Four From Seminole Set In Mar. 28 Vote

By LARRY VERSHEL

Some 17,500 people in Seminole County were too lazy to go to the polls yesterday . . . On page 2 of today's Herald there's a picture of a 19-year-old Sanford kid killed in Vietnam for YOU . . . Take a good look, you 17,500, and then go back to your easy chairs, slip off your shoes and turn on your TV sets . . . Because everything is just fine in this merry old land.

AFTERMATH OF A DISGRACE — Precinct 1—106 people voted out of 385 registered . . . Precinct 3, 88 voted out of 800 registered . . . Precinct 8, 146 cast their ballots out of 1,000 registered . . . Shhhhh. Seminole County is sleeping.

DEAR MOM: I hope you are sitting down, but I may have to vote for a Republican come the March 28 general election. I'm talking about Ken Plante from SEMINOLE running against Beth Johnson. Tom McDonald will need plenty of help stopping Orange County from spreading its claws over us.

DEAR SON: Don't write to me anymore. Goodbye!

Aw, come on . . .

About a month ago a bunch of kids were picked up south of the city limits drinking . . . The case never came to juvenile authorities or County Court. Why? More on this later.

FOR THE STATISTICAL MIND — Since Jan. 1 — The county prosecutor has handled six cases of minor possession of alcoholic beverages.

The word is that the City Commission has unofficially given its blessing to a proposed downtown beautification project including a mall . . . Merchants will be contacted next for their views on this plan . . . Conservative cost estimates . . . $250,000.

City Commission will meet at 11 a.m. tomorrow to make it official on Ben Butler's appointment as "temporary" police chief.

How come there are three Lake Harvey Roads?

Nobody asked me but how come the County planning and zoning board rezones private property when no request was made?

Hey, bet our police department made a big hit with the Orange-Seminole Legislative candidates this past Saturday. They tagged all the cars in front of the courthouse.

Ooops, there won't be any camel at the Sanford Zoo. City officials have refused the offer from the Shrine Club. It seems the camel eats too much.

Another resignation at the Humane Society—Don't be surprised if we don't have a full-scale investigation in the very, very, very near future.

Names of four Seminole County candidates will appear on the combined Orange-Seminole legislative ballot March 28. One Seminole Democrat survived Tuesday's party primary, while one went down to defeat. Three Republicans were without opposition in the party primary Tuesday.

Incumbent Tom McDonald, of Sanford, easily defeated Marty Sullivan, Orlando, for the Democratic nomination for the House seat for the 44th district. Republicans are Kenneth Plante, E. Pope Bassett and Jan Fortune.

With the backing of the entire Democratic legislative delegation, McDonald was easily the favored candidate in Seminole and Orange Counties Tuesday. He tallied more votes in Seminole County than any other candidate and was second only to Sen. William Gunter in Orange Democratic votes and the combined tally of both counties.

William L. Gibson defeated Sanford's A. R. (Tommy) Peterson Jr. placed third for the Democratic nomination for the House seat in the 42nd district. This brought about a second (run-off) primary March 14 between Don Asher and Tom Mooney, of Orlando.

Gunter defeated William Weland for the Senate 18th district Democratic nomination and John A. Baker, Orlando city attorney, won handily over Margaret C. Murray for the House 45th district GOP nomination.

William L. Gibson defeated Robert M. Shekeler in the only Republican race Tuesday, for the House 45th district GOP nomination.

Yoter turnout was poor in both counties—17,436 out of 114,073 registered voters in Orange County and 4,515 out of 22,750 in Seminole County.

Both counties were completing the official canvass this morning. Orange to include 91 absentee ballots and Seminole's six 25 absentee. There were not expected to make any change in the unofficial tabulations.

Following are the results of Tuesday's first primary in this special legislative election ordered by the federal district court with the Orange tally first, Seminole second, and the totals:

DEMOCRATS
 Senate 18th District—Gunter, 11,806 and 3,018, 14,824; Weland, 1,720 and 422, 2,142.

House 42nd District—Asher, 7,290 and 658, 7,948; Mooney, 3,414 and 555, 4,009; Peterson, 1,252 and 2,400, 3,742; Webb, 802 and 119, 1,011.

House 44th District—McDonald, 9,986 and 3,281, 13,067; Sullivan, 2,402 and 359, 2,761.

House 45th District—Gibson, 9,924 and 2,507, 11,431; Murray, 4,198 and 761, 4,959.

House 45th District—Shekeler, 2,180 and 379, 2,559; Shekeler, 1,151 and 141, 1,292.

"GRASSHOPPERS"—female flyers—arrived this morning at Flying Seminole Ranch and were greeted by Chamber of Commerce aviation committee members and Mayor Joe B. Baker. Red Carpet Rolled Out For Dazzling Grasshoppers

Tossing down from distant airports in Florida, the "Grasshoppers"—aviatrices—are headed for a red carpet day in Seminole county with a visit to the Sanford Naval Air Base as the high point. Received by municipal representatives from Sanford and Oviedo, the women were under the hospitality and direction of the airport committee of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, Gordon Frederick, chairman.

On the program was a caravan ride from the Flying Seminole Ranch airport to the NAS. There, the girls—licensed pilots—will enjoy a luncheon and a walk-through of this interesting navy air facility. Conversations in such a visit as this will be kept to "banter talk" while the "grasshoppers" learn more of the very sophisticated craft flown by the squadrons based in Sanford, but whose pilots are familiar with the war skies of Vietnam and the peaceful blue of the Mediterranean.

The airport committee, keeping the eye on the many unfolding situations which would mark Sanford as a base for important civilian flying after the Navy vacates the station in 1968, welcomed the preliminary visit of Luci Payne, the Grasshoppers' emissary. This all-day, full-scale viewing by prospective female pilots is expected to produce that most effective of all avenues of communication—talk. And to this end the plans have been made to show the visitors true Sanford hospitality, official, un-official and friendly.

Seminole County Schools will get $1,225,000 from the proceeds of a $12,432,000 insurance in capital outlay bonds for the construction of three schools in May. State School Supt. Floyd Christian reported.

The State cabinet yesterday approved the Jones, the second constitutional amendment authorized them in 1962. The three schools will be Sanford Junior High, Oviedo, and Lynnwood High Schools.

The school board is expected to name an architect for the facilities at its March 9 meeting.

'Headknocking' Seen In Next Election

MIAMI (AP)—Several fierce runoff battles — some testing the popularity of Gov. Claude Kirk — were in prospect today for the March 14 second primary in the election of a "one man state" Florida Legislature.

Voters were never more apathetic than in Tuesday's first round, but those who turned out set the stage for some real headknocking in the second primary and the general election to follow.

Another will pit two powers of the old rural Pork Chop Gang, Sen. L. K. Edwards of Irvine and former Sen. B. C. Pearce.

Kirk had risked his prestige in these two encounters of political giants by endorsing Pearce, 72-year-old Pompano Beach farmer he chose for his financial advisor, and Howell.

Howell, former House speaker from Little Sumner County, beat Kelly there and also edged him in a federal court respecting the order. But neither won a majority in a three-man Democratic contest.

A third contest also forced the runoff between Pearce, a veteran of two decades in the Senate who called himself "the No. 1 Potchopper," and Edwards, 50-year-old Irvine cattleman with 12 years of Senate service behind him.

Kirk's support, Howell said, "sure didn't hurt. I think it helped."

A so-called "Kirk state" of 10 Republican candidates through good shape, six winning nominations and four going into runoffs.

Rep. Richard L. Condon of Pompano Beach, who once agent for all group politics said to employees of 15 state agencies.

Kirk told the Miami Herald the appointment was "standard procedure."

Insurance men questioned about the appointment said they weren't certain what the Governor had in mind when he named Jack C. Behringer, his former campaign treasurer, as agent for all group politics said to employees of 15 state agencies.

Condon himself was soundly beaten by George L. Caldwell, who said he had the governor's backing.

Forty-five members of the Legislature recently ruled unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court ran for Senate seats and three—all Democrats—already have won election, since they are unopposed in the March 22 general election.

Sen. John E. Matthews of Jacksonville and Sen. Ray C. Knopke of Tampa had no opposition in either party. Sen. Malley Horne of Tallahassee defeated L. D. Dobson of the same city in the Democratic primary.

Thirty-four incumbents have won nomination to the Senate and five others are going into runoffs.

Of 78 incumbents running in House races, 23 Democrats and one Republican have been elected, 30 Democrats and 26 Republicans have won nomination, and eight will be in runoffs.

Indicted

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—A Mississippi Ku Klux Klan leader was indicted today by the federal government on charges of conspiracy in the slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss.

San Bowers Jr., a Laurel coin machine distributor, was indicted today by the federal government on charges of conspiracy in the slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss.

STITCH IN TIME is fun, say these fourth graders of Mrs. Lucille Snyder's class at English Estates School, as they work on the 54 x 72 inch stitchery mural depicting a scene at Hastings Mills from their reader. The children drew the outline on burlap and take turns sewing with colorful yarn. Left to right are Out Randall, Mike Smith and Barbara Decker.

Turlington beat Claude M. Gainesville in the Alachua-Marian district.

Pope still must meet Republican Ralph E. Elliott Jr. in the district embracing Duval, Baker, Union, St. Johns and Nassau counties. Turlington will face William J. Ewing of blended in a runoff. The senator was being the dust was Hal Davis of Quincy.

Negroes had hoped that the highest vote in history would help them put a member of their race in the Legislature for the first time in a century. But it didn't work out that way for Reno English, a Pensacola Negro barber.

English had counted on the Negroes to turn out solidly in the face of white apathy but he lost by a three-to-one margin to Rep. Phil Ashler, a retired Navy admiral.

In the massive field of 546 candidates, seeking 48 Senate and 118 House seats, was a potent Florida political name: Spessard Holland Jr., a 45-year-old Tallahassee attorney and son of Florida's senior U.S. senator, who was elected to the Senate in his first try for office in the district including Indian River, Martin, Okeechobee and St. Lucie counties.

Holland still must face Sen. Elizabeth Johnson of Cocoa Beach, who had no opposition in the Republican primary.

Robert Lechner of Jacksonville, who was defeated by Kirk as State Racing Commission chairman, came out for the Senate and won his way to a runoff with William H. Maness of Jacksonville in a five-man race.

Kelly's opponents had hung an ultra-liberal tag on him for his shoulder-to-shoulder fight with Robert King High in the Miami Mayor's second primary victory over Gov. Raymond Burns and his general election defeat by Kirk.

But Ben Hill Griffin Jr. of Frostproof, another top-drawer supporter of High, had no trouble. He won Democratic nomination in the Osceola-Polk Senate district over Bob Brannen of Lakeland, who reportedly had the backing of Burns.

In the most interesting Dade County Senate race, Rep. Dick Francis and former Miami city attorney Richard R. Stone went into a runoff, ousting former Sheriff T. A. Buchanan in the Democratic primary.

Buchanan, twice indicted by a grand jury and finally voted out of the sheriff's office, had asked a public vote of confidence. He won a directed verdict acquittal on the first indictments and a second batch were thrown out of court on a technicality.

Justice's Son Nominated As Atty. General

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nomination of Ramsey Clark as attorney general will give President Johnson a Supreme Court vacancy to fill — the result of a unique family double-play.

After Johnson promoted Clark to the vacancy Tuesday, Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, the nominee's father, said he'll retire by midyear to avoid any conflict of interest.

Early Senate approval of the younger Clark's appointment is anticipated. Three senators heatedly endorsed the nomination, while Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., calling it "one of the finest any president has ever made."

Justice Clark, 67, a 17-year veteran of the high court bench, said he'll review the court's docket "for any possible conflict of interests that arise during the remainder of the term" and then decide when to retire. The court term is scheduled to end in June.

The justice's retirement would give Johnson his second Supreme Court appointment. Clark was appointed by President Harry S. Truman.

Maoo Moves To Restore Economy

HONG KONG (AP)—The Hong Kong Star reported today that Mao Tse-tung has given Premier Chou En-lai full executive powers to stop Mao's cultural revolution purge and restore China's economy.

The Star said its report came from "its own sources inside China" but did not identify them further.

The Star's report coincided with an announcement by the Hong Kong government that Red China's exports to Hong Kong, its biggest market, dropped more than $8.2 million in January. Trade circles blamed the upheaval caused by Mao's purge and predicted on a federal conspiracy indictment.

Reds Maul GIs in Big Battle

SAYON (AP)—American planes and artillery killed more than 150 Viet Cong in War Zone C after the Communists badly mauled a company of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division, the U.S. military command reported today.

The six-hour battle Tuesday was the biggest to date in the week-old Operation Junction City, a 45,000-man U.S. squeeze on the Communist jungle stronghold near the Cambodian border. The company of 178 American infantrymen suffered heavy casualties, meaning it no longer an effective fighting force until it receives replacements.

North Vietnamese regulars operating just below the demilitarized zone fired off a tremendous mortar attack in an effort to knock out the long-range U.S. artillery guns which last week began shelling across the six-mile zone into North Vietnam.

The board voted Fitzsimmons an additional $45,000-a-year salary, bringing his annual rate to $106,000, which would be continued even if Hoffa went to jail, the Sun said.

Fitzsimmons stepped into line as Hoffa's attorney, but a federal judge is considering a new motion by his attorneys.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilsoy, who presided at Hoffa's trial here in 1964 when he was convicted of jury tampering, called Hoffa's attorneys and the U.S. attorney to a conference Tuesday before deciding whether to hear arguments on the last-minute motion for a new trial.

One of the appeals went the way to the U.S. Supreme Court, which upheld the conviction last Dec. 12 and refused this week to reconsider its decision.

Two other motions are pending before the federal appeals court. The new trial motion filed in Chattanooga Tuesday was the fourth by Hoffa, who seeks to escape a $10,000 fine and eight-year prison sentence. The motion was accompanied by a petition to allow Hoffa to remain free on bail while it is under consideration.

Hoffa reportedly was preparing to announce in Baltimore today that he had accepted the 17-member-member union by a petition to allow Hoffa to remain free on bail while it is under consideration.

Truck Driver Dies In Fire

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—A tanker truck driver died Tuesday night when his vehicle overturned and ruptured, spilling 6,600 gallons of flaming liquid on a busy freeway off-ramp into Los Angeles harbor, police reported.

Investigators said the unidentified driver was trapped inside his truck as it was overturned, which prevented firemen from approaching.

Officials said some of the liquid — identified as methyl low butyl ketone — ran through drainage channels and spilled into the harbor six blocks away. Fireboats at the scene towed six barges out of the way of the flames.

Officials said the fire in the stern drains and harbor went out quickly but that it took more than two hours to deter- mine that the driver had been inside the truck.

Half Dollars Out Of Hiding

WASHINGTON (AP)—Half dollars are beginning to circulate again but the Treasury Department said today it still is too early to declare an end to the shortage.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Robert A. Wallace said he expects 50-cent pieces to be in relatively tight supply for the rest of the year.

"If we keep up current production," he said, "the shortage should end gradually." Current production is at a record 24 million 50-cent pieces each month.

The shortage of halves is related not only to the basic coin shortage which plagued the country in recent years but also to the image of the late President John F. Kennedy which appears on them.

Wallace said once people realize the Kennedy halves will be the coin of the realm for at least 25 years the coins will begin circulating more freely.

Half Dollars Out Of Hiding

WASHINGTON (AP)—Half dollars are beginning to circulate again but the Treasury Department said today it still is too early to declare an end to the shortage.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Robert A. Wallace said he expects 50-cent pieces to be in relatively tight supply for the rest of the year.

"If we keep up current production," he said, "the shortage should end gradually." Current production is at a record 24 million 50-cent pieces each month.

The shortage of halves is related not only to the basic coin shortage which plagued the country in recent years but also to the image of the late President John F. Kennedy which appears on them.

Wallace said once people realize the Kennedy halves will be the coin of the realm for at least 25 years the coins will begin circulating more freely.

Reds Maul GIs in Big Battle

SAYON (AP)—American planes and artillery killed more than 150 Viet Cong in War Zone C after the Communists badly mauled a company of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division, the U.S. military command reported today.

The six-hour battle Tuesday was the biggest to date in the week-old Operation Junction City, a 45,000-man U.S. squeeze on the Communist jungle stronghold near the Cambodian border. The company of 178 American infantrymen suffered heavy casualties, meaning it no longer an effective fighting force until it receives replacements.

North Vietnamese regulars operating just below the demilitarized zone fired off a tremendous mortar attack in an effort to knock out the long-range U.S. artillery guns which last week began shelling across the six-mile zone into North Vietnam.

The board voted Fitzsimmons an additional $45,000-a-year salary, bringing his annual rate to $106,000, which would be continued even if Hoffa went to jail, the Sun said.

Fitzsimmons stepped into line as Hoffa's attorney, but a federal judge is considering a new motion by his attorneys.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilsoy, who presided at Hoffa's trial here in 1964 when he was convicted of jury tampering, called Hoffa's attorneys and the U.S. attorney to a conference Tuesday before deciding whether to hear arguments on the last-minute motion for a new trial.

One of the appeals went the way to the U.S. Supreme Court, which upheld the conviction last Dec. 12 and refused this week to reconsider its decision.

Two other motions are pending before the federal appeals court. The new trial motion filed in Chattanooga Tuesday was the fourth by Hoffa, who seeks to escape a $10,000 fine and eight-year prison sentence. The motion was accompanied by a petition to allow Hoffa to remain free on bail while it is under consideration.

Hoffa reportedly was preparing to announce in Baltimore today that he had accepted the 17-member-member union by a petition to allow Hoffa to remain free on bail while it is under consideration.

Truck Driver Dies In Fire

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—A tanker truck driver died Tuesday night when his vehicle overturned and ruptured, spilling 6,600 gallons of flaming liquid on a busy freeway off-ramp into Los Angeles harbor, police reported.

Investigators said the unidentified driver was trapped inside his truck as it was overturned, which prevented firemen from approaching.

Officials said some of the liquid — identified as methyl low butyl ketone — ran through drainage channels and spilled into the harbor six blocks away. Fireboats at the scene towed six barges out of the way of the flames.

Officials said the fire in the stern drains and harbor went out quickly but that it took more than two hours to determine that the driver had been inside the truck.

VIPs Hope For Invitation To Wedding-of-the-Year

CHICAGO (AP)—Many prominent persons were hoping today to receive one of the cream-colored, engraved-by-Tiffany tickets to 1967's wedding of the year.

Some 2,000 invitations to the April 1 wedding of Sharon Percy and John D. Rockefeller IV are in the mail.

Not since Luc Johnson and Patrick Nugent announced their engagement has a young couple's nuptial plans aroused so much interest.

Like the President's daughter, Sharon has expressed the hope that she and her fiancé will be treated "just like any other couple."

Her wish is as unlikely to be granted as was Luc's. "Instead of his and hers spots at the wedding, they'll have to have Democrats and Republicans."

In business of the meeting, conducted by Walter Dula, internal vice president, it was voted to endorse and support the campaign for the Florida Jaycee presidency.

Miss USA Falls In Love With New York City

EL CERRITO, Calif. (AP)—Maria Remenyi, "Miss USA, 1966," a 20-year-old beauty, is deserting the University of California's Berkeley campus for New York City. The 21-year-old beauty says she is in love with New York City.

Maria, who dropped out as a Berkeley student in two semesters, said she had decided to transfer to Columbia in a direct result of winning the contest.

"I made my first trip to New York then and fell in love with the city," Maria said in an interview during a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Remenyi.

"Every time I go back I like it more," she said.

A Hungarian-born brunette, Maria said her year as Miss U.S.A. "has given me the unique opportunity to know human relations while adding about $10,000 to help finance the six more years of school ahead."

But Maria admitted she was impressed with Latin-American men in her travels in the South America.

"They are Latin," she exclaimed. "Suave, more exciting, more pizazz—or maybe it is the entire atmosphere in South America."

Maria insisted she is anxious to get back to school. "I'm too young to get married and I want to complete my education first," she said.

"After that I'll consider marriage—if I meet the right young man. He probably won't be a scientist, but declared the beauty queen, who plans on becoming a Ph.D. physicist.

Good Sportsmanship?

"Put on your cheaters, ref... yah can't see a thing without 'em!"

"Hey coach... where's your crying towel?"

How many times have you heard these phrases before or at least something like that?

They don't really mean it when they yell it at the game? It's just the means of expressing one's self or letting-off steam?

It doesn't really mean too much, you say? Well, don't kid yourself, my friends. Sometimes they have a way of getting out-of-hand.

Not more than three or four weeks ago, they had to call out the state militia in one of our more popular mid-western states. Ahem, it happened at a high school basketball game.

Never happen here you say? Again don't kid yourself cause we just might have missed a similar occurrence by an eye-lash here in Sanford over the weekend.

The referee had to call on the sheriff's force to "keep order" in the local high school basketball coaches out of the building during the course of the game. Net result — a black eye for Sanford cause it happened here (and it wasn't a Sanford coach) and secondly the coach will have to "live it down."

Now we're not saying which one was right cause we've been unsuccessful in our attempts in talking directly with the parties involved.

But we do know this much... it needs it. The "refreeing" was so bad, then a protest could have been filed PERIOD.

The real heroes in this story are the students and fans of the school involved. Rather than take their vengeance out on the officials, building, opponents, etc., they supported their coach with a standing ovation with the thought that perhaps he was treated unjustly. Maybe that's what happened.

As we said, we're checking all of the details and will report them to you.

There was a right way and the de-famatory route. Fortunately, cool heads and the earlier proper training prevailed and a nasty situation was averted.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NRA) — Some Democratic leaders appear to be reacting to an over-own with 1968 plans rather than waiting to see whether a projected showing up of the Democratic National Committee works out.

On the committee front, Chairman John B. Foy, under fresh authorization from President Johnson, has beefed up his staff to some degree. Still unclear is how much of a voter registration operation he will be able to mount. It is a badly needed major.

Two major March meetings of the party in Washington will give leaders around the country a better reading on how Bailey's renomination is going.

Meantime, there are stirrings among those who wanted much more sweeping overhaul of the committee — and a new chairman.

For awhile recently, a handful of top California Democrats were warning over the capital. Inside in the visitors union were former Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, Jesse Ureth and National Commitment Eugene Wyman.

Turkey and Wyman conferred with Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Wyman had a long session with the 21-member California delegation in the House. The circuit embraced other key figures.

Their big concern was what may be properly called "the recent California victory" in the 1968 election. It seems to reflect concern that a very strong ticket will be needed in Illinois to hold it in the 1968 presidential column for the Democrats. Not at all clear is where this talk leaves incumbent Gov. Otto Kerner, who has hinted he might see a third term.

Washington recently has seen a heavy build-up of state leader traffic. Most of it touching base not only at the somewhat re-organized Democratic committee but also at the doors of Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien, key lawmakers, presidential aide Warren Watson, and the vice president.

Humphrey, for instance, met with a parcel of midwestern Democratic voters in Washington, and constantly in the thick of it. His friends warn, however, against reading this as proof Johnson has handed him a new key role in politics. They say it is just the same old hustling Hubert, churning up the turf as usual.

It is plain, nevertheless, that many influential Democrats, anxious for the future, have sensed they cannot assign the national committee — whether re-established or not — a central role in their 1968 rebuilding plans. They are moving on many fronts.

By these accounts, Shriver earlier had incurred some leadership credit by a reported comment that "Las Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty, long a party gadfly, might try to lock up California." It seems to reflect concern that a very strong ticket will be needed in Illinois to hold it in the 1968 presidential column for the Democrats. Not at all clear is where this talk leaves incumbent Gov. Otto Kerner, who has hinted he might see a third term.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — It sounded a bit like February 1965. That was the time of the big explosion in Vietnam but the Johnson administration didn't make a big thing of it at the time.

Now there can be no doubt this country is stepping up the war even more; but the Johnson administration is very restrained about saying so.

Two years ago this month the United States really began to intensify the war against North Vietnam with bombing raids which have never stopped except for some brief holiday truces.

At that time naval vessels—the north called them U.S. vessels—the U.S. embassy in Saigon said they were South Vietnamese ships — started shelling North Vietnamese shore installations 120 miles from Hanoi.

For weeks the administration played all this in a rather low key, until it became apparent the war had entered a new phase and bombing had become routine.

At the time the United States explained the bombing raids as retaliation for "provocations" from the north. An American aircraft at Pleiku in South Vietnam had been shot down.

Over the past weekend U.S. Navy planes began hitting the river of North Vietnam long range American jets began hitting the north and the U.S. Navy began shelling the North Vietnamese coast.

The Veterans Administration frees hospital beds for veterans in need of hospital care so providing nursing care for veterans was long the maximum hospital benefits but still require skilled nursing care.

But at his suddenly called news conference Monday President Johnson — reminiscent of 1965 — didn't make these events sound momentous or the start of a new, stepped-up effort to force the north to the peace table.

Yes, despite all the soft-wording throughout his meeting with newsmen, he left little doubt the war has intensified to make the north start talking about how to end it.

Asked if the weekend actions were the start of a step-up, Johnson replied: "I would say there is some activity taking place that we would not say is normal through the past weeks."

This sounded like one of the understatement of the year, Johnson continued. "I think you could, if you searched, find some comparable action here and there, some similar actions."

"I wouldn't want to put my credibility in doubt by saying it never had happened before and then have somebody do a little research and find that on occasion something had happened that was at least comparable."

A little research showed the similarity to 1965.

The President did concede the American weekend activity is "more far-reaching" than what had been happening over the past few days. He could have said the United States had gone beyond anything it had done before.

Then came the statement which gave the meaning of the weekend.

Johnson said: "I think that each day the road we follow is a search for peace. Everything we do is in that direction. I believe that what I am doing — is best calculated to bring that about."

"I don't see any other alternative."

Our principal objective there is to provide the maximum deterrent to people who believe that aggression pays with a minimum cost to us and them.

He said this after trying to tone down his "far-reaching" phrase by saying: "I don't mean to imply that these (weekend actions) are in themselves a far-reaching thing."

Start out with a short opening paragraph that says you are looking for a position that offers unusual opportunities for advancement.

This sentence doesn't indicate whether you are unemployed or already on a payroll, so it enhances your prestige.

Then indent your letter (which should preferably be typewritten unless the ad specifically demands a handwritten missive), and list a few major headings, such as:

Business Experience. Include a few of your past jobs, whether summer work in stores or selling magazines or carrying a newspaper route, etc.

Educational Experiences. List your possession of a high school diploma, plus any years at Business College or in Liberal Arts or trade school.

Personal Data. Give your marital status, plus your height and weight, insurance coverage, and age. If under 18, otherwise, tactfully omit any age until you are called in for the interview.

References. Cite men with "handles" on their names, such as Doctor or Sales Manager, Reverend or Judge, for those handles suggest the standing that you indirectly enjoy in the community.

Go to your local library and look on Page 746 of my college course catalog under Job. Otherwise, tactfully omit any age until you are called in for the interview.

CAREFUL PLANNING CAN KEEP AN "ADDITION" TO YOUR HOME FROM BECOMING A SUBTRACTION

What starts out to be an "addition" to your house can end up being a subtraction. But this need not be the case. You can protect your home improvement dollar. The key is careful planning.

Here are four considerations in planning your home improvement that can greatly reduce the chance of your "addition" ending up as a "subtraction."

1. Make sure the improvement you're considering will satisfy your needs. What problem or discomfort are you trying to solve? The more accurately you can pinpoint what you want from your home improvement, the better your plans will be. For instance, if you yearn for a family room to keep the "formal" living area of your home uncluttered by children's toys, it's doubtful that it will do the job if it is tied directly into the "traffic pattern" of your formal living area. A separate game room might better fill your needs.

In short, make sure the improvement or addition you plan will serve its intended purpose.

2. Evaluate your plans to make sure your home improvement won't be clumsy. Whether you're adding a patio, converting a spare closet into a new bathroom, or rebuilding your kitchen, the improvement should be natural and convenient.

A good improvement or addition will fit naturally into the floor plan of your home that it will be as though it always should have been there. For instance, a bedroom added to your house that requires traveling through the living room to get to the bathroom will probably be awkward. Try this. Make a sketch of your existing house. (Make 1/4 inch equal a foot.) Add your proposed improvement to scale. Mentally "walk through" your home with the improvements and evaluate whether your home. Never settle for a "tacked-on" appearance. — Bill Allen

Film Set On Challenge, For Unit 53

A program on Camp Challenge will be presented for Sanford American Legion Auxiliary Unit at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Friday at the Legion Home on Highway 17-02.

A camp for the physically handicapped supported through the Easter Seal Society, Camp Challenge is located 15 miles west of Sanford on SR 46.

Last summer the six-year old camp had its biggest enrollment with a total of 255 campers, 102 of them in wheelchairs. Ages attending the 1966 summer program ranged from a five-year-old boy to a 62-year-old woman in wheelchairs in the adult session. Although it was hoped that all campers would be housed in cottages, the addition of 71 more enrollees last year necessitated the use of tents and part of the Sunday this year is to provide funds to build another cottage.

The program, a film and talk, will be given by Paul Murray, camp director, assisted by John Appleby of Sanford, in conjunction with the current Easter Seal Campaign. The film is available for showing to any interested organization or group by contacting Mrs. Harold Appleby, co-ordinator of the local Easter Seal committee, at her home in Sanford.

Following the program, which has been arranged by Mrs. Olga Hunter, the auxiliary will conduct its regular business meeting with Mrs. Betty Luecker, president, in charge.

The public is invited to attend.

Student Hides His Identity

COVINGTON, Ore. (AP) — A mysterious student has been attending a class at Oregon State University for the past two months enveloped in a big black bag. Only his bare feet show.

Each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11 A.M., the Black Bag sits on a small table near the back of the classroom. The class is Speech 113 — basic persuasion.

The Black Bag seldom speaks or moves. But a newsman who attended the class says his presence became overwhelming.

Charles Goetzinger, professor of the class, knows the identity of the person inside. None of the 20 students in the class do.

Goetzinger said the student's attitude changed from hostility toward the Black Bag to curiosity and finally to friendship.

"We must find a rationale for everything. Life is pretty well structured from birth to death. We always have a frame of reference for events," Goetzinger said.

"There is a black bag with a human inside it. Nowhere in our frame of reference has there been such a thing. So we reason. But we're stuck, so we find reasons for it. And once we find reasons, then we defend our reasoning. So now, we defend the Black Bag."

Early in the term, students are required to give three-minute talks. The Black Bag, when his turn came, stood in front of the class for four minutes without speaking.

But in his second talk, he mumbled a little and answered a few questions about himself. Most of his answers, however, were "I'm not at liberty to say."

The term ends March 13. Will the Black Bag disclose his identity?

He says he doesn't know. "I might just walk out in my black bag, go somewhere and hide it and just be a human being again. I don't know."

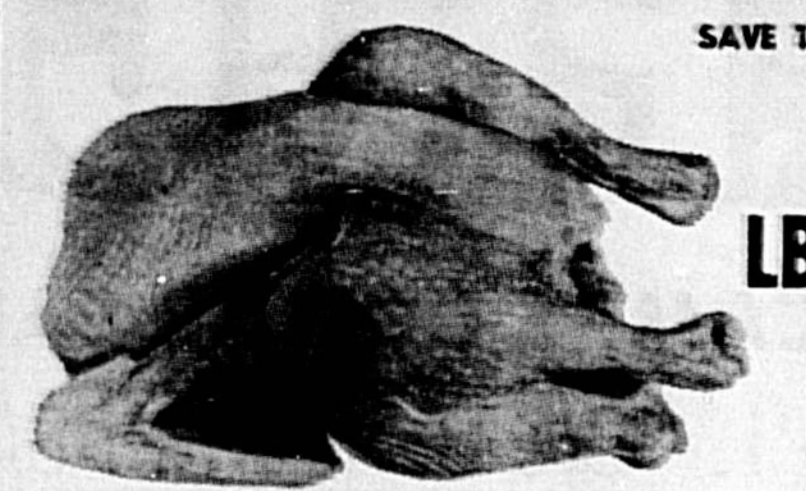

He arrives and leaves in a car driven by a friend and apparently lives on or near the campus. He says there is no physical reason for wearing the bag, and he does not wear it to his other classes.

"No, I'm not malnourished. No, I'm not a Negro, although discrimination enters into it. I am sure the Negro must be stared at and treated just like I am in the bag," he says.

Goetzinger, explaining the Black Bag's presence, says, "The student came to me before the term started and said he wanted to come to class in a black bag. I'm enough of a nut to try anything once, so I went for it."

MAJ. ODIS DeBarry Pair's Son Enrolled In Military College

U.S. Air Force Major Thomas J. Odis, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Odis, of Star Route 1, DeBarry, has entered the Armed Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va.

Major Odis is one of 370 officers and key civilians from the U.S. and allied nations selected to attend the five-month Department of Defense School. The college, operated under direct supervision of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, prepares students for positions in joint and combined commands, including commands in which more than one country participates.

Major Odis previously was assigned as a personnel officer at Andrews AFB, Md. A graduate of LaCombe (La.) High School, the major received his B.S. degree in 1952 from Louisiana State University and was commissioned there upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. His wife is the former Maria A. Kipfmuller from Germany.

Transplantation Of Live Organs Is Achievable

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A Duke University scientist said today that transplantation of hearts and other organs from the dead to the diseased living is achievable if enough national effort is put into the quest.

Indeed, said Dr. Bernard Amos, planning should begin now by federal, state and private agencies toward establishing a national network of organ-transplant centers to be ready for possible breakthroughs in organ transplantation.

The physician told a science writers' seminar at Duke University Medical School that lack of such enabling legislation in a number of states is one of the biggest barriers to progress in the organ-transplant field.

He said in a prepared report that encouraging results already have been achieved by American and European scientists in transplanting kidneys from cadavers into living patients. And he declared that while the transplanting of various other organs, such as the heart, liver and lungs, presents even more formidable problems, these problems can be overcome.

The scientist said that other barriers that need to be overcome are the need for further research to improve methods of preserving organs, and the need for "adequate financing" of research in the field.

Dr. Amos declared that a start toward a national network of cadaver "organ banks" could be made in the kidney field.

He said otherwise incurable kidney disease patients could be sustained temporarily by artificial kidney machines at special centers while suitable potential donors of kidneys were sought from among patients about to die from other causes in the same institutions.

He said this system could later serve as a source of other tissues or organs for other patients.

Strikes... Spares

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

Now just in case you're wondering about how-it goes in the doubles tournament, John... we've already had these cities represented: Orlando, Clermont, Casselberry, DeLand, Orange City, Delray, Deltona, Apopka, Melbourne, Cocoa Beach, Eau Gallie, Longwood, Leesburg, Jacksonville, Tampa, Mt. Dora, Winter Park, Ocala, Gainesville, Morristown and the "spare spots" of the song, Lake Mary.

So, we're mighty humble to all of you local bowlers, as well as appreciate the journey being taken by so many of our out-of-towners.

Leading the hit parade of strikes is an Air Force combination of Walt Smith and Hal Wiese with their 1332 series. I just know they'd like to stay there cause it's worth $500 for the number one spot in the final standings.

Not bad for one night's bowling, is it?

Lyman-Top OBC Contender

Jim Payne, whose Lyman High School baseball team has had only one losing season in 20 years ago, has to have another super-fire winner in Longwood. The Greyhounds, who compiled amazing statistics while playing in a 19.3 record last spring, once again shape up as strong contenders for the Orange Belt Conference title, a goal which has eluded them during their three years in the OBC.

Payne's diamond crew finished third in 1964 and second the past two years to perennial powerhouse DeLand in the conference. This time around, however, the Hoopdees, along with Leesburg's T-100, are considered serious threats to Building supremacy in the OBC. Both Lyman and the Jackets have almost their entire squads returning from successful campaigns while DeLand, though hardly a doormat, has lost several key players to graduation.

The Greyhounds, in particular, look tough Payne, who has recorded 214 victories against just 106 losses in his long tenure (an amazing 66.9 percentage), has ten seasons returning from last year's team, while junior Jamie Cornell and four other regulars.

Seniors Mark Brewer and Charlie Newell, stalwarts on a pitching staff which compiled an incredible earned run average of 0.94 last spring, are the veteran hurlers. Brewer, an all-OBC selection, was undefeated in five decisions as a junior and threw a perfect game against Lakewood. The right-handed moundman had a sparkling 0.53 E.R.A. and was certainly no pushover at the plate with a .313 batting average.

Senior Citizens Earn Extra As 'Grandparents'

NEW YORK (AP) — Filling the role of foster grandparents means a little extra money for senior citizens who have time on their hands and a generous measure of loving kindness for the children.

Take Max Blustein who is 76. He is one of about 2,500 old people participating in the 42 foster grandparent programs throughout the country.

For 20 hours each week, Grandpa Max, as he is known, visits with his foster grandchild, Joseph, a 7-year-old boy, at the New York Foundling Hospital. Together they read books, play games, go out for strolls in the park or to do some shopping and generally share the wonders of a growing child's world. Blustein, who has five grand children of his own, said he also knows and plays with the other children at the hospital although he is assigned only to Joseph.

The New York program marks its first anniversary today. The hospital is one of four agencies participating in the program.

"More than 75 children are being enveloped in the warm loving patience of a very resourceful group of senior citizens," notes Edward F. Doherty, the local project director.

On the national level the program was organized by the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington to help provide new roles and new employment opportunities for older persons — in addition, of course, to helping the children. The New York project is one of 42 operating around the country.

To prepare for the program, foster grandparents take a two-week training course at the institution where they will work. They earn $1.50 an hour.

To be eligible they must be over 60, in good health and have an income of less than $1,500 a year. A high school education is not required and persons who have never married, but have had experience in child care, are eligible.

County Orders Probe Of Humane Society

A full investigation was launched today by county officials into charges made against the Seminole County Humane Society by former officers of the organization.

Commission Chairman John Alexander declared, "The board intends to immediately investigate the allegations and complaints of irregularities in the Humane Society operation since county owned property is leased to the society and the county contracts for certain services concerning impounded dogs."

Charges of irregularities in record keeping methods were made by former officials of the society during the past week following resignation of the president.
