Better Lighted Streets

And Better Communities Go Hand-In-Hand These Days

A ditch in 1922—a boulevard today

T is hard to believe, but true. The ugly ditch shown in the picture marked "1922" and the broad, well lighted boulevard shown in the upper picture are one and the same. Do such improvements cost money-or do they actually save it? The answer is most encouraging. Good street lighting reduces accidents and is a deterrent of crime. It attracts and encourages trade and enhances the value of homes.

And yet, with all its benefits, and with the increase in property valuations which it brings, good street lighting costs as little as $1.50 to $2.50 per capital per annum. What an impressive lesson is here for all forward looking township People and traffic and profits all follow the pathway of light!

Sanford Takes Great Pride In Her Fine White Way

Sanford also takes great pride in the fact that the Florida Power and Light Company has such a wonderful plant just a few miles from the heart of this city and Sanford also takes pride in the fact that with such a plant this city is destined to become one of the industrial centers of the state. We are proud of our plants in the state of Florida-the one at Lake Monroe is only one of them--and proud of the fact that in developing Florida the utility plants spending millions of dollars in improvements are doing more along this line than any other single factor. The utility companies with millions invested are telling the world of their faith in the future of the state. Millions already invested and millions more to invest in a state means that other big industries are bound to follow. Sanford intends to take advantage of this power and light not only by lighting this city and making it one of the most attractive from a standpoint of civic pride but Sanford intends to attract big industries as well and in this endeavor Sanford and every other city in Florida can tell the industrial world that lights and power are available in every nook and corner of the state.

We wish to congratulate the Florida Light & Power Company and the City of Sanford alike on the completion of this plant

MARKING A NEW ERA

CENTRAL FLORIDA

The New Super-Power Plant Will Make Central Florida's Industrial Developmen t Much Greater and More Rapid.

Power, and plenty of it, at low rates will bring the establishment of many great industrial enterprises in our part of the state. This, in turn, will bring thousands of homeseekers and homebuilders all of which will re-act to make Central Florida even more stable and more substantial.

We take this method of extending our heartiest congratulations and best wishes to the Florida Power and Light Company on the completion of their plant on the St. Johns River. We also feel that the people of both Seminole and Volusia counties are to be congratulated because of the locating of this enormous plant in a section where it will play a big part in the industrial development which we all hope to have.

are deserving of much credit for their wisdom and foresight in selecting such a location for their big plant. They are doing much to assist in developing the state and particularly this part of the state.

Florida must have more industrial development if it is to become the great state it should be. Financial institutions look with favor on industry of all kinds and are always glad of the opportunity of co-operating to make more stable and firm conditions which result from the establishment of industrial enterprises.

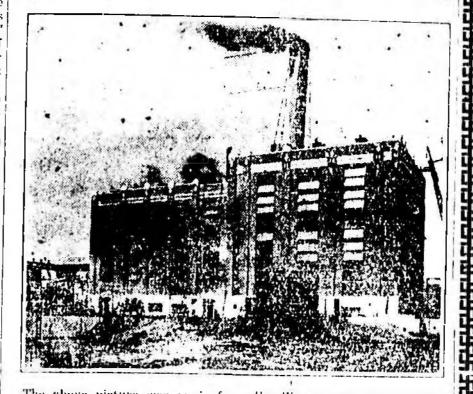

We extend our congratulations to all concerned.

Michigan And Navy;

NEW RORK, Oct. 30-(A)-National championship aspirations of powerful elevens were magnets for great crowds in the East today Speculators asked $20 and up for a ticket to the game at New Haven between undefented Navy and Yale. All 73,000 scats were sold.

There were nidications of a capacity of 55,000 at the Polo Grounds the the Cernell-Columbia struggle. There was a heavy demand for tickets for the Lafayette-Washington and Jefferson clash at Philadelphia.

Powerful Michigan was at Bal-Unior to plny, a navy eleven seeking revenge for an overwhelming defeat last year,
