Three Swimmers Attacked Last Month Fishermen Blamed For Sharks Off New Smyrna Beach

NEW SMYRNA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With three local swimmers attacked by sharks last month, lifeguards are hoping the shark problem won't be as severe this year as last.

"We had our worst summer last year," said lifeguard Capt. John Crist. "But it still isn't a serious problem. It's really too early to tell if they're going to be a problem this year."

Chief lifeguard Tom Hennick said his men have even tried using a plane to watch for sharks along Volusia County's 47 miles of coastline.

"We know the sharks are out there. We've always known sharks were out there," said Rennick, who has blamed fishermen who dump scrap fish off a nearby pier for luring the sharks to the area.

Edward Bassett Jr., 17, said he was riding a surfboard last week when he was severely gashed by a shark.

"I was getting ready to ride a wave, and my leg was hanging over the side of the board when I chomp. It was like a bear trap. He pulled me off the board, and I knew he had me," Bassett said from Winter Park Memorial Hospital.

"I really don't know what happened, but I guess I kicked him with my other foot," he said. "Then I got a shark a few days earlier while swimming at Daytona Beach, some 30 miles north of New Smyrna."

Bassett collapsed and his girlfriend, Cathy Egglston, pulled him ashore and called police. He spent two weeks in a hospital for about six weeks.

Bassett was the second person in five days to be attacked by a shark while swimming off Florida's East Coast.

Canadian vacationer Cindy Jones, 10, of Plerrefonds, Quebec, was bitten on the leg by a shark a few days earlier while swimming at Daytona Beach, some 30 miles north of New Smyrna.

Another boy was slightly injured when he stepped on a shark's tail while wading in the water.

Jeffrey Harahan, 20, who said he gave up surfing at Daytona "after I was bumped by one shark," claimed that civic officials are covering up the problem.

"They (officials) know it's going to hurt tourism," Harahan said. "So they don't say anything about it. But people should at least be aware sharks are out there so they can look for them."

Schools May Not Get All Of $2.8 Million

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

Though legislative action lacks on an additional $2.8 million for public education next year in Seminole County, that amount may never reach the School Board's bank for redistribution to the county's 39 schools.

The reason, according to School Supt. Roger Harris, is based on projected 1,000 increase in next year's student enrollment — something which just may not happen.

"We don't feel we're going to reach that number of students," Harris said. "If we follow past history, we probably will grow 200-300 students more over the summer."

"Obviously, if you don't have the growth, they don't send the money down from Tallahassee," Harris added.

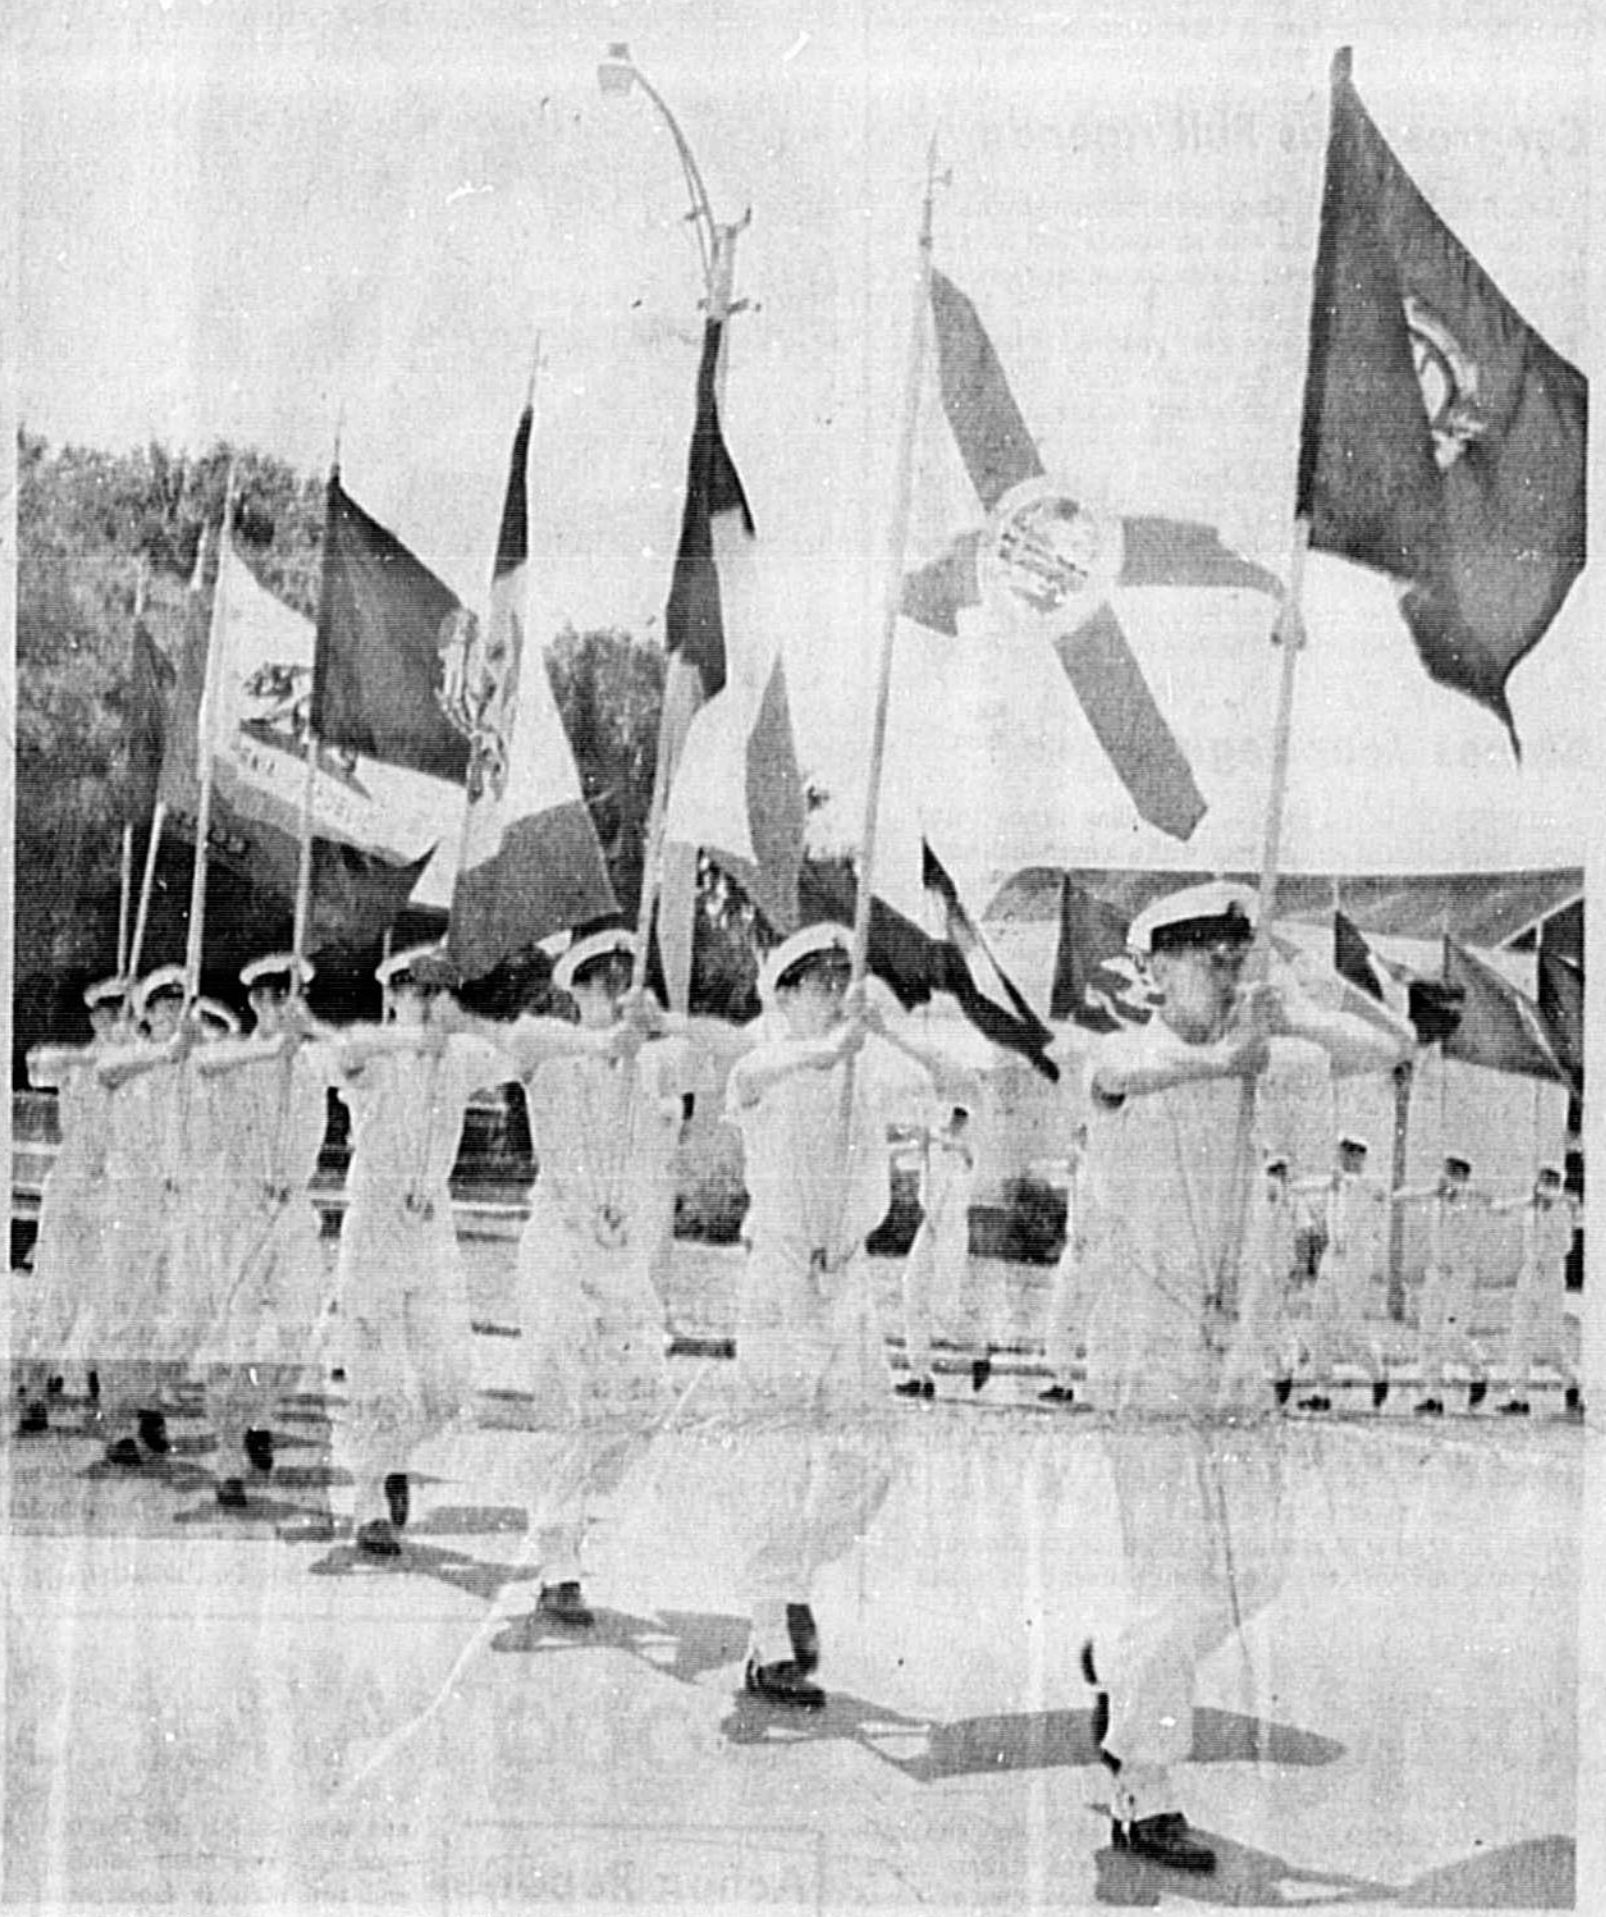

A bill voted out by the Florida House last Friday allotted $1.6 billion of the taxpayer's money for education in public schools. Seminole County's slice of that pie is $31 million, or an estimated $2.8 million more than last year.

Harris quickly points out those figures are misleading and that if the "students don't materialize" — the money doesn't materialize. He said, however, that this county will receive about the same amount of funds as school officials got last year.

Harris also said Seminole has no major complaints with the state allocation. And sometime toward the end of this week, officials will have figured out the number of students anticipated for next year. At that time, of course, the school system will know how big a slice of the $2.8 million pie will be forthcoming.

The House-passed funding bill kept the same funding formula as last year — 87.5 per cent of what students on a full-time basis. And Florida Education Commissioner Ralph Turington says he expects today's Senate action to stick closely to action taken last Friday by the House.

The bill requires that the 68 school districts raise an additional $90 million in local taxes, but the eight-million cap must stay as is. Harris said he's sure the citizens will be

Justice Department Ruling Received Here

The U.S. Justice Department this morning formally handed over its recommendation to convert Rosenwald Elementary School to a special education center and rapped the school system's ratio of black to white educators.

Burt Dougherty, an attorney for the Justice Department, read the ruling to School Supt. Bud Layer. Layer said the decision concerning Rosenwald was the same ruling he received prior to last week's School Board meeting.

The only big difference — and it's an addition — is that justice officials criticized the school system for not having enough black teachers employed in the county.

The ruling substantiated a Herald story which appeared in the May 25 edition. Layer said the ruling states the black-white ratio concerning teachers is "going to have to be looked into." Layer said that was the main criticism, although he said other smaller criticisms are directed toward Seminole's schools.

Layer said an investigation into Justice Department complaints will be done locally. He said Justice officials per se will not launch an investigation, but that it will be handled by local officials. Layer said he did not know what action the department might take in the event school officials do not correct discrepancies in the countywide ratio. Layer said complaints mentioned the district wide ratio as well as the ratio in each individual school.

Personnel Director Stewart Gatchel told The Herald earlier that school officials make every effort to hire qualified black teachers, but both Gatchel and Layer agreed it's a difficult task.

In previous interviews, Layer has mentioned the fact that educated blacks are able to secure higher paying jobs than the salary earned by a beginning teacher. At present, a beginning teacher earns $7,800 yearly.

Armed with today's formalized opinion Layer on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the county courthouse will face a School Board whose members are on the opposite end of at least one part of the recommendation by the Justice Department.

That ruling, in essence, says the department will not stand in the way of the phaseout of

Former Assistant Says He Was Never Reprimanded Brock Calls Herring Statements 'Untrue'

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Allamonte Springs attorney Newman Brock today said statements by State Atty. General Herring that he (Brock) was negligent and was reprimanded in a hassle over a 1973 criminal case "are totally untrue."

Brock was an Assistant State Attorney and the original prosecutor in an alleged conspiracy case involving a south Seminole Ambulance firm.

Herring said Friday, in reply to a Grand Jury report, that he was never reprimanded.

Brock said when sworn procedures of his office, that Brock was negligent in that he didn't file an answer to a defense motion to dismiss the case and the court dismissed the charges against two defendants. Herring said he reprimanded Brock.

"I was never reprimanded," Brock said. "After reviewing the case I found it was an extremely poor one. I couldn't determine if a criminal act had been committed and I told Herring the case shouldn't go further. Herring failed to heed my advice and wanted to continue prosecution."

Brock said when sworn testimony was taken from a state attorney's investigator in the case he discovered that a bogus stock certificate had been used in the investigation.

Brock said he learned that a private attorney had issued the certificate "at the request of State Attorney's investigators."

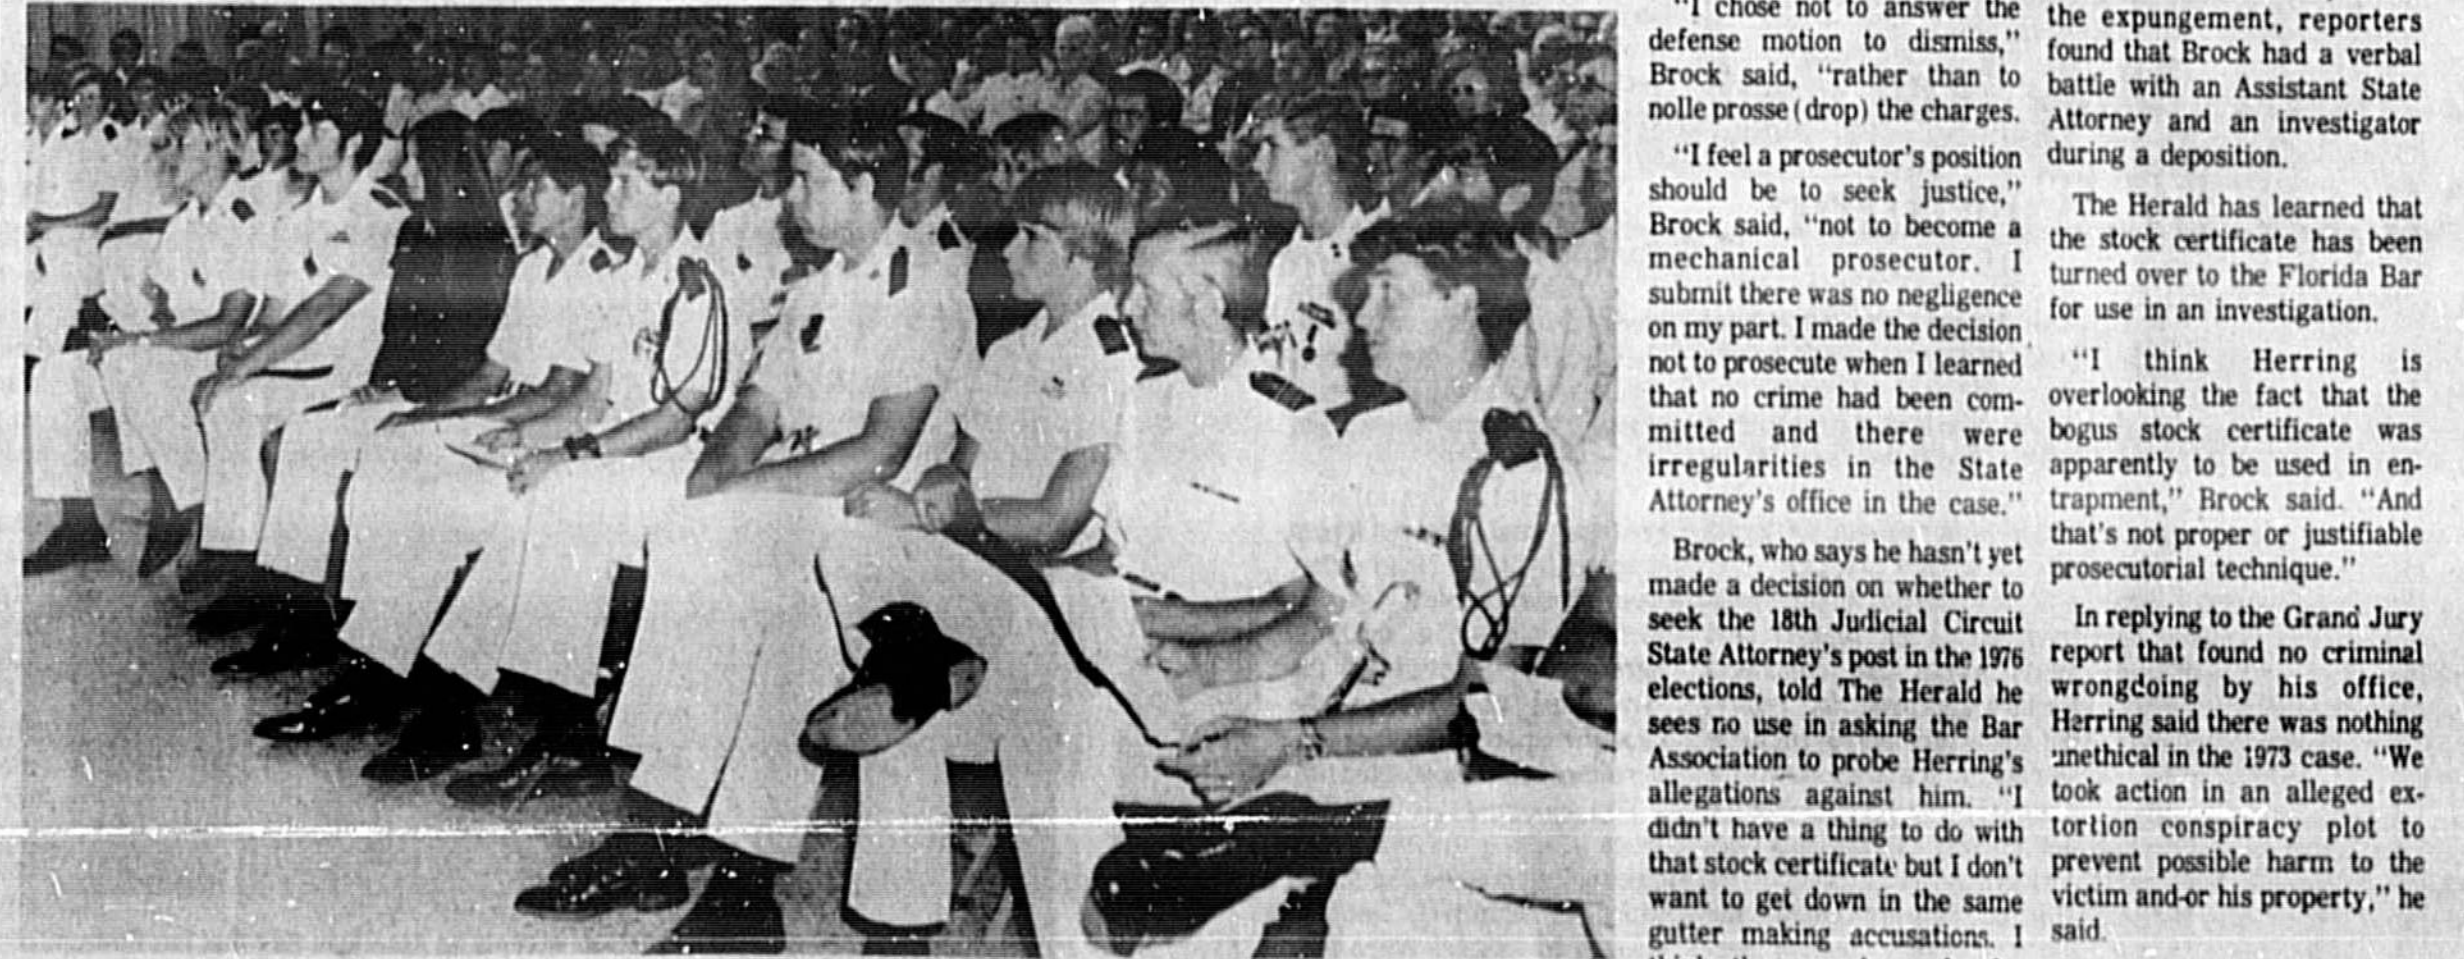

Then it became even more apparent to me that the case shouldn't be prosecuted."

"I chose not to answer the defense motion to dismiss," Brock said, "rather than to nolle prosequere (drop) the charges."

"I feel a prosecutor's position should be to seek justice," Brock said, "not to become a mechanical prosecutor. I submit there was no negligence on my part. I made the decision not to prosecute when I learned that no crime had been committed and there were irregularities in the State Attorney's office in the case."

Brock, who says he hasn't yet made a decision on whether to seek the 18th Judicial Circuit State Attorney's post in the 1976 elections, told The Herald he sees no use in asking the Bar Association to probe Herring's allegations against him. "I didn't have a thing to do with that stock certificate but I don't want to get down in the same gutter making accusations. I think the record speaks for itself."

Brock joined Herring's staff Nov. 1, 1971 at a salary of $13,500 and was making $21,000 a year when he resigned to go into private law practice Feb. 1, 1974, according to Herring.

NATION IN BRIEF

70-Cent Gallon Price Feared By Energy Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb says President Ford's energy conservation program would push gasoline prices to near the 70-cent-a-gallon mark.

The effort to raise prices is deliberate, Zarb said in response to a question during an ABC's "Issues and Answers" interview program.

"That's correct, but keep in mind that these conservation taxes which we have proposed would be returned to the economy and individuals, particularly those who could least afford to pay higher energy costs," he said.

Zarb said that, while the administration plan would add 40 cents a gallon to the current price of gasoline, the legislation proposed by the House Ways and Means Committee would increase it three cents immediately and, in time, a total of 23 cents a gallon.

Congress Has Full Agenda

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is returning from a 10-day Memorial Day recess with an agenda that includes foreign policy, young rights, a deeded appropriation bill and two presidential vetoes.

Liberals and conservatives were prepared to do battle in the Senate later today in what was billed as a "great debate" on foreign policy and defense posture in the post-Vietnam era.

The vehicle for this debate is a $20.3 billion authorization bill for military weapons procurement and research. The amount recommended by the Senate Armed Services Committee for the 15-months beginning July 1 is $4.4 billion less than Pentagon budget requests and $2.3 billion under the bill passed by the House on May 20.

Stones Tour Begins

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The Rolling Stones roared into a long-awaited concert tour with a longer-than-usual two-hour performance that made up for a late beginning, a crackling sound system and a mammoth traffic jam.

"It's good to get the first one out of you and release that tension," said Mick Jagger, lead singer and spokesman for the British rock group, after the Sunday matinee that was the group's first time on stage in 18 months.

Jagger promised something extra for the crowd at the first of their two performances. "This is the first show of our tour, so we're trying to find out what we're doing good and terrible. So we're going to do a lot more."

CIA Probe Winds Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rockefeller Commission is winding up its five-month investigation of the CIA amid controversy over whether President John F. Kennedy and his brother, Robert, were involved in alleged efforts to kill Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

The eight-member panel headed by Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller is scheduled to hold its final meeting later today to review the report it will deliver to President Ford on Friday.

Utility Fight With County Tops List Two Major Items On Casselberry Agenda

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

CASSELBERRY — Two major items of interest to citizens of this city — a utility fight with the county and a proposed land purchase for a utility plant — top the agenda for tonight's 7:30 meeting at City Hall.

City Atty. Ken McIntosh is expected to report on progress the city is making in acquisition of a site suitable for installation of a utility plant, something the city has planned for years.

Council members drew fire for that authorization because the public was not informed where the land up for purchase was located. Nor were they told the price range to be negotiated.

The reasoning, according to Council Chairman Edith Durso and others, was that publication of the land's whereabouts would drive the price up.

Grier, however, confirmed that city officials are looking at land on Red Bug Lake Road, which is located east of Semoran Boulevard and north of Lake Howell.

The asking price for that parcel is in the neighborhood of $55,000. However, McIntosh said at a recent meeting that other parcels have been offered and are also under consideration for purchase by the city.

The city attorney also is expected to report on the status of the looming battle between Casselberry and county officials over purchase of Consumer Utilities and Indian Hills Utilities by the County Commission.

Though the county is sitting on a successful $2.4 million bond valuation, the city has been unable to take the matter to the highest court in the land in an effort to block the bond valuation. City officials gave McIntosh the go-ahead to oppose the county's purchase.

That action drew some bitter remarks from County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr., who said he was bitterly disappointed in action by the city after Grier had assured him the city and county could work it out on a more amicable basis.

Vihlen also said the entire fiasco would only serve to make a certain group of attorneys richer. And one county official estimated it could cost as much as $100,000 to litigate the matter.

The money—should the city and county engage in a lengthy court dispute—would come, of course, from the pockets of the taxpayers.

Hartsock To Report On Sanlando Books

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — City Accountant Harold Hartsock is scheduled to give City Council, at 7:30 tonight, a report on his examination of the Sanlando Utilities Corp. books last Friday.

Hartsock and city bookkeeper Elise Olliff examined the records for a second time on City Council instructions to attempt to determine the amount of utility taxes the firm failed to collect over the four-year period it has provided water service to four city subdivisions.

It was discovered several months ago that residents in Winsor Manor, Sleepy Hollow first addition, the Moorings and Devonshire had not been charged the utility tax by the company required by city law.

Sanlando began collections with the may billing.

Also on the agenda are:

- An appearance by Carmine Bravo, attorney for the volunteer fire department.
- A presentation of an agreement from the department that volunteers will assist, when available, the paid firefighters; requiring the city to reimburse the volunteers for their expenses.
- A presentation of a report from the department that the city should consider a bicycle path program.

Marathon Meet Before Vacation

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — City Commissioners will wind up pending business with a marathon meeting beginning at 11 a.m. tomorrow before they go their separate ways for the next seven weeks of the summer.

All Commission meetings after tomorrow have been cancelled until July 20.

At 1 p.m., a workshop is scheduled on planning board recommendations for changes in the zoning ordinance and discussion of a bicycle path program.

Immediately prior to going into formal session at 4:30 p.m., the board will hold a workshop with attorney Benjamin Tepper on the requested refund of $30,000 paid in advance sewer and water connection fees and building permit costs.

The fees were paid for a high-rise apartment office complex on SR 436. Plans for the building have since been abandoned.

The Commission in February scheduled for passage are ordinances annexing and rezoning the Goodman property on SR 436 to permit the construction of a liquor store and an amendment to an existing ordinance permitting all businesses selling alcoholic beverages to operate on Sunday.

Christian Sentencing Scheduled

TALLAHASSEE, (AP)—In an effort to escape a prison sentence today, former Education Commissioner Floyd Christian has sent a federal judge the character testimony of two former governors and two former Supreme Court justices.

U.S. District Judge Clarence W. Allgood was scheduled to pass sentence today on Christian for income tax evasion.

Maximum sentence would be five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

No character witnesses other than transcripts of the earlier testimony will be presented.

Christian pleaded guilty April 22 to a charge of failing to report $30,000 in income connected with kickbacks in 1969 and evading $15,751 in income taxes.

Many Stay At Eglin Refugees Afraid To Leave

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — Many of the 1,200 Vietnamese refugees free to leave this Florida Panhandle camp are lingering behind simply because they are afraid of the outside world, officials say.

"There's a great fear of the unknown among the refugees," says Hugh McCloone, who runs the Catholic Relief Bureau here, "a great fear of how they'll be received, how they'll succeed when they get out the door."

Of the 5,629 refugees who had arrived at Eglin by the past weekend, 2,148 had sponsors and were free to leave. But only 961 had departed, leaving nearly 1,200 of the security-approved refugees still in camp.

In addition, three refugees who happily left the tent city, eager to begin new lives, have returned to the base, officials said.

One Vietnamese, who asked not to be identified, agreed that some of his countrymen were afraid to take the final step.

"We're afraid that something will go wrong. We don't really know our sponsors, and we don't know whether they will really be responsible for us, help us for months or even years if necessary," he said.

Las Gottlieb, deputy chief of the camp, said word spread quickly when one girl, who had left for a northwest Florida town with a sponsor, returned in tears.

"She showed up at the main gate in the dead of the night only a couple of days later," he said. "The guards didn't know what to do ... and I had to telephone them to say it was all right for her to come back."

Officials said the combination of refugee uncertainty, low security clearances, and a lack of information on the part of the camp open long past the July target-date for closing.

The breakdown is as follows: white males, 518; white females, 1,311 as compared to 129 black males and 272 black females.

Gurney testified he had no recollection of a telephone conversation which other prosecution witnesses said he made to welcome Williams on to his staff in January 1971.

The first Gurney said he knew of Williams' activities was in June 1972 when Williams admitted collecting $100,000 on Gurney's behalf.

An interlocal agreement between Seminole County and Lake Mary to provide water and sewer service to the new Scott Electronics plant is expected to be considered for approval tomorrow by the County Commission.

The commission meets at 9:30 a.m. in Room 203 in the Courthouse.

The Lake Mary Council last week unanimously approved the agreement after several modifications to the plan which was worked out by county and city officials.

The County Commission previously had approved a plan proposed by Roger Neiswander, head of the county's development division. The modified agreement, approved by the city, must now receive the county's approval before the agreement can be enacted.

The agreement is to allow Wilco Utility to serve the new electronics plant in Lake Mary, which is tentatively set for opening in August. Wilco is a private utility regulated by the county.

According to Neiswander, the major change made by the city in the interlocal agreement includes the county guaran-

Five Jail Escapees Quickly Recaptured

ARCADIA, (AP) — Five inmates who escaped from their disciplinary confinement building at DeSoto Correctional Institution were quickly captured, officials said.

One prisoner was captured by a guard outside the confinement building Saturday night and three others were captured after they tripped an electronic surveillance system at the prison's fence, a spokesman said.

The fifth inmate, identified as Kenneth Hewatt, was found about four hours later when police aided by bloodhounds tracked him down early Sunday.

A spokesman said two inmates had overpowered a guard and taken his keys, but could get only three other inmates to go with them in the escape attempt.

Ducklings Back Home

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Fifteen ducklings are back home-on-the-pond with their mothers today, after a family rescued them from over-zealous, would-be pet owners.

Bunny Sands said her children, Karen, 11, and Brian, 10, learned that people were staking on a local golf course after dark and stealing the ducklings from a pond.

Police investigated, but soon gave up, saying they couldn't keep up with the little ducks. So, Mrs. Sands began a house-by-house search last week.

"I recovered nine by going into the homes of people up and down the street," she said. "I made a lot of enemies doing it, but those ducks were not theirs. They belong to all."

She said her children recovered six other ducks during the week.

Seniors Dissatisfied

TALLAHASSEE, (AP) — "Everywhere we turn we're being ripped off," says Max Friedman as most of the bills pushed by the Florida Congress of Senior Citizens appeared doomed.

Friedman, head of the Miami-based group, said that politicians always are careful to solicit votes of senior citizens when they are running for office, but forget about them once elected.

"The legislators, particularly the younger ones, vote for legislation to help the elderly only when we're there watching them," he said.

Gurney: Candidate Kept Apart From Fund Drives

TAMPA (AP) — A candidate usually is kept apart from fund raising in a campaign so that if something goes wrong, he can honestly say he had nothing to do with it, former Sen. Edward Gurney told a federal judge today.

The prosecution today was to read more from a transcript of Gurney's testimony before the Jacksonville grand jury last May. It was introduced here Friday in the federal trial of Gurney and four others charged with conspiracy to build an illegal slush fund through in-house peddling with the Federal Housing Authority.

On trial with Gurney are former aides James Groot and Joseph Bastien and one-time federal housing officers Ralph Koutz and K. Wayne Swiger.

Gurney is also charged with bribery, accepting unlawful compensation in the form of a condominium and four counts of lying to the grand jury.

Gurney appeared voluntarily last year before the secret panel, knowing it was investigating allegations that FIAA leaders were swapped for cash contributions.

Gurney told the grand jury he was unaware of Larry Williams' fund raising operation for 18 months. As soon as he found out about it, Gurney said he ordered it stopped.

Gurney testified he had no recollection of a telephone conversation which other prosecution witnesses said he made to welcome Williams on to his staff in January 1971.

O'Malley May Be Suspended By Tonight

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — With 11 articles of impeachment pending in the House, O'Malley is automatically suspended until the Senate holds a trial on his removal from office. The Senate is required to act within six months.

Impeachment and suspension could be a serious blow to O'Malley's hopes to win acquittal in his scheduled June 30 trial on charges of accepting $10,000 in unauthorized compensation and perjury.

O'Malley has told his staff, however, that when he goes through impeachment proceedings and gets his day in court "the result will be favorable."

Other impeachment articles

The first articles to be considered, and potentially the most damaging, charge that O'Malley accepted between $800 and $1,000 from Independent Life Insurance Co. in December 1971.

O'Malley aide E.A. Faircloth testified that he told the company O'Malley wanted a contribution because the firm had failed to contribute to his campaign.

Faircloth said he received the money in an envelope during the 1971 National Association of Insurance Commissioners convention at Miami Beach and gave it to O'Malley.

Other impeachment articles

allegedly received favorable treatment from O'Malley.

—Approved a $2.36 million Gulf Life Insurance Co. loan as a company investment after inducing the firm to lend the money to four North Florida men who, with O'Malley as a secret partner, bought a shopping center.

O'Malley's impeachment proceedings are the first to reach the House since Li Gov. Tom Adams was charged with misuse of state employes in 1973.

Efforts to impeach Adams failed, but the House voted to ensure him — a mild reprimand that many constitutional scholars contend is an inappropriate alternative to impeachment.

There has been talk of substituting censure of O'Malley for impeachment, but the movement apparently has fizzled.

Twelve Killed In Accidents

By The Associated Press

At least 12 persons died in weekend traffic accidents, including three persons killed when a speeding auto smashed into a utility pole near Gibsonsburg, state troopers said early today.

The Highway Patrol said Jackie W. Crumb, 40, of Riverview, was fatally injured along with her two male companions in the early morning accident Saturday. The names of the two men were withheld until police could notify out-of-state relatives.

Troopers gave the following details of these fatal accidents:

Betty Humel, 68, and Thelma Pooke Hassel, 74, both of Port Charlotte, died Friday night when their car tried to pass another auto on U.S. 41, 10 miles north of Okeechobee. Mrs. Humel's car was hit by an oncoming vehicle.

Dorothy Schmidt, 70, of New Smyrna Beach, was a passenger in an auto involved in a collision with a police car in her hometown Saturday night. An automobile driven by Ed-

Help Make Your House 'Child-Safe'

The Herald Services
A child's world is an open ended, kaleidoscopic place where a multitude of objects and impressions invade the senses. The freshness of many objects, and the imagination that a child brings to the contemplation of these objects, drives the child toward exploration. However, this brand of exploration may create dangerous situations. Underwriters Laboratories is recognizing the kinds of scrapes that kids can get into, offers the following advice on child safety.

An old refrigerator or freezer lying in disuse in your basement or garage is a potential "child-trap." This unit may become a "fortress" or "space capsule" in an imaginative child's mind. However, this space capsule doesn't travel anywhere, and its construction is airtight. The frantic, enclosed child can quickly use up the oxygen provided, and may eventually suffocate. This is why a UL Listed refrigerator unit is designed to open easily from the inside when the amount of force that can be exerted by a child is applied to the door. This would enable the child to escape a dangerous situation.

If you plan to store a refrigerator or freezer for later use, or to discard one, you should act upon one of the following suggestions:

Check with your local fire, police, health, or building officials regarding ordinances relating to storage of unused units or methods of discarding units.

Remove the door and place the refrigerator with the storage compartment opening butted firmly against a wall.

An electric range is another object that sure to attract an inquisitive child's attention. He may climb on top of the range and play with the control knobs, or accidentally brush against a control on route to an overhead cabinet. If the surface burner is activated, the child may be seriously burned. Therefore, it is a good idea not to store electric items in a cabinet above the range. It is also obvious that children should be supervised when in the kitchen. If your child normally wakes up before you do, close the kitchen off with a gate or other barrier prior to retiring for the night. Dressing your child in close fitting clothes is another precaution against fabric ignition and eventual burns.

Finally, UL Listed ranges will soon be required to have a control knob that takes two operations to activate. This should make a child's maneuvering of controls a more difficult task.

Flammable liquids are hazardous to begin with, but in the hands of a child they can become doubly so. Keep all flammable liquids out of their reach—and don't let them play with matches or lighters.

Remember that not all toys are for all children. The type of toy that a given child should be playing with is dependent on the size, age, strength and maturity of the child. Some toys might have specific warning labels, such as "Not Intended for Children Under 3 Years of Age." A very young child may place objects in his or her mouth. Therefore, the toys and toy accessories you buy should be non-toxic and too large to be swallowed or placed in the nose.

Your child's early years should be a rewarding period, for exploration. UL offers these suggestions in the interest of making it a safe period, as well buying electrically-operated toys for older, more mature children, look for the UL Listing Mark. This indicates that the design of the toy has been tested with regard to nationally recognized standards.

Auxiliary

DELTONA — The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW Post 10096 will be held at the home of Auxiliary president Carolyn DeVary, 678 Normandy Blvd., on June 4 at 7:30 p.m. This is the last meeting of the current year.

The meeting date has been changed from June 12, because this is the date of the State Convention of the VFW in Miami which delegates from the local auxiliary will be attending.

On Saturday at 4:30 p.m. members of the VFW Post 10096 and its Ladies Auxiliary will join with members of the Military Order of the Cooties Grades 41 and its Auxiliary at Deltona Community Center to celebrate the second birthday of the Order of the Cooties. A covered dish dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. followed by a social hour of dancing and merrymaking to the tunes of the Lamplighters.

The Gnat's Pup Tent 42 was formed in Deltona in June of 1972, with Donald Lavery elected as the first Seam Squirrel. He follows Reese McKeuley.

Hospital chairman John Bacon and his committee have received State citations for their splendid hospital work as did Mrs. Laura Lavery and her committee from the Auxiliary.

The Cooties and Auxiliary in hospitals and local Nursing Homes were veterans art confined. They also visit children's homes.

The next regular meeting of the Cooties and Auxiliary will be held on June 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Center, with the Cooties meeting in the Little Red Red School House and the Auxiliary in the Arts and Crafts Building.

George Mayberry and publicity director Russ Blevy.

The Seminole Numismatic Society meets the first Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Sanford Beauty College on Sanford Avenue. If you have a desire to learn more about coin collecting, come on out and join the coin collectors of Sanford.

Hoosiers

The Indiana Club of Deltona will meet June 5 at 4 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon, 1302 West Wellington Dr., for a garden party and grill. Most will be furnished by the club while salads and dessert will be brought by the members. Those attending are asked to bring their own lawn chairs. A musical program will be presented after dinner. For reservations, call Mrs. Gordon no later than June 3.

Wayfarers

DeBary — A festive afternoon prevailed at the DeBary Wayfarers May meeting when wives and guests were honored by the local masons on their Ladies Day. More than 250 attended.

District Deputy Worshipful Grand Master T. E. Windthorst, assisted by president David Weststrand, presented 50-year pins and scrolls of congratulations to Brothers Alvin G. Davis, Ray Amann Harmon, Benjamin Leisby, George P. Paulsen, Earl C. Webb, George S. Wiswell and Herbert E. Olson. Mr. Olson had 60 years of service.

Festival Graced Mansion

By FANNETTE EDWARDS
Herald Correspondent

DeBARY — This year the DeBary Mansion, a designated historical Florida site located in the heart of DeBary at 210 Sunrise Boulevard, celebrates its 104th anniversary.

For two days the mansion, now the DeBary Hall housing the Florida Federation of Art, was glamorized by the Spring Art Festival being conducted by the Federation.

The tree-shaded grounds were prepared with decorated exhibition spaces where 53 artists presented nearly 2,000 works of art.

Exhibitors included: James Kelly of Casselberry, Fla.; Drew of Eau Gallie and James Koenig of Oviedo showing watercolors; Barbara Dunstan, of Deltona, Marge Minnich of Kissimmee, Freda Webster of DeBary, Bill Donald of Miami, Sid Smith of Leesburg, and many more showing oils.

Award winners were: Watercolors: John Yaeckle Orlando, first; Neil Adamson, St. Petersburg, second; James Koenig, Oviedo, third and Elizabeth Johnson, Miami, merit.

Oils: William Donnell, Miami Springs, first; Sid Smith, Leesburg, second; Sue Ponticelli, Matland, third and Maria Drew, Eau Gallie, merit. Acrylics: John Gerdes, Matland, first; Helen Hickey, Sanford, second; Thea Ulrich, Holly Hill, third and Robert Ewing, Homosassa Springs, merit.

Sculpture: Bill Ellis, Orlando, first; Fred Miller, Ocoee, second and Ken Edwards, Tarpon Springs, third.

Juniors: Marjorie Shropshire, first; Sherrie Fitch Orlando, second; Mary Hartwig, Sanford, third and Kathy Hickey, Sanford, merit.

Special Awards of merit: Marge Minnich, Kissimmee; Dorothy Huck, Titusville and Adolph Wengen, Orlando. Purchase awards went to Olivia Ackerman of Jacksonville and Mildred Kaucher, Lake Wales.

FIXING UP NEW PLACE

With new space allotted them at Longwood Elementary School, members of BSVF, Retired Seniors Volunteer Program, are making preparations to move from their old headquarters at Seminole Junior College. Orlando Grassi repairs a window frame. Hopefully their new home will be ready for occupancy this Wednesday.

Thinks Fishing Is For The Boys

DEAR ABBY: Each year my husband and our teenage sons spend a week up north fishing. They love it. I hate it. I wish my husband and the boys would go without me, but when I mention it, my husband says, "No, we'll just skip it this year because Mom doesn't want to go." The boys are disappointed and Mom is the heavy.

Abby, before we had children, I went fishing with my husband so he would have companionship, and I plan to do it again when the children are gone. When the boys were small I went without complaint because I felt I was needed, but small boys could at times be more problems than fishing for a man on a week's pleasure trip.

But the boys are not children now, and they couldn't care less whether I went along or not.

The fishing week is the high spot of their year. And it's my absolute lowest.

Am I wrong to want to stay home? It would be a great vacation for me not having to cook, wash or iron. Help me, Abby, they believe in you.

ALL FISHED OUT

DEAR FISHED: I'M PLORE Dad to let you off the hook this time. You've earned your stay-at-home vacation. (P.S. To the men in your house: "DON'T NAG—GO STAG!")

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column from a woman who couldn't bring herself to spend the inheritance money her mother had left her. The reason: When she (the daughter) was struggling with now, and they couldn't care less whether I went along or not.

DEAR GRANDMA: What this world needs is more of your brand of "selfishness." (P.S. FUNERAL DIRECTOR have well afforded it) gave her no help at all.

Years later, when the daughter no longer needed anything, her mother died and left her a small fortune.

Her letter prompts mine: My late husband used to say, "It is better to give with warm hands." (Meaning: "while one is alive.") He practiced that philosophy all his life and loved to give.

Now that he is gone, I am giving to my children and grandchildren "with warm hands," which gives them much pleasure. But to be perfectly honest, I am selfish, because when I give to them, my pleasure is far greater than theirs.

DEAR GRANDMA: What this world needs is more of your brand of "selfishness." (P.S. FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Not long ago, I received a letter from an elderly couple who as making funeral arrangements in advance. Enclosed was a check for $25 with the following note: "We want to be buried together. This should cover it."

Nolan Ryan Matches Koufax Feat With No-Hitter

ANAHEIM (AP) — Nolan Ryan thinks he's only just begun. Sandy Koufax agrees. Ryan, like Koufax, is a master of the fastball. And Ryan, who retired in 1966 with 271 no-hitters, has pitched four no-hitters. He made excellent use of his changeup and curve for a 1-0 no-hit victory over the Baltimore Orioles Sunday to tie the retired Los Angeles Dodger great for the most no-hitters in a major league career.

"I felt somewhere along the line I might have a chance to tie Koufax," said the California Angels' 28-year-old right-hander. "I don't feel I've reached my peak, but I do feel like I'm getting there this year."

Koufax, who retired in 1966 when Ryan was a 19-year-old with Greenville in the Western Carolina League, said from his retreat near Paso Robles, Calif., that he had no sadness about Ryan matching his four no-hitters.

"There was no doubt he was going to do it. The only question is how many more he's going to pitch," Koufax said. He said the number might reach 10 or 12 "with the kind of fastball he has."

The National League's New York Mets traded Ryan and three others to the Angels in 1971 for third baseman Jim Fregosi. And Ryan blossomed in 1972, posting a 19-16 record with 329 strikeouts in his first American League season.

The following year Ryan set an all-time single season major league strikeout mark of 332, bettering by one Koufax's 1965 record.

Ryan had a 21-16 record in 1973 and pitched two no-hitters — against Kansas City and Detroit, both on the road.

Last year he was 22-16 with 367 strikeouts and pitched one more no-hitter, Sept. 28 here against Minnesota on the final night of the season.

Angels' Manager Dick Williams has said he looks for a no-hitter every time Ryan takes the mound.

Ryan doesn't. "A no-hitter isn't on my mind as it is with some of the fellows on this club," Ryan said after popping a bubble blown with the wad of gum he was chewing. "Really, I don't think about it. You do that and you're only thinking about yourself. I think I can win enough games without throwing no-hitters all the time."

Sunday he struck out nine and walked four to move his major league won-lost record to 100-65.

He ended the game in classic fashion, perhaps proving how

He ended the game in classic fashion, perhaps proving how much he's changed from thrower to pitcher. Ryan completed his historic no-hitter by losing a tantalizing changeup to baffle Bobby Grich, who never moved the bat as the third strike sailed past him.

The victory gave Ryan a 9-3 record and an earned-run average of 2.44. His 96 strikeouts top the majors.

"By the sixth inning I knew I had a no-hitter going," Ryan said, "but I never did get the feeling I'd throw one."

Irwin 'Coasts' To Big Victory Worth $45,000

ATLANTA (AP) — "All he had to do was coast around," said Charles Coody. "Nobody took a run at him."

Irwin's 1-under-par 271 over the hills and valleys of the 6,883-yard Atlanta County Club course was the lowest in nine Open championship, accomplished his goal Sunday and coasted to an easy four-shot victory in the $25,000 Atlanta Golf Classic.

"I went out with the distinct impression I had to shoot a 69 today," said Irwin. "That would make someone have to shoot a 65 to beat me."

The former University of Colorado golfer and football star did even better — a four-under-par 68 — and no one even approached a 65.

Asked why no one made a run at him, Irwin, who will be 39 Tuesday, replied, "It's Sunday. It's a choking day."

Coody, witness since capturing the Masters in 1971, was the only player to get within two shots of the lead. "That came on the first hole, which he parred and Irwin bogeyed."

But Coody's hopes of a run faded when he missed short birdie putts on the seventh and eighth greens and then took a bogey on the ninth. He had to settle for third place money at 276 after a closing 70, while young Tom Watson finished second at 69-75.

Irwin's 1-under-par 271 over the hills and valleys of the 6,883-yard Atlanta County Club course was the lowest in nine Open championship, accomplished his goal Sunday and coasted to an easy four-shot victory in the $25,000 Atlanta Golf Classic.

NL Murcer, Baker Blasts Highlight Action

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

It isn't often that Bobby Murcer and Dusty Baker hit two home runs in a game, but they did it Sunday in a Pittsburgh Pirates could have waited one more game for them to do it.

Murcer belted a pair of two-run homers at windy Jarry Park to help the San Francisco Giants pound the Expos 13-5 Sunday while Baker hit a pair of solo shots to lead the Atlanta Braves past the Pirates 5-2.

"That was the first time I hit two home runs this year," said Murcer who has seven on the year. "They don't come too often."

Baker, who has never hit more than 21 in a season but has 10 already this year, insisted: "Really, I don't start hitting home runs until after the All-Star break. This is the third time I've hit two consecutive homers in the majors. I know my stroke is all right when I hit line drives like that."

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia edged Houston 5-4, San Diego blanked New York 4-0, Chicago whipped Los Angeles 7-2 and Cincinnati downed St. Louis 5-1.

The Giants struck for 10 runs over the final three innings. By that time, though, Expos' starter Dave McNally was showered and dressed. He worked five innings and gave up three runs.

Willie Montanez also homered for the Giants while Larry Parrish, Gary Carter, Pete Mackanin and Mike Jorgensen connected for Montreal.

Baker's home runs helped Atlanta knuckleballer Phil Niekro raise his record to 5-4 with a 10-hitter. Niekro, Darrell Evans and Ralph Garr all contributed run-scoring singles.

Phillies 5, Astros 4
Philadelphia built a 5-0 lead after five innings, then held on behind Larry Christenson's 3-1-3 innings of scoreless relief. Greg Luzinski and Mike Anderson each doubled home a run and Jay Johnstone homered for the Phils. Tommy Helms had a two-run single for Houston.

Padres 4, Mets 0
San Diego got two runs in the first inning on a pair of walks, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and an error, and the Mets never recovered.

Alan Foster, 3-1, and Danny Friestla combined on a seven-inning run in the eighth and Dave Winfield doubled home another in the ninth.

Cubs 7, Dodgers 2
Manny Trillo hit a two-run single, Andy Thornton homered and Steve Swisher drove in two runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly as Chicago regained first place in the East Division. Bill Bonham, 5-4, got the win and former Cub Burt Hooton, 3-5, took the loss.

Reds 5, Cards 1
Joe Morgan clubbed a three-run homer and Johnny Bench added a two-run double to power Cincinnati to its ninth victory in the last 10 games. Jack Billingham, 5-3, stopped St. Louis on five hits. The victory pulled the Reds within a half-game of first-place Los Angeles in the West.

Hall Of Famer Wins LPGA; Still In Daze

BALTIMORE (AP) — It was a week to remember for Kathy Whitworth — or will be, when she finally has time to reflect and realizes what happened.

Six days after being inducted into the Ladies Professional Golfers Association Hall of Fame, the veteran campaigner came from behind to win her third prestigious LPGA Championship.

"It's hard to believe I'm in the Hall of Fame," Miss Whitworth said after a birdie putt on the 17th green gave her a one-stroke victory Sunday over Sandra Haynie in the 72-hole tournament.

"I really haven't soaked in yet," she added. "It may be two or three weeks before it really comes to me. I'm still numb."

Understandably, Miss Whitworth's 72nd tournament title didn't shake her up quite as much.

"Life changes," she said. "This wasn't like my first win, or the second, or the third. Or, even like the first LPGA championship."

With a four-under-par 288 over the municipally-owned Pine Ridge course, the all-time LPGA money winner earned $8,000 and upped her career total to $554,781.

Miss Haynie, who also was seeking her third LPGA title, opened the final round in a tie with Miss Whitworth after making up four strokes on the 36-hole leader on Saturday. The $5,650 she got for finishing at 289 ran her career total to $415,183.

Young Jolyn Washam ran off four straight birdies through the 17th hole to finish third at 290 after shooting 71 on Sunday, followed by Donna Caponi Young at 291 and Carol Mann at 292.

Sandra Palmer, the leading money winner this year, ran her 1975 earnings to $47,582 after picking up $1,875 for a 293 that tied her with Sandra Spuehlich and Jocelyn Bourassa.

AL Pressure Game Didn't Bother Pitcher

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The crowd of 18,492 was screaming with every pitch Nolan Ryan threw. Ruth Ryan watched her husband on the stands, tensing with each delivery. Even his California Angels teammates felt the pressure.

But not Ryan. While everyone around him was swept up in the excitement, the flamethrowing right-hander was cool as ice as he etched his niche in baseball's record books with the fourth no-hitter of his career.

"It's just something that happens," said Ryan, whose 1-0 masterpiece against the Baltimore Orioles Sunday put him alongside Sandy Koufax as the only pitchers in major league history with four no-hitters. "I never give it a lot of thought — really I don't."

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit split with Chicago, winning 5-1 and losing 3-2; Kansas City swept Milwaukee 13-6 and 11-5; Boston outscored Minnesota 11-9; Oakland beat Cleveland 6-3, and New York defeated Texas, 8-4.

Maybe Ryan wasn't thinking no-hitter, but everyone around him was. The fans at Anaheim Stadium, who began buzzing in the middle innings, started to roar in the eighth. Ryan's teammates on the youthful Angels felt the excitement.

The 28-year-old Ryan, whose no-hitter was the first of the 1975 season, pitched the major league's last no-hitter as well, stopping Minnesota 4-0 last Sept. 28. His others were in 1973, a 3-0 victory over Kansas City May 13 and a 6-0 triumph over Detroit July 15, 1973.

The Angels got Ryan the only run in the third inning on two-out singles by Mickey Rivers, Tommy Harper and Dave Chalk.

Royals 11-1, Brewers 6-5
John Mayberry homered, drove in six runs and scored five as the Royals pasted Milwaukee hurlers for 24 runs in the doubleheader.

The Brewers' Hank Aaron, the home run king, rapped four singles in the twelfth to Stan Musial for second place on the

Beats Andretti Redman Pays Off

LONG POND, Pa. (AP) — "It was the right decision," said Brian Redman.

And who could argue with the man who edged out Mario Andretti to win the 98-mile main event in Sunday's Formula 500 race at Pocono International Raceway?

The officials said we were fourth fastest, but according to our watches, we were sixth," Redman said. "There was no way we would be able to keep up with Andretti with the new car."

Redman, a 38-year-old Britshier who narrowly defeated Andretti for the championship of the Sports Club of America-U.S. Auto Club series last year, averaged 118.89 miles an hour in Sunday's race.

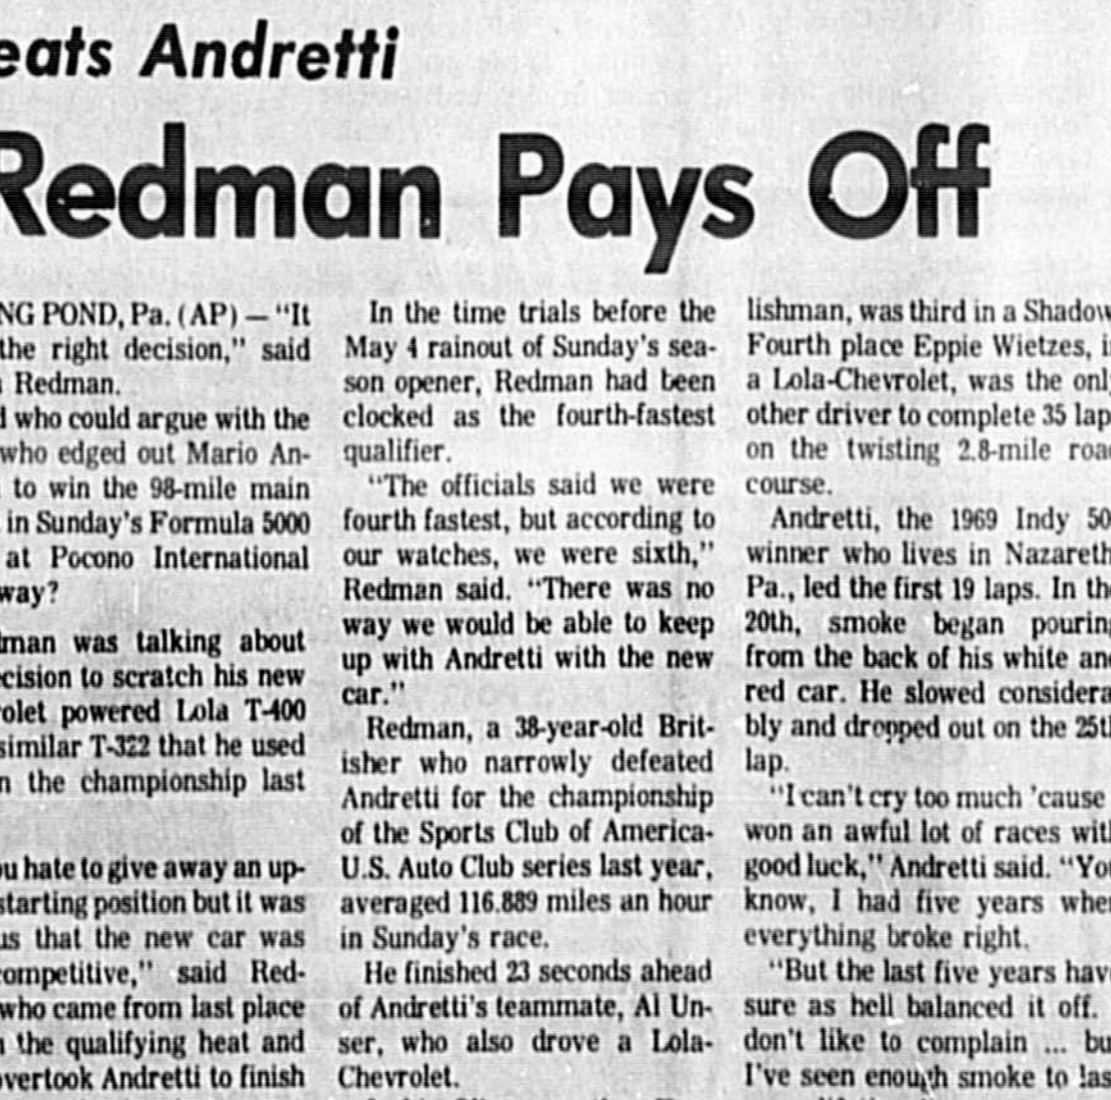

He finished 23 seconds ahead of Andretti's teammate, Al Unser, who also drove a Lola-Chevrolet.

Jackie Oliver, another Englishman, was third in a Shadow. Fourth place Eppie Wietzes, in a Lola-Chevrolet, was the only other driver to complete 35 laps on the twisting 2.8-mile road course.

Andretti, the 1969 Indy 500 winner who lives in Nazareth, Pa., led the first 19 laps. In the 20th, smoke began pouring from the back of his white and red car. He slowed considerably and dropped out on the 25th lap.

"I can't try to much 'cause I won an awful lot of races with good luck," Andretti said. "You know, I had five years when everything broke right."

"But the last five years have sure as hell balanced it off. I don't like to complain ... but I've seen enough smoke to last me a lifetime."

Redman was talking about his decision to scratch his new Chevrolet powered Lola T-400 for a similar T-352 that he used to win the championship last year.

beer at all times to flush his kidneys out. I know beer makes you go to the bathroom a lot, but I never heard of a doctor telling a patient to drink beer for a kidney problem.

DEAR READER — In some kidney conditions it is wise to drink lots of fluid, specifically water, to help keep the urine diluted and, in a sense, flush the system.

Drinking lots of fluid does not mean drinking alcoholic beverages, including beer. Alcohol damages cells and is hard on the kidney and urinary tract.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have just moved from another state and must seek out a new doctor. The question is what kind? I have had no flashes for 15 years, and they are as bad now as any of the worst times in those 15 years.

DEAR READER — Everyone needs a family doctor. One is not always easy to come by.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have a very good friend who is supposed to have an incurable kidney disease. He told me his doctor told him to drink lots of water.

Chief Asked To Resign Longwood Fire Hassle Heats Up As Volunteers Quit

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer LONGWOOD — The city was calm this morning despite the walkout last night of most of the 35 volunteer firemen and the dismissal of Fire Chief Roy LaBossier.

Firefighting gear — boots, hats, coats — of the Longwood volunteer firemen lay on tables and chairs in the fire hall where they left it after a walkout last night.

Inside Today Sewer Ruling Halts Casselberry's Plans

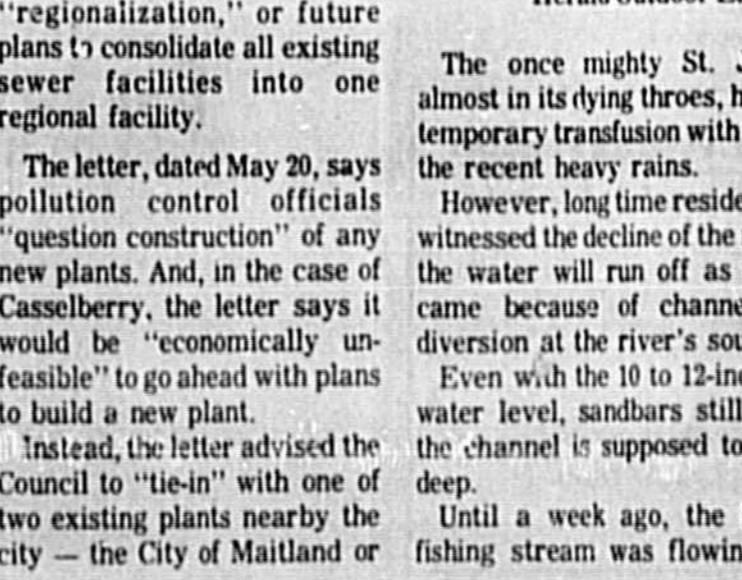

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer The Florida Department of Pollution Control has handed down a written ruling which advises all cities in Seminole County to "tie-in" with existing sewer plants — not build new ones.

The ruling was read to the Casselberry City Council last night during discussions of the city's plans to purchase land for construction of a long-awaited sewer plant.

Rains Give St. Johns Transfusion

By BOB ORRELL Herald Outdoor Editor The one night St. Johns River, almost in its dying throes, has received a temporary transfusion with the arrival of the recent heavy rains.

The diversions of over 200 million gallons of water daily in the upper reaches of the St. Johns was reported by David Cox, biologist with the Florida Game and Fish Commission.
