Opposition To Soldiers Bonus

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(A.P.)—A response to recently expressed opposition to the cash bonus for veterans by Archibald Roosevelt came yesterday from Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, in the charge that Roosevelt had received since 1930 gifts from the government amounting to $779,004.

Roosevelt, son of the former president, heads the national economy committee which recently also urged a reduction in what its members consider unwarranted government payments to ex-service men. Roosevelt is a veteran.

Patman, a leader in the fight for payment of the bonus, said the shipping company of which Roosevelt was part owner and director, obtained in 1930 a 10% of the little used machines housed in the building.

Mrs. Lindbergh had her mother constantly at her side. Her sister and brother, Constance and Dwight Morrow, Jr., came from college when the baby's body was found. But the capacity of the residence has been taxed by the number of officials surrounding the overnight and neither of the students spent more than a few hours with their sister. Her elder sister Elizabeth, however, has been here for long periods.

Dwight, Jr., hurried back to Anshurst for the forthcoming end of the year examinations. Constance spent Saturday night at the Morrow home at Englewood.

Delegation Bent On Entering Mine Area, Turns Back

LONDON, Ky., May 13.—(A.P.)—Warnings that violence might greet them if they enter Harlan and Bell counties were heard Friday by members of an American Civil Liberties union delegation as they sought a federal injunction for protection.

The warnings came as Arthur Garfield Hays and Dudley Field Malone, leaders of the delegation, questioned Harlan and Bell county officers as witnesses in the injunction hearing here.

Federal Judge Cochran has announced he will accompany the delegation and afford them his personal protection when they enter the southern-then Kentucky coal fields whether he granted the injunction or not.

Mayor Brooks of Pineville testified he did not believe Bell county officers would permit the delegation to hold meetings or make speeches. Police Chief Osborne of Pineville said his police force would be powerless as "a gnat in a storm" to protect them, and Sheriff Blair of Harlan county said his entire force of 150 deputies would be no match to 1000 strikers.

Both officers said they would guard the delegation from violence if it was threatened in their presence, but Osborne said he "couldn't follow them around" because of other duties. Blair said he wouldn't go "any far out of my way" to protect them.

Florida To Send 18 Convention Delegates

TALLAHASSEE, May 13.—(A.P.) Secretary of State Gray said today Florida will send 18 delegates to the Democratic national convention next month although the state delegation will have only 14 votes. Forty-nine candidates seek the 18 delegate assignments in the Democratic primary on June 7. Four men and four women each with a half vote will be elected from the state at large. Two delegates each with a full vote will be elected from the

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13.—(A.P.)—Anne Lindbergh has tapped her reserved strength and found her energy.

The crisis precipitated by the finding of the body of her stolen son apparently had been weathered yesterday and the young mother again sought to forget her sorrows in minor housekeeping problems.

An undertaker, it was understood, had delivered an urn bearing the ashes of the curly-haired infant to the home from which he was kidnaped, but little was said by the household about the topic that was closest to them all.

The spring sunshine that streamed into the residence frequently found its way into the conversation of the family.

Colonel Lindbergh eased the tension by trips to the police headquarters into which his three-car garage was converted. He even paused to inspect the motor of one
