FASHIONABLY GOWNED WOMEN SEE CLEVER MODELS PUT NEW SPRING GOWNS THROUGH THEIR PACES

BAUMEL'S 1923 FASHION REVUE AT PARISH HOUSE LAST NIGHT WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

FASHIONABLY gowned—2 col box—that modeling is an art in itself, all will agree who saw the clever mannequins parade the new Spring styles before the throng of fashionably gowned women who attended the opening of the Fashion Show at the Parish House last night.

There was grace in every movement and posture of the young women selected by Baumel to display the new gowns, and even had not the spring frocks been so ravishingly lovely in themselves, the show would have been well worth seeing.

But, ah! those new frocks—who would not look like a Peri in them! Such a bewildering riot of color; such bewitching new effects, such becoming modes—seldom has a season been so favored.

The creations, it is whispered, are the very choicest selections from the New York designing salons of Peggy Paige—a name that has long stood for supremacy in style. Assuredly they are the work of an artist, a master who plays with filmy fabrics, with contours and curves, with sleeves and basque and blouse and belt and hem line and panels and godets and gorlantes as a symphony director plays with the reeds and strings and brasses of his orchestra.

And it was not alone gowns that distracted one. There were lingerie which were nothing short of dreams; millinery which was a temptation; delightful little accessories that were of such smartness that one felt an almost irresistible desire to clutch and hold. And the beautiful shoes to match were from Lloyd's Shoe Store and were up-to-date in every line.

And there was a harmony about it, a gracious blending of tones, the softest of lighting, which yet was abundant; the most luxurious of draperies—the picture was complete, and women who had been led to expect much found their anticipations very tame in the face of realization.

The "Show", and it is by no means a misnomer. There was a delightful little incidental program—just intruded enough to lend zest to the brief wait between acts; the appointments are charmingly informal, and Dame Fashion was at home to all who came.

Lack of space will not permit a detailed description of Baumel's Fashion Revue at the Parish House last night but a brief mention of a few of the frocks worn will give those unable to attend some slight idea of the fashions as set forth by the arbiters who know:

Mrs. John C. Maurer was particularly stunning in a white knitted sport suit embroidered in new Egyptian embroidery and brilliant colors. She also wore a very stunning Lanoin green (which is the newest shade in green) dress of flat crepe, the entire dress being shirred with self color thread, with which she wore a very smart tricorn shaped hat. Another was an unusual Peggy Paige model sport suit of red fringed flannel blouse and white plaited skirt, clever hat of red braid with fluted rosettes completed this costume.

Mrs. Hawkins Connelly was very charming with her frow-frow sport dress of blue and white combination embellished with handsome embroidery with scarf to match the dress and also wore an unusual sport dress of Mallison's Sport Silk. This was also worn with one of the new matching scarfs.

Mrs. Robert Herndon displayed the larger sizes in a most graceful manner, one suit being a white Rashana Crepe with plaited skirt the coat being trimmed with black and white checkered heavy silk. She also wore a pretty afternoon dress of gray Georgette figured over gray Charmeuse. She also showed to advantage several pretty summer Swiss dresses for the hot weather.

Mildred Holly, with her usual grace displayed the Misses' dresses, one of them being a white organdy embroidered in large blue dots with a large white Bertha and white organdy. She also sang a solo in a rose sport dress of rose frow-frow in a very girlish model with a hat to match of same material faced with white taffeta and trimmed with white pearls.

Another showed the audience how to spend the summer in a camping sport suit of khaki with Norfolk jacket and knickers. Sport shoes from Lloyd's Shoe Store.

and showed to advantage in a very pretty green and white sport dress of wool canton. Another unusual dress was an old blue silk with a very long waist, trimmed in white medallions and embroidered in wool, an unusual Misses' costume.

Esther Miller, in all her girlish beauty, was stylish in a tan coat dress with red rosettes, in a lavender sport dress and in a black and white figured dress and a yellow and white sport dress.

The stage was arranged in a most artistic manner a big red book being the entrance for the models and the covers had the words "Baumel's Fashion Revue for Spring, 1923," and as little Miss Peggy Paige in the person of Miss Julia Higgins, opened the cover of the big style book the young ladies stepped forth radiant in the new spring styles and the whole effect was most pleasing and artistic.

Each one in the audience was presented with a box of chocolates and the following interesting program was rendered:

Cornet and Saxophone Duet—Johnnie and Bernard Schirard.

Delightful Tunes—Miss Lilly Ruth Spencer, accompanied by Miss Charlotte Smith.

Enticing Melodies—Miss Mildred Holly, accompanied by Miss Velma Shipp.

Reading—Miss Margaret Cowan. Sanford's Juvenile Songstress—Miss Eva Grace Wagner.

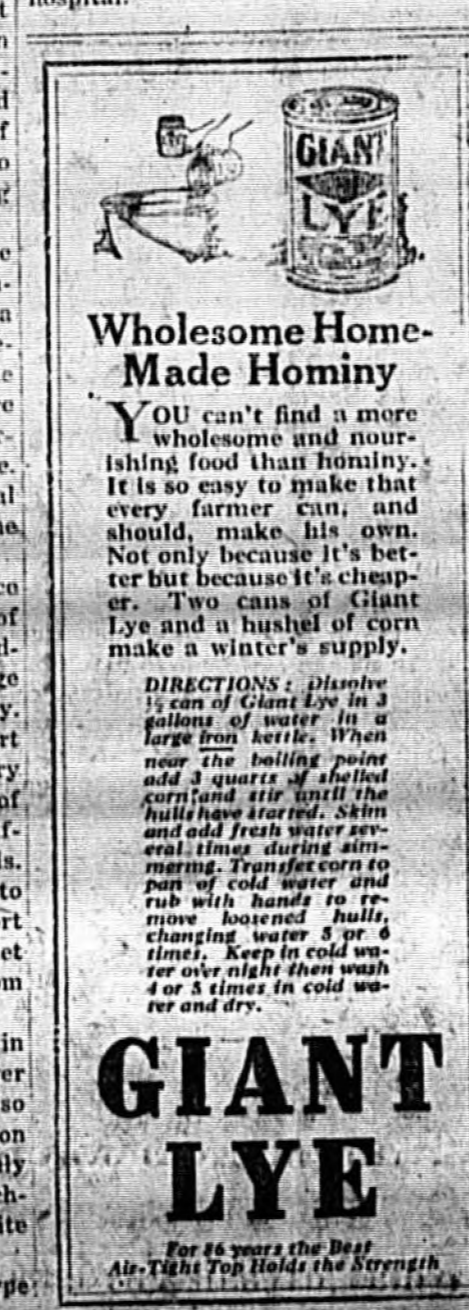

Entertainer de Luxe—S. S. Baumel. Shoes furnished the models for this show by courtesy of Lloyd's Shoe Store. Furniture by courtesy of the Miller Furniture Co. Candy from Hunt's Pharmacy.

The dresses seen in the show are original costumes and will be on display today at Baumel's dress department. These costumes—each an exclusive and individual creation—represent the new mode at its very smartest.

You can't find a more wholesome and nourishing food than hominy. It is so easy to make that every farmer can, and should, make his own. Not only because it's cheaper but because it's better. Two cans of Giant Lye and a hushel of corn make a winter's supply.

DIRECTIONS: Dissolve 1/2 can of Giant Lye in 3 gallons of water in a large iron kettle. When near the boiling point add 3 quarts of shelled corn and stir until the hulls have started. Stir and add fresh water several times during simmering. Transfer corn to pan of cold water and rub with hands to remove loosened hulls, changing water 5 or 6 times. Keep in cold water over night then wash 4 or 5 times in cold water and dry.

The arm of a man was found in the stomach of a shark at Key West one day this week. This again raises the question as to whether the sharks of Florida are "man-eaters" or not.

The ladies will be here in full flower Monday and Tuesday when the directors of the state federation of Women's Clubs meets here.

This week's review of the building activity throughout the state shows the greatest progress made in construction than during any like period of the new year.

The Sanford Country Club needs more active members. It is not only your duty to your town to become a member of the Country Club but it is your duty to yourself to be a member and keep fit.

HABSON ON FLORIDA

One of the best pieces of advertising given Florida of late was the speech of Roger Babson, of world wide fame as a statistician made before the Bartow Kiwanis club last week.

U SELL YOUR REAL ESTATE WHEN U LIST IT WITH US. Spencer Hight lots are going fast. One of the best subdivisions in Sanford and all big lots. See us now and pick while picking is good. Easy terms. Maxwell & Britt REAL ESTATE AGENTS. Fire, Casualty, Auto Insurance 105 W. First St., SANFORD, FLA.

FOR FLORIDA

Florida is very much interested in the coming session of the legislature. There are many serious problems to confront the members, and the gravest seems to be matters of taxation.

Taxes can be reduced—yes, greatly reduced and thus justify a tax of two mills to be used by each county for advertising purposes.

People do not know that Gadsden county produces the finest tobacco grown in the United States. They do not know of the vast acres of celery in Seminole and Manatee counties.

Advertising all of Florida's resources is the necessary thing and advertising the same in a most effective manner.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR TOURISTS

The Tampa Tribune says: "The crying need for additional hotel facilities in all parts of the state, and particularly in South Florida, has been heard, and the net result is the announcement of several new hostleries."

A $500,000 apartment house with 80 apartments is reported to be on the program for Tampa. Tampa alone could utilize twenty such apartment houses and every one would be filled to overflowing all through the winter season.

FLORIDA WANTS NO SAVAGERY

Discussing the proposal to substitute the electric chair for hanging in capital punishment cases, one Florida sheriff at the recent Jacksonville meeting is quoted as follows: "It would never satisfy the Cracker in my part of the state. They want to see a man, black or white who has committed a heinous crime, hang, and substituting electrocution, as it is believed to be a more humane method of execution, wouldn't satisfy them."

ARRESTING A MOB

An unusual news story comes from Palatka. Thirteen men, identified by the sheriff as members of a mob which attempted to storm the county jail in the effort to get a negro charged with killing a white man at Gainesville, have been arrested and jailed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 10

Last week we quoted Roger W. Babson relative to conditions in the "Industrial West." This week Mr. Babson treats of the Agricultural West: "The Agricultural West," he says, "is confronted with a fundamental law which is this: the consumption per capita of wheat decreases as a people becomes more prosperous."

The negro shot and killed one of these road employes and was taken from Gainesville to Palatka for safe keeping. Friday night a mob attacked the Palatka jail, greeting the sheriff, when he opened the door, with leveled pistols. Sheriff Hagan was "game" and resisted the crowd, knocking down the leader and shutting the door in their faces.

Sheriff Hagan is entitled to the congratulations and thanks of all law-abiding citizens. Determined resistance to a mob and prompt prosecution of its members will do more to check mob violence than all the editorials and speeches that can be written or delivered in a century.

COMPTROLLER AMOS MAKES A GOOD SUGGESTION

State Comptroller Ernest Amos has made a suggestion for the settlement of the long and bitter controversy over the appointment of representation in the legislature which appeals to us as fair and practical. It is that the constitution be amended to "make it the duty of the governor to reappoint the representation of each county or district in the legislature after each federal census by proclamation; and that the apportionment be made, as the constitution now requires, on the basis of population."

Discussing the suggestion of the comptroller in friendly spirit the Times-Union says: "The making of the apportionment by a branch of the state government other than the legislature itself is a principle. The decision as to what branch shall make it is a detail. For thirty years the legislature has ignored the law. It has been the duty of the legislature meeting after the report of the state census to make a reapportionment, and it has not done this; so the apportionment stands as made thirty-five years ago, despite the changes in the population of the counties."

As to the official who should make this apportionment—this is a matter of detail. The governor might make it or the comptroller, the official to whom the census is reported, and the attorney general, the official who advises

AGRICULTURAL WEST

ing out gifts to the farmers. It can be solved only by intelligent leadership with the active co-operation of the newspapers.

"Of course, no one should assume from these comments the idea that the Agricultural West is dependent upon wheat. The industries of this wonderful section of the United States are becoming more diversified every day. Moreover, these diversified industries are rapidly picking up. The lumber industry of Minnesota, the dairying interests of this section, and the various other lines are improving. Packing, which was flat on its back a year ago, is turning over onto its side preparatory to getting up. All the live stock business looks better and the farmers are confidently looking forward to higher prices. The improvement in the copper industry and the great improvement in the iron and steel industry is helping the northern group of these states. Lead, zinc, and other non-ferrous metals will soon be in better demand as the great building boom develops further. This will help Missouri and certain other portions of that section. The people should be taught that 'diversification' applies not only to the different crops which a farmer plants; but to the different lines which his boys enter. Let one or two of them continue in farming; but let one go into the building trades, another into small manufacturing, a third into merchandising, and the fourth into the ministry, medicine, banking or law. This does not mean that such boys should go to the industrial cities of the East, or even to the large cities of the West. Statistics clearly show that the best opportunities today are in the smaller cities and towns. Moreover, most boys are better off to remain in their home town than to go to large cities. One of the great troubles with boys today is that disease known as 'Green Pastures'—which a materia medica tells us means that to one afflicted with this disease 'The pasture farthest away always looks the greenest.'"

"Still, notwithstanding these obstacles, I found the great Agricultural West in far better conditions than a year ago. Manufacturers and merchants are well justified in looking for increased sales in this section during 1923. The improvement has contributed to the increase in the barometer of business for the entire country. The Babson chart today stands at 3 per cent above normal compared with 18 per cent below normal a year ago. This is a great improvement and the task before all of us now is to keep business up to its present figures. Statistically, President Harding has succeeded in bringing business back to normal. Whether or not he can hold it there, only the future can tell. Much depends upon the Agricultural West and especially upon the railroads, bankers, merchants, newspapers, and other leaders of public opinion in this section. In the end—as the great Agricultural West goes so goes the whole country. Hence, the problems of the West are the problems of all of us. As Jesus of Nazareth—the greatest economist who ever lived—taught his hearers: 'The prosperity of each is dependent upon the prosperity of all and we can help ourselves only as we help one another.'"

As to the law, might get together and make it, and submit it to the supreme court. The question would be as to what the law required, and this should be decided by the court. But this, as we have said, is a matter of detail—the important thing being that the legislature be relieved of the duty of making the apportionment."

Comptroller Amos has made available and a timely suggestion, and we trust that it will be given due consideration by the members of the legislature. It is probable that many of the members—and particularly the members from south Florida—have prepared amendments to the constitution providing for reapportionment. There is consequently the danger that insistence on the part of various members that their particular measure be adopted will so divide the strength of the representatives from this section of the state that the wily west Florida politicians will be able to maintain the present unjust status. The south Florida members should get together before the legislature meets and agree on a bill. With the support of honest men from other sections they can put an end to the controversy.—Tampa Times.

THE COST OF EDUCATION

The cost of modern education is becoming so great, the burden on the taxpayer is so heavy, that unless some relief is found there will be a curtailment of educational facilities, according to a report of Dr. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation for Advancement of Teaching.

He feels that the schools are trying to teach too many subjects, and that many pupils remain in the schools who should be learning trades and that the high schools have made a mistake in attempting to teach vocations that should be taught in trade schools.

It would seem as if every boy or girl should have the equivalent of a high school education. But many of them need to spend much of their time at high school age in acquiring skill in some trade.

If a boy is going to be a carpenter, a steel worker or a railroad engineer, etc., there are things that he needs more than foreign languages and literary study and the ordinary run of high school branches. He needs to be given some idea of mechanical ingenuity. Yet, if he is to be both a good citizen and a good worker, he also needs mental awakening, and a conception of his duties and privileges as an American citizen.

It will be a costly proposition to have all the mechanical trades taught in public schools. It would seem, though, as if the schools might cooperate with industrial establishments by which certain types of pupils could be given part-time courses in the shops intended to develop all-around mechanical skill, and then continue certain studies that would wake them up mentally and fit them for citizenship. Such a plan should produce both better workers and better citizens. It might be so arranged as to save a good deal of public school instruction that pupils make little use of.—Dayton Journal.

"Old Curiosity Shop" Was a Big Scream at The High School

Burlesque on Old Curiosity Shop Showed Great Talent. The play at the High School last night was a big success and every one enjoyed it thoroughly, with a laugh every minute on the program.

Mrs. Beulah Fitz Gerald, of Atlanta, a very efficient director, in putting on the play was the director of this play and has worked hard to make it play it worked off smoothly and beautifully. The cast of characters were as follows:

Mrs. Beulah Fitz Gerald as the widow certainly did her part wonderful and with the grace of a queen; Frank Miller as the drunkard was there with the success that it was. Mrs. Fitz Gerald has been in this kind of work over fifteen years and she understands it perfectly, and with her direction the "home" talent that took part in the goods and the house roared when Frank was wound up and began to come to life; Geraldine Farer in the person of Lilly Ruth Spencer, was one of the best in the cast with her soprano voice and sang a beautiful song. The bride and groom, Miss Virginia Smith and Frank Brown were great. Frank wheeled Miss Smith out in a wheel barrow and their scene of love making was great. Don Smith as Sis Hopkins was a killer and you have got to hand it to Don as he was there with all glory and a secret for all of the girls. Miss Mildred Holly as Gullie Curei was exceptionally good and did a song which was very difficult to sing as it was supposed to be in imitation of a prima donna in high accents and it was high and very charming. Howard Overlin as Miss Lucinda Brown was a scream and she was applauded again and again. John Allen and Priscilla, in the persons of Walter Connelly and Miss Esther Miller were fine. This was a scene of love making it was done in the old days and was great and their costumes were very good, and just as they were in the olden days. The porters were there with the laugh stuff or they had the audience laughing all the time as they would carry out the wax figures and place them in the limelight, dusting them off and oiling them up. Fred Ball and Ben Caswell were there with the goods. Giggling Griffin playing for the act of Mary Sunflower and Sweet Papa Skelter. They were all fine and to be thanked for their part in making the play a success and taking the interest that they did in making it a go for the Kiwanis club and the hospital.

The little toe dancer, little Miss Brown was a very beautiful act and Miss Brown is a wonder in this art of toe dancing and everyone enjoyed it greatly.

It only goes to show that the talent we have in Sanford is out of the ordinary and Sanford can hold her own with any and all plays that is put on here. Hearty thanks are extended to the ladies who played for the singers and dancers, they were Miss Anna Mason, who played most of the accompaniments and Mrs. Wagner who played the accompaniment to Miss Mildred Holly and Mrs. Doug. Griffin playing for the act of Mary Sunflower and Sweet Papa Skelter. They were all fine and to be thanked for their part in making the play a success and taking the interest that they did in making it a go for the Kiwanis club and the hospital.

H. S. NOTES

For chapel at S. H. S. this week we have had a varied program. One day we heard a selection from Madame Butterfly, sung by Galli Curci, and also "A Heap O' Livin'" delivered by the author, Edgar A. Guest, both on the victrola. These were heard by a very appreciative audience and thoroughly enjoyed.

This must have been health week for S. H. S. for we have been shown two movies on hygiene, and have also heard a very interesting and beneficial address from Major Wilson on the mosquito in Florida and of its danger to health.

I'm certain we shall not have near so many mosquitoes in the coming year now that he understand how to go about getting rid of them.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Filtz Gerald told S. H. S. about the Kiwanis play and gave two readings. We hope to have the pleasure of hearing more of her readings, especially her negro dialect ones in the future. The sample was well liked.

The Juniors condescended to allow the rest of the school to see just enough of their play, before it was presented to the public, to arouse our curiosity, which it did. By the way, wasn't the junior play simply wonderful? Maude Carraway is a born comedian, was perfect in every part and always at ease. The success of the play was surely due in large measure to her splendid acting, and those inevitable bits of song. The rest of the cast also did their parts admirably, especially Naomi Seogran and Jim Stone. Some day we may see them on the silver screen as co-stars, who knows? Then there was Dorothy Cameron, Kattie DuBose, Edward Mose, Robert Jenkins and Fred Pope, all of whom deserve praise and many compliments on their work. The vaudeville chorus of junior girls, Sarah Malpos, Lucille Pope, Madalene Mallett, Evelyn Darrow and Lucille Echols, which appeared in between the acts made a decided hit with the audience and Bernice Austin made a charming "little girl" whose reading was enjoyed by all who heard it.

And now we've all gone into the movies. That Pathe man and the Kiwanians marched us before the wind-up camera on Friday so now we are all looking forward to some day "seeing ourselves as others see us."

Material is fast being collected for Salmagundi, the seniors are having their pictures "look" and the business managers are starting their campaigns for ads.

Nine Men Held in Connection With the Palatka Jail Raid

PALATKA, March 10.—Nine of the thirteen men held in jail here in connection with the attack on the Putnam county jail early March 2, in an attempt to get Arthur Johnson, negro, alleged slayer of H. C. Cross of Albany, Ga., late yesterday were held over to the grand jury at the spring term of the circuit court, at their preliminary hearing before Judge J. C. Calhoun in the county court.

Bond for the nine men bound over was fixed at $3,000 each—$1,500 on a charge of assault to commit murder and a similar amount on a charge of shooting into an occupied dwelling. All made bond and were released. The thirteen men had been confined in the county jail under $15,000 bonds each since their arrest in Gainesville immediately after a mob had stormed the jail, shooting Sheriff P. M. Hagan through the hand and riddling the door with bullets.

Those bound over were: Chesley Fowler, V. A. Corvan, L. J. Bryan, W. T. Gore, G. V. O'Neal, C. E. Smith, Russell White, John Baumgartner and C. T. Acosta. Robert Turner, W. F. Prince, A. H. Davis and M. A. Reeves were released.

Sheriff Hagan and Deputy Sheriff W. H. Brown, of Putnam county and Sheriff Ramsey, Gainesville, were among the witnesses to testify.

The defendants did not take the stand. All of those bound over were either identified as having been in the mob or having been in the car with those who were identified as mob members.

The attempt to take the negro following the killing of Cross in Gainesville on the night of February 24 by a negro whom he brushed against on the street. Johnson subsequently was arrested and brought to Palatka for safe keeping. After the jail was stormed he was taken to Jacksonville.

Bodies Washed Ashore on the Gulf Coast Have Not Been Identified

TALLAHASSEE, March 10.—Reports were brought here yesterday from nearby gulf beaches by several different parties of the washing ashore of the bodies of three unidentified men presumably as the result of the storm of Monday night. Because of the disruption of wire facilities between this city and points in Wakulla county the reports could not be confirmed.

According to the reports, one body floated ashore at Wakulla beach, another at Bald Point and a third at Ochlocknee beach. Beyond the report that the men were unidentified, no details concerning them were available. One source said a coroner's jury had held an inquest over one of the bodies yesterday at Crawfordville, the county seat of Wakulla county, and found irregular marks indicating a violent death. It was the belief, however, that all the men had lost their lives in the wrecking of small shipping craft.

FOR THE MOVIE FAN

Mae Murray brought down the house last night. And today and tonight will be the last times you will get to see Mae in "The Broadway Rose." Monte Blue plays opposite Mae Murray "In the Broadway Rose" and that in itself assures a good play. The other characters are all first class, too, and all in all "The Broadway Rose" is some picture. And in order to get a good seat tonight you had better get there early, and remember the performance starts at 7:30 p. m. instead of 7:00 as formerly. And tonight the honored guests will be Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Tolar and son, to see "The Broadway Rose" without charge. And don't fail to get a copy of the program for next week as there will be some real headliners.

SPORT NOTES

Those hair-line boxing decisions in New York of late have made rough going for the champions. It seldom happens that a big league player of the calibre of "Stuffy" McInnis becomes a free agent. "Fergy" Reid, of the Yale hockey team is another athlete who wears spectacles while engaged in competition. The Willie Hoppe-Jake Schaefer championship contest has aroused greater interest than any other billiard match in many a day. In the Boston "selling-player" race George W. Grant finally beat out Harry Frazee by disposing of the entire Braves outfit at one swoop. Pancho Villa, the Filipino boxer, is not so anxious to return to Manila now that he has lost the flyweight title to Frankie Genaro. Some pretty clever golfers are found among the New York Yankees, which team has a larger number of club welders than any other major league outfit. Manager McGraw asserts that the Baltimore club will not be able to collect the $95,000 for Bentley if the latter fails to report to the Giants. Mike McTigue may not be a top-notch, but his coming bout with Battling Siki ought to give the boxing fans a line on Siki's ability as a battler. Harry, Payne Whitney's Enchantment is likely to be a favorite for the forty-ninth Kentucky Derby, which will be run at Churchill Downs on May 9. Representative athletes of more than twenty colleges of the south will compete, in the southern inter-collegiate track and field championships at Montgomery in May. President Clark Griffith believes his Washington team will prove a surprise in the American league this season, even if the experts don't rate the Senators very highly. Coach Muller, of Harvard, is training five crews for the college regatta season. Webb Henry and Brown are the last year's victory men on the first crew this year.

Semi-Finals in Tennis Tournay In Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, March 10.—Dr. P. B. Hawk, of Philadelphia, national veteran champion will play G. Carlton Shaeffer, of Philadelphia and S. Howard Voshell, of Boston, will be pitted against Douglas Watters of Mulberry, Fla., in the semi-finals in the singles of the southeastern tennis championship tournament this afternoon. Dr. Hawk yesterday defeated Robert Brown, of Jacksonville, 6-0, 6-0 and Russell Hunter, of Jacksonville, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3. Shaffer defeated S. Rosenberg, of Jacksonville, 6-0, 6-0 and S. H. Berg of Jacksonville, 6-1, 6-2. Voshell defeated Lorimer Blitch of Jacksonville, 6-0, 6-1, and W. McL. Christie, of Jacksonville, 6-2, 6-2. Watters won from George Yennawine, Jacksonville, 6-1, 6-1, and from Morton Hirsch-Berg, Jacksonville, 6-1 6-2. The doubles got under way yesterday and the finals in both the singles and doubles will be played Sunday.

"JUST FRIENDS" MEET RUBE AT ORLANDO STA.

An honest man, tall, broad-shouldered and smiling wistfully, stepped from the Atlantic Coast Line train here last night at 8 o'clock. It was Rube Benton, come to join his ball club for spring training, cleared of the charges of crookedness which have been hanging over him. Rube never was a United States senator, nor a governor, and he never went to school much because he always had to work, but senators and governors have stepped off Atlantic Coast Line trains and failed to produce a demonstration like that accorded big Rube Benton, pitcher extraordinary, last night. Fellow-teammates were there, Joe Tinker was there, newspaper men were there, and there were just friends, too. Sometimes it does a fellow good to be unjustly accused of something crooked, his friends give him such a happy gladhand when he leaves the clouds behind and comes out into the sunlight again. Rube didn't have much to say; he never was a hand to talk much; just smiled, waved his big hands and swallowed a lump in his throat. He was glad to get to camp, he said, standing on one foot and pulling nervously at the chain attached to his Waterbury watch, glad to get back with the boys again—and, O, boy, mighty anxious to get his big hands around a baseball! Such was the coming of Rube Benton to Orlando, The City Beautiful. Nobody to greet him but just friends. And that's a welcome many a king can envy. Orlando Sentinel.
