New Taxes May Be Necessary, Report Shows

Dwindling Revenues Bring Threat Of Additional Levies To Equal Deficit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Steady gains in federal revenues which prompted President Roosevelt to say that no new taxes would be needed to finance the New Deal have halted and loss in receipts for the first three and one-half months of the new fiscal year were reported by the Treasury.

Between July 1 and Oct. 15, figures showed, the government collected $1,120,192,588 as compared with $1,121,363,496 in the corresponding period last year. Total collections during September were $367,493,16 below those of the same month last year.

These figures indicated that the action of the Supreme Court on AAA processing taxes may determine the necessity of new and higher taxes immediately. The Treasury's report showed that a sharp slump in collection of processing taxes levied under the AAA crop reduction program was chiefly responsible for the dwindling revenues.

More than $100,000,000 of these levies now are tied up in litigation as processors await the Supreme Court's decision on the constitutionality of such a tax. The government is obligated to pay its agricultural partners $1,370,565,421 up to June 30, 1936. It already has sent out checks totalling $702,708,440 and has collected $941,912,406.

When President Roosevelt revised his budget estimates to predict optimistically that total revenues for this fiscal year would exceed last year's by $200,000,000 he also noted that estimated receipts were contingent upon conditions in the crop year.

Funeral Services For Hays Lewis Held In Marianna

MARIANNA, Oct. 18.—Attended by high state officials, funeral services were conducted here today for State Senator H. Hays Lewis, 67, who died at his home here Wednesday night from uremic poisoning and malarial complications.

The death of Hays Lewis leaves vacant the state senatorship from Jackson county, to which he was elected in 1934 for a four-year term. In the Senate, where he also served a four-year term from 1929 to 1934, he frequently referred to himself as being "for the man with the sun-burned back."

Lewis was a champion of liberal legislation. He was one of those who successfully guided to final passage over Gov. Carlton's veto in 1931 a bill legalizing and taxing pari-mutuel wagering on horse racing. He had been mentioned in recent months as a probable candidate for governor next year.

Lewis also gave his support vigorously to public school financial laws, declaring the child of modern times deserved "better than the little red school house that I attended."

He spent much time during recent winter seasons in Miami, and last winter he was tried there on a charge of violating the state gambling laws in operating a beach casino. He was acquitted.

U. S. ANNEXES ISLES FOR AIR LINE

As a means of affording mid-ocean refueling fields for trans-Pacific air lines, just now in their infancy, the United States has annexed three tiny islands known as Howland, Baker and Jarvis, southwest of Honolulu. The picture at the top shows the American flag flying over Howland where colonization already has begun. The location of the islands is shown on the map below. The black line indicates the air line already surveyed and the dotted lines designate proposed routes. (Associated Press Photos)

These islands are Jarvis, which is 1,400 miles due south of Honolulu, and Baker and Howland, sixty miles apart and approximately 1,600 miles southwest of the Hawaiian capital.

State Department records showed that Michael Baker, an American, claimed to have discovered both Baker and Jarvis Islands, the former in 1832, the latter in 1835. He revisited Baker Island in 1839, and claimed it for the United States. George E. Natcher discovered Howland Island in 1842. Its possession by the United States was claimed in 1857.

Tiny Islands in Pacific Annexed To United States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Three tiny islands in the South Seas, far to the south and southwest of Honolulu, have been "colonized" at the instigation of the Air Commerce Bureau of the Department of Commerce and have just been claimed as annexed to the United States, it was disclosed recently.

Chosen for their possible utility as bases in trans-Pacific American air service to Australia and New Zealand, these hitherto deserted sandstrewn coral reefs, one of them bearing the bulk of a wrecked steamer, have been officially declared American territory within the last week. They are expected to be within the Administration of the Territory of Hawaii.

Necessity of further air bases in the Pacific became apparent with the successful trips of the Pan-American Airways' gigantic Clipper flying boat. The Clipper, commanded by Captain R. O. D. Sullivan, arrived at Guam recently on the 1,500-mile leg from Wake Island, covering the distance in 10 hours 11 minutes without incident. It will fly back to the United States and later make another cross-Pacific trip to Manila. Regular air service is then to be inaugurated from the United States to the Philippines. The line eventually will be extended to Canton, China.

The islands are Jarvis, which is 1,400 miles due south of Honolulu, and Baker and Howland, sixty miles apart and approximately 1,600 miles southwest of the Hawaiian capital.

Train Crashes Into Street Car, 6 Hurt

JACKSON, Tenn., Oct. 18.—(AP)—An Illinois Central passenger train smashed into a street car at a main street crossing on the side of the business district today injuring at least six persons, three of them seriously.

Inculcate Character Into The Children And Communism Will End, Says Mayor

Quoting the old saying that "the world moves on the feet of little children," Mayor T. L. Dumas told the Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church last night that "the best work we can do is to take stock of the boys and girls of Sanford" and give them the education in church and home that will result in their growing up to be good citizens.

"The boys and girls of today will be men and women of tomorrow, and if they are given the advantages of the church, the schools of a Boy Scout troop or the Camp Fire Girls' organization and similar institutions we can depend upon them to take up the problems that are ours today and to go forward," he said.

"What we, as laymen must do is to build better character, better citizenship," the mayor continued, "and it is proper that we give that our closest attention. With the right training, these boys and girls will stamp out bolshevism and communism, and they will make the city, state and nation better by reason of their influence and their lives. If we are to have no more wars, better observance of our laws, better politics, then better citizens must be."

Endurance Driving Record Challenged

Seeking to establish a new world's endurance driving, Larry Dale started a proposed long drive in Sanford today, leaving from in front of the Millane Theater at 12:11 this afternoon. He was padlocked to the steering wheel of his car by Officer C. H. Shaffer of the Sanford Police Department.

Dale holds the title of "Ass of Canadian Dirt Tracks" and has driven 122 miles continuously. The world record, however, is 126 miles, and it is this record he will endeavor to smash in his driving in and around Sanford. There will be no speed trials, it is explained. Dale can drive at any speed (within the law) he chooses.

Old Hill Yard May Be Added To Big Market

Commissioner Rhodes In Favor Of State Acquiring Property Adjacent To Plant

Acquisition by the state of the old lumber yards of the Hill Lumber Company and adding the property to the State Farmers' Wholesale Market is in prospect. Purchase of the property, now owned by W. E. Kirchhoff, by the state is favored by State Marketing Commissioner L. M. Rhodes, he stated upon a visit to Sanford today and he will take the matter up at a meeting of the State Agricultural Board to be held in Sanford next Tuesday.

The Hill property is adjacent to the market and is needed for enlargement of that establishment, it is said. Buildings now on the property would provide about 100 more stalls, as well as bunkhouses for truckers. There would also be room there for a cafeteria. Remodelling costs would not be great, members of the committee stated.

Mr. Rhodes spent only a brief time in the city this morning, conferring with H. M. Papworth, chairman of the supervisory committee, and others. He will attend next Tuesday's meeting with Nathan Mayo, state commissioner of agriculture, and Neil Rhodes, assistant marketing commissioner for the state. This meeting will be held at the market at 10 o'clock in the morning, with members of the supervisory and executive committees, all members of those boards being urged to attend.

Members of the supervisory committee are H. M. Papworth, chairman; George E. Balms, F. E. Dornier, Alex. R. Johnson, H. J. Lehman, John Mellichamp, R. M. Packard, M. S. Wiggins and S. M. Hiett, the latter of Jacksonville. The executive committee members are Mr. Melech, Mr. Packard and Mr. Papworth. J. G. Michael is market manager.

Cold In The South, Heat Wave In North

By The Associated Press. Winter focused its breath on a section of the South today, sending a chilling stream of air over the southern Appalachian Highlands from Virginia to Georgia. The weather man expected the cold spell to be short-lived and reported the thermometer as climbing rapidly back into summer range.

In sharp contrast, northern sections were in the midst of a mild heat wave. Mr. Rhodes said that he and Commissioner Mayo will attend the citrus meeting in Lakeland next Monday afternoon, and then to Sanford.

U. S. Can't Keep Out Of European War, General Declares

NEWTON SQUARE, Penn., Oct. 18.—(AP)—Major General Smedley D. Butler, calling the European war a "cat show" compared to statements made in "that racket" at Geneva, declared today that League of Nations sanctions are dangerous.

"There were not for the League of Nations program," the retired Marine Corps officer said in an interview. "There would be only two nations involved, right now Great Britain and Italy, instead of more than 50. The United States can't keep out. If Europe works up to a general war, and if our propaganda is fed our people."

Britain Has No Idea Of Lone War On Italy To Enforce Sanctions

JOHN BULL'S ANSWER TO ITALY

While today's dispatches state that Great Britain has no intention of warring on Italy alone, England has hurried many of her mighty war fleet to the trouble zone in preparation for any eventuality. Here are two of the fleet, H. M. S. Renown (nearest camera) and H. M. S. Hood, en route to the concentration point off Alexandria, Egypt, which experts regard as England's first line of defense in event of war with Italy. (Associated Press Photo)

U. S. Geological Survey Is Asked For By Dorner

Acting on behalf of the Central and South Florida Water Conservation committee, of which he is chairman, Fred Dorner last night forwarded an appeal to the U. S. Geological Survey for protection against possible adverse effects of the Trans Florida Ship Canal.

A letter from Mr. Dorner addressed to W. C. Mendenhall of Washington, geological survey chief explained the fears of Sanford growers that the gash in the state's limestone formations will result in contamination of the fresh water supply.

"To date we have received not one in authority," Dorner wrote. "Instead we have been submitted to an overflowing volume of reassuring and comforting general statements which when analyzed have meant nothing."

A. F. Of L. Considers Labor Party Demand

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor, fresh from its bitter struggle over its internal organization, turned today to the proposal to establish an independent labor party. Assertions by members that support given organized labor by the two major political organizations was insincere brought demands at the annual convention for separate action.

England Will Not Be Sole Policeman, Is Declaration From Sir Samuel Hoare

Russia Imposes Embargo On Arms

Financial Sanctions Put In Operation By Soviet Union

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Six members of the crew were killed and 20 were injured today in two boiler explosions aboard the Italian liner Anconina. The explosions occurred as the ship entered the port after a voyage from Haifa, Palestine.

Great Britain Has No Intention of Warring on Italy Alone

That statement came from authoritative sources today in reiteration and amplification of Sir Samuel Hoare's remark of a fortnight ago, "England does not intend to be the sole policeman."

The British view was made known shortly after reports from Paris said France wanted Britain to renounce formally any blockade of Italy or any thought of individual sanctions against it. Duce's government.

Said France in effect: "You must say to us that you plan no individual action, either at arms or by boycott. If you give us your promise then we will be in a better position to give a 'yes' answer to your request for our support in carrying out the edicts of the League of Nations against Italy."

Except for bombing raids on the Northern front the war situation in Ethiopia was reported as quiet pending renewal of a drive in the South. The Italian Somaliland army was delayed by rain in its drive inland.

Laval Delays Answer

PARIS, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Austrian quarters said today French Laval had virtually refused to "legalize" Great Britain's show of naval strength in the Mediterranean by pronouncing aid would be loans how far eastward on the coast.

The Radio Voice

According to one of the political commentators who attempts to keep the country advised of various activities in Washington, the Republicans are trying to find a man for their presidential candidate who has a good radio voice.

There can be little doubt as to the growing importance of the radio in political campaigns. In this way the national candidate reaches millions of voters who in the old days never got any closer to the bigwigs than their state committeemen.

Nor can it be denied that this hearing of the candidate's voice has a tremendous influence on the outcome of the election. It is not so much what the candidate says as the way he says it that draws or repels the voters.

That President Roosevelt has one of the best radio voices in the country is a widely accepted fact. His diction, his enunciation, his delivery, are perfect.

And yet we venture the opinion that if this importance of the radio appeal is too greatly emphasized by the various political parties, the quality of our presidential candidates is likely to suffer.

Speaking before the New York State Volunteer Fireman's Association the other day, Charles A. Harnett, New York commissioner of motor vehicles, strongly advocated compulsory automobile insurance as a protection for victims and dependents resulting from motor vehicle accidents.

Compulsory Insurance

It is my sincere belief, he said, "that compulsory insurance covering every motor vehicle licensed for operation on the highways of the State of New York is the only means by which this protection can be provided.

What is said here of New York is equally true of Florida and every other state in the Union. With more than a million persons injured every year in automobile accidents and with many of them suffering permanent disabilities which prevent them from earning a decent living thereafter, it is becoming increasingly important that some reasonable provision for their future be enacted into law.

A perfectly healthy young man with a good paying job walks down the street. An automobile driven by a drunk man comes careening down the highway zigzagging from one side to the other.

If the driver of that car carries liability insurance, that young man will be provided for all the rest of his life. But if the driver, in order to escape the small premiums required for public protection, carries no insurance, and is a man of no great personal means, the victim of his accident is without recourse.

By all means, make personal liability and property damage insurance compulsory. Allow no one to drive a car who is not prepared to assume responsibility for whatever damage to others he may inflict.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

The visit of the state president is an important event in local club circles that is always anticipated with keen pleasure and absorbing interest.

Washington Merry-Go-Round proposes the following changes in the President's cabinet: Alvin Karpis as secretary of the treasury, Dr. Royal E. Copeland, the well known surgeon, as secretary of the interior, Jimmy Walker as secretary of agriculture, Slapin Tokelit as secretary of labor, Father Devins as secretary of war, Barnacle Bill as secretary of the navy, and Shirley Temple as attorney general.

Indicating the sentiment in Tarpon Springs to effect all memory of the Mendonhall-Elliott tragedy and forget the whole affair, street benches bearing the advertisement of the J. J. Mendonhall Lumber Works in Clearwater have been repainted to obliterate the signs.

THE COMPASS

Franklin D. Roosevelt By Arthur Dunn

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Oct. 18.—One gets the feel of President Roosevelt enroute to Warm Springs, Georgia, in Fort Benning, the largest military post in the country.

At West Point the hand plays to the plecter on parade "You're in the army now." With its up-to-date baseball grounds, football stadium, polo field, tennis courts, outdoor swimming pool, golf links and handsome buildings in a setting of natural beauty, one feels that those at Fort Benning must be glad to be "in the army now."

Further on we pass through the Pine Mountain Valley Rural Community, where Uncle Sam has purchased 11,000 acres of wild open spaces and is setting 300 unemployed families from Macon, Atlanta and other Georgia cities.

Yes, they came from Atlanta. Her husband was a worker in rubber—without work for a year. "You know," she said quite frankly, "we were on relief and selected as one of the families for this opportunity. We hope to have this home and 20 to 30 acres."

In answer to "how do you like it?" the young woman smiled happily as she replied: "It is a wonderful chance. I hope we make good and can stay. We would have 25 years to know if we are free to move if not content."

At Warm Springs you find the explanation of President Roosevelt. He was born with a gold spoon in his mouth. Literally he had everything—family, wealth, magnificent physique.

Then almost overnight, without warning, he found himself a helpless invalid. He might easily have become embittered. Instead he came to Warm Springs for help and was helped abundantly.

That explains why Mrs. Roosevelt has recently stated they are prouder of these rural settlement communities than of any other work of the New Deal—why he has sent her to search into the drab lives of people in tenements, in mining towns, among sharecroppers.

At any rate, if the ideas of Governor Talmadge have many adherents in southwest Georgia few have been in evidence to me. Today President Roosevelt would carry this part of the state by a large and affectionate majority.

Maybe such treatment blocks the development of human beings, as Governor Talmadge seems to think. Possibly people ought to be hardened, and those who can't take it starve off, but the relieved, joyous expression of that young married woman somehow makes me feel that Christ really knew his economics.

Methodist Churches May Unite By 1940

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 18.—Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Protestant Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South will be achieved within three or four years, the Rev. J. C. Bloomfield, president of the General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, predicted at the Eastern Conference of his church.

Dr. Bloomfield deplored the lack of spirit in church people in recent years, saying that no group showed "such missionary zeal as the Communist societies." The Methodist Protestant Mission Board was "virtually on the rocks," he said, for lack of contributions. There was "seeming indifference" in and out of the church, he said, to the return of liquor, to gambling and to general slackening of morals.

"Some condone such pronounced back sliding in public ideals and morality by saying that these are days of emergency," he said. "But if the times are crucial, then they are times of golden opportunity for the church. The gospel is at home during emergencies."

"I wonder if we are not approaching the time when history will repeat itself; when up out of the confusion and unrest and uncertainty all about us there will come a new alignment of forces to reshape society and bring a new type of life."

Not Enough Signers To Recall Petitions

MIAMI, Oct. 18. —(AP)—Miami's third recall movement of three years fell short of its goal—ousting of all five city commissioners—Thursday.

A final tabulation in the office of City Clerk Frank Kelly showed "good" signatures on two sets of recall petitions totaled only 4184, with 4284 needed to force an election.

A recall movement three years ago, also aimed at all city commissioners, failed to get enough names. Another, later one against Commissioner Harry Platt, was halted by the Supreme Court, which ruled blank votes defective.

Character Education Will End Communism

It is believed that the present generation has passed, and only when we have done our full duty, and not until then, may we expect to bear the comforting words: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant," the speaker declared.

The mayor made the observation that probably 90 percent of the men carry their religion in their wives' names, but that these names personally attend to their insurance policies. "But let me tell you," he asserted, "that the church gives better insurance than all the life and property insurance written in town."

In the group addressed by Mayor Dumas was a number of members of railroad brotherhoods to whom, he said, the word "scab" is one they just can't stand. "It is the same thing, according to the mayor, or one word the churchman can't stand is 'hypo-crite'."

"The harvest is at hand," he declared in closing, "and I hope it will never be said of us that the laborers were few."

The group addressed by Mayor Dumas last night assembled in the annex of the Baptist Church where an oyster supper was served. Th. Rev. W. P. Brooks, Jr., pastor of the Church, opened the meeting with prayer, and following the mayor's address an invitation to all present to attend Sunday sessions of the class was extended by J. H. Bradford, superintendent of the adult department of the Baptist Sunday School. J.

MRS. K. J. TOBIN, OF BEVERLY HILLS, ILL., WELCOMES

Calumet Baking Powder... in a big, new 10¢ can!

WHY DOES THE SENESE in taking chances with second-best when you can get a good, big can of Calumet for a dime?" says Mrs. Tobin.

"You never had a baking failure with Calumet," Mrs. Tobin said. And judging by the expert faces of Richard and Patricia, Mrs. Tobin is not the only member of her family who knows how delicious Calumet cakes always are!

MRS. TOBIN'S CALUMET CARAMEL CAKE

2 cups sifted Calumet Double-Acting Baking Powder 1 cup melted butter
1/2 cup sugar 1 egg, well beaten
3/4 cup milk 1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar 1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup molasses 1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup cocoa powder 1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup vanilla 1/2 cup nuts
1/2 cup raisins 1/2 cup cherries
1/2 cup currants 1/2 cup apples

Put all ingredients in a bowl and mix thoroughly. Add sugar gradually. Mix until light and airy. Add eggs and beat until well mixed. Add milk and mix until thick. Add brown and white sugar and mix until thick. Add molasses and mix until thick. Add oil and mix until thick. Add cocoa powder and mix until thick. Add flour and mix until thick. Add vanilla and mix until thick. Add nuts and mix until thick. Add raisins and mix until thick. Add currants and mix until thick. Add apples and mix until thick. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 30 minutes.

WHY DOES CALUMET give you a "kick?" Why do you have to use only one level teaspoon of Calumet to a cup of sifted flour in most recipes? Why is Calumet different from other baking powders? Because Calumet is the only Calumet double-acting baking powder. Calumet is a combination of the finest bicarbonate of soda and potassium bicarbonate. That is why Calumet is a professional baker's favorite.

All Calumet prices are lower!

Calumet is now selling at the lowest prices in its history... The regular price of the Full-Size 10¢ can is now only 25¢! And be sure to buy the new, big 10¢ can—a lot of good baking for a dime—with Calumet, the Double-Acting Baking Powder.

FLORIDA HIGHLIGHTS

In 1896, during the Cuban Revolt against Spain, there were many Florida boats engaged in the hazardous business of filibustering arms and ammunition to Cuba. One in particular, because of its daring adventures, became famous all over the world. It was the St. Johns river tug-boat "Three Friends". On landing the very first cargo of war munitions, the Three Friends was discovered by a Spanish gunboat, which was a successfully eluded after a most exciting chase. Several other equally hazardous filibustering expeditions to Cuba were safely completed by the Three Friends without serious mis-

 "If the attack which has been made upon this act is sustained," the President warned, "we will have to face the problem of financing existing contracts for benefit payments out of some form of new taxes."
 Otherwise, he added: "It is clear to me that the federal government under provisions of present tax schedules will not need new taxes or increased rates in existing taxes to meet the expense of its necessary annual operations and to retire its public debt."

Celery Feds Play Daytona In Beach City This Evening

Fans Organizing Big Motorcade Leaving Promptly At 6:30

The Celery Feds of Seminole High School in Sanford will meet the Daytona Beach football squad on the gridiron in the beach town this evening, the game being called for 8 o'clock sharp. It will be the first game between the two teams this season. Last year they played 6-6.

Though three men will be out of the game tonight, Coach McLucas is hopeful his squad will gain the victory. High school football fans are pepped up over tonight's contest and are sure Sanford will "wipe 'em out" if a big bunch of rosters accompanies the team to Daytona Beach. They are organizing a motorcade to leave from in front of the Court House at 6:30 P. M. sharp, and every football fan who can get a car is urged to join in procession, go to the beach and cheer the Celery Feds to victory. "We would like everybody with a car to be there and help support our team," was today's announcement.

Auto Death Rate In State Above Average

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Florida's automobile accident death rate for the past year was 39 percent above the average for the entire country, and the state ranked 4th among the states in the number of fatal accidents for each 100,000 of population.

The figures were compiled by an insurance company which makes a study of accidents in the United States. There were 36,099 persons killed in automobile accidents in the United States, but if Florida's rate had prevailed in other states the total would have been 50,279. Rhode Island had the lowest percentage of such deaths, and if that rate had prevailed throughout the country the total would have been about 18,000 deaths instead of 36,000.

St. Louis Is Seat Of Junior Trade Body

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 18.—St. Louis was chosen as the permanent site for headquarters of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce by national directors in the closing meeting of a three-day conference here. Des Moines is the present headquarters for the chamber.

St. Louis' offer of rent-free quarters, plus $1,000 for furnishing, and the sentimental fact that it was the birthplace of the junior chamber, won the selection. The change of headquarters is expected within 30 days.

Good Variety of Annual FLOWER PLANTS Now Ready to Set SUNNY SIDE MARKET

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By ELIZABETH KELLY, Sports Editor

Girls' Athletics: The entire past week of girls' athletics has been given to tournament play in volleyball. Last week's issue of The Herald carried a complete lineup of the tournament teams with their respective captains, and the announced schedule between the teams.

The team captained by Madalyn Truluck, won from the team headed by June Bryan on Monday of the week, while the team of girls under leadership of Peggy Hootman won over the team lead by Louise Perkins. Tuesday found the Junior Leaguers, winning from the All Americans, while on Thursday the Cubs won over the Wildcats.

Keen competition plus absolute fair play has been the two outstanding factors in every single match of the week. All scores have been excitedly close, with no team at any one time had a commanding lead over its opponent.

True, there were a few minor arguments and debates, but which only prove the desire of each girl to have her team win.

The Athletic Department wishes to thank Miss Earle who acted as referee in the tournament. It is admitted this was no easy job. Several times Miss Earle nearly lost her seat on "the high perch" looking wild shots by some over-anxious players.

As announced before tournament play each girl of the winning teams in both Seventh and Eighth Grades will receive an athletic award. These awards are presented to the players in a few days.

Girls' Athletic Club: Most of the meeting time of the club on Monday was taken in planning an outing for its members. After much discussion and a vote arrangement to have a hay ride to San Lando Springs were completed. Saturday, Oct. 26 is the date set for the party.

Boys' Athletics: The boys of the two grades, Seventh and Eighth, have also spent the week in tournament play. Teams with captains were arranged as scheduled and play was commenced on Tuesday. The winning volleyball team of the Seventh and Eighth Grades was determined on Thursday. The boys led by Reppard Sapp are champions of the Seventh Grade while the team captained by David Greer is the winner of the Eighth. These teams will receive athletic awards.

Here, too, in the boys' tournament, hotly fought games were the order. Several times, tie scores carried nearly through entire games. Professor King acted as referee for the boys, and he along with Miss Earle deserves much praise.

"The Spotlight"

The school paper of last year was such a success that Miss Lingle, head of the English Department, has asked for the renewal of the paper for this school year. With the assistance of Principal Morris, the following pupils were chosen to assist Miss Lingle in the publication of the paper:

June Bryan, editor-in-chief; Elizabeth Pippin, assistant editor; Carolyn Dague, John Dunn, school activities; Leticia Gormley, Inez Williams, society editors; Sara Russell, Charles Cameron, Wallace Albritton, sports editors; Percy Mero, Jimmy Renaud, feature editors; Mary Alice Hunter, Jane Cochran, Billy Kirtley, Ed Higgins, Estelle Hurt, Willa Mae Pearce, and Joe Douglass, reporters.

Sports Briefs

It is said that during the tournament the yelling of the girls could be heard for blocks. Sorry neighbors if we disturbed you. Rose Hickey is Miss Earle's double when it comes to serving the volleyball. Jim Brown and David Greer are competing for volleyball honors in the Seventh Grade. Mrs. Smith hoped the faculty win over the student all stars on Thursday.

It seems that a portion of last week's Sports Briefs was misunderstood. We assure the public that the entire column is written in school spirit, and for everyone's enjoyment. If we have offended anyone, such was not our intention.

Alumni Invited To Homecoming Events At State University

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 18.—A cordial invitation to the alumni, patrons and friends of the University of Florida, to attend the annual Homecoming here Oct. 25-26 was issued today by President John J. Tigert.

One of the big features of the Homecoming will be the football game in which the Gators will clash with the Maryland Old Lineers. In his official invitation, Dr. Tigert said: "While the football will be the major feature, other events hardly less interesting are being planned this year. Between halves a game in the style and cost of one of the nineties will be staged. A swimming meet, in which Katherine Rawls and other Olympic champions will participate, has been definitely arranged. The preparations which are being made under the auspices of the True Key Society and those co-operating with them justify more than the usual interest which those occasions have awakened in the past. "I am urging every alumnus and good friend of the University to avail themselves of this Homecoming Extraordinary! A number of distinguished guests will be with us and it is confidently expected that there will be a record-breaking attendance. We hope you will come and enjoy each and every feature which has been planned for your entertainment."

Gators Must Plug Up Some Holes If Average Is Kept

Formidable Teams On Schedule To Meet Ole Miss Tomorrow

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Florida's coaches, apparently, will have to plug up some holes pretty quickly if the Gators have hopes of getting through the rest of the season with the 500 average they made in her games of the season with Stanford and Tulane. A list of formidable opponents reads almost like a compendium on "some of the South's better teams."

Starting Saturday at Oxford, Coach Dutch Stanley's boys must face Mississippi, Maryland, Georgia and Kentucky in succession. Mississippi and Georgia ranked as Southeastern Conference championship contenders. Kentucky whipped Georgia Tech. Maryland has a strong team. Not until Nov. 10 when they tackle Suwannee at Gainesville will the Gators enter a game as favorites. They will be even money choices against Georgia Tech, but Auburn, the Nov. 30 opponent, beat Tulane, which downed Florida 19-7. The season will end Dec. 7 at Tampa with South Carolina, at present having a weak team, as the opponent.

Gator stock may jump a bit if Robert Rickett recovers from an injury and gets back to receive some of Capt. Billy Chase's passes. None of the players against Tulane could handle the passes consistently. Efforts were made in training periods this week to strengthen the ground attack. Charlie Hoot was shifted to tackle and may add some strength there.

Squirrels, hares and monkeys range abundantly from the warm lowlands of Ethiopia to heights of 10,000 feet.

Rollins To Meet Newberry Tonight For Fourth Time

Game Between Tars And Indians Will Open The Season

WINTER PARK, Fla., Oct. 18.—When the Rollins Tars clash with the Newberry Indians at Tinker Field in Orlando tonight, it will mark the fourth meeting of the two grid teams. In the three previous battles, the Tars have emerged victorious after hard struggles. The first meeting in Orlando in '32 saw the Rollins team triumph, 7-0, after Will Rogers, present Freshman coach, had shaken away for a 60 yard run and touchdown. The following year the Tars journeyed to Newberry, S. C. where Dave Schrage and Hay Miller led them to a 14-0 win. This game was featured by a fifty yard pass, Miller to Touletotte, that resulted in a touchdown. Last year the Tars came back to win in the second half, 18-7, after trailing, 7-6, at the rest period. This game was featured by the all-round play of the charging Var forward wall and a well conceived passing attack.

To keep their slate clean in the series with Newberry will be the Rollins objective Friday night. Whether they can or not is at the best a guess. With only six letter-men returning from last year's victors, the Tars are forced to put a green and inexperienced team on the field against the Indians who will show fifteen men that are going into their second or third year of competition.

With the margin of experience overwhelmingly against him, Coach Jack McDowell will have to rely on the breaks and alert play on the part of his team for a victory. Besides the host of veterans boasted by the Newberry squad, they have already played three games this season, while the Tars will be raising the curtain on their season.

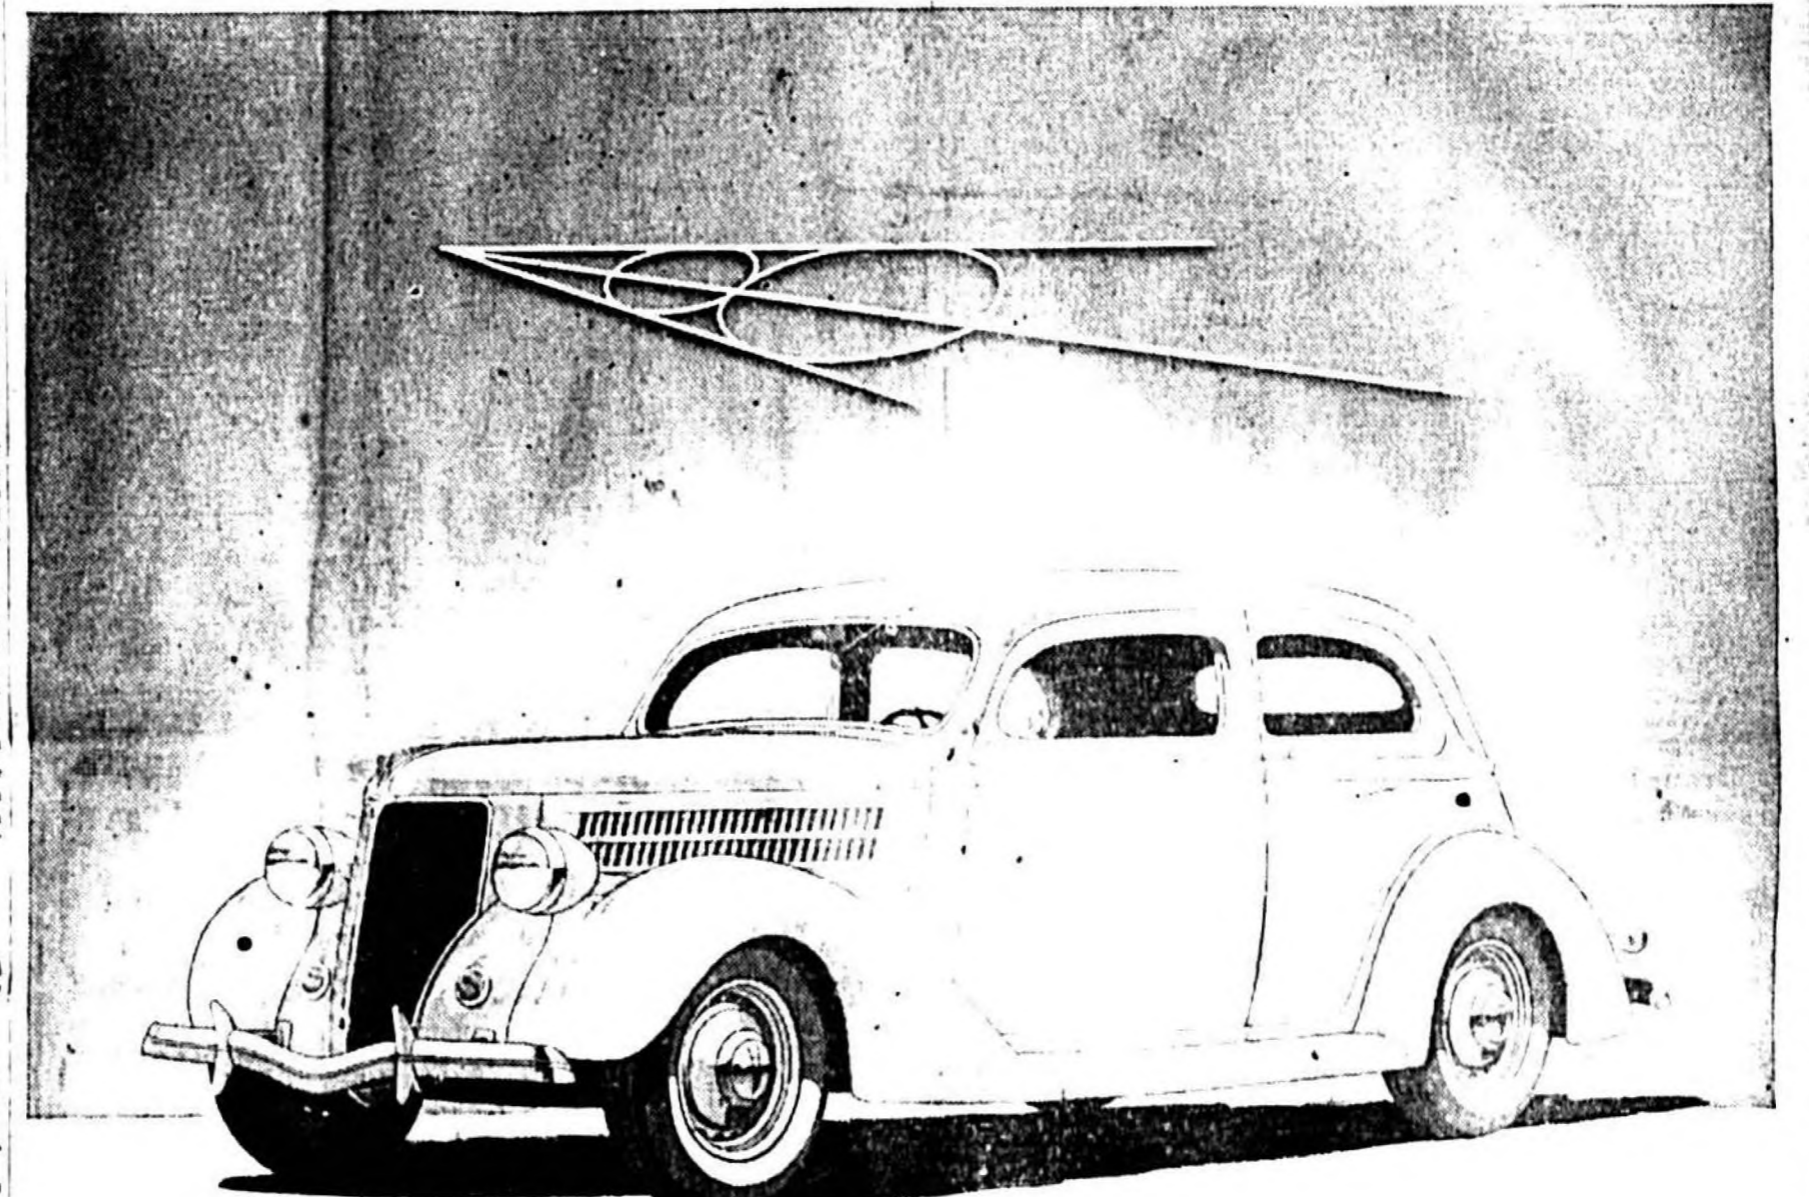

School Is Assured Of Football Field In Sanford By '36

"We'll Get A Field," Football Fans Are Told By Officials

"We'll get a football field before next year's playing season," James E. G. Shanon and Stuart J. McElhiney told the Sanford High School football fans last night at their school assembly hall rally. The officials told the young people that they should not get the impression that their efforts are not appreciated in athletics because no provision has been made for football games in this city, and assured them that a football field will be built in Sanford.

James E. G. Shanon and Stuart J. McElhiney, members of the team going to Daytona Beach tonight to "go in and fight."

INTRODUCED TOMORROW

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936? What is new about it? Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market, and remains the newest for 1936. You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in"—but after all it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first. Other new points about the car make a long list. Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels. Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936. In more practical matters, many improvements have been made—Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5 1/2 gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermo-siphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New louvers permit a rapid air-flow around the engine. Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance. The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long tested, fool-proof, mechanical design. Safety—as always—in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families. A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other. An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers. It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. On display tomorrow by Ford dealers. LOW FORD V-8 PRICES THIRTEEN BODY TYPES—Coupe (3 windows) $310. Tudor Sedan, $320. Tudor Sedan (with trunk) $330. Roadster (with trunk) $340. $350. Coupe (3 windows) $370. # "Dreyfus" Of U.S. Politics Engaged In Engineering In This Section 40 Years Ago

Carter Begins Fight To Efface Stigma Of Term In Prison

Captain Oberlin M. Carter who was the United States Army engineer in charge of projects in northeastern Florida 40 years ago and then sentenced to a term in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth upon his conviction on a charge of misusing government funds, has begun a fight for vindication. He is now a resident of Chicago and succeeded in interesting Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois in his case, and the latter succeeded in the last session of Congress in obtaining the adoption of a resolution calling for a review of the case of the former officer who is regarded by friends as an American Dreyfus.

On his documentary plea Carter contends that he was railroaded to prison through political machinations and the jealousy of Captain Cassius E. Gillette, who succeeded him in charge of the engineering work at Savannah. The political influences were inspired in part, he charges, by resentment of his advocacy, as a member of the Isthmian Canal Commission, of the Nicaraguan route in preference to a Panama waterway.

The climax of Carter's charges came in the assertion that Mark

Captain Oberlin M. Carter

Hanna, of Ohio, Republican, Warwick, persuaded President McKinley to approve the findings of the court-martial that had declared Carter on the argument that Admiral Dewey, then arriving home in triumph from the Spanish-American War, would carry Ohio and, perhaps, become President, if Carter were not sternly dealt with. Ohio was Carter's native state.

Despite his years Carter has the erect stature of a military man. His hair is silvery and is beginning to leave the temples. His eyes are alert behind rimless glasses. The manner of speech clear, terse, and now and again persuasive as he makes an inclusive gesture with his right hand saying "don't you know."

Carter, according to Caleb Enoch, news editor of "The Chicago Daily News," who was one of the character witnesses, was graduated from West Point in the class of '80 with marks of 99.45. The second man in the class was George W. Goethals, who was to become a general, with a mark of 98.8. Carter's mark, according to Enoch, was second in the academy's history, only to that of General Robert E. Lee.

Oberlin M. Carter, former captain in the United States Engineering Corps, whose trial in 1898 and subsequent imprisonment at Leavenworth on a charge of defrauding the United States government of $2,000,000 in the improvement of Savannah harbor caused a scandal which rocked the McKinley administration and filled news columns for months, is regarded by his friends as an American Dreyfus.

In 1897 Captain Carter was at the pinnacle of social and professional success. In addition to having charge of fortifications and improvements in Georgia and northeastern Florida, the President had appointed him to represent the engineers' corps on the Isthmian Canal Commission. At about the same time he was military attaché of the American Embassy in London. One appointment represented the highest professional gift within the power of the President to bestow, the other of the highest social station then within reach of an officer of the engineer corps. Within a year Carter was in effect disgraced.

A country boy from Patroit, Ohio, Carter was appointed as cadet at large to the Military Academy at West Point in 1870 by President Hayes. His career there was distinguished.

Among his first duties as a second lieutenant was an assignment to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where eighteen years later he was to be returned as a felon. In 1884 he went to Savannah as assistant to General Q. A. Gilmore, in charge of the district, and four years later succeeded to the general's position on the latter's death.

In the next ten years Carter was said to have amassed a fortune of between $600,000 and $800,000 on a salary of $3,000 a year. The costs of government contracts were said to have quadrupled.

When Carter went to his London post he was succeeded by Captain Cassius E. Gillette. Within ten days of his arrival at Savannah, Gillette discovered irregularities and ordered an investigation. Carter is said to have been betrayed by a disgruntled clerk.

On May 12, 1898, Carter was convicted by a court martial and received a sentence entailing dismissal from the Army, imprisonment for five years, a fine of $5,000, and publication of his crime and sentence in newspapers in his home town for a period of one year.

The case was appealed to President McKinley, who, then engaged with the Spanish-American War, turned the voluminous record over to Senator George S. Edmunds of Vermont, for a report and later to Attorney General John W. Griggs as well. The appeal dragged on for months while certain sections of the press flayed political and social leaders in Washington and finally, the President affirmed the New York for the delay. Fictitious findings.

Carter was released from Leavenworth Nov. 27, 1903, at the age of forty-seven. During his imprisonment and the few months following his release, the government seized his entire fortune, about $700,000.

He worked for a while as head of a brick plant at Mexico, Mo., and was employed for a few years as consulting engineer of the Florida East Coast Railway, for which he was said to have received "a large salary."

Claret and burgandy are bottled when the wine has ceased to ferment, but champagne is bottled a much earlier stage and finishes fermenting in the bottle.

Shoals At Mouth Of River To Be Dredged

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 18.—Dredging on the shoaled areas between the jetties at the mouth of the St. Johns River will begin in the near future, after repairs are made to the Army Engineers' dredge. Comstock, which is scheduled to arrive here today to go on dry dock.

Capt. P. A. Fergina, acting district engineer here, said last night that it is estimated that the dredging between the jetties, the first of this character to be done there, in about a year and one-half, will remove an estimated quantity of 200,000 yards of material.

Accidental Drowning Is Verdict In Miami

MIAMI, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The body of Ray Wetzel, 43, who came here 10 years ago from Hawthorne, was found floating yesterday in Biscayne Bay.

As there was no indication of foul play, the authorities concluded Wetzel often observed along the waterfront, had accidentally fallen into the water.

He is survived by the widow, Mary, and four children, and a sister, Mrs. Rozier Keene of Losperof.

F. D. R. May Find It Hard To Keep Merit System Promise

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's promise that "the merit system has been and will continue to be extended" for government employes as long as he is an occupant of the White House likely will prove a difficult one to keep.

Despite protestations that the lack of qualified persons on the civil service lists necessitated going off to find workers for "New Deal" agencies, most insiders say the demand for patronage on the part of members of Congress was responsible.

Examination of the record reveals that Congress was unwilling to adhere to the merit system in the appointment of government employes except when absolutely necessary. Even in those agencies listed by the President in his letter to the head of the association of government employes as having been placed under civil service requirements, there are loopholes.

There are only three agencies in the President's list required to adhere to merit from top to bottom in hiring workers. The others have exemptions of varying importance.

The securities commission, for example, can hire "experts" at will.

The farm credit Administration has exemption for "experts" and among its different branches (1)

the crop production loan office, once under civil service, but later switched to patronage by action of Congress; (2) employes directly under FCA Governor Myers, and (3) "experts."

The President mentioned the soil conservation service of the Department of Agriculture among the agencies brought under the merit system. Actually what happened is this: Congress provided that for the first eight months employes could be selected without regard to merit or constitution. After that, according to the law, the employes automatically get civil service status without examination or further ceremony.

Even those agencies definitely under the merit system vary in results. SEC, for example, has come along obeying the spirit of the civil service law religiously, exempting only its "experts." FCC, however, has rebelled against civil service, has not yet replaced its temporary lawyers with men duly certified by examinations.

Comptroller General McNeal has rendered the "expert" loophole considerably smaller than many members of Congress anticipated. He has done this by simple but effective methods of requiring "experts" to post bonds, claims to that title.

With the President squarely back of the merit system, however, the pressure to improve too great for many Congressmen to withstand. The senatorial representatives of the surrender patronage can still require some all crack down to whip into line their members to such a reform.

Spending Seen As Big Issue In Campaign Of '36

By BYRON PRICE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The financial policies of the Roosevelt Administration, its expanding operations and its unbalanced budgets, are being the center of a political attack claimed today by few other issues.

The trend gives increasing weight to the prediction of many politicians that, in the end, the dollars and cents aspect of the situation in Washington will influence far more votes in 1936 than all of the talk about economic theory and the Constitution.

When the ordinary voter grapples with the constitutional issue, he tries to dissect and evaluate "the new economy" or "the new abundant life," he usually fetches up at least in a fog of argument about the Constitution.

With many matters it is difficult. Many obscurities linger in the government's financial statements, and large anyone who can and subtract the balance of the income.

He is balancing the income of the year and draw his own conclusions.

Possibly it was in recognition of this fact that, within a single week, Mr. Roosevelt issued his prediction that no heavier taxes would be necessary to liquidate the depression debts, and Mr. Hoover selected this same theme as the subject of a speech regard as everywhere as the best one.

The latest official figures for the year, $1,470,000,000. President Hoover's prediction for the same period, $1,500,000,000. Total national debt, $30,720,000,000. The deficit for the year, $1,470,000,000.

These are the basic figures from which all calculations start. They mean that the government will have spent more than it has received in 1936.

It appears that the 1936 deficit will be $1,470,000,000 deeper than the 1935 deficit, as it was $1,470,000,000.

Presumably this deficit will be 1936, will be $1,470,000,000 deeper than the 1935 deficit, as it was $1,470,000,000.

Hauptmann's Long Fight To Escape The Chair Reviewed

Legal Resource Left Behind The Bars Convicted Murderer Is Exceedingly Slim

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 18. — (AP) — Bruno Richard Hauptmann's name flashed across the world's front pages on Sept. 20, 1934, with announcement that he had been arrested and charged with kidnaping and murdering the curly-haired Lindbergh baby.

The German-born Bronx carpenter stood silent and apparently emotionless as he heard himself accused of perpetrating one of America's most contemptible crimes.

Shackles bound his hands. But more formidible was the chain of evidence which then seemed to be leading him to his death. In his Bronx garage had been found $13,750 of the ransom money which had been thrown over a cemetery wall in a vain attempt to bring back the 20-month-old son of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

Hauptmann had been identified by a movie camera and a gasoline station attendant as the man who passed bills from that same, tainted bundle.

But, under the American eye, Hauptmann was innocent until proved guilty and it soon became apparent that this foreigner, German speaking, German looking, German acting, German would fight for his life.

He was indicted Sept. 26 by a Bronx grand jury, charged with extorting the $50,000 which was tossed over the wall of St. Raymond's cemetery on Apr. 7, 1932.

Hauptmann pleaded innocence and bail of $100,000 was set. Colonel Lindbergh refused to be a prisoner, but the government agreed and decided he was the man who cried "Hey, doctor!" down the graveyard excavation, the "doctor" referring to Dr. John C. Condon "Jafie" of the ransom negotiations.

Then on Oct. 8, the Hunterdon county grand jury indicted Hauptmann on a charge of murdering the Lindbergh baby.

The legal battle was on. Governor Johnson of New York granted extradition to New Jersey. He was indicted in New York on charges of kidnaping and murder. Proceedings in New York on phone records in fact ruled that Hauptmann had been indicted in New Jersey. That decision was carried to the appellate division of the New Jersey courts.

On Oct. 20 a month after his arrest was announced, Bruno Richard Hauptmann was taken to Flemington, N. J., and lodged in the Hunterdon county jail.

Several respectable, prominent, reputable citizens of Hunterdon county called to see the prisoner and to see the evidence which was against him. The evidence has been upon this. But he was not charged.

He was charged in New Jersey as W. Frank and he was charged with kidnaping and murder. He was charged with kidnaping and murder. He was charged with kidnaping and murder.

coming acquainted with Hauptmann's worried wife, Anna, who from the beginning protested his innocence, painfully, pitifully. It was becoming acquainted with his chubby little son, Manfred, with the garage in the Bronx, which detectives painstakingly took apart and which yielded more ransom money more links in the chain of evidence.

There was record in the camp of the defendant James M. Fawcett was dismissed by Mrs. Hauptmann as her husband's attorney, and, on Nov. 2, the portly, florid Edward J. Reilly was signed as chief counsel.

No chamber of commerce, no smart publicity agent could have brought the town of Flemington the avalanche of notoriety which accrued to it as the site of America's most gripping trial. Reporters, camera men, novelists, thrill-seekers, souvenir-peddlers converged on Flemington as the hour of the trial drew near.

On the first day 10 jurors were chosen upon. The jury consisted of four women and eight men charged with hearing both sides of the case and deciding whether that expressionless German carpenter had committed the almost incredible crime of which he was accused.

The jury heard 162 witnesses testify in the old-fashioned Hunterdon county courthouse—109 for the state, 53 for the defense.

David T. Wilentz, sharp-tongued attorney general of New Jersey, called upon camera and microscope, fact and circumstance to weld the chain that would pull Bruno Hauptmann to the electric chair.

Boggedly, shrewdly, vociferously Edward J. Reilly fought back in defense of the pallid man who, between two blue-coated state troopers and registered complete lack of emotion.

Outrly curious jammed the sidewalks, straining for a glimpse of the famous persons inside. Some bought little ladders and pinned them to their aprons in pep as souvenirs, mementoes of a gala occasion.

Anna Maria Lindbergh was the first to testify of the ransom money surrounding the disappearance of her son. Lindbergh was followed. There was the ransom money of the night of Mar. 1, when their baby was snatched from his crib in the Lindbergh home on a lonely hill in the Southern mountains near Hopewell, N. J.

Softly, Mrs. Lindbergh spoke as she touched the little sleeping one many, gave him a shoe box containing the ransom money. Leader Fisch was not the only witness conjured from the grave to bolster Hauptmann's story or to shift the odor of guilt. Violet Sharpe, Morrow housemaid who committed suicide during the kidnap investigation, also played her part in the trial.

One witness after another was brought forth to substantiate stories of the offense which threw gall toward Fisch and Violet Sharpe.

Handwriting experts swore Hauptmann did not write the ransom note; a wool expert swore the wool in the kidnap ladder did not match Hauptmann's attire.

The state based its case on the theory of a one-man job, by defense hinted broadly at a partner with "inside" connections.

Testimony ended on Feb. 9. Anthony M. Hauck, Hunterdon county prosecutor, summed up the state's case and Reilly tied the defense's case.

Justice Tren had charged the jury on Feb. 13, and at 11:23 A. M. the deliberation began. That night the ball rolled in the courthouse hallway. The jurors filed in for their last momentous appearance, and they returned a verdict of "guilty," without a recommendation for mercy.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann was sentenced to die in the electric chair in the week of Mar. 18. In the death house at Trenton he smiled for photographers.

Notice of appeal was filed. Defense attorneys went to chancery court, and the appeal was automatically thrown into the court of errors and appeals. That body heard both sides on June 20 and began its study.

Mrs. Hauptmann tried to raise funds for further defense, and work having been laid for an appeal to the U. S. Supreme court, Reilly sued for $22,300 for his case was dismissed. Hauptmann saw four men walk past his cell to the electric chair. He held them to "pray to God" as he came. He renounced the Bible. He renounced the check proof Bruno Richard Hauptmann who had the machine gun on the Wall of War.

The state tested its case on Jan. 24. Hauptmann was the first to testify in his own defense, and through hours of savage questioning he maintained his innocence; that he, was in a Bronx bakery with his wife on the night of the kidnaping; that he was at home "making moccasins" on the night the ransom was paid, and that leader Fisch his little girl's partner who died in Germany, gave him a shoe box containing the ransom money.

Lindbergh, stern but retaining some of the boyishness of his first days in the American spotlight, told of the night he went to the Bronx cemetery with "Jafie" and heard a voice from the shadows call "Hey, doctor!" He said the voice was Hauptmann's.

(Later, the defense in taking exception to the jury's verdict claimed the twelve jurors were influenced against Hauptmann by the presence of Lindbergh in the courtroom.)

Betty Gow, the kidnaped baby's nurse, came back from Scotland to testify. The defense questioned her almost viciously, bringing out that she told Henry "Red" Johnson, her suitor, that the Lindberghs would stay with the baby at Hopewell the night of Mar. 1. She denied indignantly that she had "planted" the baby's thumbprint in the roadway of the estate, where it was picked up a month later.

Then "Jafie" went to the stand, told his tale of the ghostly list at St. Raymond's with "John" — "John" is Bruno Richard Hauptmann" cried the old schoolmaster.

Eight handwriting experts, led by Albert S. Osborn of New York, swore that Hauptmann wrote all of the 14 ransom notes, beginning with the one left on the window sill of the baby's nursery.

Others testified they had seen Hauptmann near the Lindbergh home, seen him with a ladder, carried notes for him, observed him "spying" on Jafie.

But it was the kidnap ladder, left broken under the nursery window, that seemed to fasten it self most irrefutably to Hauptmann. Arthur J. Koshler, government wool expert, told of 18 months spent in tracing that ladder — how he traced the wood to a lumber yard where Hauptmann once worked, matched a nail of the ladder with a missing board in the floor of Hauptmann's attic, demonstrated with Hauptmann's own plane to show it left grooves like ones in the ladder.

$1,000 Baby

Just because he was the 10,000th baby born at Lewis Memorial Maternity hospital in Chicago, George Francis O'Dowd was given $1,000 by Cardinal Mundelein and the hospital's fund-raising committee. It didn't seem to mean a great deal to George Francis when the photographer found him in the arms of Nurse Marguerite, but it was a big deal for the exchange.

Yearwood at a meeting this week was elected general manager and this was followed by the selection of C. N. (Pinky) Williams, of Orlando, as sales manager and M. H. Reed of this city as field manager. The Produce and Growers Exchange program is aimed at the orderly marketing of oranges, grapefruit and tangerines, its chief objectives being the marketing of fruit on an f. o. b. basis and the sale of only "tree-ripened" fruit. Contracts have been made in the North that will make possible the orderly marketing of fruit through the seven houses to be opened shortly. These houses will be located according to the volume of fruit the exchange will handle and the complete list will be public by next week.

Special Taxes Are Considered By City Board

Charge Of 10 Cents Per Month On Each Meter Proposed As Means Of Revenue

Driver's License Ordinance Drawn Exempted Homestead Residents May Pay Garbage Collection

Seeking means of offsetting losses resulting from the passage a year ago of the Homestead Exemption Amendment and of obtaining funds necessary for the operation of the municipality, the Sanford City Commission is considering several special tax proposals.

1. Tax of 10 cents per month on each electric gas or water meter and on each telephone.
2. License of $1 per year on each operator of a motor vehicle.
3. Tax of 25 cents or 50 cents per month for collection of garbage from all properties not paying a city property tax.

The three proposals were all discussed at an adjourned session of the City Commission last evening, but no action was taken. Tentative ordinances on the proposed meter tax and the proposed driver's license measure had been prepared by City Attorney Fred R. Wilson, and these were read by the attorney to the Commission as a matter of information.

Commissioner S. O. Shinholzer was not present. Commissioner Vivian A. Speer expressed the opinion that it would be better to wait a few months and see if regular tax collections do not improve before passing any new tax measures, but Mayor T. L. Dumas and Commissioner H. J. Lehman and W. A. Lettler held to the view that something must be done to provide for dwindling revenues at once.

J. L. Marentette, manager of the Milane Theatre, returned last night from New York City with the report that he could find no better motion picture shows in the nation's metropolis. He said that "of course" the big city has some good road shows, but Sanford is too small to book such attractions.

City To Bring Case At Law To Set Aside Sale

Attorney Instructed To 'Go Ahead' And File Proceedings In Circuit Court

The Sanford City Commission last night instructed City Attorney Fred R. Wilson to "go ahead" and file proceedings to set aside the sale of City property. The motion was made by Commissioner W. A. Lettler and was passed unanimously.

Mr. Wilson advised the Commission of the ruling of the State Supreme Court, as published in The Herald on Thursday, and that the new State law enacted last April 19 prohibiting the filing of exceptions on grounds of a municipality, does not apply in the Sanford case as the sale of Sanford property had on April 11, eight days before the law was enacted, levied upon a city property.

Asked as to what the city could do, the attorney advised the Commission that if it wanted to set aside the sale of some 150 parcels of city property, it would have to pay for $175,000 and file a bill of exceptions in the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Florida, in the Sanford case, as the sale of Sanford property had on April 11, eight days before the law was enacted, levied upon a city property.

New Deal Paying For Old Blunders, Caldwell Asserts

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 19.—Congressman Michael Caldwell (D-Fla.), speaking here at a testimonial dinner in his behalf yesterday said, "The New Deal has been forced to spend money for the New Deal, but for the blunders of the Old Deal."

When President Roosevelt assumed office, Caldwell said, "The ship of state was foundering hopelessly with leaks, wash and without rubber, canvas or compass. From the moment he set hands on the helm, the ship of state has steadily heaved the seas and has surely, as of now, forward in clearer skies and more peaceful waters."

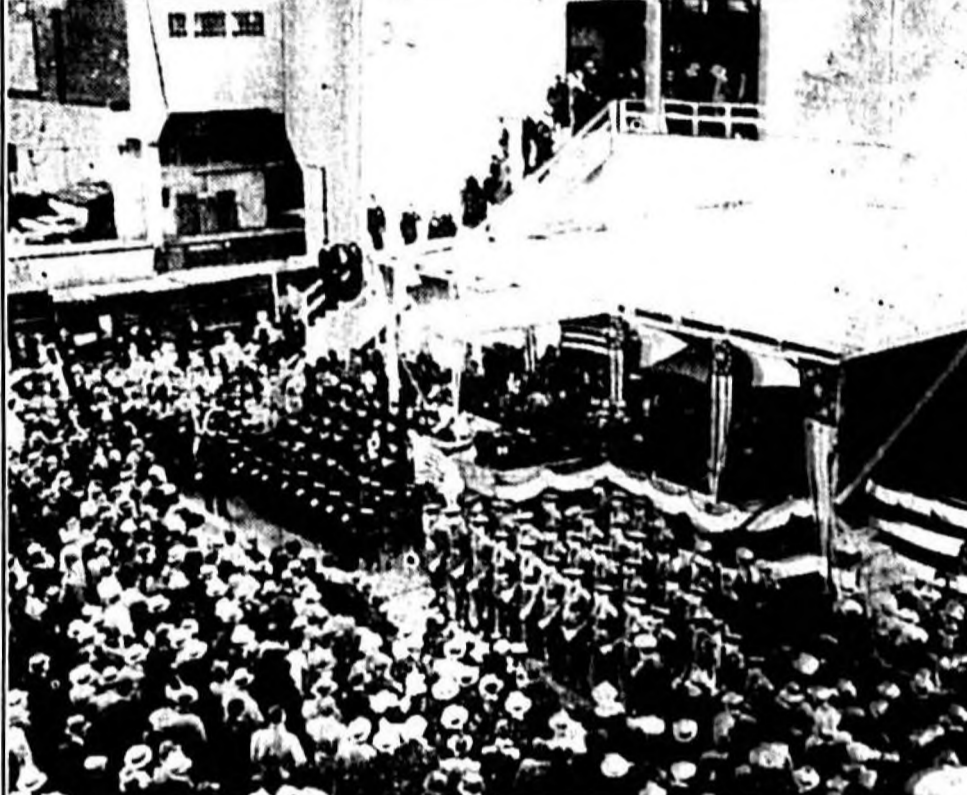

The period of the "great emergency" having now passed, we shall proceed steadily to build the features of permanent recovery upon the foundations we have laid."

Critics Of Administration Rebuked By Judge Wilkinson In Address To Lodge

Declaring that it is "the duty of American citizens to cooperate in every respect with local, State and national governments in their efforts to lift us out of the depression," Judge B. A. B. Wilkinson in an address before the Western of the World, rebuked critics of the Administration, especially those critics who are on the government payroll.

He said it was "serious charge" against an individual who stands on a street corner and criticizes the Administration in its efforts to relieve suffering humanity "and by so doing cutting off the hand that is feeding them."
