

Woman Forces Mexican Airliner Into Cuba

MERIDA, Mex. (AP) — A 35-year-old woman from Argentina, who said she found life in Mexico intolerable, blacked a twin-engine turboprop airliner with 17 persons aboard Sunday and ordered the pilot to fly to Cuba.

Mexican authorities said the woman, identified as Judith Vasquez, entered the cockpit and pulled a gun from beneath a white shawl. The pilot, Captain Ricardo Erosa Troya, said that after ordering him to fly to Cuba the woman said hysterically, "I'd rather be killed in jail in Cuba than return to Mexico."

She was believed to be the first woman to seize a plane and take it to Cuba. The incident took place as the Aeromaya plane flew over Mexico's Isla Mujeres, the "Isle of Women."

After seven hours in Havana, the plane, which carried 14 passengers including three Americans and a crew of three, returned to Merida Sunday night.

In addition to Mrs. Vasquez and her daughter, Silvia, 12, and a two-month-old son Ernesto, two unidentified women passengers remained in Havana. It could not be learned if the hijack would be made until he requested that the plane be taken to Cuba. The incident, the 19th since Jan. 30.

In Havana, Mexican Ambassador Miguel Covian, who arranged for the release of the passengers and plane, said he found the hijack difficult to explain "when there are regular commercial flights between Mexico and Cuba."

Because Mexico has diplomatic relations with the Fidel Castro government, Covian said "we have the right to ask for extradition." But he said no such request would be made until he had consulted with his government.

Capt. Erosa said the black-haired woman came into the cockpit about 10 minutes after he left the tourist resort island of Cozumel on a flight to Merida, some 435 miles east of Mexico City. Merida is on the Yucatan Peninsula more than 200 miles from Havana.

Airline officials said the woman had boarded the plane earlier in Mexico City with a round-trip ticket and was on her way back.

Capt. Erosa said the woman told him she had lived in Mexico for six years. He said the woman gave no information about her husband or any of her activities.

When the plane flew over Cozumel, Erosa said, the woman collapsed and threw away the pistol in the cabin "but it was already too late to turn back because the fuel was low."

'Citizens For Humphrey' Organize

By JUDY WELLS

Seminole County's branch of "Responsible Citizens of Central Florida for Humphrey and Muskie Campaign" was organized in Sanford last night at a meeting attended by some 25 local and area Democratic dignitaries. Dr. W. Vincent Roberts, Sanford mayor and head of the "Florida Doctors for Humphrey," presided and will serve as coordinator for the local organization.

City of Oviedo now has the second highest ad valorem tax levy in the county at six mills. City of Sanford is first with 16.5 mills, including 4.5 mills for debt service. City of Altamonte Springs is third with five mills and Longwood is fourth at 3.97 mills. Neither Casselberry nor North Orlando have ad valorem taxation.

Headquarters are to be opened in the immediate future, hopefully by the weekend. In the former Penney's and Hollywood Shop buildings in downtown Sanford.

Speakers at last night's meeting included Joe Brechner, owner-manager of WFTS Channel 9 television; Martin Segal and James Collier, Orlando attorneys; Dr. Luis Peñalosa, local campaign manager for the "Campaign for Congress" campaign; John Kader, chairman of the Sanford Democratic headquarters; Walter A. Glidew, publisher of the Sanford Herald; E. L. Blackbeare, principal of Crosses High School in Sanford, and Rev. H. B. Whitehurst, representative of the "Responsible Citizens" for Lake and Sumter Counties.

Mrs. Roberts, who has been appointed head of the "Women for Humphrey" campaign in the Fourth Congressional District, brought a message from Industrialist Jeno Paulecci, bringing the group up to date on what has taken place in the campaign and what is to be expected in the near future.

In a resolution approved unanimously by the organization, it is stated, in part: "We feel strongly that in these days of strong feelings that as reasonable and responsible citizens of Central Florida, we must recognize the realities of our local, state, national and international problems, and not seek simplistic solutions, scapegoats, or so-called 'miracle' workers to meet the challenges of our times; "We feel that in the heat and emotion of this political campaign, we speak for a vast group of silent electorate who ourselves to elect Hubert Humphrey as President of the United States and will support him wholeheartedly with our energy, our combined efforts, and funds to achieve this objective in the interest of all citizens and in the best interest of our nation;

"We stand ready to dedicate ourselves to solve problems with intelligence and realism; "We challenge those who offer chaos, dictatorship, and racialism, plaudits, and meaningless campaign promises to achieve the presidency of our nation;

"We invite all citizens in Central Florida to assert their own support to Mr. Humphrey for President individually and collectively with this volunteer group of responsible citizens; "We are confident that with full information, with clarification of stands by all candidates, with intelligent and judicious consideration by citizens, and voters of all ages, creeds, beliefs and national origin, that our cause will succeed for the good of our nation and for the good of all peace-loving peoples of the world."

According to Supt. William Phillips, no lunchroom facilities have been incorporated into the building and it is thought either a satellite or "brown bag" program will be instituted.

The school has 10 general classrooms, four science laboratories and homemaking suite, two business education rooms, two industrial art shops and exceptional room. Also included are two multi-purpose rooms, library, rest room, mechanical and storage areas.

Lakeview Jr. Hi Ready

By BILL SCOTT

Architect John A. Burton IV today informed The Herald that new Lakeview Junior High School for seventh graders will be ready to present to Seminole County School Board Thursday at the board's regularly scheduled meeting.

Burton said the school would be completed and ready at this time and reported his office and the contractor, Spear Construction Company of Eustis, would be making an inspection of the new structure.

With a cost of $35,304, the new facility, built on property situated adjacent to Seminole High School, was originally scheduled for delivery by opening of school in September but because of strikes in the east, bad weather and certain materials arriving in battered condition, the school board granted an extension of time.

School Trustees OK Orange Aide

The Seminole County school trustees last night unanimously voted to recommend a former Orange County school official to School Board for a position here as director of federal programs.

The action followed a one-hour question-and-answer session with Ed McCoy, former principal of Wymore Tech, who was not rehired after he participated in the Florida Education Association teacher walkout a year ago.

McCoy revealed to the trustees that he and another official were the only principals not returned to their previous positions after the teacher crisis.

According to McCoy, he had refused to sign an oath to return to his old job because other Orange officials were not required to sign.

He added, "The educational climate in Orange County is such that I would not accept any form of employment there now."

Continuing on the same subject, McCoy added that four school board members would be "in for election and I expect the climate to change."

Supt. William Phillips requested the trustee action favoring McCoy for the hard-to-fill opening on the school of staff level.

Phillips said the position had been vacant for four months and it was difficult to find a qualified person such as McCoy.

At this point a discussion among trustees began over whether the School Board would approve McCoy.

Trustee John Mercer reminded those present that another trustee recommendation was denied by the School Board because of the teacher walkout.

He referred to George E. Molnar, former principal of Mount Dora High School, who was refused appointment by School Board because he had joined the striking teachers.

Under more questioning, McCoy said he would sign a loyalty oath here since this was required of all administrative personnel. He also said he would accept a teaching position here, if offered.

Phillips indicated McCoy's name probably would be presented to school board at Thursday meeting.

In another action, the trustees approved a change in previous board minutes which authorized the transfer of teacher Robert Hughes to acting assistant principal at Oviedo.

Peace President Pledged By HHH

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Democratic Hubert H. Humphrey, pledging "I shall be a peace president" if elected, today proposed annual working summit conferences between the United States and Soviet Union.

Republican Richard M. Nixon, Humphrey said as president he would seek a Vietnam settlement and peace in Vietnam, but would not offer to comfort to Communist hawks and would discourage future wars.

And third party candidate George C. Wallace, spelling out his foreign affairs goals, says "I would not consider nuclear warfare at all in Vietnam. I would rather negotiate."

The three presidential candidates made their foreign policy comments in Washington, Nixon and Wallace addressed a United Press International editors meeting Monday and Humphrey delivered a major foreign policy speech at the National Press Club.

Humphrey said he also would urge the Soviet Union to "start negotiating seriously," and he renewed his pledge to seek a Middle East peace solution.

Nixon said he would not increase bombing of North Vietnam as president and said the next president should stop the bombing when it is convinced that to do so would result in fewer American deaths.

The Republican candidate said as president he would put more emphasis on non-military aspects of the Vietnam struggle and on training of South Vietnamese.

All Is 'Go' For Apollo 3-Man Flight Friday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)
— Rocket, spaceship and all other aspects of the flight were reported in excellent shape today as the Apollo 7 astronauts began final preparations for searing into orbit Friday on this nation's first three-man space mission.

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., the command pilot Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian Walter Cunningham planned to spend most of the day in a spacecraft simulator practicing many of the maneuvers to be conducted during an earth orbit trip scheduled to last nearly 11 days.

As preparations proceeded smoothly, Dr. George E. Mueller, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration assistant space flight chief, said: "I feel Apollo 7 is an ready for flight as people make it."

Schirra says the huge Saturn IB rocket is almost as stable as the Brooklyn Bridge.

The vehicle "is almost over-engineered in the sense of safety and strength," Schirra said.

"It's very stable. This has eight engines on the bottom of it. One of those engines could fail and we would have no problem achieving orbit. In fact, two can fail as time goes on and we can still get into earth orbit," the 45-year-old astronaut said.

The 224-foot tall booster is to hurl Apollo 7 into an initial orbit ranging from 142 to 176 miles high. By firing their spacecraft engine, the astronauts will shift this path several times, reaching a maximum altitude of 282 miles.

War Wages At Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — American ground and air forces battled North Vietnamese troops along the Cambodian border and Saigon today, killing 147 of them in a two-day fight that raged on and off until last night.

The U.S. command announced that the battle with troops from the 101st Airborne Division and U.S. Marines killed 117 and wounded 12 in the battle with troops from the 101st Airborne Division and U.S. Marines.

Congress Ready To Adjourn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders see no reason why the 90th Congress can't adjourn by the end of this week.

Only President Johnson, they say, could upset plans for members to go home by Friday and campaign for re-election. All 435 House seats and one-third of the 100 Senate seats are before the voters next month.

The President could prolong the session by sending another nomination for chief justice to the Senate, which failed last week to confirm the nomination.

Albion Farns to that position.

The President withdrew the nomination at Farns' request.

Senate leaders said they have no indication the President will make a second attempt to try to name a successor to Chief Justice Earl Warren, who wants to retire.

The current session started Jan. 15.

With the court fight apparently out of the way, Senate and the House sped up consideration of some remaining measures that must be disposed of. Adjournment later was likely to hasten the action.

One of the major money bills, up for final Senate action today, is an $1.4 billion measure for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Labor Department.

It already has passed the House but in slightly different form.

Senate and House conferees were drafting final versions of the annual defense and foreign aid money bills. Differences between the two branches were not considered wide enough to endanger adjournment.

The final money bill of the session, a sharply-trimmed $10.7 billion catch-all measure, was on today's House docket.

Opponents of reductions in funds for new housing programs and the expanded food stamp program were expected to try to get more money.

Trustees Violate Sunshine Law?

Seminole County Board of Trustees may have been guilty of violating the State "Sunshine Law" at a Monday night caucus.

The possibility exists because of the vagueness of the open door law which forbids any public board from making decisions behind closed doors.

The trustees decided, near the end of an "open" session, to discuss a situation concerning a male teacher at Altamonte and promptly invited three newsmen and three spectators to leave the room.

Door was closed and the "secretive" discussion followed, with all but school officials and trustees barred.

The usual function of school trustees is to give opinions to school board if recommended by the superintendent. In this case, the trustees in violation of the "Sunshine Law."

Another violation occurred when board asked those present to leave the room.

According to Douglas Stronum, school attorney, the trustees must adjourn the session before a discussion can follow behind closed doors.

There was no formal adjournment taken during the session and this "technically" left the meeting open.

School Supt. William Phillips said today the board made no recommendation, just discussed the situation.

There are varying opinions on what the "sunshine law" says, and even lawyers do not agree on interpretation of certain portions of the complicated state ordinance.

Growing Of Roses Explained

By MARYANN MITCHELL
The problems of growing roses to the state of Florida were explained by Gene Cumbaa of the Seminole Garden Center at a recent meeting of the Seminole Welcome Wagon Club.

"The Florida public has long desired the fact that roses just do not grow well in the state. Even with the important advances made in controlling pests, life span of a rose plant is still too short," he advised.

"The University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Station undertook a project to find a rosestock which would increase the life and growth of the rose in Florida. Dr. S. E. McFadden tested various root systems and evaluated them on the basis of the number of flowers produced from one to five years after planting.

"It was found that the Fortuna roses performed better than any other used in grafting the test plants. Bushes with Fortuna roots produce the greatest number of flowers, attain the largest size and develop less stem dieback than plants with other root systems, including Dr. Huey and Multiflora. The bushes also keep an even green coloration of leaves during the summer months, while most other plants with other root systems develop moderate to severe leaf chlorosis, a symptom of iron deficiency.

"Since our winter is much like spring in other parts of the country, now is the time to plant roses. Before cold weather sets in, the bushes will have time to grow," he concluded.

A specimen plant donated by Cumbaa was shown by Mrs. Alice Barasol as the door prize.

'Dime's' Worth Of Difference In Parties?

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
A warm discussion is expected when the provocative subject, "Is There a Dime's Worth of Difference Between the Two Parties?" is introduced at the Maitland-South Seminole Chamber of Commerce national membership luncheon at noon Thursday at the Maitland Civic Center.

On the program will be Sen. Ken Plant, Rep. Griffin of Winter Garden, candidates for state senator for Orange and Seminole, and Mrs. Paula Hawkins, Maitland, Republican national committeewoman, and Mrs. Faye Oates, state president of the Florida Democratic Women's Club.

They will define the basic differences between the two major political parties and evaluate the present overall political situation.

Both women were delegates-at-large at the 1968 national conventions and will cover some of the behind-the-scenes convention activity.

Also on the agenda will be the election of five members to the board of directors for two-year terms. The nominating committee presented the following slate of candidates: Dan Goodson, manager of Montgomery Ward's Casselberry; Leslie Palmer, accountant; Donald Rogers of the First National Bank of Maitland.

The education committee is completing plans for an orientation meeting for all new Chamber members and the newly elected board. Edwin Wargus, North Branch manager for Winter Park Federal Savings and Loan Association, is chairman of the orientation.

Humans Here 1,000 B.C.
VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The first humans in east-central Florida, perhaps cannibalistic Indians, settled in what is now a swampy area near Vero Beach in 1,000 B.C., a local archeologist believes.

Homer Cato says he and other scientists believe it represents at least 2,000 years of continuous occupation, compared to only about 100 years of occupancy at most primitive sites.

Cato said about 100 to 300 persons, who may have worshiped only about 100 years of occupancy in the village. He said a cement and ash mound that is named after the site appears to be a religious ceremonial area.

He said the mound is filled with bones. Cato said the mound has been removed from its site by looking at the mound, he said the bones, making him suspect the tribe was cannibalistic.

Adequate Access Roads, An Essential Need

Editorial Comment

Gourmets and those who just like to give their meals a swinging up-lift are no strangers to the delights and enhancement of the sweet-sour sauce or flavoring treatment.

All of us living in this Central Florida area of growth and promise are sitting ready to savor and take part in this feast of progress. Today, however, we must say the meal has a sweet-sour sauce which comes from the opening of the Florida Technological University.

Like its gastronomic counterpart this flavoring coming from the event in ideological form needs to be more than savored by itself.

Quite properly we rejoice in this important addition to the educational facilities of Florida. In fact it is the very important nature of the university's mission that makes it necessary to point out a grave deficiency.

Of course this is not in the field of education. We recognize that what the university with its colleges will offer is needed not only in central Florida but in the entire state.

Dr. Charles L. Millican, FTU president, has done the difficult and complex task of reading the institution for its first year. Public enthusiasm for this university was evidenced in the crowds who found their way to the campus last Sunday for the "open house."

Once there — it is located just a couple of miles south of Oviedo, across the Seminole county line in Orange County — the visitors saw the completed buildings, met with faculty members, and were greeted by Dr. Millican.

It was a happy day on the campus. A bright educational future is dawning as this newest state-supported institution of higher learning goes through the dignified formalities of dedication.

All of this, and we repeat, ALL, is very sweet, very important and is very welcome. As is established beyond the shadow of doubt this newspaper takes back seat to none in its championing of Seminole county as the area where the next decade will see growth almost beyond comprehension.

Yet there is a "sour" ingredient. This is the fact that access roads to the university are almost completely inadequate if residents of our county or north of our county want to drive to FTU.

For example one of our editors was an autoist who was lost in the Lake Mary region for directions to drive to the FTU open house.

First, he was told, you easterly to US 17-92. Then drive south to Five Points and try to drive safely along SR 419 to Oviedo. Signs there indicate that FTU is a few miles south.

Access from the west is equally round-about. But all of this has been known ever since the location of the university was agreed upon by those affected some years ago.

Even if the road from Five Points to Oviedo was moderately safe, properly engineered and adequately maintained this drive — it is locally designated as "yak track" — is totally out of character with the space-age nature of FTU.

We have said it before. We will say it again. We must keep emphasizing that the urgent, basic need of our county are roads. These must be designated, adopted and fought for.

Competition is keen. But to provide a palatable sauce for our up-coming feast of accomplishment, let us keep demanding, battling for adequate roads — the essential ingredient!

To Our Liking!

"A FEW DAYS ago, the federal government presented John Krider of Sanford with a citation for 20 years' continuous service on the Selective Service Board, something we had forgotten he is identified with, inasmuch as he is involved with so many groups for the development of Sanford, Seminole County and Central Florida.

"For example, as a member of the Sanford City Commission, 1947-56, he was responsible for the adoption of a sound fiscal policy through reassignment of all real estate. He participated in the decisions to build a municipal stadium, swimming pools and municipal playgrounds, helped attract the Giants to Sanford where they invested $1 million in property.

"As a county commissioner, 1956-60, and chairman for three years, he completely reorganized the county government, including the reevaluation of all Seminole property; instituted countywide zoning and plat laws; put county road work on a countywide basis under a qualified engineer; began replacing outdated buildings, such as the health center and jail.

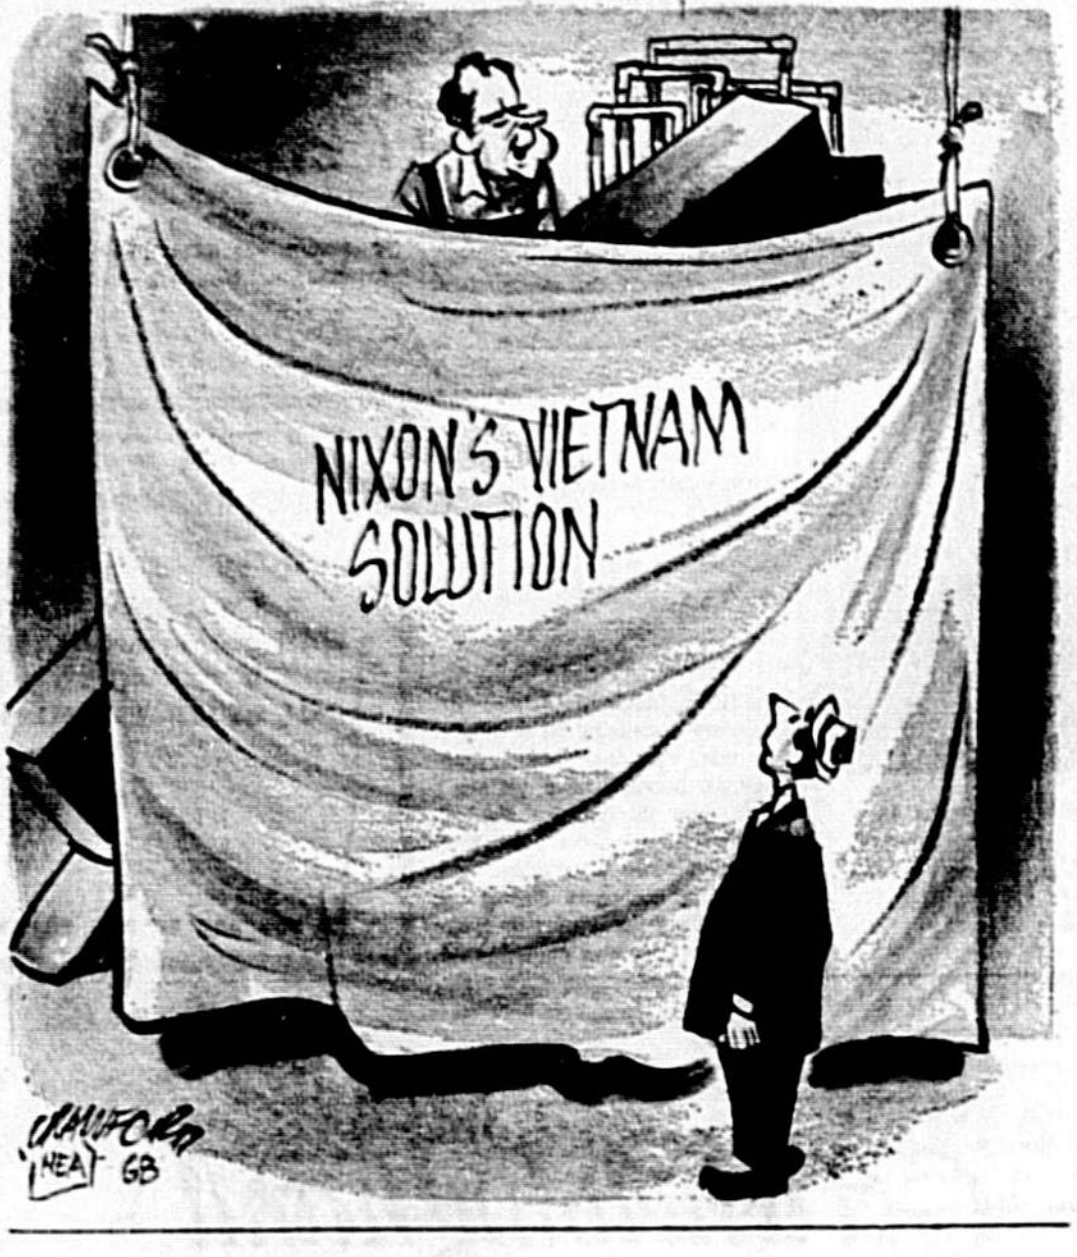

"He became manager of the Seminole County C of C in 1956 and began working on new industries, attracting many new ones. The chamber was also instrumental in having Seminole County Junior College established, worked toward the creation of Florida Tech and pushed for the motel-marina complex on Holiday Isle until it was finished.

"Krider has many interests, but perhaps his greatest is waterways. Through the chamber's program, the port of Seminole County will soon become a reality.

"Krider master-minded the creation of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District, and if everything goes according to schedule, work will start on this vital project in 1970. It ties in with the Cross-Florida Barge Canal and will bring ocean-going boats into Central Florida.

"An amazing man is John Krider, and he has done an amazing amount of good for Central Florida."

Helen Fuller Says:

Just Try The "Suppose" Game

WASHINGTON — George Wallace's choice of Vice-Presidential running mate will add fat to the campaign fire.

Until now in his race for the White House Wallace has been able to restrict himself to crime in the cities, youthful "bomb throwers," and the "long-hairs to Washington" as his issues.

According to the polls, that course is paying off. But retired General Curtis LeMay's addition to the Wallace ticket changes things.

By the anxious look on General LeMay's face during General Wallace's introductory press conference, he understands the risk he is running by taking on a partner with no previous experience in politics, none of Wallace's practiced skill in evading possibly embarrassing questions from the press.

When LeMay got into deep water in his first press encounter as a candidate, Wallace was quick to dive in and pull him out. But the Presidential candidate cannot always be at the side of his running mate. And the blunt General can cause elusive George trouble before election day.

It is not likely, however, that General LeMay will prove enough of an embarrassment to prevent Wallace from coming in as a front runner. A favorite dinner party game in Washington political circles today is "Suppose." Suppose that Wallace was enough electoral votes on November 5 to prevent either Nixon or Humphrey from gaining the clear majority of the electoral vote required to put him in the White House.

What happens then? The Constitution is clear on the subject. In that event, the selection of a President falls to the new House of Representatives that will be elected on November 8. Each of the 50 state delegations would have one vote with which to choose between the three top men in the electoral vote total. To win a candidate as chosen must have a majority—or 26—of the 50 state votes.

Interpretive Report

Muskie's Campaign Problems

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sen. Edward G. Muskie, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, is attracting more favorable publicity than his competitor, Republican nominee Ted Agnew, but it should not be supposed that Senator Muskie is without problems of his own.

One of them is that Senator Muskie's political associates and backers in Maine were involved in some questioned loans from the Small Business Administration and the Federal Housing Administration.

Muskie's $10,000-a-year assistant, John J. Jabar, was president of a nursing home in Waterville, Me., which sought a $415,000 loan guarantee from FHA.

Other loans and other officials are involved to the extent that Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware has raised questions on the possible violation of laws precluding government agencies from negotiating loans with any company controlled or partially owned by government officials.

Senator Williams, who played a leading role in exposing the Bobby Baker scandal, has been probing the role of federal employees in Maine nursing home projects without getting much more than oblique answers from the Federal Housing Administration and the Small Business Administration.

In the House of Representatives Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa has introduced legislation "that would prevent federal officials, especially those in position to promote private gain. It is a matter of the moral and ethical climate of the Senate rather than any specific violation of the law.

The first glimmering of the public distrust in President Johnson began when it was reported that his brother, Bobby Baker, as secretary of the Senate majority, grew rich from his special knowledge and position in contacting government agencies on business matters. There was no record then that Senator Johnson, as majority leader of the Senate, was involved in Baker's operations.

Nor did Vice-President Humphrey benefit in any way in the foreign aid loans for operations in India to a company with which Humphrey's former legislative aide was connected and which are now the subject of a $2.8 million civil fraud suit brought by the Department of Justice.

Inquiries into the Maine loans were begun long before it was conceivable that Muskie would be nominated for vice-president and are not related to the presidential campaign.

These inquiries are related to him although he is reported to have said his interest in the nursing home, Senate investigators will probably claim that a substantial profit was made in the sale.

Essentially, however, the questions are the same as in the Bobby Baker case which still rests heavily on the conscience of the Senate. Gilt feelings are quite prevalent in Congress on the fine lines to be drawn on the use of pub-

Diversion Of Little Econ

Editor Herald:

Some years back I subscribed to The Herald with the notion that it would help to keep me informed on what's going on in the Lake Jessup area. About all I have received in this respect is one or two cryptic statements like the one which appeared in yesterday's paper. You said that when the oxygen level reached a certain level a lake becomes polluted, and the Corps of Engineers should remember this when they divert the Econ into Lake Jessup.

The Corps of Engineers have repeatedly denied that they have any plans whatsoever for Lake Jessup (despite the fact that draglines are working all over Orange County to dump their water in our direction).

I would therefore appreciate knowing where your post information and, if you have any information, why don't you print it? Also, where in the hell are our county commissioners?

George The Great

Editor Herald:

I just took up a real beauty of a letter to the Editor. After I read your comment in the Sanford Herald of Sept. 28 I sat down and wrote you and WFTV-channel 4 a letter which stated my position and that of 95 percent of my friends as regards to the biased criticism of George C. Wallace by all TV networks, New York Times and your newspaper.

Why don't you vote your way and let me "vote for George," without having to get up at your attempt to hurt a real Great American?

Seminar meeting of the Greater Chulusta Community Club has been postponed until November or December, Thursday or Saturday, president, Thurman Coberly, president, has announced.

Coberly points out that an important issue facing Chulusta families is that of street lighting. "The few lights that are soon as payment for their operation previously has been made by a private concern," he advises, adding "It is hoped that street lights may be turned off on speakers through the community but this will mean a cost to each resident."

In another matter, residents are urged to contact the sheriff's department or the local constable to "crack down" on speakers through the streets of Chulusta. According to Coberly, both departments have promised to answer all calls and to cooperate fully in helping make the community safe from speeding cars. Residents with complaints of cars being driven through their yards or property are advised to get the tag number and turn it over to local law enforcement officers.

The club plans to sponsor bingo games each week at the Community House, starting the last part of the month.

It also is announced that the beach, which is for club members only, is closed for the season.

Paper Carrier Remembers When

Editor's Note:

Many men remember their days as a newspaper carrier as vividly as their days in the classroom. In the following article, Ted Boyle, a former carrier and now promotion manager for The Associated Press, makes Newspaper Carrier Day the 12 by recalling his most frustrating delivery.

By TED BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some day men with computers will be able to determine exactly when enough pages have been torn off the calendar and a man should be able to forget a frustration and failure. A sufficient number of pages have been ripped from my own calendar to accept the fact that: I'll never sleep in the White House; I'll never plunge the final two yards to put Green Bay ahead as the whistles blow; and I'll never win the going to escape me.

But one youthful frustration I've never forgotten began back in the late 1920s.

The fact that Newspaper Carrier Day is named after me is a badge of honor. I found that the door an envelope addressed "paper boy" contained $1.99 and a note: "Nice try yesterday."

Despite my frustration, I recall that paper route as a real happy period of my early teens. Papers were carried balanced by a single strap across the shoulder with the papers resting on the hip. The straps were folded while riding, cracked against the handbars to make the fold secure and tossed with a backhand motion. Times apparently have changed with delivery boys. Our own local paper is neatly tucked into a hold-over confidence with old friends. I'll admit I could hit a small porch from a bike at 20 yards.

However, majestically rising on one corner of the route was a three-story walk-up apartment house with an open porch. Late one morning, I was pedaling up the first of two bundles. If I didn't start delivery by 5:30 a.m., chances were I'd be late for school.

I was introduced early and firmly to the facts of the business world through my newspaper route. I was embarrassing when the district circulation manager caught up with me one morning with a handful of pink slips, complaints from subscribers who had not received their papers.

A few choice words from him and I realized there was quite a difference between falling down on a job assigned by a parent and falling strangers who were paying for service.

My introduction to newspaper came very early. At age 7,

H. L. Hunt Says:

Constructive Courage Need

Americans should speak up when we know that our freedom and the future of our country are in danger. But especially in this election year we should avoid using language that reflects hate, fright, cynicism or negativism. Positive thinking and constructive statements are far more effective than negatives or anti-sentiments. A thousand "fears" are worth far more than ten thousand attacks in these perilous times.

This is a time above all times for Americans to be constructive. Every candidate for public office, no matter what his party label, who is elected with organized constructive support, will turn in a much better administration than he would if there were only apathy and no well-organized constructive groups or teams.

The middle-of-the-road should not be glorified as impartial, for he may be trying to be all things to all people. If anyone, he lacks the courage of a conviction between freedom and oppression, or even between right and wrong. He is a weak reed to lean on in the effort to preserve liberty.

Dr. Pick, after my wife passed away, I spent my lonely evenings reading the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Just as a hobby, I started with the first item in the 'A' volume and subtracted every entry until I had finally finished the last or 'Z' volume.

"Of course, it took me several years, but I now have card indexes the entire set."

Wonderfully, I expressed my amazement by saying:

"Dr. Pick, you must belong to the most exclusive scholarly fraternity in the world! For I'd wager nobody else on this earth has ever duplicated your scholarly feat!"

But Dr. Pick shook his head. "You're just kidding, Dr. Crane," he smiled, "for I understand there are two others, making a total of 3 of us."

Dr. Pick is the modern twin for ancient Aristotle, who re-

Tennessee reviewed Georgia Tech films and held several meetings with the Volunteers last Monday as the Volunteers began work for their Saturday meeting with Tech in Atlanta.

Carson says Good "is one of the best athletes I've ever coached. Considering the often severe burden that he is carrying for us and the outstanding job he is doing carrying that burden, it's a pleasure to have him."

Other backs meeting attention in the nomination of Auburn placekicker John Riley, who booted four field goals against Kentucky for a South eastern University record, and Freddie Haynes of Louisiana State, who led the Tigers to four touchdowns in five series of play.

Smith Has Trouble Deciding Sixth Pitcher

Take Your Choice...

CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Now that the Detroit Tigers have forced the World Series into at least a sixth game, Manager Mayo Smith has the problem of selecting a pitcher for the game.

The Tigers handed their manager the problem Monday by defeating St. Louis 3-2 and cutting the Cardinals' edge to three games to two.

Al Kaline's two-run single in the seventh inning sparked the victory, but there were other key factors as well.

Kaline's Happy Feeling

By MIKE RATNET
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Al Kaline, son of a Baltimore broom maker, is fully appreciating his first World Series and the key role he is playing for the Detroit Tigers.

"Things mean more to you as a man when you have to wait," Kaline said in the Tiger dressing room Monday after striking the hit that made him the hero of a 3-2 victory over St. Louis.

"You never appreciate anything as much when it's given to you as you do when you have to wait."

Al Kaline knows what it is to wait. For it's been 16 years since he started playing for the Tigers, and it's taken them 23 to reach the World Series.

"The Series has been everything I thought it would be," he said as he leaned against his cot in the Baltimore room.

"I never thought I'd be so far from home."

The Orlando High Lions dropped another hard fought contest Friday night as they were judged by the Sanford Naval Academy, 14-7.

The Lions offense played a fine game but the defensive secondary fell behind in the final moments of the contest.

The Lions played a better game according to statistics as they picked up 194 yards compared to the Middle 119.

The Orlando eleven also had the jump in first downs with 10 against Sanford's 6. Both teams had an exceptional night in passing as the two teams quarterbacks completed half of their thrown passes.

The hit started out with the Lions William Bass, who plunked up 100 hard rushing yards for the Lions getting the solo touchdown for Orlando on four yard run in the first quarter. Joe Miller added the PAT and Orlando led 7-0.

The Sanford Naval Academy came rushing back after the halftime break as Jim Starkey plunged across the Orlando goal after a sustained scoring drive. Starkey's plunge came from two yards out and Julio Alas added the extra point to tie the score.

The Naval Academy kept its tradition as they came back in the final quarter for the winning tally as the Middle Chip Grant tucked in a 25 yard pass for the winning TD, with a little over a minute left in the dual. Julio Alas then added the extra point to assure the Middle of a win.

Orlando will take on Immokey at John Courser Field at 6 P.M.

Packers, Bulldogs, Win In Football

Packers 12 - Bulldogs 6
The Packers broke into the win column with a 12-6 victory over the Bulldogs. The two Packers touchdowns came on the throwing arm of John Zueli. The first touchdown was a 36 yard pass to Teddy Mil.

The second score came on a 40 yard pass play to Ted Matthews. The Packer defense which held the Bulldogs scoreless was led by Marty Porter, David Trevelinger and Charles Getzen. The Bulldogs were led by Jim Rose, Tommy Lively, Tommy Hunter and James Payne.

King Hill Flies Coop

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After eight years, King Hill has flown the Eagles' coop and headed north to Viking country.

"He is a good quarterback and it looks as if we're in contention," said Coach Bud Grant.

The Vikings gave the Eagles an undisclosed draft choice for the 11-year National Football League veteran, according to Philadelphia Coach Joe Kuharich.

Hill will be backup man for first stringer Joe Kapp. The Vikings were put in a bind after Sunday's game with Detroit. Kapp was knocked grayed and second string quarterback Gary Cuozzo suffered a broken collarbone and will probably be lost for six weeks.

HERLONG CONGRESS

There was a crucial play by catcher Bill Freenan on Lou Brock at the plate. While Brock's throw to nail Brock and a courageous comeback pitching effort by Micky Lolich and his single that triggered the winning three-run rally.

The teams had the day off today, except for brief workouts — the Cardinals in St. Louis and the Tigers in Detroit — but Smith had to ponder Wednesday's game, which will be played in St. Louis. His major problem was a starting pitcher.

It could be Earl Wilson, who left the third game with a pulled hamstring muscle in his right leg, or if Wilson can't go it could be Joe Spina, who received Tenny McLean in Sunday's contest.

And Smith didn't rule out the possibility of coming back with McLean, the 31 game winner who lost the first and fourth games.

McLean pitched only 2 2/3 innings Sunday and said after Monday's game he would pitch Wednesday if the manager wanted him.

Manager Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals, on the other hand, has his pitching plan set. Ray Washburn, the starter in game No. 3, is ready for Wednesday, and he'll be two-game winner Bob Gibson in the seventh game — if.

Lolich joined Gibson in the two game victory circle but only after surviving a three-run Cardinal outburst in the first inning.

"He pitched a helluva a game," said Orlando Cepeda, who capped the explosion with a two-run homer. His second homer of the Series "He got stronger as the game went along. He's a good pitcher. I can't see why he didn't win 20 games."

The motorcycle riding right hander settled down so effectively that he scattered six hits the rest of the way and didn't allow another run.

He almost didn't get the chance to finish the game, though. The turning point for him came in the seventh inning when leadoff batter Don West struck out.

"I went had gotten on," Smith said, "I would've used a pinch hitter. But when he didn't, I figured Micky had been pitched well and we had two more shots at it."

"It was very much surprised he let me hit," said Lolich, who rapped a home run and a single in the second game.

Brock Upset, Feels That He Did Score

By CHARLIE BARBOUR
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Johnnie Brewer rapped a single to left field Lou Brock struck toward the plate, umpire Doug Harvey ruled Brock said the instant replay monitor in the St. Louis Cardinal dugout showed he was safe.

"In my opinion it was the best play of the game," the Cardinals' World Series super hitter said. "It was the turning point in the game."

"We had the makings of a big inning, and instead of one run, one man on and one out, there were two outs and no runs."

There hadn't been any runs for the Cardinals since they scored three in the first inning. The Tigers came up with three runs in the seventh inning to spoil the Cardinals' 5-3 Monday and cut the Cardinal lead to one game.

"Brock is hitting .331 in the series and holds the highest lifetime batting average in World Series play—49. But he wasn't talking about his hitting when Brock said the Cardinals' 5-3 Monday and cut the Cardinal lead to one game.

"I scored on the play," Brock said. Brock didn't touch the plate, umpire Doug Harvey ruled Brock said the instant replay monitor in the St. Louis Cardinal dugout showed he was safe.

"I touched the middle of the plate."

"Freenan even came up behind me and tagged me while we were arguing," Brock insisted.

"The television replay showed I beat it. I saw it on the monitor in our dugout."

Brock had come in standing up. He barged into Freenan, and both rolled away from the plate.

"I didn't slide," Brock explained. "Because I didn't think I'd have to. And I thought if I did slide, I would have been out."

The Vikings gave the Eagles an undisclosed draft choice for the 11-year National Football League veteran, according to Philadelphia Coach Joe Kuharich.

Hill will be backup man for first stringer Joe Kapp. The Vikings were put in a bind after Sunday's game with Detroit. Kapp was knocked grayed and second string quarterback Gary Cuozzo suffered a broken collarbone and will probably be lost for six weeks.

Brock Upset, Feels That He Did Score

By CHARLIE BARBOUR
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Johnnie Brewer rapped a single to left field Lou Brock struck toward the plate, umpire Doug Harvey ruled Brock said the instant replay monitor in the St. Louis Cardinal dugout showed he was safe.

"In my opinion it was the best play of the game," the Cardinals' World Series super hitter said. "It was the turning point in the game."

"We had the makings of a big inning, and instead of one run, one man on and one out, there were two outs and no runs."

There hadn't been any runs for the Cardinals since they scored three in the first inning. The Tigers came up with three runs in the seventh inning to spoil the Cardinals' 5-3 Monday and cut the Cardinal lead to one game.

"Brock is hitting .331 in the series and holds the highest lifetime batting average in World Series play—49. But he wasn't talking about his hitting when Brock said the Cardinals' 5-3 Monday and cut the Cardinal lead to one game.

"I scored on the play," Brock said. Brock didn't touch the plate, umpire Doug Harvey ruled Brock said the instant replay monitor in the St. Louis Cardinal dugout showed he was safe.

"I touched the middle of the plate."

"Freenan even came up behind me and tagged me while we were arguing," Brock insisted.

"The television replay showed I beat it. I saw it on the monitor in our dugout."

Brock had come in standing up. He barged into Freenan, and both rolled away from the plate.

"I didn't slide," Brock explained. "Because I didn't think I'd have to. And I thought if I did slide, I would have been out."

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

By CAROL JAKUES

Question: Do you believe the county seat should be retained in Sanford? If so, why?

BOB BOOTH,
Myrtle Avenue, Sanford
The courthouse as it is now is easily and daily acceptable and accessible to the people of Seminole County, and for this reason, I feel it should remain where it is. I can't see any advantage to moving it, but if I could be shown any, I'd be in favor. Also, there would be a great expense in moving the courthouse seat.

C. W. HAMIS,
2101 Street, Sanford
Sanford has been the county seat since the county was made a county and I think it should remain the same. People look upon Sanford as the county seat and I can't see any advantage to moving it, but if I could be shown any, I'd be in favor. Also, there would be a great expense in moving the courthouse seat.

NANCY DEMPSY,
Brown Drive, Sanford
Money is needed in the county at this time for more important things than moving the county seat. It isn't that we don't have one. The majority of the people probably don't use the courthouse often enough that coming to Sanford is inconvenient to them.

GINNY TURNER,
Hilling Place
It would be wonderful if the county seat were moved to the center of the county. My husband makes frequent trips to the courthouse and it would be very convenient if it were in the center.

R. L. MILLER,
The West First Street, Sanford
I say leave it alone. This is where it's been for 85 years and it should not be moved.

ROY GRUNTY,
Altamonte Springs
It should be in the center of the county as everyone would have easy access to it. The only fair thing to do is give everyone equal service, and this can be done by placing the seat in the center of the people.

JAMES ROBERTS,
Wethersfield
If it's been in Sanford for 85 years, why move it after all this time? So, leave it alone. Everything is built around a courthouse in the heart of a city. Also, the taxpayer would have to bear the heavy expense burden of moving and I don't think they should.

MRS. C. G. PETERSON,
Longwood
What's wrong with Sanford? Let the county seat stay where it is. It's been there for all these years and hasn't hurt anything, so why worry about it now?

Police Officer Defined

What is a policeman? This is a question very much in the news of late, what with the recent furor over the Chicago Democratic convention and the social law and order stands now being advocated by various political candidates of both major parties and the independent. Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler today supplied an answer.

"A policeman is a composition of what all men are, a mix of saint and sinner, dust and deity.

"Less than one-half of one per cent of policemen will think that uniform.

"He, of all men, is at once the most wanted and the most unwanted. He must be such a diplomat that he can settle differences between individuals so that each will think he won.

"But... If a policeman is pleasant, then he's a flirt. If not, he's a brack.

"He must be able to start breathing, stop bleeding, tie the splints and above all be sure the victim goes home without a limo, or expect to be sued.

"He must know every run, draw on the run and his where it doesn't hurt.

"He must be able to whip two men twice his size and half his age without damaging his uniform and without being brutal.

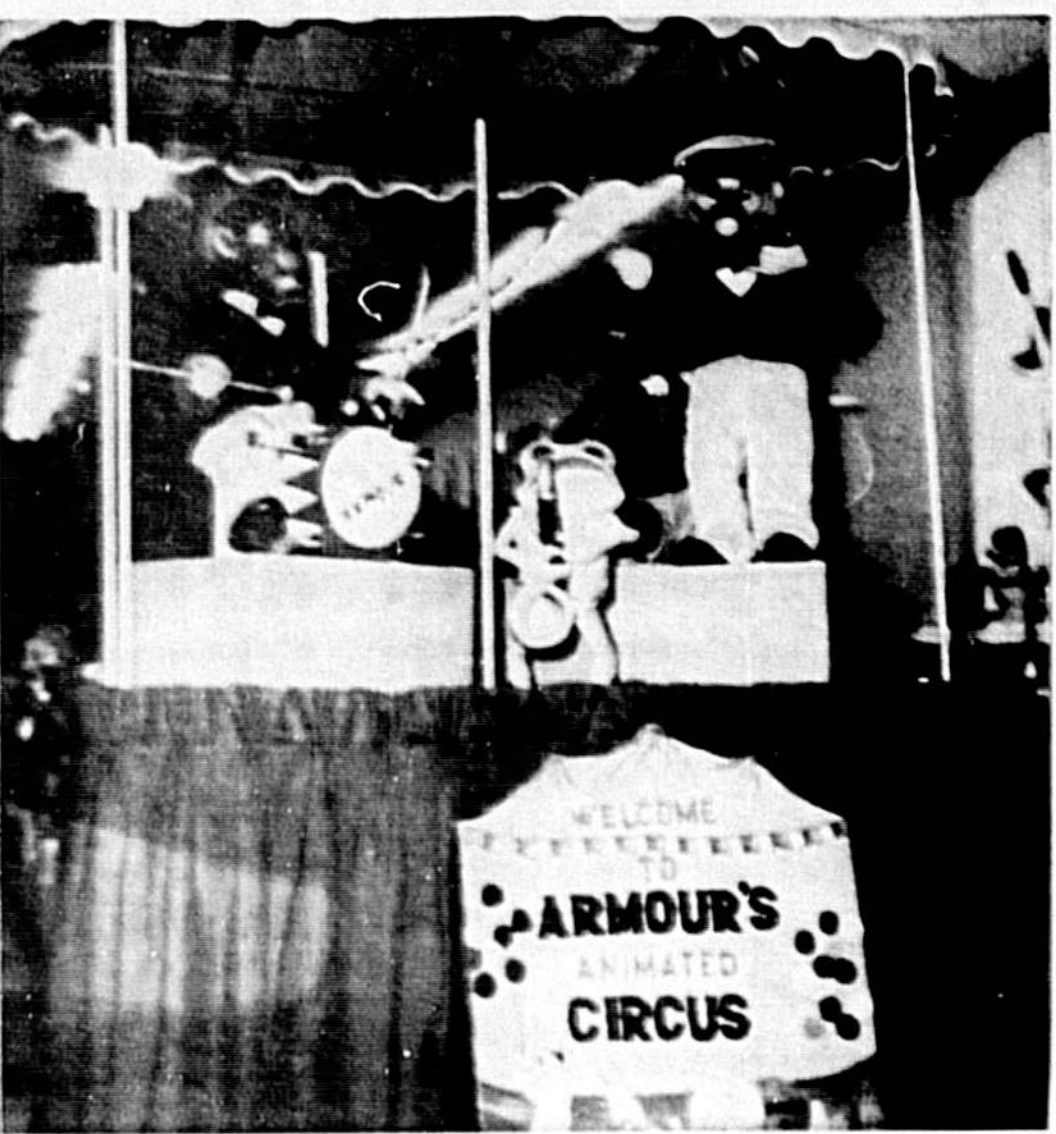

"If you hit him, he's a coward. If he hits you, he's a hulk.

"He must know where all the sixes and not make a mistake.

"The policeman must have a heart as big as a dead end, a stake on the right to tax a witness who saw it happen, but refuses to remember.

"The policeman must be a minister, a social worker, a diplomat, a tough guy and a gentleman.

"And, of course, he'll have to be a genius for he has to feed and clothe a family on a policeman's salary."

MONKEY BUSINESS! This is one of the displays that make up the Armour's Animated Circus, now on exhibition in Sanford Plaza's Public Supermarket. Others include a cow being milked in the dairy department, and Penguins in the frozen food department. "Come and bring the kids," said Manager James Woodard.

Boys Publish Hit Weekly

ROZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — Montana's newest newspaper, with the state's youngest staff, went so well—circulation doubled in a short time—that the editor bought a new press.

The newspaper, the weekly Bridger News, attained a circulation of 56 with Mike Ditton, 15, as editor-in-chief.

The "other" newspaper, the Roseman Chronicle, had pressed by the new competition, ran ads in the Bridger News in an effort to regain some of its lost business.

The assistant editor was Dennis Smith, 16. His younger brother, Wayne, 14, was sports editor. Randy Ditton, 12, was a staff writer. The paper had two special reporters, Jim Klatt, 13, and Steve Terrill, 16.

The new press, a spirit press, replaced the former hotograph method which transferred printed type from a galley in a manner similar to a mimeograph.

The Ditton boys started the paper after their parents gave them a topographic printer. Mike and his friends printed a paper and distributed it to parents just for fun. The copies were snatched up and the boys didn't miss the opportunity. They started a summer business.

They scrounged a typewriter, a desk and a dictionary, then built a newsroom of rough boards next to the barn in the backyard.

Their enterprise soon expanded. Advertising rates jumped 100 per cent to two cents a line.

Couple Marks Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Noll of 128 W. Lauren Court, Fern Park, were honored by their many friends and members of the Northside Christian Church, on their 60th wedding anniversary. The Nolls were married Sept. 28, 1908, in Milton, Pa. in the Christ Lutheran Church by the late Rev. J. P. Zimmerman.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN NOLL of Fern Park observed their 60th wedding anniversary, Sept. 26, 1968.

She continued, "Our young people today say they have no heroes. The ones we grew up admiring like those of generations before us — Patrick Henry, John Paul Jones — are not even in the history books now. But then maybe we are going to the dogs."

Some women are wearing headscarves because they go well with their 20s and 30s revival fashions. Others wear them to identify with Puckish fashions because red-blonded Indian fashions, complete with suede fringe and beads, have come back with the hippie kick.

Ralph Pevold is general chairman, Jerry Parella, ticket chairman and Ann Stecowski, publicity. They will be assisted by a tremendous number of chairmen of the various booths and departments. It will be a gala day where every member of the family can participate in the event. Meet friends and for a nominal amount take home articles which will not only contribute to the Church but make you feel like you have some real bargains and your money was well spent.

There will be 26 booths with opportunity of fun for all in addition to the many hand-made articles that will make you want to start your Christmas shopping at once. Start saving the pennies, bring the whole family, tell your friends and come prepared to give a little of your "well-being" back to God, where it came from. See you there.

Woman's Club Of Casselberry Plans Covered Dish Supper

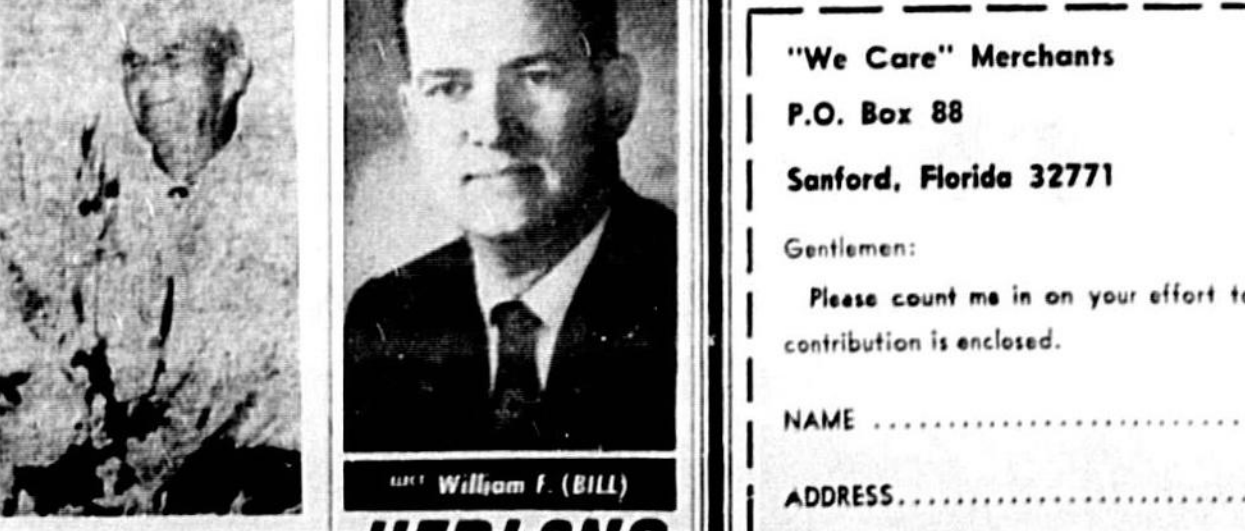

By JANE CASSELBERRY. Plans for a covered dish supper for members, their families and guests were announced at a meeting of the Woman's Club of Casselberry held Tuesday. In line with the theme for the month, Anniversary, Mrs. Tom Freeman read a speech by Abraham Lincoln denouncing lawlessness and violence of the time and urging citizens to take more responsibility. He also stated that although all laws are not good, they should be obeyed until they are changed.

The members found the message as timely as when it was given over 100 years ago. Decorations in fall colors and orange and yellow chrysanthemums were used on the setting table and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

There were 42 present and Mrs. Roy Kuechel will introduce as a new member. If heat turned that cooking chocolate in your cupboard white don't throw it out. If the chocolate is melted for cooking purposes, it will turn brown again and usually there's no loss of flavor.

Paris Fashions Debut In America's Shoppes

By JEAN SPEAR WILSON. AP Fashion Editor. NEW YORK (AP) — In Marie Antoinette's time, court dress makers dressed dolls in miniature copies of her latest wardrobe and carried the darning-tube fashions to the hinterlands. Eagerly the genteel women awaited the arrival in their area to see the new royal styles and perhaps duplicate them for themselves.

Despite wars and new government, the system is saggingly the same. The costume ideas inpired by women with the wealth of royalty, if not the tiaras, do not travel by wagon-drawn stores and mail carriers. These extravagant garments duplicate them to the hundreds of thousands and sell them to their countrymen at moderate prices. This French custom is translated into American ready-to-wear.

Although Frenchmen from no spies who peddle their styles before they have been introduced, they are grateful for the extra money paid by the masses to see the new styles and to buy them.

Belgian Scholar Returns

By JUDY WEISS

A Belgian Roman Catholic priest and scholar, Father Francois Bontinck, is in Sanford for another visit to study the correspondence of General Henry Shelton Sanford (1823-1891), founder of this city. He first visited here in 1963.

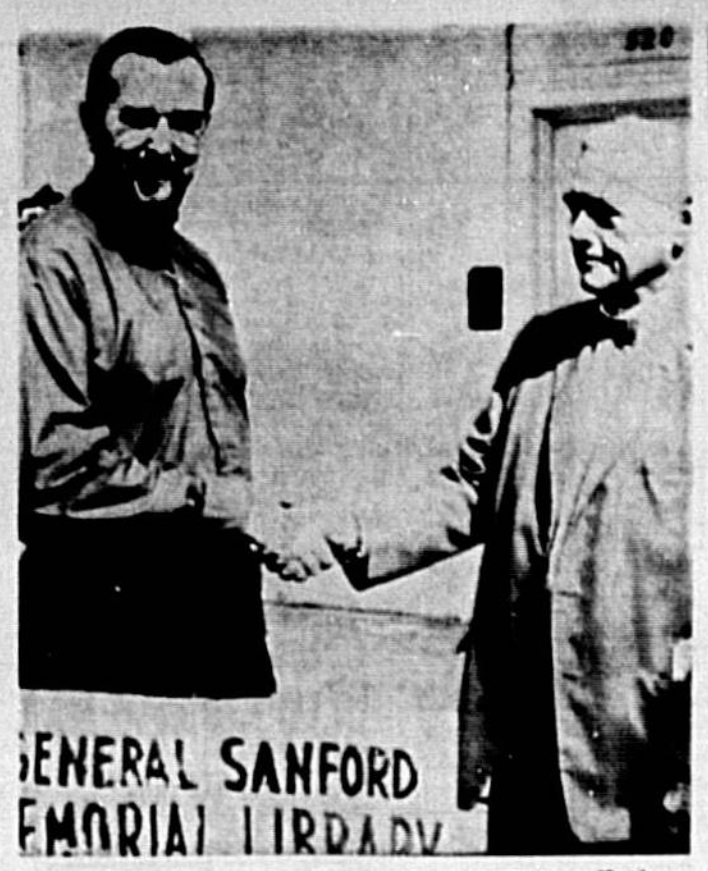

Father Bontinck, who teaches at Catholic University of Lovanium in Kinshasa (formerly Leopoldville), the Congo, is currently working on "Sanfordiana," subtitle of his second volume on the origins of the Congo Free State.

While here, he is the guest of Rev. William Krane, pastor of All Souls Catholic Church. He offers Mass at 6:30 a.m. breakfast in the rectory, and spends the remainder of the day at Florida State Bank, where Gen. Sanford's correspondence is kept on microfilm, and at the General Sanford Memorial Library, which owns the historical documents.

These in correspondence with Gen. Sanford are known to have often complained of his poor handwriting. Henry M. Stanley, American journalist-explorer of Africa, wrote from London in April, 1885: "There was a paragraph in your last letter written so badly it cost me 20 minutes to decipher it."

If Father Bontinck finds one to be highly illegible, the originals are searched out for his close examination. He reads the papers and copies the texts he will use, at the same time making many notes for a forthcoming book in the French language.

Elected a member of the Royal Academy of Overseas Sciences in Brussels in January, 1967, following publication of his "On the Origins of the Congo Free State" as the Congo Free State was the 15th publication of the Lov-

He is the only author listed on that book with more than one title of publications by the Congo university.

The Belgian missionary, born in 1920, went in 1960 to the Congo after earning a doctorate in Rome in ecclesiastical history at the Gregorian University. He spent seven years as an Immaculate Heart missionary in the Congo before joining the faculty at the university. He knows 12 languages, speaks seven fluently, and teaches French at the college.

For the past three summers he spent 10 days studying correspondence between General Sanford and King Leopold II (1865-1909) in the archives of the Royal Palace at Brussels. He also studied documents in London.

Before returning to the Congo Oct. 21, he will follow up his work in Washington, D.C., and visit the offices of the American Geographical Society in New York City.

End Of War Rests With The American People

By FRED VAN PELT

Solution to the eventual end of the war in Vietnam rests with the American people; not the military and not the politicians but the people themselves.

This is the opinion brought back by Sidney Weiss, a North Vietnamese, after a year in Saigon, capital of South Vietnam, as executive director of the U.S. Vietnam Regional Exchange (VRE).

When the American people as a whole speak up and let it be known the entire country wants an end to the war, then Hanoi will come to terms at the peace table in Paris, in Weiss' opinion.

"So long as the American newspapers, radio and television 'play up' only the excesses of the minority, leading the North Vietnamese to believe that all Americans are indifferent to the war," said Weiss, "that long will the conflict continue."

However, he continued, "let the people as a whole speak up and say, 'let's end this,' and let Hanoi know we mean it. Weiss expressed his own that it is his belief the average American underestimates the North Vietnamese.

"We see the North Vietnamese man as a small, underdeveloped, undernourished, underprivileged, ignorant and illiterate individual. Believe me, he may be small and underdeveloped, undernourished and underprivileged but he is not ignorant and illiterate.

"The North Vietnamese is dedicated and consecrated to one cause: Communism. Nothing else matters. A life means nothing to them, if it will help the cause. It is nothing for 20 or 40 soldiers to launch into a drive they know is a death trap, that they will not come out alive.

"Despite their tremendous losses, they continue with this thought, to give all for Communism."

Weiss said the top Communists are exploiting this belief, not in their own country, not with their own people—but in other countries with other peoples.

He predicted that unless America comes to its senses in the very near future, this country will see Communism take over South Vietnam, then Cambodia, then Laos, and Thailand, and on throughout the Far East. Ultimate goal, and working from within, is the United States.

Asked how the North Vietnamese continue, what with its tremendous troop losses in the field, Weiss said the Viet Cong will move into a small South Vietnamese village, kill the chief, the chief of police, school teacher and other leaders and cart off the young men to North Vietnam. There he told of watching an American general stand on a jeep hood, call his soldiers in close and "speak to them like a father."

Morale is high, he stated, although the American fighting man in South Vietnam cannot understand why the minority is permitted to let the government's policy instead of supporting it. This is the big question with the Americans in the war zone.

Weiss, a Navy invasion officer in World War II, has been given a new assignment in Honolulu. He and his wife, Ruth, and daughter, Susan, will leave before Nov. 1 for Honolulu. Another daughter, Lynn, attends the University of South Illinois at Carbondale. Mrs. Weiss is a sister of Walter A. Gielow, publisher-editor of The Sanford Herald.

Seminole Voters Frown On Electoral College

Jessup Question Hanging

(Editor's note: The following article was written by Gene C. Brown, technical liaison officer, of the Army Corps of Engineers at Jacksonville, at the request of The Sanford Herald in answer to inquiries about plans for the Little and Big Econlockhatchee Rivers and Lake Jessup.)

An exhaustive engineering study aimed at drastically reducing or eliminating potential flood problems on the 280-square-mile drainage area of the Econlockhatchee River area in Seminole and Orange Counties is scheduled for completion next fall (1969) by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

District Engineer Col. John F. McElhenry today said the study is reaching a critical phase. The critical phase, McElhenry said, involves determining what plan will be recommended by Army Engineers to solve the problem and calculating the benefits which are expected to be derived.

"We must determine that the cost of the work in order to recommend a plan of development which is economically feasible," the Army Engineer official emphasized.

"Absolutely no decision has been reached at this time on what the final development plan will be," said McElhenry.

"We are still studying several alternatives," he said.

The Corps' detailed study of the Econlockhatchee River, which rises in the Kissimmee headwater lake region and flows generally north through Orange and Seminole Counties, was started following adoption of a 1964 U. S. Senate resolution. The Congressional resolution called on the Army Engineers to consider possible improvements on the Econlockhatchee Basin, including any effect the stream may have on the St. Johns River.

The Senate resolution also directed that the Corps' study include the feasibility of the diversion and storage of water in Lake Jessup.

A part of the study, naturally, involves the Little Econlockhatchee River which originates in the Orlando area and flows generally north-easterly to join the big "Econ" just east of Ovidash.

Seminole County officials also have asked that the study include water control facilities in the middle reaches of the (Continued on Page 2A, Col. 1)

Construction is expected to be started within 90 days, says architect for the project, Eugene Kealey, designed the building and the agreements to provide the utmost in special features for livability in each apartment facility.

The building will contain 62 efficiency units with average area of 388 square feet, and 43 one-bedroom units containing 372 square feet. Services and facilities provided for the convenience of the tenants will include washers and dryers, which will be located on every floor except the main floor. Dining service is being contemplated since each apartment is equipped with electrical range and refrigerator.

Landscaping will include shuffleboard courts and putting greens, with flower beds attended by those who have green thumbs.

The accommodations will be available at rates ranging from $65 to $95 per month, depending upon the size of the apartment and the location within the building. These rents include all utilities... air-conditioning, lights, heat, and garbage collection. Kitchens are furnished with ranges and refrigerators, and the apartments will have wall-to-wall carpeting and safety devices in all bathrooms.

When balloting is completed, each state certifies and seals its electoral vote and sends it to Congress. On Jan. 6, the President of the Senate opens the ballots in the presence of both Houses, counts them and formally declares the winners.

A majority of the electoral votes is required to win. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes, the election is thrown into the House of Representatives where each state elects one elector.

Hospital Blood Charges Revised

By BILL SCOTT

At the request of Dr. Fred Ionata, new pathologist at Seminole Memorial Hospital, the hospital trustees Tuesday approved the purchase of a $1,000 machine that analyzes the protein content of blood.

According to Robert Besserer, hospital administrator, the new machine will give better service to local patrons at a $2 reduction in present $17 cost to send the blood samples to a California laboratory.

Another change requested by Ionata was changes in amounts charged for local blood work.

Most of the changes approved consisted of small increases of from $2 to $5 in costs; there were several decreases in certain prices for specified pathological services.

It was revealed that an effort would be made to get other doctors on hospital staff to use local pathology rather than send samples to Orange County facilities.

Dr. Thomas L. Largent, member of trustee board, said only four staff doctors now use hospital pathology and, he added, hospital should attempt to get more doctors by giving better local service, such as would be provided by Ionata.

Besserer reported on his recent four-day trip to Atlantic City to attend the American Hospital Association convention.

He revealed that the AHA desires to change method of charging hospital for membership in the organization.

Instead of previous dues assessed on a per bed basis, the AHA now wants to charge on an expense basis, which will mean an increase of approximately $500 over present dues.

Hospital has no alternative but pay because membership is required for accreditation of the local medical facility.

Another subject to draw interest was a discussion of hospital's Christmas party, list of Beaver reported over how best to satisfy all 300 members of staff.

It was revealed that doctors' executive committee had okayed $600 for a party for staff members, but main problem seemed to be work loads of staff prevented all members from being present at one time.

Trustees finally tabled the discussion with no action taken.

Fireworks

City commissioners will get another opportunity to do something about the delapidated structures in the city during a condemnation hearing on 42 fire-traps at Monday night's session. These are called the worst 42 buildings in city by officials. Usually these condemnation proceedings touch off sparks and some fireworks could develop.

County Consolidation Favored

County Commission Chairman John Alexander went on record today giving full endorsement to the effort of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce to study possible consolidation of the governmental units within the county.

While making it clear he wished to express no personal opinion at this time as to whether the county should have a consolidated or metro form of government, Alexander termed the present method of county government in Seminole as "antiquated" and "haphazard and buggy operation."

"I'm a strong believer in home rule and I have been for some time," he declared.

He pointed out that the County Commission had requested introduction by the legislative delegation of a bill to permit creation of a local government study commission some one and one-half years ago and had been denied.

"We are not going to be able to convince the people of any program unless we have facts, figures and analyses to submit to them and the local government study commission would have been the way to do this. The people will not buy change for change's sake, but they will certainly take a long, hard look at any method that would provide more effective and efficient government. We need changes in government structure to meet the needs and demands of the future."

The bill called for creation of a 15 member commission to be appointed by the County Commission "to study the structures, functions and operations of all governmental units and bodies located within the county, including county and municipal governments, public bodies corporate and all offices, agencies, boards, authorities and subdivisions thereof." The board would have contained an "impartial, independent, knowledgeable group to do the in-depth study."

"I'm happy the Chamber of Commerce feels the subject should be studied and I hope they would support the Board of County Commissioners."

Alexander went even further in the matter and stated he would again lead an effort to have provision for a local government study commission for Seminole introduced in the legislature during the regular session. "But I have no idea of the delegation's reaction," he said.
