5-H Club Attends Sand Frolics In Jacksonville

A group consisting of six 5-H'ers and one sponsor drove to the Jacksonville Beach annual horse show entitled "Sand Frolics," Saturday. The horse show began at noon with pleasure classes and games being held on the beach at the same time (in much the same manner as a two ring circus). The pleasure classes consisted of classes for appaloosa, arabian, palomino, and open (unregistered horses), and quarter horses.

Saturday evening after a hurried supper the group left for Surfside Stables to see the halter classes (in which no unregistered horses are shown). These consisted of classes for young mares, aged mares, young stallions, aged stallions, and geldings in each of the following breeds: quarter horse, palomino, arabian and appaloosa.

Sunday afternoon on the beach they watched a quarter horse race, the very beautiful costume and palomino parade events, also the appaloosa and quarter horse reining classes.

The afternoon was topped by the pleasure horse championship class with the three top horses in all pleasure classes competing for the Chamber of Commerce Trophy and the four other top places.

Those accompanying Mrs. Ruth Bethea were her daughter Beth, Maureen Scott, Sally Peterson, Kay White, Linda Ball, and Linda May. This was part of the training program in which the 5-H has an opportunity to participate.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After we were married, my wife talked me into letting her retain her maiden name because she was a school teacher and wanted to be known as MISS. This has created some embarrassing situations over the years. After twenty years, I have had it. She positively refuses to use my name and call herself MRS. because, she says, it will confuse things in the school system where she has been known as MISS for so many years. What is your advice? MR. WITHOUT A MRS.

DEAR ABBY: We have a large family that includes many grandchildren. They are intelligent, active youngsters from 2 to 12. The minute they sit foot in our home they start wrecking the place. My husband says, "Well, here comes the demolition crew!" Abby, they jump on the furniture with their shoes, tear up everything they see and in general act like wild animals. All the while their parents sit by and say nothing. I think we should borrow some wild and noisy children's antics. My husband says we should tell them off and put a stop to their...

"The time is almost here when my husband and I will be off on our annual trip to visit first my parents and then his. We do this every year because our parents expect it—and we do want to see them. Pressure On Schools

The content of the public school curriculum, as it treats of politics, economics and social issues, is a matter of the most delicate concern to us all.

Our teachers, our school administrators and our school boards have a very serious obligation: to present to young, developing Americans—the citizens and leaders of tomorrow—a full, fair and balanced picture of the nation and the world they live in.

It is no assignment for amateurs. It is no place for the prejudiced, the special pleader, the banner waver.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says the business of ferreting out Communists in America should be left to the experts. The same surely can be said of deciding what our children should be taught.

Yet through a good part of 20th-century history many people whose chief qualification was their own burning zeal for a cause have tried to make their imprint on the country's educational content.

Memories of the economically troubled 1930s are dimming. But many chroniclers of that time attest that the pronounced leftward swing which then enlisted many Americans had some strong echoes in the school courses of the day.

Through the turbulence of war and its aftermath, things were much in flux.

Now, amid the frustrations of the Cold War and the puzzles of an economy which climbs to new heights while leaving millions of unemployed in the depths, the major pressures on our schools seem to be coming from the aroused right wing.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Carole is a clever teacher, for she mixes current events with her civics class. And that is wise since 10,000,000 young folks will be eligible to vote in 1964 who were too young in 1961. If you want to know a ticket most likely to defeat Kennedy in 1964, scrapbook this case. And send for the booklet below.

CASE M-482: Carole A., aged 28, is a civics teacher mentioned earlier.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I have assigned my class the problem of selecting the two candidates that would be most likely to defeat Kennedy and Johnson in 1964.

"So would you offer your suggestions, too?"

A number of former state senators are being talked of in this regard, including Senators Goldwater and Strom Thurmond, as well as George Romney and Nelson Rockefeller.

And it is high time Americans finally were offered a chance to choose between socialism vs. the "free enterprise" system of our fathers. In the last few elections, the "me, too" programs of both parties are so similar, many sturdy patriots couldn't stomach either ticket.

So it is now time to imitate England where the Conservative vs. the Labor tickets give voters a real choice.

But candidates with unfamiliar names can hardly be "sold" to the entire voting even though the campaign population in an election year, kiddy may total several millions of dollars for quick publicity.

Kennedy won, partly because of his father's reported $500 million dollars, plus his stampeding many Protestants to vote for him, just to prove they were not bigots.

But the Republican ticket in 1964 must offer all patriotic elements of the Democratic, Republican and Independent groups a ticket balanced geographically and with "brand names" that already are familiar by words.

So here's a suggestion for solving all the problems of the Republican state makers—Goldwater and John Roosevelt of New York!

Senator Goldwater (and Strom Thurmond, too) are now symbols of lower taxes and less socialistic bureaucracy at Washington.

Since Goldwater comes from a thinly populated far western state, he needs a mate from a populous eastern state.

John Roosevelt, youngest son of the late F. D. Roosevelt, is a very stable business leader. He is a family man, with no taint of annulment or divorce connected with his name.

And he lives in New York.

He has backed Republican candidates and talked for them in past election years.

Besides, the name "Roosevelt" has been on one or the other of our presidential tickets eight times in this century already.

For Teddy Roosevelt ran for vice-president with McKinley, then as president, and finally as an independent in the Bull Moose campaign.

F. D. Roosevelt also ran as vice-president with Al Smith and four times in his own right.

So a Roosevelt has been a candidate for 32 years of our 62 years in this 20th century! As a political "brand name" it has obtained a BILLION dollars worth of publicity.

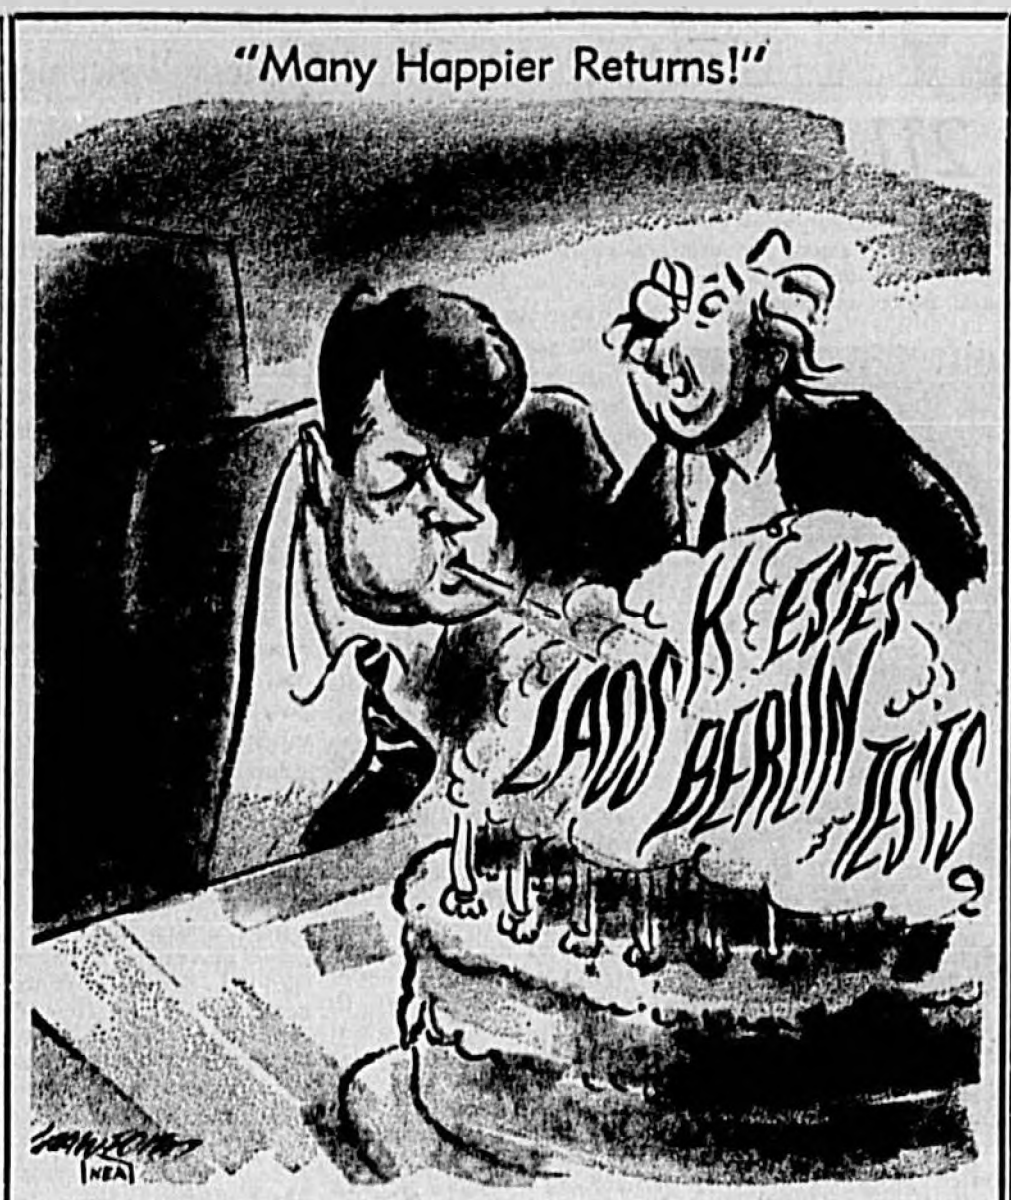

And do you think popular Eleanor Roosevelt would desert her own son to talk for Kennedy in 1964?

Speaking solely as a psychologist (and it is psychology nowadays) I'd recommend a (Goldwater-John Roosevelt team!

Even the Kennedy's half billion dollar family fortune, plus the 2½ millions of bureaucrats, would have a tough job defeating that stalwart pair.

For further advice, send for my booklet "How To Save Our Republic," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Republican leaders say they feel pretty good about the primary election results so far.

They make a rather sweeping generalization that even in the elections in which they have not polled the most votes they have at least made gains over their counts in 1958 or 1960.

Republicans are counting heavily on their prospects in the 1962 big state gubernatorial races—on Rockefeller in New York, Scranton in Pennsylvania, Volpe in Massachusetts, Rhodes in Ohio, Romney in Michigan, Nixon in California. The news from there is admittedly not too good, but still not considered hopeless by party faithful.

The new bright spot to the Republicans is Pennsylvania, where GOP National Committee Chairman William E. Miller of New York thinks the party's gubernatorial candidate, multimillionaire William W. Scranton, has definite presidential possibilities for 1964 and a man to watch.

This does not discount the prospect of that other multimillionaire, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Republicans are now saying that he is the one 1964 possibility that millionaire President John F. Kennedy would most like to see defeated in this year's New York gubernatorial race.

The reading now is that Gov. Rockefeller's divorce has not injured his political image. Assuming that he does not remarry before the election—which even the governor's closest associates won't talk to him about—he can campaign as a proud father with his fine children on the platform.

Romney and Nixon are considered possibilities only if they win their gubernatorial races. Sen. Barry Goldwater has to run for re-election to the Senate in 1964. Since it is not considered likely that he can get a "Lyndon Johnson law" passed by the Arizona legislature to let him run for two offices at the same time, his presidential prospects are dimmed.

But all this 1964 talk is considered speculation. The situation could change completely in the next two years.

The immediate Republican job is to make a better showing in Congress than their present 176 House, 36 Senate seats.

They talk big of recapturing control in off-year elections. But they will be doing well if they make a small gain in the Senate and pick up 26 seats in the House for a total of 200. If they don't do that well, the Republican presidential nomination may not be worth having.

The GOP prevailing sentiment seems to be, "Give us a gain in Congress, a couple more Berlin walls, two or three more Laoses or Cubas, two or three more Billie Sol Estes — and we'll be in the running."

The Congressional Joint Committee on Republican Principles under Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin expects to have its statement of positive GOP policies ready June 7. It will be voted on by party caucuses in Senate and House. As accepted, it will be presented to the National Committee in Seattle June 11 or 12.

June 22 the Republicans will stage their first $100-a-plate congressional campaign fund dinner in Washington.

The old Citizens for Eisenhower and Nixon Committees are being revived and their headquarters moved to Washington to help in other money-raising drives.

June 28 a group of 50 to 75 Republican leaders will hold a conference with ex-President Eisenhower at his Gettysburg farm—probably in tent. This will precede the annual Governors' Conference at Hershey, Pa., July 4 weekend.

Eisenhower has already indicated he will take an active role in the 1964 campaign working through National Committee headquarters. He can't begin to fill all the invitations he already has to help old friends get re-elected.

He does expect to take part in regional or national rallies. One scheduled: Boston, Oct. 13, day after his 72nd birthday.

Phil Newson Says...

Powder Keg In Brazil?

"A powder keg may exist in the impoverished northeast of Brazil but the wick is in Rio de Janeiro."

The above quotation is from Gov. Carlos Lacerda of Guanabara state, whose political beliefs make him both a beacon and something of a paradox in a nation where poverty abets growing communism and communism works hand in hand with anti-Yankee nationalism.

Lacerda, whose state capital is Rio, is a former newspaper editor who is one of Brazil's strongest supporters of President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program.

He also believes that U. S. aid should have "strings attached."

"Let us not pretend," he says, "that economic help has nothing to do with establishing a free responsible community in Latin America. No one has the right to finance policies that do not prevent communism from growing from within."

In Brazil, the United States needs such supporters as Lacerda.

In the poverty-stricken northeast, the Communists both a crash and a long-range program to bring aid to 20 million inhabitants and to prevent a social explosion in the Castro style.

The rains finally came to the parched northeastern plains last week, making possible a late harvest of beans and corn which may, joined with emergency U. S. food shipments, help relieve widespread hardship and starvation.

In northeastern Brazil, aside from perennial drought, the problem is one of land tenure practically unchanged since colonial days, where a few own vast plantations and the majority starve under an income of less than $100 per year.

But Brazil's problems are as varied as the nation's size. In the transport unions especially, the Communists are strong.

So They Say

We'll see the full scourge of brutal Communist control over our country by 1972, if not before.

—Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society.

Already visible is a massive swing away from Marxism in the Soviet Union. Increasingly the Communist managers are adopting Western methods. . . . In 50 years, communism as a moving ideology or philosophy will have dissolved away into the oblivion of history.

—Clarence B. Randall, industrialist, presidential advisor.

It seems almost incredible that there should still be the need for a federal law to protect women workers from such a form of discrimination.

—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, before a congressional subcommittee considering bills to provide equal pay for equal work without regard to sex.

Genghis Khan used a system of pigeon post to keep in touch with the lands he had conquered.

Letters

To The Editor

Sanford Herald
 Dear Editor:
 Please allow me space in the paper to give flowers to my doctor G. H. Starke, and the entire personnel of the Seminole Memorial Hospital. I have been a patient in the hospital three times. Each time everybody seemed to have a touch for human being. To do for one who is ill and smile is one thing that must come from within and God can only give it.

A sick person most times is one who desires love, care and patience. People who administer to him must possess these qualities in order to make the patient feel wanted and secure. I am saying that the persons who work at Seminole Memorial have these qualities.

The building and grounds are neatly kept. The Pink Ladies are doing a Christian's part. What is more important than caring for the sick? It is the human touch that really counts.

I thank God for my doctor, you and my many friends who prayed, visited and sent flowers, finances and even telephone calls. All these gave me a cheer.

May God's richest blessings be yours now and forever.

Sincerely yours,
 (Rev.) A. A. Fields

been drinking. It is pathetic that so many persons are irresponsible and regard human life so lightly that they endanger their lives as well as those of innocent persons by driving while under the influence of alcohol. We feel that it is the moral obligation of these hired and elected public officials to see that the law is upheld and that violators be made aware of the necessity of all to obey the law for their sake and the good of society of which they are a part.

For people, built to serve all ages. Books—good books, yes. But also there should be room for living with books—Story hours for the younger and book-talks, etc. for the older ones.

My hat is off to our librarian, Mrs. Sarah King! Her use of every available bit of space in this, our long-out-grown library building is ingenious, to say the least. Have you noticed the corner she made into a "Teen-age Department"? There's room for only one "Teen-er" at a time, though—please!

My dear sir, shouldn't we take a good look? After we do perhaps the little ones won't feel, anymore, that they must find older children to "stand by" or else run the risk of being trampled during the library's "after-school-rush."

And perhaps we can discern the basic truth concerning the importance of today's library to our city, to our county and to our nation. Shirley Harkins said it about our children:

This is no ordinary room bounded by prosaic walls. This is the "magic hunting ground where stirring adventure calls.

Market Slump - - Shock

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market has been dropping for weeks, but what happened Monday surprised most Wall Streeters, they said today.

For a comparison of statistics they reached as far back as 1929, year of a decline which still makes old-timers shudder. Some pointed out that most of the conditions which made investors yell "fire" in 1929 were not present and there were other statistics which seemed to indicate someone would call "halt" to the down hill rush. The question was when.

The New York Stock Exchange, the nation's largest and the bell-wether for most investors, had no comment at its New York office. But down in San Antonio, Tex., G. Keith Funston, president of the exchange, said Monday's plunge was "nothing more than a manifestation of a free economy."

A. W. Zelomek, author and economist said the paper loss "might affect some areas." But he said the decline "has looked overdone. The advance was overdone too."

A major Wall Street house said the selloff represented the "speculative excesses of the past three or four years" coming home to roost. Because of the emotional state of the market it could not be determined whether this would be the low. "But on the figures, the statistics, the earnings, the dividends and the general healthy state of the U. S. economy, stocks are rapidly becoming realistic."

Briefly, what happened to the market Monday was this: The paper values of stocks—and this is regardless of the true value of the industries which issued them, the prospects for the economy or their dividend rates—shrank about $28.5 billion on the "big board." This did not include losses on the American Stock Exchange, nation's second largest, or in the sprawling over-the-counter market where far more issues are available for trading than on the exchanges.

Volume of 9,350,000 shares was heaviest since the 9,572,000 of July 21, 1933. The drop in the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks, down to 576.93, was 34.95 points, biggest single day's drop since the 38.33 of Oct. 28, 1929. Of 1,375 issues traded, 1,212 lost and 75 gained.

At the close of trading, the ticker tape was 69 minutes behind the actual transactions. This is the standard by which the exchange measures the lateness of its reporting while trading is in progress. But the cleanup, the more detailed reporting of all transactions and price changes, ran until 5:51 p. m. on round lots, and eight minutes later on other figures.

Tiger Tales

Operation "Power Dive" is over and you can be justly proud of your "Tigers" tonight. They flew a very creditable 158 hours during this round-the-clock Fleet Exercise. Power Dive started on the morning of the 16th and continued on until the evening of the 19th.

During the operation the USS Independence (CVA-62) participated with other units of the Task Force simulating full wartime conditions. The "Tigers" of Heavy Attack Squadron One could be heard launching at all hours in their mighty A3D "Skywarriors."

During those long hours this Battle Efficiency "E" Award Winning Squadron again demonstrated its prize winning form as they met each and every commitment with the smartness and determination of a professional Naval Aviation Fighting Team. During an operation such as this, when it's time to rest, the "Tigers" don't sleep! They "Catnap" and remain always on the alert.

Congratulations are in order for Cdr. Boudinot our CO, and Lt. "Rich" Gralow, our sterling Flight Officer. They both became "Centurions" during the Exercise having made their 100th landing on the flight deck of the Big "I." We also want to congratulate our five new "Tiger Chiefs": W. J. Dulek, ATCA, J. N. Sutton, AQCA, K. R. Muller, YNCA, W. J. Thompson, ATCA and M. A. Gross, DKCA, and the other fifty-five enlisted men who advanced in rating on the 16th. These advancements demonstrate how perseverance, hard work, and devotion to duty lead to a successful Naval Career.

We'll be dropping the "Hook" in Geona, Italy on Wednesday the 24th, and the "Tigers" are looking forward to meeting our Italian friends and visiting their beautiful and historical seaport.

Hungarian Refugee Is Guest Of Altamonte Sixth Grade

Tibor Menyhart, a refugee from the Hungarian rebellion in 1956, was special guest last Wednesday morning of Altamonte Elementary's sixth grade large block class.

He told of living under Communism as a child and high school student and how, after participating in the student rebellion, he escaped on foot across the Austrian border coming to the United States where, sponsored by an Episcopal priest, he went on to finish college at Rollins, graduating in December of last year.

In a dramatic, yet unemotional presentation, he outlined the basic philosophies underlying Communism and drew a qualified comparison to the American way of life. He itemized many steps through which people become enslaved when a government does too much for them pointing particularly to the loss of personal freedom.

Now a naturalized citizen, Menyhart's loyalty to his adopted country was evident throughout the talk which stressed the dangers of taking freedom for granted and suggested many ways for the children to gain an increased appreciation of their country. The talk concluded with a question and answer period during which many pertinent questions were asked by the students.

The fifth grade class also was invited to attend the program, one of many interesting studies and talks presented during the past year through the block system of teaching.

Rotary Hears Predictions Of Trouble Coming

World traveler Henry Simpson of Geneva, just back from a three months South Pacific cruise predicted to Rotarians Monday that Bali would be the next trouble spot in the Pacific.

Simpson, a well-seasoned traveler, who has visited more than 40 countries in the past 40 years, based his predictions on the bad economic condition of the country, the dictator-type government, the build-up of armed might and the squads of troops who were seen at all points, as well as planes which buzzed the ship on their voyage.

Such things as soap, lipstick, men's clothes, and cigars are in such short supply that they bring high trades in the black market in the country of Bali, Simpson said.

He remarked that New Zealand and Australia were two of the most socialized countries he had ever seen, with strict 40 hour weeks, no work of any kind on weekends for anyone, and cradle to the grave care by the government, paid for by taxes of 40 percent of the income.

Simpson praised Sidney, Australia, as the most beautiful harbor in the world, but decried the opinion of the newspapers and populace there which believe that all Americans are enormously rich and wealthy.

Simpson declared that "Americanized" Samoa, once the home of the finest, healthiest natives, is now spoiled. The men have become fat and lazy and leave all the work for the women to do, and everything comes out of cans, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson returned the last of April from the three month cruise which took them from Fort Lauderdale through the Panama Canal, to Mexico, Hawaii, and then down through the South Pacific Islands to Australia, up through the Near East to HongKong and back to Hawaii and the trip home. While in HongKong the Simpsons attended the International Rotary convention.

Crippled Plane Lands Safely

NEW YORK (UPI) — A four-engine Super Constellation with a faulty nose wheel landed safely at Idlewild Airport Monday night on a foam-covered runway.

No injuries were reported among the 36 passengers and five crewmen aboard the Eastern Airlines plane which left Washington, D. C., at 9 p. m., EDT.

The "air shuttle" was due at LaGuardia Airport but its pilot, Capt. D. Bionne of New York, radioed that the nose wheel would not lock into position.

The plane was diverted to Idlewild because of its longer runways and more abundant emergency equipment.

Kennedy Is 45 Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy was 45 years old today — a youth among venerable world statesmen, a scarred veteran of political crises at home.

Beyond greetings from his wife and children this morning and felicitations from his staff, a regular work day came ahead of a real birthday observance.

A quiet family dinner party was set for tonight at Glen Ora, the Kennedy country place outside Middleburg, Va., where the president will spend Memorial Day before returning to the White House Thursday.

FBI Hunting Suicide Pact In Bomb Plant

CENTREVILLE, Iowa (UPI) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation today was expected to take over the main responsibility in the probe of last week's Continental Airlines jet crash which killed 45 persons.

The FBI was reported to be concentrating its efforts on a possible murder-suicide pact in which a bomb apparently was exploded in a rear washroom of the Boeing 707 as it flew at 39,000 feet over Unionville, Mo., en route from Chicago to Los Angeles by way of Kansas City, Mo.

An executive of an insurance company which wrote in-flight policies on some of those aboard the stricken plane said Monday that if there was a murder-suicide plot "everything points to passengers who lived in Kansas City or the vicinity."

The United States manufactures 500 billion wooden and paper safety matches annually.

Bus Passenger Goes Berserk

CHICAGO (UPI) — A berserk bus passenger was shot to death by police early today after he stabbed and critically wounded two Greyhound Lines drivers and terrorized 41 passengers aboard a Chicago-to-San Francisco bus.

The knife-wielding passenger was tentatively identified from papers on his body as German-born Miles Sava Breklich, 27, of San Francisco.

Wilfred Doss, 41, Addison, Ill., who was at the wheel of the bus when the altercation began, suffered stab wounds in the neck, left side and back.

Don Paul, 38, Des Moines, Iowa, the relief driver aboard, was wounded near the heart.

Doss and Paul were listed in fair condition and doctors at Illinois Research Hospital said they would live.

Also hospitalized was a Marine, Richard Williams, who was en route to the West Coast for duty at the 3rd Area Airways. Williams was under treatment for shock. Doctors said he did not appear to have been wounded although his clothing was covered with blood.

County Checks Legal 'Rights' On Alleged Tax Roll Inequities

The County Commission may send County Attorney Harold Johnson to Tallahassee "if necessary" to determine what their "legal responsibility is regarding alleged charges of inequities on the county tax roll."

The board asked Johnson to look into the situation and "go up to the capital or, get an attorney general's decision" on the matter.

Commissioner James P. Avery told the board Tuesday that there was a lot of criticism directed at the board recently regarding articles in the press on these "so called inequities by the tax assessor and I for one would like to know where our legal responsibility is."

Avery said some very serious charges have been leveled in the press and if "they are true there should be something we can do about it."

The commissioner also said that from the way he reads the paper, charges have been made that the tax assessor has made a "deliberate attempt to lower assessments in some areas."
