Officers Involved In Wreck Suspended

By Deane Jordan and

Donna Estes

Two Sanford police officers will be suspended without pay for 10 days for "negligence and carelesaness" which caused a Jan. 6 accident that wrecked two police cars and injured the

Lt. R. J. Nooney and officer N.J. Raby will begin their suspension Friday. Police Chief Ben Butler said today.

The disciplinary action stems from a "professional and extensive investigation" into an early morning traffic accident involving the officers in their police cars, according to Butler.

While Butler did not say which actions constituted negligence and carelessness, he said an internal investigation is almost complete to determine whether the men were horseplaying around prior to the accident, as alleged by former officers. The horseplay was alleged to include the setting off of firecrackers, playing car-tag with their cars' headlights off and throwing water balloons at each other.

Butler confirmed this morning that the headlights were off on both officers' cars in the pre-dawn accident, although initially one of the officers had said his car's headlights were on before the impact. It was reported that the headlight of the car the officer said was on before the accident was sent to the Sanford crime lab for analysis.

Although the allegation of horseplay by both officers has apparently not been determined, if the subsequent investigation shows that was the case, the penalty issued today is not severe enough, according to Sanford Mayor Bettye

"If the accidents were caused by horseplay or some other unprofessional conduct ... that would be so unbecoming of an officer. I would have to think about what would be appropriate," Mayor Smith said.

If, however, the findings are that only negligence and carelessness caused the accident. "I think a ten-day suspension without pay would be adequate, if that is in keeping with what is normally done. I hope with that suspension goes a strong warning so that this doesn't happen

Knowles' 'Collar' Convicted

By Deane Jordan Herald Staff Writer

An Altamonte Springs man who escaped from the Seminole County Courthouse only to be recaptured with the aid of the Sanford City Manager has been convicted of the lesser offense of resisting arrest without violence.

Lee Andrew Nelson, 19, of 502 Peachtree Lane, originally charged with escape, faces up to a year in the county jail.

According to court records. Nelson was originally in the courthouse Oct. 18 before Circuit Judge Robert McGregor on a charge of grand theft and dealing in atolen property in connection with the theft and attempted resale of a bicycle.

McGregor ordered Nelson, who was on bond, taken into custody for not obtaining an attorney to defend him. While being taken to a holding call on the same floor of the courthouse, Nelson bolted from the escorting deputy and was several blocks.

in convicting Nelson of the lesser offense, the jury was apparently influenced by a defense argument that Nelson did not understand he was in custody. The defense also questioned McGregor's authority to send Nelson to jail for not getting an attorney.

When Nelson ran, three sheriff's deputies gave chase along with a juror. Steven Longerier, of Longwood. Nelson dashed the lenght of the courthouse, emerging through a north first-floor door and fled west with deputy David Jones hot on his heels.

As Nelson ran past Sanford city hall, across the street from the courthouse, Sanford City Manager W.E. 'Pete' Knowles, 61, was driving from the building and saw the chase. Knowles drove his car to an area Nelson was running towards, got out of his car and confronted him. saying. "Don't move our I'll break your arm.

Jones, with service revolver drawn, yelled "grab him," and Knolwes grabbed Nelson by the back of his belt and pushed him against the Florida Power and Light Co. building, leaning on him until Jones took him into custody.

Guerrillas Respond To Papal Plea With Blackout

LIMA. Peru (UPI) - Suspected communist guerrillas dynamited electrical towers outside of Lima late Monday, cutting off power to the Peruvian capital just as Pope John Paul II's plane landed in the city from a trip to northern Peru, police sources said. The pope was not hurt.

Longwood Taps Engineering Firm To Solve City's Sewage Problems

By Jane Casselberry Horald Staff Writer

When Longwood Commissioners compared notes at a special meeting Monday night, Dyer, Riddle, Mills and Precourt, Inc. of Orlando emerged as the favorite choice for inn engineering consultant to solve the city's sewer emergency.

The firm was on the top-three list of all five commissioners, with Boyle Engineering Corp. of Orlando garnering four votes for second place followed by Lochrane Engineering, Orlando, and Commonwealth Engineering Associates, Alta monte Springs, which both had three votes.

The city's legal staff was instructed to negotiate a contract with Dyer, Riddle, Mills and Precourt. Should they fall to agree on fees, the city would go to the next firm on the list.

Mayor Harvey Smertlson said he hopes a contract will be ready for approval at Monday night's commission meeting. If it is, the firm would start work the next day, he said. We pretty much know what we have to do to meet the immediate need at Skylark Sewer Plant. but I'm really concerned abut the Columbus Harbour plant and future plans for Skylark," he Caught in the crunch between demands of development, restrictions imposed by the state Department of Environmental Regulation (DER).

and inadequate sewage treatment facilities, the commission has placed all development and zoning changes temporarily on hold because of the emergency situation.

The Skylark plant is overtaxed and needs two additional percolation ponds. The ponds' present capacity is 100,000 gallons per day, but the plant capacity was recently expanded to 200,000 gallons per day. The plant is currently operating at 140,000 gallons per day.

Last month the commission authorized the expenditure of up to $5,000 for soil borings to determine whether the ponds can be built.

The DER has mandated several changes at the Columbus Harbour facility — upgrading groundwater monitoring and the percolation ponds, and making whatever changes are needed so the plant's effluent meets state treatment standards. Monthly samples of treated wastewater have consistently failed to meet state regulations, according to DER records.

All nine of the engineering applicants were interviewed at a work session last week. Smerilson said Dyer, Riddle, Mills and Precourt's presentation was impressive because the firm went through the city's two sewer plants and determined what needs to be done and prepared slides at their own expense.

Reagan's Budget Meets Stiff Objections On Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Even though President Reagan's 1986 budget probably will not get through Congress in its present form, Republicans and Democrats issued heated objection to the plan's increases for defense and cuts for social programs.

One of the sharpest critiques Monday came from Sen. Mark Hatsleid, R-Ore., chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, who termed the plan "a fantasy budget." Hatfield said administration strategy was to seek "the highest possible defense figure rather than a responsible compromise. A freeze on defense spending remains the absolute minimum requirement."

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., senior Demoncrat on the Senate Budget Committee, said "The budget should be judged on two counts: Does it do the job and is it fair? It does not and it is not."

Godfathers May Be Indicted

NEW YORK (UPI) - A bugging device in a Mafia chauffeur's car has given the Justice Department enough evidence to indict the heads of all five Mana crime families operating in New York City, NBC-TV reports.

The network reported Monday that Justice Department officials will ask next month for indictments charging the New York godfathers with racketeering and conspiracy.

The five crime families are believed to control much of the area's sanitation business, labor unions, loan sharking, gambling and stolen car rackets.

The report said investigators would ask for indictments against Paul "Big Paul" Castellano, reputed head of the Gambino family and the boss of bosses for New York City.

The report said investigators also would ask for indictments against Anthony "Fat Tony" Salerno, head of the Genovese family; Gerry "The Beast" Langella of the Colombo family: and Philip Rastella of the Bonanno family.

Heckler Says

Budget Doesn't Sacrifice Compassion

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Health and Human Services Secretary Margaret Heckler says the administration's 1986 budget will protect the poor and infirm, but critics say thousands will be hurt by the proposed cuts.

The budget, submitted to Congress Monday, includes a Social Security cost-of-living increase, but freezes or cuts spending for most other health, education and welfare programs. The total HHS budget would be $330 billion, up from 1985 a $318 billion.

The 1986 budget would cut $4.2 billion from Medicare for the elderly. $1 billion from Medicaid for the poor, and $210 million from welfare grants.

Heckler told a news conference her tightened budget shows that holding down the budget deficit is the "single greatest domestic problem facing" the country this

"But we have not sacrificed the compassionate goals of health and human services - service to the poor, the handicapped, the ailing and the aged in our society," she said.

"The president has come down on the side of the safety net: the basic needs of the poor, the infirm and those who through no fault of their own need our help have been protected in this budget."

Spain Ends Blockade; Opens Border To Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR (UPI) - Spain fully opened its border with Gibraltar today, ending a 15-year blockade in a measure that could deeply alter the character of the tiny but strategic British colony.

One minute after midnight, Spanish officials opened the iron gate at the frontier to tourists, vehicles and goods under an agreement with Britain worked out in Brussels

In Geneva, Spanish and British delegations began talks today on strengthening cooperation between the colony and Spain and on Madrid's long-standing claim to the 24 square-mile island.

Seized by British forces in 1704, Gibraltar was ceded by Spain under the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713. Despite a succession of sieges, it emerged as a key naval base and one of the most enduring symbols of the British empire.

Soviet Passenger Plane Crashes

MOSCOW (UPI) - An Aeroflot passenger plane crashed last Friday near the Minak airport in Byelorussia, killing an unspecified number of people aboard, said a newspaper reaching Moscow today.

'On Feb. 1, a TU-134 on the Minsk-Leningrad route crashed in the vicinity of the Minak airport," said Sunday's edition of Byelorussia, which reached Moscow by mail.

"There were casualties," it said. The TU-134 has a capacity of 80 passengers.

The highly unusual announcement was signed by the Council of Ministers of Byelorussia, west of Moscow. The plane apparently crashed on take-off from Minsk

The Soviet media rarely announces plane crashes and it was believed that the jet was carrying foreigners or high Soviet officials.

Western sources said they had heard reports that 19 generals and high Soviet officials had been killed recently in a plane crash, but it was not immediately known if they were aboard the TU-134.

Pope Suspends Nicaraguan Priest

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) — Nicaraguan Culture Minister Ernesto Cardenal says Pope John Paul II has formally suspended him from the priesthood because he refused to resign from his government post.

Cardenal, along with three other priests in the leftist Sandinista government, had been ordered to resign their posts but all four have vowed to remain in the government. Cardenal said he would respect the Vatican decision, but criticized the Catholic church hierarchy for "harassing" him and the other priests in the government. The pope has repeatedly warned that canon law prohibits priests from holding government positions.

the highly-treated effluent on the ground and letting it filter downward — those grants would not relieve the sewer customers of any cost.

The state requires that the grants be used not for the actual landspreading, but be placed in a special account for future expansion or repairs, he said.

But, as Farr pointed out, even if the city gets permission from the state Department of Environmental Regulation to update its plant and continue dumping into Lake Monroe, the costs are estimated at $27.9 million. Conklin said the project could be spread out over a number of years whereas the landspreading project would have to be built, and financed, all at once.

Conklin and his associates are to meet with the city commission in workshop to discuss costs of both alternatives to the sewer customers on Feb. 18.

Meanwhile, Conklin explained the dual concept his firm has been following on sewer system problems, at the direction of the past city commission.

He said while the firm has prepared its case to be presented before a state hearing officer in Sanford next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in an effort to get a change in the state requirement to stop the dumping into Lake Monroe, it is also working on applications for state money to be used for landspreading.

Conklin said the city has expert witnesses ready to testify next week that the state's purity requirements for Lake Monroe are impossible to meet and that the quality of effluent from Sanford's sewer plant is higher than the water already in Lake Monroe. And if the effluent were removed, the lake's water quality would not be any better.

Conklin said. City Manager W.E."Pete" Knowles added that among the standards set by the state is that the water in the lake must not be toxic to salmon or rainbow trout. "I haven't seen many of those in Lake Monroe," he said sarcastically.

Knowles also said the state has not shown that it used any scientific methods for setting its water quality.

Conklin said Sanford has been put in the position of proving its innocence of polluting the lake. Being assumed guilty until one's innocence is prove is not the American way, Mercer re- First Florida F

Conklin also said the city doesn't know how soon after next week's hearings the DER will make a decision in the case. That presents a problem since the city has a March I deadline for applying for the proposed grants, he said. If the city is forced to go to landspreading, land would have to be purchased because there is currently no site in the city large enough - a tract of at least 2,000 acres is needed to accommodate the six millions gallons of effluent produced in landspreading site. The test re-expansion is needed to serve future residents.

Conklin's associate, Mike Deverall, said various sites in and around the city have been considered, including the Sanford Airport and property north of Yankee Lake near state Road 48 almost to the Wekiva River.

The Yankee Lake site appears to be the only one feasible, Deverall said.

Stakeout Longwood Police To End Dog

By Jame Cascelberry Horald Staff Writer

Despite of a unanimous ruling by the Longwood Code Enforcement Board on Jan. 22 that there was no evidence that his dog barks at night disturbing the neighbors. Daniel Peterson of 745 Passdena Ave., Longwood. still feels he is still being Hourly police checks are still being made between 9 p.m. and 5 a.m. in an effort to catch the 12-year-old Peekapoo in the act, according to Acting City Administrator Greg Manning. For the last year, officers have been unable to catch the pooch barking according to police records.

Acting Police Chief Terry Baker said Monday that although no more complaints have been received since the hearing, patrolmen are still spending 5-10 toutes each hour each night in the neighborhood to make sure the dog is not barking. "We decided on our own to do it after he board made its decision. We lik we owed it to both parties to make sure there was no animosi-ty and for the protection of both. We will continue to do so through Wednesday morning."

Baker said the police department has spent at least 15 hours on the case. He added that the police department has no limit to the number of calls it will respond to even if officers are unable to confirm that a violatic actually has taken place. ition actually has taken place.
Officer Terri Trautman stated an affidavit notifying Peterson of an Jan. 8 probable cause hearing that since the beginning of 1984 the Longwood Police Department received approximately four complaints a month from Robert and Diane Ryan, of 750 Georgia Ave., Longwood, alledging Peterson's dog's barking disturbs the neighborhood.

Baker said that the only complaint calls about Peterson's dog were received from the Ryans.

City Clerk Don Terry con-firmed that Trautman was removed from the investigation at the request of Mrs. Ryan, who did not think the officer was putting in enough effort on the Peterson received his first warning from the police after Ryan complained about the noise April 15. Officer Edward Rossi, who replaced Trautman on the investigation of the code violation, later told Peterson that he should not have been given a warning because records show the investigating officer did not hear the dog or fue a report. Commissioner Perry Faulkner who lives within a block of Peterson testified before the code enforcement board that he works odd hours and heard the "works odd hours and heard the dog barking on several occurs." He said he was displeased with the way the board conducted the procedure on Jan. 22 and saked for review of the members' qualifications and abolishment of the language of the

but only the Ryans stated the barking disturbed their rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner and Mr. and Mrs. Ryan were at the Jan. 22 hearing to testify about the dog's barking, but were not called on to speak. They had previously testified at the probable cause hearing. Peterson, who attended the second meeting. but not the first, did not speak either. The minutes reflect that the code enforcement board dismissed the case "due to the evidence presented" by Rosal that although the officers spent 61s hours during the previous two weeks spying on the dog no barking was heard.

"There's a real problem going on right now with one family forcing the police department. commissioners and mayor into spending police time and manpower in listening for a dog to bark when they could be out chasing drug dealers and other criminals," said Peterson. "It is really and the police department has to go to that length to prove something when two or three reports that the dog was not barking should have been sufficient to end it.

'Now it has become something political in the city."

Peterson said he keeps the dog in his fenced backyard because the dog is not housebroken.

"I have nothing against the police, they have always been gentlemen and ladies. They are only doing their job and doing it well, but I feel they have been protecting themselves. Because of the political problems circulating around the dog, they have been put under fire."

Code Enforcement Officer Edward Rossi, said in his written report on the dog that when he notified Peterson the case was coming before the Code Enforcement Board Peterson told him that comeone had recently put annd in the gas tank of his truck. It cost him more than $200 for a new carburstor.

America, Europe and elsewhere.

Founded in 1961 as the Japan Credit Bureau, JCB is sponsored by some of Japan's biggest banks, including Sanwa. Mitsui, Daiwa and Taivo Kobe. With 6.2 million cardholders, it is by far the largest credit service in the country.

Until recently, it was virtually unknown overseas, which made it tough for Japanese cardholders traveling abroad.

To answer their needs, JCB embarked in 1982 on a program aimed at licensing businesses in those countries most often visited by Japanese tourists. So far, they've licensed 28,000 merchants, including the major hotel chains. in 36 countries — and hope to sign 50,000 retailers in 60 countries by the end of fiscal 1986. The internationalization plan was almed. at first. exclusively at Japanese living or traveling overseas. But market pressures created an opportunity to expand JCB's cardholder base outside Japan.

The first foreign franchisee was the Overseas Trade Bank. which signed 5,000 cardholders between October and December of 1984 in Hong Kong.

"The OTB came to us and told us that they prefered to have JCB rather than Visa because of the com-petition," explained JCB Senior Executive Vice President

Kuzunao Murata. Competition for Visa and MasterCard franchises is so great in Hong Kong that banks are forced to accept commissions as low as 0.5 percent on credit card sales. Murata said.

Evidence Enough ...

When the Navy's seventh and newest Trident-class ballistic missile submarine, the USS Alaska, begins sea trials later this year, the Reagan administration will face a critically important decision. It must decide whether to retire at least 14 older missiles or exceed the SALT II treaty's limit of 1.200 nuclear missiles with multiple warheads (MIRVs).

President Reagan already is receiving lots of advice on the matter. Much of it goes something like this: A deliberate American violation of SALT II would polson a very fragile Soviet-American dialogue, diminish prospects for any new arms-control agreements and prompt the Kremlin to begin ignoring the treasury's limits as well. In other words, saving arms control requires that 14 Minuteman Illa be retired or that one of the older, Poseidon-class submarines with 16 MIRVed missiles be scrapped before the Alaska puts to sca.

But, in fact, if the president allows himself to be persuaded by such reasoning he will be doing more to wreck arms control than to save it. A paradox? Not at all.

A year ago, the Reagan administration sent Congress a secret, 50-page report detailing "an expanding pattern of Soviet violations or possible violations of arms-control agreements." Included in the still-classified report was evidence of multiple Soviet violations of SALT II. Consider but one. The treaty limits each side to 2,250 launchers for intercontinental-range missiles. The Soviets continue, however, to deploy about 2,500 (compared to about 1,800 for the United States).

A separate, independent study conducted by a panel of outside experts found 17 "material breaches" by the Soviets of armacontrol treaties and agreements with the United States. The violations and probably violations listed last year by President Reagan's General Advisory Committee on Arms Control and Disarmament included breaches of SALT I, the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile treaty and the 1979 SALT II treaty.

What the Reagan administration and Con gress lack is not evidence of Soviet cheating but a strategy for doing something about it. The successive administrations that negotiated these agreements during the 1970s all declared that Soviet cheating would be grounds for abrogation of the agreements by the United States. Instead, even the Reagan administration seems healtant to confront the full implications of Soviet arms-controls violations.

The flawed and inequitable SALT II treaty was signed by President Carter but never ratified by the Senate. Nevertheless, the Reagan administration decided in 1981 not to "undercut" the treaty if the Sovieta did likewise. Well, the Soviets are not doing likewise.

How will the Kremlin ever be persuaded to comply with SALT II or any other arms agreement unless there are penalties for cheating? Surely it must be obvious that arms control has no future if Soviet compliance cannot be verified and somehow enforced. And just as surely, it must be obvious that an arms-control process yielding agreements that are effectively binding only on the United States is a fraud with potentially fatal consequences for Americans.

Nothing the Reagan administration could do this year would be better for genuine arms control than to insist absolutely on a verifiable end to Soveit violations. Let the administration select one or two of the more egregious violations and then warn the Sovieta privately that no American missiles will be scrapped when the USS Alaska goes to sea unless the cited violations cease.

If the Soviets comply, a useful precedent will have been established and the nuclear balance will be that much more stable. If they refuse, it will be compelling proof that faith in arms-control agreements with the Soviets is misplaced and that the United States must act accordingly by unilaterally guaranteeing its own security.

Whistleblower: GSA Still Wasting Millions

nosed bureaucrat who helped expose the General Services Administration scandals in the late 1970s, says that GSA is desperately in need of "a housecleaning" to stop millions of dollars a year from being wasted.

Davia, the former chief auditor for GSA, is now its regional administrator in Chicago. He has told his boss, acting administrator Ray Kitne, that the federal building and supply agency still doesn't have the safeguards needed to prevent waste, fraud and abuse from

"I could have easily stolen over $1 million during these last three years in Chicago, with extremely little risk," Davia bluntly told Kline in a confidential memorandum outlining his comAt one point last year, Davia flatly refused a costly but unneeded shipment of new computers for his regional office. An official in Washington had told him to "experiment with them. Maybe something good will come from

In recent months. Davia has peppered GSA officials with memos complaining that unrealistic building safety standards will cost taxpayers tens of millions of dollars more than necessary in leasing costs.

The reason: GSA's safety criteria will force agencies to abandon perfectly safe but older buildings for newer and more expensive build-

For example, when Davia tried to obtain office space in Cleveland for the Internal Revenue Service, he found that the building he wanted contained small amounts of cancer-causing asbestos in the fireproofing material that had been sprayed on its girders. GSA's long-delayed asbestos policy is presently under revision, but Davia was given a one-time policy that allowed less than 1 percent asbestos fiber to be present in the structure. When Davia had an independent laboratory conduct tests at several points in the building, they found a 5 percent asbestos content in the building's inner structure.

However, when he had air samples tested in various parts of the building, absolutely no airborne asbestos could be found in the air. In other words, by any criteria, the building is safe

Cranston Running Already

SACRAMENTO, CALIF. (NEA) -Voters who were hoping that the end of the 1984 campaigns would produce a respite from politics will be dismayed to learn that the 1966 campaigns already are underway in many states.

Nowhere in the nation is the premature opening of a new political season more apparent than here in California, a state certain to be a major battleground in the continuing struggle between Republicans and Democrata for control of the U.S. Senate.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., faces what almost surely will be the toughest campaign of his long political career.

More than a dozen Republicans have been mentioned as possible opponents for Cranston in the general election - and many of those potential GOP contenders already are maneuvering to gain their party's nomination.

In addition, Cranston could face a challenge in the Democratic primary from San Francisco Mayor Di anne Feinstein, who issued a call for "new blood" in the party even before all the votes were counted on election night last November.

Cranston's seat is crucial because the Republican majority in the Senate was reduced in the 1984 elections from 55-45 to 53-47. A shift of only tour more seau in the 1966 would return control of that chamber to the Democrate after only six years of Republican domination.

The Republicans are especially vulnerable because they have almost twice as many seats to defend as the Democrats. Of the 34 senators whose terms expire next year, 22 are Republicans and 12 are

In addition, many of those Republicans are in their first term, swept into office when President Reagan was first elected but now lacking the protection of a highly popular politician atop the GOP ticket.

Targeted by the Democrats as especially susceptible to defeat next year are freshman Republican senators in states such as Alabama, Florida, Georgia, New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma and South Dakota.

The Republicans, however, believe that they have at least an outside chance to unseat several of the Democratic senators who made inauspicious bids for their party's presidential nomination last year and must face the voters in their home states next year.

in that category are Sens. Cranston, Gary Hart of Colorado, Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina and John Glenn of Ohio. Only Glenn in believed impervious to challenge.

An Icy Inauguration

By Ateve Geratel

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Not all that long from now, say three and a half years, the gnomes in charge will be begin preparations for the inaugural of the president who succeeds Ronald Reagan.

They will, for certain, pencil in just about the same plans they do salient fact that the second great fee Age arrived on Jan. 20-21, 1984.

With only the fine details left to the incoming president, the inaugural plans will feature the swearing-in ceremony on the the West Front of the Capitol, a forever parade down Pennsylvania to the White House, a gala, fireworks and, of course, numberless and numbing formal balls.

The identity of the incoming president's party will make little difference.

Republicans are more prone to arrival by private jet, more likely to be draped in mink and more addicted to a diet of champagne and

Democrats who attend inaugurals like to keep the common touch even if it means hiding the trappings of their personal wealth and are more prone to come to the Capital on commercial airlines and even trains. flaunt fewer fure and can do without gout-giving repasts.

But the one unpredictable is the weather.

It can be below zero, as it was this year; almost balmy with clouds parting at the last moment so that sun could shine on Reagan four years ago; unacemly cold for Jimmy Carter eight years ago; or ice cold with a foot of snow as it was for John Kennedy in 1981.

Now, in fairness to them, the inaugural maestros cannot do anything about the weather, no matter how smoothly the arrange everything else, including this year when they managed, in a logistics miracle, to move everything, even a truncated version of the parade.

The Constitution decrees that the

Now that was not the original date for the swearing-in ceremonies. It used to be in March before the wise men decided that November to March was too long a period between election and inauguration.

But March wasn't too good a time for the inauguration either. Ask William Henry Harrison. This intrepid man gave an hour and a half speech in the rain, rode his steed in the parade, caught cold that developed into pneumonia and was dead 30 days later. What then, is a good time to hold an inauguration in Washington, D.C. - a time when the weather looks kindly on the nation's Capital. The choices are very limited.

December, January, February and March are out. Yes, these months can bring temperate temperatures and dry days, but the chances are heavy they will not.

June, July and August are most definitely out. That's when the temperature quickly climbs into the 90s, the humidity tops that and Washington should be avoided.

Holding the inauguration in the summer would invite heat prostation and mass dehydradation, neither known to be more beneficial to health that frontbite or hypothermia. It's also no good for

Self-Help: Economic Therapy

Paul Greenberg, the distinguished Arkansas journalist, has written a column in which he describes new self-help community development programs in his state.

According to Mr. Greenberg. Arkansas has been losing industrial jobs since 1970. After years of relying on tax concessions and other goodies to attract companies, influential groups in the state, including the Winthrop Rockefeller Foundation, are promoting small scale, local development projects. The approach makes sense.

Arkansas and other Sun Belt states are experiencing serious job losses. It's not that they have a bad business climate. The problem lies with the overall deindustrialization of the United States which the politicians and many economists don't recognize. Foreign imports are taking a terrible toll. Until there are basic changes in trade and industrial policy, there won't be a return to the industrial job creation activity of the 1950s and 1960s.

In the meantime, states and localities will have to look to new measures of a more modest kind.

The Arkansas approach, as described by Mr. Greenberg, is an emphasis on increased local production of goods used within a state. The focus is on small operations, hires an additional six persons to produce doors sold in the community. Much more attention is being devoted to food processing for local and statewide consumption. These self-help projects aren't run by a high-powered agency. No development experts are hired by the local Chamber of Commerce. Even the development luncheons, where business opportunities are discussed, are on a Dutch treat basis.

This may not sound like much, but Mr. Greenberg says that it's a sound approach for his state. Certainly, it's better than waiting for a giant company to locate a new

South Carolina and North Carolina are vulnerable because of their dependence on the textile and tobacco industries. Small textile companies can't compete against Imports from Communist China where workers are paid 25 cents an hour. Increased opposition to smoking as a health hazard is likely to result in the removal of price supports for tobacco.

Not long ago, there was widespread agreement that the Sun Belt states had a huge advantage over the Frost Belt. This may not be true in the late 1980s and 1990s. The economic picture changes in ways that are hard to predict even in an age of economic forecasting.

Hong Kong Gangsters Flee To U.S.

WASHINGTON - Hong Kong capitalists aren't the only ones who are fleeing the British colony before it is taken over by Communist China in 1997. The city's organized crime bosses are also packing up doubtless spurred by the spectacle of Peking's policy of capital punishment for crimes that are all in a day's work for underworld

The businessmen have been reluctant to transfer their assets and operations to the United States, mainly because taxes would be about three times what they're used to paying. Unfortunately, the crime bosses, having no such concerns, are moving to our shores as fast as they can.

My associate Donald Goldberg has obtained several internal and confidential law-enforcement reports that detail the crime lords' activi-

The Chinese crime gange are known as "triads." According to one Customs Service analysis, "Triade are secret fraternal Chinese associations which traditionally engage in gambling, narcotics, prostitution, loan sharking, rackets, protection and anything else worthy of exploitation.

Although composed of professional criminals "who without hesitation will use violence to further their illegal activities," the triads often avoid direct involvement in criminal acts, limiting their participation to bankrolling the lilicit ventures "as long as they are sured of a percentage of the fruits of the crime.

If that sounds like the latter-day Masia, it is. Perhaps the most significant difference between the two underworld networks is that the triads manage to avoid the internecine turf wars that occasionally upset the Mafia's amouth-running operations.

One of the most notorious triads is Wo Lee Wo, described in a con-fidential crime commission report as a "criminal Mutual Aid Society" assisting organized crime figures and operations with currency transactions, and providing other Wo Lee Wo was founded in the 1930s in Hong Kong's central district, initially concentrating on gambling and narcotics. By the end of World War II and the return of British rule, Wo Lee Wo also controlled prostitution in its area. The triad is believed to number about 2,000 members.

intelligence analysts know the identity of one Wo Lee Wo kingpin, described by Hong Kong police as "probably the most successful operator of illegal gambling in Hong Kong during the period 1969-1976." In addition to operating illegal casinos in the colony, the Wo Lee Wo boss was a bookie who clearly had good connections. He was described by police as "the largest bookmaker in the stands of the Royal Hong Kong Jockey Club."

The underworld leader was also suspected of financing narcotics shipments and illegal immigration through the colony. Investigators traced the flow of hundr millions of dollars through his bank accounts in the early 1970s.

The crime boss settled in this country in 1979, and U.S. authorities began to show an interest in him. "It is probable," said a Hong Kong intelligence report at that time, "that he is using his position in the United States to act as broker for other vice-crime personalities in Hong Kong, who wish to transfer their carnings overseas without having them recorded by bank transactions."

A four-year investigation of the Wo Lee Wo boss ended in frustration when he returned to Hong Kong in 1963. But recent informa-tion indicates that the flow of illegal funde continues. Investigators have identified more than $12 million worth of real estate in California alone that is jointly owned by the boss and one of his deputies. The Hong Kong don and his deputy are still frequent visitors to Las Vege where they gamble and have high-level contact in one of casinos," according to one Drug Enforcement Administration report.

Nelson's 3, Mandy's 4 Set Up Lyman-Seminole Semifinal

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

Hat tricks are usually a rare commodity in the game of soccer but Seminole High's Beth Nelson seems to have cornered the market.

Nelson came through with her fourth hat trick of the season Monday to lead the Lady Seminoles to a 3-1 victory over Oviedo's Lady Lions in the opening round of the District 3 Soccer Tournament at Seminole High.

The talented senior's scoring spree advanced Seminole into Thursday's semifinal at 7 against top-seeded and heavily favored Lyman. The winner of the Lyman-Seminole matchup will meet the Lake Mary-Lake Brantley victor Saturday for the district title.

"We've got two practices to get ready for Lyman." Seminole coach Suzy Reno said. "Thursday will be the first time we'll have everybody together and we'll try to make a game

Nelson, who has scored 17 goals in just 12 games, opened the scoring Monday night 14 minutes into the match when she scored on an assist from senior forward Janet Hauck.

"Janet (Hauck) crossed the ball on the left side and Beth (Nelson) hit it right over the keeper's head from 25 yarda out." Reno said.

Seminole increased its lead to 2-0 with 18 minutes left in the first half when Nelson drilled in a penalty kick. Sherri Rumler came up with 10 saves In the first half to keep the Tribe's 2-0 lead intact at halftime.

Nelson struck again 12 minutes into the second half as her goal on Alicia Huaman's assist gave Seminole a comfortable 3-0 advantage.

Rumler, who had seven saves in the second half, gave way to Kim Walsh midway through the half and Walsh made four saves before going out with a knee injury. Reno said she doesn't know yet whether Walsh will be ready to go Thursday.

Oviedo finally got on the scoreboard with 1:33 left in the match on a goal by Bobbie Bowersox. The Lady Lions played without leading scorer, Chris Geltz, who they lost to poor grades. Reno said the defensive leaders for Seminole Monday included Angela Freeman, Christy Gonzales, Walsh and Kim Machnik. Freshman fullback Cindy Benge sat out Monday's game with a sore ankle, but Reno said Benge will be ready to play against Lyman.

The midfield play of Carol Lykens was another highlight for the Lady Seminoles. "She (Lykens) took two strong shots on goal from way out." Reno said. "And she just missed a goal on both shots."

Midfielders Tracey Farrelly, Rachelle Denmark and Huaman also turned in strong performances according to Reno and both Charity Watkins and Melissa Burns came off the bench to perform well.

In first round action Friday at Lyman High, Shella Mandy scored four goals in the first half to lead the top-seeded Lady Greyhounds to a 8-0 rout of the first-year Lake Howell Lady Silver Hawks Mandy scored her first goal 10 minutes into the game on an assist from Dawn Boyesen. One minute later, Mandy's unassisted goal made it 2-0 and Kim Mitchell's goal on Boyesen's assist made it 3-0 with just 18 minutes gone in the match.

Mandy added her third goal 28 minutes into the match and her fourth goal, on Mitchell's assist, made it 5-0 at halftime.

Mitchell added her second goal 10 minutes into the second half and Karen Abernethy fired in two unassisted goals to complete the scoring.

The Lady Greyhounds, state runnersup last year, dominated from start to finish Monday as they took 41 shots on goal while Lake Howell took none. Lady Hawk goalkeeper Darcy Misiak was the busiest player on the field Monday and she stopped 25 of Lyman's 41 shots. Lyman keeper Lisa Chatman did not have to make a save.

"Lake Howell got into our end of the field a few times but never threatened seriously," Lyman coach Tom Barnes sald. "But they've got some good young athletes and should be a team to watch next season."

Scare Ends For Eissele

Lake Mary Fights Off Stubborn Trinity, 2-1

By Chris Pister Berald Sports Writer

Lake Mary coach Bill Eissele had good cause to be concerned about his opening round opponent in the District 3 Soccer Tournament.

The third-seeded Lady Rams were going up against a vastly improved Trinity Prep team which featured a rugged defense, an outstanding goalkeeper and one of the finest players in the area in "Crafty" Katle Sams. Lake Mary, nevertheless, cracked the tough Trinity Prep defense and freshman keeper Cristina Emery for two goals while the defense held Sams scoreless. But, thanks to a hand ball in the penalty area, the Lady Saints scored with three minutes left to pull within a goal. The Lady Rams then tightened up on defense for the final three minutes and held the Sainta without another shot on goal as Lake Mary came away with a 2-1 victory at Lake Mary Lake Mary advanced to Thursday night's semifinals against second-seeded Lake Brantley at Lake Brantley High.

"I was really scared going in." Eissele said. "Trinity Prep has improved so much this year. It's really tough to score on them." It took the Lady Rams 38 minutes, but they finally got to Emery and the Trinity Prep defense. The first goal of the match came when sophomore forward Jodi Gall scored on an assist from Kelley Broen, also a sophomore, with two minutes

The Lady Rams hung on to a 1-0 lead at halftime and increased it to 2-0, 15 minutes into the second half on an unassisted goal by sophomore midfielder Kristen Jones who natled a shot from 30 yards out over Emery's

Lake Mary's 2-0 lead held up for the next 22 minutes and it looked as though the Lady Rams were on their way to a shutout victory. But, Lake Mary was called for a hand ball in the penalty area, giving the Lady Saints a penalty kick with three minutes left in the match. Alicia Eliacu took the penalty kick for Trinity Prep and the sophomore forward slipped a nice ahot past Lake Mary keeper Laura Hellegaard.

Just when it looked like the door was beginning to swing open for Trinity, the Lady Rama elammed it shut. Lake Mary's defense held the Lady Saints without a shot in the last three minutes to seal the victory.

"The entire defence played really tough," Etensis said.
Those defensive leaders included seniors Marianne DiTucci, Debbie Winnie and Jodi Thomas, juntor Marjan Stunerock and freshman Dorrie Ehlers. "Dorrie (Ehlers) played an outstanding game," Einsels said. "She was up against a fast wing but kept her from doing anything."

No Close Shave As Brantley Rips Luther, 11-0

Herald Sports Editor

When the smoke finally cleared in Altamonte Springs Monday night, Lake Brantley coach Debbie Shave had two questions. Don't ask, who scored? Ask who didn't

The Lady Patriots opened the District 3 Soccer Tournament in impressive fashion. scoring from every angle in an 11-0 first-round victory over Luther at Lake Brantley High School.

Nine different Lady Patriots found the net with Junior Pam Anderson and sophomore Michele Schroth each kicking in two goals. Anderson's sister. Shannon, also scored as did was Jennifer Joseph, Michelle Herbet, Kristin Paine, Colleen Lievertz, Reenie Deaver and Katherine Hawkins.

Despite the blowout, which started early on goals by Joseph, Herbst and Anderson, it was not expected by Shave, who adhered to the old theory of we won beat them by one and they lost to them.

Lake Brantley, 13-4-1, edged Lake Howell, 2-1, last week. Shave said the Lady Hawks had previously lost to Luther. "We really didn't know what to expect," said Shave. 'We really weren't psyched up for Lake Howell and when the girls heard that Luther had beaten Lake Howell, they really got psyched up for tonight."

Pam Anderson added her second goal of the half with five minutes left and when Paine and Lievertz each scored, it was 6-0 at in the second half, Shave said she turned loose the reserves but it didn't much matter. we've gotten better each time."

Schroth, who booted the two decisive kicks against Lake Howell, started the scoring with a goal seven minutes into the second half. Deaver and Deaver followed with two more to push the lead to 9-0 before Shannon Anderson kicked the Lady Patriots into 14-1-2 with a 5-0 whitewashing double figures and a 10-0 lead.

The red-hot Schroth finally close the out the scoring with two minutes to play with her second goal for the lopsided 11-0 final.

The unbalanced scoreboard was very evident in the statistics. Lake Brantley outshot, the Lady Crusaders, 65-8. The Lady Patriots had eight corner kicks to Luther's zilch.

Lake Mary's boys soccer team has stopped giving up garbage goals but the Rams had to survive a fluke goal in the second half and a penalty kick in the last seconds of play to pull out a 3-2 victory over West Orange's Warriors Monday might at Lake Mary High.

The Rams scored all three of their goals in the first half and took a 3-1 halftime lead. Andre Sanders opened the scoring two minutes into the match but West Orange's Ted Schoenfeldt scored to tie it at 1-1.

Durrand Richards' goal on an assist by Tony Florentino gave Lake Mary a 2-1 lead with nine minutes left in the first half and Sanders came back with three minutes left to score his second unussisted goal of the game.

Lake Mary dominated the second half, outshooting the Warriors, 17-2, but the Rams couldn't add to their lead. "We just couldn't finish them off," Lake Mary coach Larry Mc-Corkle said.

West Orange pulled within 3-2 late in the second half. "It was a strange goal." McCorkle said. "The ball was crossed and went to a guy who had tripped and fell on his hands and knees and somehow he headed it into the

District Seeds Supercede Conference Race

Spruce Creek doesn't have a bad-basketball team. Coach Roger Dorio says his forward, 6-8 Jon Fedor, is the best junior in the state and maybe the South.

Dorio has a 6-10 center in Mark Nichols, and although he hasn't played like a 6-10 center this year, he is still 6-10 and coveted by the major colleges. Dorio says Florida wanted him to sign early and Miami is really after

Just a one word answer will suffice - Seabreeze. The Sand Crabs of Joe Piggotte Jr. put a big bite on Spruce Creek. Seabreeze squashed the Hawks. 78-48, Friday night.
"You never think it can happen to you unless your see it," said a still shellshocked Roger Dorio. "I didn't think they were that good until Friday

"But after hitting 33 of 44 from the field, I'm convinced. They've got a real nice club."

Fortunately for Seminole, it plays Dorio's puzzling club and not Piggotte's No. 1 ranked AAA juggernaut tonight at Spruce Creek. Coach Chris Mariette's 'Noies are coming off an equally tough defeat to arch-rival Lake Lake Mary will travel to Apopka.

Lake Howel Lyman hosts Seabreeze, Lake Howell entertains DeLand and Mainland comes to Lake Brantley in tonight's Conference clash, coach Dale Phillips' Oviedo Lions will try to hang the first OBC loss on Jones at Orlando.

Although the conference race is still tight for the top spot (Seabreeze 11-1 and DeLand 10-2), the Five Star coaches are more occupied with the district standings at this point. At least the coaches from Seminole, Lake Mary, Spruce Creek, Mainland and Apopka are preoccupied.

The district standings are determined by throwing out Seabreeze, the lone 3A school. DeLand (9-1 district) is pretty much a lock for the No. 1 seed at this year's district tournament at Spruce Creek.

The battle for the No. 2, No. 3, No. 4 and No. 5 seeds is just that - a battle. Seminole leads the way with a 7-3 mark. Apopka, Mainland and Spruce Creek are all 6-4 while coach Willie Richardson's Rams are 6-5.

"The battle for second place is awesome," said Dorio. "It supercedes the conference race. We (Spruce Creek) could conceivably open with DAYTONA BEACH - Senior guard Kim Lubenow pumped in a season-high 14 points and senior center Kirsten Dellinger tossed in 14 points and grabbed eight rebounds as fifth-ranked (4A) Lake Brantley shook off a slow start Monday to claim a 47-38 victory over Mainland's Lady Bucs in Five Star Confer-ence action at Mainland High.

The victory gave the Lady Patriots 20 wins for the season, tying their most wins ever in a season. Lake Brantley, 20-3 overall, will try to break the school record for wins Thursday when its hosts Apopka.

Lake Brantley also ran its Five

Star Conference record to 12-1 with Monday's win. The Lady Patriots are looking to secure the top seed in the district tournament, which they are hosting February 20-22.

The Lady Patriots led for most of the game Monday and they never trailed again after taking a 22-17 halftime lead. Still, Lake Brantley could not put the finishing touches on the Lady Bucs who stayed within five points, 35-30, after three quarters.

"We were really slow tonight," Lake Brantley coach Debbie Frank said. "We just couldn't put them (Mainland) sway." Behind Lubenow and Dellinger for the Patriots, Michelle Brown added eight points and six assists. Sherry "Ice" Asplen dished out six assists and Cami Twaddell and Kim Wain pulled down six rebounds each.

Erving scored 23 points Monday night to move into fourth place on, pro basketball's all-time scoring list and help the 76ers rock the Atlanta Hawks 106-92. The sleek forward passed the Nuggets' Issel, who announced last month that he will retire at the end of this season.

"It's really not that big a thing at this point in time," said Erving, who will turn 35 on Feb. 22. "Dan (Issel) will be playing tomogrow night and he'll pass me. We'll be playing musical chairs for a while.

"When Dan retires at the end of this season, then I'll concentrate on catching the next guy, but I have no plans for any special celebration at this particular time."

Erving made 2 free throws with 2:51 left in the game to increase his all-time point total to 27,113, passing less!. Karsem Abdul-Jabaar, who had 31,527 coming into the season, is the leader, followed by Wilt Chamberlain, 31,419, and Elvin Hayes, 27,313.

Elsewhere, Cleveland dumped Washington 121-112, San Antonio sclipsed Golden State 114-109 in overtime, Detroit edged Milwaukse 113-111 in overtime, the Clippers bombed Indiana 115-96.

Washington Gets 3 Days In Jail

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — North Carolina State basketball star Chris Washburn, who faced 40 years in prison on a burglary charge, must serve three days in jail under a pirgain that could let him return to play this season.

The 6-foot-11 freshman pleaded guilty Monday to three misdemeanor charges of forcible trespass, breaking and entering and conversion of property for stealing an $800 sterem a friend's dormitory room.

Under the terms of the plea bargain, Superior Court Judge J. Milton Reid ordered Washburn to start serving the jail sentence Dec. 19, the anniversary of the burglary.

Reid suspended a six-year prison see and placed Washburn on five years probation. He ordered Washburn to pay $1,000 court costs and undergo mental health and drug and alcohol abuse counseling.

In addition, Washburn was ordered to perform more than $00 hours of community service.

Turnovers Doom Lady Lions Against Jones

Oviedo's Lady Lions led by as many as 10 points in the fourth quarter Monday night but again could not hold on for the victory as Jones' Lady Tigers came back to claim a 42-41 victory in Orange Belt Conference action at Oviedo High.

It was almost an identical situation as the last time we played Jones," Oviedo coach John Thomas said. "In that game (at Jones) we had a 10-point lead and led up until 1:17 left in the game before Jones took over. Tonight, we led by as many as 10 and led up until 29 seconds left."

Oviedo, which fell to 7-15 overall and 5-5 in the conference, took a 35-26 lead after the third quarter only to see Jones come back within one, 41-39, with 32 seconds left.

Oviedo then called a timeout with 15 seconds left to set up a last shot but the Lions never got off a shot as they committed a turnover to give Jones the victory.

"We threw the ball away six times in the last two minutes," Thomas said. "They were bad turnovers, too. We had situations where someone was open for a layup but dropped the pass and where a pass was thrown to no one. We just lost our concentration and gave Jones the ballgame."

Mary Lokers led the way for Oviedo Monday with a game-high 22 points while Stephanie Nelson contributed 10. The Lions were playing without senior guard Tracy Jacobs (flu) who had been one of the most consistent performers on the team lately.

Oviedo will try to sew up the third seed in the district when they go up against Osceola Kissimmee Thursday night. The 3A-6 Dis-trict Tournament will be held February 20-22 at Bishop Moore High.

POOR SHOOTING GROUNDS HOWELL Lake Howell Lady Silver Hawks didn't have to combat Bridgette Gordon when they encountered the DeLand Lady Bulldogs Monday night. Coach Dennis Codrey's girls, however, did have something almost as bad. After drawing within 33-31 to begin the fourth quarter. Lake Howell missed three shots inside the paint on its chance to tie. The three missires were an omen as the Lady Hawks shot a frigid 3 of 22 in the fourth quarter en route to a 55-40 Five Star Conference loss to DeLand before 150 fans at Lake Howell High School

"We went completely cold in the fourth quarter," said Codrey who watched his young birds fall to 3-18 overall and 1-12 in the conference. "That, plus all those free throws they made in the fourth quarter killed us."

The Lady Buildogs, who lost All-America Gordon two weeks ago to academic pro-blems, relied on the free throw prowess of Shawn Lane and Kathy Corr to pull away from the Hawks. Each hit six freebees.

That is alone! Widows don't have to live with the pain of rejection. Haywire Hormones Can Cause Male Baldness all of the time? DEAR READER - Male pattern baldness often begins early in life. Your case is not unique, no matter how distressing it is, and washing your hair every day has nothing to do with it. Male pattern baldness is caused by male hormones within the hair

See a dermatologist so you can find out what the real cause of your hair loss is. You can ask the dermatologist about minoxidil (Loniten), which has been used as a lotion in studies to test its effectiveness to control baldness. The lotion helps to prevent the effects that a minoxidil pill would cause. The pill is used to lower high blood pressure. This lotion is not for women, since it may cause increased hair growth on the face.

Finally, if your condition warrants it, you may want a hair transplant if nothing else works.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My

11-year-old son was born with a hole between the lower chambers (ventricles) in his heart. He has been seen by several pediatric cardiologists and, until now, all have said that he needs open-heart surgery.

Recently my son was seen at a university center and the doctor took a very blase attitude saying that they never operate on a 1.5 hole. I would rather he not have surgery, but I don't want it neglected if he does.

He is still very healthy and growing very fast.

DEAR READER - Many pediatric cardiologists believe that small ventricular septal defects, which your son has, do not need to be operated on. Many close in the first few years of birth, and some even close much later.

Your son's rapid growth suggests that the hole does not

I cannot determine whether he needs surgery or not on the information you sent. The size of the hole and how much blood is shunted from the left side of the heart to the right through the hole are important, as are the other clinical findings.

I can assure you that the medical center you visited is a. Send your questions to Dr. good one. Large centers usually Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City have more information and experience with such problems. I think that you can trust them, and if you are concerned, you could have him seen there again. He can have an operation later if he needs it.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby Bad splits are part of bridge. With a little care, they can sometimes be overcome. The bid of four clubs by North implied good spade support as well as a maximum no-trump opening. That was sufficient encouragement for South to ask for aces and bid a small slam.

Declarer won the diamond ace and played a spade to the ace. West discarded a diamond. Although that was bad news, the hand was not yet lost, provided East had three cards in the remaining suits. A heart was played to the king and a diamond was ruffed. Then a club was played to the queen, and trump losers.

another diamond was ruffed. Declarer cashed the A-Q of hearts and the king of clubs, and led a club to dummy's ace.

DOWN

When the last diamond was now played from dummy, East had to ruff and lead into dummy's K-J of spades.

The important principle to remember in playing this deal is that the cards can certainly be distributed so that an end play in the trump suit can occur. It costs nothing to play out the hand and see if you can get lucky. It would be the height of folly for declarer simply to curse his misfortune and concede two
