By DONNA ESTES

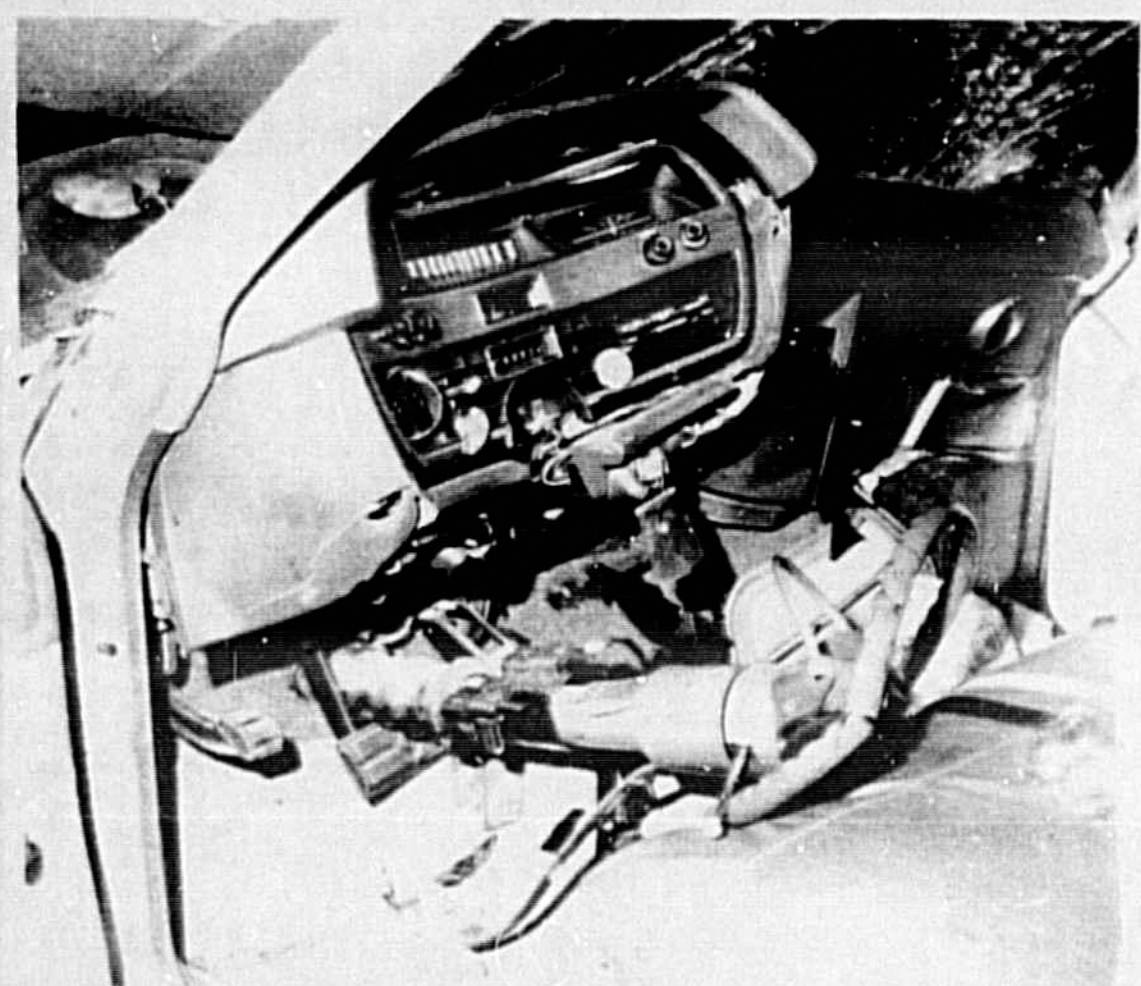

Rise in the "cost of doing" has led the City Commission to look into increasing employee life insurance coverage. City Manager W. E. Knowles recommended the city provide coverage equal to the employees' salaries with the individual employees able to increase the amount over his annual salary up to $10,000. Commissioner A. McClanahan, however, urged that the city instead consider paying for the first $3,000 of coverage with the employees to pay for any additional coverage thereafter which they desired. Coverage on the basis of longevity of employment and on a sliding scale according to salary was discussed and discarded. Knowles is to obtain cost estimates on increasing the coverage from the present $1,000 to $3,000.

No Cooperation

The City Commission Monday agreed without exception to "back up" the city manager by approving the clearing of the Marina basin of hydrantia by the State Fish and Game Department through the use of air boats and possibly spraying. Knowles said he had gotten a little "provoked" by the uncooperative attitude of the marina operator in clearing the basin. The manager said the operator did not want the basin sprayed and the city had been patient in the matter. He said spraying is not the preferable method because the head hydrantia which would go to the bottom of the section could create a gas that would "chase fish away" for a period of time. In other business to do with the marina, the Commission tentatively approved payment of $2,376.33 to T. W. Blount Jr. and Son Contracting Company for work on Pier A. Actual release of the funds is to be held up pending formal approval by the board next week following a personal inspection by the manager. Knowles also said crews will be at the pier today to commence electrical work.

Alcohol Licenses

Informal word of approval was given requests for three beer and wine licenses for consumption off premises. At the same time, a liquor license request for Char's at 270 S. Sanford Ave. owned by Leonard J. Perkins was discussed thoroughly. Commissioner McClanahan was of the opinion an adequate area is already zoned for sale of hard liquor in the city. Commissioner Julian Stenstrom, who qualified his remarks by noting he "doesn't use the stuff in any way" and wishes no one would, warned the city with its liquor zoning is "freezing" anyone else from coming into the city with the business. Commissioner Gordon Meyer, in a spirit of levity, said if he voted for the license "my wife would divorce me" contending a similar request for that area had been turned down some time ago because of its proximity to a school and a church. Commissioner John Morris "reserved comment." Indications were that beer and wine licenses for off premise consumption will be approved for Handy Food Stores at the southwest corner of Celery and Elliott and at 301 S. 25th and a transfer of license approved for Hardy's Grocery.

FOUR INVERNESS PEOPLE were killed and another seriously injured in a two-car crash one-half mile west of that city on SR 44 Sunday night. James and Pearl McKinstry were occupants of one car and both were killed. Isaac Smith was driving the second vehicle and is in critical condition. Two passengers in that car, Shelly Smith, 18, and Anna Markham, 50, were also killed. Troopers Sam G. Jones and R. N. Drawdy are investigating the accident. The four deaths pushed the Citrus County fatality count to 21 for 1971. (Rupert Chastain Photos)

Vietnam 'Reis' Are Repulsed

By DENNIS NEELD Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops repulsed an attack on one fire base north of Kontum in the central highlands Monday, but field reports indicated another outpost may have been overrun. The Saigon command said the North Vietnamese shelled the Ngo Trang base, seven miles northwest of Kontum, and then made a ground assault on the camp's outer defenses. "The enemy was repulsed, leaving behind 65 dead and 18 assorted weapons," a command spokesman said. It reported four ground troops killed and 15 wounded. It was the third day of attacks on Ngo Trang.

in Quang Tri Province, where an offensive by government marines and paratroopers has been bogged down by rain.

2 Altamonte Men Booked In Burglary

By GARY TAYLOR

Seminole County burglary detectives are continuing their investigations into the theft at the Altamonte Tire Company and have placed additional charges against two men already in custody. Det. Sgt. Johnny Wright, Det. Robert Kunkler and Det. Jerry Capshaw are handling the investigation. Emmitt Jordan, 21, of Cadillac Court, Altamonte Springs, was charged earlier with breaking and entering at the Altamonte Tire Company. This morning the charge of grand larceny was placed against him by Kunkler. Five television sets, 15 new tires and an undetermined number of air conditioners were taken in that theft. So far, three televisions, eight tires and one air conditioner have been recovered. Ulysses Micleclon, 18, of 317 Altamonte Springs, earlier was charged with aiding, abetting, concealing and possession of stolen property in connection with items taken from the Altamonte Tire Company. Two additional charges were filed in connection with the theft of a large amount of clothing from Captain Threads. John Leo Griffin, currently being held in the county jail awaiting trial, was arrested on a Circuit Court capias charging him with breaking and entering with intent to commit grand larceny and grand larceny. Norris Chisolm, 17, of Rt. 2, Box 283, Sanford, one of four men arrested last month on charges of armed robbery at a Longwood convenience store, was charged with robbery and use of a firearm in the commission of a felony Monday, in connection with a hold-up at the Highway Oil Company in Sanford several weeks ago. Betty Washington, 18, of 181 Twelfth Street, Sanford, was arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest by Deputy Lake Stallworth. The Seminole High student was arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest by Deputy Lake Stallworth. # Commission Mulls Sanford Paving

By DONNA ESTES

A five-year paving program to hard surface all 28 miles of the city's unimproved roads with all costs borne by the city has been recommended to the Sanford City Commission by City Manager W. E. Knowles. The manager said under a "cheap" method, (not the conventional type pavement and without drainage systems) work could be done on 13.16 miles of the streets at a cost of $897,046.77 in comparison with a cost of $14 million under the usual design. The "cheap" paving would be $12.91 per foot. The Georgetown area was originally estimated at $436,223.49 total cost while using the reduced design of $12.91 a foot, the same area would be $303,748.80 for a total cost. The manager pointed out federal revenue sharing funds to come into the city could be used for the paving. Knowles said the same method of paving was used in Pinecrest. He said the city could decide to all the work at once with financing over a five year period or proceed on a "pay as you go" basis with the program to extend over a five year period. Commissioner Julian Stenstrom asked if curbing could be included if the people were willing to pay for that specific improvement and Knowles answered in the affirmative. In answer to a question concerning Goldenrod, Knowles said there is no sense in paving there until drainage problems are solved. Commissioner John Morris suggested that the Citizens Advisory Committee be asked to discuss this alternative to the property owners on each side of the street paying for one-third of the cost with the city picking up the one-third balance.

Shooting Man, Brings Arrest

By GARY TAYLOR

A Sanford man, George Hall, 65, of 1413 Bell Avenue, was arrested Monday by Det. Lt. William Lykens on charges of aggravated assault, with other charges pending. Hall was arrested in connection with the shooting of a man, Davis, 40, of 1308 W. 13th Street, Sanford, Davis was shot in the right shoulder while he was standing on the porch at his mother's residence at 1290 Mangrove Avenue. Davis was treated and released at Seminole Memorial Hospital after the bullet was removed. After talking with the victim at the hospital, Lt. Lykens went to the area where the shooting occurred. While driving along 13th Street, the detective saw a man fitting the assailant's description walking on 13th Street and turn down Mangrove Avenue. Lt. Lykens watches as the man entered a residence at 1317 West 12th Street, and as he approached the house, he noticed a struggle between two men in the doorway. By the time Lt. Lykens got out of his car and up to the house, the two had fallen into the yard and it became apparent they were struggling over a gun. The two men fighting were Hall and Davis. Lykens arrested Hall and confiscated a .22 caliber pistol, allegedly used in the shooting. Area authorities are searching for a Sanford man listed as absent without leave (AWOL) from Headquarters Company, Ft. Jackson, South Carolina. Johnny Lamar Johnson, who has relatives living on Maple Avenue in Sanford, has been missing since 7:30 a.m., October 2, 1972. Vandals broke the right arm off a statue of St. Pius X at the All-Souls Catholic School on Oak Avenue. According to Patrolman Ray Bennett's report, the vandals were apparently trying to push the statue over when they broke the arm off. A tire and two trailer load locks, total value $180.93, are missing from the parking lot of Horne Distributors on French Avenue in Sanford. Patrolman R. M. Nicholas is investigating. Mrs. Wayne Dykes reported the theft of a satire saw worth $150 from a truck parked in front of her residence at 317 Douglas Avenue, Sanford.

Deceased Veteran Had Colorful Career

By JANE CASSELLHERRY

Lt. (Ret.) Warren Thompson of 215 Vinewood Dr., who died Sunday at the Orlando Naval Training Center, led a colorful and adventurous life during his 30 years of career service in the U.S. Navy. He enlisted in 1924 and spent the first four years aboard patrolling the Yangtze River in China to protect American interests there. In 1928, he entered the dirigible service and was aboard the U.S.S. Mocon when she went down off the California coast and was swamped in February of 1930. After a series of mishaps and tragedies involving the rigid type airships, the Navy abandoned this type of craft. He also was in and out of Korea during that conflict as a navigator. Then it was "home for the sailor, home from the sea" as he retired in 1954. In 1957, he and his wife came to Sanford from Elizabeth City, N.C., to make their retirement home. His brother, Leslie Thompson, who served with him in the Navy during part of the 30 year career, had already settled down here.

SANFORD VOTER turnout was light this morning, according to city clerk Henry Tamm. Tamm reported only 390 of Sanford's 7,556 registered voters had cast ballots by 11 a.m. at the lakefront civic center, the city's lone polling place. He predicted about 2,000 would vote by closing at 7 p.m. Shown here is Mrs. Norma Jean Swartz, 108 Eastwood Court, accompanied by daughters Jean, five months, and Cathy, age three, as she entered voting booth. On the ballot are two city candidates for Mayor-commissioner, two candidates for group two city commission seat and a referendum on a proposed city charter revision. (Bill Vincent Photo)

Robbery Defendant Refuses Court Aid

By MARION BETHEA

As was the case in an incident some weeks ago, a defendant being arraigned this morning before Circuit Judge Dominick Salvi, told the court he did not wish Assistant Public Defender Gerald Rutberg to represent him, although he is insolvent. However, Rutberg, admitting to an overabundance of case loads maintained there is "not a case the public defender has handled to be ashamed of." James Sanders, charged in two separate cases with a two-count information in each of robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony had arraignment continued until next week. Last week he told the court he was in pain due to a leg injury and requested the court procure medication for painkillers and a physician. The court noted he was "not about to" tell a doctor to send him pills, but suggested Sanders be taken to a physician for examination and treatment. Today, Sanders said he did not go to the doctor, and Judge Salvi requested that Capt. J. Q. (Slim) Galloway make a note to see that Sanders receives medical attention and to "explain his problem" to the doctor. With the exception of continuances, all trials are docketed for the week of Jan. 15. Defendants facing trial on this week, all pleading not guilty include Steven Kouss, charged with a two count information of aggravated battery and larceny of a firearm; Frederick Sandfort, II, charged with a two count information of aggravated battery and larceny of a firearm; Glenn Robinson, charged with possession of a dangerous drug; Jerome Adams, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and Betty Ann Reams, charged with grand larceny. Continued until Dec. 12 are the arraignments of Tomothy Bradley, charged with a two count information of robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony; Norris Chisolm, charged in two cases with two count information in each of robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony; and Daniel Cotton, charged with a two count information of robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony.

Legislation Needed To Protect Marsh

By TOM RAUM Associated Press Writer

Guidelines that would be administered at the local and regional level. It also suggested that a proposal for using the act for protecting land for low-cost housing projects be temporarily shelved. Guidelines under the new act must be drafted by the Environmental Land Management Committee for presentation to the governor and Cabinet early next year. The guidelines then must be approved by the 1973 Legislature before they can take effect. The act also permits the Cabinet to purchase land it considers environmentally endangered with proceeds from a $240 million environmental and recreational bond issue approved last month by Florida voters. During a full day of testimony Monday, environmentalists appeared before the subcommittee to plead for tough guidelines for wetlands. Jack Rudloe, a Panacea marine specimen collector and outspoken conservationist, told the subcommittee developers and agencies such as the U.S. Corps of Engineers were wiping out ecologically productive wetlands and "turning water into land all in the name of public interest." An Internal Improvement Fund director Joel Kupersberg predicted environmental disaster if developers continued to drain wetlands that make up a substantial portion of Florida's surface. "The State of Florida is like a big ball of silly putty," he said, "All it takes to shape it into any form you want are a few drag lines, dredges and bulldozers."

Casselberry Votes Land Stipulations

By TOM RAUM Associated Press Writer

A giant step forward in the ecology fight was made by Casselberry City Council Monday night by the passage of Ordinance number 253. The ordinance, 13 pages in length, lays down guidelines regarding land clearing and spells-out exactly what steps developers must take to preserve natural conditions in the area. Many times in the past subdivisions have been built in Florida by scalping the land, bulldozing away every tree in sight, then turning the debris. This will not be possible here. The question of annexing Lake Howell Estates Mobile Home Park was first on the agenda with several suggestions being made by Acting Mayor Dr. Edith Duerr regarding steps which council should take before proceeding. Among the stipulations was that a performance bond be built within a year, the city would construct it and charge the costs against the property. At this point Councilman Harry Sambrook interjected, "At the last meeting, Mr. Buckley had the floor for 45 minutes and agreed to nothing. I move that annexation be denied at this time." Sambrook's motion was passed and council moved on to the discussion of bid specifications for a new fire truck.

For Fried Chicken Try Famous Recipe Brand

By ANN SIECKOWSKI

100th in the chain of Famous Recipe Fried Chicken outlets, is Jerry Sullivan, Retired Navy Commander. He said that he chose this area of the country and this area of Florida because it appeared to be the fastest growing and best market for this type of venture. He and his wife live in the Woodlands in Longwood, with two children, Kevin, age 13, a student at Milwee, and Pamela, 16, who works in the store with her dad. An older son, Scott, 21, is a relief manager for eight companies of Famous Recipe Fried Chicken, served with fresh baked hot biscuits, a choice of mashed or french fried potatoes, delicious creamy coleslaw and a choice of salads. You can even have baked beans if you wish.

All of these positively great foods are the result of specially developed recipes of men who have been concentrating on how to provide the very best in this type of food venture.

Owner and manager of the Sanford outlet, which is the are special and secret formula from Famous Recipe Headquarters. "Even I don't know the ingredients." But everything else including eggs and produce are bought locally.

The reason that this fried chicken outlet is so successful, and you will have to agree that it is — they have passed their 100,000 customer mark already and they only opened in May — that this is a family-type operation. It is youth oriented. All of the staff are young, vibrant, hard-working men and women who bring a sparkling and friendly atmosphere to the establishment. Sullivan and his family put a lot of themselves into the building of the store, doing all of the paneling, laid the floors, set the cabinets, lights and signs themselves. This makes the entire operation a friendlier and more customer-conscious business.

We invite you to go down and visit Jerry Sullivan and his staff. While you are there, treat yourself to some of the best chicken you will ever eat anywhere. Of course, if you want a variety, why not order fish, shrimp or even barbecued chicken? You will be delighted and you will return. The store is open seven days a week — Sunday through Thursday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. You can also call in your order — the number is 322-3650. Do it today.

Sullivan did not just grab at a business to enter when he retired from the Navy in 1966. He has known about the chicken business and has grown up around it. His wife is in the family of Col. Sanders, of the other chicken chain. He has in his corporation, a very good friend from school days, Lee Cummings, who was executive vice president of Kentucky Fried Chicken, but is now vice president of the Famous Recipe Fried Chicken chain.

Sullivan himself joined the office staff in 1966 as manager of franchise services, and participated in opening 63 stores. The 66th store he opened was his own in Sanford. And Sullivan is the owner of the local franchise which is the only one in the Orange-Seminole County area at present.

He said that nothing used in their stores is brought in except for the spices and mixes which,

At Seminole Hardware Western Supply Girl

By ANN SIECKOWSKI

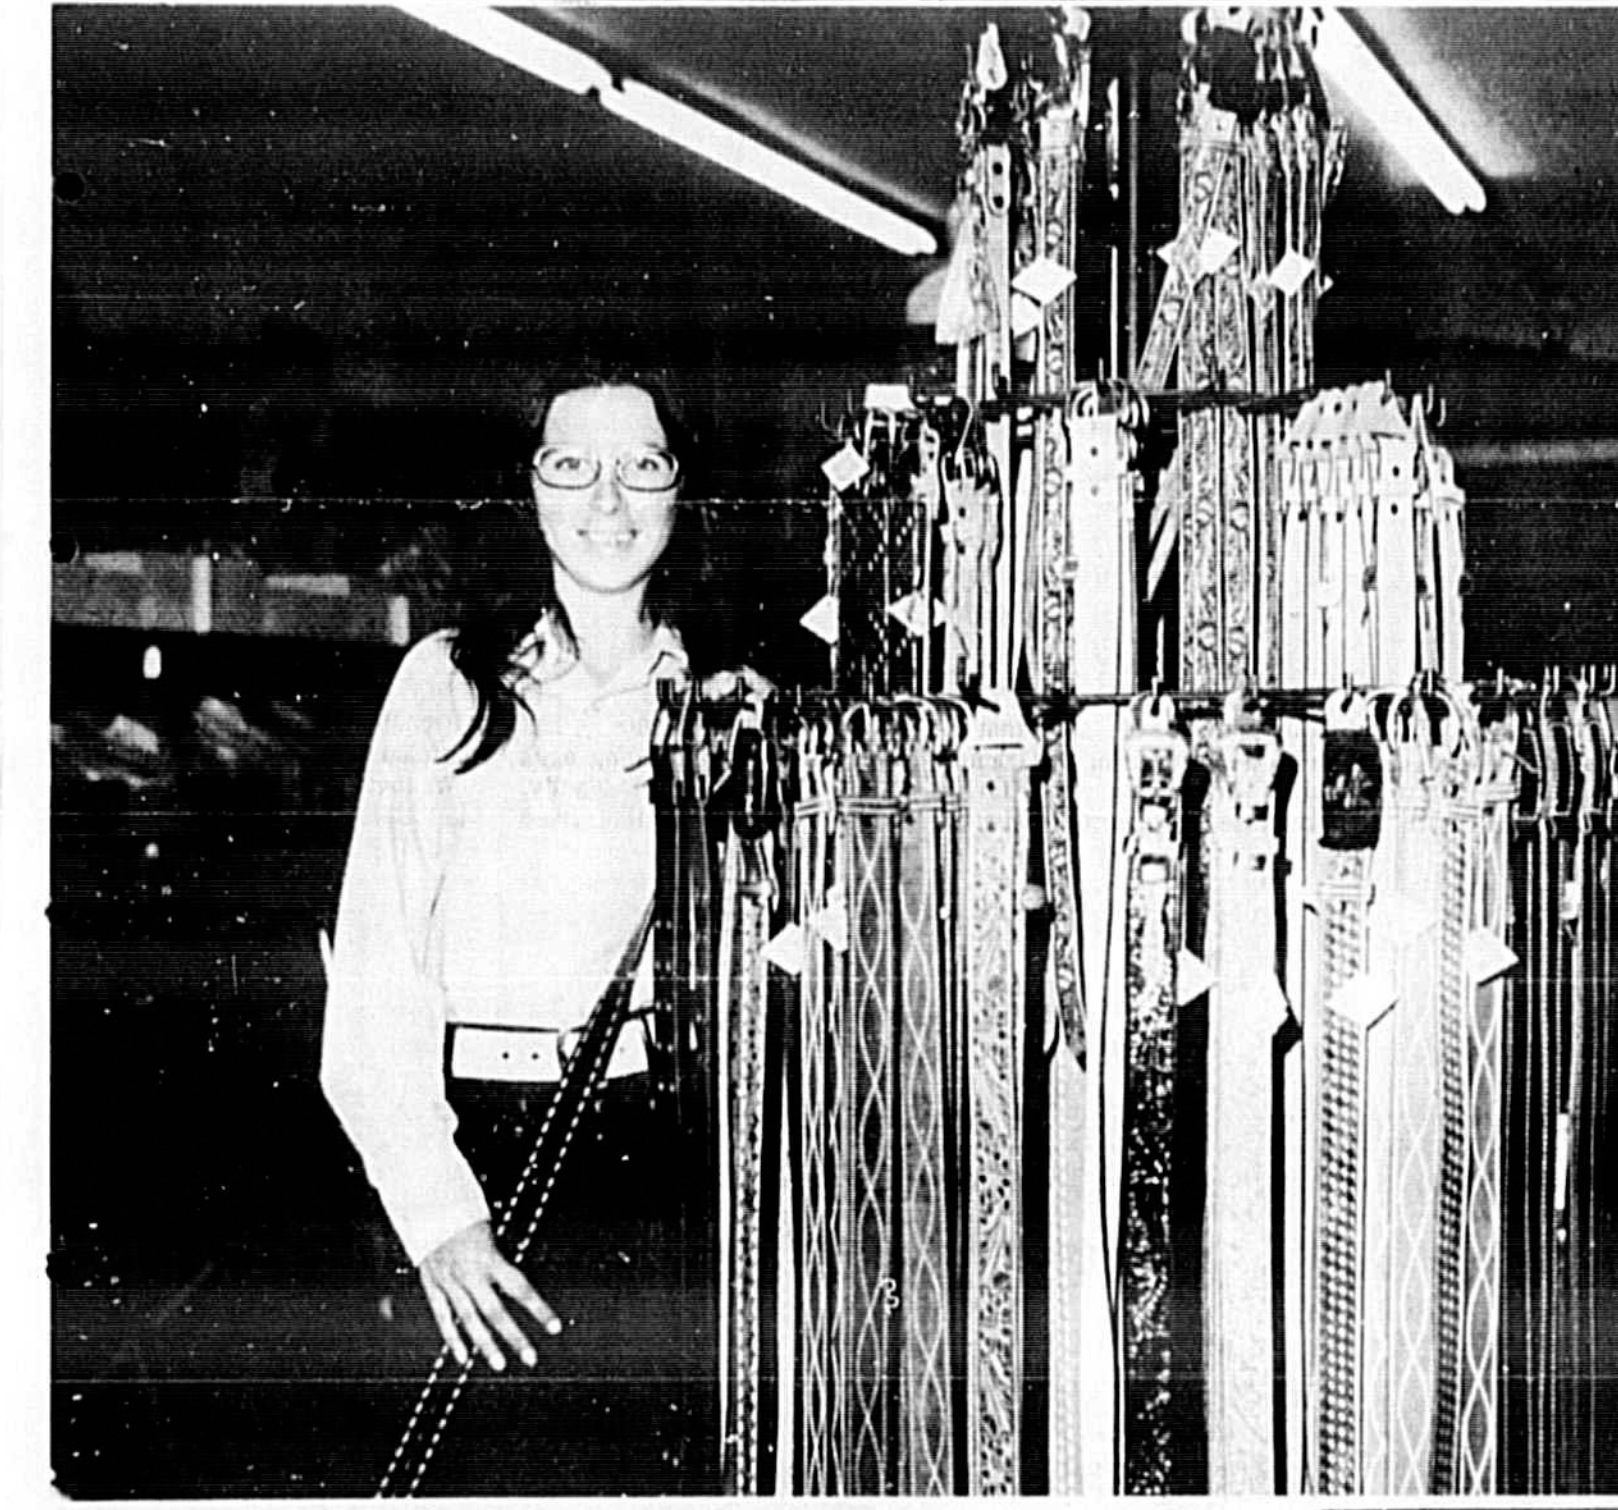

There is a new face down at Seminole Hardware and Western Supplies in the Longwood Plaza on 17-92. She is Patti Shook, a delightfully knowledgeable young Western-oriented gal. Charlie Glasscock, owner and manager of the store, told us he has asked Patti to manage his Western Department of the operation.

She owns her own horses which are stabled at the Little Weika Ranch, and has worked on ranches with horses ever since she was a little girl. She knows what is good in Western wear and what is suitable for different ranch activities. If there is any question about whether a saddle is good for your horse and for your own comfort, Patti can certainly clear that up for you. And of course, she has all the information about the latest styles in western wear and will have it available for you at Seminole Hardware and Western Supplies in the Longwood Plaza.

You will find the best selection of quality weather goods, Justin boots, Maverick jeans and Chambers and Justin belts. So for you folks who want or prefer Western attire, you should go down and see Patti Shook at Seminole Hardware and Western Supplies because you are aware, of course, that this is the oldest business of its kind in the Longwood area — strictly Western and of the best quality, with the best prices in YOUR budget range.

Once you get the Western wear for yourself, now you can turn to other important things such as the right food for your animals. At Seminole Hardware, Red Rose is the name of the food for your special animal, whether it be a rabbit, hog or horse. Charlie has feed to make 'em grow, make 'em look good and to make 'em feel good. I thought on other visits, that the inventory at this place of business was possibly the largest of any I had seen — but I was wrong because when we went back this week, the inventory was even larger. He has anything in the hardware line you could possibly want — things like Skill tools, all covered by 30-day free replacement guarantees — and power saws of different power motors and power drills and a complete selection of jig saws to fit your needs.

An added bonus if you need one, is that during the days between now and the end of the year, there is a continuous "Value Days Celebration" going on. Charlie has loads of new gift

The new western wear expert at Seminole Hardware and Western Wear is Patti Shook. She is shown here with a large selection of belts which she offers at a special value price to the Western wear fancier.

Don't Put Off 'Til Tomorrow What You Can Do Today

Life without love — the only rare tragedy

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1972 by Charles Scribner's Sons, Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I get so riled when I read what some women write to you and complain about. Let me give you a sample of what my life has been like.

When I was a year old, my mother ran off with another man. My father boarded me out, and when I was 12 he remarried again and I went to live with his mother and stepmother. That marriage was no good, either. My father was a big drinker and I used to be sexually so I got married at 14 just to get away from home. I had three miscarriages and one live child from that marriage, then my husband left me for another woman. I was only 21. Then I married again and I thought my luck had changed, but no sooner did we have a decent house and nice furniture than we got burned out and lost everything. No insurance.

Last March, I was raped by two men on my way home from work and they broke my glasses. Then my husband got laid off from work, and in the way to pick up his unemployment check some kid in a jalopy hit him and totaled our car.

Right now I am in the hospital having a hysterectomy. Every word of this is true, but there are plenty of people who are worse off than I am because I have a man who loves me and I love him. LUCKY IN OHIO

DEAR LUCKY: Bless you. Matching your experiences in one lifetime would be a job for Job.

DEAR ABBY: I thoroughly enjoyed reading your column concerning what some nurses in various hospitals around the country prefer to be called. However, there is a group among registered nurses that prefers to be recognized by a title not reflected in your column. We are known to family, friends, professional peers, and patients as "Mr."

And we represent about two per cent of the R. N. population of the nation. RALPH A. GEORGE, R. N.

DEAR RALPH: You mean that two per cent of all the registered nurses in the U. S. A. are MALE? Good night, Nurse!

DEAR ABBY: I am a registered nurse, and I was asked to be the nurse in charge of a patient who had been "like being called" nurse by her patients.

How about the nurse who refers to her patients as "The gallbladder in bed 6," or "The prostate in bed 9?"

I think the impersonal manner with which some nurses treat their patients today is disgraceful.

LOVE BEING A NURSE

CONFIDENTIAL TO LUELLA: The founder of the BIG BROTHERS is Irvin F. Westheimer, a Chicanista, now in his sixties. And your suggestion that black and white Big and Little Brother combinations would promote real brotherhood has not only been thought of—it's being practiced in many communities.

SCARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime finds you too apt to speak out of turn and subtly arouse some opposition to ideas you wish to express, but the evening brings a whole fresh new set of conditions under which you can make fresh new dreams of a practical nature come true. Expand.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan some new course through which to better express yourself in a m., then put it to the test in the p.m. Afternoon is best for cultivating some new acquaintance. Much good can come of this in the future.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have many obligations to attend to in a clever way, and there is no better day for this. This is the day that pleases mate. Evening is best for widening your horizons.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try to find out what it is that associates expect of you, then later get busy at the work necessary, with excellent results. Mate may be somewhat demanding, but it is better to do your utmost to please.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Keeping busy during day at tricky, fastidious jobs, pleasing associates, shopping, etc., will leave you evening free for amusements. Do something to improve wardrobe. Dress well tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Talk over some new and better course of action with mate for the future and have more harmony as well. Evening is best for amusements. Can be put in action this evening. A wide diet is best.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Give much attention to the requirements of kin during day and then you can get into the social side of life tonight with vim. Stick to fundamental issues. Avoid one who is depressive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Consult with associates on how to make improvements to regular routines so they become more efficient and easy in the future. Don't forget to do your shopping early. Evening is fine for recreation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get into those financial affairs of importance early so you free time for amusements you like later. You get some fine advice early today from an expert, so follow it to the things you like to do.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can make excellent plans during day for bigger ahead in the future, and then start the ball rolling in p.m. Study whatever needs doing at home and be sure to get the work done, whether personally or by others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Take the health or beauty treatments needed before stepping out for social life. Others will go out of their way to do you favors now. Avoid one who is hypocritical and has an eye on your assets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can get after your personal aims in a.m. and get good results, then you can concentrate on your biggest ambitions. Contact as many good friends as possible who can be of assistance.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Show you can come through with promises made either in civic or professional matters. Make a fine impression on an influential person during day. Ditto with another in p.m. socially.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those young people who will ask a million questions because the thirst for knowledge is tremendous, and should have the advantage of a fine academic training. Men will become a most practical person who can assure knowledge acquired in a sensible and wise way, and can usually have big success in life provided right spiritual training is given early as well. Sports are good here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

POLLY'S POINTERS

Freeze Varnish Brushes To Save Cleaning Time

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is a time-saver for those who do decoupage. Instead of cleaning your paint brush after each coat of varnish wrap the brush in aluminum foil and put it in the freezer. When ready to use, just unwrap and begin to paint. This also is a mess saver. I have been told this also can be done with any paint. I read the Pointers every day, have used many of them and am so glad we have each other—MRS. T. L. L.

DEAR POLLY—My daughter scribbled with a black magic marker pen all over my full-length mirror. Does anyone know how I can remove these marks?—M. P. K.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Prevee is with those people who abuse the express checking privileges at the super markets. They are there for the convenience of those buying only a few things. The checker should be firm and refuse a big load with two items, behind a counter woman with a big load who might have been a friend or the checker may have wished to avoid an argument. This system is a great convenience when not abused and should be respected by both customer and checker—MRS. T. J.

DEAR POLLY—I am happy to pass on, through you, a trick I found for signing those long glossy greeting cards and hope it will help Mrs. F. G. Put one or two strips of that well-known brand of magic transparent tape one below the other on the card. Write on the tape—MR. A. J. T.

DEAR POLLY—I have used the following Pointer for years and find it a great help. The nylon scooters on the bottom of chair legs caused me trouble by scratching my floors and making the wax job look terrible unless it was done quite often. I bought one outdoor-indoor carpet tile square cut it in circles and glued them to the bottom of my table and chair legs.

The difference this made is surprising and one I made many so many customers. Even a real estate salesman remarked that I must wax my floors daily and told others about my idea.—MRS. K. M. H.

DEAR POLLY—I cut a one-inch square of foam to put on the right side of my sewing machine and lay my scissors on this so the machine does not get scratched or the scissors misplaced. Needles and pins also can be stuck in such a piece.—MRS. C. N.

Bidding Review Locates Ace

last spade on dummy's club Jack.

Do you see why South elected to play the seven of clubs? No, it wasn't because East held the queen and not the ace. It was because when South reviewed the bidding he remembered that East had passed in second seat.

East had shown up with the ace of hearts and was marked with the queen of diamonds. If he didn't hold the king of spades, South was sure of his contract. If he did hold the king of spades, he couldn't also hold the ace of clubs but might hold the queen.

Therefore, when South played the low club he had given himself the best chance to make his contract.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South won the diamond lead with dummy's king and led a low heart. East played the eight and South won the trick. He played the ace of diamonds, ruffed his last diamond in dummy and then East in with the ace of trumps.

East led the five of clubs and after a slight amount of thought, South played the king of spades. East shifted to a spade, but the defense had all the tricks they were going to get. South then led dummy's ace, led a club to his king and since East's king of clubs had fallen East was able to return to dummy with the 10 of trumps and get rid of his last spade on dummy's club Jack.

Do you see why South elected to play the seven of clubs? No, it wasn't because East held the queen and not the ace. It was because when South reviewed the bidding he remembered that East had passed in second seat.

East had shown up with the ace of hearts and was marked with the queen of diamonds. If he didn't hold the king of spades, South was sure of his contract. If he did hold the king of spades, he couldn't also hold the ace of clubs but might hold the queen.

Therefore, when South played the low club he had given himself the best chance to make his contract.

South won the diamond lead with dummy's king and led a low heart. East played the eight and South won the trick. He played the ace of diamonds, ruffed his last diamond in dummy and then East in with the ace of trumps.

Volunteer Workers Needed Churchwomen Aid Cancer Patients

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

Cooperation is the key word in any successful venture. And a very warmly successful venture is being carried out with the Sanford Unit of Church Women United offering outstanding cooperation with the Seminole County Cancer Unit.

According to Mrs. Harry Cochran, service chairman for the local cancer unit, it was just one year ago that the cancer group asked the church women to man the loan closet and provide transportation for cancer patients in Seminole County.

This transportation service has been expanded by the Church women to include welfare patients unable to get to treatment centers without community help. In nine months, approximately 108 trips were made to various and numerous destinations as far in some cases as Gainesville to the Medical Center and in most cases to Orlando for radiation therapy. Some patients were taken every day from two to five weeks.

One patient is required to go to Winter Park twice weekly for speech therapy. She gets there through the generous spirit of the Church Women United volunteers. Through the efforts of these women, this spunky little gal, Trudy Ledbetter, a patient at Lakeview Nursing Home, might very soon now be reunited with her children who are currently in homes out of Seminole County. # Republican Critical, Nixon Committee

By CARL LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A top Republican official has given GOP governors a highly critical account of the way managers of President Nixon's re-election committee are continuing to treat the high command of the Republican National Committee.

Chairman Thomas Evans made clear in his speech to a closed luncheon at the Republican Governors Conference Monday that he feels that the "high handed" treatment of the RNC that he said marked the campaign is continuing in the post-election period. His attack produced some surprise from governors who told newsmen later they had not realized the extent of the friction between officials of the party's national committee and those of the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

After a working breakfast today with aides, the governors plan to tour for the remainder of the day.

Evans said he felt the RNC has failed to receive proper credit for its work in the campaign and said he was particularly annoyed at a letter from Maurice Stans, finance chairman of both the RNC and CRP, directing committee officials to appear Dec. 15 with a proposed budget for the following year.

Those at the luncheon said that Evans, who left here for Washington shortly afterwards, told them he was unsure whether he could meet that deadline and objected to the idea of being summoned before Stans.

National Indian 'Attack' Probed

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — General Services Administration officials are scheduled to testify today before a House subcommittee probing the Indian occupation of the Bureau of Indian Affairs headquarters last month.

The Indian Affairs panel, which is examining the motives for government decisions during the flare-up, was told Monday that officials chose not to evict the Indians forcibly for fear bloodshed would result.

Today, the subcommittee planned to question William E. Caselman, GSA general counsel; Herman W. Barth, deputy general counsel; John F. Gallagher, acting commissioner of GSA's public buildings service; and Col. Frank McKetta, acting assistant commissioner of the Office of Federal Protective Service Management. The GSA is responsible for the operation of government buildings.

As the hearing opened Monday, Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton said the government was concerned about the possibility of violence during the week-long occupation.

"It gets down to a matter of judgment—whether we want a confrontation with police, some hothead to explode himself, martyr himself, or to pursue a peaceful settlement," Morton said.

He said he felt many of the Indians intended to keep their vow to fight to the death if police attempted to evict them.

"We felt if the rabble rousers view held, some innocent people could be destroyed or hurt."

Morton discounted estimates of damage to the building, saying "I do not believe there is any $3 million in damage to that building. Mostly, it's a mess, and it doesn't take $3 million to clean up a mess."

The total, he said, probably would fall in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Although most of the questions dealt with government decisions, Rep. James Abourezk, D-S.D., told Morton he felt the demonstration showed Indians are not happy with BIA programs. The BIA is part of Morton's Interior Department.

"They feel other minority groups have reached for and

Court Will Review Calley's Sentence

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer
FALLS CHURCH, Va. (AP) — A military court has begun a review of Lt. William L. Calley Jr.'s conviction in the My Lai massacre following an appeal by Calley's lawyers that his 20-year prison sentence was too harsh.

Litmer pictured Calley as the scapegoat, noting that of 25 men charged in connection with the massacre only one—Calley—was convicted.

"How long is it necessary that Lt. Calley have to serve in prison to act as a deterrent for other soldiers (not) to do the same thing?" he asked.

A defense argued that Calley should not have been convicted of any crime greater than manslaughter, contending that he acted without malice, and without malice there could be no murder charge.

"We are saying that he did not know what he was doing was murder," said Calley's Army lawyer, Capt. J. Houston Gordon of Covington, Tenn. "Rather, we are saying he thought he was doing his job."

Countered the government: "For the sake of expediency, that man summarily executed a group of people."

In asking the review court to overturn the conviction, Calley's lawyers argued that the court-martial was illegal because he was held without consent beyond his discharge date; that there had been influence from President Nixon on down the chain of command; and that they were prevented from questioning such potential witnesses as Gen. William C. Westmoreland about outside influence.

"I think he has had his lesson—way more severe than I think is justified," said George W. Litmer, Calley's civilian attorney, in portraying Calley's actions at My Lai as those of a young officer responsibly carrying out orders.

The three-judge Army Court of Military Review is expected to announce early next year whether it will sustain the conviction and uphold the sentence, reduce it or set Calley free. The court cannot increase the penalty.

Calley, 29, was convicted nearly two years ago of murdering at least 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai during a search-and-destroy mission March 16, 1968. He was sentenced to life in prison but that subsequently was reduced to 20 years.

Southwest Volusia Commercial Zoning

The West Volusia Zoning Commission at its meeting in DeLand, Thursday acted on four southwest Volusia applications.

The Cypress Isles Community Development Plan located between the Maytown, Osteen Road and the St. Johns River was approved with one change in the proposal. The Commission stipulated that a commercial strip be located between the highway and the Florida East Coast Railway tracks be changed to a three acre commercial zone within the project leaving a green belt zone along the highway.

A 26 acre tract at the intersection of US 17-92 and Enterprise Road was rezoned from A1 (Agricultural) to C1A (Limited Commercial). This development as planned will include a professional building, a high grade restaurant and a shopping center. Traffic into the area will be thru an east-west street between the two bounding highways to be planned by the State Department of Transportation. The developer for this project is currently putting together a large shopping center south of DeLand. A draft of a detailed plan will be submitted within 12 months for Commission approval.

Action on a proposal for a grocery, fishermen's supply store and boat livery by R. J. Bertol of Longwood north of the illegally dug canal in the Bloch Brothers "81, Johns River Acres" was postponed to a later meeting in order to obtain the recommendations of the Department of Environmental Control and the County Planner, Alan Dakan, Assistant

Better Life Insurance Stocks In Offing

Editorial Comment

Lovejoy said the state-prescribed mortality tables prescribed for firms in New York are outdated by about three decades.

Manhattan, a $350 million old-line company dating back to 1850, is unusual in the life field. The company was incorporated as a mutual life insurance concern, but has public shares outstanding.

Also, it operates in all 50 states, primarily through individual insurance brokers instead of maintaining large, full-time agency force.

Standard & Poor's investment advisory service, utilizing what might be called an interim method of financial reporting on Manhattan Life, shows the company earning 50 cents a share in 1970 and 88 cents in 1971.

The rate earned on new investments increased to 8.33 per cent from 7.67 per cent.

Policyholders are credited with the company's entire underwriting profits, except for nominal

Americans Have Learning Ability

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Now that the issue over how long will it take for our environment to change us? In case another Ice Age arrives, where should we go to get the best ice cubes — New York, Chicago, or Los Angeles?

If we don't change our environment, how long will it take for our environment to change us? If we ever get out of this mess, shall we like the next mess we get into any better? Just keep this thought in mind: A good crop of worries, like any other crop, requires proper weeding.

Lovable Pet

Say-That-Again Department: on a bulletin board we know well, employees post ads and notices. In a current entry, a woman is trying to unload a one-year-old female dog "Free to Good Home." The critter's description: "Size of cocker spaniel. Very lovable pet. Loves children but will eat anything."

Of course, the basis of selection will vary with the individual. Some people like to worry about things they can do something about; others prefer to worry about things nobody could possibly do anything about. To each his taste.

As far as we're personally concerned, too many worries are distracting, so we are going to concentrate on just a few this season. For your information, these are a few of the worries we refuse to wrinkle our brows about at least at this time:

Will Santa Claus get here in time for Christmas this year? What new hobby will Frank Sinatra take up in retirement? Should America return to the gold standard? If so, where can

Old Time Honest Fight Manager

By JACK MURPHY
Copley News Service

It was a small item, tucked away on an inside page. Jack Hurley, a retired fight manager, had died at the Olympic Hotel in Seattle. He was 73.

When I think of Jack Hurley, I visualize him sitting at a restaurant in downtown Seattle. The hour is four o'clock in the morning. This is his sixth meal of the day, but eating doesn't interest him.

He eats like a bird and he is constructed in the manner of a whooping crane. Long-legged and skinny.

Hurley is taking orders for a preposterous event. He is the promoter of a heavyweight title fight between Floyd Patterson and T. Peter Rademacher. Rademacher is an amateur, the Olympic champion of the 1956 Melbourne Games.

Hurley is scornful of amateurs. He once defined a professional: "I'm in a theater and there's a fire. I stay in my seat for 30 seconds before I do anything. I school myself to do that while the amateurs trample each other. Then I walk over their bodies and leave by the nearest exit."

Sequoia Ants Do People Spoil Ants Good Work

By PETER J. HORTON
Copley News Service

The future of the world-famous giant Sequoia trees may be at stake because the flood of humans in this park is upsetting the natural ecology of the forests in which the trees—and the ants—live.

In 1969 two Sequoia trees in Hazel Grove broke off above the root level, and it was noted that there were carpenter ant galleries at the site of the breaks. After long study—and worry—the National Park Service recently enlisted the services of Dr. David Wood of the University of California, Berkeley, to look into the problem. Wood, one of the nation's top entomologists, asked Dr. Charles David, a specialist from England, to join in the study. They expect to report to the park service in June, 1973, on their findings.

David, in response to an inquiry concerning possible "people pollution" that might have upset the natural links between the ants and the trees, said, "National Park Service biologists have speculated that large galleries of ants around the trees and, also, that large numbers of people visiting this area might have contributed to unusually large ant populations."

David said his and Wood's studies will attempt to determine the effect of the ants—and the people—on the trees and in turn on the ecology of the forests in which both live. Ants have been associated with the Sequoias for many thousands of

Global Report Japan Investment In U.S. to Widen

By RAY CROMLEY

Japanese investment in the United States may be accelerated sharply if new U.S.-Japan trade agreements are not being talked about limit appreciably the quantities or dollar amounts of Japanese goods which can be exported to this country.

They may see more and more Japanese products partly assembled or "finished" in America. More Japanese concerns may set up subsidiaries here to buy into joint ownership with U.S. firms making the same products.

This reporter has talked with Japanese businessmen who have been shopping throughout the United States for firms to buy these past several years in anticipation of tighter U.S. import restrictions, whether these come about by U.S. law or through agreement between Tokyo and Washington.

Some Japanese firms have been setting the stage for several years to enter the U.S. market through subsidiaries in Canada, partly because of what the Japanese consider to be more favorable investing conditions in that country, and partly because through a combination of Japanese imports and Canadian assembly in Japanese plants, a profitable penetration of the 50 American states would be possible with less danger of quotas being applied on parts and sub-assemblies.

Meanwhile, almost unnoticed, a considerable amount of Asian investment has been moving into North America, principally Canada and the United States.

The principal sources are Japan and Hong Kong.

Ottawa has in fact been a drive to lure Japanese investments to offset the lagging growth of the U.S. dollar stake in that northern country.

It is reported in Asia that side-by-side with this Canadian welcome mat for the Japanese investor is a program to get Japanese professional and technical talent to emigrate to British Columbia and other western provinces. (This is understood to be part and parcel of a Canadian drive for technicians worldwide. Recently, in Germany, Britain, Italy, France, West Germany and in other countries where the technical and scientific pool of men and women is large.)

Japan overall is expected to add somewhat over a billion dollars to its overseas investments in 1973. This compares with increases of 800 million to 900 million a year beginning in 1968.

From 1961 through 1967 new Japanese overseas investments were running at only $100 million to $25 million a year. The increase has been made possible, of course, by Japan's continuing favorable balance in trade.

Of the total $4.5 billion Japan has invested abroad, almost a fourth is in North America, followed closely by Asia, Europe and Latin America roughly tie for third place.

Historically, Japanese investments abroad have been made to insure a regular and reasonably priced source of raw materials for her industry. In more recent years, the Japanese have invested in such places as Hong Kong and South Korea to take advantage of lower labor costs.

The newest Japanese drive, as noted above, is aimed at part in insuring that import restrictions will not keep Japanese goods out of highly profitable markets in the United States and elsewhere.

One Man's Opinion Futility, Fatality Of Confrontation

By REV. DAVID POLING

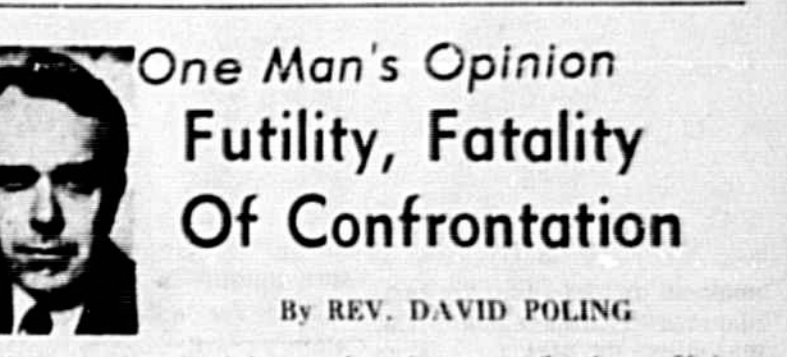

The episode of violence played out at Southern University in Baton Rouge demonstrates the futility of confrontation tactics. The pressure of protest is real, even an absolute need for oppressed minorities. Yet the clenched fist, up against the wall language no longer belongs in this society. The strategy of change is best found in the persuasion and persistence of a moral claim. And lasting change is confirmed by the manner in which it is pursued.

The occupation of the Bureau of Indian Affairs headquarters in Washington, D.C. by dissident Indian groups would seem to belie the above statement. I feel it confirms it. For if anything, that event seemed to reach its final conclusion in Baton Rouge where Black young people may have felt that their demands would be granted, since the government caved in to another minority claim in D.C. Instead, the result was two dead, many injured, and a university broken.

The demands of the Indian delegation sit-in are difficult to sort out. They finally rest on old treaties broken, new commitments delayed, and fresh hopes dashed. Yet the wrecking of the BIA does not solve the Indian future nor represent a grand strategy of civil rights restored. This evolves out of negotiation (which the Nixon administration began earlier in the year when it announced that the BIA would ultimately be turned over to tribal leaders) and deliberation—words that torment every activist and try the patience of any just cause.

It is hard for the general public to see (or for Indian activists to admit) that substantial progress is being made within the Indian community, particularly in the Southwest. By progress, I mean the leadership, direction, and responsibility for their own life. In a culture so draped with unemployment, sickness, and suicide, it is dramatic to see Indian men and women taking charge of community affairs, heading colleges, churches, and schools. While hardly complete, the trend is unmistakable.

Meaningful change is not related to the fire-bomb, the shouted slogans, the sound of windows breaking. It is won in the hearts of those who believe in its cause and verify it with patience and persistence.
