RAILROAD MAN IS FATALLY HURT IN WRECK NEAR CITY

M. C. Arenburg, Track Foreman, Dies While Being Rushed To Hospital Following Mishap To Railroad Motor Car

Injuries, which he sustained in a railroad motor car mishap near Moultrie, were fatal last night to M. C. Arenburg, track foreman, who died while being rushed to the Fernald-Laughton Hospital in this city.

Gordon Davis, another passenger on the car, is recovering from his injuries. He was reported to be resting as comfortably as could be expected to day.

The accident occurred on the Atlantic Coast Line railroad between the Moultrie River bridge and Moultrie. The car was being worked on when it suddenly left the track, pitching its occupants on the ground.

Exact causes of the mishap has not been determined by local officials, who have been conducting an investigation into the accident.

Arenburg's body last night was taken to the Miller-Trickens funeral home, where a service will be held tomorrow afternoon at Green Springs, his home.

This morning it was sent to that city, where it will be interred. Arenburg was 55 years old and had been in the employ of the Coast Line for a number of years.

Lindbergh Praised As Big Advocate Of U. S. Preparedness

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 2.—(INS)—Advocates of preparedness point to the speech of Charles A. Lindbergh, the conqueror of the air over the Atlantic Ocean and who traveled through the air thousands of miles as "big old-fashioned" with hardly a mishap, as the true living example of the cause they are sponsoring.

This was the high tribute paid to the "Lone Eagle" by Brig. Gen. W. E. Gilmer, assistant chief of the United States air service, in a speech on preparedness.

"Lindbergh is not only a good pilot," Gen. Gilmer explained, "he is a careful planner, a tactician and an organizer, and these qualities are the foundation of his success."

REED WILL BID FOR FULL VOTE OF CALIFORNIA

Missouri's Formal Announcement Forecasts Big Battle Between His Supporters And Those Representing A. Smith

"Can A. I. Be Stopped?" Is Party Question

Smith Forces Had Expected Easy Sailing In Western State Before Reed Entry

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Senator James A. Reed's entry into the California primary to "fight it out" with A. I. Smith for the Democratic presidential nomination was regarded by Democratic leaders in Washington today as an event of outstanding political importance and significance.

It means, they believe, a showdown, their own opinion is shown by the question they have continually in discussion quarters these days, to wit: "Can Smith be stopped?"

Four years ago California's 26 delegates for Sen. W. G. McAdoo, for 100 years, ballots they went down the line for McAdoo without wavering or faltering.

Reed's announcement that he is to run in the California primary and that a state of Reed delegates will be presented in every district in the primary of May 1 now affords the stanton very materially.

Where the Smith people had expected an easy conquest, a contest at all, it now becomes evident that there is to be a real battle for 26 delegates unless the Smith managers evade this issue and try one here believes they will.

Senator Reed's announcement of his militant candidacy in California caused considerable surprise among his followers here. When the Missourian left the capital on his speaking tour for high seas, it was understood by his friends that he was seeking only to build his reputation as a possible compromise candidate when and if the Missouri convention failed to nominate Smith.

The going into the primary in the golden state, however, means there has been a change in his over-optimistic strategy. By this action, the Missourian has shown that he is not only in quest of Democratic harmony, but he is actually after delegates wherever they can be obtained, Smith or anyone else's.

The possible outcome in California has Democratic leaders here anxiously guessing. Most of them think McAdoo's withdrawal, however, will be a blow to Smith's delegation, although they have been hoping that concession largely will be left to the Smith people claim rather than upon their own claim by a vote cast in the Pacific.

There are two of them, however, who believe that Reed, with his acknowledged political sagacity, would elect to enter the contest there, unless he thought he had a good chance of winning. Hence they were in a quandary today.

Judged by the Department of Justice, dry leaders declared they would put the amendment through in the present session.

At the same time the wets both ridiculed the measure for an alleged "joker" in it and declared that it put a prohibition law violator and a bank robber on the same basis.

Wife Of Atlanta Jurist Has Harrowing Experience In Shark Infested Waters

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Risser said. She was in the water completely recovered from her harrowing experience in shark-infested harbor off Hamilton, Bermuda, Mrs. Esther G. Risser, wife of an Atlanta Ga., jurist, court judge today is spending her day at home in the southern city.

"Oh, yes, I'm all right now," she said. "I was in the water for about an hour before passengers had to be rescued. I was cut by the sharp black fins of several sharks cutting through the water."

The woman who, was rescued by the quick action and heroism of two employees of the Cunard Line in saving her from a shark attack, Mrs. Risser said, she was in the water for about an hour before passengers had to be rescued.

Having the unanimous endorsement of the bar of both Hamilton and Bermuda, Judge Walter W. Wright of Sanford today announced his candidacy for re-election to the office which he has filled for the past two years.

Judge Wright's announcement was contained in the following statement given to the Herald this morning:

"Having been re-elected by the members of the bar of both Hamilton and Bermuda, I am pleased to announce my candidacy for re-election to the office of Judge of the Circuit Court of the District of Hamilton and Bermuda for the term ending July 1, 1929. I have been in the practice of law for many years and have been a member of the bar of both Hamilton and Bermuda for many years. I am confident that I can continue to serve the community with the same efficiency and integrity as in the past."

SENATE PROBE MAY DISCLOSE REST OF BONDS

Secret Investigation Expected To Show Disposition Of Oil Company Slush Fund

Hays Sheds Light On Sinclair Gifts

Supplies Information Which Oil Magnate Refused To Furnish

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Secret investigators for the Senate Public Lands Committee were following trails today that are expected to throw more light upon the ultimate disposition of the Continental Trading Company's $3,080,000 Liberty Bond "slush fund."

Some of these bonds, it has been shown, went to ex-Secretary of the Interior Fall, who leased Trapout Dome to Harry F. Sinclair; others to H. M. Blackmer and James O'Neil mid-western oil men, and finally others to the Republican National Committee, to aid it in liquidating its 1920 deficit.

Although Sinclair defied the Senate committee when it sought to learn disposition of the Continental bonds, and is now under a jail sentence for contempt because of this defiance, the committee has learned from Will H. Hays, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, that the oil magnate put up $250,000 for the fund after he learned the availability of the fund.

The hundred thousand dollars in bonds were later returned to Sinclair, making his net contribution $150,000. The first $75,000 in bonds, which were found to be self-made Continental bonds, constituted the majority of the fund.

Hays informed the committee. A loan of $100,000 was later returned to Sinclair, and the remaining $50,000 was made a gift seven Sinclair learned that Hays was repaying it out of his own pocket.

"I had suffered financial losses," Hays said, in explaining this $50,000 gift, "of which Mr. Sinclair knew. He did not feel that I should bear this burden personally, and he voluntarily returned the $50,000 in securities."

Gigantic British Picture Enterprise Will Attempt To Check U. S. Monopolies

LONDON, Mar. 2.—(INS)—A years ago, the British picture enterprise, expressly designed "to forestall attempts by the American movie magnates to control the amusement houses of England" will be launched here early this year.

The project will include the establishment of a chain of motion picture variety theatres extending from the end of the country to the other, and the construction of many new houses, one of which will rival the Paramount Theatre in New York in size and elaborateness of design.

The enterprise is backed by Sir Walter Gilbons, for many years a prominent theatrical producer, and E. W. Searway, a wealthy financier. Approximately $25,000,000 has been spent thus far by the new combine, and a similar amount will be expended before the project is completed.

Many Decks Closed

Sixty theatres, music halls and motion picture houses have already been purchased, and this number will soon be increased to 100. A new theatre, seating 5,000 people is to be built in the fashionable West End, and other sites are now being sought.

FOREIGN PRINCE PRAISES CLIMATE OF WESTERN CITY

Hungarian Nobleman States Colorado Offers Possibilities For Winter Sports, Unrivalled In The Old Country

DENVER, Col., Mar. 2.—(INS)—Colorado, with its matchless climate and scenery that embraces super-Alpine peaks, can easily rival the famed resorts of St. Moritz, the Riviera, or California or Florida, in the opinion of Prince Glaua Odessale, Hungarian nobleman, who recently married Elaine Wilton, Droyer, through the area could easily be transformed into lakes, and stocked with fish and used for winter sports, and that starting in 1929 Prince Glaua Odessale will be in Colorado, many of which are in the vicinity of Denver. Prince Glaua Odessale declared the residents were too modest in exploiting their splendid gift of nature too much a matter of course.

He said the west point region of the Moffat tunnel far surpassed the region of St. Moritz, Switzerland. "There," he enthused, "is a really-made site for a resort and playground unequalled in the United States or Europe. There are natural toboggan runs and ski courses; a genial climate with abundant snow. The streams flow-

Thought Meter Proposed By Expert For Measuring Expenditure Of The Brain

CHICAGO, Mar. 2.—(INS)—In the not far distant future you may attach a voltmeter to your lawyer's or doctor's head and pay him by the yard for expenditures in your behalf. The college professor may collect his salary by the tick of the meter recording the waves of thought expenditure from his brain.

That possibility was revealed here through announcement by Professor Anton J. Carlson, head of the physiology department of the University of Chicago, that thought is the result of a chemical process and its intensity may be measured by electrical instruments.

Dr. Ralph W. Gerard, head of the physiology bureau established by Professor Carlson, has completed a series of experiments which demonstrate, it was announced, that stimulation of nerve activity results in chemical re-

COMPANY TO GET WHITE PINE LOGS FROM RIVER BED

Millions of feet of valuable lumber at bottom of Allegheny River for half century are to be recovered.

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Millions of board feet of finest pine timber will be dug up from the bottom of the Allegheny river where it has been buried "filling" a half century or more.

Approximately 52 years ago one of the best white pine along the banks of the Allegheny river was cut down to make timbers for the river bed so as to form the base of piers on which could be built a Point Bridge, landmark where Monongahela and Allegheny rivers join to form the Ohio river.

Recalled by Old Timers Steamboat men and veteran loggers recalled the huge pieces of lumber has been embedded under bridge piers to form a base upon which they could be constructed. At first it was believed the pine was water logged and would never float.

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 2.—The bull frog, lately champion of the American swamps, has been treated with open arms in far off Japan, George W. Crowley, of the San Francisco Export company, declared.

"Some months ago we sent 150 matel pair of bullfrogs to Japan as an experiment, Crowley said. The offspring of this parent stock has been distributed to all parts of the Nipponese empire. Before long frogs will be as profitable as the story fable 'Figs in Pigs'."

The raising of frogs has added a new delicacy to Japanese menus, and "saddles," as we term the hindquarters of the bigger types, sell readily for an equivalent of $2.50 in American money.

WANT ALCOHOL POISONED

NEW ORLEANS, La., Mar. 2.—(INS)—Poisoning of industrial alcohol so that it cannot be used for beverage purposes is strongly supported by distillers, according to a resolution adopted at the annual convention of the Alcohol Distillers of America Association, here today. The distillers said that they heartily approved of poisoned alcohol.

Jealousy Has Prevented Philadelphia Athletics From Winning Its Games

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Athletics, unless somebody is grossly deceiving somebody else, is grossly deceiving everybody else. The Athletics didn't win a pennant last year; in fact, they have not won during the last thirteen. Yet they are having as much trouble with holdouts as the New York Yankees, who won the pennant by nineteen games and the world series by four out of five.

There must be something or someone to blame and, in the emergency, a Philadelphia critic thinks he has found the answer, in fact both of them. He blames everything on Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, past and present prima donna outfielders of the ball club. According to this man's version, Connie Mack has over-reached himself in tossing his money into the laps of faded but expensive stars and that the other players, resenting the comparative lack of luxury afforded them, are annoyed, depressed and altogether irked.

Somebody Jealous. In other words, the green-eyed monster is supposed to be setting in the dugout of the Athletics and this, it seems, accounts for the fact that the outfit was nineteen games worse than the Yankees last season. I had thought that it was because the Yankees were that much better as ball club, but then, such conceptions like that will crop up.

However, there is no denying the fact that the Athletics were a failure in 1927, even with highly paid stars like Cobb, Zach Wheat, and Eddie Collins on the payroll. The latter is said to have totalled

British Air Plane Experts Have Invented Oil Burning Engine For Use In Planes

LONDON, March 2.—(INS)—The explosions drive the engine. One of the greatest benefits of this engine is that it practically eliminates fire risks, due to the evaporation in hot weather of its inflammable spirit. Another advantage is that in oil-burning engine fuel consumption is reduced to such an extent that the range of an aircraft is increased by about 20 per cent.

Test In Airship. The engine will receive their first test in the great airship R101, which is being built by the Air Ministry. Six or seven of them will be fitted in this giant dirigible and afterwards will be tried out in heavier-than-air machines.

MANCHURIA GETS CHINESE HORDES SEEKING PEACE

Is Rapidly Becoming Haven Of Refuge For Stricken People Of North China According To Immigration Authorities

PEKING, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Manchuria is rapidly becoming a haven of refuge for the stricken Chinese countryfolk of north China according to the authorities there. In the past year the annual migration into Manchuria averaged under 400,000. During 1927 nearly 1,000,000 emigrants found peace in that northern land and now the authorities are planning to receive from two to four millions during the current year.

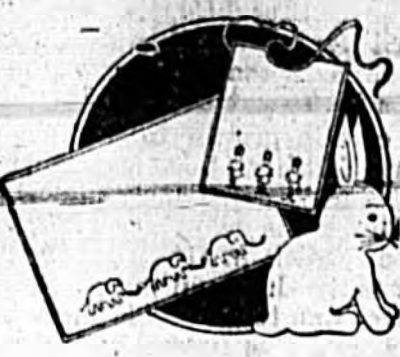

These refugees come mainly from Shantung in an attempt to escape the ravages of war, banditry, intolerable taxation, famine and generally nefarious government. What they find in their new home is well described by an official of the South Manchurian Railway Company, who explains:

Find Fertile Land. "In Manchuria they may settle on vast areas of undeveloped, fertile land where no war or serious disorder exists due largely to the presence of Japanese interests, the Japanese government had declared that peace must prevail in Manchuria."

Entire Hardships. Women with tiny infants slowly follow their husbands while transporters, who in general are more skin and bone, bring up the rear with the children hanging to their hands.

The fact that Manchuria is snow-bound during the winter and therefore leaves but little for these driven folks to do until spring, has not deterred migration this year so

ALL FOR BABY

Milk and mush take on quite an air of military authority when three wooden cross-stitch soldiers stand on guard to see that they are all eaten up, while not even the fustiest child can help eating a heavy meal with such an imposing array of elephants in front of him.

These soldiers, come mainly from Shantung in an attempt to escape the ravages of war, banditry, intolerable taxation, famine and generally nefarious government. What they find in their new home is well described by an official of the South Manchurian Railway Company, who explains:

Plant City. Lake Haines and Knight Streets in eastern part of city, closed.

LA BELLE. Annual meeting of Board of Fire Control held here recently.

ST. AUGUSTINE. $19,000 contract awarded for construction of Mill Creek school.

JACKSONVILLE. American Fruit Distributors establishing huge citrus plant in this city.

been their desire to escape conditions in Shantung. Among the immigrants are some from Chih and Honan, but Shantung seems to be the worst spot from which flight is imperative.

GUN RUNNING IS BECOMING HEAVY WORK IN EUROPE

Secret Business Of Carrying Arms To Smaller Nations Engaged In Balkan Wars Is Declared To Be On Increase

BERLIN, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Gun running is becoming quite a business in Europe, almost like rum running in America. With little wars going on in China and Central America, with an armament prohibition imposed on the defeated Central European powers, and with various armed and disarmed power secretly preparing for the new war which is held inevitable, the business of supplying secret armaments to actual or prospective combatants is proving profitable. And since this gun running, all within or originating in Europe, have attracted public attention at the moment.

Spectacular Case. The most spectacular case is that of the five car loads of Italian machine guns seized from Hungarian customs officials by Austrian military forces at St. Gotthard, on the Austro-Hungarian border. The little Entente charges that these machine guns were destined for Hungary's secret armaments which she is acquiring in violation of the peace treaty.

Hungary vigorously denies this, but the Little Entente has asked the League to investigate and the League might have to undertake this job unless Mussolini, who has not said a word about the matter yet, decides to put his foot down and squish an investigation which might be embarrassing to him and to his ally.

Other gun running cases are: A whole ship load of rifle ammunition was held up by German custom authorities at Kiel. The German government is anxious to avoid any noise being made about this case, and its new agencies hint foreign origin.

Independent German papers, however, assert that the ammunition comes from Germany itself and was to be smuggled out of the country in violation of the law.

Let us all rejoice! People are living longer than they did.

Statistics, usually pretty dull and uninteresting, have given us a great story this time. They tell us the average life has been extended thirty years during the past 100 years. Most of this increase has come during the past 50 years.

At any rate we are getting the Biblical allotment of three score and ten years, as the maximum of a well rounded life, will probably be extended to five score and ten, perhaps more, according to scientists.

This is discouraging to Undertakers but to be honest with you, we cannot sympathize with them, and we do not believe you can, no, not some of them personally.

Many Undertakers will have to find a more profitable vocation, in New York City for instance there are 1,800 Undertakers to take care of 72,000 people who die on the average annually.

This is an average of only 10 cases a year per Undertaker. The result is that most of them find it hard to make a living.

People will not die even in highly congested New York City, where 6,000,000 people or more are getting along great, despite everything.

You realize, of course, why people are living longer, don't you? Is it not because they are taking good care of their stomachs?

Result: Better health and a brighter outlook on life. People are bound to live longer if they get good things to eat regularly. Of course, there is not a thing that is that it is made of pure foods fit to eat unless one knows. Fortunately, people are protected these days by honest Manufacturers of Pure Food Products. The labels they use on their products have proved their integrity. People are not now afraid to eat any food that carries an honest label.

It is said that one touch of ptomaine poisoning, even if it does not kill, shortens life five years. It is very seldom now that anybody gets a touch of ptomaine poisoning.

Quality Bakers of America all bear the above insignia which does not change to meet any new fad that comes up. It is a mark that spells Uniform Quality year in and year out, day in and day out. Hence, it has earned Public Confidence and Good Will.

The public always appreciates careful, sustained effort on the part of any body in any line to give them articles of food that can be consumed safely and at the same time can be counted on to preserve strength and health.

The greatest of all stand-bys in every home is Bread. Called "the Staff of Life," it proves that it is every day. There is no other article of food used more universally or that is more necessary. Therefore, every family is entitled to Good Bread of a Quality that by sustained scientific and conscientious.

A very large part of this public knows Our Bread and eats it regularly. More may eat it if they wish. Any Good Bread can supply you.

ETHEL ROMIG FULLER

Fons Mathway is of course leading in the Jacksonville Journal's gubernatorial straw vote.

As the Times-Union suggests, if you are a married man, you are a man of few words.

It takes a Tampa candidate for governor to get the Times and the Tribune together.

The little girl down the street opines that the price paid for curls is the present or me wad.

"Nine Wounded in Encounter with Sandino"—headline. Yes, he's the one the Marines killed six weeks ago.

It wasn't so much running a story before it was released that's deplorable; it was the buck passing that followed afterward.

Jim Reed on his tour through the West is making honesty in government the war cry of his campaign. That won't make him very popular in some circles.

Everyone in Florida is aware that this state is again on the upgrade. Visitors tell us that conditions here are better than in most states of the Union.

Bainbridge Colby has been denied a divorce from his wife by a Paris court. Evidently the former secretary of state is not diplomat enough to get along with his wife.

Park Tammany has decided to come back to Florida and look after his politics. It's too late now, Park. You better get out your crutches, 'cause you're going to be a lame-duck.

Financial observers declare that the United States gained over $2,000,000 for the free use of money on the extra day this year in February. At that rate some of the rest of us interest payers probably picked up a few bucks too.

Tampa high school pupils voted the other day that Lindbergh is the world's greatest man. In the tabulation of the votes, "Lindy" had 120 while George Washington got six. Who knows? Perhaps history will show that the students were right.

The Jacksonville Journal is carrying an interesting discussion between John Perry, owner of the paper, and John Temple Graves, the editor. The subject is Al F. Smith, with Perry pro and Graves con. We are interested in seeing who wins.—Tampa Tribune. We have heard that in such arguments the owner usually wins, but J. T. G. doesn't seem to know that yet.

Why Don't Citrus Groves Pay?

The "Citrus Industry" asks that question and then goes on to answer it with the bland statement that "they do." It seems that a certain Frank Parker Stockbridge, a gentleman from New York who learned the business in the tower of the Woolworth building, has declared that the best thing to do with Florida orange groves is "to cut them down."

We wonder if he knows a certain grower in Seminole County who after paying all his fertilizer bills and other expenses of growing, deposited twenty-seven thousand dollars net profit in the bank. This same man has a large number of young trees coming on which in five years will add to his income some fifty or sixty thousand more. Another Seminole citrus grower gives one tenth of his income to the church. This year he donated a cool fifteen thousand dollars.

But, as the "Citrus Industry" goes on to say, not every grower in Florida makes money every year. Once in a while there is a slump in the market and none of them make a great deal. Other years this grower may be hit by a freeze while another remains unaffected. But taken over a long period of years, the citrus grower who knows his trees, and is fully acquainted with marketing problems and conditions, realizes a splendid return on his investment.

No farmer is likely to reap a lucrative harvest every season. We do not expect it in cotton, rice, tobacco, or any of the other crops for which the South is famous. We do not even expect it of the Northern farmers who are usually successful with wheat, and corn. We have heard it stated that peach growers ordinarily go long year after year losing money, and then about every twenty years make enough to carry them along for another twenty years. The citrus grower can do much better than that.

The "Citrus Industry" concludes its rather interesting article as follows: "As a matter of fact, the more intelligently managed groves of Florida make money for their owners year after year. Figures supplied by the state marketing bureau show that even in the lean years of 1925-26 and 1926-27 the average net price returned the grower was well in advance of the highest estimated cost of production used as a basis for figuring profits."

"Recently, a gentleman who is directly interested in the production of oranges in Florida and California and also in the production of deciduous fruits in other sections declared that the Florida groves in which he is interested returned a better profit than any of his other investments in fruit properties. Which is all that is needful to say in regard to Mr. Stockbridge's misinformation in regard to Florida orange growing."

"Tammany Of Florida"

The Reverend Sidney J. Catts is responsible for another new wrinkle in campaigning. The former governor makes the statement that he is organizing a "Tammany of Florida", the purpose of which will be to resort to shotguns and pistols to protect him at the polls from the legislature. The assertion is typical of Catts, and would be laughable were it not so pitiful.

In recent addresses, the Rev. Sidney declares the duty of the vigilance committee of the Florida Tammany will be "to stand by me during the campaign, be at the polls on election day with shotguns, if necessary, and later when I am governor and the legislature tries to impeach me or oppose my measures, to come to Tallahassee with your guns and run the legislature across the line into Georgia and take charge of the situation."

The remark moves the Miami Herald to comment as follows: "It is not so bad that Catts should turn on Governor Martin in his speeches and make him the object of his chief hymn of hate. The governor can stand that. For he has permanent records all over this state in the shape of good highways, good schools and sensible friends to deny the Catts and Mank vituperations; but it does make us feel alarmed that our good friends from the north should be down here to witness the antics of the man who was once Florida's most spectacular governor, and aspires to be again. That is what saddens us at this time of the year, for such foolishness makes our winter visitors lift inquisitive eyebrows which we cannot meet with good grace."

"Please, Mr. Catts, wait until May before you organize your 'Tammany of Florida.' It will make our visitors nervous to see your sturdy henchmen snapping their shotguns or drilling through the piney woods. Just give us that much time before you take over the State. Please Mr. Catts."

THE LENTEN SEASON IS HERE

FLORIDA TIMES-UNION

Particularly with the Episcopal and Catholic churches the beginning of Lent, which came last Wednesday, meant at least a partial abstinence from worldly pleasures, self-denial and somewhat greater attention upon church services during a period of forty days, exclusive of Sundays. The observance of Lent is greatly varied in different parts of the world and among those of different creeds. It is a season for introspection and greater attention to religious affairs with a large part of the people, practically everywhere, and coming as thoughts of spring are evident even in the northern sections of this country, it offers excuse for slowing down the festivities that have marked the season.

In Florida, Lent is really at the beginning of spring and while there is always a marked decline in the number of social events and greater church attendance, the accidental reason involved does not keep people indoors or require their staying away from harmless diversions and pastimes. Lent usually finds a great crowd coming into Florida from the North and East, with society people weary with much entertaining and amusements, finding a haven of rest and an opportunity to commune with nature. The idea is excellent and not out of order in the scheme of things, for nature is the greatest of visible teachers and men cannot learn too much from her.

People of the United States, even the most devout of Christians who regard Lent as a season for great study and consideration of the first recorded long period of fasting and prayer, do not go about lamenting and mourning the flesh, as was the custom in some lands, centuries ago. The church services held especially, featuring Lenten observance and teaching the faithful the lessons of sacrifice and denial, are usually well attended. Social affairs assume a quieter tone and with some there is a "letting up" of some favorite amusement, or other indulgence.

Lent, observed years ago as an occasion for solemn contemplation, abstinence from sufficient, palatable food and continued prayer and self-denial is now regarded as a memorable time in religious history to be recalled and studied, with the accompanying suspension of the greater festivities and special attention to charity and consideration for the unfortunate. The fasting that perhaps caused real distress in days gone by is not insisted upon by the strictest of religiousists where it could possibly do harm to individuals.

RUSSIANS- START SEVEN HOUR DAY IN MANY PLANTS

Great Soviet Experiment Instituted For Working Men Is Being Carried Out By Industrial Organizations

MOSCOW, Mar. 2.—(INS)—The great Soviet experiment with the seven-hour day has started. Thirty-five factories and mills, principally in the textile industry, are operating on the new basis with apparent success, and more will follow as soon as production has been put on an efficient basis.

In 22 cotton cloth, yard and knitted goods factories the switch to the shorter working day has brought the three shift system into play so that instead of using the machinery 16 hours in 24 it will be in use 21. In the Moscow district where most of the mills are situated about 125,000 employees are affected.

Increased Production
About 30,000 additional workers have been taken on for the third shift. Production of cotton cloth is expected to be increased by 75,000,000 yards, this year as a result. This will be the case, however to the added shift.

Whether the production per man hour will be increased is a question, and with wages remaining the same as they were on an eight hour basis, it is doubtful whether the cost of production will be lowered.

The latter is regarded of vital importance since the weakness of the Soviet industrialization program has been that prices of manufactured goods are from two to five times those of neighboring capitalistic countries.

Industry Rationalized
The manifesto of the Central Executive committee last October announced that the seven-hour day would be put into effect gradually in those industries which were "rationalized" beginning with October 1, 1928. The plan is running seven months ahead of schedule.

Virtually the entire oil industry with the exception of unskilled hands employed in it, is already on a seven-hour schedule. The planning commission has decreed that all new government factories opening this year must immediately start on the short day basis.

Foreign concessions will be the next to follow. Public utility employees in Moscow and other large cities will probably work one hour less each day beginning March 1.

Mrs. Coolidge Visits In Northampton Home

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Mar. 2.—(INS)—"Beams" the Presidential Boston Terrier, barked and danced a welcome to Mrs. Calvin Coolidge when she returned home today to visit her sick mother, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, 78.

The White House Terrier was on the front lawn of the modest Coolidge home on Massachusetts Street when Mrs. Coolidge drove up from the railroad station. Later Mrs. Coolidge visited her mother at the hospital. J. J. Fitzgerald, the secret service guard, said that Mrs. Coolidge may stay here possibly two weeks not only to be near her mother but to rest herself.

Thirteen Miners Die When Pit-Cage Falls

RECKLINGHAUSEN, Germany, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Thirteen miners were killed instantly here today when the pit-cage which was lowering them down to work in a mine crashed to the bottom of the pit.

The tragedy was caused by the bursting of the ropes to which the pit-cage was attached. Forty eight others were injured. Recklinghausen is in the state of Westphalia, in the heart of the Ruhr district, which is the most important coal mining section of Germany.

CORONER RETURNS VERDICT

BALTIMORE, Md., Mar. 2.—(INS)—A verdict of homicide and suicide was given today by Coroner Geo. Blades, in the case of Mrs. Helen Page, 63, who was found dead beside the body of her husband, Chas. K. Page, 67. She had beaten him to death at least three days ago and yesterday turned on the gas, dying while being taken to a hospital.

DENIES PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—(INS)—The proposal of railroads to reduce freight rates 20 cents a ton on carload shipments of bituminous coal from southern mines to lake ports, for trans-shipment to the northwest was denied by the interstate commerce commission today.

MOUNT DORA—Municipal lighting equipment here may be sold to Florida Public Service Company for $82,000.
