WORK OF REMOVING DEAD FROM THE DALOMITE MINE IS RENEWED VIGOROUSLY

COMPANY OFFICIALS ESTIMATE LIST OF DEAD AT ONE HUNDRED

CHECKING THE LIST

Showed Sixty Approximately Correct, Fifty Casuals Killed or Injured

(By The Associated Press) BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 23.—Work of removing the dead from the Dalomite mine number three of the Woodward Iron Co., in which four hundred and seventy-five men were trapped by an explosion yesterday, was renewed with vigor at daylight. Company officials estimated the list of dead might be increased from 83 to 100. Checking of injured showed list at sixty approximately correct. At least fifty listed in casuals either killed or injured when train trip cars running wild from Tipple crashed into mine yard in main entry. The accident caused snapping of electric cable which set off dust resulting in an explosion.

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 23.—Work of removing the dead from the Dalomite mine number three of the Woodward Iron Co., in which four hundred and seventy-five men were trapped by an explosion yesterday, was renewed with vigor at daylight. Company officials estimated the list of dead might be increased from 83 to 100. Checking of injured showed list at sixty approximately correct. At least fifty listed in casuals either killed or injured when train trip cars running wild from Tipple crashed into mine yard in main entry. The accident caused snapping of electric cable which set off dust resulting in an explosion.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. Nov. 23.—Seventy miners were killed and sixty injured, some of them seriously, in a dust explosion in Dalomite mine number three of the Woodward Iron Company, nine miles from this city yesterday afternoon, which trapped 475 workers beneath the surface, according to an official statement issued here last night by D. E. Wilson, the treasurer of the company.

Daniel Harrington, United States mine rescue official, stationed here, had previously sent a message to the Pittsburgh station estimating the dead at 60, with at least that number injured.

State militia is gradually assuming charge of policing the district surrounding the mouth of the pit and it was stated that martial law might be called to avoid congestion about the mine, owing to the influx of curious.

According to Treasurer Wilson, many of the injured were already at their homes after receiving first aid treatment at the mouth of the mine, their hurts only being of a minor nature. Company physicians worked at top speed in emergency details established on the grounds at the mouth of the mine.

According to one of the miners to be taken out alive, the explosion came with little warning to the men working deep in the entries. This miner stated that the first warning they had was when the concussion of the big blast half turned his body about. This man said he started to make his way to the mouth of the mine. He was joined by other miners, who also realized that an explosion had taken place.

This survivor who escaped unscathed, said that after he had proceeded only a short distance he began to feel the effects of the dread after damp, and for a time believed that he and his companions were doomed.

About this time, he stated, shouts of other miners were heard ahead of them and holding their breath as beat they could, and muffling their faces in coats and clothing, the little bunch of men struggled onward, finally winning their way to fresh air and thus gaining the entry way.

These men were among the first to reach the outside with actual news of the terrible scenes inside the mine. They told of passing over the bodies in the main entry and of seeing other miners, badly injured and moaning for help as the fatal after damp snuffed out their lives.

A. D. Jones, a miner, who was working in the forty-ninth west entry of the mine at the time of the blast, proved a hero. When the explosion

(By The Associated Press) SOMERVELLE, Nov. 23.—Officials conducting the Hall-Mills murder inquiry devoted today to checking up details in the case. The grand jury will resume consideration of the case Monday, having adjourned last night.

Mrs. Jane Gibson, who says she saw the double murder, has been summoned before the jury Monday.

SEABOARD TRAIN HAS COLLISION AT HAGGOOD, N. C.

Several Persons Were Injured and All Traffic Delayed

(By The Associated Press) NORFOLK, Nov. 23.—Several persons were slightly injured when the Seaboard Air Line passenger train collided with an extra engine on the main line near Haggood, N. C., early today. The train was a through and between New York and Florida points and was delayed several hours as result of the collision.

occurred, the concussion almost blew him down. Realizing that a serious accident had taken place, Jones gathered five white miners and 15 negroes who were working near him and led the party toward the mouth of the mine. After progressing a distance they encountered the dread after damp and gave up their hope of rescue. Together the band began to make preparations to die. Gathering about Jones, they sat down, huddling together to await death.

Suddenly they heard a man's voice in the distance asking if there were any men still alive within ring of the rope. Several of the men yelled at once.

"Pull down your brattices," yelled the voice. "It's all right here and if you can't break through, we will all win out."

They passed through the main way to mine No. 2 and thus reached safety.

About thirty men saved their lives by blocking a passage way into the mine "trip," thereby shutting off the poisonous gases an after damp until the fans were started.

As the night wore on, fresh crews replaced tired workers. Mangled forms were borne from the pit. Caravans of ambulances wended their way along the narrow, crooked road that led from mine to hospital.

Women and children, white and black, crowded closer about the mine, anxiously waiting in common narrow word from the pit. The injured were being removed by rescue crews, while undertakers' assistants were preparing for removal of the dead found in the entries nearest the main way.

WATKINS KILLED BY HIS UNCLE ON COON HUNT

YOUNG MAN WAS IN TREE WHEN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT AND KILLED

Max Watkins, 25, of Winter Park, was mortally wounded about 9 o'clock last night in the woods near his home by his uncle, G. O. Watkins. The nephew was shot in the head accidentally and died about eleven o'clock in the office of Dr. R. F. Hotard in Winter Park.

Young Watkins, his uncle and several others were on a coon hunt and the former had climbed a tree to get a coon which the dogs had treed. The elder Watkins fired at the coon while his nephew was still in the tree and three bullets struck the boy in the head.

It was some time before the wounded man could be brought to the ground as the climbing was difficult and no one in the party had a rope. The accident occurred about two miles southeast of Winter Park and while members of the party were continuing their efforts to get Watkins out of the tree, others ran to the nearest house to telephone for medical aid and to obtain a rope.

Trud Ward's home was nearest the scene and as the members of the hunting party approached the house they met Jesse Hamilton, city dairy inspector, who had been visiting Mr. Ward. Mr. Hamilton had a rope in his automobile and he rushed to the scene of the shooting and succeeded in bringing Watkins, who was unconscious, to the ground.

The victim of the accident was taken immediately to Dr. Hotard's office but was too far gone for medical aid to be of any avail. It was said that he had been in the tree for more than half an hour after having been shot.

Watkins had lived in Winter Park for about a year, coming from Murfreesville, North Carolina. He was a veteran of the world war and participated in some of the thickest of the fighting in France. His uncle, G. O. Watkins, has lived in Winter Park for many years and is well known over Orange county.

There were several witnesses to the shooting and it was said that there will be no inquest, the fact that the killing was an accident having been established beyond a doubt.—Orlando Sentinel.

CODE BILL BURIED WITH SIMPLE HONORS

Code Hill, the 77-year-old pioneer citizen who was killed in an automobile crash Monday evening at Lockhart, was buried yesterday in the Apopka cemetery after a simple but impressive funeral service had been conducted by the Rev. H. W. Buckles, pastor of the Apopka Baptist church.

The three men who are said to have been in the automobile which struck Mr. Hill are held in the jail here to await action by the authorities. As The Sentinel told yesterday, two of them have confessed that they were in the automobile which struck the aged pioneer and continued its speedy course without a moment's hesitation.—Orlando Sentinel.

FIRST WOMAN SENATOR HELD BRIEF DOMINION FOR ONE BIG DAY

Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Georgia, Leaves For Home Well Satisfied

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Woman's brief dominion in the Senate ended yesterday with a dramatic speech by Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Georgia, the first woman senator, followed by her retirement from the public stage. Last night she was enroute homeward.

Every wish of the feminine political pathfinder—to be sworn in and placed legally on the senate rolls, to answer a senate roll call, and make a brief address—had been gratified before she left the capitol.

"Indeed, I feel like I am the happiest woman in the United States," the 37-year-old lady said, amid the applause of senators and spectators, in the first address ever made by a woman in the senate. Immediately afterward, her successor, Walter F. George, whose gracious delay in presenting his election credentials had made reception of the woman senator possible, was administered the oath and Mrs. Felton became a former senator. Appointed October 3rd, upon the death of Senator Thomas E. Watson, and sworn in Tuesday, her actual senate service was 22 hours and 25 minutes.

Complete poise and earnestness marked Mrs. Felton's address, made from the center aisle. Her voice reached all parts of the chamber without quiver of age, or agitation. She spoke extemporaneously, ignoring notes in her hand, and with her quaint humor drew laughs from senators and a round of applause at the close. She thanked the senate for a "beautiful, hospitable welcome" and was applauded when she said:

"You can take this remnant of the Old South that has never flickered in her patriotism, and you can be very well assured that she is not going to disgrace her commission."

In closing, she declared that women would bring to the senate ability, integrity and exalted purpose. Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, yesterday offered a resolution to give Mrs. Felton full pay and perquisites of her term. Because senate officials under former precedents, were unable to pay her for service after the election of her successor on November 7, if the resolution is adopted, Mrs. Felton will receive over $1,000 from the government. She has been paid over $500 for salary from her appointment, October 3 to November 7, plus $12.83 for stationery allowances. Senator Harris' resolution would provide additional pay of $287.67 plus $280 for mileage.

PLANT SALE, FLOWER SHOW FOR SANFORD

FRIDAY, DECEMBER FIRST, WILL BE DAY TO BEAUTIFY SANFORD

In line with the very general awakening interest in the beautifying of home grounds, The Woman's Club, through its Welfare Department is putting on a plant sale and flower show all day Friday, December first at some point on First street.

In order to see and to show just what may be done at this season of the year, small prizes will be given for the following exhibits:

Handsome vase or basket of roses grown in one Seminole county garden. Finest collection of autumn bloom from one garden. Most effective arrangement of fancy foliage grown in one garden. Most beautiful flower arrangement—not confined to the grower of same. The plant sale will comprise all the old favorites—especially the Bouganvillea and Hibiscus, and many of the more uncommon ornamentals which are adapted to this section.

Whether one wishes to buy or not, the Welfare Department extends a most cordial invitation to its friends or to visitors in the city to come and talk flowers with Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Heeren and Mrs. Wight and have a cup of tea with the girls who are planning this bit of hospitality for all day long.

TWO CONFESS TO AUTO DEATH —ONE RECITENT

KILLERS OF CODE HILL ARE IN THE ORANGE COUNTY JAIL

Shortly before noon yesterday C. C. Martin, one of the three men arrested in connection with the killing of Code Hill, a pioneer citizen of Orange county, who died within a few minutes after he had been struck by an automobile at Lockhart early Monday evening, confessed that he was in the motor that sent the aged pioneer to his death and continued its speedy flight without a moment's hesitation, it was said yesterday by Sheriff Francis Karel.

Mr. Karel said that Sam Caviness, a second member of the trio which was arrested in connection with the killing, signed a confession a few hours afterward. Both men asserted that Troy Richardson, who recently moved to Formosa, near this city, from North Carolina, was driving the automobile.

In his confession Martin is said to have told the authorities that he begged Richardson to stop the automobile just after it struck Mr. Hill. He said that he got no reply from the driver and that the speed of the motor was increased immediately. Martin was in the front seat beside Richardson, according to the confession, and Caviness was in the tonneau. Farther down the road the three men agreed upon the story which they told officers at Sanford who arrested them; that they had struck a cow, thus accounting for the blood stains which were found on the radiator and on the windshield of their motor.

Early yesterday Sheriff Karel, accompanied by deputies, took the three men to Lake Fajview where they claimed that they had struck the cow. No evidence that any such crash had occurred could be found, the sheriff said. In addition, the authorities said that they found the stories told by the three men did not agree. Each of them had a separate and entirely different version to give.

As their story was being gradually disproved by the investigation of the sheriff, Martin began to weaken. The trio was brought back to the city and taken to the funeral home on Pine street where Mr. Hill's body was being prepared for burial. Martin plainly showed then that he was ready to break his story, according to Mr. Karel.

At 11:30 o'clock the sheriff took his prisoners back to the jail and as the party drove through the city streets, Martin broke down completely. He told the sheriff, it was said, exactly what had occurred and later signed a confession as soon as it could be written.

Caviness then signified his willingness to tell the truth about the crash, the sheriff said. He, too, signed a confession, which was the same version as that given by Martin.

Meanwhile, Richardson steadily refused to admit that the story he had told authorities was false. He said that he had come to Formosa to live about six months ago, coming from North Carolina. That, and a recitation of what he had said when he was first arrested, was as far as he would go.

It was reported yesterday that Herb Wofford, living near Lockhart, had told the sheriff he could identify Richardson as the driver of the automobile which struck Mr. Hill. Mr. Wofford, it was said, was within a few feet of the victim of the crash when the Ford containing the three men came whizzing down the road.

The declaration of this eye witness and the confession which the authorities say they have in their possession, lead the sheriff to believe that he has the strongest possible case against the men. He said yesterday that he had always been confident that the right parties had been found.

It was announced that Mr. Hill's funeral will take place this morning at 11 o'clock at the Apopka cemetery. There will be no service save those at the grave, it was said.

An has been told before, Mr. Hill had lived in Orange county for fifty years, coming here from Georgia when he was twenty-seven years old. He was one of the best known men in the county and was loved and respected by everybody, numbering his friends by the hundred.—Orlando Special.

DAILY HERALD IS REAL THING SAYS POWELL

MAN WHO KNOWS THE GAME SAYS WE ARE GIVING PUBLIC SERVICE

There is not a man in the state of Florida or any other state who knows any more about the ups and downs of newspaper life than the elongated secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, Willis Powell. He has started them from Maine to Beersheba and from Pensacola to Cocon-Cola and back again and when he writes something about a newspaper it means something. Therefore when he sat down with his typewriter on his lap as he says and "tilted" the following "personal" letter to us on the Daily Herald we immediately make the personal letter public and if it makes Willis mad we will alleviate his sufferings the next time we see him and we have some of the best alleviators in the world since having the dengue fever. Willis "writ" us the following today:

Tavares, Fla., Nov. 21, 1922.

Dear Old Scout:

I couldn't let this day's descending sun go down without taking my typewriter in my lap and telling you how much I admire your nerve in installing a press that prints in seventeen languages at a 6,000 mile an hour clip on high gear—and also in enlarging the paper to metropolitan size with all the accessories and dials and think-tank stuff you could expect in one of Billy Hearst's enlightening sheets.

It is only a little over three years ago that I was called to Sanford in a conference with some of your issuers who said that Sanford had to have a daily, and I told them that you and your side kick could deliver the goods; and it wasn't long before you began to disseminate news daily without Sunday—and you have grown and grown and grown until now, old man, you not only have a paper worth a town worth while—for it takes a live daily to set the pace for a live town.

I was called seven kings of a fool for starting the St. Petersburg Evening Independent and they began to send me flowers for my coffin—but somehow the Independent weathered the storms and St. Pete weathered the paper without getting indignation and now you couldn't buy that paper with a million dollars. And same way at Clearwater—sold my junk heap there for $17,000 and inside of two years it was capitalized for $100,000 and this didn't hurt its appetite one bit. And I predict for you that within five years you will be worth a million and riding around in automobiles with jeweled maidens and so dinged easy with your money that you will have to wear Weel chains to keep you from skidding into royalty. So be it—and more too—but you'd hate like H-I to lose you from our midst. This is not for publication, it is personal for you—not even friend wife for she might stick you for an ornate coat at once.

Yours,
 POWELL.

FOREIGN GROUP CONGESTION IN CITIES CRITICAL PROBLEM

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 22.—The most stubborn and critical situation confronting American cities is the presence of large and congested groups of foreign-speaking peoples whose assimilation has been slow, Dr. D. D. Forsyth, corresponding secretary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal church, declared at the annual meeting of that board here today.

"Immigrants have not been evenly distributed through our country," he said. "Seventy-two per cent are in our cities. Some cities are almost solidly foreign-speaking, and mere remnants of the normal population are left. Mothers, great colonies have been developed, known as Little Italy and Little Poland, where the ideals and standards of the Old World are prevalent.

"These people are crowding into our schools, colleges and universities in great numbers. They are in every field of commercial and professional life. They constitute the great body of American toilers. They are to make up in a very large way our citizenship yet they are outside the pale and outside the influence of the institution that has meant most to our country, namely, the Christian church.

"While a surprisingly large percent of these people is not Protestant, a large percent is not Catholic and not Jewish. They have broken with every faith."

During 1922 the board has assisted in 1229 building enterprises, he said. Three hundred and ninety-one have been erected in cities of 10,000 or more. Eight hundred and twenty-nine were in rural communities. Eight hundred and eighty-two were in white English-speaking annual conferences and 247 in negro annual conferences. Ninety-one were in foreign speaking neighborhoods and twelve were at student centers.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Lillard and Mr. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Neel spent several hours in Orlando on business today.

Miss May Holly has recovered sufficiently from an attack of the dengue fever to resume her studies at school.

The Check, Gross, Mitchell camp killed a deer yesterday and brought him home. Frank Woodruff and Walter Hand each killed one and brought them in yesterday.

It is not too early to begin planning another big Dollar Day after the first of the year. Things will be slow then for a few weeks and the Dollar Day would stimulate business.

The city is filled every day with tourists on the run south with all kinds of camping outfits and autos. If they are going by other routes as fast the lower part of the state must be filling up with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks killed a fine turkey gobbler yesterday afternoon and brought him by the Herald office to let everyone see him. Capt. Brooks says he knows where they roost and he can go out any afternoon and get him one.

Word comes from Miss Frances Dutton that she has just finished visiting Rome and is going to the south of Spain now. The Herald will publish her most interesting diary when she finishes the tour the first of January.

The last truck load of printing material has come into the Herald office and the last one left for Winter Park out of the Herald office today and the fate can now settle down to real business. The Herald office has certainly been torn up for several weeks but will soon be all right again after the new Model 14 Linotype has been installed.

J. H. Crumond, formerly with the Russell Phonograph Co., of Augusta, Ga., now has charge of the phonograph repair work for the J. H. Hintermister Piano Co. Mr. Crumond has had a wide experience in phonograph construction and is a skilled workman on any make of machine. If your phonograph is not giving the satisfaction that it should, give Mr. Crumond a call and let him put it in first class condition for you.

MINE MANAGEMENT RESPONSIBLE FOR EXPLOSION: SIX MEN ARE KILLED

By The Associated Press
 BARNESBORO, Pa., Nov. 22.—The management of the Reilly Collieries Company Mine No. 1 at Spangler, were held responsible for gas explosion there on Nov. 6, when 67 were killed, in coroner's jury verdict early today. The jury held that the explosion occurred from the use of open lights after the mine management had knowledge of the accumulating explosion gas in mine.

SEMINOLE TEACHERS CLUB MEETS AT GENEVA

On October 15, the teachers of Seminole county met in the grammar school auditorium and reorganized the Seminole County Teachers' club. Supt. Lawton, in a short talk, pointed out the advantages of such an organization, after which the business of electing the officers went forward, with the following result:

President—Prof. McKay, Sanford.
 Vice-President—Prof. J. T. Jacobs, Lake Monroe.
 Secretary—Miss Helen Moran, Geneva.

Other routine business was disposed of and a motion to adjourn was heard. A short social hour followed, during which refreshments were served by the grammar school teachers.

The first regular meeting of the club was held last Saturday afternoon at the Geneva school. Miss Clara Miller, principal of the Sanford Grammar School, was the leader, and a most excellent program given under her planning leadership was greatly enjoyed. The subject was "Discipline," and the program consisted of the following interesting numbers:

Paper, "Discipline in Primary Schools," Miss Ruth Hand.
 Solo, Miss Edna Childenden.
 Paper, "Discipline in High School," Miss Ida McGray.
 Reading, Evelyn Taylor.
 Orchestra, "Flower Song," Sanford Grammar School Orchestra.

Each number was well given and thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed by all. Supt. Lawton expressed the appreciation of the teachers to Miss Miller for planning the program and to each one who had a part in making it such a success.

REAL FLORIDA PAPER SOON

The Tribune has closed a contract with the Grass-Fiber Pulp and Paper Company, of Leesburg, for a carload of paper made from its saw grass pulp, to be used in printing a whole edition and more on the first of February. Practically every paper in Florida will come out on or about that date printed on paper made from Florida saw grass, convincing the world that the discoverers of the fine Florida paper material, and the men who have worked so persistently to make it available for printing and other uses, had the right vision and the proper sticktoitiveness.

GOING GOOD AT FORTY

Those of us in our forties and fifties who have not made enough to retire and enjoy life as we should are inclined to be looking forward somewhat and wonder just when we will get enough accumulated to take a little trip in leisure time and give our families some of the pleasure in life that other people are enjoying.
Some folks say that a man must make his pile before he is fifty or he will not make it at all and others say that a man is no man at all until he is at least forty and can settle down with some sense about life. We believe that opportunity comes to every man's door at some time in life and comes more than once. Some people have the long green on hand or have friends to loan it to him and when opportunity knocks he pulls her inside the door and steals a kiss while the unfortunate one has no money or friends with money or family connections and when opportunity knocks
he is a "raid to open the door for fear it is one of his numerous creditors and opportunity goes by. Henry Ford says that a man is at his best after forty years of age and can easily amass a fortune. The Tampa Times has the following about this important subject:
Henry Ford speaking: "A man's career doesn't really begin until he is around 40. When he is 40 years old a man has just about reached the age when he may begin to think seriously about making money."
Ford's idea is that the average man cannot expect to accumulate much of a fortune in the first 40 years of life, so those who have reached this age without much to show for it should not be discouraged.
Up to 40, as Ford sees it, a man's chief function in life is to gain experience. "He should be learning all he can; particularly how to spend money. As I told you two weeks ago, the best advice I can give to a young man anxious to succeed is:
"pend your money—on yourself; get all the experience you can. Don't try to save money and be a miser."
Knowledge and experience are working capital to an individual, just as surely as money in the bank. With $10,000 and no experience, the average man going into business for himself is more apt to go broke than make a success.
Knowledge and experience are even more important than money. To get them costs money.
Obviously, Ford is not suggesting that we go out and sling our money to the four winds. Observe that he says, spend it ON YOURSELF.
What to buy? Good books, education, travel that brings knowledge.
Ford himself is 50. He was nearly 40 before he began giving much thought to building up a fortune. Previously to that, he had been busy—spending his money experimenting and increasing his fund of information.
He didn't spend on foolish amusements, billiards, baseball betting, rail-injack and clothes beyond his means.
He invested his dollars in increasing his mechanical knowledge, in developing a definite campaign of action in a certain industry, and in acquiring the knowledge of human nature necesary to enable him to market his product, Ford cars.

Now he is "cashing in" on that early investment in himself. Indirectly he had always been saving and accumulating.
The thing to guard against is "spending on ourselves" in the wrong way.

PLANT FLOWERS, TREES,
SHRUBS

When there is anything to be done in this city we usually get the Woman's Club to do it and it is always done. In keeping with the policy of making a more beautiful Sanford the idea was started several years ago by the Woman's Club to sell plants and flowers and shrubs and trees at an annual plant sale here once each year and preferably in the fall when it is the right time to plant these trees, etc. Each year the Woman's Club procures these plants at very reasonable prices and the club makes a small commission on all plants sold and assists the home owners to buy the proper flowers and plants, tells them how to plant and when to plant and sees to it that the city is enhanced in beauty just that much each year. And the efforts of the Woman's Club have been crowned with success and a more beautiful Sanford is the result. While we may not have the broad acres and big lawns and wonderful estate that the big tourists centers have, this city can be made into a hower of beauty if each person living in either their own home or in a rented home will do just a little bit each fall and spring toward making the home more beautiful. The editor of the Herald started several years ago in giving away all the poinsettias that people would carry away from his home each spring and the result is a poinsettia city here now and the effect is most striking and beautiful: It is along this same line that the Woman's Club is putting on the flower sale the notice of which appears in this issue. Remember the date and place of this sale and help your city to become the most beautiful spot in Florida. It will take time to place the yards in condition
but a little bit each year will soon work wonders. Help the Woman's Club to make Sanford the city of our dreams. Buy a flower, shrub or tree or palm and plant them this year.
It will mean so much to you and your city.

FROM OTHER
SANCTUMS

Florida is better prepared Commenting upon the early opening of the winter season in Florida, the Industrial Index, published at Columbus, Ga., says this state "is now better advertised and better known than ever before, and is also better prepared than ever before in its history, to take care of and suitably and comfortably entertain its winter visitors." The importance of the statement can hardly be over-estimated.
Florida has been advertised in the past, and was becoming well known several years ago but it is not until recently that she has been able to offer practically everything that may be called for by the most particular and the most exacting class of travelers in the world.
As the Index goes on to say, "In recent years the erection of modern,
well-equipped hotels and apartment houses has proceeded steadily in the Peninsular state and accommodations there are now greater and better than ever before." This is because the home folks have learned what is needed to make the visitors comfortable, and they have not hesitated to build and equip and plan and make provision for the coming of the people from every part of the country and foreign countries. It was no doubt only to be expected that tourists would find the climate of Florida delightful and desire to come again when reaching this favored spot twenty years ago, but they also discovered a comparatively new section —and were forced to put up with many inconveniences.
No excuses need now be accepted by the visitors to Florida; they can demand and get anything in the way of accommodations and diversion and comfort and pleasure that their fancy indicates, almost anywhere in the state, and the varied opportunities for enjoying a winter here are such as to tempt those in moderate circumstances as well as the wealthy for the accommodations are as varied as anywhere in the world and the family desiring to "keep house" can secure an apartment, of any size and price, and enjoy the same climate and many of the same privileges as are accorded the millionaires who are able to have wonderful winter homes or suites at magnificent hotels.
Florida has come to be known as the winter playground of the United States and while this does not imply a season of idleness or frivolity for

FLA. FRUITS
HOLDING OWN
IN MARKETS

Over One Hundred Cans Leaving
State Each Day of the Week.
More than 100 cars of citrus fruit are moving each day from Florida to northern and eastern markets or at least that is the record established during the past several days with every prospect of the rush being continued the rest of this week. Rail shipments for the past three days reached more than a total of 500 cars of fruit, about evenly divided in shipments between the eastern and middle west markets.
Oranges took the lead in numbers of cars shipped the big demand lending added speed to the packers and shippers, especially in those sections where the fruit has taken on a good color and has reached a state of maturity that insures the best prices when offered in the big cities of the north. Most of the oranges going out last Saturday, Sunday and Monday were consigned to eastern markets by fast freight, and some of the trains were composed almost entirely of citrus rail shipments.
Total shipments for the season are now approaching 7,000 cars with express shipments of small consignments of fancy fruit excluded in the count. A general but careful quest of "any" fruit is being conducted by those who have orders for holiday trade, but as a rule, plans are well laid for this part of the business. It is believed that the fruit from Florida will prove superior in quality for this season to any that has ever left the state, and assure to create even greater demands throughout the season.
In the face of the steady tone of the citrus market and the prices that are being offered in Chicago, Florida growers have forgotten that some mention of Pacific coast competition has been made in the past. There are no indications that the Florida fruit is being endangered by that from other regions of the country, and the superior quality of both oranges and grapefruit from this state is discounting the expensive advertising effort being made to assure sale of the Pacific coast shipments.
Practically every packing house in Florida is operating at the present time or in some cases are ready to begin work in a few days. The rapid ripening of fruit under the favorable weather conditions of the past week

have forced activity in many places, and growers are anxious to get the best of their fruit moving before the colder weather sets in throughout the north. The indications point to a general and steady increase in shipments throughout this week, and railroads are working every possible means to supply cars to the shipping centers. Thus far the equipment has been equal to the requirements of the growers, and little difficulty is expected in continuing the supply of ventilator cars, which will gradually be displaced by refrigerator cars as the season advances.

CANDLER DENIES CHARGES.

ATLANTA, Nov. 23.—General de-

the $100,000 damage suit filed against him by Mrs. Clyde K. Byfield of Atlanta, in connection with an alleged recurrence on the steamship Berengaria, enroute to Europe, last sum-

DeKalb superior court.
The demurrer, which was also an answer to the Byfield suit, makes a sweeping denial that Mr. Candler had committed any wrong against Mrs.
Byfield or is liable for any damages and declared Mr. Candler did not persuade the Byfields to accompany him on the trip to Europe and that "so far as he knew, the plaintiff and her husband, were as anxious to make the trip as this defendant was."
The suit against Candler was filed

LOVE TRAGEDY IS CAUSE OF INSANITY

Beautiful and Accomplished Girl Becomes Insane as Result of Hopeless Love.

New York.—County Judge McMahon in Brooklyn heard a strange and moving tale of a young woman's disillusionment in love, told by the girl herself, though the tragedy which has come into her life has unhinged her mind and made it necessary to commit her to an institution for the insane.

Miss Vera Anderson, twenty-seven, of Brooklyn, young, pretty, highly educated, and an accomplished musician, was before Judge McMahon on the result of medical affidavits concerning her mental condition.

In due, somber tones, the young woman told Judge McMahon that about a year ago she had found herself falling in love with the husband of her dearest girl friend.

"The man loved her," she said, "and the other woman knew of their love."

"The man begged her to forget that he was married and fly with him," she said. "Then she realized what a grievous wrong she was doing to her friend. She told the man their love must end."

"I tore all thought of my love from my mind," said Miss Anderson, "and left only a blank in its place."

Judge McMahon learned from King's county hospital physicians her mind is so shattered that, although she was an expert musician and linguist, she now cannot play the piano except accidentally, nor can she read or speak exactly except in English.

Describing it as one of the saddest cases ever to come under his judicial notice, the judge committed Miss Anderson to King's Park asylum.

CONCEALED HIS IDENTITY A certain young man had an amazingly large mouth, which he comforted into an all-pervading smile whenever he wished to make a good impression.

His sweetheart persuaded him to "ask father," and the youth was determined to show himself to good advantage.

"Mr. Jenks," he began, stretching his principal feature to the utmost of geniality, "I have come to ask for the hand of your daughter."

"Just a moment," interrupted the old gentleman, mildly, "would you mind closing your mouth for a moment till I see who you are?" - Medical Record.

A. F. of L. Not to Attend the Hague Anti-War Meeting

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—An invitation to participate with the International Federation of Trades Unions in a general labor anti-war conference at the Hague, December 10, was rejected yesterday by President Sam'l Gompers and the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

To J. H. Thomas, of the British labor organizations, who is president of the international federation, the American authorized a response declaring the unwillingness of labor unions in the United States to commit themselves to any international general strike or any declaration of war, whether offensive or not, to renunciate nationally, to seek nationalization of wealth, or to enter a gathering where the trend of discussion had been set down in advance.

Originally it had seemed possible, the American Federation letter said, for the labor organizations of the United States to participate in the proposed peace conference with unions of other nations, but resolutions of the international federation of trades unions adopted at Rome had laid down such advance terms that no association could be attempted.

Devoted as it has been to the general cause of peace, it was declared, the American Federation of Labor could not seek to further such a cause in a meeting "committed in advance to proposals not only lacking in constructive character, but which may easily be of themselves a most serious menace to the cause of freedom."

Mr. Gompers, the eight vice presidents of the federation and Frank Morrison, its secretary, signed the communication, an identical copy of which was forwarded to the British trades union congress.

ENGLISH FARMERS TOLD TO EXPECT HARD TIMES LONDON, Nov. 23.—"Agriculture cannot be made to pay any longer in England on the lines followed in the past under present conditions," said Sir Arthur Boscawen in the last speech he made as Minister of Agriculture.

While he was talking to the members of the Farmers' Union about the hard times that were inevitably in store for the majority of them, Premier Lloyd George handed in his resignation to the King and Sir Arthur automatically became an ex-Minister.

His speech, as he admitted himself, contained only "cold comfort for those who had to get their livings from the land." Some farmers, he prophesied, would go under, and there would be acute distress in the country districts before prosperity could return.

"There may be a future for the dairy farmers," he said, "and livestock farming generally may be able to pay fairly well in time, but for the arable farmers—the corn growers—I can see only a gloomy outlook."

Referring to the views of one of his predecessors in office, he said: "Lord Allyn probably was right in thinking that such arable land will become so that the rural districts will be depopulated, and that there will be misery among farmers and their laborers."

According to his own survey of the state of agriculture, its future seemed to lie in large farms in favorable districts, cultivated as cheaply as possible, with patches of intensively cultivated land.

"What can the government do?" he asked, "there are only two remedies—protection or subsidies."

The farmers showed plainly which of the two remedies they preferred by cheering loudly the mention of "protection" and greeting "subsidies" with vociferous cries of dissent. But Sir Arthur would not allow the poor farmers to comfort themselves with any false hopes.

"It would be dishonest to suggest," he declared, "that at the present time either remedy is practical. The agricultural interests have a comparatively small representation in the House of Commons, which is permanently urban in character. The government may adopt some palliatives, but it will insist that agriculture must work out its own salvation on an economic basis."

rain and thunderstorm forced him down on an islet in the Tigre River, where his plane became mired in the soft sand, causing him to break a propeller. A passing launch from Iquitos picked him up and carried the stranded aviator to the isolated Amazon port, where he was given a tremendous ovation. His flying time from Chiclayo up to the moment of the accident was also six hours, or a total of twelve hours from Lima.

BRYAN ASKS DEFEAT OF SHIP SUBSIDY BILL; REACHES KEY WEST KEY WEST, Nov. 23.—"The ship subsidy bill should be so badly defeated it will never be brought up again," declared William Jennings Bryan upon his arrival here today from Los Angeles via the Panama Canal, enroute to Miami, his winter home, for an indefinite stay.

The Commoner arrived here burdened with parrots, birds and other pets accumulated on his trip through the Panama Canal zone. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bryan, who has been spending several months visiting her son, William Jennings Bryan, who is practicing law in Los Angeles. They left for their winter home at Miami at 7:30 this evening.

Prior to his departure for the Mangle City Mr. Bryan expressed himself as desirous of making several trips through the state after Jan. 1, speaking.

Mr. Bryan, touring on prohibition, a subject described as "near and dear to me," predicted it is here to stay and that by 1930 the world would be entirely prohibition. "You can say for me that prohibition is here to stay. Where it has been a failure is due to the failure to enforce, higher-up officials being 'wet.'"

HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 23.—Wm. Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state, Mrs. Bryan, enroute from San Francisco to Miami, Fla., arrived this morning on the Ecuador, but left immediately for his winter home via Key West without setting foot on Cuban soil. The delicate state of Mrs. Bryan's health and her anxiety to reach Miami as soon as possible caused the abandonment of their plans for spending a few days in Havana.

Accorded every facility by the Cuban Government, Colonel and Mrs. Bryan were transferred directly from the Ecuador to the Governor Cobb in a government launch and continued their voyage after exchanging a few words with representatives of the American legation and Cuban state department, who were on hand to receive them.

AMERICAN AVIATOR FLIES OVER ANDES MOUNTAINS LIMA, Peru, Oct. 28.—(By Mail)—What is probably the most daring aviation feat yet recorded in South America is the flight by an American aviator, Elmer J. Faucett, from Lima, to the Amazon port of Iquitos. Faucett, who is attached to the staff of the National Aeronautic Company of Peru, left Lima in a Curtiss "Orion" plane, in an effort to win a prize of $5,000.00 for the first airplane flight from this capital to Iquitos, offered by the Peruvian Congress. The first lap of the flight was to Chiclayo, 400 miles north of Lima. Faucett made this distance in six hours, and landed safely on the arid plains near that city.

Several weeks were required to get the plane in condition for the second stage of the flight, which was particularly dangerous in the absence of air maps or any other guides. Iquitos is more than 500 miles from Chiclayo in a straight air line, and the intervening country is as wild as can be found in South America. This region is a vast tangle of difficult mountain passes, cascades, and rapids until the highest ranges of the Andes are passed at an elevation of from 14,000 to 17,000 feet. The Marañon River and its affluents, which flow into the Amazon, have cut tremendous channels in the ranges of the Andes, down which swift, turbulent streams flow in their course to the Atlantic. After that come the tropical lands leading up to the Amazon proper, where impenetrable jungles and swampy wastes make travel of any kind difficult.

It was over such a country that Faucett had to fly when he made his final "hop-off" from Chiclayo on October 6. Had his motor failed him, no trace of aviator or plane would probably ever have been discovered. At it was, he was forced to land when only forty minutes of flying separated him from his goal. A driving

State Federal Taxes Reduced $2,034,993

Cancellations and Decreases Affecting Income and Other Assessments Big Figure.

"Reductions in Federal taxes which are effective for the current year, will save the taxpayers of the Florida district the enormous sum of $2,034,993, according to a special survey of the cancellations and decreases in tax rates provided by the Revenue Act of 1921, completed yesterday by Internal Revenue Collector R. T. Gerow.

"The reduction in taxes for 1922 as provided by the Revenue Act of 1921 is approximately as follows:

Income Tax	$313,915.00
Transportation Tax	17,410.00
Sales and Luxury Tax	94,568.00
While the transportation, sales and luxury tax cancellations became effective January 1st of last year, the income tax reductions covers 1921 as well as 1922 and thereafter:
Freight and express	$934,820.41
Passenger and Pullman	634,821.62
Miscellaneous sales	411,689.62

"This means that in the last four years $50,346,940 was expended in the Florida district for transportation charges alone. Of this amount $31,100,680 was for freight charges, and $19,485,263 for passenger fares and Pullman berths. This does not include transportation charges that were prepaid in some other district. Even the tax and passenger fares paid by the thousands of tourists coming here from outside points are not taken into account.

"Of the $313,915.00 income deductions, $609,762 is distributed among 21,901 taxpayers with incomes of less than $5,000, and $203,253 applies to larger incomes and surtaxes. The next exemptions allowed heads of families and for dependents is now $2,200 and $400, which means an increased exemption for a married couple with one dependent of $700, or a tax saving of $28.

"The survey stressed the fact that the relief afforded by the decreased taxation affects every person in the Florida District who travels, pays for freight, sends an express package, buys a Pullman berth, takes a drink of soda water, or who has a taxable income. In other words, the relief afforded reaches all classes.

"Although the Florida office faces a tax reduction of more than two million dollars annually, Collector Gerow declared that the total collections for the coming fiscal year will not be materially affected. He predicted that the marked expansion in every class of business in the Florida District will furnish sufficient new taxes to absorb the two millions wiped out by the last revenue act.

GROUSE MAKES HEARTY MEAL

Two Thousand Rose Beetles in One Day Said to Be Not a Menu Beyond Her Capacity.

Two thousand rose beetles in one day were on the menu of a hen grouse which was experimented with at Clark university at Worcester, Mass., and which Prof. Hugh Findlay told about in a lecture on "Useful Birds in Our Gardens and Orchards," given recently at the New York Botanical gardens, Bronx park. Professor Findlay, who is horticulturist in the department of agriculture at Columbia university, has spent several years in central New York and the New England states studying the habits of birds during the nesting season.

He has photographed some 200 birds in their natural haunts, and from these photographs has developed slides which he has colored with Japanese transparent dyes. The birds range from the tiny humming bird to the great eagles photographed near Omaha lake. In his lecture, Professor Findlay showed some of our most destructive insects and their particular bird foes, showing plainly which species help to keep our plants and trees from being destroyed by insect foes.

The hen grouse, who was proved to have made away with 2,000 rose beetles in one day, he used as an illustration of the economic value of some birds in the destruction of insect pests.

WHERE ALL SPEED IS ALIKE

Light, Electricity, X-Rays, and Magnetic Storms Declared to Move with Equal Velocity.

That in the radium rays we have an indication of a new and mysterious world of energy, we find what seems an impressive testimony in the law of velocity governing these in common with other recently discovered phenomena. "One definite thing we do know," says Professor Rørdy, writing of the ether, "namely, the velocity at which influences are transmitted. It is 185,000 miles per second, the speed of light. So far as we yet know, all influences that are transmitted by the ether travel at this one definite velocity. Not only light, but also the electro-magnetic radiations employed in wireless telegraphy, the magnetic storms, as they are termed, which reach us from the sun, and also as we believe, the X-rays, travel through the ether at this one definite speed." That speed is in all these cases the same is suggestive of a common source and fountain head, and one is emboldened in the supposition that behind and within the material system with which we are familiar is a subtle and infinitely marvelous world from which the universe we know is fed and sustained, and which uses the light—swift undulations of the ether—as the carrying agent of its varied influences.—Charles Kassel in the North American Review.

Tool Straightens Nails. Even bent wire nails are being salvaged from the waste piles in Germany and restored to usefulness by means of an ingenious nail straightener that may be fastened to the workbench. The device is described in the Popular Science Monthly.

Tinged to one end of the cast iron base is a long lever with a handle. A few inches from the fulcrum of the lever an iron rod is hinged, and to this is attached a claw which grips the head of the nail to be straightened. The nail is placed with its head in the slot of the claw and with its body between the jaws of a straightening die which is operated by a lever. The jaws firmly grip the body of the nail, and when the long lever is drawn back the nail is pulled through the eye of the die and effectively straightened.

Indian Has Remarkable Memory. The most remarkable memory in America is said to belong to a native Indian of the Yakima tribe. His brain cells register everything he sees or hears.

During the war he served with the army in France, and was of much value in carrying long messages, observing positions, or checking supplies, according to an Indian bureau report. When he was in camp he could call off a regimental roster and catalogue every item of equipment without any note or memorandum. On one occasion, after making a full report of observations to the extent of a thousand items or more, he repeated the full text of a lecture he had heard the night before. This was in the presence of the lecturer himself and was pronounced perfect.

Boy Found Treasure Trove. A kettle of gold has been found on a mountain by a French schoolboy who left Chambéry intending to ascend Mount Blanc. He had no guide and no food, and did not even carry the traditional alpenstock. After half an hour's climbing he came across a kettle. Looking into it he found 165 gold pieces dated 1189 and bearing the arms of the house of Savoy. Immediately the young would-be mountaineer abandoned his projected climb and took his find to the police.

New Arrangement. He was a contractor and after building nine houses on the same plan, blue prints were of no consequence to him. The tenth house was well under way before he gave much attention to the details. He surveyed the structure and was astonished to find that a fireplace had been built in the kitchen. His other houses had all faced the west. This one faced the east.

GAY CRETONNES FOR LITTLE FROCKS

There is nothing so smart for little maids' frocks this season as cotton creponne trimmed with cretonne—just like the things one sees for grown-ups. To the left is a slip-on dress in tangerine color. The cretonne is used for collar, cuffs, pocket and band on the skirt. The dress has long shoulders. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yards 36-inch creponne and 1/2 yard cretonne. When one wishes to add bloomers that are trimmed to harmonize with the dress, a pattern less conspicuous is used for the decoration. No subdued colors, though, because the tan cretonne to the right is trimmed with bands of cretonne in which green and red form blocks on a background of dark brown. The dress closes on the shoulder. Medium size requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch material, with 1/2 yard cretonne for trimming.

First Model: Pictorial Review Child's Dress No. 1083. Sizes, 2 to 6 years. Price, 30 cents.

Father, Mother and Baby Meet Death by Drowning in California River.

Vicklin, Cal.—That Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Highland and their infant child, of Los Angeles, had been drowned at Three Rivers, 30 miles east of here, was disclosed when passing motorists observed a log of three years playing alone in an automobile. They asked him where his mother was.

"In the water," he replied. "Daddy in water; baby in water." Further questioning disclosed that the baby had fallen into the Kaweah river. The frightened mother leaped in to save the child. Unable to swim, she cried for help and the father, who was working on the automobile, jumped in, in an effort to save his wife and child. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Highland were recovered.

Preferred Death to Removing Wedding Gown

A wealthy widower named Kraus, of Bregenz, Austria, was about to give his twenty-year-old daughter in marriage to a former Austrian officer. The father had made elaborate preparations for the ceremony, but when he saw the girl's beautiful wedding dress he declared it was cut too low and he would not permit her to enter the church "half naked." He locked her in the room until she decided to change to another dress.

Later, the father heard a revolver shot, and found his daughter lying across the bed still clad in her bridal dress.

Mosquito Bite Kills Young Baby

Atlanta City, N. J.—Two days after she was bitten by a mosquito, Jeanette Brown, nine months old, died in a hospital of spinal meningitis. The disease was carried to the baby by the mosquito, physicians believe.

SHOULD HAVE FINISHED

PARIS, Nov. 23.—Benito Mussolini, the Italian premier, in an interview with the Lausanne correspondent of Le Matin, said that the allies should have finished the war, "you in Berlin and we in Vienna and Budapest." "The enemy ought to have been throttled," the premier is quoted as saying. "Now you realize that you have little chance of getting your due and you are disappointed. Germany is resolved not to pay. In addition she is threatening for you and threatening for us, the Teutonic flood is at our gates. The Tyrol is but a geographical definition."

M. Mussolini urged fascism for Belgium, France, Italy and Great Britain to defend western culture against Germany and soviet Russia.

"Confidence"
Confidence, as applied to business, is the same as faith in the field of religion. Confidence in the good intentions of each other; confidence in the ability of another to fulfill promises; confidence in the soundness of the community—these are the things upon which business is based. And this applies with double force to the banking business. The customer's confidence in the strength and integrity of the bank; and the bank's confidence in the character and good intentions of its customers, are the factors upon which this institution is founded.

MERCHANTS WIN FIRST GAME OF SEASON BY DEFEATING THE ROTERS—COME OUT OF CELLAR

Despite the fact that Henry Purdon, one of the Merchants big bowlers was absent from the game last night, the counter-jumpers, left off jumping the counters long enough to jump all over the Rotary club and incidentally jumped out of the cellar.

The Merchants, who have on their line-up, no players that have bowled in several years, have been fighting, what one might say, an up-hill game all season, but showed some signs of life last night, and although pressed hard all the way through the three games, fought it out until the last frame and won over the Roters bill 111 pins. His makes the first win of the season for them, but since they see it can be done they intend to wade right through until they are recognized as pennant contenders. Chase & Co. who have also been bowling under the name handicap will be their opponents next week, and it is predicted that these two clubs will put up a nasty scrap, even though the Merchants are predicted to have a shade the better outlook.

The Rotary Club, bowling in about as poor form as any team seen on the alleys this season, were no match for the Merchants last night, and the predictions are now, that if these Roters don't pick up a step or two, Chase & Co. will be slipping them the key to their cellar before many moons.

One of the best games scheduled for this week is the one tonight between the Farmers and Men's Club. Both these clubs are made up of good bowlers and the Men's Club defeat will mean the Farmers tying for second place, a feat that they expect to accomplish, the bowling fans will find a treat in store for them at this game and a large crowd of on-lookers are expected to be on hand.

Last night's score was as follows:

Table with columns for Merchants, Rotary, and individual players like Looking, Rive, Burdick, Tyler, Randall, Henry, Hill, Dens, E. E. Stevens, Hutt.

Table titled 'Standing of the Clubs' with columns for Won, Lost, Pct. for Congregational, Men's Club, Farmers, Merchants, Rotary, Chase & Co.

Western Conference Honors May Be Shared by Three Teams

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The western conference football title, won last year by Iowa may not have an owner this year as Michigan and Chicago remain undefeated, and should the three win next Saturday in the season's final games, the conference honors will be shared by the trio.

Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the conference, announced last night that there is no provision in the rules for a post-season play-off and that the rule limiting the conference teams to seven games would prevent a deciding contest.

In the final game next Saturday, Michigan meets Minnesota, Chicago will face Wisconsin, while Northwestern will furnish Iowa's opposition.

A large crowd followed Charles Ray through his five reels of reel pictures at the Princess last night.

He is the popular kid with the Sanford public.

But "The Valley of Silent Men" will draw a record-breaking crowd tomorrow night.

It's an Oliver Curwood story and that's his record.

"The Valley of Silent Men" will be seen at the Princess Friday and Saturday night.

And then comes a week of real program. We have had a peep at it, and when this program is announced you'll say it's good.

And there is one good picture coming to the Princess on circus night. Take in the circus in the afternoon, see the pictures that night and you'll say it was one perfect day of entertainment.

And wait until you see what's on the cards for Thanksgiving night. A regular Thanksgiving special.

And of course it will be followed by the regular big Friday and Saturday feature.

All in all, one big week next week.

LAKE MONROE

Monday, the 20th, marked the opening of the hunting season and early in the day our woods hid hence to the woods, the haunts of the shy quail, nimble squirrel, timid deer and others of the feathered and woolly tribe.

The Goddeer Diana's wrath was greatly appeased for a rapid and fierce onslaught of firing and killing rang and echoed through the woods and dell, the livelong day. Squirrels seem numerous and many played the penalty. Quail, though plentiful, were not so many bugged and but few deer were slaughtered. One man proudly carried home as trophy a large rattlesnake gunned while hunting in a swampy place.

Farmers are anxious concerning the lettuce crop. Some very fine lettuce is standing in the fields waiting the more favorable market, while a great deal of the crop has gone to seed. W. H. Allen has been busy the past week shipping beans and getting a fancy price. The celery crop is doing fairly well, though many are complaining of rootrot.

Mrs. J. T. Matthews, who was taken to the Fernald-Laughton hospital for blood-poisoning in the leg, has now recovered sufficiently to be at home.

Chas. Robertson, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the hospital has recovered and is at home.

J. L. Horn, of Empire, Ga., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Mann.

W. T. Maulding and family and W. C. McCall and daughter, have removed to Currieville, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Sapp, of Georgia, have moved to this section.

Mr. Goodspeed, of Sanford, has purchased a tract of land on Monroe street and is erecting a bungalow.

Mr. and Mrs. Conner and family of near Sanford, have moved to the place of Mr. Naugher.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

TO ALL PERSONS HEREINAFTER NAMED OWNING PROPERTY ON MYRTLE AVENUE:

You are hereby notified that on the 12th day of October, A. D. 1922, the City Commission of Sanford, Florida, did adopt a preliminary resolution providing for the grading and paving of Myrtle Avenue from Fourth street South to Thirteenth Street, with vitrified brick or other hard surface material. The total estimated cost of said improvement of Myrtle Avenue is $27,500.

CELERY SEED FOR THE MOVIE FAN

If the Merchants can win over the Roters and only bowl 1,900 pins to do it, how long will it take for Chase and Co. to get out of the cellar?

The Herald will give a prize of a pair of hand-painted toothpicks for the best answer.

But it has been said that some of the Roters would rather have the key to some one's cellar than be Champs. Wonder why?

And did you notice that Perkins guy and Warren Tyler—how they picked up speed last night. Showed real form, so they did.

Warren told us about his two applications of liniment, before the game but we can't account for Perki's speed.

And the wise ones say, "What could those Merchants have done to the Roters if Henry Purdon had been there."

Maybe the Roters are saving their insights for the second half. Must be, they haven't shown any of them so far in the first half.

'Tis rumored that Emil Apiana is letting his men distribute the fertilizer today in order that he can save his "pep" for the big battle tonight. These farmers want that game.

And don't you forget the fact that there's a foot ball game here Saturday. Sanford plays Ft. Meade, and it's going to have a tussle on their hamps.

Coach Wilkinson has his boys working on regular this week. They will have some more new tricks to bring on their opposition.

One of the big games of the Turkey Day fray will be that of Stetson and Rollins, and our six cents is on Rollins.

See where Hornsby says he will beat Babe Ruth's record next season. Wonder how he gets that way.

Of course that's what Hornsby says, "Babe" hasn't said so yet.

More big league players in trouble over their barn-storming trips. Bill Pierce, of the Red Sox, one of "hot" side-kicks, is in for some explaining to Landis.

SMUGGLING CHARGE AGAINST SIXTEEN IN FEDERAL COURT

PENSACOLA, Fla., Nov. 23.—

Named in two indictments alleging conspiracy to import Chinese aliens and liquor into the United States from Cuba. C. P. Moore, of Crestview, former detective, and fifteen others will be called for trial in federal court here tomorrow. Those named are said by officials to be members of one of the most systematic smuggling organizations ever brought to light in Florida. The trial is expected to last several days.

It is probably according to lawyers for the defense, that severances would be asked for some of those indicted. The Government, however, entertains hope of trying all defendants at once.

Moore, owner of the auxiliary schooner, Success, aboard which both liquor and celestials are alleged to have been smuggled, is named as the principal defendant. He was, officials say, the mainspring of the alleged unlawful operations.

The indictments charge that the contraband cargoes were brought from Cuba off the west Florida coast where smaller and faster craft took the cargo aboard and landed it on the shores of Chotawhatchee Bay in the southern part of Okaloosa county.

The aliens referred to are said to have been smuggled through Apalachicola later where, by special arrangement of the members of the alleged ring, they were cared for, later placed aboard a certain train, and accompanied by one of those to Philadelphia. Louis Ying, wealthy Chinese of Philadelphia, is said to be the proprietor of the inland clearing house. He is understood to be here for trial and has with him Henry Chu, Chinese lawyer, of Philadelphia, who will be one member of the defense's array of counsel.

ONE KILLED, ANOTHER SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 23.—

J. L. Clark, representative of a New York chemical firm, was instantly killed and F. S. Schnell, proprietor of a local medicine institute, was seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding left the road and overturned about six miles outside the city today. The accident occurred on the so-called Weyerross road.

Schnell tonight was in a local hospital with possibly a fractured skull, and severe bruises and cuts about his head and body. He was unable to give a clear account of the accident. Both men were pinned beneath the overturned car.

The two men are understood to have been enroute to Dinmore on business Clark driving the car. From what could be learned the machine, running at a lively clip, struck a small rock in the road, was deflected from its course and became unmanageable. The car fell down a six foot embankment and turned about before turning over.
