BRIEFS

Reducing size of government

CASSELBERRY — A grass roots' movement for downsizing local government will conduct an organizational meeting Sunday, Sept. 18, 7:30 p.m. at the library, 215 N. Oxford Road. The group, informally known as Seminole County Citizens Group, has compiled a list of items designed to reduce the size and tax burden of county government.

Longwood budget

LONGWOOD — City commissioners will conduct the final public hearing on the proposed 1996 budget and millage rate Monday night before voting. The millage would be 5.0601 mills. For each $1,000 of assessed valuation, a city property owner would pay $5.06 to fund the $11.9 million city budget.

In other business, the commission will conduct a hearing on a five-year capital improvement program and review several franchise ordinances for solid waste disposal.

The meeting will be conducted in the commission chambers at city Hall, 175 W. Warren Avenue.

Crop insurance

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is taking applications until Sept. 30 for 1996 crop insurance. Insurable crops in Volusia and Seminole counties are container grown nursery crops and citrus fruits.

The Catastrophic B-AI insurance covers 50 percent of the inventory at 60 percent of the price. Coverage at higher levels is available through private and re-insured agents. Coverage for the 1996 crop year is from Oct. 1, 1995 through Sept. 30, 1996.

Producers must file an application and provide a projected monthly inventory by plant type and the type of winter protection provided for the entire crop years by the filing deadline. The fee for Catastrophic coverage is $30 per person for all eligible nursery inventory in the county.

More information is available from the Consolidated Farm Service Agency in DeLand 904 744-2535.

Do you believe in Magic?

The Lake Mary Heathrow Chamber of Commerce Breakfast Meeting will be held Wed. Oct. 4 at the Heathrow Country Club 7:45 a.m.

Guest speaker is Alex Martin, director of Publicity and Media Relations with the Orlando Magic. The chamber urges the public not to miss this special presentation, including special entertainment.

Cost is $3 for members and $5 for non-members. Call 334-4748 for more information.

'Make parents account for little kids' deaths'

By VICKI DeSORMIER
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — Dr. Shashi Gore is "sick and tired" of turning back the clock and finding a young, innocent child.

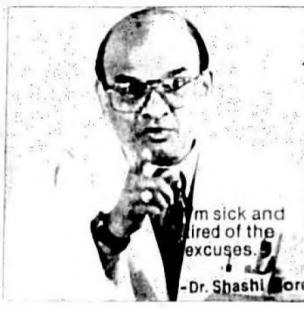

Gore, the Seminole County medical examiner, said he has performed more autopsies on children under the age of five who drowned accidental in the family pool than he cares to think about.

"I can not stand to do another one," he said.

With that, Gore announced his plans to petition legislators to enact laws that will ensure increased safety for young people who live near swimming pools.

"These are preventable," he said.

SANFORD — Students at Geneva Elementary School discovered recently that life in Colonial America was not an easy one.

Amid the whirl of computers in a modern classroom, the youngsters in the school's fourth and fifth grade group shook cream in glass jars to make tasty butter, dipped wicks into hot wax to make candles, prepared cinnamon and apple sauce to make a scented decoration and flipped johnny cakes on the SANFORD — Entertainment from around the world is forecast for the "Destination Seminole Towne Center Gala" this Thursday. Activities begin at 7 p.m. A portion of the proceeds will benefit United Cerebral Palsy of Central Florida.

According to advanced publicity, "Destination Seminole Towne Center" will take guests on a whirlwind tour of several of the world's greatest destinations with elaborate decor, local and national entertainment, and a variety of food and drink through the entire evening.

Mall Manager Sarah Goodrich commented,

"The Grand Opening of Seminole Towne Center is a long-awaited event that will offer a strong retail statement and will be the springboard to continued growth and expansion in northern Seminole County."

Aftermath of mid-air plane crash

By ROGER HARNACK
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — While Federal Aviation Administration officials Saturday investigate the fiery crash that claimed the lives of an Embry Riddle Aeronautical University flight instructor and two flight students, Sanford residents are reminded nighttime conditions at Orlando Sanford Airport are similar to those at New Smyrna Beach Municipal Airport.

Friday's mid-air collision happened when two aircraft, a Piper Tomahawk piloted by Grigore Galley and an Embry Riddle Aeronautical University-owned Tampico piloted by a student, attempted to land on the same runway simultaneously.

The propeller of Galley's Tomahawk clipped the tail of the Tampico, sending the student-operated plane crashing into the ground, where it impacted and erupted in flames.

Killed in the crash were 26-year-old flight instructor Joseph McCoy and Embry Riddle freshmen aeronautical science students Robert Schulte, 17, of Beacon Falls, Conn., and Hyun "Ben" Sim, 20, of Korea.

How does Sanford's airport differ from New Smyrna's?

New Smyrna Municipal Airport is radio-operated at all times, so no air traffic controller positioned in a control tower guides pilots safely to the ground.

According to Sanford airport employees Saturday, between 6:30 a.m. and 10 p.m., Orlando Sanford Airport is a controlled airport. Air traffic controllers provide pilots with flight information, such as the location of other aircraft, wind speed and direction, temperature, and takeoff and landing instructions.

In the tower, local air traffic controllers maintain a log of aircraft in the flight pattern and are required to keep a minimum distance of 3,000 feet between aircraft at all times, employees said.

In addition to communicating vital information for aircraft operations to pilots, the control tower has a recording broadcast automatically over the radio to provide pilots with updated airport information.

At night, however, employees noted the airfield becomes uncontrolled, meaning the control tower

Fire-red Sanford rescue truck is state-of-the-art

SANFORD — It sits silently in the open bay of fire station 31 as cars whiz by on French Avenue. Its high gloss finish is shining like a polished red apple, every inch of chrome buffed to a brilliant sparkle.

An alarm sounds and the crew scurries into action. Within seconds, R-31, the new advanced support fire rescue vehicle is on its way to a mid-afternoon accident with lights flashing and sirens blaring to help clear the way.

In the first month of operation, the rescue vehicle has transported five cases.

The new unit differs significantly from the vehicle put together in 1990 when the city began EMS service. The old unit, which will be used as backup, was designed using a Ford truck chassis and the box with storage compartments for

The way we were: Seminole High School Class of 1945

The Seminole High School Class of 1945 will celebrate with a 50-year reunion on Oct. 6-7. A barbecue will be held on Friday night at the Florida Power and Light Pavilion on Lake Monroe at which time Jimmy Powell (SHS 1950) will provide recorded music from the 1940s. On Saturday morning, there will be a tour of various sites in Sanford including the Margaret Reynolds Museum located in the former Sanford Grammar School. That evening the DeBary Country Club will be the scene of a dinner dance and much reminiscing. The Dixie Doctors, a musical group of which classmate Neil Powell is a member, will furnish the music. This band is composed of doctors and dentists in the Central Florida area. I believe that Wade Rucker (SHS 1948) is also in this group.

Senior class officers were Sonny Raborn, president; Catherine Clark, secretary; Betty Moore, treasurer; Ouida Davis, chaplain; Martha Brown and "Foots" Brumley, athletic managers.

GRACE M. STINE-CIPHER

Class colors were green and white, flower was the Shasta daisy, and sponsors were Rebecca Stevens, Elmina Bisbee, and Effie Durden.

Neil Powell was student council president whose other officers were Glenn Lingie, Jean Sayer, and Bill Shoemaker.

During their junior year, the Class of 1945 presented the play "She's a Soldier's Sweetheart" and the senior class play was "June Mad."

The 12 outstanding seniors as presented in the Salmagundi were Bob Callahan, Beaufie Robson, Mary Ann Wheelchel, Sonny Raborn, Camille Batten, Foots Brumley, Sylvia McIsh,

A brief description of each classmate was given next to his senior yearbook picture. I have selected a few of these so you can see how they were viewed 50 years ago. In most cases, the same characterization holds true today.

Peter Buker - "Little Pete," the guy with boogie beat.

Harold Chapman - What Chippy lacks in height, he makes up for in personality.

Ouida Davis - sweet, refined, with big, brown eyes and a dainty air.

Herman Brumley - Foots, the football hero, always grinning.

Audrey Bach - fair and free, originality plus.

Benny Austin - quiet, easy going, and he loves horses.

Paul Hodgins - grown, hasn't he? But still as cute and mischievous as ever.

Camilla Lundquist - good at all sports, dependable student.

Mildred Robson - Beaufie has a million dollar smile with personality plus!

Troy Ray - Can he jitterbug!

Plenty to win at mall grand opening

By NICK PFIFAUF
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - They plan to give away practically everything but the kitchen sink during grand opening day events at the Seminole Towne Center.

A total of $28,500 worth of giveaways throughout the weekend, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 22, 23 and 24. Customers will be able to register to win a variety of water-themed prizes as well as an automobile.

Among drawings and times to be offered are the following:

• Friday, Sept. 22, 7 p.m. at Center Court:

8-day 7-night or 5-day 4-night cruise on Royal Caribbean Cruise Line - Vita spa hot tub.

• Saturday, Sept. 23, 4 p.m. at J.C. Penney's Court: WaterMania party pack of 10 tickets, Yamaha VXR 650 Watercraft (Jet ski) from Yamaha of Leesburg, 8-day 7-night South Seas Plantation vacation for two on Captiva Island.

• Sunday, Sept. 24, 5 p.m. at Sears Court: 1995 Ford Escort, courtesy of Seminole Ford. Each runner-up receives $200 worth of gift certificates from Seminole Towne Center stores.

For the Ford Escort drawing, there will actually be five separate events. The first four drawings will be held on the hour, beginning at 1 p.m. Persons will be drawing for keys in the Sears Court, upper level. Then, at 5 p.m., the winners will attempt to take their keys and unlock the door of the Ford.

Persons who do not win the vehicle will each receive the $200 gift certificates.

Martha Mannarino, marketing director, said a number of places will be set up at both levels of the mall, for people to register for the various prizes. While one registration is all that will be required for the prizes to be given on a particular day, Mannarino stressed that in order to be in consideration for the three days of prizes, separate registrations will be required each day.

Mall

Goodrich said special signs will be displayed throughout the mall to indicate directions to the various special showings as well as entertainment, and prize registration areas.

Guests at the Gala Thursday evening can experience destinations including Paris, London, New York and Los Angeles, visiting with performers and tasting delicacies characteristic of each locale.

The following events are scheduled:

• LONDON - "The Tribute, the #1 Beatles Show in the World" will appear near London's Carnaby Street. Stores will be displaying Mod-Sixties items including Mary Quant miniskirts, Nehru jackets, tie-dyed t-shirts, and street entertainers.

Hyde Park is the second setting, featuring decorative wrought iron gates and fencing, topiary trees, flower gardens, park benches, and to accent the atmosphere of London, there will be fog.

Additional entertainment will be supplied by an old Englishwoman feeding the pigeons and an organ grinder providing background music.

The setting will end with a tribute to London and a visit to Buckingham Palace, where a pair of Palace Guards will flank a throne room setting featuring Her Royal Majesty, Elizabeth II.

• PARIS - On the upper level, near J.C. Penney's and Dillard's, guests will cross under a 14-foot tall Arc de Triomphe on their way to savor French pastries served on buffet tables decorated with oversized Parisian landmarks, including an eight-foot tall Eiffel Tower. Sidewalk cafes, decorated with blooming plants and trees will be near vendors who will offer pastries and coffee drinks. Mimes and strolling violinists will add to the Parisian chic.

• BROADWAY - The western end of the lower level, near Sears and Burdines, will be transformed into the world of theater a la Broadway, in New York City. This will reflect classic theatrical traditions such as blockbusters "Tommy," "Grease," and "Phantom of the Opera."

Entertainment will be keyed to the streets of New York and will feature solo musicians, including jazz artist Jacqueline Jones.

• LOS ANGELES - The western end of the upper level, near Sears and Burdines, will offer visitors of Los Angeles, with the excitement of Oscar Night, and the Hollywood past era including Graumann's Chinese Theater.

Singer Collin Raye

• CENTER STAGE - County music star Collin Raye will appear starting at 9 p.m. in Center Court. Raye has a long list of accomplishments including two gold albums, three number one singles, nomination for Single of the Year with the Academy of Country Music, and named a "Country Hunk" by Cosmopolitan Magazine.

For additional entertainment, the Seminole Towne Center's

Choir, singers of the "Shop A New Mall" song widely heard on local radio and television, will make a special appearance Thursday evening beginning at 7 p.m.

The gala is scheduled from 7 until 10 p.m.

Tickets for the gala are $35 per person. Tickets may be purchased through TicketMaster charge-by-phone at (407) 839-3900.

Breakfast celebrates sports

By NICK PFIFAUF
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - The morning of Saturday, September 23 is expected to be a big sports day at the Seminole Towne Center. It's the "Celebration of Sports Breakfast" and NBA Jam Season grand opening.

The breakfast will be hosted by Roy Firestone, a show host for ESPN.

For a $5 donation, guests will have breakfast provided by Cinnabon, enjoy Firestone's nationally-recognized sports tribute honoring athletes from all sports arenas and meet popular past, present and future sports figures.

Among those expected to attend are Orlando Magic's pro scout and assistant coach, Tom Sterner, the Magic's former guard and community relations manager Otis Smith, 1992 Bronze medal winning Olympic gymnast Wendy Bruce, and Orlando Predators' Herkie Wall.

Following breakfast, guests will be able to interact with the NBA Jam Season, which will continue throughout the weekend.

A general donation is to be made to the Boggy Creek Gang, a permanent year-round camp for terminally ill and physically disabled children and their families.

"This will be an event that the entire family will enjoy, plus it's for a great cause, the Boggy Creek Gang," said mall manager Sarah Goodrich.

The NBA Jam Season is a state-of-the-art interactive exhibit highlighting the fun of basketball. Guests will have the opportunity to play one-on-one, be a sports broadcaster, and become involved in the project in many ways.

Roy Firestone, host of ESPN's "Up Close" will be featured guest and speaker at Saturday morning's "Celebration of Sports Breakfast," scheduled to begin at 7:45 a.m., at the Seminole Towne Center.

For tickets and additional information on the sports breakfast, phone the Seminole Towne Center at 323-2282.

Tickets are available for a $5 donation, including breakfast. Tickets are also available at Seminole County Barnett Bank locations. A few may be available at the door, but that will depend on advance sales.

SANFORD — Sanford police and Seminole County sheriff's deputies targeting the same areas as earlier in the week made even more drug and prostitution arrests.

Wednesday night, Sanford's QUAD Squad made five drug-related arrests, many in the 800 block of W. First Street near the intersection of Holly Avenue. At the same time, members of the sheriff's City/County Investigative Bureau (CCIB) made seven arrests in Altamonte Springs.

Both areas have been the scene of numerous undercover activities by law officers, and have produced numerous arrests.

Late Thursday and early Friday, officers struck almost the same areas.

Members of the Sanford police Special Investigative Unit (SIU) conducted an undercover prostitution sting in the area of W. First Street and Holly Avenue. This time, seven more people were arrested.

The sheriff's department was also active, going back once again to Altamonte Springs, where five more arrests were made.

Sanford police reported the following, as the result of the SIU sting operation at First and Holly late Thursday and early Friday:

• Timothy Bernard Daniels, 36, of 817 Alexander Avenue, Sanford, charged with assignment to commit prostitution.

• Windal Roy, 34, 301 E. Fifth Street, Sanford, charged with assignment to commit prostitution.

• Ernest E. Joe, Sanford, with two counts of assignment to commit prostitution.

• Arturo P. Vallacres, 45, of Deltona, charged with assignment to commit prostitution.

• John Christopher Darby, 35, of 306 Goldstone Place, Lake Mary, charged with assignment to commit prostitution.

• Ronald Michael Camillone, 36, 4982 Fawn Ridge Place, Sanford, charged with assignment to commit prostitution.

Additionally, Terry Lee Williams, 27, of 807 E. Eighth Street, was arrested by SIU agents at Celery and Locust. He was charged with possession of controlled substance, and sale/delivery of a controlled substance.

Regarding the undercover operation at First Street and Holly Avenue, SIU agents conducted the exact same project on August 19 at the same location, resulting in four arrests for assignment to commit prostitution.

Members of the CCIB meanwhile, conducted their operation near CR-427 and Plumosa in Altamonte Springs Thursday night and early Friday. The following arrests were listed:

• John N. Moffitt, 25, 1227 S. Pineridge Circle, Sanford, was charged with assignment to commit prostitution.

• Glenn Richard Puller, 38, of [See Sting, Page 8A]

Constitution Week

All those present, please affix your signatures.

Delegates from 12 states stepped forward and signed their names. In all, 39 of the 42 delegates on hand gave their signatures, and the Constitution of the United States was officially born.

The proposed constitution was to become effective as soon as it was ratified by at least nine states.

Today is considered the anniversary of the U.S. Constitution, drafted on Sept. 17, 1787. This has also officially been declared Constitution Week, and Citizenship Day through various Presidential Proclamations.

The preamble to the constitution has many outstanding points:

• "We the people, in order to form a more perfect union..." — Many citizens and many politicians have a tendency to forget that it is "we" who are supposed to run the government. We, the citizens. Yet many refrain from voting and politicians enact legislation against what the majority of the public prefers. People forget who "the people" are.

• "...establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity..." — This is why everyone should vote at every opportunity. This is why citizen participation in government is important. This is why justice is listed first as a goal; to give us the freedom to tackle all of the other needs. This is why we must question some of the judicial moves which provide what has become known as the "revolving door" policy for convicted criminals.

• It concludes, "...do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Yet we have people who are always trying to read a new meaning into practically every word. They are trying to make people believe the Constitution doesn't mean what it says in many cases, mostly for individual or group benefits and/or profits. This is the type of person against whom we must guard.

On this official observance day, we call attention to a few of the men who signed this document in 1781: President George Washington, William Samuel Johnson, Roger Sherman, Alexander Hamilton, Ben Franklin, James Madison, and others.

We owe a great deal to these people.

On this day of remembrance, if we have become negligent, let's take this as an opportunity to pledge that we get back on the stick and start becoming active again in the governing of our country, state, county, and municipality. If we have voted regularly and consider ourselves as active, let's see what can be done to increase it even more.

After all, this is a government by we, the people. It's time we started governing more.

Help needed

One of the bravest persons I've ever met is now languishing in a nursing home stricken down with scleroderma five years ago when she was only 39. At that time, Dyanne Thomas who was known professionally as the "Duchess," was a beautiful woman and was the toast of Europe as a blues singer.

Scleroderma is a disease that hardens the skin and progresses to hardening the organs. As a result, Dyanne has become diabetic and her gall bladder had to be removed. Her falling health has caused other health complications and financial difficulties. Her husband walked out on her a year ago, she was bitten by a snake, and she was evicted from her home.

If that wasn't enough to destroy the average person, Dyanne recently suffered a devastating stroke and when she fell, she fractured her wrist. She is now confined to a wheelchair in a nursing home among elderly people. She has no family.

Dyanne seems to have a little black cloud hovering over her head, yet she has an unbelievable cheery attitude and the undetermined will to survive.

Friends of Dyanne Thomas are trying to help the singer raise money for medical treatments. She is seeking chelation therapy and it is not covered by Medicare or private insurance.

I am hoping your readers will help Dyanne by contributing to the Dyanne Thomas Trust Fund at Barnett Bank, 2601 W. State Road 434, Longwood 32779. The account number is 28347888159. For more information, call Karla Dunnington at (407) 862-8729 or Dolores Toth (407) 324-1660.

SCC must retain its own identity

There appears to be nothing in society today that is static and unchanging. We live constantly with change and struggle to keep up with the multiple changes. Seminole Community College (SCC) is also in the throes of change. Dr. Earl Weldon, the first and only president of the institution, will be retiring effective January 1996. A citizen's panel has been appointed and is in the process of conducting a nationwide search for a successor to Weldon.

Seminole Community College is one of the 28 community colleges scattered throughout the state. The concept of the community college was and is to serve the higher educational needs of the indigenous community at a lesser financial outlay than the four-year colleges and universities. Seminole Community College is very special to the residents of Seminole County. We have witnessed the college grow and expand in its efforts to meet the needs of this community.

Countless citizens have contributed their time, talent and expertise to transform Seminole Community College into one of our most valuable assets. Additionally, there is a special relationship that has evolved between SCC and the Seminole County school board. This was a natural evolution of their desire to provide the best education possible at the secondary and post secondary level for our children.

Consequently, the suggestion that Mr. John Lord, chairman of the board of trustees, Valencia Community College made to Gov. Lawton Chiles in February of this year, demands close scrutiny. We understand that he sent a letter to the governor suggesting that Valencia take over Seminole Community College if a study to be conducted determined it would be cost effective to consolidate the two institutions. We understand that this study is currently on hold and should really be buried. It was an affront to the citizens of Seminole County for Lord to advance such a proposal without at the very least consulting the board of trustees of Seminole Community College.

SEMINOLE OPINION

All of us are cognizant relative to hostile takeovers in business and industry. Apparently, Lord would like to extend this tactic to our educational institutions. Perhaps this calls for revisiting the underlying concept that created community colleges in Florida in the first place. Community is generally defined as a body of individuals organized into a unit of manifesting some unifying trait, in essence, people living in a particular place or region usually linked by common interest.

There are a plethora of reasons why Valencia Community College should not take over Seminole Community College. Primary among the reasons is the fact that the entire Seminole County Community needs to be involved.

Additionally, why is SCC being singled out? Are all 28 community colleges going to be studied about the feasibility of consolidation? Is Valencia Community College a paragon of fiscal responsibility? Has Lord explored the possibility of saving taxpayers money by revising Valencia's budget?

The citizens of Seminole County should act in concert to keep Seminole Community College within our control. We all know that transferring administrative or budgetary control to persons outside of Seminole County would not be in our best interest. Budgets dictate programs. Does anyone in this county really believe transferring control of Seminole Community College to Valencia would be in the best interest of this community?

At a point in time when our national government is transferring dollars and programs to the state to promote local control, it seems absurd to consider regionalizing our community college, taking the decision-making away from the local community and transferring it to the Orange County community.

It's a small world, after all

"It's a Small World After All," or "Hakuna Matata" — songs that reverberate in the mind these past few days are all a part of Disney World's "Small World" pavilion and the fairly new "Lion King" show.

My 9-year-old niece, Fiona, who traveled from her home on the Mediterranean island of Elba to her first glimpse of Central Florida and all its "wonderful" (her favorite word) attractions couldn't get enough of the theme parks. The department stores were exciting too with their gut of brightly colored toys and the supermarkets with their rows upon rows of corn chips, potato chips, peanut butter, candy and all those bad things we adults shouldn't eat. But for a kid from Elba whose stores offer limited amounts of these items, it was a veritable feast.

When quizzed about her favorite theme park, "Disney World" (specifically the Magic Kingdom) got top billing. Of course, that was the last one we all visited. "But I loved the 'Kumba' ride at Busch Gardens too." Her mother, Helen, and I could barely watch as she and her cousin, Jim, rocketed off on the upside-down roller coaster ride. Such courage these daredevils possessed.

To be tourists for several days enjoying the sights of this make-believe land with what seemed like millions of tourists speaking in strange accents, one felt strangely transported to another world instead of being here in the middle of Florida. Who said, "California is a state of mind?"

There were Muslim women, sloe-eyed and mysterious, their hair covered in long scarves. English subjects from the mother country; quiet, dignified African women in their colorful headscarves and print dresses; Rumanians, Hungarians, and Czechs, and many of our Latin neighbors to the South.

In my eagerness to obtain tickets I jumped a line by mistake and was told off in various languages to get to the back of the line. I complied but wished I had had the nerve to say, "No speak English." Only in America or should I say "A-mer-ika."

The monorail ride through the African veldt at Busch Gardens displayed emus, ostriches, monkeys, giraffes, elephants all seemingly comfortable with their space. Sitting on the terrace at the Anheuser-Busch Hospitality House looking over the African plains was my cup of tea or "brew." Dragon Land beckoned to Fiona too. Climbing over rope bridges, riding green and purple, fire-breathing dragons, she delightedly focused her energy in savoring every minute.

The new "Wild Arctic" adventure at Sea World was a repeat for Fiona and her mom. They especially enjoyed the thrilling "helicopter" ride through the wintry landscape, dodging avalanches and icy mountainsides.

For the jaded adults, the theme parks represent a release back into our childhoods, an escape — bumping along on the thrilling "Back to the Future ride," screaming in the dark during the new "Allen Encounter," meeting and greeting "The Chipmunks" and "Tweedle-Dum" (or was it "Tweedle-Dee"?). To swim with the dolphins would have been nice but no, no to having a "Shark Encounter."

Watching a little 3-year-old boy standing in front of us, snapping his fingers to the music of the "Mickey Mania" parade, made it all worthwhile. (He had some good dance moves too.) The ever present crowds were tiring, but who cared, when one could take a "Dream Ride" with Delta, a jungle safari ride or better yet, hum along with the "Pirates in the Caribbean" ("Yo ho, yo ho, a pirate's life for me!")

For Fiona, an early morning riser, whose inevitable first question was "What are we going to do today?" it was the joy of discovery, the joy of enchantment. Perhaps this visit will remain long in her memory, perhaps one day, she will bring her child to savor the delights of the "Land of Three Seasons." And as for the adults who accompanied her, sore and weary though they might have been, thanks, Fiona, for letting us share your world.

Life a rush

BOSTON — It is rush hour when I pull up to my mother's apartment. I am still speeding internally through the after-work time zone. The momentum of the day is pushing me forward long after its engine has turned off.

Tonight however there is a job to be done. Items on a list to be crossed off, a mission to be accomplished. My mother is moving, downsizing from one apartment to another, and we have all pledged to help.

My assigned task is to begin to triage the stuff of her life. To pare down and sort out which items from the past will go with her to the future. So I arrive from the office with my mind on efficiency and my eye on my watch.

Together we go through the rooms. This coat hasn't been worn in years. There is no room in the new apartment for this table. Surely, this skirt is out of style. Maybe the kids would want these dishes. Nobody uses ashtrays anymore. This lamp has got to go.

I realize how easy it is to speed through important moments without even noticing.

It takes a half hour of such speeding before I notice that my mother is in a different lane, traveling at a different pace altogether. While I am urging decisions, she is telling life stories. While I am trying to finish this job and get on to the next at home, she is considering this moment in her life.

She wants to talk about the friend who gave her this scarf, about the thousand family dinners around that dining room table, about the day she bought the lamp. She wants to say goodbye to these pieces of her past, one by one, before she lets them go.

Finally seeing this, I shift gears. I slow down and sit down. And doing so, I realize how easy it is to speed through important moments without even noticing.

I have a friend whose mother says with good humor that our whole generation should wear T-shirts that read "Gotta Go." We are forever in a rush. We do drive-by visits.

They call us the sandwich generation because so many of us are caught between parents and children, work and home. But maybe we're named after the one item on the menu made to be taken on the run.

It's not just the tasks of life that we rush through. Not just the cleaning, the shopping, the commuting. The everyday maintenance. We also manage emotions with one foot on the running board. We even short-cut the experiences of life.

In the past few years, with baby boomers in the White House, I have seen another, larger image of this rush hour. Since taking office, the Clintons have lost his mother and her father. In the pace of their lives, were they allowed enough time for reflection, for the slow absorption of loss and its meaning?

This summer when Al Gore's mother was first hospitalized with a stroke and surgery, he canceled his schedule. But then he did what was required. He took his worry back to work. Gotta go.

There is a family and medical leave policy for some of us, some of the time. There are small allowances for childbirth and sickness-unto-death. But the traffic jam of our lives rarely makes way for everyday family problems. Nor are we, surely, expected to brake for something as routine as saying goodbye to pieces of a family home.

Tonight, however, attention will be paid. There are boxes to pack but also a life in change. There are times when the more human speed limit must be observed. When talk is slow.

I go home late and tired. But I take with me a soup pot, a dozen stories, and a silver basket that was — I now know — given to my grandparents for their wedding. Someday, I will tell that to the next, middle-aged generation. Before they gotta go.

night, the Sanford City Commission approved the grant application papers for federal and state funding with which to build the walk.

When built, according to the application papers, it is to include, "bike lanes, multi-use walks, guardrails to remedy current hazardous conditions, bike parking, seating, water fountains, lighting, bike racks, signage, street crossing signalization, bicycle/pedestrian separation, phone, pedestrian bridge crossing, retaining walls as applicable, pavement expansion and re-striping to accommodate bike lanes, grading, restrooms, etc."

The total cost of the entire project is listed at $1.5 million, with approximately $1.2 million to come from federal funds and $150,000 from state funding.

Another report to be discussed during the meeting is the proposal for development at the marina. Venture-32 of Phoenix, Arizona, which has purchased the former Holiday Inn, now operating as Marina Hotel, has revealed plans for a massive project to be called the "Festival Shopping Center."

The Sanford Plans Review committee discussed the plans during a meeting this past

Tuesday morning.

According to developer Bruce Anderson, the hotel, with presently 100 rooms, would become a four-story hotel with 200 rooms and a banquet area with about 350 seats.

The second building would be adjacent to Fitzgeralds, with a possibility of up to 500 seats for restaurant service plus additional retail/office center operations.

"If you want to know what we plan," Anderson told the Sanford Herald, "just take a look at the AAA building at Heathrow. Although not quite that big, that is approximately the shape and design we are considering. We think that would be a beautiful addition to the Sanford lakefront area."

Anderson has previously said that the proposed development is contingent on the Seminole County Courthouse facilities remaining in downtown Sanford rather than being moved to Five Points, as has been proposed.

Another matter to be discussed by the Waterfront Master Plan Steering Committee has continued to affect development at or near the lakefront; the problem of midges, the tiny bugs which flock in huge numbers at various times, filling windshields and covering pedestrians as well as vehicles and buildings.

The committee will hear a report on what is called the "Midge Pilot Project."

The Master Plan Committee meeting will begin at 4 p.m. this Wednesday, Sept. 20, in the city manager's conference room, second floor, of Sanford City Hall, 300 N. Park Avenue.

Drown

cidental deaths," said Gore. "A swimming pool death is really disgusting."

The medical examiner explained that very young children are particularly susceptible to drowning deaths because they need only be submerged for ten to 20 seconds before death. Older children and adults can remain under water for several minutes before they die.

Still, he said, parents and others, find excuses for the accidental deaths. He said that he has heard "too many people" say that they turned away from the child for "only a few minutes" or that they "only went in for the cooking."

No excuse is acceptable to Gore.

"I'm sick and tired of the excuses," he said.

Gore said he is contacting legislators and asking that they enact laws making it mandatory that independent enclosures be placed around a pool so that a child can not accidentally fall into the pool.

The independent enclosure could be a fence or some other barricade that would serve as an extra line of defense between the youngster and the pool.

Secondly, Gore said he is suggesting that parents should enroll their children, even the youngest ones, in swimming lessons.

They should also be required to make sure that a "mature person" is on hand at the swimming pool to make sure the children are safe in the pool.

Anything less, Gore contends, should be considered neglect on the part of the parents.

"It is like the loaded gun law," he explained. "Parents have to be held accountable."

Gore said the scene after scene of distraught parents beside the pool or outside the emergency room have angered him.

"Swimming pool deaths are the leading cause of accidental death in the United States among children under the age of five," he explained. "These deaths are all preventable. We have to make parents accountable."

The medical examiner said he will write to state legislators with his suggestions, but he has neither the time nor the financial resources to mount a full-fledged lobbying effort.

"I am very serious about this," he said. "I am sick and tired of these preventable deaths."

SANFORD — A dental clinic offering free fillings and extractions is being sponsored in October by the Baptist Convention of Florida and the Seminole Baptist Association with churches in Seminole and West Volusia counties. A free dental screening will be conducted on Wednesday, Oct. 4 from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Community Clinic, 2472 24th Street and Park Avenue. Appointments for individuals found to be in real need of dental services will be scheduled Oct. 17 and 18. A free dental clinic will also be conducted Oct. 19 at Pinecrest Elementary School for students attending the school. For students found to have a real need, consent forms will be sent to parents before any dental work is done. Dentists practicing in the area are donating their time to the program. For more information call the Florida Community Clinic at 321-7488 and ask for Mary Lou.

CFRH craft sale set

SANFORD — The Columbia/HCA Central Florida Regional Hospital Auxiliary is sponsoring a craft sale for Saturday, Oct. 28 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. It will be in the hospital's cafeteria. A variety of items will be available, including many holiday crafts. In conjunction with the craft sale, the Auxiliary will hold a "Bake Sale Extravaganza" and an "Almost New" resale table. Proceeds from this event benefit the Auxiliary's Employee Scholarship Fund which provides scholarships to CFRH employees who are continuing their education. For more information, contact the Central Florida Regional Hospital Auxiliary at 321-4500, ext. 5800.

Creaky Bones Bash planned

The Central Florida Branch of the Arthritis Foundation will present their Creaky Bones Bash on Monday, Oct. 30. The event, a Halloween costume party, will take place at Planet Hollywood in Lake Buena Vista from 7 to 11 p.m. Tickets are $30 per person. All participants must be in costume. The night includes an evening of ghoulish fun and excitement with a costume contest, a silent auction and a random drawing. The categories in the costume contest include the best individual costume, the best group costume, the scariest costume, the most original costume and the funniest costume. Proceeds from the event benefit the Arthritis Foundation summer camp program for children with juvenile arthritis. For more information or to reserve tickets before Oct. 25, call 647-0045 or 1-800-510-5698.

Galaxy of Loving Stars set

ORLANDO — A conference for volunteers is being planned by Hospice of Central Florida. The event, designed for the community and for volunteers from across the state and the nation, will be held at the Clarion Plaza Hotel in Orlando. The workshops at the conference will include sessions on dealing with stress and the healing powers of laughter. They will take place on Saturday through Monday, Oct. 7 through 9. The participation fee is $65 for the full conference or $25 for each day. For more information, call Rosie Wilder at 875-0028.

First Aid Instructor class

ORLANDO — A course that prepares qualified individuals to teach the 1993 revised Adult CPR, standard first aid and safety courses is being offered by the American Red Cross. Participants must be at least 17 years old and they must have a current instructor candidate training certificate. They must also have completed the pre-course skills. It is highly recommended that candidates have current and SFA certificates. The course will be held from 5 to 10 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 18; Wednesday, Sept. 20; Monday, Sept. 25; and Wednesday, Sept. 27. The course will be held at the American Red Cross of Central Florida's headquarters at 5 North Bumby Ave., Orlando. The cost of the class is $30 per person. For more information, call the Red Cross at 894-4141.

Stress reduction class

ORLANDO — Getting Well, Inc., will present Mindfulness, a stress reduction clinic which is patterned after Jon Kabat-Zinn's successful program at the University of Massachusetts. Eileen Wright, M.D. will conduct the course commencing Wednesday, Sept. 20 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. and Thursday, Sept. 21 from 8 to 8:30 p.m., meeting once a week for eight weeks. Insurance may cover the costs of the program with physician referral. Research on this method of stress reduction reveals significant and astonishing outcomes for people with chronic pain and other serious conditions. Call Getting Well at 428-8682 for more information.

In Major Finding, Drug Curbs H.I.V. Infection in Newborns

By Lawrence A. Altman
Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 — A federally financed study has found that the drug AZT drastically reduces transmission of H.I.V., the virus that causes AIDS, from infected mothers to their newborns. Government health officials said today.

The findings were considered so significant that the study, which began in April 1991, was ordered stopped on Friday, and officials are expected to announce the results soon.

Finally, some good news about AIDS.

Being aware of breast cancer

By VICKI BOGGS
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — Locally, Avon representatives are joining their counterparts across the country in selling memorabilia to help raise money for education about breast cancer.

Breast cancer is one of the leading causes of death among women nationwide.

So far, Avon's Breast Cancer Awareness Crusade has raised $10 million through the sales of its pink ribbon pin. The pink ribbon is designed to remind others about the dangers of breast cancer and the steps to early detection of the disease.

Avon has now ready to introduce a pink-enameled, ball-point pen that also highlights breast cancer awareness.

The new pen bears the pink ribbon motif on its clip and will be introduced in October during the 10th anniversary of National Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

Proceeds from pen sales, as with ongoing sales of the pink ribbon pin, will go toward supporting community-based programs across the country.

These programs are dedicated to increasing awareness of breast cancer and improving access to early detection services — especially for lower income, minority and older women, and others who are medically undererved.

The new pink ribbon pen, which will be available for $3, is accompanied by an educational "Take the Pledge" flyer, which encourages women to pledge to follow the three-step recommendations for early detection of breast cancer.

The three steps are: regular mammograms beginning at age 40, yearly clinical breast exams and monthly breast self-examinations.

Representatives have distributed more than 32 million educational brochures in a woman-to-woman outreach effort.

Early on, Avon developed an innovative public/private/non-profit partnership with the YWCA of the USA, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the National Alliance of Breast Cancer Organizations (NABCO) and the National Cancer Institute (NCI) with a goal of improving women's access to a full-range of services including education, counseling, screening and early detection.

With more than 182,000 women diagnosed with breast cancer each year, it is increasingly important to practice early detection, as it greatly increases a woman's chances of survival and her treatment options.

In fact, more than 90 percent

Avon's Breast Cancer Awareness pen of women who found breast cancer at the earliest stages are still alive and well. For the name of a Seminole County Avon representative, call 1-800-FOR-AVON.

Avon's Breast Cancer Awareness Crusade has been working since October 1993 to educate women about breast health and to improve access to early detection services.

Study: exercise to beat the blues

By IRA BREYFUS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Exercise does more than improve the body. It lifts the spirits, researchers say.

Exercise can help to fight depression, according to an article in a medical journal. The Physician and Sportsmedicine. Many doctors prescribe exercise along with drug treatment and psychotherapy, the report said.

However, a separate researcher cautions that not everyone can expect benefits, and he says the idea that exercise causes the improvement is not proved.

"Many physicians have started to use exercise as an important adjunct treatment," said the article's authors, Drs. George Nicoloff of St. Mary's Hospital, Grand Rapids, Mich., and Thomas L. Schwenk of the University of Michigan Medical School, Ann Arbor.

Previous studies have found that clinically depressed patients who start exercising have improved moods, the review article said. One study of nine patients in psychotherapy and nine who started to run found that running improved mental health scores as much as therapy did, the article stated. Other researchers who reviewed data from many studies found that exercise combined with therapy was better than therapy alone, it said.

However, the benefits don't show up in all forms of depression, said researcher Bill Morgan, director of the Sport Psychology Laboratory at the University of Wisconsin. They seem not to apply to bipolar depression, where periods of depression are offset with periods of intense excitement, he said.

"I am unaware of any compelling, systematic evidence" that physical activity affects bipolar depression, Morgan said.

And the journal article reported that exercise does not work better than tricyclics, a common form of anti-depression drug. It cited two studies in which the addition of exercise to drug therapy made no meaningful difference.

To make exercise work, the program has to be one that the exerciser can stick with, so Nicoloff and Schwenk advised other doctors against ordering a tough regimen. Mild to moderately depressed people may benefit from only a little exercise, they said.

The type of exercise can vary, because research has not found a specific regime that's psychologically best, the article said. However, the same amount of aerobic activity that works for the nondepressed seem to help the depressed, it said. For example, one set of guidelines for psychological benefit calls for two to five workouts a week for 30 to 40 minutes each at 60 percent to 70 percent of maximal heart rate, plus five to 10 minutes each of warmup and cool-down, it said.

Patients with depression probably are more easily discouraged by exercise, so doctors should keep close track of how their patients are doing with the exercise program and keep them motivated, the article said.

Researchers don't know why exercise can fight depression, but they have some ideas, Nicoloff and Schwenk said. One idea is that exercise gives the patient something to think about besides his or her problems. Another is that exercise is something of a triumph, offering a way to gain control over part of a person's life. Exercise may also cause physiological changes in chemicals that affect the brain, producing a feeling of euphoria, the article said.

Exercise not only helps to improve the moods of the depressed, it also seems to help ward off depression, the report said. One group of researchers found that exercise reduced depression ratings in the depressed and in the healthy, it said.

Morgan, however, argues that there is no cause-and-effect proof that exercise battles depression. Patients may improve simply because they are being offered

Senate subcommittee votes to reverse the chilled chicken rule

By ROBERT GREENE
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON — A Senate panel voted to reverse a new rule that would ban the "fresh" label on chickens that have been frozen.

The Appropriations subcommittee on agriculture agreed by voice vote Wednesday to deny funds to carry out the new rule. The panel acted while considering the spending bill that finances farm programs.

"We think it's a bad way to use federal law and the federal regulatory process," said the subcommittee chairman, Republican Sen. Thad Cochran of Mississippi, a leading poultry state. The senior Democrat on the panel is Sen. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas, the top poultry state, who supported the subcommittee language.

Lawmakers from California, whose poultry industry fought for the rule, pledged a fight when the bill reaches the Senate floor. The full Appropriations Committee was scheduled to take up the measure today.

"We see it as an outrageous decision that flies in the face of consumer interests across the country," said Mark Epstein, president of the consumer group Public Voice.

"We don't agree with it, we don't believe it will be helpful to the poultry industry, and consumers will be the big losers," said Tom Amontree, spokesman for the Agriculture Department.

The rule, scheduled to take effect next year, says chickens and turkeys may not be labeled "fresh" if they have been chilled below 26 degrees, the temperature at which the birds begin to freeze. Instead, the birds would have to be labeled "hard chilled."

Rules now allow the label on birds chilled near 0 degrees Fahrenheit, although the Southeastern-based industry says birds are never taken that low.

The California poultry industry launched the campaign, saying that producers were being undercut by chickens carried long distance from the Southeast, and chilled below 26 degrees during transportation.

The National Broiler Council, which opposed the rule, said factors other than temperature determine freshness.

Swiss Scientists Discover New Energy Product

Lugano, Switzerland—After 25 years of research Lightning 8:8 was developed with the help of Swiss Laboratories. After extensive testing with amazing results, Lightning 8:8 is now available in the United States. Scientists are amazed at Lightning 8:8's results on improved memory, attitude and athletic performance.

In a double blind cross-over trial on university students in Italy, Lightning 8:8 was given twice daily for 12 weeks. The results were astonishing. Students obtained higher scores in math, logic and physical education.

This new discovery has been a windfall for working and active people that seem to run short of energy around mid-afternoon and need a little extra lift. Lightning 8:8 when taken in the morning gives a sustained, balanced form of energy throughout the day.

During an interview in Chicago, a beautician stated, "I used to go home exhausted after being on my feet all day. Now it's just incredible. I go home with extra energy and really enjoy my family more."

Lightning 8:8 is a necessary boost for students, professionals and senior citizens. Lightning 8:8 is now available at most K-Mart Pharmacies including:

West End Galleria: Coming soon, a theater near you

By NICK PFELPAUF
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — "Practically everything out here will change," said Sal Minizzi. "Even the name will change from the Sanford Plaza to West End Galleria."

Sal Minizzi, along with his brother Lee, and Tom Freda, are co-partners in the development of the entire plaza, vacated recently by its last tenant.

Construction and renovation of the West End Galleria is presently underway by Excelsior Construction Company of Winter Springs.

The theater is being converted to a 1,000 seat concert hall, to be known as the West End Theatre. Don Robinson will serve as manager of the facility.

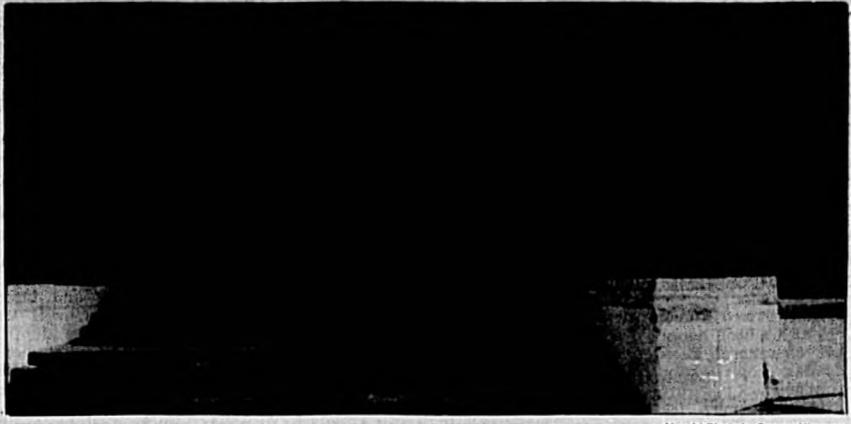

One of the major stores to be located in the plaza will be Big Lots, (story presented in the Sept. 3 Sanford Herald). Big Lots is well underway with work on its retail establishment.

"We are completely rebuilding the entire front area of most of the store areas," Minizzi said.

"to accommodate new clients."

One of the biggest vacant buildings in the northern side of the plaza is the former J.C. Penney store, vacant since the business moved to the Seminole Towne Center.

While Minizzi indicated there were big plans for utilization of the refurbished theatre and other retail buildings, he would not elaborate at this time, but looked enthusiastically ahead toward turning the vacant shopping center into another active shopping/entertainment area for Sanford.

The West End Theatre will seat 1,000 people as a concert hall.

Music's new look

By NICK PFELPAUF
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sam Goody is the name of the store. Merchandise includes a wide selection of music on CD and cassette, plus a variety of movies and video.

Sam Goody, part of Musicland Stores Corporation with over 800 stores across the nation, is opening the newest shop at Seminole Towne Center.

Beverly Oleson, store manager, commented, "We're really looking forward to being a part of Seminole Towne Center, and we're excited to be the first 'new look' Sam Goody in the Orlando market."

The new store at the mall will have listening stations in which to choose individual tracks from CDs or listen to the entire release. TV monitors overhead will showcase the latest video and movie releases. The store will also carry music and movie related apparel and trend items, sheet music, portable/personal electronics, and entertainment merchandise.

Regarding what will constitute the "new look" however, it will apparently be a matter of wait and see until Sam Goody opens its doors to the public on September 22.

Business survey: Concern over government regulation

By NICK PFELPAUF
Herald Staff Writer

The Florida Chamber of Commerce has released the latest information obtained in its quarterly Mason-Dixon issues survey. It indicates business owners and operators are becoming less concerned about drugs and crime, and more concerned about government regulations.

The survey is conducted randomly on a state-wide basis every three months. The latest for August, 1995, is the result of 417 member contacts.

Questions asked covered a wide range of subjects including business attitudes about economic development, budget matters, regulations, education, environment, and all types of business-related insurance.

While the Mason-Dixon report is supposed to be conducted every three months, the most recent survey was in January of this year, with none taken in April or July with which to make closer comparisons.

Regarding the most important issue facing the people of Florida today, the survey shows government regulations receiving 14 percent of the votes, with crime and drugs receiving 16 percent in August. In January of this year however, crime and drugs was 34 percent with government regulation at nine percent, marked increases in the regulation concerns.

On another question, the single most important problem facing the actual business community of Florida, again, government laws and regulations scored high on the list of concerns, receiving 36 percent of the mentions, up four percent since January, and 11 percent in the past year.

On taxes and government finance, chamber members overwhelmingly (89 percent) were in favor of the idea of balancing the federal budget over a seven year period.

When members were asked to comment on the assumption that, "Congress had approved a federal budget balancing plan, but that the plan forces a reduction in federal aid to the state of Florida," members are almost evenly split over the idea of increasing state taxes to "help the state compensate for the loss of federal aid."

The Mason-Dixon poll also reveals that chamber members appear to be pleased with the present level of economic development.

Three out of five members say they believe Florida's image as a place to do business is either "excellent" (11 percent) or "good" (48 percent). However, a third, (31 percent) say the image is not so good, and seven percent said it is poor.

Is the overall business environment in the state sufficiently attractive for you to expand your business operations here? Nearly two-thirds of the members say the environment is sufficiently attractive. A fourth said it is not.

The Mason-Dixon survey was conducted under the direction of Robert Joffe, vice president for Media Research, Inc.

For additional information, contact the Florida Chamber at 136 S. Bronough St., P.O. Box 11309, Tallahassee, FL 32302-3309.

Come see the softer side

The Seminole Towne Center's new Sears store is stocked and sales associates are ready to greet customers. The 141,000 square foot two-story store will officially open Saturday at 10 a.m. Hours will be 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. Sunday. The Sears 10-bay auto center, located in a separate building south of the mall main area, will also be opened this Saturday.

New shop is as comfortable as a Key West porch swing

By NICK PFELPAUF
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — One of the over 100 specialty stores scheduled to open later this month at Seminole Towne Center has some unique atmosphere for customers.

In order to enter the store, one has to pass under a 30-foot replica of a 1940's era seaplane. If that's not surprising enough, customers are sure to enjoy the rest of the shop.

The counters are antiques, complete with the old-fashioned key drop. The counters were rescued from the old Montezuma Hotel in Sanford, formerly at 300 S. Magnolia Avenue. The facility burned to the ground last year, but the counters were saved.

Customers may also enjoy a tropical fruit drink from the juice bar as they shop for clothing and gifts from the tropical paradises of the world.

Jimmy Buffet fans will enjoy the store as well, with much of the displays based on the singer's hit songs.

Speaking of that seaplane, customers will also be able to charter an Eco-Tour at the store, from Florida Seaplanes of Sanford.

The business is called "a shop called Mango," and was created by Seminole County residents and former engineers, Melissa Shontz and Gary P. Marchese in 1986. In addition to the new location in Sanford, they have stores in Winter Park, Old Town, and Church Street Station.

The store is described as "a shop as comfortable as a Key West porch swing, but filled with beautiful gifts and clothing for all ages."

"a shop called Mango" is scheduled to open to the public the morning of Sept. 22.

For additional information on the shop, phone 788-1061.

County schools ask UCF to evaluate at-risk programs

By VICKI DeBORNER
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sometimes you might think you're doing a good job, but it takes an unbiased eye to see if you really are.

The Seminole County school board agreed this past week to contract with the University of Central Florida College of Education's Center for Educational Research and Development to evaluate the "at-risk" and "dropout prevention" programs.

There are a variety of programs offered from elementary to high school that are designed as educational alternatives for young people who might drop out of school.

The programs try to make sure students achieve more success with their educational experience through lower student to teacher ratios, through more challenging or more individualized learning experiences and through alternative learning environments.

"There are a variety of programs at all of our schools to try and keep these at-risk students in school," Dr. Marion Dailey, executive director of instructional services for the school district, said.

The evaluation program will be headed by Dr. Richard Dietzel of the UCF College of Education.

He will work with Dr. Gail West, also of the college of education.

According to Dailey, the assessment program will take about two years to complete and will begin immediately.

A survey will be mailed out to every principal in the district. The principals and record keepers at the school will be asked to complete the questionnaire.

"These aren't just multiple choice questions," Dailey explained. "They are being asked questions to talk about how the at risk students are being identified and to discuss things like their expectations for the general population versus for these students."

After the principals answer the questions, 10 percent of the teachers at each school will be selected at random to answer the survey as well.

"We have at risk students at every level, in every classroom, at every school," said Dailey. "We want all those teachers involved because we want them to remember that just because they may have the highest test scores, that doesn't mean they don't have at-risk students."

The survey is designed to evaluate the 50 recommendations of the county task force that helped design the county's programs. Half the recommendations will be studied this year, the other half will be targeted next year.

Later this year 10 schools, including several in Sanford, Partin Elementary and Lake Mary High School, will be targeted for more in depth, in-person interviews and studies.

Next year, the "Break the Mold" schools, including Pine Crest and Midway elementary schools, will be studied to see if their new approach to education is working to turn at-risk students around.

About $25,000 in state "At-Risk Funds" are being allocated for the evaluation each of the two years.

"But we are getting more than our money's worth," Dailey said. "He (Dietzel) is working full time, day and night, on this. We're very pleased."

For a good cause

A good crowd turned out in the streets of downtown Sanford to help raise money for the Joe Reinhardt Scholarship fund at Seminole Community College. Based at Cafe Jakes on First Street, the event spilled out onto the street and attracted many, including clown and banjo player Larry Fargue who entertained Jennifer Leal and a group of lovely young women who stepped into the street to dance behind the protection of the Sanford Police Department's DARE car. Reinhardt had been a professor at SCC who was known for his deep caring about his students.

is closed and pilots do not have air traffic controllers to help them.

With three runways operational, pilots are responsible for communicating their position and altitude to other pilots, as well as listening to other pilots in the flight pattern.

Essentially, airfield conditions become the same as those at the New Smyrna Beach Municipal Airport.

Even though similar conditions open the door for the possibility of similar crashes to occur here, airport employees are quick to point out the tower is staffed at peak times.

For the most part, pilots fly into and out of Orlando Sanford Airport during the day. Therefore, the highest volume of air traffic is under the control of the watchful eyes of the control tower.

In recent months, as many as 1,000 flight operations have been logged in a single day at the airport, without incident. The tower is staffed by up to five controllers depending on traffic.

Many of the flight operations are conducted by flight students, including aeronautical science students from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University.

A memorial service for the three killed in the plane crash is scheduled for Monday, Sept. 18, at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Daytona Beach.

Rescue

emergency medical gear and fire fighting equipment was installed.

"At the time, these were perfectly acceptable vehicles," said Capt. Marty Johnson, EMS coordinator. "We were able to marry some chassis with some ambulance-type boxes and do an adequate job. Our runs have probably doubled since 1990 and we are also in the joint response system within Seminole County."

The State of Florida requires the fire-rescue vehicles to carry extrication hand tools, breathing apparatuses, etc. along with other fire fighting gear, he noted. In limited storage areas in the old vehicle, smoke-contaminated bunker gear and equipment was stored in the patient compartment.

The new state-of-the-art rescue vehicle, built by the local Aero Products Corporation, features the first extended cab Freightliner came out with along with air-ride seats and greater visibility. The company entered the market about three years ago and has built the Seminole County Hazardous Materials truck and vehicles for Altamonte Springs and Casselberry. The firm is also building 39 vehicles, 13 a year for the next three years, to replace all Miami Metro-Dade County rescue units, Johnson added. The units will be slightly different than Sanford's model.

"We are now up over traffic," Johnson demonstrated. "We can see, hear and anticipate things we have much more visibility."

The cost of the new rescue vehicle was $89,000 "and some change," he added, but is designed to carry the city into the future. "This truck was built to carry us well past the year 2000." There is a 250,000 mile warranty on the drive train. "This truck will go places where that little one won't," he added. "It can turn a six-foot tighter circle than that one."

The patient compartment is accessible via a walk-through from the extended cab albeit a snug fit.

The patient compartment is high enough so rescue workers can stand up straight inside rather than scrunching down in the older vehicle. Some of the storage areas are accessible from either the inside or outside of the vehicle in a pass through configuration making it easier and faster to get the trauma bag, pediatric drug bag and other emergency equipment.

Tools are stored neatly on heavy duty slide-out panels and oxygen tanks with bunker gear are stored outside the patient area.

The patient cabin can accommodate two patients or several ambulatory patients who don't require a stretcher.

"Normally, when we work a critical patient (case), we'll have a medic in front, we'll have a driver in front," Johnson explained, "and as many as one or two additional personnel, possibly another medic, possibly another firefighter if we have to do CPR."

The vehicle features two detachable 500-watt quartz lights that can be set up to light a scene or to be extended. A directional light stick similar to those in use by the Florida Highway Patrol is mounted on the rear of the vehicle, along with large, easily seen turn signals.

The Firehouse Red color required a variance from the state from the usual orange and white color scheme.

"This is not directed at anybody in particular. No slam intended," Johnson said, "no maligning anybody. But this is traditional fire department. All of our equipment is red. All of our bunker gear is black. We are extending the metaphor of tradition by bringing it into modern times."

Fots Brumley captured the Peter Schaal Trophy, given each year to the Most Valuable Player.

Speaking of football, 1944-45 was the first year at SHS for Coach "Goose" Kettles. According to the Sally, he did the best he could with a team made up of small and inexperienced boys. The only games they won that year were with Eustis and Winter Park, but the team was wonderfully supported by the school and entire community.

World War II was a large factor in the lives of members of this class. Many of the older young men had already volunteered for service and were busy defending our country. All of the others were facing the draft upon graduation as we were still at war with Japan.

With this in mind, there was a Student Military Training Corps organized on campus early in the school year. The Kiwanis Club helped them with leadership and monetarily. They gave a benefit dance, the proceeds of which went to the corps.

Major William Shoemaker was battalion commander and other officers were Capt. Charles Dawson, Capt. Neil Powell, Capt. Sonny Raborn, and Lt. Clarence Knaff.

Members were given an intensive course in battle training and tactics. Vocational teacher, Alex Johnson, helped several of them make training rifles. I have already described one of their maneuvers in a previous column.

The 1945 Salmagundi was dedicated to former SHS students who were presently in the service of their country. Those listed were: Brantley Adams, James Arant, Charles Bradbury, Edwin Branan, Sam Dighton Jr., Jack Gillon, LeRoy Hodge, Brian Hunt, Donald Lamson, Hugh Leasher, Charles Meriwether, Earl Piercy, Bill Preston, James Ridge Jr., J.C. Spivey, Wilbur Tillis, and Tillman Whitmore.

This class entered first grade in the depths of the Depression and the specter of World War II loomed over them throughout their high school years. They have gone from the time of the Model T Ford to luxury automobiles, from listening to "The Hit Parade," "Gangbusters," and "Lum and Abner" on radio to color television sets in almost every room in their homes, from barnstorming airplanes of the 1930s to men on the moon and the space age, from chalk boards to the computer. They are now looking forward to entering into the twenty-first century.

Of the 100 students who graduated in 1945, 34 continue to live in Sanford while 67 still live in the state. In looking at the representative classmates listed here who most of us old timers know, we have excellent examples of what outstanding citizens this class produced. Several have been leading members of the Sanford and Central Florida community for many years.

This class's only missing person is Charles Dawson. If you can help locate him, contact Harold Chapman (322-8777) or Dorothy Morrison (323-1557).

Best wishes for a wonderful reunion, SHS Class of 1945!

griddle.

Games, including bobbing for apples, occupied the students between work projects.

After reading books on the era and studying the history, the students made static displays to show off their knowledge of the times, but still they had not experienced what it was like to live in the late seventeenth and early eighteenth century.

"You couldn't exactly go to the store and get some butter," said Andy Johnson, shaking the cream vigorously to coax it into a soft tasty treat. "You had to make it if you wanted to eat it."

Howard Lingard said he liked shaking the cream in anticipation of the butter that will result.

"I like shaking it," he said. "But I don't want to taste it yet. I want to put it on grits."

Teacher Bill Cavins said it was "exciting" to see the youngsters actively learning.

"This is a very exciting way to let them experience the Colonial world," he said. "The students will probably learn more here today than they would by reading about the experience. There is no better way to learn a lesson than by doing something."

Co-teacher Charlotte Schmitt said her students responded well to the experience.

"Hands-on is the best way for them to learn," she said. "They love to learn this way. This is the best way to teach them a lesson in Colonial life."

Youngsters squealed with delight as they saw clumps of whipped butter appear in the jars or saw the wax begin to form a candle they could use.

"This is so fun," Tarrah Taylor said. "Making all this is fun stuff."

Standing in an air-conditioned classroom and referring to materials on CD-ROM may not give students the full impact of the difficulties of Colonial life, but the youngsters said they understood how hard it was to live in those days.

"They had to make these candles if they wanted any light at night," Kristina Jackson said. "They didn't have any lights they could turn on."

Jackson said she and her classmates had "no idea" how candles were made before the experience in the classroom.

"I guess I thought you just bought them," she admitted.

Industry of the Year chosen

Certified Slings tapped by development council

By BOB PAPPAS
Herald Staff Writer

CASSELBERRY — Certified Slings, Inc., of Caselberry and with warehouse facilities in Sanford, is to be honored as 1995 Industry of the Year, by the Economic Development Commission of Mid-Florida, Inc. (EDC). Companies are recognized for company growth, leadership in business issues and corporate citizenship.

In addition to Certified Slings, the EDC also named Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., Orlando Center, Golden Gem Growers in Lake County, and Mercury Marine in Ocala County.

The EDC will bestow the honors during an upcoming Industry Appreciation Luncheon, scheduled to coincide with statewide Industry Appreciation Week activities conducted each year by the Florida Department of Commerce.

Certified Slings, Inc., located at 4200 S. U.S. Highway 17-92 in Caselberry, was established in 1962. Ronald Worawick has served continuously as president and chief executive officer.

In addition to the Caselberry main offices, the company also maintains a warehouse facility on the property of the Orlando-Sanford Airport in Sanford.

Certified Slings Inc., (CSI) is the largest manufacturer and distributor of cargo handling equipment and rigging supplies in the Southeastern U.S.

The EDC said CSI's staff grew by 130 percent in the past year due to its ability to secure new government contracts as well as its diversification into commercial markets.

To achieve its commitment to a diverse workforce, EDC said, CSI works with a variety of community organizations to provide job opportunities to people with disabilities or to people, including refugees, from diverse ethnic backgrounds and origins including Russia, Vietnam, Haiti and Bosnia.

Top executives of each of these companies will receive their awards at the luncheon this Wednesday at Orlando Hilton North in Altamonte Springs.

Keynote speaker for the event will be Lynda Keever, vice president and publisher of Florida Trend.

The Economic Development Commission of Mid-Florida, Inc., is a private, not-for-profit economic development organization serving Seminole, Orange, Lake and Ocala Counties.

NOTICE OF TAX INCREASE

The City of Lake Mary has tentatively adopted a measure to increase its property tax levy by 2.43 percent.

All concerned citizens are invited to attend a public hearing on the tax increase to be held on Thursday, September 21, 1995 at 7:00 P.M. at City Hall, City Commission Chambers, 100 N. Country Club Road, Lake Mary Florida.

A FINAL DECISION on the proposed tax increase and the budget will be made at this hearing.

NATIONAL BRIEFS

Powell kicks off book tour

MCLEAN, Va. — A long line of fans of retired Gen. Colin Powell broke into cheers as he arrived at a bookstore here Saturday to kick off a 25-city tour promoting his memoirs.

Powell hasn't decided whether he will jump into the presidential race, but he said he is looking forward to talking with Americans during the monthlong publicity tour for "My American Journey."

"I have a lot of deep concerns about the country. I have ideas and I'm going to share those ideas," he said. "I'm very interested in seeing what is on the minds of the American public."

Powell scrawled his huge signature on book after book with production-line speed during a four-hour visit to a Super Crown bookstore at a shopping center in the Washington suburbs. A line of autograph seekers — some of whom had spent the night outside the store — encircled the parking lot. Store workers said Powell signed 3,312 books.

"It's Powellmania week," said Linda Soffit of Washington, a financial secretary and volunteer coordinator of the Exploratory Draft Colin Powell for President Committee. Members of the group took advantage of the book-signing to collect hundreds of petitions signatures.

Powell, 58, the son of Jamaican parents, has said he began life as "a black kid with no early promise from an immigrant family of limited means who was raised in the South Bronx and somehow rose to become the national security adviser to the president of the United States and then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

In his book, Powell begins to detail his mixed and evolving political philosophy. He believes in free enterprise and lower taxes and is put off by "patronizing liberals." Yet he supports abortion rights and gun control and was alarmed by a "troubling mix of politics and religion" at the 1992 Republican convention.

Spacewalking astronauts stay warm

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — They did their best to chill out in the freezing vacuum of space, staying in the shadow of the shuttle.

But to NASA's delight, Endeavour's two spacewalking astronauts kept warm Saturday thanks to new heated gloves, thermal socks, boot liners and toasty long underwear.

"Couldn't be more comfortable," Michael Gernhardt said. "These gloves are working great. I'm warm."

Gernhardt and James Voss spent nearly an hour each on the end of the robot arm, raised 30 feet above the cargo bay in the coldest possible position to mimic a space station construction site.

The temperature dipped down to minus 120 or minus 130 degrees Fahrenheit, said Gerald Miller, NASA's lead flight controller for spacewalks. A precise figure won't be available until temperature sensors are examined after the flight.

One by one, the spacewalkers remained motionless on the robot arm in an attempt to get cold — to no avail. Voss, in fact, had to turn off the fingertip heaters in his gloves at one point.

The two men were just as comfortable bustling around the cargo bay, although the thermometer down there registered a mere minus 75.

NASA wants as much practice as possible working in this deep-freeze environment before construction of an international space station begins in two years.

Saturday's successful spacewalk 212 miles above Earth eased some of the worries.

"It's given us a vote of confidence that we're certainly on the right track," Miller said.

Teen convicted in tourist attack

PENSACOLA, Fla. — A teenager was convicted of first-degree murder Saturday in his third trial in the 1993 killing of a British tourist at a highway rest stop.

John "Billy Joe" Crumitie was also convicted of attempted murder and attempted robbery in the attack, one of a series of crimes that drove visitors away from the Sunshine State and prompted a series of tourist-protection and juvenile justice reforms.

Crumitie, 18, had testified he was home asleep when Gary Colley, 34, was killed during a bungled robbery at an Interstate 10 rest stop near Monticello, about 35 miles east of Tallahassee. His longtime companion, 37-year-old Margaret Jagger, was wounded in the Sept. 14, 1993, shooting.

But two co-defendants testified he had participated in the shooting. Also, a rest stop attendant identified him as one of the assailants, and four other witnesses said he confessed to them.

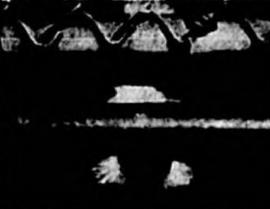

The jury of three men and nine women deliberated nearly three hours Saturday before returning verdicts finding him guilty of first-degree murder, second degree attempted murder, attempted armed robbery, robbery and shooting into an occupied vehicle.

As the first-degree verdict was read, Crumitie put his head down on the table with a soft but audible thump.

The state isn't seeking the death penalty, so Crumitie faces life in prison without parole for at least 25 years on the murder conviction alone. The judge set sentencing for Oct. 19.

Local funeral director honored by Golden Achievement Award

By MARVA HAWKINS
Herald Columnist

CLEARWATER - The Golden Achievement Award is the highest award given by the Florida Funeral Directors Association.

At the 101st annual convention held this week at Clearwater Beach at the beautiful Sheraton Sand Key Resort, the theme was "Strength Through Association" honoring 100 years of history.

A most distinguished mortician was honored with the prestigious award having given 50 years of dedicated service to her profession in serving Seminole County, Sanford and many other areas as owner and funeral director of Wilson-Eichelberger Mortuary.

Eunice Idella Wilson, a native of Sanford, has always served her clients and their families with kindness, respect and dignity.

Wilson for over 50 years has exemplified professionalism. She has attained her childhood ambition and has served those in their time of need with grace, concern, and the utmost care. She is a Christian dedicated to her profession.

Her achievements were destined to be. She was the fourth child of the late Gus and Thomas Wilson Sr. She graduated from Crooms Academy, received her degree in mortuary science from the New York School of Embalming and Restorative Art. After graduation she returned to Sanford and interned under the late L.W. Eichelberger. Wilson received her embalmer's license in 1943 and funeral director's license in 1944, celebrating 50 years as an embalmer.

Wilson's dedication to her life's work has not kept her from donating her talents to the community. She is an ardent member and trustee of Allen Chapel AME Church, and has served as director of the "Wilson's Ensemble" Gospel Singers. She is an honorary member of the Crooms Academy class of 1963. Wilson has served as president of Orange, Osceola, Seminole County Funeral Directors Association.

She is associated with the following fraternal organizations: Florida Morticians Association, Inc., executive board member; National Funeral Director's & Embalmer's Association; Florida Funeral Director's Association; Alpha, Gamma, Epsilon Nu Delta Fraternity Association; Treasurer - Fourth Regional District/Florida Morticians Association; Daughters of Isis - Malta Court #98; Daughters of Solomon - Herodines of Jerico #237; Rebecca Chapter #83 - Order of Eastern Star (O.E.S.); Evergreen Temple #321; Daughters of Elks - Past Daughter-Ruler; N.A.A.C.P. - Seminole County Chapter; Sanford Chamber of Commerce; National Chamber of Commerce;

WORLD BRIEFS

Hurricane Marilyn thrashes Puerto Rico

CULEBRA, Puerto Rico - With ferocious winds, waves a story high and lightning-forked storms, Hurricane Marilyn raged through the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico on Saturday, tearing apart homes, tossing aside airplanes and toppling towers.

It moved away from the Caribbean region later in the day, and all hurricane and storm watches were canceled. But the damage had been done. At least three people were reported dead, and 100 more were injured or missing, including several dozen trapped in a collapsed apartment complex on St. Thomas.

President Clinton declared the U.S. Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico disaster areas, making them eligible for federal emergency aid. The Federal Emergency Management Agency sent rescue, medical and communications teams to the area.

At the airport of Culebra, an island of 3,000 people 20 miles east of Puerto Rico, Marilyn swept a light airplane onto the Happy Landings restaurant at the end of the runway. Another plane rested upside down on a chain link fence behind it.

"Have you ever been in a blender? That's how we felt," said police Lt. Julio Soto.

Pope kisses soil of 'rainbow nation'

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa - Kissing the soil of a nation he long scorned, Pope John Paul II ended the Vatican's estrangement with South Africa on Saturday and blessed its abandonment of white-minority rule.

The visit came seven years after the pope angered apartheid leaders by refusing to kiss the ground when the papal plane was forced to land because of bad weather.

"Today my journey brings me to a new South Africa ... a 'rainbow nation,' indicating the diversity of races, ethnic groups, languages and culture which characterize it," the pope said after being greeted at the airport by President Nelson Mandela.

Four orphans representing South Africa's black, white, mixed-race and Indian groups presented the pope with a basket of earth as he stepped off an airliner as the sun broke through rain clouds.

Since undergoing hip surgery last year, the pope no longer bends to the tarmac to plant a customary kiss on the ground on first-time visits.

"To say this visit is long overdue is to pay tribute to your own abhorrence of the system of apartheid," said Mandela, wearing a dark suit instead of his usual brightly colored shirt.

LOCALLY

Wrestling Club started

OVIEDO — The Florida Jets Olympic Wrestling Club is looking for new members.

All Seminole County students from elementary through high school are invited to compete on the team that will take part in 20 tournament (all on Saturdays) and will be coached Oviedo High School's Rick Tribit and J.D. Robbins, who has coached at every level of wrestling and also handled the California Jets that won 12 national championships and 13 state championships.

Practice at Oviedo High School will be every Wednesday from 6-7:30 p.m. The fee to join the club is $30, which includes insurance, T-shirt, USA Wrestling membership card, newsletter, magazine and participation certificate. Additional family members can join at a prorated fee. If you miss a practice, don't worry, come the next time.

For more info, call J.D. Robbins (366-4840) or Rick Tribit (366-3562).

Sanford Recreation Karate

SANFORD — The Sanford Recreation Department is offering karate for ages 6 to adult.

The classes are held at the Sanford Gymnastics Association Building, 601 E. 25th Place, on Thursday from 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m.

The instructor is Barry Green, a 3rd degree blackbelt, and the cost is $10 per month.

For more information, call 330-5697.

SRD offers Baton classes

SANFORD — The Sanford Recreation Department is offering baton classes for girls ages 5 and up. The classes, taught by Joy Clore, are held every Thursday from 6:45 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at the Sanford Gymnastics Association Building, 601 E. 25th Place.

The cost is $10 per month. For more information call 330-5697.

AROUND THE STATE

FSU rumbles

TALLAHASSEE — Danny Kanell passed for four touchdowns and Warrick Dunn scored three times in the second quarter as top-ranked Florida State raced to a 77-17 victory over fumbling North Carolina State.

The Seminoles (3-0, 3-0 Atlantic Coast Conference) rolled to a 42-14 halftime lead and cruised to their 27th straight league victory.

The 77 points by FSU was a school record. The Seminoles are averaging 64 points a game.

North Carolina State (1-2, 0-2 ACC) lost four fumbles in the first half. The Wolfpack lost two more fumbles in the fourth quarter leading to two more Florida State touchdowns by freshman tailback Dee Feaster.

Gators come back to romp

GAINESVILLE — Danny Wuerffel threw for six touchdowns and 381 yards and also ran for a score as No. 4 Florida scored 48 straight points to stun eighth-ranked Tennessee 62-37.

The Gators, taking a major step toward their third straight Southeastern Conference title and fourth in five years, had trailed 30-14 late in the first half after Tennessee's Raymond Auslin returned a fumble 46 yards for a touchdown.

The Florida Field crowd of 85,105 was sitting in stunned silence. After all, the Gators (3-0, 2-0 SEC) hardly ever lose at "The Swamp," only twice in Steve Spurrier's five-plus years.

Tennessee (2-1, 1-1) looked like it would finally end Florida's domination of the SEC Eastern Division, but the Volunteers fell apart despite sophomore Peyton Manning's 326 yards passing. Jay Graham had two backbreaking fumbles, and Jeff Hall missed a 22-yard field goal and had an extra point blocked.

ELSEWHERE

Rockies edge past Marlins

DENVER — Dante Bichette hit his 37th homer, a two-run shot in the seventh inning Saturday that lifted the Colorado Rockies over the Florida Marlins 8-7.

The victory kept Colorado ahead in the NL West. The Rockies began the day with a one-game lead over Los Angeles.

Bichette, who drove in three runs, leads the NL in home runs and RBIs (115). Larry Walker also hit a two-run homer for Colorado, his 31st.

Andre Dawson and Charles Johnson hit two-run homers and Terry Pendleton and Jesus Tavarez had solo home runs for the Marlins.

The Rockies set a team record with six straight hits during a six-run third that made it 6-3. After Florida came back for a 7-6 lead, Joe Girardi singled with two outs in the Colorado seventh against Yorkis Perez and Bichette homered off Terry Mathews (4-4).

Lake Howell undefeated after rout of Seminole

By GARY COATMAN
Herald Staff Writer

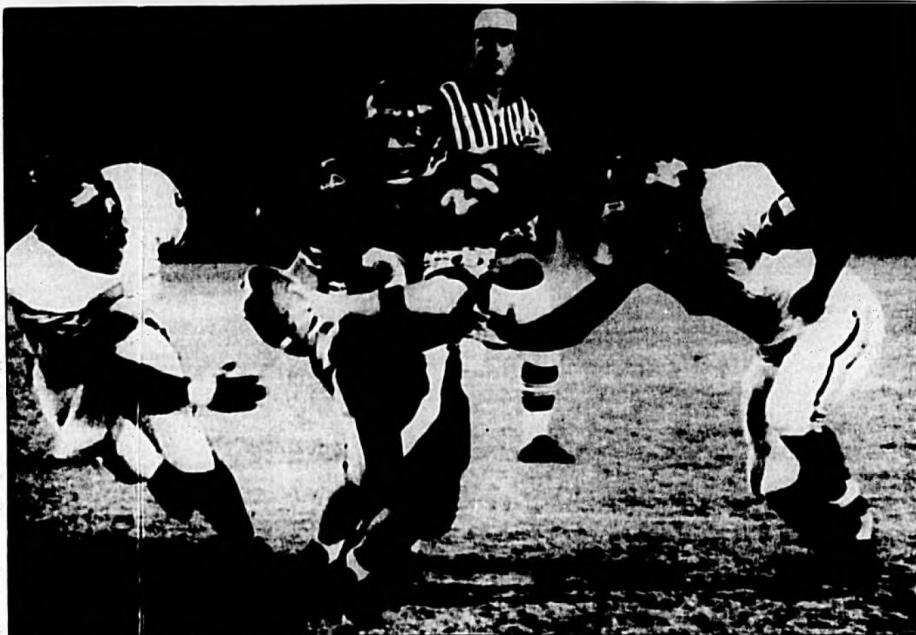

WINTER PARK — Lake Howell used five second half turnovers, a goal line stand and one touchdown Friday night in a 28-3 rout of Seminole in a Seminole Athletic Conference game at Richard L. Evans Field.

Seminole (1-2 overall, 1-1 SAC) took an early 3-0 lead on its second possession of the game. Davion Hampton helped set up the score with a 48 yard run. The drive stalled at the Lake Howell 8-yard line, and the Tribe settled for a 20-yard Joe Battista field goal with 6:12 left in the first quarter. The Seminole defense came up with its only take away of the game when it recovered a Lieflander fumble.

Seminole coach Ernie McPherson said that lack of execution was the biggest reason for the loss. He pointed to the Tribe's second drive of the game and Lake Howell's goal line stand as key moments.

"We had several golden opportunities, and we didn't capitalize like we should have," McPherson said. "Anytime you don't capitalize, its going to come back and haunt you sooner or later. That's pretty much what happened. We should have had a touchdown in the first half, but we had to settle for a field goal."

Late interceptions save Lake Mary

By ROBERT SANDERS
Herald Correspondent

ORLANDO — Lake Mary held off non-divisional foe Dr. Phillips Friday night with two fourth quarter interceptions that preserved a 10-7 victory.

The Rams (2-1), used a ball-control offense that gained 212 yards on the ground. Reolon Jumpp was the workhorse, rushing for 155 yards on 21 carries and one touchdown. Donnie Casey picked up where Jumpp left off, rushing for 57 yards on 15 carries. The backfield tandem attributes the rushing success to the offensive line, because "without them, we wouldn't have got the job done," added Casey.

Lake Mary will be at Lyman for a Class 6A-District 4 and Seminole Athletic Conference contest next Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The Panthers (1-2), struck first, when Justin Cleveland scored on a four-yard run that made it 7-0 in the first quarter. Cleveland was held to 89 yards rushing for the night. Kris Keseler added a 36-yard field goal late in the second quarter for the Rams first score.

Trailing 7-3 in the third quarter, the Rams put together a 12-play, 80-yard drive that was capped off when Jumpp ran a draw play from 27 yards out. The drive consumed nearly five minutes, in which the Rams would take a 10-7 that would stick for good.

"We played with a lot of determination and character after a tough loss last week, this week we showed what we're made of," commented Rams Head Coach Doug Peters.

The key play in the game came minutes into the fourth quarter when Lake Mary, attempting to punt on fourth and two, caught the Panthers sleeping when Casey took the snap on a fake punt, and ran nine yards for a first down. "It was a great call by our coaches," said Casey.

Dr. Phillips, which had nine penalties for 70 yards, could not get going after the first quarter. Besides the excessive amount of penalties, the Panthers turned the ball over twice in the fourth quarter. With just under three minutes to play and the ball near midfield, Panther quarterback Matt Bernstein forced a pass that went right into the hands of Rams linebacker Drew Young, who then returned it back to the Dr. Phillips 20-yard line. The Rams could have put the game out of reach late in the fourth quarter, but on fourth and inches from the three, linebacker Kevin McCall tackled Casey for a loss that kept the score at 10-7.

The Panthers could have ultimately tied the game in the third quarter when Elton Bernstein attempted a 42 yard field goal, but the line-drive kick fell a couple of yards short.

ORLANDO — Anything that could have wrong for the Lyman Greyhound football team Friday night, did.

Returning two turnovers for touchdowns and converting two other turnovers into touchdowns with drives of eight plays or less, the Edgewater Eagles crushed the Greyhounds, 45-14.

Afterwards, Lyman coach Larry Baker was appreciative of the steps that Edgewater coach Caesar Campana took to keep the score from being worse.

"It was just one of those games," said Baker. "Coach Campana is a great coach and a real sportsman. He knew they had the game well in hand and didn't run up the score."

Lyman (0-3) plays again next Friday traveling to Lake Mary to take on the Rams at Don T. Reynolds Stadium while Edgewater (2-1) hosts West Orange.

After the Greyhounds' first drive ended with a fumble on their own 34-yard line, the Eagles used eight plays to take a 7-0 lead. Todd Buggs scoring the first of his four touchdowns.

On the Greyhounds' next play from scrimmage, Tommy Hand intercepted a pass and returned it 29

Winter Park edges Oviedo in overtime

By RYAN ANDERSON

OVIEDO — Something usually taken for granted proved to be a lucky break for Winter Park, and the downfall of the Oviedo Lions Friday night in a football contest at John Courier Field.

The Lions fell to the Wildcats 21-20 in overtime following a missed extra point attempt.

After the teams battled to a 14-14 tie at the end of regulation, the Lions had possession first in the Kansas overtime. Oviedo converted after two plays when Mike Giummo scampered in from 10 yards out. Mike Varley's extra point attempt sailed wide left giving the Lions a 20-14 lead with Winter Park's overtime chance still to come.

Winter Park needed only three plays to capitalize on the Lions misfortune. Winter Park quarterback Brent St. James fumbled at the goal line, and the ball was recovered two yards back by teammate Cornelius Allen who broke across the line for the score. Steve Reas' extra point gave the Wildcats a 21-20 lead and the win.

"I guess our quarterback was trying to get the ball over the line and he lost control. Fortunately, the ball bounced to one of our guys and he was able to get into the endzone," Winter Park coach Larry Gergley said. "Oviedo really controlled the clock and kept us on our toes. If their extra point attempt had been good, we would probably still be playing. Sometimes you're better off being lucky than good. We were really fortunate to get this win."

yards for another Eagle touchdown. Nathan Williams passed to Cameron Sealsby for the two-point conversion and Edgewater led, 15-0, with less than seven minutes gone in the first period.

Buggs added a 1-yard touchdown run and Chase Heard, who kicked four extra points on the night, contributed a 26-yard field goal in the second quarter as Edgewater built a 25-0 lead at halftime.

Lyman made things exciting in the early going of the third quarter.

After Vernon Johnson recovered Wes Hunter's onside kick to open the second half, the Greyhounds needed two plays to score. Fred Young weaving his way through the Eagle defense for a 46-yard touchdown run.

Hunter, who kicked the extra point, followed with another onside kick. This time, Derrick Tillman recovered for the Greyhounds.

But on a second-and-6 play from the Edgewater 36-yard line, Buggs picked up a dropped Lyman lateral and returned it 60 yards for a touchdown.

The Silver Hawks' defense began to assert itself after the Seminoles drove to the Lake Howell 7-yard line. Lake Howell's Rick Leggett stopped Davion Hampton at the 1-yard line. The Silver Hawks then took a 7-3 lead with a 12 play, 99 yard drive.

"The first half, the defense had a couple of big plays," said Lake Howell coach Mike Biscaglia. "The next drive was a great job by our offense. We just went down our play sheet at halftime and highlighted the plays that were working for us."

Lake Howell (3-0 overall, 2-0 SAC) scored on a 1-yard run by Terrell Jackson and a Matt Mora extra point, and featured a 42 yard pass from Rick Liefelder to Bruce McClay. The drive consumed 5:45 as the Silver Hawks gained 40 yards rushing on nine carries.

"Lucious did a great job on the punt return," Biscaglia said. "There was a good wall of blockers in front of him, just like you would draw it up on the chalk board."

Things only got worse for Seminoles on the ensuing kickoff when Lake Howell's Kirk Andersen and Josh McIntosh ran over the Tribe's Erick Smith, forcing another turnover as Rich Dybdahl recovered Smith's fumble. The Silverhawks drive tonight." The Wildcats lept onto the scoreboard late in the first quarter when St. James found Derek Snelvel for a 63-yard touchdown. Reas extra point gave the Wildcats a 7-0 lead with 2:59 left in the first quarter.

Oviedo answered on their next possession when Andy Neufeld dove across the line from one-yard out. Varley's extra point tied the score 7-7, with 10:38 left in the first half.

Each team added a touchdown in the second half. Oviedo connected on a six-yard pass from Neufeld to Adolphus Davis, and Winter Park answered with a five-yard run by Allen.

While the offenses managed to put points on the board, it was truly a defensive game. Both defensive squads thwarted their opponents' offense forcing the teams to punt eight times and recovering three interceptions.

IN BRIEF

Longwood Reading Festival

LONGWOOD - The parents and students at Longwood Elementary School will be able to take part in a family event at the school's Reading Festival on Tuesday, Sept. 19. The event will take place in the school's media center, 840 Orange Ave., Longwood. It will be from 8:30 to 8:30 p.m. Among the activities will be an autograph session by Mother Goose who will greet the children and tell some of her more famous stories. There will be a drawing for $25 in books from the school book fair. The winner will also get $25 in books for his or her class.

AAA, Progressive safety checks

Progressive Insurance and AAA have joined forces with the American Automobile Association to promote back-to-school safety throughout the state. Though school has been back in session for two months in Seminole County, elsewhere in the state, it's just getting underway elsewhere and the campaign is underway here now as well. The companies are hoping to involve parents and others in spreading the word that school's in session and that they should drive safely.

Talented writers show their stuff

SANFORD - Sanford Middle School students continue to show how talented they are through their writing.

These students were selected as Writers of the Week by their teachers.

We're sure there are talented writers at other Seminole County schools as well and we'd like to showcase them on the School Scenes page.

If you know such a writer (or if you are one yourself), send us your poems, essays and other works. We'll be glad to publish them.

Send your best writing (or your drawings) to us at the Sanford Herald, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford, 32771.

Computers

By BEN MCELLEN
Grade 7

I like computers. The reason is they can be a tool for learning like I'm using one now, or they can be for fun, like computer games and such. I think that a long time ago, if people saw a computer as it is now, they would faint. Back when they were first invented in the forties, all a computer could do was add and subtract, but now, look at them keeping people in touch with one another and allowing kids to make projects and then fax them to their teachers. Wow!

You know, we take computers too much for granted. I mean now everyone has one with modems to go on a bit "net" and talk to anyone in the world! Then we have computerize encyclopedia-dictionary-th esaurus all in one little piece of plastic. We can listen to music and write things (like I'm doing) all at once, then print them in as your own hard work. I mean, come on. We can even meet potential dates over the computer. And did I mention sending pictures? Well, you can even use a modem to call a telescope to take pictures of galaxies and then save a piece of plastic only a half-inch tall and four inches long. I guess ut seems man has come up with a way to see the world (heck, even the universe!)

right from his bedroom. Pretty scary, isn't it that all this technology is easy to find? Even criminals can rob banks from their computers and people have made a program that unencrypts files so you can run amok in the company files. If I were you I wouldn't give my fax line or internet address to anyone you don't trust because you wouldn't want all the money you have in your computerbank to just disappear. Would you?

She then asked the man if she could hold me. He told her she could if she made sure I didn't get loose. So she unlatched my cage and took me out. Then she sat on the floor holding me in her lap. I was so happy to be out of my cage that I curled up in her lap, purring intently fell asleep.

I liked her very much and I think she liked me. That is when she told the man that she wanted to adopt me. The man smiled and handed her a leash and collar and told her to go to the front office. In the office she signed some papers. Then we went to the car.

My Story

By LISA M. BUSH
Grade 7

One morning I woke up to find a young girl looking in my cage. Then behind her the pound manager walked in through the door. He walked over to the girl and told her that my name was Miss Kitty. I softly meowed to her and touched her with my paw. Then he said that I was eligible for adoption.

The drive to her house was loud and scary but with Lisa, my new owner, comforting me it wasn't that bad. When we arrived at the house she took me inside. Then she turned me loose in the house. I was so excited to be out of the pound that I ran through the house like a speeding bullet. But the fun stopped when I ran smack into a wall.

It hurt! But Lisa came over to me and petted me to make me feel better. That is when I knew she loved me.

ANGUS

Movie review

By A. VANSWANINGEN
Herald Correspondent

Have you ever wished that you could be someone else? Have you ever thought that you were just not normal? Well, in New Line Cinema's latest release, "Angus", Angus Bethune (Charlie Talbert) is going to challenge what is considered to be normal.

In high school there are usually two crowds, the popular crowd which consists of jocks and cheerleaders and then there's everyone else. Almost any teenager would rather be called 'strange' than 'normal' or 'average'. In this society the words 'normal' or 'average' are thought to be words associated with a plague!

Angus Bethune (Charlie Talbert) is the fat kid who's good at science. Rick Sanford (James Van Der Beek) is the popular quarterback who will do almost anything to hurt Angus. Melissa LeFevre (Ariana Richards) is the cheerleader who Angus is madly in love with. You may remember her as the young female lead from the mega-blockbuster "Jurassic Park". Angus' geeky friend Troy (Chris Owen) could easily take first place in the nerd of the century competition. He is best described by his own quote "I'm swallowing a not, you know what, it doesn't taste that bad". Other credits include, Kathy Bates as Angus' mother Meg; George C. Scott as Grandpa Ivan, Angus' senile grandfather whose answer to everything is "Screw 'em". Then there's the great Madame Rulenska played by Rita Moreno who is going to need crutches before she is finished teaching Angus how to dance.

When I was in high school there were many nights that I would just lay in bed wondering why I couldn't be like everyone else and I never really wanted to be just be myself. Last night while I was watching this movie, I realized that I had never really liked myself for who I was and that in high school that can be the most important step in being noticed and accepted by your peers.

"Angus" is definitely a movie for anyone on the outside looking in and should be seen by anyone who as ever thought of themselves as normal.

"Angus" earned four stars from this critic.

Aaron Van Swearingen is a graduate of Lake Mary High School. If you, like Aaron, have seen a good movie lately, tell us about it.

Al Green began his singing career as a member of his father's Greene Brothers Gospel Quartet - but he was fired from the group when he was caught listening to the "profane" music of Jackie Wilson.

Following stints as a member of The Creations and the Soul Mates, Al Green went solo in 1969 and hit the Top 20 two years later with "Tired of Being Alone."

An ordained pastor, he became the minister of his own church in Memphis in 1976.

- 1.) What was Al Green's first chart-topping single?
- 2.) With whom did Al Green sing on the late-'60s hit "Put A Little Love In Your Heart" (from the movie "Scrooged")?
- 3.) Which 1991 Farrah Fawcett and Ryan O'Neal sitcom featured Al Green singing the theme song?

Answers: 1.) "Good Love" 2.) "Let's Stay Together"

Seen at school...

Excited to learn

Ricky Bayec, 5, center, was really excited about the first day of school this week at Page Private School's new Town Center campus. The youngster was enrolled in Kindergarten by his mother Sherrie while his brother Mikey helped him with his books. Ricky will learn all kinds of new things this year and he'll make new friends who he'll have for life. Of course, Ricky's probably just looking forward to the fun he'll have at school.

Club heralds year with membership fete, bridge Rawls' show premieres today; chapter adopts Safehouse

Like June, the Sanford Woman's Club season is bustin' out all over.

The club's social season got under way Wednesday with a bridge social at the Park Avenue home of Mary Dale Jones. Assisting as co-hostess was Isabel Wilson.

The bridge players were served a variety of finger foods including quiche, assorted fruits, cheeses, cakes, cookies, coffee, tea and lemonade.

During the afternoon games, winners were: Carolyn Cornelius, first; Libby Prevatt, chairman, second; and Rose Jacobson, third.

Others attending and playing bridge were: Betty Halback; Toni Hobson, Dib McElrath, Shirley Mills, Fran Webster, Doris Stein, Helen Ernest, Thelma Smith, Jane Phillips, Margaret Gross, Doris Gormley and Lillian King.

A membership luncheon is scheduled Wednesday at the clubhouse from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. All members are invited and are asked to bring prospective members. The event is being hosted by the board of managers, according to Viola Franks.

Those planning to attend are asked to RSVP with Viola or Faye Siler.

The first general business meeting and luncheon of the season is the first Wednesday in October.

Currently being planned is Oktoberfest on Oct. 20 with Pat Foster, chairman of the education department, in charge.

Woman's club marks 84th year

Eighty-four years ago, on Dec. 28, 1911, a small group of interested citizens met at the Longwood Hotel to establish the "Longwood Improvement Society," the purpose of which was to build, beautify, and improve the town of Longwood, and provide for cultural needs.

The first project involved cleaning the roads and providing trash barrels at convenient locations; sawdust was hauled in wagons loads to cover the roads while petitions were signed to submit to county officials for better roads. The society bought street lamps and kerosene and hired personnel to light the streets each evening.

After establishing the first library of the town of Longwood in June of 1912, the society felt that a permanent location was needed to continue the works that they had begun, and their name was changed to the "Longwood Civic League" on Feb. 10, 1913.

The Longwood Civic League

Woman's Club building was purchased in 1914 and moved to its present location in historical Longwood on Church Street. It is considered one of the oldest if not the oldest original building in this area. Informed sources believe that the original structure was Longwood's first school house and meeting place, located quite near its present location and was moved to West Longwood, Markham Road — Stum's Corner, about 1882 when the Christ Episcopal Church was built. The structure was also known as the Self Union Chapel, West Longwood Chapel, and was the headquarters of the West Longwood Pioneers. It is shown on the Demen's Bird's-Eye Map of 1885, at this location.

For many years, the social life of the entire area was centered in the civic league building and Longwood Hotel. Many remember with fondness the active library with story hours, the bazaars, suppers, dances, musicals, picnics, silver teas, plays, Red Cross classes, Scout meetings, sewing clothes for the Children's Home in Jacksonville, church and Sunday school, political rallies, and movies. Through the years, these activities have served well the original purpose of the "Longwood Improvement Society," to build, beautify and improve the town and provide for cultural needs.

The Longwood Civic League Woman's Club is proud of its historical building and the years of service to their community; they are also proud of the wonderful members and friends

Business Women's celebration set; Cummings retires

American Business Women's Day is a celebration of women. The Central Florida Area ABWA Council is celebrating this annual day, Saturday, Sept. 23, at Church Street Station, Presidential Ballroom beginning at 11 a.m.

There will be a noon luncheon with guest speaker being ABWA's National executive director, Carolyn Bufton Elman, a recognized leader in American business. She offers insight in solving economic and social dilemmas of American society through Leadership America. She serves on the advisory board for the Greater Missouri Focus on Leadership Program, and she is an authority on workplace issues that affect women.

The national observance began its founding date in 1983 and in 1986 by congressional resolution and a proclamation issued by President Reagan. American Business Women's Day gives all Americans an opportunity to recognize the important contributions of more than 54 million American working women to this nation.

For information contact Vicky Nathan Murphy at (407) 855-3358 for reservations. Fee will include luncheon Saturday and a reception Friday evening.

Cummings honored at retirement fete

The retirement celebration for Deacon Willie C. Cummings was an evening to be remembered for the rest of his life.

The American Legion Banquet Hall was the site of the affair. Family, friends and co-workers from Siemens Stromberg-Carlson came to give accolades to a great Christian man, a well-respected and loved employee, who for 23 years could be seen driving and helping with that pleasant smile gracing his kind face.

SANFORD

The toastmaster for the occasion was his friend and brother in Evergreen Lodge #23 of Mason, Willie King. King knows this Christian gentleman who has served as secretary of his lodge for many years.

The evening's appreciation was an honor bestowed upon a great guy. Cynthia Dixon, a co-worker, began with her accolades for a dynamic co-worker, and words of praise for a dad who deserves the best was given by his son, Alvin Cummings. He is grateful for a dad whom he can respect and love for all he has been to him.

Deacon Cummings and his lovely wife of 38 years, Jewel, have four lovely children who attended and gave words of love to their dad. They are Cathy C. McGill, Gale C. Nelson, and Alvin of Sanford, Rose C. Edward of Oklahoma was unable to attend.

A solo of honor was sung by Rachel Adam Wilson. "We shall behold him." Her dynamic voice filled the hearts of the guests and honoree. The blessing was given by Deacon Charles Collier.

After a most delicious dinner, co-workers, friends and lodge brothers roasted the honoree.

Having been the shipping specialist before retiring a month ago, the roasters really shipped the guy around the plant for all in great fun. Roasters were Case Patton, Bill Arcand, Valeria Groom, Ted Davis, Alfred De Lattibaudiere. For his devotion, dedication and 23 remarkable years at Siemens, Jack Ovitiz gave recognition to Cummings for his service to the company.

The evening of appreciation and thanks was offered

A Precious Moments motif was carried out in the charming decor and refreshments. The refreshment table was centered with a Precious Moments cake made by hostess Cindy who also made a delicious chocolate cake.

Guests were served assorted fresh fruits, an attractive veggie tray of crisp celery, carrots and cauliflower with savory ranch dip, cheeses, crackers, barbecue sausages and sparkling fruit punch.

The guests wrote words of wisdom and lots of advice on note cards which were read to Brittany at the shower. And the usual "oohs" and "aahs" resounded as the excited bride-to-be opened her lovely gifts.

Among the 33 guests in attendance were Debbie Wagner, the bride's mother, and Dottie Scott, mother of the bridegroom.

Brittany will become the bride of Ben Scott on Oct. 14 at the Sanford Church of Christ.

See Hardy on Pets and Pets

Television fans of "The Adventures of Pete and Pete" will be happy to hear that the Nickelodeon show will premiere this season today. Also, a Pete and Pete marathon will be held today at noon (see television schedule).

Playing the role of the father on the show is Hardy Rawls, Sanford's own showman. Hardy (Buddy) grew up in Sanford, attended schools here and left his home town to make his way in show biz. His professional career started with appearing in commercials and he has appeared in several movies.

Currently living in New York, Hardy gets back to Sanford frequently. He is excited over the "Pete and Pete" adventures, which is beginning its third season. The show, featuring some of the best alternative music around, chronicles the strange lives of two brothers, both named Pete. Dad owns a driving range and Mom has a metal plate in her head that picks up radio waves.

This show has been one of the network's most popular, helped by cameo appearances of such greats as Frank Gifford.

Tune in. You'll love it.

BSP chapter begins season

The Laureate Gamma Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi started the season with a Beginning Day luncheon at the Rose Cottage Tea Room on Aug. 28. "We had a wonderful luncheon," Betty Jack said. "It was delicious." Betty mentioned that nearly everyone had the famous crab quiche, the tea room's specialty.

As the title of the day indicates, Betty said this event began the season and the chapter members enjoyed "catching up" on summer happenings.

Betty also said the chapter members held a regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday night and voted to adopt the Safehouse of Seminole as their service project for the year.

Jacaranda Circle names officers

Jacaranda Circle of the Sanford Garden Club held its September start-up meeting for the 1995/96 season at their clubhouse. Hostesses Muriel Wallace and Circle president Mary Rufas served a delicious dinner of lasagna, tossed salad, garlic bread prepared by Chef Rufas, according to Mary Prokoosh.

Circle officers elected for the ensuing year are: president, Mary Rufas; vice president, Muriel Wallace; secretary, Darlene Greene; and treasurer, Mary Prokoosh.

President of the General Garden Club, Betty Akers, and member of Jacaranda, announced coming functions as fashion show, luncheon and card party — Oct. 26; holiday bazaar and craft sale — Dec. 1 and 2.

There are six active circles within the Garden Club who offer information and programs on horticulture (flowers, shrubs, gardening and respective care). Jacaranda Circle boasts a one-man member who is quite informative in this field.

Mary says, "So, for those who like to play in the dirt and see the rewards of a beautiful flower waving to them in the breeze, come visit and find out becoming a prospective member."

It's a girl

Tracy and Gene Morgan Jr. of Sanford, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Madison Cameron Morgan, on Aug. 29 at Florida Hospital, Orlando. She weighed in at a healthy 8 lbs., 8 oz. and was 19 1/4 inches in length.

Maternal grandparents are Edith and David R. McNeill Jr. and maternal great grandfather is Andrew Hanson, all of Sanford.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Morgan Sr. of Ravenswood, W. Va.

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William Layton Welborn

Oglesby-Welborn vows exchanged

SANFORD — Angela Fay Oglesby and William Layton Welborn are announcing their marriage today. They were married Dec. 17, 1994, at 1 p.m., at Congregational Christian Church, Sanford. Claud McAdams, pastor emeritus, First Baptist Church, Wildwood, Fla., performed the traditional ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmuse R. Oglesby of Sanford. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Welborn of Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal white satin gown with chapel-length train. Diana Lynn French served the bride as matron of honor. She wore a floor-length pink taffeta gown with matching pink bow in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Leslie Copeland and Toni Degregario. They wore floor length, off-the-shoulder, floral taffeta gowns and wore matching floral bows.

The groom's father served as best man.

Bo Oglesby, brother of the bride, served as usher.

Chad Welborn, the groom's brother, and Tom Tkachuk served as groomsmen.

Emily Riley served as flower girl. She wore a paisley print dress.

Allan Rumer served as ring bearer. He wore a white tuxedo.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Longwood Recreation Hall.

Assistants were Mr. and Mrs. Wade Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Black.

The newlyweds are making their home in Tampa. The bride is employed as a pre-school teacher at Oak Tree Pre-School, Largo and the groom is a parts salesman at Western Auto, Largo.

Little League begins

The fall season for Lake Mary's Little League has begun. Last Sunday, the T-Ball teams took to the field for the first time. With only a couple of practices under their belts, there were a few minor glitches for the T-Ball 1 teams. These teams, the Marlins, Reds, Rockies, White Sox, and the Braves, are undoubtedly the most fun to watch.

There were a couple of very enthusiastic players who continued to run around the bases after they were out or after their coaches told them to stop. There were times when more than one person ended up on the same base. Of course where to throw the ball after you get it is always a problem.

As is whether or not you should leave the spot the coach told you to stand in to go get the ball. The T-Ball 1 teams play every Sunday at 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. at the Lake Mary Sports Complex. Some of the older, more experienced teams play on the adjoining fields. If you missed the Little League sign up, but would still like to get your child on a team, you can call Polly Willis, the player agent, at 330-9498.

'Heal Your Attitudes'

The Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is providing a seminar featuring Jack Cook, attitudinal healing facilitator, entitled "Heal Your Attitudes. Change Your Life: Coaching in Attitudinal Healing," sponsored by Florida Hospital. According to Jack Cook, "coaching is not just for athletic competitions anymore. The business of personal coaching in the '90s offers a new approach to redirecting your life, your career or both. It conditions and promotes wellness emotionally, spiritually, professionally and financially." The seminar will be held Friday, Sept. 22, from 11:45 a.m. till 1 p.m. at Orlando North Hilton, Altamonte Springs. The fee is $15 for members and $20 for guests and walk-ins. Reservations are required: 426-2570. For further information, please call Lisa Blackwelder at 834-4404.

By Bernard Roda Cast YOUR BIRTHDAY

Sept. 17, 1995

In the year ahead you could be rather fortunate in fulfilling two of your primary ambitions. Any frustrations you have to contend with will be products of your own impatience.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Those laboring at your side will not be inspired today by an old-fashioned pep talk. Performance speaks louder than words, so set the right example. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In order to advance your self-interests today, you might have to be a bit more assertive than usual. This can be done without being hostile or pushy. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If the stakes aren't high today, you might be careless and ineffective. However, the same won't be true where truly serious issues are concerned. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Important decisions that affect you in personal ways should not be left up to others today. Let your associates know that the final judgment rests with you. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you carefully analyze your basic expenditures today, you should be able to find ways to get greater mileage from the money you spend. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Persons with whom you associate today might feel a tad intimidated by your conduct. Avoid coming on too strong. ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you ask for favors from associates today, they may be granted, but they will have strings attached. Try to handle things on your own instead. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Use your head instead of your checkbook today, especially if you get involved in a new endeavor that requires some seed money. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) The boss won't pay for conversation today, but will for performance. If you're anticipating rewards, stay in motion and keep your mouth shut. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Do not offer suggestions today if they are not explicitly requested, even if you think the wise words you have to offer will be problem solvers.

WIN AT BRIDGE

by Phillip Alder

I know you don't want to hear -- or believe -- this: but bridge is basically an easy game. As long as you and your partner know your bidding system, you will reach the right contract most of the time. And if you count high-card points and suit distributions, you will usually find the winning plays. It is just a matter of application.

To exhibit counting, here is a deal from Hugh Kelsey's excellent book "How to Improve Your Bridge." South reached the ideal contract of six hearts. North, with his working spade honors, judged well to jump to five hearts. After winning the first trick with the diamond king, East switched to a trump. Declarer drew trumps, led a spade to dummy's queen, cashed the spade king and played a spade to his ace, which he said afterwards was the percentage play. When the jack didn't drop, South conceded one down.

There was no need to guess spades; it just required a little detective work. After winning trick two in the dummy, South should ruff a diamond in his hand. A trump to dummy's jack is followed by another diamond ruff. This squeezes East into discarding a club. But suppose South, oblivious to its significance, draws the last trump, discarding a club from the dummy. South cashes his two top clubs, plays a spade to dummy's queen and ruffs a club in hand.

Now the East hand has counted out. He is known to have started with three hearts, two diamonds, four clubs and, therefore, four spades. The spade finesse against the jack has become a certainty.

Phillip Alder's book, "Get Smarter at Bridge," is available.

GARAGE SALE GUIDELINES

1. Anticipate what people want! Children's clothing, dishes, collectibles, tools, books and antiques are the most popular items.
2. Make it convenient to shop at your garage sale! Be sure there is adequate parking space. Post signs with directions to parking area. Make arrangements with neighbors.
3. Make it easy to pay! Have plenty of change and a system for handing. Make sure one person is on duty at all times at a centralized location preferably with a calculator or adding machine.
4. Provide prices. Do not make every person ask, "how much is this?" Prices make for quick, effective sales or a good place for customers to start bargaining.
5. Get an early start. Set up displays the evening before, if possible.
6. Departmentalize. Separate the inexpensive items from the more costly ones. Group furniture, clothing, toys, lawn equipment and other items with similar merchandise.
7. Specialize. Establish one area for "Under $5", another for "Under $1". Consider having a batch of items that are "FREE with purchase of $3". Remember the youngsters, too. Encourage the with small, low-priced items that are appropriate for this purpose.
8. Time your sale carefully! Have it at a time when most people are at home and unconcerned with special events.
9. Combine your effort! Incorporate your sale with a neighbor for more variety and greater impact.
10. Be specific! When advertising your sale in the newspaper, list individual items. Don't simply say, "several items available." Each time you list an item, you are broadening the list of potential customers.
11. Be generous! If you have items left over, give them to a charitable organization. If you see that some items are not moving well during the sale, mark them down during the last hours. Remember, the prime reason for holding the sale is to turn your unwanted items into cash!
