Roosevelt's Rush For Votes Checked By Bay State Poll

Massachusetts' Entire Delegation Is Pledged To Smith; Penn Is Doubtful

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27. (A.P.)—Franklin Roosevelt's rush for the Democratic presidential nomination met its first direct check today when primary returns showed Massachusetts had pledged its entire 36 convention votes to Alfred Smith.

To what extent that New England defeat may be mitigated by results coming in slowly from Pennsylvania with Roosevelt leading on Smith in the presidential preference vote, only complete returns from the Keystone State can determine.

Roosevelt forces claimed he will have more than 60 votes from the Pennsylvania delegation of 76 on the first ballot at the 1932 convention. The preference vote there is not binding on the delegates excepting Pennsylvania. Yesterday's results gave Smith his first presidential place with pledged votes in the Democratic convention.

LAGUARDIA TELLS OF SUMS PAID TO BALLYHOO STOCK

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27. (A.P.)—Payment of more than a quarter of a million dollars to New York financial writers for "ballyhooing" stocks in which burques were "digging the market" was charged yesterday by Representative LaGuardia, a surprise witness in the Senate Banking Committee's investigation of the stock market.

The New York Republican had before the committee a trunk load of documents to support his charge that $286,270 was paid by one publicity agent to newspaper financial writers for boosting various stocks.

Almost the full membership of the committee and a packed room of spectators were present for LaGuardia's testimony which had been described by Chairman Newbeck as "a big surprise."

The New Yorker drew out of his mysterious trunk, which had been under guard for a week, a number of cancelled checks endorsed by New York financial writers back in 1924 and 1925. These totaled only $655, but LaGuardia said a New York Plummer, New York publicity agent, could tell to whom he had paid $271,000.

Plummer would not reveal to whom the remainder went. LaGuardia said, because the men are now dead or out of jobs. He said Plummer is now under indictment, but did not give the details.

DARROW GIVES CLOSING PLEA FOR MASSIE

Astute Lawyer Bases Contention Upon Nonsensical And Also On 'The Unwritten Law'

BOSTON, Apr. 27. (A.P.)—Clarence Darrow, astute criminal lawyer, today gave his final attempt to clear four Americans as he presented his three-hour closing argument before the racially mixed jury trying Lieutenant Thomas Massie and three others for the lynching of Joseph Kahahawai, Hawaiian, allegedly confessed participant in the criminal attack on Massie's wife. Opposing counsel indicated the case may go to the jury late today.

Darrow pleaded not only the defense contention that Massie was momentarily insane when he held the pistol that killed Kahahawai but also the unwritten law.

A prosecution hint that it had an important point against the defense's contention of insanity. A prosecution hint that it had an important point against the defense's contention of insanity. A prosecution hint that it had an important point against the defense's contention of insanity.

Ohio Reporter Shot By Two Gangsters

CANTON, Apr. 27. (A.P.)—Harry Bookman, reporter for the Ohio Examiner, weekly newspaper, was shot and seriously wounded in front of his home today by two men who lay in wait and opened fire on him with a shotgun. The Examiner has been waging a campaign against organized crime here and in other Ohio cities. Bookman saved his life by shoving himself with a porch post. Approximately 100 shots entered his body. The shooting occurred yesterday after the slaying of Don Mellett, crusading editor, assassinated while waiting a newspaper campaign against crime here.

MILLS ATTACKS CASH PAYMENT ON VET BONUS

Says Action Would Destroy Hope Of Balanced Budget, Ruin Public Confidence

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27. (A.P.)—Senator Mills today launched a powerful administration offensive against cash payment of the bonus before the House Ways and Means Committee. He had the hope of opposition by 200,000,000-dollar bonus law, whether paid in borrowed money or through inflation of currency.

"The measure now before you is designed to pay an enormous and due in money. That is not how Mills said the adjusted bonus certificate will not mature until 1946. To pay them at their face value today, the amount that has been appropriated would be effective immediately. The government would be forced to issue bonds to the amount of about $2,000,000,000.

"To help the government today to deal with a balanced budget and to deal with nothing but a national confidence in the government, it is imperative that we should not do this," Mills said.

He argued that the cash payment would be a "blow to the confidence of the government." He said the government would have to pay $2,000,000,000 in the next few months. He said the government would have to pay $2,000,000,000 in the next few months.

HOOVER TELLS GOVERNORS TO USE ECONOMY

Sees Big Need For Reduced Expenditures And More Equally Distributed Taxes

RICHMOND, Apr. 27. (A.P.)—As a "sure highway to national recovery" President Hoover cited to the Governors' conference today the "absolute necessity" of reduced expenditures, better distributed taxation, and balanced budgets on the part of government.

Town councils, county commissions, state legislatures, and an great agree on these fundamental, he said, but to accomplish them "we must have intelligent support of the people themselves that the selfish vested interest and vested habit do not by their organized sectional and group opposition or individual action defeat these high purposes."

Expressing the wish for greater cooperation toward setting governmental problems he suggested that the governors sponsor in their states such conferences as they are holding here.

Governors of the United States at a state dinner last night were told some of the things wrong with the country today.

About 30 of the nation's state executives were present at the formal affair for attendees at the annual governors' conference here. They had spent a day of eight days seeing among old towns of Virginia, with luncheon at historic Williamsburg.

"We have become badly joggled in the slough of decadence," said Governor Kern of Utah, and "in coming years it will be necessary for us to have a united country," observed Governor Gardner of Maine, while Governor Ritchie of Maryland, told the conference that "shifting too much power to Washington has had a weakening effect on the individual initiative and state initiative."

These statements capped the second day of the conference. The side of the slough, however, at the dinner last night, the governors did little other than to come from Virginia, many having spent their week taken to Jamestown Island, where they had a luncheon and a walk and after that, Williamsburg, where they looked around in the spots associated with American history since the beginning.

At Williamsburg, a centennial celebration honoring George Washington was held in the 17th-century hall and the 17th-century hall and the 17th-century hall.

New York Republican Has Trunk Load Of Evidence As Proof

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27. (A.P.)—Alfred E. Smith delegates at large were beating the slide of Franklin D. Roosevelt by more than two to one in the Massachusetts presidential primary, on the basis of early returns.

No Boston precincts were included in the tabulation and the early returns did not indicate the trend of the voting for district delegates. Forty-two Democratic delegates were voted upon, with 12 at large having had a vote each. The polls remained open as late as 8 o'clock in some places.

In the other big primary of the day—in Pennsylvania—there was little early lead right to show whether the Roosevelt or Smith delegates were leading in the count of ballots on 84 delegates, with 76 votes in the national convention. Roosevelt was energetically stronger there, while Smith continued to dominate in Massachusetts.

Little interest was attached to the Republican primaries in the two states since President Hoover had little opposition in the balloting. Massachusetts gave a complimentary vote with virtually all its 34 full vote delegates, while in Pennsylvania nearly all 75 were assured him for re-nomination.

Should the final returns show the entire delegations from the two states to be in Hoover's camp. (Continued on Page Three)

Scout Exhibition Is Feature Today At Kiwanis Luncheon

Scouts James McDaniel, Edwin Boniske, Billy Zachry, Urban May, and Beryl Higgs, appearing before the Sanford Kiwanis Club in a demonstration of fire-making, signaling, first aid, and public speaking at the Montezuma Hotel today, received volumes of applause for their interesting presentation of the fundamental teachings of Boy Scout work.

They, and Rodman Lenneman, member of the faculty at Seminole High School who spoke on "Guidance and Modern Youth," were the principal attractions of a program arranged by John Dingfelder, A. C. Ford, and S. F. Doudney.

Kiwanian Joe L. Marentette presided over the meeting in the absence of President W. R. Zerk. He made an appeal for money, mobiles and drivers, who will gather at Seminole High School Monday at 12:45 o'clock for the purpose of transporting to high school boys to various industrial plants in the county in observation of National Boys' Week. He made a particular appeal to the women of the city and county, who had not long ago offered their automobiles to transport children from the Methodist Orphanage to Sanford where they were to be entertained.

Those present at the luncheon were: Rodman Lenneman, Ensign Christine Johnson, of Waycross, and the Boy Scouts, as guests; Kiwanians Julius Dingfelder, Ray Fox, A. C. Many Fish Caught By Sanford Groups At Cape Canaveral

A veritable army of Sanford men took a day off to go fishing yesterday, according to information from several sources this morning, and good catches were reported in almost every cove.

Cape Canaveral and vicinity was the mecca for 25 Sanford men who brought home more than 175 fish of every description, taken either from docks or boats over the Atlantic Ocean there.

A party, composed of R. A. Newman, W. A. Adams, Osborne Williams, Clyde Byrd, Walter Comber, Arthur Brannan, A. F. Collins, J. E. Rowland, Jr., Roy Mann, and John Melach, Jr., chartered a new boat, the "Mary Ann," by steering it into the Atlantic for a jaunt of 30 miles from Canaveral. They fished for several hours, to return with 147 mackerel, bluefish, and other varieties of sea food.

Another party, composed of S. H. Shinkler, B. G. Shinkler, Jr., L. E. Allen, E. A. Cobb, E. C. Harmon, Walter Coleman, E. L. Hoy, George Derrin, Hawkins Comber, and Ralph Wirth, fished from a boat not quite so far out, and brought back more than 200 red head among many other sea fish.

Five men, E. W. Deane, A. J. Peterson, Hugh Rumbley, V. L. Smith, and F. P. Adams spent the day on boats near the Cape, reporting the catch of a quantity of fish.

Isn't it funny, the City Commissioners can get into a dollar trouble over a hundred dollar baseball matter, than a seven million dollar bond debt, or a thirty percent tax collection.

The Salvation Army drive is getting under way just in time to prevent the golf club campaign for funds from interfering with baseball donations. It ain't beer we need in this city; it's money.

The Ocala Star says the impression is getting around that the dark horse we've been hearing so much about in this gubernatorial campaign isn't going to materialize. Yeah, the would-be dark horses are turning out to be black rats.

There are, most of us are aware, quite a number who do not classify in this group. They are "moochy" or "slainful," or indifferent until four or five months before the primary, and then their sunny disposition, their jovial handclasp, melt forth. In my four years I built 1400 miles of asphalt and concrete roads, none narrower than 18 feet and some 22 feet.—John Martin. As we remember the gubernatorial campaign of 1928, Foss Hathaway built these roads. Incidentally, all the people did was to pay for them.

The layman is inclined to wonder how Darrow is able to get inside on the stand who testify that Marie was insane at the time of the killing, and Kelly that she was sane when she testified that she had no memory of the crime. It is simply this: Kelly will do anything she can to get the jury.

For The Legislature

Among the candidates at Oviedo the other night we were particularly impressed with the remarks of Frank Wheeler who is seeking election to the Legislature in Group No. 2. Mr. Wheeler did not profess to have any sure fire cure-all for Florida's finance and taxation problems and he did not promise to bring back prosperity, in this he showed a becoming modesty sometimes lacking in other candidates and lent sincerity to such assertions as he did make.

Mr. Wheeler believes that a man's record in office, his reputation in business, and his character in private life provide a better platform on which to run for office than an intimate acquaintance with all the worthwhile people in Florida. He feels that the success of a man in managing his private affairs, even when business is bad and taxes are high, is an indication of the ability of a man to deal satisfactorily with public matters.

A country boy, born in Pasco county, Mr. Wheeler by dint of hard work, perseverance, and honesty of purpose, has made his way to the very top of his chosen line of work. Thrown upon his own at the age of fifteen, he became connected with the railroad industry and for nearly fifteen years served as a representative of the Railroad Telegraphers Union and has also represented the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen as general chairman.

For the past twenty years he has been engaged in farming and the growing of oranges and other citrus fruits. Many years ago he organized and is still the president of Nelson and Company, one of the best known and successful fruit packing concerns in this section. In spite of the depression, the fruit fly scare, and high taxation, he has conducted his farming, shipping and packing interests with a success which amply qualifies him for service to the public.

Florida needs men in the legislature of this type, men who are qualified by business experience to run the business of the state. An able governor can do little without able legislators. Flights of oratory, wisecracks and jovial smiles will not eliminate needless expense or reduce taxation. Hard practical common sense is the characteristic most needed in state government. Mr. Wheeler has this to a fine degree.

A Clever Racket

With salaries falling throughout the country with the rapidity of a descending Chrysler Building elevator, with employees being laid off by business houses and industrial plants, with the United States Steel Corporation omitting its first dividend since 1915, and with the economic structure of the country being shaken by the repercussions of a worldwide business depression, we find one field of endeavor which is sailing along unbothered by the exigencies of hard times.

Moving picture stars seem to be the only ones who cannot be reached by any wage-slashing proposals, and while we don't criticize them for their sustained and successful efforts to keep their pay checks in the highest number of digits, it is interesting to reflect upon some of the salaries received and to observe how lightly certain luminaries of the silver screen view them.

Greta Garbo, the husky-throated damsel, whose languorous ways and histrionic ability, together with a pretty face, have been adequate enough to win for her the weekly salary of $7,500 (more than four times what the President of the United States receives), is among those in the Hollywood colony who are unaware that money is scarce and has even gone so far as to tell her employers that she will not renew her contract next summer, but instead will go back to her native Sweden to live the life of a country gentlewoman.

Mina Garbo is an exceptional actress. She has made many notable pictures and has become one of the screen idols, although she did let her hips go a bit wild in Mata Hari to detract somewhat from a hitherto almost perfect film career. She probably figures she is entitled to retirement after giving of her talents for so long to the enjoyment of the public.

This sounds like a very plausible excuse and will undoubtedly be sufficient to scare the living wits out of the producers and make them offer an additional thousand or two dollars a week if she will change her mind. This she will likely do, and the rest of us will only sit and wonder how nice it would be if we could merely say "I think I go back to Sweden" and thereby have a couple of more loops put on the end of our salary.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

J. L. Miller, now has his plans for the new business block to be erected on Magnolia Avenue next to The Herald building and the contractor, S. O. Shinholser, expects to start in a few weeks. The building will be a two story brick one and will contain two stores and apartments. Mr. Miller will have a first class bakery built in the rear and occupy one of the store rooms for his distributing depot.

The Every Week Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. O. W. Hixley Wednesday afternoon. The highest score was made by Mrs. F. L. Miller who was given a pink satin fancy-work bag. The second prize, a deck of cards, was won by Mrs. H. P. Driver. Mrs. Brady's guests were: Mrs. W. D. Holden, Mrs. H. P. Driver, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. C. M. Vorce, Mrs. L. P. Hughes, Mrs. F. L. Miller, and Mrs. O. W. King.

Mrs. W. A. Mingle and Miss Grace Rich spent a very pleasant day at the Hixley home last Friday, attending the luncheon given by Mrs. Dutton. Sanford is to have a paid fire department. The city council has ordered five trucks and such equipment, as is necessary to be purchased at once. In insurance parlance, Sanford is now a third class city in the matter of fire, but the additions to be made to the fire fighting equipment will place the city in the second class, which will equal a saving of 50 per cent in insurance rates.

G. W. Eaton and family, who have been living on Laurel Avenue, will leave tomorrow for Rochester, N. Y. for the summer. Mr. Eaton has been with Chase & Co. for the past season. They will return to Sanford next winter.

San W. A. Shankland, of Alabama, will address the people of this section at Newton's corner next Monday afternoon at 8:00.

The Japanese "invasion" of China is a war "not only against China but also against the soviet union, undertaken not as a movement by Japan alone... by Japan as the forerunner of the financiers and capitalists of France, Italy, Great Britain, the United States and every country with imperialist aims." The present aim that American troops in China are now "saving the interests of American imperialism in China, as well as Japan's," and asserts the demand for their removal is made "in the name of Americans of every classification who, in case of war, would be brought in conflict to fight and die for an unjust and predatory cause."

LaGuardia Tells Of Sums Paid To Ballyhoo Stocks

As LaGuardia told of stock pools in the past, Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, asked:

"Have you anything fresh?" "I believe the same sordid story could be told of almost every pool stock," the witness replied. "I believe the same thing took place with the Kreuzer stocks."

Challenging Whitney's statements again, LaGuardia said the public had not bought because of a feverish desire to speculate, but because it was deceived.

"Lee Higginson & Co. was selling the Kreuzer stock," he added. "Why senators, if Whitney had been president of a grocery exchange and Higginson was selling canned beans and they conspired to misrepresent as they have in their present occupations, both would be under indictment at this time."

The first of the pools LaGuardia described, in which he said financial writers were paid to boost the stock, was in Navajo Arms. He said the brokers were Jackson Brothers, Boesel & Company.

Among the checks he listed were: $100 endorsed by William J. Gombor, of Financial America; two of $50 each by J. F. Lowther, formerly of the New York Herald Tribune and checks of $600, $300, and $1000 to an unnamed "pay off man" who gave them to writers who were ticklish about accepting checks.

In New York, the managing editor of the Herald-Tribune said, J. F. Lowther left the paper's employ in 1928.

He told the committee he "did not wish to disclose the name of the pay-off man at this time."

Describing what he referred to as ballyhoo, LaGuardia said 605 stories calculated to induce the public to buy stocks were circulated in 208 newspapers, with 11,000,000 circulation in 157 cities with population of 32,000,000.

In connection with a second pool on the same stock, LaGuardia offered the following checks: $258, endorsed by Richard Edmondson, of the Wall Street Journal; $184, by Chas. T. Murphy, of the Evening Mail; $209 by Gombor and $200 by W. F. Wamsley, of the New York Times. The managing editor of the Times said Wamsley left the paper at the end of 1929.

Chas. Securities were the brokers, LaGuardia said, for a third pool in Pure Oil. Members of the committee laughed as he gave the name. Checks in the group included $408 endorsed by Edmondson, $100 and $185 by Lowther; $184 by William White of the New York Evening Post; $234 by Murphy; $284 by Gombor and $400, $600 and $800 to the "pay-off man."

Ford Urges Combining Farming And Industry

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27.—(A.P.)—After a surprise call at the White House Henry Ford said today he advocated to President Hoover a plan of combining farming and industry under which factory workers could save $500 yearly by raising part of their own foodstuffs.

The automobile manufacturer said he had been working three months to smooth out the details of such a plan. He added, however, he is not ready to announce the details in full, and indicated the idea he is experimenting with on his Dearborn farm with Ford factory hands was to have the men working in the plants spend part of their time in small scale scientific farming.

Demand Made For Evacuation Of U. S. Troops From China

NEW YORK, Apr. 27.—(A.P.)—A demand for the "immediate removal" of American troops and naval forces now in China territory was made in a protest Sunday by the Anti-Imperial League of the United States and the national committee for the defense of political prisoners.

Among the 200 signers were Theodore Dreiser, Frank Garfield Hays, Waldo Frank, Sherwood Eddy, Jim Tully, and other writers, lawyers and artists.

The announcement described the Japanese "invasion" of China as a war "not only against China but also against the soviet union, undertaken not as a movement by Japan alone... by Japan as the forerunner of the financiers and capitalists of France, Italy, Great Britain, the United States and every country with imperialist aims."

The protest adds that American troops in China are now "saving the interests of American imperialism in China, as well as Japan's," and asserts the demand for their removal is made "in the name of Americans of every classification who, in case of war, would be brought in conflict to fight and die for an unjust and predatory cause."

HOOPER TELLS GOVERNORS TO USE ECONOMY

Individual community and state initiatives "budded this nation and carried it safely through every crisis," observed Governor Ritchie after saying the country was depending as much upon Washington. "This process of steadily weakening states and strengthening central government has been carried so far it has actually builded not national strength but national weakness," he said.

The governor of any state today is confronted with a wide variety of problems and duties but he brought them upon himself," said Governor Gardner. "These are days when persons charged with administration of public business must not only tighten their belts but wear suspenders... Exchange information between states is always valuable and in coming years will be essential... We are sometimes gloriously ignorant of matters beyond our own section... Maintenance of integrity of public accounts and funds is an essential."

To get out of the "slough of despond," said Governor Dorn, the nation must "brace up and make up our minds that America is marching on. I suppose that a nation's onward march is always intermittent and when obstacles are encountered there must be pauses and readjustments before the march can be resumed. We have prided ourselves upon the energy, reliance and helpfulness of American people. This is no time to lose that energy that resourcefulness, confidence and that optimism."

Governor Roosevelt, of New York, who did not go to Charlottesville Monday, went to Jamestown yesterday morning, although several of the governors, resting up after a strenuous day Monday, remained in Richmond. Roosevelt, likely Democratic presidential nominee, has been acclaimed everywhere here, especially by women.

At Jamestown 325 years ago HON. H. S. WHITE, CANDIDATE FOR LEGISLATURE IN FLORIDA. We notice from The Sanford Herald that Hon. H. S. White, at one-time a leading member of the bar at Sylvania, has announced his candidacy for the State Legislature of Florida.

The land of flowers always seemed to lure him, till he moved to Sanford to practice his profession, leaving a lucrative practice in Georgia, and especially in his home county, where his ability was recognized.

Mr. White's father was one of the largest planters of Scriven county, and he himself was reared on the farm, locating in Sylvania soon after he had completed his course in the study of law. He held many responsible positions in this state, and always proved to be worthy of his trust. Mr. White has considerable legislative experience, having served in the Georgia legislature for several terms, where he took active part both in the committee meetings and on the floor of the House. Should the people of Florida send him to the House, with his past experience in Georgia, he will take an active part from the start, and will be a valuable asset to his constituency.

Mr. White has many friends in Georgia who are proud of his past record, and glad to see his willingness to offer to his adopted state his valuable experience as a legislator. (Clipping Sylvania, Telephone of April 22, 1932). This ad paid for by a friend and supporter.

was established the first English settlement in America and 12 years later the first American legislative assembly sat there, the governors were informed.

The visitors were on another hallowed spot at Williamsburg, where is situated William and Mary College, founded in 1693 by King William and Queen Mary. And here, in 1749, George Washington received his commission as surveyor for Fairfax county and after the revolution served the college as chancellor, J. A. C. Chandler, president of the college, told the group.

The day's voting will have given him in pledged, instructed and claimed convention strength exactly the 578 majority needed for nomination.
To his previous total of 448, Arkansas Republicans in state convention yesterday gave him 15 instructed delegates. South Carolina gave him four more to complete its delegation of 10, and voters in a primary in far-off Alaska assured him two more. With the 109 from Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, the president's total would be a precise majority of the 1154 votes in the convention.
Even should a few delegates be kept from him in yesterday's voting, the president is assured of his total going beyond the 578 mark today when Kentucky names 26 and Michigan 41 more delegates in state conventions.
Joseph I. France of Maryland, his only avowed opponent for the nomination, is claiming Pennsylvania's 75 by reason of his lone candidacy for the preference vote. He also is claiming 78 of the Republican delegates already selected in Illinois, Nebraska and North Dakota.
Roosevelt, now far in the lead for the Democratic nomination with 267 pledged and claimed votes, with 770 needed to nominate, picked up six more yesterday in the Alaska primary. Two states were in the field but both favored the New York governor.

Sanford Group Has Narrow Escape As Its Car Overturns

A group of five Sanford persons had a miraculous escape from death last night at about 10:00 when a Hudson sedan they were riding in tumbled over three times after a tire blew out and caught fire in a ditch, seconds after the occupants had scrambled through broken glass windows to safety.
W. D. Blount, employee of the Buick garage, owners of the automobile, was the driver, while Mr. and Mrs. Glenn White, Miss Catherine Lake, and Miss Essie White were the occupants.
The party was returning from Jacksonville when at a point about two miles south of Seville, the left rear tire flew out while the car was being driven at about 50 miles an hour. The car skidded to one side, and rolled over three times before coming to a stop on the west bank of a deep ditch.
Mr. White is said to have been the first able to extricate himself from the car, kicking out one of the windows. He aided in bringing the others from the car, and while he was looking for articles of clothing and purses on the bank seat after all the occupants had been removed, the car caught fire. It was completely destroyed.
The party returned to Sanford with T. W. Russell, Mrs. Whittier's father, who had been telephoned from Seville shortly after the accident.

Heffin Cheered On Bidding Plea To Retain Seat

The time with back turned to his erstwhile Democratic colleagues. A familiar Heffin phrase, "My God, senators, think of that!" accompanied by a crack of flat on galls—was heard again and again as he plunged on in fluent enunciation of the Democratic Executive Committee of Alabama which barred him from the primary in 1930 because he refused to support Al Smith for President in 1928.
"They put me on the spot," Heffin shouted as he arraigned the Democratic "machine," and charged that in the election in which he ran as an independent, ballots were bought, stolen, burned and coerced and intimidation practiced. Alabama's two senators—Black and Bankhead—sat impassively through it all.
The Senate quit without voting on whether Bankhead is legally entitled to his seat.
A vote is expected today, although several additional speeches are to be made. The Senate has debated the question of Bankhead's right to his seat for five days.

Optimism Expressed Over Coming Drive

With the annual maintenance appeal of the Salvation Army only a few days off, General Chairman H. R. Stevens and other officers of the local Advisory Board today expressed confidence that the residents of the city and county would respond in a generous manner to the call of the unfortunate people who have been genuinely aided by the local Post during the past years.
Chairman Stevens commended Major J. M. Satterfield, commandant of the work in Polk county, and Ensign Charles Johnson, state representative, to the community asking that these men, who will assist in the drive, be given every assistance in making the drive a success.

Sanford Group Has Narrow Escape As Its Car Overturns

A group of five Sanford persons had a miraculous escape from death last night at about 10:00 when a Hudson sedan they were riding in tumbled over three times after a tire blew out and caught fire in a ditch, seconds after the occupants had scrambled through broken glass windows to safety.
W. D. Blount, employee of the Buick garage, owners of the automobile, was the driver, while Mr. and Mrs. Glenn White, Miss Catherine Lake, and Miss Essie White were the occupants.
The party was returning from Jacksonville when at a point about two miles south of Seville, the left rear tire flew out while the car was being driven at about 50 miles an hour. The car skidded to one side, and rolled over three times before coming to a stop on the west bank of a deep ditch.
Mr. White is said to have been the first able to extricate himself from the car, kicking out one of the windows. He aided in bringing the others from the car, and while he was looking for articles of clothing and purses on the bank seat after all the occupants had been removed, the car caught fire. It was completely destroyed.
The party returned to Sanford with T. W. Russell, Mrs. Whittier's father, who had been telephoned from Seville shortly after the accident.

The time with back turned to his erstwhile Democratic colleagues. A familiar Heffin phrase, "My God, senators, think of that!" accompanied by a crack of flat on galls—was heard again and again as he plunged on in fluent enunciation of the Democratic Executive Committee of Alabama which barred him from the primary in 1930 because he refused to support Al Smith for President in 1928.
"They put me on the spot," Heffin shouted as he arraigned the Democratic "machine," and charged that in the election in which he ran as an independent, ballots were bought, stolen, burned and coerced and intimidation practiced. Alabama's two senators—Black and Bankhead—sat impassively through it all.
The Senate quit without voting on whether Bankhead is legally entitled to his seat.
A vote is expected today, although several additional speeches are to be made. The Senate has debated the question of Bankhead's right to his seat for five days.
