Police Chief Matter Remains Unsolved

Long awaited expected to settle the question of authority over the police department in the City of Casselberry has been announced? No. 2—Can the Council terminate the salary of Police Chief James McCall?

While Attorney General Earl Fairclough's opinion made it clear that only the mayor has authority to hire and fire the police chief, point was a 10 to 0 vote that the Council make any municipal government, has power to set McCall's salary.

According to the question of McCall's salary as stated in the letter from the city to Fairclough, Council has given consideration to eliminating McCall's salary completely and using this method to remove him from office since the Mayor Curtis Blow has refused to do so.

Commissioner Donald Wilton admitted today to the Sanford Herald that the Council has a grievance against McCall's course of action.

Mayor Blow, at the same time, said he had requested a meeting with the City Council to discuss the matter.

"All I can do is wait until they accept the invitation to have a meeting," Blow said while indicating he still plans to start behind the chief of police who has been under fire from the Council. "My opinion has not changed," he said.

Meanwhile, talk has been heard that McCall may have a grievance for a lawsuit in the event the Council "terminates" his salary. Information is that terms of the police chief run for one year and McCall's term would extend to Jan. 1.

Questions as posed were: No. 1—Can the City Council of the City of Casselberry terminate the services of the Chief of Police without action from the Mayor?

No. 2—Can the Council generally carry with it the power of removal of the chief of police without the approval of the Mayor?

The Council may rest the salary of an employee, it is stated. It is also pointed out that the Council does have some discretion in recommending to the mayor the appointment of a new police chief when in "Council's opinion the services of the incumbent are less than satisfactory."

It was revealed during a Wednesday press conference at a Winter Park restaurant, that Tarzan brokers had picked their site from a list of five properties and had decided to invest from $10 million to $15 million in the area, which is located ten miles southeast of the Disney World complex.

Seminole Loses 'Tarzanland' Fire Loss $15,000

By BILL SCOTT
According to a business associate of Johnny (Tarzan) Weissmuller, who wishes to be named for business reasons, Seminole County received serious consideration for location of "Tarzanland" before the Weissmuller group finally settled on constructing the multi-million dollar attraction near Kissimmee on Hwy. 17-92 near SR 531.

Main deterrent to the local site was the proximity of an interstate highway and a railroad, the source confided. He said the property under consideration, which he would not pinpoint, was right between the two thoroughfares and it was for this reason the decision was made to acquire higher priced property in Osceola County.

It was revealed during a Wednesday press conference at a Winter Park restaurant, that Tarzan brokers had picked their site from a list of five properties and had decided to invest from $10 million to $15 million in the area, which is located ten miles southeast of the Disney World complex.

Weissmuller, known for his roles as Tarzan and Jungle Jim on the screen, said he paid $200,000 for a 300 acre tract. He further revealed that this had long been a pet project and was straddled to be beginning to take shape.

The attraction will feature Hyacinths Are Costly Blossoms JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Army engineers are being asked for emergency spending of about $210,000 to clear the St. Johns River of water hyacinths.

Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D-Fla.) said he has wired the Chief of Engineers in Washington asking use of the funds to keep the waterway open.

The purple flower plague is at its highest in a decade, Bennett said, and warning water traffic dangerous in the St. Johns and other Florida waterways.

District engineers estimate it will cost $210,000 for an emergency program.

DO-IT-YOURSELF Day Camp was conducted by Girl Scout Troop 759 for Eastbrook youngsters. Rhonda Watters, in charge of first aid, is shown applying a bandage to Richard Bohalle's finger. Sand painting was one of many crafts learned under direction of Jan Fritz, arts and crafts teacher. Water cooler was popular spot for the thirty-five and six-year-olds during their active days. Pam Morris enjoyed some time with her unit. Unit led by Linda McGinnis studied Indian lore and costumes and got so enthused they captured two "pale face" counselors, Mike Chandler and Billy Means.

Youngsters Enjoy Day Camp

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
They were 32 little five and six year old boys and girls from the Eastbrook-Tanglewood area who had the time of their lives at a week-long day camp conducted by Cadette Girl Scouts of Troop 759. The of the camp and adjoining park for the day camp was donated by the Eastbrook Pool Association.
The project was one of the most ambitious undertaken by the six girls working on the Active Citizenship Challenge for the past year. The challenge they are fulfilling called for making all arrangements, including selection of the site, obtaining necessary equipment, and meeting all health and safety requirements.
Included in the group working on the assignment were two ninth graders, Rhonda Watters and Tena Globus, and four eighth graders, Jan Fritz, Linda McGinnis, Pam Morris and Susan Lyon.
The camp was conducted from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and the children were divided into four units, with at least one Cadette in charge of each one. Rhonda, known as camp as "Ouch", was in charge of first aid. Several teenage boys were recruited to assist in the program, as well as some other members of the troop.
The youngsters registering were asked to pay a $2 fee to cover their orange canteen, craft supplies, and insurance. Tents and tarps, borrowed by the girls were from the Citrus Council Camping Committee, were set up on Sunday afternoon.
Three of the girls are Red Cross members and watched over the children during their morning swim.
Some of the other activities included games, songs, folk dances, nature collage, paper bag skirts, sand painting, egg shell painting, Indian costumes and dances, nature hikes, and of course, trips to the restroom.
Each day's program began and ended with the flag recitation. Many other things have been done by the girls while working on Active Citizenship. Included in their preparation was a study of local, state and national government, with the help of the Seminole County League of Women Voters.
They visited the offices of tax collector, tax assessor, the public library and post office.
Among services performed by the group were working in the library, distributing sample ballots prior to election primaries and urging citizens to vote, distributing fact sheets on the school bond issue, making stuffed toys for the hospital pediatric ward, and collecting food for needy families at Christmas.
They joined other troops in the district at the annual Carol Sing, acted as hostesses for the district Juliette Low Birthday and World Friendship celebration, did service for both Junior and Brownie Trews, and conducted bridging ceremonies for sixth graders.
The South Seminole Committee for Progress will sponsor a Labor Day Festival on the Winwood Park playground site in Altamonte Springs, beginning at 11 a.m. The public is invited to attend.
Plans for the event were made at a recent meeting of the committee at Roosevelt School. In other business, the group voted to go ahead with necessary work to develop the playground following agreement by the County Commission for use of the site and announcement that attorneys involved are preparing the necessary legal papers.
Stamps and bonus coupons are being collected to secure playground equipment such as swings, basketballs, etc. It was reported. Anyone wishing to donate trading stamps or bonus coupons are asked to mail them to "The South Seminole Committee for Progress, P. O. Box 332, Altamonte Springs."

Robot Logger

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Mechanized lumberjacks that do everything but yell timber and wear plaid shirts are cutting into the logging industry in a big way.
A new hydraulic-powered tree harvesting machine developed by Omark Industries for the pulpwood industry can do about one minute out of a tree, do limb it, cut the trunk into bolts of any desired length and stack the logs in neat rows. One operator controls the unit from a climatic cab; no hand is laid on the wood.

Red Rockets Fall On Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy rockets smashed into the heart of Saigon today for the first time in two months. The attacks came only three days after President Johnson rejected the idea of a final bombing halt of North Vietnam.

U. S. Caught Flatfooted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government was caught flatfooted by the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia when, though American intelligence experts considered such action possible, the signs of the dramatic move by the Soviet Union were there. They apparently weren't read closely enough to make invasion seem likely.
Soviet and other Warsaw Pact armies had been on the move within striking distance of the Czech border, but U.S. authorities regarded this as part of the Prague government started political reforms.
Another sign which, in hindsight, was ominous was the renewal of Soviet and Polish press attacks on the Prague regime.
And it was about four hours after the invasion that U.S. radio monitors picked up a Czech broadcast telling of the action.
According to reliable reports, the Soviet and satellite forces near the border were thought too small to indicate any intention to attack.

Some Issues That Deserve Informed Action

Once more this momentous year has produced an event and spotlighted an issue which must claim the sober and serious attention of everyone everywhere.

When the armed forces of the Communist block, its tanks grinding out the cruel strains of "black-makes-right," blundered their way across the borders of Czechoslovakia, the climate of the world changed. How great that change is? How important it is to the peace of nations? What impact it will have on the great powers here, in Europe and in Asia? There are questions which time and events must answer.

For us, we are reminded of an old saying which is part and parcel of folklore which bears no regional label. "Don't worry about things you can't change. Worry about those that you can."

There are enough problems here in our Sunshine State, our Seminole County and our lakeside city to engage your thoughts and actions. In solving them, every citizen can take an effective hand.

This being the political season, here are some current affairs that might well merit such attention:

Top contest at the state level which has a seat in the United States Senate as its prize is that between former Gov. LeRoy Collins (D) and U.S. Rep. Edward J. Gurney (R).

Democrat Collins is being given little opportunity to come out the winner. Republican Gurney is sailing along on the Republican sea with the new breeze of optimism which now fills GOP sails.

Statistics, we know, are not always reliable. Yet here is a statistic which the responsible voter should know: In the primaries, the Democratic aspirant—Collins and State Attorney-General Earl Faircloth received 800,000 votes while the Republican vote in the primary was about 210,000 votes.

Another election which has grave importance is that to fill the post of Justice, Florida Supreme Court (Group 3). This will receive great attention. The Democratic nominee is Circuit Court Judge Vassar B. Carlton, experienced and well-regarded, who is also a neighbor of ours in Titusville.

Opposing him will be Wade Hopkins, whose manner of appointment to fill the vacancy was such that the campaign should be one to be sharply watched and carefully assessed.

In Seminole county the campaigns for county posts may appear dormant, awaiting the end of the national conventions and the naming of the tickets by the major parties.

Don't believe it! Republicans are hard at work to make it known throughout the county that the GOP is very much alive, is filled with candidates who will present themselves as able, willing and believers in "the new politics."

Seminole Democrats are equally busy. They are confronted with the need to shake out of a complacent attitude and also take to the hustings where their abilities can be displayed and where they will show that experiencing in county offices is not only wanted but essential.

We have saved our comment on Sanford for a final, positive and happy note. We do not ask anyone to accept promises and plans as our basis for a broad grin, an optimism which get more solid support every day.

Drive around and see the new faces of our buildings, our new industrial plants and—even more persuasive—the attitude of our leaders who have refused to tread the primrose path of Pollyannaism.

All of this is not to underrate the gravity of the international scene. But it is to urge even greater citizen awareness of what can be done here and now to solve local problems with understanding.

Not 47 Papers!

An Oklahoma congressman has called on the Budget Bureau to see what it can do about a new set of federal figures he has stumbled upon.

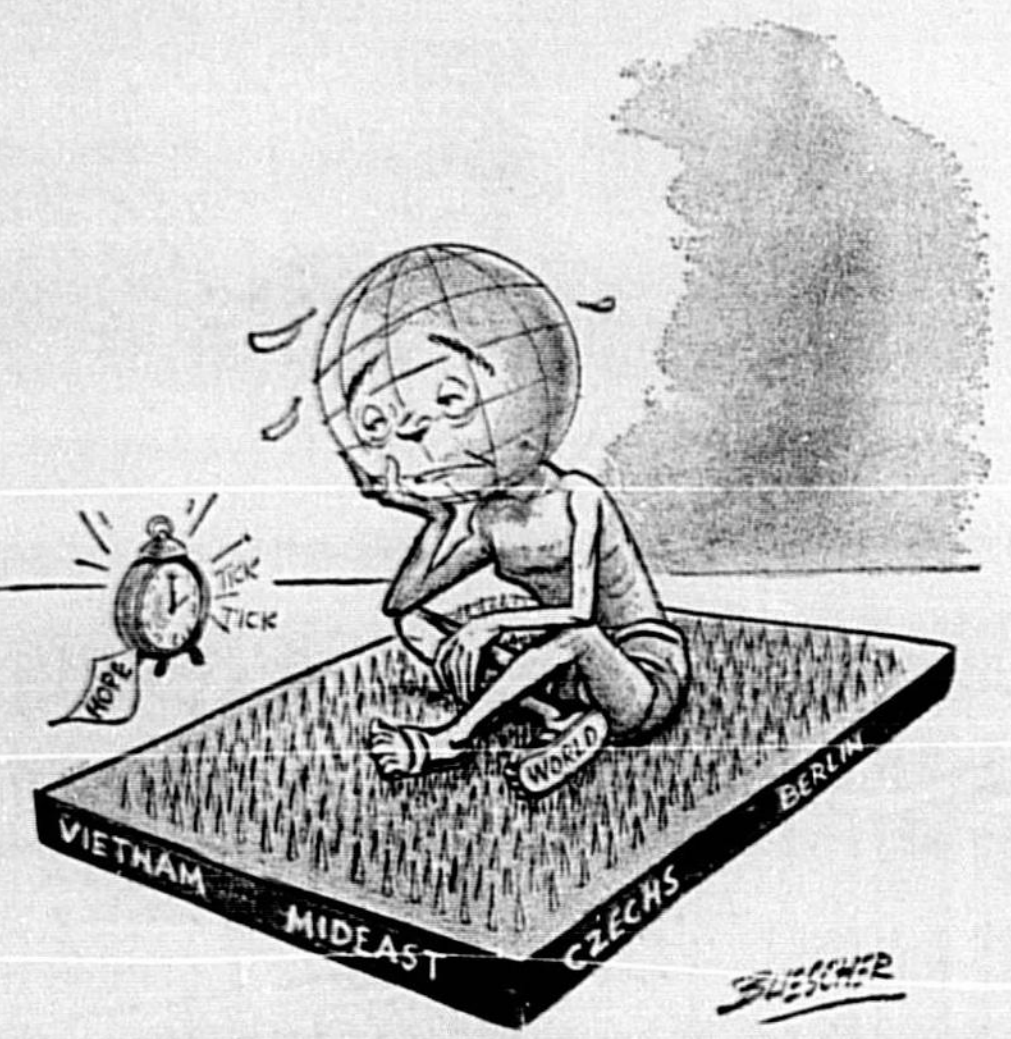

To his shock and horror, Congressman Ted Steed has discovered that 47 separate pieces of paper are required in connection with the addition of every new employe to the federal payroll. And an almost equal number must be handled every time an employe is subtracted by one means or another.

Even in a nation that has commended a hallow mountain for its storage of its records, the implications of this annual exercise in paper shuffling are staggering. The federal establishment takes on some 600,000 new employes each year. It subtracts hundreds of thousands of others.

So in the name of bureaucratic order something on the order of 90 million pieces of paper are handled, stamped, filled out, persued, piled, carried, filed, etc. just to order the comings and goings of new and departing federal personnel.

Steed's horror and his plea that the Budget Bureau do something are natural reactions. But so is the hope that the bureau won't do anything if it first has to take on new employes at 47 pieces of paper per... Charlotte (N.C.) Observer.

NOT A BED OF ROSES

Save The Oxygen

As if we didn't already have enough to worry about, we read the other day that we are using more oxygen in this country than is being replaced into the air we breathe.

According to Dr. LaMont C. Cole of Cornell University, if it weren't for the air blowing in from the Pacific and elsewhere, many of us would breathe our last gasps.

Long ago, when this country was mostly forests and grasslands, there was more than enough oxygen being produced for everybody. But not now. With rapid industrialization and its air pollution, a growing population and our ever-burning greenery which turns carbon monoxide into oxygen by photosynthesis, the supply is diminishing.

And, says Dr. Cole, if we keep going on as we have been, chopping, polluting, paving, and the wind won't be enough to take care of us. We get short of breath just thinking about it. Lexington (Ky.) Herald.

Best (Worst) Of Times?

By DON OAKLEY

For the nation's 2,800 colleges and universities, it is both the best of times and the worst of times. On the bright side: More than 300 new colleges and universities have been founded since 1945. . . . Federal funds for higher education have more than doubled in four years, while state tax support has increased 44 per cent in just two years and 214 per cent over eight years ago. . . . Endowment funds have more than doubled over the past decade (to about $12 billion) and average faculty salaries have nearly doubled in the same period. . . . Colleges and universities are spending more than $2 billion a year on capital expansion and the total expenditure in the United States this year for higher education will be some $18 billion, more than three times as much as in 1955.

On the darker side: While private gifts reached a record high of $1.6 billion last year, the rate of increase has dropped by 20 per cent in the past three years. . . . Some 30 per cent of all voluntary contributions went to just 55 major universities and

United States since shortly after World War II.

Some traditional sources of support for higher education remain relatively unimpaired. Only one in four alumni for instance, contributes; and the $300 million given by American businesses in 1966 represented only about 0.57 per cent of their net incomes before taxes.

Ironically, however, more and more college and university administrators are talking about direct and massive federal subsidy for higher education, whether they like the idea or not. On the state level, the distinction between "public" and "private" is already becoming blurred as more states enact some form of aid to private schools or to students attending them. In Pennsylvania, some 40 per cent of the state appropriation now goes to private institutions.

In this day when it is becoming part of the national philosophy that a higher education is not the privilege but the right of every youth who can benefit from it, it seems certain that the issue of federal subsidy is one of federal aid to private schools or to students attending them. In Pennsylvania, some 40 per cent of the state appropriation now goes to private institutions.

H. L. Hunt Says:

Law And Order Breakdown

The increasing violence and lawlessness in our country is the attitude of pessimism by those in leadership positions in government, education, and the communication media. We are told that if an individual wants to do something badly enough, he should be allowed to do it, and that individuals who do law and order should not be punished.

This attitude of permissiveness appears in many Supreme Court decisions over the past decade which have protected the criminal, hampered law enforcement, and endangered innocent persons. If a criminal knows that Supreme Court decisions give him many ways to escape punishment, he will be much more likely to commit crimes.

We see permissiveness on college campuses. Professors have been teaching for years that absolute moral standards do not exist. Now students are putting this doctrine into practice, sometimes led by professors, and all too often escape punishment for their lawless actions.

Interpretive Report

HHH And Johnson War Policy

By RICHARD WILSON

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A peculiar kind of tunnel vision afflicts those Democratic elements who think their party can blithely regulate or discredit the Johnson administration's policy in the Vietnam war.

If they were to look to either side of their tunnel, evidence that such a regulation or discreditation could have sensational results.

Such men as Defense Clark M. Clifford and Secretary of State Dean Rusk would have to ask themselves if they could in good conscience support a Democratic presidential nominee running on a platform that made them out to be fools or knaves.

Now would President Johnson be exempt from self-interrogation on this point. There are signs of a slow burn in the Johnson administration over the ability-shaling to which Vice-President Humphrey has exposed himself on the Vietnam issue.

Those who threaten to leave the convention in Chicago next week unless the Democratic convention repudiates the Johnson war policy apparently have given no thought to others who would go home and wash their hands of a Democratic nominee so terrified of defeat that he would compromise his previous convictions.

This is the result of the limited focus of that minority opinion poller who wish to stop the bomb gully, invite the Communist Viet Cong into a coalition government and liquidate the war.

These elements of opinion have deluded themselves into thinking that they represent the majority. They have talked themselves into believing there would be nothing but favorable consequences if a Johnson administration from the face of the Democratic Party.

The facts might as well be faced by the Humphrey side now. The chief reason why Vice-President Humphrey is in a position to win a first ballot nomination for the presidency is that he has inherited the delegate strength which otherwise would have gone to President Johnson. There is not the slightest reason to believe that Vice-President Humphrey could have demonstrated his popularity in presidential primary elections against the late Robert F. Kennedy or Eugene McCarthy.

Humphrey is now in his favored position because the elements which would have supported Johnson, had he been a candidate, transferred their support to Johnson's heir, Humphrey. These elements include a large part of organized labor, big state and big city political organizations and the southern delegates.

Humphrey was picked over Johnson because he was seen to be a man who would have supported Johnson, had he been a candidate, transferred their support to Johnson's heir, Humphrey. These elements include a large part of organized labor, big state and big city political organizations and the southern delegates.

Crane's Worry Clinic:

On Crippled Marriages

By GEORGE W. CRANE

Ph. D. M. D.

CASE G-58: Dr. Robert Wright is a popular dental surgeon at Newcastle, Indiana.

"Dr. Crane," he telephoned earlier this year, "I wonder if you could come over here some Sunday?"

"Rev. Sherrill would like to have you take the pulpit at our 10:30 morning service."

"But we also have a large group of married couples and engaged folks who want to hear you conduct a 'Marriage Clinic' that same evening."

"After your evening lecture, we'd like a question-and-answer period, if that is agreeable."

Recently I was also asked by an editor of a Masonic magazine for some suggestions.

You are aware of the splendid work of the Masonic Order in its hospitals for crippled children.

But "crippled marriages" are far more common nowadays than crippled youngsters.

So our superb fraternal organizations, as well as our churches can render a very wholesome service to our country by helping teach young people how to play the game of marriage according to the rules.

Even college graduates obtain scarcely any specific training in how to pick a mate or operate a home on a budget or safeguard a marriage.

Sprint Missile Penetrates Ice

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Sprint antimissile missiles have been blowing their way through a layer of ice here to prove their all-weather capability to defend the nation against nuclear attack.

It's all part of a series of tests conducted at the Orlando Division of Martin Marietta Corp., prime Sprint contractor, and at the White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico.

Engineers first lowered a 100-pound, 10-inch diameter, glass fiber lid of a Sprint launch cell to cap the tube with a heavy blanket of ice. The missile successfully popped through

S.S. Spolski on Sports

Go, maybe those wild rides we've been talking you on via our S.O.S. ramblings have a way of paying off after all.

I mean, it's been about two years since we first sat down behind this trusty old Underwood and lots of verbiage has been set into cold type.

There was a time when I was told, "Look, John, you can write all you want to about getting property football insurance for those high school graders, but it just won't do any good!"

In talking with those parents with children who were injured on the football field, I know how much they appreciated the financial assistance they received as a result of this program being initiated.

Would you believe that after more than a few "conferences" relating to the "White Elephant" (see Sanford's Municipal Stadium) it just might... mind you, I've learned my lesson and have tempered my remarks with - - - JUST MIGHT be some action in this area, too.

I've been looking for so long a time on the proper phrase to adequately describe the inactivity connected with the stadium that this week, in talking with our Editorial Page Editor Stafford Derby, he precisely coined it for S.O.S.

"A nursing home usually locates in the quietest, least active area."

Oh, would you believe that one has since been built RIGHT ACROSS THE STREET from the stadium?

But, as I started to say, maybe we'll get some action on the stadium effort.

Steve Shumaker and his group have five petitions circulating throughout the area asking for an audience with the powers-to-be on this matter... and you know, nothing shakes up a governing body more than seeing a sheet full of concrete names written thereon.

And by now, you all must be appressed of the phone call placed by the Sanford Herald to the interested parties of the National League's newest entry from Montreal!

When queried about a place for their farm operations, they (at Montreal) practically jumped through the telephone mouthpiece when told of our own facilities. (Naturally, we didn't have the heart to tell them that it wasn't being used presently!)

Play ball everybody... (football first, of course.)

They Just Don't Mix

Somewhere along the route, I've been told that national differences could and should be settled on the athletic field. This would be fine if the politics were left out of the deal, right?

Let's give you an egg-and-sample!

Down Mel-bro-co-way, the fans South of the border have built an inextinguishable appetite for good competitive sports. Bull-fights (which I personally abhor), soccer, good old baseball, and quite recently, football. Especially, the professional variety of the National Football League.

Unfortunately, at the very last instant, a game between the Philly Eagles and I think it was Chicago, was cancelled for fear of student demonstrations.

The Mexican officials requested the game be cancelled for fear that if all of their policemen were at the game, violence of some sort would develop elsewhere in the city.

On the surface, it seemed like a logical move... BUT... this is a big one... but, what are they going to do about the 1968 Olympics scheduled for Mexico City October 12 to 27?

Because a bunch of no-goodniks, who'll probably never graduate anyway, stage a demonstration is that cause for a sports extravaganza to be interrupted or cancelled?

We hope not. We further hope that the Olympic Committee is successful in raising the $75,000 which they are shy of their four million dollar budget.

If you'd like to help and be a booster, here's a simple way of taking part. You may send $2 for a pocket patch, a special Mexico Olympic patch for $5, and the Gold Medal Pin for $10. Contributions should be sent to the United States Olympic Committee, Box 1050, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. 10559.

Instead of swinging and missing as so often has been the case this year, the batters seemed to be hitting every ball thrown their way.

The five winning teams bunched up 30 hits and scored 41 runs in six games. Even the losing clubs managed 36 hits.

The Chicago Cubs and San Francisco Giants started the barrage in the afternoon. The Cubs whipped Atlanta 4-4 and 13-4 and the Giants trounced the New York Mets 13-3.

Pittsburgh clinched the assault at night with a 10-1 wallop.

Dom Clemenzen accounted for five Pittsburgh runs with three-run homer and a double. Alvey drove in three and Alou, Jose Pagan, Mota, Mazerowski and Bill Mazerowski three apiece for the Pirates.

Pittsburgh's 19 runs were high for theackers this season. So were the Pirates' 23 hits.

Matty Alou and Gene Alvey both collected four hits and Manny Mota, Roberto Clemente and Bill Mazerowski three apiece for the Pirates.

While the Giants were batting in the sixth, their dugout and that of the Mets and the tarpulin were searched after two New York police received two calls that a bomb had been planted. Nothing was found and play continued after a delay of about five minutes.

The crowd of 32,023 was not disturbed during the bomb search.

Phil Gagliano and Tim McCreary both singled in two runs in St. Louis' victory over Philadelphia. The Cardinals took a 4-3 lead in the fifth on run scoring singles by Gagliano, Bob Toian and Roger Maris.

Rusty Staub provided the big hit for Houston, whose 10 hits were the lowest total for any winning team. Staub singled twice and hit two runs in the third and then singled in a pair in the fifth.

Pro Golfers Cut Out Gab To Concentrate

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Defending champion Dan Sikes, Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros, top money winner, Billy Casper, U.S. Open champion Lee Trevi and other top professional golfers concentrated on golf instead of gab today in the opening round of the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

The bitter, vocal dispute between the golf pros and the Professional Golfers' Association over who should run the rich tour temporarily was shelved today as the background of a field of 146 starters for the four-day, 72-hole competition over the par 36-36-72 Whitmarsh Valley Country Club course.

White Sikes, Nicklaus, Boros, Casper, Trevino and many were turned on young Bob Murphy, the Brooklyn native who came within a stroke of tying last week's Westchester Classic.

He led the first three rounds only to lose when Boros dropped a 13-foot pressure putt on the final green.

A rookie on the tour, the 24-year-old Murphy indicated a 16-hole straight $100,000-plus tour. His last-round charge at Whitmarsh overtook George Archer par 58 in the pro am tournament Wednesday.

The 1965 U.S. Amateur champion and 1966 NCAA champ, Murphy already totalling $98,562, is shooting for his second straight $100,000-plus tour.

This Is 'Our Year'

By DAVE O'HARA, Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — This is supposed to be the United States year in the tennis championships but some of the United States has only three teams left heading into the quarter-finals.

Arthur Ashe, who arrived five days late because of play in the Davis Cup interspersed matches with Spain, is the No. 2 domestic seed behind Ashe, who is the only other seeded U.S. player still alive.

Three seeded teams, including the No. 1 tandem of Bob Lutz and Stan Smith of the University of Southern California, bolstered U.S. hopes for winning the doubles title captured by Aussies the last three years.

Graebner and Charlie Pasarell, the top U.S. Davis Cup doubles team seeded just behind Lutz and Smith in the nationals, were ousted in the round of 16 Wednesday. Pasarell was eliminated from the singles 24 hours earlier.

Elio Alvarez, 21, and Tito Vaquero, 19, Argentine Davis Cuppers from Buenos Aires who are students at UCLA, shocked Graebner and Pasarell, needing less than an hour for a 6-4, 6-4 victory. Pasarell was broken in the eighth game of the first set and Graebner in the fourth game of the second set.

Lutz, who will be 21 next Thursday, pulled a major upset in ousting Cliff Hickey of San Angelo, Tex., the nation's third-ranked player who was seeded fourth here.

"I'm getting tired of being regarded as just a good doubles player," Lutz said after his 6-2, 6-2 victory.

Lutz had a tough assignment today as he met South Africa's Bob Hewitt, the top-seeded foreigner, in a quarter-final showdown.

States Comeback

Powell Joins Minnesota Vikings

By MIKE BRYSON, Associated Press Sports Writer

Thirty-one is a pretty young age to start a comeback. But Art Powell, hoping a game knee that cut short a brilliant American Football League career will hold up, was trying just that as he signed with the Minnesota Vikings.

Powell, a wide receiver signed by the National Football League team Wednesday as a free agent, sought an exhibition with the Minnesota Vikings.

Coach George Wilson said the entire squad should be at full strength for an exhibition with the Boston one of four preseason games on top Friday night.

Other activity that evening has San Francisco, NFL, at Denver, AFL, Baltimore, NFL, at Detroit, NFL, and Buffalo, AFL, vs. Houston, AFL, at Tulsa, Okla.

The Dolphins also announced they had traded John Roderick, who appeared in only one game last season after undergoing back operation, to Oakland for an undrafted draft choice.

Two seasons ago as a rookie, Roderick caught 11 passes for 154 yards in five games.

Pro Golfers Cut Out Gab To Concentrate

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Defending champion Dan Sikes, Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros, top money winner, Billy Casper, U.S. Open champion Lee Trevi and other top professional golfers concentrated on golf instead of gab today in the opening round of the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

The bitter, vocal dispute between the golf pros and the Professional Golfers' Association over who should run the rich tour temporarily was shelved today as the background of a field of 146 starters for the four-day, 72-hole competition over the par 36-36-72 Whitmarsh Valley Country Club course.

White Sikes, Nicklaus, Boros, Casper, Trevino and many were turned on young Bob Murphy, the Brooklyn native who came within a stroke of tying last week's Westchester Classic.

He led the first three rounds only to lose when Boros dropped a 13-foot pressure putt on the final green.

A rookie on the tour, the 24-year-old Murphy indicated a 16-hole straight $100,000-plus tour. His last-round charge at Whitmarsh overtook George Archer par 58 in the pro am tournament Wednesday.

The 1965 U.S. Amateur champion and 1966 NCAA champ, Murphy already totalling $98,562, is shooting for his second straight $100,000-plus tour.

Jaycee Fishing Rodeo Saturday

The Sanford-Seminole Jaycees are finalizing plans for their 1968 annual Fishing Rodeo to be held this Saturday from 2-4 p.m. at Lake Carola in Fort Meade Park.

All children between the ages of 1-12 are invited for the Jaycee event.

Over 1,000 children attended last year's event and more are expected for this year's event, said Ron Risher.

"It is important that the children bring some pole rigs to be assured that they will have a pole." There will only be a limited number of poles provided for those who cannot come pole rigs although the Jaycees will provide the worms.

The three size groups for this year's event will be 1-5, 7-9 and 10-12. Prizes which have been donated by local merchants will be awarded for the largest, smallest and most fish in each age category.

As an added feature this year the largest fish in each category will be mounted.

Indiana's Cinderella Kids Are Back

JOHN ISENBERGER, BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Those "Cinderella Kids" who lifted Indiana from the depths to the heights of Big Ten football last year are back.

If anything, they are bigger, faster and wiser.

The sophomores who ousted Indiana to a 9-7 record and the Hoosiers' first Rose Bowl trip in history — quarterback Harry Gosso, halfback John Isenberger, flanker Jade Butcher — are juniors now.

The only headline to depart via graduation was fullback Terry Cole. The front runner for his job is a 191-pound sophomore, Hank Pogue.

Another sophomore, speedster Larry Highbaugh, who has run the 100 in 9.2 seconds, will team with the fleet Isenberger and Butcher to

Panthers Sharpen Claws For Norfolk

ORLANDO — After stopping the Indianapolis Capitals 28-21 in their first exhibition contest of the season, Jim Garrett and his Orlando Panthers will face their next exhibition foe, the tough Norfolk Neptunes. The Panthers will travel to Norfolk this Saturday to face a team that has been considered by many as the club's nemesis since the inception of the Orlando franchise.

Each season these perennial powerhouses contest for supremacy within the league's ranks and this year should prove to be no exception. Operating under new Head Coach George Hughes, former William & Mary star and All-Pro lineman with the Pittsburgh Steelers, the Neptunes are expected to continue their harassment of the Panthers, especially if their 412 exhibition win over the Alabama Hawks is any indication.

With such veteran stars as All-League defensive back and kicking specialist, Joe High (19-32 for 326 yards), and Tom Hland who stepped for scoring receptions of 14 yards and 17 yards in the first quarter and tower, All-League tackle Steve Smith, and All-League flanker and record-setter Donnie Floyd (19-32 for 326 yards), the Panthers will not let the waning moments of the game and an intercession tilt could be the stiffest test for the 1968 edition of the Panthers.

The Orlando eleven can also claim an exhibition victory going into Saturday's game as a result of their winning effort over a stubborn Indianapolis team. The Capitals, rebounding off a defeat at the hands of the San Antonio Toros of the Texas League, came to win and it took the best efforts of Don Jones, two times Most Valuable Player of the CFL (19-32 for 326 yards), and Tom Hland who stepped for scoring receptions of 14 yards and 17 yards in the first quarter and tower, All-League tackle Steve Smith, and All-League flanker and record-setter Donnie Floyd (19-32 for 326 yards), the Panthers will not let the waning moments of the game and an intercession tilt could be the stiffest test for the 1968 edition of the Panthers.

Research Sub Under Tests

WEST PALM BEACH (AP) — America's newest and heaviest research submarine, built to conduct the most extensive study yet in the depths of the Gulf Stream, renewed surface tests here today under a new name — "Ben Franklin."

The testing program for the latest automobile, built by Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. under the supervision of Swiss Ocean engineer Dr. Jacques Piccard, was interrupted Wednesday for formal christening ceremonies.

As a congressman, the Navy's top oceanographer and other dignitaries looked on the great-great-great-granddaughter of Benjamin Franklin, Miss Louisa J. Castle of Wilmington, Del., smashed a bottle containing water from the seven-year-old submarine.

"It was named in honor of that scientist statesman because Franklin was one of the first students of the Gulf Stream and prepared early charts of its path," Grumman officials said.

Before the christening, it was named simply as the PX11.

Next April, Ben Franklin is to house a six-man scientific team headed by Piccard on an all-underwater drift deep in the Gulf Stream between West Palm Beach and Cape Cod, Mass.

En route, the group will collect data at the speed of the current at depths between 300 and 2,000 feet, observing marine life, drift, and measuring underwater temperatures and chemical composition.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in a telegram to Grumman executives at the ceremony, predicted that "from such experiments will come new knowledge and new tools to explore the sea and to develop and harvest its resources."

"Information gleaned from the trip is of obvious military value," Rear Adm. O. D. Waters said.

Act To Stop Littering By Hunters

NEW YORK (AP) — The fish and game departments of the 50 states have mixed feelings about the litter manners of the more than 15 million hunters who will take to the woods this fall.

In reply to a questionnaire from Keep America Beautiful, Inc., 18 fish and game departments said hunters are littering more than ever. The same number said there was no apparent change in the litter habits of hunters, while a minority of said hunters are littering less.

Several states reported that hunting grounds are being closed because of littering. Respondents in 17 states said that litter can be harmful to certain game animals and birds.

While fish and game departments are divided as to whether hunters' litter manners are improving or worsening, a majority apparently feel there is a great deal of room for improvement. KAB draws this conclusion since 34 of the state fish and game departments have programs designed to discourage hunters from littering in the nation's fields and forests.

5 Rebelling Convicts Slain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A rebellion by Ohio Penitentiary inmates was crushed Wednesday by police and National Guardsmen, who blasted through prison walls to rescue nine penitentiary guards held hostage for nearly 30 hours.

Five of the inmates who had threatened to burn the guards to death were killed in the attack and 18 others were injured. The hostages escaped injury.

State Corrections chief Maury C. Koblenz said the inmates "overpowered their hand and feet." The inmates had threatened to kill the hostages if certain demands weren't met or if a rescue by force was attempted.

"They had won two big items but lost everything when they ignored our ultimatum," Koblenz said.

That ultimatum, delivered at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, gave the inmates 15 minutes to surrender and release the guards.

The fifteen minutes passed and the hostages were not freed and two dynamite blasts were set off.

The riot ended — briefly — when Jack Evans, a U. S. deputy marshal, gave the inmates 15 minutes to surrender and release the guards.

The rampage resumed a few minutes later. A second dynamite blast was set off. The inmates had started with mattresses and uniforms.

Jail Inmates Riot

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Inmates at metropolitan Nashville jail, screaming, "we want the press, riot last night and early today, setting fires and attacking policemen and firemen.

Fifteen inmates, two firemen and several police officers suffered injuries, officials said. Two inmates were taken to a hospital on an ambulance after the melee ended.

The rioting first erupted in a cell block occupied by 25 federal prisoners. It spread quickly to another block occupied by 14 city prisoners.

And, after those two cell blocks were cleared, women prisoners set fire to mattresses and uniforms.

Guy Guy, who is awaiting trial on federal bank robbery charges, said "an animal outbreak" was the only method prisoners could use to avert their grievances.

Guy handed newsmen a handwritten list of grievances — including protests about food, medical attention and the presence of bugs in the cells.

The riot ended — briefly — when Jack Evans, a U. S. deputy marshal, gave the inmates 15 minutes to surrender and release the guards.

Czech People Protest Soviet-Led Occupation

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakians massed today on Václavské náměstí, Prague's main square, in a violent demonstration against the Soviet-led occupation and the arrest of their reform-minded Communist chief, Alexander Dubcek.

Ignoring requests by the clandestine Prague radio to maintain calm to avoid giving the Soviet tank troops, who had been covering all approaches to the square since their arrival Wednesday, immediately closed all bridges across the Vltava River, which divides the city.

The move came as Czechoslovak Communist leaders, reacting to the occupation by 200,000 Russian and Kremlin satellite troops, convened in an extraordinary party congress that liberal leadership had originally scheduled to open Sept. 9.

This was a last-ditch attempt to force the troops to leave through political pressure.

The clandestine proberal radio announced 927 delegates met at 11:30 a.m. Though the broadcast did not specify the site, the delegates had been urged to go to the liberal-controlled CRD factory on the outskirts of Prague.

Under arrangements that had been made by Dubcek, 1,500 members would have been on hand for the September meeting. In that session it had been expected he would outconvert active opponents from the ruling party Presidium and the Central Committee.

The seven Central Committee members who have declared loyalty to the Soviet-led occupation troops tried to shift today's meeting to the party-owned Praha Hotel.

Soviet tanks and armored cars started the approaches to the hotel. Several black limousines were parked outside.

The proberal station broadcast warnings to congress delegates not to go to the hotel, which it said was a trap.

The calling of the congress was another attempt to discredit the party Presidium and the Central Committee.

Confident Humphrey Seeks Running Mate

CHICAGO (AP) — Backers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, confident they have the Democratic presidential nomination in hand, surveyed today the possibilities for a running mate.

Despite the claim of former Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith, a McCarthy strategist, that Kennedy was substantially in accord with McCarthy's views, most Democratic politicians seemed to think he substantiated—at least in part — Humphrey's claims that the vice president's views were parallel to those of slain Robert Kennedy.

This and other convention maneuvering seemed to leave Humphrey a wide choice of running mates.

Outstanding among these was John F. Kennedy, Jr., of New Jersey, who has been wending his way through the labyrinth of delegate challenges and contests initiated by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., with what is regarded by most Democratic press as a remarkably cool approach.

The handsome, dark-haired and youthful appearing governor of New Jersey—becoming a star performer on television in these hectic convention days in sweltering Chicago—is cast as the most logical choice if McCarthy refuses to play second fiddle to his former close associate in Minnesota's string-of-victories.

There remained no doubt in the Humphrey camp that McCarthy would help the vice president in the general election more than any second man he could pick. But McCarthy remained a political enigma, who might even head off into a fourth party foray if he disagrees with the outcome of next week's party nominating convention.

Humphrey's confidence in the presidential balloting obviously was shaken by a Gallup poll which indicated that GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon held a 45-29 percentage lead over the vice president in popularity at this point.

Humphrey's people contended in Washington, where the vice president remained, that this represented only public reaction to Nixon's nomination at the Miami Beach, Fla., Republican Convention and would change quickly when the Democratic nominee was selected.

There was no doubt that Humphrey would be glad to accept Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for second place on the ticket if the senator would reconsider his reiterated statement that he would not be a candidate for any office this year.

Kennedy returned to the political scene Wednesday with a speech at Worcester, Mass., in which he called for an unconditional cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam.

But he stopped short of advocating.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey advisers say his sharp drop in the latest presidential popularity poll is due to wide exposure Richard M. Nixon got during the Republican National Convention.

They say they believe Humphrey will recover in the standings as soon as the Democrats get their crack at the national television audience when he might even head off into a fourth party foray if he disagrees with the outcome of next week's party nominating convention.

HHH Writing 'Acceptance'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey people insist the poll result will have no effect on the convention outcome. They contend that the other candidates—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia—have not shown any greater popularity among the delegates.

This and other convention maneuvering seemed to leave Humphrey a wide choice of running mates.

Outstanding among these was John F. Kennedy, Jr., of New Jersey, who has been wending his way through the labyrinth of delegate challenges and contests initiated by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., with what is regarded by most Democratic press as a remarkably cool approach.

ike Suffers New Heart Spasms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors report a resurgence of the irregular heart beats which pose a major threat to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's survival.

The new heart spasms were reported in a bulletin issued late Wednesday night by doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital where he is fighting to recover from his seventh heart attack.

Although doctors said the 71-year-old general was resting comfortably and that his life signs were stable, the report indicated a setback after nearly 24 hours in which the dangerous spasms had steadily declined.

The bulletin for the first time used the word "irritability" in place of "irregularity," but the doctors did not spell out why.

"Gen. Eisenhower has again shown some increase of heart irritability since this afternoon's bulletin. He is presently resting comfortably and his vital signs are stable."

Earlier in the day doctors reported that a new drug had appeared to be effective in controlling the spasms.

The drug is a synthetic substance called lidocaine, chemically related to the pain killer novocaine, but more powerful.

Although it has not been approved by the Food and Drug Administration for general cardiac use, it is under extensive clinical investigation.

A researcher for the National Heart Institute said the general tone of scientific reports so far on its use to control heart rhythm is that "it has been very effective when used properly and most effective when used early in the course of the cardiac problem."

Eisenhower has been a patient at Walter Reed since shortly after he suffered a heart attack last April while on a California vacation.

Since his admission he has suffered three more attacks, the latest last Friday.

Concerned Pope Flies To Bogota

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The Vatican's daily L'Osservatore Romano said the Pope will pray for Czechoslovakia at the Eucharistic Congress in Bogota.

The Pope said as he took off from Rome that he left with "sharp bitterness and great anxiety" over events in the East European nation. He added that he would give up his Latin American journey if it would serve "to avoid the disastrous consequences which, alas, one can with reason foresee" in Czechoslovakia.

In going to Bogota Pope Paul hoped to evoke what he called an intense movement of charity through the Eucharist "that invites the well-off, the developed peoples and economic and political authorities to resolve the too grave situations of fixed poverty on one side and intense misery on the other."

In the last hours before his departure, the Pope was kept informed of developments in Czechoslovakia.

Czechs Ask UN Support

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Czechoslovakians are even running by the Soviet Union and four hardline followers, fought back on the diplomatic front today with support from the United States and other Western powers.

The Security Council, hearing American pleas of urgency, scheduled a second round of debate after arguing the Soviet military take over in Czechoslovakia for nearly five hours Wednesday night with no break for dinner.

U.S. Chief Delegate George W. Ball said he strongly appealed for "immediate action of the council... we have the responsibility to act and act quickly."

Miss Fulton And A. W. Flanary Exchange Vows

Miss Catherine Ann Fulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Fulton, 211 Forest Drive, Sanford, became the bride of Alton Wayne Flanary in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. C. C. Grace in the chapel of the First Assembly of God Church at 8 p.m. Aug. 16.

MRS. ALTON WAYNE FLANARY
The well was held by a crown of illusion embellished with pearls and lace. The bride carried a white prayer book received at her birth covered by white rose buds and white cascading daisies.

The ceremony was performed before candles burning in brass tree candelabras amid baskets of white gladioli and mums with a background of woodruff ferns and palms. A wrought iron tree bench covered with white brocade was used to kneel upon.

Mrs. C. G. Zwanlen sang "Sweetest Mummy Eyes" and "Whither Thou Goest" accompanied by Celi Piscering, pianist, who also played the traditional wedding marches and "One Hand and One Heart," "Melody of Love," "Because," "I Love Thee," "O Perfect Love," and "I Love You Truly." Donald Widdon sang "The Lord's Prayer" after the vows were spoken.

The bride was escorted by her father. She wore a cap-style floor-length dress of white re-embroidered organza and crepe radieuse, highlighted by pearl and daisy motifs. The oval neck and yoke were outlined by pearls and daisies which extended along the full-length sleeves. The altman back, appliqued with lace daisies meet with pearls, extended into a chapel train.

They were identified by the bride's sister, Mrs. Edna Flanary, who presented the bride with a white prayer book received at her birth covered by white rose buds and white cascading daisies.

Evlyn Fohman of Sanford was the man of honor and Paula Fulton, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Bob Aaron were bridesmaids. The bride was escorted by her father, Mr. Thomas V. Fulton, and the groom was escorted by his best man, Mr. Stow DeLoone and Eddie Telford were groomsmen and Miss Telford and Mrs. DeLoone were ushers.

Mickey Glenn and Cliff Zwanlen, cousins of the bride, lighted the candles. Donald Widdon attended the bridegroom as best man. Stow DeLoone and Eddie Telford were groomsmen and Miss Telford and Mrs. DeLoone were ushers.

"Candid Chatter"

By DORIS WILLIAMS
It's great to be back with the herd after good'n' ol' for two weeks. Highlighting my vacation was a visit from my father, COLEMAN F. MACHINER of Montgomery, Ala., who was my guest for the first time during the last tourist circuit and he departed "spooped," but happy.

LEW EARLE, G.O.P. candidate for State Representative, was honored at a Campaign Kickoff party Tuesday night at Chappy's Lockout Restaurant in Fern Park. Chappy himself was in top form and the Pirate's Tea was being at the seams with activity. You could hear the revelers with a stick and the atmosphere was well, rather warm, both from political discussions and the weather.

During the time I was there stopped to chat with BONNIE AND HENRY SCHUMACHER, DORIS AND DOMINIC SALF, TOMMY AND PATTY SPEER, JERRY AND AL KEETH, RUTH BOUTWELL, CHARLES HUNTER AND CANDI COLLIER, LORENE AND FRED VAN PELT, JANE AND LEO AND R D CASSIDY AND DOT MCDONNOR.

HENRY SCHUMACHER has some solid ideas on how the County Commission should operate (sorry, but off the record). I think that Henry could be right.

MRS. JULIUS (GERTRUDE) DINGELDER entertained at a "chatter and get-acquainted" party at her Cranview Avenue home this morning. It had local students who will attend Trinity Prep School this fall.

Special guest was CAPT. JAMES VOSE (U.S.N. Ret.) who will be on the faculty of the new school.

MRS. ALBERT (CELE) EASINGWOOD has recently returned from Valrico where she was houseguest of her son, Dick, and his wife, Billy.

Two local socialites are bubbling with excitement today as they make last minute preparations to attend the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. SHEILA ROBERTS is a delegate from the 4th Congressional District of Florida and the first woman from Seminole County to serve in this capacity. Her alternate is JERRI KIRK, who is equally excited as Sheila. Both girls have shown a keen interest in politics from Miami's point of view and are looking forward to the bandwagon on a national level.

DR. (Maya) and MRS. ROBERTS will depart by train Friday and JERRI AND BILL KIRK will fly up Sunday.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS R. YOUNG, formerly of this area, and children, Nancy, Tommy and Natalie, now residing in Annandale, Va., are current houseguests of his sister and family, MR. AND MRS. MORRIS FORGUSON at their Jefferson Avenue home.

Coordinator and commentator for the show was vivacious MARY FORGUSON who works on a behind-the-scenes basis (and after hours) to stage these events. Always this year, Mary arranged the Fashion Show at the American Institute of Business held in Sanford.

Daughter SHAHAN is excited about entering the university this fall and Margaret is. Freeze the syrup left from canned fruit and use instead of ice cubes in a cold drink.

Overlaid beach towels make excellent summer bedspreads. On cool nights they can double as extra blankets and are much easier to launder often.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please notice that this letter is from ELIZABETH, NEW JERSEY. There is a man I love and like very much, but he is not what one thing. He wears TEAS-tye cowboy boots all the time! He wears regular like every other well-dressed man in Elizabeth, but he will not wear anything else but those western style boots. I once asked him if he'd from Texas, but he said no. He had once visited in Fort Worth and had become accustomed to cowboy boots — and found them to be so comfortable that he now won't wear anything else.

Don't you think they are out of place here? How can I get him to check these boots and wear something else?

INTERESTED IN HIM DEAR ABBY: Let him wear what he wants, and don't criticize him. And if you are interested in him, keep him cool happy. No man ever proposed to a woman when his feet were hurting.

DEAR ABBY: My son recently was divorced and married again. His second wife (also divorced) worked for him and there was a lot of talk about the two. Many said it was she who broke up his home.

I tried to be friendly and invited them to our home for supper many times. They came only once, and after that they were always "busy." Our son drops in to see us often, without her. We have never been invited to the home.

One Sunday, when our son was here, his wife phoned for him and I answered. She said, "I hope you're not here, but I would rather associate with other people. I don't want to get too attached to you for the simple reason that when you PASS AWAY I won't miss you so much."

Needless to say, I was dumfounded. What do you mean by that? We're not going to force ourselves on her. But isn't there something wrong with her thinking that would you do in our place?

DEAR ABBY: I would steer clear of her. And tell your son to save his money. He may need it for psychiatric help. She sounds sick.

DEAR ABBY: I need some advice, and quick! My husband and I are leaving for Viet Nam in 10 weeks. He wants me to live with his parents while he's gone. I want to go home and live with my own parents. We've been married for 34 months and have a small baby.

So far, all we've done is argue about this. I'm sure I'm not the only young wife with this problem. What do other wives do?

HIS OR MINE DEAR HIS: I don't know what it's like at YOUR home, and what it's like at HIS home, but you feel about his family, but a woman who is old enough to be a wife and mother should be mature enough to make her own decision. I say, in your husband's absence go where you feel more at home.

Service to the public in general is the all-consuming interest here. Dealing with big-ways will come quite naturally. College, by all means.

Someone who draws trumps automatically will be missed by many occasions. Not that this column is opposed to drawing trumps. They should be drawn when and if you can afford to do so.

South ruffed the club opening and led a trump to dummy. He was when with opponents. He South started in club but decided it would be easier just to play the hand out. He led a low spade toward dummy.

West hadn't relaxed at all. He had figured out the whole hand by a process of elimination.

South's period of relaxation was over. He might just as well have stayed relaxed since he was not going to make his contract. Dummy's king of clubs would take care of one of his four spades but South was going to have to use the other three. Eventually the last one would be high but South would have no way to get back to his hand to collect a trick with it.

South really had no excuse. He would have been sure of his contract if he had abandoned the trump suit after the second lead and gone after spades.

There would be all sorts of lines of play left for the defense and we will leave them to you to work out. All sorts of lines of play—but with one line in common. Not one would beat the contract.

DEAR POLLY: In our neighborhood, the Post Office Department is increasing the foot route, thus leaving a number of empty rural mailboxes. It returned to me front porch, thus inserting a wood front with the appropriate-sized hole for the handle to go in. On this new bird house a pretty cast of paint and, of course, move it to a tree in the back yard.

I have a good idea for lengthening curtains. Add a foot, or whatever is needed, of contrasting material at the top. Put the usual red pocket of the top and red pocket just above the seam line where the addition was put. In this new lower pocket, insert an additional rod which need not be fastened to the wall unless desired. The effect is beautiful. I also made the material I used turquoise and white curtains as my bedspread is turquoise and white. I also made the new top. —MRS. R. H. W.

DEAR POLLY: I have found that snap-on plastic shower curtain hooks are the ideal for hanging baby's rattles and toys onto his crib. These hooks come in colors, hang and are in view and, best of all, keep them out of his sight. To solve the problem of fighting between my children over toys, I got a gift in a cereal box, potato chip bag and so on, but all these prizes into one giant "grab bag." This bag is brought out on rainy days and always brings party favors. This saves time and money that would be spent in shopping for small gifts.—CYNDI

"No Glass Slipper" is the title of a book by Margery Hurst, an Englishwoman who became a milliner because she had an idea and worked at making it work for her.

Deserted with a tiny baby, Margery Hurst has become a remarkable career woman and has now a business which spans the continents. Her Brook Street, Bureau does as great a job on Madison Avenue in New York as it does on Brook Street in London. Career women have come to look to her for interlarded jobs and have named the world. Great business firms depend on Margery Hurst to produce the women who can do the job.

We The Women:

Once, when I had to absent myself from my child, I tried to prepare her for my disappearance. Outside her window, night had darkened a lawn. And I said, "Tomorrow when I go away, I'll be exactly like that big maple tree out there on the lawn. It's too dark now to see it with my eyes, but both know I'll be there. And after tomorrow I'll be there, too, even if you can't see me. So let's go outside and touch the tree right now. Then, whenever you miss me, you can touch it again, and think, 'Mother is here, anyway, like this tree, though I don't see her.' And go out and touch the tree is what I did.

Later, when I told this story to a child psychologist, she said, "Such talk was much too abstract for a young child. But she was wrong. I've been repeatedly told that this tree knowledge comforted her exceedingly well. I returned.

The child's own knowledge is the point I make for a reader or other writer. My husband's older sister is like that man you wrote about who lost to her correcting habit on our 2-year-old boy. He's got a new tricycle he calls 'my bicycle'.

Every time he refers to it, his aunt makes him count his wheels and says, "Three wheels make a TRICYCLE. Then he'll be able to refer to it when she seems to be making him his sole victim.

Small ones know an awful lot. The problem is, they can't always trust what they know. If we put their knowledge into words for them, they recognize it as their own. Which is where that child psychologist was confused. She was the abstract parent, not I. She didn't know the difference between recognition — "re-knowing" — and mere ideas approved by experience.

In other words, he just needs support of what he knows. Join him in his awareness of his aunt's individualism. Then he'll be able to refer to it when she seems to be making him his sole victim.

I can suggest the way. You tell him, "Aunt Ruth got a way to counters this influence that always puts him in the wrong. . . ."

Grooming Aids For His Gift

Are you thinking of good grooming aids for his back-to-school gift? If so, here's some advice on picking and choosing them.

Be consistent. Don't give an after-shave lotion with a lime scent, a cologne with a wood scent and a soap that smells like leather. Mixing fragrances can either cancel them all out or leave a man smelling like fresh asparagus. Stick to one scent for coordinated grooming.

Basically a man should have the scent of cleanliness — the implication that he is a vigorous male animal who has just scrubbed himself. Scandynavian scents excel in creating this manly impression.

If you give him an after-shave, remember it is not supposed to be a long-lasting fragrance. Don't expect him to smell handsome the rest of the day. An after-shave is a fragrance designed to tone up the skin and act as a mild antiseptic for razor nicks.

By all means get him a good cologne with a clean crisp fragrance, but watch it, because this very important item can be a source of confusion. It is often sold with a shaving lotion and smells the same. Actually, it is a different product. Men's cologne, advises the Kamm Bros. Department Store, are meant to have a longer-lasting scent. They are meant to be sloshed over the shoulders and chest. Of course, many men like to use cologne in place of after-shave for the longer-lasting aroma on the face.

Kennedy Returns To Limelight: 'No Safety In Hiding'

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts returned to political activity Wednesday with a call for an end to the war in Vietnam and a statement that he is not a candidate for any office this year.

Kennedy was stern and serious as he made his first public speech since the assassination of his brother Sen. Robert F. Kennedy June 5.

His audience, 1,200 members and guests of the Worcester Chamber of Commerce, gave him ovations at the opening and end of his speech. There were seven interruptions for rounds of applause.

At one point the speech reminded some of the files and notes of the late brother, President John F. Kennedy in 1961, when he said: "The torch has been passed to a new generation..."

Sen. Kennedy told his audience he had been silent since the assassination of another brother, and said during the 10 weeks since then he had been advised by many to retire from public life, "for safety's sake."

"But there is no safety in hiding," he said. "Not for me, nor for any of us here today; and not for our children who will inherit the world we make for them."

"So today I resume my public responsibilities to the people of Massachusetts."

"Like my three brothers before me, I pick up a fallen standard," he said. "Sustained by the memory of our priceless years together, I shall try to carry forward that special commitment to justice, to excellence, to courage, that distinguishes their lives."

In addition to his assassination of North Vietnam; 2. To negotiate with Hanoi the mutual withdrawal from South Vietnam of all foreign forces, both allied and North Vietnamese; 3. To accompany this withdrawal with whatever help we can give to the South Vietnamese in building of a viable political, economic and legal structure that will not collapse upon our departure; and 4. To demonstrate to both Hanoi and Saigon, the sincerity of our intentions by significantly decreasing this year the level of our military activity and military personnel in the South.

Kennedy, who last month issued a statement saying he was not available to run for vice president, as many political figures had urged, told his audience that he spoke for no partisan interests, but as "one who will not run for office this year."

Nixon Rests At Hideaway

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon relaxed at his Florida hideaway today after completing an apparently successful cross country tour to assure support from all elements of the Republican party for his presidential campaign.

Nixon flew to Miami Wednesday night after winning pledges of support from two leaders of the party's liberal segment—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and New York Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Rockefeller, who lost the GOP nomination to Nixon three weeks ago at Miami Beach, said he had been to the Florida hideaway today after completing an apparently successful cross country tour to assure support from all elements of the Republican party for his presidential campaign.

JCs, CofC Endorse Bid To Montreal 9

Sanford-Seminole Jaycees at their Thursday luncheon meeting moved to assist efforts being made by John Spokki and Bill Scott of The Sanford Herald sports and editorial staff, in an attempt to bring the Montreal National League baseball team to Sanford for an annual spring training.

The club's previous action followed an address by Spokki, in which he outlined, among other things, the frequent use of the city-owned stadium and the advantages of having a major league team visiting Sanford each year.

Interest in having the city seek an agreement with the Canadian city's new major league entry came Wednesday after James Fanning, Montreal's general manager, said the club would "seriously" consider coming to Sanford for spring training each year, if the city would officially make an approach.

Fanning revealed that Lake Worth is the only Florida city seeking the club during the annual "Grassroots Circuit" in the state by most of major league teams.

While none of the city commissioners have been asked to make the unwary public aware of the problems encountered with prohibitive costs of lighting the stadium and the many other pitfalls that tend to snare the unwary public officials when the "Great American Pastime" is brought to their municipalities.

On positive side, John Kirk, Chamber of Commerce manager, indicated the Chamber would be willing to assist in the effort, and several other expressions from responsible citizens also have been made known.

Montreal Manager Fanning said his club is presently interested in getting a good stock of players from the other National League teams at the October baseball draft, but would turn all attention to a training camp facility after the club is staffed.

The Lake Worth office, Fanning said, would require a massive building effort before the city could accommodate the team and its staff, and the Canadian had figured to get permission to use the Alantava training complex at West Palm Beach next year, because of problems of acquiring suitable facilities on such short notice.

It was pointed out that the Montreal official that Sanford already has a first rate stadium and housing is available at nearby Naval Air Station barracks or as one public-spirited citizen said, "I would be willing to see the old Yaldea Hotel and renovate it, if necessary, to get the Canadians to train here."

Local coaches and outdoor enthusiasts are "hot" for the idea, and from the many opinions expressed by the "plain folk," it is presumed that a majority of citizens embrace the proposal.

Still to be heard from is the Sanford City Commission.

Area Voters 'Cool' To Demo Meet

Seminole County voters indicated little interest in the presidential choice will be of the Democratic national convention to meet in Chicago next week in the weekly poll conducted by The Sanford Herald.

Elector, chosen at random from voting lists supplied by Elections Supervisor, Canella Bruce, revealing in the four precincts determined by the computers of Datametrix Corporation at Florida State Bank to be a trend-setting poll called and asked, "Who is your choice for the Democratic nomination for president?"

Fifty-seven per cent said they have "no preference." Twenty-five per cent said they favored Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. Eleven per cent favored Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. Seven per cent were for Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota.

Voters were polled without regard to party affiliation. Four per cent of those contacted said they favored Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma for the president while seven per cent favored the name of Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey for the second place on the Democratic ticket.

Those who favored Vice President Humphrey, the clear favorite, cited his family situation, cited his experience. Several of those indicating their preference for Madrox said while they know he has little chance for the nomination, he had, in their opinion, done a fine job in Georgia.

On the local level, Robert P.ree, Democratic nominee, was the choice of 43 per cent to fill the office of county and juvenile judge. Eighteen per cent indicated their support of incumbent Wallace Hall, Republican, and 39 per cent were undecided.

A number of those for Pree indicated their familiarity with his name while some opposed to Hall cited the fact he had been appointed to the office by Gov. Claude Kirk. By the same token many of those for Hall cited the same fact and stated their confidence the governor would be certain to make a good choice.

Sanford Junior High School Double Sessions Ok'd

Charles Allen, co-chairman of Seminole Education Association's salary committee, told the board of some dissatisfaction among teachers about board's policy of paying teaching supplements to department heads who do extra work above and beyond regular teaching classes.

Allen said some teachers were working harder than others, but are receiving no supplemental wages for extra effort, while some are getting the additional funds.

Top supplement being given is $250 per year to department heads in arithmetic, English, science and social studies, but art, music and physical education heads receive nothing. Allen deplored the unfairness and said he would like to see a plan worked out to pay all department heads.
