Administration Measure To Clarify States Rights Passed By Legislature

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — The administration resolution asking clarification of the states' rights article of the U. S. Constitution cleared the Legislature today with an 89-1 House vote.

Rep. John Crews of Baker County, who steered the measure to passage, said it "protests in the most solemn language usurpation of the powers residing in the people of the several states."

The resolution is part of the five-phase administration program for maintenance of segregation and is a protest against the U. S. Supreme Court's abolition of segregation in the public schools.

Crews said the court's ruling affects not only segregation but "takes from the people their unalienable rights." He declared the people of the West and the North should get behind the Southerners in protesting it and demanding a clearer statement of states' rights.

"Only by building up public opinion in the North and West can we accomplish this effort," Crews said.

The only vote cast against the measure was by Rep. John Orr of Dade County who has announced his intention of voting against the entire administration program for preserving segregation.

Passage of the amendment started the House off on a busy day of activity on segregation legislation, including some phases apart from Gov. Collins' recommendations.

Gov. Collins broadened his call to the special session with a supplemental message asking consideration of five additional bills.

House Speaker Ted Davis ruled that segregation bills not listed in the governor's call for the special session, but which were okayed by the rules committee could be introduced.

Several such measures were referred to the House yesterday and referred to the Rules Committee for their recommendation on whether they should be considered without the call.

The committee ruled out bills dealing with segregation at the universities on the ground the call deals only with elementary and high schools. However, it said it

Retirees To Get Increase

Senator George Smathers this week helped score a two-fold victory for 25,000 retired Government and railroad workers in Florida as well as several hundred thousand other similar retirees throughout the nation, according to a message received from Washington this morning.

Congress approved a bill sponsored by Senator Smathers that increases railroad retirement pensions about ten per cent. The Senate also passed a proposal that increases benefits for Civil Service retirees and survivors from $100 to $300 a year.

In Florida some 14,000 will receive the 10 percent railroad pension increase while an additional 11,000 elderly citizens will benefit from the Civil Service increase.

Smathers told the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee that the Federal government has a "direct responsibility" in the nearly quarter of a million retired workers as well as the thousands under the railroad retirement plan.

"Over three-fourths of retired Federal employees receive less than $150 a month and some $50 a month," Smathers said, adding: "The plight of their survivors is even worse for over 85 percent of them are receiving less than $100 monthly."

Constantly fighting for greater retirement benefits, Smathers feels that "inflation has taken a particularly heavy toll on the dollar of the individual who is retired, and who is primarily dependent on a fixed pension or annuity for a livelihood."

Meisch To Head Sportsmen

John Meisch, County Commissioner and local real estate man, was elected president of the Seminole County Sportsman's Association at its annual meeting held at the Elk's Club last night.

Meisch, at first requested his name to be withdrawn but when urged by the membership reconsidered and agreed to serve if elected.

Porter Lansing retiring president, immediately presented Meisch with a lifetime membership in the association. Lansing said, "The Board of Directors, in recognition of your sincere interest and long service to the organization, present you with this lifetime membership."

Meisch immediately called for the support and cooperation from the board of directors and the entire membership of the organization "to make our needs and wants felt in Tallahassee and all over the state."

The new president of the Sportsman's Association, in accepting the office of president said "I'm not against the Sanford-Titusville Canal. I want to see our county grow and prosper. If the Canal will help I want to see it go through—if it hurts I don't."

Meisch, speaking of his statements at a meeting on Tuesday night told the membership attending last night's meeting "I just want more information. I don't say the canal will take our water away from us. If we can be convinced it is a good thing the Sportsman's Association will be for it just as they are for so many other things."

The retiring president, Porter Lansing, told the local sports group "I've served for seven terms but I want you to know that if I can help at any time, call on me."

Other officers elected last night to head the Seminole County Sportsman's Association for the coming year were: Colton Brown, vice president; M. L. Tillis, secretary; Bill Hoffman, treasurer; Johnny Cameron, custodian; Buford Brown, Jimmy Hoolihan, George A. Speer, and Bill Kilbee, directors.

John Galloway and his nominating committee, Mrs. Sara Johnson and James Ekern, named the slate of officers elected at last night's annual meeting.

Gary Bennett, Mayor of Coconos, spoke to the local sportsmen on the effects of the Sanford-Titusville Canal and "What the people of Brevard County think of it."

Bennett said "I'm afraid that the Sanford-Titusville Canal would go through, Brevard County has bought a well field in Orange County to supply water to the missile base and other areas.

"There are a few people, with greed who are pushing this canal to further their own endeavors," Bennett said. He recalled "There was a meeting in your city last night expounding on the Sanford-Titusville Canal.

"What effects?" Bennett asked. "Our entire economy was based on citrus and fishing—we were a small but poor county—and along came the guided missile and our economy changed. However, there are those people who have invested their savings in citrus and fishing."

Bennett explained "My belief, as a native Floridian, is that if such a canal or waterway is cut to the East Coast, a terrible problem will be created." And he commented "The St. Johns Valley is a basin of muck and hardpan—and if we take the pressure off it the St. Johns may become the 50th wonder of the world and flow south—there are times that it does flow south—it did this year.

"It would take very little to turn the St. Johns south," Bennett said. Hinting the wildlife problems he explained "We have a tremendous duck population and any change in the present river may increase the salinity and destroy the food on which the ducks thrive.

"Any water that flows into the Indian River will have an effect on the food for enormous trout for which we are famous," the Mayor of Coconos said. "The greed

Mrs. Jamison, 89, Gets 'Whole Works' At Beauty Shop

By J. MARION HARMAN SR.

There must be something to the saying that seems to float around that "psychology has something to do with keeping one young and effervescent."

And to prove the point, we watched a young lady enter a local beauty shop, wait her turn for a chair, and then ask for "a permanent, wash, and set."

We say young, for the lady moves along with a sure step, has beautiful hair that has never been cut, and makes known that she is happy and delighted at all of the "fuss and bother" about having her locks readied for maybe a "best moment."

Mrs. Clara Jamison, a native of Regina, Canada, looks many years younger than her actual age.

She will be 89 this Oct. 24 and her favorite hobby, she says, is going to Harriett's Beauty Nook and getting the "whole works."

Mrs. Jamison reflects that meticulous spirit when she wants every curl and strand of hair exactly in place "to look her best."

She went to South Bend, Ind., from Regina, Canada when she was a mere 12 years old where she married and then settled in Marion, Ind.

Later, Mrs. Jamison moved to Sanford with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Love who purchased the Loading Transfer and Storage Co. here.

The hobby of visiting a beauty shop has its dividends, according to the youthful appearance of one who is so rich in experience and wisdom in watching the panorama of events spin by through the years.

Hurricane Service Plans Announced

The Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross today released the Hurricane Service Plans for 1938 which were received from the Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C.

The local chapter of the Red Cross said, quoting from the plans, that "this year the Weather Bureau will use several new procedures in the Hurricane Warning Service in an effort to provide more accurate warnings to all residents in areas affected by these dangerous storms. The term 'Hurricane Watch' will be used instead of 'Hurricane Alert' which was used last year. A 'Hurricane Watch' is a preliminary storm announcement issued by the Weather Bureau for areas where all interests should make every effort to keep advised regarding the progress of the hurricane."

"The National Hurricane Research Project," the local Red Cross Chapter quoted, "has set up an operating base at West Palm Beach in connection with the large scale effort to discover more about hurricanes, how and why they form, forces that control their intensification and movement and methods for use in more accurately forecasting their future track. Using a B-47 and two B-50s specifically equipped aircraft for hurricane research, plus plugs supplied by the Air Force, probing flights will be made into several hurricanes this summer. Automatic recording instruments will analyze in hours the data which in the past took months of work. Plans have been made to use Navy rockets fired from pocket ships to seek hurricane weather information from heights up to 50 miles above the earth."

NAS Administrative Inspection Is Held At Station Monday

Joint Inspection Parties from Sixth Naval District Headquarters at Charleston, S. C., and Commander Naval Air Bases, Sixth Naval District, Jacksonville, arrived by plane from the Jacksonville NAS, aboard Sanford Naval Air Station Monday, to conduct the annual Administrative Inspection of the Naval Air Station's respective departments.

The Administrative Inspection is conducted annually to make various recommendations on administrative procedures whereas the station will be better able to conform to the latest Naval policies.

The inspection party was headed by Captain F. R. Jones, USN, Inspector General of the Sixth Naval District, and Captain W. S. Harris, USN, Commander Naval Air Bases, Sixth Naval District.

During the day-long inspections, all departments of the station were inspected with the exception of the Chaplain's Office, Public Information and Medical which had been inspected previously.

At a conference following the inspection, Captain Robert W. Jackson, USN, Commanding Officer of Sanford Naval Air Station, commented that: "The remarks of the inspecting party are sincerely appreciated. I would like to thank the station personnel for their wholehearted support during the past year. Their efforts have made this inspection a highly successful one."

Director Of FOP Baseball Program Is Residing Here

Detective Jim Brooks, one of Cincinnati's amateur baseball magicians, has returned to Sanford to make his residence after directing the amateur baseball program for more than 200 boys annually for the past 10 years.

As director of the Fraternal Order of Police baseball program, Brooks has been responsible for from 18 to 20 teams each year.

This summer the Fraternal Order of Police, in an effort to suppress juvenile delinquency and develop friendly relations between the police and the city's youth, supported 12 teams which included nine in the Knottville Circuit, two in the Babe Ruth, and one in the Class D Municipal League in Cincinnati.

Detective Brooks, who served 14 years with the Cincinnati Police Department, has retired and moved his family back to Sanford, his former home. He is the father of six children including four boys.

Brooks took over Cincinnati's Fraternal Order of Police baseball team in 1946 when the organization had its own league. Since then he has helped at least 4,000 boys, all under 17, find worthwhile activities.

One season his organization sponsored 22 teams.

The Fraternal Order of Police Babe Ruth team has won three league championships. Cincinnati FOP clubs have won the Class D Municipal title the past two years.

"We'll miss Jim," Cy Horton, manager of the Cincinnati Fraternal Order of Police's Babe Ruth entry, said. "He was always willing to help and wouldn't sacrifice a thing in satisfying the boys."

2 Championship Playoff Teams Tied In Series

Two teams, competing in the softball league's championship playoffs are tied in the three out of five series to determine the top team in the four-team group.

Hunt-McRoberts defeated the Burpee Seed Co. last night by scoring two runs in the second inning.

In a pitchers battle, Burpee Seed Co. allowed the Hunt-McRoberts softball team only three hits while the seedmen took only four hits off the automobilen.

Burpee Seed Co.'s only run came in the seventh inning when Catcher John Jones smashed a home run with nobody on.

Batteries for Hunt-McRoberts were: Don Merritt and Jim Pennington; for Burpee Seed Co.: Glen Eiland and John Jones.

Weather

Partly cloudy through Friday with widely scattered showers and evening thunderstorms; low tonight 71-80.

Sports Fans Urged To Attend Session

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock a meeting of people who are interested in the Seminole High School athletic program will convene at the City Hall to form what is tentatively called The Seminole Chiefs Club.

Everyone who would like to see "bigger and better sports" at the local high school is asked to be present and to join in the support of a program pointed toward that goal.

Andrew Bracken, Principal, and Fred Ganss, Athletic Director, have said that they will attend and will be glad to cooperate.

It is hoped that out of the meeting there will come a large organization that will stimulate interest in and attendance at all the games played by the high school teams, especially those on the local fields and courts.

One sportsman, talking about the plan, said that it "should be a big step forward in placing Seminole sports out in front where they belong." He added, "the players just naturally do better when they know that the older folks as well as the students are backing them. Last baseball season we had a club that went to the state tournament. They were that good; and yet not a hundred people seemed to know about the fine job the boys and the coach were doing. They might have won that state title if they'd had a boost from the home folks."

The purpose of the proposed club will be to give such support and generate enthusiasm for the local athletic activity. It is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand tomorrow night at the meeting.

Grant Gets Signal Honor For Coverage Of Presidents Meet

Jim Grant, formerly of Sanford and now head of a Miami public relations firm, received a signal honor at the Republic of Panama's Press Club recently following his coverage of the meeting of the Presidents of the Republics.

Jorge Enrique, President of the Press Society of Panama, at the gathering of newsmen covering the widely publicized event, presented Grant the award in the form of a "crest and pin for 'Exceptional service to the Republic of Panama.'"

Jim Grant was the only person receiving the award which is considered, throughout the world as a "high honor."

In a personal interview with Grant by telephone yesterday, he said that "I personally interviewed the Presidents, Generals, and Presidents-elect," before his Fox photographer when he was assigned to the meeting of the Presidents of the Republics.

Grant represented Life, Look, Fox-Motion, taking his entire staff with him to Panama for the complete coverage.

He is president of Job-Ec Public Relations Internationale, a company of his own.

June Road, Bridge Construction Told

Nearly $106 millions in road and bridge construction projects were underway in the state during June, according to a monthly progress report issued today by Wilbur E. Jones, Chairman of the State Road Department.

In addition to the $105,477,000 of projects already under construction, Chairman Jones said that bids were received for $6,239,150 in new construction. During the month contracts were formally awarded for road construction totaling $11,313,681, while work completed and accepted by the Department in the period amounted to $1,284,300.

William H. Dial, of Orlando, Road Board member from the Fifth District, reported that construction under 23 contracts in the 12 counties comprising his district accounted for $14,000,796 of the state total.

Where, We Ask, Could You Find A Better Bargain?

Delinquency Expert Defends Parents

HOLLYWOOD, (U)—An expert on juvenile delinquency today came to the defense of parents.

"The mothers and fathers are always getting the blame when their children get in trouble," said Sal Mineo. "I think that's wrong. Sure, some parents are responsible for delinquents because of neglect and poor upbringing.

"But more often it is the fault of the kids themselves. If a kid at 16 doesn't know the difference between what's right and what's wrong, there's something wrong with him.

Sal is 17 and an actor. He qualifies as an expert on juvenile delinquency because he is the most notable portrayal of delinquents in films and TV.

He got his start in pictures playing Tony Curtis as a boy in "Six Bridges to Cross." That's the film in which Curtis pulled off a Brinks-like robbery. Sal got an Oscar nomination for his delinquent part in "Rebel Without a Cause" and is playing a troublemaker in the current "Crime in the Streets" and "Somebody Up There Likes Me."

He did still another in "Dino" on TV, and he'll repeat the role in the film version, his next assignment.

Aside from his portrayals of delinquents, Sal draws knowledge of the problem from his boyhood in New York City.

"I didn't grow up in an especially tough neighborhood," he said. "My mother and father did, and they were determined that their children would be brought up in a better place.

"But neighborhood doesn't mean everything. I remember seeing a young kid who lived near us. He was groggy from drinking too much. Two days later he was arrested for murder. Now he's serving out a life sentence.

"My point is that it's the kids themselves who are to blame most of the time. The parents have no way of knowing that their boys may be out with a bunch of tough guys getting into trouble.

"For instance, my mother wouldn't have known that I had gone out to a theatre with 10 other guys and made a racket so that we were asked to leave. It was the kind of mischief that any kids might get into. But supposing it had been something worse. It would have been up to me to have the sense to stay out of it."

Most kids get in trouble in a bid for recognition, Sal observed.

"They want to distinguish themselves in some way," he said. "They think if they get in trouble it makes them bigshots.

"It's up to the city and state authorities to find other ways for them to get recognition."

There are about seven million farm dwellings in the United States.

invasion routes to Seoul and I'm convinced we could stop anything the communists might decide to do.

"As far as morale is concerned," said Gen. I. D. White, U. S. Far East commander, "the big problem we face is the utter lack of anything for our soldiers to do in their spare time except in facilities provided by the military."

Seminole Chiefs Club To Support Local High School Athletic Teams

Most of us like to be associated with something that is a success. All of us are eager to be identified with a cause or a movement of which we can be proud. Inborn in man, it seems, is a yearning to be proud of his "home town" - whether he is born in it or has adopted it as the place in which he lives and about which activities for his family revolve.

Friday night at the City Hall there will be a meeting of those folks who feel - and who want to feel - pride in Sanford, in Seminole high school and who want to be a part of a movement that will make both the city and the high school an important consideration in the state interscholastic sports world.

Slow Rising Is Good

Much has been written about the virtue of leaping from bed at an early hour, full of zest for the new day. Some contrary and comfort-loving writers also have sung the delights of lying abed, but they have been outnumbered. They fight a losing battle against a whole body of folklore which has it that all good things await the man who lingereth not on his couch of slumber.

Science has now happily come to the defense of those who enjoy lingering. An English doctor, we find, says that it is not natural to leap eagerly from bed at dawn, and that those who do so may experience a "deserved heart attack. This is great news for the slugsabeds.

It all brings to mind the similar views of an old man who was in excellent health after a long life of hard labor. "Ever notice how a dog wakes up, or a cat? he once asked. "Doesn't hop out and scurry off.

Yawns, stretches first one leg and then another, then does one big overall stretch, yawnlike. Yawns again, looks around, finally gets up and moves off, ready for anything. People ought to do that."

It does sound like more fun than leaping out, groggy but determined to face the new day. And, as the English doctor suggests, slow rising might be a good way to avoid a heart attack.

Herlong Report

In the course of the debate on the civil rights bill a motion was made to strike the enacting clause. This motion, if passed, would have killed the bill. There is an old Latin maxim, in ira veritas—much truth is in anger. We know, too, that when a witness on the stand answers hastily you can be pretty sure that he is saying what he really believes, whereas if he ponders a question at length before answering, you may well be cautious as to the truth of his reply.

"So now we know what he really thinks about Southern Democracy. Does he feel the same way about Southern Republicanism? I note the Southern Republican members voted with the Southern Democrats on this issue. Are they to be read out of the party? Or are we to assume that they are going to be forced to vote for this so-called civil rights legislation?"

"I heard a member say the other day that when he campaigned for office he freely stated to his people that he was a man who had the courage of his convictions. He said that this bill was where he was really having an opportunity to prove this claim to himself. The gentleman from New York, Mr. Miller, certainly has demonstrated courage of the highest order—and while if most Northerners feel about the South as the Minority Leader has demonstrated that he does, a pat on the back of the gentleman from New York, Mr. Miller, coming from a Southerner might not be appreciated and might not help him with his folks back home. I believe, however, that most people appreciate and honor courage of the type that the gentleman from New York demonstrated. A man with that type of cour-deration in the state interscholastic sports world.

Business men who have this civic pride and who are also sport fans are asking everyone who'd like to join a Seminole Chiefs club, organized to give support to the local athletic teams, to be on hand for the meeting that should mean a great deal both to the city and to the high school.

At no age are most of us more susceptible to public adoration and praise than we are in high school. While each competitive individual wants to excel just for the thrill of winning, all of us will admit that we do better when some one - or a group - is patting on the back, yelling for us, pulling for us to be better than our opponents.

This Chiefs club has the avowed purpose of doing just that for the "Seminole Indians" of South French Avenue.

School authorities have shown a real interest in the club's formation and are pledging their help.

Civic leaders urge you - as one anxious to see your home town "on top of the heap" - to attend the meeting. If the plans go forward with the enthusiastic support they deserve, as one of the Chiefs you'll be proud of the club and have an increased pride in your home town and its high school. You'll get to see better games, too - if not this year, then in those of the near future.

Policemen Need Time Off

We are always looking for something that might better our community in some way.

For instance: A proposal that policemen should be given time off to compensate for time they spend in court testifying against those whom they have arrested has been adopted in some communities.

This practice grew out of the belief that a policeman who makes an arrest at night or in the morning and must appear in court the next afternoon, either just as he reports off duty or reports for duty, is not sufficiently alert when he returns to duty, especially if this process keeps recurring. Also suggested by some authorities is the unproved theory that a policeman might hesitate to make an arrest in borderline cases knowing that he must spend extra time—over and above his regular hours of duty—because of an afternoon's appearance in court.

In most communities, however, there is a shortage of police personnel which results from a shortened workweek, sick leave and added duties such as traffic work. Time off to compensate for court appearances would further decrease police protection. Yet police authorities seem convinced that time off rather than extra pay should be awarded lest some policemen begin making arrests simply to add to their salaries.

The problem is important because it involves police morale as well as law enforcement. Policemen should not be deprived of sleep or time off because they make arrests. Nor should they neglect their duties because they must appear in court.

Work conditions for almost everyone else has improved. There is no excuse for not improving the policeman's lot.

age can never really lose regardless of the outcome of any vote.

"To paraphrase the Minority Leader, it may well be that he will rue the remarks that he made yesterday, not just 'every day until the next election', but long afterwards. This is not a threat. I stand here as one who has from time to time voted with the Minority Leader when I believed he was right. If I were to be the kind of person that he is asking the members of his party to be, I would say that I could never again vote with him, but I expect to continue to vote as I have in the past on each issue on the basis of its merits as I find them to be regardless of how anyone else votes. We have seen some sorry spectacles in these last few years, and I think the gentleman from Mississippi, Mr. Whitten, put it very succinctly the other day when he said that probably one of the greatest arguments for the election of a Democrat as President of the United States was so the Republicans in Congress would have the courage to vote their own convictions."

The announcement said the tests were "successful," included "further development of methods of defense against attack," and advanced the "development of weapons with reduced fall-out and weapons for tactical purposes."

No information was given on the number of test shots in the series that began last May. The announcement said that surface and air restrictions in the Bikini-Eniwetok proving ground area will be continued until the completion of further nonblast test activities.

This year's test series included an announced atomic test early in May. Then on May 31 an Air Force B-52 jet bomber dropped a hydrogen bomb for an airburst witnessed by newsmen. Tests since then have not been announced.

The first claim that the United States was making "real progress" in achieving an H-bomb with "maximum effect in the immediate area of a target with minimum widespread fall-out hazard" was made last Thursday by AEC Chairman Strauss.

The announcement said no members of the joint task force that conducted this year's tests suffered any radiological injuries and that the tests were conducted "without radiological hazard" outside the announced danger area.

No One Backing Stassen's Proposal

BY JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, who lives here in the last house on a dead-end street, doesn't know today whether that will also be the permanent address of his political future. This must be one of his loneliest days.

Not a single Republican leader has stepped up to back his proposal that Vice President Nixon be brushed aside in favor of Gov. Christian A. Herter as President Eisenhower's running mate.

The White House, where he has his office as special assistant to Eisenhower on disarmament, made it clear Stassen is not getting any support there. Republicans in Congress have called on him to resign his job.

And even Herter, after a telephone talk with the vice president, not only did not support Stassen but said he would nominate Nixon, Herter did, however, say he would accept the vice presidential nomination if Eisenhower wanted him.

The professional Republican politicians, who thought they had the way greased to present the voters this year with the same 1952 winning combination of Eisenhower and Nixon, have reason to be sore at Stassen.

He not only caused them trouble, if only temporarily, but also called sensational attention to the fact that not everyone wants Nixon. It's possible the fire Stassen tried to start may have spread by convention time. It doesn't look like it now.

Not even one member of that unnamed group of "Republican leaders" who, Stassen said shared his views, has come out in public to stand beside him. Politicians pay a penalty for causing their party trouble.

Stassen may have to pay the penalty of being forced into political limbo from now on. Which raises a question: Why did he do it? He said he did it for the good of the country and out of "loyalty" to Eisenhower.

If this was Stassen's only reason—since he's been around long enough to know a bad reaction might ruin him—then it took sheer guts and unselfishness to do what he did.

But the 60-year-old Stassen, who never seems to stop talking and has been giving Republicans and Democrats alike advice from the sidelines for years, has been an immensely ambitious man.

He's had his eyes steadily on the presidency since he was in his 30s. He was a candidate for the Republican nomination in 1944, 1948 and 1952. And as late as July 8 he made it known he would like to be a candidate this year if Eisenhower didn't run.

Judging from the reaction he has received so far, his attempt to cut Nixon's political throat was

Accomplishment Is Comfort Of Life

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Many young girls have the Cinderella dream of marrying a millionaire, but they rarely think much about what would happen if their dream came true.

They have a rather vague idea that this would solve all their problems—that they'd simply float happily on through life aboard golden cloud No. 9.

But Marjorie Steele, a girl who did meet and marry a millionaire, says the world isn't that simple. "Money doesn't change your life so much," she said. "You do not possess anything really unless you earn it yourself."

From childhood, Marjorie had wanted to become an actress. She was studying acting in Hollywood and working as a cigarette girl in a night club when she first met her husband, Huntington Hartford, the grocery store heir.

Before that she had held a lot of other odd jobs. She had delivered dog biscuits, sold shoes, filed bills for the telephone company, worked as a movie usherette and a waitress.

In Hollywood, a tall skinny kid of 17 "with knobby knees," she was down to her last $5 when the night club gave her employment. Marriage and motherhood—she and Hartford have two children—interrupted her career, but didn't halt it. The idea of a life of idle wealth appalled her.

"To me the only real comfort in life lies in the feeling of accomplishment," she remarked. "Too many people with money get bored young. They become afraid of getting deeply involved in life for fear of being hurt."

"But how can you get any real joy out of living unless you do something to earn your own way in the world?"

Two years ago Marjorie began to make her mark in the theater in a starring role in the London production of "Sabrina Fair."

But her biggest girlhood dream came true only recently when her name went up in lights on Broadway. She succeeded Barbara Bel Geddes in the hit play, "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

To her it has meant a greater sense of security than can be found in money.

"One reason I wanted to be an actress is that as a kid I had a feeling of insecurity and inferiority," she said. "I think that's why many people turn to the theater for a career. To do a good job in it helps you forget that feeling. It's a live and exciting world, full of exciting people."

"But I have been lucky, because my husband likes the idea of my acting. He has encouraged me." Hartford, who is also proud of his wife's talent as a painter—she's had two shows of her own—is deeply interested in the arts. He is active in half a dozen fields himself, ranging from the operation of a successful motel agency to the building of a modern art gallery here.

Marjorie, at 25, a slender brown-haired beauty with gray eyes, says her only fears are "of being personally inadequate, or of failing to give my children the right sense of values."

If wealthy parents don't do anything worthwhile, their children are likely to grow up with a confused idea toward work. "I feel it's unhealthy to engage not to work at something useful. To do nothing is to feel like nothing. What could be more destructive?"

U.S. Completes '56 Series Of Atomic, Hydrogen Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has completed its 1956 series of atomic and hydrogen blasts in the Pacific, but certain specified test activities will continue a while longer.

"The final test shot... has been fired," said a joint announcement Monday by Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission and Secretary of Defense Wilson.

The announcement said the tests were "successful," included "further development of methods of defense against attack," and advanced the "development of weapons with reduced fall-out and weapons for tactical purposes."

No information was given on the number of test shots in the series that began last May. The announcement said that surface and air restrictions in the Bikini-Eniwetok proving ground area will be continued until the completion of further nonblast test activities.

HOW DID THE BOOMING 1925 Hollywood movie colony impress a newly arrived writer? Here's a thumbnail description by that most facile of word slingers, Ben Hecht, in his "Child of the Century":

"That was when the picture industry was not yet captive. There were as many wild-catters around as bankers. And the movies, God bless 'em, were silent. The talkies had not yet come to make headaches for the half-illiterate visitors of the Front Office. In fact, to the best of my recollection, there were no unions, no censor boards, no empty seats. Movies were seldom written. They were yelled into existence in conferences that kept going in saloons and all-night poker games. It was Round Three and everybody looked like a champion!"

"So you're a marriage broker," needed a young man. "Let's have a look at photos of all your likely brides with dowries of $100,000 or more."

"I'm sorry," said the broker, "but we furnish no pictures of any of our ladies who have more than $10,000."

A WILL can contain almost anything but this beats all that I've heard. . . A piano tuner left a two-stanza poem as a will bequeathing his estate, of undisclosed size, to his widow. As probated, it read: "There few lines shall be my will. And my request when I am old and still. All my property, both personal and real, I leave to my wife after the funeral bill. Even my dog and his covey of fleas. To sell, or trade or do as she please. I don't want her in an embarrassing fix. So will let her be the administrator. There shall be no bond for her make Or I'll do my best my corpse to wake."

4 Year Old Is Feted By Mother Yesterday Morn

Juddy Hobby was honored by his mother, Mrs. J. L. Hobby, yesterday morning at his home. A swimming party was given in the pool in the back of the home.

The children swam and played games. Mrs. I. W. Keogh made the cake for her little cousin, four years old, decorating it with cowboys, Indians and other tiny figurines.

Refreshments of cake, ice cream, cookies and punch were served to the children and favors of horns and suckers along with a party hat were given them.

Those attending were Brian Williams, Steve Raborn, Mike Martin, Skippy Thadworth, Eddie and Ricky Smith, Diane Roberts, Craig Keogh, Keith Keogh, Collin Keogh, and Lela Ann Hobby.

Also attending were Mrs. H. M. Gleason, Mrs. R. W. Keogh, Mrs. Margaret Martin, Mrs. Ed Smith, and Mrs. Sally Williams.

Irish Priest Starts Career In Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Twenty-three years out of seminary in New York, told a friend he had chosen Nevada as the place to start his church career.

"Nevada!" the friend exclaimed. "Why in heaven's name would you go there? Why, there's nothing but a few houses next to the highway. Your church will look like a mission in China."

Nevertheless, Father John Ryan went west. After being stationed in most of the sizable towns in the state, he is now pastor of St. Anne's the closest church to the great show capital, the Las Vegas strip.

On a recent Sunday, Father Ryan could look down at mass and see such famous faces as Jimmy Day and Dennis Thomas, Dennis Day and Teresa Brewer, stars, chorus girls, pit men, crooners and plain citizens fill St. Anne's. The congregations are so sizable that six masses are held.

Father Ryan, a big, broad-shouldered man with a tanned Irish face and a touch of brouge, came to Las Vegas four years ago to find St. Anne's out in the desert without even a road before it. Now there is a road, a thriving church, a grammar and high school.

His latest enthusiasm is a youth center to provide healthful recreation for children of all sects. Last weekend the town pitched in for a gale barbecue, auction and entertainment to pay off the $30,000 debt on the center.

Las Vegas is always proclaiming that it has "heat," and such events would support that claim. "You won't find more generous people anywhere than those in Las Vegas," agreed Father Ryan. But, of course, all is not sweet and light here. The priest admitted that there are problems.

"This is the place of 'fun in the sun,'" he remarked. "People are here for pleasure, and the climate contributes to a lax attitude. Certainly all the temptations are here. With some people, it is a question of getting to them before the temptations become too great."

HOW TO DRY WHAT Hand washing is a simple process. Use the water with enough soap or detergent suds, and squeeze suds through the article until it's clean. Difficult part of handwashing is getting water out of garment after washing and rinsing. You can press water out between clean bath towels, or hang article to drip dry. Later method is used for articles of man-made fibers — orlon, dacron, etc. — that need little or no ironing. Always use it for permanently pleated shirts. Lay sweaters flat.

MUSHROOMS SMOTHERED IN An omelet made on the top burner of your range tastes twice as good when surrounded by mushrooms broiled in lemon butter (heat the canned ones) alternately arranged with finger-shaped potato croquettes.

Tommy Baggerly Has Birthday Celebration

Tommy Baggerly, 10 years old, was feted at a party given by his parents at his home 210 Virginia Ave. Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m.

All the children arrived in swim suits and had a nice swim at the pool. They then came home to roast wieners in the back yard. Potato chips, cakes, and soft drinks were also served them.

The group sang 'Happy Birthday' to Tommy after which he opened his gifts.

Prizes were given for games, and favors of little caps and cowboys were given to each of the boys.

Those attending were Mark Elders, Mike Smith, Frank and Mike Jennings, Terry Jerrill, Kenneth Dixon, Butch and Meril Walker, Caroline and Janice Kay Baggerly and Tommy's grandmother, Mrs. Otis Baggerly.

Personals

Friends of W. C. Hill will regret to learn that he is now in John Hopkins Hospital after undergoing surgery there.

George Touhy, Elder of the First Presbyterian Church, will be guest speaker for the Sunday morning services in the absence of the Rev. A. G. McInnis, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Andes and daughter, have returned from Gary, Ind., Michigan, and North Carolina which they visited while on a vacation. In North Carolina they stopped for a visit with the Rev. John O. Andes and his family. Rev. Andes is attending college there.

Mrs. A. P. Bandy and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Wilson and son Patri spent several days last week visiting Cypress Gardens, going from there to Ft. Pierce and Melbourne Beach where they visited relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have now returned to their home in Leesville, N. C.

William W. Staneland Jr. has been named to the Dean's List of the College of Business Administration at the University of Florida in Gainesville. Students must maintain at least a "B" average to be included on the semesterly honor roll.

WINE WISDOM A little left-over wine — even a splash! — can add zest to next day's soup when cooking on the top burner of your range. White wine blends beautifully with frozen cream of shrimp or with bouillon; sherry gives that "something" to frozen cream of potato soup or consommé; red wine lifts Scotch broth or vegetable soup to new heights.

THE BOODLE BAG, a gay and very feminine carry-all in soft, crushed cowhide, has just been introduced for Spring and summer. Cards, currency, coins, all have separate compartments and a wonderfully large pocket holds all the odds and ends ladies find necessary. The BOODLE was designed as a purse organizer, but its lovely spring-like colors and handy size make it perfect for shopping, traveling or an evening "on the town". Its colors of powder blue, butter yellow, pink, and scarlet, will mix and match with the new spring prints and summer cottons. The BOODLE BAG when folded, measures 4 X 8 inches.

footnotes to fashion

The BOODLE BAG, a bright new idea in carry-alls for the ladies, has just been introduced.

Designed to hide away all the necessary vanities and valuables, the BOODLE gets a Spring and Summer fashion touch from the gay colors in which it is available.

Made of soft crushed cowhide, it comes in powder blue, scarlet, butter yellow, pink and flax. The colors were chosen by Rolfs since they're the most popular on the Spring print and Summer cotton scene — will mix and match well with all of them.

The BOODLE is small enough to be an excellent and colorful purse organizer, inside a larger bag. Its size makes it right to tuck into the glove compartment of the car or into a pocket on shopping trips. The BOODLE will be going everywhere with the ladies this Spring.

The BOODLE got its name from the phrase "kit and kaboodle" which originated with traveling men who carried their "boodles" on their backs.

The modern version of the BOODLE is, of course, feminine from its colors to its many uses. The BOODLE measures about 4 X 8 inches when closed. The leather fold over has a large pocket for cosmetics. An attached four-wing card case, gusseted coin purse and zippered currency compartment take care of other handbag essentials.

Many of the Sanford stores now have them in stock.

Use a deep bowl when you are beating egg whites, rather than a wide shallow utensil.

GOTHE'S SHORT EVENING DRESS shows a veil of white Chantilly lace on petal pink taffeta. Flowers, cut out of the lace and jeweled, mark the Empire line of the bodice and form sprays on the skirt.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

THE LINDEN party was small — as usual, numbering only eight at Charlotte's right was Edna, McCormick, the Eastern journalist, a scrawny, tweedy man, looking uncomfortable in his black and white Rye shirt as at Charlotte's left her choice? Or Bar-ba-ras?

Michael was between the Chin-sons, James Chinson, Barclay's banking associate, interested only in money and food, seldom spoke during a meal, Beatrice chattered without ceasing, Michael had long ago learned to satisfy her with murmured affirmatives. He started when she cleared her throat with an aggression that told him he missed his cue.

"Sorry," said I wasn't listen- ing.

"I'm afraid not, perhaps she came into the room end, I've been in Truims most of the past week."

Beatrice frowned, her stubby lips fluttering over prominent hazel eyes. "I was sure of you," she said. "My maid name, Her mar- tina name, now it slips my mind — a French sound —

"You don't mean Meg Beau- mont?"

Of course I had a letter from her. The Stratton family has since have always kept in touch. Boston roots, you know."

"Mrs Beaumont works."

"How quaint. Her father's a college president, you know, very comfortably situated. Yes, you might call him well-to-do. What does she do?"

"She sells hats."

Charlotte satirized. "Goodness, Beatrice, you see her once a week in the Ten Eyck store?"

"I intended to have a tea for the Stratton girl," Beatrice said.

"But a clerk."

"Come, Mrs. Chinson," McCormick urged. "I'd fancy meeting this clerk. And Seattle, fabulous town, is certainly a place for the new woman."

"There is," Barclay declared, "nothing fabulous about expansion and growth," Mr. McCormick.

Ryerson grinned broadly and attacked McCormick openly. It was, Michael thought, the difference between him and Barclay.

"Fabulous isn't a popular word around here," Mr. McCormick.

What about the new snow and ice trains from Fort Wrangal?"

"There's talk of it," James Chinson was depreciatory. "I doubt that it will come to anything. The rumor is there's a plan to run steamers to Fort Wrangal, take passengers to the head of navigation on the Stikine River and from there to Dawson by snow and ice trains."

"What on earth is 'snow and ice' train?" McCormick demanded.

"It was Ryerson who replied, "Ordinary trains. Take their tags from the country through which they'll run."

McCormick frowned. "Won't it be difficult laying tracks on that terrain?"

"Naturally," Ryerson agreed. "I understand, however, that the company is well financed from Washington — government contracts, I believe."

"But no trains are running yet?" McCormick persisted.

"Not at present," Barclay moved toward the door. This time McCormick did not refuse his host's lead.

Michael felt illogical interest in the turn of the conversation. It made him absent-minded. Charlotte spoke twice to him before she successfully cut him from the others, drawing him to the nook beyond the massive fireplace.

"My goodness, Michael," Charlotte complained. "Are you still worrying about the Cuban war?"

"A war might clear the air, Charlotte."

"It might be exciting," she bent toward him. "I should worry if you went, Michael."

"I must leave early." He refused her thrown gambit. "A client."

She showed him her quick offense. "Michael! Not my party!"

"Even yours, my dear Lotty," Moving to impulse, he made his good-bys, escaped into the street. He did not miss Charlotte's swift collection of Ryerson. She was not a woman who would be left high and dry on the sea of clients, wars or snow and ice trains.

She probably couldn't, Michael mused as he walked toward town, locate Cuba on a map. He thought again of Ryerson, who wore the smell of success. Charlotte would see it too. She was an expert at such analysis. Blast it, Michael raged, I ought to get her out of my blood! Yet he knew with ashamed honesty that he did not wish to achieve this desired end by losing her to Ryerson.

Commendation, Conduct Medals Awarded NAS Men

A Navy Unit Commendation and two Good Conduct Medals were awarded last Friday to three men attached to Fleet Aircraft Services Squadron Fifty One, NAS, Sanford.

James L. Briley, Airman, USN, was awarded the Good Conduct Medal for service ending September 10, 1955. A native of Jackson, Tenn., he has completed 11 years service with the Navy.

Walter B. Moore, Aviation Machinist Second Class, USN, received the Navy Unit Commendation for outstanding heroism while serving with Marine Aircraft Group Twenty-Five in support of military operations in the forward area of the South Pacific from December 10, 1942 to July 15, 1944. The commendation reads: "while flying unarmed land based planes without escort, despite dangers from Japanese land, sea and air forces, tropical storms and mechanical failures at sea, his squadron delivered bombs, ammunition, gasoline and vital supplies to combat troops in close and direct contact with the enemy. Frequently under fire, the pilots and air crewmen served with courage, skill and daring and contributed essentially to the rout of the Japanese from the South Pacific. The gallant record of achievement reflects the best credit upon the United States Naval Service." Moore is a native of Haysi, Missouri, and has completed 9 years active service with the Navy.

Paul S. McCormick, Aviation Electrician, first class, USN, was awarded the Good Conduct Medal for service ending Sept. 23, 1955. He will complete four years active duty in August and is a native of Tallahassee, Fla. Presentation of the awards was made by Commander W. W. Stetson, USN, Commanding Officer of Fleet Aircraft Services Squadron Fifty One, based at the Naval Air Station, Sanford, Fla.

Cardinals, Umatilla Play At Municipal Stadium Tomorrow

The Sanford Cardinals meet the Umatilla entry in the Lakeland League tomorrow night at the Sanford Municipal Baseball Stadium.

Game time is 8 o'clock, the local club said today.

The Sanford entry in the semi-professional Orange League has won four of its first five games at home. However, it needs the support of the hometown baseball fans to stay in the winning column and possibly emerge at the end of considered within the call an interposition resolution and bills to prohibit children from being coerced to attend integrated schools and appropriated $40,000 to provide legal aid for county school boards fighting integration.

The House will have offered to it, a Senate approved bill appropriating $50,000 for an investigation of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

There has been no decision on the House side as to whether the measure would come within the scope of the governor's call or not. The Senate, before passing it, voted for its introduction by the two-thirds majority required to take up matters ruled outside the call.

Also due to reach the House floor are the three remaining bills of the administration's segregation program. Another, the pupil assignment measure, already has cleared the Legislature.

The Senate yesterday cleared its decks of administration sponsored segregation measures by unanimous passage of a resolution calling for clarification of the states' rights article of the Constitution. The measure is pending in the House.

The Senate convened at 11 a.m. with only two measures on its calendar.

One of these is a resolution which would name the lake to be named behind the Jim Woodruff Dam, near Chattahoochee, for U. S. Sen. Spessard L. Holland.

The other is a bill setting up admission procedures for the mental hospitals in the light of the scheduled opening in March of the new South Florida Institution in Broward County. The Senate passed the bill previously but the House tacked on an amendment providing that patients be sent to the hospital nearest their homes if possible. The Senate must concur before the bill goes to the governor.

Todd Will Attend Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity Confab

John M. Todd Jr., of Sanford, a member of the Stetson University chapter of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity will attend the 25th Biennial Convention of the Fraternity which will be held at the Hotel Colorado, Glenwood Springs, Colorado from Aug. 26 to 29.

Over 500 undergraduate and alumni delegates and visitors are expected to attend the convention of the Fraternity. They will represent the 149 chapters of Lambda Chi Alpha located at colleges and universities in 45 states and the provinces of Canada and the 91 Alumni Associations throughout the United States and Canada.

Lambda Chi Alpha, the largest international college social fraternity, was founded at Boston University in 1909. This 47th Anniversary Convention will continue the emphasis on the establishment of the John E. Mason Memorial Foundation, one of the early leaders of the Fraternity bequeathed a sum of money to the Fraternity before his death in 1946 and the Foundation, which will assist worthy individuals through loans and scholarships, was named in his honor.

Hurricane Service

The local Red Cross Chapter also said, quoting from the plans, that "in cooperation with the several governments in the Caribbean area 8 special upper air sounding stations have been established. This more than doubles the number of vital upper air observations from the Caribbean which will be available to the hurricane forecasters at the same time they are also supplying the data needed for intensive research.

"As in previous seasons," Red Cross officials quote, "The Navy and Air Force will fly aerial reconnaissance missions over the vast expanse of the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico to search out and track hurricanes. Using improved electronic equipment, these daring flyers will again penetrate hurricanes often to the dangerous center to obtain the data necessary for accurate weather warnings."

"The number of ocean going merchant ships participating in hurricane reporting has been sharply increased this year," the local Red Cross Chapter reported. "Over the oceans where weather data are often sparse, reports from ships are of great help to hurricane forecasters.

Already these teams have gone into action when areas of disturbance were reported. So far, no hurricanes have developed this summer.

3 Attend Electrical Contractors Assn. Barbecue Tuesday

Barge Stafford, E. C. Harper and C. Yelvington, Sanford, were among the 65 electrical contractors and inspectors from Seminole, Orange, Osceola and Lake Counties, attending the Electrical Contractors Assn. of Central Florida barbecue at Klamms Tuesday night.

This was the annual "fun night" for the contractors association which was instrumental in the establishment of a fire-safety wiring code for Central Florida.

Squally Gulf Area Is Moving West

NEW ORLEANS — The squally area in the Gulf of Mexico is moving west-northward, the Weather Bureau said today — and is expected to continue this movement.

Early today the center of the disturbance was located about 200 miles east-southeast of Tampico, Texico, with highest winds estimated at 40 miles per hour. The disturbance was moving about 13 miles an hour.

Speakers

of a few people will upset the balance of our economy.

"We don't want the Ford Motor Co. or the Bethlehem Steel Co. plants here. They use such a tremendous amount of water which in turn is ruined," he said, "we need industry, need to attract it, but we overlook our biggest industry, the tourists and I believe that we can become the playground for 46 states.

"If anything," Bennett suggested, "I would like to see the St. Johns basin be bought up and turned into a national park to produce a good crop of birds. We would then do something for we don't have a sufficient supply of fishing grounds. I certainly want to see your county and my county enjoy the things that I've enjoyed."

M. L. Raborn asked Mayor Bennett if any problems had grown out of Canaveral Harbor.

Cocora's mayor replied, "It does not enter other streams, but there are some problems growing out of it such as the erosion of the beaches."

And then Raborn made known, "I'm for an open mind until further study is made of the St. Johns and Indian Rivers."

Earl Frye, Assistant Director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission attending the meeting as one of the principle speakers, told the local sportsman's group, "We are now spending millions of dollars to undo what was done in the first place.

"Florida is becoming a water-poor state," he said. "Water over the marsh lands produce food for game and wildlife and when we have such complete control that we keep water in a little channel we might as well kill the fish goodbye."

However, Frye explained, when we have 50 or 60 miles of rain fall it can't go down that little channel. Let's just know what we are doing before we have to spend additional millions of dollars undoing the damage.

"If we ever develop Florida to such an extent that we build huge factories and hundreds of houses, we destroy it. There's a place in Florida for the right kind of industry so long as they don't leech our natural resources," Frye.

He concluded "We sometimes take these things for granted — Florida is especially blessed with natural resources and we should do something to keep them."

Commissioners Adopt Budget

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved their "budget for 1936-37 as advertised" but not without additional requests for appropriations.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce were turned down on their request for an additional sum to bring the appropriation up to $10,000.

Seminole County Judge Ernest Housholder took the Board of Commissioners "to task" for their refusal to grant the sum of money requested for the operation of the Juvenile Court.

Judge Housholder, in a letter to the commission said "I am at a loss to understand your refusal to appropriate additional moneys—a matter you should not oppose as a personal dislike for me."

"Apparently, to date, you have not seen fit to do what the law makes mandatory," the Judge wrote.

"The same law which makes it mandatory that I serve as Juvenile Judge makes it mandatory for you to appropriate funds for its operation," he said.

Judge Housholder concluded "I hope that you will view this request in the light of the law."

At a previous budget meeting, Judge Ernest Housholder, who also serves as Seminole County Juvenile Judge, requested $2,000 for the salary of a counsellor, $200 expense, $2,000 for an assistant counsellor and $300 for expense, $2,400 as Juvenile Judge salary and $2,400 for a Court Secretary.

Commissioner John Meisch, immediately following the reading of the request, made the motion that the budget be adopted as advertised.

The Board of Commissioners sitting as an Equalization Board received no complaints either by letter or by personal appearance.

J. Dan Wright Named Member Of Committee

The Florida Citrus Commission has announced that five of its members including J. Dan Wright of Sanford have been appointed to a special fresh fruit quality committee which will join a similar committee appointed by Florida Citrus Mutual to probe possibilities of improving both the grade and pack of fresh Florida citrus fruit.

Appointment of the FCC committee was made by Chairman Herschell Sorrells, who will also serve as a member of the group. In addition to Sorrells and Wright, other members of the FCC committee are Key Seales, Ross Bynum, and Frank Chase.

According to Sorrells, the joint FCC-FCM committee will be known as the "Fresh Fruit Quality Committee," and will direct its combined efforts toward creating greater consumer eye appeal for Florida citrus in fresh form. "It is our hope that we can maintain and increase the demand for fresh Florida citrus through better grade and pack," Sorrells said. "With the modern merchandising systems employed today, it is essential to maintain good eye appeal of our products. We hope that this combined committee will be the means of assuring this increased appeal for our fresh fruit."

The first meeting of the joint committee is scheduled for August 20, and will be held in the auditorium at Florida Citrus Mutual in Lakeland.

Oviedo Recreation Program Nearing Successful Closing

By MARIAN JONES OVIEDO—The summer recreation program is nearing a close. Starting on June 18th, it will end today.

Coach Paul Mikler, who has been supervisor of the recreation program, says he has had a very successful summer program. One hundred and fifty six students enrolled for the six weeks course. The average daily attendance has been around forty-six. Paul said that he personally attributed the drop in daily attendance due to the fright caused when a child was taken sick and it was believed to be spinal meningitis. That was when the sudden drop did come.

He has been ably assisted by Johnny Jones, a University of Florida athlete; Miss Myers, a Florida Southern College student; and Miss Kay Estes, an Oviedo High School student, a senior and this year's captain of the girls' basketball team.

The city of Oviedo contributed $125.00 toward the program, while the Oviedo Woman's Club, Oviedo P-TA, and Sylvia P-TA gave ample contributions. Paul said most of the money had been spent for helpers, for they figured they needed that more.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays the time was spent at the Oviedo swimming pool. He stated that about twenty had been taught to swim this year.

Other days the children gathered at the school playground. Small group games in baseball, softball, volley ball, croquet, horseshoeing and tennis were in progress at this time. Boys under fifteen engaged in a 5-game Lyman-Oviedo tilt, the result of which ended in four victories for the Oviedo Lads against the Oods.

Johnny Jones, who coached this team, said he had some promising material in these youngsters, especially in Sonny Priest at pitching and Roy Wainright at the catcher position.

The Titusville Recreation program used the Oviedo swimming pool each day from noon until 2 p.m. They have used it for three consecutive years now. Their average daily attendance has been fifty, with an enrollment of one hundred and sixty.

Mrs. Mabel Toews Waiting To Receive Mechanic License

By MRS. RUTH LAYO Little did Longwood, Fla., know that a certain young lady born in Philadelphia, Pa., a few years ago would come here to study and work for her Aircraft-Engineer-Mechanic's license. To date there are very few such licenses issued in the United States to the so-called "weaker sex."

This will be extremely beneficial to the citrus industry and all agricultural interests in Florida for it permits quick, available and flexible transportation of perishable crops to market. This results in a considerable saving—not only to the farmer but to the consumer as well.

As a result of the trucks being leased for the trip home, rather than moving empty, maximum use of equipment and an economic operation are insured.

Sanford, County Safety Picture Will Be Subject

The overall safety picture of Sanford, Seminole County and Central Florida will be the subject of a talk to be given by "Chuck" Saunders, Safety Education Officer of the Florida Highway Patrol, with headquarters at Orlando, before the Rotary Club of Sanford, at its regular weekly meeting at the Yacht Club next Monday, noon.

The speaker will be introduced by Myron Reck, general program chairman of the club for the year 1936-37. Dr. Charles L. Persons, president, will be in charge of the meeting.

Gazil Makes Visit

Joe Gazil, owner-manager of the Tip-Top Supermarket, has returned from a two day visit as a guest of the Dixie-Lily Ranch at Williston, Fla. While there, he attended the dedication of that firm's grain elevator at Trenton, erected to help Florida farmers process and store their corn and other commodities.

Race Track Plans Aired At Meeting

Recommendations Are Approved By Board

The Seminole County Board of Public Instruction approved the annual budget this morning with no complaints and no questions coming before the hearing called for 10 o'clock at the Education Building on Commercial Ave.

The budget was tentatively approved by the Board of Public Instruction on July 12 for $1,967,872.

The increased budget, Superintendent of Public Instruction Rayburn T. Milwee told the Board, came from Federal funds, State funds, an increase in property values within the county, and from the $50,000 appropriated from racing funds which can be used only for teachers salaries.

Milwee advised the Board of Public Instruction that the budget will be typed and mailed Monday to the State Department of Education for final approval.

Bids were received and opened this morning for desks, chairs and tables. The bids were tabulated and referred to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for study and acceptance of the lowest bid that met with specifications. Southern Desk, American Seating, Universal Seating and New to go. Equipment companies submitted bids.

Other bids were opened for mechanical equipment, which included typewriters and adding machines. The tabulation of bids was again referred to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for study and acceptance of the lowest bid. Firms submitting bids included: Powell's Office Supply, Sweeney, Hayes Office Machine, George Stuart, and Office Equipment Exchange.

The Board of Public Instruction also approved the recommendations of the Board of Trustees for the appointment of four teachers, two janitors and an assistant principal for Seminole High School.

Insurance for school children was accepted at $1.50 per student. The American Progressive Insurance Co. of New York was awarded the insurance with the provision that included students playing football.

The Board of Public Instruction also approved the installation of accounts in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and in the Board Room of the Education Building. Cost of the project will come to approximately $200.

Teachers will report for duty in their various schools on August 30, Milwee told the Board. The principals are already at work in their various schools, he said.

Board members were advised that a special meeting has been called for Thursday, Aug. 2, at 10 a. m. for the purpose of opening bids on the eight-classroom and cafeteria addition to Lyman School.

Burpee Seed Co. Wins Game

Five runs in the second inning of last night's game in the championship series of the city-wide softball league clinched the win for Burpee Seed Co.

The two teams, playing a best three out of five games, are now tied in the highly contested games to determine the championship team of the league.

Hunt-McRoberts was able to swing only one run around the bases off of their four hits. Burpee Seed Co. defeated Hunt-McRoberts, 5-2. Batteries for the seedmen were B. Q. Smith and John Jones; for Hunt-McRoberts, Bob Gell and Jim Pennington.

Next game to be played in the playoff series will be under the lights in Fort Mellon Park Tuesday night, July 31, 7:30 p. m.

There will be a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the City Hall to form an organization to lead a helping hand to the sports program at Seminole high school.

The attendance and support of sports fans at this meeting is urged by local business men.

Fred Murray Is To Represent Fla. As Delegate

The Adult Education Association of the United States has announced that Fred Murray, Adult and Vocational Education Director for Seminole County, was elected to represent the State of Florida as a delegate to the National Adult Education Association's convention in Atlantic City, N. J., in November.

He was elected for a two-year term starting this November. Murray has been Adult and Vocational Education Director here since 1949 and has served as the President of the Florida Adult Education Association last year and is serving this year as its vice president.

10 Negro Teachers Admit Purchasing College Credits

ST. AUGUSTINE, (AP)—Ten Negro former public school teachers testified privately yesterday in pre-trial discussions about alleged purchasing of college credits.

The investigation springs from charges that an ousted Florida Normal College registrar sold credits to the 10 and 17 other students. The registrar, Frank T. Wilson Jr., faces circuit court charges of falsifying college records and illegally granting credits to senior students so they could be qualified to teach.

The charges arose after Dr. R. W. Puryear, president of the college here, reported irregularities to the State Board of Education. Most of the 27 teachers have admitted buying the credits and Dr. Puryear said many are attending summer classes to make up the work.

Yesterday's investigation was conducted by State Atty. Murray Sam.

Egg Breaks Record

An egg brought to the Sanford Herald office yesterday would have made a pretty sizable breakfast. J. A. Nance who has 48 New Hampshire Red hens at his home in Volusia County just a short way across the Lake Monroe Bridge says that the egg "is the biggest I have ever seen."

The single yolk egg, laid by one of the New Hampshire Reds, when weighed on accurate scales, came to an exact four ounces or a quarter of a pound.

When measured around the lengthwise portion of the egg the tape measure came to eight inches, around the middle of the egg it was six inches.

Rev. Wyatt Methodist Church Opposes Proposal

Plans for the building of a "Saratoga of the South" were aired yesterday before the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce at their noon luncheon meeting held at Jim Spencer's Restaurant.

William R. Kemp, president of Seminole Park Raceway told the Jaycees and a number of invited citizens that the new harness horse racing track would be the center of the southeast for the circuit of horse racing.

However, there was opposition to Kemp's proposal that a part-mutuel betting permit be used at what he termed "the harness horse racing center of the world."

Rev. Milton H. Wyatt, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Sanford, and representing the Seminole County Ministerial Association at the Jaycees meeting, answered Kemp's talk by saying "Gambling is an evil that we cannot support. Since pari-mutuel has been introduced there can be no other position than to be against it."

Rev. Wyatt added "The speaker makes a very fine talk—but involving as he has on the commitment to pass on the stockholders—we would not want to be involved."

Kemp told the Jaycees that "my original plan was for an aquacade on Lake Monroe with Guy Lombardo which did not materialize and I came out with this track and a boat."

"I have always been a great believer in Seminole County," said Kemp, "for many reasons."

"The main thing," he said, "is that I have been benefiting from it for 15 years. Your support, from Seminole County, has enabled me to operate the Coliseum."

We're just a couple of country boys who simply filled an application which is now up to the point of being accepted. Kemp told the Jaycees audience. "We've spent a total of 58 cents—just the postage on the envelope to mail the application."

The Seminole Park Raceway, owned originally by William Reynolds of Reynolds Tobacco Company, has trained more Hambletonian winners than any other track in the world, Kemp said yesterday. Every trainer knows its background, he said.

We've seen the potentialities, Kemp explained, and we have now put the track back into shape with new fences, barns, grandstand repairing and other improvements, especially to the clubhouse which is now something that Seminole County people can be proud of.

"The basis for the operation of Seminole Park Raceway," Kemp said, "is that it will be a comfort (Continued on Page Six)

Methodist Church Is In New Home; Second Unit Begun

By MARIAN JONES OVIEDO—The Foster Chapel Methodist Church of Oviedo is in a new home, at least part of it is. One unit of the formerly estimated $150,000 church was opened for services in June.

The Rev. George C. Carlton, pastor, said construction work began in June of 1935 on the present new building. The steeple has not been added as yet. Too, there is another unit, estimated at $24,000 to be built. The present building cost is estimated at $130,000. Paul M. Campbell, contractor is in charge of the work.

Miss Ann Leinhardt was the first bride to walk down the aisle of the new chapel when she became the bride of Erwin W. Abel on June 15.

The old building cannot be demolished until the other unit is completed. T. L. Lingo is superintendent of the Sunday School. George W. Morgan is chairman of the board of Stewards, and C. R. Clonts is chairman of the building committee.

The formal dedication of the building has not been held as yet, but tentative date is set but not to be divulged immediately. Each year on the first Sunday in November, the Methodists have a basket picnic on the "census grounds." This is their annual Homecoming Day. Former Oviedoians from miles around come on that day to renew old acquaintances and talk over bygone days. This has grown over the period of time into quite a large affair.

The Rev. Carlton has a lovely wife, Mary Jean, who assists him quite a bit with his church work. They have an adorable son, Harvie, about 2 years of age.

Steel Strike Is Settled

NEW YORK (AP)—A settlement of the 27-day nationwide steel strike was announced today but a formal end to the strike will not come until sometime early next week.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, announced at a news conference the settlement had been reached. John A. Stephens, chief industry negotiator, sat beside him nodding agreement.

McDonald said that it will take several days, however, before individual contracts with the steel companies can be completed and signed.

He said a return to work of the 650,000 striking steelworkers must wait until the signing of those contracts.

No terms of the settlement were announced.
