 Dr. E. O. Taylor lectured to deeply interested audience on Tuesday evening in the Congregational Church and on Wednesday evening in the Baptist church, on Scientific Temperance.

The lecturer evinced a thorough grasp and most scientific standpoint, along with an unusual ability to make abstruse and scientific facts clear and interesting to popular audiences. He declared that our attitude toward the Liquor Problem must be decided by what science teaches as to the nature and effects of alcohol on the human system.

He stated that alcohol is not a food, although it sometimes seems to act like foods act. Alcohol proves to be a poison, two-fold in nature—a Narcotic, depressing the nervous system, and an irritant attacking the mucous membranes. It thus evinces a special power to destroy the life cells of the human body.

Unlike foods, when taken into the body, it goes unchanged, as alcohol, into the blood, and circulates within the veins it attacks there the white corpuscles of the blood, whose function is to destroy disease germs. It shrivels up the white corpuscles, makes them unable to combat disease successfully; then attacks the brain cells, especially those that belong to the higher nature of man. Because of this proved nature and effect of alcohol it should be avoided by the individual and prohibited by the state as a beverage.

Notice to the Public

The new Contractor for the City Scavenger and Cleaning work, Mr. Chas. M. Hand, will begin his work on February 1st. In order to make a success of keeping the City in good clean and sanitary order, he must have the cooperation of the citizens in his work and the Sanitary Committee of the City Council hereby requests all those concerned, to help in this, which can easily be done, by their strictly complying with the City's Ordinances on Sanitation.

The City Ordinances require that every household have a good trash or garbage can, or other sound, sufficient and covered receptacle for their waste and garbage, and have this in a place easily accessible for the city scavenger, also that your lots and parkways are kept clean from brush weeds and trash, and all such rubbish to be placed in a place convenient for the scavenger to remove.

The contractor will make report to this Department of all cases where these rules are not kept and it will be up to this Committee to have the law strictly enforced as laid down by the Ordinances.

We are looking to our citizens one and all to help us keep up the reputation of this City as the Cleanest and Best in the State.

The Sanitary Committee,
 S. Runge, Chairman

Microbes in Your Scalp
 Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair, try our remedy at our risk.
 Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.
 We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Retail "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.
 We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Retail "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Celery Fields Will Be Shown in Moving Pictures

KALEM PEOPLE GET THE FILMS

Dorner's Immense Celery Farm Furnishes Subject for This Entertaining Film

Sanford celery fields will soon be seen by thousands of people all over the civilized world if the pictures taken here last week prove to be good enough for the film makers. The immense celery farm of A. Dorner on Celery avenue was the scene of the movies and the representative of the Kalem Company, Mr. Darling, was engaged all week in getting pictures of the great celery industry from the planting of the seed beds to the final cutting and shipping of the vegetable that has made Sanford famous. The pictures were said to be fine and Mr. Darling sent them on to the headquarters of the company where they will be put into shape for the picture machine. They will probably be shown here in Sanford first for a trial run and if they pass inspection will be sent to the various moving picture shows all over the civilized world and Sanford celery will gain more by this method of publicity than all the advertising of former years.

This is the first time of year to get an adequate view of the scope of the great celery industry and the Kalem people have probably arranged for one of the finest exhibitions of the growing of winter vegetables in Florida that has ever been taken. Should the pictures prove defective in any way, the films will be made over by taking other views and this can easily be done as the middle of February will mark the height of the celery industry here and many good views can be taken during this month, not only of celery but of many other crops.

Will Build New Home

Mr and Mrs. D. F. Becker and family from Indiana have been in the city for several days and having fallen in love with our people and climate have decided to make this city their future home and with that purpose in view they have purchased a lot on the corner of Fifth street and Myrtle avenue. The house that is on the lot now will be removed and an elegant new home will be built. The Beckers will return in the early fall and occupy their new home and Mr. Becker will engage in business here. He stated that not only did he represent his own family but that many of his neighbors were anxious to locate in a live Florida city and that his glowing reports of all that Sanford could offer them will induce several other good Hoosiers to come down with him next fall.

For Deeper Water at Mosquito Inlet

Commercial Club Called a Special Meeting Last Friday Night to Discuss This Important Question

Many Prominent Citizens Present From the East Coast and From the Interior

The mass meeting held under the auspices of the Sanford Commercial club in the interest of securing deep water through Mosquito inlet, thus converting New Smyrna into a deep sea harbor and port of entry was a rousing success from every point of view. The meeting was in the spacious and comfortable auditorium of the high school building, there being a good attendance, both locally and from abroad. Friday afternoon the delegates from the various towns, cities and communities which had been invited began to show up and by the time the meeting was called to order by President Forrest Lake, nearly every town which had been invited was represented by from one to thirty delegates.

Those from New Smyrna were: Hon. W. H. Newell, mayor, J. McCann, president city council, J. J. Birch, editor New Smyrna Breeze, D. B. Easton, R. F. Reich, M. E. Galbreath, R. B. F. Paper, H. F. Zipperer, C. H. Clark, W. Tanner, T. Tanner, J. H. Redback, E. Wilson, John T. Hammond, C. L. Dohr, E. L. Greer, M. L. Lopez, M. C. Walton, A. D. Cape, S. Ross, R. R. Vrooman, Mrs. C. E. Vrooman, Mrs. H. J. Hamilton, Mrs. Ida S. Lourey, Mrs. K. Dady, M. Ederdorf and B. Meyer. Delegates from other towns were: Harry M. A. Horn, Dr. J. A. Van Valzah, member of the next session Florida legislature, Seabreeze was well and ably represented by Mr. Charles J. Burgman, Daytona sent George H. Clark, R. J. Smith and J. G. Leonard, the latter also being a member of the next legislature. Orlando was represented by Hon. S. A. Robinson, member of the next session Florida legislature. There were many other delegates from out-of-town but in the crush and jam of the meeting it was impossible to secure a proper registration of them all.

The meeting was presided over by the Mayor, W. H. Newell, who, after stating the reasons for calling this mass meeting, had Secretary Bates read a report pertaining to the development and the working out to a successful conclusion this matter of securing deep water at New Smyrna. Dr. Van Valzah of Daytona Beach was the first speaker. This speaker opened his remarks by referring to the prosperous condition of the community as reflected in the many substantial improvements to be seen on every hand. He incidentally referred to the almost impassable roads between his home and Sanford and strongly manifested his views as toward improvements. He then referred to the first use of the Mosquito inlet when the Huguenots, Turnbull and Ponce de Leon made use of it to secure an inland landing protected from wave and wind of the main ocean. A map was shown by this speaker in which the surrounding had been registered, this map being one of the two that had been made in the governmental survey of the project several years ago. Dr. Van Valzah was not backward in stating that since we were now coming into our own through the installation of the Democratic party in power at Washington, that it is now time for the Southern cities, and especially those that have water facilities that could be converted into great transportation arteries, to get in line and make it plain that it is the rewards for the upholding and continuing of the solid

South through all these years of Republican rule and domination were not forthcoming, that the solid South at the next presidential election would be made, to look like the proverbial Canadian dime and those who had worked for decades for the Democratic victories would be found flocking to some banner under which they would be guaranteed their proper portion of the benefits as distributed from time to time by the powers at Washington.

Dr. Van Valzah manifested a perfect familiarity with the Mosquito inlet proposition by quoting statistics relating to the tonnage that would pass through it to all the ports of the world. At the close of his remarks he was roundly applauded.

Mr. M. Liedersdorf, a prominent real estate dealer of New Smyrna and vice president of the board of trade, followed next and made some very timely remarks. He exhibited a map showing the population contiguous to New Smyrna from an area of 100 miles around to be 290,728 while the railway mileage within this 100-mile area amounted to 3,411 miles. An appropriation of $500,000 was recommended for St. Lucie inlet and a comparison of population and railway mileage for the two places shows St. Lucie inlet to have a population of 30,327 within the 100-mile limit while the railway mileage in the same scope of territory is only 227 miles. These are very pertinent facts and show conclusively that if there is anything in this latter named sparsely settled territory to justify a deep water port, there are many fold more reasons and larger volumes of commerce in favor of opening Mosquito inlet as a port of access to the use of central Florida. Mr. Liedersdorf had his topic well in hand and presented very conclusive arguments in favor of the project.

Hon. J. J. Birch of New Smyrna followed next with some terse statements showing that he was heartily in favor of the proposition and would do all in his power to push the matter to a final successful conclusion.

Seabreeze was then represented by its clarion tribune, Hon. Charles F. Burgman, one of the pioneers of that thrifty and popular town. He began his remarks by stating that as soon as man is born he begins to die and he would like to see an English-speaking world while during his sojourn in this beautiful town that it behooved him to be up and being before the public, hand of old age had itself heaved upon him. Mr. Burgman showed that the population of the nation was increasing at the rate of 2,000,000 per annum and that it was now absolutely impossible for the railways to distribute the supplies incident to properly caring for our present population to say nothing of the annual increase of 2,000,000. The speaker made it a point of especial mention that all movements had their beginning in a small way and the merits or demerits of the movement indicated by its development or decline would prevail. He cited the instance of J. M. Hill, the railway mate, who while traveling over one of his lines or branches away west of St. Paul, was caught in a wreck which delayed his train for several hours. While the train and track were being put in shape to resume the journey, Mr. Hill took a stroll out along the tracks to help him kill some time. He suddenly came upon a long stalk of something that was growing near the right-of-way and stopped to make an examination of it. He finally decided that it was a stalk of wheat with the grain well developed and the body or woody portion stocky and heavy. He carefully dug this specimen up and guardedly took it back to the car with him. He went back to St. Paul and called in a wizard in agricultural matters and had him to pass upon the specimen. Jim chunked it into the fire, paid the expert for his testimony and then organized a force to get possession of all the lands on either side of tracks that could be secured. He then began to bid for settlers to open up this famous wheat country with the results that he has made this one of the best sections of the United States, alone and lone handed, converting an unhabited expanse into one of the best producing sections. The speaker then went about to show that if all would pursue the same thorough methods as followed by the old industrial chief, they would experience as little trouble as he did in making a bushel of wheat out of a bushel of unhabitable.

Mr. Burgman laid particular stress upon the point that in order to obtain this improvement it would be necessary to regulate, regulate and regulate, several examples were given, the numbers was handed were pointed out to sustain his position. At the close of his remarks he was heartily applauded.

Mr. Robinson of Orlando declined to address the meeting because of his illness. Mr. Greer, of New Smyrna, made some remarks bearing upon the various phases of the question showing that he came to talk about something he fully understood and was jumping at no haphazard conclusions.

F. K. Bates, who made the first speech with the East Coast people at the day's meeting, was then called upon and kept the audience in a continual smile by his unfailing source of good humor and timely topics.

The other Sanford speakers were Mayor G. W. Spencer, R. J. Holly and Forrest Lake.

Before adjourning it was decided to have a coming meeting in New Smyrna during the month of February, to which all citizens organizations and societies consisting of 100 miles of New Smyrna as well as the editors of all newspapers within the area, members of the legislature and senate and such other citizens and captains of industry as can be made to attend. At this meeting a permanent organization will be formed to prosecute this work to a successful conclusion, thus making New Smyrna a deep water port.

This committee will publish dependable statistics relating to the project and its probable effect upon the development of central Florida. A committee will be appointed to give the matter thorough publicity in the channels of state news and keep the matter before the officials at Washington in such way as to eventually open up the inlet and add this deep water port to Florida's list of governmental improvements. The committee will be made up of citizens and members of the board of trade and other citizens' organizations in this portion of the state.

SUNDAY WAS DAY FOR FIRE

Other Topics of Interest Happening in the Wide World

Fast blackening heaps of smoking ashes, a quarter of a mile in length and 200 yards in width, are all that remain of the wharves of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company, which burned at Saramat on Sunday. The fire, which originated near the main entrance of the wharves, was discovered shortly after 1 o'clock, but spread so rapidly that the possibility of saving the wharves was soon passed. Within less than thirty minutes the Merchants and Miners wharves were destroyed, and the flames had spread to the Planters rice mill, which also burned. Seven warehouses, owned by the Central of Georgia and leased to various companies, were destroyed, together with their contents. The entire loss will reach $1,500,000. The Central of Georgia railroad, owner of the wharves, is the heaviest loser, as fourteen freight cars, which were unladen, were burned with the wharves. The wharves alone were valued at $400,000.

A fire in a theatre and the smoke from a very modern motion picture machine in New York East Side theatre resulted in a panic among the audience. The fire started in the lobby and spread to the stage. Two women were badly injured and their persons so badly injured that they had to be sent to hospital. The panic occurred in one of the most densely populated sections of the East side and the thousands who poured into East Houston street in front of the theatre and rushed to the doors added to the confusion and to the number of injured. The two women, who have not been identified, were trampled to death in the crush of the crowd to reach the doors. The operator of the machine soon extinguished the burning film and the flames did not spread beyond the fireproof cage in which the machine was located.

Fire in the Flies. Aiken's picturesque tourist hotel, was destroyed by fire in a short time Sunday, the guests having to flee for their lives, leaving most of their personal effects behind. All escaped in safety, but Col. A. E. Dick, manager of the hotel, was overcome by smoke and was dragged from the burning building just before the flames reached the entrance.

An official report was issued today announcing that the ports had ordered the peace delegates not to leave London until after hostilities were resumed and had instructed the troops not to fire until after the Bulgarians began their attack. The note adds: "The port considered it necessary to issue these instructions in order to convince public opinion that responsibility for the resumption of the war will rest exclusively with the Balkan allies."

The Wednesday Club will meet Wednesday, February 5th at the home of Mrs. Henry Wright, where they will continue to meet during the month.

A Delightful Luncheon

At her home, Zulu, in Genieva, Mrs. C. A. Raulerson entertained at a most delightful luncheon last Saturday in honor of her guests, Misses Sarver and Morris. The center piece was laid for fourteen. The center piece was real Chinese hand work of the daintiest design, upon this was a cup of almost snow white pickles.

Simplicity and elegance always grace the entertainments of Mrs. Raulerson and this one was no exception. Each place card contained a conundrum and much merriment was enjoyed in guessing these.

Invited to meet Misses Sarven and Bloom were Mesdames Peters, Baker, Morris, Miss Irene Peters and Miss David Speer.

In the evening, in honor of her guests Mrs. Raulerson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Moran, Mr. and Mrs. Matthieux, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baker, also Miss Helen Moran, Miss Baker, Miss Matthieux and De la Motte.

A new lodge of Masons has been organized in Miami. For some time it has been thought that Miami was large enough to support two lodges, and this action was in furtherance of the project.

Must Give Full Weight

Merchants should remember that after the first day of February a pound of butter must weigh full sixteen ounces and a gallon of syrup must contain full four quarts. For oil that the new net weight law goes into effect, and it shall be unlawful for any merchant to sell or even to display any food packages on which has not been stamped the correct weight. However, a merchant can sell less than a pound of butter or less than a gallon of syrup or other foods. When the housewife asks for a pound of butter the package she receives must weigh 16 ounces and not 15 or 13.—East Coast

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chief Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em" - So Says Saunterer.

The following letter was turned over to me today and just because Harry Papworth wrote it and said not to publish it I will take him at his word and put it into print for the simple reason that every one of the old boys are anxious to hear from Harry and what he writes is always to the point: New York, Jan. 31st, 1913.

Saunterer, Sanford Herald: My Dear Sir - I have often wondered who it was that wrote articles under the nom de plume of "Saunterer." Whoever you are, you are a "bird," and certainly have the interest of the old town at heart. Though being an exile I have for many years read your writings for the advancement of Sanford with considerable interest, and have often wondered why it was that we did not have such a good fellow as you and your worthy Editor Holly, to write for the benefit of the old town when I lived there. I am inclined to believe you must be one of the old boys from the manner in which you handled subjects that apply to the past, and having commented on the writer more than once; and by the way, this note of congratulation to you is not written with the idea that you will publish it. My main object in writing is to thank you as one of Sanford's old citizens for your eulogy on Mr. F. P. Forster. If ever there lived a so-called prince among men, he's the man. In the old days when a few of us remained behind after the killing freezes of 1895 and '96 and spent our good hard earned dollars to try and keep old Sanford on the map, dear old F. P. Forster was always at the head of everything, and I have often marvelled that such a worthy citizen, deserving of so much for what he has done for the old town, should be so rarely mentioned in public print. I don't believe anybody ever ran against old Frank without realizing he was kindness personified, except on the subject of "overdraft," and then "good-night."

Whether you succeed or not in forming the new county of Harney you will both deserve the thanks and if you do succeed, old Sanford when Harney's county seat of Administration, cannot in the writer's opinion more becomingly celebrate what should have been her rights years back, than honoring in some becoming manner her good old citizen Frank.

My hearty wishes for Harney and your success.

Yours very sincerely, AN OLD FIRE CHIEF.

The common drinking cup has been abolished and now an edict goes forth in some quarters that towels shall not hang in some places for public use and that no towel shall be used but once before being laundered. It may not be long before a law is enacted prohibiting more than one person at a time occupying the same house; that all fox shall be sterilized before passing from one person to another and all breezes off the star'b'd quarter shall be screened through cotton cloth. What a terrible world this must have been to live in when the inhabitants were unprotected from germs, microbes and ecteras yet undiscovered but doubtless veritable man killers. People must have actually died in those days. But the song of Bachael may have encouraged us: Reuben, Reuben, I've been thinking what a glorious world 'twill be when the germs are all transported far beyond Mosquito Inlet.

The great aim of the mass of mankind is to get money enough ahead to make man "comfortable" and yet a moment's reflection will convince us that money will never purchase comfort, only the means of it. A man may be "comfortable" without one dollar. We are not guessing at this, but know from actual experience. But to be so, one must have the right disposition, that is a heart and a head in the right place. There are some persons who are lively and cheerful, and good natured, kind and forbearing in a state of poverty which leans upon the toil of today for the supper and the morning's breakfast. Such a disposition would exhibit the same loving qualities in a palace or on a throne. Every day we meet persons, who, in their families are cross and ill-natured, dissatisfied, finding fault with everybody and everything, whose first greeting in the breakfast room is a complaint, whose conversation seldom fails to end in an enumeration of difficulties and hardships, whose last word at night is an angry growl. If you can get such a person to reason on the subject they will acknowledge that there is some "want" at the bottom of it—the want of a better house, a finer dress or more handsome equipage, a more obedient child, a more provident husband, a more cleanly or sympathetic or domestic wife.

The extraordinary revelation of J. Pierpont Morgan's power over twenty-five billion dollars of wealth in this country brings an acute consciousness of the need of some reform of our banking system which will check the enormous concentration of wealth in New York. Gotham is our great commercial city, and there must always be more wealth there so long as it holds that commanding system. That the amount of wealth that is concentrated there is so disproportionate to the city's importance in the financial scheme is due to our antiquated banking system, under which stocks and bonds are preferred to commercial paper as a basis of credit, and under which the idle funds of country banks flow to Wall Street for speculative uses. Mr. Morgan regards the enormous power vested in him as a personal trust, but I observe that he has administered it to his personal profit. He has never been dishonest about it. I can hardly say he has been unpatriotic about it. He has merely taken advantage of the weaknesses of our banking system. It is time to reform that system so that Morgans will become an impossibility.

The National Citizens' League for the promotion of a sound banking system has just issued a report of its work for the year 1912, and of the prospects the prospects for remedial banking legislation: The league with 10,000 members and branches in forty-four states, has succeeded, largely through its efforts, in lifting the issue of banking reform from obscurity to a position in the public eye second only to tariff revision. The so-called Aldrich plan, the report says, is now only a "milestone on the road to a scientific banking system." The position of President-elect Wilson is commented on as encouraging. The report concludes with an appeal for redoubled efforts on the part of the league members.

A letter from my old friend, Harry Papworth this week reminds me also of what a good fellow Harry was in the old days "befo' de freeze" and how much he did for Sanford. I could tell you for hours about Harry and the "blooming Englishman" in the minstrel shows and many other incidences that would keep you laughing for a week. Some time I will write the early history of some of the old boys in those days. I just want to remind Papworth about the times in the fire department when he had the best trained bunch of fire fighters in the state and had medals to prove it. It recalls to my mind the matter of elections and how much like real politics those elections of the fire company were. Harry Papworth was probably the most popular boy in the town in those days and while all the fire boys loved him like a brother the same old spirit of unrest pervaded their manly bosoms, and they wanted to show Harry that he was not the whole cheese, so in order to demonstrate their power some of them would get together just before the annual election and make up a new slate on which Harry's name did not appear. The chief never appeared to notice the petty jealousy that existed to a certain extent in the company and always made it plain to the boys that he did not care to hold the exalted position of fire chief but that the boys always forced it upon him. Well the night for election would draw nigh, and some one would pop up with the new names and read them out. Harry would be called upon for a speech and he would arise presumably with the idea of seconding the nominations but would usually wind up by giving a history of the "old fire fighters" and with tears streaming down his cheeks at the thought of those who were dead and those who had suffered injury would soon have the whole concourse in tears and some over enthusiastic member would propose three cheers for Harry Papworth and then another would propose the same old officers for nomination and Harry Papworth would again be nominated and elected for fire chief without a dissenting vote.

I have often thought that Harry would have made a great politician had he gone in for that sort of thing, but better than being a politician he has made a wonderful success in business, and if he has as many friends in the great field of New York as he did in Sanford in the early days he will have an elegant funeral when he dies.

Well, now that county division has been settled we might turn our attention to the county fair at Orlando, the county seat of Orange county, and as usual Sanford should be the main yeg-

It is for the benefit of the farmer that the county fair is given and the farmers will derive more benefit from the fair than will any residents of the cities. Now is the time to get your display ready.

A Horrible Tragedy A horrible tragedy occurred in the Rolleson family on the banks of the Suwannee river in Lafayette county on Wednesday afternoon when three children met death, two from snake bite, the third from drowning. Mrs. Rolleson sent her little boy to deliver a message but before the child had gone very far his screams attracted the mother who, busy with her baby, sent a younger child to ascertain the trouble. Presently the screams of the younger child attracted the mother, who put her baby on the floor and ran to their assistance. As she approached the children she saw a monster rattlesnake sinking its fangs into the smaller child. After beating away the snake Mrs. Rolleson gathered the children in her arms and started for home where both died within a few minutes. In the meantime, the baby, left at home alone, fell into a tub of water and drowned.

The road out Park avenue beyond Tenth street is a disgrace to the city council and Sanford in general. There is not a piece of road in the county quite as bad as this street.

All who knew him, and especially all members of the state press, will mourn with those who have sustained such a deep loss and severe shock in the death of W. B. Harte, the well known editor of the DeSoto County News, published at Arcadia.

Hugh Sparkman of the Marumna Leader resigns his editorial position to become private secretary for Congressman Claude L'Engle. Between Hugh and Claude we should get some good dope on the actions of our public servants at Washington.

With the full knowledge of what the market needs and will stand for the celery growers of Sanford should be able to command a good price for their crops here during the month of February. Poor stuff will not only fail to bring anything to the shipper but will ruin the markets for the man who has good stuff.

The Commercial Club of Sanford called a meeting of the citizens of the central Florida counties to meet in that city last night for the purpose of forming a mid-state organization to cooperate with New Smyrna in securing a congressional appropriation to be used in cutting away the bar at Mosquito Inlet and thus giving a deep water harbor to east and central Florida. The proposition has been pronounced feasible by government engineers on two separate occasions and their reports are on file in the War Department. It is appropriate that this section indicated in the call from the Celery City should throw the weight of its influence for this New Smyrna appropriation. Palatka News

WASTEFUL FEE SYSTEM

County Treasurer, Dr. J. J. Head today signed a check for $368.08, payable to the public school fund of the county, which makes a grand total of $17,500 paid by him to the school fund during the two years he has held office. When Dr. Head was a candidate for the office of county treasurer he stated that he would pay over to the public school fund everything in excess of $2,000 per year and office expenses, derived from his office. Fulfilling that obligation he has paid over to the public school fund $12,500 during the two years he held office.

The money returned to the county by the retiring county treasurer has been turned into the school fund where it was used to give greater school opportunities to the youth of the county. The total amount materially increased the efficiency of the public schools of the county, and many a child has been benefited without the school patrons ever being aware of the fact. Tampa Times

Twelve thousand five hundred dollars saved to the taxpayers of Hillsborough county in two years by one man! That's a snug little sum, isn't it? Now suppose that the county clerk of Hillsborough county (who receives fully twice as much compensation as the treasurer) had been elected upon a similar basis, and had agreed to turn back into the public treasury all fees above a certain reasonable salary. That would have made a saving to the county of fully $20,000 more in two years. Then suppose that the tax collector, sheriff and assessor of the same county had been elected on a similar basis. The saving to the taxpayers of Hillsborough county on these five offices alone would undoubtedly have been at least $75,000 in two years.

In Lee county, with far less population the fees received from the county of... the other hand there are less taxpayers to bear the burden. A chance was given the taxpayers of this county last fall to elect to office a good man on a similar proposition to that made by Dr. Head, and which would have saved the county between four and five thousand dollars in two years, but it seems that not enough of the voters were alive to their own interests sufficiently to act upon the proposition. With the county...

now fully thirteen thousand dollars in debt, that little saving of four or five thousand dollars would have come in very handy, would it not?

So long as the robber fee system exists in Florida, we do not blame any individual office holder for profiting by what the law allows him, but when will you taxpayers awake to this iniquitous practice sufficiently to urge your representative to wipe this robber fee system from our statute books? The old saying "A penny saved is a penny earned," is as true of public funds as it is in private economy. Estero Eagle.

GOD BLESS OUR HOME

The editor of the Sentinel bears no ill will whatever toward any citizen of Sanford. So far as our observation and experience goes as good people live in Sanford as any spot on earth. They are in most part progressive and honorable people contributing freely and fully to the upbuilding of a splendid community, and it is a genuine pleasure for us to make this statement. But it is not a candid opinion that a number of good men of that city are unduly wrought up over this county division question and see imaginary wrongs, which lead them to do and say things they will hereafter regret. This is a matter of too grave importance for passion or prejudice to play any part. It can not be otherwise than detrimental to the interests of the entire county and fiery speech and rash statements accompanied by loosely gathered figures never accomplish any good.

The Sentinel is unalterably opposed to any division of Orange county and believes that even the agitation of the subject is working harm to all parts of Orange county, but in our discussions of the subject we shall endeavor to be fair and truthful, studiously avoiding offensive charges against our Sanford brethren. We give them credit for being honest in their efforts to get a county seat, but terribly mistaken in their estimate of what it would do for them. We believe likewise that they are grossly in error as to the treatment accorded them by Orlando citizens and county officials. Yet we wish to conduct this discussion in such a manner as that the two sections may always be friends, no matter what the result.

We believe that the proposed county seat at Sanford is a good thing, and that the citizens of the county are entitled to the best of the moment and would not be satisfied with a formal seat in any part of Orange county. We are all one family and let us keep good nature and honesty in other respects, and an honest manhood to accomplish that which will be best for the entire county. Orlando Eagle

SMELL OF THE BILLY GOAT

The bill for the proposed county division is a very important one, and it is not surprising that it has attracted the attention of the people of the county. In passing perhaps it would not be impertinent to ask why Harney? We see no property or local point to the name but to return to the figures. The Herald adds that the new county will have $2,400,000 in assessed values, which it seems to think pretty good as a matter with which to set up an enterprise. We have never believed in the proposition. Any legitimate rate of taxation upon that amount of property will furnish but a slender income out of which to meet the expense of running a separate county. Tampa Times

We smell another goat butting into our business affairs. Harney county is Harney for the same reason that Hillsborough is Hillsborough and Harney county will be created for the same reason, on that Pinellas was created from Hillsborough. The same item about taxable values in Florida referred to states that Harney county will be greater than eighteen other Florida counties. If these other eighteen counties are living upon a slender income we can manage to eke out a miserable existence on celery and lettuce for a few years. Of course our county treasurer will not be able to return $10,000 out of his fees to the county as Hillsborough's treasurer did but our little county will endeavor to pay expenses and will not call upon the "steamed" Times either for money or advice.

We are able at the present time to build twenty-five miles of brick county roads around Sanford which is considerably more than Tampa or any other Florida city or county has been able to do and though we cannot boast of any Ybor City or sumatra wrapper colored citizen we have the finest little bunch of free-born American, white boosters that ever agitated a county division or seceded from the parent stem. And in conclusion it would not be unwise to state that there are about as many subscribers for the Tampa papers in Sanford as there are in Orlando and we always remember our friends.

JOYOUS JAX JUGGERNAUT

Jacksonville is located in the center of Duval county. The Indian river lies principally in Brevard county some one hundred sixty miles south. George W. Hopkins, an enterprising citizen of Eau Gallie, has requested permission to dig a canal from the lower St. Johns to the Indian river and the bowl from Jacksonville has pit Rome to shame. According to the moans of the Jax inhabitants, the lordly St. Johns is doomed to annihilation. At least that part of the river adjacent to the Gateway of the State. In consequence thereof when Dade county or Ocala is desirous of draining a garden patch, permission must first be obtained from the city of Jacksonville. While Kosmosmose is not directly connected with the St. Johns except by a launch route, it is possible for a horse in this county to step in a puddle of water and thereby reduce the flow at the river around Jacksonville. At least that is the conclusion reached after running through the arguments presented by the Jax papers. Kosmosmose

This idle twaddle of the Jacksonville papers about the new canal cutting down the water supply at the famous bar near Jacksonville is all rot and is done for the purpose of keeping south Florida out of the running. The canal cut into Indian river from the upper St. Johns would not lower the water at the famous Jacksonville bar where so many millions have been spent trying to do something for Jacksonville while the rest of the river has been neglected. The new canal will have locks and will keep the water in the St. Johns at a better level than is done now and in time of flood in the reaches of the upper river the locks could be opened and the fine farming country south of us could be drained and kept improved. This canal would really be a good thing for Jacksonville but following their usual greedy policy of trying to bottle up the rest of the state they do not want any water transportation to give facilities to any part of south Florida. The canal will be dredged all right because public opinion will demand it and the time is not far distant when south Florida will wake up to the fact that the Jacksonville trust must be segregated and out of the state will get deep water and hold from the railroad. The canal will mean that Sanford will have a deep water port and will be our looking point.

It is just about time that the upper St. Johns came into being for the people here who have never received much more in return of lights rates than the people of the interior who have no such waterway. Few people have taken time to investigate the canal that has caused so much worry to Jacksonville and the canal that will mean so much to the interior. It is just about time that the Jacksonville papers will stop their "negs" the matter more fully and the canal will be dug a ditch by the government if possible. If the government gets of Jacksonville do not report favorably on the projects then private subscriptions can do the work even if Jacksonville attempts to block the game. It would seem that the people of this part of Florida had paid tribute to the canal long enough.

FOR A WHITE WAY

The Herald has advocated municipal ownership of the city lights for many years. In this connection the Herald would like to call attention of the public spirited merchants of Sanford to the fact that the business portion of the city should have the new style of lighting or the clusters of lights that have been adopted by so many up to date cities. Sanford discarded the iron posts that formerly held the gas lights and these posts could now be used to good advantage for the cluster effect. This new system of lighting is found to be the most satisfactory and makes a very beautiful effect. Under the present system the Sanford Light & Fuel Co. can be depended upon to meet the merchants' half way on the proposition and the cluster system could be installed at once at a small cost. There is nothing that gives so much tone to a city as plenty of street lights, and this cluster system of lights on First street and possibly Palmetto, Magnolia and Park and Oak avenues for one or two blocks would be the best advertisement that Sanford could possibly receive. This is a matter that our business men and the Commercial Club and the city council should investigate and if possible the work should be done before the winter season is over. Let us have more lights and plenty of them.

QUART FIFTY CENTS

The cause of numerous diseases and disagreeable habits heretofore ascribed as constitutional have been traced to the teeth. Turning head sideways in eating, frothing at the mouth in harness, blindness caused from wolf teeth, loss of flesh, weak eyes and cribbing are always due to diseased and irregular teeth. Rough edges and sharp corners of the teeth lacerate the mouth and produce nervousness and irritability. Uneven, elongated molars and incisors prevent the proper mastication of the food, producing indigestion and general debility. Decayed molars cause necrosis of the bone, abscesses, nasal gleet, fistula of the jaw, etc.

In the care of horses and mules probably no one point is more neglected by the ordinary horseman than the care of the teeth.

"Again, when the teeth become so deranged that the animal cannot properly masticate its food, what it eats does not do it as much good as it should, because when the food is not properly ground it cannot be properly digested, and when it cannot be properly digested more or less of it passes off as waste material."

If your Horse, Mule or any other Animal is Afflicted in any way, you may not know the cause. Consult

In Honor of Miss Phillips

Mrs. S. O. Shinholser delightfully entertained at a Progressive Salamagundi party Thursday afternoon in honor of her cousin, Miss Beulah E. Phillips of Fernandina, her charming house guest. Lovely red roses and nasturtiums lent their fragrance and beauty to the pretty rooms. Mrs. Shinholser, becomingly attired in lavender messaline, was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. A. E. Phillips, in a handsome black silk mull, and her aunt, Mrs. L. R. Phillips in black net over silk. Miss Phillips was very attractive in white voile with lace trimmings over pink silk.

The pleasant games were very much enjoyed. Miss Josie Stumon, who remained at the head table throughout the games was presented with a lovely bouquet of pink begonias, tied with blue ribbon, which she gracefully presented to the honoree, who was also the recipient of a handsome amber necklace. After the conclusion of the entertaining games, the hostess was assisted by Misses Katherine Wilson and Marian Phillips, who were daintily dressed in white and pink, in serving a delicious fruit salad, sandwiches, olives and chocolate.

Book Lovers' Club

Mrs. Henry McLaulin was hostess of the Book Lovers' Club Thursday afternoon. The hostess was most happy in her choice of entertainment for her guests, as the members of the club and visitors spent a very amusing afternoon in the effort to outline an animal, the name of which was given to each guest on a piece of white cloth. The ludicrous caricatures made by some of the amateur artists in animal fancy work created a great deal of merriment. It was decided by vote that Mrs. Fred Williams had made the most artistic and natural looking animal and she was awarded the prize, a pretty silver deposit lemon dish.

After the amusing contest was concluded the hostess served a dainty and delicious cherry salad, sandwiches, olives and coffee. Mrs. McLaulin's guests were Mrs. C. L. Polk, Mrs. Grace Barnes, Mrs. Luke, Mrs. R. E. Tolar, Mrs. T. K. Bates, Mrs. J. C. Brady, Mrs. Jay Beck, Mrs. F. L. Woodruff, Mrs. Morton Hopson, Mrs. Fred Williams, Mrs. W. M. SANFORD BAND CONCERT Band Will Give a Concert in the High School Auditorium. The Sanford Military Band is preparing to present quite an elaborate concert on the 11th of this month. For several weeks the band has been at work getting things in shape and now has everything ready. The concert will be entirely different from the concerts the band has been giving. Not only will it be given indoors, where the band will be better able to perform to advantage, but the band will be assisted in the concert by the very best musical talent in Sanford. In fact the band numbers on the program will be decidedly in the minority, while the program will be largely filled by those assisting the band on this occasion.

Celery in Manatee

Each week sees the celery movement increase in number of cars. This week was perhaps the heaviest so far this season. However, it will be a week or two before shipments commence in earnest, when it is expected that between fifty and sixty cars a week will roll from Manatee. The price received has been a little off this week, but it was not expected that the first prices would hold a great while, still the grower has nothing to complain of, and if the present prices hold up throughout the season every grower will make a bunch of money. The greatest trouble being experienced by the grower at present is the shortage of crates. It seems, almost impossible to get anything like a sufficient quantity of crates to meet the demands, and the outlook for future crate material is assuming a serious aspect. The grower who failed to order his material ahead is up against it, as we understand the mills are not cutting celery crates at this time. The demand for tomato crates from the East Coast has been supplied. Of course, it is hoped that some means will be found to overcome this shortage, but the outlook at present is anything but bright. -Manatee Record.

More Big Cabbages

The big cabbages continue to come into The Herald office and were it not for the fact that they do not keep there would be a choice collection of them on hand at all times. Up to date Mr. R. H. Murhead is ahead of the bunch, having brought in a head that weighed 15 1/2 pounds. This is one of the largest heads that has been seen in Sanford in some time. Among other contributors today is Mrs. J. A. Allison, who brought in a fine conical cabbage that while it only tipped the scales at nine pounds was a good specimen of the Early Wakefield cabbage. If any of our northern visitors to the city would like to see some fine Sanford cabbage a visit to The Herald office will open their eyes. Everybody is welcome to come in and see the cabbage display and we want all our good farmer friends to bring in a big head of cabbage.

Another Cigar Factory

Sanford bids fair to become a cigar center in time, for next fall another factory will start here for the manufacture of pure Havana cigars. D. E. Becker, a well known Indiana cigar manufacturer has decided to make Sanford his home and will erect a factory, and having good connections with the northern trade expects to begin business with a good export trade as well as supply the local trade. Sanford already has a good factory, and while it is not a large concern turns out some of the finest cigars and the Tampa John has made Massey famous. With the advent of another cigar factory Sanford will soon be known in the cigar industry and Sanford cigars will become as famous as the Tampa and Key West brands.

Every Week Bridge Club

The Every Week Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. R. L. Hughes at the Sanford House Monday afternoon. Two tables of bridge were played. Mrs. O. W. Brady made the highest score.

FLORIDA'S GUAVA DAY

Tampa Is Alive to The Possibilities of Publicity. Why not a guava day for Florida? The whole purpose of such celebrations is to foster an industry that is being established or to arouse additional interest in one that has been well established. The guava is peculiarly a Florida fruit, so far as the United States is concerned, more particularly a south Florida fruit, for it is grown in quantities only in those sections of the state where there is little or no frost. Despite the fact that the raising of guavas is easily accomplished and the returns great so far as a big crop of fruit is concerned, and that the fruit makes delicious jelly, jam or preserves, and may be used in a hundred different ways, there has been, thus far, but spasmodic efforts in Florida to utilize this means of producing wealth—little real effort to concentrate and make it into an industry. To be sure, housewives throughout the state anxiously await the coming of the guava season each year and put up much of the delicious fruit in various ways; some put it up for sale in a small local way, and reap good profits. Less than a year ago one of the largest canning concerns in the country began the preserving of guavas in a small way here and is marketing the product—feeling its way to a larger field.

Last year thousands of bushels of guavas rotted on the ground in south Florida, because they were a drug on the market and the means of preserving the fruit on a large scale not at hand. Even had all the fruit been utilized through use of the preserving kettle it might have been sold quickly, because it must be advertised. For while the guava is appreciated where it is known, yet because it may not be shipped owing to its perishable nature, it is little known outside of tropical and semi-tropical climates. If the suggestion of The Times is adopted and a day is set aside as guava day in Florida, the guava industry will have received its first big impetus. Let the people of this state take an interest in what can be made an industry on a scale with her citrus fruit industry and the real start will have been made. Advertisers in Florida and its products needs.

Here is The Times' plan. Set aside a day—say February 15 as Guava Day. On that date let every housewife in the state go to her grocer and buy guava jelly or jam, or preserves a jar or more. If the grocer doesn't carry it in stock find out why and urge him to do so. Let the grocers make a display of this peculiarly Florida product and in that way help to advertise to our northern friends, who will be in the state by tens of thousands at that time, the fact that Florida produces a fruit of peculiar merit. Also the hotel men and restaurant keepers see to it that guavas are on their bills of fare that day. This is a field for all. The state papers, and particularly those in south Florida, should take a hand. No one man or newspaper can make the Florida guava as famous as it ought to be. All are invited to come in on the job and help turn the wheel. Tampa Times.

Powers Loses His Suit

The Circuit Court late Friday evening disposed of the case of Frank J. Powers versus Joe Cameron, assuming damages $5,000, finding a verdict for the defendant. The case was taken up on its second trial late Thursday afternoon, and was hotly contested all during yesterday. In the first trial a verdict was given in favor of Powers, but not being satisfied he appealed the case to the Supreme Court, where it was reversed.

The suit involved a large commission claimed by the plaintiff in a land sale for the defendant, the latter setting up the claim that the former did not have the right to dispose of the land in question. The jury in the case were David Lockhart, S. E. Mathers, M. H. Land, C. S. McIntosh, W. R. Matthews and Chauncey Holt. The plaintiff was represented by Judge T. P. Warlow and Judge Carter, while Carl Robinson and George A. DeCottes represented the defense. -Reporter-Star.

Ladies Aid Society

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church which met at the home of Mrs. C. C. Woodruff Monday afternoon was well attended. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. R. L. Peck, president of the society. After the business of the society had been transacted the hostess served a delicious fruit punch and slices and the members of the society enjoyed a pleasant social half-hour together.

Cecilian Music Club

The Cecilian Music Club will hold their regular meeting at the studio of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

MADDOCKS-FIELD PLAYERS

Norman R. Fields With the Maddocks Field Players. The cast of excellent players, who are to appear here soon, is said to be one of the best in the south, each member an artist in his or her respective line, making it possible for perfect productions in the way the author of the play intended. The sterling young actor, Mr. Norman R. Field, heads the cast and is considered one of the highest favorites, as a stock leading man in the south today. His clever work and gentlemanly principles have won for him a host of friends and admirers, who are always glad to welcome his return whenever he appears. Other members of the well balanced company are Dorothy LaRue, Dixie Burleigh, Mary Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Hogan, the Mysterious Lillide, J. V. Brock, Oscar B. Boes, Frank Maddocks, Happy Jack Kearney and others. This cast is a guarantee of a first class entertainment, as several of them will be remembered as having "made good" with other attractions during the past.

Two cars of vitrified brick were received Thursday, making a total of twenty-six cars that have been shipped to Gainesville by the Georgia Engineering Company to apply on the big paving contract they have there. The twenty-six cars will be sufficient to pave about three blocks around the court house square, but as soon as the contractors begin the work of grading they will, it is said, have consignments reach the city daily. -Gainesville Sun.

Sunday morning petitions for a wet and dry election will be put in circulation in every part of Dade county, according to the plans of the "drys" committee of which Mr. Edwin Nelson, president of the Dade County Security Company, is the head. The petitions are all prepared and today are being sent to representative "dry" men in every town in the county with a letter explaining the purpose of the petition, and with suggestions for carrying on the work of getting signers.

The Tampa Benevolent, Protective Order of Elks will open a carnival in that city on the 3rd of February, lasting two weeks. They have engaged the Nat Jones shows to entertain the public during this time.

MANATEE CELERY CROP

Only 40 per Cent of Last Year Due to the Smaller Acreage. Manatee, Fla., Jan. 30.—Conservative estimates place the celery crop in per cent less than last year, due to a smaller acreage. Spraying has been general with most of the growers and the greater part of the fields make a good showing, but in fields that have not been sprayed there is some blight. Just what the cool weather is going to do for the blighted fields remains to be seen. There have been a few cars moved, about everything going to New York. Next week it is estimated that 25 to 40 cars will be moved with the heaviest car lot movement during the second week in January. The 12 inch crate is used and sizes are generally large, with a long stalk. The asking price has been $2.25 to $2.50. Hot weather has seriously affected the lettuce crop and has cut the car lot movement far below earlier estimates. About the last of the cauliflower crop has been shipped. -Produce News.

Notice to Creditors. MONROE ITEMS

Last Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock the life of Wade Henderson was called to its home beyond. Mr. Henderson had just arrived from Marshall, N. C., with his father, thinking that the climate would improve him in his health, having only been here a few days, he was stricken with a severe illness and died instantly from heart trouble. Mr. Henderson was at the time of his death Clerk of the Circuit Court at Marshall, N. C. The body was taken to his home in N. C. for burial Saturday night accompanied by his father and brother Denny, of this place.

J. W. Bell was in Orlando the first of the week on business.

Rev. Mr. Hunt, a former pastor of Sanford Presbyterian church has kindly consented to preach for the Monroe people next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at the new school house. All are cordially invited to attend.

Best Story of Season

In the Saturday Evening Post of February 15th issue will appear "The Sultana," by Henry Rowland and this will be one of the finest pieces of fiction published this season. See Reginald Holly at The Herald office about your subscription. Following is a synopsis of the story:

The automobile carrying Robert Sautrelle, designer for the leading jeweler in France and the Sultana, the finest blue diamond in the world, at the home of its owner dashed into a tunnel. The chauffeur peered into the dim light, then quickly threw on the brakes. The car came to a halt within a few feet of another automobile, which stood directly across the road. Jumping out, Sautrelle learned that the second machine had met with an accident. His offer to assist in pushing the car to the side of the road was accepted.

With hands clinched under the rear spring, he was waiting for the word "push," when suddenly there flashed across his vision what seemed to be a multitude of shooting, swimming lights—and then for several minutes he knew no more. When he regained consciousness the supposed crippled automobile and its occupants had gone. Staggering to his own car, Sautrelle found that the case containing the Sultana had also disappeared.

Then in the rapid, dramatic fashion which has made him one of the best writers of mystery, adventure and love, Mr. Rowland tells how the young designer, aided by an American doctor who was a guest at the home of Sautrelle's sweetheart, recovered the Sultana, and in addition found happiness for himself and the physician. The Sultana will be published in six installments.

Lover's Unique Devotion.

An unusual manner in which a lover's devotion was shown occurred at Zurich, Switzerland, recently. A cobbler, whose sweetheart died, apprenticed himself to a stone-cutter in order to execute a fitting tribute to her memory, and after fourteen months he was able to carve a beautiful rose on a marble slab and write beneath: "Such was She." After it had been erected over her grave he returned to his first trade, and now repairs shoes as before.

What the Eyebrows Tell Us.

There is more character in the eyebrows than one would suppose. If they are very much arched, they denote a weak, changeable nature. Eyebrows that meet signify bad temper and a jealous disposition, but if there is a good wide space between them, their owner is probably very unselfish and good tempered. If they are darker than the hair, their owner will be passionate but inconsistent in love; if lighter, they reveal a weak disposition.

Town Crier Has Fertile Mind.

The town crier of Folkestone, England, has found a novel way of solving a difficulty arising in a quarrel with the lord who owns the town. The lord forbade the shouting of the crier on the beach, and the crier, who loves his profession, bought a boat and a megaphone, and now shouts his announcements from the crest of the waves to the assembled people on the beach.

Good for Honing Razors.

People who hone their own razors will be interested in the statement in one of the magazines that what is known as "cuttlefish paper" makes an ideal material for the rapid honing of razors, surgical instruments, etc. This paper is made for use by dentists for polishing gold fillings, and is coated with an abrasive substance of remarkably fine grain.

Great Bonus Offer to Close Thursday at 4 O'Clock P. M.

Candidates Should Make Last Days of Extra Vote Proposition Count By Giving in as Much New Yearly Business as Possible

Only three more days remain of the largest bonus offer in The Herald's contest.

A pertinent question is: What have I done toward laying away a few clubs? Remember that your success or failure will depend to a great extent on the amount of effort that you put forth during this offer, and not a moment should be allowed to slip by unimproved during the remainder of the time. If you have been having good success with new yearly subscriptions so far, make up your mind to have better success during the last days of the bonus offer. If you have accomplished but little, let your efforts from now until the closing hour make up for lost time.

Rumors of All Sorts

This is the stage at which the air is filled with rumors of all sorts. So and so has so many clubs; So and so has so many long term subscriptions, or that so and so has so many new subscriptions to hand in Thursday. Others have formed or are forming a combination designed to "clinch the piano" for so and so, etc.; there may be a grain of truth in such reports but candidates will do well to take these as the natural product of the present situation and "keep a hammering" for subscriptions to swell their own totals.

Let the rumor mongers amuse themselves if they will. If it is true you can't help it, and if it is not true, it surely cannot hurt you.

No More Coupon Votes

The last coupon good for one hundred votes appeared in last Friday's issue of The Herald and hereafter the subscription will be the order of the day.

Voting Power of Subscriptions

Payments on all subscriptions will earn votes according to the following schedule. Renewal and back subscriptions count the same as new subscriptions:

4 years' 8.00	18,000 votes

Music Club

The Music Club held their regular meeting at the studio of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. R. E. Tolar, leader.

The program was opened by a very fine article on the Norwegian composer, Grieg, read by Mrs. Munson, which was combined with a most interesting talk by her on Grieg, one of her favorite composers.

A short sketch on the Life and Works of Sinding was read by Miss Josie Stumon.

The discussion contrasting Grieg and Sinding was led by Mrs. Munson.

In demonstrating the work and style of Sinding was led by Mrs. Munson. In demonstrating the work and style of composition of Sinding, Mrs. R. E. Tolar delighted the club by rendering most delightfully "The Rustle of Spring," one of his most beautiful compositions. Sinding's ability and power as a song writer was demonstrated in a charming little song, "How Many Dreams," rendered by Miss Josie Stumon on the flute, accompanied by Mrs. Munson on the piano.

The names of three new members were voted on, after which Miss Mahoney, as secretary, laid an important matter before the club, which elicited a general discussion by those present and was laid aside for another consideration. After the announcement of the next place of meeting and the leader, the club adjourned.

Mrs. J. H. Roumillat was hostess at a delightful and very pretty Auction Bridge party Thursday afternoon last. The rooms were beautifully decorated with green vines, asparagus ferns, palms and ferns.

The pretty color motif was white and yellow, accentuated by the rich verdure of the glossy green vines, the fragrance of lovely Meachal roses and the exquisite tones of beautiful pansies.

The hall was a perfect bowing of green vines, ferns and palms forming a rich background to the punch bowl and table, the white cover of which was festooned with vines and ornamented with palms.

Seven tables of bridge were played. The highest score was made by Mrs. R. E. Tolar, who won the prize, a lovely hand painted plate. The consolation prize, a pair of black silk hose was cut for and won by Mrs. Gertrude Keely. The favors were bunches of beautiful pansies.

The punch bowl was presided over by Miss Veda Ward who dispensed the refreshing beverage during the afternoon.

When the games of cards were concluded the refreshments were served in the dining room, which was decorated with vines, asparagus fern and a profusion of pansies. On the table was a handsome Battenberg cover over yellow. The centerpiece was a basket of pansies on a reflector, embanked with asparagus fern and pansies. Mrs. J. W. Dickson poured the coffee. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. F. W. Miller, Mrs. B. J. Starling, Mrs. C. G. Butt, Misses Veda Ward, Elizabeth McLaughlin and Mabel Bowler, in serving chicken salad, beaten biscuit, pimento sandwiches, olives and coffee, which was followed by orange ice in orange baskets, the handles of which were dainty little white ribbon boxes, and cake on which the color scheme of white and yellow and green was beautifully carried out.

Mrs. Roumillat's invited guests were Mrs. A. W. Brown, Mrs. T. E. Wilson, Mrs. F. L. Miller, Mrs. F. J. Gonzales, Mrs. G. A. Spear, Mrs. Robert Newman, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mrs. R. M. Marks, Mrs. C. Provisions for the tactical organization of the United States army into three infantry divisions and one cavalry division, are made in an order issued by direction of President Taft and made public tonight by Secretary of War

Before the senate President Taft expects to send to the senate the nominations of five more federal judges, making a total of 114 during his administration, a record unequalled, so far as available documents show, by any other president in four years.

BRICK ROADS WILL START

Bond Trustees Expect to Contract the Work

WILL MAKE BEST TERMS

This Innovation in Florida Will Attract Attention of Entire South

Within the next thirty days the brick paving for Sanford district will start and there will be a scene of activity all along the line. All the preliminary work has been finished and it is a certainty now that one of the large brick concerns will take the bonds and the contract for laying the brick and the district will profit by this arrangement. At the meeting of the county commissioners on Tuesday the buyers who represented the larger bond concerns were not disposed to purchase the bonds on account of the five per cent clause as it did not allow them a margin of profit large enough at the selling end and the commissioners with the consent of F. L. Woodruff decided to leave the matter to the bond trustees as the brick manufacturers were disposed to offer better terms at the contract arrangement. At a meeting of the trustees on Wednesday in this city the matter was discussed at every angle and a final settlement will be made today. The work will not be delayed at all by this arrangement as the terms of contract must be advertised for thirty days and at the end of this period the work will start.

Mr. Woodruff and the board of trustees composed of P. M. Elder, M. F. [unclear], C. E. [unclear] and [unclear] are fully alive to the situation and are safeguarding the tax payer's interests at every point and will make the very best terms possible before the final contract is made. These brick roads will be the very last word in road building in this section and will endure for all time to come if properly made and these gentlemen expect to have the very best brick and the very best work obtainable at the very best terms and the smallest per cent of interest. While all of us want the work to proceed at once we recognize the fact that the interest of the people must be protected and road work that will be done here at this time will probably be watched with great interest all over the south. Other sections have discovered that brick is the only material that will endure and the State of Florida especially will be forced to use this material now that the automobile has come to stay and the idea of making country roads of brick is an innovation in this state. Sanford is very much in the public eye at present on account of taking the initiative in the matter of creating a special road district and bonding for brick roads and the capable business men who have this matter in charge are proceeding most carefully and weighing the matter well before disposing of the bonds and making contracts.

It is certain that March first will witness the start of this great work that means so much not only to Sanford and Orange county but to the whole state as well.

MERCHANTS WILL ORGANIZE

Business Men's Association for the Betterment of Local Trade

After giving the matter deep study the merchants of this city are planning the formation of an association, having for its object a trade rating by individuals.

W. P. Henry, representing the Merchants' Mercantile Agency of Pittsburg, publishers of the Credit Experience Guide, which agency is organizing business men all over the United States in a similar way, has been here for the past week working up interest in a local organization, and will remain here for some time in the interest of the movement.

By this system all individuals, as well as firms, are put on record showing how many places they deal, what amount of credit they obtain, and how they pay each firm with which they have had credit dealings, accordingly they are rated "prompt pay," "fair pay," "slow pay" and "no pay."

Persons who pay one or two merchants in order to use them as a reference to get credit from others, and then neglect to pay them, form the class that is largely responsible for the losses in the business world, it is said.

The aim of this system is to show such persons in their true light and make it necessary to pay cash, thus reducing the loss in extending credit.

"What the trading public should insist upon," said Mr. Henry, "is that their merchants give them a rating, so that when they ask for credit all that is necessary is to refer to the guide."

"There are many people who are not intentionally slow in paying their accounts, but are neglectful, and when they understand that they must be rated they will endeavor to secure the best rating possible, and will be more prompt, instead of allowing their bills to accumulate. The book is now published in the greater portion of the United States, and renewed every two years. In many states every hamlet in the state is organized under the system."

"People moving from one state or county to another are followed by special agents who give them a rating or bad risks for credit and for what amounts. This Credit Guide places the honest and prompt persons in a position that every merchant can discriminate between those who pay and those who do not. It is therefore, a benefit alike to both debtor and creditor."

"Supplements to the Credit Experience Guide are issued every sixty days in the form of a secretary's report, keeping the rating book constantly up to date."

"Each subscriber is furnished with letters to send to delinquent debtors that he may have on his books, giving them due notice to adjust their accounts, so no one can complain there was an injustice done that one after the book has been distributed."

So far, thirty-five representative business and professional men have given their indorsement and the agency will continue the work of enlisting the interest and cooperation of the merchants until practically every business and professional man in the city is enrolled. A meeting will soon be called, officers elected and the details of the working out of the plan will be taken up.

REFUSED TO PAY LICENSE

TOURIST TESTS LAW'S VALIDITY

Other Items About the Troubles and Trials of Florida in General

The first arrest in Volusia county for refusal to pay automobile license occurred when C. C. Boynton was arrested at the instance of License Collector M. L. Crews. Mr. Boynton was given a preliminary before Justice M. H. Zuber and bound over for trial before the Criminal Court under bond of $20 which he deposited in cash. Mr. Boynton claims that he had been in the State only a short time and intends to leave here for Tampa very shortly. Justice Zuber could not see that the excuse was sufficient justification and decided that Mr. Boynton has violated the law.

The Fort Meade Board of Trade has been operating upon original lines lately. It held a fiddlers' convention the other day that held it flooded much fun and amusement, also brought into the treasury considerable cash. Another enterprise on the same lines, an old maid's convention is projected. An active advertising campaign is on foot which, if carried out as outlined, will undoubtedly bring great benefit.

The public schools of Tarpon Springs are said to be enjoying one of the most successful years in their history. The enrollment of the schools is upward of 1000 and attendance the best for some years.

LADIES CAN NAME IT

There has been a lot of talk about the new county. Like every other county, they have the ladies taken the most interest in naming the new body and The Herald has been an important time and again. We have some scheme for letting the ladies vote on the name and we have Mr. Thrasher has kindly consented to furnish a ballot box and ballots in his pharmacy and every one who is interested in the matter can vote. Simply write the name of the county and sign your own name and drop the ballot in the box. The name receiving the most votes will win. Hurry up and put in your ballot.

MR. PAUL GILMORE COMING

Mr. Gilmore's engagement at the Imperial Theatre which begins Feb. 19th, will present the actor-manager in a big dominant roll of the type which playgoers have learned to associate with his name.

"The Havoc" is a tense gripping drama, built upon the story of a duel of wits between an injured husband and a treacherous guest in his home. The big role of the play, the husband, offers one of the most convincing characters seen on the stage in recent years, and is played by Mr. Gilmore with the quiet power and tense nervous force he showed in "The Mummy and the Hummingbird."

MILLION DOLLAR NIGHT

Sanford Boys Making Good in Marts Of Trade

The following from the Times-Union will be interesting to the friends of Arthur J. and Fred F. Doyle and E. M. Doyle, all of them former Sanford boys who have made good in the commercial world:

"Million Dollar Night" was celebrated by the local representatives of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company at a dinner given by the officials of the company at the Aragon Hotel beginning at 7 o'clock. At the same hour representatives in seventy-four other cities of the United States and Canada gathered around tables for similar feasts.

The dinner was served in the west grill of the Aragon, and was presided over by Arthur J. Doyle, local representative of the company, who was assisted in entertaining by Fred F. Doyle, who is in charge of the Tampa branch.

The Doyle brothers are listed as No. 11 out of thirty-five on the president's million dollars banner of district sales managers for the month of December, 1912.

After the excellent dinner provided there were a number of addresses made by the Burroughs men as follows:

Lessons from our Great December and Prospects for 1913, A. J. Doyle.

Classing the Stars of the Month, Fred F. Doyle and What it Taught Me, E. M. Doyle.

How the Inspection Service Has Made the Agency Quota, W. W. Chapman.

M. Harbes, President, San Jose, W. J. Mack, J. Doyle.

How Advertising Played Its Part, H. N. Clermont.

How the Salesman Can Help Company in the Trouble, Lost to a Boy of Rose, C. W. Smith.

The Daily Report and How to Make It Return Dividends, J. W. Adams.

My Experiences in Pursuit of the Agile Mail Inquirer, E. M. Doyle.

How I made the Sales Bulletin Work for Me, E. M. Doyle.

How an Assistant Salesman Can Help, H. N. Clermont.

What I Learned from a Trip, W. H. Thompson.

A. J. and E. F. Doyle will leave for Friday for Detroit where they go to attend the annual convention of the sales managers on Feb. 10th, which is to last three days.

Three Banks Rescued

During the low price of cotton and the many strikes which occurred last month in the cotton growing state of Georgia the cotton growers could not meet their obligations and the directors turned the banks over to the state banking department, and the head of that department sent for Mr. W. D. Massey, W. S. Witham and J. A. Sasser as officers of the Bankers Trust Company of Atlanta to consult with them with a view of getting that Trust Co. to act as financial agent for the banks in trouble, and which were then outside of what is commonly known as the Witham Bank System.

At the request of the state department the auditors of the Bankers Trust Co. investigated the three banks in question and as a result of this investigation and precaution of the banking department, all three were saved from failure and receivership being financed through all their dangers by the financial agent referred to.

Showing that banking is largely a matter of public confidence, the deposits increased instead of decreased at Waynesboro as soon as the public was informed, through their local paper, that the Bankers Trust Company had become financial agent for these banks.

The significance of the above article taken from a Waynesboro, Georgia, paper, and the above mentioned fact that the Bankers Trust Company are large stockholders in our Peoples Bank of Sanford.

The Sentinel says that the indications are that Largo will reach the amount of 200,000 boxes of citrus fruit this season. Already 85,000 boxes have been shipped and the busiest season will be from now on.

MRS FLETCHER HONORED

Elected President of the Congressional Club

WIFE OF FLORIDA SR. SENATOR

Other Items of Interest Taking Place in the World at Large

Mrs. Duncan U. Fletcher, wife of the Florida senator, was unanimously elected president of the Congressional club at the regular meeting of the club at Washington. An eleven hour scheme to enter a number of candidates against Mrs. Fletcher failed to materialize. Following annual reports by Mrs. Roberts, the retiring president, and other officers, Mrs. Fletcher was put up for president as the result of the primary of a few weeks ago. The other primary chosen candidate, Mrs. Claude Swanson, had withdrawn, leaving Mrs. Fletcher the only candidate of record.

The Bulgarians are devoting their chief attention to the bombardment of Adrianople and an attempt to capture Gallipoli and so take the route to the sea. An official dispatch issued at Constantinople indicates that the Bulgarians have been successful in their operations in the latter part of the month, and according to a Sofia dispatch the capture of Gallipoli is the chief object of the Bulgarian ambitions for the present, and no serious attempt will be made to force the Tchatalja lines.

Van Valzah On The Job

Among the many prominent citizens who have visited the Deep Water at Mosquito Lake during the past week was Dr. J. A. Van Valzah, one of the most prominent doctors of the East Coast and a member of the Legislature who will fight the pure Insurance Trust to the last ditch. The doctor was elected on this platform and has his facts well in hand and in him the people will find a most formidable advocate in travelling over the state with petitions and getting thousands of signatures for the people are aroused to the fact that unless the Insurance Trust is broken this time there will be no end to their high taxes and ruin. Dr. Van Valzah is expected to be in Sanford bearing the following message:

"Who will read this fight for the people against the Insurance Trust?"

"The Record is pleased to see that Dr. John A. Van Valzah, who is one of Volusia's members of the next Legislature, is out in a lengthy article in Dixie in defence of the people, and in denunciation of these pirate insurance companies in continuing their brazen robbery of the people."

"The Doctor will make a desperate effort before the Legislature to protect the people of Florida from these giant robbers, who have in force the most damnable trust existing in this country."—Deland Record.

The above is from over 500 clippings of the Florida State Press. Keep it up, gentlemen, the press is mightier than the sword.

California sent her grafters to prison. Ohio has just sent Senators and Representatives to the penitentiary.

Florida will put the blame where it belongs, and send up a few lobbyists and the scoundrels who hire them to corrupt and debauch our law makers.

Three petitions will be circulated as follows:

To the Mayors, in which they will pledge themselves to call a meeting. To the editors, pledging themselves to print this call, attend the meeting and print a correct report of same, together with an article stating in concise form the plan, ways this trust will try to beat this bill, and send a marked copy to each of our representatives, both in the House and Senate. Also one to the people, pledging themselves to attend this meeting and take the necessary resolution.

To the Legislators, in which they will pledge themselves to knock out the Insurance Trust and reduce the cost of living in this state about twenty-five per cent.

These petitions will be posted in public places, stating where these petitions will be left in your city for these to sign. The sooner the better.

Ask your Senator and Representative to represent you in this, and not the Trust. Watch this bill, all kinds of money and crookedness will be used to defeat it.

The Bible says you cannot serve two masters. A vote for this bill is for the people. Any action against it is for the History—Two sets of books recently contributed are valuable for research along historical lines.

"Magazine of American History," edited by Mrs. Mary Lamb. Some of the contents are interesting chapters on "Ancient Society in Tennessee," "Notable Editors, 1774-1800," "Unpublished Washington Letters," "Pioneer Work of Jared Sparks," etc. There are six large volumes to, students of history, take notice, come to the little room, corner of Magnolia avenue and Second street, and use them to your profit.

The second set is in thirty-five volumes and is the work of Jared Sparks.

Various little books published in 1845; valuable, too, as is proven by the fact that the present generation of literary men still continue to appropriate facts and material for their own work from this pioneer collection of American Biography.

Fiction—"Short Story Classics" (6 vol.). The word "classic" means any work accepted as a standard of excellence. It is interesting to know what in the opinion of William Patten, editor, is most excellent in the stories of such favorite authors as John Fox, Jr., Frank Stockton, Octavo Thonet, Robert Grant, Henry James and others—well known.
