

Which One Is The Myth - Johnson Or Kennedy ?

By Holmes Alexander
 WASHINGTON — Some of us the other night at a stag party briefing listened to an analysis of the Johnson Budget by an Eisenhower Republican. The normal political bias was there, but so were the bona fides.

The briefing officer, an established and experienced expert, had spent 19 workdays doing a line-by-line dissection of LBJ's 1,165-page, four-pound, seven-ounce fiscal testament, the Federal Budget for the year that begins in July, and of related documents. All the presidential claims of prudence and frugality, economy and cutback, made since last November, were examined, analyzed and evaluated. And as the meaning of it all began to break through upon us, a financial reporter at my table leaned toward me and said: "Poor Jack!"

Poor John F. Kennedy! For, if our briefing officer's revelations of LBJ's fiscal trickery and bookkeeping contrivances were at all valid, and if the country, the Congress and the press are being gulled into believing the presidential claims, then Johnson had written another searing chapter on the "myth" of JFK.

He slashed the "planned" deficit in twain.

Before going into the alleged bamboozle, it ought to be said that a certain amount is allowable for political showmanship. All presidents make their budgets and budget-planning look as plausible and palatable as possible. In Johnson's case, he greatly heartened the general public, which is sickened by decades of big Federal spending. And he cheered the business community, which has already responded with rising private enterprise investment. Confidence-building is part of any president's job, and Johnson does it superbly.

Somebody asked the inevitable question: If cutting the Budget and halving the deficit were so easy, why hadn't Kennedy, with exactly the same team of financial advisers that Johnson was using, done the same thing?

"Well, Kennedy walked more boldly, more honestly up to the facts," we were told. So, which man is the "myth": JFK or LBJ? I would want to wait a while to find the answer. Johnson, with his keener sensitivity to public and Congressional sentiment, moved with speed and flourish to achieve economies. He cancelled the Dynasoar project. He ordered the closing of obsolete military bases. He cut the projected Federal roster. He brought in a Budget that was well under the frightening $100 billion figure.

Moreover, although Johnson is accused by Republicans of saving today what must be spent tomorrow, there is a chance that he may be saving tomorrow also. Military spending, especially on the nuclear arsenal, has reached a high plateau from which we may, by 1965-66 be able to level off or make a drastic reduction. If so, Johnson's betting-on-the-future economies will prove more genuine than Republicans allow. But meanwhile, here are some hand - is - quicker - than - the-eye manipulations which seem to make Johnson look like a better president than Kennedy:

Soon after Kennedy's death, Johnson increased his predecessor's spending program by $300 million, which might just as well have come next year. The move made JFK look like the spender and LBJ like next year's saver. Kennedy had estimated the tax cut would stimulate prosperity and gain $1.4 billion in Federal revenues. Somehow, Johnson leaped on Walter Heller and Kermit Gordon—the financial wizards who served both Presidents — to make this figure read $4.6 billion — a gain of better than $3 billion for Johnson over Kennedy.

PUZZLE: For years and years, and including the present, the custom has been to allow political candidates to string their signs over Sanford streets, even though they could be traffic hazards in detracting the attention of drivers. Yet one candidate anchored an eight-foot duck dingly with his political sign in the city boat basin . . . and it was immediately removed to the police station. The candidate was informed he could not advertise on city property but, by custom, he could hang his sign over city streets. Another candidate's sign has been displayed for months on the police benevolent building on the lake front. And how about candidates parking their automobiles, with signs, on the city streets? Question: Where does city property start and stop?

Constable Bob Carroll's aid was enlisted by the FBI last weekend. FBI came to town in search of a convict who had escaped from a Georgia chain gang after serving eight months of a 30-40-year sentence. Bob led them to William A. Speigle, of Citrus Heights, now in Orange County Jail awaiting return to a Georgia prison.

Jaycees didn't take a chance on missing anyone in the Sabon oral vaccine drive against polio . . . prisoners in city, jail, county and state prison farm were given doses; taken with their own consent, of course.

Small claims court has been moved from the court house to Masonic Temple building. The court house space will be used as a private office by County Commissioners.

Lt. Melvin gential sheriff's department dispatcher, urges all to ride around Sanford on these beautiful days, observing all the beautiful floral displays in the private gardens. For example, the riot of red and white with that yardful of petunias at Cameron and Celery.

City Manager Pete Knowles warns householders that an out-of-town tree contractor is undercutting local firms and leaving their trash for the residents to clean up. Knowles wants it known that city tree crews do not pick up tree trimmings and cuttings.

R. E. Porter hears that the PIC building at Railroad Avenue and Commercial Street is to be improved (at long last) to the tune of $20,000 and converted into an office building. Mary Harkey suggests the owners remove the unsightly tin canopy, too.

Mary Terwilliger called to say that the Seminole High Class of '39 is planning a reunion on June 6 . . . but having difficulty locating four former classmates: Octavia Blades, Bertha Mae Hart, Lorraine Hegman and Ebel Dale. Any information about these girls may be called to Jack Bolt at 322-8573.

Bumper strip on a local car reads: "Dimmit dammit. And another good one is . . . 'If you hic-hike!'"

Gov. Farris Bryant, noting correct posture "is one of the greatest contributing factors to better health," has proclaimed May 1-7 as "Correct Posture Week" in Florida.

PROPHECY: Postmaster General Gronouski's curtailment of postal services on Saturdays, in keeping with President Johnson's economy move, ultimately will lead to complete elimination of mail service on Saturdays. That's not yet a fact; just a prophecy.

That item in Monday's paper about stamp sale being eliminated on Saturdays was in error. It should have read there will be no money orders, etc., issued on Saturdays. Sorry, John and all you other postmasters.

Britain Joins U. S., New York Faces Biggest Traffic Jam In History

LONDON (UPI) — Britain, following the United States and Russia, announced today that military nuclear fuel production is being "gradually terminated."

Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home told parliament any plutonium produced by civil reactors will not be used for nuclear weapons.

Douglas-Home's announcement said the United States also has undertaken to use none of the plutonium, supplied to it by Britain under existing agreements, for weapons production.

"Her majesty's government have already adjusted their supplies of fissile material to the minimum necessary to maintain our independent nuclear deterrent and to meet all our defense requirements for the foreseeable future," the announcement said.

Welcoming the United States and Soviet decisions Monday to cut back production of fissionable material, Douglas-Home said Britain is "contributing fully to the initiative President Johnson and Premier Nikita Khrushchev are now taking."

He said British production of fissionable materials always has been on a very much smaller scale than in the United States and Russia.

In Moscow East-West agreement on reduction of enrichment uranium and plutonium production was hailed by diplomats here as an important step in continuing the cold war thaw.

But scientific experts in Western missions here said it would be wrong to expect the agreement to alter the military strength of either side.

At Geneva, Russia said that its cutback in the production of nuclear explosives would be approximately the same as the American reduction.

President Johnson announced Monday that the United States will reduce production of enriched uranium by 40 per cent and of plutonium by 20 per cent.

Shrine Parade Set Saturday

Most of the 6,000 Shriners visiting Sanford Friday and Saturday will participate in a parade, according to Letoy Robb, publicity chairman.

The parade will form at First Street and Cypress Avenue and move out at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, moving west on First Street, south on Oak Avenue, east on Third Street, north on Sanford Avenue, east on Second Street and disband in the vicinity of the Shrine Club.

Local residents also will be entertained by the Bahia Shrine Temple band of Orlando at 7:30 p.m. Friday at First Street and Magnolia Avenue, Robb said.

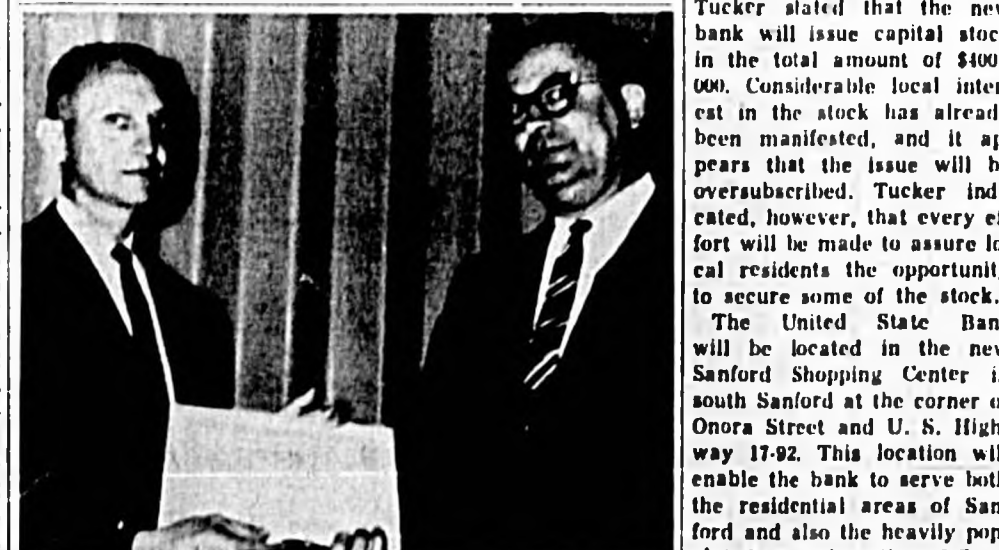

The two-day program for the Shriners, themselves, will open with a golf tournament at noon Friday at Mayfair Country Club.

Highlight of the meeting will be the initiation of 100 candidates into the Shrine Saturday afternoon at Seminole High School.

Jaycees Elect Slate Thursday

The Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce will conduct its annual election of officers at a weekly luncheon meeting Thursday in the Civic Center.

Absentee ballots may be cast Wednesday until 7 p.m., at the JayCee Building.

EDITORIAL COMMENT Progress Report

The success of any going, growing community is its economy. And Seminole County is no different from any other community in its need to improve its cultural aspects, its educational features, its home life and its "gracious living."

A prime mainstay in the financial support of any community is its industry. Industry bears a lion's share of the taxes which support our schools and other public institutions.

As the community grows, so must more industry come into Seminole County to add to its financial support.

A group of volunteer workers who is doing an excellent job in building Seminole County's industrial structure . . . members of which are serving without pay, taking time from their own businesses . . . is known as the Industrial committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the committee are John Alexander, Dr. Thomas Largent, Loring Burgess, Howard H. Hodges, Letoy Robb, Bob Crumley, Bill Hemphill, Tom McDonald and Robert Shedden.

Illustrative of the successful accomplishments of the industrial committee is the recent announcements of the Chemical Corporation of America, with headquarters in Tallahassee, and the Southern Fiberglass Products, of Orlando.

Chemical Corporation has taken over the Del Mar Building in an expansion program. It plans to move its Tallahassee sales office and headquarters here. Southern Fiberglass has taken over the Williams Building in another expansion program, supplementing its Orlando headquarters. Both will employ county residents.

Bringing these two firms to Seminole County was the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce. These men will not rest on their laurels but will continue in the same vein to bring more industry here.

A vote of thanks and appreciation . . . a job well done.

ETV Programs Due To Begin Early In 1965

Dr. Al Edmunds, director of Educational television station WMFE-TV, Channel 23, said today that he expects the station will go on the air Jan. 4, 1965.

The station, an ultra high frequency operation, has received a grant of $119,087 which was turned over to R. Earl Kipp, president of the ETV Corporation and superintendent of Orange County Schools, by the corporation's treasurer, R. T. Milwee, superintendent of Seminole County schools.

Milwee said the grant was the first to a public school system in the United States. "There have been 18 other grants," said Milwee, "but this is the first one to be made to a public school system. The others have been made to colleges, universities and other high level organizations and institutions."

The station's programming is scheduled to reach some 100,000 school children daily, not including those who will be reached through an adult education program to be started later.

At the present time, the ETV group has five programs on the air, all to be carried on Channel 2.

Reconnaissance Called 'Highly Dangerous'

MIAMI (UPI) — The Cuban government lodged a protest with the Swiss embassy today regarding U. S. reconnaissance flights over the Communist island.

News of the protest was aired on a Havana Radio broadcast monitored here.

"The Cuban government has never and will never accept the fact that U. S. Air Force planes violate Cuban air space," said the written protest, signed by Minister Raul Roa.

The United States has continued air surveillance of the Caribbean island since the missile crisis of 1962.

"Regarding the statement made yesterday by the U. S. State Department that any interference with these American planes would be 'highly dangerous,' the Cuban government wants to make clear that the responsibility of any dangerous situation thus created will be exclusively the responsibility of the U. S. government," the note added.

Roa said Cuba has "repeatedly protested" U. S. overflights. He charged such flights are "a violation of international law and the sovereignty of Cuba."

Industrial Exhibit To Open Thursday

Second annual Industrial exhibit of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held in conjunction with the Sanford Civitan Club's beauty contest Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at the Civic Center.

Doors will open at 6:30 p. m. Thursday and Friday and at 6 p. m. Saturday. Industries, Sanford Naval Air Station, Seminole High School and Lyman High School will participate.

Salute to county industrialists will be sounded at 7:30 p. m. Thursday by James P. Avery Jr., chairman of the Seminole County Commission; Mayor A. L. Wilson, of Sanford, and Carl Schilke, co-chairman of the Chamber's industrial committee.

The award of appreciation to the industrialist contributing most to the development of Seminole County will be presented at 7:45 p. m. Saturday.

The bathing beauties will parade in bathing suits at 8 p. m. Thursday, in evening gowns at 8 p. m. Friday and in the final judging at 8:15 p. m. Saturday. Judges will be Janet Bondar, Cecile Heard, Robert Shelden and Paul Lewis. (Eight beauty contestants are pictured on page 5.)

Junior Chamber of Commerce will offer a free snack bar nightly and door prizes will be awarded at intervals each evening.

Winner of the beauty contest will receive from the Civitan Club a trip to the New York World's Fair to appear in the Florida exhibit, sponsorship in the Miss Seaside Festival, a trophy and a crown, along with numerous other awards and gift certificates. Second and third runners-up will receive trophies, a $25 savings bond and gift certificates.

Participating in the industrial exhibit will be the following:

Atlas of Sanford, Antenna Systems, Certified Slings, Chapman Concrete Products, Chase and Company, Chemical Corporation of America, City Products Corporation, Continental Testing Laboratories, Dearborn Electronics, Deep South Products, Dynatronics, Florida Power Corporation, Florida Power and Light Company, Florida State Employment Service, Gator Lumber Company, Geneva Manufacturing Company, Harcar Aluminum Products, Hill Acres Concentrate, Hill Products.

Floridans Off To World's Fair

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant and state officials left for New York in a Florida National Guard plane today to participate in the opening of the World's Fair Wednesday.

A number of National Guard personnel accompanied the governor.

An hour later, a group of close to 100 Florida business leaders and newsmen, with state agriculture commissioner Doyle Conner as host, left for the fair aboard a new Eastern 727 jetliner, furnished by Eastern Air Lines.

A number of private businesses, including Minute Maid, Coca Cola, Tupperware, Viking Lithographers and the Florida Gas Company, are paying expenses of the businessmen and newsmen.

The Florida group will see President Johnson officially open the fair at noon Wednesday and at 2 p. m. will assemble for dedication of the Florida pavilion.

The Florida group will return Thursday.

Court Docket

Criminal docket was to be heard by Circuit Judge Volie A. Williams at 2 p. m. today, when he was scheduled to act for trial a number of cases.

Walter A. Glew, publisher-editor of The Sanford Herald, is a member of the group of businessmen and newsmen attending the Fair.

Senators
 Two proposals have been offered . . . Medicare and the Kerr-Mills approach. Medicare offers only limited hospitalization and is financed by additional Social Security taxes administered by the Federal Government. It covers all old persons, rich and poor, but does not cover doctor bills. On the other hand, Kerr-Mills covers both hospital and doctor bills and protects only those who have the need. It is financed and administered by our states with large Federal support. Our entire Florida delegation in Congress voted for the Kerr-Mills approach. Our state legislature approved it for a two year period as did 36 of our states and territories.

We are committed as a state and nation to try the Kerr-Mills approach for two years. If changes are necessary, we can make them to assure adequate medical assistance to our older citizens.

Ranger Issues Fire Warning
 Seminole County residents were asked today to refrain from any burning of trash or fields due to extreme dry conditions existing at the present time.

Florida Forest Ranger Albert Harris warned that it is very easy for a trash fire to escape with the variable and gusty winds now being experienced and reminded again that it is a violation to allow fires of any nature to escape to lands of another.

Landowners were advised to hold off any burning until after the area gets rain or, if they must burn, to contact the rangers who will provide assistance with firelines and standbys.

Rangers have been on duty six and one half days a week and will continue on this schedule until it rains, Harris said. More fires have been covered during the past two weeks than in the entire month of March and more acreage was burned in the last two months, he reported.

Rangers may be contacted at the Florida Forest Service Towers in Longwood or the Chuluota.

Leukemia Vaccine Held 'Absolute Certainty'
 DALLAS (UPI)—A Chicago medical researcher said Monday that a vaccine for leukemia is "an absolute certainty . . . the next logical step" and it could be ready in 10 years.

Dr. Steven O. Schwartz, director of the Department of Hematology at the Hektoen Institute for Medical Research of Cook County Hospital, spoke as visiting professor at the Wadley Research Institute and blood bank.

"From what progress we've made . . . we're talking about something in the really foreseeable future," he said.

"There was a time when a vaccine was an idle dream, he said. "Now it is an absolute certainty in my mind. It is the next logical step."

Leukemia is a blood disease in which white corpuscles increase to abnormal amounts in the circulatory system. Dr. Schwartz said research has indicated the disease is caused by a low-powered virus.

To back up the contention, he cited a study performed in Niles, Ill., which had a "cluster" of leukemia cases. Several such clusters were found in various sections of the country, he said.

The so-called "Niles-cluster" and others all produced a 2,000 per cent or better rate of incidence of the disease than they should have according to their population.

The Soviets already have told the Chinese and the world that any major border revision is out of the question, although minor changes may be discussed.

But Peking recently has revived old complaints about the territorial expansion of czarist Russia in Asia, and has hinted it might claim Far Eastern portions of the Soviet Union, including the Vladivostok naval base.

LONDON (UPI)—Communist China today was reported to have sent reinforcements to its border with the Soviet Union in Central Asia, where frontier incidents have been frequent in recent months.

The strengthening of the long, remote border coincided with reports that the Soviet-Chinese frontier talks in Peking have run into difficulty, with little prospect of a settlement.

The Soviets already have told the Chinese and the world that any major border revision is out of the question, although minor changes may be discussed.

But Peking recently has revived old complaints about the territorial expansion of czarist Russia in Asia, and has hinted it might claim Far Eastern portions of the Soviet Union, including the Vladivostok naval base.

The Soviets were understood to have reinforced their side of the border some time ago, charging Peking with 3,000 border violations from Sinkiang Province alone.

Girls Attend Rendezvous
 By Jane Casselberry
 The Cadette Rendezvous held at Camp Ticochee near Barberville last weekend was attended by eight Girl Scouts from Troop 338 of Casselberry along with scouts from several Central Florida counties.

Those who went included Barbara Andrews, Terri Patisball, Joan and Ann Higgins, Susie Webber, Karen Case, Esta Leonard and Melenda Casselberry.

Politically Speaking..

Four different ballots will be used in the May 3 party primaries, one Republican and three Democratic tickets.

The only names on the Republican ballot will be those of the three candidates for nomination for governor. Vote for one.

There also will be on all ballots the question of the Seminole County water district.

The three ballots for Democratic voters will be because of the justices of the peace and constables nominations.

There will be county-wide voting for 12 candidates for party nominations for three County Commission seats, four in District 1, three in District 2, and five in District 3. Vote for one in each district.

There are no contests for justices of the peace in District 3 and 4 and for constable in District 3.

Voters in District 4 will choose among five candidates for constable and those in District 6 among four candidates for justice of the peace and among four candidates for constable. Only the voters in these districts will vote on these offices.

To repeat: All Democrats in the county will choose three nominees for county commission but only those in the respective district will choose for justices of the peace and constables.

Party primary is less than two weeks away, on May 3, with the runoff primary on May 26.

Democratic nominees for state representative tax assessor, county commissioner in District 3, School Board member in District 3, and justice of the peace in District 6, will have Republican opposition in the general election on Nov. 3.

It will be interesting to note at Thursday night's second Democratic rally how Jim Pigott will answer the remarks made by his opponent, Ray Milwee, at the first rally. Candidates were introduced in reverse alphabetical order, so Pigott spoke first, outlining his qualifications for school superintendent. Milwee followed and remarked that his opponent "has done a commendable job as football coach, driver education and in physical education—let's keep him where he can do the most good, and then elect a man with 21 years experience in school administration."

Incidentally, there may be only one more election for school superintendent, in 1968, for a new state law provides the school superintendent shall be appointed by the School Board starting in 1969.

Another smoldering political feud almost broke into the open at that Jal Alai meeting, between Tommy Spear and Ken McIntosh for prosecutor. Tommy plainly stated he is "standing on my own two feet" and accepting no financial contributions from anyone, including my own family. Ken, quite visibly "burning" at the start, stated he would not deign to enter into a battle of rumors or implied rumors. And he cooled off before he finished.

One of the county commission candidates apparently doesn't read the newspaper. He told his audience there was no advance publicity on the hospital tax levy hearing and none on the water district vote on May 3. If he'll come into The Herald Office we'll point out all the articles which were carried on these subjects.

John Galloway, retiring county tax collector, has endorsed Mrs. Marjorie Shepard employed in his office for 13 years, as his successor. She is one of six Democratic candidates.

With the first primary less than two weeks away, it appears the gubernatorial candidates now are shying away from the Seminole County and concentrating on the main vote centers for the balance of the campaign. The members of The Herald in January daily with handouts from the candidates but some of the candidates seemed point to any more visits before May

Georgia Police Push Hunt For Officers Killers

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — Determined police pressed their many-pronged search today for the killers who executed three officers in gangland fashion and left their handcuffed bodies in a pine thicket.

"We're still confident we're going to solve the case," said Maj. Barney Ragsdale of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation.

Gov. Carl Sanders assigned Ragsdale personally to head up the investigation, the most intensive in recent Georgia history, and contributed $1,500 to the growing reward for the killers.

The reward had reached $7,700 by early today and a group of Lawrenceville businessmen announced they would attempt to raise $100,000 as a bounty for the killers' conviction.

Officers directing the investigation said persons with records of auto thefts and persons suspected of car stealing were being questioned.

Police believe the three officers were shot when they surprised a band of thieves stripping a stolen automobile.

The officers had been called to the heavily wooded area about 20 miles east of Atlanta to investigate possible auto theft.

Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, 2426 Willow Avenue, Sanford, is making plans to attend the 1964 Campaign Conference for Democratic Women which will be held in Washington, D.C., April 30 through May 2.

Mrs. Reynolds is a member of the Florida Democratic Executive Committee, a member of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee, and a representative of Precinct 3.

The three day conference will be highlighted by an address by President Johnson and a tea which will be given at the White House by Mrs. Johnson.

At 88, His First Plane Ride Is With LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI)—J. B. Pickle of Big Spring, Tex., took his first airplane ride Monday at the age of 88.

What's more, he rode with President Johnson.

Pickle, father of Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex., was invited aboard Johnson's plane, Air Force One, on its return flight to Washington from New York where the President made a major speech.

Johnson was so delighted to have the elder Pickle aboard that he asked newsmen back to his lounge to meet him.

"Nowhere but in the United States could an ordinary clodhopper — I'm just a retired farmer and groceryman—be invited to ride in the President's plane," Pickle told reporters.

Pickle's son, who is from Austin, numbers the President among his constituents and also was aboard the plane.

During the 30-minute flight, Pickle appeared relaxed as he sat in the window seat of a sofa with Johnson beside him.

But he did confess: "I don't feel secure. It's a long way down, from here to the ground."

However, he said he was willing to make the flight because "I've lived to 88 years and I don't have much longer to live."

X-Ray Unit Visit

The Mobile Chest X-Ray Unit will be in Enterprise on Monday, May 25, from 4 until 7 p. m. at Ryan's Store. All residents are urged to plan and make arrangements to receive this free service.

H. G. McIntosh Dies Of Attack

Hampson Gregory (Bud) McIntosh II, Route 2, Box 628, Maitland, died at noon Saturday of a heart attack. Born in Cleveland, Ohio, McIntosh moved to Sanford in 1946 and owned and operated the St. Johns Electric Co., located for a number of years at First and Magnolia.

He is survived by his widow, Beverly J.; daughters Lynda Anne, Margaret Marquise, and Marilyn Oliva, and a son, Hampson Gregory III. Funeral services were to be held at 2 p. m. today at the Chapel of Bray, Apopka, with the Rev. Arthur Ranson of the Apopka Presbyterian Church officiating.

Edgar H. Bennett Dies At Hospital

Edgar H. Bennett, 74, died at 10:30 a. m. Monday at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Born July 25, 1889, in Savannah, Ga., he had lived in Sanford for more than 50 years. He made his home at 407 S. Magnolia Avenue. Retired owner of a billiard parlor and former employe of ACL, he was a member of the Elks Lodge.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Hazel Bennett of Sanford and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at Brison Funeral Home with Rev. Richard Lyons officiating. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery, Orlando. Rosary will be recited at 8 p. m. Wednesday at Brison Funeral Home.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Amazing how little it costs to put a roof over your head

Amazing! Most people are downright flabbergasted the first time they check out a new compact Dart convert. Pay goes to the top. But the price just sits there low and easy to take.

It's even more amazing when you consider all that makes a Dart a Dart. Room, for instance. Size it up with knees, head, elbows, or luggage. You'll find large economy-size room — as much stretch out and load space as in many standard-size cars. And there's large economy-size power to go with it... from a 170 cu. in. standard Six to an optional pung-he 273 V8.

Amazing! You bet. It's what happens when a quality car maker builds a compact bigger and quicker and then tops it off with such good looks.

Friends Honor Cdr. Moreland At Party

Nearly 50 Naval officers, wives and other friends honored Commander H. A. (Speed) Moreland Friday at an outdoor party hosted by the Heavy Attack Wing One staff officers at NAS Sanford's Lake Golden.

The widely-known Sanford native will retire April 30 after more than 20 years in Naval aviation. Commander Moreland has spent the past five years, nearly a quarter of his Naval career, stationed with Sanford-based units, working and living a short distance from the environs where he grew up and attended schools.

For the past year he has served as Readiness Officer of Heavy Attack Wing One after tours with Heavy Attack Squadrons Three and Seven and a previous tour on the Wing staff.

Among special guests at Friday's party were Mr. and Mrs. Mason Wharton, of Sanford, longtime friends of Cdr. Moreland and his wife, Camille, who also grew up locally.

Tributes were many to the veteran aviator, including those his fellow officers. Capt. James O. Mayo, Wing Commander, presented him with a framed reproduction of a commendation which the Captain read at the recent Bombing Derby awards ceremony.

The commendation cited Cdr. Moreland for his contributions "to the development and testing of many airborne weapons systems" and for his "wise counsel and effective action" in helping to introduce the new RA-3C Vigilante into use with Sanford-based units.

The commendation, signed by Capt. Mayo, concluded: "Well done, Commander Moreland. Go in peace with the greatest prize of all, the eternal high regard of your fellow men."

The Wing Commander also presented the departing couple with an engraved silver and walnut ice bucket, a farewell gift from the Wing staff officers.

Though retiring from Naval service, Commander Moreland will maintain his Celery Avenue residence while working for the Winter Park Office of Reynolds & Company, securities brokers.

Stop Reading Word By Word

Skip, Skim Or Savor? --- It All Depends

Written for NEA
Time your reading of this column and compare your speed with that indicated at the end. The expected speed assumes a daily five per cent improvement.

Different kinds of reading require a different pace. Let's say you're given an assignment tonight in the appreciation of two poems by Robert Frost. Will you proceed, it, write down searching questions, skip and skim your way through it? Certainly not. Frost is meant to be savored for his style, his imagery, his choice of words. Furthermore, Frost is meant to be enjoyed; he wrote to delight you, to move your heart, not to give you facts.

The same would be true with Dickens. His personal purpose in writing his classic novels may have been sociological, but what a mistake to dash through his books as you might a reference work in sociology. The simply peerless character delineations, the matchless descriptive passages all would be lost. You would miss the very heart and genius of the man. No, don't zigzag through Frost or Dickens. That technique has a place, but not here.

But now you've finished and you can curl up with that mystery novel your friend loaned you. Your purpose now is altogether different; you're not looking for self-enrichment, you just want to relax. You know you can gloss over the author's prose without insulting a great master. Just the clues and the story is all you want and you're eager to see how the book ends. So speed makes sense, but don't skip and skim to the extent that you miss all the clues and spoil the fun.

After breakfast tomorrow you pick up the paper. All you want is information. What's happened around the world, in your home town, at last night's sporting event? This you can do in about 15 minutes because your purpose called for top speed. Instant information instantly.

Now your father reads the newspaper, but his purpose is different from yours in many ways. He will read for information AND to evaluate. He'll read critical, opinionative writing slowly; he'll be on the lookout for poor reasoning, for invalid premises when he reads political comment. You read that a statesman gave a speech about this or that; your father will want to know why the statesman took that position, why the change in attitude, what he is really after. Your father will analyze that talk, bring his whole reading background to judge the content. Your father will get a lot more out of each development because he wants more, and it will take him more time.

We've covered the four reasons for reading:

1. For information, and here you read at top speed, making use of all the steps.
2. For relaxation, and here you read fast but not so fast as for information.
3. For self-enrichment, and here you read more slowly because you don't want to miss any of a classic's beauty.
4. For critical evaluation, and here you are not a passive observer, but an alert and questioning judge and jury. This is your slowest pace, but it should not be a slow pace after putting these columns into practice.

Lyman Girls Attend FHA Convention

By Jane Casselberry

Delegates from the Lyman High School Future Homemakers Club who attended the recent State FHA Convention held at the Fort Harrison Hotel in Clearwater were Lynn Habbitt and Margaret Forego.

Lynn was chosen to sing in the State FHA Chorus at the convention and both girls served as tellers counting the ballots in the election of state officers.

Theme for this year's convention was "Steps Toward Success" with many helpful ideas being offered for preparation for marriage and education.

Mrs. Mildred Dzurus, club sponsor, accompanied the girls. The Lyman FHM Club is planning a mother-daughter dinner to be held Tuesday, May 19, at the Skyline Restaurant at McCoy Air Force Base.

Highlights

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. Mr. Novak. "A Single Isolated Incident." (Herun). Jefferson High seems peacefully integrated till a Negro student (Gloria Calome) is abused on her way to school. Soon other Negroes become targets and Principal Vane (Dean Jagger) takes action to stem an ugly climax. Mr. Novak (James Franciscus) takes a back seat here and Jagger is particularly good with human reactions that run from indignation and confusion to clear thought.

8:30-9 p.m. ABC. McCall's Navy. "The Mellale Mob." Jacques Aubouchon steps into the spotlight once more in his ludicrous role as native Chief Urulu and he'd like to get the whole PT boat mob off the premises. McCall and company aren't about to go along with this unfriendly dispossession and they resort to some pretty wild tactics to maintain their beachhead. Another funny half hour.

TV Time Previews

9:30-10 p.m. CBS. The Jack Benny Show. Some good laughs despite a juvenile plot. Inspired by the old radio mystery show, "The Whistler," Jack Benny becomes "The Fiddler," observing crimes with mock somberness instead of a "whistle" and what really makes things funny — his mood accompaniment is his scratchy violin. Funny as "victims" are Mel Blanc and Dennis Day.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Get this message to NO NAMES PLEASE who wanted to move her aging mother from Illinois to California against the old lady's wishes: I plead with you, don't move your mother to California to be near you so you can "look after" her. She will disrupt your whole life. It happened to me. My mother made a nervous wreck of me with talk of how abused she was, and how she couldn't wait to die. I should have let her sit in Minnesota with the blizzards in the winter. She complained in Minnesota, but she complains more in California. Leave well enough alone, and don't look for trouble trying to please a half-senile mother who doesn't know herself what she wants.

Maybe the winters ARE cold, but if they have survived 78 winters, they can survive a few more. They might not live quite so long, but they will not mind, if their last years are happy. "78 and still in Iowa" ... Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3305, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Chicago teacher and expert Art Glatt has a hand in the American Bridge Teachers Assn. Quarterly which is one of the best examples of the play known as the "uppercut" that I have ever seen. West opens the king of clubs against the four spade contract. East plays the five, but West cashes the ace anyway. East plays the eight so West knows that his partner holds the one missing club. West has two tricks in and will surely make a third with the ace of spades. He wants to find a fourth trick somewhere. It won't be in diamonds. He is looking right at dummy's solid diamond suit. It won't be in hearts either. South needs the ace of hearts for his opening bid. Then where is that fourth trick coming from?

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

The author of a new book, "How to Marry Someone You Can Live With All of Your Life." Dr. Leland Glover, claims that many people invest more time and effort deciding which college to attend, which automobile to buy, or where to spend their annual vacation than in choosing the best marital partner for life. He's right. The trouble of course is in setting on a marriage partner, young people tend to ignore warning signals that suggest they may not, after all, have been "meant for each other."

Idiocy Of Some TV Commercials Is Appalling

By Russell Kay
Hello Stupid! No wait, I am serious. Of course, this ribald salutation doesn't apply unless you are one of the poor dumb clucks who listens to the radio and television commercials, and falls for them.

No friend, I didn't insult your intelligence in calling you stupid. The bright-eyed and bushy-tailed Madison Avenue boys did that. They give you an I.Q. about equal to a six-month-old baboon.

Mrs. Sillypants didn't know she was on television. Everybody who believes that can stand on their heads with their tongues hanging out. Mrs. Soubottom thinks her detergent is stronger than Glare, the detergent that reflects the sun. Doesn't she know that she can't get to first base unless she adds Boop-a-doop, Samapoo, and Slick-a-sack? Besides her washing machine would clog.

Then you better not brush your pearly teeth with anything but Glaze, Glow,er, Peppopunk or Puck-apuck, or you will have cavities up to here and behind your little pink ears.

Any poor simple sap knows that no product is worth its salt that isn't new and improved. Next year the poor advertisers will have to fall back on double improved and newer than new. Of course, you and I know that it is the same old product, but we have to sit and listen to bored announcers try to make us believe that black is white and red is green.

And what about shampoos. Why don't you drag out your favorite pearl necklace and tear it apart so that you can drop one in this and another in that bottle of shampoo and see how long it takes for the gem to reach bottom.

And if you happen to shave with an electric razor you know that those that cut this way are far superior to those that cut that way and if you are silly enough to rough up your poor delicate skin with a razor that is obsolete you are as crazy as grandmother's quilt.

And the guy I like is the brave and noble knight that gallops over the countryside with his magic lance and astounding poor dumb mechanics in the grease pit and Little Leaguers at the city park. And what business has he got on a public thoroughfare with traffic running bumper to bumper?

The soap and detergent people used to depend on movie stars and beauty contest winners to sway the feeble mind of the average housewife. Now they got a flock of trained sels. They memorize a lot of drivel and tell how they couldn't live or hold a husband without Glade in their washing machines. Nuts to them and all the poor dumb females who rush to their supermarket and scream for Slade. Wouldn't it be funny if some dumb, crazy manufacturer took the bull by the horns, kicked out all the bright young men on Madison Avenue and just simply took 20 seconds to say "We brought you this splendid television duct which is as good as anything on the market at the price. You can show your ap-precision by buying our product which is as good as anything on the market at the price."

More Prisoners On Probation Economy Aim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal district judges want to co-operate in President Johnson's economy drive. Their idea is to put more criminals on probation and fewer in prison.

Of course, they will need some extra probation officers if the economy plan is to work. Specifically, they want to hire 44 more probation officers and other additional help at an extra cost of $2.2 million a year.

Rep. John J. Rooney, (D-N.Y.), chairman of a House appropriations subcommittee handling funds for the courts, raised an eyebrow at this kind of economy. But Chief Judge William J. Campbell of the Northern Illinois District said it was a simple matter of arithmetic.

A convict in prison costs taxpayers at least $1,953 a year. On probation, he costs only $206 a year, and is available to work, keep his family off relief and pay taxes.

Campbell, who testified as the spokesman for the nation's federal judges, made his plea for additional probation officers at a closed hearing in mid-January. His testimony was made public today.

Other congressional news: Civil Rights: A lively floor fight could develop in the Senate today over an effort by Senate leaders to quicken the molasses-slow pace of debate on the civil rights bill.

Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., planned to renew his demand for stricter enforcement of the rule allowing a senator two speeches on each issue, thus tightening the reins on the southern-backed talkathon now in progress.

Immigration: Immigration Commissioner R. F. Farrell told the House appropriations subcommittee that the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service saved $4 million last year by deporting 67 mentally ill aliens.

BILLY J. Young, of 124 Orienta Drive, Altamonte Springs, seeks the Democratic nomination for constable, District 6. He attended Lyman High School and served in the Navy during the Korean crisis. He has worked with the sheriff's department in off hours from his regular job.

Florida Marijuana Ring Is Broken Up

TAMPA, (UPI) — A narcotics ring that planted, cultivated and harvested its own marijuana, has been broken up with the arrest of 10 persons, police revealed today.

The arrests were a result of a lengthy investigation by city, county and state law enforcement agencies.

Fred Usher, district supervisor of the state narcotics division, said the ring was one of the largest in the history of Tampa, and represented a retail profit of about a quarter of a million dollars annually.

Officers said Anthony Larocca, 24, of Tampa, was arrested and charged with violation of narcotics laws. They described him as being the leader of the operation. Larocca leads a musical combo that plays at a local motel.

Police said two of the arrested were high school students and six were musicians. Only one was a woman.

Police confiscated an undisclosed amount of marijuana, some heroin and some injection paraphernalia.

Officers said the marijuana cigarettes were being sold for $2 each.

Although the location and the size of the marijuana plots were not revealed, authorities said all were located inside the city limits, and all in north Tampa.

Bull Fight On TV Allowed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission refused Monday to take action against Chicago station WCUI-TV for televising bull fights. But it said it would consider the matter when the station's license comes up for renewal later this year.

Attorneys for the National Anti-Vivisection Society asked the FCC to revoke the station's license or issue a cease and desist order against it. The lawyers said the televised fights violated Illinois law, but the FCC said the law seemed to prohibit bull fights in the state, not showing of pictures.

LBJ On Hand To Open World Fair

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 1964-65 World's Fair opened today with colorful but rain-dampened ceremonies including a dedicatory visit from President Johnson.

About 2,000 police, evenly divided between fair personnel and city patrolmen, were on hand to maintain order in the face of threats from rebellious local branches of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) to stall hundreds of automobiles on major access routes.

The 616-acre fairgrounds, which was also the site of the 1939-40 World's Fair, was as soggy as a sponge after days of rain. But freshly laid sod, avenues of trees, and gushing fountains gave a finished look to the exhibition, which was actually only 95 per cent completed at the opening hour.

THIS Unisphere is the symbol of the New York World's Fair, which opened today.

Fair Opening Marred By Demonstrators

NEW YORK (UPI) — Civil rights demonstrators harassed the opening of the World Fair today by scuffling with police, delaying subway trains and staging sit-ins.

Civil Rights Discussed By 4 Candidates

By United Press International Four of the state's six Democratic gubernatorial candidates discussed civil rights while the other two talked about education and state legislators who are employed by state agencies.

Demonstrators Picket Florida Fair Exhibit

NEW YORK (UPI) — About 50 shouting, sign-carrying Negroes began picketing Florida's exhibit at the World's Fair today just after Gov. Farris Bryant arrived for a pre-opening look and one of them tried unsuccessfully to scale a 110-foot citrus tower.

Four policemen dragged the climber down from the second level of the tower, the landmark of the World's exhibition, and carried him off in handcuffs.

Encouragement Is Keynote At CC Meeting

Encouragement was the keynote of Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce which was held at the Trade Winds Cafeteria in Casselberry.

Highlighting the parley was the report of Scott Burns, chairman of the industrial committee. He reviewed recent accomplishments of his group which resulted in the Chemical Corporation taking over the Del Mar Building and the Williams Building being occupied by Southern Fiberglass Products which will manufacture boats.

Francis Roumillat Jr., reviewed the activities of the Port Committee, reporting on the recent trips to Jacksonville and Brunswick and the progress being made in arranging for legislation to be introduced to the 1965 session of the state legislature to create a port authority.

Lodge Wins In Jersey Write-in

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—U. S. Ambassador to South Vietnam Henry Cabot Lodge emerged with a write-in triumph today in a primary election which saw voters select New Jersey's first Negro candidate for congressional office.

Latest returns gave Lodge 1,398 write-ins and Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., 853, with 841 for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had 148 votes.

Gains Reported In Rail Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rail negotiators, closer to an agreement than at any time in the four-year-old work rule dispute, prepared for more meetings today with federal mediators.

The five-man federal mediation team called union negotiators to an early session today in the search for a compromise solution. Railroad representatives were standing by to join the talks later.

The White House effort has moved the bargaining off dead center where it had been stalled until President Johnson won a 15-day truce April 9 to allow resumption of bargaining.

Since then, the White House has reported definite gains and a narrowing of the gap separating unions and management.

Observers said it was the first time since the dispute started in late 1959 that so much progress had been made in the tangled controversy.

Sources reported that agreement had been reached in part on the complex pay system under which engineers, firemen and other operating employees are compensated—a major disputed issue.

More Squadrons, Personnel To Be Installed

Full-blown picture of Sanford Naval Air Station as it will appear in 1970 evolved this morning following a talk by Capt. James O. Mayo, commanding officer of Heavy Attack Wing One, before the board of directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

The overall picture includes increased service personnel and a renewal of plans announced earlier for a $15 million building program.

Presently there are six Heavy attack squadrons assigned to Heavy Attack Wing One—VAH-1, VAH-2, VAH-3, VAH-4, VAH-5 and VAH-6, the latter with its Detachment 8, each with 12 attack-reconnaissance bombers.

Captain Mayo told the Chamber directors Tuesday evening at the Trade Winds that the size of these squadrons will be reduced to six planes but more squadrons will be organized and overall there will be the same number of planes.

The first new squadron will be assigned in mid-summer, the second next January, the third next spring and the fourth next April at some later date.

Presently there are approximately 3,500 Navy and civilian personnel at SNAS. Captain Mayo reported that with the new squadrons will come an additional 400-500 service personnel, bringing the total to near 4,000.

Navy personnel at Washington, D. C., recently informed Sens. Spessard Holland and George Smathers, Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr. and members of the armed forces committee of the Seminole Chamber, they would renew their request for a $6.5 million budget for construction during the next fiscal year of a 4,000-foot extension to the north-south runway and for new building.

Congressman Herlong this morning informed The Herald by telephone the $6.5 million request was to be presented to the Senate armed forces committee for approval and to the Senate appropriations committee for the appropriation to permit construction during 1965.

Seminole County school students, along with others throughout the state, have a four-day vacation starting at the conclusion of today's session. Florida Education Association is having a convention in Miami commencing Thursday. School resumes Monday.

It was inadvertently reported in Tuesday's "Clock" column that a reputable carpenter-contractor, William A. Speigle, of Citrus Heights, had been taken into custody by the FBI. This was in error and The Herald offers its deepest regrets and sincerest apologies for any embarrassment or inconvenience caused Mr. Speigle. The man taken into custody here as a fugitive wanted by Georgia authorities was identified by the FBI as Robert Louis Speigle, alias Davis.

Federal State Market news report is available on request from Sanford Bureau, P. O. Box 1806, Sanford. Local reports provide all FOB information from Sanford-Oviedo-Zellwood and other districts of interest.

Boatmen are telephoning to say the new walkways are nice at the city boat basin landing ramp... but will the city please now fill up the holes in the ramp?

Seminole County voters will vote May 3 on all issues and for all state and county offices except there is a limitation on one justice of the peace race and two constable races. Electors in precincts 1, 2, 3, 6, 10, 15, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 will nominate for constable of District 4. Voters in precincts 4, 9, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 17 and 23 will nominate for justice of the peace and constable in District 4. There are no contests for justices of the peace in Districts 3 and 4 and for constable in District 3.

Two more tagged fish in the Schlitz derby have been taken from Lake Golden. These bass were caught by Mary Hay, 438 West Crystal Drive, and Donald B. Bayles, 2430 Orange Avenue. The number of prize fish now hooked out of Lake Golden totals 20. Jean K. Benson has captured four and Bayles two. No report yet on the prize value of these tags and the Orlando distributor, in view of no news from Milwaukee, is beginning to believe all these fish will take the lowest prize, each at $25. It has been reported there is a $10,000 prize swimming around Lake Golden but that report now is beginning to dim. The fish taken from Lake Golden are the only tagged fish hooked so far in Seminole County.

Phil Skates or Clyde Long will be the new president of the Jaycees, after Thursday's election at the weekly luncheon-meeting at the Civic Center.

Drinking and driving can be "one for the shroud."—Miami Herald.

That front page editorial in Tuesday's Herald, commending the industrial committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, inadvertently omitted the names of the co-chairmen, Scott Burns and Carl Schlichte. Sorry, Scott and Carl.

Our calendar says the first newspaper published in the United States was on April 24, 1704. And come tomorrow it will be 22 years since R. E. Porter enlisted and doctored Uncle Sam's khaki for "the duration plus six," which extended to four years.

The combined Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's industrial exhibit and Sanford Civitan Club's beauty contest will provide entertainment for Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. At the Civic Center.
