WOMEN VEER FOR TODAY

BEGIN THE YEAR RIGHT:
Start in the Lord with all things; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy path.—Proverbs 3: 5, 6

Apparently it is time for some modern Nash to build another car for use in the Cincinnati area.

Under the terms of the will of Mrs. Mary E. Randall of Orlando who died recently, the Heron Springs Orphanage receives a bequest of $10,000.

Oviedo as well as DeLand is having trouble with snow bird trucks. One picked a lock on the Motor Dress Shop the other night and walked off with $4,000 worth of dresses.

"We also can repeal this damnable one half per cent gross receipts tax and give some relief to the small business man who doesn't have enough space in his store to paste up all the signs he must buy," Fred P. Cole, speaking, governor of Florida, today for Fred.

According to the late Senator Chas. Underwood, government is "not a good thing for the masses." Commenting on the efficiency of the government, he said, "The government decided to build its own ships, believing that the price of $30 a ton offered by the United States Steel corporation was too high. What we got through with them the ships had cost us not $30 but from $250 to $300 a ton."

Cole does not think it is too late in the season to open a modern and up-to-date municipally operated tourist camp. Buildings have been erected and trailer tourists will be supplied with electric current, hot and cold water, showers and laundry facilities. Cole hopes to catch many of the trailerists who have been on the lower east or west coast this winter for a few days on their way back.

Higher prices are expected next year, according to a survey of the Guaranty Trust Company. Well, if a seven year unbalanced market, strikes affecting hundreds of thousands of men, who normally produce manufactured goods for sale, and floods covering about one fifth of the whole country, not to mention a series of severe droughts, don't put upon us, it would be hard to imagine anything that would.

The bus driver who took thirty passengers into the Tamiami canal for a tragic plunge resulting in the deaths of 17 of them, said he was driving at a moderate rate of speed, when the steering wheel broke, that he could hold the bus on the road the only thirty or forty yards. Passengers said he was driving about 70 miles an hour, while the tracks on the road showed plainly for a hundred yards or more. Investigators found the front tire on the canal side was blown. A blowout at seventy is always dangerous.

An item which should be of interest to local Townsends appeared in a recent issue of Washington Merry-go-Round, the well known column which appears in the country. It was as follows: "A single Southerner appeared at the conference (called recently by Dr. Townsend) from an outright Townsend platform, and toured the length and breadth of Florida proclaiming the family to the plan, did not even take the trouble to send an answer. He just stayed away."

Russian Justice

Another one of those strange trials on earth is taking place in Moscow with all the publicity and fanfare of the most notorious trials in America, but without a suspicion of secrecy about it that defies anything else in modern history and forces one to go back to the torture chamber of the middle ages for a comparison.

Twenty years ago Alexander Beloborodoff was one of the principal Bolsheviks in Russia. He met frequently in dark cellars with Lenin, Trotski, Stalin, and other leaders of the revolution, plotting the overthrow of the Czar. In 1918 he was one of a score so loyal to the new regime that they one day descended without warning upon the defenseless Nicholas and his family in their Ural mountain retreat and shot them all to death without even giving them a chance for prayer.

Karl Radek, too, was another good Bolshevik. He too fathered the revolution which raised to power first Kerenski, then Lenin and Trotski, then Stalin. For years he was editor of "Izvestia," the big government-owned Russian newspaper, official mouthpiece of the Red government. So close was Radek to the powers that be in Moscow that a single word published in "Izvestia" was taken as a word from Stalin himself.

Now Radek and sixteen others, all equally high at one time or another in the Soviet councils of state, are on trial for their lives charged with plotting against the State. Alexander Beloborodoff has been arrested upon implication by one of the witnesses that he too had turned traitor against the communist government. In all more than a hundred leading Bolsheviks have been arrested since the trial of the seventeen principals began.

Strangest of all, these seventeen have confessed in advance to all the crimes with which they are charged. They are accused of a vast conspiracy to sabotage the entire Soviet railroad system, to assure defeat of Russia in the event of a war with Japan, or Germany, or both, to bring about the overthrow of Joseph Stalin and bring back a modified form of capitalism to Russia, and to turn over to Germany the rich Ukraine valley, and to cede to Japan the vast Russian provinces in the east.

To all this Radek and the rest plead guilty, knowing full well that the only leniency they will receive for their confessions is the firing squad. One wonders what modern methods of efficiency have been developed in Russian courts of justice that inevitable bring about these amazing confessions on the part of every plottor ever apprehended by the OGPU. And one wonders why it is necessary to hold such extravagant "trials" after the defendants have admitted their guilt.

All this leads one to believe that the Russians have a system patterned somewhat after the methods of Peter the Great and the Ghengis Khan who used to accuse those he didn't like of some horrible crime and then put them on the rack and subject them to the most fiendish torture until they confessed. It is hard to believe that any thorough-going Russian Bolshevik would collaborate with Germany against Russia. It is easy to believe that Radek and the others would prefer the comparatively respectable death by the firing squad to the ignominy of the torture chamber.

The extent of their guilt is probably confined to some disagreement with Stalin over policies of state.

Home Construction

Florida savings and loan associations report that 90 percent of their home mortgages accepted for insurance by the Federal Housing Administration up to December 1 were loaned for the construction of new homes. It was announced in Washington recently by George E. Palmer, special assistant to the administrator and director of savings, building and loan activities.

"In the financing of new homes in Florida these associations had 614 loans totalling $2,338,410 accepted for insurance as of December 1, at an average of $4,546," Mr. Palmer said. "During the month of November, these associations increased their new construction insured mortgage volume 8 percent over that of October 30. On December 1 they held 32 percent of the volume of mortgages accepted for insurance on this type of financing by all approved mortgagees in the State.

"Summarizing the mortgages accepted for insurance on all types of loans disbursed by these thrift and home loan associations we note that they have made 574 advances totalling $2,602,865 at an average home loan of $4,535. During the month of November, these associations increased their insured mortgage volume 8 percent over that of Oct. 30. On December 1, they were responsible for 29.1 percent of the volume of mortgages accepted for insurance by all institutions in the State.

"The Florida associations' activity has contributed to a 236 percent increase by savings, building and loan associations nationally in their participation in the Federal Housing Administration's mutual mortgage insurance plan since January 1, 1936. On December 1, 1936, 1,025 associations reported 22,737 mortgages accepted for insurance totalling $88,705,118. During the months of July, August, September and October, the volume of new construction mortgages accepted for insurance by these associations represented 40 percent of their grand total of $39,846,421 accepted for this type of financing on November 1, 1936."

NATIONAL ADVERTISING IN FLORIDA

MELBOURNE TIMES

One of the big attractions in Motor Company exhibition. For it Miami this winter is the Ford motor company erected a seven-story five thousand dollar building which is to stand for three months and then be demolished. It, and its operation, will cost many times the cost of the building itself, and the expense is charged to "national advertising."

In other words the time has come when great manufacturers come to Florida with their advertising every winter because they know that the world of buyers come to Florida every winter. They know that whether it be in a spectacular display, like the Ford exposition, or in Florida newspaper advertising, they are reaching the attention not only of people with money to spend, but the attention of those people when they have leisure to consider the advertiser's claims and products.

The largest livestock market in the world is the Union Stockyards in Chicago. No wonder that Harold Cole,

By mixing portions of paper and wheat flour, a substance is derived from which is made cases and lamps. These are neatly trimmed and painted, providing a quaint touch to the exhibition.

Other articles produced by the women's centers and on display in the fair booth include handwork, embroidery, laces, and trimmings for children's clothes. The homemaker class is exhibiting a barrel chair and a dresser made from orange crates.

Two successive nights of rain has "put the damper" on fair activities and held down the crowds, although the weather has failed to halt certain signs of success.

City League Lists Three Games Tonight

Leesburg Independents To Battle St. Johns In First

Squad, Eckersons Meet; St. Johns And Lake-River In Third

The Sanford City Basketball League will present three stellar exhibitions on its club for tonight at the local high school gym with an exhibition game and two league battles furnishing spectators with a full round of basketball.

The first game of the evening, scheduled to begin at 7:00 instead of 7:30, will feature the local St. Johns River Line team and the Leesburg Independents who come here with an exceptional record. The contest will not have any bearing on the standing of the Rivermen in the league team.

The second contest, a league game, will feature the league champion Eckersons Cannery and the High School B squad. The Cannery favored to win tonight, may run into trouble as the B team, slung by the first defeat handed them in six games of exhibition play when the Leesburg High team copied an 18-20 verdict last night, may, with a co-ordinated attack, surprise the older and more experienced opponents.

Guvett and Young will probably line up in the forward posts for the Cannery with Eckerson as center and Ford and Vanux at guards while the B team is expected to start a combination consisting of Page and Greek, Shindon, Telford, center, and Steward and Levitt, guards although Cooper may replace one of the forwards.

The St. Johns will endeavor to pull an iron-man stunt as they come back for the third contest, their second of the evening, slugging with the formidable Lake-River Cleaners in a league battle at 9:00 o'clock.

The Cleaners' with a record of one win and two losses, will, in a victory tonight, step into the position of second place while the Rivermen need a victory to keep on the heels of the pace-setting Cannery whom they will, in all probability, meet Friday evening to play-off the fourth period when an unnecessary disturbance prevented further play.

Evans and Smith will start as forwards for the Cleaners, Lake at center, and Preston and Hanning at guards while the St. Johns will have Whitton and Kelly, forwards, Altman, center, and Hughes and Kinlaw, guards.

There will be no advance in admission prices for the triple feature.

Leesburg Gives Disorganized Locals Scare

Sanford Scores 33-24 Win After Last Quarter Spurt

Celery Feds Trail For Greater Portion Of Contest Last Night

Season five times in six starts, a fighting Leesburg High School team came to Sanford last night, and after churning a scoreless first half in the semi-finals in a contest which took place in the local high school gym, lost a 33-24 decision as the Celery Feds came to life in a last-period rally.

The disorganized Sanford quint, played off its feet during the opening minutes, was jerked from the contest, being replaced by the second stringers for the better part of the second quarter, before returning to the contest to make a hap-hazard fight of it the next two periods.

Bob Locken's Yellow Jackets took the lead as Herlong dumped in an under-basket shot, followed by Golden's twin-plyer on a rebound. Zachry missed a foul, Worrell made a field goal to give the visitors a 6-0 lead and then Purdon made a long shot to start the 2nd quarter.

Worrell missed a foul, and then tapped in a rebound to tie the score after which Morgan missed a foul, the quarter ending at 6-6. The second stringers fought the Leesburg team off for a short time in the second quarter as Davis missed a foul, Golden made a long shot, Phillips duplicated with one of his own and Davis came through with two field goals to give the Jackets a 12-8 lead. The local varsity, returning to the wars, showed some semblance of coming to life as Williams made two foul shots and Dal Forgan and Morgan made field goals after Worrell had accounted for a Golden goal and Davis a foul.

Worrell missed a foul as the half ended with Leesburg leading 15-14. It was in the third quarter that the Feds took the lead for the first time. Davis scoring once from the foul line, and once from the field after which Dal Forgan scored from under the basket. Zachry came through with two out of three from the foul line, and Williams made a foul. The latter added a twin-plyer to give Sanford a 21-18 edge as the third came passed into history.

Zachry opened the fourth period with a conversion, Andrews made a field goal and Herlong duplicated. Purdon made an under basket shot but Golden reattained with a like tally to tie the count 24-24. Zachry's field goal then gave Sanford the lead again and Purdon tapped in a rebound to increase the gap. Dal Forgan missed a foul as did Purdon; Zachry made an underbasket shot and Williams, after the entire team had participated in their one perfect pass play of the evening, added two points from the field. Zachry's foul marked the close of the scoring for the contest.

Billy Zachry again took the role of high scorer, counting 12 points, eight from the field and four from the foul line out of seven attempts. Davis, whose floor work was brilliant, was outstanding for the Leesburg quint, and his eight points gave him scoring honors for his club.

Leesburg B Team Trips Local B Squad Last Night

After winning five straight, the local B squad had its win streak snapped last night in the preliminary game to the varsity contest on the local high school floor as the Leesburg High school B team came through with an 18-10 decision over the McCracken-tutored lads.

The Leesburg team, strengthened by members of the Yellow Jackets' varsity scrubs, proved too strong for the little Feds, composed of sophomores and juniors, and the latter succumbed after a hard fight.

Harden, with five points, led his team while Page, entering the contest as a substitute, led the little Feds with six points.

F. L. Crosby, ACL Engineer Dies At Home

Veteran Served Continuously For 40 Years At Throttle Of Railway Engine

Superintendent Praises Record

Death Comes Shortly After Completion Of Run To Oviedo

F. L. Crosby, 72, a veteran Atlantic Coast Line locomotive engineer, died suddenly at his home here today shortly after he had completed his scheduled daily run.

Persons in the railroad fraternity reported that Mr. Crosby appeared in the best of health as he stepped off his engine about 3 this morning from a run to Oviedo.

Mrs. Crosby, widow of the engineer, was said to have found the body of her husband in bed about 7 A. M.

Less than six months ago, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers presented the veteran with a button which signified the completion of 40 years of continuous service at the throttle of a railroad engine.

G. E. Rollins, Atlantic Coast Line divisional superintendent here, said Mr. Crosby has an exceptional record for safety and efficiency.

The superintendent related that Mr. Crosby, several years ago, was on a regular run between Sanford and Jacksonville. Some time ago, however, he chose the Sanford-Oviedo run because it was less strenuous.

Because of his many years seniority, Mr. Rollins said, the engineer was able to choose almost any run he desired to take.

Mr. Crosby was a native of Paris, N. Y., where he was born Nov. 12, 1865. He had been a resident of Sanford since 1918.

Surviving are the widow of Sanford; three children, W. H. Crosby of Longwood, N. Y., W. C. Crosby of Jacksonville, and Mrs. E. C. Walsh of this City; the brother, Mrs. Callie Crosby of Jacksonville; three brothers, Harriet Crosby of Paris, N. Y., Harley Crosby and Red Crosby, both of Falconer; a sister, Mrs. Kittie Rogers, also of Falconer; and one grandson, F. L. Crosby of Longwood.

J. Waks, arraigned for the violation of a municipal ordinance, was assessed a fine of $5, while Robert Jones, negro, charged for careless and reckless driving, assessed a $25 bond.

Future Farmers' Booth At Tampa Is Attractive

Live Field Of Celery Is Novelty To Visitors At Exposition; Local Boys To Attend Saturday

A display of growing celery owned by the Seminole Chapter of Future Farmers of America is one of the major agricultural attractions at the Tampa Fair which opened yesterday. John Jones, Jr., vice-president of the local organization, said today.

He was in communication with Alex R. Johnson, advisor and director of the group here, who has been in Tampa since Monday arranging for the fair opening.

Young Jones described the celery display as having six long rows of the County's most famous vegetable, each one carefully set in soil and cared for to assure its growth.

He reported that the "field" of celery is flanked with cut celery on tables at two corners of the booth. Also to be seen are the labels of all prominent brands produced in the County.

Another attraction entered by the local chapter, young Jones said, is the most exhibit which includes a wide variety of products all of which were prepared by members of the Seminole Future Farmers Chapter.

On Saturday about 30 of the Sanford members will board a school bus at 8 A. M. for Tampa, where they will be guests of the Fair Association for the entire day. Other chapters from various sections of Florida also will be there.

At the Seminole County Agricultural Fair and Celery Display today, Sanford Future Farmers will be hosts to brother chapter members from Orlando and Oviedo.

Sanford Big Leaguer Plays Ten Years In Higher Circuit

Ten years after he broke into the major leagues, Ben Cantwell, Sanford's lone representative in the higher circuits, was purchased from the Boston Sox by the Jersey City Club of the International League yesterday, according to Associated Press dispatches.

Cantwell, one of the National League's top-flight pitchers four years ago, began a big league career in 1927 after he had figured prominently in the pennant-winning drive of the Jacksonville Tars that year. The Tars, playing in the old Southeastern League, sold Cantwell to the New York Giants for $25,000.

Early in the following season, the Boston Braves acquired the local man and from that time, he steadily improved, reaching his peak in 1933 when he won 20 games and lost 10 for an average of .867 and an earned run average of 2.61 per nine-inning game.

Cantwell, who lives at 529 Valencia Drive, went to the Jersey City club, a Class B team in a deal which involved the purchase of outfielder Hal Lee by the International League club.

The purchase price of the two veterans was not mentioned.

Dawson Receives Initial Checks Under Soil Plan

$5,000 Represented In First Consignment To Arrive

Federal Government checks totaling approximately $5,000 have been received here today for payment to 121 individuals who participated in the soil conservation program of 1936.

County Agent C. R. Dawson announced that postal checks are being mailed to those for whom checks are issued.

He urged that no one call at the office for his draft unless he receives a notice that the money is on hand.

Mr. Dawson said he had no information regarding the arrival of the next consignment of checks, although it was believed that they should be here within a week or ten days.

While there were 713 work sheets — documents showing one's participation in the conservation program — filed at the County agent's office, there will be approximately 600 checks issued, since many growers, owning two or more pieces of property, entered more than one sheet.

Mr. Dawson announced that in cases where more than a single work sheet was filed, all payments will be in lump sums rather than individual checks for each plot of ground represented except in instances where special requests were entered.

Drafts on hand here today were drawn from the regional conservation headquarters in Atlanta.

It has been estimated that nearly $30,000 will be dumped into Seminole County because of the large percentage of agricultural interests which are participating in the soil plan.

Work sheets for the 1937 program probably will be taken beginning about mid-February, according to present indications.

Mr. Hand is endeavoring to prevent the rise of automobile deaths in this County, two of which already have occurred since Jan. 1.

Empty Houses, Evacuated Towns Mute Evidence Of Disaster From Flood

Southward Swing Brings New Peril

The flooded Ohio River struggling like a captive serpent of fabulous strength and sought escape against weakening levees today on its cresting descent to the Mississippi River.

The known dead stood at 293, while the homeless pressed the 1,000,000 marred and abandoned 500,000 were estimated at more than 400,000.

Along a 1,000-mile ghost-town trail, slowly receding waters lapped idly at empty houses in empty towns.

Most of the rehabilitation is now becoming of paramount interest in Northern Ohio River Valley communities where the worst apparently has passed. It drew estimates ranging into the billions.

Officials said the average cost for cleaning and drying out a single flooded home was $250.

Less dangers crapped up by the deluges as the crest of flood came north. At Paducah, Kentucky, most point of crisis, the Red Cross officials hurried to evacuate thousands of reluctant inhabitants in advance of the oncoming flood peak.

Colonel Chat Rhodes, United States Army engineer, warned of a 60-foot crest within the next 48 hours.

Below, at Cairo, Illinois only men remained in the island city to bolster a 60-foot wall against an expected four-foot rise in the river.

Eight thousand, mostly women, children and aged, already have fled at Mount City, Illinois, back of a levee that collapsed, routing 600 men, 50 women and 175 CCC boys to higher ground.

On the Mississippi, the river itself is now beginning to stir (Continued on Page Eight)

Other projects on which the House Committee authorized the War Department to review reports included the intra-coastal waterway between Savannah, Ga., and Jacksonville.
