

Time Is Ripe For U. S. To Exert Pressure On Japs

America May Extend Prestige In Orient While Others Fight

By PRESTON GROVER
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—As the time approaches for negotiation of the U. S.-Japanese trade treaty, both Japanese and American observers appear to recognize that never before has there been a time when this country could apply so much pressure to get Japan to change its ways in the Orient.

Germany is busy in Europe, which frees Russia to act independently or aggressively in the East.

Japan is involved in China in a costly "incident" from which no great profit can be expected for a generation.

The United States, free of any involvement in Europe, is able to strengthen its hand in the Orient.

Japan is in need of recovering some of her losses by sharing the profitable trade coming from the European war. For this she needs American raw materials.

There is active sentiment in this country for retaliatory acts against Japan.

Finally, the rehabilitation of China will require huge capital resources, which are available nowhere except in the United States.

Add all that up and you will understand more clearly how looking to Japan as the source of U. S. Ambassador news in Tokyo in which he pointed out the sentiment in this country to frown upon Japan.

Official Comment
There was immediate expression of resentment in Japan. But it did not creep into official comment. Yachihiro Suma, who had to be in Washington as emergency counselor, announced in Tokyo there would be no official reply.

Suma, who is a veritable hotelier, a sort of one-man good will mission, harked back to the hoary Japanese contention that Americans do not understand the Oriental situation. Moreover, he added, American reaction toward Japan is motivated more by sentiment than by realism.

That, doubtless, is true enough, but what America's policy is to be in the Orient is as likely to be governed by our sentiment toward China in particular and toward the under-dog in general, as by the so-called realities.

Some Suggested Terms
To date Japan has made no official approach to the U. S. for negotiations on the trade treaty. When Japan does, probably soon, she will be forced to recognize that she needs much from America, while there is little the United States needs from Japan.

Spokesman Suma did point out one recognized truism, that the U. S. must make some advance to match those of Japan. He did not list them, but enlightened self-interest on the part of the United States, some writers point out, might suggest some-every convenience for these visitors.

thing along these lines:

Relinquishment of the Japanese exclusion act of 1924.

Easing of the tariff and trade barriers that contributed to the economic pinch in Japan that, in part, was the motive for her foray into China.

Loans for China betterment, and perhaps even directly to Japanese interests.

A primary concession from Japan would be some sort of assurance that approximately equal rights in China will be restored to all nations—with Japan out of the saddle.

French Intention Is To Hold Down Loss Of Soldiers

Wounded Fighters Have Better Chance Of Pulling Through

PARIS, Oct. 29.—(AP)—France, playing a cautious game on the Western front, is taking no unnecessary risks with her soldiers. The aim of the French high command is to keep casualties down to the absolute minimum.

That's Break No. 1 for the pole. Break No. 2 is that, if he does get clipped, he stands a much better chance of pulling through than ever before, according to expert medical opinion.

France expects to have a far greater proportion of her war wounded this time. There are six reasons for the hope: improvements in surgery, blood transfusion, transportation of the wounded, equipment of hospitals, methods for combating infection, and the sanitary organization at the front.

French soldiers reportedly are getting anti-tetanus injections just like typhoid or smallpox vaccinations—simply as a precautionary measure. This is a safeguard in case a soldier is hit by that dread foe of the army surgeon, gangrene. Before now, no one had dreamed of anti-tetanus until after a man had been shot up.

A "remarkable new disinfectant" holds out the hope of victory over another grave wartime affliction—streptococcal infection—according to experts.

One of the greatest medical advances, however, has been in the ability to distinguish among various stages of shock. The diagnosis is complex and so important that a man's life may depend on it.

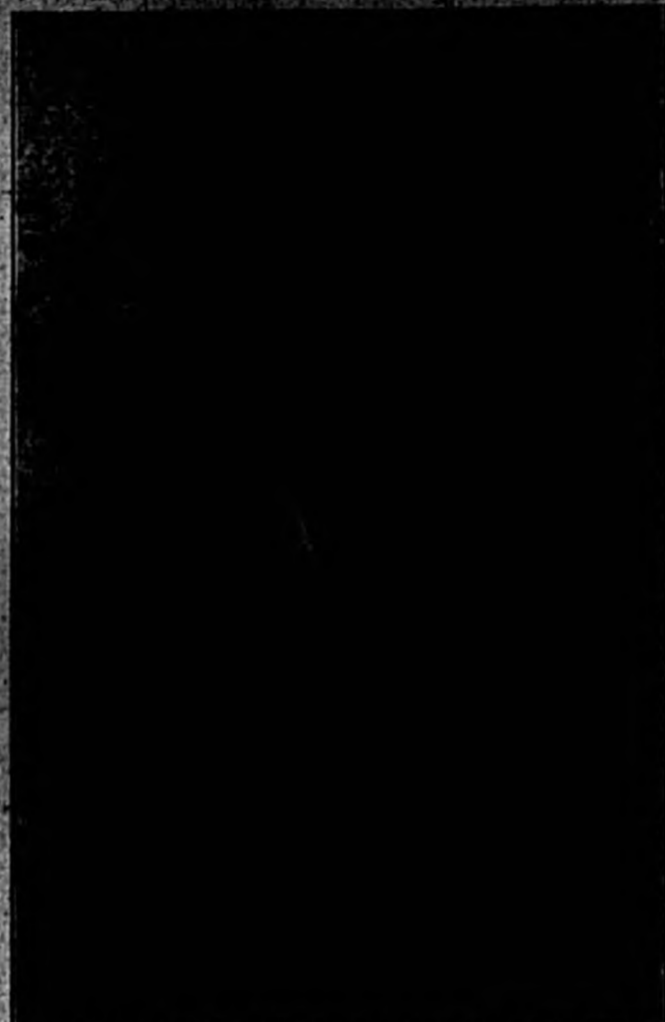

Should a surgeon operate now or later? He is more nearly certain today, thanks to research developments.

Amputation—that radical remedy of last resort—is less hazardous now because surgeons have learned much about it in the past 20 years. Surgeons know more, too, about dealing with severed arteries.

Blood transfusions are facilitated by a new method of storing human blood. Paris hospitals are collecting different types of blood and sending it to the front. Mixed with a special solution and kept at a low temperature, the blood can be preserved for from two weeks to months. The new process christens the frantic search for the correct type of blood by an individual lie between life and death.

Ambulances are faster and

TYPICAL ST. JOHNS SCENE

This scene of unusual natural beauty is one of many along the St. Johns River which is overhung by moss-hung oaks, giant cypresses and stately palms along its entire course through semi-tropical jungles. This picture was taken at Looking Glass Reach.

Members of the King's Guards, personal escort of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, have to be 5 feet 4 inches tall and good-looking. There are 100 men and five officers in the guard. Each has seven perfectly-tailored uniforms.

These hospitals, as well as those behind the lines, are equipped as never before for such wartime functions as extracting bullets, mending fractures, and general patching up.

The comfortable underground barracks with all requisite facilities should mean less disease. War still is HELL. But the French high command, digging in for a long siege, is doing its utmost to make HELL as palatable as possible to the poilu.

Cockfighting is the chief sport of the peons of Puerto Rico.

Utility Groups To Hold Advertising Drive This Fall

LAKELAND, Oct. 29.—Two large public utility corporations in Florida have agreed to conduct advertising campaigns in Florida this winter stressing the importance of the citrus industry, and a third is expected to join the campaign shortly.

The Florida Public Service Company of Orlando and the Florida Power corporation at St. Petersburg already have agreed to sponsor a series of advertisements in their Florida newspapers devoted to the citrus industry. Negotiations are under way with the Florida Power and Light Company at Miami.

These public utilities have long followed a policy of devoting much of their advertising to the cause of essential Florida industries.

Advertisements will appear co-operating with the citrus commission's campaign for selling Florida citrus as Christmas gifts, and other advertisements will be devoted to the citrus industry as a whole.

Newspapers throughout the citrus belt are utilized as advertising media by these public utility corporations. In addition, Florida Public Service is sending out a questionnaire to 300,000 northerners with pertinent inquiries about citrus fruit preferences. As the questionnaires are being directed to persons with some interest in the Florida utility, it is expected an unusually large percentage of completed answers will be received. The replies will be carefully analyzed by the commission's advertising agency.

Poland Cannot Be Restored, Russian Premier Declares

It Is Absurd To Continue War For Such Cause, Molotoff States In Address

Accusations Are Hurling At Allies

Britain, France Charged With Seeking Excuses For War

MOSCOW, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Foreign Commissar Molotoff today accused President Roosevelt of mixing in Soviet Russia's negotiations with Finland "in contradiction of the United States policy of neutrality." He said Russia is demanding a pact from Finland similar to agreements which have made the three small Baltic states virtual Russian protectorates.

MOSCOW, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's premier and foreign minister, Vyacheslav Molotoff, declared today "there can be no question of restoring Poland" and that it was "absurd to continue the present war" for such a cause.

He declared that although the governments of Britain and France understand this, they do not want the war stopped and peace restored. He accused the Allies of seeking new excuses for continuing the war with Germany and scoffed at the British and French ruling classes which "have lately been attempting to depict themselves as champions of democratic rights of nations against Hitlerism."

Surveying the international situation in a speech before an extraordinary session of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, Molotoff said Britain and France had declared "something in the nature of an ideological war on Germany, reminiscent of the religious wars of older times."

"It is back to the Middle Ages, to the days of religious wars, superstition and cultural deterioration that ruling classes of Britain and France want to drag us," he asked. "There is absolutely no justification for a war of this kind."

City Of Flint Is On Way To Nazi Port Of Hamburg

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The captured American freighter City of Flint, with the Nazi swastika flying from her mast, steamed out of the Norwegian port of Tromsø late yesterday, heading toward a German port through the north of Great Britain's naval blockade.

Captain Joseph A. Gannard and his American crew of 40 men were present aboard their ship as it set out to run the gauntlet of British warships in the North Sea with a German prize crew in command. Tromsø dispatches said.

The City of Flint, captured in Belgium on Oct. 9 by the sea-going German pocket battleship, Deutschland, arrived in Tromsø yesterday after three days' voyage from the German port of Murmansk in the Arctic Sea where it was captured. Apparently still under German command, it will be taken to Hamburg.

The American ship, putting in a special appearance at Tromsø, was the first to be captured by the German prize crew in the North Sea. It was the first American ship to be captured by the German prize crew in the North Sea.

House Turns Out In Full For Debate

Bankhead Says There Is No Grounds For Charge Hurling By Opponents Of Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The House turned out in full force today to find out what the Senate-approved Arms Embargo repeal bill.

Speaker Bankhead told news men there "was no possible grounds" for the contention that the proposed House procedure on the neutrality bill was a "gag."

Rep. Fish, New York Republican, who is leading opponent of the Administration measure, complained that tactics used to get the bill before the House for speedy action imposed "a victim's gag."

Bankhead said the prospect for the legislation sought by President Roosevelt were "all right" but he did not predict the margin he expected the House to pass the bill.

The House began consideration of the bill today under a rule which does not fix the length of debate but which would deny members the right to amend the bill.

Legionnaires Plan Participation In Nov. 11 Program

The Campbell Loring American Legion Post is co-operating in every way to assure the success of the Armistice Day celebration planned for Sanford on Nov. 11. In addition to the legionnaires themselves, the post will enter its locomotive, a float and the Sons of the Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

Boy awards will be given the boy and girl in each of Seminole County's high school graduating classes who are adjudged to rank the highest in the following requirements: courage, honor, service, leadership and scholarship.

Mr. Weinstein urged all legionnaires who have not paid their dues to do so at once in order that the local post might participate in the parade which has as its prize, a full dress uniform to the post who ranks the highest in each classification.

O'Malley was indicted by the same grand jury on two counts of accepting bribes.

Both men are in Leavenworth penitentiary on their pleas of guilty to income tax evasion charges growing out of the insurance case settlement.

Warrants for arrest of the two were mailed by county authorities to Leavenworth prison. They will serve as hold charges at the time the men are released. When that will be uncertain, Pendergast was sentenced last June to 15 months and O'Malley to a year and a day. Both have applied for paroles.

Conjecture Aroused As To Duce's Reasons For Action; Nazi Envoy Leaves

Is First Step Taken Since Start Of War

Some Observers Think Act Shows German Influence Waning

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—A "showdown" of high military and Fascist leaders by Premier Mussolini and the sudden departure of the German ambassador from Rome today stirred the Italian end of the Rome-Berlin axis to its first activity since the European war started.

The German embassy attributed to "an extraordinary reason" the departure of the ambassador.

Mussolini, who has refrained from any initiative since his axis partner's invasion of Poland involved Germany in the war with France and Britain, changed seven cabinet ministers and army and Fascist militia chiefs-of-staff.

Foreign diplomats in Rome attributed the sweeping changes to conditions within the Fascist party by some observers saw evidence of lessening German influence in Rome.

Europe also looked toward Moscow for clarification of Russian policy in an extraordinary session of the Supreme Soviet opened, judging by the Soviet press comment, most observers believed Britain and France would be urged to make peace with Germany.

The British delegation returned to Moscow with Britain's "final" answer to Russian demands. Observers predicted Finland would make few if any concessions to Russia.

A German announcement said German scouts crossed the French border on the Western Front, inspected two deserted villages and captured a German plane.

From Switzerland came reports of further troop concentrations on the German side of "the man's land."

Mr. H. D. Freeman, residential chairman, announced a list of the workers who have agreed to work with her in the Roll Call. They are as follows: Mrs. H. H. Coleman, Mrs. R. L. Cornell, Mrs. R. C. Williams, Mrs. Dwight Smith, Mrs. Glenn Lingie, Mrs. J. E. Graddick, Mrs. C. R. Mason, Mrs. Maxwell Stewart, Mrs. W. H. Arnold, Mrs. L. L. Frazier, Mrs. Ralph Wight, Mrs. Phillip Bach, Mrs. H. H. Pope, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, Mrs. F. D. Scott, Mrs. George Herbert, Mrs. John Galloway, and Mrs. W. A. Lovell.

Mrs. Freeman stated that a few more volunteers for the drive in the residential district are needed.

Plans were also made at the session for entering a float in the Armistice Day parade.

House Turns Out In Full For Debate

Legislation as approved last week by the Senate.

The rule, approved by a strict partisan vote of 8 to 4 by the rules committee, was assailed by Republicans as the "most vicious gag in history" and as making puppets of the congressmen.

It was based on tangled parliamentary procedure which had most members badly confused last night. On its face, the rule simply recommended that the House disagree with Senate recommendations and that the legislation be sent to conference between agents of the two chambers for adjustment of differences.

This procedure stems from the fact that the House passed a neutrality bill last summer. The Senate scrapped all the measure except the title and wrote an entirely new version. The parliamentary maneuvers possible behind the rule are not so simple.

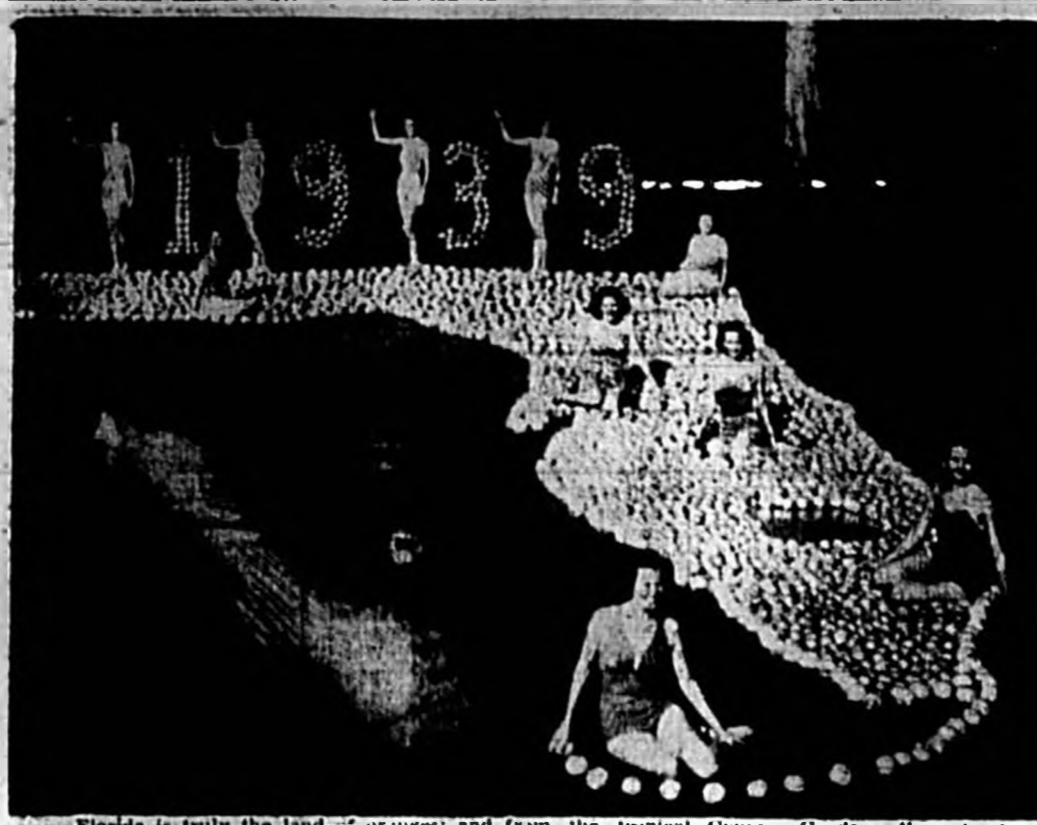

While the members will not be able to offer amendments to the bill from the floor, they will be able to make their proposals for suggested changes in the form of motions to instruct the House conferees when they meet with Senate agents. For example, Congressman Fish, New York, ranking Republican member of the foreign affairs committee, is opposed to repeal of the arms embargo voted by the Senate.

Under the rule he can, and will, move that the House conferees be instructed to insist on retention of the modified arms embargo which the lower chamber approved in its own bill last summer. Those opposed to the Senate's "semi-sid-entry" provision of any of its features may send the motion to instruct conferees to insist on the restrictive rule.

Fish warned the committee that if the legislation would not be passed by the House, he would insist on the right to legislate properly, to defeat the rule. Democratic leaders, however, were not alarmed.

Such instructions would be mandatory upon the conferees, should the conference become deadlocked because of the House instructions.

They have with them in this dispute such conservative Democratic support from Congressman Cox, Georgia, who voted for the rule yesterday after having gone on record with the declaration that he felt the rule would "impinge on the ability of members to legislate on this issue."

Finns To Assume Strong Stand On Soviet Requests

HELSINKI, Finland, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The government yesterday announced complete parliamentary solidarity on its last answer to Russia's demands and it was indicated that Finland would refuse flatly to enter into a mutual assistance pact or permit Soviet military bases on the Finnish mainland.

Relations Between U. S. And Russia Become Strained

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Constantine A. Gromansky, Soviet ambassador to the United States, is continuously cheerful and optimistic, but his optimism may be stretched to the limit by the effort required to bring Soviet-American relations into the realm of cordial friendship.

Since Gromansky, now ordered back to the United States, went to Russia several months ago on leave, many events have occurred that are in question as to the present state of relations between the two countries. The lack of cooperation against the Soviets by Secretary Hull in the case of "the City of Flint" is only the culmination of the series.

Feeling in Administration quarters here turned sharply against Russia shortly after her non-aggression pact with Germany. When the war began, some officials held Russia indirectly responsible for it, since they believed Hitler might not have marched into Poland if it had not been for the Russian aggression of that time here crystallized when Russian troops invaded Poland. Russia's statement of neutrality was received by the American government with much skepticism. It was declared, however, not to take any action such as denouncing Russia as a belligerent and including her within the neutrality act proclamation, because it was felt it was up to Britain and France to decide as to Russia's position and that any abrupt move might force Russia still further into Germany's arms.

Then came Russia's rapid move into the Baltic—into Estonia, Lat-

Florida Power Trims Osceola By 13-6 Score

Kilgore Trounces St. Johns Outfit By 11 To 2 Mark

Florida Power and Light's soft ball team last night, playing with right hand bats, trounced the Osceola Cyranas outfit 13 to 6 in a game marked by a pair of home runs, one by Buddy Lake in the third inning and one by Wilson Smith in the fifth frame.

Kilgore trounced St. Johns 11 to 2 in the nightcap as rain threatened throughout the evening. However, just as the game opened the rain started falling.

Florida Power collected 15 hits off Parris, picking for Osceola. Hodge and Kinlaw limited Osceola to six hits, Kinlaw relieving Hodge in the fifth and permitting but one hit for three innings.

Osceola scored first in the first inning getting two runs. They added three in the fourth and one in the seventh. Cleo Jeter led the Osceolas with one hit in one official trip to the plate.

Parris the Florida Power team at bat with Whiddon with four hits out of five trips up. Buddy Lake also had a home run, double and single to his credit.

Kilgore played good ball to win the St. Johns outfit. The best St. Johns could do with Black, Kilgore pitcher, was to collect three hits for their two runs. Kilgore collected nine hits for their 11 runs.

St. Johns scored one run in the fourth on a walk, passed ball, and a single. In the sixth frame they added their last tally on a clean strike by Whiddon to center field. Whiddon advanced to third on a single by R. Tatum and an error by left fielder Mansfield. On the same error Whiddon crossed the plate for the score.

Kilgore marked up three runs in the first frame, added five more in the second, and tallied their final three in the fifth.

Name of the St. Johns team not more than one hit. Jim Higgins

Live Oak Gridders, St. Augustine Head Northeast Loop

Coch Bill Ferrera's Ketterling Gridders guided up into a tie for first place in the Northeast Conference with the Mida Bwanee High team over the week-end by defeating Columbia High of Lake City, 15-7.

The St. Augustine outfit's win was its third over a loop foe. Live Oak's 13 with St. Paul's was postponed until Dec. 6.

New Smyrna, although held to a tie by Leesburg, remained among the unbeaten by defeating Palatka 25-0.

Sanford and DeLand played two games during the week. In a 191 postponed from Friday night, October 20, due to rain, Sanford defeated DeLand, 12-4. The latter night but lost to Ocala Friday night, 22-7. DeLand on Thursday night played a 6-6 draw with Winter Park, a non-conference opponent.

Leesburg upset Dunell, 18-6. Leon of Tallahassee and Daytona Beach met defeat at the hands of Big Ten Conference rivals but officials of the Clay County school yesterday asked that the game be canceled as a result of a bus wreck involving the Green Cove Springs team last Friday. Any team with an open date that would like to play the Barracudas Friday night at New Smyrna should get in touch with Coach W. R. McCracken.

Fish Is Found With Watch In Stomach

ST. CLOUD, Oct. 31.—(AP)—If your hobby is collecting queer or unusual fish stories, here's one for your scrapbook: Claude Pickett of St. Cloud recently caught a three-pound black bass and found a woman's gold 15-jewel wrist watch in its stomach. Pickett says when the watch was removed and shaken it began to tick.

An Associated Press story of the find brought an inquiry from a lady in Rahway, N. J., requesting a full description of the watch. It is believed she may have lost it when touring the state.

Fishermen Report Big Mullet Catches As Season Opens

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The best mullet season is on, and fishermen on both east and west coasts are reporting bigger and better catches than they have had in many years.

Veteran fishermen attribute the increase in mullet this season to the fact that for the first time the state conservation department enforced the closed season during spawning time last year.

Comments on the numerous letters and advice he has received from dealers and fishermen stating that as a result of this enforcement there are more mullet than in several years before, E. L. Dowling, state supervisor of the conservation department, said: "These conditions emphasize the true value of closed seasons as a means of protecting fish life, especially when they are properly enforced."

Mullet, described as being "the lamb of the sea" because it is peaceful in its habits and feeds on microscopic plants and animal life of the sea instead of devouring other fish or seafood, is Florida's greatest staple food fish.

Mullet production in Florida exceeds 24 million pounds a year and is the "old reliable" of commercial fishermen in 41 of the 48 counties which touch salt water. Two species are common in Florida waters—the black mullet and the silver mullet. Black mullet is the favorite food of thousands of local residents and visitors, and no fish market is without them in season.

The food content of mullet is of the finest quality and contains more iodine than any other Florida food fish. Its flesh is easily cooked, readily digestible, and its price is lower than that asked for any other meat in any of the food stores.

"Mullet should be protected and the supply built up," Supervisor Dowling says. "On the other hand, there should be a determined effort on the part of the industry to so advertise and publicize its fine qualities as a food fish that the demand will be greatly increased."

Nazi U-Boat Sinks Another British Ship

Crew Is Brought To Port After Unsuccessful Attempt To Tow Vessel

Egba Evades Sub Attack

Second English Steamer Is Fired On Near Gibraltar

LONDON, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Sinking of the 8,317 ton British steamer Bronte was disclosed today with the arrival in England of the crew aboard a rescue vessel.

The crew of 40 and one passenger were rescued by the ship which attempted to tow the crippled Bronte to port after it had been attacked by a submarine. The attempt failed and the Bronte sank.

At Gibraltar it was officially announced that the 4,985 ton British steamer Egba was sunk today by a German submarine but evaded attack. She is believed to have continued her voyage unharmed. The attack is said to have occurred about 240 miles east of the Madeira Islands.

German bombers attacked a flotilla of British destroyers in the North sea blockade area yesterday, the British admiralty announced last night but were fought off by anti-aircraft fire before they could do any damage. It was not known, the admiralty said, whether the destroyers damaged the two bombers, which appeared over the flotilla south of Dogger bank, a sand bank in the center of the North sea between England and Denmark.

The attack was in the heart of the blockade area. It was not known whether the Germans had launched the first of a series of raids on British warships covering the blockade of German ports. It was said that raiders were some 200 miles east of the British North sea coast, saw German planes pursued by British fighters. Observers of the British battle believed one German raider was forced down at sea. They saw the swastika-marked ship, flying so low as barely to clear buildings and telephone wires, and "smoking" as though it were afloat, just clear a cliff and disappear over the sea. When they reached vantage points on the cliff it could not be seen. They saw a few fighters were seen pursuing a twin-engine plane over a Kentish town.

Coast Guard Boat Finds No Trace Of British Freighter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The Coast Guard announced today that the cutter Bibb reached the reported position of the British freighter Columbus this morning but found no sign of the ship or survivors.

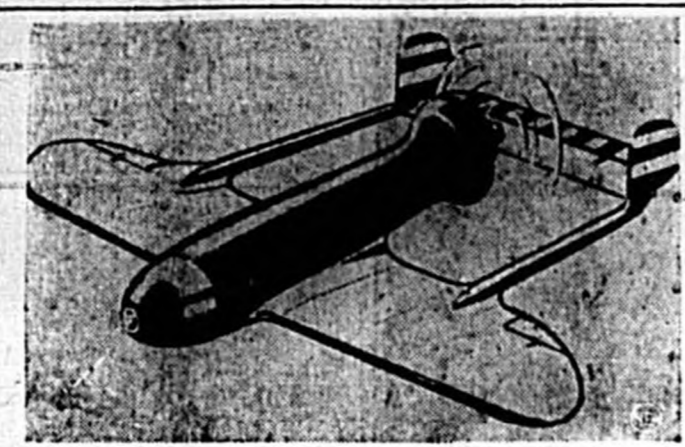

The Bibb, one of the several navy and coast guard vessels which set out last night after intercepting a distress call from the Columbus, reported it found a moderate southerly gale blowing. The spot was about 600 miles east of Boston.

The Columbus had reported it was attacked by a submarine. Plans from the coast guard also joined the search this morning.

Finns Aroused By Soviet Statement On Negotiations

HELSINKI, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Angered Finnish leaders today discussed the possibility of breaking off negotiations with Soviet Russia and recalling a mission now en route to Moscow because of last night's speech by Soviet Premier Molotov.

Molotov's speech, revealing for the first time the extent of Russia's demands on Finland, struck here like a bombshell and it was alleged that he had violated an agreement whereby neither side was to reveal any details of the pending talks.

The cabinet, after a midnight session, informed the Finnish general staff that the situation has become most serious because of the Russian demands on Finland's defense in the east.

The government wired the mission en route to Moscow to halt at Viborg on the Soviet-Finnish frontier and communicate with Molotov for instructions.

The Finns were particularly angered and chagrined because Molotov asserted that Russia had asked a mutual assistance pact with Finland—along the lines of the pact whereby Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania surrendered military laws and rights to the Russians—on the condition that Finland had rejected the proposal.

Advocates Of Arms Repeal Win Skirmish

Bill To Be Sent To Conference To Adjust Difference Between Two Houses

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Advocates of repealing the arms embargo which the House passed yesterday when it passed a conference committee to adjust differences between the Senate and House versions.

The vote, which effectively prevented the embargo from offering amendments from the floor, was taken amid many cries of "let's show the boys."

There was no roll call on the question, but Administration leaders jubilantly hailed a previous roll call on which they mustered an unexpectedly high majority of 60 votes, as indicating a safe margin for repeal of the embargo when the final test comes.

Touchton Gets Ready To Run For Governor

DADE CITY, Nov. 1.—"Touchton For Governor" state headquarters were opened in Dade City this past week in support of Fred L. Touchton, the favored candidate.

Touchton has not as yet made his official announcement, but is quoted by the Dade City Banner as stating: "When I make my official announcement and officially qualify for the Governorship by paying the starting fee, I will at the same time withdraw from private business and devote my full time to the campaign, visiting every county in the state and practically every precinct in each county."

SNOW CRUISER RIGHTED

LIMA, Ohio, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Crewmen of the 51-ton snow cruiser built for Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition moved it back yesterday to the wharfway from which it was launched Saturday on striking a bridge. They prepared to resume their Chicago-Boston trip after mechanical checks.
