By VIRGINIA P. ANDERSON

The Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday night in the Community Hall with President C. P. Brasington presiding. Reports of various committees followed roll call and the reading of minutes of the previous meeting. Sixteen new members were reported by Mrs. F. D. Anderson.

Chairman of the Road Committee, E. D. Anderson, suggested that the southern portion of the county might be willing to help Lake Mary secure the continuation of the Lake Mary highway through to 17-92. Mr. Gano had been contacted by Wm. Leffler, member of the committee, and he was willing to use right of way for such a road, providing it was put through at once.

It was pointed out that J. M. McClelland, County Commissioner, was in favor of paving the old road which parallels the railroad, but as chairman of the Board he has no vote.

People are again playing shuffleboard, Joe Maybury of the Recreation Committee reported. He suggested that shuffleboard be served for the children. He also asked for additional equipment for them and was directed to make such purchases as he saw fit, up to the limit of $5.00, and bill the Chamber of Commerce for them.

The secretary and treasurer of the Beautification Committee, Mrs. F. E. Godwin told of 26 hours of donated labor during the past month, covering grass cutting and raking at the cemetery, parks and Chamber of Commerce. The committee has a cash balance of $10.92 at present.

The order in which J. E. Smith is contributing to the annual Christmas program has been accepted by C. W. Weiderrich, chairman of that committee. Mrs. C. E. Patterson also of the Christmas Tree committee, said that almost $100 already collected would be used for gifts for the children.

President Brasington said he feels that the threat of an injunction influences the operators of motor boats to muffle their craft properly, once it is called to their attention, a direct result of the resolution that was presented to the County Commissioners. It was voted that the Chamber sponsor the Boy Scout Troop for another year.

Visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baskett, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers and Mrs. Esther Smith were introduced to the members. Ladies of the Home Demonstration Club served pie and coffee, following adjournment, to the 32 members and four visitors.

The President has made a number of very important and far-reaching statements, and whether any fresh statement is to be made on his behalf I do not know. But I feel some children are in the position of this extremely important issue should be before us when we debate the question on Thursday.

Ten Die In Riots

In the city's two-mile-square Muslim quarter it was cordoned off by bayonet-wielding police and British troops and armored cars.

Elastic in the city violence was subsiding, but demonstrators made a new small scale attempt today to rush the court building as the tribunal denied Malay appeal to halt Maria Bertha's transfer to Holland.

Two Associated Press correspondents, bureau chief Tom Masterson and Pulitzer Prize winner Larry Allen, were injured when a mob attacked and burned their car last night.

Masterson suffered a broken leg and body injuries. Allen, who spent the night after the attack in a Chinese home, had been injured and a fractured arm. Hospital authorities said neither was in a critical condition.

An European, major targets of the enraged Malays and Indians, remained locked in their homes, strong police and military patrols roamed the streets.

British authorities last night pushed the Herthog child and her mother from the country in which they had been staying to a secret hiding place under heavy guard. Though permitted by today's court ruling to go to Holland, the child must be returned to Singapore next March for a hearing on another appeal brought by her foster mother and husband.

Mrs. Herthog lost her daughter during the Japanese occupation of Java. The Malay woman, Che Anniah, had reared her as her own daughter since then.

Muslim priests yesterday spured the rioters with charges that the court's earlier decision affronted their religion. Late last night the Singapore radio broadcast an appeal by the Muslim high priest for an end to the strife.

Foster Dulles, chairman of the endowment, at their semi-annual meeting. It was drafted by trustees General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Henry W. Hutton and David Rockefeller.

The statement issued by the 19-man "study committee" said that the nation's present emergency could not be met by hysteria, by "political headline hunting" or by "appeal to prejudice."

The committee's statement added that pressure upon President Truman to use the atomic bomb is demoralizing the American cause. It also expressed opposition to "unilateral pressure for the ouster of Secretary of State Acheson."

Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, issued the statement. He said the crisis committee was formed last March by the Board of Directors of the Carnegie Corporation.

Crops Undamaged By Latest Cold Wave

LAKELAND, Dec. 12—(AP)—

Florida came through last night's frosty weather without damage. The cold wave, which started late Saturday afternoon and continued through Sunday morning, brought temperatures down to a minimum.

The temperature ranged from 28 degrees in the northern portion of the Gainesville district to 45 in the Everglades area near Belle Glade.

Some spots in the Everglades registered 21 degrees with scattered frost, but no crops had been planted in those low places since the November freeze and no damage resulted. Miami had a low of 49.

Fruit, some vegetable fields came through safely because of the southwesterly wind, said Johnson.

"This is a beautiful winter weather for Florida," Johnson said. "There was no citrus damage whatsoever."

Two Trainmen Killed As Locomotives Crash

VANCEBORO, Me., Dec. 12—(AP)—

Two Canadian Pacific trainmen were killed today as two steam locomotives and 14 cars of a double-header freight train toppled from tracks undermined by heavy rain.

The accident occurred in a trainstorm on Maine Central Railroad tracks near Lambert Lake, nine miles west of Vanceboro and near the Canadian border.

The dead were Joseph Dorman, 56, engineer, and C. M. McKay, 60, fireman, who were on the second locomotive.

The fireman, engineer, and a trainman and the first locomotive crashed with minor injuries.

The derailed locomotives and cars carried down were supporting pipes, disrupting communication in the area and tearing up about 150 feet of track.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12—(AP)—Congratulations are in order. Alan Young has just been made president of the businessmen's society for the perpetuation and circulation of low ties.

"Congratulations, Mr. Young, I have also been named president of the society," he said.

"We have been selected for the honor by Edward Oelner, an insurance man who is also a president. As a matter of fact, the other professional men as members and all of them are president. That's the kind of society it is."

"The men plan to send President Truman a membership badge in honor of his valiant service in popularizing the low tie. He would be the president of the society, of course."

Oelner told us how the society got started. "It was earlier this year. Al or eight of us were sitting around at lunch and we suddenly noticed that every one of us was wearing a low tie. We decided to start a society that would show to other men the great advantages of wearing a low tie."

"Once you get identified with a low tie, everybody starts giving them to you as presents. I had a birthday a couple of weeks ago and that's about all I got."

"Why, they make a man look young?" Oelner replied. "They give him a lift, make him look neat. You'll find that the men who wear them are general successful in their chosen field."

Oelner admitted that the most men wear probably wear low ties except for one thing—"They don't know how to tie them." The apparel industry should start an educational campaign to explain how simple it is to tie a low tie. He frowned on the wearing of "real tie bows, which he termed "too artificial."

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 13, 1950

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Form without substance is worthless. Can't and hypocrisy are abhorrent to God and to men. Strive not so much to seem right as to be right. Beware of the heaven of the Pharisees.—Matt. 16:11

President Truman is going to delay all-out mobilization, is going to declare a "state of emergency," whatever that is, until public opinion is ready for more vigorous action. It is too bad that somebody doesn't tell the President that public opinion is so far ahead of him and most other Washington bureaucrats that he makes himself look like the tail that is wagging the dog.

The First Federal Savings and Loan Association is joining the ranks of those financial institutions which own their own building. The First Federal has come a long way since it was organized in 1934, or even since those sluggish times just before the second World War when it had deposits of only $72,234. Now they are $1,780,653, making it one of the fastest growing businesses of its kind in Florida.

General De Gaulle is convinced that the loss of Western Europe to Soviet Russia would be a fatal disaster to the United States. General DeGaulle may be right, but we for one are not convinced. We are not at all sure that the loss of Western Europe in its present state of disrepute would be as big a disaster to us as trying to save it. We are not sure it is worth saving at all. We have saved it twice already, and all we have got out of it is having to feed Europeans for the rest of their lives. Suppose we let the Russians have them for awhile. Let the Russians feed them. And perhaps eventually the people of Western Europe will get fed up and be willing to fight for their own freedom and then to support themselves. We may be wrong about this, but we are not convinced otherwise.

Everybody believes in freedom of the press as long as it says something nice about you, but when it tells the truth it ought to be barred from the mails. Even President Truman, No. 1 upholder of the Constitution, or should be, doesn't think that the music critic of the Washington Post ought to say that daughter Margaret sounds just a little flat on the high notes. In fact, he is so burned up about it that he wants to punch the reporter on the nose. And yet, we dare say that what he said about Margaret and her nasal twang isn't one, two, three, to what most of those who have heard her have said in the privacy of their own cellars under the influence of their best Bourbon. We've heard some people say that what Margaret really needs is someone who is honest enough to tell her that she can't sing and what she ought to do is to learn to play the piano like her father.

Bending finally to the burden of higher production and distribution costs, the Kansas City Star has announced a five cents a week increase in its subscription rates. About the only thing in the world you can still buy for five cents is your daily newspaper. And what you get for it is the biggest bargain ever known to man. For that five cents you not only hire a boy to deliver that paper to your front door, and you pay for the paper it is printed on, but you get free of charge all the work that goes into all the stories it contains, the cartoons, comics and pictures. One reporter spent six hours working on the recent American Legion conference—and his time is worth something—a linotype operator took an hour to set it, a proofreader corrected it, and a make-up man and compositor also worked on it. And you get it all for a nickel. As a matter of fact, we spend 30 cents to give you what you need and want.

Better Safety Valves

The music critic is always fair game. He expects to be shot at. If he's worth his salt as a music critic, he is not greatly disturbed. He goes right on writing "the thing as he sees it for the God of Things as They Are." He tells the truth as nearly as his knowledge and training will let him.

Sometimes he tries to warn the ambitious young student that he or she hasn't got what it takes to get up high. This happens to singers oftener than to instrumentalists, for the violinist or pianist can seek a better instrument, where as the instrument of the vocalist is in his throat and lungs and cannot be traded off. Singing can be improved by training, but the limitations of the voice remain as they were created. Neither intellectual musicianship nor love of music nor faithfulness in practice can give a singer what he or she hasn't got.

It is no kindness to aspiring youth to tell a student anything but the truth as the critic sees it. The Washington critic in the recent case showed sympathy for the parent who wrote the peevish letter. He understood somewhat the strains under which the parent has been forced to live. He regarded the letter as a safety valve and let it go.

But Americans want their presidents to have better safety valves. There have been too many of these bursts of temper in the last year or more. They are unwise and undignified. Perhaps more and better vacations are needed—periods of greater ease and relaxation. It's a difficult time for any president. But it's not made better by an unwise letter.

Yugoslav Viewpoint

The Yugoslavs are learning every day. First they discovered that the Russians were trying to absorb them, and they managed to break away. Now the Chinese Communist attack on Korea has disillusioned them further. Previously they had maintained that one Communist state could not and would not attack another. It must be so, for Karl Marx himself had said so. Korea proved the contrary, and led them to reconsider the Russian seizure of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, the 1939 pact with Hitler, and the annexation of Eastern Poland.

Putting all these together, they have concluded that while Russia might be Communist in theory, in practice it is Fascist, and that so far from eschewing force it has made force the keynote of its foreign policy. This view has been advanced by Mirovan Dylas, a Yugoslav official, in a series of articles in Borba, the organ of the Yugoslav Communists. He says that today's struggle is not between Communism and capitalism, but between capitalism and the Soviet type of Fascist state capitalism.

From this it follows that, since there is no theoretical distinction between the two sides, Yugoslavia should support what it considers the less dangerous.

A Bad Highway Year

A New Year's resolution to drive carefully is especially in point this year. The year 1950 has been the worst since the end of the war for traffic deaths, according to Julien H. Harvey of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies. He thinks that the total of fatal accidents for the year will be 36,000. A war which cost many lives would be ranked as one of the bloodiest in our national history.

There is nothing new in Harvey's list of causes. Bad weather, icy roads, speed and drinking are the chief reasons, just as they have always been. It might be thought that the constant repetition of these facts would really make an impression on drivers, but it does not seem to do so.

Plans

(Continued from Page One) These officials feel that as the price for furnishing troops, West Germany will attempt to substitute for the occupation a security treaty with the United States, Britain and France.

The officials suggest that such a security treaty would give Atlantic powers the right to station troops in Germany for purely defensive purposes and keep controls on war potential industry. How far the wary French—who can still hear the echoes of goose-stepping Germans—would go toward meeting such German demands probably will be discussed next week in separate big three meetings in Brussels.

Korean War

(Continued from Page One) The Red Chinese concentrations. Marine Corps, Navy Paratroopers and other Allied planes circled overhead, alert for any Chinese Red aircraft or to counterattack any attempted annihilating climax to the smashing successes rolled up by Chinese ground forces since late November. All 10th Corps units were reported safely out of North Korea or leaving the Hungnam-Hamhung beachhead.

These included the long unreported U. S. Seventh Division's 17th Regimental Combat Team. This outfit was stretched along the Yalu River around Hyesanjin when the Chinese Reds struck Nov. 25 in overwhelming masses. A 10th Corps spokesman said the 17th had reached the beachhead two days ago. Details of its withdrawal from the Yalu—a retreat of 80 air miles but many more by twisting roads through snow-choked mountain passes—were not made known.

Also safe were elements of the South Korean Third and Capital Divisions which had struck to within 40 miles of Soviet Siberia. Some were evacuated by sea from the far north. Others retreated down the coastal highway to Hamhung.

As the threat of Chinese attack mounted, the beachhead bustled with activity. AP Correspondent Tom Stone flew back to Tokyo from Hungnam with the story and AP photographer Max Desfor recorded the evacuation in pictures taken in a cruising military plane. Landing craft nosed up on the beaches and against the docks. Small freighters with steam up at the quays took on their cargoes of men and supplies.

Bigger transports were standing out in deeper water, taking men and material aboard from landing craft. Warships' searchlights scanned the sea for the wounded from smaller craft. Tanks, guns, trucks and jeeps crowded the wharves bumper to bumper. Doughboys and Marines moved across the docks in steady streams. Other troops waited patiently in little tent cities for their call to load.

Bulldozers chewed into inky mud, clearing additional staging areas. And inland from the beach, crews raced against time clearing two landing strips for C-47 transport planes to assist a quick getaway from the last rear guard troops.

The evacuation was orderly but hurried. The threat of a Dunkerque—a withdrawal under murderous fire and attack—mounted with each passing hour. The first Chinese attack stepped on the evacuation pace. But the withdrawal was expected to be completed in at least several days.

Meanwhile, Chinese planes were strafing American uniforms with dark bombardment against the U. S. Third Division sector at 7:30 A. M. (5:30 P. M. Tuesday).

A doughboy company counter-attacked and drove off the Reds. British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman are expected to discuss this and wider world problems in private meetings while they are attending the Atlantic Pact conference.

GOP Agrees

Tomorrow, Mr. Truman is to confer with Senate and House Banking Committee members. These committees handle wage-price matters.

Then on Friday night, he will make his "Fireside Chat." This is to be broadcast by all major networks and will be on some TV stations, but the TV networks to carry it have not been finally decided. In addition, the State Department's "Voice of America" will broadcast the speech around the globe.

The questions as to "legal effects" of an emergency proclamation were understood to resolve about such matters as powers to arm merchant vessels, to seize radio stations and other communication facilities, and to increase the work week in arms factories.

The powers of the President hinge on so many World War II statutes—and some from World War I—that there are differences of opinion among many lawyers as to just what they are under the present situation.

Following is the text of the Truman's conference with congressional leaders: "The President met this forenoon with a bi-partisan group of congressional leaders to discuss matters concerning the defense and foreign policy of the United States.

"The President, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense made statements to the group concerning the gravity of the present international situation and the necessity for a very rapid increase in our military strength. The President indicated that a sharp step-up in our mobilization effort to support the increase in our military forces would be needed, and indicated that one of the things under consideration in this connection is the declaration of a national emergency.

"The President called on each of the congressional leaders to make comments on these questions. There appeared to be an unanimous agreement that our military strength should be built up with the utmost speed. There also appeared to be strong sentiment in favor of declaring a national emergency, although some of those present did not wish to state any views on this question without having an opportunity for further study as to its legal effects.

"The President feels that all of those present at the conference approached the subjects under discussion in a constructive manner and that the discussion which took place will be most useful. Meanwhile government price control chiefs met with auto industry officials today amid preparations for the start of the fight.

After three hours of fighting, Red snipers poured fire into the beachhead throughout the night. Eight Red Koreans armed with grenades and a gun were seized inside the defense line. Front dispatches said there was no hope that all the mass of weapons and supplies could be carried away by sea. There wasn't the shipping for it. Loading in the once great shipping harbor was pushed under great difficulties.

State Agencies Are Asking $65 Million Revenue Increase

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 13.—The State will have about $240,000,000 in general revenue to spend during the next two years, but agencies and institutions want about $65,000,000 more than that.

Forest director Homer Graham estimated the $240,000,000 is what will be available if present tax laws are left as they are. He figures there will be a normal 10 percent increase in revenue over the $221,000,000 available this biennium.

But agencies and institutions have presented budget requests which may run as high as $305,000,000 by the time they are all in and totaled, ready for budget commission hearings beginning next week.

The cabinet budget commission likely will trim most of the requests sharply in making its recommendations for legislative appropriations. The 1949 legislature appropriated $246,000,000 from the general fund, but revenues and cash overruns from the previous biennium fell $25,000,000 short of enough to meet them in full.

As the cabinet set up a schedule for review of the budget requests beginning Monday, it adopted a re-

Malik Rejects

French delegate Jean Chauvel also backed the resolution. Israel's foreign minister, Moshe Sharett, expressed hope the cease-fire plan would be adopted later today. He suggested that once the fighting was stopped the U. N. should attempt to resolve the crisis by stages. These would include: progressive withdrawal of all non-Korean forces and final solution of the outstanding political problems of the Far East.

Industry representatives told reporters in advance of the closed-door session they felt certain the economic stabilization agency would apply the ceilings unless leading producers rescind recently announced price boosts.

"I don't think they would have called us down here unless they were ready to act," said one industry official who asked not to be named. He predicted the companies would decline to suspend the increases on 1951 models, in view of labor and material costs and that ESA would get "probably not later than next week."

It would be the first compulsory price control move of the Korean War crisis. The ESA has the power to rollback prices.

Public Utilities Commission, Live-stock Sanitary Board, Forest Service, Board of Parks and Historic Memorials and Boards of Conservation will be reviewed Monday. The $120,000,000 two-year request for public schools will get a hearing on Dec. 22, and all day Jan. 5 was set aside for considering budgets of the colleges, universities and other institutions under the board of control.

Luncheon Is Enjoyed By Truth-Seekers

The Truth-seekers Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday at McKinley Hall for a covered dish luncheon.

Rev. J. E. McKinley made an interesting talk during the luncheon on mission work in Cuba, after which a reading entitled "Our Preacher" was given by Mrs. John Vaughan.

The luncheon table was centered with a Christmas arrangement including tiny Santas, holly, and miniature Christmas trees. The hall was decorated throughout with Christmas greenery.

There was an exchange of gifts which were taken from a table on which was placed a beautifully lighted Christmas tree.

Mrs. J. R. Crawford turned the meeting over to Mrs. R. F. Greenhaw, program chairman, who read the Christmas story from the second chapter of the Gospel of Luke. Mrs. Vaughan led the group in prayer, and Mrs. E. C. Williams, a member of the Story-Tellers League, read a gospel Christmas story.

A gift of $20 was given to Rev. McKinley to be sent to Cuba to supplement the salary of Cuban pastors.

Those present at the luncheon were Mrs. T. E. Wilson, Mrs. J. B. Crawford, Mrs. Bessie Green, Mrs. Tom Williams, Mrs. J. H. Cowan, Mrs. Harry Draper, Mrs. C. C. Priest, Mrs. R. W. Turner, Mrs. Nettie Tills, Mrs. W. J. David, Mrs. Elsie Brown, Mrs. George McGram, Mrs. Olive Wells, Mrs. Dora Gulley, Mrs. Ella Leck, Mrs. Frank Busch, Mrs. J. G. Waits, Mrs. W. S. The Lamplighter

"Three Secrets", showing Thursday and Friday in Sanford, is a picture of high intrigue dealing with the strange pasts of three women whose destinies are linked when a plane crashes and a little unidentified boy is the only survivor. Eleanor Parker, Patricia Neal, and alluring Ruth Roman are the three women with the clouded pasts. For adults this is good entertainment, but definitely not for children.

Also playing here Thursday and Friday is "Louisa", starring Edmund Gwenn, Spring Byington, Ronald Reagan, and Charles Coburn. We saw this one not long ago, and it is really delightful comedy—and so very human, too. The dialogue is excellent. The leads, Edmund Gwenn and Charles Coburn, vying for the affections of Louisa, Spring Byington, steal the show. If you haven't seen "Louisa", it will certainly be worth while. The whole family will like it.

You don't have to go far in Schulberg's new book, "The Disenchanted" to see people in deep in the mire of intellectual and emotional confusion. This is a wonderful book and Schulberg is a powerful writer who presents a vivid and unforgettable picture of his subject. We have a novelist, Manley Halliday, a talent of years gone by, presenting his art through the medium of the movies. Halliday, heralded as the prophet of the era of the '20s, is not of small stature but rather of the calibre of Hemingway or Dos Passos. He is revealed here as one of the disenchantees—one of a generation that has past, who had lived in a spectacularly bright era that had faded after its meteoric brilliance. Manley Halliday (presumably F. Scott Fitzgerald) is a man living on insults and nebulous tablets, the spark of creation almost dead but still faintly flickering. He is a pathetic character and Schulberg paints him brilliantly and understandingly. Read "The Disenchanted".

In a Different Vein
Warden Duffy of San Quentin Prison has written a fascinating book, "The San Quentin Story", which is really an account of prison reform. Duffy, entering his job on a trial basis, immediately inaugurated reforms which were to prove highly successful. He began Hobby Shops, giving the prisoners something constructive to do, thereby helping sublimate their drives and direct them into channels useful to society.

He eliminated physical punishment and introduced numerous other measures and generally ameliorated conditions thereafter. "The San Quentin Story" is interesting and will give you an insight into many problems and personalities of which you had some or little knowledge.

Pilots, Guests Enjoy Christmas Party

The Yacht Club was beautifully decorated last night for the annual Christmas party and "Family Night" of the Pilot Club. The banquet tables, covered with white linen cloths, were decorated with holly berries, intermingled with lighted red tapers.

The speakers' table was decorated with silver pine boughs and Christmas balls. On the piano was a miniature scene of the Nativity and in the opposite corner a smiling Santa looked down on the fireplace with its stockings hung from the mantel. A miniature lighted church was placed in another corner while opposite it was a lighted school scene. Holly berries and Christmas wreaths were hung in the windows to complete the decorations.

The Rev. J. E. McKinley related the story of the innkeeper who turned Joseph and Mary away from his door, directing them to the stables where the Christ Child was born in a manger, because he was saving his best chambers for the coming of the king whom he had been told would be in the city of Bethlehem that day.

Rev. McKinley was introduced by Mrs. George Harden, program chairman. Mrs. H. E. Chapman presented Mrs. M. D. Gatchel and George Swain a gift in behalf of the Pilot Club and welcomed Mrs. Sue Stevenson as a new member. Hostesses were Mrs. George A. Stone, Mrs. W. V. Blum, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reception Given In Honor Of New Pastor

More than 250 members and guests of the All Souls Catholic Church attended a reception given last night at the Mayfair Inn for Father Anthony McGowan, new pastor of the church. Father McGowan was unable to be present in the early part of the evening but arrived later with Father John J. Kellaghan, a former pastor of the All Souls parish.

String music was furnished by the Whoot O'ls for an old fashioned square dance. The five piece orchestra is composed of "Shorty" Shedd on the bass, Jake Shedd, the guitar, Roy Kelly, fiddle, Lee Davis, piano and Bill Fank on the steel guitar.

Games were enjoyed by those who did not wish to dance. During the evening a sale was held of several post packages. V. P. Herndon acted as master of ceremonies for the auction of a 20 pound turkey.

Those in charge were as follows: ticket committee, Mrs. O. P. Herndon, Mrs. F. Moore, Mrs. D. Hinderaker, Mrs. Dorothy Corrodi, Mrs. A. Tello, Mrs. J. Gony and Mrs. F. Meisch, card committee, Mrs. H. Celeryfed Court Five Defeats Eustis Panthers 44-42

Clause And Smith Are Stars In Sanford's 1st Game Of Year; B Team Wins 25-24

By ED HARPER
The Sanford Celeryfed court five clawed out an upset victory over Eustis last night 44-42 to win its first opening game in the past five seasons.

Calm Clarence Clause led the Sanford attack with 15 points followed closely by Garnett Smith who looped in seven goals for 14 points.

Trailing 16-17 at the half after consistently missing lay up shots, the Celeryfeds caught fire in the opening minutes of the last period and were headed only once thereafter by the Panthers.

Playing a head-up defensive game, especially center Wise Hardin and guard Jimmy Smith, the Sanford team controlled the ball well, fighting for every rebound and effectively stifling the Eustis fast break on all but two occasions.

Neither team was able to pile up a commanding lead in the game which was a toss up until the last second of play. With 30 seconds left and a three point lead the Celeryfeds attempted to freeze the ball, but a desperate Eustis team swarmed all over them, took the ball and rammed in a basket. Again the local five attempted to run out the clock and again the Eustis center and high scorer Jack Temple stole the ball and raced for the goal. The whistle blew just as he shot the goal which would have given Eustis the game. After Clause shot a technical foul making the score 44-42, Sanford held the ball as the seconds ran out.

Little Lefty Reynolds opened the game by sinking a foul shot to put Sanford ahead, but Eustis evened it up with a quick goal by Royce. White sank one from the right hand corner and Bob Fallin dropped in a hook shot from the circle making it Eustis 4, Sanford 3. Temple flipped in an overhead layup and Clarence Clause sank a foul shot. White counted two points shooting on the dead run down center court making the score 6-6. Temple again pushed Eustis in front with a hook shot as Covington went into the game for Hardin.

Smith hit from 20 feet out after Eustis' Slaton sank a foul shot. Sanford was missing chances to score at this point as the Eustis squad suddenly got hot.

Hippler shot a beautiful 30 foot two-pointer and little Lefty Reynolds made a foul shot good. Kirkland was in and out with a two point layup as Eustis led 12-9. Clause sank one from the corner on his typical overhead two-handed shot. Lefty threw wild to Smith who was all alone under the basket and Clause sank a foul shot. Eustis' Capton looped in a foul shot which rimmed the basket before dropping.

Smith got two on a nice overhead pass from Lefty who had dribbled the length of the court to set up the shot. Clause got two on a running, leaping shot from the center of the foul circle.

Slaton sank a layup and Eustis led at the half 17-16.

Coming back strong after the intermission White, whose timing had been off in the first stanza, sank a one-handed push shot from the right hand corner and Sanford took the lead 18-17. Smith got two from the left side 20 feet from the basket and Lefty Reynolds fouled Eustis' six foot center, Temple. Temple got two points on a hook shot.

Clause moved in fast on a difficult layup which dropped. White and Temple wrestled briefly for the ball as both teams began to play fast and furiously. Compton sank a set-shot and White came back with a goal. White whipped in another and Hardin got two as Sanford took the lead 28-24. Compton shot a foul for Eustis after Smith charged him. Clause got two and Kirkland sank a set shot from 30 feet out. Lefty Reynolds hit with an overhead, left-handed hook shot and Slaton whipped in two quick points as Eustis fast break caught the Celeryfeds flat footed.

Lefty stole the ball, submarining in front of Compton. Eustis sank two quick goals to take the lead 34-32 at the end of the third. Sanford seemed to be cooling off, but Wise Hardin put up a terrific scrap for the ball under the basket and the Celeryfeds recovered some of their fire. Temple sank a set-shot and Eustis led 36-32 as time was running out. White suddenly found the range and sank two push shots from the right hand corner to pull Sanford even, but Temple again gave Eustis the lead on a neat overhead layup from the pivot.

Reynolds got two on a set shot from 25 feet out and the Celeryfeds pulled up even. Temple again evened the score for Eustis. Then the Sanford team caught fire and was never headed.

Wise got one on a foul shot and Clause sank a set-shot to put Sanford in front 41-40. Clause got two more and Temple, stealing the ball as the Celeryfeds attempted a freeze, got two. The game ended just after Clause sank a technical foul shot making the score 44-42.

In the B squad game Ray Davis set off a second half rally which pushed the Celeryfeds ahead 18-17 on three quick baskets. Going into the 4th period the local five was behind 18-22 when a goal shot and goal cut the Panther's lead to one point. Morris and McCall shot two quick baskets to put Sanford ahead 25-22 with two minutes to go. In the last 10 seconds Eustis sank a two pointer pulling within one point of the Celeryfeds as time ran out. Final score: Sanford 25, Eustis 24.

Straight from the Horse's Mouth

By ED HARPER

Opening day of the baseball season is still four months away, but the fireworks have already begun. "Happy" Chandler has been fired by irate major league club leaders after hitting that baseball may be killed off by a future war.

On the local scene worried club owners have clamped a ban on radio broadcasts in the hope of upping attendance which slumped dangerously last year. Chicago was within an ace of becoming a member of the Florida State League when a disagreement over which other club would be added—the choice was between the Chicago White Sox and Cocoa—killed the invitation.

To top off the league decisions the player limit was cut from 17 to 15. This last should be an especially interesting development in an era when not one pitcher in three finishes half of his games.

Mathematically, it is going to be difficult for any manager to finish games instead of relying on the rubber arm of a relief pitcher in three finishes half of his games.

Also a utility infielder with sufficient ability to play both infield and outfield will be hard to locate.

One expedient might be to gather together in the infield a group of disappointed pitchers capable of handling one inning between them. Dixie Walker pitched infielders and a coach a couple of times last year with his Southern Association champions—but didn't win the pennant that year.

Probably the change will have a thoroughly healthy effect on the psychology of pitchers who will realize that they have to finish games instead of relying on the rubber arm of a relief pitcher in the last few innings.

Opening day of the 1951 season falls on Thursday the 13th in the month of April for anyone who is not a fan of the Orlando Senators there in the first game of the season and DeLand in Sanford the next day.

City College of New York, winner last year of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament and the National Collegiate Athletic Association elimination tourney in Madison Square Garden, was beaten badly over the weekend by an unused Missouri team 62 to 37.

It was without a doubt the most startling basketball upset so far recorded this season. The underrated little Missouri team made no attempt to compete with the towering New York players on their own backboards but dropped back after each shot to cover the vaunted C. C. N. Y. fast break. It worked like a charm and the demoralized City College players never managed to head the Big Seven team.

Except for Bradley University—which has won its first three games handily—basketball seems to be following in the footsteps of the street happy football season in which the favorite seemed to lose invariably.

Bradley's little Gene Melchore is one reason the Braves are unbeaten so far. The five foot five inch All-American has led his team in scoring this season and may well be the spark which will carry it to the national championships over a faltering C. C. N. Y.

Florida Basketball Team To Meet Wildcats, Vols And Commodores

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 13—Florida's young Gator basketball team goes out to do a man's work this week by invading Kentucky's mighty Wildcats Thursday, Tennessee's Volunteers Saturday and strong Vanderbilt Monday.

Coach Sam McAllister's squad opened its season last mid-week with a 71 to 51 win over Florida Southern and dropped the opening Southeastern Conference engagement to LSU Saturday, 59 to 77.

In his pre-season ranking of the SEC teams, McAllister selected Kentucky, LSU, Tennessee and Vanderbilt to finish in that order—and the Gators play all four before Christmas. "Considering our lack of experience and height, the boys turned in a good game against a much more seasoned LSU team," McAllister said. "They stayed with LSU pretty well through the first half, even led for a while and didn't really falter until the final eight minutes. But we will be against far too much talent, experience and height at Kentucky, Tennessee and Vanderbilt."

Sam Snead Is Golf's Top Money Winner

CHICAGO, Dec. 13—(AP)—Sam Snead, who used to caddy bare-footed because he couldn't afford shoes, pocketed $35,758.83 in official golf winnings in 1950.

It was the most prize money ever grabbed by a pro in one season. The drawing Virginian also captured the Vardon Trophy by averaging 69.23 strokes through 96 competitive rounds.

The 36-year-old Snead won the two honors for the second successive year. In 1949 he bagged $31,693.83 and averaged 69.37 through 73 rounds.

Snead also scored such a "double" in 1950 and now can join Ben Hogan as the only golfer to take the trophy and money winning laurels three times. Hogan did it in 1940, 1941 and 1948.

Van Brocklin, Motley Are Top Pro Players

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13—(AP)—Norman Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams and Marion Motley of the Cleveland Browns carried off the passing and ground gaining honors in the National Football League's regular season.

The two may meet in the loop's title game. Los Angeles finished the season in a tie with the Chicago Bears for National Conference honor. Cleveland was tied by the New York Giants for first spot in American Conference.

Van Brocklin attempted 233 passes and completed 127 for 2061 yards and 18 touchdowns. The Ram aerial artist had an average gain per pass of 8.85 yards.

Motley in winning ground gaining honors, took over the crown of the Philadelphia Eagles' Steve Van Burke.

ranked 810 yards in 140 tries to rack up an average gain of 5.8 yards.

RANDOLPH P. KINNEY

Assistant Manager of Acousticon Powell Company, 205 East Jackson Street, Orlando, Florida will be in Sanford Friday, December 15. He will hold a Clinic for the hard of hearing at the Valdez Hotel between 10 A. M. and 5 P. M. (Evening by appointment.)

Mr. Kinney will analyze hearing problems, determining, precisely, the extent, type and stage of deafness. He will demonstrate the effectiveness of the latest Acousticon instruments, in overcoming hearing impairments.

Mr. Kinney will have with him an entirely new Acousticon invention. A startling discovery enabling thousands of men and women, handicapped by middle ear impairment to hear perfectly with absolutely nothing in their ear. No visible mold, no head band, no pressure, no ear piece of any kind.

The clinic is a part of a nation-wide Acousticon public service program to make available to the hard of hearing in all areas the measurable factual information on their problems.

Attend this clinic at the Valdez Hotel, first floor, and see the latest developments in the internationally famous line of Acousticon hearing aids, (69.50, 124.50, 219.50). Discuss your hearing problems with Mr. Kinney. Get the benefit of his training and experience. Know the facts.

Mr. Norman Christopher, 2344 Cumberland, Houston, Texas, works for the Water Contract Division of the city of Houston, and he says the housewife aren't high enough nor the days long enough for him to praise HADACOL. He says since he has been taking HADACOL he feels mighty good. He found his system was deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin and Iron.

Mr. Christopher says: "After I got out of the Army I was underweight, nervous, couldn't sleep and had a terrible time getting food to agree with me. When I would wake up in the morning I would always be sick at my stomach—I could never eat breakfast—imagine having to wait until noon before eating the first meal of the day. Even then just a few mouthfuls of food would fill me up. At night I couldn't sleep—I would just roll and toss all night. I felt miserable. Nothing seemed to help me until I started taking HADACOL. After the third bottle of HADACOL I could tell a difference in my eating and sleeping habits. Now after a year's time of taking HADACOL I have gained almost 20 pounds. I sleep well—and the most wonderful thing—can enjoy 3 full meals a day. There is no way I can describe the tremendous improvement in my appetite. I have started my wife taking HADACOL and she, too, is feeling wonderful. If there is anybody who doubts my word, what I have said about HADACOL, they should have seen me before I started taking HADACOL. I sincerely recommend HADACOL to all my friends and urge them to take HADACOL."

All Ages Can Be Helped
HADACOL is simply remarkable, the way it has helped folks of all ages—yes, thousands of men, women and children who have deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin and Iron. HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation—promising blessed relief for stomach distress, nervousness, if caused by an upset stomach, vague aches and pains, or a general run-down condition, when they are due to such deficiencies.

Remember, HADACOL is not a quick-acting product that only attacks the symptoms of the miseries, but actually relieves the real cause of pains and aches due to such deficiencies. Yes, and continued use of HADACOL helps prevent the miseries from coming back.

Start Taking HADACOL Now
Don't go through life putting up with a stomach that is easily upset, that causes you gas pains, heartburn, sour risings after meals; a stomach that will not digest food properly; yes, if due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin and Iron, you can overcome the deficiencies which are causing these miseries by taking HADACOL which contains those precious Vitamins.

Draft Call

of about 1,500,000, is aiming at a goal of 1,254,000 by next July perhaps even more if the foreign situation worsens. It needs more men to build up the mobile reserve and defenses here at home, depleted by the demands of the Korean war, and to start augmenting American troop strength in Europe under the North Atlantic Treaty organization system for defense.

2. The Army casualty total for Korea is now something more than 27,240 (the most recently announced figure which covered the period through Dec. 1, since which Chinese Communists attack's rose to a crescendo.) The pool of manpower in the United States must be tapped for replacements. They in turn are succeeded by draftees or volunteers. Along with the draft call there is expectation of increased call-ups of reservists, especially in event of a national emergency proclamation. A slow-down in the reserve program, put into effect in October, has been abandoned. Moreover, speculation persisted that additional National Guard divisions would be summoned to federal service. Four are already in.

One defense official, discussing with a reporter the purpose of a national emergency declaration, said it would be of value not only for its impact on home front morale but "to take clear this is a real peril, a national peril," existing not only in the Far East but in Europe.
Pentagon officials thought, too, that such a declaration would quicken the flow of badly-needed material to the armed forces by making more flexible the provisions under which the services do their buying.
One Army official summed it up this way:
In peacetime, the objective is to save money; in an emergency, under war conditions, to save time.
Among other things, the military in an emergency can speed up its contract negotiations; decentralize time-consuming procurement programs; buy materials anywhere in the world where they are available; increase assembly lines in its own arsenals and in contract plants; speed up factory manufacturing; expand the stock of machine tools needed for the manufacture of intricate weapons.

Nothing further happened until yesterday morning, when police, after sifting the evidence in the case, arrested Stapler and took him to the Police Station for questioning.
Confronted by the officers he confessed the attempt to enter the Mather Store, but denied the Jewelry and Luggage Store robbery, said Chief Williams.
Questioned again this morning, Stapler broke down and confessed to the Sanford Avenue robbery. With police he went to his home, where in a bedroom, an assorted lot of jewelry and merchandise weighing several hundred pounds and valued at more than $2,000 was found.

eye troops" in Korea, all without benefit of the adjective "volunteer."
3. References to the "offensive of the Chinese."
4. Several references to the possibility—or probability—of World War III.

In most of these cases, the insertion was a quotation from an American correspondent in Washington, and Pravda added not a word, except to identify the writers and newspapers involved. However, in that part of the dispatch using the Tass correspondent's own words, a paragraph concerning the Chinese "volunteers" in Korea was deleted.

The publication of these inserted paragraphs, as far as can be learned, informed the Soviet people for the first time that the danger of a third World War, with the Soviet Union and the United States as the chief antagonists, was real and close at hand. The Soviet press all along has been denouncing "warmongers" and the like, but its chief concern has been to picture the U. S. S. R. as in the van of world peace and determined to keep it. Also for the first time, as far as can be learned, the Soviet newspaper reader has read paragraphs referring to Chinese troops in Korea without the adjective "volunteer" affixed, or has read a paragraph linking Mao with those troops.

Why did Pravda go to all the trouble of reprinting a long dispatch so that certain paragraphs might be inserted? The performance raises interesting questions: If Moscow fears it has pushed too dangerously close to World War III, could this be a Kremlin step to get out from under, leaving Mao out on a limb alone in the Korean "fuss"? Why does Pravda publicly and gratuitously link Mao with the fighting in Korea? Up to now, so far as the Soviet press has been concerned, the fighting in Korea all has been done by "the heroic people's army of the North Korean People's Republic." Of course, by quoting the American press, Pravda does not say outright that Mao has his finger in the Korean pie, but neither does Pravda take time out in this carefully-edited piece to deny it. If Moscow fears war at this time, could this be a step toward preparing the people for a sudden shift of policy? By these paragraphs, the Kremlin manages to let the people know the temper in Washington and to let the people know war is not impossible now. If the Soviet government did get out from under, it could then picture itself to its people as the government which, by its actions in international councils, saved the world from holocaust.

The Pravda editions were received in New York and translated by the current digest of the Soviet press.

Kemler Says Jaycees Seek Opportunity

National Jaycee President Declares American System Must Be Preserved

Opportunity and freedom are what all young men in America are talking about today, Richard Kemler, United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, president, told the combined civic clubs at a Mayfair Inn luncheon today which was sponsored by the Sanford Jaycees.

Declaring that service to humanity is the best work of life, Mr. Kemler pointed out that an addition has recently been made to the Jaycee creed, reading "We believe that faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life," providing the great international organization with a Christian meaning for the first time.

Mr. Kemler was introduced by State Jaycee President J. Bradley O'Neil who welcomed visiting delegations here from Eustis, Daytona, Grovetown, and Orlando and said that "If our way of life is preserved, our young men will be the greatest benefactors." Pointing out the need for leadership, he said that Mr. Kemler is the No. 1 young man in America.

The meeting was presided over by William H. Stemper, president of the Sanford Jaycees, who welcomed other Sanford civic clubs to the luncheon and thanked Gordon Bradley who arranged the combined meeting. Rev. H. Lytleton Zimmerman pronounced the invocation and Charles Morrison led the singing accompanied by Harry Wester at the piano.

Mr. Kemler pointed out the tremendous growth which has been made by the Jaycee organization since it was founded 33 years ago. He attributed this primarily to four reasons:

- 1) The purpose of the organization. "This, he said, is civic improvement, making the town a better place in which to live. In attacking the problem at the community level, he pointed out that the Jaycees afford an opportunity for young men to acquire training in leadership.
- 2) Unselfishness. Nobody gets anything out of it for himself, he said. Who ever heard of a Jaycee being paid for his civic work?
- 3) What he does, he does for the good of the town and with the desire to make it the best place in the country in which to live. If he is not doing that, Mr. Kemler said, he ought to get out of town.
- 4) Only those who get out of the civic work he does in the personal satisfaction of a job well done.

Police Recover More Jewelry Store Loot

More loot which was stolen on Nov. 25 from the Sanford Luggage and Jewelry Store was recovered last night by police, Chief Roy G. Williams said today.

An aunt of Bernard Stapler, 23 year old Negro thug who is charged with the theft, notified police that three girls had been placed back of the settee in her home by Stapler, who lived next door to her at Twenty-Second Street and French Avenue.

The small girls of the zipper type contained jewelry, cigarette lighters, fountain pens and other articles.

Fast Breaking Convict Goes Back To Prison

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Dec. 11—(AP)—Halish Burne Egan, ex-convict of the "fast break" in basketball, was back in the state penitentiary today.

Tuesday night Egan, a reserve guard on the prison's city league team, scored six points before coming up missing at the Y.M.C.A. Last night he returned to the "Y" and telephoned the prison, which provided him with gratis "taxi" service back to his "quarters." He did not explain his absence.

Prison officials today said the team would not be penalized for Egan's A.W.O.L. activity, the first breach in five years of "outside" athletic participation at the pen.

Crime Committee Says Authorities Can End Gambling

Senate Group Goes To Chicago To Investigate Capone Gang

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—(AP)—Senate Crime investigators turned their sights toward Chicago today after two days of probing into gambling and racketeering in northern New Jersey.

Starting Monday, the committee plans five days of hearings in Chicago on operations of what's left of the late Scarface Al Capone's gang.

The curtain was rung down on the New Jersey hearings for the time being at least, amid these developments:

1. Senator Tobey (R-N.J.), a member of the Crime Investigating Committee, said state authorities could put a stop to the activities of gamblers and racketeers if they wanted to.
2. "We ought to be indicting some public officials," cried Tobey. He said some of them show "no moral backbone than a chocolate eclaire."
3. In New Jersey, deputy state attorney General Nelson F. Stamler said he would be in favor of prosecuting officials if they are in collusion with gamblers. Stamler, who has been conducting a statewide probe of gambling, said he is not convinced "that gambling can go on without somebody knowing about it."
4. He added, however, that "it's not necessarily state officials, I put it in the local or county class."
5. The Crime Committee cut to seven its list of missing witnesses, originally totaling 11. It announced subpoena had been served in San Francisco on Martin M. Hartman.
6. Hartman has been identified by Committee Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) as a stock salesman for the Mountain City Consolidated Copper Mining Co. of Nevada. Kefauver said the company has no substance but said stock to per-

ICC Ruling Permits Operation Of Barge Lines On St. Johns

A new ruling by the Interstate Commerce Commission will permit the operation of barge lines on the St. Johns River between Jacksonville and Sanford as soon as adequate terminal facilities are built here, City Manager Clifford McKibbin announced today.

On Jan. 23 a hearing was held by an Interstate Commerce Commission subcommittee at the Mayfair Inn, he pointed out. At that time C. G. Willis, barge line operator and his witnesses showed that adequate terminal facilities were available to support the operation of a barge line here.

The examiner, however, upon investigation, failed to find adequate facilities in Sanford for handling of freight from barges to trucks and other carriers, said Mr. McKibbin, and as a result recommended that no common carrier permit be granted to Mr. Willis.

In a letter from F. C. Illiver, Jacksonville, to Mr. McKibbin, it was pointed out that the Interstate Commerce Commission had reversed its decision of their examiner.

Apparently the I.C.C. he declared, did not agree with the examiner and thought that this area should have the assurance that when the facilities are available permitted on the St. Johns from common carrier operations will be Jacksonville to Sanford.

With barge line common carrier operation freight charges cannot be made prohibitive or discriminatory since they must be published and authorized by the I.C.C., and the I.C.C. rates are generally lower than contract carrier rates, he added.

The I.C.C., however, will withhold a certificate to Mr. Willis until he is able to show that there are adequate terminal facilities here.

Pfc. John Alexander Finishes Boat Camp

PARRIS IRLAND, S. C., Dec. 11—(Special)—Marine PFC John C. Alexander of 704 West Ninth Street, Sanford, was promoted to his present rank when he completed "boat camp."

Alexander finished his recruit training by winning the Sharpshooter medal on the rifle range when he fired a score of 111x250 during his weapons training.

Alexander enlisted in the Marines in September. He was a recruit company of Bethlehem Steel Company, Baltimore, Md. where he was a pipe inspector.

Crippling Railroad Strike Spreads Despite Federal Restraining Order

Speed-Up In War Production Urged By Gen. Marshall

CHICAGO, Dec. 11—(AP)—A sudden, crippling strike by railroad workmen spread today from Chicago to Washington and St. Louis despite a federal court order to end the walkout.

Freight traffic was disrupted in St. Louis and Chicago. Passenger mail and express service were affected in Washington.

The workmen's work stoppage curtailed passenger service on eight rail lines serving the nation's capital. A similar walkout has tied up considerable freight and hit some passenger traffic in Chicago, rail crossroads of the nation.

There had been a hint from chiefs of the railroad brotherhoods that the strike might spread. The first walkout in Chicago, took 10,000 men out of the work yesterday.

A federal judge last night ordered the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen to end the one-day strike. The government, which seized the nation's carriers last August after a strike threat stemming from a wage hour dispute, said the stoppage was "seriously interfering with the war effort."

The walkout, which the union termed unauthorized, virtually halted freight movement. It caused some passenger train cancellations and disrupted other industries. Continuation of stoppage threatened a major delay in the Christmas mail to Chicago, which is a major transfer point for transcontinental mails.

The steel industry was hit almost immediately. Some blast furnaces were banked. There were shutdowns and curtailment of operations throughout the Chicago industrial areas.

At the same time, presidents of four operating rail unions, including the B.R.T., said in Washington the Chicago strike may spread unless "White House and government mediation efforts are stepped up to settle the wage-hour dispute."

They blamed the delay in reaching an agreement on John R. Sizelman, President Truman's assistant who has been conducting (Continued on Page Two)

Defense Costs Mount To $41 Billion As Big Build-Up Begins

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—(AP)—President Truman discussed lower front mobilization with a second congressional group today and was urged by several of the legislators to go ahead with wage-price controls. There was no word as to whether Mr. Truman had made up his mind about that, but Senator Maybank (D-S.C.) said he was "hopeful" the President will declare a national emergency and put into effect swiftly "what ever wage-price controls can be administratively handled."

Senator Tobey (R-N.J.) told reporters he had advised "all our constituents" that the nation is in the darkest hours in the history of this nation and the world. Tobey said, Maybank is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which handles continued legislation. Tobey is the top Republican on the committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall has told Congress a rapid build-up of the nation's defense production machine is essential to meet the serious threat of an all-out shooting war within the next few months.

The trouble, Marshall said, is that while this country is doing all it can to avoid a global conflict "we realize that an all-out war can be initiated by a single word from the other side."

While this uncertainty exists, he said, "emphasis on production is the way to begin" to strengthen the nation's defenses. He said the (Continued on Page Two)

Government To Begin Largest Annual Tax Harvest Tomorrow

By CHARLES MOLONY
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—(AP)—The government, faced with mounting defense costs, starts its biggest tax harvest season tomorrow. Expectations are for an intake of $16,000,000,000 more about 40 per cent of annual revenue over the next three months.

The government can use $1 billion of the fiscal year budget last July 1. It has run about $1,100,000,000 in the red. It expects to be twice as bad off by next June 30.

The big tax season begins with the deadline tomorrow for corporations to make final tax payments on 1949 income. It will mark their last payments at the old 30 per cent maximum rate. A 45 per cent top will prevail on 1950's record-size profits.

HONOLULU, Dec. 11—(AP)—Letter saying "I can't for the life of me see why the Southerners would take the attitude they do" in opposing the Hawaii and Alaska statehood bills.

It was released by the statehood commission.

The President's letter, in reply to one from Burke, said in part: "I am glad you liked the message on statehood for Hawaii and Alaska. I can't for the life of me see why the Southerners would take the attitude they do when these two territories are of such vital importance to the national defense. If Alaska is properly developed, it will support even or eight million people in luxury."

Churchill Says Arab-Asian Plan A-Bomb Is Only Hope For Peace

Attlee Asserts Reds Should Have Seat In United Nations

LONDON, Dec. 11—(AP)— Winston Churchill declared today the atomic bomb "is the only lever by which we can hope to obtain a reasonable consideration in our attempt to make a peaceful settlement with Soviet Russia."

He did not suggest, in foreign policy debate in the House of Commons, that the bomb actually be used against Russia, but apparently he was arguing against any pledge by the west never to use it unless first attacked with atomic weapons by Russia.

Churchill, the opposition leader, took the floor after Prime Minister Attlee said President Truman had given him "assurances which I consider to be perfectly satisfactory" on any use of the atom bomb.

"I am fully satisfied that the fullest weight will be given to the views of his majesty's government before instructions are issued to the U. N. commander (General MacArthur) which have political implications," Attlee said. His statement came as a result of demands by Churchill for a clearer statement on the atom bomb.

Churchill's attack on Attlee's meeting with President Truman earlier—perhaps right after the Inchon landing. He said: "It would have been wise to have a well-thought-out line, to leave a final no-man's land which we could have recommitted." This was a criticism of the decision to push up the Manchurian border.

Turning to the atom bomb, he said it would be a "silly thing" to say that "we must never use the atomic bomb unless and until it has been used against us."

"That," he said, "means that you must never fire a single shot, or drop a single bomb, or use the effect of the atom bomb, or at (Continued on Page Two)

Arab-Asian Plan For Peace Passed By U.N. Assembly

Soviet Delegate Says Resolution Won't Halt Korean War

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—(AP)—The United Nations Assembly today approved an Arab-Asian plan for peace in the Korean peninsula. The Soviet delegate said the resolution would not stop the Korean war.

The plan, which was adopted by a vote of 49 to 13, with 17 abstentions, called for a general armistice in the Korean peninsula and for the withdrawal of all foreign troops from the peninsula.

The resolution also called for the establishment of a neutral zone in the Korean peninsula and for the withdrawal of all foreign troops from the peninsula.

The Soviet delegate, Andrei Gromyko, said the resolution would not stop the Korean war. He said the resolution was "a mere declaration of intent" and that the Soviet Union would continue to support the North Korean government.

Perimeter Is Pulled In As Tenth Corps Begins Evacuation; Chinese Jet Is Hit

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 11—(AP)—Indications are the Communist air force is starting to wage all-out war in Korea, an Air Force spokesman said today.

He added that increased enemy jet fighter activities during the last few days suggests the enemy may now intend to exploit fully its air potential commensurate with its ground success.

"The pattern now unfolding," he added, "may reveal a steady increasing tempo of air activity as additional aircraft become available from Communist China in the 'next Union'."

A dispatch from Korea today said 14 B-29 Superfortresses jet fighters and four American jet fighters were exchanged for near identical numbers of Korean fighters. The U. S. pilots and one Communist plane was hit.

The United Nations forces in Korea might be particularly vulnerable to an attack in their present position—concentrated in relatively small areas, especially in the northeast where they have only a small beachhead around the port of Hungnam.

On the northern beachhead the U. S. First Division abandoned the beach 2 1/2 miles, six miles south of Hungnam, and withdrew into the slender perimeter strip extending another six miles to the east coast port of Hungnam.

It is the United Nations' last foothold in the peninsula.

Eisenhower Says Crisis Frightens Disunited America

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—(AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today the American people are "frightened" by the present world crisis.

The reason, he says, is because they know that the signs of a world war are all around them. "We are frightened because we know we are surrounded by all kinds of international dangers," he said.

Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, made the remarks in a speech at the annual luncheon of the Salvation Army Association.

He said he was not pleading for blood checks for those in "charge," but declared that "it is our duty to be better informed than the masses about the world situation."

Eisenhower said all Americans must inform themselves "to the absolute limit" and "on that basis choose that unit which will best protect our individual and family life against dangers that threaten us."

He added that the United States cannot be defeated if it remains "keep our national values unimpaired."

Eisenhower received the Association's 1950 citation as a "great American patriot deeply devoted to the time-honored fundamental values of our beloved country."

Resurfacing Of Old Orlando Road Begun

County Road Sup't H. B. Gray announced today resurfacing that work has been started on the resurfacing of the old Orlando Road.

The project has been started at the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Crossing in Longwood from where leveling work will be carried on to McReynolds Drug Store at Twenty-fifth Street and Sanford Avenue.

From this point the resurfacing will be applied for the distance back to the Longwood Crossing, more than seven miles.

The resurfacing will be a hot asphalt mix treated with sand and built up as far as not to be shipped when wet. It will take about two months to complete the job, he declared.
