Sanford To Narrow Field Today

'Minds Open' On Police Chief Choice

Herald Staff Writer

The field of 10 applicants for the Sanford police chief's job should be whittled down to five or less after today's meeting of the city commission. All of the commissioners said Friday they were open minded and each applicant has a fair chance for the job.

The commission, which has been studying the 10 applications for the last few weeks, is expected to choose five or fewer candidates it will interview later. The meeting is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. in the city manager's conference room.

Stated qualifications for the job, which pays between $27,872 and $39,991 annually, are a bachelor's degree in criminology or police administration and "progressively responsible" police experience, including supervisory and administrative responsibilities. But Sanford polled Friday, each said they were looking for different qualities in a new chief.

must have "the respect of the community and of the officers. If he has that ingredient he can expect to be a good officer for many, many vears.

What's important to Commissioner John Mercer is that a new chief has "the potential to improve the police force in Sanford," Mayor Bettye Smith said she is relying on "a gut feeling" to recognize the top man for the job. Commissioner Robert Thomas said he is "looking for one with the fortitude to make decisions and who is fair and impartial. Someone who is going to go in there and take the bull by the horns and put it (the department) in the direction the city commission wants it to go.

That direction. Thomas said, is one of equity and opportunity for all of Sanford's citizens. Specifically, Thomas said a chief is needed who will change attitudes in the department about minorities and who will hire more minority

Parents Of Boy Who Lost Eye To Sue Gunman

No Criminal Charges

By Deane Jordan Herald Staff Writer

Criminal charges will not be filed against a man accused of partially blinding a boy during a struggle following the youth's wee-hour visit to a girl's bedroom window.

A civil suit, however, is expected to be logged today or Tuesday at the Seminole County Courthouse against John David Daniels, 43, of west Seminole County, who said he accidentally shot Georga Brana. 16, also of west Seminole County on April 9.

State Attorney Norm Wolflinger said today that charges not be filed against Daniels, of 2831 Bermuda Ave., because there was no evidence to indicate the shooting was other than accidental. Wolfinger said about the only charge Daniels faced was culpable negligence and that he and attorneys of his office did not think there was enough evidence to prove Daniles acted with "gross or flagrant negligence for the safety of others." "It was not an easy decision to make." Wolfinger said.

But Mel R. Martinez, an Orlando attorney, said today that he has mailed a civil suit to be filed against Daniels by the boy's parents.

The suit, expected to be filed today or Tuesday, seeks unspecified compensatory and punitive damages in excess of 85,000

Martinez said today he was not a criminal trial lawyer so he would not comment about Wolfinger's decision other than to say he was disappointed by it. Martinez, however, was critical of the shooting.

"That is something our society can't condone, to allow to go unpunished." he said.

The boy was shot following a struggled with Daniela. The boy apparently decided to confront Daniels after Daniels initially frightened the him away from the home with a warning shots.

According to reports. Daniels was awakened by his financee after she said. she heard a noise outside their house. Daniels said he found nothing amiss and got into a parked vehicle in the drive way and waited.

About 30 minutes later. Daniels said. a car with two people pulled up and in the 2 a.m. darkness saw someone trying to get into the window where his flancee's daughter slept.

'Miami Vice' Stars Join War On Drugs

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - Gov. Bob Graham said today that the stars of television's "Miami Vice" and other celebrities have joined him in a new statewide push to stop the flow of drugs. - not at its source, but at it's destination in an effort to dry up the demand.

Graham said the program — dubbed "Project Free Way" - will coordinate programs in 21 Florida communities in an attempt to fight a social problem that in Florida costs $7.5 billion each year and figures in 33 percent of all child abuse cases, 64 percent of all homicides and 21 percent of all missed work days.

The $4.8 million program will feature televised promotions in which athletes. the stars of NBC's "Miami Vice" and other celebrities will join Graham in urging teenagers and adults to stay oil drugs and alcohol: a 50 minute video tape for use in schools; and posters and T-shirts bearing the "Free Way" message.

Graham said "Project Free Way" will also help already existing community programs run by schools, private groups and churches work together and share ideas. Graham added that the program will help parents guide their children through the period when they face their first decisions on whether to use drugs or alcohol.

New Longwood Administrator Back As Clerk

By Jane Casselberry Herald Staff Writer

Longwood City Hall will be back where it was two months ago after Friday when City Administrator Don Terry's resignation becomes effective and he goes back to his old job as city Police Chief Greg Manning, who served as acting city administrator January through April, has been appointed city administrator police chief.

City Clerk Gert Zambri, who was appointed on April 5 to replace Terry in the post will become assistant to the finance director.

Terry, who had not applied for the city administrator's job, was the unaninmous choice of the city commission after it rejected 63 applicants. In his letter of resignation he stated he was doing it "for personal reasons."

His resignation was accepted at a special meeting Thursday when Terry agreed to take his old job back. Terry, a 55-year-old retired naval officer, was hired as city clerk five years ago. As city administrator, Terry was receiving $35,000 a year compared to $24,064 as city clerk.

Since his promotion, Terry's recommendations have been frequently opposed by Commissioner Larry Goldberg, especially when Terry told the commission that in his opinion

Former city administrator David Chacey was forced to resign by Mayor Harvey Smerilson and Goldberg Goldberg had campaigned on the pledge that the first thing he would do If elected was to get rid of Chacey.

The commission will hold a regular meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall at 175 W. Warren Ave. and will review ordinances to extend the closing of Lamont Avenue and Shadow Hills Trail, which as been barricaded for more than a year at the request of residents to stop four-wheel drive vehicles and speeders who used the street as a shortcut. Proposed Budget For Lake Mary Calls For Property Tax Hike

Lake Mary Mayor Dick Fess is proposing a $1.35 million budget, up from last year's $974.000 budget. Fess budget calls for a tax rate of $4.87 per $1,000 of assessed property value. This is a $1.12 increase over last year's assessed tax rate of $3.75 per $1,000. Fess also wants a 10 percent utility tax.

In a report submitted to city commissioners Thursday, Fess said if his budget proposal is accepted, the city can begin "spreading the cost of government beyond landowners."

Fess' budget proposal calls for $1,354.876 to be spent in fiscal 1985-86. This is $222.385 less than requested by city staff. Fess wants to raise the tax assessed on property from $3.75 per $1,000 to $4.87. To make up the difference, between his budget proposal and the city staffs request, Fess would initiate a 10 percent utility tax on power, phone, water, sewer and cable services.

The city staff wants to raise the tax per $1,000 of assessed value to $8.80.

Fess said in his report that he would "allocate over $250,000 into much needed capital investments and debt service."

Fess' budget proposal has several key city departments penciled in for an increase in funds over last year. The police budget last year was $270,760. This year Fess wants to increase it to $397,927. However, Police Chief Harry Benson requested $455,729. Benson said he has not studied the budget yet and would not comment.

Pentagon Weighing Wider Military Role In Drug War

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Pentagon is studying a proposal by the Joint Chiefs of Staff to expand the military's role in combatting the production and export of drugs from Latin America.

Adm. James Watkins, chief of naval operations, said the Joint Chiefs had made a recommendation to Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger to undertake a "massive new program" in which the Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine. Corps would assist in fighting drug trafficking.

The military has been aiding federal and local law enforcement agencies for more than a year in spotting and tracking drug traffickers who try to enter the southern areas of the United States by plane and boat. But the military is prohibited by law from seizing the drugs and making arrests.

Senior military and civilian officials of the Pentagon, including Weinberger, have said the armed forces cannot further assist other law enforcement agencies without detracting from military training.

The admiral did not detail the plan but indicated it would involve U.S. military training of anti-drug forces in Latin. American countries and the loan or outright gift of weapons and equipment, said sources who attended the

Castrated Molester At It Again

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - A 69-year-old convicted child molester - who underwent voluntary castration nearly 40 years ago to avoid Jail - faces prison for pleading guilty to sexually abusing children he was babysitting.

"In 1946 they took care of the problem, they thought," police Det. Dale Barraelough said Sunday. "But shortly after he got off probation, he started taking weekly injections of hormones. He shot himself in the rear end with a hypodermic needle. That increased his desires.

Alfred W. Bayley, 69, faces 10 to 12 years in prison when he is sentenced July 16 in Los Angeles Superior Court. He was arrested Feb. 8 and charged with sexually abusing three girls, ages 4, 7 and 8.

Police said they believe Bayley, who lives in the Chatsworth area of Los Angeles, has been answering newspaper ads for babysitters in the San Fernando Valley for the past 10 years and has molested other children as well — including a 7-month-old boy.

Forty years ago, Bayley was convicted of molesting two little girls and a Pasadena judge gave him the choice of going to prison for a term ranging from one year to life or undergoing surgical castration.

Parents Shopping For Abortion

ORANGE, Calif. (UPI) - The parents of a brain-damaged woman apparently raped while lying helpless in a convalencent home are foolding for a doctor to perform an abortion that some physicians fear could kill the patient.

Helen and Tom Stegmoyer, the mother and step father of Laura Eldridge, 35, said Sunday they have been searching for a doctor to perform the risky operation since Friday. when a judge granted them guardianship and authorized them to have an abortion performed.

Eldridge was scheduled to undergo the procedure Friday night, but the doctor who was going to perform the operation failed to show up, apparently because he leared possible liability stemming from an abortion that some experts have said could kill the patient.

Attorney Dick Runels said Eldridge, who lies in a fetal position and cannot communicate, is to be admitted today to the University of California, Irvine. Medical Center for the "limited purpose of investigation, examination and determination as to the possibility of terminating the pregnancy, with no goarantees given in advance.

Bush On Seven-Nation Tour With Terrorism Topping Agenda

ROME, Italy (UPI) - Vice President George Bush began a seven-nation Western European tour today aimed at seeking closer cooperation among U.S. allies to combat a surge of terrorism around the world.

Bush started the first leg of his 11-day tour in Italy today with an audience with Pope John Paul II at the Vatican.

He also was scheduled to meet with President Sandro Pertini, Prime Minister Bettino Craxi and Foreign Minister Giulio Andreotti to discuss terrorism, trade and arms control.

The vice president leaves for Bonn, West Germany, later today.

The trip originally was intended to promote Reagan's arms policies, especially his Strategic Defense Initiative, or "Star Wars" anti-missile plan, that has won less-thanenthusiastic backing from his NATO partners.

But with the holding of 40 American hostages in Lebanon by htjackers of TWA Flight 847, Bush's priority is now to seek closer cooperation from Italy and other U.S. allies on fighting terrorism.

The Deadly Skies

Airline Bombings May Be Linked

TOKYO (UPI) - Police sought today to link two airline disasters in Japan and off Ireland and said international terrorists may have caused the deaths of 331 people, Tokyo newspapers reported.

The National Police Agency requested the assistance of Interpol, the international police network, in probing the blast Sunday of a luggage container just unloaded from a Canadian Pacific Airways jet. Two cargo handlers were killed and four were injured.

The blast at Narita airport near Tokyo came less than 30 minutes after 390 passengers and crew got off and about an hour before the Air-India jetliner en route from Toronto and Montreal to London crashed off Ireland, All 329 people aboard are believed killed.

Reports in the Asahi, Mainichi and Yomiuri newspapers said investigators suspect the luggage container blast may be connected with the suspected mid-air bombing of the Air-India jetliner.

The reports said investigators are probing the possibility the two ancidents were the work of international terrorists, possibly Sikh separatisps opposing the government of Indian Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi

Another report by Kyodo news service said some investigators believe a bomb in the luggage container might have been put aboard the CP Air Jetliner by mistake, as neither Canada nor Japan are directly connected with the Sikh separatist move-

The police agency declined to discuss the news reports.

Police said a bomb believed triggered by a timing device exploded in a luggage container just unloaded from the CP Air jetliner. Co-workers said the blast came as cargo handlers Hideharu Koda, 24, and Hideo Asano, 25, were sorting items prior to placing them on a conveyer belt that would have taken them to the crowded airport public baggage claim area. Both men were killed The Boeing 747 jumbo jet, CP Flight 003, landed about 15 minutes early on a flight from Vancouver It carried 374 passengers and 16 crewmembers. Narita airport officials at first said more than half the luggage aboard CP Flight 003 had originated in Toronto. Today, CP Air officials in Tokyo said they could not confirm this. The officials said, however, there would have been time to transfer baggage to Flight 003 at Vancouver from a connecting flight originating in Toronto. Toronto and Montreal were the two originating points for the Air-India flight for its trip to Bombay and New Delhi, India.

In Toronto, CP Air spokesman Mike Dukelow dented any link was possible.

In Canada, Canadian Pacific Airways said the incident was being investigated and security had been stepped up,

Pilot Of Hijacked Jet Ill; Israel Frees 31 Prisoners

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) - Hijackers of a TWA airliner summoned a doctor today after the jet's pilot was reported sick, then requested an executive jet so one air pirate could visit his family in the Bekaa Valley

A hijacker sought help for Capt, John Testrake. saying the pilot had "terrible" stomach pains, but the doctor asked for an escort before agreeing to

"Is he scared of us?" asked a hijacker when told that Dr. Alfred Zeouni would not go to the plane alone.

Yes, he wants an escort," replied a controller. Members of the Shiite Moslem Amal militia then accompanied Zeount to the red-and-white Boeing 727 in an airport car.

Zeount's visit came as 40 American hostages entered their 11th day in captivisty no closer to freedom, despite Israe'ls release of 31 Lebanese prisoners today.

Shiite Amal militiamen and hijackers have held the three American crewmen on the Boeing 727 since June 16. A gunman early today opened fire over the heads of newsmen and warned he would shoot anyone moving too close to the airliner.

The incident came several hours before Israel freed 31 of 764 Lebanese Shitte Moslem prisoners while Shitte Amal militia leader Nabih Berri. negotiating on behalf of the hijackers, refused to release any American hostages.

Instead, Berri retterated his conditions that he would release the 40 Americans only when all the Shiltes transferred in April from southern Lebanon to the Atlit prison outside the Israeli port of Haifa were let go.

Berri, Lebanon's justice minister, also confirmed Sunday for the first time that his Amal militia holds only 31 Americans, with six others still in the hands of the group that commandeered TWA Flight 847 on June 14.

He said the remaining three hostages - the jet's crew - are aboard the plane at Beirut International Airport under the dual control of Amal and the hijackers.

The plane was commandeered after leaving Athens for Rome. During the stops in Beirut and Algiers, one U.S. serviceman was shot and killed, and most of the 150 passengers and crew were released.

In announcing its plans to free the 31 Shiites, Israell leaders Sunday denied the move was connected with the hijackers' demands, and Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres said the release was part of an automatic review of detentions.

Peres told Secretary of State George Shultz the release had nothing to do with the hostage crisis and said he completely supported President Reagan's refusal to bow to the demands of the

"We found the wreckage fairly quickly," said helicopter pilot Neil Robertson, a flight leutenant in the British Royal Air Force "There was a main area where she had obviously gone down, but wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

There was no sign of life at all," he said.

"We were picking up bodies five at a time," said RAF helicopter pilot Flight Lt. Peter Wallis. "That was all we could do. It was just a matter of picking up dead bodies."

"The area was strewn with scats, luggage, bits of metal," said RAF helicopter pilot Flight Lt. John Deane. "It was a horrific scene."

A report from the contingent of ships, helicopters and planes that raced to the 5-square-mile area said rescuers found "what looks like the site of a battle, with loads of bodies in the sea."

"We are surrounded by wreckage, and there are no signs of survivors," radioed Cmdr. Jim Robinson, skipper

Man Jailed In Babysitter's Rape; Other Arrests Expected

A 15-year-old Casselberry girl's claims of rape have led to the arrest of a 21-year-old Casselberry man and police say two more men may be charged.

The girl reported that she was raped in a bedroom by two men around 10:30 p.m. on May 4 at 500 El Dorado Drive. Casselberry, where she was babysitting.

Both men reportedly forced her to have intercourse and one, or perhaps both, forced her to perform oral sex, a Casselberry police report said.

The girl said she had been drinking and couldn't remember clearly exactly what had occurred, the report said. The alleged rapists were part of a group including friends of the girl's who had come to the home for a party, the report said.

After the rapes, a third man gave her a shower and carried her dressed only in a towel out to a waiting car. They were driven to a wooded area of Deer Run in Casselberry by other unidentified party-goers where the third man took the girl into the woods and raped her, the report said.

He fled and a group of the girl's friends found her and took her to the home of a friend, Donna Spragg. 440 Iris Road. Casselberry. Mrs. Spragg told police the girl was nude when she arrived at her home.

Mrs. Spragg told police she put the girl in the shower and then took her home. The girl's father called police and reported the assaults, the report said.

The girl was transported by ambulance to Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford. where she was examined. She gave police the names of suspects in the case.

At 10:45 a.m. Friday, Sergio Elias Torres, 21, of 503 El Dorado Drive, a Seminole Community College student who lives across the street from the home where the girl was babysitting, was arrested at his home. He is alleged to be one of the suspects who assaulted the

Foreign Carnivores

Former presidential aide Michael Deaver tan't the only American tourist to discover the sizable benefits of buying a foreign car abroad. Even without diplomatic clout, you can save as much as 45 percent by shopping in Europe; buying an import in this country from a car broker, rather than an authorized dealer, will save you as much as 20 percent.

But Sens. Daniel Inouye's and Wendell Ford's S 921, in this "gray market," would eliminate foreign autos. Their measure stops individuals and independent dealers from importing cars, leaving the field entirely to dealers licensed by the car manufacturers.

This piece of protectionist legislation is defended as a safety measure that will sufeguard the public from allegedly dangerous gray-market imports. Yet there's no evidence that these cars are especially likely to cause accidents, and regulations already on the books assure that all imports meet American safety and pollution standards.

It's sensible to enforce those safety rules stringently, but banning gray-market imports isn't the way. A wiser course, proposed by the gray marketeers themselves, would be to impose a fee on those who buy foreign autos outside official channels, with the money used by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration to monitor compliance.

What's really behind S 921 is an effort to fatten up Mercedes. BMW and the other huxury foreign car manufacturers, which have kept prices artificially high on this side of the Atlantic — more than double what they are in Europe. That's why the gray market has boomed from 5,000 cars in 1982 to an estimated 60,000 this year. But there's no good reason to insulate foreign car dealers from the strains of competition. The gray market that they want to shut down is, after all, just another name for the free market.

Move Over, Boys

When Augie Felando, president of the American Tuna Boat Association, first heard about it, he was knocked flatter than a flounder.

Women observers on tuna boats? That will be the day, it would be worse than, well ... getting the net caught in the propeller or running into a pier. Everybody knows women on board are bad luck.

Coeducational commercial tuna fishing is no idle threat. There's a San Jose, Calif., woman who wants aboard. She says she has just as much right as a man does to be assigned on a tuna boat as a porpoise observer for the federal government.

A federal chief investigator is looking into the situation. He says that the San Jose woman has "raised a legitimate question." The case can bring to mind some scenarios. For instance:

A deckhand on watch one dark and balmy night: "How about a kiss, sweetheart?" Female observer: "Go kiss a shark."

First there were the tuna boat seizures and then fish imports from foreign nations, followed by the canneries closing. And now women on board.

Maybe it's worth a try. There's no way to go but up.

Turnaround On Nicaragua A Repeat Of History

 Watching the House reverse itself on aid to the contras in Nicaragua makes one wonder if the congressional majority has lost its sense of history.

As one who lived closely through all the moves that eventually bogged us down in the Vietnam folly, I see history repeating itself step by step.

Similar to the Vietman foolishness, the House surrendered to the fear that, if it did not finance the attempted sabotage of the Nicaraguan government, the representatives would be accused of being soft on communism.

accused of being soft on communism.

Claiming that Walter Mondale lost 49 states to Reagan because he appeared weak on standing up to the communists. Congressman Dan Daniel (D-Va.) said that, if Democrats did not funnel money to the contras, the public would "think we are soft on communism."

If not wanting to appear soft on communism is the best way to construct foreign policy and win elections, why did we leave Vietnam? Or why do we trade with China? To carry the logic a step further, why didn't we back Hitler in World War II and the Ayatoliah Khomeini today since both have indicated their hatred of the communists?

It was argued in the House that the Sandinista government is a great threat to American security. How can such nonsense be offered with a straight face? Nicaragua is a tiny, impoverished state that is a threat to no one except possibly itself. Exploited for half a century by the American-backed dictator Somoza, the suffering people of this fragile little state finally got rid of him in 1979. Now some of his former supporters aided by a few disillusioned Sandinistas are trying to get back in power by overturning the revolutionary government that dumped Somoza six years ago. Why would anyone suppose that is in the interest of the United States to be a party to this sabotage?

This is not to argue that the Sandinista government under Daniel Ortega is a model democracy. But it is certainly an improvement over the old Somoza regime that we cheerfully backed for half a century. And it is no more communistic than, say, Yugoslavia with which we enjoy a measure of cooperation.

In securing a reversal of the earlier House vote against U.S. involvement with the contra operations. President Reagan told skeptical House members that he did not plan to send American troops to Nicaragua and that he was not even trying to overturn the Nicaraguan government. He had said at an earlier time that he simply wanted to spend enough money on the contras to force Managua to cry "uncle."

1 am highly skeptical about the president's assurances. And 1 wish 1 had been more skeptical in 1964 when President Johnson was assuring us that he had "no intention of sending American boys to Asia to do what Asian boys ought to be doing for themselves."

But even if Reagan's objective is simply enough American money to make the Nicaraguan government say "uncle," is this a proper foreign policy for the United States?

One of the major negatives the United States carries in this hemisphere is the image of the "colossus of the north" intimidating its weaker brothers to the south. "Yankee imperialism," it is called. "Gunboat diplomacy" is another name for it.

Whatever the name, U.S. interventionism in the struggles of Central America is exactly the wrong way to discourage communism and enhance America's stature. Indeed, the present policy of trying to sabotage the Nicaraguan government is precisely the policy that has failed so miserably in Cuba. Instead of weakening Soviet influence in Central America, it will enhance that influence. Instead of extending U.S. influence, it will further inflame the anti-American resentments of the area.

None of our traditional allies supports the Reagan policy toward Nicaragua. The time has come for us to revive "a decent respect for the opinions of mankind." It is also time for a little realism and political courage.

ROBERT WALTERS

Viewers Held Hostage

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Network television news has a great deal in common with the fabled little girl with the curl on her forehead: When it's good, it's very, very good — and when it's bad, it's horrid.

The ubiquitous news medium's most admirable strengths and worst weaknesses are never more apparent than when it covers an event such as the hijacking of the Trans World Airlines plane in the Middle East by a band of Moslem fanatics.

But the fundamental nature of the networks' presentation of the news is flawed, even during periods when there is no "major crisis" such as the terrorizing and kidnapping of the passengers and crew on the TWA plane.

Restaurant dining provides a superb analogy to characterize the difference between the way news is offered on television and how it is presented in newspapers.

Reading a newspaper is akin to perusing the menu, choosing among a wide variety of offerings and consuming those selected at an individually comfortable pace—rapidly for some but leisurely for others. Consumers are free to ignore a story, read a portion of it or devour it in its entirety.

The restaurant comparable to television news, however, is a very different emporium. The management makes all decisions about what will be offered, the size of the portions, in what sequence they will be served and the rapid pace at which they must be consumed.

There invariably is a "specialty of the house" that customers are forced to consume in huge quantities. One week it's the saga of an artificial heart recipient in Kentucky, the next a bizarre rape case in Illinois, then a socialite's murder trial in Rhode Island.

Finally, when a major crisis comes along, it's the equivalent of having the waiter announce "tonight, you're all gonna eat only spaghetti — and lots of it," then proceed to cram pasta into diners' mouths

The networks, because their reach is so broad and wide, were able to heavily influence, if not firmly establish, a conflicting set of national priorities by ceaselessly emphasizing the real or imagined importance of the situation.

As a result, they risked undermining the president's best efforts and making resolution of a delicate matter unnecessarily difficult for the White House.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Keep Cool With NATO

LONDON — Two weeks in NATC Europe, talking with politicians government officials, military men and (perhaps most important) ordinary citizens, is an extremely invigorating antidote to the daily barrage of "news," from both sides of the Atlantic, implying that the Western alliance is on its last legs or is facing an imminent crisis of some

Suppose that, out of 10 people, nine are reasonably content, but the tenth is upset about something and runs around shouting. Who gets the attention? Who is interviewed, photographed and clucked over?

That is roughly the situation in NATO. To be sure, in any group of 16 countries at least one will, at any given moment, be predictably out of sorts. In NATO just now it's Greece—a small, almost perlipheral member, which recently re-elected an anti-American prime minister. Even he, however, has stopped short of carrying out his threats to close down the U.S.-manned NATO bases in Greece.

Then there are the nervous Nellies - notably the Netherlands (another minor player), whose fragile center-right government is under constant leftist and pacifist pressure to weish on its alliance obligations. Typically, Dutch Foreign Minister Hans van den Broeck was the only NATO official Karen de Young was able to identify, in her recent epic article in The Washington Post, as counseling the U.S. government to continue observing the weapons limits in the (unratified) SALT II treaty. But even the Netherlands has in fact scrupulously lived up to its commitments.

Virtually all of the other NATO powers, including all of the big ones, are pillars of the alliance. More important, their citizens by large majorities support it too. They don't slump down in front of NATO bases; they don't form human chains, they feel no call to act in such ways — or indeed in any particular way. They are simply satisfied with the alliance as it stands, and with their respective nations' adherence to it.

"The only trouble with the NATO alliance," one high-ranking NATO officer told me, "is that it has just completed 40 glorious years." Well, 36 technically — NATO only came into official existence in 1949, but in fact it had existed, informally, since the end of World War II in 1945.

Forty years is a long time in politics, and almost a record for 16-nation alliances. Politicians will naturally try to connive for their nation's particular advantage in such a situation; and reporters would be less than human if they didn't depict the consequent spats as signs of fatal weakness, heralding the alliance's imminent dissolution.

My advice to my readers, however, is to stay calm and bet on NATO. It may be less exciting than worrying over the "Finlandization" of Western Europe, but it's a lot more realistic.

And one other thing. For 40 years an aggressive, imperialist communist power has glared at NATO across those grim fences to the east. But it has not marched — and that, of course, is NATO's greatest triumph

GOP Seeks Converts

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In the next 12 months, the Republican Party will spend more than $1 million trying to convince Democratic officeholders and voters to join the GOP.

About 100 Democratic officials have defected to the GOP in the past year. Among them are former Rep. Kent Hance of Texas, who lost a Senate bid as a Democrat in 1984; William Lucas, the black Wayne County (Detroit) executive; former Massachusetts Democratic Gov. Ed King; and former U.N. Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick's switch was clearly based on ideology. However, the others switched for more political reasons — and all three are major contenders for their states' GOP gubernatorial nominations. The way to the Democratic nomination was blocked by incumbents who will run for re-election.

These big-name switches generate headlines, but some GOP strategists believe they're counterproductive in the long run. They say that voters view candidates who switch and then win major nominations as political opportunists. They are also viewed with resentment by longtime GOP politicians who feel that the plum nominations should go to career Republicans, not "Johnny-come-latelies."

The GOP's major effort to encourage party switching focuses on grass-roots lawmakers and is aimed more at state representatives, county sheriffs and city councilman.

The program's goal is to convert 45,000 Democrats in Florida, 25,000 in Louisiana and 15,000 in both North Carolina and Pennsylvania in the next 100 days. The states were selected because each has a Senate contest in 1986 and because voters in each register by party.

Poil data does indicate that the Republican Party has made significant voter-identification gains over the long haul, although more recent short-term trends have favored the Democrats.

The same trend has shown up in Washington Fost-ABC News polls. From November 1979 to December 1984, the Democrats' advantage over the GOP fell from 59-31 to 51-49.

However, from January to March of this year, the Democrats' lead over the GOP grew from one point to 10 points — and several polls conducted within the past 60 days suggest that this trend is continuing.

Middle East Friend Maintains Anonymity

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The United States has a staunch Middle Eastern friend who is unknown to most Americans.

Sultan Qabus bin Said, the 42-year-old absolute ruler of Oman, the Kansas-sized desert nation at the eastern end of the Arabian peninsula, doesn't proclaim his pro-American sentiments from the palace rooftop in Muscat. But he is on the U.S. side when it counts.

Oman was one of two Arab states that gave public support to the 1979 Camp David accords between Israel and Egypt. And in 1980, the sultan agreed to let the United States stash military equipment at strategically located bases, which can be used for intelligence gathering, communica-rapid-deployment forces in the event of a Persian Gulf crisis.

The sultan's friendship with

The sultan's friendship with America has cost him more than Arab resentment. We have learned that more than a year ago the Saudis, evidentally jealous of their perceived status as No. 1 U.S. ally in the Arab world, offered Oman $2 billion if the sultan would put a little distance between his country and the United States. The highly secret bribe offer was rejected.

Qabus is the very model of a modern enlightened Arab leader. Educated at Sandhurst, the British military college, he brought back some Western ideas that were too progressive for his isolationist father. Sultan Taimur bin Said. The old man, a fundamentalist fanatic, kept his son under virtual house arrest for more than a year. Finally, with the help of the British and particularly of an old Sandhurst buddy. Timothy Landon. Qabus overthrew his father and began laboriously bringing his 900,000 countrymen into the 20th century.

When Qabus seized the throne in 1970. Oman had just 5 miles of paved road, three schools and no health facilities worth mentioning. There are now more than 2.000 miles of paved highway, another 8.000 miles of graded roads and more than 460 schools attended by both sexes. The country has six major hospitals and 230 other health centers.

The young sultan also extinguished a guerrilla movement in the southern province of Dhofar that was supported by the Soviets and their satellite, South Yemen. The British played a crucial role in this as well, along with some help from the shah of Iran.

Our sources say it was Landon, the sultan's Sandhurst pal, who was largely responsible for the 1980 agreement that allows the U.S. bases in Oman. He also pressed for further cooperation on a visit to Washington in the first weeks of the Reagan administration.

But we have learned that Landon has been relinquishing his role as Omani-U.S. mediator recently. Sources say he had nothing to do with behind-the-scenes shenanigans to give a British firm the lucrative caretaking contract to operate three U.S.-financed bases in Oman.

ELMHURST, III. - UCLA's Raymond Young and University of California's Rod Jett are two of the top 100 meter hurdlers in the Pacific 10 Athletic Conserence. Sanford's Frank Barnett, will attend the PAC 10's Arizona University this fail.

While Barnett got a chance to see what his competition will be like, his competition also caught a glimpse of what it be up against next year. But, what Young and Jett probably didn't know is that Barnett has only run the 100 meter hurdles three times.

After his performance this weekend, there's no telling how far Barnett will go in his college career.

Competing against a field of college athletes Saturday afternoon, Barnett. who recently graduated from Seminole High, took fourth place in the 100 meter hurdles with a time of 14.15 at the Junior National Track Athletic Congress Championships.

Meanwhile, in the girls portion of the Junior Nationals Saturday. Shownda Martin's dreams of competing for the Junior National team over the summer were shattered when she was knocked down on the second lap of the 800 meter run. Martin got up to finish fifth in the race with a time of 2:14. Her best going in was 2:09.9.

The Seminole High girls mile relay team finished second with a time of 3:51. Martin ran a leg on that team along with Dorchelle Webster. Kutrina Walker and Glenda Bass.

Barnett was the only high school hurdler to make the finals as he won his qualifying heat on Friday afternoon with a time of 14.35. Barnett finished fourth out of a field of eight in the finals. His time of 14.15 ranks as the 11th fastest ever in the 100 meter hurdles for a high school athlete.

"Frank did outstanding for just having run two races over the college highs," Seminole coach Ken Brauman said: "He might have won it had he had three or four more races under his belt because he was closing strong at the end."

James Purvis, an NCAA All-American at Georgia Tech in 1985. took first place with a time of 13.98. Young , the Pac 10's top returning hurdler for next season, was second at 14.07 followed by Iowa's Patrick McGhee at 14.11 and Barnett. Barnett even beat one of his future competitors as Jett was fifth at 15.02.

"Frank was pleased but disappointed he didn't make the Junior National team," Brauman said, "He was the only high school kid in there and his performance was outstand-

There's a slight chance he could get selected for the Sports Festival team." added Brauman. "We should

The disappointing turn of events in Martin's race ended what was a magnificent track season for the Seminole High freshman. Martin wonevery time she ran the 880 run in 1985 including the state champion-

Saturday afternoon, Martin was in position to win again. It was a tight race after one lap and Martin was in the middle of the pace entering the second and final lap. Martin started to move out to take the lead when another runner stepped on her heel from behind and she fell to the track.

In the men's division, Sanford's Billy Penick was fifth overall and first in the 16-18 age group with a time of 15:53. He was followed in the 16:18 age group by Lake Mary's Matt Palumbo who was ninth overall at 16:21 and Lake Mary's Harold Pitts who finished 19th overall at 17:15.

Seminole Club Claims 2 Titles

Herald Sports Writer

The Seminole Softball Club was the host with the most this weekend at two of its three teams swept to tournament titles at the Five Points complex near Winter Springs.

The Seminole Eagles, the club's 13-14 year old all stars. and the Seminole Hawks, the 12 and under all star team, each won four straight games in claiming first place. The 10 and under Starlings didn't fare as well as they dropped two straight close ballgames.

For the Eagles, who have been competing successfully in 15 and under tournaments, going up against teams of all 13 and 14 year olds was a breeze. The closest game was game two when the Eagles pulled out a 5:3 win over Orlando. The other three games were cakewalks.

In the opener, the Eagles downed West Orlando, 16-0 with the game ending after four Katrina Shuler went 4 for 4 and drove in three runs to lead the offense and Dawn Gebhart pitched a four-hitter. Other leading httters for the Eagles included Jodie Switzer, Corrie Lawson and Tammy Jenerette who had two hits each.

Game two was the only time the Eagles were threatened in the tournament. Orlando bounced back from an early deficit to tie it at 3-3 in the fourth. It stayed that way until the Eagles broke on top in the sixth. Lawson started the rally with a single and scored on a double off the bat of Switzer which turned out to be the winning hit. Leticia Strickland then stepped up and smacked a double to drive in Switzer for a 5-3 lead.

Jenerette, Cindy Willming. Strickland, Switzer and Lawson had two hits each for Seminole and Gebhart was again the winning pitcher.

Softball

In the fourth and final game, Orlando got a rematch with the Eagles after winning the loser's bracket. The game was tied at 4-4 through three innings but the Eagles broke loose with five runs in the fourth and never looked back

Lawson was 4 for 5 to lead the hit parade and the fleet-footed outfielder was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player. Strickland was 3 for 4 while Anna Hollts and Jenerette had two hits each. Gebhart started on the mound but, after walking in two runs, was relieved by Switzer.

Six Seminole players hit .400 or better for the tourney including Strickland (.700), Lawson (.690). Shuler (.660), Willming (.625) and Switzer (.600).

HAWKS WIN THIRD

The Hawks raised their record to 19-2 for the tournament season and they have won three of four tournaments. The one tournament the Hawks didn't win they tied for first but lost the tiebreaker which was total runs scored.

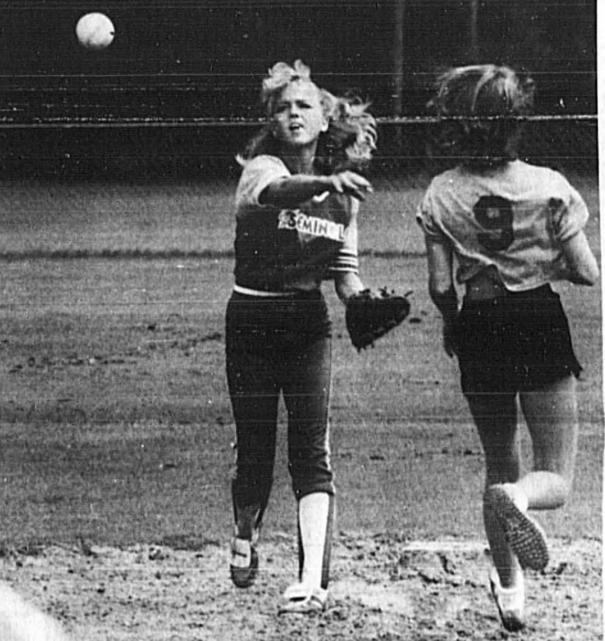

In four games over the weekend, the Hawks' defense allowed a total of three runs. made only four error, and turned four double plays.

"Again the defense did the Hawks manager Larry Risse said. "To give up just three runs in four games is something. There were some unbelievable catches in the outfield.

In Saturday's first game at the Seminole Softball Club complex. the Hawks hammered West Orlando, 10-2.

Christine Risse tossed a fourhitter in that game and was backed by an errorless defense and a 10-hit offensive attack.

Apopka-West Seminole Bludgeons Oviedo With 5 Taters

Corsi's blast capped a comeback by the Seminoles against John Canfield, who had earlier two-hit Oviedo. Canfield came on in the third inning of Sunday's game but the Seminoles had better luck this time around against the former Lake Howell shortstop.

The Seminoles trailed, 4-0, after two inning but erupted for three runs in the third. Steve Rape and Donald McKinney walked but Jeff Greining popped out. Brian Sheffleld, who pitched well while losing the first game, followed with a three-run tater to left field to cut the deficit to one run.

Canfield came on after the homer and checked Oviedo until the fifth inning when McKinney walked. Greising struck out and McKinney was thrown out trying to steal but Sheffield restarted the outburst with a bunt single. James Hersey then slugged a two run homer to tie the game at Hersey, meanwhile, overcame a rough start to pick up the win. He allowed nine hits, struck out seven and walked three.

In game one, Gary Derr clobbered a pair of homers but it wasn't enough. Derr hit a two-run round tripper in the first inning and delivered a solo shot in the fourth.

AWS HAMMERS OVIEDO WITH 5 HOMERS

Apopka-West Seminole let its bats do the talking Sunday as it pounded out five home runs en route to a doubleheader aweep over the Oviedo Lions in District 14 Big League action at Lake Brantley High.

In game one, AWS rode three home runs and the combined pitching of Skip Cousins and Kevin Bass to an 11-2 victory. AWS won the second game by the same score with Ken Chapdelaine going the distance on the mound.

In the first game, AWS took a 2-0 lead in the first on a two-run double off the bat of Mike Brown. Oviedo cut the lead in half in the third when Eric Shogren walked. Clint Baker singled and Shogren scored when Tony Belflower hit into a force play.

AWS upped its lead to 6-1 in the fourth. Bruce Bonaventure led off with a homer and, after singles by Bruce Carlson and Joe Varitek and Tim Bruehl's fielder's choice. Mark Coffey belted a three-run homer.

Craig Duncan took the loss for Oviedo. Baker was 4 for 4 to lead Oviedo at the plate while Mark Merchant had two hits including a solo homer in

In the second game, Apopka-West Seminole broke open a close game with four runs in the top of the sixth then put the Lions away with four more in the seventh.

Apopka's Smith and Miami Hialeah Lakes' Timpson each scored a spectacular louchdown to spark Florida past Georgia. 23-7, before 15,826 at Orlando Stadium. The proceeds go to the Florida Elks Children's Hospital in Umatilla.

Florida rallied from a 7.0 lirst-quarter deficit to reel off 23. unanswered points on TDs by Smith. Timpson and Tallahassee Leon's Chris Miller, along with a field goal by Fort Lauderdale Stranahan's Scott Johnston, to pull out the win before a partisan Florida crowd.

Florida State-bound Smith. who managed over 1,000 yards in a senior year torn by injuries. flashed the muscle and speed which made him one of the nation's most sought after backs heading into his final year. The 6-1, 215-pound tailback ran for 175 yards on 15 carries and carned the game's Most Valuable Player award.

Smith, who was hampered by a sore throat early in the week. said his goal all week was to show the skills which made him an All-America. "This was like a preseason college all-star game,' said the 9.5 100-yard dash sprinter. "I just wanted to show the fans what I could do."

With Florida on the short end of a 7-0 score and 12 48 left in the half, he did. Smith run what was supposed to a be a simple dive up the middle. Upon reaching the line of scrimmage, however, he found nothing but Georgia Jerseys.

"I felt I was caught inside. It was closed up," he said. Smith ripped away from one linebacker and stepped out of the grasp of a defensive lineman. He veered around the left side where a defensive end was no match either. All that was left was the cornerback and a stiff arm dispensed htm.

"It was pretty unexpected," Smith continued. "I just broke outside and tried to outrun them. After I beat the cornerback, there was plenty of green grass in front of me."

Seventy-three years to be exact. Smith's TD jaunt set up a jubilant series of high fives and hugs among his Florida teammates and awoke what had been a talented but sleepy attack thus Florida's defense, led by MVP defender Rodney Lowe (Pompano Beach Ely/Mississippi), Phil-Carter (South Miami/PSU) and Apopka's Anthony Williams (Florida State), held Georgia but a 57-yard punt by Chuck Owen set Florida back to its 11.

No problem. Quarterback Moses Collins (Tallahassee Leon/Tennessee) fired a bomb to Deion Sanders (North Fort Myem/PSU) for 65 yards and a first down at the Georgia 29. Smith promptly skipped 13 yards to the 16. On the next

Kison Sets Off Brawl; Bosox Fall

United Press International It's only June and already the American League East race has turned into an all-out battle. Just one week after Boston completed a four-game sweep of Toronto, the two teams were involved in a bench-clearing brawl when the Red Sox's Bruce Kison struck the Blue Jaya' George Bell Sunday with a pitch.

"We could feel it building up last weekend," said Toronto catcher Ernie Whitt, whose sixth-inning grand slam - the first of his career - highlighted an 8-1 Toronto romp. The Blue, Jays won three of four games from Boston.

"Kison was jawing at us throughout the series, he was hollering at Garcia when he was at the plate in Boston. And then today, when he threw the ball behind my head in my first at-bat and then threw the ball at George in the fourth, you knew things were going to explode."

With one out in the fourth, Kison, 3-2, hit Bell in the arm with a pitch. Bell, the fifth hit batsman in the four-game series, charged the mound and kicked Kison in the stomach. He then punched catcher Rich Gedman and both benches cleared. After nine minutes of pushing and shoving. Bell was ejected and a warning was issued to both clubs.

Kison denied he deliberately threw at Bell.

"Everybody knows that the way to get him out is to pitch him inside." the right-hander said. "That's what we were trying to do, throw him breaking balls and fast ones in."

The bean balls were only the beginning.

"He's (Kison) got a reputation (of throwing at batters),' Toronto manager Bobby Cox said. "But that's not what upset us. What upset us was the kicking of Sully (bullpen coach Johnny Sullivan).

Sullivan had been pushed to the ground during brawl and kicked repeatedly in the face by Boston first baseman Bill Buckner.

The Blue Jays struck back with their bats in the sixth. With a 2-0 lead, Lloyd Moseby and Willie Upshaw drew walks. After a fielder's choice erased Moseby, Kison walked Len Matuszek to load the bases. Whitt followed by lofting the next pitch over the right-field fence for his eighth

Palmer, the defending champion, watched his competition crumble Sunday as his bogeyless final-round 68 gave him a record 11-shot victory over four players. Palmer's rounds of 67-71-68-68 resulted in a tournament record

14-under-par 274, bettering by two shots his total last year on the 6,615-yard par-72 Canterbury Golf Club course. He never trailed in the event. "Funny, I was much more confident entering the tournament last year." said Palmer, who carned $36,000 and the Sam Snead trophy in Increasing his career winnings to $2,429,908. "I was very uncertain on Thursday. 'Now, I'm grateful and pleased. I got a putting tip (Friday night) from (Senior Tour commissioner) Deane Beman, and that helped."

The previous largest winning margin was Rod Funseth's 9-shot victory at the 1983 Hall of Fame Classic, Furneth, suffering from chest cancer, no longer plays on the Sentor Tour.

"I'm thrilled to set a standard for a winning margin," said Palmer, "But please note this: all of us on the Tour are pulling for Rod."

Prom Pitches Expos To Top

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor

ORLANDO - Curt Prom was a little high, a little wide and a little low on a lot of his pitches Saturday.

He was also a little too good for Rolling Hills. Prom survived nine walks while hurling a two-hitter and striking out six as the Altamonte Expos whipped Rolling Hills, 3-1, to win the Junior Top Team Tournament at the Rolling Hills Little League complex.

"Curt was a little wild," said Expos manager Kelly Wainscott. "But he was around the plate. When he got into a bind, he got himself out of it."

The sixth inning was a perfect example. Altamonte held a 3-1 lead with just two innings to play. Rolling Hills, though, loaded the bases with one out. It tried a squeeze bunt, but Prom, sensing the play, fired a high fastball. The batter popped the pitch up. Prom snared it and raced to third base for an inning-ending double play.

"That took it out of them," said Wainscott. The kids played great defense. They really played well. This is the best team I've ever had."

Rolling Hills touched Prom for its only run in the first inning. Curt Penrose walked and two outs later. Billy Duncan one-hopped a double off the left-center field fence to score the run. "It was a major-league drive," sald Wainscott, "It must have been hit 300 feet."

Alex Mancuso followed with a groundball to Kevin Wainscott at second who booted the ball for an error. Duncan, however, tried to score on the hobble and Wainscott recovered to throw him out at the plate.

Altamonte, which won the Top Team with a 3-1 record, tied the score in the third inning. Alex-Sisser singled and moved to second on a nifty bunt single by dependable Pat Battle. Kent Brubaker grounded out to second for the second out but Kevin Wainscott drilled a single to left

An inning later, the Expos went ahead for good, thanks to some legwork by Ricky Sheiman. The DeLand move in singled, stole second and went to third on a passed ball. Sheiman then scored on a wild pitch for a 2-1 lead.

In the top of the sixth, Expo catcher Danny Hendricks reached on an error by the third baseman. He stole second and moved to third on a sacrifice bunt by Sheiman. Hendricks then

"Duncan just throws a fastball and we're a fastball hitting team," said Wainscott, "We didn't hit him as well as we did last time but we hit him good enough.

Wainscott, Hendricks, Sheiman and Sisser each had singles for the Expos. Duncan's double and a fourth-inning single by Terry McSerrin were the Rangers only hits.

Greene Fans 10, Oviedo Makes Finals

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

Pitching his third game in seven days. Alan Greene was beginning to show signs of wear in the sixth inning Saturday afternoon. But Greene was not to be denied as he bore down and got through the last two frames to lead Oviedo's Orioles to a 2-1 victor over Eustis in the District 14 Sentor Top Team Tournament division finals at the Oviedo Little League complex.

The Orioles go up against West Oak Ridge tonight at 7:30 at Winter Garden for the District 14 title, it will be a winner-take all game since both teams carry over a loss from division play.

Another Oriole hurler who has seen extensive mound action. Richard Cobb, will be making his third appearance of the tournament tonight.

"I'd like to think we were in the stronger division," Orioles assistant coach David Austin said. "But you never know. Especially when its one-game, winner-take-all."

Greene turned in his third straight stellar performance Saturday as he allowed Just one hit and struck out 10. Greene walked eight in the game, most coming in the latter innings when he started to tire.

"He ran out of gas in the sixth inning but he gutted it out and pulled through for us," Austinsaid of Greene. "You know a pitcher's good when he goes out and dosen't have his best stuff but still has enough to win."

In three games Greene gave up a total of four runs on five hits and had 33 strike outs.

Saturday's game was a scoreless tie for five innings. Oviedo broke it up in the bottom of the sixth and, at the same time, gave Greene all he needed

Poochie King led off the inning with a single and, with one out, Pellarin singled to right. Ron Fahy then grounded out to the right side to advance the runners to second and third. With two outs. King scored on a passed ball and Pellarin scored on Bobby Wyatt's single for a 2-0 Ovtedo lead.

Eustis scored once in the top of the seventh with the help of a walk and a pair of Oviedo errors. Eustis had runners on second and third with two outs and a full count on the hitter when Greene caught him looking at a third strike for the final out.

Oviedo had seven hits in the game including two each by King. Pellarin and Wyatt and one by

Tigers' Big Bangs 'Jump' All Over Angels

By Chris Flater Herald Sports Writer

The Altamonte American Tigers believe in the "big bang" theory. Saturday, against the Oviedo Angels, four big bangs, three on offense and one on defense, in the first inning cleared the way for an 11-1 Altamonte victory and the District 14 Major Top Team Tournament Division 2 title

The Tigers, who ran their record to 22-2 with four straight Top Team wins, go up against Ocoee tonight at 7:30 at Mount Dora for the District 14 championship. Chuck Lamb will get the pitching assignment for Altamonte.

Altamonte got off to a blazing start Saturday as its first three htters unloaded home runs. Leadoff man John Jump started off the game by slamming a round tripper to center. Lamb then stepped up and deposited a David Blanton pitch over the fence in center for a 2-0 "Downtown" Terry Brown was next and he lived up to his nickname by banging one out for a 3-0 advantage.

"We've never had three in a row like that," Altamonte manager Mike Morro said. "They were just clobbering them. There was no question they were gone."

The three first-inning homers and one defensive play in the bottom of the first was all Altamonte pitcher Chris Jackson needed.

The defensive play turned out to be the one that demoralized Oviedo.

With a runner on first after a hitbatsmen and one out, Marvin "Bubba" Fore hit a line shot to center that had enough distance to clear the fence. But Brown robbed Fore of a two-run homer as he leaped up and caught it and at the same time banged into the fence.

"It was a definite home run." Morro said of Fore's shot. "Terry's (Brown) back was almost over the fence when he caught it and he crashed his side into the fence. He sacrificed his body for the catch, And the catch really killed them (Ovjedo).

Jackson, who pitched a no-hitter earlier in the tournament, had another no hitter going through four innings before a single in the fifth broke it up. It was the only hit Altamonte's fireworks display was not over after the first inning either. Jackson got into the act himself when he smacked a grand slam homer in the fourth and Jump hit another one out his second time up:

"All 12 guys got to play and they all did a good job." added Morro-"The last time we played Oyledo (extra-tuning win) we didn't play our normal game. We made some uncharacteristic errors that opened up the game. Everyone pulled together (Saturday). When they all come together like that it makes it

Morro said hit thinks Ococe may have one loss going into tonight's game. "If that's the case we only have to win one game and them two," he said.

MVP Atkins Leads Seminoles To 11 And Under State Crown

Tournament MVP Chuckle Atkins scored 17 points and Larry Quinn popped off the bench for 18 as the Inter-County Basketball Association Seminoles drubbed the Seminole Youth Sports Association, 50-28, to win the 11 and Under Boys State AAU Tournament at Memorial Junior High Sunday in Orlando.

"We ran real well and we were much quicker," said ICBA coach Mickey Norton. "(Bobby) Anderson and (Theron) Perkins controlled the boards and gave us real good outlet

Anderson, a 5-10 fifth grader, made the all-tournament team along with Atkins. Sanford's Matt Teague paced SYSA with 11 points. After receiving a first-round bye, the Seminole picked up their first win when they railted from a 9-0 deficit to post a 29-24 victory in the semifinal round. Atkins led the way with eight points while Theron Perkins chipped in with seven and Anderson six. David Dignan led Coral Springs with 10. After Coral Springs scored the first nine points, the Seminole outscored the south Florida city, 7-5, to pare the margin to 14-7 at halftime. Eleven unanswered points to open the second half, including five by Perkins, gave ICBA control of the game. The Seminoles will compete in the National Tournament in Orlando July 21-22.

Rosberg Gambles, Wins Prix

DETROIT (UPI) - A big gamble turned into pleasant surprise for Keke Rosberg at the Detroit Grand Prix.

The native of Finland held on Sunday to claim the Detroit Grand Prix IV in course-record time after making an unscheduled pit stop with 13 laps to go. At the time he was holding the lead over Sweden's Stefan Johansson.

Rosberg, 37, who took over the lead on lap No. 8 from pole-setter Ayrton Senna, was forced to take a pit stop on lap 50 after he noticed paper, blown by 20 mph winds from the grandstands, was causing his engine to overheat.

Greinton Takes Hollywood Cup

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) - Trainer Charles Whittingham fancied a Hollywood Gold Cup where Greinton trailed early, then came on in the stretch. His imagination turned into reality Sunday. "It worked out just the way it ought to." Whittingham said after English-bred Greinton caught the pace-setting Precisionist in the stretch and pulled away to a 1 %-length victory in the $500,000 Hollywood Gold Cup at Hollywood

Curry Drops Baez, Eyes Hagler

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) - Donald Curry is probably too big to keep his welterweight title and perhaps too good to fight for a junior middleweight crown. That means he might be challenging middleweight champion Marvin Hagler sooner than expected.

The timetable for a Hagler-Curry bout was altered anyway Saturday following Curry's six-round demolition of veteran Pablo Bacs in a junior middleweight bout.

Batten had built a new life for himself, living in Deerfield Beach with a new family and friends who knew nothing of Batten's supervisor at the Royal Palm Golf and Country Club in Boca Raton, Scott Sincerbeau, sald Batten was a decent man who never hurt anyone.

Batten said the Broward County prison had little security and that guards trusted inmates. He walked out and nobody stopped him.

Batten now faces 171/2 years in prison on the original charge of manslaughter in his sister's death. He could be sentenced to additional time for escape.

Customs Looking For Spies

MIAMI (UPI) - The U.S. Customs Service is looking for a few good Floridians to help them nab drug smugglers who bring contraband into the Sunshine State.

Within a month, Customs will set up a toll-free hot line so citizens can contact them if they see activity which appears to involve drug smuggling. Officials especially are targeting drug couriers who use boats or marinas, said Dennis Murphy, a Customs spokesman in Washington.

"I feel the people of South Florida don't want drug-smuggling there," he said, "We are not asking people to get involved as cops - we just want them to call us. We're not asking for their names."

The hot line, serving Florida only, should be working in about three weeks. Details of the system were still being worked out, but rewards of up to $2,500 would probably be offered for tips, said Murphy.

In addition, pamphlets and posters detailing the tell-tale signs of sinuggling — such as low-riding boats — will be distributed in Florida marinas soon, he said.

Fess also set aside $75,000 to buy land. He said Lake Mary needs to house city hall, police, fire and rescue in one building.

"It is managertally more efficlent," Fess said today. "It's time Lake Mary grew up. It is time to stop modifying buildings. for city needs. If we watt much longer to purchase the land it will be too expensive."

Central Services would receive $167,116, up from last year's $64,136. City Manager Kathy Rice said Central Services provides the city with election supplies, health insurance for employees, computers and other supplies.

First on the list is more police officers and squad cars for the department. Fess said in his report that under his budget. "three officers could be on the street virtually every shift of the year."

Mrn. Rice said the Lake Mary needs a new sound system for city hall, backhoes and graders to take care of the 21 miles of dirt roads and streets in the city.

"It's not an us against them thing." Mrs. Rice said about the budget. "We are working together on it. The budget is a compromising situation. There are two workshops scheduled to discuss the hudget proposals. It's really a give and take thing. The work sessions are scheduled at city hall on July 26, and August 2 from 1 to 5 p.m. The budget must be adopted and submitted to the state by Oct. 1. Public hearings are scheduled for Sept. 5 and 19 at the city

Mrs. Rice said she favors Fess' proposed 10 percent utility tax. She said there is a lot of older property in Lake Mary that has not increased in value as much as some of the newly developed land.

Unless the city commission rejects both proposals and comes up with a budget of its own, then there will be a tax increase, Mrs Rice said.

"People generally expect an increase in services when their taxes increase," Mrs. Rice said.

Under Fess's proposal, restdents can expect better streets. recreational facilities, and sewer

Report: Immigration Policy Based On Poor Information

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The United States has set immigration policy with "woefully inadequate" data that fail to meet legal requirements and lack vital details in many areas, a report

The Immigration and Naturalization Service has failed to collect enough or the right kind of data and often is unable to respond to questions from Congress and the president, the report said. Contrary to regulations, the immigration service also has failed to provide analyses of annual statistics that could explain trends in immigration and to keep track of emigration from the United States, the report from a panel convened by the National Academy of Science's National Research Council said.

"As a nation built by waves of immigrants from colonial times to the present, we know remarkably little about the composition and characteristics of the flow of new arrivals in any given year or about how they settle into their new lives in the United States," the report said.

"Policy has been made in a data vacuum that should naturally be abhorred by policy makers." the panel concluded.

As a result, the report said, questions about legal and illegal aliens - such as whether they take jobs away from natives and whether they pose a burden to social welfare programs -

Immigration ceilings have been set and preferences given to aliens from the Eastern Hemisphere if they have job skills said to be in demand, but no one knows if those aliens do supply needed labor.

Data that do exist are recorded and stored "in such a chaotic, utterly disorganized fashion they really can do little with it," said Burton Singer, chairman of the panel and head of the statistics department at Columbia University.

They're certainly running close to breaking the law," he said of the INS.

The panel urged Congress to require a report from the attorney general on immigration and emigration and to order a five-year study of how new immigrants adjust to the labor market, seek out education and health facilities and use social

The law now requires collection of numbers of immigrants, nationalities and occupation. Analyses of trends is also required but the INS squeaks by with analyses of its own activities, the panel

INS spokesman Verne Jarvis said the agency, which requested the report, worked with the academy panel and had already begun to make

Summer Cultural Classes Catalog Available July 1

A listing of the various cultural classes currently being offered in the Central Florida area will be available from the Council of Arts & Sciences beginning July 1.

The Summer Cultural Classes Catalog contains listings for the months of July through September and includes subjects such as quilting, calligraphy, Jazz dance, antiques, photography, and more.

All classes and workshops are taught at area studios and colleges and are available for both children and adults.

The Summer Cultural Class Catalog is free and may be obtained by sending a selfaddressed, stamped, legal-sized envelope to: Summer Cultural Classes Catalog, c/o the Council of Arts & Sciences, Suite 2, 1900 North Mills Ave., Orlando, Fla. 32803-1465.

Mayor Bettye Smith, praising the "vision" of the board, said few if any modifications to the plan are needed. However, she said, the commission needs to devise a time frame for implementing it Commissioner David Farr said the plan needs more scrutiny. Farr said he disagrees "very strongly" with removing the ball fields from Fort Mellon Park and selling Rinker Stadium to the Seminole County School Board, as called for in the plan. The Scente Improvement Board says it could use the money from the sale of the stadium to fund its beautification projects.

Farr said the stadium "is not ugly" and is an "important part of the city's heritage.

As for the neglect of city owned property, Farr said the board was "absolutely right" but added, "I'm not ready to blame the Parks and Recreation Department.

The board said the department fields at the park.

spends to much time, money and energy on maintaining sports and recreation programs and hardly none on gardening or maintenance of city property. And what little effort is devoted to maintenance often does more harm than good, the board reported, because department workers have no expertise in landscaping techniques.

Farr defended the department saying it has done what the commission told it to do years ago - develop a good recreation program.

Commissioner Milton Smith agreed with Farr about the ball

"Our top priority is for young kids to have a place for recreation," he said. Smith also said the board's recommendations will take at least 10 years to implement. He said the commission needs to decide what part of the plan can be implemented right away and put more planning and consideration into the more expensive and complicated recommenda-

The landing, the 12th at Edwards in 18 flights, wrapped up a highly successful flight that saw the launch of three communications satellites, the first test of a "Star Wars" laser system and the launch of an astronomy satellite that was later retrieved after studying what may be a black hole at the center of the Milky Way.

Two of the 10 applicants are from Sanford -Assistant City Manager Steve Harriett, who has been serving as acting police chief since chief Ben Butler rettred April 30, and Sgt. William Hasson of the department's investigations department.

Harriett has been termed the "home-grown" favorite by John Darby, the chairman of the city's Civil Service Board.

When Butler retired, City Manager Warren "Pete" Knowles recommended to the commission that Harriett be named chief, saying he was the most qualified person within the city's ranks to take the helm at the department.

Thomas said, "I feel one or two (of the applicants) out-distance the favorite (Harriett)." but he declined to say who they are.

Harriett had the stated support of Farr and Smith in April, before the Civil Service Board decided to conduct a national search for applicanta, a move sparked mainly by protests from citizens who said the city was "rushing" to name

"I wouldn't say it's an open and shut case" for Harriett, Farr said, adding, however, that Harriett has "done an excellent job" as acting chief.

Commissioner Smith said, "The door is not closed. We have 10 applicants and we're going to give everyone of them the consideration of our hearts and souls."

Mercer said he has "an open mind" and Mayor Smith said. "It's not open and shut as far as I'm concerned."

DEAR ABBY: My son, who has a wife and two children, just received his law degree at the age of 31. Our whole family is tremendously proud of him, and we have to thank you for it. DEAR ABBY: I am a 36-year-old college dropout whose lifelong ambition was to be a physician. I have a very good job selling pharmaceutical supplies, but my heart is still in the practice of medicine. I do volunteer work at the local hospital on my time off, and people tell me I would have made a wonderful doctor. If I go back to college and get my degree, then go to medical school, do my internship and finally get into the actual practice of medicine, it will take me seven years! But, Abby, in seven years I will be 43 years old. What do you think?

The thing that troubles us is this: Our daughter is married to a very unworthy character. For years he has taken advantage of her sweet, forgiving, generous nature because he knows she worships him. We are sure that whatever we leave our daughter will be spent on this dirty dog. How can we prevent this from

is no way you can control the way your daughter spends her inheritance. But feeling as you do about her husband, please consider leaving a nice sum to your local animal shelter. That way you can be sure that some four-legged dogs will also benefit.

DEAR ABBY: Both of our sons have been married for about 15 years. Their wives were of normal weight when they married our sons, but one daughter-in-law weighs about 300 pounds and the other weighs about 225. Their ages are 35 and 37. Both our sons are good-looking, and neither is fat.

Our daughters-in-law seem to have no pride in their appearance, which upsets everyone in the family, except themselves. They are fat, they know it and they don't care! When they first began to put on weight, they tried various diets, pills, doctors, etc., but they both gave up and decided to "accept" themselves as they are...

They wear the wrong kind of clothes (shorts and blue Jeans) without any apologies.

Our problem (my husband's and mine) is how do we cope with this? We are ashamed to be around them. Our sons have accepted the situation, but we seem unable to.

Perhaps we need more help than the girls. Any suggestions? UPSET IN FLORIDA

DEAR UPSET: I am glad you suggested that perhaps the problem is yours, because it is. It's your privilege to avoid uncomfortable situations, but it's their right to dress and look as they please

I urge you to look into counseling in order to help you accept that which you cannot change. You seem to be an intelligent woman. I hope for the sake of your sons' happiness and your own peace of mind that you learn to live and let live without being judgmental

DEAR READER - Your question is really composed of two parts; one is easy to answer, the other is difficult.

As people grow older, they commonly show signs of wear and tear. Weight-bearing joints - like hips, knees and ankles are often prime targets for a type of arthritic wearing-down called osteoarthritis. Patients may demonstrate loss of joint space twith concomitant loss of lubricating fluid), development of calcium deposits and irritation of articulating surfaces. This condition almost always produces stiffness, pain on walking and loss of mobility.

At 72, after an undoubtedly 22 Sluggish active life, your mother is a good candidate for one - or all - of the manifestations of osteoarthritis. She will require 27 Chisol several X-ray examinations of 30 Current unit her joints so that her physician 32 Salad can accurately assess the degree of deterioration. One of the many 34 Aquatic animal arthritis medicines may help 35 Habituates her. Her walking might be im- 36 female saint proved by judicious injections of cortisone into the most painful 37 Political group areas. As a last resort, she may 19 Decrement want to consider surgery or hip 40 Construction or knee replacement. In my experience, all these techniques 41 Energy unit can be useful.

The important fact to consider 42 City in New is that she need not become disabled. Elderly persons may 45 Mountul cry (3 not be made "whole" by treatment, but they certainly can be aided to the point where they can continue to walk and enjoy independence.

The difficult portion of your question concerns the doctor's 54 Depression in reaction to her predicament. She is surely experiencing more than run-of-the-mill aches and pains. I assume she has made this clear. to the doctor. If true, her concerns are being disregarded by a physician who shows an ab-

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring... YOUR BIRTHDAY

JUNE 26, 1965

In the coming year you will see a vast improvement in areas where you previously had problems. Your home, career and relationships will benefit. CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Maintain an easygoing manner today. You could attract nice things, and be able to forgo the extra effort they'd normally require. Major changes are ahead for Cancers in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Antro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're likely to be rather restless and uptight today unless you have some type of pleasurable outlet. Make plans to do something fun-with active friends.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Financial trends will make a positive change in direction today. Losing situations could now become quite profitable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your imagination is your greatest asset today, so put it to beneficial use. Don't be afraid to promote something big. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be hopeful regarding the outcome of events in financial matters that are important to you and those you love. Things work out satisfactorily. BAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec.

21) You could be luckier than usual today with projects where friends are involved, provided you're the one who plots and steers the course of action. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 Jan.

19) Today there will be greater opportunities than usual for flnancial gains. Watch for indicators.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 Fcb. 19)

Do not be afraid to think on a grand scale today. You're presently attuned to making expansive projections that could have a big impact on your future.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

Something good that has been long deserved, but never received, is coming your way, if you don't get it today, you will very soon. ARIES (March 21-April 19)

Your greatest gratification today will come from human relationships, rather than from material things. Put people first.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In career matters today, Lady Luck may not favor you in trivialities but she will go all out for you if there is something big at stake.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Do not turn down any social invitation today. There's a chance for an unexpected meeting that could kindle a new romance if you're so inclined.
