No Injuries As Explosion Rocks Cuba U.N. Mission

NEW YORK (UPI) A powerful bomb rocked the Cuben mission to the United Nations Friday night, showering neighborhood streets with shards of glass but causing no serious injuries.

A right-wing Cuban terrorist group, Omega claimed responsibility for the blast. It was the second explosion at the r Lexington Avenue in the last six weeks.

No serious injuries were reported, although two police officers near the mission were taken to Bellevue Hospital for ear examinations.

Rhodesia War Deaths Mount

SALISBURY, Zimbabwe Rhodesia (UPI) — The military command today reported 17 war deaths and said 11 black pupils were abducted by black insurgents from a mission run by the American United Church of Christ.

The communique said guerrillas of Robert Mugabe's Patriotic Front alliance kidnapped 11 male pupils Nov. 21 from the Mt. Selinda mission on the eastern border with Mozambique. "They were told that they were being tal terrorist base inside Mozambique," it said.

Ireland Head Raps IRA

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — Ireland's new Prime Minister Charles J. Haughey, once sacked from the Cabinet on suspicion of gunrunning for the IRA, has vowed a tough stance against the outlawed group. Haughey, 54, was elected to replace outgoing Prime Minister Jack Lynch Friday, defeating his old schoolmate and arch political rival Vice Premier George C. Colley by 44 votes to 38 in a secret ballot of the ruling Flanna Fail Soldiers of Destiny Party's 52

Carter Uses A Crude Word To Back-Up Energy Speech

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Carter, in "a very vigorous speech" that included a crude word, has told House energy conferees they better get their collective buttocks moving on major energy legislation.

In pushing the conferees to complete action on at least one major piece of energy legislation by year's end, the president Friday used "language he doesn't commonly use ... It was a very vigorous speech," said Rep. Philip Sharp, D-Ind. Sharp said Carter used the work "ass" but refused to put it in context, although it was clear the president suggested Congress' ought either to get its collective one moving or kicked.

Auto Industry: Big Slump

DETROIT (UPI) - Mired in a deep slump, the U.S. auto industry cut car and truck production sharply this week while permanent layoffs of hourly workers climbed past 116,000.

That figure could easily go over 130,000 in January when General Motors Corp. adds 11,300 employees to the roll of indefinitely idled workers, raising concerns about the health of Big Three Supplemental Unemployment Benefit funds. Ford Motor Co., with 11 of its 15 U.S. assembly plants closed this week, accounted for only 6.3 percent of domestic car production.

Long Island Railroad Off

NEW YORK (UPI) - The United Transportation Union called a strike on the Long Island Rail Road at 12:01 a.m. today, cutting off service for 260,000 daily commuters on the nation's most heavily used rail line. The strike, affecting 17 unions representing 6,200 workers, was called by Edward Yule Jr., general chairman of the UTU, after the Metropolitan Transportation Authority rejected the union's latest

Stocks In Surprise Rally

NEW YORK (UPI) - Despite the tensions and uncertainties surrounding the Iranian crisis, the stock market posted a sharp gain this week as interest rates fell and institutions did some year-end trading. Turnover was heavy.

The Dow Jones industrial average, a 10.58-point winner last week; climbed 10.84 points to 823.19. Some observers said the market has embarked on a year-end rally that investors hope will carry over into early 1980. Hundreds of stocks are selling at cheap prices following October's severe selloff.

It is really a good program. It allows the students to see what a hospital is like. It is unusual - only one of two in the state," xplained Mrs. Moran. Many of the students will be working as medical technologists, so they will be observers at Florida Hospital in Orlando during the second semester.

The other class is the Health Service Aide Program taught by Thelma McGhee, a Registered Nurse, who has worked at Orlando Regional Medical Center for 11 years before coming to Lake Brantley this year to instruct 35 students in two two-hour classes. She said her course gives insight into different areas of the medical profession and helps students decide if they want to make it a career.

Soviets: Weapons First, Then Grain

The recent spate of adverse economic news from the Soviet Union is no doubt comforting to many Americans, all the more so at a time when our own country is beset by so many troubles. And, if the past is any guide, some will choose to interpret the Soviet Union's faltering economy as a sure sign that Moscow must trim its expansionist foreign policy and military spending. Much as we might wish that to be the case, all historical experiences suggest otherwise. Soviet agriculture is a case in point. In its annual economic report, the Soviet government acknowledged shortfalls in the production of grain, poultry, beef and milk. What's new about that? Chronic agricultural shortages are a way of life in the Soviet Union.

The West, and particularly the United States, has been all too happy to offset poor Soviet harvests by selling Moscow vast quantities of surplus wheat and other foodstuffs. The latest U.S.-Soviet grain deal, for example, calls for the delivery of 9.4 million metric tons of wheat and corn during drawal from a human rights struggle in the next 10 months.

Flagging production in such industries as steel, chemicals, fertilizer, cement, mining and forestry presumably signals nothing more than continued austerity for Soviet consumers who have never really known anything else.

Moscow's reported energy problems may foretell more serious difficulties, although it should be remember that Western experts are the long guerrilla war and selection of a new sharply divided on the extent of Soviet reserves of government. oil and natural gas. Some observers, including the That war has been fought against a suc-CIA's economic analysts, believe the Soviets will cession of governments that excluded black have to begin importing oil within the next few years. Others suggest that the vast, barely tapped, energy resources of Siberia could sustain the Soviet economy for decades to come.

In any event. Moscow's own report of its energy crunch centered more on production difficulties than on actual shortages of exploitable oil, natural gas and coal reserves. Meanwhile, the Soviets are pushing ahead aggressively with the construction of nuclear power plants and fast-breeder reac-

Significantly, none of the clouds on the Soviet end of hostilities and selection of a new economy's horizon appear likely to check the momentum of that country's unprecedented arms buildup. The solid consensus of knowledgeable Western observers is that Soviet military spending will continue to increase by about five percent per year through at least the mid-1980s, just as it has every year since the early 1960s.

Soviet consumers, denied factual information on the extent of their government's military spending, have always taken a back seat to Moscow's voracious appetite for more arms of every description. Indeed, those economic deficiencies not attributable to centralized planning or a lack of incentives can justifiably be blamed on an arms industry that has first claim on Soviet science, production facilities and natural resources.

The latest news on the Soviet economy does, however, suggest one ray of hope for the West. Moscow's need for sustaining transfusions of Western techology and foodstuffs will remain as great as ever. Given the wits and will to exploit these dependencies to restrain Soviet foreign policy, the United States and its allies might yet arrest Moscow's more adventurist impulses.

Great Britain has relaxed economic sanctions against the black-faced white power government of Bishop Abel Muzorewa in Imbabwe-Rhodesia.

Now President Jimmy Carter is under pressure from the U.S. Senate's apologists for white-minority rule to do the same. At issue is the transition between the end of icipation, and recently against the inerracial government that Bishop Muzorewa heads, in which Zimbabwe's white minority is guaranteed a larger voice in government than its position in the population warrants.

With 90 percent of Zimbabwe under martial law, the incumbent government would be permitted an obvious advantage in any elections held quickly.

The Patriotic Front, the coalition of guerrilla leaders preasing for new elections, hepes to win a six-month delay between the government. The Musorewa government and Great Britain are pressing for two months. "The issues boil down to what will be legal and illegal during the transition, and who will decide," a Patriotic Front spokesman said.

During the April elections that saw Bishop Muzorewa elected and a white veto of constitutional changes guaranteed in the new Zimbabwe-Rhodesia constitution, hundreds of supporters of the Patriotic Front were arrested or detained.

The Front's leaders want assurances from Britain that Muzorewa's incumbency won't permit him an unfair advantage again, and that their forces will be free to campaign throughout Zimbabwe-Rhodesia.

Heavily dependent on neighboring South Africa for arms and troops, the Musorewa government badly wants international

A relaxation of American sanctions, supported by Sen. Jesse Heims, R.-N.C., and Sen. S.I. IN BRIEF Winter Springs May Gain

A 'Village Market Place

Winter Springs has received a proposal for a new shopping village. The Village Market Place will be located at the north west corner of State Route 434 and Sherry Road. The $2.25 million shopping village will be constructed in two phases. Phase I will contain a 20,500 square foot Fairway Supermarket and four retail stores and construction should be completed in six months. Phase II will contain a drug store, variety store and six-eight retail stores. The developers of the village, Royal Canadian Development, hope to com-plete the project by late 1981.

Flagship To Sell Stock?

Flagship Banks Inc., said it has learned a number of European investors have acquired an option to purchase one million shares of its stock from Frank Smathers Jr. The transaction represents approximately 14 percent of Flagship's outstanding common stock.

Thomas Bartlett, corporate vice president Flagship's Miami office, refused to divulge the national origin of the investors. He also refused to say whether they are Arabs, saying, however, one does not generally think of Arabs as being European.

The management of Flagship noted that represen-tatives of the purchasers said they were making the investment because Flagship is regarded as a well managed institution with extensive banking and lending activities in Florida and Latin America. In addition, the purchasers have assured that they intend to support present management, and they have stated that there is no intent to make a further investment in Flagship.

Area Papers Make Changes

In the business of newspaper business in the Seminole County area, two significant announcements were made recently.

The Citizen News, a south Seminole County weekly newspaper was sold to Gannett Inc. for a reported $200,000. Helen Schneiker was named publisher of th newly-acquired property by Gannett President Al

Meanwhile, the Sentinel Star Co., publisher of the Sentinel Star in Orlando, announced a major plant expansion of its Orlando facility estimated at $38.8 million Construction is expected to begin in January 1980 and completion is scheduled September, 1981.

Meadowood Building Begins

Construction is underway for a 54-unit addition to the Meadowood Apartments in Altamonte Springs and a 40-unit addition to the Rollingwood Apartments near Casselberry, according to officials of Cardinal Industries, Inc., Sanford, developers of the projects. Meadowood's addition will consist of 14 furnished studios, 15 furnished one bedrooms, 15 unfurnished one bedrooms and 10 unfurnished two bedrooms. Rollingwood's second section will have 10 furnished studios, 10 furnished one bedrooms, 10 unfurnished one bedrooms and 10 unfurnished two bedrooms. Meadowood's first section of 56 units and

Rollingwood's initial phase of 64 units are fully oc-

Wekiva Cablevision Near

Orange-Seminole Cablevision has announced completion of cable television construction passing more than 2,000 homes in the Wekiva Hunt Club Subdivision in Seminole County.

"We're pleased to welcome our friends in Wekiya. This represents only part of Orange-Seminole Cablevision's on-going construction program — one of the fastest growing cable systems in the country," said Charles F. King, general manager.

Orange-Seminole Cablevision now serves more than 49,000 subscribers, and has cable passing more than 105,000 homes in Orlando Metropolitan area of-fering 10 channels of eptertainment, education and information plus a premium programming service, Home Box Office.

Consumers Gripe As Yuletide Costs Soar

By JANET CAWLEY United Press International

Soaring costs for everything from turkeys to stocking stuffings threaten to make Yuletide 1979 seem like the ghost of Christmas past.

Signs of budget-trimming abound. Even Santa Claus will be missing in many places. The Santa usually in the lobby of The Daily News in New York was discontinued this year because of high costs.

In Guildford, England, about 40 miles southwest of London, all three major department stores have decided against having a Santa Claus because of the rising cost of fairy grottos -- the British equivalent of Santaland.

Good, Bad Toys Available To All

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Green slime in a Christmas toy called the "Ork Egg" can damage furniture, clothes and hair, while another toy called "Baby Grows Up" looks like a deformed child, a consumer group reports. Those toys and a dozen others belong to the Christmas trash box rather than toy chests, the Consumer Affairs Committee of Americans for Democratic Action said last week. "My Dog has Fleas" was labeled the year's dumbest toy. The object is to keep fleas on the dog and away from the child. But the group recommended eight toys as good buys this

"Skedoodle," used for drawing patterns and pictures; the "Atomic Arcade," a table-top pinball game; "Electronic Baseball 2," a hand-held game; "Speak and Tell," which has a 236-word spelling vocabulary; the Fisher-Price "Kitchen Set;" "Woodsey's," a group of fuzzy dolls in a log house; "Giant Pre-School Loc Blocs 100 piece set," and the doll "Baby Little Love."

The group, which has been surveying Christmas season toys for eight years, reviews heavily promoted items for safety, durability, play value and how they compare to the way they were advertised.

Mattel's $2 "Ork Egg," a spinoff from the TV show "Mork and Mindy," was named "potentially the most destructive" toy. The group said when a child pulls apart a white plastic egg shell, he finds a fetus-like object surrounded by green slime. The problem is the slime can damage "your floors, your furniture, your hair," and you can only remove it by following special cleanup instructions that come with the package. The "worst toy" designation went to Mattel's "Baby Grows Up," a doll that inflates when a bottle is squeezed in its mouth. Instead of looking like a little girl when inflated, the group said, the toy looks like a deformed child with artificial limbs.

Other "trash box" toys included:

"Space Creatures Full Head Mask," which uses flammable cement; "Suckerman," a plastic doll with suction cups that do not stick to most surfaces; "Raceway Pit Stop 812," which has too many put-together parts; "Zodiac," a $40 toy computer for charting horoscopes; "Gobbles, the Crazy Eating Goat," which eats an endless supply of plastic garbage; "Zap-Zap Racetrack," which has cars that can jump off the track and hit a child in the face.

Also, "The Energized Hulk," cheaply made with little play interest though it costs up to $15; "Disney Mickey Mouse Music Machine," the group labeled "a piece of junk"; "Bubble Yum Baby," a doll with a balloon in her mouth; and "Major Morgan the Electronic Organ," a toy that frustrated 3-year-olds and bored older children.

500 First-Graders Go Shopping

RSVP Christmas Store: The Work Seemed Worth It

Christmas Eve at Macy's would seem like th reading room in a library compared to the busy crowds at the Chamber of Commerce building in Sanford this week, when more than 500 first-graders did their Christmas shopping at the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) Christmas store.

Migrant children and students from the Title compensatory education program in Seminole county were alded in their selection of gifts for the mediate family by RSVP volunteers. Many of the 4,000 gifts available were made by the volunteers them-

Each child was charged only $1 for the total of the gifts selected, but children who could not afford this amount were not charged at all. As the children entered the room one of 50 RSVP volunteers paired off with each child helping him with his Christmas selections. All gifts were then wrapped and tagged and Santa was on hand to listen to personal requests and to hand out small gifts to the youthful shoppers. Looking at the smiles on the faces it was hard to tell volunteers, but as the children left the room with their gifts and the tired volunteers looked at the picked-over items and the scraps of wrapping paper littering the floor, someone started a Chritsmas carol.

Terminal Disease Results In Founding Of Fellowship

By TOM NETSEL Herald Staff Writer

It has been said you will not find an atheist in a foxhole. And H.S. "Speed" Moreland knew this. As a U.S. Nevy pilot for 23 years and a believer in God, reland was brought up in a Christian home. But, as he put it, "I was not a devout Christian."

Then on a cold November night in a Texas hospital, weland found himself in thet "foshole," and he needed

"I'd been ill about three months," said Moreland who is vice president of First Federal of Mid Florida in Sanford, "and they finally get me in the hequital and took a bunch of tests." Waiting for the results was difficult. The worry, the fear and the laps. Atraid of knowing; straid of not knowing. Then finally the results came back. "Out it came," said Mersiand. "It came out that yest've get instamia. You never expect it but yes have a fear of it." Mersiand tesk his dector's advice and west to the M.D. Andersen Cancer Center in Houston, Texas where further tests coefficient the serier diagnesis.

Destern told him they had a 60 percent chance to surpress the Massa and if they succeeded, he had a 70 percent chance or survival. "Those are not good odds," he remembered telling the doctors, "but they are better than 50 percent, so let's go at it." Weeks of chemotherapy followed. "It was not exactly fun

Moreland said he knew he needed more help than the doctors could give him. "I knew I needed a miracle," he claimed. As Moreland was boarding the plane for Texas, his mother gave him a book written by evangelist Oral Roberts called "How to Obtain Your Miracle." Moreland read the book, though as he said, he was never deeply religious but he did believe in God.

said Moreland. "Oral Roberts advocated the only way to get out was to get a miracle from God."

After eight weeks in the Texas hospital, Moreland said he was "protty ill and they were having trouble controlling it." His temperature was very high and his arms were like pincushions from all the injections. "There just weren't any more veins," he said.

World Gets Smaller Each Day The words of the recent popular song, "It's a Small Small World" remind us that we are living on an ever increasingly shrinking planet. The song says: "It's a world of laughter and a world of tears. It's a world of hope and a world of fears By FRED L. NEAL Congregational Christian Church, It's so much that we share that it's time we were aware Sanford It's a small world after all. There is just one moon and a golden sun,

And a smile means friendship to everyone Though the mountains divide and the oceans are wide, it's a small world after all."

I thought about the words of this song and when I heard one of our astronauts describing our earth from his vantage point on the moon. He said that it appeared to be just a bright, small shining, shimmering ball in the midst of a vast universe. He further stated that he had never realized our earth was so shrinking, and we are going to have to learn to live together in small, and he was impressed with the fact that we had better learn how to live together in peace since we do live on an ever inking pland.
