Mabel Thompson Gets Life In Prison

Mabel Frances Thompson was given a life sentence at 1:15 this afternoon.

Mabel Frances Thompson, 26-year-old mother of four convicted of murder, was expected to be sentenced by Circuit Judge E. Thom Rumberger this afternoon.

Mrs. Thompson was found guilty of murder in the first degree, with a recommendation of mercy, by a jury of 11 men and one woman on Feb. 3. The jury upheld the contention of State Attorney Abbott Herring that Mrs. Thompson shot and killed her husband, Sanford Fireman Bobby Thompson, 32, and stuffed his body in a hall closet of their home.

The petite brunette escaped the death penalty, when the jury recommended mercy. Mrs. Thompson did not take the witness stand nor did she offer any defense in her own behalf.

The state contended Mrs. Thompson moved out of her home on West Fourth Street and her husband reportedly disappeared. Some six months later Sanford police, in a routine check, found the husband's body in the clothes closet.

Mrs. Thompson has been held at the county jail, pending a pre-sentence investigation. Her attorney, Mack N. Cleveland Jr., has indicated he will appeal the jury verdict.

Unitary School System Said Lacking U.S. May Lop $683,000 Aid

By BILL SCOTT
 Seminole County schools are not in compliance with U.S. governmental school desegregation and stand to lose $683,000 in five of seven federally-funded school programs.

An initial decision from U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) was received today by the county school administrative offices, announcing the results of a 1969 hearing in Washington D.C. before the school board and J. Markor Dem, hearing examiner for HEW.

In effect, the long-awaited decision states that Seminole School District has not implemented a unitary school system under its present freedom of choice plan for 1969-70 school term and is subject to loss of money in the two federally-funded programs that discrimination was found to exist. Dem said, "The following programs are cited with discriminatory practices: "Service for educationally deprived children which receives $454,000 a year and school asistance in federally affected areas or impact funds in the amount of $229,000."

This latter amount is used in the school's general treasury for funding many learning operations.

The examiner found no discrimination existed in five programs with a total $330,000 federal funding.

These include: Children of migratory workers, supplemental educational services, vocational education, construction of new facility at Seminole Junior College campus and strengthening instruction in critical subjects.

All moneys in the five programs are retained under the so-called Taylor County decision of the courts, which holds that all federally funded educational programs within a school should not be suspended just because discrimination is said to exist in some parts of the total school program.

Dem advised his decision would become final unless, within 30 days after the Feb. 17 mailing of the decision, a brief containing exceptions is submitted to the reviewing authority. Any other party may file a response within 30 days after Feb. 17, 1970.

Douglas Stenstrom, school attorney who represented Seminole at the Washington hearing, said he is a matter of School Board policy whether a review of the HEW decision would be sought.

He said a review board made up of several persons could review the decision if requested and perhaps an additional 30 days would be required for the re-appraisal.

If, after review, the Dem decision is allowed to stand, then an order would be issued by HEW Secretary Robert Finch and he could stop the funds at any time.

Fee Levied For Use Of Building

Users of Altamonte Springs community house will have to pay for the privilege in the future, as a result of action taken by City Council. The problem arose from individuals and groups who used the facility and left it in a "filthy mess."

Mayor W. Lawrence Swoford was of the opinion that it was unfair to expect the city taxpayers to pay the same fee as out-of-town users, but nevertheless voted for the fee.

The mutual aid agreement for police assistance between the municipalities of Casselberry, Longwood, North Orlando and Altamonte, which has been approved by North Orlando as Casselberry, was taken under consideration.

Altamonte council was advised by City Attorney S. Joseph Davis that although the agreement was, in his opinion, an excellent one, he was dubious of the insurance coverage afforded to the city police while they are in another community. Davis suggested that before approval is given, that the contract be given to the city's insurance carrier for an opinion.

Council authorized City Clerk Rolfe Wagner to obtain preliminary plans and cost estimates at the next meeting for a neighborhood facilities grant program. It is necessary to have these in order to complete a checklist for eligibility in the application for the office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Wagner felt the matter should be expeditious since the grants are of a "fleeing nature."

Wagner advised that HUD is discontinuing planning funds, but would still process Altamonte at a cost to the municipality of $200.

Annexation of Orange Avenue westbound to the city was approved on first reading of the ordinance.

Authorization was given designating South Seminole Bank as depository for pollution control funds.

A TUGBOAT made its way into the Port of Sanford bringing along with it supplies and material for the continued construction of the local port.

County Stands To Lose $265,000 To Schools

Action last night by the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation in approving legislation to take future race track funds from Seminole County Commission and give to the schools may mean an additional 1.25 mill tax increase to be passed on to county taxpayers.

This was the first reaction expressed this morning by John Alexander, Seminole County Commission chairman, when asked to comment on the action of the delegation taken during a meeting on proposed legislation to be submitted at Tallahassee.

Alexander made public a copy of a letter he had written to John Angel, county school superintendent, which stated: "... if 99 per cent of state race track funds were to be transferred to the School Board, there would have to be an increase in the county general governmental millage to replace the loss of these funds which are not available from any other source."

In fact, the action by the legislative delegation would take all of the race track funds minus the $60,000 for the Seminole Port Authority and give it to the schools.

This would mean that county would lose from $225,000 now receiving, a total of $265,000, which is now being used in county's road and bridge fund and port.

If this road work is to continue, then additional money will have to be found and the only alternative for this is to increase the present 6.33 mill now assessed county taxpayers to estimate 7.58 mills.

At present $1.25 per $1,000 of assessed value, this means approximately 1.25 mill would be required to keep road and bridge millage at present $64,000 which operates until Oct. 30, 1970 or the end of the budget year.

William Layer, principal of Milverton Junior High School, brought the request before the delegations and said he was doing it as a citizen of the county.

In the past, the schools have received $50,000 of the state track money with the county receiving the remainder, with $60,000 of that amount going to operation of Brevard County, Florida. This case has to do with the right of a city to assess another public agency, as about property owners, for sewer installation.

One case of public interest that will be heard is city of Titusville vs. the Board of Public Instruction of Brevard County, Florida. This case has to do with the right of a city to assess another public agency, as about property owners, for sewer installation.

Junk Car Law Not Forceable

By MARION BRETHER
 Seminole county is experiencing difficulty in enforcement of the "junk car law" which makes abandoning vehicles on property a misdemeanor, according to county prosecuting attorney, Kenneth Melstok.

Melstok stated to county commissioners that he recently investigated a case in which a junk car was abandoned at an auto repair shop in South Seminole County, in which the shop owner found it necessary to have a wrecker to remove the cars in order to work at his business.

Melstok advised that disposing of the cars is a problem since the only places which are equipped to handle the junkers are located in Tampa and Daytona Beach. This also constitutes a problem since the cars must be hauled to transport on the interstate in enforcement of the law.

Additional difficulties cited were inability to burn the cars because of controls on air pollution and no area to junk the cars.

Melstok continued that he would convene a jury of a defendant's guilt if cars are abandoned on their property by others. The attorney contended that the commission must give consideration to establishing an outlet for junk vehicles and making arrangements for burning operations to be able to transport the cars out of the county.

Commission Chairman, John Alexander, equipped that the trend has been reversed in which the junk dealers purchased cars, but now owners must pay $3.50 to dispose of them. Commission Chairman Greg Drummond feels that the county is not making much headway in disposing of the cars, but Alexander said he was unable to dispose of cars when most individuals find no difficulty.

Drummond queried county road superintendent, J. C. Lavender as to stockpiling the cars at Ocala air strip and Lavender replied that the operation could encompass stacking cars 7-8 high. Drummond advocated this operation with semi-annual burning when climatic conditions permit.

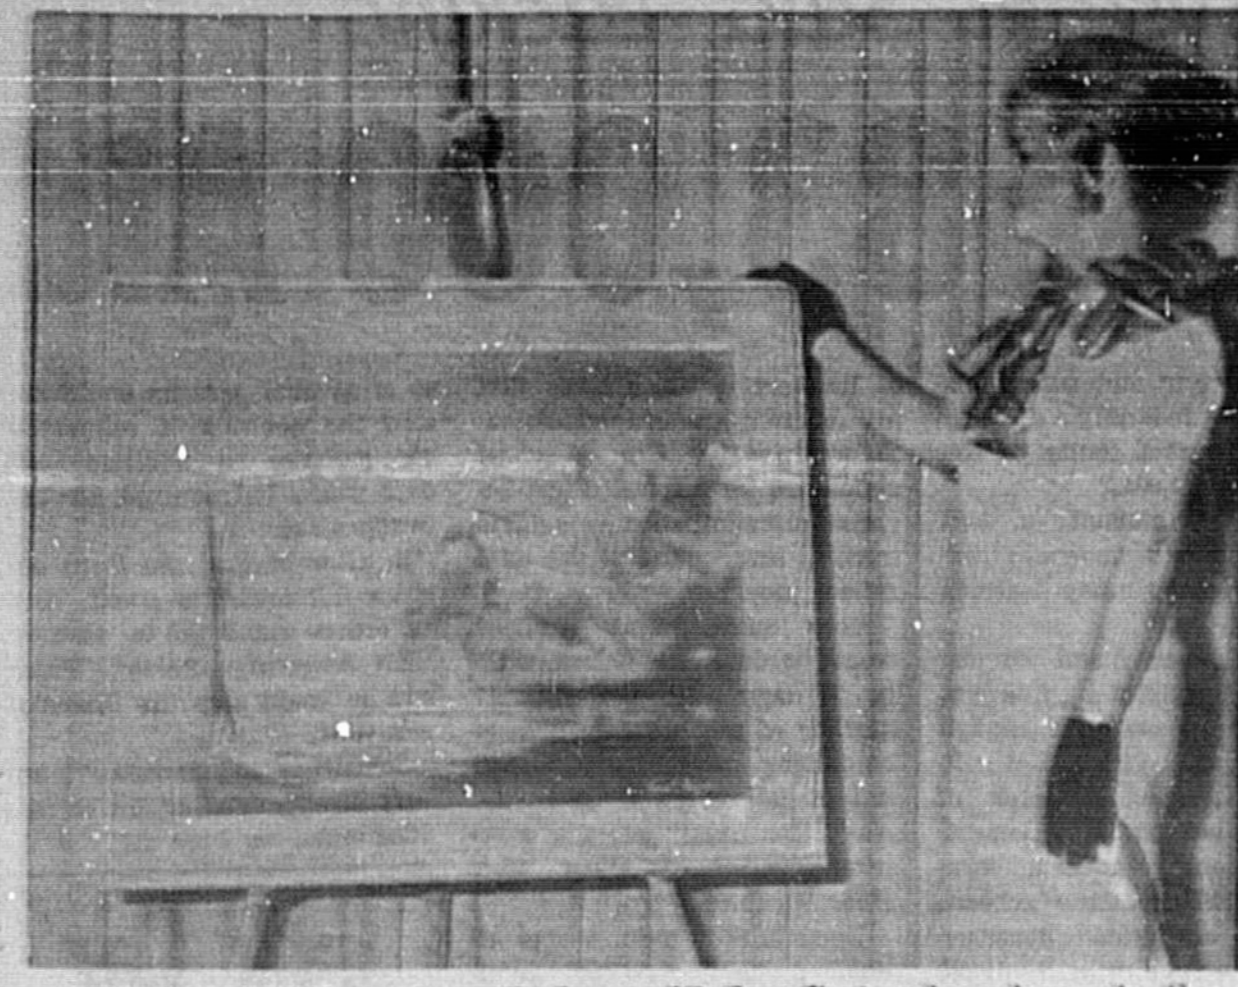

A bill to allow sale of alcohol on Sunday within the county was defeated.

Few Pay, Road Used By Many

A tense quiet pervaded the Casselberry Council Chamber as property owners stood up to protest the undue, unfair individual hardship they feel the assessment would work upon them.

Seven of the fifty or so residents concerned, claimed it unfair to assess a fee for the road which is used by so many. They wanted to charge residents on the street that use Sunset Drive, a "fair share" as it is possible under the law. This plan was vetoed by the Council, who sought in other ways to cut the cost to the property owners.

Asst. James McFee, "is the whole city to benefit at our expense?" He felt that the street did not have to be so wide (32 feet).

Richard Lusk appeared to represent the reasonable feelings of many of the owners present when he said: "We are not against the pavement—just the cost." He went on to say, "The property owners cannot possibly afford an arterial street (which is 32 feet wide) without it. Therefore the major portion of the cost should come from the city."

One dissenter, Ben Evans, stated that he did not want the road paved at all. He added a note of irony to the time room by quipping, "We used to have to swing in on a vine, and I'd just as soon keep it like that."

He referred to the almost impossible conditions following a rainfall. He did not like the idea that the traffic on the drive will increase following the improvements.

Several of the property owners noted that the preliminary assessment would be in excess of a thousand dollars for them.

Hunting To Close

Florida's hunting season for quail and squirrel will close one-half hour after sundown on Sunday, February 22, except for the 36 counties of north-west Florida where hunting will continue through March 1.

The quail and squirrel hunting season will be followed by the spring turkey gobble season which opens March 7 in that portion of the State located south of State Road 36, and March 21 in the section located north of State Road 36.

The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission reminds hunters there is no closed season or bag limit on rabbit, raccoon, bobcat, opossum, red and grey fox, skunk, civet cat or beaver.

Commercial trappers—the official trapping season closes March 1.

Environmental Control Emerging As Key Issue

There should be no doubt in anyone's mind now that the deplorable, dangerous and threatening issue of environmental control has become so urgent that the soundest of thinkers, the most responsible analysts are speaking out with words of alarm!

It has become so current, so lively an issue that President Nixon has embraced it, and the long-time champion of such controls — U.S. Senator Edmund S. Muskie of Maine is reminding the voters that this is his own issue by right of early adoption.

Thus with the top Republican-in-power and one of the leading contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972 recognizing the need of public interest in cleaning up the air, land and water it is interesting to note that Florida hopefuls are not silent.

Nor is the state government in Tallahassee ignoring this mounting public interest and concern.

Now we have the state cabinet creating a Division of Environmental Research and Protection under the Department of Natural Resources where the Executive Director, Randolph Hodges, has already won national recognition for his out-spoken fear of Florida's future environmental development.

There are, in addition, some new straws in the wind which indicate that before the November mid-term elections take place this environmental control will get a rather complete airing.

One of these was provided by State Senator Lawton Chiles of Lakeland who wants to be the Democratic candidate for the United States senate to succeed retiring Senator Spessard Holland (D).

It was in a speech at the University of Florida in Gainesville that this senator from Polk County, a "cradle of pollution" talked frankly about the very real pollution of air and water which comes from the important phosphate and pulp industries.

Two paragraphs from the text of this speech are especially useful when the thinking of Senator Chiles about the popular concern and the economic value of pollution and conservation controls is sought.

"... I am particularly happy to see a Republican administration latching on to the clean-environment theme, because I know this means the message has finally been put across that pollution control and conservation are issues that are uppermost in the people's minds. They dare not let the Democrats have the initiative."

And: "... we know that the good conservation practices and pollution controls are not just dictated by esthetic values, they are made mandatory by cold hard economic realities."

As a matter of indisputable fact, Florida is one area where steps to recognize and cope with this threat are essential and cannot be safely postponed.

At state is the entire nature of the Sunshine resident, the tourist, the industrialist and business man and — even more critically — the elected official.

We welcome this early development in the political campaign and will keep a sharp watch on the news through our national wire services, Washington columnists and vigilant local staff. On this page comments will be made, such as this, as new patterns of action are detected.

Discipline Needed

Before expecting miracles from the government in the restoration of law and order, people should take a close look at their own behavior.

A lengthy piece in a Portland, Oregon, news paper reports on the declining membership of the local Boy Scout Council. Scout leaders summarize the reasons they believe account for the decline. Many of them can be laid squarely at the door of the adult citizen. Scout officials said: "More parents are inclined to give their kids a few bucks so they can go do something on their own rather than participating in something with them."

The scout officials indicated the relative lack of discipline in today's society is a problem to scout growth. "Too often," they said, "if a scout master exercises a little discipline to maintain order, new, young scouts go home and complain to their parents. And too often the parents agree that you don't have to take that — don't go back." Too, the scout leaders pointed out, "Sometimes when a kid gets rained on or dirty during a campout, neither the scout or his parents like it — and they quit." In conclusion, the scout officials said, "more parents must realize their obligations to their communities. And if scouting is to continue to progress, they must remember the meaning of the three-finger scout symbol 'duty to God and country, to others, and to self.'"

The Boy Scouts stand for the highest principles of law, order and citizenship. Unless these principles are supported, talk of preserving law and order is just so much hot air.

Mouths Of Babes

Approves of the approaching income tax season, we pass along the following story, which we freely admit stealing from Bennett Edwards of the AMNH Record.

"It was about this time of year and a man was telling his grandson the story of Cinderella. When he had finished, the wide-eyed kid looked at him and asked, 'When the pumpkin turns into a beautiful coach, is that figured as straight income or a capital gain?'" — Charlotte (N.C.) News

Influences On Foreign Policy

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—(NEA) — The foreign policy of any president is shaped by many influences—the quality of his advisers, the actions of nations both friend and foe.

There's another, and possibly major factor—the nature of the man who lives at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

The men who work with President Nixon say it is important to remember that he was reared in a Quaker family by a mother who lived her faith in some ways, they say, Mr. Nixon is very much like John Foster Dulles, that devout Presbyterian who ruled the State Department during most of the Eisenhower administration.

Like Dulles, Mr. Nixon would like to bring about a moral consensus to bind the world in some form of stability. The White House foreign policy advisers say he is seeking not just an absence of crisis but some form of order.

But unlike Dulles, the new President's men say, Mr. Nixon is not hating his new foreign strategy for the '70s on White House aides.

Where Rogers Did Not Go

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As necessarily as some of the African nations Secretary of State William P. Rogers is visiting are some of those he is not visiting.

He visited two Arab nations, Morocco and Tunisia, but pointedly missed three others, Libya, the Arab Republic of Egypt and Sudan, all of the latter being hard-liners against Israel.

He visited Zambia but skipped neighboring Rhodesia. Among other areas he will not see are South Africa and, of course, the Portuguese provinces of Mozambique and Angola which he wouldn't see anyway because their chief of state resides in Lisbon.

But while he will not see them, all have figured prominently and perhaps a bit uncomfortably in his conversations with African leaders who seek strong measures against white minority governments controlling a majority of Black Africans.

South Africa, for example, whose apartheid policies enforce strict separation of the races, has about 10 million people of whom only 3.5 million are white.

Rhodesia has approximately 2,400,000 Europeans and 4.2 million Blacks.

Mozambique has a population of more than seven million, 80 per cent of whom are native Africans.

Angola has a population of about 4 million of whom more than five million are black.

In Zambia, Rogers sought to defuse the race issue in advance by declaring upon arrival that the United States deplored governments based on racial discrimination but "we do not believe violence is the answer."

In Kenya, the secretary of state turned aside a question about possible economic sanctions against South Africa because of apartheid legislation with a reply that the United States believed in "practical steps" but "whether that is a practical step is something I am not prepared to discuss now."

The Lighter Side

Abolishment By Program?

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—It was in 1964, as I recall, that President Lyndon B. Johnson committed the federal government to a massive "war on poverty." And everyone knows what happened.

Poverty was wiped out virtually overnight.

President Nixon came into office in 1969 pledging to reduce crime and inflation. And now that those problems have been solved, Nixon is leading a governmental campaign against environmental pollution.

Citizens who are overused in political science may wonder how the government manages to solve problems like these so quickly. The answer is that it programs them to death.

The usual ratio is 14-1 to 16 programs for every 1 problem. (This formula also makes a pretty good dry martini, incidentally.)

Citizens who are overused in political science may wonder why the government takes a multiprogram approach to national problems rather than operate on a 1-1 basis.

The answer to that is that multiprogram approach provides more opportunity for solving money.

Plucking a figure out of the smoggy air, let us say that it would cost $48 billion to eradicate pollution. Does the president then send Congress a $48 billion antipollution program?

Not if he wants to stay on good terms with Congress, he doesn't.

He knows that the main function of Congress is saving money on federal programs. And the opportunities for saving money on a single antipollution program are so fully limited.

Congress would simply cut it to $24 billion, and then it wouldn't have anything to do for the rest of the day but sort of mope around.

A smart president, recognizing the importance of keeping Congress occupied, will send it 16 $3 billion antipollution programs, thus greatly expanding the opportunities for saving money.

Either way, Congress ends up appropriating $24 billion, which is half of what is needed.

Citizens who are overused in political science may wonder why the president doesn't initially ask for $96 billion, which would enhance his chances of finally obtaining the needed $48 billion.

The answer is that if he asked for $96 billion, it would throw his budget out of balance.

Solving a problem by programming it to death may not sound very efficient, but I can assure you that it will work as well against pollution as it has against poverty, crime and inflation.

Opening Mail!

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Mothers between the ages of 16 and 35 are least likely to give birth to abnormal babies. The average is about one in a hundred. The figures against the birth of mutant war already have resulted in a treaty against atomic weapons proliferation and a ban on weapons testing in the atmosphere and space.

One river that appears to be winning the battle against pollution is London's waterway, the Thames. Half a century ago it had become so foul no fish were left in it. But within the last year, thanks to purification plant, some 42 kinds of fish have been caught in the Thames.

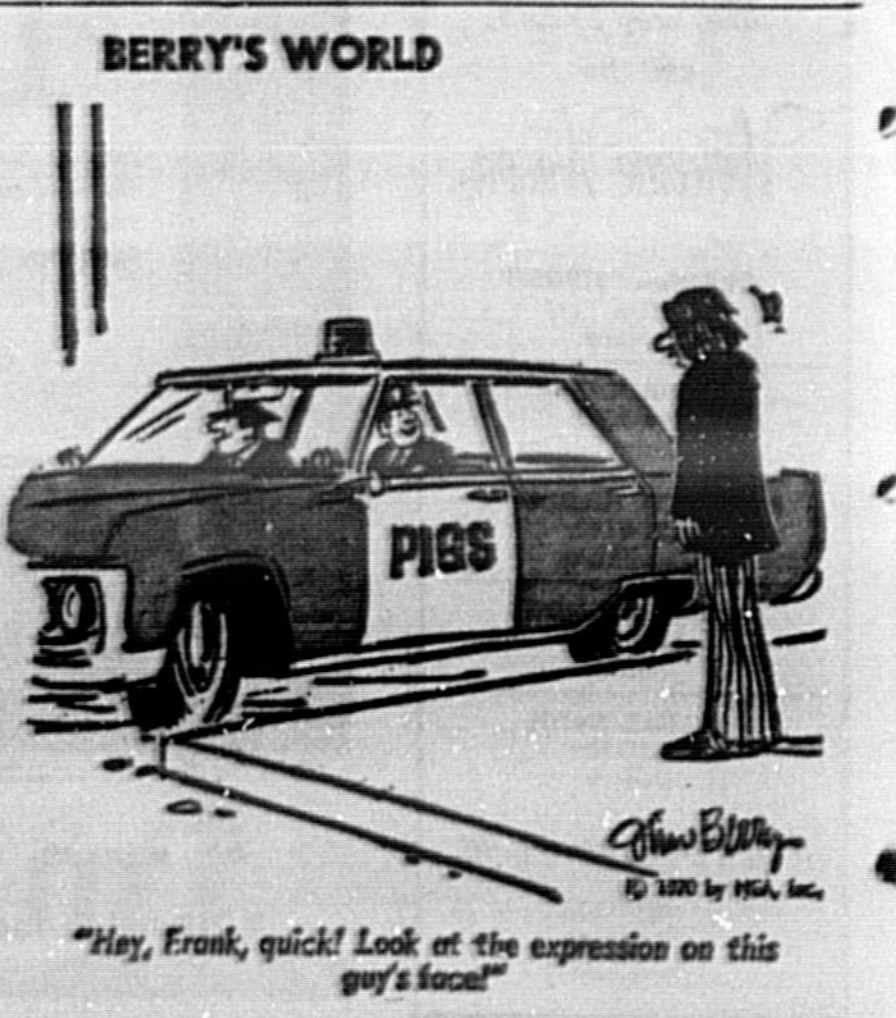

Our own campaign to keep from being choked by our own debris isn't going too well. Americans now toss away 800 million pounds of junk and trash every day and the annual cost of getting rid of it has now risen to half-billion dollars.

TO CONSTRUCT the approved eclipse viewer, take two pieces of white cardboard. Make a pinhole in one end, with the sun at your back, focus the eclipse through the pinhole board onto the second cardboard. The size of the image can be changed by altering the distance between cardboards. Never look at the eclipse directly with the naked eye, through the pinhole or through binoculars or a telescope. President Lincoln's Life Related

By MILDRED HANEY
The Deltona High-Twelve Club was honored Wednesday, Feb. 11, with guest speaker Professor Gilbert Lygan, history authority at Stetson University, author and a member of Lebanon Lodge 5, F & A.M., Washington, D. C. His subject, in keeping with the date, was a brief and most interesting story of the life of Abraham Lincoln. Professor Lygan was given an enthusiastic standing ovation by the 40 members in attendance.

Other business before the club was the induction of John Bailey into the club. Bailey was raised in Lodge 263 Summit Lodge at Summit, Mo. He was a guest at this meeting and was sponsored by Joe Dupuis.

Three other guests were introduced by their hosts, as follows: Howard E. Herbert, Sr. of Great Kills Lodge 912, Staten Island, N. Y., guest of Victor Herbert of the Deltona club; Stuart Bristol, Village Lodge 25, Collinsville, Ct., guest of Nick Costa, International Representative, C. A. Morgan, Corinthian Temple 805, Rochester, N.Y., guest of Henry Langknecht.

Past President Tom Blonchard made one of his frequent visits to the club and was recognized by the president. He journeys from Sarasota to enjoy Hi-12 fellowship.

Rev. Michael J. Kippenbrock, state president of High-Twelve associations, requested Deltona club attendance at any or all of the following meetings: March 5, Hillbore Hi-12 Club Charter Meeting; March 10, Fort Lauderdale Hi-12 Club Charter Meeting; March 12, Lakeland State Director's Meeting at Holiday Inn, North Lakeland. He also reminded the group about the April 5th Hi-12 Day at the Masonic Home in St. Petersburg and the big International Convention at Fort Lauderdale, June 21-24.

Illustrative Potentate of the Bahia Shrine Temple, Orlando, was unanimously elected to honorary membership in the Deltona Hi-12 Club.

The next regular meeting will be Wednesday, Feb. 25, at 12 noon at the Deltona Inn. The program committee advises that they are planning to obtain a speaker well versed on the timely subject of "George Washington—President, Soldier and Mason."

'You Forget (Coming Bills) And Buy'

Credit Cards 'Fine' - 'Til Bills Due

By CHARNER LEONE
So you think you've paid all of your Christmas bills, ah! You're thrifflily getting ready for income tax payoff? You've used your credit cards conservatively, and you're proud of yourself? And you're finally even with your creditors?

BankAmericard.
Master Charge.
December bills again. Faces may be long when Christmas bills arrive in February and pocketbooks may be discouragingly empty but recall the earlier joy of the words "charge it!"

The slow or delayed billing appears to be the greatest objection on the part of the new holders of the Master Charge and BankAmericard to the newly-arrived credit system. Although it has existed in other states Seminole County was deluged with the cards less than a year ago.

Many people are getting their first taste of virtually "unlimited" credit (up to $300 or $500 in most cases). The system, which appears a marvelous innovation in most cases, has not yet withstood the test of time — at least in Seminole County.

The first appraisal of Seminole County seems to be one of delight, with the slow but sure, only reservation for most people who discussed the system with The Herald. However, many did go deeper, and expressed a concern about inflation. This didn't seem to hamper the use of their credit cards, however.

"It'll be Easter before I pay for Christmas!" declared one working housewife, tongue-in-cheek. She added a psychological note. "You forget, you've got to pay for it while you're buying!"

The mother of three claims that she tried to limit her charges. "I don't go to the limit of my credit," claims the thrifty housewife. "And I use it when I don't have any other charge with me for the cash. I don't like to have these bills hanging over me."

Good, like beauty, must be in the eye of the beholder. Another mother of four, ranging in the expensive ages of 11 to 22, grinned widely. "The best thing about it is that they never get around to sending the bill!"

When it does come, however, "I'll go into shock."

She uses her charge card "occasionally" as all of the interviewees claimed they did, and she tries to pay it off all at once. "And avoid the carrying charges. Why should the bank make an even larger profit on me?"

The masculine point of view was succinctly stated by a semi-retired Sanforite who said, "The only reservation for most people who discussed the system with The Herald. However, many did go deeper, and expressed a concern about in-

Hot St. Johns Upsets Slumping Seminole JC

By TOM ALEXANDER
Herald Sports Editor

Scrappy St. Johns Junior College, after three years of trying, won their most satisfying victory last night as they nudged Seminole Junior College, 75-72 in a tight, half-raiser.

The St. John's victory coupled with Seminole's loss means that if the Vikings can best tough Florida Junior College of Jacksonville in their next divisional outing, they will be the district's second representative to the state tourney. Lake City, who is hosting the tourney, has already capped the Conference crown.

Vengeful Jax Stops FSU 5

By F. T. MACFEELEY
Associated Press Writer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Jacksonville in a ritual show-up for an NCAA basketball tournament berth after its vengeful victory over Florida State and FSU Coach Hugh Durham says the Dolphins might go all the way.

There were similarities in the two games between Florida's highest ranking college teams of all time. Both were pressure-packed from start to finish. In each case the home team led by a good margin but had to fight off a rallying foe at the finish. Defense was big each time, and foul trouble was significant.

DAVE COWENS, big center for the FSU Seminoles, grabs a rebound in a game against Rollins College earlier in the season. The Seminoles lost to Jacksonville University last night. They will be at Stetson next Thursday.

LARRY WARD seems to have his opponent suspended in mid-air as he works on defense after the unidentified player pulled down a rebound. The Raiders fell to St. Johns last night, 75-72.

Brevard Second In National Poll

Brevard Junior College of Cocoa, unbeaten in 22 outings, moved into second place in the latest national junior college poll released from Hutchinson, Kansas.

Middies To Host Conference Play

The Lake and Hills Conference tournament gets underway tonight at the Sanford Naval Academy gym. It will be a three-day tournament, with the semi-finals tomorrow night and the finals set for Saturday night.

Raider 9 Opens This Saturday

Dade City will be the site. St. Leo College freshmen the foe, when the Seminole Junior College diamond squad opens their 42-game season with a big double-header this Saturday. The first of the two games is set to get underway at 1 p.m.

Well, Well, Well. Something new on the baseball scene in Florida. Frank Purcell, president of the DeLand Sun Caps Baseball Club, newest addition to the Florida State League, has announced the appointment of Althea Strickler as executive vice president and business manager in charge of promotions.

Althea Strickler is the first woman in professional baseball, outside of Mrs. Grace Payson, owner of the New York Mets.

"As far back as I can remember, I've always been involved in sports. My earliest playmates were my four cousins, all boys, who gave me an early start on football, baseball and ice hockey. I kept up with them in all sports except the hockey, and I was always furious when they made me goaltender (and I have the scars to prove it). It made me feel pretty good when they finally accepted me and let me on their first string team. Much as I hate to admit it, I was a genuine tomboy.

"When I was married in 1948, my husband was playing semi football and I was very proud of him. He continued to play for four years until our first child, our daughter, Elsie, was born.

"During these four years also, we were 'die-hard' Philly fans. We lived 25 miles outside of Philadelphia, but we were regulars at the ball park. To us the 'whiz kids' could do no wrong. My mother-in-law, another baseball fan, knew every average of every player and all the talk around the house centered on baseball. When our first son, Robby, was born in 1954, we named him Richard after his father and Robby after Robby Roberts.

"About this time, we decided to make Florida our home, so we moved to Fort Lauderdale. Even though Pennsylvania was my birthplace, I have lived in southern Florida off and on since the conference.

In tomorrow's action, Mt. Dora Junior varsity will open the action at 3 p.m. against Florida Central Academy. At 4:30 the Middle Jvs, tops in their conference at 7-1, will play the winner of the Howey-Montverde battle. The two winners will meet Saturday at 7 p.m. At 7 p.m. tomorrow night, Montverde, 6-4 in conference play, will have their hands full against Howey Academy, undefeated at 7-0 p.m. The two winners will meet at 8:30 p.m. Saturday for the conference title.

Jack McKenney will manage the Omaha Royals for the second straight year in 1970. His team won the American Association pennant last year.

Shula joins two elder statesmen of pro football in the owner-coach class — Vince Lombardi of the Washington Redskins and Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals.

Miami's managing general partner, Joe Robbie, announced Wednesday night that he was firing George Wilson as Miami coach and replacing the ousted 46-year-old chief with handsome, young Shula. Wilson will be offered another job in the Dolphins organization.

"It's obvious to me that Miami wants a winner," said Shula. "I don't have any magic formula. I'm not a finesse man. I've always been straight in seven seasons at Baltimore.

"As for me personally, I am most happy when I am around people and meeting people. Possibly the turning point in my life was when I was in baseball when I was 17. I found that the lovely lady who sat next to me in our church choir, was Jane Ann Jones Lybarger, Branch Rickey's secretary for some years. We had many interesting talks about her experiences in baseball.

"When the minor league meetings were held recently in Fort Lauderdale, I was very honored when they asked me to sit in as a secretary for the Pacific Coast League meetings. It was most interesting and a pleasure meeting Mr. Bill McKechnie, Jr., the president of that league and all the representatives from the various clubs in the league.

"I'm the type of person who cannot be happy unless I'm extremely busy, but when I have a few extra moments, my favorite relaxation is my music. I have quite a collection of records, mostly choir and church music. My Mormon Tabernacle records are my favorites. Of course, I love pop music also. My favorite entertainer being one Colbie Butler who will appear as an entertainer at the ballpark during the season, and he's great."

To Althea we wish the best of luck. But we also wish a successful season to Mr. Purcell and his new DeLand Sun Caps. It's only a short drive to Central Park in DeLand. Ticket sales are going on now. For further information, contact the Sun Caps office at (904) 736-1850.

A 'Money' Situation

MIAMI (AP) — It was clearly money that convinced Don Shula to shake aside the prominent Baltimore Colts to coach a Miami team that has been nothing but a loser.

"Immediate and substantial interest in the Dolphins came to me to leave the Colts," said the 40-year-old Shula. "Being active in ownership while still coaching is something I've always wanted."

The major league players started arriving at the site of the spring training camps, and we are just a few days away from the opening of the "Grapefruit Season."

Pitchers and catchers were the first in the camps and the rest of the squad will be arriving soon. An exhibition game will give you a chance to see some of the big stars in action. The Minnesota Twins will play their home games there, and almost every team will be in Orlando for a game.

Racers Zoom At Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — (UPI) — Two short races today that could be the fastest ones ever run at the Daytona Speedway will kick off a long weekend of stock car competition climaxed by Sunday's $198,500 Daytona 500.

Drivers seeking high starting positions in the Sunday race expect to hit better than 200 miles an hour over the track's long straights and average as high as 180 m.p.h.

Cale Yarborough of Timmons,ville, S. C., already has won the pole position for the 500-mile race with a record qualifying run of 194.013 m.p.h. in a 1969 Mercury Cyclone. Buddy Baker of Charlotte, N. C., won the outside row starting position with a 192.625 m.p.h. performance in an old Dodge Daytona.

Also favored despite how he does in today's qualifying races, will be LeRoy Yarborough of Columbia, S. C., who won both the Daytona 500 and the July 4th Firecracker 400 here last year. He will be driving a 1969 Ford Talladega.

Also among the top drivers are Ford Drivers David Pearson, Donnie Allison and A. J. Foyt, and Dodge and Plymouth racers Richard Petty, Charlie Glotzbach and Bobby Isaac.

Yarborough and Baker, under Daytona rules, only have to start the qualifying races, then can drop out to save their cars.

"I'm not sure yet whether we will ever run the full race," said Yarborough, still recuperating from a shoulder injury suffered in a Texas speedway wreck in December. "We might not want to take a chance with the car."

Jr. High Tournament At Milwee Gym Tonight

Milwee Junior High, home of the Fighting Spartans, will play host to this year's county basketball tournament with the first round of the ninth grade tournament getting under way tonight.

Tonight's opening game pits Sanford Junior High against the eighth grade champions of the eighth grade battle.

The Baby Braves are favored in the eighth grade battle. They have only suffered one loss all season and they have a team capable of winning the championship. For the Braves' ninth grade team it will be a little harder. They have had a tough season, and they will have to work hard to win the championship.

Sanford Junior High has beaten South Seminole twice this year, but the second time was by a slim three-point margin. The Hurricanes will be evened out by the Braves. Orlando has also beaten Milwee two times. They are favored to win the tournament as they have beaten each team in the tournament twice.

Would Strike Power Of Courts Solon Hits 'Forced Busing'

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — South senators, flushed with a major victory in their fight to slow down Dixie school desegregation, sought today to strike the power of federal courts to order busing to achieve integration.

Pending as the Senate resumes its two-week-old debate on the multimillion dollar education bill was an amendment of Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., stating simply that no court or federal agency would have the power to order such busing.

This proposal appeared to have less support than the amendment which gave the South its first big civil rights victory in years Wednesday with the 68-30 adoption of a provision by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., to provide a uniform national policy on school desegregation.

Stennis expressed far greater interest in the more direct relief the Ervin proposal offered. Stennis commented he would not expect any great immediate things to happen in the North as the result of this amendment. But he and other Southerners made it quite clear they hoped it would exert enough pressure on the North to slow down the school integration drive all over the nation.

Civil rights supporters who moved against legal segregation in Southern school systems. However, some Dixie senators exceeded the victory might be more psychological than real.

The rider requires the government to attack neighborhood school desegregation in the North as vigorously as it has moved against legal segregation in Southern school systems.

County, Landowner Hassle On Rezoning

By MARION BETHA
The vacating and abandoning of Seminole Boulevard was not the only item in controversy at Tuesday's meeting of the County Commission.

During public hearings, a request to rezone property south of Howell Branch Road and east of Lake Howell Road from A-1 and R-1A to R-3 was made by a representative of E. Pope Bassett, owner Jim Russell, president of United Associates, stated that his concern plans to erect an apartment complex on the property comprising 214 units.

Of these 12 will be efficiencies, 68 one-bedroom, 126 two-bedroom, 18 three-bedroom and 35 townhouses. Russell cited the density as 14.1 units per acre with two spaces per apartment for parking.

Commissioner Dan Pelham was concerned with the possibility of four-laning of Howell Branch Road in the future and the right-of-way involved.

Chairman J. O. B. Alexander stated that he "ain't" about to rezone for apartments where there might be a future right-of-way in question.

Russell agreed that a setback might be amenable to the developers, but that it was inequitable to expect that his concern would donate the right-of-way. Russell agreed to a sufficient setback from the property in the event of four-laning of the road in order that the buildings would not be within the right-of-way.

Commissioners were advised that a 100-foot right-of-way would be sufficient for the four-laning, which would encompass 50 feet on each side from the existing center. In this case an additional 25-foot right-of-way would be necessary, which Russell contended was unfair. The rezoning was approved, however after a 2-1 vote. Alexander voted against the request, Pelham and Edward Yarborough voted "aye" and Greg Drummond abstained, since his firm had an interest in the property. This raised the question of correct parliamentary and legal procedure with the absence of Robert Parker, County Attorney.

Harold Johnson advised that it was a sufficient majority.

A request also was made for rezoning from A-1 to R-1 on property located north of Charlotte Street and west of SR 427. Robert Culton, petitioner, stated that Honita Boat Works wished to move to Longwood and erect a 30,000 square foot plant on the property. Culton advised that this would be impossible unless the property was rezoned. Alexander was concerned with drainage on the property in which he said that the developer might later hold the property. Volusia Buses Most Pupils

By JOHN VAN GIESON
Associated Press Writer
School officials moved quickly Tuesday to capitalize on a court decision upholding neighborhood schools, but the Volusia County school board rejected a proposal to redesign its school system.

The board decided not to return to a neighborhood school concept in Volusia, which is busing more pupils because of February court orders than any other county in Florida.

"It could result only in segregation of schools we've integrated successfully," the board said.

But the board decided to continue its appeal to the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals of the decision requiring busing of pupils to and away from three previously all-black schools.

The appeal, if successful, would allow some of the white pupils being bused to the formerly all-black schools to return to schools closer to their homes.

Gov. Claude Kirk urged Florida school officials to base desegregation plans on the neighborhood school concept approved by the appellate court Tuesday in an Orange County decision.

The governor halted the ruling as a dual victory in the fight to preserve neighborhood schools and to halt busing of pupils to comply with federal court desegregation orders.

"The circuit court has recognized the neighborhood school concept as the best environment in which to achieve sound educational opportunities for all," he said.

"Furthermore," Kirk said, "by recognizing the neighborhood school organization, the court, in my opinion has clearly rejected the concept of forced busing as having any relationship to achieving quality education."

Kirk, who was in New Jersey visiting his injured son Will, issued the statement through his capital office. The boy was hurt in a game at his prep school.

"I am urging all district boards operating under court-ordered plans to consider submitting a new plan to the courts before next September consistent with the guidelines set forth in the Orange County decision," the governor said.

School officials in some counties needed no prompting, however.

School board attorney George Bolos of Dade County said the decision amounted to a reversal of U.S. District Judge C. Clyde Atkins decision that the county's latest desegregation plan was unconstitutional.

The Dade plan overturned by Atkins called for 21 all-black schools that officials contended were neighborhood schools.

The appeals court ruled that Orange County could maintain three of 11 previously all-black schools in neighborhoods that it recognized as all-black because of housing patterns.

Manatee County school board attorney Dave Dietrich said the Orange decision would play a part in an appeal of that county's April desegregation order.

Unitary School System To Cause Loss Of Aid

* Continued From Page 1
The bulk of this money goes to the economically deprived children, of whom the majority are black." Stenstrom said the black children would be the ones to suffer from the HEW decision to withhold funds.

The HEW official pointed out in his decision: "There is nothing in the record to remotely indicate any complaint by either a student or a parent in involving this freedom of choice plan and nothing to remotely indicate the school district has failed to honor any assignment request."

Dern continued, "On the record evidence, it is evident from student attendance alone, the school district does not have a unitary system; however, this will not prevent the school district from receiving federal financial assistance unless a particular federal program is limited or administered in a discriminatory basis."

Is Wallace Out?

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Republican National Committee, thinks the nation is moving toward a resolution of its racial problems that will eliminate George Wallace as a presidential candidate in 1972.

In an interview with the Associated Press, Rogers C. B. Morton said the policies of the Nixon administration are leading toward a better environment in which there will be less segregated community patterns.

Morton said neither major political party can take comfort from the fact that more and more Americans are registering as independents. Both parties—specifically his own—need to re-examine themselves and find a new sense of mission, he said.

Morton, who also is a congressman from Maryland, said he knows of no plans for President Nixon to go on a political barnstorming tour this year on behalf of Republican candidates.

And the plight of the Democratic party concerning him, he said, because it might lead to government intervention in the financing of political campaigns.

4 Choppers Crash, 19 Die

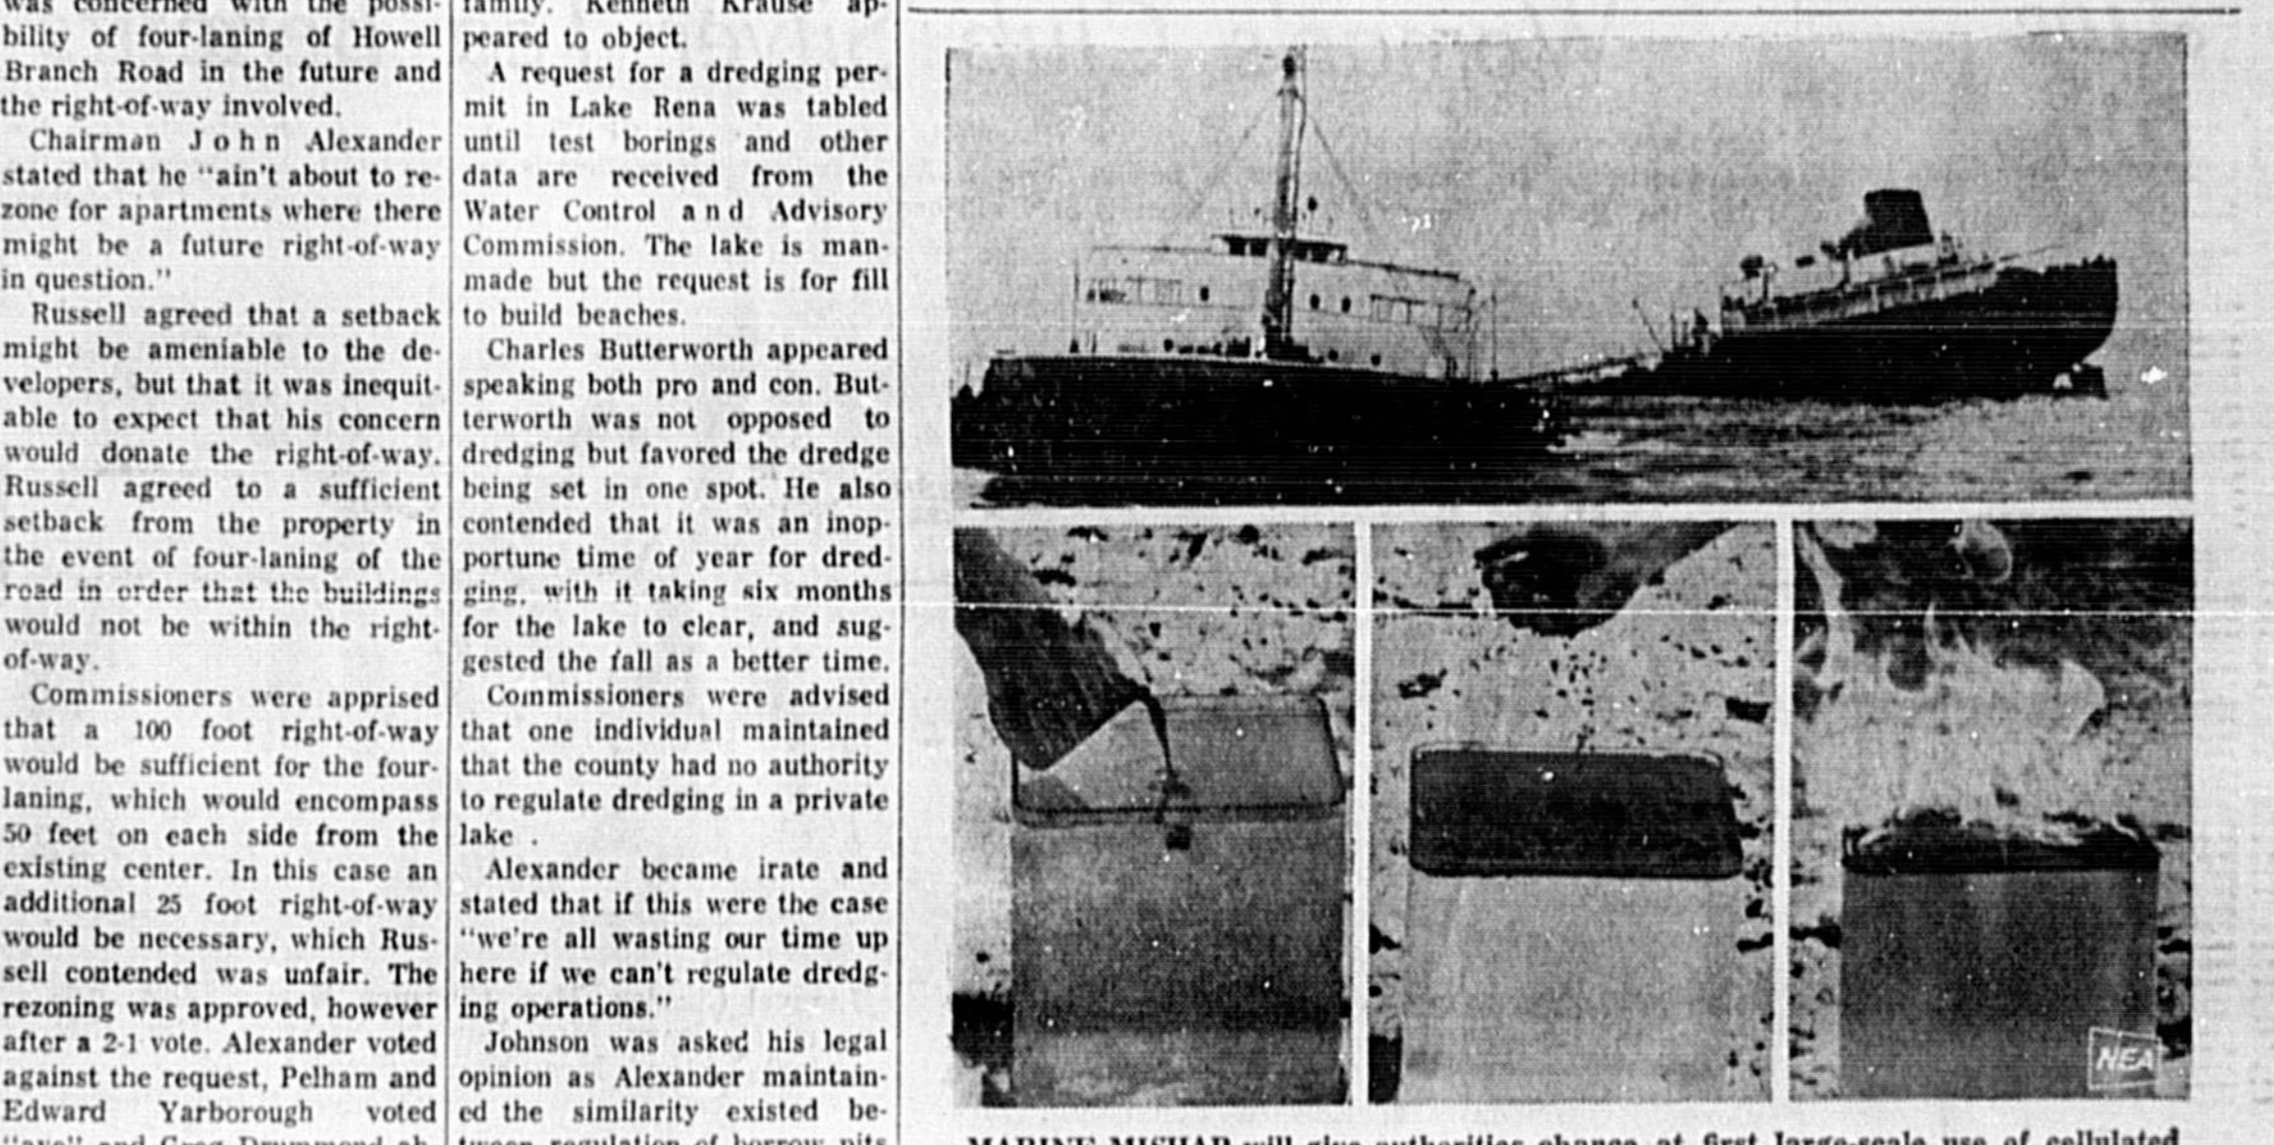

By WALTER WHITEHEAD
SAIGON (UPI)—The United States resumed B52 missions in Vietnam today and reported 19 American GIs killed and nine injured in four helicopter crashes.

Military sources at the same time said terrorists aiming at American soldiers bombed a theater in the Central Highlands city of Da Lat Wednesday night, killing 10 Vietnamese and injuring 43 others. None of the GIs in a 20-room U.S. billet above the theater was hurt.

The B52s had suspended Vietnam strikes for more than 40 hours to join in the U.S. air armada trying to crush the North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao drive in the Plain of Jars in Laos.

They came back in Vietnam this morning to bomb guerrilla troop concentrations in the Seven Sisters Mountains 125 miles southwest of Saigon and in the Central Highlands.

Guerrilla ground fire shot down two of the downed helicopters and two others crashed because of mechanical trouble.

MARINE MISHAP will give authorities chance at first large-scale use of cellulated glass beads to remove oil from water. The offshore Liberian tanker Arrow, top, lies in two sections after grounding off Nova Scotia. Shuttlers plan to tow stern out to sea and sink it. How will be gutted by fire and beads will be used to burn off oil. The porous beads float, allowing oil to seep up to the surface in a wick action, burning off on top while glass insulates flame from the heat-sink effect of cold ocean. Bottom photos demonstrate principle: Oil is added to water, left, then beads, center, which are ignited, right, burning off oil by capillary action.

Christian Puts Blame Onto Governor Kirk

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk torpedoes $164.8 million out of the education budget "because of his personal dislike for me," Education Commissioner Floyd Christian charged Wednesday.

"To punish our schools and our school children because of his personal dislike for me is unbelievably petty," Christian said.

The Republican governor and the Democratic commissioner have been at odds for some time. Kirk charged repeatedly during the continuing school desegregation controversy that Christian was doing nothing.

At one point the governor said Christian was as "useless as a hip pocket on a hog."

"Although his actions were not completely unexpected," Christian said, "it is appalling to hear him say that the amount he recommended for education would have been higher had he been able to get rid of me and make my job appointive."

In a release attacking Kirk's education budget cuts, Christian repeated previous charges that the governor is motivated by political considerations.

"In his zeal to be able to say 'new laws' he proposes, in effect, that we shut our eyes to the education needs of the youth and adults of our state, and that we put off the programs until tomorrow," he said.

Christian charged that the governor's budget "ignores all the needs of education in Florida—and puts them off again for another day—at least, that is, until after the next election."

"He charges the schools with lack of innovation," Christian said. "Yet he cut out proposed programs which are innovative, such as $1.25 million for the Educational Research and Development Center and $32.5 million for tax equalization."

Don Graham Heads Toastmasters

Sanford realized its first toastmasters club when the Charter was turned over by Hugh Burgay, Dist. 47 Governor, to Don Graham, local club president. Governor Burgay charged the local members to remember the most important word to a successful organization — FUN. There has to be some fun in everything or you soon get tired of it, the Governor noted.

Emerson Dobbs installed the new officers and informed them of some of the benefits of Toastmasters: "Something for self, community and hopefully, something for mankind." Other notables present were John Diaz, International Director, and Charles Swan, past Director, and Area Governor Garland Bell of Winter Park.

Charter Officers of the new club are: President, Don Graham; Vice President, E. L. Jackson; Education Vice President, John Morris; Secretary, Alex Ferraris; Treasurer, A. D. McAllister and Sgt.-at-Arms, Larry Payton.

The balance of the Charter membership consist of: John Cash, Ron Morris, Charles Buttermore, Gordon Meyer, Judge

Woman's Club Silver Tea Benefits Cerebral Palsy

Dan Cupid was the theme of Club, held at the Community Center on Sunday, Feb. 1. A donation of nearly $100 will be forwarded to the CP Clinic as a result of this worthwhile endeavor.

It was unfortunate that the tea had to be scheduled for the same day as the CP Telethon, which made it impossible for a visit from any CP personnel, but Mrs. Anthony Wisniewski stepped into the breach and commented on Cerebral Palsy's causes, treatment and aims, while her husband showed slides provided by the clinic.

Mrs. Wisniewski added her own personal views on the worthwhile results being accomplished at the Little Red School House in Sanford, and urged all to visit and see the operations as well as the children who are being helped in so many ways through therapy treatments offered.

The tea table was a gourmet's delight with the many sandwiches and cookies offered, and Mrs. Reider Anderson and Mrs. Gaston Bridges, co-chairmen and their committee made up of Mesdames Roy Delaplaine, Clarence Martin, Edward Fellabum, Edward Natrass, Frank Frazier, Edward McHenry, Joseph O'Brien and Lemuel Charles, are to be complimented on the results of their many hours of work in the preparations of the goodies.

Several persons received door prizes which included the lovely floral centerpiece donated by the Station Flower Shop, Deltona Rexall Drugs, DeHuy Jewelers and committee members.

Woman's Club Group Gathers For Valentine Dinner Party

FESTIVITY was the order of the evening at a Valentine dinner party at Lui Club for American Home Department of Sanford Woman's Club. Hostesses for the party are seated, from left, Mrs. Charles C. Kauffman, Mrs. A. C. McReynolds, Mrs. S. J. Davis, Jr., chairman, and Mrs. William Kirk. Standing, Mrs. James McKee, Mrs. Walter Steele and Mrs. Warren E. Knowles.

The American Home Department of Sanford Woman's Club met at Lui Club, Feb. 14, at 7:30 p.m. for their annual Valentine dinner for members and their husbands. A delicious steak dinner with all the trimmings including cherry tarts was enjoyed by the group. A Valentine motif was used in decorations with individual tables overlaid with red and white cloths. Club members added red geraniums and red hearts attached to the walls and other vantage spots. One red heart was attached to the bottom of a dessert plate and the lucky winner, Richard Holtzclaw, was awarded a prize for being served the Valentine dessert.

Following the dinner, games were played, including the "Favorite Lovers' Game" where guests matched favorite lovers of history from Gansson and Dellah to Gov. and Mrs. Claude Kirk. A slip of paper was presented to each table of four and as a group they were asked to compose a Valentine verse of poetry. One member at each table was then required to read their composition.

Members enjoying the delightful evening were Mrs. S. J. Davis, Jr., chairman of the dinner committee, and her husband and other committee members and their husbands, Mrs. A. C. McReynolds, Mrs. W. L. Kirk, Mrs. James McKee, Mrs. Charles C. Kauffman, Mrs. Warren Knowles and Mrs. Walter E. Steele.

Louise Maynard, Charles W. Lansing Married in Double Ring Ceremony

Mrs. Louise Maynard and Charles W. Lansing were united in Holy Matrimony, Feb. 14, at 8:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, Orlando.

Official minister at the candlelight, double ring ceremony was Rev. Jack Taylor. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. F. Charles Maynard Sr., Orlando, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Esther B. Lansing, Altamonte Springs.

Church decorations included several candleabra entwined with ivy. Mrs. Becky Chapman organist, presented the traditional nuptial selections and wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, F. Charles Maynard Jr., wore a pure white gown designed in simple elegance of silk shantung in a modified princess A-line silhouette featuring front scooped neckline lowered in back and encircled with a deep elbow length imported Venice lace collar. The train was a circular brush Chappel length.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Executive Club at Gold Key Inn, Orlando. Decorations were carried out in a St. Valentine's Day theme.

The couple left for a wedding trip in New Smyrna Beach. For traveling Mrs. Lansing chose a beige and white A-line dress with Peter Pan collar and the white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

When they return the couple will be at home at 504 Tivoli Court, La Floresta, Altamonte Springs, Fla.

Polish Refugee To Review Communism At Meeting

By MILDRED HANEY
At the next regular meeting of the DeBary Women's Club on Friday, Feb. 20, at 2 p.m. to be held at the DeBary Community Center, Mrs. Charles Cressney, program chairman will introduce Mrs. Jan Kosowski of DeLand, who will give a talk on Communism.

Mrs. Kosowski was born and educated in Poland, lived there until 1940. She was in Hungary during World War II and in 1946 she escaped from Poland to Italy, then to England, and in 1953 came to the United States.

A writer and translator in Washington Information Department, she's also a correspondent and translator for the Polish people who are in London.

She has lived in DeLand 10 years and has two children, a daughter attending Stetson University and a son at Jacksonville Prep School. Her husband is employed by Sherwood Medical Industries, Inc.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is in reply to the woman who said that the month when her son was lying dead in Viet Nam was better off than she, whose 16-year-old son was sick, dirty, living hand to mouth and used drugs.

I ran a drug treatment program called RAP (Recognize All Potential) which deals primarily with adolescent and college-age drug users. Many of them are sick and dirty, living hand to mouth.

When I read them the mother's letter about her son, I was shocked and sick, but pretended I didn't see them. I tried to put it out of my mind. Now this morning when I went into his pants pocket to get a dollar for my found more pictures just like the first. I wasn't appreciative, but I had always gone into my husband's pants pockets with his knowledge and permission.

When I mentioned it to my husband, he said that some carry pictures like that around. They're not carry stuff like that. He never used to act this way. Please answer soon.

DEAR WANTS: Only the emotionally immature would look twice at such pictures. If you husband "never used to act this way," perhaps he is undergoing some personality change due to a physical illness. Ask your doctor. It's "normal" for curious little boys, but not for grown men.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 26-year-old woman, unmarried. I live with my father. Dad is 62 and has been divorced from my mother for several years.

DEAR ABBY: I guess my problem is a very common one as my husband says all

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, FEB. 20, 1970
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a day that calls for caution. It can bring a great deal of confusion into your life. Because of the oncoming Full Moon, you could commit yourself for some time to a comprehensive course of action that you will soon wish you had done nothing about. Study the fine print in any deals presented to you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)
 You are highly elated over some new plan that you think can make you rich quick, but think it over very carefully. Then put it aside. Make sure you don't spend too much for recreation today, either.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)
 You are not able to discuss home affairs properly now since you have the wrong impression, ideas, so wait for a better time. Don't hold a grudge so long. Let it go and it will take care of itself.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)
 Avoid accidents by being careful in motion and be most careful in handling some problem with an associate. Go over any letters, etc., for errors. Make sure that you get those reports out early.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)
 You are able to take care of that momentary irritation now, but it would be best to wait until the new week before you commit yourself to anything that business people could make an error. Be alert for an arch.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)
 Although you feel that you may be correct, do not try to force your views on others, even though you only want to help. Compliment a personal friend and deepen friendship. Evening can be very happy for you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)
 Keep busy at your work even though there are delays and you get ahead just the same. A friend who is in trouble needs your assistance. Give it willingly. Be careful of strangers who have their eyes on your purse.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
 Good pals are too busy with own affairs to give you much support with some plan you have, and this is fortunate. It is not worthwhile, anyway. Get busy on important work. Forget the social right now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
 You will find it impossible to get backing for some project you have today, so do not pursue as yet. Keep busy at regular job. Do nothing that will make others think you are not a good citizen.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
 Don't be so impatient and you will find that some work you are doing in the course of time, but you have to do more work on it. Show that you are broad-minded. Let your mind work on a latent level.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
 Don't forget your responsibilities to run off on tangents. You will lose out in both directions.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
 You had better simply listen to what associates have to say since the planets are with them now. Hide your time. Be on the alert for the smugging condition that may manifest itself. Resolve intelligently.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
 Better get right down to that work ahead of you even though you may find it boring or even in the wrong mood. Be conscientious. Don't run roughshod over ideas that co-workers may have. Listen.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
 ...he or she should be taught not to act in an imperious fashion, but to listen to others, to be reasonable and to learn more that way. However, be sure to praise where praise is deserved. Use a gentle manner. Much can be accomplished throughout the lifetime, if given the right education. Teach to be on time for appointments.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jacoby and Son

Old Bridge World subscribers never die or drop their subscriptions. Back in 1967, this issue was from Europe to suggest the proper line of play by South. His letter was probably lost in the mails because there was no reply in it. Edgar Kaplan reprinted the article in his 40th anniversary issue and Mr. Feur wrote again from Jamaica, N.Y., in the hope that the correct analysis would finally be printed.

In the article, South made the hand by getting East to make the sort of mistake that only a near-expert would make. Mr. Feur's method, as finally printed in the magazine, makes the hand by sheer power. Here is his line of play:

South takes his ace of clubs. Now South ruffs, plays out one high trump and continues with the ace and king of clubs. If clubs break, he draws the last trump and claims. Clubs don't break, but East has four clubs and the long trump, so South gets to ruff his side of clubs in dummy and then claims.

What was the line of play used by the declarer in the article? He cashed two rounds of trumps and then led the deuce of clubs. East won with the seven-spot and came to the conclusion that South's hand included three clubs to the ace and a small heart. In that case, any return but a heart would subject West to a simple squeeze, so East led with the seven and will probably discard his nine of clubs.

DEAR POLLY: Mrs. E. B. wanted to know if it is safe to use melted frost on the refrigerator instead of distilled water in steam iron. It can be used on one condition and this is that no liquids or foods of any kind have been spilled in the freezing compartment. DEAR POLLY—My large chest-type freezer no longer works as such. I would like to convert it to a storage chest for blankets and so on. I wonder if any of the readers have done this and how it worked—EVELYN

Beauty after Forty

The National Hair Fashion Show in New York brought out the fact that to wear the new soft hairstyles you must have a superb haircut.

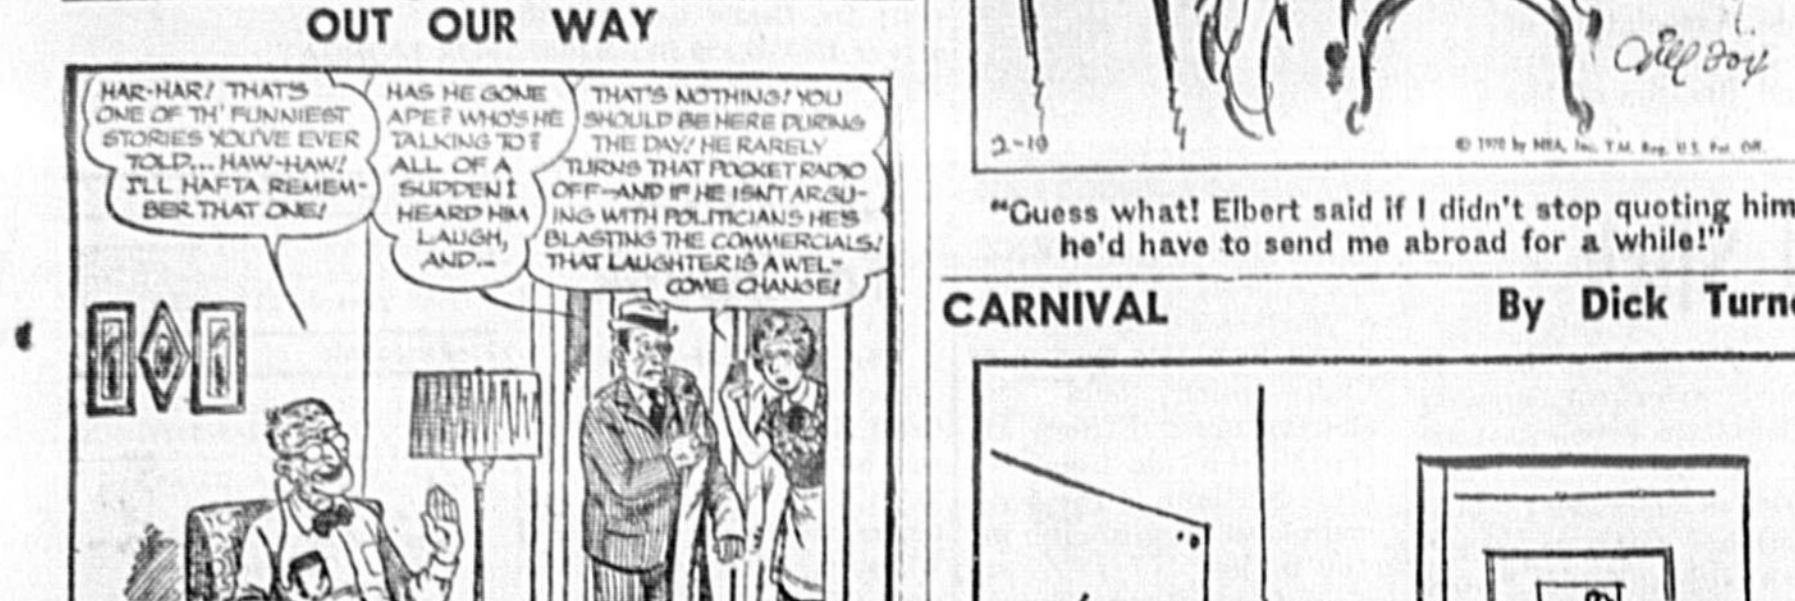

Then you can have soft curls one day and make waves the next. And you should have a permanent wave which is selected for you by your hairdresser. AND, to have that lovely soft look for your hair you must take very good care of it. The National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association predicts the hair styles and creates them. They use hair pieces, switches and falls to create special styles.

There is the look of the thirties in the newly created styles. And you can wear a soft, successfully, the softness of hair at the center is very flattering.

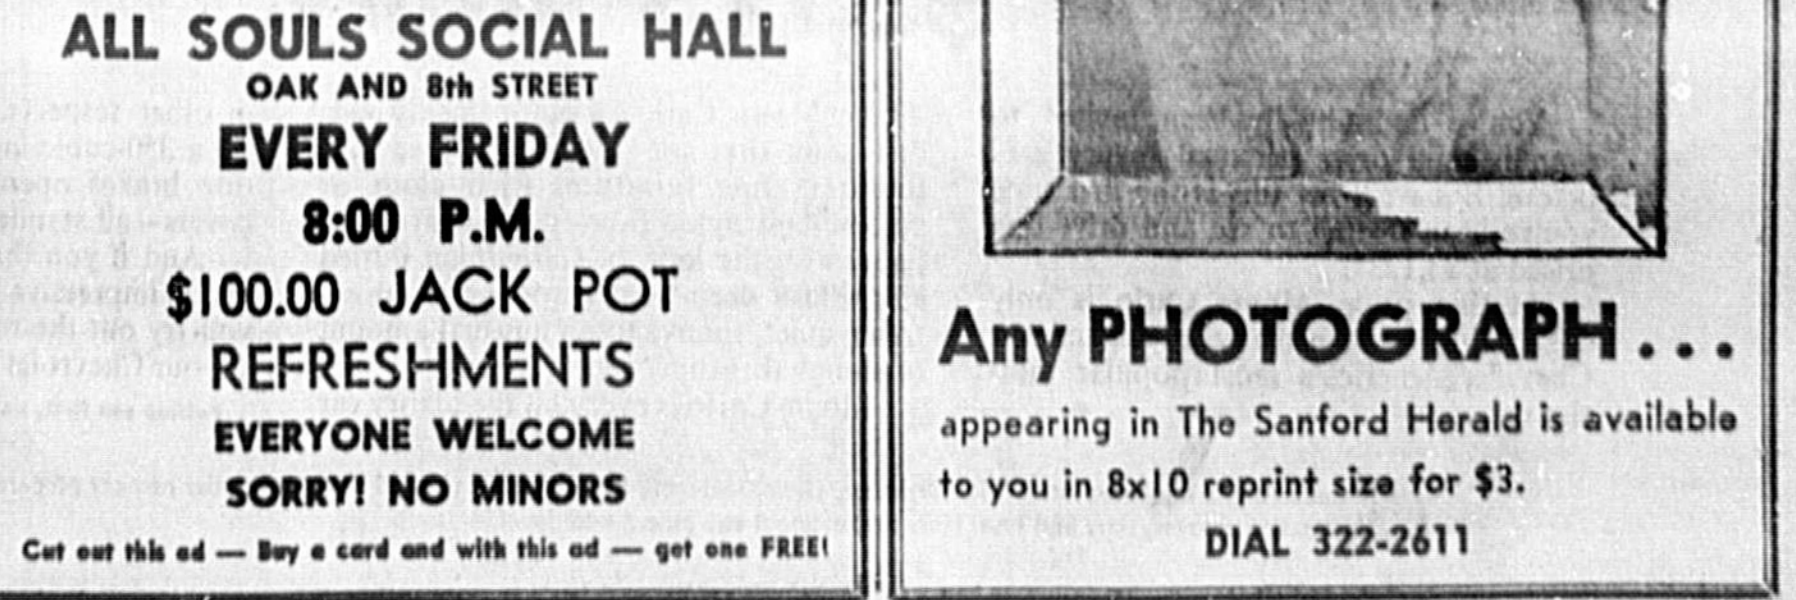

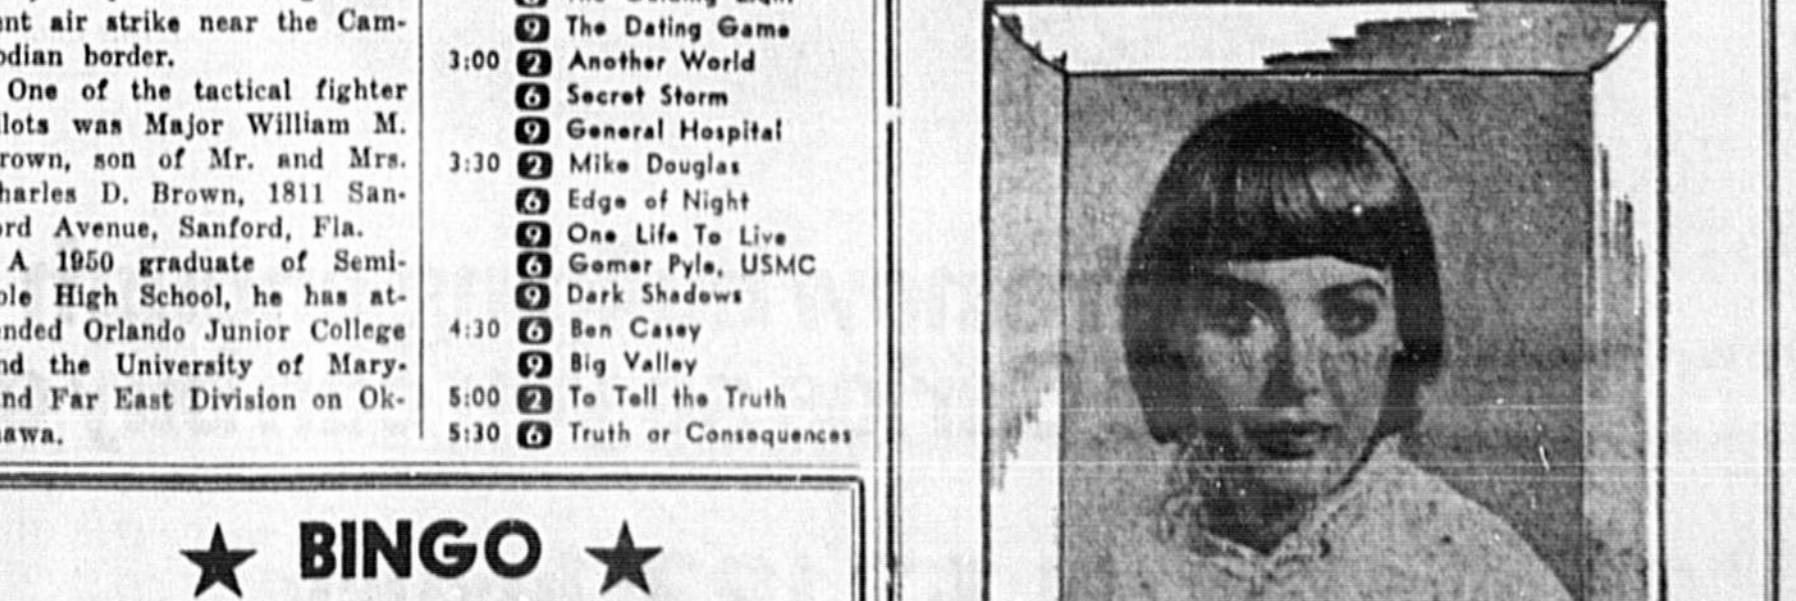

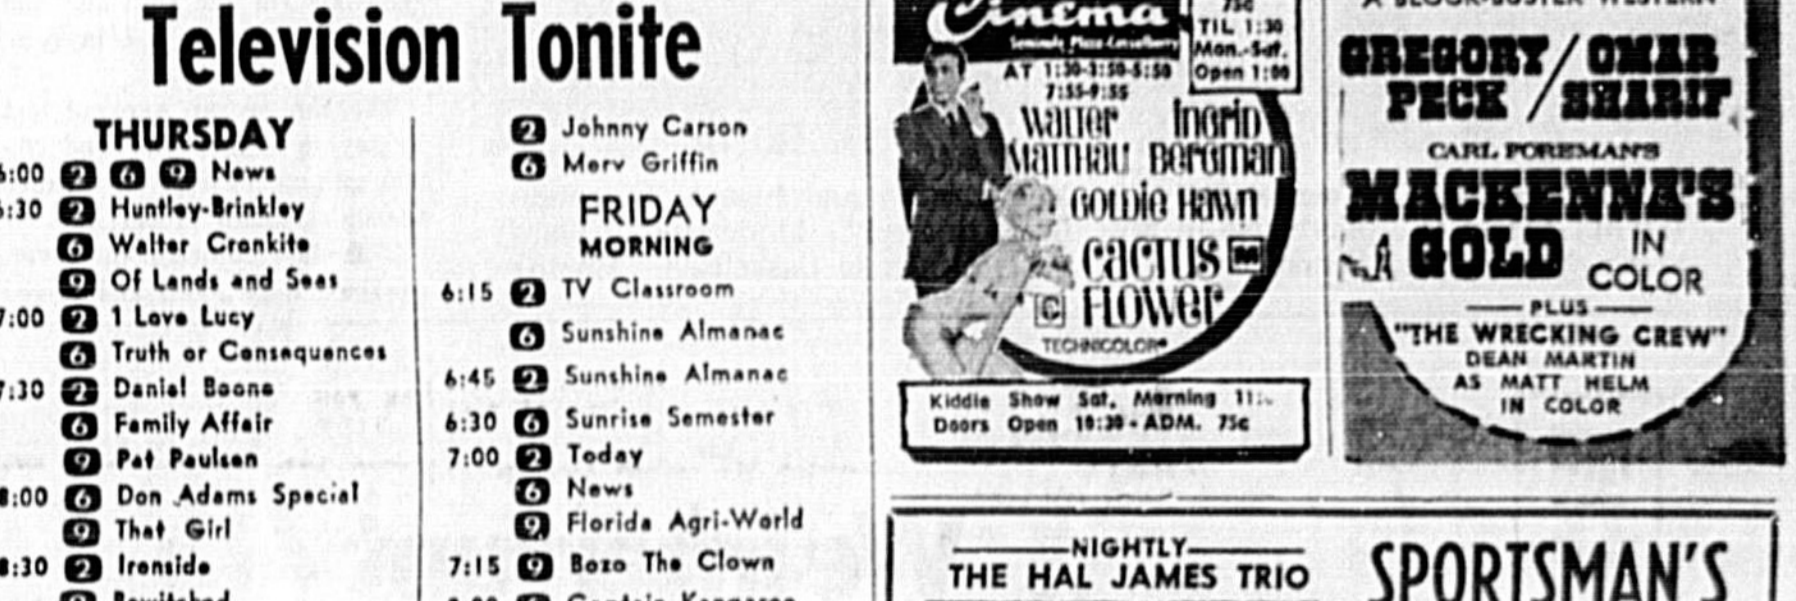

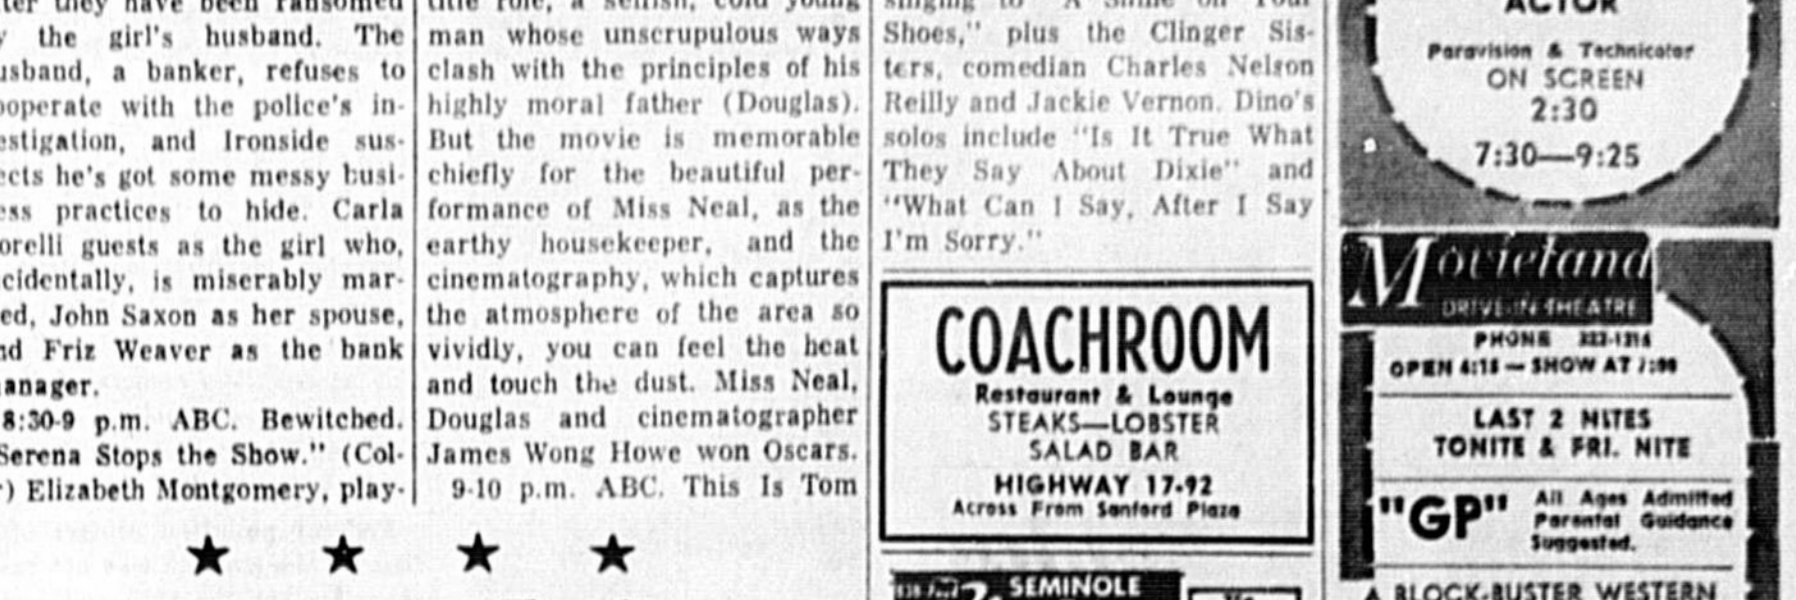

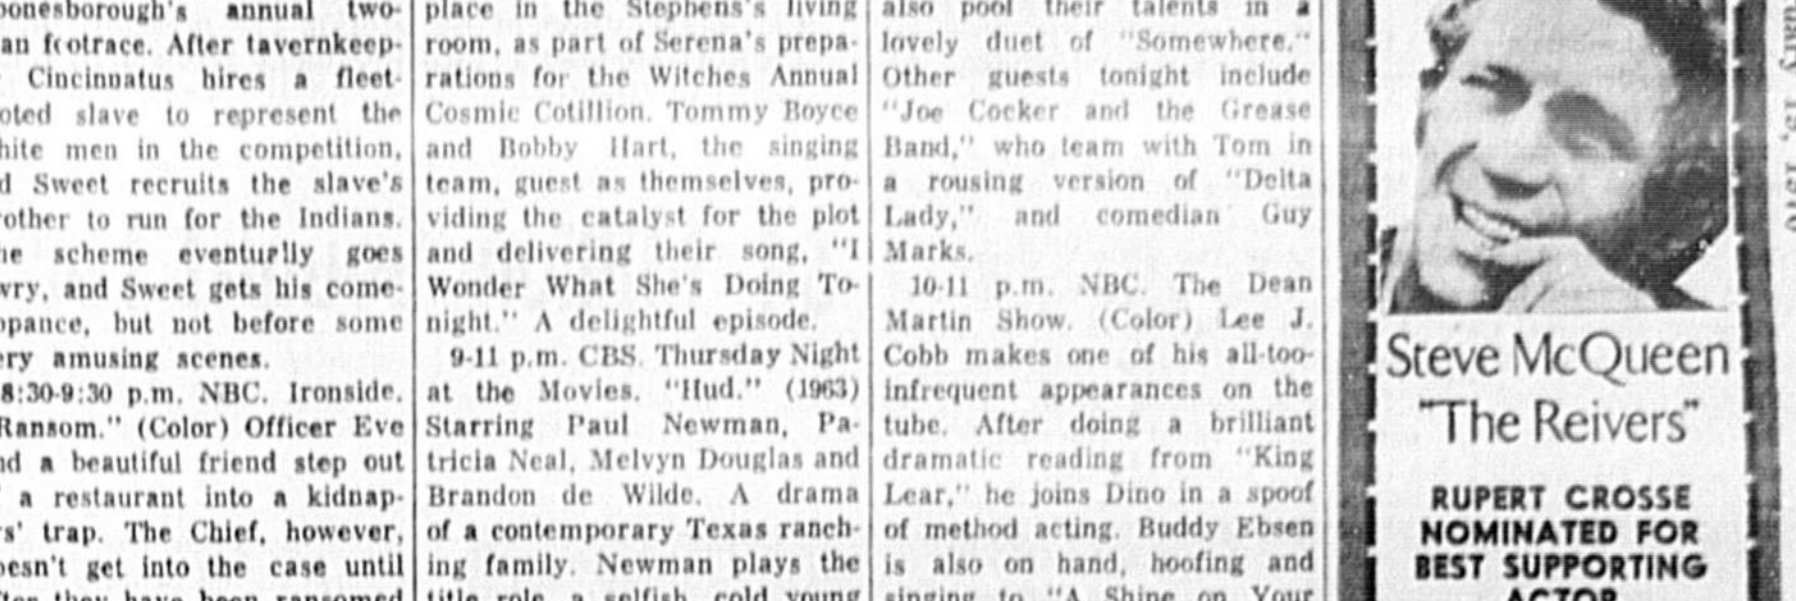

There are three styles which are most popular, one called "The Soft Fluffy Coffin," this has sty curls brushed up and away at the sides. The Soft Fluffy Coffin's easy wave

Highlights TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. Color "Run the Money" (Dorothy Stratten) stars as the keeper Sweet, a wily con who ups the betting odds in Hoover's annual two-man tussle. After taveresports Cincinnati hires a fleet-footed slave to represent the white men in the competition, Old Sweet recruits the slave's brother to run for the Indians. The scheme eventually goes awry, and Sweet gets his comeuppance, but not before some very amusing scenes.

8:30-9:30 p.m. NBC. Inroads, "Ransom" (Color) Officer Eve and a beautiful friend step out of a restaurant into a kidnappers' trap. The chief, however, doesn't get into the case until after they have been ransomed by the girl's husband. The husband, a banker, refuses to cooperate with the police's investigation, and Inroads suspects the same money business as the girl, Carla Borrelli, guesses to hide. Carla Borrelli, incidentally, is miserably married, John Saxon as her spouse, and the Weaver as the bank manager.

8:30-9 p.m. ABC. Bewitched, "Serena Steps the Show." (Color) Elizabeth Montgomery, playing Samantha's naughty cousin, Serena, does indeed stop the show. Backed by psychedelic lights, she sings and dances her way through "I'll Blow You a Kiss in the Wind." It all takes place in the Stephens's living room, as part of Serena's preparation for the Wilches Annual Cosmic Collation. Tommy Boyce and Bobby Hart, the singing team, guest as themselves, providing the catalyst for the plot and delivering their song, "I Wonder What She's Doing Tonight." A delightful episode.

9:11 p.m. CBS. Thursday Night at the Movies, "Hud." (1961) Starring Paul Newman, Patricia Neal, Melvyn Douglas and Brandon de Wilde. A drama of method acting. Buddy Ebsen is also on hand, hooding the title role, a selfish, cold young man whose unscrupulous ways clash with the principles of his highly moral father (Douglas). But the movie is memorable chiefly for the beautiful performance of Miss Neal, as the earthy housekeeper, and the cinematography, which captures the atmosphere of the area so vividly, you can feel the heat and touch the dust. Miss Neal, Douglas and cinematographer James Wong Howe won Oscars.

9:10 p.m. ABC. This Is Tom Jones. (Color) Leslie Uggams joins the Welchman in a stunning production number, "We Got Work It Out." First Leslie sings it then Tom, backed by the dancers, reprises it. The two also put their talents in a lovely duet of "Somebody's Got Gotta Tonight" including "Joe Cocker and the Grassie Band," who team with Tom in a rousing version of "Della Lark," and comedian Guy Marks.

10:11 p.m. NBC. The Dean Martin Show. (Color) Lee J. Cobb makes one of his all-too-infrequent appearances on the tube, after doing a brilliant dramatic reading from "King Lear." He joins Dino in a spot of method acting. Buddy Ebsen is also on hand, hooding the title role, a selfish, cold young man whose unscrupulous ways clash with the principles of his highly moral father (Douglas). But the movie is memorable chiefly for the beautiful performance of Miss Neal, as the earthy housekeeper, and the cinematography, which captures the atmosphere of the area so vividly, you can feel the heat and touch the dust. Miss Neal, Douglas and cinematographer James Wong Howe won Oscars.

Vignettes Of Florida Recited

Florida Loyal To Crown In Revolutionary War

By MARION BETHA
Sanford had an eminent personality in its midst this week when former congressman August Johansen, gave a dissertation upon his avocation of the presidency in relation to various states. The lecture was given at a meeting of the Men's Club of the Congressional Christian Church.

Gen. Henry Sanford's appointment as minister to Belgium was the first foreign appointment made by President Abraham Lincoln...
Johansen was Republican congressman from Michigan 1955-1965. He was assistant to the late congressman Paul Sifer, and upon the latter's death was appointed to the ticket to fill the vacancy in the House of Representatives.

Schools May Lose More U.S. $

By BILL SCOTT
Seminole County District School Board, amating today after receiving word yesterday from U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) that local schools may lose $2,000 in federal funds because of racial discrimination in two of the county's seven federally-funded school programs, may lose all or part of the remaining $320,000 for the five programs in which no discrimination is thought to exist.

He sent to Finch until after school board has sought a review within the specified 30 days. It is expected that board at next Tuesday night's meeting will decide to have Stenstrom seek review board action on Der's decision.

6th Grade Red Letter Day Nears

Lake Blvd. Is Vital For Traffic To East

... of greatest concern to the city should be the extension of Seminole Boulevard to the east for a connection with east coast traffic routes. These are the words of Sanford's city planner and contained in the city's comprehensive plan revised March, 1961.

Without this lake shore drive, Sanford would fail to benefit to the fullest extent the aesthetic enhancement bestowed upon the city by beautiful Lake Monroe.

Mobile Homes Zoning Studied

By MARION BETHA
Seminole county zoning regulations with regard to mobile homes and tractor-trailer parking came under consideration before county commissioners. Commissioner Greg Drummond favors making revisions in the regulations governing mobile homes and cited the fact that the county receives only a portion of ad valorem taxes with the remainder going to the state.

New Tax Form Boon To Preparing Firms

ATLANTA (UPI) - The new federal income tax form, designed to help the taxpayer, has meant instant a business boon for firms specializing in tax consultant work.
Some companies report a sharp increase in requests for preparing income tax returns and such concerns as banks, chain department stores and loan companies are getting into the act, reaping the harvest of confusion among those who find the many added forms just too much.
