ANNULMENT PROCEEDINGS ON TEAPOT DOME OIL LEASES ARE CAUSING POLITICAL SORENESS

For Annulment of the Naval Oil Leases Proceeding Slowly in a Thickening Atmosphere of Political Bitterness.

SENATE DECLINES

Act on the Walsh Annulment Resolution After an All-day Debate in an Special Council.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—While the senate approached a vote today on the naval oil lease annulment resolution the department of justice officials assembled information, obtained through observation of the testimony taken by investigating committees for presentation to special council named by President Coolidge to set for the government in the court proceedings growing out of the inquiry. Silas Brown, Chicago, and Thomas W. Gregory, Austin, Texas, Democrat, an special council, announced last night they had received pressure on the White House to some extent but Secretary Denby who signed the leases with former Secretary Fall and Attorney General Daugherty remained under fire in the senate. The investigation committee meanwhile met and questioned physicians attending Mr. Fall.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Physicians attending Secretary Fall told the senate oil committee Wednesday that former Secretary Fall is in no condition to appear and testify. Hearing behind closed doors and details were not divulged. The purpose of the hearings is to enable the committee to decide whether it would call Fall before it or appoint a subcommittee to examine him in a room as suggested by counsel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The case for annulment of the naval oil leases proceeded slowly Tuesday in a thickening atmosphere of political bitterness. The senate again failed to act on the Walsh annulment resolution after an all day debate in which the demand for the resignation of Secretary Denby was renewed and a similar attack was launched against Attorney General Daugherty.

Ninth Anniversary Birth of Kiwanis Clubs Celebrated

The ninth anniversary of Kiwanis International, was observed by the Sanford Kiwanis Club at the Waldorf Hotel. As part of the program, Dr. F. D. King, pastor of the Baptist Church, spoke on "The People Who Live Apart," and Dr. E. D. Brownlee, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, took as his subject "The Meaning of the Spirit of Kiwanis." The program was in charge of E. F. Lane.

Newspaper Mail To Get Better Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Beginning Friday newspapers will be accorded the same treatment in mails as letters and other first class matter by order made public today by Postmaster General New. The order means much to the American public, said Mr. New. "It is one of the most important and far reaching steps in postoffice history," he added, "which would bring the rural and city populations in closer touch. Newspapers will be put in separate bags labeled 'newspaper.'"

ANDERSON FOUND GUILTY CHARGE OF "SPILLING"

Supreme Court Convicts Anderson of Third Degree Forgery in "Spilling" Commissions.
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Dry leaders Wednesday indicated that William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, convicted by a jury before the supreme court, Judge Tompkins, last night of third degree forgery, probably would appeal the verdict before Feb. 2, the date set for the announcement of the sentence.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York Tuesday was convicted by a supreme court jury on both counts of an indictment charging him with third degree forgery in connection with a former league fund solicitor. Justice Tompkins announced Anderson be sentenced Friday, Feb. 2, to a term of 18 months in which he has been at liberty since the indictment was returned, was continued. It was understood an appeal would be taken.

Lincoln House Is Leased by Party From Winter Haven

The Lincoln House owned and operated for many years by F. A. Lincoln, has been leased to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cole of Winter Haven, who assumed the management on Monday of this week. The hotel which is located on West First Street, will be operated on the European plan. Mr. Cole stated Wednesday. The dining room will be operated under new management. Mr. Cole having leased it to Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jones of this city. Within a short time work will begin on repainting, repapering and making alterations on the hotel. Mr. Cole further stated. The entire house will undergo changes in some kind and when finished will be managed by the new management. Mr. Cole has had extensive business interests and other properties there and decided to come to Sanford to locate. He and Mrs. Cole are both delighted with this city and are optimistic over the prospects of the "Celery City." "We are particularly impressed with the splendid hospitality of the people of Sanford," said Mr. Cole.

AMENDMENT FILED

By The Associated Press. ATLANTA, Jan. 30.—Indicating the line of defense in the $500,000 suit filed against Asa G. Candler, Sr., Atlanta, by Mrs. Onezima De Bouché of New Orleans, for alleged breach of promise, attorneys for Mr. Candler filed with United States Judge Sibley Wednesday an amendment to the original petition asserting that at the time of Candler's engagement to marry the New Orleans woman, she was legally married to Adelphe Rouquet of New Orleans.

SHOALS LEASE HEARINGS COME TO CONCLUSION

House Military Committee Discussing Various Offers Today Now Has Four Bids Before It—Ford Won't Appear.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Hearings on the lease of Muscle Shoals were brought to a close late Tuesday by the house military committee after it had received another proposal for the lease. The committee which Wednesday takes up discussion of the offers now has four bids before it.

The new proposal was made by E. H. Hooker, president of the Hooker Electro-Chemical Company, Niagara Falls, N. Y., who said he represented himself with James G. White, president of the White Engineering Corporation and W. W. Hetherington, vice-president of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Hooker's offer Mr. Hooker's offer in brief would leave the Muscle Shoals property in the hands of the government with his corporation being responsible for its operation. He and his associates would place with the government $1,000,000 as a guarantee of good faith, and money needed for the development and operation of the project would be furnished by the government.

Hull on Ford Refusal

WAY CLEAR FOR RATE REVISION OF INCOME TAX

Committee Changes Many Phases of Mellon Plan But Upholds Proposed Rate of 25 Per Cent Reduction On Earned Income.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The way was practically cleared Wednesday for revision of the income tax rates by the house ways and means committee but Republican members in two meetings failed to map out a course to pursue against the united stand of Democrats for higher surtaxes than those recommended by Secretary Mellon.

Clearing up some of the other sections of the bill, the committee upheld Mr. Mellon's proposed rate of 25 per cent for reductions on earned income but changed materially his suggestions for a board of tax appeals.

Approval was given for creation of such a board to hear all contested cases between the internal revenue bureau and taxpayers but the board was taken entirely out of the jurisdiction of the treasury department when the president was given power to appoint the board members instead of the treasury secretary. A motion to have the appointments confirmed by the Senate was defeated.

Episcopal Church Acquires Valuable Piece of Property

Announcement was made Wednesday that the Holy Cross Episcopal Church of this city has purchased from George C. Chamberlain, formerly of Sanford but now of Daytona Beach, the house and lot at 411 Park Avenue. The house, which has been occupied by Luke Thompson and family, will serve as the rectory house where Rev. Arthur S. Peck and his mother will reside.

Plan Construction Florida Railroad

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The proposal to construct 229 miles of new railroad in Florida was filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Florida Western and Northern Railroad Company. The road desires to construct a main line 250 miles long from Colman to West Palm Beach with two branches to be known as Valrico and Callahan cutoff. The system planned will constitute an application said to be the only cross-state railroad in central and southern Florida. No estimates of the costs involved were filed.

U. S. AND GREECE HAVE DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS AGAIN

Relations Severed in 1920 Resumed Again When Hughes Receives Greek Envoy.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Greece were resumed Tuesday when Secretary Hughes received M. Tsamados, Greek representative in Washington, in charge of affairs and instructed Ray Atherton, who has been unofficially in charge of American affairs at Athens, to act as charge d'affaires and interim to the Greek government.

It is expected that the accreditation of a minister will await receipt by Greece of the constitutional question under consideration in Athens. Severed in 1920 after the death of King Alexander and the return to Athens of Constantine. The regime which followed the latter was regarded as a non-partisan bill which its position unconfirmed by elections. Recent elections now, however, have resulted in the establishment of a government in such a way as to enable the United States to extend formal recognition although the question of whether a republican or monarchial form of government should be established is yet to be decided at Athens.

Washington News

By The Associated Press. The United States extended diplomatic recognition to Greece. The department of justice held the flexibility provisions of the tariff law to be sound. The Norbeck-Burness farm aid bill was favorably reported by the senate agriculture committee.

First Street Will Be Extended East Within Short Time

At the weekly meeting of the City Planning Commission Tuesday night at the city offices, further plans for the extension of east First Street through to Meltonville Avenue, were discussed and it is announced that within a short time this will probably be taken up by the city inasmuch as nearly all of the property holders concerned have signified their willingness to give their part of the right of way.

AMERICAN RELEASED

BODY FORMED TO HANDLE THE CELERY CROP

Organization Formed Monday Night Is To Control Shipment of Celery From Seminole County For Remainder of Season.

FOREST LAKE IS HEAD OF NEW ORGANIZATION WHICH PROPOSES TO SHIP NO MORE CELERY FOR THE REST OF THIS WEEK—ONLY BEST QUALITY OF PRODUCE WILL BE SHIPPED.

An organization was formed in Sanford Monday night which is declared will aid materially in solving the difficulties now facing the growers of celery in this section. The purpose of this organization, as stated by the chairman, Forest Lake, is to control the shipment of celery from this county for the remainder of the season.

B. F. Whitner, Sr., is the secretary of the newly formed body and it is stated that its members include leading growers as well as shipping interests. It is said to have the whole-hearted support of everyone interested in the securing of a good price for the produce shipped from this section.

The first decision to be made by the body which is already in effect and which is believed will bring about desired results, is that no more celery will be cut and shipped this week. Tuesday, it is said, there were three cars shipped from Sanford and Wednesday only two were shipped. For the remainder of the week there will be no more movements of the crop. Meanwhile, Mr. Lake stated, that inquiries have been received asking when more celery will be shipped, stating in effect that the market will be short by Thursday. In answer to these inquiries, it is said that there will be no more celery sent from Seminole county for the rest of the week.

Mayor Lake, in commenting upon the situation, made it clear that such a move was imperative at this time. The manner in which the growers and shippers are trying to handle the situation, independence of each other will never come about. There must be co-operation in the matter and the way we are endeavoring to handle the matter, will bring results, we feel sure, he continued. "As a matter of fact," the mayor said, "the crop here is ahead of last year and as a result has been on the market along with California celery and has caused an over-crowded market which in turn served to shoot the prices downward. We are anxious to get a good price for celery and a price lower than that is now bringing will have to be received for the growers to make money. "The situation must be handled and handled wisely and quickly or the growers will have one of the worst seasons in history. It now appears that everything will turn out alright for the best interests of everyone concerned."

First Street Will Be Extended East Within Short Time

At the weekly meeting of the City Planning Commission Tuesday night at the city offices, further plans for the extension of east First Street through to Meltonville Avenue, were discussed and it is announced that within a short time this will probably be taken up by the city inasmuch as nearly all of the property holders concerned have signified their willingness to give their part of the right of way.

Much correspondence from the planning boards of other cities was read and maps showing the various zoning systems being used were examined. It was a source of much satisfaction to the members of the local body to note that many similar organizations throughout the state which have been formed for a longer time than tell local one, have not accomplished as much as the Sanford body. The local body has been in existence for only a short time yet its work has been the subject of much praise by the members of the City Commission and other city officials.

The board voted to approve the ordinance of the city known as number 73 which provides that the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company be allowed to build an industry track on the south side of Commercial Street. It was recommended, however, that the company place the track on the south 13 feet instead of 15 feet as provided in the ordinance. It was also asked that the present track be removed from present location so as to allow enough space between the two tracks for the passage of three vehicles and allow more room for loading purposes.

FARM RELIEF

 Meanwhile that the entire $25,000,000 be made available during this year.

President Coolidge, has arranged to have a spokesman for every line of trade which deals with agriculture participate in the conference scheduled for next Monday. Although there was no official announcement, it was said the representation would include transportation, mercantile, warehousing, insurance, farm implement and fertilizer, and some basic manufacturing lines.

Would Provide Federal Funds.
 The president's conference with the four officials who investigated the credit situation was said to have worked toward a plan by which federal funds would be made available to bank stockholders for recapitalization of institutions whose resources have been depleted. Further conferences will be held on the subject and some officials predicted a decision by Mr. Coolidge tomorrow on the form of relief to be employed.

Legislation will be needed if the form of government aid indicated is determined upon and those favoring its use believe the war finance corporation should be the agency employed. There seemed to be no doubt that congressional approval would be given to the required legislation if the president requested it.

Harris Speaks for South
 Notice that pending farm relief legislation must include the Southern farmer was given today by Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia.

President Coolidge offered no encouragement and aid," said Senator Harris, "for the Southern farmer in his message making a special appeal for the Northwest. I shall support legislation to help the farmers in every section of the country and unless adequate legislation is recommended by the committee I expect to offer amendments to extend aid to the Southern farmer."

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE MILANE
 What is promised to be one of the best pictures to be shown at Sanford movie lovers this year, will be the picture "If Winter Comes," which will be shown at the Milane Theatre on Thursday and Friday of this week.
 William Fox's production of "If Winter Comes" has one cardinal virtue. It is, to our knowledge, the first motion picture ever produced that abides religiously by the author's intention. It is an actual photograph of the novel's characters and incidents. Accordingly the audience who, having read the book, assemble to see the picture, will not be disappointed. The production is leagues ahead of the ninety and nine films that unreal their varying fictions for the motion picture public.

So widespread has been the circulation of the novel that it seems unnecessary to detail the complicated twists of fate that followed Mark Sabre through and just beyond the period of the war. Not only are they all included in the film, but even the language of the author is retained in almost every subtitle. These latter might well be studied thoughtfully by the rank and file of subtitle composers.

The cast, with minor exceptions, is one of the most evenly capable that has presented a picture on Broadway in some time. Particularly old Percy Marston, as Mark Sabre, give evidence of a difficult task well done. The Lady Tybar of Ann Forrest and the High and Low Links of Dorothy Allen and Eleanor Daniels were other parts particularly well taken.

Improved Film Type Comes From Britain

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Hundreds of thousands of feet of cinema films and countless phonograph records, are being carefully preserved by museum authorities in London, so that future generations may see how things were done in this age, and hear what prominent British statesmen had to say of present day problems.

One difficulty in the way of this undertaking of interpreting today to tomorrow has been found in the fact that cinema films contract and deteriorate with age, but a British firm claims to have invented a film that will not shrink and that is not inflammable.

GOODS FLOOD ENGLAND

LONDON, Jan. 29.—There is today a new twist to the familiar expression "Made in Germany."

Under the English system of free trade, great quantities of cheap German manufactured products are dumped on the English market. To the casual purchaser during the rush of holiday shopping the words "Designed in England" meet the eye. In smaller print below, almost unreadable, was the regulation "Made in Germany" mark.

AN EDUCATIONAL SURVEY OF STATE

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 29.—The Episcopal Diocese of South Florida will convene here today for a meeting of three days, through the 31st. The sessions will be held in St. Andrew's church.

The Daughters of the King and the Church Service League, meeting simultaneously, will hold their sessions in the Episcopal House of Prayer and St. John's Church, respectively.

Maitland Scout Troop Carries Registration Figures Over the Top

At a meeting of the scout executives of the Sixth Region, which includes North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, one of the objectives was to put over Scouting by adding 6,000 Scouts to the Southeastern district, each Scout in the district was named a quota which it was to meet. The number of Scouts which the central Florida council should register before the first of September amounted to 537. At headquarters Monday we learned that this full quota had been reached, and that the registration of Maitland Troop No. 1 carried the figures over the top.

The spirit of Scouting is abroad in the land, especially in the central Florida council, which is wide awake to the great opportunities which is offered the youth of today with the building of character and the training of citizenship.

Eustis Makes Plans for Athletic Park

EUSTIS, Jan. 28.—This city has acquired a 20-acre tract of land on the city boundary of the city limits, on which probably will be constructed baseball diamonds to take care of the major league teams that may desire to train here. Portions of the tract probably will be devoted to parks or used for fair grounds.

BUILDING ACTIVITY DROPS

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—Building construction in Berlin during 1923 fell far below the record of 1922. In the last quarter it was only 43 per cent of the amount for the corresponding period of 1922.

ARE ON DECREASE REPORT INDICATE

TAMPA, Jan. 29.—(Special)—Frank E. Jennings, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor at the June primaries is carrying his fight into South Florida this week, with a speaking program which will keep him busy until Saturday. Mr. Jennings opened his South Florida speaking engagements Saturday with a talk before the United Commercial Travelers in Tampa. He remained in Tampa and vicinity over the week-end, and was meeting the voters here Monday throughout the day. Tuesday his schedule calls for a speech at Bradentown, while he is to speak Wednesday at Sarasota, Thursday at Clearwater. The Jacksonville candidate expresses himself as being delighted with the evidences of support for his candidacy, which he is receiving from all over the state. He has recently visited Central Florida and the east coast, filling a number of speaking engagements and meeting the voters.

The movement was put under way about three months ago by the education association with a campaign to enlist a large number of lay members in that organization with the view of obtaining general co-operation of the citizens throughout the state in bringing about the survey.

Fumes Meant for Rats Hurt French Soldiers

HAVRE, Jan. 29.—The danger of fumigating the holds of ships to exterminate rats without first clearing the whole ship of passengers and crew has been brought strongly to the attention of the French government as a result of the recent suffocation of several members of the crew of the Caroline. The report to the government points out that, despite all possible precautions, it is impossible effectively to fumigate one hold without allowing the deadly fumes to seep through to other parts of the ship. Stricter regulations for "de-rating" ships are expected soon to be put into effect.

Theft of Pair Boots Causes a Commotion

STAMFORD, England, Jan. 29.—For the trial of one man, eventually put on probation, for stealing a pair of boots, the following had to attend at the quarter sessions: the recorder, the mayor, the deputy mayor the clerk and his deputy, a prosecuting solicitor, a police superintendent, an inspector, two sergeants, four constables, 40 jurymen and women, three reporters and the official shorthand writer.

SUNDAY CROWDS BARRED

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Because various religious bodies united in protest, the British Empire Exposition, to be held in the spring, will close its doors every Sunday. The argument advanced was that the exposition will be largely an entertainment.

PROTECTED BONDS yielding 7%
 IN THE SOUTH—MONEY FOR NEW CONSTRUCTION EARNS A HIGH WAGE
 ALMOST overnight vast changes are being wrought upon the sky-line of Southern cities. New office buildings, hotels and apartment houses are rushed to completion to meet the ever increasing demand for business and living quarters.
 The South can afford to offer attractive terms for capital—money works hard and earns a high wage in the South. Atlanta needed $20,600,000 in 1922 for new construction; Jacksonville, $5,800,000; Tampa, $3,100,000; Birmingham, $7,300,000; Memphis, $20,900,000; Knoxville, $5,042,174—and still the demand for accommodations far outstrips the building program.
 Can you imagine a better security for your money than improved central business property in one of these great cities, property carefully selected by a house whose intimate knowledge of real estate conditions in Southern cities is the result of 58 years' experience in this field?
 Adair Protected Bonds yielding as high as 7%, are secured by first mortgages upon the highest type of income producing properties in Southern cities. In every case the true value of the property is far greater than the amount of the loan, and the earning power far in excess of the greatest yearly interest and principal payments necessary to retire the loan.
 The rigid system of safeguards surrounding these bonds has been evolved from 58 years' experience, during which time not one investor has ever lost a dollar through a first mortgage investment recommended by this firm.
 If your money is not earning as high as 7%, we would suggest that you investigate Adair Protected Bonds without delay. Thousands of investors have found in these bonds a means to greatly increasing their incomes without sacrificing one iota of safety.

Motorists Should Carry Emergency Auto Accessories

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30—Emergency essentials which every motorist should carry in order to avoid inconvenient or dangerous delays on the road, are described in a statement issued today by M. O. Eldridge of Washington, executive chairman of the American Automobile Association.

"With the new year many drivers are thinking of their cars and of the reconditioning necessary to put them in first class running order for the Spring," says Mr. Eldridge. "In this connection special attention should be given to the making up of a kit for emergency use while on the road. The carrying of the few essentials listed here will avoid inconvenient delays and sometimes serious accidents. It is surprising how many motorists take the road while lacking equipment which may readily become more important to them than a supply of gasoline or spare tire.

"The following should be in the car of every motorist at all times, in addition to the regular tool kit equipment:

"1. A pair of pliers. These will be found very useful in opening vacuum tanks, tightening bolts and in making adjustments to the motor.

"2. A pocket flashlight with extra battery cells. For making all kinds of repairs and adjustments after dark a good flashlight is invaluable. It is also useful in ascertaining the amount of gasoline in the tank, the reading of road signs, and working on tires, etc.

"3. A section of towing rope. Expensive tows may often be avoided if a light, compact cable be at hand when the motor dies. Heavy mud is encountered. Passing motorists will often help if a tow rope is available.

"4. A spark plug socket wrench. Many drivers carry extra plugs but no good wrench to remove the damaged plug and insert the spare.

"5. A set of tire chains. The

AUTOISTS FIND PERFECT ROADS THRU FLORIDA

By O. M. WELLS
Chief Roadman, Automobile Club of America.

There is no section in Florida with a greater diversity of scenery than the route crossing through the center of the state from Daytona to Tampa and the roads are all hard surfaced in excellent condition.

The first stretch of road going west from Daytona, goes to DeLand, and county seat of Volusia county and the commercial center of a well developed agricultural section, which has a permanent population of about 4,000. This is augmented greatly in winter by tourists and students attending the university. Stetson University with a plant of 17 buildings and an investment of more than $1,000,000 is situated there. DeLand has a delightful climate the year round, being situated on the highlands of central Florida, surrounded by forests intermingled with orange and grapefruit groves. Her climate is one of the best in the south. There are a number of good hotels in DeLand.

Leaving DeLand the trunk line goes through and across St. John's River at Monroe to Sanford on the south side of Lake Monroe at the head of the navigation on the St. John's River. It is an important railroad center and also the terminus of the Clyde Line of steamers plying between Jacksonville and Sanford. The St. John's River trip is a favorite with Florida tourists and Sanford has become the mecca for great numbers who seek the enjoyment of a voyage on the great inland waterway of Florida.

Fine hotels and every opportunity for outdoor enjoyment in the ideal climate of this vicinity are provided.

From Sanford there is a good road going west from Sorrento to Eustis. There is also a good connection from Sanford through Ocala to New Smyrna. Continuing south from Sanford the trunk line goes through Lake Mary, Altamonte, Maitland to Winter Park, an attractive location just west of the center of the lake region. There are many attractions at this resort during the winter. Eighteen hole golf course and the many lakes and excellent roads to outlying districts offer numerous forms of pleasurable outdoor amusement. Five miles beyond the trunk line goes through Orlando.

Orlando is delightfully placed in the high pine lake region of central Florida, in one of the best citrus growing belts. The well paved streets and the many miles of tiled sidewalks, perfectly shaded by giant live and water oaks planted more than 40 years, make an uninterrupted natural park around and among the nearby lakes, which have been improved and beautified to a high degree. The town offers unrivaled opportunities for complete repose and restful recreation. The hotels, boarding houses and homes, sheltered by stately trees, surrounded by flower gardens, give the place a most picturesque aspect. For the tourist there are golf, hunting, boating, fishing, riding, driving, automobiling, tennis and polo. The eighteen hole golf course is an excellent one and lies along side the beautiful lake and there is a commodious club house affording every facility.

Road to Lake Apopka

From Orlando there is an excellent road going through Lockhart and Apopka to Plymouth, Lake Apopka one of the largest lakes in central Florida. There is also a good road through Orlando south to Lake Apopka. The trunk line continues south through Pinecastle and Taft to Kissimmee on the north end of Tahopekaliga Lake. A good road runs from Orlando south east to Norcross and St. Cloud. Kissimmee is situated on the banks of Lake Tahopekaliga, one of the beautiful chain that finds outlet through the Caloosahatchie river into the gulf. It is in the midst of tropical scenes and surroundings as weird and wild as exist on this continent. An interesting side trip is through the canals and Kissimmee river to Lake Okeechobee, thence winding through the Caloosahatchie past Forts Thompson and Denaud, famous in the Seminole wars, to Fort Myers. The hunting and fishing throughout this region are unrivaled. In and about Kissimmee there are brick and asphalt highways connecting with other nearby places in south Florida. A good golf course is open to visitors.

After leaving Kissimmee the route continues south through Campbell, Loughman, Davenport to Haines City. There are alternate routes from Haines City going west, one through Winter Haven to Auburndale, the other direct to Auburndale. Motorists going directly south from Haines City through Lake Wales to Sebring or through Bartow and Arcadia commence the southern route from Haines City. Continuing west through Lake Alfred and the picturesque village of Auburndale to Lakeland, which is midway between Kissimmee and Tampa with an elevation of 227 feet above sea level this interior city is frequently and appropriately called "The Gem of the Lake District." Lakes dot the surrounding landscape in every direction. There are eight lakes within the city limits which in connection with those in the outlying contiguous sections afford unusual opportunities for fresh water sports. Boating, fishing, bathing and hunting are among the most attractively pursued pastimes at this resort. Good hotels enhance the popularity of the place. The Lakeland Highland golf course is laid out on 145 acres of hilly land rising from 25 to 150 feet above the level of Lake Scott. A bathhouse and bathing pavilion on the shore of the lake are added attractions.

Twenty Years of Successful Automobile Building

January 28, Buick celebrates its twentieth birthday.

Proud as Buick is of its growth within the short space of two decades, it is not in its vast organization that Buick takes its greatest pride. Rather it is in what these attainments indicate.

Buick's position of leadership has been achieved solely by the accomplishments of Buick cars in the hands of more than a million owners. In their dependable performance, in their satisfying comfort, and in their year by year fulfillment of every demand of motoring, Buick cars have won the place they occupy.

From the rich background of experience—with all of its unequalled manufacturing facilities—and inspired by a deep sense of personal obligation to Buick friends, owners and the general public—Buick will seek ever to maintain on an even higher level the confidence of the public which it now enjoys.

CARNEGIE HERO FUND COMMISSION RECOGNIZES 25 ACTS OF HEROISM IN ITS MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY

PITTSBURG, Jan. 30.—The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, at its twentieth annual meeting here late yesterday, recognized 25 acts of heroism by awarding 25 gold, three silver and 21 bronze medals in addition to $3,950 a year in pensions to the dependents of 12 of the heroes who lost their lives. The Commission also awarded $3,350 to heroes' dependents to be expended under direction of the Commission; $5,800 for educational purposes, and $0,000 for other worthy purposes.

The heroes who lost their lives while performing deeds of valor, including one woman, were:

Helen Gill Geist, 166 West Main Street, Newark, Delaware; killed while attempting to rescue a child from the path of an automobile truck at Newark, Del., on May 29, 1923; bronze medal to her son.

Charles O. Cox, Belton, Texas, saved a girl from drowning in the Leon River, Belton, Texas, on April 16, 1922, but was himself drowned; bronze medal to his father.

Arthur Washburn Severance, 271 Bridge Street, East Bridgewater, Mass., a student, died attempting to rescue a girl from drowning in the Atlantic Ocean at North Truro, Mass., on July 29, 1922; bronze medal to his father.

Perr L. Oliver, Carmi, Ill., died attempting to save a girl from drowning in the Wabash river at New Haven, Ill., on August 8, 1922; bronze medal to his sister.

Frank L. VanTilbury, Coeosa, Indiana, died while trying to save an aged man from the path of a train at Coeosa on March 6, 1923; bronze medal to widow and beneficiaries of $50 a month.

Greenville F. Crisp, Doole, Texas, died while attempting to save a fellow laborer from suffocating in a well at Brady, Tex., on Sept. 18, 1922; bronze medal to widow, and $50 a month with $5 a month additional for a daughter.

Walter D. Dye, R. 2, Cline, Ill., a farmer, died while trying to rescue another farmer from drowning in the Little Wabash River at Goldengate, Ill., on July 15, 1923; bronze medal to widow and $50 a month with $5 a month additional on account of each of three children.

Stanislav Wiecki, 2132 W. Eighteenth Place, Chicago, Ill., drowned after saving a man from South River, at South River, Mo., on August 13, 1922; bronze medal and $5 to widow monthly, with $5 additional for each of three children.

Paul J. McGrain, Ovid, N. Y., died attempting to rescue a fellow laborer from being run down by a train at Grove City, on October 5, 1923; silver medal to son, who resides with Mrs. Mary B. McCarragher, Ovid, N. Y.

Philip Godyville, Godyville Plantation, Mo., was fatally injured rescuing three children from burning in a house at Godyville Plantation on July 18, 1921; silver medal to his mother.

Bernard A. Mukley, 118 North Lawton Avenue, Tulsa, Okla., fatally injured while trying to save a driller from burning in an oil well fire at Ranger, Tex., on May 30, 1923; silver medal to his father.

Charles L. Coe, Burkburnett, Texas, died while rescuing two children from a burning house at Burkburnett on Feb. 6, 1923; gold medal to the widow with $65 a month and $5 additional on account of each of three children.

The heroic deed of Severance at North Truro, Mass., brought recognition to two other heroes. Albert Goodwin Perry, 24 Gates Road, Brookline, Mass., who rescued the girl Severance tried to save was given a bronze medal, while Calvin Hayes Elliott, 45 Bloomfield Avenue, Hartford, Conn., who participated in the rescue and also attempted to save another woman at the same time, received a bronze medal.

Other heroes whose names were placed in the records of the Commission, were:

Albert M. Clark, Underwood Apartment, New York Avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., saved a man from drowning and attempted to rescue a girl at Atlantic City, Oct. 10, 1920; bronze medal; James G. Gabelle, 151 West 145th Street, New York City, attempted to save a young man from drowning in the bay at Hopefield, Ark., on April 21, 1921; bronze medal; Richard W. Sullivan, 40 Parkton Road, Boston, Mass., saved a woman from drowning at Surry, Me., Aug. 20, 1920; bronze medal; John Miller, 214 West 107th Street, Los Angeles, Cal., crossing watchman, attempted to save a man and a woman from the path of a train at Winnetka, Ill., Sept. 1, 1919; bronze medal; George Koenig, 309 Olive Street, Evansville, Ind., watchman, saved a man and a woman from being killed by a train at Evansville, July 2, 1921; bronze medal; Marshall E. Miller, Butte City, California, attempted to save a girl and did rescue a man from drowning at Butte City, June 7, 1918; bronze medal; Porter G. Gish, R. D. Boxville, Kentucky, a mine motorman, saved 24 men from floating in a mine fire at Henderson, Ky., May 20, 1924; bronze medal; M. Owell Matthews, Albia, Texas, a girl student, rescued a farmer from an enraged bull at Albia on Feb. 1, 1921; bronze medal; Margaret L. Oswald, 436 South Main Avenue, Scranton, Pa., 12 year old school girl, attempted to save a boy from drowning at Orson, Pa., on Aug. 7, 1920; bronze medal; G. Frank Flynn, Machiasport, Me., 14 year old school boy, saved a fellow pupil from drowning at Machiasport on June 15, 1921; bronze medal; and John C. Tinklepaugh, 3905 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa., saved two boys from drowning when they broke through the ice while skating on Nakomis Creek, Factoryville, Pa., on Jan. 24, 1921; bronze medal.

Helpful Advice Given About Filing Income Tax Returns for 1923

In the making of an income tax return for the year 1923, taxpayers of every class, business and professional men, salaried persons, wage-earners and farmers should present to themselves for consideration the following questions:

Did you receive any interests on bank deposits?

Have you any property from which you receive rent?

Did you receive any income in the form of dividends or interest from stocks or bonds?

Did you receive any bonuses during the year?

Did you make any profit on the sale of stocks, bonds, etc.?

Did you act as broker in any transaction for which you received a commission?

Are you interested in any partnership or other firm from which you receive income?

Have you any income from royalties or patents?

Have you any minor children who are working?

Have you the control of the earnings of such children? If so, the amount must be included in the parent's return of income.

Has your wife any income from any source whatever? If so, it must be included in your return, or reported in a separate return of income.

Did you receive any directors' fees or trustees' fees in the course of the year?

Did you hold any office in a benefit society from which you received income?

Answers to these questions are necessary in the filing of a correct income tax return.

If single (or married and not living with wife) and the net income was $1,000 or more, or the gross income $5,000 or more, or if married and living with wife and the couple's net income was $2,000 or more, or the gross income was $5,000 or more, a return is required. The fact that the income may not be taxed by reason of the personal exemptions for married persons whose net income was $5,000 or less and $2,000 for married persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000, plus the $400 credit for each dependent—does not alter this requirement.

The filing period ends at midnight of March 15, 1924. Forms for filing returns may be obtained at the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, Jacksonville, Fla., and the following branch offices, Tampa, Miami, and Pensacola. Persons whose net income was $5,000, or regardless of the amount, was derived from business, profession or farming should ask for Form 1040.

Prominent Speakers to Speak to Students of Woman's College

FLORIDA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN, Jan. 30.—During the month of February several prominent speakers will appear at the Florida State College for Women, under auspices of the Y. W. C. A. of the institution.

First on the list will be Dr. Alexander C. Purdy, of the Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn. He has been present at numerous student conferences of the Y. W. C. A. and attended the Blue Ridge convention last summer. He will speak here three evenings, Feb. 5, 6 and 7, on the subject "Christian Fundamentals." His time will also be open for conferences with the young women.

Between Feb. 12 and 14, Miss Anna Clarke, one of the national rural secretaries of the Y. W. C. A., will visit the college and address the students. Miss Clarke has charge of all rural work of the Y. W. C. A. in the South. Her headquarters are in Atlanta.

Louise Leonard, national industrial secretary of the Y. W. C. A., will visit the college the last of February. She has charge of all industrial work of the Y. W. C. A. in ten southern states. She will not address the students formally, but will hold discussion groups for those who care to attend.

Chinese Girl Defied The Ancient Custom

PEKING, Jan. 30.—Miss Chiang Chin-yin, a high school girl of 18 years, has rebelled against an ages-old Chinese custom. By means of an advertisement in certain Chinese papers she recently notified all concerned that she refused to recognize a betrothal agreement made by her parents with the father of a young man, Hsiang Pao-chi.

Miss Chiang, in her unprecedented announcement, declares that since the matrimonial agreement was made during her infancy she never will endorse it, but will consider it of no effect. Her defiance of parental authority is regarded as an indication of the development of a new spirit in Chinese women, which eventually may result in modification of the present custom of infant betrothal.

Missionaries Puzzle Over Apparent Use of Profanity by Chinese

MANILA, Jan. 30.—Several missionaries motoring recently through Tondo, a district of Manila in which many small Filipino and Chinese stores are located, noticed frequent signs on which was written the word "dammit." One of the women in the party appeared somewhat surprised that the Filipinos had adopted English profanity to such an extent as to use it on signs.

World Vogue For Dance Music Changes Type of Orchestras

New York's Most Successful Musical Comedy Launches Innovation

New York City.—The tired business man's favorite feature in the new musical comedy successes is not the funny man or, as some might be inclined to guess, the prettiest chorus girl. It is the dance orchestra that plays the score and then performs between the acts, tying with the star for applause.

Originated Rhythm

"It is that infectious dance rhythm," asserts Paul Whitman, who may be said to have originated same. "All America has grown accustomed to it and now any other kind of music touches the wrong nerve cord."

"It's going to be a real problem now that people have the habit of dance rhythm to try to give them anything else. In a short time all theatrical orchestras will be forced to play everything in dance rhythm."

The James Boys' orchestra, a Whitman product, is an example of the latest fad. These musicians play for "Little Jessie James," the topnotcher of the season's musical comedies, and are billed in letters as high as the star. During the intermissions, they give a concert that cheats the T. B. M. of his usual entre act cigar and usually holds up the show with applause.

"Over-Night Hit"

"It is great for the popular song writers," says Mr. Whitman. "Generally it takes five or six months for a tune in a show to become thoroughly popularized. But 'I Love You,' the song air of 'Little Jessie James,' was a favorite of every dance floor a week after the production opened."

"Of course, the tune was there, and would have been known from one end of the country to the other in time. But in Broadway parlance, it's the greatest 'overnight hit' any show has ever known and I feel that my 'James Boys' put it over."

Total Revenues of State Governments Amounts To Over One Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The total revenues of the state governments in 1922 amounted to $1,159,445,130, or $10.71 per capita, according to reports made to the department of commerce, and made public Monday. The total payments amounted to $1,280,237,898, or an average of $11.82 for each person, consisting of expenditures for maintenance and operation of state government, $929,824,820; interest on debt, $11,508,039; and payments for permanent improvements, $318,945,039; making an excess of all costs over revenues of $120,792,768, or $1.12 per capita.

This indicates, according to the department of commerce's statement on the subject, that the revenues are sufficient to cover ordinary running expenses of the state governments, pay the interest on the public debt, and a part of the cost of permanent improvements, the difference being met by the issuance of bonds. The payments from the proceeds of the sale of these bonds are reported as costs of government the year such payments are made; the taxes and other revenues collected to meet the principal and interest of such debt are recorded as a revenue the year collection is made.

The total cost of government in 1922 of the 48 states amounted to $1,280,237,898, or $11.82 per capita. Of this total $918,187,367, or 71.7 per cent was for maintenance and operation of general departments, consisting of $71,200,450 for general government, $52,738,711 for protection to person and property, $42,021,912 for development and conservation of natural resources, $21,995,742 for health and sanitation, $108,337,199 for highways, $162,468,927 for charities, hospitals, and corrections, $329,803,282 for schools, $2,002,778 for libraries, $1,869,609 for recreation, and $127,682,757 for miscellaneous purposes. For maintenance of public service enterprises the state governments expended $2,697,153; for interest on the debt of the states, $41,308,039; and for permanent improvements, $318,945,039, representing 24.8 per cent of the total governmental costs. The per capita payments for maintenance and operation of state government, $929,824,820, increased from $5.03 in 1915 to $11.82 in 1922.

The total revenue receipts of the state governments amounted to $1,159,445,130, or $10.71 per capita, including $448,291,293 from general property taxes, $194,082,194 from special taxes, $8,322,958 from poll taxes, $365,366,621 from licenses, $9,108,958 from special assessments, $5,002,030 from fines and forfeits, $110,716,211 from subscriptions and gifts, $55,000,324 from interests, rents and highway privileges, $116,549,100 from earnings of general departments, and $3,698,438 from earnings of public service enterprises. In the 48 states property taxes, general and special, represented 46.9 per cent of the total revenues in 1922. The per capita revenue receipts increased from $4.66 in 1915 to $10.71 in 1922.

In 1915, 1916, and 1922 the total governmental costs of the state governments, including permanent improvements, exceeded the revenues, but the revenues were sufficient to meet the expenses of operation and maintenance and interest charges. In 1917, 1918, and 1919 the revenues were sufficient to meet all governmental costs, including permanent improvements.

For the 48 states the assessed valuation of property taxes subject to ad valorem taxation for state purposes in 1922 was $105,170,655,119; the amount of taxes levied was $350,851,743; and the per capita tax levy, $3.24.

CLINTON HOWARD WILL BE SPEAKER HERE TOMORROW

Hon. Clinton N. Howard, chairman of the World Peace Commission is scheduled to speak at a patriotic rally at the First M. E. Church South, Sanford, on Thursday night at 7:45 o'clock. Mr. Howard's subject will be "The Next Great World Event."

CLINTON N. HOWARD

There are few public speakers better or more favorably known throughout the country than Clinton N. Howard. An "average giant" he has been a favorite in the Chautauqua and lecture programs in every state and as a Christian layman he has occupied for years a peculiar and prominent place in the work for social betterment. For the past two years he has given practically all of his time for the campaign for world peace and would be leading and secure. He comes to Sanford as a part of this movement which is being sponsored through the South by The National Reform Association, with its American headquarters in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. Howard is a forceful speaker of unique personality and with a delightful humor that makes him most pleasing. His great address has been heard by great assemblies all over the land and his splendid presentation of the principles of true peace, has won a host of friends both for Mr. Howard and for the movement which he represents.

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 30.—The people of Sarasota county will go to the polls tomorrow to cast their ballots for or against a bond issue of $500,000, to build a system of good roads laid out by the chamber of commerce and the county commissioners.

The issue will be divided into two parts, the first for $500,000 for roads on the mainland, and $100,000 for a road down the keys and two bridges across Sarasota Bay from the mainland to the key.

AMERICA LEADS IN HOME COMFORTS

The average American home has more comforts and conveniences than the palaces of Europe. Home for home, the American household has a well-kept look, an atmosphere of prosperity and contentment you cannot find in the homes of any other country in the world.

In foreign lands, the modernized dwelling, as we know it, is found only in limited numbers and then only in the larger cities.

In America, even in remote rural districts, you find pianos, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, up-to-date heating systems, telephones and numberless appliances that go far to make life easier, happier and more worth while.

You may not realize it, but America's high standard of home life is due largely to advertising. For the development of advertising is distinctively American. It has taken its place as a leading force in bringing together the interests and wants of a great, united people. And a large share of the credit for this development is due the newspapers.

Stop and think how many of the appliances you use, the foods you eat, the clothes you wear, and other articles entering into your every-day life, were popularized by newspaper advertising.

Then you will realize what a vital part advertising has played and is playing in your daily life.

THEY THAT WAIT upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint.—Isaiah 40:31.

THE WAYFARING PSALM. He leadeth me in the lowly paths of learning, He prepareth a lesson for me every day; He bringeth me to the clean fountains of instruction, Little by little He showeth me the beauty of truth, The world is a great book that He hath written, He turned the leaves for me slowly; They are all inscribed with images and letters, He poureth light on the pictures and the words, He taketh me by the hand to the hilltop of vision, And my soul is glad when I perceive His meaning, In the valley also He walketh beside me, In the dark places He whispereth to my heart, Even though my lesson be hard, it is not hopeless, For the Lord is patient with His slow scholar; He will wait awhile for my weakness, And help me to read the truth through tears.—Henry Van Dyke.

Editorially The Sanford Herald declares that "the little girl down the street" says: "My love is of man's life a thing apart, My woman's whole existence."

Evidently "the little girl down the street" must have been a cat, at some time or other of Lord Byron, but the line verse from which she took her verse from which she took her portion is so good that it is not possible to quote it in its entirety. Here is the stanza:

"My love is of man's life a thing apart, My woman's whole existence; man may range the court, camp, church, the vessel, and the mart; Sword, gown, gain, glory, if in exchange ride, fame, ambition, to fill up his heart, And few there are whom, these cannot exchange."—Palatka Daily News.

Shall Sanford Have Baseball?

The City Commissioners Monday authorized the purchase of property for the purpose of building an athletic park and baseball field. In taking this step the city fathers had in mind, no doubt, the securing for this city of some big league baseball team which would make Sanford its winter training quarters. And next year Sanford should have a big team training here. It would mean much to the city and would give good publicity all over the country. Every day during the training period Sanford would be on the date lines in many of the biggest newspapers of the country.

Nearly everybody likes baseball. No mistake is being made in providing suitable playing fields for the big teams and little teams as well.

With the opening of the Florida State League season only about two months away, the people here must decide if there is to be a team in the league this summer from Sanford. Last year this city was not represented. Surely as progressive a city as this is can provide the necessary funds and backing to secure a creditable team in the state league. Several years ago the team from this city was the winner of the pennant. Baseball has a lot to do with increased prosperity due to the continual advertising it gives the home city and the people it attracts during the long summer months.

From a financial standpoint baseball has been anything but a paying proposition in other Florida cities. It has cost the promoters heavily each year. Daytona lost nearly $12,000 last year on their team but this year the cities in the league have determined to cut the cost of baseball through the lower classification and reduced salary of players.

"Like all worthwhile things, baseball costs money," says the Daytona Journal. And it is for the business men to determine if it is worth the price as a business maker and advertising medium.

Sanford doesn't have to worry about the dull summer period as do many of the cities in the state. This is a year around town. But the question arises, couldn't Sanford secure good publicity by having a team in the Florida State League this summer? And couldn't it be handled some way so that the financial end could be handled without loss?

It might be a good move for some civic organization to consider the proposition and endeavor to work out some plan of operations. If Sanford is to have summer baseball no time should be wasted in getting a team lined up.

An Organization Worth While

Without a live up-to-the-minute Chamber of Commerce no city can grow as quickly and as substantially as it should. There is no other organization of men that can take the place of the Chamber of Commerce. There are other organizations but none of them are accomplishing as great results. Chambers of Commerce have well defined lines of activity and work along lines different from other civic clubs.

Sanford has a wide awake Chamber of Commerce and with it on the job need not worry about the future. Many are the activities of this group of men. It is continually interesting outsiders in this city and is successful in bringing new business houses and industries here. It is seeing that the city secures publicity of the right kind and is doing all within its power to inform the rest of the country about Sanford. The Chamber of Commerce is always to be found backing every good movement for the growth and advancement of the community. It is for every progressive step and with a willing hand puts every ounce of its efforts to putting across needed improvements.

Just at this time this group of boosters is preparing an exhibit for Madison Square Garden in February and is working night and day in preparation for giving Sanford such a good representation in the all-Florida exhibit in New York that many people will become interested in this section of the state.

In the Chamber of Commerce Sanford has an organization that is accomplishing great things. It is a live organization composed of busy business and professional men who are giving of their time and money and are working together for the purpose of making this city do big things and grow to be inland Florida's biggest city. The Sanford Chamber of Commerce is deserving of the moral and financial backing of those interested in the future welfare of the city.

AMERICAN JOURNALISM

During a visit to America Senator Paul Dupuy of France, who is the editor of the newspaper, Petit Parisien, took occasion to compliment the American newspaper and newspaper publishers upon the "new conception of journalism" which he professed to have discovered in this country. By this he meant that the really successful newspaper publications in the United States are those which have broken away from traditions which obtained in other years of catering to low tastes, simply to gain a circulation or to wield a so-called influence among voters. It is true in America that journalism has undergone a decided change within the last ten years or so. The successful newspaper publisher today in America desires above all things else that his publication tell the truth, and that the editorial page be left for discussions of politics. There was a time, and many old-time newspaper reporters and editors remember it well when more editorial denunciations came through the reading columns of the paper than on the editorial page. The one fact dove-tailed with the other. Today the news columns are separate and apart. They aim to proclaim the news, regardless of what the editorial policy of the paper may be. In other words the so-called range of the reader's knowledge and of experience, of impartial manner. Because of change for the better has come about the American press grows in influence and serves more acceptably as a medium of useful service to the nation.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

Bob Davis once went to interview, for the Examiner, the late Collis P. Huntington, in San Francisco, his object being to learn the attitude of Collis with relation to certain Pacific Coast railroad matters. Davis had carefully typewritten four important questions which he placed before Mr. Huntington one at a time. Huntington read them, adjusted his black skull cap, leaned back in his easy chair in the Southern Pacific building at Fourth and Townsend Streets, and plunged into a long talk. At the end of half an hour of steady conversation Davis had not made a single note. "Why aren't you writing down anything?" queried Uncle Collis with child-like innocence. "Because," said Davis, "you haven't yet said anything worth printing." "Well," replied Mr. Huntington, playing a cymbal solo with the tips of his fingers, "that, my friend, was the intention."

The Most Important Word. And Most Important Tomb. Japan's Prince Marries. Cannon Boom for Linen. Copyright, 1923

PROFESSORS OF Princeton, who decide that "loyalty" is the most important word in our language, are mistaken. "Strength" is a much more important word and so is "courage." Without courage and strength what does loyalty amount to? You would not value very highly the loyalty of a white rabbit, if you were going through the jungle, but an elephant, that would be different.

"IMAGINATION" is a word more important than loyalty, strength or courage. The last three are nothing without imagination to stimulate them. "Yes" and "no" are the two most useful words; they answer more questions than all other words combined. And they convey information, chief object of language.

THE IMPORTANT word in all languages is "justice," and according to reports that word was not included in the professors' discussion. With justice, all is possible, all can be made right. Without it, nothing is worth while.

MUSSOLINI WILL make Virgil's tomb a national monument and shrine, taking it from private owners. The idea is all right, although Virgil might not have been so much admired, except that he had Homer to inspire him and Dante for press agent.

THE REAL fuss should be made over the tomb of Archimedes, that Cleo, fortunately discovered when he was a youngster in Sicily just before Christianity started. The tomb was covered with briars, neglected for generations. But on it was a drawing on a sphere inscribed in a cylinder. That belonged to Archimedes. Of the world's five greatest men, two Archimedes and Michelangelo, are buried in Italy, a good share.

THE JAPANESE prince regent and his little Japanese princess are married, according to ancient rites of the Shinto religion, older than Christianity. Foreigners were shut out, the spirits of the royal ancestors were told about the marriage. Many of the ancestral spirits, 122 in a direct line, it is said, were present out of sight in the air. War and earthquakes may come and go, but human beings cling to their old ways and old superstitions.

PETROGRAD WORKMEN dig in the frozen ground, preparing a Mausoleum for Lenin. Maximilian Harden, himself a Jew, predicts trouble because three Jews, Lenin, a Slav leader and Kamenev, Trotzky and Zinoviev, are leading forces in Russia. Harden probably fears race prejudice.

BUT NAPOLEON had no trouble ruling France, although the French despised his Corsican origin. "If I go and the Bourbons return, they will take away the land that the revolution gave you," he said to the peasants, and that was enough.

Russia's Jewish leaders can say to the peasants, "If we go and the Czar returns, they will take away the land that Bolshevism gave you." That will be enough. Lenin will be buried to the loud booming of cannon. That is an echo of early savagery that heat upon the tom-toms to keep away evil spirits.

SIR CHARLES HIGHAM, just come back to England, left behind him a newspaper advertising appropriation of $1,000,000 "to make Americans realize that they should drink more tea, less coffee."

Sir Charles' advertisement, curious enough as it is, is a good situation created by our old friend, King George, of the Boston tea party. It was the tea tax forced on them that made early Americans hate the word "tea," and had much to do with making this the great coffee-drinking nation.

WE OUGHT, however, to drink more tea—in reason. It is a stimulant, whereas coffee, like alcohol, is a sedative. Workmen working in the forests with temperature far below zero, drink tea to keep them warm.

THE REV. DR. INGE, who remains dean of Saint Paul's in London, although he seems to believe nothing at all in the Bible, looking on it as an interesting record of humanity's childhood, surprises devout friends by favoring birthright. He declares that the British birth rate is highest among physicians, ministers of religion and teachers.

GOOD CHRISTIANS tell Dean Inge that no one should interfere with the will of God by preventing birth. Dean Inge asks, "Would they also denounce skillful physicians that 'interfere' with the will of God by preventing death?"

RAMSAY MACDONALD, Britain's Labor Prime Minister, starts on foreign affairs sensitively with the suggestion that Germany be admitted to the League of Nations and treated as a nation, not forever as a people enslaved.

SURPRISING TO Americans that do not know the English is the fact that Englishmen of high rank and most conservative traditions consent to join the Labor Government. You could not imagine any of our powerful reactionaries joining a Cabinet with a union labor man at its head. Britain has stated, used to changes, asking only "How can I render service to the empire?"

MR. DAVIS'S PLATFORM

In the opinion of a growing number of Democrats and independent voters, Mr. John W. Davis is eminently fit to be President, and the Democratic party could find no stronger candidate. The steady increase of the Republicans in 1919, confidence comes, perhaps, as much from his character as his high ability. It has often been noticed that men conspicuously "mentioned" as candidates are apt insensibly to degenerate, to bid for popularity, to resort to flattery and emotionalism. Mr. Davis's speech at Philadelphia deals clearly and concretely with the facts as he sees them. It appeals to common sense and the common interest. Of the five main policies of taxation which he urges upon the Democratic party, four are, at least Republican. These are the reduction of government expenditures; the avoidance of new taxation springing from the creation of new government activities and expenditures; support "to the limit" of the budget system; reduction of income taxes, "not denying relief to a man because he is rich, but not forgetting the needs and responsibilities of the poor man"—that is, according to a sentimental-demagogic plan. The revision of the tariff on a revenue and competitive basis is a Democratic policy which the Democrats might well make their chief issue hereafter, provided they are wise enough to unite, as Mr. Davis proposes, with the Republicans "for all possible reduction of taxes." He reiterates the conclusion of many distinguished economists that direct taxation, whose pressure is known and felt, is preferable to indirect taxation, which is irresponsible, so to speak, and bleeds the consumer without his knowledge. If every purchaser of a protected article knew at the moment of buying it the increase in its price caused by the tariff, how long would pro-

LENINE

Nicolai Lenine, whose death is now announced, presumably for the last time, will be remembered as the man who had the first opportunity to apply Marxism on a grand scale and who demonstrated conclusively the utter futility of the experiment. Soviet Russia under his regime was the last word in national communism. It was also the last word in economic disintegration and political despotism. Lenine was inevitably attracted to what was worst in Marxism. His older brother had been executed under the empire for participation in a revolutionary plot. He resolved to take revenge on the old order. Marxism was his weapon. He exploited its doctrine of hatred and unappeasable class warfare. He was more interested in destroying the monarchy, the Church, the bourgeoisie and the institution of private property than he was concerned with the social and political system which should supplant them. Marxism implies a social system in which the proletariat, when it comes to power, is to seek its own good after its own fashion. Socialism in its more idealistic aspect is self-determination within the proletarian state and lays stress on brotherhood, self-sacrifice and a measure of what are commonly known as neighborliness and patriotism. But these things made no appeal to Lenine. His program was one of revenge and destruction. The Germans knew exactly what they were doing in 1917 when they gave him safe passage from Switzerland to Russia and financed his campaign against the Kerensky government. They counted confidently on his helping them to reduce Russia to impotency. Lenine also was too much of a

A man often tells a girl he would die for her but that is because he never has tried it. Hunting season is with us. Please don't go if you are as clumsy as a cow. Hunters may shoot you. Half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, which is what worries it half the time. Doctors say we eat too fast. Most of us do. We try to keep our food down by bolting it. A model husband is one who is as nice to his wife in private as he is in public. The apple crop is good and many a farmer is loading; because his cider is working for him. Men would be rich if they could make their salaries reach like they stretch them when talking. If Jack Dempsey is all rested up now maybe he will try to tackle a football team. Doctors say an Alabama man who started over a fence with a loaded gun will recover. Presidential candidates are so busy. Looks as if we will have about 40 presidents next time. There is agitation to limit the price of coal. Our guess is the sky will be the limit. Actors look forward to this winter when the audience will applaud to keep their hands warm. ## Costly Gems

The above photograph is taken from a painting of Mrs. Peter Gerry, Washington society woman, who is reported to have paid $400,000 for a string of black pearls owned by Prince Yusouff. The price paid $12,000 duty on the gems when bringing them in this country.

LOVELY BRIDGE PARTY.

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. George Davis Hart, was the scene of a lovely party Monday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Hart entertained a number of their friends at bridge.

Orange and green, the artistic color scheme was beautifully carried out with bignonia vines, ferns and potted plants. Marking the places were dainty tallies done in orange and green. These were given out by Mrs. Walter Wight and Mrs. R. B. Wight.

After a number of rubbers of bridge scores were counted and prizes awarded. The prize for high score, an embroidered apron, was won by Mrs. Sam Yountz; second, high, a crate of oranges, went to Mrs. Reg Holly. High score men's prize, was awarded Joe Chittenden, while second high, a crate of oranges, was given to Dr. Puleston. The cut prize, a deck of cards fell to R. R. Deas.

At the conclusion of the card game, Mrs. Hart, assisted by Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mr. E. P. Morse, Mrs. C. B. Kirtley, and Mrs. Walter Wight served a tempting salad course.

Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mero, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman, Mrs. E. P. Morse, Mrs. C. W. Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bodwell, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. ## TRUTH SEEKERS CLASS.

The Truth Seekers Class of the M. E. Church was pleasantly entertained Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. L. Goodhue.

The spacious living rooms were charmingly decorated with quantities of spring blossoms, and were well filled with members of the class, about thirty-five were present.

Mrs. H. A. McCalley conducted the devotional exercises. Mrs. Hart, vice president of the class held a short business session.

Reports were heard, committees were appointed, and plans were made for hunting up and visiting the strangers within our gates. The class dues were doubled in order to increase funds for the charity work done by this organization.

A pleasant social hour followed at the conclusion of which Mrs. Goodhue, assisted by Mrs. Joel Adams, Mrs. Shoemaker and Mrs. Walker, served refreshments of sandwiches and coffee.

STRAWBERRIES TO NEW YORK

TAMPA, Jan. 30—Ten thousand quarts of strawberries will be sent to the Florida Exposition in New York Feb. 16 from the Plant City section, according to plans being perfected there. This city council of Plant City will finance the strawberry show, which will be the sole exhibit from that section. Plans call for two booths under the care of H. E. Galyean and Frank Merwin, the latter having for three years won the blue ribbon for Plant county at the South Florida Fair.

The Woman's Civic League of Winter Haven has just closed the most prosperous year in its history. At the first meeting in the New Year, held in the club house on Grand Avenue, Mrs. S. F. Poole, the president, presided, and reports were made by the various societies.

Miss Ann Earl Farmer of Anderson, S. C., will arrive in Sanford Friday and will be the attractive guest of Mrs. W. T. Langley at her home on Park Avenue.

Fulton Is Greeted With Cheers As He Enters This Ring

Fred Fulton enjoyed a novel experience when introduced at the Kenwood armory in Minneapolis recently. In the past boxing crowds always greeted the big fellow with hooting and boing, but on this occasion the jeers turned to cheers and Fred received a welcome.

Fulton appreciated the ovation, too, and it imbued him with confidence and fighting spirit. The determined look that came onto his face immediately afterward expressed the thoughts that were flashing through his mind that he would not disappoint his friends.

It will be some time before his followers will forget the splendid exhibition that Fulton gave with his left hand in his bout with "Tiny" Fulton. He had that southpaw maul working like a piston rod that night and cut down German like a woodchopper felling a tree.

Boxing Situation In New York is Clearing Very Satisfactorily

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Unless all signs fall the manly and manly art of legalized boxing, the state of New York has been made safe for another year, at least. There isn't the slightest doubt that, less than three weeks ago, the pastime was in imminent danger of being legislated out of existence. In the mean time, however, efforts of the reform element have fallen into disrepute and it is now the common belief, among promoters and the politicians alike, that the menace in question no longer exists in virulent form.

One source of cauliflower enjoyment is the fact that the word has gone out to those closely identified with boxing that merely the usual care must be exercised during the next three months to see that nothing untoward or reprehensible occurs. This is taken to mean that the boys are to lie low for the remainder of the legislative session and indicates a division among the politicians to line up behind the Walker law once more.

Neither Governor Smith nor Senator Walker, father of the law and majority leader of the senate, will make any statement on the boxing situation.

Some weeks ago, Walker was quoted as saying that he "wouldn't walk across the aisle to save boxing," but since then it is understood that he has suffered a change of heart, largely due to the fact that it is now evident that boxing can and will be saved.

Tampa Would Enter New Baseball League

TAMPA, Jan. 30.—Discussions are under way looking to Tampa's entering a new South Atlantic or Southeastern league. P. L. Carter, the Smokers, has written letters to possible members of the new league, inquiring as to the feasibility of forming another circuit should Tampa pull out of the state league. Jacksonville, Orlando, Macon, Savannah, Augusta, Montgomery and Charleston have been suggested as possible cities for membership in the new organization.

MAY TRAIN AT GAINESVILLE

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 29.—The Toledo (O.) team of the American Association may come here for their spring training season this year. It is indicated by information carried in a paper of that city, a copy of which has been received. It is said that minor arrangements are being awaited by Roger Bresnahan, president of the Toledo club, before he makes a definite decision as to his training place.

WILL BE COMING SOON.

ORLANDO, Jan. 29.—According to information received locally pitchers and catchers of the Cincinnati Reds, who are to train in Orlando this spring, will reach here about March 3. Among those scheduled to arrive at that time are Carl Mays, recently obtained by Manager Moran from the New York Yankees; and Jackie May, newly acquired pitcher from the Coast League.

RECOMMENDS ADDITION.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 30.—Claude Robinson, superintendent of Jacksonville's new 18-hole municipal golf course, has recommended that the city add another nine-hole course for the benefit of the public links. Receipts for the present course, which was opened in November, already have passed the $1,000 mark, it is stated.

BOXERS ARE MATCHED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, will meet Georges Carpentier, former holder of the title, in milk fund charity bouts here in May, according to Tex Rickard. He will later meet Geno Tunney.

"Plans to establish over one hundred new families in the vicinity of Okeechobee City for work in the lumber camps and sawmill of the Andrews Lumber Company has been announced," says the Okeechobee News.

LOWLY PHILLIES GIVE PROMISE OF GOOD 1924 TEAM

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—The Phillies, of National League cellar infamy, are going to be a better baseball club this coming season, or there may be one suicide and about 22 murders, President William Laker is the complacent optimist who already has spoken in terms of "bally work or bullets."

"Philadelphia is going to see a much-improved National League team next season," William said before starting out on a three-week junket to points south. "If we don't do better than last season I will feel like shooting myself and each individual on the team. But frankly both Fletcher and myself expect a much better showing during the coming season."

"The team is bound to improve," he said. "We have strengthened it considerably since last season, with a good second baseman and a hard hitting outfielder. I would like to get another pitcher or two as steadily as Jimmy Ring. If I do there will be no stopping us."

Pitchers, therefore, will likely be the objective of Baker and Manager Art Fletcher at the National League meeting on February 12 in the Waldorf-Astoria, New York. But he made emphatic declaration that his battery luminaries—Jimmy Ring and "Butch" Henline will not figure in any deal. Any trades contemplated will be done with these two excluded from the deal. There were reports that Baker was to trade them to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Maranville, Grimm and an odd lot of pitchers.

The Phillies' president added, by the way, that the National League meeting will see an extraordinary lot of trading. Nearly every team in the league, he said, is anxious to talk trade.

It might be fitting to add, also, that Baker thinks his manager, Art Fletcher, is one of the best managers in baseball.

"MIGHTY CASEY"

Few persons know that E. Robinson Casey of Syracuse, N. Y., is the hero of the well known poem "Casey at the Bat." Back in 1885, as a member of the old Detroit National League team, Casey struck out with the bases full in Minneapolis—not in Mudville. But Thayer who wrote the poem, drew his inspiration from the game. Casey is a successful business man and was in New York recently to attend a convention.

Iowa Coach Reported Will Cancel Contract With Trinity College

IOWA CITY, Ia., Jan. 30.—The board of control of athletics at the University of Iowa gave credence today to reports that Howard H. Jones, director of athletics, will cancel his contract with Trinity college, Durham, N. C., and remain at Iowa. R. A. Guever, chairman of the board, would neither verify nor deny the report, but asserted the board "should be very happy if it were true."

Professor Kuever announced that Prof. H. J. Lambert, former chairman of the board of athletic control, had resigned. Jones' resignation was reported to have followed disagreement with Lambert.

Prof. Walter Percy Broadwell, of the law college, said he was authorized to say that Jones "had nothing to say at this time."

DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 30.—

"Howard Jones is bound to Trinity under a five-year contract and we have heard nothing from him in regard to his reported desire to cancel the same. All arrangements were agreed upon and Jones declared himself happy that the contract with Trinity was made. We are, therefore, expecting him to come to Trinity next September 1, according to the contract, if not sooner."

This statement was made tonight by Prof. R. L. Flowers, an official of Trinity college, upon learning of dispatches to the effect that the Iowa university football coach was reported to have expressed intention of cancelling his contract with Trinity college.

Larzo Palatka Man Signs With Macon

PALATKA, Jan. 29.—A contract to play with Macon in the South Atlantic League during the coming season, has been signed by Charlie Larzo, catcher-first base man who has played with Palatka for the last three seasons. Larzo has been the subject of several visits by big league scouts, all of whom agreed that he was a bit too small for big league teams. His work at first base, however, has been described as equal to that of many of the big league players.

WILL DUMP LIQUORS.

BRADENTOWN, Jan. 30.—Sheriff Winkate of Manatee county is getting ready to "open a party" on February 1 to which everybody is invited. Assorted wines and liquors aplenty will be on hand for the occasion—that is, until someone produces a high-powered corker which Mr. Winkate will use in opening the bottles and pouring the beverages into the sewer.

There are 800 quarts of it to be thus disposed of, the sheriff announced, mostly Scotch whisky and Irish, although wines from Spain and Italy, gin from the "old country" and some champagne, cognac and brandy will go down the sewer. The stock, valued at about $3,000, represents contraband seizures of the last few months.

DENVER BOY, RHODES SCHOLAR, AND AMATEUR HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION MAY BE A CONTENDER NEXT YEAR

A Denver boy, Edward Patrick Eagan, already a world's amateur ring champion, may be challenging Dempsey for the highest prize in the professional class within a year or two.

At present Eddie Eagan is strictly an amateur, and possibly he may forget his desire to try out with Dempsey and start practicing law a couple of years from now. But if he does become a professional boxer he's likely to be one of the most sensational figures in this ring within a few months.

Eagan would be a highly cultured boxer and what Jim Buckley calls "a credit to the game." At present he is a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, preparing for a law career. He graduated from Yale with high honors, winning the Rhodes scholarship. He distinguished himself at Yale in many ways. Entering without money or influence, he won a scholarship into the exclusive D.K.Y. fraternity, and later became its president. His ability as a student won him recognition from the start.

Good Orator, Too

He is a fine orator, and was a member of the Yale debating team. He ranked as one of the best students in his class. When the war started he enlisted at once, like many college boys, and became a first lieutenant in the field artillery. At Camp Zachary Taylor he was a chum of Charlie Paddock, also a lieutenant in the field artillery. Some of this information I have from Paddock, who says Eddie Eagan is one of the most intelligent men he ever knew, and one of the finest gentlemen as well.

If Eagan becomes a professional boxer no one can call him a "low-brow." He will be the first to ever pile up all the honors of higher education and scientifically develop his brain to apply its power to the problem of winning a world's championship worth a million dollars to any man who can take and hold it, for a couple of years. He may start a new fashion in ring affairs, and boxers of the future may consider a college education necessary to success.

Long John Scott, A One Time Giant Hero Passes Into Oblivion

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—There is as much pathos in the passing of Long John Scott from the New York Giants as there was thrill in his surprising "come-back" in 1922 which resulted in a pennant and a world's championship. The South Carolina farmer is going to Toledo with Alec Gaston, the young catcher, in exchange for Joe Brantshaw, a minor league prospect.

Pitcher of a world's series shut-out in '22 and a winning boxman in 1923, the announcement first that Scott had been obtained by the American and National league clubs and then that he had been sent down the path into minor league oblivion came as a shock to every one. He had been regarded by those not on the "inside" as one of the rock around which John McGraw would build up a newer and better pitching staff for the coming campaign.

Today Scott stands as a reminder for all baseball players that the manager of the Giants doesn't forget and doesn't forgive. He is the friend of all who are in hard luck, but once he has reached out the helping hand he expects gratitude in return.

FELT TIRED, SO TIRED

Indiana Lady Says She Was Rundown, Suffered With Her Back, Took Cardui, and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardui," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney, 31 Railroad Street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardui, so, to please him, I did, and will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping."

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardui. Every sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine."

"I suffered with my back; a very weak feeling in my limbs; I felt tired—so tired all the time."

"It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardui helped me so I felt like a different woman."

If you are in a run-down physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardui a fair trial. It should help you.

Take Cardui. NC-147.

RETAINS FRANCHISE.

BRADENTOWN, Jan. 30.—Baseball fans here have decided to retain Bradentown's franchise in the Florida State League unless it proves out that there is unwillingness to support the club financially. Steps have been taken to settle this phase of the matter before the first day of play, to avoid mid-season worry about where money is coming from to supply legitimate expenses. It is estimated that between $5,000 and $6,000 will be needed to finance a 120-game season locally.

Federal Board for Vocational Students Calls a Conference

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 30.—The Federal Board for Vocational Education has called a conference of state superintendents, directors and supervisors of agriculture in the southern region, to be held in Orlando, Fla., Feb. 19-22.

W. S. Cawthon, state superintendent of public instruction, in letters to interested educators throughout the South, calls attention in extending them an invitation to be present at the meeting, that "Orlando is a beautiful and progressive city located in the center of the citrus and trucking belt, and at this season of the year you can see in progress every form of agricultural work common to this section of Florida."

"I am sure the trip will prove both instructive and delightful to you," writes the state superintendent.

"We have been informed by Mr. Malby, federal agent for agricultural education," Mr. Cawthon advises the state superintendents and vocational education directors of the southern states, "that a special section of the conference would be given the state superintendents and directors for the purpose of analyzing their responsibilities in connection with the administration and supervision of vocational education in this region."

"As Florida is the host state for the conference, it is my pleasure to extend to you a cordial invitation to attend this conference, and I wish to urge especially your presence at the section for state superintendents and directors. We have definite responsibilities in connection with vocational education in our respective states, and it seems to me that a conference, where we analyze and discuss these responsibilities should be a mutual advantage to ourselves and the work in the southern region."

DOLLAR OF THE FARMER GROWS

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 30.—When all industrial plants are closed, profitable business and giving full time employment to their labor, there is an increased demand for products of the soil, according to Atlanta business men and bankers. While agriculture is the basis of prosperity in the South, as well as the rest of the country, it is asserted, the prosperity of agriculture is largely dependent upon industrial development. Business men here say that the greater the buying power of industrial workers the greater the market for farm products.

Officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, who keep close tabs on industrial and agricultural conditions throughout the sixth federal district, composed of the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, point out that the people produced more, spent more and saved more last year than in any preceding year.

The statement is made that the income of industrial workers, as the result of a volume of employment approximately 13 per cent larger than a year ago and of wage advances, applying to the country as a whole, greatly exceeded that of the year previous.

Farmer's Dollar Growing.

The total volume of agricultural production throughout the whole country, as shown by figures analyzed here, was about $900,000,000 greater last year than the year before. While this great increase in the farmer's income is very gratifying, according to Georgia agriculturists, the buying power of his dollar, they assert, is still below normal, although it is greater than it was a year ago.

With a readjustment of the national tax system, business experts here declare, the industrial life of the nation should experience renewed vigor. They point out, however, in turn materially assist agriculture. And should efforts to overhaul the tariff laws prove successful, it is further claimed, the farmer's dollar would not only have full value but he would have more of them than he ever had before.

ELECTREY MANCHURIA

SEOUL, Korea, Jan. 30.—A scheme to electrify the whole of south Manchuria is under contemplation by the South Manchurian Railway Company, which administers a great stretch of very rich territory in what is known as the railway zone. Engineers investigating the source of the Yalu river have discovered 100 miles north of a dam in the river, from which it is estimated, 100,000 kilowatts of electricity can be generated.

The intention is not only to supply light, heat and power, including that to electrify the railway itself, but to use the power in the development of agriculture.

CANARY SINGS TUNES

SANTA CLARA, Cal., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Nye Farley, a singer living in this vicinity, is said to have trained a four year old canary bird to whistle popular melodies.

Johnnie, the bird, is limited only by the range of his notes, according to report. Neighbors say he can reproduce the air of "Listen to the Mocking Bird," with the exception of one low note which he cannot reach. Johnnie is reputed to have several other tunes in his repertoire.

DIVORCE UNKNOWN HERE

STETTIN, Jan. 30.—The little town of Gartz, near here, claims the record in Germany for married couples who have passed their golden wedding anniversaries. Within the last few months the sixtieth anniversaries of 21 couples of Gartz have been celebrated by the principals and most of the 5,000 population.

There has not been a divorce in Gartz, it is said, within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant.

DEMOLAYS ARE PLANNING TO OCCUPY OFFICE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.—Plans are now being made in every state having a chapter of DeMolay, for the discussion of the fourth pamphlet of the American Citizenship Practice series, being issued by the Order, according to an announcement from National Headquarters in this city.

In connection with "Citizenship Practice in Voting and Holding Office," each chapter of the Order has been requested to arrange with their public officials to have members of the Order of DeMolay act as Mayor, Councilman and other officials for one full day during the month of February. In many states, where chapters are located in capitals, chapters will have those of their members act, not only as Governor of the state, but occupy other state offices as well.

Patrols and bands will be utilized in many cities for traffic patrolmen, with one idea in mind, that of bringing to every DeMolay and young man the requirements of public office and the obligations of the citizen toward his civic duties.

Every chapter is requested, when discussing the fourth number of this citizenship building program, to use actual ballots, so that every DeMolay upon reaching his majority will have sufficient knowledge as to just how to use them.

AUTO TAGS IN VOGUE

WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 30.—As a means of identification, the city commission of this city has passed an ordinance requiring all automobiles to provide themselves with "city tags" to be placed on their cars. The permits, to be obtained from the city tax collector, are good for one year, and are furnished free of cost. To make it possible to apprehend traffic law violators in the city is given as one of the chief reasons for passing the ordinance.

PLAN BIG CELEBRATION

FORT MYERS, Jan. 30.—Great preparations are being made for a celebration here on March 12 and 13 incident to the opening of the mile and third long bridge across the Caloosahatchee river and the convention of the Tamiami Trail Association. Plans have been outlined for the raising of something like $10,000 to be devoted to entertainment and prizes for those who attend the events.

HEARING FEB. 7

CLEARWATER, Jan. 30.—A hearing will be held in circuit court here on Feb. 7 at which George M. Josell, now holding the office of chief of police of St. Petersburg, will be required to show by what authority he retains that position. An order fixing the date for the hearing was issued by Judge M. A. McMullen on information filed by E. J. Bidman who claims to be the rightful owner of the title as St. Petersburg's chief police officer.

SEEK NOMINATION

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 30.—Two newspaper publishers of the same city, are seeking the nomination of their respective parties for governor of Indiana. They are Edward C. Toner, publisher of The Anderson Herald, who is a candidate for the republican nomination, and Dale J. Crittenger, publisher of The Anderson Bulletin, who has announced himself as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor.

Both are graduates of Indiana University—Crittenger in the class of 1878 and Toner in the class of 1895. They will enter the state primary to be held in Indiana on May 6.

NEW SCHEME HAS BEEN EVOLVED BY INSURANCE FIRMS

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A plan for guaranteeing the principal and interest of diversified investment bonds, applicable either to individual or corporate holdings, has been evolved by leading surety companies. The plan, in effect, is an extension of the guarantees now issued covering mortgages and deferred payment automobile notes, and will cover state, municipal, railroad, industrial and public utility bonds.

There is a growing demand on the part of investors who have their funds tied up in diversified securities, to obtain some kind of a guarantee," said R. H. Towner, head of a rating bureau which worked out the details of the premium charges to be made for the service. "That guarantee, it was thought, could be given preferably through a surety instrument."

While none of the surety companies, so far as could be learned, has yet "written" any of the new form of business, all of the leading companies have notified their agents to seek such business, subject to the approval of the home offices.

An investor desiring to have the interest and principal of bonds he may own guaranteed must submit a complete list of his holdings, with the exception of United States Treasury certificates. All classes of bonds issued under the authority of the Federal Farm Loan Act must be included. These provisions were pointed out, were made to prevent an investor substituting only his weak investments, for guarantee.

The guaranteeing instruments will be written for an annual premium of not less than one-half of one per cent computed on the par value of all the approved investments bonds bearing to the person or corporation seeking the guarantee.
