Councilman Richard Wirz Dead At 34

Casselberry Councilman Richard Wirz 4, Plumosa Drive died Sunday evening at Florida Hospital North, Orlando. He was hospitalized since Oct. 16 at Florida Hospital North, Altamonte Springs, and was tran-sferred to the Orlando hospital Friday where he underwent surgery that day.

Wirz was taken to the Altamonte Springs hospital in the evening hours on Oct. 16 suffering with a gunshot wound. Charged with attempted murder in the shooting was David Lee Griffin, 31, Michele Court, Casselberry.

Griffin was released from the Seminole County jail after posting $2,500 bond. Asst State Attorney Bill Staley said his office will re-open the investigation into the shooting. He said no action is expected by his office until

Prisoner Hangs In

An autopsy was done today on the body of a 20-year-old man who was found hanging Sunday morning in a cell at the Sanford City jail, police department detectives said today. Thomas Arthur Cochran, 24 Shenadoah Village, Sanford, was pronounced dead by county medical examiner G. V. Garav after a jailer found the youth. He was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge Saturday afternoon at 15th Street and French Avenue. The autopsy, according to Garay, showed death was due to hanging.

Police spokesmen refused to say whether the youth, who listed a permanent address at 234 Rogers St. Thomaston, Ga., had been involved in any incidents at the jail. The state attorney's office is investigating the death. A spokesman at the Shenandoah Apartments on U.S. 17-92 said the youth listed his place of employment as Delta Electronics.

Antitrust Suits Diversionary Tactic

By JEFFREY ST. JOHN Copley News Service

NEW YORK - "The essence of the monopoly in the marketplace," writes Prof. Dominick T. Armentano in his Book, "The Myths of Antitrust" (Arlington House, New Rochelle, N.Y.), "is governmental. In this light, antitrust may be seen as a diversionary tactic to draw attention away from the real monopolistic problems - the developing plutocratic relationship between business and govern-

Dr. Armentano, associate professor of economics at the University of Hartford, demonstrates in his brilliant book how antitrust laws are largely a "hoax." "Like all sacred cows," he writes, "antitrust laws are shrouded in an aura of authenticity.

"The prevailing view is that without these laws a free and competitive system could no long

We have at hand a recent decision handed down in Tulsa, Okla., on Sept. 17, against IBM to illustrate just what Dr. Armentano meant when he called antitrust a hoax. In short, IBM was found guilty of violating the Sherman Antitrust Act and fined $352 million for monopolistic practices in the computer equipment field. It was the second time that IBM had lost a case in court and it plans to appeal, However, while most favoring antitrust laws cheered the

Other Thoughts

There are parental strings attached to those credit cards one large store chain is now issuing to 10-year-olds, but are we really ready for the cashless society at the grade school level?

Handling actual money has educational value, especially since the New Math began crowding simple arithmetic out of the classroom. What Junior might not learn at school he soon learns by having to figure out how many pieces of bubblegum he can get for a quarter, or how much is left from a dollar-if anything-after buying a hamburger.

decision, few stopped to carefully analyze the particulars of the case.

For example, the company that filed the suit against IBM was the manufacturer of peripheral equipment for computers known as Telex, which had lost $13.4 million in the fiscal year that ended

And as the judge who handed down the decision agains IBM, A. Sherman Christensen, acknowledged in the same opinion. Telex was 'guilty of infringing on IBM copyrighted manuals and trying to hire IBM employes to get trade

The case against IBM becomes even more bizarre when you analyze Judge Christensen's conclusions. First, the judge ackowledged that "IBM's growth and success in the industry have been due in substantial measure to its skill, industry and foresight." In fact, he rejected the contention of Telex, in part, that IBM did not gain its prominence in the computer field through skill and superior marketing.

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) - The U.S. Coost Guard has had its own version of a "Watergate" investigation in waters off President Nixon's Florida retreat. In this case, Watergate wasn't an apartment-office complex. It was a 40-foot 'diami Beach fishing boat chartered by a press photographer to cover Nixon in the event he and his confidante, C.G. ## Snake fan bites out at Abby's 'pet' idea

By Abigail Van Buren @ 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Twenty lashes with a forked tongue for allowing your readers to suggest that snakes make "nice pets" and require a minimum of care.

Any competent herpetologist can tell you that snakes are among the most difficult animals to keep in captivity, for the following reasons: They are susceptible to infections which often become fatal because amateurs cannot detect a sick snake until it is much too late. Also, a snake's cage must be kept absolutely immaculate, with controled amounts of fresh air, light, and heat.

Snakes show no affection whatsoever. They can be taught to tolerate some handling, but a snake does not recognize its owner or keeper.

Most snakes require a diet of live [or freshly killed] mice, lizards, and insects, which is a problem for most

Abby, if you don't alert your readers to the above facts, many may rush out and purchase a snake only to have the poor creature perish thru its owner's ignorance. SHADE PAN. FREMUNT, CALL

DEAD PAN: That settles it! No snakes for this household. It's difficult enough to buy beef without rhopping for lizards, mice, and insects. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: To bra or not to bra? That was a recent question. Large, medium, smali, or nonexistent-what's all the fuss about? Any student of geometry knows that curves are nothing more than wrecked angles. FLUNKED GEOMETRY

DEAR ABBY: That young mother who resented the way the grandparents "spoiled" her children, reminded me

I, too, deeply resented the way my parents spoiled my youngsters. I almost dreaded letting my children spend a weekend with their grandparents. Then, one day my wise sister in law took me aside, and said: "Children need to ge away from that strict parental discipline once in a whileto be 'spoiled' and made to feel 'special,' and who better than grandparents should do it? Children need to learn how to cope with a different set of rules in a different situa-

She was right, of course. The occasional "spoiling" my children enjoyed from their grandparents didn't hurt them

DEAR M.S.: Thank you for a letter which came just in time to help me justify spoiling my own grandchildren.

Tampa had an opportunity to get boxing rolling in high gear for the first time in years. Instead of going for an action fight they went for names, they threw the undercard together with little or no thought of it until the last moment. It was not

Ohio State Takes 7th Straight

A couple of years ago, Woody Hayes was being asked only half in jest by some - how Ohio State would fare in the National Football League. The question is being raised once

"I had mixed emotions all week," confessed Bob Blackman, whose Illinois team became No. 1-ranked Ohio State's seventh consecutive victim Saturday by a 30-0 count. "We had great practice sessions and I felt we could knock them off and the players felt the same way.

"Then I would go home nights and watch the films and begin to wonder if the Minnesota Vikings could beat them." Blackman found out that Illinois couldn't, although it was only 10-0 after three quarters. Then, the Buckeyes erupted for three touchdowns in the final period, two by quarterback

"I didn't dream of anything like this," said LSU's Charles McClendon after the Tigers defeated Mississippi in the daytime for the first time since 1934. Utah took advantage of seven turnovers to pile up a 30-10 nation's longest winning streak at 12 games. "We needed this," said Southern Cal's Anthony Davis, who broke loose for five touchdowns against California, including an 80-yard gallop with a free kick. "We've been kind of struggling all season, but today we got ourselves together John Sciarra and Kermit Johnson combined for 271 yards and three touchdowns in leading UCLA past Washington. Alabama iced the game on Randy Billingsley's 38-yard run in the first period and Willie Shelby's 29-yard dash in the Notre Dame tarted slowly against Navy, leading only 14-0 at the half, then sank the Midshipmen with a 30-7 second half.
