Pledging their love to America

Stars and Stripes and a woman named Stein

By RUSS WHITE
Herald Staff Writer

After he had pledged allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and had become a citizen, Moroccan-born Loungnam Abdelatif eased his way across the crowded Sanford Civic Center Thursday to approach 84-year-old Doris Stein.

Abdelatif, 37, bowed and gently kissed Stein's right hand. "Would you please be in a picture with me," he asked. "It would be an honor," Stein said.

"A bigger honor for me," Abdelatif assured her.

In the 50 years - to the day - since she became a U.S. citizen, Doris Stein has become as American as the Star Spangled Banner, the Fourth of July, Chevrolet and Apple Pie.

As Patriotism Chairperson for the Pilot Club of Sanford, an organization of business and professional leaders dedicated to the principals of good citizenship, Stein convinced state officials to conduct naturalization ceremonies here in four of the past five years.

"We definitely want all our many new friends and neighbors of Seminole County to become citizens here," she said. "Why make them go to Miami or Jacksonville when we can rejoice with them right here near their homes?"

Because of Stein's diligent efforts, a record 330 became citizens at this year's ceremony. "This is Doris Stein's project," said Judge John Antoon, II, of the Fifth District Court of Appeal, State of Florida who was a guest speaker Thursday. Stein gave both the invocation and benediction.

"I haven't met anyone whom I admire as much as this woman,"

Antoon said. "No one who loves her country more, no one who has so seized the opportunity to be a good citizen."

"Doris Stein," Antoon said, "is and will forever be one of my personal heroes."

An energetic woman with dancing brown eyes and a constant smile, Stein had a warm greeting for each of Thursday's special guests. "I hope you enjoy your citizenship as much as I have mine," she told them. "And, oh how I have enjoyed myself."

"It just dawned on me this week that it was 50 years ago that I became a citizen. My son, Charles, called me and said that he was going to be 50 years old. Charles - 50 years old. Well, that meant this was my 50th year as an American citizen. Charles was born the day after I was naturalized on March 6, 1947. Yes, I wanted him to be an American."

The ceremony, Stein said, took place at the courthouse in Orlando. She was one of 75 who made their pledge to become full-fledged

SANFORD - An officer who removed files from the Sanford Police Department and had her husband send them to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) now faces termination for her actions.

Officer Sharon Shearer has been served with Initiation for Dismissal papers informing her that she could be fired for sending FDLE a file regarding an investigation into fraud allegations against Renee Keith, wife of SPD Cmdr. Aaron Keith.

Records indicate Roberta Keith, Aaron's mother, had filed a report with the Sanford Police Department in May 1996 and that the investigation had not proceeded at all by December.

At that time, Shearer took the file and gave it to her husband who submitted the document to FDLE. That department conducted an investigation and turned the matter over to the State Attorney's Office.

Within days, Keith had been arrested on 23 counts of fraud and was held at the John E. Polk Correctional Facility.

Her husband was not charged with any crime and has since been promoted to the position of commander.

Shearer would not comment on the allegations that she violated department policy and that she may be fired for her actions.

"I can't say anything," she said this morning. She will be represented in this matter by ORLANDO - A crowd of about 75 people gathered on the University of Central Florida campus Thursday, to listen to the fire and brimstone preaching of Patrick Johnson. The religiously diverse crowd at first listened quietly, but became more involved as Johnson's preaching became more inflammatory. Eventually, members of the mostly student gathering began to taunt Johnson and his fiancée and assistant Sister Elizabeth Martin.

Everything you need to know about local culture

By INCK PFEIHAUF
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Whatever you want to know about local culture and arts is now in print. Sponsored by the non-profit Seminole Cultural Arts Council, Inc., through the cooperation of AAA and the Rich Plan, the premier edition of the Seminole County Cultural and Creative Arts Directory will be published and distributed next month.

The directory is said to be unique because it combines cultural information with a creative artist's showcase and business and corporate advertising. It is a four-color high-quality resource to cultural information, performance schedules and the arts, artists and products and services.

Dr. Karen Copp, director of the Seminole Cultural Arts Council and Cultural Arts Coordinator with Seminole Community College said, "This directory is a major step in giving Seminole County's cultural, historic and creative arts the place they deserve in the larger life of the community."

For the first year, the directory will feature only Seminole County artists. Directory Managing Editor Mindy Matthews anticipates that the next one will be open to artists throughout Central Florida.

Jack Wert, Director of the Seminole County Convention & Visitors Bureau commented, "This directory will be very necessary to the future growth of the cultural and creative arts in our community. Our visitors tell us these offerings are an important part of their vacation plans."

One of the directory's enthusiastic supporters is Bill Dodd, director of Florida Public and Government Relations with AAA, who believes, "The Cultural Arts Council and promotion of the arts is long overdue. This directory will provide needed resources for businesses.

Two more events are almost identical. In both Claxton, Georgia and Sweetwater, Texas, today marks the beginning of the weekend's Rattlesnake Roundup. Events include parades, entertainment and snake hunts.

They both have beauty contests as well. Who in the world would like to carry the title "Miss Snake"? I can hear it now: "Many years ago children, your mother won the title of Miss Snake in Georgia. Her trophy was carved from a large rattlesnake."

"Hello, Bell." Over in St. Petersburg, today is the anniversary of the opening of the Salvador Dali Museum. It opened March 7, 1963 at the home of the Morse Collections with 85 sets and 1,500 watercolors, drawings, graphics, sculptures and photographs. For more information on the museum, phone (813) 833-3767.

In military-related items, it was March 7, 1918 when President Woodrow Wilson authorized the creation of a new medal to be given to service personnel who performed "exceptionally meritorious service." It became known as the Distinguished Service Medal.

Today is also the anniversary of the capture of Remagen Bridge across the Rhine River during World War II, in 1945.

In historical birthdays, American naturalist and author, Luther Burbank was born in 1849.

For today's birthdays, Disney head Michael Eisner is 55, auto racer Janet Guthrie is 59, and TV weatherman Willard Herman Scott is 68.

Finally, this note, saving the most prominent for last. Today is World Day of Prayer. It is sponsored by International Committee for World Day of Prayer and Church Women United.

The theme this year is "Like a Seed Which Grows into a Tree," written by Christian women from Korea. Observed the first Friday in March, the organizers say, "It is an event to reinforce bonds between peoples of the world as they join in a global circle of prayer."

SCC scientist tapped for national project

By VICKI BOGGS
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — Dr. Alex Dickson, who is the chairman of the physical sciences department at Seminole Community College, was recently named as one of seven post-secondary educators and the only instructor from a Florida post-secondary institution selected to serve as a mentor for a new Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) project.

The PTK project is called "Improving Science and Technology Education at Community Colleges."

PTK is the international honor society of two year colleges.

According to Rod Rieley, the executive director of Phi Theta Kappa, said Dickson was recommended for the project by the National Science Foundation.

The recommendation, he said, was "based on exemplary curriculum development work he is accomplishing in conjunction with Seminole Community College's National Science Foundation-supported projects."

The 18-month long, multi-component faculty enhancement and curriculum project is supported by the National Science Foundation and is being conducted in cooperation with the American Association of Community Colleges.

Community colleges are working together on this project in order to strengthen the teaching of science, mathematics, engineering and technology education at the junior college level.

It is the hope of the project coordinators that it will improve and strengthen the curriculum in these subject areas by "extending the knowledge, experiences and quality" through a number of NSF-supported projects.

The project will use activities that are designed to stimulate and assist community colleges all over the country to achieve more. They hope to accomplish their efforts by getting the colleges to replicate successful programs and projects, including those developed at Seminole Community College.

Congratulations

The Rotary Club of Sanford regularly honors teachers and students who do exemplary work at Lakeview Middle School in Sanford. This month Erin Brander was honored as the outstanding eighth grade student at the school. The young lady was also named as a Walt Disney Dreamer and Deer for her school. Teacher Mark Russi, who was Lakeview's Teacher of the Year for 1987, was honored as the top teacher by the Rotary Club. Brander and Russi were congratulated by club president Andy Roberts.

The Way We Were

Remembering Sanford's musical history

Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge Muncion came to Sanford in the very early 1900's. There was only one school here then, the one that later became Eastside Primary located at Palmetta and Sixth Street. Professor Lynch, principal, asked Mrs. Muncion to teach certain grades and also requested that she teach Sabbath singing. (The dictionary states that this means using the do, re, mi ... syllables which represent the tones of the scale.)

A law had recently been passed requiring all new public school teachers to take examinations. Mrs. Muncion believed that she was the first one in northern Orange County to pass these exams and she was the first to teach eight singing in a Sanford public school.

She remembered that there was excellent musical talent at the time. There were male quartets, an orchestra and a large uniformed brass band. Her husband played violin in the orchestra and trombone in the band. Mr. George Fernald was an excellent bass drummer.

The first public piano pupils recital was given at the Hotel Winton (later the Montezuma) in 1903. Ada Hill, later Mrs. Robert A. Newman, played the first number. Others on the program included Beatie Hill who became Mrs. House, Ethel Savages who became Mrs. Deane Turner and Owynne Fox.

The Sanford Music Club has its first meetings in Mrs. Muncion's piano studio. (She taught piano lessons for many years.) It later became the Music Department of the Sanford Woman's Club. This club was instrumental in bringing to Sanford, Edward Perry, possibly the greatest blind pianist that has ever been known, according to Mrs. Muncion.

Other famous musicians who came to Sanford included Emma Abbot and her opera troupe who presented the opera "Martha". Ovide Musin, famous violinist, and Edward Remage, celebrated Hungarian virtuoso also delighted local audiences in those early days.

Mrs. Muncion remembered one outstanding piano and vocal artist given by Mrs. O'Connell, Sanford's leading soprano at that time and Mrs. Frank Miller, an excellent pianist. Mrs. Miller was the daughter of Mrs. Clifford Shinholser.

There was also a popular piano trio consisting of Mrs. William Beardall, Miss Juna Robinson and Mrs. Muncion who played at nearly all the private musicales as well as some of the public concerts.

During those early days, all the churches had reed organs. Mrs. Muncion was organist of Holy Cross Episcopal and she remembered that John D. Parker was organist at First Presbyterian.

Holy Cross choir members recalled were Mrs. Randolph, soprano; Mrs. Patton, alto; Mr. Darden and Mr. Doudney, baritone; and Mr. Henry Papworth, tenor.

Mrs. Muncion stated that if all the idle talent could become interested, the city could become known as not "Substantial Sanford", but "Musical Sanford".

MRS. PAPWORTH RECALLS EARLY SOCIAL EVENTS

Juna Robinson Papworth recalled a time when brick buildings were replacing the old frame structures downtown. The "City of Jacksonville" and the "Fredrick DeBary" along with the railroads brought tourists and investors from the north until the Sanford House was full to overflowing.

Beautiful orange groves surrounded the city on three sides providing revenue and promise of security for the future which permitted social life to flourish.

Mrs. Papworth stated that everyone entertained, and the Sanford House was the site of many events. It had a large ballroom and long red carpeted corridors with two open stairways for "sitting out" dances.

They were not alone when they danced with their friends, volunteers, girls and other acquaintances such as Ann and carriage which necessitated partners remaining far enough apart to be proper.

At the affairs in the Sanford House, apical punch was served in the wine room, while the dances at the Armory served only coffee and sandwiches. But, it was said, the coffee grounds were sometimes surreptitiously mixed with rum.

Even though there was no golf course, there was a country club composed of residents on groves and estates throughout the county. Some members were the Ingrahams, Drapers, Goodriches, Wileys, Whitlers, F.F. Pastors, Chases, DeForests, and Charlie Fenners. Those in the town were sometimes included in these gatherings.

Tennis was very popular. There were six courts, privately owned, where tea was served once a week. Besides the players, numerous guests sat on the sidelines in their white linen or organdy with picture hats drinking tea and settling all the issues of the day.

Much of the recreation during those early days took place on the lake. There was boating, fishing, duck hunting and picnics up the river. The Sanford House furnished boats, bait and guides.

There was an amateur dramatic company which produced ambitious plays at the Opera House. Harry Papworth was producer, director, stage manager, and star of this company.

Horse racing and polo were held in Winter Park which were attended by the Sanford Society. They would drive or ride half a day through the sand, returning home at night weary from the hard trip.

The laying of a clay road marked a new era, though it left something to be desired. In wet weather it was gooey and hard pulling, then it dried into ruts which were hard for the buggies to get out of.

George Fernald was the first person in Sanford to own an automobile. Mrs. Papworth remembered a cavalcade of buggies, dog carts, carriages, three seated hacks - all horse drawn. They overtook Mr. Fernald, broken down, so everyone alighted and helped move him from the middle of the road so they could pass.

Seven times Mr. Fernald fixed his car and ghostly passed the horses, only to break down a few miles further each time, necessitating the horses to go around. The horses were like the fabled tortoise. When Mr. Fernald finally arrived at the San Juan Hotel all covered with clay and grease, he was admonished to "get a horse!"

Col. and Mrs. A. M. Thresher and Mr. and Mrs. M.F. Robinson played Duplicate Whist regularly. This one table expanded to a club of six tables who played just for fun. Such was the prejudice against playing cards, they were known as "the fashionable gambling set".

The Wednesday Club studied all the countries of the earth, one each year, and read Shakespeare during the summer for relaxation. There was no blackballing, but to keep their standards high, each new member was asked to write a paper on some weighty topic. They either complied or gracefully resigned. This club, along with the Weika Club, was later absorbed by the Women's Club.

Girl Scouts get ready to celebrate

By BARRY REWELL
Herald Columnist

Seminole County Girl Scouts are throwing a really big birthday party for themselves on Saturday, March 6 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Crane's Roost in Altamonte Springs. Eight Service Units are participating in the celebration. Each unit is presenting something different for the event.

There will be eight "worlds" at Saturday's birthday party, each presented by one of the local service units participating in the celebration. These worlds are smaller to scouts everywhere. These are the worlds their recognitions are based on. In addition, there will be three special event worlds, the World of Challenges, the World of Council Patches, and Reunion Station.

In the World of the People, girls will be able to try their hand at calligraphy, creative solutions and, for older girls, hairdressing. In the World of the Sea, the girls will be able to make Girl Scout pins, sew world mobiles and earth balloons. The World of Today and Tomorrow will feature parts of three different math and science try-its (Brownie Girl Scout recognitions) and three different math and science badges (Junior Girl Scout recognitions). In the World of Well-Being, girls will be able to make their own personal fast aid kit, hair scrunchies and bath salts. The World of the Out of Doors will feature a working campfire where girls will be able to make their own edible campfire and learn about leaching. The World of Challenges will show girls what it's like to live with a disability.

Council Patches are patch programs that were designed specifically for the local governing unit, Citrus Council of Girl Scouts. At the World of Council Patches, girls will be able to try something from Minerva the Manatee, Amanda the Armadillo and from the Zora patch (for Zora Neale Hurston). Reunion Station will be a check-in point for girls who didn't pre-register and the site of the Girl Scout Museum. There will also be a Thank You card for Juliette Gordon Low, the founder of Girl Scouts in America.

The celebration at Crane's Roost is also open to the public and should educate everyone as to the benefits that come from Girl Scouting.

If you want the statistics on why Girl Scouting is so important, think about this. For every 100 girls who join scouting, four will earn the Girl Scout Gold Award, 13 will have their first contact with a place of worship, five will earn their religious award, one will enter the clergy, 18 will develop hobbies that will be used during their adult life, eight will enter a career that they discovered through Girl Scouting, 17 will become Girl Scout volunteers, one will use her Girl Scout skills to save a life, and one will use her Girl

Scouting skills to save her own life. As Girl Scouts of the USA, headquartered in New York City, approaches its 85th birthday, on Wednesday, March 12, current and former members of this organization will pause to reflect on the important role the group plays in today's society. Girl Scouts are more than just cookies. They are more than the sometimes negative image portrayed in movies and on

Supreme Court v. the people

On Jan. 8, oral arguments took place at the Supreme Court on two cases concerning physician-assisted suicide. In the course of the session, Justice Sandra Day O'Connor said: "This is an issue every one of us faces, young and old, male and female." And Justice David Souter pointed out that opponents of legalizing doctor-assisted suicide fear it would inexorably lead to lawful euthanasia.

Despite the profound consequences of this debate, television coverage of the oral arguments was forbidden by continuous order of the Supreme Court. Those Americans with access to one of the relatively few newspapers that carried extensive excerpts of the proceedings would get some idea of what went on, but the vast majority of the populace had little sense of this constitutional controversy that will directly affect them, as well as future generations.

The Supreme Court's stubborn refusal to allow cameras in its courtroom recalls what Thomas Jefferson said in 1823 about the secrecy of the Supreme Court. "There is no danger I apprehend so much as the consolidation of our government by the notoriety... instrumentality of the Supreme Court." The quotation is from Tony Mauro's "The Court and the Cult of Secrecy" in the book "A Year in the Supreme Court," edited by Rodney Smolla (Duke University Press).

This cult of secrecy cavalierly disregards the need of Americans to know how this nation's court of last resort reaches its decisions -- and who these supreme arbiters of our laws and lives are.

I was in Justice William Brennan's chambers one morning some years ago when a poll came in showing how many Americans could identify the various Supreme Court justices. Brennan, as I remember, was known by 8 percent of those polled. "But," he laughed, "Harry Blackmun only got 1 percent." (Brennan was in favor of television coverage of the oral arguments.)

Most justices delight in their privacy. Four years ago, in USA Today, Tony Mauro reported that at a conference in Colorado Springs, retired Justice Byron White said, "I suspect as time goes on... the court will be made of justices who will ask, 'What was wrong with those old guys?' who resisted television. But White added, 'I am very pleased to be able to walk around, and very, very seldom am I recognized. It's very selfish, I know.'"

It is indeed. And it also greatly impedes the ability of huge numbers of Americans to understand their own rights and liberties, as well as those of others. For example, by contrast, a pre-trial state court hearing in the O.J. Simpson criminal case was televised around the country. The Fourth Amendment rights of Simpson took up a great deal of that hearing.

For weeks, I was astonished -- and pleased -- to listen to arguments about the constitutional limits to search and seizure in bars, on stoops of buildings on my street, and in my house. Many of those involved in the discussions knew nothing about the Fourth Amendment beforehand.

These intensely interested people were not lawyers, law professors or journalists. They were the people for whom the Constitution was written. They are the very people who are prevented from hearing and seeing the ultimate interpreters of our freedoms.

In addition to selfishness being a reason for keeping us from watching the court on television, there is the contention that only snippets of the oral argument will be shown. C-SPAN has pledged to broadcast the entire session, but it is true that the commercial networks and local stations will run only the more "dramatic" excerpts. But that has been happening in the 47 states that by now have televised hundreds of trials with no discernible negative effects, according to most of the judges involved.

And even snippets will provide some sense of how the Supreme Court operates. At least the populace will be able to recognize the nine most powerful people in the United States. The insistence of the justices to keep hiding behind, as Jefferson put it, "the notoriety" Supreme Court is indefensible in a constitutional democracy.

WRITER'S BLOCK

Saying goodbye is very hard to do

By JENNIFER EDWARDS
Herald Staff Writer

I cannot believe I am leaving the Sanford Herald.

Last October, I walked into this newsroom for the first time as a freshman journalism student from Seminole Community College. Under the rich tutelage of SCC instructor and Seminole County School Board member Dr. Barbara Rubin, I quickly learned how to link two sentences coherently together. Bitten by the news bug at an early age, I grew up pouring over newspapers and magazines, reading everything I could get my hands on and soaking up Dr. Rubin's wisdom like a sponge, which is not difficult to do from this brilliant woman. I felt ready to explore the local work force.

I begged Herald Editor-in-Chief Lacy Lear to employ me, telling her I would make coffee and sweep the floor if that was what I had to do to put my foot in the door. She made me a news assistant and stringer. Shortly after, I became a Herald Staff Writer. The first time I saw a story of mine in print, I burst into tears from the sheer joy of accomplishment. Thank you, Mr. Lear, for giving this rookie the chance of a lifetime and priceless encouragement. Herald senior writers such as Nick Pfeiffer and Vicki DeBorner and Russ White showed me the ropes. I watched them like hawks. I begged Mr. Nick to take me along while he did "cops" (recording the daily police and sheriff's office arrest records). We would drive in his car to the stations while he smoked cigars and gave valuable advice. He told me to always dress professionally and treat people kindly. He reminded me of my deceased grandfather, who gave me my first Hemingway novel when I was eight years old. Thank you, Mr. Nick, for opening the pages of your experience for my reading enjoyment.

Mr. Nick went on vacation late last year and allowed me the privilege of covering his city commission meetings in his absence. I was as excited as if I were going to be covering Watergate; he warned me the political gatherings were sometimes "about as thrilling as watching paint drip dry." (He was right). He introduced me to the who's who in politics, steered me in the right directions time after time and urged me to learn everything I could about the news business. Thank you again, Mr. Nick and all, for taking the time to guide and care for me.

Electronics center

SANFORD — Siemens Stromberg-Carlson and Seminole Community College have announced the grand opening of a new program, Wednesday, March 12, at 3 p.m. The Electronics Technology Advanced Programs (ETAP) is now in the fifth year and has graduated dozens of apprentices, all of whom have been placed at Siemens companies nationwide. It is an innovative school-to-work program which has drawn national attention for its success in operation.

The opening of the new state-of-the-art training facility at SCC will be held in the Fine Arts Auditorium. The public and interested persons are invited to attend.

Housing applications

SANFORD — Applications for the conventional public housing program will be taken in Sanford on March 24, 25 and 26, and every Tuesday following, at the administration building, #84, Castle Brewer Court.

Times for submitting applications are 9 a.m. until noon and 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. To ensure quality housing and a safe environment, a criminal background check is required, and the housing authority stresses the "one strike, you're out" policy concerning lease violations and drug and/or criminal activities. For additional information regarding the public housing applications in Sanford, phone the Sanford Housing Authority at 323-3150.

EDITORIAL

How much money are you carrying?

Right now, how much cash are you carrying? If you have $200, $300 or even $500 in your wallet or purse, is it really necessary?

Banks naturally, are in business to earn a profit. But in doing so, they provide services which is designed to help individuals, namely, checking accounts. Almost all businesses accept checks, of course some requiring identification. But checks are common place these days.

It is much safer to carry a check book with which to pay for purchases. Of course, this requires that we have money in the bank to back the checks we write, but all-in-all, it's worth it.

We are referring to muggings, purse snatchings, thefts and other crimes. Of course, just because a person isn't carrying a large amount of cash is not going to prevent someone from trying to take what is not theirs. Getting a wallet taken with $500 in cash means that the victim is out that much money. He or she cannot expect to ever get it back, even if the person who took it is arrested, brought to trial, and convicted.

We can see only three reasons for carrying that much cash. (1) A few people still don't trust banks. (2) Some people believe they are still safe on our streets and pay no attention to the dangers which may lurk. (3) People with large amounts of cash are up to no good, such as being drug dealers, prostitutes, or involved in some other illegal transaction.

Read the incident reports presented daily in the pages of the Sanford Herald. Time after time, someone reports his or her wallet taken with several hundred dollars. They may say they were merely going out for an evening stroll or heading to the local convenience store to get a pack of cigarettes. Does this require the person to be in possession of several hundred dollars?

Not recently, but we have even reported on a person getting a wallet stolen at 2 a.m., walking near downtown Sanford. He told officers he had slightly over $2,000 in it. C'mon now, are we to believe he was just out getting his exercise?

Carrying only what a person needs in cash, plus a valid check book, isn't going to stop, or even reduce street muggings and robberies. But it will go a long way toward helping retain that wad of money (which probably should have been deposited in the bank anyway to cover those checks).

Every time we write a report of someone getting ripped-off of several hundred dollars in cash, we can't help it, we become suspicious.

Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) attorney John Head.

Head said his client will have to move through the regular grievance procedure over the next three weeks to four months.

Tim McCarter, personnel director of the City of Sanford, will review the matter to be sure the rules and policies were correctly interpreted. Chief Joe Dillard will then look over the case.

"Of course since he was the one who decided to fire her, I don't think that'll be much of anything," Head said.

Following Dillard's review, City Manager Bill Simmons will look over the case before it is sent to the arbitrator who will make a final decision.

Head would make no comment on what he thought the outcome might be.

Meanwhile, Shearer's friends are doing what they can to show their support for a woman they say is a good and ethical officer.

Paula Lane, who said she has been a friend of Shearer's for a dozen years, has started a petition campaign to show the police department how the community feels.

"She does her job the way it should be done," Lane said. "I don't think it's fair to terminate her because of a personal dispute with another officer. All she was doing..."

Lane said she will go door-to-door all over the city with the help of several friends for the next 10 days and collect as many signatures as she can.

"She's doing her job and she's doing it the way she's supposed to," Lane said. "We want to show that we support officers who are ethical and do their job like she does."

Dillard did not return telephone calls to comment on Shear's impending termination proceedings.

Preacher

Johnson employed an emotionally charged style of preaching -- yelling and screaming at the crowd that most of them are going to hell. Johnson listed a variety of "sins" that were guaranteed to land them in a lake of fire, including drug use, feminism, homosexuality and masturbation.

A number of students carried Bibles and attempted to refute some of the things Johnson was preaching. Vivian Oris quoted from her Bible on several occasions, emphasizing that Jesus forgave sins and taught tolerance.

Brad Pupella, a UCF student, carried on a dialogue with Johnson throughout the confrontation. Pupella argued points of scripture and told him, "What you are preaching is not Christianity. I'm afraid you are going to scare some of these people away from God. Wherever you go, I will follow you. I won't let you misrepresent God." Other students were less willing to carry on conversations with the preacher, preferring instead to taunt him.

Shane Robinson used poster board to make signs which played off the themes Johnson was preaching. Robinson and a couple of other members of the crowd held the signs up behind Johnson as he spoke.

Sister Martin, who wore a sandwich sign board listing a variety of "sins" including masturbation, drug use and feminism remained silent for most of the event, only nodding her head in agreement to all Johnson said. Occasionally, she would chime in with "You tell them, St. Patrick."

Don McCutchen, a Seminole Community College student who had been on campus to run an errand, looked at Martin's sign and proclaimed, "I'm a homosexual, I don't smoke pot, I'm an environmentalist. What's going to happen to me?"

Johnson replied that all homosexuals were going to hell. McCutchen said he would try being straight, adding, "Can you get me a woman?"

The growing crowd brought members of the University of Central Florida Police department to the scene, though they maintained their distance at the back of the crowd.

As the taunting by the crowd became more intense, Johnson and Martin left the gathering and headed toward the parking lot. Several members of the crowd followed, continuing their taunts until Officer M. Borshnick told them to disperse, warning the students they had "left the free speech area."

When asked by what authority campus police could suspend the Constitution's guarantees of free speech and assembly, Borshnick referred the question to his superiors.

He noted that the officers were acting to protect Johnson from students who were angry because the preacher had spit on them during the earlier confrontation.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK proclaimed

The following resolution was adopted at the regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners of Seminole County, Florida on the 11th day of February, 1997.

Whereas, Wednesday, March 12, 1997 marks the 85th anniversary of Girl Scouts of the USA, founded by Juliette Gordon Low, on March 12, 1913 in Savannah, Georgia; and

Whereas, throughout its 85 year history, Girl Scouting has inspired millions of girls and women with the highest ideals of character, conduct and patriotism; and

Whereas, each day through countless projects, Girl Scouts continue to give of the best of their time and energy to help young girls and productive paths for growing up; and

Whereas, through the Girl Scout program, girls learn of their importance in the world and their duty to the world around them; and

Whereas, more than three million current Girl Scout members nationwide celebrate 85 years of an American tradition with 60 million women who are former Girl Scouts and now commit themselves to help today's girls.

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that we the members of the Board of County Commissioners of Seminole County Florida do hereby proclaim the week of March 8 through 16, 1997 as "GIRL SCOUT WEEK."

Six Girl Scouts from Starburst (Lake Mary) and one from Whispering Winds (Sanford) stood in front of the county commissioners with two leaders and listened as the proclamation was read. The girls then accepted a copy of the proclamation for all the Girl Scouts in Seminole County.

World War II was over, Stein had married and was expecting her first child. Born in 1912 in Kolberg, a German town on the Baltic Sea ("It was a little like New Smyrna Beach," she says) Stein was able to flee her country in the dawn of Adolph Hitler's reign of terror.

A trained children's nurse, she found employment with a family in Stockholm, Sweden when she was 23.

Coming to America, she first lived in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., arriving in Sanford in 1946 with her husband, Fred Stein. He operated a jewelry and luggage store in the city until passing away in 1957, and she ran the business the next 28 years. They raised three children - Charles, a physician in Daytona Beach, and twins - Steven and Susan, now 48. Mrs. Stein has seven grandchildren.

In recent years, she turned her immense energies to a number of civic duties, particularly with the Pilot Club.

There are few prouder moments for her than to be present at naturalization ceremonies such as Thursday's.

"I see these people leaving with the children and loved ones - I see them carrying their little American flags (supplied by the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion Campbell-Looming Unit 53) and I am thrilled," Stein said. "These people are appreciative of being in this country."

It also was gratifying to her that 330 men and women began their great American journey in Sanford, Doris Stein's great American hometown.

Her dream come true is now theirs.

Emotional stress does not increase the risk of breast cancer, say researchers at the University of Wisconsin Comprehensive Cancer Center in Madison who questioned thousands of women about stressful events over a five-year period.

"Necessary for remembrance," says a study's author, and says additional studies at Pennsylvania State University indicate the link may have cancer-fighting properties, too.

New studies of men in the U.S. and Canada found no connection between vascularity and prostate cancer.

Improved test for cervical cancer is expected. The Pap smear has been approved by the FDA. In the Yearling 1997 test, sample cells are kept in preservation solution. This preserves cells and allows out and only cervical cells remain to be examined.

Mack maps out new gas tax plan

WASHINGTON - Florida Republican Senator Connie Mack says the U.S. government should get out of the gas-tax-for-highways system and return the responsibility to the states for transportation needs.

Mack and U.S. Rep. John Kasich (R-Ohio) are co-sponsors of a bill that would eventually phase out the current 14-cents-a-gallon federal tax that goes toward the highway system.

By the year 2002, the government would collect only two cents a gallon to preserve a skeletal federal highway program that would go to interstate maintenance, highways on federal lands and Indian reservations.

Americans getting fat and fatter

ATLANTA - Feel sluggish and overweight? You aren't alone. According to officials at the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, Americans are fatter now than at any time since Big Brother Bubba began keeping track in the 1960s.

A National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey found one-third of adults, 13 percent of teenagers and 14 percent of children are overweight.

Obesity and related conditions contribute to an estimated 300,000 deaths per year and are regarded as the second-leading preventable cause of death after smoking.

Nutritionist Lynn Flecher warns it may take a heart attack for some people to waken up. "We will change our hair, our clothes, our religion before we change the way we eat," she said.

Keeping tabs can be expensive

WASHINGTON - In their ever-zealous efforts to find fault with each other, Democrats and Republicans continue to disagree how much money and time should be spent looking into a general examination of "soft money" received for presidential and congressional races.

With the Democrats protesting, the Senate Rules Committee approved $4.50 million for the ongoing investigation.

The decision goes to the full Senate for approval next week.

Stern gets gushy reviews

HOLLYWOOD - Howard Stern's movie, "Private Parts" is getting some sweet reviews from critics who say the most shocking thing about the flick is how much people like it. People being the critics.

The movie is now playing at Seminole Towne Center and Lake Mary Centre theaters.

State hoops: experiences like no other

SANFORD — The players, coaches and fans of the basketball teams from Oviedo and Lake Mary will get to enjoy a once in a lifetime experience tonight when they make the trek to Lakeland for the state basketball tournament.

There is nothing like walking into the George Jenkins Arena at the Lakeland Center for the first time.

You enter the front door and walk down the hallway past all of the concession areas with all of the food smells.

Then you climb the stairs and walk out to where the floor is.

Two things really strike you when you enter the arena — the size of the building and the number of fans.

I doubt many of the players have ever played in a building this big. Seats everywhere and portable baskets that sit on the floor. Fans sitting under the baskets trying to distract the shooter. And you know not many have played in front of 9,000 fans before. It's a whole new experience for the kids.

I never got to go to the tournament as a player, but I have had the opportunity to attend as a fan, as a high school coach and as a junior college coach. And each experience is fantastic.

As a fan you notice the electricity of excitement in the air, the roar of the crowd, college coaches from just about every school in the country, professional athletes, dignitaries. Wow.

And when you are coaching a team playing in the tournament you come out of the dark, unlit lockerroom area and enter the court from behind the bleachers. You are greeted by the thunderous applause, the bright lights, the mass of humanity. You almost feel like you are under a microscope. But it is an unbelievable rush.

Whether your team wins or loses, you will come home with memories that will last forever. So do yourself a favor and go to Lakeland tonight and take the time to enjoy the experience. You will not be disappointed.

CONGRATULATIONS COACHES: This is a special congratulation to Lake Mary's Carl Brown and Oviedo's Ed Kerahner. Both of these men have taken a talented group of athletes and rounded them into a team. And it is not an easy thing to do.

A lot was expected of these teams before the season began, but no one can predict what will happen over the course of a year. Fans do not realize the hard work coaches put in to make their teams a success. You have to deal with injuries, grades, attitudes, parents. Going to practice and games is the fun part.

These two men have reached the pinnacle of success in their profession and deserve all of the accolades and thanks they receive. Good luck tonight.

HOW TO GET THERE: If you are going to the game tonight, take I-4 west towards Tampa.

Go to exit 17 (the fourth Lakeland exit) and take a left on Kathleen Road. Stay on Kathleen Road for three miles and go right on Lake Wire Road. Go through one stop sign and the Lakeland Center will be on the right.

For ticket information, call (941) 499-8100.

AND IF YOU CAN'T GO TO THE GAME: If you are not going to be able to go to Lakeland tonight, the Lake Mary game will be carried on Sanford radio station WTRR (AM 1400). The game is scheduled to start at 9:15 p.m.

WIND-UP FOR THE UMPIRES
I wanted to stand and applaud the other day when I read where the Major League umpires were going to enter into less conversation with players and coaches and start ejecting people. It's about time.

An umpire is supposed to do one thing when he goes onto the field, UMPIRE.

You call balls, strikes, safe and out. That's their job.

All you hear about is how the game can be improved. Well if you want to fix the game, call the game by the rule book.

I saw a replay of some games back in 1988 recently and was amazed to see strikes being called from shoulders to knees and the width of the plate, not a foot outside or a foot below the knee. Or a ball being called on a pitch right down the middle at the waist.

If you go to a high school or college game, you see the game called as the rule book calls for, not like it is called in the pro's.

Umpires shouldn't explain or argue with players or coaches over why they made a call, they should just make the call by the rule book.

And why do players and coaches go ballistic at an umpire. He's not going to change his call. If he mis-ruled on a play, they should go out and make their point in a gentlemanly fashion. If he, or she, is wrong, they will change it, but if it is a judgement call, that's the end of it.

There are a lot of young players and coaches who watch these games and see their idols get out and argue over every little thing and figure that's how you are supposed to act. And it is creating problems.

Now maybe the umpires will just make the call and get the game going. If not, throw out the offender and go on from there. That's how the game is supposed to be played.

State hoops tonight

Lake Mary to battle No. 1

By JEFF BERLINCKE
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — All season long, Lake Mary girls basketball coach Carl Brown has poo-pooed all talk of rankings, especially when his team was listed as seventh in the state before the start of the season.

Coaching clichés? Brown ranked up there with the best of them. There would be talk of "one game at a time."

"We're not looking at the polls." Brown would watch his team pound some undermanned opponent by 50 points and show little emotion. It was as if his team had a job to do and accomplished it.

Only after the regular season ended and the Lady Rams walked through the postseason have Brown and his players said they expected to be in the Final Four all along.

Now it's happened. The polls don't matter anymore. Ranked second in the state in Class 6A, the Lady Rams tonight take on the only team in all of Florida to be considered better. That's Miami Edison that's who Lake Mary will face when it takes the court around 9:15 p.m. in Lakeland tonight.

The Lady Rams come in with four sophomores in the starting lineup. Steady Ashlee Ballance runs the offense at point guard and can be deadly from three-point land when she's on. More deadly is running mate Becky Pedro.

Pedro is filling in for the injured Maggie Reedy who injured her wrist during the regional finals last week during a win over Chockiwahatchee. Pedro is a sniper who can fill it up from all over the court.

Stephanie Dale and Mary Leah Sutton line up at forward. Dale is a steady scorer and Sutton

Oviedo looking to finish plan

By DEAN SMITH
Herald Sports Editor

OVIDEO — A two year plan comes to an end this weekend.

During the 1995-96 basketball season, fans of the Oviedo boys team started touting the Lions as probable state champions in 1996-97.

Coach Ed Bolton guided a young Oviedo squad to a successful 1995-96 season then turned the reins over to Ed Kerahner after his retirement.

Kerahner has been here before, having guided Osceola to the state title in 1983.

He has instilled a love for defense in this team that is amazing. The Lions are neither overly tall or overly quick, but they play extremely hard and work very well together.

And defense and teamwork is normally what wins championships.

Kerahner uses a nine-player rotation and the team doesn't miss a beat when he goes to his bench.

The nine players are Ben Knapp, Jason Dangerfield, Aaron Thomas, Seth Fowler, Brad Combes, Darren Rogers, Scott Berley, Brian Register and John Harper.

But if Oviedo (27-3 and on a 17-game winning streak) is to win its second state title in the 90's, they won the 6A crown in 1992, they will have to go through three very strong teams.

Orlando-Dr. Phillips (31-3), and Lake Brantley transfer James Gilchrist, will take on favorite Miami High School (34-1) at 4 p.m., with the Lions playing Miami-Killian (31-3) at 7:45 p.m. The Dr. Phillips-Miami matchup is a repeat one of last year's semifinals.

The winners of tonight's games will meet for the state title at 6 p.m. on Saturday.

SANFORD — The Seminole Community College softball team looked like it was in for a good day offensively when it scored three runs in the bottom of the first inning of the first game of a Mid-Florida Conference doubleheader with Santa Fe Community College at Raider Field on Thursday.

But the Raiders would not score again as they split the deuce with the Saints 3-2 and 0-1 in eight innings. "They were both good games," said SCC head coach Courtney Miller. "In the second game both teams played tough "D" and had strong pitching. They just got the big hit when it counted."

The Raiders are now 10-11 on the season and 4-4 in the Mid-Florida Conference. They will host Tallahassee Community College in a single game tonight at 7 p.m. at Lake Mary High School. Santa Fe is also 4-4 in the conference.

Rams, Tribe win SAC openers

LAKE MARY — Sometimes it takes a little while for someone to see the error of their ways.

Last night, in their first conference game of the season, it took three innings for the Lady Rams softball team to see it.

Lake Mary overcame a 4-0 deficit to beat visiting Seminole Athletic Conference rival Lake Howell 7-5.

Three of Lake Howell's first four runs scored in the first inning off Lake Mary errors.

"Our problems started with warm-ups," head coach Jeannie

Fisher said. "The girls just weren't focused, especially in the infield. That set the tone for the first three innings. Once they started hitting, they settled down and gained confidence."

Down 5-2 in the bottom of the third inning, Lake Mary plated four runs to take the lead.

Jeannie Mans led off with a walk and advanced to second on a single by Eric Van Swearingen. Kelly Harbour followed with an RBI double and Jill Wolcott successfully bunted to send the bases.

The Silver Hawks then dropped a fly ball for an error and Van Swearingen and Harbour scored to tie the game. Megan Dentrich then reached on an error with Wolcott scoring the go-ahead run.

And this all happened before the first out was made.

The Rams now led 6-5 and Lake Howell never recovered.

Winning pitcher Halle Sowards, in addition to pitching an outstanding game, scored Lake Mary's final run in the bottom of the sixth inning on a double by Van Swearingen.

"We really got our game together in the sixth inning," said Sowards. "We started making the plays and stopping the balls. We've had some practices and the work is starting to show. We need to watch our defense, though."

The Lady Rams have a tough week ahead of them. They play two SAC games and a very tough non-conference game starting with Oviedo on Tuesday, Seminole on Thursday and West Orange on Friday. All three games are on the road.

"We've had our easy week," Fisher said. "We need to get it together at practice and come out strong next week to get a good footing in the conference."

On order to get that footing, Lake Mary will need to continue the strong hitting and pitching and discontinue as many errors as possible.

TRIBE TRIMS LYMAN

LONGWOOD — Maria Duvall scattered seven hits and the Seminole offense made the most of only three hits as the Fighting Seminoles opened Seminole Athletic Conference play with a 9-1 victory over Lyman Thursday afternoon.

"The defense played well and the pitching was strong," said Seminole head coach David Rogers. "We scattered our hits well and played heads up. We kept our heads in the game the whole way and played every pitch like it was the last one. That's the way we like them to do it. I'm real proud of them."

The Tribe took a 2-0 lead in the first inning, then tacked on four insurance runs in the third inning and three more runs in the sixth inning. Lyman's lone run came in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Providing the offense for Seminole were Duvall and Witte (both 1-for-2 with one RBI), Amanda Mustakas (1-for-3, RBI) and Sherri Eiland (RBI).

Seminole (5-2) will host Satellite High School in a Class 5A-District 6 game today starting at 4:30 p.m.

one earned run in raising his record to 1-4.

The Vikings (6-8, 0-2 M-FC) took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a failed pick-off attempt, but SCC (4-12, 1-1 M-FC) took the lead for good with two runs in the third inning.

Eric Kindell singled and stole second before scoring on a double by Ryan Withey. Jesse DeBrowner singled in Withey one out later.

The Raiders then got what proved to be the winning run in the fourth inning as Deltona's Jeff Wisinski walked and pinch-runner Chris Walker was bunted to second by Lake Mary's Mike Buky. Kindell then singled to left to score Walker.

St. Johns got its final run on a two-out home run by Ziegler in the fifth inning.
SCC will host Polk Community College, and former Seminole High School star Alexis Acosta, today at Raider Field starting at 3 p.m. before going back on the road to play Santa Fe Community College in an M-FC doubleheader on Saturday starting at noon in Gainesville.

Prison ministry banquet coming

By SUSAN WENNER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Good News Jail & Prison Ministry at the John E. Polk Correctional Facility will present its 14th Annual Banquet on Friday, March 14 at the Sanford Civic Center, 401 E. Seminole Blvd.

Three full time chaplains head up this outreach ministry overseeing each year more than 312 Sunday worship services which impact 9437 inmates with over 932 Bible study classes conducted, according to a recent flyer. Over 200 volunteer hours per week are donated from 30 churches in the area and the end result is many being led to Christ.

The normal rate of recidivism (being released and incarcerated again) is 80%. The same rate of recidivism from the Good News Nature Cell is less than 20%.

The theme for the event "Set Free" is based on a scripture in Psalms 106:18-20, "Whose feet they hurt with fetters: he was laid in iron: Until the time that his word came...The king sent and loosed him...and let him go free."

The night will also feature ex-offenders testimonies and special music by Blood Bought. Also performing will be Southern Gospel Evangelistic Ministries (SGEM).

Information from a press release: SGEM was formed in

Tim & Vicki Glaze

1984 by Tim and Vicki Glaze of Orlando. The ministry started out with two nursing homes, one in Leesburg and the other in Longwood. Although they started out this way the Lord had bigger and better things in store. From there the ministry escalated to churches, rescue missions and correctional facilities.

Vicki Glaze started out singing country music mixed with gospel when she was growing up. She was introduced to southern gospel music in 1984 and she has been singing it ever since. Vicki has a voice that many say, "will bless your heart and make you think you are in the presence of angels."

Tim Glaze has been a musician for 25 years playing in all types of bands. Tim was raised with southern gospel music being played on the radio by his brother in the early 60's. Tim was ordained to the ministry in 1985 and works in the ministry full time as a preacher/counselor at the Orlando Union Rescue Mission.

SGEM's total focus is on reaching souls for Jesus Christ and spreading the gospel in song and testimony.

The event is free of charge. A freewill offering will be taken to cover the costs and to help with the ministry.

To sponsor the banquet as a platinum sponsor a cost of $1000 is requested, a gold sponsor - $500, a silver sponsor - $300 or a bronze sponsor - $100. To attend this banquet and support in the form of sponsorship and hear the many inspirational features offered make checks payable to Good News Jail and Prison Ministry; (John E. Polk Correctional Facility, 211 Bush Blvd., Sanford, FL 32773)

Attendance to the banquet is not necessary to be a sponsor. An evening of praise to God, good food and good fellowship is expected to be enjoyed by all.

For more information or reservations call Chaplain Charles Pitroff at 324-5231.

Giving our bodies to God

SANFORD — Our bodies are an amazing piece of machinery. When all its parts, emotional, spiritual and physical are working in harmony it can do great things and run effectively and efficiently, but let one of these areas get out of sync and it seems the whole body falls apart.

Like a car, repair may be necessary either through visiting a doctor, counseling or much soul searching and prayer. As a car may need a tune-up or distributor or possibly a little body work or other repair just so our bodies need some of caring God. Transferring of organs, distributing duties until health returns, body work in the form of surgery or an overhaul of our heart to guide us back to God.

I have recently found that even something as simple as a pregnancy can cause the body to endure many changes. What I had taken for granted in previous years I now have to keep close check on.

Something as simple as my blood type has now created alarm within me. Yes, this pregnancy has been totally different from my other two.

First, I dealt with three months of not just morning sickness, but all day, similar to car sickness throughout a 24 hour span. Then it has been a sinus infection that would only respond after over three courses of antibiotic therapy which of course was carefully monitored to protect my baby.

Talk about taking your health for granted. I was very shocked when I was then told that my pregnancy required monthly sonograms and blood work to be sure that the antibodies my system had built up remained with normal range.

Who would have thought that me being an A negative blood type and my husband an A positive could cause so much trouble? This helpless little life within a must now be poked, prodded, measured through numerous computer photos and given added attention because my body is fighting the very life I love and long to hold.

It can't help but cause some guilt. It has motivated me to remain in prayer daily and ask others for their thoughts and prayers for this unborn child. It has helped me come to appreciate all those that have helped me and realize my need to slow down a bit for my own health and the well-being of my baby.

How many times have you experienced health problems and it has helped you to slow down and reflect on your needs. The Bible even mentions that Jesus knew when the time was appropriate to stop the hectic pace and remain in prayer and meditation.

May we never take our earthly temples, in the form of our bodies, for granted but use them in glory to Him. May we always, "Be still and know God" through good times and bad and praise Him through them all.

Glory, Fire presented at Wekiva Assembly

Wekiva Assembly will host a powerful, life changing drama, entitled "Glory & the Fire" on March 9, 10, 11 and 12 at 6 p.m. on March 9 and 7 p.m. March 10 - 12. Earthshaking sound effects, brilliant lighting, creative costumes and explosive pyrotechnics are among the treats. With a cast of over 50 the drama will grip hearts, cause laughter, tears and keep the audience on the edge of their seats. The church is located at 1675 Dixon Rd. in Longwood.

Eight scenes show different walks of life: truckers, street people, gangs, families, the elderly, musicians and more. In each scene the people die and

They have recorded over 50 albums over the years for various recording companies and raised funds with the latest being, "It's Happening Again" for Cedar Hill Records in Nashville, Tennessee. The Fellowship of Christian Music recently honored this group with numerous awards, including Group of the Year, Band of the Year and Song of the Year. Take extra care with frostbitten feet

PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: When I was young, I suffered frostbite to my feet. Although I recovered completely, my feet continue to burn, itch and swell if they become even a little chilled. My doctor says that this is permanent and there's nothing to be done. But I'm miserable. Please help.

DEAR READER: Severe cold injury usually causes life-long problems (with burning, itching and tingling), because of capillary damage. At the time of the injury, tiny blood vessels (the main source of blood supply to living cells) freeze and are destroyed, leaving a foot (or a hand) in which circulation is deficient. If the damage is severe enough, amputation may be necessary.

Fortunately, the damage you suffered was not so serious that you required surgical intervention; nonetheless, your doctor is correct: The damage is permanent.

However, there is much you can do to relieve your recurring symptoms. It's absolutely essential that you keep your feet warm. Bundle up in the cold weather, wear insulated socks or boots, use fur-lined slippers, avoid allowing your feet to get cold. If you smoke, stop: Nicotine will only worsen the situation by causing arterial spasm.

Although your symptoms may never disappear, they can be lessened if you follow the suggestions I made.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Last year I had a kidney infection that was aggravated by a kidney stone. The infection was treated, and I passed the stone. But now, even though my doctor says I'm OK, I sweat more and my blood pressure has risen. Also, my cholesterol shot up and my heart pounds. What's happening to me?

DEAR READER: If one kidney were damaged by the stone/infection and is not working properly, your blood pressure could rise, leading to sweating and palpitations. (Using a series of blood tests and X-rays, your doctor can evaluate this and, if there is a problem, suggest therapy, such as medicine to reduce the blood pressure or surgery to remove additional kidney stones that could be contributing to the disorder. I do not believe that the increase in your blood cholesterol is related to a possible kidney abnormality.)

Of course, your symptoms might well reflect another affliction, such as an anxiety disorder, which has no relation to your kidneys.

Your doctor should be able to sort this out, calling on an internist and/or urologist for help, if appropriate.

In my view, you need further examination and testing. Your family physician can supervise this.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Kidney Disorders."

DEAR DR. GOTT: About three months ago, I developed a twitch in my left eyelid that appears to be related to stress and fatigue. When I questioned my doctor about it, he said that I could receive injections of botulinum toxin that would be expensive and painful without any guarantee of success. Do I need this therapy or do I leave well enough alone? I'm not particularly bothered by the spasms.

DEAR READER: Definitely leave it alone. Twitches of the eyelids are harmless and extremely common. They are often related to stress, as yours are.

They almost always disappear with time, and — although they feel weird — they won't affect your health.

Botulinum toxin injection is ordinarily reserved for conditions marked by severe and painful muscle spasms, such as spasmodic torticollis (wry neck). In my opinion, giving you such therapy would be ludicrous.

DEAR DR. GOTT: With reference to the man you described whose wife noted smudges coming from his nostrils, I know of a person who took a capsule filled with powdered medication. It lodged in his throat and, later, broke apart, releasing the powder, which resembled smudges. Maybe this is what happened to the man you described.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Technique or table presence

By Phillip Alder. I enjoy comments like this one by Charles Lamb: "Your absence of mind we have borne, till your presence of body came to be called in question by it." In bridge, there are players who use table presence to "smell out" where the cards lie, and there are technicians, who rely totally on the percentages. (Just in case you're wondering, I fall into the former category.) On this deal, South was Brian Jackson, a London rubber-bridge player who earns his living from his knowledge of the three opponents — all right, two opponents and one partner — at his table. Here, Jackson was in three no-trump. Annoyingly, West led a spade. How did Jackson continue?

With seven top tricks, the technical line of play is to test the diamonds. If the suit is generating four tricks, declarer can cash his top clubs, hoping the queen and jack will drop. If they don't, South falls back on the heart finesse. However, if the diamonds are producing only three tricks, declarer should run the club 10, taking the percentage play for four tricks. Jackson, though, immediately led the heart queen from hand. When West played low smoothly, Jackson drew the conclusion that he didn't have the king. So, Jackson called for dummy's ace and ran the club 10. As you can see, this line worked beautifully. He ended with an overtrick, winning one spade, one heart, four diamonds and four clubs. To my mind, nothing beats an accurate nose, but perhaps the ideal partnership is a technician and a "nostril" player.
