

RUE JEANNE D'ARCI AH, HOW ABOUT IT?

Tragedy in French Town as Overheard in Cafe of the Golden Lion.

SCENE AT APERITIF HOUR

Mme. la Patronne Tells How the Uhlans, in Lordly Fashion, Paid for the Drinks She Served Them.

Paris.—We were sitting in a cafe at the aperitif hour—an hour that survives the war. We were in a city of good size in northern France, famous for both cathedral and cheese. It was then a principal haven for refugees and an evacuation center for wounded. The Germans had been there, as the patronne of the Cafe du Lion d'Or narrated constantly, but now the battle lines were some distance away. If the wind happened from the right direction, when the noise of the city was silenced by military order at nightfall, the haunting boom-boo-oo-m of heavy artillery could be heard faintly. No one who has heard that sound ever forgets it. Dynamite blasting sounds just about the same, but in the sound of artillery, when one knows that it is artillery, there seems so much the knell of doom.

The cafe was crowded. The fat face of the patronne was wreathed in smiles. Anyone is mistaken who imagines that all northern France is lost from human view in a dense rolling cloud of smoke. At any rate, in the Cafe du Lion d'Or one looked upon life unchanged. True, there were some new customers in the place of old ones. There were a half dozen soldiers in khaki, and we of the American ambulance column, dressed in the same cloth. In a corner sat a young lieutenant in the gorgeous blue of the Chasseurs d'Afrique, drinking vermouth with a grizzled captain of artillery. Other French uniforms dotted the place. The "honest bourgeois" were all there—the chief supports of the establishment in peace or war. They missed the evening aperitif during the twelve days of German occupation, but now all were in their accustomed places. For the places of old-timers are sacred at the Lion d'Or, Took Husband's Place.

Mme. la Patronne acted in place of her husband, who was now safely serving in the cooking department of the army, some kilometers from the firing line. Madame sat contentedly at the caissé superintending the activities of two youthful, inexperienced garçons. The old waiters, Jean and Andre, vanished into the "zone of military activity" on the first day of the war. After several post cards Jean had not been heard from. Andre was killed at the battle of the Marne.

We had heard the garrulous tale of the German occupation many times. It was thrillingly revealed both at the Restaurant du Commerce and the Hotel du Soleil. At the Lion d'Or it was madame's absorbing theme when not haranguing the new waiters—or counting change. Madame remained throughout the trouble. "But yes, to be sure." She was not the woman to flee and leave the Lion d'Or to the invaders. Her ample form was firmly ensconced behind the caissé when the first of the uhlans entered. There were officers, and—wonder of wonders—they spoke French. The new waiters were hiding in the cellar, so madame clambered from her chair with dignity and placed glasses and drink before them. And then—would wonders never cease?—these Germans had actually paid, even overpaid, ma foi—for one of them flung a golden half louis on the counter and stalked from the place, refusing change.

Of course at the Hotel de Ville the invaders behaved differently. There the mayor was called upon for one million francs—war indemnity. But that was a matter for the city's concern and not the individual. Madame still had that golden half louis and would show it if we cared to see. Gold was scarce and exceedingly precious. The sight of it was good.

Unanimity of the War.
Now the Germans were gone—forced out, grace a Dieu, so the good citizens no longer lived in the cellars. They were again in their places at the Lion d'Or, sipping vermouth and offering gratitude to the military regime that had the decency to allow cafes open until eight o'clock. Outside the night was cold and a fine drizzle beat against the windows. Several newcomers shivered and remarked that it must be terrible in the trenches. But the electric lights, the clinking glasses on the marble tables, the rattling coins soon brought them into the general line of speculation on how long it would take to drive the Germans from France.

For a hundred years the cafes have been the forum of France. The Lion d'Or had for that entire period been the scene of fierce verbal encounters between members of more political and religious faiths than exist in any other nation of the world. Every Frenchman no matter how humble in position or purse has decided opinions about something. But now the voices in the Lion d'Or arose only in appellations concerning les Boches. There was unanimity of opinion on the absorbing subject of the war.

The members of the American ambulance column sat at a table near the door. Our khaki always brought looks of friendly interest. Almost everyone thought us to be English, and those who learned the truth were always distinctly pleased. We finished the aperitif and consulted about dinner. We were off duty—we might either return for the army mess or buy our own meal at the restaurant. We paid the garçon and decided upon the restaurant—a few doors away. Several of the men were struggling into their rubber coats. I told them that I would follow shortly. I had just caught a sentence that thrilled me. It held a note of mystery—or tragedy. It brought life out of the commonplace formality of the aperitif hour at the Lion d'Or.

Where the Tragedy Comes.
The speakers were two Frenchmen of middle age—fat and bearded. They were dressed in ordinary black, but wore it with ceremonial rather than conventional manner. The atmosphere of the city did not seem upon them. They might rather be the butcher and the grocer of a small town. One of the pair had sat alone for some time before the second arrived. I had noticed him. He seemed to have no acquaintances in the place—which was unusual. He drank two cognacs in rapid succession—which was still more unusual. One drink always satisfies a Frenchman at the aperitif hour—and it is very seldom cognac.

When the second man entered the other started from his seat and held out both hands eagerly. "So you got out safe?" were the words I heard, but our crowd was hurrying toward the door, and I lost the actual greeting. I ordered another vermouth and waited.

The two men were seated opposite each other. The first man nervously motioned to the waiter and the newcomer gave his order. It was plain that they were both excited, but the table adjoining was unoccupied, so they caused no attention. The noisy waiter, slapping bottles on the table, drowned out the next few sentences. Then I heard the second man: "So I got out first, but you managed to get here yesterday—a day in advance." The other replied: "I was lucky enough to get a horse. They were shelling the market place when I left." The second man gulped his drink and plucked nervously at the other's sleeve. "My wife is at the hotel," he almost mumbled the words. "I must tell her—you said the market place. But how about the Rue Jeanne d'Arc?—her sister lived there. She remained."

"How about the Rue Jeanne d'Arc?" the other repeated. He clucked his tongue sympathetically. "That was all destroyed in the morning."

The second man drew a handkerchief from his pocket and mopped the sweat from his forehead. Then he paid the waiter.

Pulling for Comiskey.
In St. Paul the bugs are pulling as hard for the White Sox to win as they are for the Saints to make good in the A. A. Comiskey will never be forgotten by his old friends in St. Paul, where he made his first appearance as a magnate.

Golf, Old Man's Game.
The phrase "Golf is an old man's game," so often tauntingly used by the uninitiated, is being turned to good account in the British Isles. Since the war began bitter criticism has been leveled at golfers who continued to use the links.

"Golf is an old man's game," say friends of the sport, "and only the golfers too old to enlist are playing it now. All the younger ones, including the amateur champion, are at the front."

Hinkey at Yale.
Whether Hinkey will return to Yale next fall depends apparently upon Hinkey himself. The general feeling at New Haven is that the silent coach has established a basis for future Yale success and that he is the man-upon whom the blue must depend for athletic redemption. The crushing defeat by Harvard may be the queer means to reach a given end.

SHOT TEN TIMES, IS UNHURT

Bullet Holes Were Found in Clothing of Detective Fighting Thieves.

Hammond, Ind.—Friends of Frank Wirocki, head of Erie detective force for the Huntington-Chicago division, says he bears a charmed life. After a thrilling revolver battle with car thieves, he found ten bullet holes in his clothing, but he escaped unhurt. Wirocki surprised ten men who were stripping an Erie freight car in the Griffith yards. He opened fire on them and in a running battle 30 shots were fired. The thieves escaped.

SANFORD ELKS LODGE TO CAPTURE CITY OF PALATKA

ABOUT ONE HUNDRED MEMBERS FROM THIS CITY WILL GO TO THE CONVENTION

The Elks of Florida are contemplating a big time at Palatka for three days, beginning April 6th. Sanford Elks will not try to capture the next meeting but they intend to let the rest of the state know that Sanford is on the map and will go to Palatka about one hundred strong with a distinctive dress and will make a fine display.

All the Sanford Elks and those who are visiting in the city who wish to attend should see Secretary Taylor and let him know about the number that will go to Palatka. A good rate has been made by the A. C. L. and the hotels of Palatka and those who go can be assured of one great and glorious time. The following is from the Palatka Times-Herald:

The various committees having in charge the plans for the entertainment of the State Elks convention, to meet in Palatka on April 6, 7 and 8 have been working so enthusiastically and faithfully for the past week that everything is now practically ready for the Hello Bill hosts on that great occasion. The Palatka Elks are a big hearted lot of royal entertainers, and they propose giving their visiting brethren the biggest and best convention in the annals of Florida Elksdom. The main reception committee will meet all trains at the depot and escort the visiting delegates to the headquarters at the Putnam House. Following is the program for the three big days:

Tuesday, April 6, 1915. Registration of all Elks and distribution of badges at the Elks home. Registration of all visiting ladies and distribution of badges in the Putnam House parlors. 3:00 p. m. Opening session of Florida State Elks' convention. Welcome address by Mayor S. J. Kennerly. Response by H. A. Davis, Proct. Appointment of committee on credentials. 3:30 p. m. Reception by ladies of Palatka at the home of Mrs. H. A. Davis. 7:00 p. m. Theater party at Kalbfeld's Grand for all Elks and ladies. 9:00 p. m. Keno party at Putnam House for all Elks and ladies.

Wednesday, April 7. 11:00 a. m. Session of the Florida State Elks Association and election of officers. Card party for the ladies at the Athletic Club. 2:00 p. m. Automobile ride and visit to camphor farms. 7:00 p. m. Elks Parade. 9:00 p. m. Grand Ball at the Putnam House.

Thursday, April 8. 4:10 a. m. Session of the Florida State Elks Association. Installation of officers. Adjournment sine die. 10:00 a. m. Sight-seeing and shopping for the ladies. Noon. Barbecue at "Travelers' Rest." 8:00 p. m. Stag smoker.

Wall for Senator. Tampa, March 20.—(Special).—Hon. Perry G. Wall this afternoon made public his intention to be a candidate for the United States senate in the 1916 primaries against Senator N. P. Bryan. Mr. Wall has been repeatedly urged by his friends to announce for the place. He gave out the following statement: "There is a desire on the part of the people of South Florida that a man from this section be sent to the senate of the United States, also sentiment throughout the state in favor of a business man. Since my name has been mentioned for the position, I have received such assurances of support, not only from Tampa and South Florida, but other portions of the state, especially Jacksonville, that I have decided to become a candidate for the United States senate at the Democratic primaries to be held in 1916. (Signed) Perry G. Wall." Mr. Wall is president of the Knight & Wall Company, hardware dealers of this city. He is widely known throughout the state. He has never before aspired for public office, but has been closely identified with the Democratic party. He is a conservative business man. His friends here believe he can win the race.

MUCH EXCITEMENT OVER WHO'S WHO

WATCH THE SANFORD HERALD FOR THIS MOST INTERESTING ANSWER

The question of "Who Is Who In Sanford" will be up for consideration in the columns of The Herald in the near future. The question applies to the business men with whom the readers of the paper have been doing business from year to year. These men have been advertising from time to time and you as a reader have been reading their ads more or less carefully as your interest was centered in different lines of business according to the season or the market.

The "Who Is Who" feature is published for the purpose of making of the different firms appear equally as interesting to you as the news columns and to give you something to think about and to study over that will be interesting as well as profitable to you and the advertisers. In other words a number of the leading firms of Sanford will advertise without running the name of the firm in any part of the ad. Your part in the feature will be to read each ad carefully and say from the nature of it what firm is represented. You have been doing business with these firms possibly for years and you should be able to recognize your old friends without seeing their names in print.

You will be rewarded in prizes for your cars and interest. A list of the prizes will be published in the next issue of The Herald.

The following are the rules to be observed in making your answers: 1. You must make an answer to every ad on the page, setting forth the name of the firm you think is represented opposite the number of each. The ads will all be numbered for your convenience. 2. All answers must be addressed to the "Who Is Who" editor of The Herald.

3. Each list of answers must be accompanied by a composition of not more than fifty words telling which is your favorite firm and why. 4. The correct name of each firm (that is, the name under which each firm does business and which appears on their signs and on their billheads, letter heads, etc.) must be written opposite the number of each.

5. No reader's list of answers will be considered unless an answer is made to every ad on the page.

These firms pay for advertising because they appreciate your business and want to give you the benefit of the latest development which they think will be of interest to you in the way of special values or special offers they are from time to time enabled to make. A few minutes study of each ad. will be of interest to you, in further acquainting you with each firm, and if you read the first ad. on the "Who Is Who" page it is a foregone conclusion that you will read them all.

No Need for Silos. Let me give the dark side of the silos in Florida if I may. Englage, that is anything green, cut and put into the silo like kraut in a barrel, does develop the same lactic acid or rot. Now cows fed with anything containing lactic acid will give milk that is very dangerous for infants and even for grown persons who are disposed to certain diseases. Here in Florida where first class hay can be so easily grown all the year round, silos are in my estimation quite unnecessary. Karl Stauffer, Sanford, Florida.

WRANGLE OVER RAILS FLORIDA PRESS MEET THE NEXT SPEAKER WILL BE FROM SEMINOLE COUNTY

RESULTS IN RESULTS LARGEST IN HISTORY

TRACTION COMPANY TANGLED UP WITH THE STREET COMMITTEE YESTERDAY. Sometimes a little fuss results in a better understanding among the parties taking part. Yesterday a gang of men of the A. C. L. started to take up the rails of the Sanford Traction Co., on Sanford avenue, the same having been sold to the railroad company by the Traction Co., and about the time they were started well J. D. Davison, chairman of the street committee discovered them and right then there was some loud talk between Chairman Davison and Alfred Foster of the Traction Co. Mr. Foster contended that they had a right to sell the rails and Mr. Davison contended that since the Traction Co. had ceased operations and the city had a paving lien and unpaid taxes against the company that the rails should be left intact until the lien was settled. Mr. Davison finally called out the reserves and had the work stopped. The Traction Co. hastily summoned Attorney Carl Robinson of Orlando and Messrs. Davison, Dinger and Abernathy of the street committee sought City Attorney DeCottes, who backed them up in their decision. Mr. Robinson arrived on the scene later in the morning and said that a paving lien against the property where the brick were laid did not mean that all of the rails where there was no brick could be held for the payment. Mr. DeCottes ruled that the paving lien and the tax lien in regard to the Traction Co. covered the entire length of the line in the city limits. Mayor Thrasher meantime had been consulted and called off the reserves and while the attorneys were discussing the points of law the section gang was working and finally succeeded in getting up all the rails from the end of the brick paving to Hambone's station. The matter was finally compromised by the Traction Co. paying the back taxes, which was some concession, but Jack Davison contends that if the advice of the street committee had been followed all the rails would have either been raised for the city or the paving lien would have been paid.

Chicken Pillau Touted. The weather is cool and just the time to enjoy the good old southern chicken pillau touted at the Presbyterian Manse. The Brotherhood is giving it and the men are welcome to attend.

Ona Verl Becker has returned home after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends at Clearwater and St. Petersburg. The weather was so cold on the coast that Mrs. Becker was glad to seek the interior.

MIAMI HERALD THINKS THE MAGIC CITY WILL BE FULL OF VISITORS

Positive assurances are being received every day in Miami, from newspaper men over the state that there will be a large gathering of publishers and printers in Miami next week to attend the annual convention of the Florida Press Association, which convenes Thursday for a three days' session.

R. J. Holly of Sanford, president of the association, in a letter received yesterday, said that at least twelve citizens of his city will come to Miami during the newspaper men's convention, taking advantage of the reduced rates to take a look over the Magic City of the state. S. J. Triplett, editor of the St. Cloud Tribune, who made such a good fight for the convention in behalf of Kissimmee last year, will reach Miami Thursday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Triplett.

C. O. Codrington, editor of the DeLand News and vice president of the association will be here with Mrs. Codrington, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Johnston, and G. A. Droska, all of DeLand. Willis Powell, editor of the Clearwater Sun, and one of the speakers during the program of the convention will start twenty-four hours in advance of the opening day of the session, in order to be familiar with the streets and paths of Miami before the convention begins to take up its work. Gilbert D. Leach of the Tampa Tribune, also a speaker during the convention will arrive Thursday, as well as Clyde Glenn of the same city, president of the Clyde Glenn Advertising Agency.

Others who are to be here are M. F. Botherington of Lakeland, W. L. Strub and Lew B. Brown of St. Petersburg, Harry L. Brown, and Mrs. Brown of St. Augustine, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Emerson of Ft. Pierce, W. L. Thorndyke of West Palm Beach, J. H. Humphries of Bradenton, Thomas J. Applegard of Tallahassee, J. W. White of Jacksonville, Wayne Thomas of Ft. City, Mr. Minnie Moore Wilson of Kissimmee, Roy L. Neal of St. Augustine, Clarence F. Woods of Ft. Myers, Mrs. Wilson of Sarasota and many others.

George A. Fildock of the Miami Chamber of Commerce has issued invitations to all Florida editors to be the guests of the city of Miami during the convention. He has sent out a list of the hotels and other information that will be of service to them upon arrival in Miami.

D. D. Palmer, general passenger agent of the Florida East Coast Railway Company has sent to all members the rate from their respective homes to Miami and return, also showing on the schedule the routes to be taken by central, western and northern Florida.

The badges to be presented to the members of the association upon their arrival here will arrive in Miami Monday, and will be distributed to the newspaper men as they arrive.

The entertainment committee has prepared a very interesting program for the visiting newspaper men, and every interesting place in and around Miami will be shown the visitors before they depart.

THE GREAT SUCCESS OF PRESERVING CO.

FLORIDA FRUITS AND VEGETABLES ARE TAKING THE COUNTRY BY STORM

The Herald has advocated for many years the necessity of a canning and preserving works in this city that would take care of the surplus fruits and vegetables. No one here seemed to take much interest in this important industry and it remained for our sister in Seminole county, Geneva, to take the initiative and begin the operating upon a small scale a factory that makes marmalades, jellies and preserves from citrus fruits and guavas and kindred fruits.

Mrs. Porter Wakefield was in the city this week looking after the immense business that she has built up in this line in a few months in her small factory at Geneva. She makes the Sunshine Brand of jellies and marmalades and many other delicious dainties and having taken all the prizes at the Seminole County Fair and the Sub Tropical Fair at Orlando is now looking for new worlds to conquer and when the Florida State Fair finally becomes a fixture the Sunshine Brand will be there on exhibition.

Mrs. Wakefield believes in advertising and has discovered that the goods themselves speak louder than words. At the present time the Sunshine Brand is on exhibition here in the store of L. P. McCuller and is also on exhibition in many stores in other cities and in time will not only have a statewide reputation but the fame will go beyond the confines of the state. Last week Mrs. Wakefield received orders from Michigan and several other states for some of the Sunshine Brand of products and the present quarters at Geneva are totally inadequate to take care of the constantly increasing trade. A new building will be erected this summer and one of the finest canning and preserving plants in the state will be installed and from the small beginning the business will grow to large proportions and will be a great advertisement not only for Geneva but for Seminole county and the state of Florida.

The Wakefield Preserving Co. will go into other lines and seeing the wonderful possibilities of taking the surplus fruits and vegetables from the farmers after shipping season is over will take care of the tomatoes, beans, etc., and this will be a great help to the growers and to the weak market.

There are times in Florida when fruits and vegetables are worth nothing to the shippers and yet a nominal figure from a canning company would save the grower his expense of seed and fertilizer. At the very low price the canning company can procure plenty of choice stock and by preserving it sell at a figure to make a good profit and in the transaction the grower, the factory and the entire community is benefited. Statistics prove that Florida is the greatest consumer of canned fruits and vegetables in the Union and the absurdity of these figures in the land where so much is raised and allowed to go to waste is recognized by those who take time to investigate.

The canning and preserving works in Florida will be our ultimate salvation and there is no reason for any canned vegetables from any other state coming into Florida. We have the goods and it only remains for the people to can them and put them on the market. The Herald wishes to congratulate

PEOPLE OF ALL SECTIONS AGREED THAT FORREST LAKE WILL GET THE PLUM

Hon. Forrest Lake of this city, representative from Seminole county, and one of the most prominent among the public men of Florida will be the next speaker of the House of Representatives when the legislature meets in April. Mr. Lake has the happy faculty of making friends and the luck of an Irishman in landing all that he goes after in the way of politics. We are not taking the word of his home county people for this statement but it seems to be the general opinion all over the state that Mr. Lake has the Speakership as good as landed. The following from the Times-Union of last Saturday has the situation sized up about right:

The incoming legislature is the best composed of any similar body the state has had in fifteen years, yesterday said Forrest Lake of Sanford, who was in the city. It will be constructive, he said, as opposed to many of the former ones, which have been tearing down and hampering in every possible manner the state at large and communities in particulars.

Mr. Lake declared that the state this time must be liberal, sanely liberal, realizing just as a successful business man realizes, that when times are slow the judicious expenditure of money will bring in a harvest of a hundredfold. The state must pay out some money and it must put down any attempted enlargement of destructive powers in all departments, he said.

Mr. Lake is one of the two men between whom is admittedly the speakership of the new house and he declared himself confident of success in his ambition to preside over the deliberations of the body.

He said that he has the support of every man on the East Coast and that he has already enough members standing by him as friend to friend, to make his election a certainty.

After he was gone yesterday a local politician who watches things fairly closely said: "He has every man with him from Nassau county to Monroe, except one of the Duval delegation. Both Duval men were formerly with him but one has now made the statement that 'I am the man who is going to win in this thing,' and is therefore waiting to see which will develop into the strongest of all the aspirants for the place after the members get into the caucus." The local politician also declared Forrest Lake will get his share of the members from West Florida and "I believe now he has the lead of Cary Hardee of Live Oak, who has been considered by many as a sure winner to this time."

Another man in the city, however, and one who claims to have inside information on the question, declares Cary Hardee is going to be elected speaker of the house without doubt.

Both are strong men and both are tried men with a known following and though there are some seven altogether in the race avowedly and many more who are in a receptive mood there seems to be little doubt but that one of these men will be the presiding officer of the house.

The house will caucus Monday night, April 5, at which time the organization will be completed with the exception of appointments, to be made by the presiding officer, who will name his appointees on the day of first convening.

Brotherhood Meeting. The Brotherhood Class of the Presbyterian church will give a chicken pillau tonight at the Manse on Oak avenue. The men of Sanford are invited to attend. A good program will be rendered.

Rev. G. B. Waldron is a guest in the city and is being cordially welcomed by his old friends.

late the Wakefield Preserving Co. upon their good judgment and upon the wonderful amount of business that is coming to them. They have taken the idea advanced by the papers everywhere in the state and are making a success. Go you and do likewise, you people of Sanford, and every other city of Florida.

SANFORD'S NEW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sanford is building at the present time churches amounting in value to about $75,000. The Baptist church and Methodist churches are almost finished and the Presbyterian church has just started the foundation of the new edifice that will grace the corner of Third street and Oak avenue. The architect's drawing of the new Presbyterian church, which is given above, shows that the style of architecture will be of the plain Americanized style in which space is utilized to the best advantage. The auditorium, will be large enough to seat 600 people comfortably with the additional room of the Sunday school. There will be thirteen rooms for the Sunday school and the banquet room will seat 150 and will be used for the Brotherhood and kindred societies for their meetings. The entire building will be 50 by 150 feet and will occupy the entire lot and aside from the Sunday school auditorium and banquet room will have a kitchen, parlors, etc., with all the comforts of a modern dwelling. The building will be of the new style red vitrified brick with a dull finish that gives the building the ancient appearance so much sought after by the designers of churches. C. E. Streeter of Jacksonville is the architect. The building when completed will cost about $25,000.

A Colorado judge the other day appraised a man's life at $3.97. Here's one thing that's going up, anyway.

A refrigerator firm failed last week and we are just cursed enough to hope it is the one that makes the cooling boxes with a drain pan that runs over.

Judging from several complimentary notices about the Times from various type foundries and supply houses they are evidently flitting with Ray Davis and before he knows it he will have a new cylinder press and a new outfit for the better printing of the Winter Garden Times.

Ocala is demonstrating what a real live Board of Trade can do in the way of locating new industries. In the last two weeks a soap factory and a large knitting factory have started operations in the Brick City and will give employment to a large force of hands.

The editor of The Herald leaves tomorrow for Miami to preside at the meeting of the Florida Press Association. This meeting promises to be one of the best in the history of the Association and despite the distance the editors of Florida will attend in great numbers.

A Clearwater man who owns a Ford started out one morning recently to take a party of friends out into the country. After he had been going for half an hour the machine stopped. He got out and pulled the hood, and still the car wouldn't move.

Bob Holly expresses himself in favor of a 'tear down movement,' along with the Build Now plan, remarks the Orlando Reporter-Star. 'The tear down movement is a good one also. There are many dilapidated buildings in the very heart of Orlando that should be torn down.'

The Florida State Press Association will meet next week in annual session in Miami. Miami has arranged for special entertainments for the visitors, and Miami is known for its hospitality. The editors will enjoy themselves, but they propose to attend to important business and then frolic.

not regulated by statutes. Such a bill if passed will benefit nine-tenths of the advertisers. It will greatly reduce the cost of living. The general revenue bill imposes a hardship that is unnecessary.

ONE NORTH AMERICA

It is predicted that the war in Europe will be settled within the next twelve months. When this war is settled the map of Europe will be changed somewhat and all the countries of the earth will want peace.

When the war in England is over England could probably be induced to part with Canada for a goodly sum of money and this would pave the way for the United States to take possession of North America.

Our young men want more elbow room. The people of Europe are coming to this country after the war and they will want land. The great developers of this country want more worlds to conquer.

CONFIDENCE IN SANFORD

Watching the growth of cities and especially Florida cities in the past ten years the editor of The Herald has been struck with the rise and fall of prosperity. Very much like the ocean tides with the exception of the time period the cities will have their flood and their ebb tide.

But all this has changed in the past two years. Where the growers were formerly at the mercy of the man higher up or the fluctuations of the markets they are now upon a much more solid basis and being upon a solid basis has made the situation over. Vegetables and fruits will always be governed in price by the laws of supply and demand.

This is being recognized by the buyers themselves and the best possible recommendation for Sanford is the fact that the buyers are not only here to buy and pay cash when the markets are right but the same buyers are willing to buy property in the city for winter homes and to buy farms for the growing of winter vegetables.

PRES. BLACKMAN RESIGNS FROM ROLLINS

ILL HEALTH FORCES PROMINENT EDUCATOR TO SEEK FARM LIFE

At the thirteenth annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Rollins College which was recently held in Winter Park the president reported the general condition of the college affairs is very satisfactory.

During Mr. Blackman's administration an endowment fund of nearly a quarter of a million dollars has been accumulated, the campus has to a large extent been made over, a library, science hall, water plant and power equipment have been erected.

The resignation of Dr. Blackman was made necessary by the state of health, friends and physicians having advised him that it is absolutely imperative for him to be relieved of the responsibility and burden which any college imposes of necessity upon its president.

Dr. Blackman has purchased a large ranch not far from Sanford, on which he will engage in company with his son, Professor Berkeley Blackman, in the raising of live stock, and the development of grasses and grains and all farm products.

At the chapel exercises of March 17, Dr. Blackman announced his resignation to the student body, and the next day the following resolutions were adopted by them.

Whereas, we have been informed that our president, the Reverend William Fremont Blackman, Ph.D., LL.D., is severing his active connection with Rollins College, and remembering the great services he has rendered to the college, the splendid buildings which have been erected during his presidency, the endowment which has been accumulated during his administration, the eminent quality of scholarships which has been attained by the institution, due principally to his own personal efforts and efficiency, and the many other distinguished services to the college, we the students of Rollins College, assembled in public meeting

Resolve that we extend to Dr. Blackman our deep appreciation of the work which he has accomplished for Rollins College, his untiring efforts in behalf of the young people of Florida, his enthusiastic endeavor to uphold clean intercollegiate athletics, his great success in raising the standard of society and promoting the interests of culture and refinement by bringing to the state willing to pay for good accommodations and who in time will build homes here and be with us every season.

The farming game will take care of itself and needs no advertising or help from the city. There is no more solid foundation than the farms but they do not need our assistance now if they ever did and what the Sanford citizens should do at once is to lay plans looking toward the building of at least two fine hotels for the season of 1915-16.

Sanford has suffered reverses but lucky for those who have stayed by the ship this city is in better shape than ever before in her history and the winter and spring crops of vegetables will get to the two millions mark if present prospects are any forerunner.

famous lecturers and talented musicians and his sincere devotion to the religious activities of the state. We regret that his active interests as president must cease; but we trust that he will never forget Rollins College which bears such evidence of his skill and ability, and we assure him of our most profound respect.

We also wish to express our gratitude for all the kindnesses and courtesies of Mrs. Blackman which have always been shown to the students of the college.

We assure Dr. and Mrs. Blackman that the years which they have spent here in labor for us have not been spent in vain and that their names will always remain dear in the memories of the students of Rollins College.

Wednesday Night Service Interesting

The Wednesday night services at the Baptist Temple are very interesting. The usual uninteresting prayer meeting has given way to a prayer and praise service which is attracting good audiences. Mr. Hyman will begin a series of studies of studies on next Wednesday evening, using Dr. Prince E. Burroughs' book, "Winning to Christ."

Miss Edith Stewart is the pianist for this service. Mr. J. Walter of Poland is the violinist accompanist. One of Sanford's best soloists will be asked to sing a special selection. The services begin at 7:30.

LIV-VER-LAX tones up the system, stimulates the liver to work in harmony with the other organs. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Wm G. Aldridge.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Welfare Department The Welfare Department held its regular meeting at the club rooms Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. E. Watson in charge of the program on civics. It was one of the most delightful meetings of the year. In response to the roll call quotations were given on trees, the topic being Forestry. Mrs. H. C. Gerrer read a paper on the "Care of Shade Trees." Mrs. T. L. O'Connor gave an original paper written by Mrs. Watson on Landscape Gardening in our City Parks. This was a particularly fine paper and was received with hearty applause. An open discussion on each paper followed. Preceding the program the election of department officers was held with the following result: Vice chairman, Mrs. W. W. Abernathy; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Lidja; program committee, Mrs. W. E. Watson; finance committee, Mrs. R. J. Holly. The question of cemetery improvement was discussed and the treasurer instructed to send fifteen dollars to Mr. J. D. Parker for this purpose, and the civic committee instructed to take up the question of a good road to the cemeteries.

Music Department The Music Department held a called meeting at the club rooms Thursday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers for the department. Those elected were: Mrs. R. E. Tolar, vice chairman; Miss Josie Stumon, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. A. K. Powers, finance committee; Miss Luella Aspinwall, program committee; Mrs. Claude Herndon, chorus leader.

A most interesting program has been prepared for Literature Department Wednesday afternoon at 3 p. m., March 24. The Serious Side of our National Humorist. Miss Gertrude Green. Reading, The Death of Jean. Mrs. L. R. Phillips. Paper, Thomas Nelson Page. Mrs. T. A. Neal. Paper, James Lane Allen. Mrs. May Dickins.

Prayer Meeting Week The pastors' conference has decided to have a full week of cottage prayer meetings. These meetings will be participated in by the congregations of the Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian churches. A schedule of home and leaders is being arranged and will be printed in next Friday's issue of The Herald.

The schedule will be so arranged as to have a prayer meeting in five sections of the city for four nights, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. The Wednesday night prayer services will be held in the churches as usual. Look in Friday's paper for further announcement.

Low Rate to Miami The annual meeting of the Florida Press Association will be held at Miami Mar. 25-27, 1915. Very low rates have been secured to this gathering and the rates are open to the general public. Ask your station agent for the rate. If he does not have it, ask him to get it. It is yours for the asking. Or you can write to the secretary of the Association, T. J. Appleard, State Printer, Tallahassee, Fla., and he will furnish it to you. Tickets will be sold good for use only on March 23 24 and 25, 1915. Tickets will be sold after March 31, 1915, prior to midnight of which date return trip must be completed. 67-4t Travelled 12,000 Miles During the past Lyceum and Chautauqua season from June 20th, 1911 to March 1st, 1912, the Boston Lyrics traveled more than 12,000 miles in filling engagements. It is interesting to note that on his trip they appeared in concerts at both Portland, Maine and Portland, Oregon. The exclusive management of the Boston Lyrics in the south is with the Alkabeat.

The Lyceum Association of Sanford is very fortunate in being able to get this attraction for this season. On the night of April 14th they will give their concert in the Temple. On account of the saving in expense for arrangements the small charge of only 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for children will be required. Let all the lovers of art and music make arrangements early to attend this great attraction. Seats may be reserved at any time by phoning the Temple. Phone 209.

Hotel Rates at Miami The following letter has been sent to the newspaper men of Florida and for the benefit of those who want to take the trip is published below. To the Members of the Florida Press Association:

Miami, through the city council and the Chamber of Commerce (successors to the Board of Trade) extends to all of you a most hearty invitation to visit our city March 25-27th. We hope that every member of your association with his family will be in Miami during the convention and longer, if possible. We can assure you that we will do our best to make your visit here an enjoyable one.

Miami now has a population of 19,000, an increase of about 13,000 over 1910 and our city has developed in many other ways. We are looking forward to your visit and the opportunity it will give us to show you that Miami is one of Florida's representative cities. We know you will share our satisfaction in the progress we have made and believe that we can entertain you in a way which will make your visit to Miami a thoroughly pleasant memory.

We give you below a list of our principal hotels with rates: Graylin Hotel $3.00 and up San Carlos 2.50 and up Green Tree Inn 2.50 and up McCroly (E) 1.50 and up Poincetta 2.50 and up Royal Palm 6.00 and up Plaza Hotel 2.50 and up Haleyon Hotel 3.50 and up Seminole (E) 1.00 and up Fort Dallas 2.50 and up

A list of boarding houses on file at the Board rooms. We will thank you for any publicity you give the above rates. To the Citizens of Sanford and Vicinity For fully thirty five (35) years the L. & M. Semi-Mixed Real Paints have been extensively used throughout the United States and also in South America. They have therefore been subjected to the tests of every sort of climatic conditions—most successfully—thereby proving their extreme durability and superior value.

See our advertisement on other page, telling property owners how to make their own paint, and thereby save sixty cents a gallon on every gallon used. LONGMAN & MARTINEZ, Paint Makers, New York. 67-Tues-12tc

PEOPLE AND EVENTS

Priscilla Club The members of the Priscilla Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Tom Davis Thursday afternoon. The hours were spent in the exchange of new patterns in fancy work and social chat. A tempting refreshment course was served consisting of fruiti fruiti, wafers and coffee. Enjoying the charming hospitality of Mrs. Davis were Messdames E. A. Hill, H. H. Hill, J. T. Thomas, J. D. Roberts, N. H. Garner, Purdon and Easterby. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Easterby Thursday, April 8.

Junior Civic League An unusually interesting meeting of the Junior Civic League was held at the Woman's Club rooms Monday afternoon with a good attendance. Much business was disposed of and enthusiasm displayed in the making and carrying of motions. This body of young people have ideas of their own and never fail to express their wishes. A motion to appoint a committee to serve in relays for the care of the club grounds, putting in new plants and keeping them in order was carried and the committee appointed. One enthusiastic little member made a motion to paint the club house. This received the unanimous approval of the League but no definite action was taken.

An invitation from the Welfare Department to participate in a joint meeting March 31st was accepted and the entire membership expressed a desire to take part on the program.

An Easter egg hunt was agreed upon to be held the Tuesday afternoon following Easter Sunday in the Central Park, each child to bring not less than three dyed eggs. A fund was raised immediately to furnish a prize for the fortunate finder of the golden egg.

Walter Carter was received into membership, an interesting report was read by the secretary, Sarah Wight and the meeting then adjourned.

C. C. C. Entertainment Groups The young members of the C. C. C. Club gave a very delightful evening of pleasure to the Kewpie Club of girls Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Woodruff. Dancing and games were enjoyed and delicious ice cream and cake were served. Those present were Misses Kathleen Brady, Alice Caldwell, Fern Ward, Ruth McDaniel, Virginia Brady, May Thrasher, Francis Chappell, Helen Hand, Harold Washburn, Allan Jones, J. D. Woodruff, Fred Wight, Reginald Holly, Edward Betts and James Higgins.

Spent-the-Day Party Mrs. Harry Ward entertained yesterday with a charming little spend-the-day party in honor of Misses Anne and Kathryn Terhune, the attractive guests of Mrs. F. E. Dutton. The luncheon table was centered by a Japanese basket filled with Cherokee roses. The favors were quite original being cute little flower pots woven in braid, containing flowers. Invited to meet Mrs. Dutton and the Misses Terhune were Mrs. W. L. Morgan, Mrs. W. E. Watson, Mrs. Denis and Mrs. Rogers.

As Bachelors Behave Had academic bachelors been invited to meet with the convales of Sanford Bachelors last Friday evening at the home of their host, William Coulbourn, they undoubtedly would have been pleased by the ultra-solemnity with which the rites of admission were administered unto the new members. But this is probably the only feature that would have appealed to their proverbial stolidity had they indeed gotten so far for what to do with a cluster of long faces amid scenes such as evidenced the major part of the evening would have raised a question.

The short business session diverged into an imitation of several highly desirable, the degree of Bachelor being conferred upon Mrs. Leslie Bryan, Mrs. Thomas Jones and Mrs. Forrest Gatchel; and the Misses Mary Chappell, Mary Gatchel, Lucca Chappell, Ruby Betts, Gladys Bryan and Delcy Betts; and Mr. Jesse Morrison. The original Bachelors attending were William Coulbourn, Thomas Jones, Leslie Bryan, Forrest Gatchel, Robert Rowe and Arthur Chase.

Several weighty discourages were suffered by all, one concerning a motor straw ride and midnight feast to be executed on the advent of the next full moon, was advanced as suggestion and adopted as fact. The ensuing activities were an intricate medley of banquet and jollity, ceasing only when some one rudely remarked the time.

Launch Ride A congenial party enjoying the hospitality of Mr. E. A. Douglass on his launch the Mary D., in honor of his sister, Mrs. Lowell of Macon, Ga., were Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Roumillat, Miss Ruth McDaniel, Mr. Hoolihan and Ralph Roumillat. The party spent the day up the river and fully enjoyed the pleasures afforded by the launch ride.

Personal Mention Mrs. M. Frank has returned from a delightful visit to her sister, Mrs. Brown at Palatka. Mrs. Frank was one of Sanford's delegates to the Pythian Sisters convening at Palatka.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Withers left Saturday for a visit to Miami before returning to their home in South Carolina.

Mrs. May Dickins returned to Sanford Saturday afternoon, after an absence of several months. Her friends are delighted to welcome her home again.

Miss H. E. Hooster, formerly of Sanford but now of Orlando spent the week end in Sanford, the guest of Miss Clara Phillips.

Mrs. R. A. Carse of Berwick, Pa., will arrive today to visit Mrs. W. E. Watson for several weeks.

Miss Pearl Browning will arrive today from Tampa to visit her sister, Mrs. Sam Klein at the Sanford House.

Miss Moselle Durst was taken to her home in Gainesville Saturday to undergo an operation for appendicitis. She was accompanied by Palatka by Miss Eva Walker and Miss Agnes Berner. Miss Durst's many friends in Sanford wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. B. D. Morrell of Macon is the guest of her brother, Mr. E. A. Douglass at the Sanford House.

The pupils of the third and fourth grades of the Grammar school enjoyed a violet picking Thursday afternoon, accompanied by two of the teachers, Mrs. Carrie Ensminger and Miss Nita Moore.

A congenial party that motored over to DeLand Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryan, Miss Gladys Bryan and Miss Annie May Bynum.

Mr. O. K. Lewis of Florence, S. C. spent the week-end in Sanford, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Chappell.

Miss Bessie Wheeler returned from a delightful visit to DeLand Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Miss May Thrasher and Miss Francis Chappell motored over to Eustis Saturday for a week-end visit.

Mrs. Fannie E. Clark stopped over in Sanford Monday to visit Mrs. J. C. Ensminger while enroute to her home in Independence, Iowa.

Mrs. A. R. Chappell spent several days in DeLand last week, the guest of Mrs. M. G. Rowe.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly will leave tomorrow for Miami to attend the Florida Press Association meeting.

Missionary Meeting The Missionary Union of the Congregational church held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. J. C. Ensminger Monday afternoon. After the business period at which Mrs. Ensminger was elected delegate to the state convention to be held in Jacksonville in April the program leader, Mrs. Fry took the chair. Continuing the study of the "Child in the Midst," the topic for the afternoon was "The Child at Worship." It was one of the most interesting of the series. The forms of worship of the various heathen religions and including the Mohammedan, in many instances, created a feeling of horror and disgust in the hearts of the women who rejoice in a Christian religion and an intense pity for the little helpless children subjected to the fanaticism of their parents and the beliefs of the countries in which they live. Especially appalling were the indignities and cruelties to which the Fang boys are compelled to submit, and the revolting, indecencies and immoralities forced upon the Temple girls in India.

Items of interest were given from memory of the development of Christianity in Turkey, India and China, and the consensus of opinion was in effect that our own Christian countries may learn from those heathen religions the one tremendous force of obedience—obedience to the truths taught in Christian countries. The keynote of the fanaticism embodied in the worship of idols and imaginary gods is that of obedience. In the question period it developed that the Sunday school was the strongest factor in reaching the people and overcoming the prejudices which prevail. Following the program a social hour was enjoyed.

Announcements There will be a joint meeting of the Welfare Department and the Junior Civic League at the club rooms, Wednesday, March 31, to which all members of the club are cordially invited.

The program will be entirely on birds, music, recitations, responses and a fine paper by Prof. Nerling, who is an authority on birds will be read by Mrs. Henry Wight.

The Welfare Department will entertain the Polly Primrose Cast with a dance at the Woman's Club rooms Thursday, April 8. Each member of the cast is entitled to one guest, whose name must be sent to Mrs. W. L. Morgan at once, that she may be able to include them in the invitations.

Sheriff Against Hanging Ocala, Fla., March 22.—The Florida State Sheriffs' Association, which was in session here for two days adjourned Friday after perfecting their organization, electing officers and passing a resolution declaring themselves opposed to hanging as a method of performing legal executions. They recommended that electrocuting be substituted.

One of the resolutions passed calls for a law changing the form of legal executions from hanging to electrocution.

A legislative committee was appointed to go to Tallahassee and look after legislation that will be of value to the sheriffs. Among other things the sheriffs believe the legislature should allow for a more liberal appropriation for the feed of prisoners.

Considerable discussion relative to the allowance made by the state for feeding prisoners developed the fact that Georgia and Alabama allowed 60 cents per day, while Florida allowed 30 and 40 cents a day. This law was passed in 1889, when all foodstuffs were very much cheaper than at the present time. It was the sense of the convention that the legislature should provide for raising this rate in view of the present high cost of living.

Officers were elected as follows: President, W. H. Dowling, Jacksonville; vice president, J. P. G. Halloway of Ocala; A. D. Stanton of Madison; T. D. Smith of Lake county; secretary treasurer, J. P. S. Houston of Tallahassee.

Tampa was chosen as meeting place for the 1916 convention, which will be held on the first Monday in March.

GOLF HURTS CRICKET GAME

English National Pastime Shows Decided Falling Off as Scottish Sport Thrives.

While nearly all are agreed that there is something wrong with the great national game of cricket, says Garden C. Smith, in Golf Illustrated, there is much diversity of opinion as to what it is, and as to how the decay is to be arrested.

So far as one can gather, the best opinion is that the game, although somewhat changed in character, owing to new conditions, has suffered no deterioration and is still, in its highest manifestation, as attractive as ever to those who play it. However this may be, there can be no doubt that, even at its best, cricket has lost much of its attraction as a game to watch, and it is the loss of income consequent upon the decay of public interest that is chiefly causing anxiety.

In a sense, of course, cricket is suffering from the Nemesis which sooner or later overtakes all sports that are run as commercial enterprises. The moment that the financial basis of a sport is laid open to game money it loses its independence. It becomes a business and ceases to be a sport, and it can only survive by supplying what its patrons demand.

But of the manifold causes of the waning interest in cricket—and we are inclined to think that it is the chief cause—the chief cause may not have had any appreciable effect on the gate receipts, because in England the classes that pay their sixpence and shillings to see cricket and football matches have not yet taken up golf. But the Scottish game has struck a much more vital blow at cricket than the faithless crowd which has withdrawn its patronage. That, after all, is only a financial loss, and if the game is sound at heart it cannot permanently injure it. The evil that golf has wrought on cricket is that it is attracting scores and scores of young men of the very class that used to continue their cricket after leaving school and college. Golf is draining the very life blood of the English game, and if the supply of first-class amateurs runs short, as it appears to be doing, the future of county cricket is black indeed.

FOOTBALL DURING THE LULLS

British Soldiers Preparing to Indulge in Soccer on Firing Line—Schedule Arranged.

The eagerness of the English soldiers at the front to indulge in football during the lulls in the fighting has recently received great encouragement.

The regiments engaged in the arduous work on ambulance trains in France got together and arranged a schedule of games to compete for a cup given by Lawrence Cotton, M. P., the sporting chairman of the famous Blackburn Rovers club. As a souvenir of the war the cup will be returned to him with the name of the winning team inscribed on it, and in exchange he will present the winners with a set of gold medals.

A large number of footballs have been sent across the channel by several of the English clubs, which has enabled the soldier players to enjoy many an exciting game. The professional soccer battalion, which has now enlisted more than 800 active players and includes the majority of the best players in the country, is expecting to go on active service in May, when a continuance of soccer throughout the summer months is looked for behind the firing line.

CAPTAIN OF ST. LOUIS CARDS

Jack Miller is Rewarded by Appointment as Leader for Refusing Offers From Fedrals.

Jack Miller, alternately first baseman and shortfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, will captain the Britton clan again this season. The appointment will be part wedding present and more or less of a reward for his having weathered a storm of Federal league bids. He was captain last year, but few knew it, as he seldom asserted his authority or had occasion to do so, so regularly was Miller J. Huggins on the job at the keystone sack.

BOXERS ARE "CREAM PUFFS"

Retired San Francisco Lightweight Says Present-Day Scrappers Never Do Any Damage.

Eddie Hanlon, the retired San Francisco lightweight, says the present-day boxers are a lot of "cream puff" scrappers, who can box every night, do no damage and have none done to them. Hanlon does not regret having been a boxer, for it benefited him, physically and financially.

"I made my friends," he says. "I traveled all over the country and I was well paid for anything I did. I tried my best, and, judging from some of my fights, the other fellow tried his best, too. I might have been a good carpenter or a fine blacksmith, whereas I made $50,000 out of the ring game. Some of it I saved, the rest I threw away.

"It was a great experience; it improved my health. I will live ten years longer than I would have had I never done any boxing. I still fool with the gloves for exercise; that's all. I know I'm 'in,' but I also know I could never come back, and that's more than a lot of fighters ever learn."

FOULS ARE QUITE EXPENSIVE

Baseballs Hit Over New York Stand Last Year Cost $8,000—Boston Braves Spent More.

If all the baseballs which are hit into the stand and over the stand in New York city during a season could be recovered enough would be saved to pay the salary of any New York player except Christy Mathewson. The Giants paid somewhat over $4,000 last year, and the expense of the Yankees was almost as much, making a total of $8,000 in round numbers. The balls are sold to the clubs at $15 a dozen.

The Boston Braves spent even more. The expense in their case was traced to the short rightfield fence. Charles Somers of Cleveland reports a wastage of $3,765, and Schuyler Britton had to write a check for $2,285 for the 195 dozen balls that were used by the Cardinals last year.

And yet some of the fans are indignant when the special police make attempts to recover balls which have been hit into the crowd.

Columbus Roster Complete.

First Baseman Ray Miller has signed his Columbus contract and Bobby Quinn announces that the club's roster is complete, not one man being taken by the Federal league. Miller is a veteran who is counted upon to steady a young infield.

CITIES HAVE GREAT FUTURE

Ports on the Coast Bound to Grow Enormously as the Country's Wealth is Developed.

Seattle on Puget sound in 1913 cleared for foreign trade ships with 3,058,504 tons tonnage. New York alone leading it and New Orleans coming third. At the present time, says the Christian Science Monitor, there are 50 deep-water ships in Seattle's harbor loading for foreign or Atlantic ports and due to make the passage through the Panama canal. A considerable numerical and high tonnage proportion of these vessels are American owned and fly the stars and stripes. They indicate a mounting volume of business for the port and for the region of the country of which it is one of the several doorways to the outer world; so that when the statistics of 1914 are compiled the city's relative rank will not have changed. What will be disclosed probably will be its supremacy on the Pacific coast and its lead over most of the Atlantic and Gulf ports.

The natural resources of this city as a port of entry and of exit were exceptional prior to deliberate planning by citizens for their use. Equally so were the potential stores of wealth in the vast hinterland which the railroads focusing Seattle tap. But when the nation set about linking the Atlantic and the Pacific at Panama, and when the Panama canal was completed, a port commission and began developing the harbor and providing terminals then a new day dawned, and the results are now apparent; and not the least of the gain is from growth of the port as a place for transshipment of goods blotted through to Asiatic ports. West-bound cotton and east-bound silk symbolize a double current that flows in and out and out and in. And as for lumber, the Pacific slopes are under attack to provide heavy timber for the world, now that exports to the Atlantic coast and to Europe have the Panama canal freight rate. What is true of Seattle also is true of Tacoma, Portland and Vancouver. Seattle's preeminence is in degree and not in kind. All outlets of this enormously rich region of the North American continent are bound to grow rapidly under altered conditions of business, conditioned by the interoceanic short cut and by economic changes following the present war. They also will profit by coming development of Alaskan resources under restrictions that will insure growth of population in territory and retention there of a larger proportion of its wealth, hitherto so largely falling into the hands of transients and absentee owners of properties.

Sunshine and Strawberries.

If one needs a sea voyage to restore the health, go to England. For real rest a five hours' journey out of London to Salcombe, South Devon, will bring one to a sunny environment. A correspondent writing from Salcombe to The Lancet, says: "Last week (I am writing November 23) I had on my table peas, French beans, globe artichokes, tomatoes and strawberries fresh from my garden and grown without any special attention at all. The strawberries have been our chief dessert for more than six weeks now, although the same plants gave us a splendid crop in June. Today roses are flourishing gayly, and one can scarcely realize the awful weather experienced north. Those fortunate enough to live in houses sheltered from the northeast enjoy warmth and sunshine. Last winter we found an aloe in full flower and bunches of subtropical flowers were gathered."

Portraiture in Italy.

The Pagino d'Arte, of Milan, of October 30, commenting on the closing of the biennial Fine Arts Exhibition in Venice, says: "As in most modern Italian picture exhibitions there was a great scarcity of portraits, and the question naturally arises as to what this scarcity may be attributed to—want or demand? Until thirty years ago there was an abundance of good portrait painters in Italy, but since then they seem to be altogether wanting. The fact that not a single portrait of artistic value exists in Italy of either King Humbert and Queen Margherita, of the present King Vittorio and Queen Elena, nor of the last two popes, the only good presentments of these royalties being by foreign artists, seems to point to a scarcity of good portrait painters in Italy."

Gun Without Recoil.

An officer of the United States navy has invented a gun that fires a six-pound projectile without recoil. This gun, because of its absence of recoil, is well adapted to use on aeroplanes or dirigibles.

The gun is most interesting, having both ends open to the atmosphere. The shell has the projectile fitted into one end, and in the other end is a mass of bird-shot. The shot is of sufficient weight to furnish the required reaction when the projectile is discharged from the other end of the gun. When the gun is fired the projectile is thrown from the muzzle at a high velocity while the shot is discharged from the breech at low velocity.

War Maps Boost Laundry Bills.

The effects of the war are far reaching in London. Recently a restaurant keeper found his laundry bill was increasing rapidly. He was compelled to place a notice which read: "Customers are requested not to draw on the tablecloths. Maps of the seat of the war will be found in the smoking room."

An Ordinance Requiring the Grading and Paving of Magnolia Avenue with Vitrified Brick from the Intersection of Seventh Street to the Intersection of Tenth Street

Be It Ordained by the Mayor and City Council of Sanford, Florida: Section 1. That Magnolia avenue shall be graded and paved with vitrified brick from the intersection of Seventh street to the intersection of Tenth street, said brick paving to be a width of twenty-six feet by said paving to be done in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor, submitted to the city engineer of Sanford, Florida, and now on file in the office of the city clerk of Sanford, Florida; the paving of said street shall be begun within sixty days from and after this ordinance shall become effective; that should any property owner, owning property abutting on said street to be paved as aforesaid, fail within the time above provided to pave said street in front of their respective property in accordance with the terms of this ordinance and with the plans and specifications therefor, heretofore prepared by the City Engineer, said paving to be done under and by direction of the city of Sanford, and the proportionate cost thereof shall be assessed against the land upon which said paving shall be done, and the city shall have a lien therefor, enforceable in like manner as other liens.

Section 2. That upon the failure of any property owner to make the improvements hereinabove provided for, said work shall be done by the city of Sanford, or shall be let by a contract by the city of Sanford, to the lowest and most responsible bidder, in accordance with the plans and specifications, with reference to said work and two thirds of the cost of such grading, opening, curbing, paving, improving and repairing said street from the date of the completion of the work shall be a lien, superior to all other liens, except only liens for taxes upon the lots or property fronting or abutting upon the street hereinabove described, so graded, opened, paved, curbed, improved or repaired, and the remaining one-third of such cost shall be paid by the city.

Section 3. The estimated cost of paving per square yard for the paving of the street aforesaid is $1.85 per square yard, and the estimated total cost of the paving of that portion of Magnolia avenue above described is $84,450, an estimate of the cost to lot owners per foot front on Magnolia avenue is $2.43; the said estimate of the cost of said paving now being on file in the office of the city clerk of Sanford, Florida, and open to public inspection during reasonable office hours, for the benefit of the public.

Section 4. The city engineer is hereby required, within ten days after the date of publication of this ordinance, to prepare and file an estimate of the amount of the lien for such paving which the city will claim against the lots abutting upon the street to be so paved, which estimate shall be based upon the estimated cost of said work and upon the frontage of lots upon the street to be paved.

MOTHER DESTROYS SON'S RIB

Auto Driver Protests When Parent Burns Matrimonial Luck Charm, Taken Out by Surgeon.

Louis Disbrow, famous as one of the oldest automobile drivers, when asked if he ever had any mishaps while racing, made the following reply: "Once I shattered a shoulder blade, and now it's bound up with silver wire. Another time I had my ribs smashed and there are several feet of wire holding them together.

"But after one big smashup I came to and a surgeon told me he had taken out a floating rib. When I left the hospital I carried the rib home, tied it with a piece of red ribbon and hung it upon the wall of my room.

"One day my mother noticed it hanging there and asked what it was.

"A rib," I replied.

"Whose rib?" she asked.

"Then when I told her it was mine she threw it in the fire. And as it sizzled and sputtered I said:

"Well, mother, you have gone and burned up the rib I was saving to get an Evo Disbrow with."

Pacific Coast Title.

Frank Ely, formerly of St. Louis, won the three-cushion carom championship of the Pacific coast by defeating Joseph Carney of San Francisco, former world's champion, in the final game of a four-man tournament. The score was 50 to 37. The players who finished, respectively, third and fourth were Thomas Hueston of St. Louis, a former world's title holder, and Harry Wakefield of California.

Section 5. Any person owning any interest in any of said property abutting on that portion of Magnolia avenue to be paved, as aforesaid, shall be bound to pay at any time, within thirty days after the filing of said estimates, as aforesaid, with the city clerk to prevent the city clerk city council, setting forth, that in the opinion of the petitioner, the estimated amounting wherein it is incorrect, showing exceed the special benefit accruing therefrom and paying to be done in front of the said lot.

Section 6. The city council of Sanford, Florida, shall, after proper notice and with the board of equalization, to hear any and all petitions and complaints which may be filed in reference to the estimated cost of the paving provided for above, and to make due and proper inquiry into the question involved, and if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the city council that the amount of such lien to be assessed by the city of Sanford, for the paving of the street aforesaid, in front of said lots, exceeds the amount so fixed as aforesaid, the amount of such lien to be assessed by the city of Sanford, for the paving of the street aforesaid, shall be reduced accordingly, and after the city council had heard all property owners and given all property owners an opportunity to be heard and make all reasonable objections, the city council shall equalize the assessments in proportion to the amount of such lien to be assessed by the city of Sanford, for the paving of the street aforesaid, as then equalized shall stand as true and correct.

FASCINATING STRANGERS WHO DUPE VAIN WOMEN.

Where lives the man who has not tried
How mirth can into folly glide
And folly into sin?

If all men were honorable and women wise, there would be no folly to bitterly repent of. The majority of women are good, home-loving creatures. This goes without saying. But now and then we find a woman who does not lay aside her habits of coquetry as she dons her wedding clothes. Even having a husband all her own to admire and idolize, she does not satisfy her craving for the devotion of other men.

Wherever she goes she casts an eager eye about to see if there are other women who look as well and attract as much attention as she. Usually she finds more than one pair of eyes focused upon the picture of feminine loveliness she presents.

Very few women enter deliberately into folly. They are most always drawn into it by slow degrees. It isn't every woman who feels bitter resentment if she finds the eyes of a handsome stranger bent upon her with admiration. If she turns quickly away, that's the end of it. If she casts a peep again, and yet again, to note if the fascinating stranger is regarding her intently, the mischief has begun to brew. Should she see a woman she knows but slightly bow to him or stop to chat a moment with him, she jumps at the conclusion he is finding out who she is. The man who has marked out a vain woman as a victim manages by hook or crook to secure an introduction. He permits the affair to remain thus for awhile, bowing profoundly if they chance to meet.

The woman's opinion of him changes. She is quite sure now that he is not the flirt she had imagined him to be. She does not consider it out of the way to chat with him, having had an introduction. True, her home folks have never liked the woman acquaintance who presented them. So she does not think it worth while to mention the matter. She loves her dear plodding husband. But, dear me! John never knows whether she has on a silk or a cotton gown, a new and becoming hat or an old one.

The vain woman lives on flattery. It is to her what dew is to the rose. The fascinating stranger pays her compliments. He admires her jewels, but tells her he is alarmed to see her with such costly gems on the street. He begs to call a cab, to see her safely home. Many a foolish woman has accepted such an offer to her undoing. He keeps up such a lively conversation that she does not know or notice the street into which the cab threads its way. She chances to glance out. To her horror, she beholds that she is in a strange and dangerous part of the city. Before she can cry out, the gallantry of the stranger has suddenly changed. In a trice he tears the jewelry from her, stifles her screams with loud imprecations, snatches her purse and keys and leaps from the cab, disappearing like a flash around the first corner. She does well if she escapes a graver experience.

The woman who goes through such an ordeal finds little pity from friends. She is roundly blamed by every one for her folly in being duped by the fascinating stranger and getting into such a trap. If, perchance, the fellow is caught, it is with difficulty that he can be punished, for he coolly throws all the blame on her. He declares, manlike, he was simply enjoying a flirtation with a pretty, indiscreet woman; that she had voluntarily given him the jewels to help him out of a business strait, etc. Wives who sigh for other men's admiration and foolish maidens out looking for it should beware of handsome, fascinating strangers bent on duping them.

SCANDALMONGERS AND A GIRL'S FAIR NAME.

Alas! They had been friends in youth; But whispering tongues can poison truth, And constancy lives in realms above; And life is thorny and youth is vain, And to be wroth with one we love, Doth work like madness in the brain.

The most circumspect maiden needs to be careful of appearance when she gets a beau. If she lives where neighbors are inquisitive—in short, keep tabs on her—it behooves her not to permit him to remain in her parlor after 10:30 of an evening.

If she should remain out with him until the wee sma' hours, the scandal-mongers would be sure to put their heads together, surmising every other reason which kept her out except the right one. She may not have thought it needful to explain to her dear neighbors that she had been detained at the home of a relative who was ill, and that her solicitous lover waited patiently to escort her safely home. If the neighbors spy a shadow on the curtain revealing a devoted pair kissing each other good night, she does not feel called upon to explain that it was that same dear old auntie who had put her arms around him and kissed him, as she thanked him for his devotion to her at the time she so needed it.

It does not take the scandal-mongers long to pick the best of reputations to shreds.

There's nothing, unless it be the down of a thistle, that is let loose at the slightest jar which flies about as quickly as gossip concerning a pretty girl. If one of the women has casually remarked to the young man, "She is a very nice, merry young woman, don't you think?" and he has answered, "No nicer than she ought to be," the scandal-monger has a fine morsel to pick at. The lover soon finds that he has a duel before him. The girl's uncle calls him on the telephone; asks him what he meant by clouding the character of an innocent young girl by giving out such a villainous falsehood that she was no nicer than she ought to be.

Of course, the amazed lover was able to explain with alacrity to the infuriated uncle that he had declared the young lady was no nicer than she ought to be, for all sweet, modest young girls were nice. That was what was expected of them.

He was dumfounded that scandal-mongers had been able to twist his laudatory remark into a scandalous meaning. It is unfortunate for a girl to have such interested people about her. If she does as near right as she can do, she shouldn't worry her brains over others' opinions. As for the women who pick other women's reputation to shreds, it can be traced to the one source—envy. A woman of culture may be known by the fact that she always refuses to listen to a scandal. She may have a daughter of her own and cannot help thinking what if it were her child's reputation that was heartlessly being pulled to pieces.

HER NEAREST, DEAREST FOE.

My very chains and I grew friends,
So much a long communion tends
To make us what we are, even I
Regained my freedom with a sigh.

It is natural for a girl to be fond of a chum, but the trouble is some maidens do not choose their bosom friends wisely. There is a class of girls who have a deep-seated influence over a chum. Even though they show now and then that they might, if occasion demanded, sacrifice a chum for their own interest, they have woven the chain of so-called friendships so tightly around the other that there is no breaking away from it.

A girl meets a nice young man, who becomes interested in her and asks permission to call. When he pays his visit he finds two pretty young girls to entertain him instead of one. He is introduced to the chum, who is not averse to bringing herself forward, completely overshadowing his hostess. When this occurs repeatedly, the young man may be pardoned for the belief that the girl whom he has come to call on is not smitten with him and is really interested in making a match between her chum and himself. In fact, the chum leads him to believe this as he sees her home.

Gradually he breaks off calling upon the girl who first attracted him, transferring his calls to the home of the chum. The girl who watches and waits in vain for his coming confides to her false friend the misgivings which cause her heartaches. Her nearest and dearest foe drives in the wedge which severs them widely apart. Pride steps in, and the maiden who has looked and been pleased passes the young man with a cool bow when they meet on the street.

It is pleasant for a girl to have a chum, but when the knowledge comes upon her that the chum is false to her, she should not tolerate her private affairs being dominated by her. Having an admirer may be the turning point of a girl's life. Friendship between man and maid is far too sacred for a chum to interfere with. Many a romance that might have ended in marriage has been shattered in this way. The blow dealt by the hand of a friend hits a girl's heart the hardest, inflicting a wound which always leaves a scar in the shape of bitter memories.

Girls are wont to exchange confidences with one another in regard to heart affairs. While this confidence is usually respected, and is supposed to draw them nearer together, yet, if they have a falling out, the false chum blazes the other's secret to her dear four hundred friends without compunction. There is no foe like the foe who was once a friend.

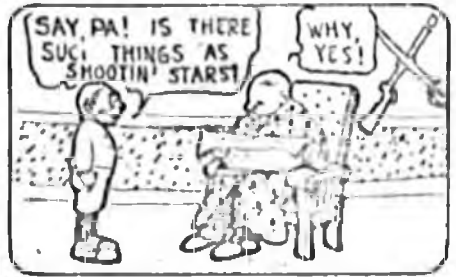

If such a contretemps occurs in a girl's youth, her confidence in women and their motives is forever shaken. She will not even believe one who is for her good. She will lose faith in a lover, no matter how earnest he may be, if he casually makes the remark that a woman friend of hers is attractive. The chum who takes a lover away from another girl seldom ever finds that she has driven a good bargain with fate. Cupid is exacting, and usually pays her back in her own coin soon or late. Friendship is sacred; it keeps the heart warm and, next to love, is tender and sweet. In the lives of young girls, it has its dividing line, over which the one or the other should be too faithful and true of heart to cross. There are men enough to choose from without a girl deliberately planning, to take her chum's lover from her. It's a game that never plays out well.

A small gathering of suffragettes were having afternoon tea. Jellycakes, Pigs knuckles and sauerkraut were also included to lend color to the feast. They had a great time talking about bargain sales and telling stories. One young lady told of a couple of boys, Tom and Will by name. The boys were stealing the wooden eggs out of a woodpecker's nest and a farmer caught them. She asked, 'Did the farmer whip Tom, or did he Whipoorwill?'

MAIL ORDERS GIVEN PROMPT, CAREFUL ATTENTION

The Herald Printing Co.

107 Magnolia Avenue Sanford, Florida

MOVED I have moved my Office to the First Door East of the Post Office Where I Shall Try a NEW PLAN OF SELLING REAL ESTATE

A property owner wants all he can get for his property but he will sometimes take a reduction rather than loose a sale. The Real Estate Man gets a commission, or percentage, or share from the owner, of the total price the property sells for and the more the property brings the larger his commission. THE INTEREST OF THE OWNER OR SELLER AND HIS AGENT ARE THE SAME.

The agent frequently takes an option or contract on the property offered him at a bargain price in order to controll the sale and the price and then he gets more than a regular commission, but THE BUYER PAYS THE COMMISSION EVERY TIME.

Under the New Plan

I shall represent the buyer: I shall get him the lowest possible price: I can save the buyer money on nearly every deal. My commission will come direct from the buyer instead of the seller, but I shall try and save him enough to pay my commission out of the saving.

Can it be Done?

Well, I've had Twelve years experience in selling Real Estate---Seven in Sanford and Five in Michigan---and I know some of the "tricks of the trade". It can be done. Try me and see.

Now Mr. Property Owner if you want results, and want them quick, try my plan. Give me your LOWEST NET PRICE and VERY BEST TERMS. Don't mince matters. It's business and let's get down to the bottom at once.

And You, Mr. Buyer, can't you see the point? Sure you can. Come in and let's talk it over. Make my office your headquarters. It wont cost you a penny for my services unless you buy and then it wont cost you as much as the other fellow will ask you. It may save you something worth while.

All the banks and business men know me and have known me for years. Ask them if you will get a square deal.

I have a few good farms---5, 6, 10 and 15 acre ones. And I have some fine citrus land mighty cheap. Let me know what you are interested in.

Midway

I am manager for the Midway Company. We are selling homes and lots in Midway, out three miles from the Post Office but right in the middle of the Celery Delta. Midway has 25 homes now. 12 of these homes and a store have been built in the past few weeks. Two houses being built this week. Material on the ground for a large new church to be built at once. Several more homes to be built in the next month.

We have sold over 100 Lots in Midway since January 1st ---not at auction but at private sale, and they are selling faster than ever. This record has not been equalled in this city or the surrounding country since I have been in Sanford---Seven years.

Midway is a Colored Town---for laborers---but white people as well as colored are buying Midway Lots --- BECAUSE IT PAYS.

J. D. Roberts, Sanford's leading grocer bought 12 Midway Lots. Caldwell & Sons, the big merchants here, own 15 Midway Lots. Other business men have bought and are buying. WHY? IT PAYS---THAT'S ALL. If it pays them why not you?

Midway Lots have doubled in value in three months but we are still selling them at $75.00 each on the weekly payment plan. This plan helps you save your money and the advance in value will make you money. It's better than a savings account. Buy a few Midway Lots for a little safe investment.

Make my Office your Headquarters. Next to Post Office J. O. PACKARD, The Buyers Agent

Say Good Bye Er Howdy Do

My old friend, James Whitecomb Riley, the Hoosier Poet is spending the winter at Miami and as a compliment I publish one of his good ones that always reaches my heart:

Say good-by er howdy-do—
What's the odds betwixt the two?
Comin'—goin', ev'ry day—
Best friends first to go away—
Grasp of hands you'd ruther hold
Than their weight in solid gold
Slips their grip while greetin' you—
Say good-by er howdy-do!

Howdy-do, and then, good-by—

Mixes jes' like laugh and cry;
Deaths and births, and worst and best,
Tangled their contraries;
Ev'ry jinglin' weddin' bell
Skeerin' up some funer'l knell—
Here's my song, and there's your sigh—
Howdy-do, and then, good-by!

Some One's runnin' this concern
That's got nothin' else to learn:
Ef He's willin', we'll pull through—
Say good-by er howdy-do!

The jitney bus will be the next new thing under the sun to strike Sanford. It seems to be such a lucrative business to run hacks to the depot that some of our enterprising citizens conceived the idea that a jitney bus would be about right and one will be here in a few weeks. The jitney bus, so-called because it is only a nickel or a "jitney" to ride have put the street cars out of business in many of the cities because one can ride anywhere in the city for a nickel and go places where the cars do not run. The jitney bus in this city would probably be a ten cent fare to the depot each way, but even in this instance the bus would get the business. It is said that in many cities in Florida that contemplated a street car line will have the jitney bus instead, as it will give better services than the street cars. Maybe the jitney bus will solve the street car troubles of this city and give the suburbanites a chance to get to and from the city at a ten cent rate.

The machines are throwing mud on the lake front and the bulkhead will soon begin to look as though it was a part of the main land. When this bulkhead is finished Sanford will begin to get the benefit of Lake Monroe and then we can have a yacht club and many other innovations that are impossible now. And meantime let us have that place to keep the boats in time of storm for Sanford should make some provision for the tourists who come to us in the ships. This city with a yacht club and anchorage and tourist hotel would be the most popular place in the state.

Some unsophisticated investigator finds that women smuggle things into the country tied around their waists. He is evidently a man who makes no study of human nature and whose knowledge of fashion plates doesn't go beyond circus bills. So small a thing as a shoe-string tied around the waist would spoil the national feminine contour beyond all possibilities of marriage.

Sanford and every other city in Florida needs publicity and yet knowing the value and the need of publicity I am not in favor of Sanford advertising for tourists until the city has a place for them. I say this in all fairness and frankness, for this subject has been on my mind until it is a sore spot with me. Unless the Commercial Club and the real estate men and the people here generally who are helping to make our city can assure the visitors of decent hotel accommodations next season then it would be better not to advertise Sanford at all. And right along this line I wish to say that our people are not doing all that they should regarding the erection of a new hotel, although I believe that one will be built in the near future. One goes down the street and finds a mysterious air about the new hotels. One can hear almost anything about this hotel or that hotel and yet the people who are supposed to be building them are so darned mysterious that you would think they are trying to break into a bank with a dark lantern and jimmy. This is no way to either build a hotel or boost the town. If we are to have a hotel or several hotels why don't the public spirited people of this city get together and start something right now and start it in the appn. All of us will come into the game and it should be free to all. It makes no difference to me or to any other fellow who is building the hotel or where it is to be built. They can build it on Sanford Heights, or on Union avenue or on Celery avenue or out at the union depot if they want to and I will push it all that I can. This constant and mysterious air that pervades the atmosphere makes many of us disgusted and what we want now is not publicity but a hotel built somewhere within the five mile limit and want it built. A new hotel of fifty rooms would be a good start and would pay the stockholders a good dividend and being a good thing should be pushed openly and loudly and pushed by every citizen of Sanford. What we need is the hotel regardless of who may be the daddy of it.

The newspaper business is getting on a much higher plane these days, especially since the men who are engaged in it have discovered that they ought to get a decent price for subscriptions, advertising and job work. This being the case they should cease making funny remarks about the poverty of the editor and trying to make him an object of charity for the newspaper man should get what is coming to him or else get out of the business and go to farming where he could at least make a living. The following from the Live Oak Democrat echoes my sentiments:

"We keep reading editorials which tell of the bad treatment to which editors are subjected. How they are criticized, and abused and misconstrued and mistreated and have to work for the community for nothing and how they are not appreciated and how much space they devote to telling of the good qualities of bad people and how subscribers fail to pay for the paper and growl if they are dunned, and how an editor leads a dog's life generally.

The fact is that an editor is judged by his work. If it is good he is praised and appreciated, if not the reverse is in order, and again, there are not many persons who are good judges of the merits of a paper---from the editors' standpoint. Every man who enters business will have enemies and have to meet competition and adverse criticism, and if he is a weakling he will go down, and the man who selects a poor field for his enterprise is a man of poor judgment and will fail.

No man can make a good paper in a poor town, and not every one can make a good paper in a good town, and if an editor in a good field succeeds in making a failure and in being criticized and abused, he has only himself to blame for it. This does not mean the petty complaints which come to all business men, but to real complaints. The newspaper business is an honorable one, and the man in that business who considers it and conducts himself accordingly will secure his full mode of good treatment. He will be recognized as one of the business men of his community and his person and family and opinions will have the respect of all.

It does not look well to see a complaining article in a newspaper. Other men who are censured do not kick and howl and growl to the entire public. They cuss the porter and growl at the children and fuss at the wife because she needs a pair of stockings, but do not take the public into their confidence.

Suppose we act bigger and quit bawling like a sick calf for hot buttermilk."

IMPROVEMENTS AT SANFORD CEMETERY

CITIZENS AND LOT OWNERS ARE MAKING IT A BEAUTIFUL SPOT

Some weeks ago a movement was started with J. D. Parker as instigator for the improvement of the Sanford Cemetery, known as Lakeview Cemetery.

Since that time Mr. Parker, working in conjunction with T. J. Miller & Son has taken personal charge of the matter and every one who has visited the cemetery in the past few weeks has been amazed at the appearance of the grounds.

While the actual work has not yet started on the pavilion it is understood that the contract has been let for the work and it is expected that the work will start about the first of the month.

The expense of the sexton is borne by the owners of the lots in the cemetery, each owner of a single lot paying 50 cents per month and a double lot paying $1.00.

The Welfare Department of the Woman's Club recently donated $15.00 to this fund as well as several other donations from different sources.

A list of those who have already paid follows. It will be noted that several have paid for the entire year:

- J. A. Harrold $ 50
L. R. Phillips 1.00
A. E. Phillips 1.00
D. A. Caldwell .50
H. E. Adams, Tampa 1.50
F. Lake 5.00
C. F. Haskins 6.00
T. W. Williams .50
R. C. Bower 5.00
J. D. Parker 1.00
Mrs. L. H. Gould .50
R. F. Whitner 2.00
J. L. Miller 1.50
J. H. Cowan 6.00
C. H. Ledford 1.00
J. C. Chase, Jacksonville 6.00
Mrs. K. Smith .50
B. Peters 5.00
J. A. & W. Miller, Jaxville 1.00
Hand Bros. 2.00
J. E. Pace 1.50
Mrs. J. C. Higgins .50
Joe Cameron 1.00
F. Hatch .50
B. H. Hightower .50
Welfare Dept. Wom. Club 15.00

Work has been started this week on the Catholic cemetery and this will be given a thorough overhauling, as has the Lakeview.

Mr. Parker and the lot owners are to be commended for their work along this line. Nothing it seems has needed attention as have our cemeteries and if the good work is kept up it will greatly enhance our city and make it not only a better place to live but a respectable place to die.

The Armored Christian

On Sunday morning in the Methodist services the pastor will present the theme, "The Armored Christian." This sermon talk is especially designed to aid the young and struggling Christian. The great need of the Christian world as well as the business world is the "prepared man."

The pastor and officials appreciate the large attendance at these services. The Sunday school sessions are being largely attended, the Brotherhood attendance on last Sunday was best in some time and the interest was good. A check of over $100 was turned over to the building committee from this class for the new church fund.

The school as a whole is working hard for the new church.

Cottage Prayer Meetings

Let us remember that the cottage prayer meetings are to be the week of March 29th-April 2nd. The general theme for the week will be "Baptism of the Holy Spirit."

The program for the week is as follows:

Monday, March 29 The Heights: Home, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dinger; leader, Mr. C. R. Walker; leader's helper, Rev. George Hyman.

Death of Tourist

Died at the Robbins Nest Sunday night, at 8 o'clock, Mr. G. W. Francis, of Bolton, New Jersey.

Mr. Francis came to Florida about four weeks ago in search of health, having been a sufferer from asthma for many years, which finally resulted in his death. Mr. Francis was born in Newark, New Jersey, but for the last eighteen years has made his home in Bolton. He was seventy-five years old. The body has been taken to Bolton for interment.

At Baptist Temple Tonight

In consequence of the nightly cottage prayer meetings to be held throughout the city next week the ladies of the Baptist church will hold their monthly missionary meeting tonight in the above church, commencing at 7 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

VILLA DECLARED A MORATORIUM

IT IS TO LAST FOR THREE MONTHS IN HIS TERRITORY

El Paso, Texas, March 25.—Three months' moratorium, declared yesterday by General Villa, will be observed, it is stated, by Villa agents, not only in the territory in immediate control of the northern Mexican leaders, but in all states of the republic dominated by leaders participating in the Aguas Calientes convention.

The territory includes Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, Zacatecas, San Luis Potosi, Aguas Calientes, Jalisco, Guanajuato, Queretaro, Morelos, Guerrero, the federal district, territories of Tepe and Baba California, and portions of Michoacan, Tamaulipas, Mexico, Hidalgo, Puebla, Colima and Sinaloa.

The Mexican states in which the moratorium decreed by General Villa will not be effective are Vera Cruz, Tlaxcala; Campeche and Tabasco, which are wholly under the control of Gen. Venustiano Carranza, and the independent states of Oaxaca, and Yucatan and Chiapas.

Woodmen Circle

Woodmen Circle, Celery City Grove No. 6 held a very interesting meeting at the W. O. W. Hall last Wednesday afternoon.

Besides having the reports of the delegates to the state convention recently held at Lakeland we had the pleasure of having Sov. Kennedy, state deputy for the Woodmen of the World as our guest.

After the transaction of business Sov. Kennedy gave us an interesting talk on Woodcraft, and for the good of the order which was enjoyed by all present. Circle will meet again the second Wednesday in April.

All Sovereigns are earnestly requested to be present as there will be initiation of candidates on that date.

The Star Theater Sunday Evening

The Methodist services on Sunday nights are attracting good audiences. Last Sunday there was an unusually large crowd.

Vital subjects are being presented from the general theme, "The Christian in Modern Life."

The subject next Sunday night is one of the most important, "Parents and Children." All interested in the children are invited to be present.

Our future church and state depend upon the proper attitude of the home to the child.

Song services precede the preaching hour. All interested in good singing are invited to come early and help in the song and praise service.

Brotherhood Social

The Presbyterian Brotherhood entertained about fifty members and friends with a chicken pillow and social evening Tuesday night at the Brotherhood rooms.

The progressive members of this organization are famous for their enjoyable affairs and this one was no exception to the rule. The tempting pillow and usual condiments served with it was delicious.

During the evening a charming program of music and recitations was rendered. Tons and jokes played a large part in the evening's entertainment.

The Presbyterian quartette, the members of which are Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. H. C. Dulose and Messrs. Harrold and Becker rendered several fine selections.

Miss Annie Leo Caldwell gave two readings greatly enjoyed, "The One Legged Goose" and "The Sweetest Little Lady."

Messrs. Cameron Gulletto and Frank Cameron added to the pleasures of the evening with vocal solos. Miss Muriel Harrold accompanied the singers on the piano.

The guests departed wishing that the Presbyterian Brotherhood would have a chicken pillow social every night in the week.

Mr. Gus B. Frank has just returned from a trip to Sanibel and other southern parts of our beautiful state.

At the former place he was the guest of his son, Mr. Lyman Frank. As the Gulf is noted for being one of the finest fishing grounds in the world we presume this must be one of the attractions that takes Mr. Frank to that point so often.

"WHO'S WHO IN SANFORD" A SUCCESS

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN NOVEL ADVERTISING IDEA PUT ON BY THE HERALD

A rapidly growing interest marks the progress of the "Who Is Who" advertising feature to be published in the next issue of The Herald. It is safe to say that an unusually good time will be enjoyed by the readers of the paper, who will be paid for their interest in turning to the section headed, "Who Is Who In Sanford" and carefully reading every advertisement on the page.

As was announced in the last issue of the paper every advertisement will be numbered, so that all the readers will have to do will be to read the ads carefully and make his own conjecture as to what firm's name would be published if the ad were run as usual.

For the interest you show in the reading of the "Who Is Who" page the following prizes will be awarded:

To the one making the greatest number of correct answers to every advertisement on the page a prize of $5.00 in gold will be awarded, and to the one making the second greatest number of correct answers a second prize of a yearly subscription to the Herald will be awarded.

The following rules must be observed in making your answers:

1 You must make an answer to every ad on the page, setting forth the name of the firm you think is represented opposite the number of each. The ads will be numbered for your convenience.

2 All answers must be addressed to the "Who Is Who" editor of The Herald.

3 Each list of answers must be accompanied by a composition of not more than fifty words telling why is your favorite firm and why.

4 The correct name of each firm that is, the name under which each firm does business and which appears on bill heads, letter heads, etc.) must be written opposite the number of each.

5 No reader's list of answers will be considered unless an answer is made to every ad on the page.

All answers must be on the editor's desk not later than Monday, April 5th.

Read the page and get better acquainted with the firms and the lines they carry. The advertisers position about the lines he advertises and the people he deals with is the same as that held by Artemus Ward toward the editor of a paper who was advertising his show.

When the witty Artemus remarked to the above mentioned dignitary "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours."

All the advertisers on the "Who Is Who" page are "firms you should know."

The correct names of the firms and the names of the prize winners will be published in the issue of Tuesday, April 6th.

New Laundry Opens

Monday the new Sanford Steam Laundry will start business in the building recently erected for that purpose on Commercial street near the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Works.

The new enterprise will be under the supervision of the owner, Mr. G. L. Britt, a man of years of experience in the laundry business, who has made a success in several Florida cities, as well as in the north.

Mr. Britt comes here from Lakeland, through the efforts of the Sanford Commercial Club, where he installed the finest laundry in that part of the state.

A delivery wagon will be put on and work called for and delivered to all parts of the city. The new enterprise will handle every and all classes of work incident to the laundry business and will add to the city's weekly pay roll to be spent with the Sanford merchants.

Baptist Temple Sunday, Mar. 28th

All the services in the Temple for next Sunday have been planned on a large scale. From the opening service at 9:30 it is expected that large audiences will be present and enthusiasm run high.

The schedule of services is as follows: Sunday school at 9:30. The General Missionary Day of the South will be observed by the whole school assembling together for the closing exercises and a short program rendered.

Temple Brotherhood, 9:30. This new organization in the city will hold its second meeting on next Sunday. It is expected that a large number of men will be present. The Brotherhood conducts its own opening exercises.

Preaching at 11:00 by the pastor, Subject, "Others and Us."

R. Y. P. U. 6:30. The program will be on the subject, "The New Patriotism." This department of the Temple organizations has the recognition of being one of the A. I. Unions of the south.

Jr. R. Y. P. U. 6:30. Those under 16 years of age are members of this organization and interesting programs are rendered each Sunday under the able leadership of a Senior Union committee.

Installation Service, 7:30. A live program has been arranged for Sunday evening, when the new officers of the Temple Brotherhood will be installed.

You are invited to all the Temple services.

Baptist Brotherhood Organized

A Brotherhood class was organized at the Baptist Sunday school last Sunday morning with a membership of thirty-one.

This is a wonderfully good showing for the first meeting and the members who are enthusiastic claim that not many weeks shall roll by without increasing the number materially.

The class will be known as the Temple Brotherhood. Officers elected are: President, W. E. Seoggan; vice president, Leslie Bryan; vice president for the west side, K. R. Murrell; secretary, George Thompson; treasurer, W. C. Bray; Usher, A. B. Doane; teacher, Prof. B. F. Ezell; assistant teacher, Dr. J. T. Denton; press reporter, F. A. Christopher.

The meeting was interesting and enthusiastic while a spirit of cooperation was the key note of the future success of the class. Men who are not identified with any other church or organization or seeking a Sunday school home are cordially invited to unite with the class. Strangers will be warmly welcomed. The officers elected last Sunday will be installed at the Sunday evening service, the coming Sunday. A class motto will also be adopted.

Bitten by Dog

"Shep," the beautiful shepherd collie pet of Miss May Thrasher is dead. Shep became weary of his earthly troubles and elected to get sick and thereby hangs a tale.

Why such a beautiful dog with the best of homes, the tenderest care and a favorite of the whole town should want to suffer the ailments and woes of a common dog is a mystery but then—life is just one big mystery after all, whether it be in the biped kingdom or the quadruped world and so "Shep" just submitted to the indignity of blind fate and gave his life in behalf of his master.

For you must know that Tuesday afternoon Shep was ill and Mr. D. L. Thrasher undertook to administer medicine to his majesty. The dog snapped at the hand of Mr. Thrasher and buried his tooth in the fleshy part of the hand, causing a wound.

The anxiety and insistence of friends resulted in having the dog shot and the head sent to Jacksonville for examination. Mr. Thrasher does not believe that the dog had rabies or that the wound will prove dangerous but the fact remains that Shep is dead.

"Requiescat in pace."

Bishop Curley to be Here Sunday

The Right Rev. M. J. Curley, recently consecrated Catholic Bishop of Florida will officiate at All Souls Church Sunday, March 28.

He will preach at the 10 o'clock mass and confirm a large class at 3:30 in the afternoon and preach another sermon. Bishop Curley, whilst he is the youngest Bishop in the United States is a man of scholarly attainments and is now regarded as one of the states most gifted speakers.

SOUTH IS MAKING GREAT PROGRESS

MUCH PROGRESS IS BEING SHOWN IN THE SOUTH-EASTERN TERRITORY

Columbus, Ga., March 24.—The Industrial Index says in its issue for this week:

"Construction and industrial developments have not been more substantial in a year than for the past week, and the return to wholly normal conditions is steady."

"The voting of bonds for municipal and county improvements and the awarding of contracts for extensive construction work are features that demonstrate the trend toward prosperity."

"The Sarasota, Fla., district has voted $250,000 of bonds for constructing roads and a bridge. Bonds have been voted by Decatur, Ga., for school buildings, sewers and water works and by Cedartown, Ga., for school buildings; Dadeville, Ala., will vote on water works bonds; Hogansville, Ga., on electric light plant bonds and West Point, Miss., on sewer bonds."

"A contract was awarded for the construction of a railroad near Mobile, Ala., in connection with the plans for development on Dauphin Island."

"Thirteen apartment houses, nine school buildings and seven church buildings are included in the news of construction work to be done."

"Twenty-seven new corporations were formed with minimum capital stocks aggregating $703,500. A bank with capital stock of $100,000 was organized at Winder, Ga."

"Among the items of construction work to be done, as reported this week are:

"Apartment houses, 9, Atlanta, Ga., and Davista, Miami and Tampa, Fla.; church buildings, Durant and West Point, Miss., Forsyth and Rome, Ga., and Miami and West Palm Beach; club houses, Tampa, Fla.; paving, Birmingham, Ala., and Miami, Fla.; factory buildings and sewers, Forsyth, Ga.; hotel buildings, Clermont, Fla., and hotel building addition, Aiken, S. C.; school buildings, Columbus, Forsyth and Waynesboro, Ga.; Fayette, Ala., Miami, Pompano and Titusville, Fla., and Ellerbe, S. C.; sanitorium building, Opelika, Ala."

"Construction contracts have been awarded as follows:

"Abattoir building, Albany, Ga.; apartment house, Atlanta, Ga.; bank building to be enlarged and remodeled, Miami, Fla.; courthouse, Lincoln county, Georgia; dormitory, Macon, Ga.; fraternal building, Fairhope, Ala.; telephone building, Meridian, Miss.; theater building, Bradenton, Fla.; paving, Hastings, Fla., and Waycross, Ga.; school buildings, Clermont and Wimauma, Fla.; warehouse, Bay Minette, Ala."

"Industrial plants will be established as follows:

"Fertilizer mixing plant, Cartersville, Ga.; grist mill, Gadsden, Ala.; electric light plant, Jefferson, Ga.; hosiery mill to be enlarged, Fort Payne, Ala.; Lumber plant, Lumerton, Fla.; cotton mill to be enlarged, Rock Hill, S. C.; preliminary arrangements are to be made for constructing private railroad and establishing phosphate cleaning plant in Florida, the plant to be in Tampa; company has been organized to build a railroad in southern Georgia."

A Sacred Cantata

At the Congregational church next Sunday night at 7 o'clock will be given a sacred cantata, "The Crucifixion," a masterpiece meditation on the passion of our Lord, by a choir of picked voices, under the leadership of Miss Lucile Apinwall. Those taking part are: Soprano, Miss Apinwall; alto, Mrs. Strong; tenor, Mr. C. L. Polk and basso, Mr. Cameron Gulletto of Ohio, with Miss Frances Apinwall at the organ.

The solo roles in this production are all for the male voice, accompanied by choruses. It is one of the finest cantatas on this subject and all will enjoy the message and beauties of it. A short talk will be given by the pastor. All are welcomed.
