

Nikita's Goal: Match U.S. Farm Output

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev today opened a Communist Party Central Committee meeting to deal with a problem close to his heart — how to increase farm production in Russia's "breadbasket" seven-year plan.

Ex-Soviet Khrushchev summoned the 150 party leaders for the third time within a year in his capacity as first secretary of the Soviet Communist Party.

Last June, as part of the seven-year plan aimed at catching up with and outstripping the United States in production in all fields, the committee mapped action to meet the boosted industrial goals set during last February's 21st Party Congress.

Today Khrushchev, possibly spurred by the prodigious farm output he saw in Midwest America last September, directed the 150 committee members and 115 candidates to turn full attention to boosting already soaring agricultural production.

The meeting coincided with the 50th anniversary of the birth of former Premier Josef Stalin who seldom convened a Central Committee session preferring to go-alongs with virtual one-man rule.

Immediately after Stalin's death in 1953 Khrushchev publicized the critical condition of things down on the collective farms and said livestock production was worse than in 1913.

In his sweeping agriculture reform program Khrushchev cut farmers' compulsory delivery quotas forgave back taxes hiked farm prices, did away with taxes on produce from farmers' individual plots, equipped collective farms with tractors, and sent thousands of trained farm experts into the field.

Perhaps the Soviet Premier's most daring reform came in the clearing of nearly fifteen million acres of virgin farm land in Siberia. The project replaced the Ukraine as the Soviet breadbasket and it was credited with saving the nation from famine when crops failed in European Russia.

Khrushchev says Soviet industry has reached 30 per cent of America's industrial output but the farmers have managed to equal only 20 to 25 per cent of U. S. farm production despite the fact the majority of the Soviet Union's 200 million citizens work in agriculture.

Comparatively only ten per cent of America's estimated 110 million citizens work on farms.

India Must Negotiate, Nehru Says

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today India must either negotiate with the Chinese Communists over the Sino-Indian border dispute or face up to the grim prospect of "indefinite war" between the two nations.

The Indian people have a right to be angry over Chinese incursions across the nation's borders, Nehru said in the upper house of Parliament, but they would be better off translating their anger into building industrial and military strength and national morale.

The prime minister said international disputes such as the one in India and China are engaged in now may be settled only through diplomacy or war but any Sino-Indian conflict would be "an indefinite war because we will never give in and they will never give in."

Nehru Monday rejected Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai's suggestion that the two men meet Saturday to discuss the border dispute. The suggestion came in a letter from Chou Dec. 18.

The Indian prime minister said today that although the Chinese note reiterated past charges India considered untenable, it still contained "certainly a strong desire to meet and discuss."

"I welcome it," Nehru added. "When the time is suitable I will avail myself of the opportunity" of meeting with Chou.

Some advance publicity said this episode would be a satire of "Dragnet." If this was the case — and I think it was — a press agent's blunder — then Mr. Praskins never saw Jack Webb in action.

Dialing And Filing: Two special events shows on NBC-TV Sunday night — led by Chet Huntley and Frank McGee, respectively — seemed to borrow from CBS-TV's new habit of explaining every thing in a "moment of truth." Both men took pains to explain how and when the newscasts and tapes were made.

On Saturday, ABC-TV presented an hour-long documentary, "Christmas and Christianity in a Shrinking World." Produced by Yale University, it was informative and thought-provoking, although somewhat amateurish in many of its production values.

The Channel Swim: Sunday Workshop, the CBS-TV series that will feature new talent in original TV works, makes its debut on Jan. 24, from noon to 12:35 p.m. e.s.t. Vacation replacements for NBC-TV's Jack Paar: Arlene Francis for the first week, starting Dec. 28; Joey Bishop for the week of Jan. 4.

The public affairs programs that replace NBC-TV's Five Fingers starting Saturday, Jan. 23 will come in under the title of World Wide 60. The comedy team of Wayne and Shuster will offer a sequel to their "Julius Caesar" sketch on the Jan. 10 Ed Sullivan show. It's called, "The Burning of Rome."

Girl Grabs Bag With $5,675

NEW YORK (UPI) — Was the little girl a gambler or a trained robber? Was the man who ran off with the money her father, her mentor, or just a bystander who saw an opportunity?

These questions were unanswered today because the little girl, the man and a bag containing more than $5,000 cash were all missing.

Monday afternoon Miss Catherine Bacon, 62, a bookkeeper for a West Side cafeteria, was walking to a bank to deposit $5,675 which she carried in a paper bag. While she was waiting to cross the street a girl about 8 grabbed the bag and started running.

Miss Bacon ran after the girl shouting "Help! A thief."

A woman passerby stopped the little girl.

Just when Miss Bacon reached the scene, a man of about 40 with a black mustache appeared and said "let me help you."

In the confusion the man scooped up the money and fled.

When police arrived they found Miss Bacon left holding a $50 bill, a $1 bill—and a piece of the bag.

GE Theater 'Comics' Play Is Refreshing, Perky

NEW YORK (UPI) — One successful cartoon-based family series deserves another, I suppose.

Sunday night, CBS-TV's G.E. Theater — presumably noting the TV success of Dennis the Menace — presented Crockett Johnson's old cartoon characters, Mr. O'Malley and Barnaby in a half-hour colorcast written by Louis Felleiter.

Bert Lehr starred as the winged, cigar-smoking, fumbling fairy godfather, Mr. O'Malley, and Ronny Howard was his little pal, Barnaby. The approach was slowed by a schmalz-slippery path, but in general, it succeeded in showing off a refreshing, perky spirit.

I especially enjoyed the sight of Lehr as he flapped around, or grumbled about nose cones and rockets in his flight path, or the utter unpredictability and unreliability of leprechauns. "When you want a leprechaun, you never can find it," he snorted. But the prize line went to Barnaby, who told an uninitiated little friend, "people will think you're goofy if you go around imagining you don't see things."

Although master Howard was strident and Dody Goodmanish at times, the videotape was badly corrugated and the saccharine was unhandled. I'll go on record as pro-O'Malley anytime he wants to fly around again.

The time-honored cry of "we'll head em off at the pass," rang out Sunday night as part of another tongue-in-cheek Maverick episode called, "A Cure For Johnny Ryn."

In a ABC-TV hour, Jim Garner announced that a town's best-loved male citizen—fellow named Johnny Ryn — became a low-down highway robber when soaked. After Garner captured this Jekyll-Hyde character, no one in town wanted to punish the loveable bandit.

Up to the three-quarter mark, the plot was suitably entertaining, breezy and easy-to-take. But writer Leonard Praskins seemed to run out of gimmicks at that point and finished off with some standard western flourishes and some puzzling exits that only diluted the show's quality.

Chessman Says 'Thank You' After Hearing Date Of New Execution

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The wheels of justice turn slowly but inevitably, moving closer each day to the extinction of Caryl Chessman's life.

For the eighth time in nearly 11 1/2 years, the notorious convict-author was sentenced to death Monday during a brief court session carried on in the impersonal tones of justice.

"It appears to the court that there is an unexecuted penalty of death in this case," said Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker. There was no rancor or sympathy in his voice. He was performing only one of the numerous duties of his office.

"The court now fixes Feb. 19, 1960 as the date for execution," he said.

There was no emotion heard from the few spectators in the courtroom, no visible excitement—most of them were waiting around for other cases.

To Chessman, sitting in his cell in San Quentin's death row where he has been lodged since shortly after his conviction of 17 felonies May, 1948, the news had been expected.

"Thank you," he said simply when a guard told him the date.

The ruggedly handsome Chessman, now 38, was busy preparing new appeals. Such appeals in the past have forestalled his other execution dates, although some have yet earned him his hope of getting a new trial.

The eighth execution date was set because the U. S. Supreme Court recently turned down his latest appeal.

Teachers 'Safe' From Typhoon

MANILA (UPI) — One hundred schoolteachers who had been missing for five days in the typhoon-lashed central Philippines turned up safe and sound today, reducing the toll of the storm to 64 persons dead or missing.

Reports from Samar quoted constabulary Lt. Col. Simplicio Cristobal as saying the teachers, who had set out from Zamarraga for Samar in a launch when the typhoon hit, succeeded in returning to Zamarraga.

Elsewhere in the Philippines, 14 persons were known dead and 20 missing in the wreckage of the inter-island steamer Rizal; 19 were killed and one missing at various points in southern Luzon and three were dead on southern Romblon Island.

Two other ships in addition to the Rizal—the freighter Eduardo Carmona and the motorship Basilian—were disabled by the storm. No casualties were reported on either ship.

Downtown Post Office Site Is Recommended

Eight Sanford businessmen chosen to suggest a site for a new Sanford post office unanimously agreed on a downtown site to recommend to the General Services Administration.

Group chairman Francis Roumillat Jr. said that the information on the location of the site chosen could not be released until GSA men had examined the area and two pieces of downtown land picked as second choices by the businessmen. The GSA might accept one of the sites or reject all three, Roumillat said.

The group is drawing up a letter recommending plans and property prices. Current information from the GSA is that the present First St. post office will be used for a federal office building after the new facility is built, Roumillat said. Attending the meeting in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building were Roumillat, Mayor A. L. Wilson, Herman Jacobson, George Touhy, John Ivey, John Krider, William Bush, and Tom McDonald. Bush and McDonald were in charge of getting information on the price, and availability of the sites.

Cold, Snow Slam Into East

United Press International
Cold and heavy snows paralyzed New York City and the East today, slowed Midwest holiday travel to a crawl and surprised the normally dry Southwest. Winter showed up officially only Tuesday morning, but the new season lost no time in announcing its arrival. Seven inches of snow crippled New York City's intricate traffic patterns, curtailing air, rail and road transportation. Nearly 200 Domestic and international flights were suspended or diverted from LaGuardia and Idlewild airports. Commuter trains ran an hour and a half late and hundreds of cars were involved in traffic-choking collisions on ice-packed streets. At least 14 deaths were blamed on the snow in Massachusetts,

New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. Eight died in auto crashes, three in falls, two from apparent heart attacks and a boy was killed on his first sled ride when he slid under the wheels of a truck. From four to seven inches of snow fell over most of Wisconsin and northeast Iowa. The storm, propelled by a stiff wind, left one to three inches across Minnesota, northern Illinois, and northern Indiana. The Weather Bureau predicted the storm would move through Indiana into lower Michigan and northwest Ohio today, slicking highways with ice. New Mexico, hit by its worst snowstorm in history last week, reeled under another seven-inch fall and fresh snow put a fresh coat on hard-hit Vaughn, N. M., still digging out from last week's blizzard. The storm brought sub-zero temperatures to many northern areas. Northern New England reported readings near 15 degrees below zero this morning and the mercury dropped 15 degrees from western Texas through the Dakotas. The Weather Bureau warned another major snowstorm may be in store for New York City on Christmas Eve. A band of sleet or freezing rain was expected to precede the general storm into western New York and Pennsylvania today. Rains were forecast from the Midlands into Mississippi and Alabama.

Cuban Tribunal Gives Reporter Suspended Term

HAVANA (UPI) — A Cuban court martial sentenced Miami Herald reporter James Buchanan Tuesday night to 14 years' imprisonment at hard labor for concealing information about an American prison-breaker, but suspended sentence on condition that he get out of the country within 24 hours.

The newsman spent the night in a cell at army intelligence headquarters here, apparently because his trial ended too late for formalities accompanying his release to be completed Tuesday night. It appeared likely that he would be released about mid-morning, and that his 24-hour period of grace would start at the time. Buchanan and John McMullan, assistant managing editor of the Herald who came here after his arrest, plan to leave for Miami later today.

The American newsman was arrested after he had interviewed Austin Young, a Miami soldier of fortune who broke out of Pinar del Rio prison two weeks ago and was at large for 36 hours.

Oscar Fernandes Jorjian, prosecutor at the Buchanan trial in the western provincial capital of Pinar del Rio, said the defendant's own testimony proved that he came to Cuba "intending to aid a criminal."

Fernandes asked for a suspended sentence of 20 years, two-thirds of the 30 year. Young has been sentenced to serve. The court handed down the lesser sentence in a matter of minutes.

The sentence was read in Spanish, Buchanan, although his knowledge of the language is spotty, understood that the Cubans did not intend to hold him.

"I heaved a sigh of relief," he said later. "Thank goodness I didn't understand enough Spanish to know that I had first been sentenced to 14 years' hard labor on the Isle of Pines."

"I particularly want to thank my lawyers, Orlando de la Portilla and Mario Lazo, and Hugh Keasler of the U. S. embassy. I also want to thank all those newspapers and newsmen in the United States and Cuba who jumped in on my side in the fight. They helped my morale tremendously."

Buchanan was accused of "anti-state crimes" and "concealing information" about Young's whereabouts. He interviewed the fugitive in the hotel room where both Young and Buchanan were arrested.

Fernandes told the court Buchanan should have turned Young in to Cuban authorities as soon as he was sure of his identity. Instead, he said, the reporter paid the fugitive's hotel bill and bought an elastic bandage for his ankle, injured in the prison break.

"There are two kinds of newspapersmen," the prosecutor said. "One is characterized by honesty and truth, the other by a search for sensational news and a response to special interests. This gentleman... belongs to the second class."

City Board Votes To Buy Two Police Cars, Trucks

Sanford's city commission voted to buy two new police cars, and two trucks on a trade-in agreement yesterday.

The city will trade-in a 1957 and a 1958 Ford from the police department to get two new 235 horsepower Fords for the law enforcers. Net cost of the newcars will be $4,650.

City manager Warren E. Knowles said he favored buying the Fords over the two smaller type cars offered because teenagers know that police have had high horsepower engines in past cars of this type, and picking a smaller car might tempt a youngster to try racing.

The city will buy the cars from Strickland-Morrison motors on a 30-day delivery agreement. The commission voted to buy a utility truck from Strickland-Morrison for $2,042 to be used by the city maintenance division.

Hunt Lincoln-Mercury's bid of $1,328.70 for a small panel truck Ford truck also was accepted. The city water division will use this vehicle. The city is trading in two of its trucks.

Ship Aground Off Cuban Reef

MIAMI (UP)—A veteran skipper and seven seamen faced pounding waves early today while their 36-ton Dutch freighter remained aground and badly crippled on a coral reef off Cuba.

A tugboat from Key West, Fla., was scheduled to reach the scene about dawn. But the U. S. Coast Guard reported the vessel, the June, was in danger of breaking up any time.

The Coast Guard said in its latest official report, "Tuesday night that the master, Wilhelm de Jong, and all seven crewmembers remained aboard while a Cuban Navy vessel closed by."

However, conflicting reports indicated the Cuban vessel may have taken off the crewmen while only de Jong remained on the stricken freighter. Another report was that all eight were taken aboard the 180-foot Cuban craft to spend the night.

The June, 159-foot motor vessel, was bound for Central America to pick up cargo when it ran aground about 9:30 p. m. Monday on a reef off Buena Vista light, located about 35 miles northeast of Cape San Antonio on the extreme western tip of Cuba.

Ike Holds Meet On Steel Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower held a special conference on the deadlocked steel dispute today with three Cabinet members and other high government officials.

The President, who had expressed hope a settlement would be reached before he returned from his overseas goodwill tour, met with Secretary of Labor James F. Mitchell, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and Secretary of Commerce Frederick Mueller.

Others at the meeting were presidential assistant Wilton B. Parsons, Chairman Raymond Saulnier of the Council of Economic Advisors, and Undersecretary of Commerce Phillip Ray.

Shortly before the White House announced that the meeting had started, Union President David J. McDonald said the steelworkers are voting overwhelmingly to reject management's last offer in the dispute.

McDonald said early returns from a post card poll of the workers showed the vote is running 92 per cent against the companies' proposal.

The union's international tellers have counted 35,000 ballots and only 7 per cent favored acceptance of the package valued at 30 cents an hour by the companies.

The union leader injected a note of mystery into the dispute in explaining his absence from mediation sessions conducted Tuesday by Federal Mediation Chief Joseph P. Finnegan.

These talks resumed today but there was no sign from either side that any progress toward a settlement would be made.

In explaining his absence, McDonald told reporters: "I was shopping for a Christmas present for the steelworkers and for the country—a new labor contract—in the stores of the mighty."

'Quickie' Summit Meet Predicted

LONDON (UPI) — British officials predicted today that the East-West summit meeting in Paris next April will be a "quickie."

In fact, they indicated belief it would be too short to achieve much in the way of concrete results.

But they said the meeting is certain to be followed by another East-West foreign ministers conference and other meetings along the lines of the "continuous chain of summits" suggested by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

his return Tuesday night from Paris, that he expected the proposed summit meeting in Paris to be a short one.

"I would like to see the conference last only four or five days," he said. "That would be quite hard going."

The 1955 summit meeting in Geneva lasted six days. The reason the April-in-Paris summit would have to be brief British officials said, is the already heavily loaded diplomatic calendar.

the date for the opening of the summit meeting in invitations to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Western diplomats believe Khrushchev would feel obliged to return to Moscow by May 1 to take the salute at the annual May Day parade in Red Square.

Even if Khrushchev agreed to skip that event—one of the two biggest on the Communist world's annual calendar—Macmillan would have to return to London for the Commonwealth prime ministers conference opening May 3. The British government has indicated this was a date that Macmillan must keep.

Macmillan himself indicated on

Youth Council Gets Financial Boost

The Seminole County Juvenile Council, Inc. gets its first financial boost tonight when the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club donates a share of its profits to the new youth guidance group.

The new youth council formed last week to give advice and aid to juveniles who need it, started in the usual high principle, but low financial status until Jerry Collins and Jack Ledoux offered to stage one of their many charity night programs at the greyhound track for the benefit of the new organization.

The few men who formed the juvenile aid council will be seeking members when their plans are complete for a drive to interest people willing to put their time and money into this good work. Many business and civic leaders undoubtedly will join them in working with a group of youths, no matter how small, which should be helped at all cost.

Judge Wilson Alexander, one of those who formed the council, said that most juveniles who are exposed to trouble become emmeshed in it because they have no one to turn to for advice or other assistance. He said that such an organization as the Council is badly needed for this purpose.

The gift of funds by the kennel club must be accepted with great thanks to the donors because it is to be hoped that other support will follow this good example.

Santa Would Find Going Rough On TV Show Now

By FRED DANEG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The song, and the season, tell us Santa Claus is coming to town. Is it possible that he, too, will be enclosed into doing a "guest shot" on TV? Here are some imaginary reactions to this booking as contrived by one observer:

Bill Cullen: "There is no Santa Claus. There is only Goodson-Todman."

Dr. Frank Stanton: "Will this TV appearance be live or on tape?"

Charley Weaver: "I hear Santa has been getting letters from mama, too."

Dennis (Chester) Weaver: "There is no Santa Claus. There is only Mr. Dillon."

Bud Collyer: "Will the real Santa Claus please shake his belly like a bowl-full of jelly?"

Bob Hope: "Santa Claus? I knew him when his name was Kid Payola."

Robert Lashman, counsel of the House commerce legislative oversight subcommittee: "I notice Mr. Claus has been getting a great many free plugs on TV lately."

Ed Wynn: "I hope he gets his own show. He's one of the finest young men I know."

Dick Clark: "Santa can do a walk-on, carrying Fabian in his sack."

Perry Como: "Do I get to shove his beard off on my show?"

Dinah Shore: "See the U.S.A. in a reindeer sleigh..."

Jojo Mells: "There is no Santa Claus. There is only Jack Paar."

Jack Paar: "Gee, I didn't know Santa had a hook to plug."

Garry Moore: "Santa is always

SHOTGUN HONEYMOON

Assignment Washington

BY ED KOTERBA
(Editor's note: An intimate picture of life behind the iron curtain of Czechoslovakia is revealed by our Czech-speaking Washington correspondent, Ed Koterba, on a visit to his parents' homeland. Ed Koterba accomplished this in an unusual way — by speaking, in the native tongue, with hundreds of persons in nearly every quarter — at home, in the open, on collective farms, and even in Communist homes. This is the first of 12 articles.)

PRAGUE — I had come here expecting surprises. But I wasn't prepared for the jolts that would, in a week's time, leave me weary from fear and aching with bitterness and pity for the land once great, democratic and free.

Czechoslovakia, the homeland of my mother and father, had become, I learned, a vast pit of suspicion — neighbor against long-time neighbor, and even brother against brother.

Czechoslovakia has become a state of slaves, intensely afraid to speak against its master.

I had come here with an open mind, and my first impression was that of optimism. This was on the Prague-bound train from Frankfurt. A Communist minister of transportation, in my compartment, said:

"I hope you don't print lies about us like the rest of the American press." And he told about his visa. He was returning from Amsterdam.

He whipped out his visa.

"Look," he said, "see the stamp? I had to report to the police in Holland within 48 hours. And you in America say we have an iron curtain. You will find," he purred, "that when you arrive in Czechoslovakia you will not be subjected to such indignity."

But within one hour after my arrival at the hotel in Prague, I had a security agent on my tail.

One does not sleep restfully in Czechoslovakia. And it's the strange calm that bothers you most. It's also the "coincidences."

Why, for instance, was I put on the top floor of the hotel where the window opened onto the roof? And no way to lock the windows. Here, a billowing curtain runs a constant feather down the buttons of your spine... What about the sounds, like the faint feed-back of a microphone that seems to be coming from the bathroom door?

Oh, there were the laughs, like the time I doubled back and caught a Red shadow peek-a-booming from behind a pillar.

But Czechoslovakia has many faces... the woman in the frayed babushka staring in the window of the Tuzex Department Store, unable

Penal Director To Give Report Of Jail Reforms

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—State Penal Director H. G. Cochran Jr. has agreed to furnish a progress report on prison reforms in Florida by the middle of next month.

Gov. LeRoy Collins asked for the report during a meeting Tuesday of the State Cabinet. He said the people of Florida were concerned about reforming the penal system, especially in view of the recent indictment of 14 prison guards at Raiford for alleged convict brutality.

The prison system drew fire from many quarters under the administration of R. O. Culver, who was fired earlier this year.

"The time has come to give the people a progress report on the upgrading of our prison program," said Collins.

He requested that Cochran tell what your goals are and your timetable for achievement of those goals.

The Cabinet approved a recommendation Tuesday to provide legal defense for 11 guards indicted by a federal grand jury for alleged mistreatment of inmates, and agreed to pay suspended guards 15 days salary because they got no previous notice of suspension.

Accomplishment Of Ike's Peace Tour Is Appraised

Following is a joint dispatch by Merriman Smith, UPI White House reporter, and Stewart Hestley, UPI chief State Department reporter, who accompanied President Eisenhower on his historic 11-nation trip. It is an informal appraisal of what Eisenhower accomplished and some of the highlights of his mission.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower was acclaimed Tuesday morning in Madrid by the newspaper, ABC, as "salesman of the peace." In India, big signs across teeming streets of New Delhi hailed him as "prince of peace." And in Morocco there was a sign beneath which Berber tribesmen slouched on their horses. The sign said simply "Ike peace."

These signs and slogans, some of them inspired by the local government, came straight from the people, tell pretty well what Eisenhower set out to do on his trip.

They tell, too, why he returned home Tuesday night dog tired but happily convinced that more than 22,000 miles of grueling travel and constant speaking were well worth the effort.

These two UPI reporters who traveled the full circuit with the President came home decidedly weary, jaded somewhat by one colorful mob show after another, but not without some personal views on what Eisenhower may have accomplished, and on possible plus and minus factors for the future.

After 30 days of watching and listening to Eisenhower drum on the theme of "peace and friendship in freedom," here is how we sum up the results:

HENSLEY — "The diplomatic peaks of the President's frighteningly long tour to sell the United States and peace came at opposite geographic sectors of the journey—in India and later at the Western summit conference in Paris.

"In India, Eisenhower's peace appeal seemed really to reach the heartstrings of the restless and impoverished millions who turned out to squat in his presence and absorb the atmosphere of a man they called 'The American King.' The Indian people showered him with adulation wherever he went.

"And, more specifically in the world of diplomacy, the President and the neutralist prime minister of India, Jawaharlal Nehru, thanks in part to the truce of the Chinese Reds, apparently reached much closer understanding on international affairs.

"As for the Western summit meeting in Paris, we don't know for some time just how much the conference pushed back the threshold of Communist threats and expansion. The Western Big Four decision to invite Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to an April 27 meeting in the French capital was a source of considerable satisfaction to Eisenhower.

"His trip to the other countries along the route were highly important locally, but in retrospect they seemed to have been largely matters of back-slapping and listening to cautious explorations into the field of additional American aid."

Miss McMurray, Wayne Bramley Married In Church Ceremony

Miss Mary Linda McMurray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fredric McMurray and Wayne Melvin Bramley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace J. Bramley of Chesterfield, Ill., were married at 1 p. m. Monday, Dec. 21, at the Episcopal Church, Sanford.

The Rev. John W. Thomas officiated at the informal double-ring ceremony in the chapel of the church. White flowers were arranged on the altar.

Maid of Honor was Miss Pennie Pulver and James K. Athey of Charlotte, N. C. served as best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss McMurray wore a bridal gown of white satin brocade, princess style, ballerina length with tulle veil. She carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid.

The maid of honor wore a pink embroidered nylon gown over pink taffeta with white accessories and carried a bouquet of Pom Pom chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Bramley chose for her going-away outfit a two piece blue and grey suit with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal corsage.

After a wedding trip to Chesterfield, Ill. and a visit with the groom's parents the couple will reside, temporarily, at Charleston, S. C. where the groom is stationed with the navy as Aviation Electrician Second Class.

Vitamin C Important

That one family in every four fails to get its daily requirements of vitamin C especially needed for healthy gums and body tissue, has been brought to light in a recent survey on food habits, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent.

Because this vitamin isn't stored in the body, it is especially important that it be considered in the daily food planning.

Most people know that an orange or a half grapefruit will supply the full daily quota of vitamin C. Fortunately, there are other fruit sources and many vegetables which may be less costly than the citrus fruits as the season advances.

Many green leafy vegetables may be counted on to contribute this vitamin if they are dark green in color and are properly prepared.

Vegetables eaten raw provide more vitamin C than when they are cooked. A combination of green cabbage, water cress and spinach is a gold mine in food value.

Spinach, kale and broccoli are excellent vitamin C sources also, particularly if they are quickly gathered and quickly cooked. Use as small a quantity of water as possible, and cook quickly until just tender. Vitamin C is soluble in water, and can be lost by exposure to air.

Potatoes also are a good source of vitamin C, more of it being saved if the potatoes are cooked in their skins.

STAIN REMOVAL

If holiday candles stain table linen, gently scrape the hardened wax from the surface with a dull knife. Then sponge the stain with cleaning fluid away from any open flame. If the stain remains, sponge the spot with a cloth dipped in a mixture of one-part rubbing alcohol and two parts water.

How To Speed Up A Dawdler

If you have a slowpoke in the family who takes forever to get dressed, give him a deadline to meet. Set the timer on your gas range and suggest that he race with it.

NOT RESPONSIBLE

I will not be responsible for any debts incurred by my wife Joyce M. Hayward or anyone else other than myself.

Suggestions On Care Of Tender Shrubbery

MYRTLE C. WILSON

Home Demonstration Agent

Partially shaded planting sites with good soil and air drainage can reduce winter injury to tender shrubs, according to Dr. T. E. Pope, assistant ornamental horticulturist with the Florida Experiment Station.

Winter hardness is influenced by factors such as variety differences, drainage, location, natural protection, character of the root system and by the combination of unfavorable weather conditions.

"The selection of well-drained soils as sites for planting shrubs and trees cannot be over-emphasized," says Dr. Pope. "In addition, good air drainage decreases low temperature injury. Soil aeration and fertilization not only increase root growth but also tend to encourage rooting, both of which help reduce the possibility of winter damage."

Shrubs led with excessive amounts of high nitrogen fertilizers, or those making considerable growth in late fall, are most frequently injured. Plants making rapid and vigorous growth will be damaged more than dormant plants. Dr. Pope says healthy plants are more resistant to cold than diseased or unhealthy ones, and older plants are usually not injured by cold as much as young ones.

Covering plants gives more protection against frost than against extreme cold. Most methods of heating plants will aid in protecting them from cold, but heating plants in the open is expensive and inconvenient. Windbreaks provide some protection from cold and dry winds.

Plants such as bougainvillea, thryallis, Chinese hibiscus and queen palms, particularly in north Florida, are frequently damaged because they are not too hardy. Species such as nandina, ligustrum, photinia, crepe myrtle, podocarpus, most camellias and azaleas are rarely damaged by low temperatures in Florida.

One-fourth to 1/2 teaspoon of salad dressing mix added to a baked potato with butter makes it extra tasty.

Central Circle Holds Meeting

Central Circle of the Sanford Garden Club met Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Volie Williams Sr. with Mrs. E. M. Hoke and Mrs. A. C. Benson serving as co-hostesses.

The meeting was opened with a scripture reading and a story of a Prairie Christmas by Mrs. J. B. Fields. The president, Mrs. Williams, presided at the business session and gave reports from the board meeting.

Mrs. E. R. Wood reported a visit to the fourth grade at Pinecrest School and the making of litter bug bags and other articles. Since the Sanford club will be hostess to the state convention next year, members were urged to plant Ailantha for park planting.

Mrs. W. L. Merritt was welcomed as a guest of Mrs. C. R. Mitchell. The Mead Gardens of Winter Park will break ground for the new state garden club building, Jan. 6 and all members were urged to attend.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses and an exchange of plants as Christmas gifts to each member was held.

Osteen School Gives Program

All six grades of the Osteen School participated in the Christmas program, Friday evening at the school.

The first grade children sang an animal song "All Around The Christmas Tree."

A Christmas pageant was given by the second through the sixth grades. Joy Harvey was master of ceremonies and Barry Hutherford served as narrator.

A choir dressed in Angel robes sang carols during the performance. Christmas pictures, drawn by the children, hung on the walls and a large Christmas tree, decorated with strings of popcorn, and other hand-made ornaments stood in the auditorium.

Santa Claus distributed gifts from under the tree to each child present. Bags of candy, nuts and apples were also given to the children.

Mrs. L. W. Jones was general chairman assisted by Mrs. Nolan Osteen.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRANTS Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gantt were surrounded by their family at a celebration marking their 50 years of marriage held at the Congregational Christian Church Saturday. The couple who have been Sanford residents for the past 40 years live on their W. First St. farm. Mr. Gantt is a retired farmer. Children and grandchildren celebrating with the couple are from left, Rosemary Glover, Barbara Gantt, Tom Emens, Duane Glover, Mrs. Dudley Glover, Mrs. Henry Emens, Mary Emens, Mr. and Mrs. Gantt, Charles Gantt and Betsy Gantt.

Shower Honors Miss Stenstrom

Mrs. W. A. Blalock and Mrs. F. W. Hall were co-hostesses at a bridal shower honoring Miss Ruby Stenstrom and her fiancé, Edward Alderman, Monday evening at the Blalock home, Azalea Lane, Sunland Estates.

The door prize was won by the future bride's father, N. J. Stenstrom. Humorous Bible commentaries were quoted by Francis Hall and answers attempted by the group.

Winner of the wedding cake "Tear-out" game was the groom-elect. Each person wrote a word of advice to the honorees after which they were sent on a bride and groom treasure hunt where a gift was found and opened at the end.

The hostesses served refreshments of mixed nuts, minis, gum drops, Christmas cookies, a special cracker dip, an elaborately decorated sheet cake, fruit punch and hot coffee.

Favors made of walnut shells holding an accordion folded message concerning the approaching wedding and tied with fancy ribbons were given to the guests.

Berry, Brown Pace 1959 NFL All-Star Eleven

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Raymond Berry of the Baltimore Colts, Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns and Sam Huff of the New York Giants today led the voting for United Press International's 1959 National Football League All-Star team.

Berry and Brown were unanimous choices. They were named on each of 24 ballots cast by sports writers who covered the campaign in the 11 league cities. Huff was just one vote shy of being a unanimous choice, appearing on 23 ballots. Berry and Brown were the first men ever named on every ballot in the annual UPI poll.

Baltimore, the Western Division champion, placed six men on the mythical two-player team. New York, the Eastern Division champion which meets Baltimore Sunday in the championship game, listed five berths. The San Francisco Forty-Niners filled three while Cleveland and the Pittsburgh Steelers each won two berths. The Los Angeles Rams, Green Bay Packers, Detroit Lions and Chicago Bears each placed one player on the team.

The Philadelphia Eagles, Chicago Cardinals and Washington Redskins failed to win a first-team berth.

Dwight Dyer of Los Angeles won the offensive end berth opposite

Berry. The remainder of the offensive line was composed of Roosevelt Brown of New York and Jim Parker of Baltimore at the tackles, Art Spinney of Baltimore and Jim Ray Smith of Cleveland at the guards and Jim Ringo of Green Bay at center. John Unitas of Baltimore won the quarterback berth by a wide margin, receiving 77 votes. Frank Gifford of New York and J. D. Smith of San Francisco won the halfback spots to round out the backfield with Jim Brown.

The defensive unit was composed of Gene Marchetti of Baltimore and Andy Robustelli of New York at the ends; Gene Lipscomb of Baltimore and Leo Nomellini of San Francisco at the tackles; Huff, Joe Schmidt of Detroit and Bill George of the Bears at the linebacker spots; Dean Derby of Pittsburgh and Abe Woodson of San Francisco at halfback and Jim Patton of New York and Jack Butler of Pittsburgh at safety.

Browns Favored To Take Pro Title

By United Press International
 The Baltimore Colts, who may use hand signals to beat the crowd noise in Sunday's National Football League game with the New York Giants, remained a point favorite today for the professional classic.

Bookmakers estimated Coach Weeb Ewbank's defending champions would be four-point favorites over the Giants when the game begins in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium.

The Colts needed a sudden-death overtime to score a 23-17 victory over the Giants in the 1958 championship. Bookmakers figured the teams would score about as many points as they did in that thriller, estimating a total of 40 for the two clubs.

With the game already tabbed as the biggest individual betting event of 1959, Baltimore fans were in a fever of anticipation while the Giants tried to dig out of a seven-inch snow in New York.

Ewbank, aware that Baltimore's

Top Greyhounds Set To Compete At Club Tonight

Gusie Lee, a little 55-pound brindle female greyhound, will be worth watching in the featured hot-box race tonight at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, although the overwhelming favorite is O. B.'s Ample, winner of the inaugural handicap.

The two hounds and six other Grade A stars will take off in the big 10th race which includes a hand-picked octet of standouts expected to provide one of the season's top contests.

The hot-box will be one of 11 events starting at 8:10 p. m. Strong 6-4-5 odds are given O. B.'s Ample in the hot-box, and the 65-pound hustler will be gunning from the fifth starting position. Ample won the inaugural classic by four full lengths after a burst of speed on the backstretch which brought the fans to their feet.

Gusie Lee will have appeal in the grandstands because of her small size. The diminutive lady, however, won her first race this year by coming from third place to win at the finish line by three lengths. She's nearly 10 pounds lighter than the next lightest entry. Morning line odds give her a slim 12-to-1 chance at victory, but she may surprise the handicapper.

Also in the hot feature are Limber Timber, O. B.'s Medium, John Ring, Happy Joe Lucky, Trip Latch and Rural Commander. All six of these have proved ability to win at the best tracks in the world for the sport of queens.

Christmas Eve racing tomorrow night will start at 7:45 p. m. instead of the regular 8:10 post time. Track owner Jerry Collins said the change will allow families to get together earlier for the evening.

Covington Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON
 Things are kinda' quiet around here for a few days while the Seminoles take a break in their schedule but, it won't be long until they'll be back in the thick of battle.

The Seminoles take to the court again January 5 here against Oriedo and it promises to be a fine battle. Both teams have gotten off to a good start and although the Lions are not as powerful as they have been in the past, they should give Coach Bud Loyer's Seminoles a tough go.

Coach Paul Mikler has depended on Johnny Tesinsky greatly and the 6-2 youngster has poured through a great deal of the points this season. Mikler has one of the finest rebounders in the area in the person of Mike Duda. As long as I can remember there has been a Duda leading the way for the Lions but when Mike graduates he will be the last of them until the grandchildren start appearing.

Senior forward Jimmy Gracey has gotten off to a fine start this season and if he continues he will shatter all of his own scoring records at Seminoles. In three basketball games he has averaged 20 points per game and most of these have been in the first half. Little Ray Lundquist has yet to experience a big night but when both of these boys start popping, the Seminoles should get a big boost.

Boots Home Three

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (UPI)—Southern Brave Brooks booted home three winners at Tropical Park Tuesday, including Rare Rice (207.00) in the feature race. Brooks' other two triumphs were aboard Four Wheeler (30.50) and Misro (32.00).

Robertson, Cinci Continue To Roll In Collegiate Basketball Action

United Press International
 Oscar Robertson and top-ranked Cincinnati enjoyed a red letter night that fitted in perfectly with the first collegiate basketball game ever to be televised in color.

The event brought nothing but the blues for previously unbeaten Bradley, which fell before Robertson and the Bearcats, 96-71, at Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Robertson, hitting consistently with his famed fadeaway shot, scored 44 points, including 24 in the last half to break open what had been a tight ball game and lead Cincy to its sixth straight victory.

Third-ranked Ohio State bounced back from its first defeat of the season at the hands of Utah by beating Brigham Young, 91-79, at Provo, Utah. Sophomore center Jerry Lucas poured in 36 points for the Buckeyes, who bolted to a 43-37 lead at half-time and never again wer seriously threatened.

Big Bob Nordmann paced fifth-ranked St. Louis to a 66-59 win over Kansas. The 6-10 Nordmann scored 20 points and grabbed 27 rebounds against the ninth-ranked Jayhawks.

Eighth-ranked Georgia Tech squeezed past Texas Tech, 63-60, thanks to a 22-point performance by Roger Kaiser. Indiana, ranked 10th, toppled Butler, 91-85, despite Ken Pennington's 36 points for the losers in one opening round game of the Hoosier Classic. Notre Dame defeated Purdue, 82-79, in the other opening round clash.

Only teams among the top 10 who were idle Tuesday night were second-ranked West Virginia and sixth-ranked Utah, both of whom sport perfect records.

Kentucky, ranked 12th and looking to get back into the top 10, turned back Temple, 97-82. Billy Lickert and Bennie Coffman led the Wildcats on a 13-point tear during the second half that proved decisive, although Kentucky still had to stem a late Temple rally.

In other games, Marquette (ranked Stanford, 63-50; Fordham stopped Pittsburgh, 80-68; Virginia Tech won the Watauga Invitational tournament with a 74-56 victory over East Tennessee State; Oklahoma City downed Texas Christian, 74-63; Washington State topped Arizona State, 64-58; Mississippi nipped Tennessee Tech, 37-36, and Washington whipped touring Northwestern for the second straight night, 67-61.

Two Top Welter Contenders Clash In Bout Tonight

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)— Luis Manuel Rodriguez of Cuba puts his 25-bout winning streak on the line tonight against Sugar Hart of Philadelphia in a TV 10-rounder that undoubtedly will earn the winner a shot at the world welterweight title.

Skinny-legged, 22-year-old Rodriguez, who has managed to remain unbeaten despite his powder-puff punching, was an 8 to 5 favorite to win the nationally-televised bout starting at 10 p. m. e.s.t. at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Rodriguez was listed as the No. 2 welterweight challenger in the latest ratings, behind Charley Scott of Philadelphia. Hart was ranked No. 3. Rodriguez, however, boasts a 1958 knockout victory over Scott, whose title-shot hopes were further ruined when he was upset by Benjie Paret in New York last Friday night.

Promoter Chris Dundee was refused permission by the NBA to expand the bout to 12 rounds and make it an official elimination to determine the next challenger for Don Jordan's 147-pound crown. Dundee then wired Jordan's manager, Don Nesseth, offering a $50,000 guarantee for a title defense here later this winter against the winner of tonight's bout.

South To Use Two Platoons

MIAMI (UPI)— South Coach Wade Walker of Mississippi State said today he would use offensive and defensive platoons against the North team in the Shrine All-Star football game here Saturday night.

Dale Hall of Army, head coach of the North squad, has indicated he will not substitute as freely.

Both coaches listed their starters for the charity game. They include:

North team—Ends Bill Carpenter of Army and Curt Merz of Iowa, tackles Bob Zimpher of Bowling Green and DeWitt Hoopes of Northwestern, guards John Gremer of Illinois and Pete Arena of Northwestern, center Bob Oswald of Army, quarterback Joe Caldwell of Army, halfbacks Bob Anderson of Army and Ed Kovac of Cincinnati and fullback Don Horn of Iowa.

South team offense—Ends Dan Edgington of Florida and Al Goldstein of North Carolina, tackles Jim Gardner of Duke and Kelly Minyard of North Carolina State, guards Tom Gunderman of Maryland and Nick Patella of Wake Forest, center Jim Otto of Miami, quarterback Fran Curel of Miami, halfbacks Gordon Speer of Rice and Jack Westbrook of Florida and fullback Don Knoch of North Carolina.

South team defense—Ends Al Witche of Baylor and Lavale White of Mississippi State, tackles Larry Wagner of Vanderbilt and Ed Pitts of South Carolina, middle guard Jim Crawford of Miami, linebackers Fred Remy of Miami, Rod Breedlove of Maryland and John Saunders of South Carolina; sidebacks Dick Pariseau of Navy and Willis Daniel of Mississippi State and safetyman Jack Cummings of North Carolina.

Happiness Through Health (By DR. F. LEO KERWIN) The Dangerous Age

What is the dangerous age? Suppose a tree or branch fall Is it twenty? Forty? Forty-five? Sixty? The answer is that the dangerous age is when health begins to slip, but the tragedy is that so many persons give up hopes and aspirations before, or during, or in middle age. Forty, or fifty, is not time to admit defeat if you have or can get health. That is the time of life when experience and enthusiasm should combine to lead to accomplishment. Three score and ten, "man's allotted span," now finds many men and women actively engaged in big undertakings. Part of the early breakings down by some is due to the fact that they do not bring the same good independent judgment, and thinking to bear on health problems that they do in other matters.

Today, people in increasing numbers are beginning to realize the blessings of health and energy by keeping fit—through Chiropractic and science which corrects the cause and helps you regain health. Are you a Chiropractic case? One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin whose office is located at 201 S. French Ave. and his telephone number is FAirfax 2-7442.

New Wisconsin Code Makes Getting A Divorce More Difficult

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Wisconsin's new family code, designed to promote stability in marriage and family life, takes effect Jan. 1 with the endorsement of three religious leaders who helped draft it.

Rabbi Louis J. Swichkow of Milwaukee said that "whatever flaws there may be in the code, it's a step in the right direction long overdue."

Catholic Msgr. W. J. Brunner said "it has many advantages over the former law. We hope that the general public will feel that marriage is to be regarded as a more serious contract."

And the Rev. Al Burton Ellison, minister of the Brown Deer Community Methodist Church, called the new law a "wonderful codification."

In general, it makes it more difficult to get married or divorced in Wisconsin.

The minimum age at which a girl can get married with the consent of her parents was raised from 15 to 16, quick marriages by justices of the peace and court commissioners have been eliminated, a 90-day "cooling off" period is required before divorce actions can proceed, and marriages of girls between 16 and 19 or boys between 18 and 21 are void unless the consent of their parents is obtained.

Women Enjoy Hair Coloring

NEW YORK (UPI) — Almost 30 per cent of all women used some sort of hair coloring last year, although 20 per cent of the users did not have gray hair, reports the Variety Store Merchandiser.

Eye make-up sales have nearly doubled since 1957, the publication added, along with these facts: More than 80 per cent of the females over 14 years of age use lipstick and the average woman buys 2.5 lipsticks per year. Lipstick sales alone account for some 25 per cent of total cosmetic sales.

Wealthy Brothers Never Paid Tax

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two wealthy brothers in their 60's were fined $10,000 each and given suspended one-year prison sentences Monday on their guilty pleas of never filing an income tax return.

Federal officials said the brothers owed the government more than half a million dollars on $4 million income since 1935.

"Oh what a blissful life it must have been," said Federal Judge William M. Byrne. "Even a poor judge has to pay taxes."

He said he suspended the prison sentences of Irving Koppel, 60, and his brother Leonard, 60, because of their ages and the fact that they had led "exceptionally lives"—except for not paying income taxes.

A Sweet Way To Save The Day During Yuletide

NEW YORK (UPI) — The holiday candy supply needs' run low when you can make mocha-mallow fudge in minutes.

Remove from heat. Stir in 3/4 cup (about 14 medium) diced marshmallows, 1 1/2 cups (1 1/2 packages of 6 ounces each) semi-sweet chocolate pieces, 1 teaspoon of vanilla and 1 tablespoon of instant coffee powder.

Waltz Was King Until Film Stars Came To Vienna

VIENNA (UPI) — After two months of friendly occupation, Hollywood has given Vienna back to the Austrians. The place may never be the same.

Two big American film companies — Columbia and Paramount — spent several weeks each this recent tourist season making movies in the Austrian capital and injecting about three million dollars into the Austrian economy.

First came Columbia to do "The Franz Liszt Story" with British star Dirk Bogarde. The word soon got out that 600 extras were needed, mostly to fill the halls for Liszt's concerts.

The casting director had to hire a special policeman to keep from being trampled to death by the herd of Austrians seeking a $4-a-day job. The applicants included kin of the Habsburgs and other European royal families.

Paramount hit town a couple of weeks later to shoot "A Breath of Scandal." No opera star or member of royalty ever commanded a wilder reception than the one for Italian actress Sophia Loren when she arrived to take over the leading role.

The crowds were also curious to get a glimpse of French idol Maurice Chevalier, who came to Vienna for the first time since 1935 to play the part of Miss Loren's father.

We want you to know that we appreciate your patronage in the past.

Featherbedding Pay Issues Blur Future For Rails

NEW YORK (UPI) — No U. S. industry faced a hazier future than did the railroads as 1959 drew to a close.

Impending wage and work rule talks with the powerful railroad brotherhoods, a million men strong, are apparently heading the industry toward a costly showdown which could plunge even the comparatively healthy carriers deep into the red.

If a strike is averted, the Association of American Railroads said, the nation's railroads could show an 8 to 10 per cent increase in freight traffic over last year as well as a 5 to 10 per cent jump in gross revenues.

But strike or no strike, the association said it is impossible to forecast a net income trend for 1960 since no one knows how the management-union struggle will come out on either wages or work rules, both of which play big roles in the industry profit picture.

The AAR reported that the steel strike cost the roads an estimated $600 million in 1959 with the result that the industry's net operating income was held about unchanged from recession-bound 1958 at $769 million.

Although revenues were up an estimated 3.1 per cent from 1958 to $9,850,000,000 as improved car loadings cancelled out a further sag in passenger revenues, operating expenses jumped around 2.3 per cent to $7,715,000,000 although maintenance remained well behind schedule.

Tremor Shakes Town

FINLEY, Tenn. (UPI) — A violent earth tremor shook this area causing minor damage but no reported injuries. Mrs. Egbert Finley, 70, said she "thought the whole house was coming down." U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas reported feeling the quake while seated in a duck-hunting blind near Halls, Tenn.

DUTCH DEWIT was one of the group who chaperoned a group of youngsters of the Lutheran Haven at Slavia as they went on a Christmas shopping spree at Sanford stores. The tour was sponsored by the Jaycees, who donated all the proceeds from the Yule parade balloon sale as spending money for the children.

Masses At Dawn Make Holy Season In Philippines

MANILA (UPI) — It takes the Philippines 22 days to celebrate Christmas.

The people, who are predominantly Catholic, usher in the Yuletide season with traditional "Misa de Gallo" (literally, "Masses at Cock's Crow") starting at dawn on Dec. 16.

During the eight days before Christmas Day, the faithful wake up about 3 o'clock to attend the masses in Roman Catholic churches and chapels in every city, town and village of the country.

The masses are climaxed by a midnight mass on Dec. 24, after which the celebrants go home through streets and paths lined with vendors selling native delicacies such as rice cakes, bananas sweetened with molasses and glutinous rice served in bamboo tubes.

The streets are lighted from star-shaped lanterns displayed in the windows of houses along the way. Small children, armed with guitars and empty GI gasoline drums, go from door to door singing native Christmas carols and soliciting a few centavos in exchange for the "music."

In homes, there are family reunions. Gifts are opened. Outside firecrackers are exploded, garbage cans heaved. Children jump up and down with their new toys. The tables are stacked with goodies.

From Dec. 25 to Jan. 6, fun-loving Filipinos celebrate the coming of the Child Jesus. The festivities are particularly colorful in town and villages which have the Child Jesus for their patron saint.

The season comes to an end Jan. 6 with ceremonies marking the visit of the Three Kings to the infant Jesus. On the night before, children put their shoes on window sills in the hope that the Three Kings will deposit some coins there on their way to Bethlehem. The kids are rarely disappointed when they awaken.

Further Decline In Dollar's Value Forecast For '60

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The value of the consumer's dollar will decline another penny or two in 1960.

That is the unofficial forecast of government experts who carefully observe the movements of that national barometer of inflation, the Consumer Price Index.

They predict a one to two per cent increase in living costs during the next 12 months to send the index to record heights again. Continually climbing costs of services — hospital rates, doctors' fees, haircuts, beauty treatments and similar items — will lead the return.

Housewives will find that price tags on groceries will be slightly lower but the declines won't offset mark-ups on commodities and services, the experts say. Applicants are expected to cost up to 3 per cent more and apparel about 1 per cent.

The index resumed its steady climb in the past several months after nearly a year of stability during which it rose only about 1.3 per cent.

Latest government figures show that the consumer's dollar is now worth slightly less than 80 cents in terms of 1947-49 prices and that living costs have risen more than 20 per cent in the last decade.

Popular Scribes Pen Yule Cards

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Some of America's best known writers express a "Merry Christmas" wish in prose and verse on this year's yuletide greetings.

Inspirational messages have been penned by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, author and clergyman and Father James Keller, founder of The Christophers.

Sentimental holiday expressions by the late Edgar A. Guest and James Metcalf, poets, also are expected to prove popular.

Offbeat humor with a twist is to be found in the colorful verse of Ogden Nash, whose wacky rhymes have delighted Americans for years.

CHRISTMAS MAIL is fine, but it does stack up for the post office workers who tackle the daily loads of packages and greeting cards. J. E. Covington is shown taking a brief rest on a convenient pile of mail which just reached his bin.

Card Problem Can Be Trying Indeed

By LYLE C. WILSON WASHINGTON (UPI) — It beats me why someone has not come up long before this with a new emancipationist proclamation. It should be a proclamation to emancipate the American people from their slavery to Christmas cards. I realize that many persons will consider this to be a subversive thought. Some of my neighbors will caution their children to come indoors when I pass by. Little old ladies who heretofore have given me a friendly nod when I see them on the street, likely will ignore me when we meet. My good friends who have favored me this year as in the past with the season's greetings will think of me as an ungracious grower who should have both better manners and some gratitude. I am sorry if that is the way it must be. If so, so be it. One-tenth of the money and energy expended each year on Christmas cards would suffice to create for the United States missile and rocket protection unsurpassed. Talk about waste! The stamp bill alone would buy a fleet of nuclear submarines. For printing much more is spent than for stamps. Moreover, the patient postmen of the United States are hump-backed from lugging those great tecks full of cards and they suffer fallen arches, corns and bunions by reason of the extra mileage our Christmas whimsy imposes upon them. And, there are some individuals (your correspondent is one) who shook most of the shackles of Christmas cardery long since, but who regularly receive cards in shoals and avalanches. This causes these free souls much anguish in the region of their consciences. They know in sadness that among their loving friends are some with the intipicking habit of carding the whole Christmas business so that during the days immediately following Dec. 25 there occur in living rooms across the land such scenes as this: The Little Woman: Oh, Fred, we got cards today from the Moores and the Whoosits and the Zampfts. The Zampft's is real pretty. Fred: Yeah, they musta mailed 'em after they got ours. The L. W.: Look in the index, Fred, and see if the Whoosits sent

Friends Of St. Nick Lived Here

NEWPORT, N. I. (UPI)—Jolly St. Nick should have a soft spot in his heart for the city of Newport. For it was here that Dr. Clement C. Moore, author of the beloved "A Visit From St. Nicholas," Christmas"—and at 4:30 p. m. spent the declining years of his life. And the old house at 23 Catharine St. where he lived is still standing.

No holiday poem in the English language has equalled the appeal of "Twas the Night Before Christmas"—and at 4:30 p. m. on Dec. 22, a reading of that bit of verse will take place before the fireplace in the old house. The reader and host for the annual event will be James Van Allen, president of the Newport (Catholic) Newport sports club— as well as an editor, publisher, world traveler and court-tennis champion. Van Allen has composed an introduction to the poem as well as a "Postscript," both of which have become a regular feature of the reading. "I hope that I haven't angered Dr. Moore," Van Allen said, "but when I was a kid I always thought the poem ended too quickly." He said he dreamed up the postscript to "stretch out the fun." Van Allen has secured an option to purchase the old Clement Moore residence with the assistance of the National Trust for Historic Preservation in Washington. He says his corporation plans to restore the old structure and install 1920-1930 period furniture. Also planned is a well-sculptured group composed of a figure of Dr. Moore reading his poem to his four children.

Van Allen also wants the "House of Santa Claus" to become a "Museum of Santa Clausiana" with various editions of the poem on display along with period costume and other interesting items—mas cards, newspaper articles— and perhaps an animated cartoon showing the last of the poets.

He also envisions a stable for the eight tiny reindeer, each with a nameplate over its stall, and a coach house for the sleigh. There would be a dressing room and a workshop for Santa, too. Purpose of the museum, according to Van Allen, would be to "bring at Christmas time the image of our beloved Santa Claus as envisioned by Dr. Moore and the spirit of family love, understanding and solidarity which Santa Claus symbolizes to every heart and home in America." As Van Allen put it, "I can't think of any other American who has brought so much joy as Dr. Moore."

Pretty Princess In Exile Wins Italian Hearts

ROME (UPI)—Who do you think is rated the most beautiful girl in Italy? Gina Lollobrigida Sophia Loren? She is Princess Maria Gabriella, the tall, 19-year-old blonde daughter of King Umberto of Italy, who was permanently exiled after World War II when Italy became a republic. A recent letter poll by an Italian magazine put Maria Gabriella in the top spot as Italy's "top belle" (prettiest).

Her name has been linked with top-reality sultans from around the world. They include the Shah of Iran, whose former wife, Princess Soraya lives in Rome, and Prince Tom Juan of Bourbon, the latest choice to become King of Spain if that country ever returns to the monarchy. Maria Gabriella's sister, Maria Pia, is married to Prince Alexander of Yugoslavia. Despite the fact that Maria Gabriella's action is in Italy and generally lives with her father King Umberto, in Portugal, she constantly fills the pages of Italian magazines.

When it was reported, and later denied, that she might become engaged to the Shah of Iran there was a flurry of apprehension. The Shah is a Muslim and a divorcee. Bachelor Don Juan is of the same religion. Roman Catholicism did not show in the top 25 issues.

Gifts From Iowa To Refugee Kids

BETTENDORF, Iowa (UPI)— Fifty graders at the Jackson school here earned money at odd jobs to send Christmas presents to children in refugee camps in Europe.

Christmas Gift Starts Postal Staff To Buzzing For Ballistics Expert

BOSTON (UPI) — In St. Petersburg, Fla., Christmas morning some youngsters doubtless will be overjoyed with a little battery-operated toy truck with a life-like driver in the cab.

Police, firemen, postal officials and ballistics experts were distinctly unhappy with the same little truck Monday at the South Station annex here.

A postal employee rushed up to Inspector David McGuire with the small eight-inch long package. "This package is ticking and buzzing," he said.

McGuire picked up the package gingerly and walked outside. He placed it on the sidewalk, away from any buildings. Police who arrived minutes later sealed off the street.

Boston police ballistics expert Earl Laird was at the scene within a few minutes and unwrapped the package to find the truck, its motor buzzing away. The switch apparently had been jarred as the package moved through the mail.

The package was rewrapped and forwarded to the address of Mrs. Ursula Vigus in St. Petersburg.

Easing Of Tensions Marks Holy Land's Christmas

United Press International
BETHLEHEM, Jordan — O little town of Bethlehem! How still we see thee lie...

Bethlehem today is a city of 10,000 persons, with another 15,000 refugees barely subsisting in camps on its outskirts.

Above thy deep and dreamless sleep

The silent stars go by... Bethlehem's sleep is not dreamless. It shares the nightmare problems of the modern world. There are those 15,000 refugees; the tense border between Arabs and Jews 11 miles away; the religious schism which spreads the observance of Christmas here over three weeks.

Yet in thy dark streets shineth the Everlasting Light; The hope and fears of all the years

Are met in thee tonight. This, at least, is still true. For here, at the spot where Christ was born, the Christians of the world celebrate the birth of the hopes of all the years.

Here, because of the manger of Bethlehem, the explosive tensions of the Middle East are at least partly relaxed—for this one occasion.

Here, Arab and Jew cooperate to help Christians celebrate the greatest event of their religion.

And Christmas in Bethlehem is a great event. It begins Dec. 24, ends Jan. 19, and in between sees the most brilliant ritual of all the Christian faiths of East and West.

Each faith observes Christmas on its own day — a division arising from the choice between the Gregorian and the Julian calendars. But all use the same church, the great Basilica of the Nativity, to celebrate the holiday.

Christmas starts here at noon on Christmas Eve. Then the Roman Catholic Patriarch leaves Jerusalem for a police-escorted drive to Bethlehem. The Patriarch is met in the square of the manger by a religious procession, which grows in size as it moves toward the basilica.

At midnight on Christmas Eve, the Patriarch celebrates a high pontifical mass in the Catholic Church of St. Catherine, within the Basilica of the Nativity. This is the service attended by the consular corps in Jerusalem and by masses of pilgrims who are allowed to come to Bethlehem at Christmas-time only.

They are some of the approximately 1,500 Christian Arabs living in Israel for whom the usual regulations are lifted so they can enter Jordan through the Mandelbaum Gate for 48 hours and then return home.

Meanwhile, on Christmas Eve, Protestants hold an evening carol service (with carols in English and Arabic) on the Field of the Shepherds, where "shepherds watched their flocks by night" when the Star of Bethlehem appeared in the east.

The Roman Catholic mass is climaxed at 1:30 a. m. by a procession during which an image of the infant Christ is carried out of St. Catherine's Church to the Grotto of the Nativity, also inside the basilica, which supposedly marks the precise spot where Christ was born. The image is placed in the manger in the grotto, and the Star of the East placed overhead.

Christmas has been celebrated in much the same way here since the reign of Byzantine Emperor Constantine, who ruled from 323 to 360 A. D. Constantine built the first basilica, a tiny part of which still stands.

Greek Orthodox Christians celebrate Christmas in the same basilica on Jan. 7, and Armenian Christians on Jan. 19.

This year, about 10,000 pilgrims will come to Jordan from all over the world — by plane by way of Cairo or Beirut, by road from Damascus, through the Mandelbaum gate from Israel.

FIRST FEDERAL Savings & Loan ASSOCIATION

This Professor Probably Found Yule Shopping Rough

By FRANK ELEAZER
 WASHINGTON (UPI) I hate to think what Prof. Raymond J. Saulnier, who is the economic brain of the White House, may have wound up buying for his wife's Christmas present. From his own account, his shopping expedition probably didn't turn out very well.

In the first place, he said, he discovered that not every single little thing in every ad is always necessarily true.

And at some of the shops he visited, the prices were so high he couldn't decide whether it was products they were offering for sale or a substantial share in the firms that produced them.

Dr. Saulnier, a former Columbia University economics professor whose title now is chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, had some pretty serious things to say about how both industry and labor have a responsibility to keep prices stable, and also how most ads are honest and all of them should be.

But he said we consumers have a responsibility too. "To use our resources wisely," he said, "I think what he meant here is that we ought not to buy things like that. Presumably he didn't, which may be a bad sign for his wife Estelle."

Prof. Saulnier was among the experts at a conference here this week on how we consumers can avoid getting gypped. The Federal Trade Commission sponsored the conference, and why they waited until Christmas week was never explained.

I couldn't get gypped this week for more than a quarter if I was blindfolded and stupid, which unfortunately I might as well have been last week before the money ran out.

Earl W. Kintner, FTC chairman and head man at the conference, said with enough billions of dollars the FTC could distribute federal cops so thick in the stores that the public would be completely protected.

"Nothing would be stolen," he said, "except our system of government and freedom."

So his agency prefers to spend its six or seven millions and use its small staff to slap down the few real chisellers, and to depend on the big majority of businessmen to be honest.

But FTC has decided it would sure help a lot if all us consumers weren't natural suckers. Mainly, it's the phoney bargains we've got to watch out for, Kintner and his helpers explained.

Take list prices. It's got to be what you won't buy anything unless it's marked down 20 per cent below list. We like it even better of course off 50 per cent. So naturally Kintner & Co. weren't too surprised recently to find a 23-inch lawnmower offered by the manufacturer to dealers on the basis that the advertised list was $154.95, but that the dealer could retail it "with full markup" for $74.95.

Then there are the "bait and switch" deals where somebody offers an unbelievable bargain in sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, or other popular items. The bargain model is there at the store, all right, and you are told right away it won't work, won't last, can't be repaired, and the one you really want is over here at maybe three times the price.

"Nailed to the floor" is the term in the trade for the bargain model you wanted, the FTC men reported, and heaven help the salesman who actually sells it. It was a helpful conference, I guess, and it left me feeling real proud of myself. If it's bargains we have to look out for, I'm a mighty sharp shopper. I haven't bought a bargain since I can remember.

Expect Algae On Space Menu

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If you are planning a trip to Mars, better get used to eating algae.

That's a plant that grows in water and is a member of the seaweed family.

"Planes," official publication of Aerospace Industries Association, reports that scientists believe algae has the best chance of being the sole item on the "space menu" of the future.

On a 316-day round trip between the earth and Mars, a man would need more than two tons of food. To make such a cargo unnecessary he could instead take his meals from a culture of algae, which grows so fast it doubles itself every day.

The outlook for space dining is not necessarily one of bleak monotonous, according to the magazine. Algae can be treated so it tastes like many different foods, including steak, fish, coffee, and tea.

The Trojan War was not just a myth but actually took place much as Homer depicted it, according to Historian Denis Page.

Luke Wrote Most Loved Story In 416 Words

BY LOUIS CARROLL
 United Press International
 His name was Luke and he was a physician by trade. But history knows him best as an author. He wrote the most beloved story in all literature.

It is called the Nativity story, and it is found in the first 25 verses of the second chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

It is only 416 words from the beginning to end. But it has had a greater impact on the minds and hearts of men than any long novel, play or poem, yet can name.

From it have come enough great masterpieces of art to fill a hundred galleries.

It has inspired a whole library of music, ranging from familiar carols like "Silent Night" to majestic oratorios like Handel's "Messiah."

For more than 1,300 years it has been read, and cherished, by all men and conditions of men. It has moved Medieval monks—and atomic scientists; Roman charioteers—and New York taxi-drivers; Oxford dons—and African bushmen.

It has been translated into more than 1,300 languages and dialects, and its poetic beauty always seems to come through.

This week, as always at Christmas time, it will be read aloud a million of churches and homes.

"And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed."

Luke goes on to tell how Joseph and Mary left their home at Nazareth and went up to Bethlehem, the home of their ancestors, to be enrolled for the Roman census.

It must have been a hard journey for Mary, since, the Christian notes, she was "great with child."

"And so it was that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered."

"And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger because there was no room for them in the inn."

How many millions of sermons have been preached on that one text?

The first Christmas did not fall on Dec. 25. That date was picked arbitrarily many centuries later. It must have been some time in the autumn, when the weather was still mild in Palestine, for Luke records that "there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night."

"And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid."

"And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people."

"For unto you is born this day in the city of David a savior, which is Christ the Lord."

"And this shall be a sign unto you: ye shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger."

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, 'Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.'"

Whether Luke meant his story to be read as literal history or dramatic poetry, is a question for Biblical scholars to debate.

Some modern scholars, having never heard a choir of angels, assume that no one else has either.

Others point out that critical studies have established Luke as a reliable reporter, who carefully researched his facts.

Perhaps if Luke could join in the debate, he would say that the herald angels' song was audible, then as now, only to those willing to hear it.

Elvis May Find Going 'Rough'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — When Elvis Presley comes home from the Army, presumably next March, what god will he call for a deity?

A heavy schedule of movie-making and record-cutting awaits the rock 'n' roll singer who will be 28 in January and has been in uniform for nearly two years.

But in Hollywood tradition, there will be time for some well-publicized relaxation as well.

Most of Presley's former girlfriends have replaced the image of their blue-eyed, hip-swinging Adonis with that of some other man — somebody closer to home.

Pilgrims Visit Sites Around Nazareth For Annual Christmastide Service

United Press International
NAZARETH, Israel—Bells will ring out from the Church of St. Joseph on Christmas Eve to summon worshippers to midnight mass in this town most closely associated with the life of Jesus.

Crowds of pilgrims daily have been visiting the sites around Nazareth associated with the founding of Christianity. Perhaps no town in Israel has a more predominant Christian atmosphere. In a small domed chapel in the center of Nazareth is a large stone which, according to tradition, served as a table when Jesus met with his disciples and dined with them after rising from his tomb.

Pensive monks and nuns are seen around "Mary's Well" where the Virgin Mary often filled her water pitcher as Nazareth mothers still do.

Non-Agriculture Employment Gains

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Industrial Commission today reported non-farm employment in Florida during November hit a record high of 1,280,000.

Chairman James T. Vocelle said the total was a gain of 24,900 over October.

He said there has been a monthly average of 16,600 more jobs in manufacturing in 1959 than 1958.

Every employment category except mining and construction showed an increase during the month. Mining was unchanged at 8,200 and construction dropped 400.

Manufacturing passed the 200,000 mark for the first time in Florida history, Vocelle said, totaling 201,000. He said the increase was more than accounted for in canning and preserving as the citrus crop began moving to the market.

The trade category added 16,300 workers to a total of 372,200, and tourist-related service firms took on 9,100 employees as hotels and other businesses prepared to serve winter vacationers.

Transportation—communication—public utilities gained 1,400, local government 1,300 and finance—insurance—real estate, 200.

Unemployment in November, Vocelle said, decreased by 4,100. The total was 61,900, which was 17,000 under November, 1958.

Most of the 24,000 inhabitants of Nazareth are Christians. At this season the main thoroughfare and side streets leading from it assume a brilliant gaiety. Decorations, Christmas trees and Nativity scenes give the town a typical festive atmosphere.

The midnight mass at the Church of St. Joseph is broadcast so that Christians as far away as Turkey can hear it. In a few years, a magnificent new Church of the Annunciation costing $2,000,000 will be completed and the traditional midnight mass will be held there.

All the sects of Christianity are represented in Nazareth. Although most of the Christians are Greek orthodox or Roman Catholic, there are chapels of Greek Catholics, Maronites, Armenian Gregorians, Copts and Abyssinians. Most conspicuous among the small Protestant communities are the Anglicans.

Births Are Up In Southeast

ATLANTA (UPI) — Births exceed deaths by a ratio of 3-1 in the Southeast, the Atlanta field office of the U. S. Commerce Department reported today.

The report said that, during an eight-year period, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee and the Carolinas registered an average of one birth every minute. There was an average of one death every three minutes.

Look Beyond The Wrapping

Once a year the newspaperman's job is easy—he knows that the big story is Christmas, regardless of the rest of the news.

The Nativity Story has been described as the most beloved story in all of literature. It was the report of Luke, a physician, not a writer, who told the whole story of the birth of Christ in 416 words.

Of course, the most significant verse of the Nativity Story is that which says "For unto you this day is born in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."

Most of us overlook the importance of the verse which follows this one in the story: "And this shall be a sign unto you; ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger."

All of us should be more strongly impressed with the fact that the greatest gift of all—the first Christmas and the Saviour of the world—was made without any fancy wrapping.

The humble appearance of the Christ Child did not impress many of the titans of that day either and His station was questioned unto death.

This Christmas would be the proper time for all of us to look at Christ again and then look at each other, with the thought of maybe changing some of our views.

Most of us are pretty humble packages to look at, easily misunderstood, and perhaps not easily loved for appearance's sake.

But if we let the lesson of Luke's report of the Nativity in the city of David soak in, we might realize that we are inclined to put the emphasis on the wrong values and overlook the best in each other.

That's why Christ was sent to the world—to save it from the pursuit of false values and open the door to God's Heaven through faith and simple understanding.

Merry Christmas!

Ike Urges 'Peace Partnership' With Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has challenged Russia to look beyond "bare coexistence" and strive for peace in open partnership with all nations.

He said Wednesday that differing peoples and systems of government can exist in the world without inevitable conflict "in which one must triumph over the other."

Eisenhower made his peace appeal in a nationally televised and broadcast speech at the lighting of the national Christmas tree on the grounds just south of the White House.

The President planned to spend a quiet day in the White House today resting up from his arduous 18-day good will mission abroad. He had no appointments scheduled.

Friday the Eisenhowers will have Christmas dinner at the White House. Shortly after the holiday, he is expected to fly to Augusta, Ga., for two or three days of golf.

In his address Wednesday, the President did not mention Russia but his remarks were aimed at Soviet Russia that "Communism will defeat capitalism eventually in a battle of economic systems."

"Our concept of the good life for humanity does not require an inevitable conflict between peoples and systems — in which one must triumph over the other," he said.

"Nor does it offer merely a bare coexistence as a satisfactory state for mankind."

He said Wednesday that differing peoples and systems of government can exist in the world without inevitable conflict "in which one must triumph over the other."

Eisenhower addressed his plea to "workers for a just peace" regardless of race, flag, tongue or creed. He offered it in the Christmas spirit and in the name of humanity.

In a preliminary report on his good will mission, the President said that all peoples be talked with on his 23,000-mile trip—from kings and presidents to humble men and women in mud huts—looked to America to lead the world to "peace in freedom."

He said they believe that his country already is working toward the day "when there can be open and peaceful partnerships—communication—interchange of goods and ideas between all peoples."

He said that the words of the angels—"peace on earth, good will to men"—have "clearer meaning, sharper significance, more urgent counsel."

"I assure you that all the people I saw and visited want peace—nothing in human affairs can be more certain," he said.

The President's speech also added up to a major plea for his foreign aid program. He said almost every country he visited needed machines and technical knowledge to develop their resources.

Mild Weather Promised For Christmas

The Weather Bureau forecasts a clear and mild Christmas for Seminole County but most of the country won't be as lucky.

In a special Christmas forecast, the bureau predicted snow or snow flurries for the Great Lakes, New England and Rocky Mountain areas. It said most of the rest of the nation would have rain or generally cloudy weather.

Near normal temperatures were forecast except in the Northeast where severe cold was predicted.

West of the Rockies rain or showers may occur with snow likely in the higher elevations, the bureau said.

Snows brought a white but wintry Christmas Eve to the northern part of the nation today, and rains promised a wet, gloomy day for most other sections.

A surprisingly heavy snowstorm swept across the Midwest Wednesday and is expected to dump snow eastward into the Middle Atlantic states and North Carolina today. Up to 14 inches fell in the Midwest.

But the sparkle of newly-fallen snow was most prevalent in the Midwest and Great Lakes region, while easterners still were washing the clear and mild Christmas of the previous day.

At least 30 persons had died of injuries suffered in traffic or by overexertion brought on by the heavy snows in the Midwest and the East.

Six persons were dead in the Chicago area alone and one else where in Illinois. There were 14 fatalities in Massachusetts, New Jersey and Connecticut, eight in Wisconsin and one in Iowa.

The Weather Bureau warned of hazardous driving conditions throughout Wisconsin, Minnesota, northern Illinois and Indiana and Michigan's upper peninsula.

The bad weather ensured that thousands of motorists probably would say off the highways during the most accident-prone holiday of the year. But state troopers and local policemen across the nation gave up their holidays to patrol highways.

In the West, rain fell from Washington south through California and into southern Nevada and Arizona. Scattered rains were forecast for Alabama, and along the Georgia coast into South Carolina.

The nation's three biggest metropolitan areas seemed almost certain to have a wet Christmas, but in differing degrees—snow in Chicago, slush in New York and rain in Los Angeles.

New York was still digging out of a seven-inch snowfall but little more was expected before Christmas Day. In Chicago and other big Midwest cities, however, shoppers battled two to three inches of snow on sidewalks, auto traffic slowed to a crawl and thousands of persons dropped plans for holiday auto trips.

New York was still digging out of a seven-inch snowfall but little more was expected before Christmas Day. In Chicago and other big Midwest cities, however, shoppers battled two to three inches of snow on sidewalks, auto traffic slowed to a crawl and thousands of persons dropped plans for holiday auto trips.

In the West, rain fell from Washington south through California and into southern Nevada and Arizona. Scattered rains were forecast for Alabama, and along the Georgia coast into South Carolina.

The nation's three biggest metropolitan areas seemed almost certain to have a wet Christmas, but in differing degrees—snow in Chicago, slush in New York and rain in Los Angeles.

RAY LUNDQUIST

Sanford Grider Wins 32nd Annual Sports Trophy

Nine judges today agreed that the oldest consecutively presented individual sports trophy in the south—the Peter Schnal Award for the Most Valuable Player—was won by Ray Lundquist, fleet backfield ace for Coach Jim Pigott's Seminole High School football squad.

The trophy, 32nd of its kind since the first was awarded to end Lonnie Edensfield in 1926, will be presented to Lundquist by the donor, now an Orlando advertising agency owner, at the school's annual All-Sports banquet in the spring.

Two of those having been on the selections committee since 1926, also were agreed that their task for 1959 will be most difficult because of the fine material which will return.

The award first was offered in an effort to spur interest among players whose only incentive in 1926, other than school spirit, was a letter award. There were no other awards in 1926, the donor recalled.

Two Electronics Plants To Double Size In Early '60

Seminole County may be known as the electronics center of the state early next year with two of the county's electronics firms planning "giant" expansion moves.

Chamber of Commerce manager John Krider said today, that both Dearborn and Dynatronics will double their operations early next year creating jobs for some 500 more men and women.

Dynatronics now has annual payroll of over $500,000 and will reach $1 million by spring.

About 25 percent of Dynatronics' employees are engineers. Most of the firm's orders are for research and development.

At the present time there are approximately 125 employed at the plant.

Dearborn is located on a four acre tract in the same area as Dynatronics and moved into the county in August.

The firm hopes to increase its staff from 100 to 250 by early spring. Dearborn makes electronics capacitors and has several major defense contracts. The company first located in Chicago some six years ago and the staff is made up mostly of engineers.

The Navy launched a Polaris test rocket from a unique tube Wednesday, but had to settle for "partial" success when the missile was deliberately blown up after 55 seconds of flight.

The range safety officer flipped the "destruct" switch on the 23-foot missile when it "deviated from its planned trajectory" just before the booster stage was to have dropped off.
