Mix Answer On Feb. 28

School Supt. John Angel said at his Wednesday news conference the effect of Gov. Claude Kirk's announced intention to withhold state funds from counties which would lose the money to help finance forced busing of students would not be known until after U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) Feb. 28 decision on the county's compliance with the civil rights act.

HEW will announce in three weeks the results of a Washington hearing into Seminole County's school desegregation plan. Hearing was sought by the HEW to determine if the present county freedom of choice school plan eliminates the dual separate facilities for white and black pupils.

County has maintained the county plan in eliminating most of the dual school vestiges and is effective in setting up a unitary school system.

Main problem has been the six traditional all-black neighborhood schools and according to board members, a problem has developed over how to integrate the institutions without wholesale busing of white students into the schools and in return the busing of blacks into predominately white facilities.

This busing would create a financial problem and could lead to chaos if county if forced to lay-off teachers and curtail other educational aspects in order to find money for the additional busing, John Evans, board chairman, has said.

Seminole could conceivably be involved in a federal court suit after the results of the compliance hearing is announced and this could bring along a federal court decision affecting county schools in same manner as Volusia and Orange counties.

Angel said he didn't think the court would force the county to undertake busing this late in the school year.

"I can't imagine any judge changing the school set-up with only two months or so left in the school year," Angel reflected.

The superintendent said he looked favorably on the Sanford School Improvement Board's inclusion of Crooms High School in the five city beautification projects.

"Personally, I would jump on it hook, line and sinker, but we still have to determine what consideration the effect from the city regarding the disposition of the stadium.

Crooms is a predominately all-black school," reported that.

Discussing the county's football stadium situation, Angel said he would favor schools leaving the Sanford Municipal Stadium from the city for 25 years.

City is wanting to lease the stadium to the school board for $1 a year with the schools assuming costs of maintenance.

Schools are presently using the stadium under an agreement of paying a specified amount per game and city is funding upkeep costs.

Angel said school board would consider an offer from the city regarding the disposition of the stadium.

Ex-Sheriff Hobby Trial Opens Feb. 23

By FRED VAN PELT

Seminole County jury commission is in the process of drawing names of possible jurors for the Feb. 23 trial of former Sheriff J. L. Hobby on charges he accepted bribes from the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club. The jury commission already has named 100 veniremen and will draw more names for possible jury duty in this case.

Gov. Claude Kirk has assigned State Attorney Robert Egan, of the 9th judicial circuit, as special prosecutor in the trial, assisted by Thomas Speer, assistant state attorney for (this) 18th judicial circuit. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. will defend Hobby. Trial will be held before Circuit Judge Tom Waddell Jr.

Hobby resigned as sheriff Nov. 7, 1968, when called to Governor Kirk's office at Tallahassee.

Electronically in 1962, Hobby was suspended during his first term by then Gov. Leroy Collins after a federal grand jury indicted him (Hobby) on charges of accepting bribes in moonshining. A hung jury caused a mistrial and in 1969 a judge dropped the charges. He continued in office until his 1968 resignation.

Vandals Damage S-S Junior High

By TOM ALEXANDER

Vandals struck South Seminole Junior High School early this morning, wrecking and taking vending and pay telephone receipts, according to Sheriff's Lt. Roy Rice.

The vandals also entered school offices, including the principal's private office, but Rice reported, nothing was reported missing from the office or the teachers' lounge.

D. C. Saunders, 1422 Tangier Circle, Eastbrook, reported to Seminole County deputies that his car, which was unlocked and sitting in the driveway of his residence, was entered and 20 stereo tapes, valued at $7 apiece, were taken, along with two tape holders valued at $6 each.

Sanford police reported that a man identified as Robert Graham, no age available, was found dead at his West 11th Street home late yesterday afternoon. Police officers discovered the body around 4:30 p.m. Examination by Justice of the Peace Robert Carroll showed that Graham apparently died of natural causes.

Road situations within the county occupied much of the attention of Seminole County Commissioners this week. Commissioners were advised that shipments of lumber were not being received. Road Supt. J. O. Leavitt stated that this was causing hardships to the road department.

Commissioner Greg Drummond opined that a repetition of the situation may be avoided by contacting a supply bond next year.

The board authorized Lavender to contact Shands and Baker as to the delay in shipment, and notify them that no further orders will be placed and that their contract will be cancelled if they cannot grant satisfactory service. Lavender was also authorized to purchase lumber from the next low bidder.

Commissioner Dan Pelham advised that several complaints had been received concerning the speed limit set at the south end of Rantoul Lane. The limit in this area is set at 15 miles per hour. County engineer, William Bush was requested to review the situation and make a report to the commission.

Proposed access roads to Highland Pines also came under consideration. It was the consensus of the board that Highland Army in lieu of towers.

Constable Succumbs

Constable Andrew Volusia County, died Wednesday afternoon in Seminole Memorial Hospital. A native of South Florida, he moved to Lake Ashby, near Osteen, in 1938. He was elected to the office of constable in November 1968, and assumed his duties in January, 1969.

He is survived by his wife, Anne Marsh, of Lake Ashby, and a nephew, Lt. Edward Marsh Sweet, of Jacksonville.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Friday at Gramkow Funeral Home with Rev. Leroy D. Soper Jr. of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial will be in Osteen Cemetery.

The family requests that donations be made to the Salvation Army in lieu of flowers.

The controversial hearing on the proposed camp grounds and recreational area on property south of Lake Mary, east of I-4 and west of Lake Emma Road which was scheduled at a meeting of the Seminole county commissioners held Tuesday, never got off the ground.

The hearing was an appeal against the county Board of Adjustment's decision in granting a special exception of the enterprise. Constable Therman, one of the principal objectors, was on hand with a considerable entourage.

Mr. Lee Dennis, of Longwood Hills, advised commissioners that more persons would have been present but they understood the hearing was to be continued.

Home Building Fund Blossoming

By CHARNER LEONE

The list grows as the names of those who want to see the Good Samaritan fund flourish are added to those who already have joined the ranks of donors.

They are coming in in a steady stream, many of them unsolicited," said co-ordinator Robert E. Deahn.

Many of the gifts are less than $10 but five have joined the "$1,000 Club." Many fall in the $50 to $100 range.

They come from large companies, and small businesses. From individuals who can easily part with the donation to those who must sacrifice to give even a dollar. Some are anonymous.

They come with one thought in mind: To help Baby Wilson continue her work as a 26th century Good Samaritan in the truest sense. They feel the work she does, the care and love she gives to humanity, is worthy of continuance. It should not stop merely because her spotlessly clean home for the aged does not meet the state fire requirements.

So they give of their time and money to raise funds needed to build a new home. And so Mother Wilson can continue to care for people of any race or creed, of any age (many of them children), who turn to her when all other social resources turn them away. Mother Wilson cares.

So far in the current drive, $7,755.25 has been raised. An earlier drive run by Mrs. Wilson has netted $13,000. The goal is $20,000.

The newest names of the ever growing list include Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald, Mrs. Claire P. Evans, Mrs. Robert True, Joyce Temple, Mrs. Rosa Rotundo, Mrs. Edith Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Manning Harriett, Mr. and Mrs. Herkiah Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mebane, Mrs. Charles Merrifield, Mrs. Mildred Walden, Mrs. Gloria Ingle and Mrs. Lloyd F. Beauty Board Elects

Sanford's Senate Improvement Board at Wednesday's meeting elected new officers for 1970 and set up plans to include city officials in helping to implement beautification projects for the city.

Mrs. Frank Woodruff III was elected chairman, replacing A. B. Peterson Jr., who was elected vice chairman of the board. SIB, after lengthy discussion, indicated a desire to get city's civic clubs and public agencies involved with the five projects recently given to city by Tom Walla, a Winter Park landscape architect, who drew the specifications after working with the Orange-Seminole-Osceola Planning Commission.

Tet Lunar New Year's Truce Observed By Allies, Commies

By WALTER WHITEHEAD SAIGON (UPI)—The Allies joined the Communists today in a Tet lunar new year cease-fire already marked in the first few hours by a terrorist bombing and the deaths of three U.S. Marines.

planted by a terrorist ripped through a crowded restaurant at the hamlet of Bac Hrai, 20 miles northwest of Saigon. The blast killed one civilian and wounded 11. In a pre-Tet accident, two U.S. helicopters accidentally killed eight South Vietnamese and wounded 21 Wednesday in the Central Highlands province of Binh Dinh. The crews started shooting after thinking they had come under fire, spokesmen said.

U. S. Operations In Laos Censored

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department censorship is fueling a backstage controversy with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee over the scope and the secrecy of U.S. military operations in Laos.

Exactly three hours later, a U.S. Marine patrol came under fire in the A Shau Valley, 20 miles southwest of Hue and two miles from the Laotian frontier. Spokesmen said the clash killed three Marines and wounded two others. Communist losses were unknown.

It is difficult, he said, to obtain, even in secret committee sessions, a full accounting of operations in Laos. The transcript involved covers four days of closed-door hearings before a Senate subcommittee, now looking into American operations abroad.

Changing Gubernatorial Scene Welcomes Eckerd

As though Gov. Claude R. Kirk, Jr. did not have enough to keep himself busy, another political situation has won headlines and now requires some attention from the first Republican governor since Reconstruction who is campaigning vigorously for reelection.

This is the formal announcement from Jack Eckerd, successful businessman, that he will seek the GOP nomination for Governor.

Of course this is not unexpected. Nor is it the additional step into the spotlight by a politician who has done his bit as a state-hand or supporting player in the increasingly popular drama of "Jump On The Republican Bandwagon."

Mr. Eckerd is, to be sure, a life-long Republican. Like many other successful businessmen he has just enough contact with state government and state administrations to recognize the built-in waste of governmental, bureaucratic operations.

Whether he chose this specific time to throw his hat in the ring as he recognized that Governor Kirk has so entangled himself with admittedly confused situations which envelope school operations in the counties that the gubernatorial attention must be so engaged is a matter of guesswork.

Yet it must be a development which is being carefully watched and assessed in the higher political councils by both the Republican and the Democratic professional politicians who will, when the chips are down, call the turns.

There is no doubt but that the strong stand taken by Governor Kirk in his attempt to change the rulings of the United States Supreme Court and the decisions of federal district court judges has widespread popular approval at this time.

Time alone and the final actions by all concerned will mark this Kirk move as something which is properly rated as statesmanship and bold defense of the state of Florida or will allow it to be rated very low indeed when voters cast their ballots in November or Republicans choose their gubernatorial standard-bearer in September.

Some indication of what the Eckerd campaign will pick for issues is contained in an announcement statement from the gubernatorial hopeful.

While Mr. Eckerd has not had wide political contact with Floridians he has, as he stresses, had an opportunity to talk "face to face with thousands of Floridians" as a businessman and is "impressed with their basic grasp of the state's needs."

Mr. Eckerd will talk about the people's "frustrations" and sense of "futility" with the present state leadership. He believes the people want a governor who understands the value of a dollar... gets its money's worth, whether it's buying roads or bridges or anything else.

He links himself with the Nixon administration's "new direction" which is evident in Washington and which he believes should now become evident in Tallahassee.

This formal emergence of a new face, new thinking and a new approach on the newly optimistic Republican scene is indicative of what can be expected to be taking place in the next few months.

To Boy Scouts!

Boy Scout Week is being observed nationally Feb. 7-13 and we are happy to take advantage of this occasion to salute the long line of Scouts and Scouters in olive drab stretching back 60 years to its noble founder Lord Baden Powell.

How reassuringly it is in these days of rebellion, flux, and moral erosion to find an organization for youth that stands for God and country and the building of fine character and bold leadership.

As it looks toward a new decade we are glad to report that Baden-Powell's dream is still alive and living in the hearts of boys all over our nation... and not just here, but in free countries around the globe.

Scouting provides for today's youth a link between the adventurous outdoor spirit of their pioneer forbears and the Space Age. In our soft civilization, where there are few acceptable ways in which a boy can prove his developing manhood, Scouting offers a boy an opportunity to test his skills and courage against nature, and his physical prowess with that of his peers.

He learns the secrets and beauties of nature and the importance of conservation and how to live off the land. The Scouting program is keeping up to date through by adding new achievements, merit badges, and activities related to today's interests.

One of the most radical steps taken by Boy Scouts of America this year is in the Explorer Scout program for older boys, which has permitted allowing girls to participate in the activities as well.

The Cub Scouts, younger brothers to the Boy Scouts, are in their 40th year. A transition program between the Cub Scout Den and Boy Scout Troop is the WEBELOS which sports its own uniform and awards.

It is interesting to contemplate the countless old ladies helped across the street, messengers sent by Morse Code, pup tents set up, miles hiked, campfires started with wet wood, and knots tied since the inception of Scouting.

The trail from Tenderfoot to Eagle is long and hard and many fall by the wayside, but it is surely a goal worthy of attainment and those that stick with it are rewarded for their persistence.

"Of Course, It May Take a Little Time!"

Crane's Worry Clinic:

John Wesley's Mob Psychology

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

CARE MEAS: Dr. Philip M. Crane was an American history professor at Bradley University for several years.

While there, he and Dr. Nicholas Nyradi, former Finance Minister of Hungary, were the two stalwart defenders of "free enterprise."

One or both would frequently be called to Chicago to debate with liberals and communists.

But the Dean was hostile to the many outside speaking engagements of both men and Dr. Nyradi.

So he tried to compel Philip to cancel his out-of-town speaking engagements, but Philip is a fighter and even took the issue to the Board of Trustees.

Publicly, Philip and Dr. Nyradi appeared to be the only faculty members who had the nerve to stand up in public and defend the basic tenets on which this great Republic depends.

"Dad," Philip often informed me, "when I am riding in an elevator with another professor, he may put me on the back and urge me to keep on attacking the libs."

"But out in public, such professors usually clammed up and didn't dare say a word to show they were on the side of Dr. Nyradi and myself."

John Wesley uttered a splendid bit of moral advice when he said:

"Always look a mob in the face!"

Which means, in brief, that you must be going in the opposite direction from that of the mobsters!

And it also indicates you can't be "thick"; for if he takes real courage to initiate ancient Greek further tried to intimidate little David as the latter strode toward him.

"Come to me," shouted Goliath, "and I will give thy flesh to the fowls of the air, and to the beasts of the field."

Try to visualize this situation more fully, for many of the Hebrew army were superb warriors and even King Saul was a semi-giant who stood head and shoulders above all his men.

Yet not one of the regular army, nor even King Saul, dared face this 94 foot giant who had challenged anybody to single combat.

Then slender David, the shepherd boy, vigorously set out to meet the giant in the full view of both the Hebrew and Philistine armies.

If Goliath's tremendous size wasn't enough to intimidate David, the giant then added the above threat about giving David's flesh to the fowls and beasts of the field.

But please remember what David boldly replied:

"This day will the Lord deliver thee into mine hand; and I will smite thee and take thine head from thee; and I will give the carcasses of the host of the Philistines this day unto the fowls of the air, and to the wild beasts of the earth." (I Samuel 17:46)

It is the duty of all cultured and patriotic men to stand up bravely just to serve as a rallying point for their less courageous comrades.

"One may with courage," said Andrew Jackson, "make a majority!"

So we should encourage more boys and girls to imitate Horatius at the Bridge.

In fact, an honorary fraternity should be created, called "The Order of Horatius."

Don Oakley Says:

1976 Challenges

By DON OAKLEY, NIA Editor

America's 200th birthday is still six years away, but already the competition is getting hot among several cities for the honor of being chosen as the site of a planned International Exposition in 1976.

Boston and Philadelphia were the earliest and second cities to announce their bids, the most logical candidates. Each has good claims to being the cradle of the nation, though Philadelphia suffers from the possible handicap of having hosted the 1876 centennial observance.

Recently, however, both Washington and Miami (Miami?) made impressive presentations before the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, which was created by a joint resolution of Congress in 1966.

It takes time to stage an international exposition and the selection of a site "must be resolved as soon as possible," says Chancellor Wallace Sterling of Stanford University, who was named chairman of the commission by President Nixon last July.

In the meantime, he suggests, America should work to remedy its shortcomings as well as celebrate its successes in anticipation of the bicentennial year.

"We can honorably put our virtues on parade, and we can do so with musical fanfare, but the sound of such music will fade away and little will be left but a dying echo unless we seek to brighten the future by attacking and trying to solve the problems which beset us today."

Fittingly enough, each of the cities making presentations has a common theme—urban renewal.

In urbanized, second-century America, renewed national rejuvenation to national renewal.

Central American Elections

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst Costa Rica was held its election and Guatemala is preparing for one, the two providing sharp and sometimes grim contrasts as illustrations of democracy in action as practiced in the five Central American states.

Costa Rica is a Latin American political showcase and its voters chose their new president in a Mardi Gras atmosphere of banking horns and waving flags. No serious incidents were reported.

Guatemala is preparing for elections on March 1. The atmosphere is one of fear and violence.

Since 1964, between 2,500 and 4,000 persons are said to have been killed in violence attributed to left and right-wing extremists.

Political assassinations are commonplace, and at the moment the country is under a 15-day suspension of the constitution as result of the killing of a prominent Guatemalan newspaperman on Jan. 26.

The Christian Democratic candidate for president, Jorge Lucas Caballero, was fired upon from a passing car but escaped unhurt. Earlier his home had been damaged by high-powered terrorist bombs.

An aide to Col. Carlos Arana, presidential candidate of the National Liberation Movement, was gunned down last June. One of three men prominent in the party to be assassinated in the

Washington Window:

John V. Lindsay For Example

By ELIZABETH WHARTON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—All the Democrats want for the 1972 presidential campaign is a candidate who is liberal but not radical, attractive, charismatic and with a knack for winning tough elections.

Some party members think they just might find such a man in the Republican party.

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay at this point appears to have all the qualifications except the party label—and speculation is growing that he plans to take care of that item himself.

He won re-election last November to what is sometimes referred to as the second toughest job in the country. Although he failed earlier to win re-nomination in the Republican primary, and was forced to run in the general election on the small Liberal party ticket.

New Lindsay is being mentioned as a possible foe of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in this year's gubernatorial election—run in the Republican primary but as a Democrat.

If Lindsay did make the switch and were selected as the Democratic candidate—and then won over Rockefeller—he might well be pulled into the Democrats' very uncertain 1972 presidential picture.

Lindsay has a lot going for him in voter appeal. He's tall, (6-foot), slender, young (44), with sandy brown hair, a flashing smile, and the John F. Kennedy itch of charm and grace.

His first four-year term as mayor was marked by periodic disasters—transit strikes, garbage strikes, inadequate snow-removal machinery, teacher strikes and power failures—as New York continued to live up to its reputation as a virtually unmanageable city.

But he also had a big success: during a period which saw many big cities gripped by violence New York's elected police chief was the biggest and perhaps the most cordial of them all—remained fairly quiet.

The Lighter Side

Hemline Battle

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The hemline of the pants has broken out again with Paris designers launching a full-scale offensive against the miniskirt.

For a report on the situation, I have called in my fashion adviser, Cecil Limpert.

"That certainly is a humanitarian right," he has been alleged that Paris designers are promoting the new mid-length in an effort to antiquate miniskirt wardrobes and thus stimulate sales. Is this true?"

"Those rumors are utterly false. Fashion designers are great artists and have no interest in the commercial aspects of the garment business."

"Then why are they dropping hemlines to the midway point between ankle and knee? Surely they were not guided by aesthetic considerations?"

"That is true. Mid-calf is the most unattractive of all skirt lengths. The Paris designers have adopted it solely for humanitarian reasons."

"What's humanitarian about it?"

"At the recent Senate hearings on birth control pills, some of the witnesses cast doubt on the safety of oral contraceptives. As a result, thousands of women find themselves in a dilemma over whether to continue using the pills."

"The new midskirt dresses were created to provide an alternative to oral contraceptives."

"Hold on there, Cecil. Are you saying what I think you are saying?"

"Exactly. The midskirt is designed to serve as natural contraceptive. Any woman who wears midskirt is in no danger of becoming pregnant."

"How can midskirt prevent pregnancy?"

"They keep the opportunity from arising."

"Would you elaborate on that a bit, please?"

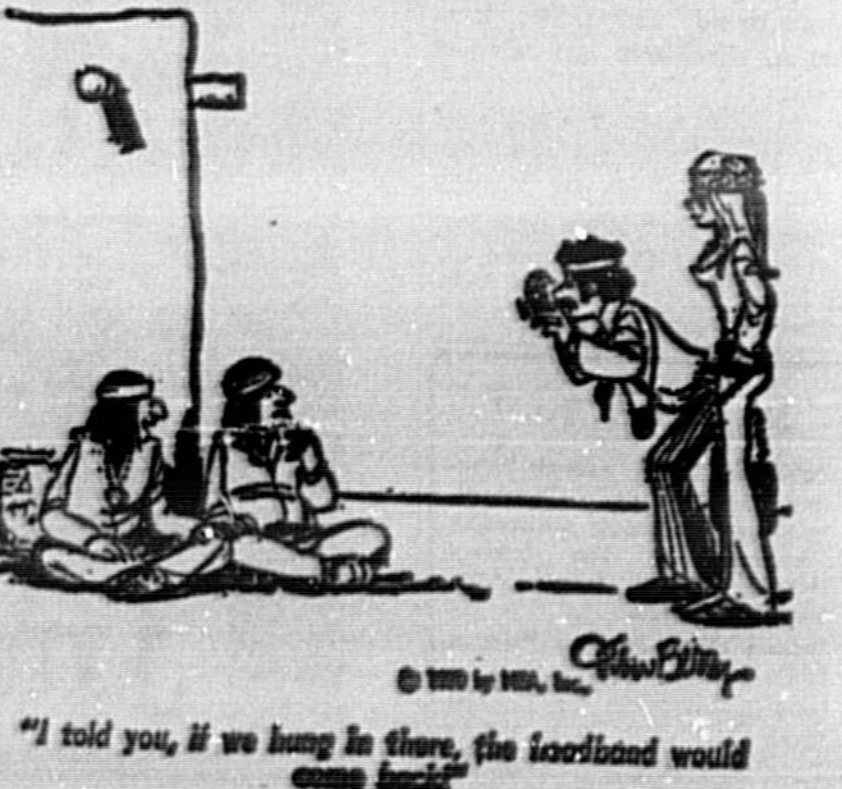

"Glad to. As long as women were wearing miniskirts, men found it difficult to keep their minds on baseball. Consequently,

Compromise Offered

Nixon, Demos Still Fighting

By JOHN W. BECKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon has offered to sweeten the pot by $449 million in his fight with Congress over education funds, but it apparently isn't enough.

Democratic leaders are willing to risk another veto, if necessary, in their effort to force a reshuffling of national priorities that upgrades education.

"It may be necessary to pare it down," said House Majority Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma, "but we're not going to capitulate on the education bill."

Nixon's new proposal, sent to Congress Tuesday, makes official a compromise he put forward last week to help get the necessary votes to sustain his veto of a $19.7 billion education health money bill.

The $449 million is now willing to spend over his budget amount to a 63 per cent cut in the $1.2 billion Congress added to the vetoed bill. Some of the key Democrats who helped add the original funds, say they will fight any cut that amounts to

Parents, Teachers Present Operetta

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The enthusiastic response of Delray Republicans to the visit of Sen. Bob Johnson of Coconino County to Delray was an indication of their endorsement of her work in her two terms in the State Senate and of her person. The informal dinner reception for Sen. Johnson at the Pizzeria for a few Republican leaders swelled to an overflow of 70 persons, who wished to pay their respects.

When Mrs. Everett Dirksen was introduced to the large gathering at the club meeting Monday night as "Mrs. Republican" she was given a standing ovation. Sen. Johnson said "I liked Senator Dirksen. He was well loved, admired and highly respected."

Commenting in her speech on the legislative pay raise the Senator said "The members of the Legislature took care of themselves first and the people second." She predicted "people will get the pay raise on the ballot."

In the special session called by Governor Kirk to fund a road program the Senator reported committees were set up to avoid any meaningful debate. She said Secretary of Transportation Michael O'Neill was given no opportunity to refute the unfair claims made against him.

Speaking from her experience as a member of the Senate Committee on Education, Sen. Johnson commended Governor Kirk for providing leadership in school matters—but "found the car's stacked against him." "We will not get quality education in Florida until we restructure our educational set-up."

Violence Flares At Manatee High

Manatee and Bay counties, both under direct U. S. Supreme Court orders, quickly completed desegregation this week, but at Manatee High School — integrated since 1966 — racial violence broke out Wednesday despite a week-long boycott, a flu bug and confusion. Bay County smoothly switched 1,000 students Tuesday, complying with high court desegregation orders. In Manatee County Wednesday, tensions at Manatee High School burst into rock throwing and fist swinging between about 1,000 blacks and whites. The disturbance was put down quickly by law officers.

Florida Beauty Queens Arrive At State Fair

TAMPA, Fla. — Twenty-three beauties arrived in Tampa Tuesday to compete in the Florida State Fair. The "Miss Sunflower" Pageant could be classed as the Queen of Queens competition as all entries must hold agricultural or Florida beauty titles. Co-sponsored by the Florida State Fair and the Florida Department of Agriculture, the girl crowned "Miss Sunflower 1970" will receive a 1970 red convertible and the opportunity to represent Florida's multi-billion dollar agricultural industry at state and national levels.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Both professional traders and the public have been dumping stocks in many cases regarding longer-term fundamentals. Spose and Staff says "Fear of a profit squeeze is one of the factors in the market's weakness, the firm says, and another is "that old bugaboo of the still wide spread, between bid and stock yields."

Miss Judith Ellen Pettit of Alaska currently holds the title of "Miss Sunflower" and will represent her crown following the final judging of Feb. 6. The first public appearance and judging of the contestants took place in Women's World at 10:30 when they gave one minute speeches about the agricultural products they represent. This was followed by a tour of the fair and an appearance in the Senior Citizens' Day grandstand program. The bathing suit judging will take place poolside at the Mangler Inn at 4:00 p.m. Thursday. Friday's schedule, the last day of the pageant, includes final interviews with the judges, climaxed in the selection of seven finalists at Curtis Hilton Convention Hall and the crowning of Miss Sunflower.

Nixon-Kirk Parley Also Requested Agnew Bid To Probe Florida Mix

And an educator in the largest school affected by the recent instant integration orders by federal courts says: "I haven't had the first damn call on any complaints."

Bulldogs Have Tough Assignment

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Georgia Bulldogs, surprising co-leaders with thrashed Kentucky, are about to run the Southeastern Conference basketball gauntlet. The Bulldogs must play five conference games in a 12 game period, four of those on a road trip that includes stops at Kentucky, Tennessee and LSU.

It's a tough assignment. But the Bulldogs have won eight of nine conference games so far this season, the loss by a single point 72-71 to Kentucky, Kentucky 16-1 over all also has an 8-1 SEC record. It's loss, coach, at Vanderbilt, Georgia's first this coming Saturday night. Georgia, which bested Vanderbilt 72-68 in Nashville a month ago, went outside the SEC Wednesday night to best state rival Georgia Tech 74-69 to run its season record to 10-4. Tech led to 11-5 despite Rich Yunkus' 31 points. Pete Maravich scored 32 points to lead LSU over Florida 97-75 in the only other battle in the Southeast Wednesday night. Maravich pushed his career scoring total, already the highest in NCAA history, to 3,088 points. Andy Owens had 33 points for Florida.

Next week, the Bulldogs will be at Alabama and Tennessee, both beaten at home earlier in the season, and the following week its on to Kentucky and LSU. "You've got to win on the road to prove your worth," Georgia Coach Ken Rosemond said. "We know that it's going to be tough to keep up with a team like Kentucky, so we know we've got to keep winning. If we come off that road trip in good shape, we've got more than a chance."

Meanwhile, Kentucky, still the odds-on favorite to win its 25th SEC basketball title in the 37-year history of the conference, spends this weekend in the delta country with visits to the Ole Miss and Mississippi State, then returns home next weekend to play Florida and Georgia. Georgia is the only one of that four expected to give the Wildcats any trouble at all, and since that game will be in Lexington, Ky. Feb. 16, even then not much. Only the independent are in action between now and Saturday. Tonight, eighth-ranked Jacksonville Fla. University 15-1, the nation's highest scoring team 103.1 ppg is at East Carolina and 17th-ranked Florida State 16-2 at Kent State. Friday night, the Jacksonville Dolphins, looking for an NCAA at-large berth, move over to Richmond and Tulane hosts Drake. The SEC's regionally televised game Saturday will be from Tusculo, Ala., where Alabama will be hosting Louisiana State and "Pistol" Pete Maravich. Maravich guarantees the network his best audience. Every one wants a glimpse at "Pistol Pete," the most prolific scorer in the history of college basketball. Also Saturday, Auburn will be at Florida, Tennessee at Mississippi State, Florida State at Dayton and Florida A & M at Miami.

Kentucky coach Adolph Rupp isn't downgrading his Wildcats when he says that there are four teams that could still win the SEC basketball title this winter. The way Rupp sees it, Georgia, Auburn and LSU all have a chance — but they'll have to beat Kentucky to do it. "Look at the record," said Rupp. "The so-called upsets happen all the time — especially on the road. No team, no matter how strong it may appear to be, can afford to let down its guard."

This, obviously, is what Rupp feels Kentucky did last weekend when Vanderbilt dropped the Wildcats a notch in the national rankings. bna, Rinn Rock 9. Scully, Tasty Terry, Sock Troubles 10. UF Hopes Fall Flat

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Hopes for a University of Florida complex including a 12,000-seat basketball coliseum took a staggering blow Wednesday when students voted against sharing part of the $17.5 million burden. Students gave a 240-1 thumbs down to pupil participation in financing the project. The actual vote was 2,692 no and 2,852 yes. Had it passed, the measure would have meant adding $6 per quarter for each student with the new money furnishing a third of the complex cost. Shortly after the election the Florida basketball team took a 97-75 licking from Louisiana State in outdated Florida Gym as 5,130 fans came to see Pistol Pete Maravich score 32 points. Student government leaders said they were not giving up on the project but said new avenues of financing would have to be uncovered.

The Decade's Best Russell Receives AP Award

By BOB MYERS HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — William F. Russell, the biggest Bill of the Boston Celtics, was duly appreciative — but not too amazed — that he had been named Basketball Player of the Decade in a special 1969-70 poll by The Associated Press.

And the key star and 1969-70 coach of a team that dominated the National Basketball Association in the decade just past, added a bit of typical Russell spice to the award. "There were only two dominating teams during that decade, the Green Bay Packers and the Celtics," he said. For the spice, he added: "It was offered when one television network named the New York Mets as the team of the decade."

"They could just as well named the New York Jets. They were an expansion team, too, and they didn't win anything in the last year of the decade." Russell's credentials are considerable. The list started at McLeary High School in Oakland, Calif., and began growing at the University of San Francisco where Russell averaged 15.1 points per game, piled up 4,095 assists and hauled in 21,721 rebounds. He added 4,014 rebounds, 770 assists and a 16.2 average in 165 playoff games. During his career the Celtics racked up a 162-83 regular season record and a 28-18 mark in the playoffs. "The greatest competitor I've seen," Boston general manager and former coach Red Auerbach said of Bill. "He was the runaway leader in the voting by 630 sports writers and broadcasters, amassing 373 1/2 votes to 122 for runner-up Wilt Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Lakers. Milwaukee rookie Lew Alcindor, former three-time All-American from UCLA, was third with 115 votes. Jerry West of Los Angeles with 39 and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals with 25 were next. Russell divides his time these days between Hollywood, his home in the Boston suburb of Reading and New York. The Hollywood time concerns sorting out movie and television offers. He said he has also received numerous offers to go into more conservative businesses and, with another hearty laugh, exclaimed: "I keep moving because every time I sit down, I get an offer to go to work. This interview."

Gamecocks Make War - Not Love

By GREG GALLO UPI Sports Writer Philadelphia's Palestra was the site of a basketball war Wednesday night and the Gamecocks of South Carolina had to scratch and claw their way to a 97-71 victory over a fired-up Temple team. The NCAA ruled last month that teams could schedule an 11th game beginning next fall. The decision was interpreted as a move to bolster sagging attendance budgets. Graves said Jacksonville was picked because Duke wanted to play an early game at night. "The city of Jacksonville is spending $165,000 on a lighting system to handle night color telecasts, and that was an important consideration," Graves said. "We are hopeful that we can get the game televised," Graves said. "That, of course, would mean extra money to both schools."

New York Knicks Break Win Streak

By United Press International The New York Knicks are fired after a 14th trip from New York Tuesday night. The club was scheduled to leave LaGuardia at 11:34 p.m. but the airport was snowed in and the club didn't leave Kennedy airport until after 2 a.m. and the players didn't get to sleep until a minute later. Tom Wiczer, who topped the Knicks with 26 points. Seattle won its third straight game by topping Cincinnati as Bob Rule scored 30 points. Seattle scored 10 straight points midway in the fourth period to take a 106-93 lead and coasted to the win. Tom Van Arsdale had 29 for the losers. Dave Ding scored his season high of 49 points and Detroit snapped a three-game losing streak by downing Los Angeles. Happy Hazard scored 31 points for the Lakers. With Lew Alcindor forced to the bench because of fouls early in the first quarter, Flynn Robinson and Bob Dandridge supplied the scoring punch to lead Milwaukee to victory. Robinson finished with 30 points while Dandridge hit for 23.

Florida Vs. Duke In 11th FB Game

By United Press International The talent-rich Florida football team signed Duke for its 11th game Wednesday, but the University of Miami's plans were still undecided after a hoped-for match with Notre Dame fell through. Miami athletic director Charlie Tate said Notre Dame athlete Moore Krause called him Wednesday and said the Irish would not add another game this year. Tate had hoped to line up Notre Dame for Dec. 12 in the Orange Bowl. The coach said he would get in touch with Tampa today to explore the possibility of an extra game with the Spartans in October. Florida athletic director Ray Graves said the Gators would play Duke the night of Sept. 12 in Jacksonville's Gator Bowl. The game will open the season for both clubs and will start a five-game series. The NCAA ruled last month that teams could schedule an 11th game beginning next fall. The decision was interpreted as a move to bolster sagging attendance budgets. Graves said Jacksonville was picked because Duke wanted to play an early game at night. Russell Receives AP Award

By BOB MYERS HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — William F. Russell, the biggest Bill of the Boston Celtics, was duly appreciative — but not too amazed — that he had been named Basketball Player of the Decade in a special 1969-70 poll by The Associated Press.

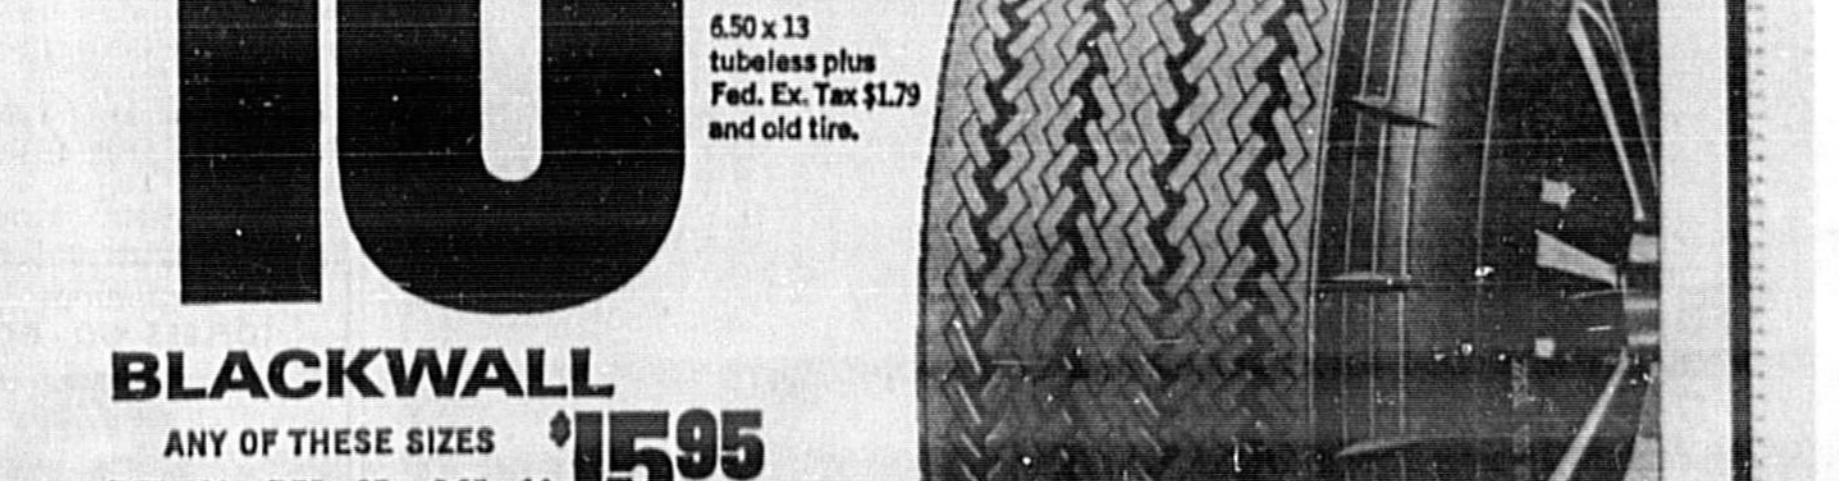

And the key star and 1969-70 coach of a team that dominated the National Basketball Association in the decade just past, added a bit of typical Russell spice to the award. "There were only two dominating teams during that decade, the Green Bay Packers and the Celtics," he said. For the spice, he added: "It was offered when one television network named the New York Mets as the team of the decade."

"They could just as well named the New York Jets. They were an expansion team, too, and they didn't win anything in the last year of the decade." Russell's credentials are considerable. The list started at McLeary High School in Oakland, Calif., and began growing at the University of San Francisco where Russell averaged 15.1 points per game, piled up 4,095 assists and hauled in 21,721 rebounds. He added 4,014 rebounds, 770 assists and a 16.2 average in 165 playoff games. During his career the Celtics racked up a 162-83 regular season record and a 28-18 mark in the playoffs. "The greatest competitor I've seen," Boston general manager and former coach Red Auerbach said of Bill. "He was the runaway leader in the voting by 630 sports writers and broadcasters, amassing 373 1/2 votes to 122 for runner-up Wilt Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Lakers. Milwaukee rookie Lew Alcindor, former three-time All-American from UCLA, was third with 115 votes. Jerry West of Los Angeles with 39 and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals with 25 were next. Russell divides his time these days between Hollywood, his home in the Boston suburb of Reading and New York. The Hollywood time concerns sorting out movie and television offers. He said he has also received numerous offers to go into more conservative businesses and, with another hearty laugh, exclaimed: "I keep moving because every time I sit down, I get an offer to go to work. This interview."

A PROGRAM on "Child Guidance at Home and at School" were presented by a panel of three well known men from the Seminole area. The guests include (l. to r.) J. I. Altamonte PTA Hears Pointers

By MARYANN MILES
Many pointers were given by the three guest speakers at the Altamonte School PTA meeting. Guests included J. I. Bower, director of pupil personal service, Jerome Ulman, school psychologist, and Bruce Holliman, also school psychologist in Seminole county.

Bower stated that "students have been subject to many tests, but still this is not a perfect way to determine a child's IQ. No one test is that reliable. We need to be aware of the shortcomings of these school tests."

He then further stated that Altamonte School youngsters did test high, and have never been lower than third place in the last four years, which made Altamonte School faculty proud of its pupils.

Bower then stated, "In the first grade, a readiness test is given; in grades two and five, the IQ is tested of the youngsters, and grades three through six achievement tests are given and in the sixth grade, an aptitude test is given all students."

Holliman stated diagnosis is his field. "Parents may help their children, but how much can a parent help a troubled child?" he asked. Many children fail because they expect to fail, and because they have failed before, he also stated.

Many problems of the child may have been caused by poor vision and deafness in the old days, but now the youngsters are tested and can no longer use this for an excuse, he said. "To help the child," he stated, "re-enforce his way of thinking he is going to pass."

Holliman said "The parents must offer confidence. Talk positive to the child, put emphasis on what he can do, not what he can't do, talk about what he can do." He stated: "Parents must give the child the opportunity to mature, have faith in yourself as a parent, be positive with the child, give him security, and don't be afraid of interacting with the child," he continued.

Ulman stated there are new trends in guidance and management in the class room. He stated, "A child is like a flower. He will grow and blossom. He will become a whole per-

'Education For Survival' Needed

'Environment' Will Be Issue In '70

By FREDERICK H. TREESH
United Press International
Environment clearly will be the burning issue of the 1970s in America.

As President Nixon put it in his State of the Union message, "the great question of the 70's is shall we surrender to our surroundings or shall we make our peace with nature and begin to make reparations for the damage we have done to our air, to our land, to our water."

It is a matter of whether the affluent society will regain control of its technology sufficiently to make the world a place where the human specie can continue to survive.

Education has a stake in this—a big one.

Dr. James E. Allen Jr., the U.S. Commissioner of Education, has urged a major effort forthwith to create environmental education at every student level and for adults.

He calls it "education for survival" and his reasoning is that education is the key to survival because "in a free society it is always the citizen who must bear the ultimate responsibility for the choices that are made and the actions that are taken."

In an address to the American Council of Learned Societies, the nation's top education official said: "We must begin to teach not just one but two generations of Americans, simultaneously, all that they must know to revive the earth on which we live."

"The teacher we intend to send into our public schools in 1980 is today a sixth grader somewhere in America," Dr. Allen said. "He or she must be taught—beginning right now—along with every American boy and girl, about environmental quality, about ecology and about all of the complex and interesting elements that go to make them up.

"We and they must learn together—and in the spare time we have left, we must begin to write the textbooks for this new educational enterprise."

Travel Farther Today On Less Money

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK (NEA) - That trip to the bank each payday to stash away a few dollars toward vacation is fast becoming a memory. It's as much a part of "life that was" as is the family-planned, long-awaited sailing to Europe. It took mom and dad half a year to decide to go. They went only to "accepted" places in season, did what everyone else did, wore what everyone else wore and needed lots of money and lots of baggage.

Travel today is viewed quite differently. Secretaries, homemakers, professional people all refuse to accept putting off their lives until later. They want to go places NOW. If they don't earn enough, although most do, they still go now and pay later.

Today's travelers catch Paris, Rome, London or Tokyo as always. But they catch them on the way to or from a quiet house on the edge of a lake in the Black Forest or a vacation village on a Greek island.

Moscow Eyes Middle East Storm

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The tone of the Kremlin's diplomacy suggests that it is frightened by the prospect of a gathering storm over the Middle East. It may mean that Moscow is unwilling at this time to face a new major crisis and is seeking some way to head it off.

While its bargaining has been tough, Moscow appears content that its whole foreign policy drive may be thrown into a tailspin by the intensifying Arab-Israeli hostilities.

In its latest note to Washington, Moscow has threatened to escalate the arms race in the Middle East by sending more arms to Egypt. Yet the thrust of its diplomatic activity suggests deep worry. The Kremlin has been sending out warnings to the Americans, British and French of rising peril in the Middle East for a round of horse-trading.

The Middle East is a tangle for both superpowers. For each, more is at stake than just its explicit interests in the area.

For the Russians, a red hot new crisis could upset plans to take some of the heat from East-West relations in Europe. For both it can jolt whatever hopes have been invested in SALT, the strategic arms limitation talks due to reopen in Vienna in April. Washington and Moscow have parallel interests in limiting superweapons. For each, the race has been a heavy drain. This has been especially true of the Soviet Union, which has been wrestling with problems of a consumer economy suffering from neglect because of the arms race.

In a major policy address last July, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said the Middle East "exerts great influence on the situation of the world as a whole" and is a "dangerous hotbed which can have serious consequences."

Gromyko risked offending the Arabs by asserting Soviet will to progress for a settlement in the "simultaneous recognition of all states of the Middle East, including Israel, to an independent national existence." More Arab leaders deny that Israel has the right to independent existence.

Should the Arab-Israeli conflict develop into a fourth full-blown war, it surely would erode whatever enthusiasm there might be in the West for such understanding for some time to come. Indeed, the danger probably would be even more dangerous than its predecessors. And even if the danger subsided, the damage done to the world's nerves could be so great that the Russian policy mixers would be at a loss.

The Russians probably are less agitated about Vietnam than they are on, but the Middle East is another case. Moscow has extended and committed itself and now has a considerable investment to protect.

The issue is the more difficult because it often has been a source of division in the Kremlin. This was so at the time of the 1956 Suez crisis and again during the 1967 war and Soviet leadership has been divided on extreme strategic importance, and with each recurring crisis it has been evident that a group in the Soviet leadership has demanded a tough stance.

Soviet policy makers are now trying to encourage an all-European conference on security, even with the Americans taking part. The civilian leaders also show interest in exploring possibilities for easing the arms race.

If Moscow concedes Israel's right to live, it might also, in tense circumstances, concede a little more. Soviet and American positions on a prospective settlement are not far apart, and each power is in a position to bring pressure for de-escalation of the conflict.

Much more than Vietnam, the Middle East threatens to interfere with progress on other Soviet policy mixes back a number of years.

President Rejects Kosygin Note

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has written Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin rejecting Russian charges that the United States has fueled the increased Middle East fighting.

In a letter dispatched Wednesday to Moscow, Nixon said the United States is urging both Israel and the Arab states to follow a United Nations cease-fire resolution and end the battles.

The President also called anew for discussion with the Soviet Union on a Middle East arms limitation, and asked for what U.S. officials described as a constructive response from Russia to American proposals made last October and December for an Israeli-Arab settlement.

Nixon's letter was a reply to a personal message from the Soviet premier last Saturday reportedly blaming the United States and Israel entirely for the present mounting violence in the years-long Middle East conflict.

State Department officials said Kosygin suggested in his message the Soviet Union intends to supply the Arab states with additional arms if Israel does not halt its military action. Nixon's letter, like Kosygin's, was not made public but a summary provided by State Department officials rejected the allegation of one-sided responsibility and said in effect action to stop the fighting must be taken by both sides.

Administration sources described the Nixon reply as restrained, unemotional, firm and positive.

Nixon concluded his letter with a restatement of the view he expressed Jan. 25 in a message to a meeting of American Jewish leaders that the United States intends to provide support for the security of friendly countries in the area.

The U.S. government is presently considering a reported request from Israel for about 100 fighter planes on favorable credit terms.

Nixon told a news conference last Friday he will make a decision in the light of what he considers to be Israel's needs for more armament within 30 days.

Officials said the U.S. efforts to bring about restoration of a United Nations cease-fire began in recent weeks and are continuing. So far, these efforts have had no known effect on the pattern of conflict developing for many months.

IF YOU CALL ELLINOR MOTOR CO., DON'T BE SURPRISED IF BILL BAKER VOLKSWAGEN ANSWERS

In fact Bill Baker doesn't answer something is wrong. Because we've changed our name from Ellinor Motor Co. to Bill Baker Volkswagen, but our name is all we've changed. Our Phone No. is the same. 322-1835. So is our location 3219 S. 17-92 Sanford. And so are our hours Monday thru Friday 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and of course so are our cars. Brand new Volkswagens and used cars and on.

the day when any Volkswagen needs more than a little love to make it purr, there's our Volkswagen service at Volkswagen prices. Of course we realize it'll take a little time for everyone to get used to our new name so don't worry, in fact the other day our receptionist answered a some phone calls with our old name. But she's catching on.
