Board Upholds 'Courtesy' Move Skylark Busing To Begin

By JOE ASKREN
Herald Staff Writer

ALAMONTE SPRINGS — Courtesy busing begins Monday for the more than 60 pupils from the Skylark subdivision who were faced with a "dangerous long walk" to their Longwood Elementary School, less than two miles away.

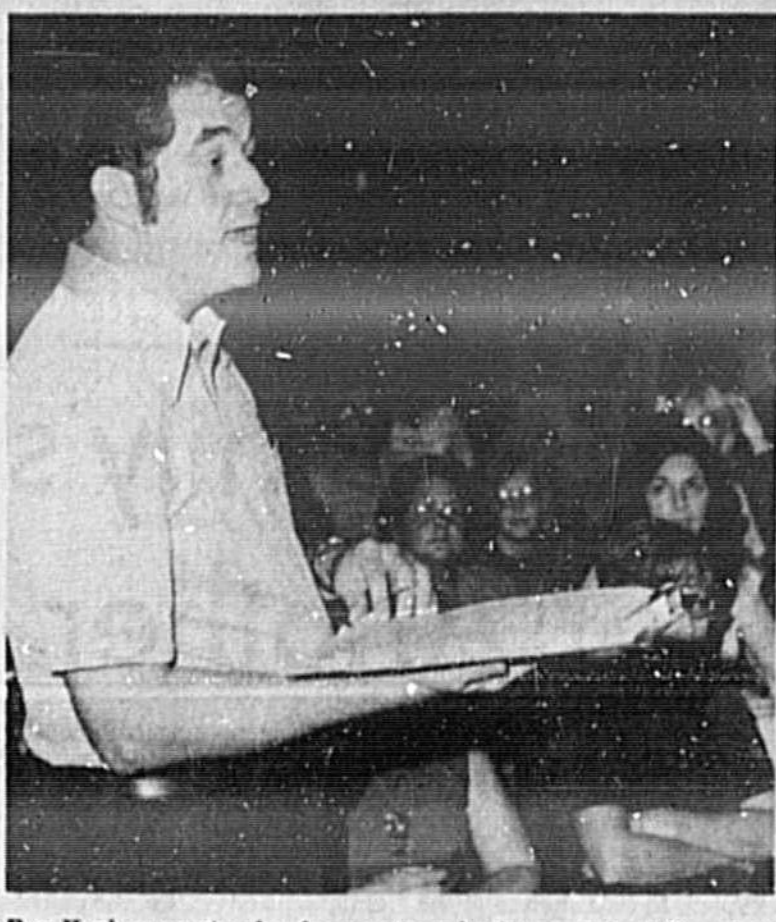

Seminole County School Board members Wednesday night upheld a 3-2 decision made two weeks ago to provide courtesy busing and accused Superintendent William P. "Bud" Laver of using "delaying tactics" in not implementing the service.

Board member Dave Sims said Laver was "entirely out of order" by asking the board to reconsider its earlier action to provide the service as a regular agenda item.

"The board voted two weeks ago for the courtesy busing and it's the superintendent's obligation to implement it on the basis of a double-run, and bus drivers say it can be done, but they've been told to keep it low key and keep their mouth shut," said Sims.

"Sixty-six kids won't throw off the whole county (busing system). You just don't want to do it... I'd rather be home watching television if you're not going to implement our plans," Sims said. The audience applauded.

Neither Board members

Allan Keeth, Pat Telson nor Sims, who voted for the busing service two weeks ago, wanted to reconsider their action. Board attorney Douglas Stenstrom said the action was made for "safety reasons."

Laver, who termed the Skylark request "low priority," said "sometimes we get too emotionally involved."

The school district receives no state funds for courtesy busing of pupils living within a two-mile radius of their school, as with regular busing. Ron Korb, president of the Skylark Homeowners' Association, said the "double run" will cost the county about $750 a year "and not $80 per child."

Both Keeth and Mrs. Telson said they favored Laver's third recommendation, but that the board should provide the service to the Longwood pupils in the meantime.

"Why are we beating this issue to death again?" asked Keeth.

Laver said the administration tried to follow the board's direction, but state law requires the superintendent to first relieve the "overcrowding of (regular) buses and correct some of our existing bus routes."

"That's the reason no action was taken," said Laver.

Board Chairman Robert "Bud" Feather agreed with Mrs. Telson to have the Countywide Advisory Committee come up with criteria for granting future courtesy busing requests at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 15 meeting.

Freeman: Sublease Lets State Off Hook

Crime Lab Payroll Rescued By County Board, Vihlen Says

By ED FRICZETT
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Commissioner rescued a half-million dollar yearly payroll by agreeing to sublease the Sanford Crime Lab, according to Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr.

Though County Attorney Tom Freeman admits the sublease lets "the state off the hook on some agreements," Vihlen said the county can either "share some of the responsibilities" or "get in a sharing match with the state."

At present, the county has a 10-year, $18,000-a-year lease agreement with the Sanford Airport Authority for the structure housing the lab.

However, Freeman said the state can't enter into such an agreement because state law disallows anything more than two years.

"The (state) attorney general will not allow a state agency to do what we have done," Freeman said. The present agreement was entered into before Freeman assumed the county attorney's position.

Earlier this year, crime lab operations were taken over by the state, after federal funding was withdrawn. For a time, it was rumored the lab would close, but the legislature provided necessary funds for the lab's operations.

The crime lab serves 26 counties, and law enforcement officers say it's a necessity for Central Florida crime fighters.

"There is going to be a crime lab in Central Florida," Sheriff John Polk said.

After assurances the lab wouldn't cost the county any money — unless the state reneges, somehow, on its funding policies — commissioners Tuesday approved the sublease negotiated by the commission chairman.

But, approval was not without some reservations.

County Commissioner John Kimbrough felt it was the responsibility of the state or the airport authority to underwrite the lab, not the county.

"The airport authority has bluffed us out," Kimbrough noted. He said the commission could not legally do anything the state couldn't — since the commission, in actuality, is an extension of state government.

Kimbrough said the commission is "just doing the state's job."

If the state pulls funds, Vihlen admitted, "We'll be left holding the bag."

But Polk pointed out the county has the lease agreement, regardless of whether the crime lab is located in Sanford, or not.

Until Tuesday's agreement, Vihlen said no "valid lease" existed, which meant persons were "out there working illegally."

Freeman took exception to that statement, and advised Vihlen not to compromise the county's legal position. "If you're going to disagree," Freeman said of Vihlen's claim of illegality.

At any rate, the sublease has been signed and will be forwarded to Tallahassee for approval.

Until then, officials say state money is paying the $18,000-a-year lease agreement. And, crime lab workers, according to Vihlen, represent a $40,000 payroll to the community.

Bandits In Ski Masks Bind Man, Loot House

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Ski-masked bandits broke into a south Seminole house early today, tied up and robbed a resident and stole a pickup truck to make their getaway.

Sheriff's agents said the burglary-robbery is the sixth by ski-masked bandits in eight months — and the second one this week.

Ricky Smith, 22, told deputies he came home to 2119 Falmouth Road just before midnight and was jumped by two men armed with carjacks as he entered the rear door.

Deputy B.L. Thompson reported Smith was tied up with electrical cords and hauled into a rear bedroom.

The two masked men, dressed in army-type jackets, then continued ransacking the house for 90 minutes, according to Smith, before they escaped by stealing a 1975 silver grey Chevrolet pickup truck parked in the driveway of the residence.

Deputies said the house and truck are owned by Nick Mayback, who was away from home when the incident occurred.

Investigators said the armed bandits took an undisclosed amount of loot from the house.

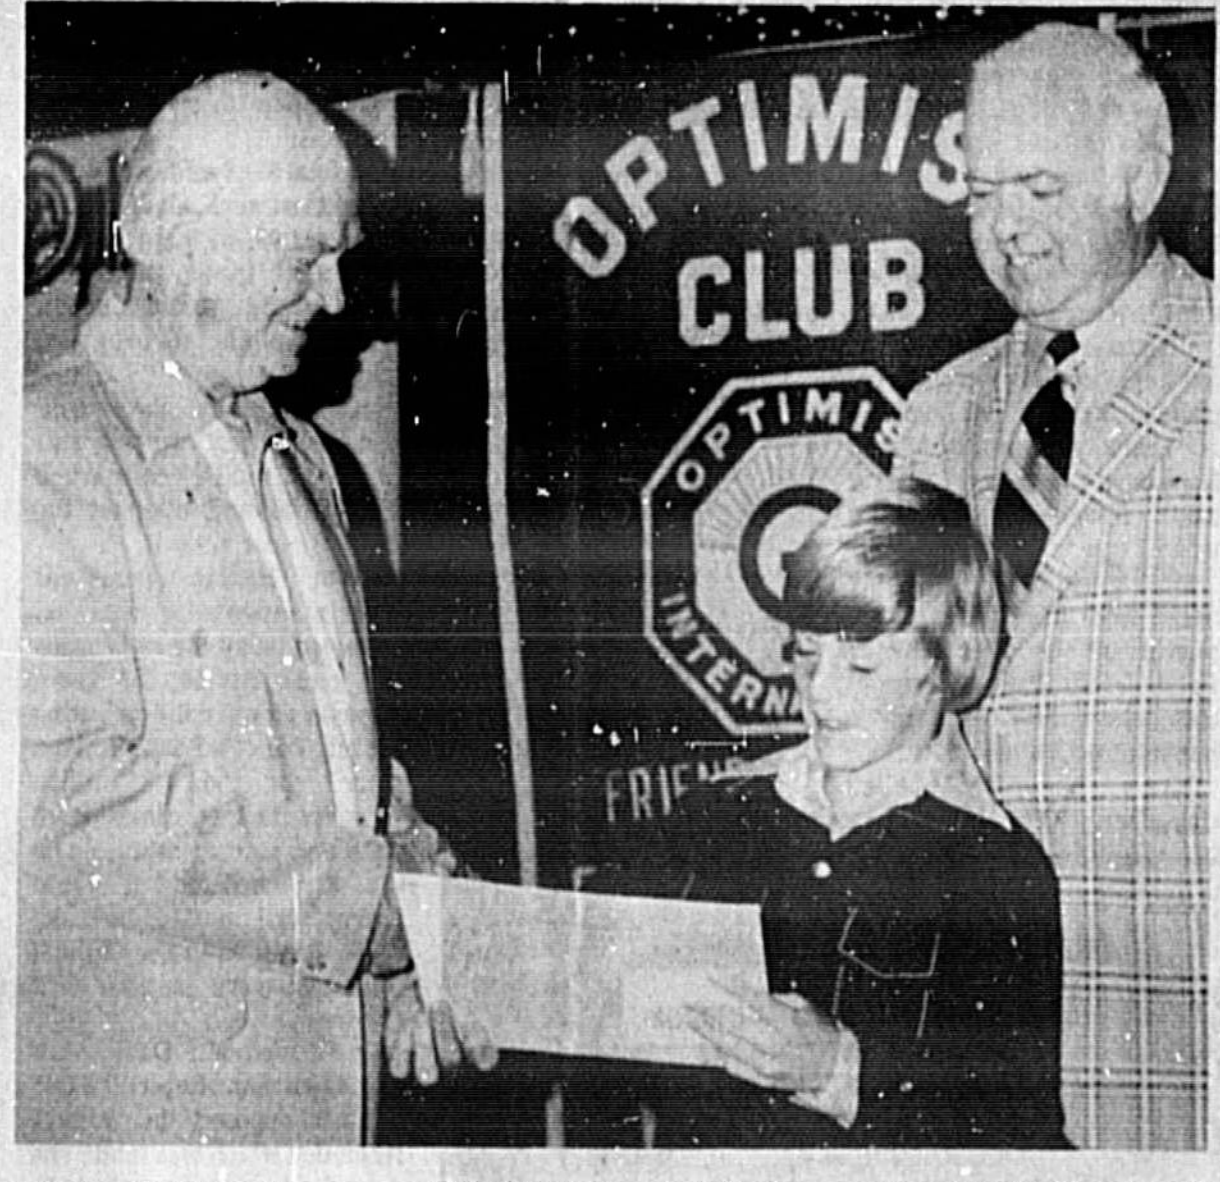

Deputies said included in the items taken were a .45 caliber pistol and 1,000 rounds of ammunition.

Deputies today were searching for the stolen truck. They said the vehicle had mag wheels, a canvas back cover and a personalized license tag bearing the word "Subbath."

Early Sunday three ski-masked men in army-type jackets, armed with shotguns, smashed their way into a house on Hed Bug Road at Lake Howell, tied up and robbed four persons, and escaped in an auto belonging to one of the victims. The auto was later found stuck in sand in an orange grove in south Seminole.

Investigators say robbery-robberies over the last eight months for four vehicles were stolen. In three of the cases the autos were later recovered.

In other reports, deputies said today that apparently thieves who took four mag wheels off two cars at the

Ambulance Rate Increase Studied

A request by Herndon Kimbrough said it "bothers" him that requests are identical for both emergency and non-emergency runs because non-emergency runs are the profit-makers.

Also, Kimbrough has repeatedly asked for information which shows all Herndon ambulances contracted for remain exclusively in Seminole County.

Kaiser is expected to provide that information at the next meeting.

Meanwhile, Herndon officials have asked the commission to raise fees for non-emergency runs from $25 to $30, and for a hike in emergency calls from $30 to $35.

Ellis said this year's contract runs out Oct. 1, that commission action is needed at next Tuesday's meeting.

Commissioner John Kimbrough has surfaced as the most vocal opponent of Herndon's request for higher rates.

At last Tuesday's meeting, Kimbrough told the commission, "If it comes up today, I'll have to vote against it."

The spokesman noted, however, there are times when "emergency transfers" are required.

The spokesman indicated perhaps some disagreement exists over location of the three vehicles.

"Some people don't like the locations. Tell us, and we'll move them," said Herb Perry, a company spokesman.

Ambulances are located in Casselberry, Sanford and the Seminole Goldenrod area.

It's the operations of the Seminole-Goldenrod ambulance that are in question. Perry said county lines "run all over the place" in that area.

He said the company sends the ambulance closest to an emergency.

But, he said the ambulances contracted for in Seminole serve Seminole first.

Herndon cites the rising cost of gasoline and other related items as reasons for the rate hike request.

Baseball Bat Comes In Handy

J. L. Hale has a baseball bat and he used it early today — to hold a burglary suspect at bay.

Sanford police responded at 12:40 a.m. to Hale's 1312 Summerline Ave. home to find the 47-year-old railroad employe holding a Winter Park man for officers.

Hale told police he and two other members of his family were in the house when a window screen was removed and a man entered the dwelling.

Officers reported the alleged burglar pulled out a knife when confronted, but Hale grabbed the bat and chased the man out of the house after the suspect dropped the knife.

"He was forced to drop it by bat-wielding Mr. Hale," Patrolman Steven Harriett reported.

Harriett arrested Edward W. Questionary, 20, of Winter Park, on a charge of breaking and entering a dwelling. Questionary is being held in jail on $3,000 bond.

"The suspect appeared to be under the influence of some type drug and was very uncooperative during the booking process," Harriett said.

Police said two hours later, in a separate incident, Lewis Small, 63, of Park Ave. Trailer Park, heard a noise at his outside utility shed. Small went outside, officers said, to confront an unidentified man. The intruder slashed at Small with a knife and knocked off his glasses, cutting his nose. The man demanded Small's wallet, but the householder didn't have one.

Police said the intruder was last seen running west in the vicinity of Park Ave.

Engineer Asked For Drain Report

LONGWOOD — City council has requested consulting engineer A. E. O'Neill attend a meeting in the next week or so to report on his findings concerning reported drainage problems with water holding ponds in Highland Hills subdivision.

The invitation was extended to the engineer Monday night after Mayor James R. Lormann reported that no real problem exists with the drainage in the subdivision located off E. E. Williamson Road.

District Councilman Gerard Connell some weeks ago asked Lormann to discuss with the county the possibilities of using county equipment to work on the pond. Lormann reported the county heavy equipment wouldn't be available for two weeks.

Lormann said some confusion as to the real problem seems to exist in the subdivision and that digging out the pond would do nothing significant. Lormann said there is some concern in the development about plants placed around the ponds perimeter.

Saying the city shouldn't spend money unwisely, Lormann when asked by Connell if he had contacted the residents of the house next to the holding pond, said even the husband and wife don't agree.

Council Chairman J. R. Grant said O'Neill told him one solution would be to enlarge the pond.

Connell, said at least part of the drainage swails in the development run uphill and are at a higher level than the home, adding O'Neill told him digging out the pond could do nothing but help the situation.

In other action, council authorized City Attorney Ned Julian Jr. to prepare an ordinance to rezone to commercial the dog kennel property off E. E. Williamson Road.

The action was taken after Julian said since no ordinance exists in the public records of the city changing the residential property's zoning from its non-conforming use designation to commercial, the business on the tract could not be expanded nor changed. He added that technically the "non-conforming" status expires when the original owner dies operating the kennel.

Sam Bowman, present operator of the kennel claimed the record of the council meeting in which the property was rezoned to commercial had been lost.

City Clerk Onnie Simate noted the proposed change was legally advertised, but apparently the city council of the period (1972-1980) did not follow through by adopting an ordinance rezoning the parcel.

Julian said since all ordinances of that time are in numerical order, it appears that the property was not rezoned.

"It cannot be assumed, because a change was advertised, that an ordinance was prepared and adopted."

Five Plead Guilty, Get Probationary Sentences

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

Five defendants scheduled for circuit court trials this week before Circuit Judge A.J. Hosemann Jr. have pleaded guilty and have been sentenced to probationary sentences.

Roger D. Robinson, 19, Union Park, and John M. Rousch, 22, 1148 Galahad Dr., Casselberry, pleaded guilty to grand larceny and were handed 18 months probation each. Robinson and Rousch were accused of taking a trailer on Aug. 17 from an orange grove off SR-426 south of SR-46 at Geneva.

Assistant State Atty. Bill Heffernan dropped charges of entering a fruit grove with intent to commit a felony against both men as part of plea negotiations.

Judge Hosemann put Scott Kevin Mills, 18, 186 Willow Ave., Maitland, on 18 months probation after Mills pleaded guilty as charged to felony possession of marijuana.

Donna Ann Miller, 23, 260 Lorraine Dr., Altamonte Springs, pleaded to grand larceny of a television from Rose's Department Store, Brantley Square shopping center, Altamonte Springs, and was meted a three-year probationary sentence.

Kent Harold Brown, 21, of Orlando, was accused of felony possession of marijuana. He pleaded guilty to misdemeanor of the plea negotiations in circuit court.

The drug charge against Brown stemmed from a May traffic arrest by Altamonte Police. Heffernan dropped pending traffic charges against Brown in county court as part of the plea negotiations in circuit court.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Man Charged With Conspiring To Kill President Ford

OCALA (AP) — An unemployed service-station attendant has been arrested on a charge of conspiracy to kill President Ford after first being freed when he held the plan, authorities say.

The spokesman said John Clayton Massey, 32, was arrested Wednesday night at a truckstop near this North Florida town after an all-state alert. Massey was described as a Georgia native but authorities did not specify a hometown.

"He came to the FBI office in Ocala and gave some information about supposed plans of himself and others to hit the President and Sen. (Edward) Kennedy," said Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert Yerkes.

Recovery Slow, Figures Show

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Florida economy is not recovering from the recession as fast as state officials expected last spring, new tax-collection figures show.

The Revenue Department figures released Wednesday on August collections, along with a report that the unemployment rate rose from 10.4 to 11.9 per cent last month, paint a gloomy picture. And state officials are worried.

The sales tax collections — the state's largest source of income — were $59.9 million last month, $346-million less than in August 1974 and the same amount less than the estimate used by the legislature last spring in drawing up the budget.

Child-Snatcher Convicted

MIAMI (AP) — A professional child-snatcher who says he's retrieved some 20 children in custody disputes faces up to five years in prison for assaulting the mother of a child he was trying to grab for the father.

Eugene Austin, 56, of Foley, Mo., was convicted Wednesday by a circuit court jury of four women and two men. Judge Thomas Testa set sentencing for Oct. 28.

Austin, who describes himself as a "custody vigilante," said he fights for the civil rights of divorced men he believes have been taken advantage of in child-custody cases.

Attorney: Bell Bid Too High

PALM BEACH GARDENS (AP) — A federal attorney says evidence so far shows that Southern Bell Telephone Co.'s request for rate hikes totaling $218.5 million is too high.

Troiano Conviction Brings Move Herring, Staff Reviewing Vehicle Inspection Charges

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

State Atty. Abbott Herring and investigators are reviewing allegations of irregularities, improper procedures and misconduct in the operation of Seminole County Motor Vehicle Inspection (MVI) stations.

Herring said today the review of sworn testimony taken by defense attorney George Sprinkel in connection with the bribery trial of MVI inspector Anthony C. Troiano will take several days. Then, Herring said, "if we find something that warrants it, we'll start an investigation."

Following conviction of his client for accepting a $5 bribe to pass a defective auto and issue a safety inspection sticker, Sprinkel said he would seek grand jury probes into both the allegations about the MVI station operations and the use by sheriff's agents of a convicted felon in the bribery case.

Sprinkel took his complaints to Herring Tuesday and Herring later said that he (Herring) "can't criticize the Sheriff's Department for using Jerry Swartz."

There was an outstanding warrant for Swartz' arrest when he drove Sheriff John Polk's secretary's auto through the Casselberry MVI station.

Swartz, already convicted of felonies, including shipment of arms to Israel, testified that he gave inspector Anthony Troiano a $5 bribe.

Swartz, spotlighted in an extensive consumer fraud investigation by Herring's office, is now serving a prison sentence for uttering a document with the forged signature of a County Deputy Tax Collector and a home-made rubber stamp impression of the Tax Collector's name.

The former Fern Park used car dealer has admitted being an informant in criminal investigations for a number of federal, state and local law enforcement agencies.

Herring said he and Chief Investigator Jack H. Palm-wider will review depositions taken by Sprinkel from MVI employees during the Troiano case.

"I can't criticize the use of Swartz. I would have done it myself," Herring said. He noted that Swartz wasn't used alone and that Polk's secretary, Miss Margie Parker, accompanied Swartz and that "the jury evidently believed them both."

"The prosecution can't manufacture witnesses. We have to use those that law enforcement agencies come up with," Herring continued.

Herring said he and Chief Investigator Jack H. Palm-wider will review depositions taken by Sprinkel from MVI employees during the Troiano case.

The depositions, part of the public court record in the Troiano case, include allegations that:

- Persons in charge of the county-operated MVI stations have, on occasions, instructed inspectors to issue safety stickers for autos with defective equipment brought through the inspection station by auto dealers.
- When auto owners "raised a little Cain" about their vehicles flunking the safety inspection that stickers were ordered issued for the cars.
- MVI employees were "pressured by the boss" because "he doesn't want a lot of cars rejected." The reason given by the witness when asked "why?" was "because the Highway Patrol gives us a bad time and the equipment looks bad."
- MVI employees are over-worked and in some cases have had to later call owners whose autos were checked and tell them of defects that the inspector had "forgotten" in the rush.
- Supervisory personnel have been "unfair at times when dealing with employees."

The Price Of Peace Is Worth The Cost

Cast in one frame of reference, $3 billion is an enormous amount of money. Cast in another it is trifling.

Like all of the products of human skills and energies, money cannot be considered in isolation. We must look at it in terms of how it meets our aspirations and advances us toward our goals.

This, we believe, is the frame of reference that Americans must use as they consider whether Congress should appropriate $3 billion to help lubricate the fragile Middle East agreement which was negotiated during Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's last shuttle diplomacy.

The problem before Congress, like the problem before American people is the great difficulty of comparing a very tangible $3 billion with the intangible we call the pursuit of peace. Given an iron-clad assurance of peace, most Americans probably would be happy to spend more than that princely sum, but the guarantee is no more than the fact that a military separation of forces between Israel and Egypt will continue, that the momentum for continuing peace efforts has been preserved and that some time to negotiate has been gained.

In diplomatic terms, these are enormous strides, but it might be helpful if Americans consider some more readily measurable aspects of the agreement.

As Secretary of State Henry Kissinger reminded us recently, the $3 billion he requests from Congress in assistance to Egypt and Israel is only a "few hundred million dollars more" than we would have given the two countries in assistance anyway - without any agreement at all.

In purely materialistic and pragmatic terms, the several hundred million dollars is probably about the price of a major military alert of the kind staged by the United States of America in 1973 when the Russians threatened to intervene in the Yom Kippur War - and certainly not much less than the cost of the massive U. S. airlift of arms to Israel during that same period. If assistance now prevents a repetition of either of these episodes, the economic aid is well worth the investment.

However, we cannot look at our investment in the Middle East in only such crass terms. The United States is the leader of the non-Communist world. Our diplomacy in the Middle East has been widely hailed throughout the world as having exhibited our leadership by giving Israel and Egypt a chance to work out their differences in the sunlight - out from under the shadow of the Soviet pressures and ambitions.

Nobody could put an exact price on the value of American leadership, strength and credibility, but surely the few hundred million, or even the $3 billion that is needed in the Middle East to burnish it, is a bargain basement value.

Chinese Checkers

Fourteen U.S. mayors are threatening to cancel a trip to mainland China because the Peking government will not permit the entry of one member of their group - the mayor of San Juan, Puerto Rico. The Chinese Communists take the line that Puerto Rico is a "colony" needing to be liberated, and are supporting the tiny but vocal independence movement on the island even as the majority of Puerto Ricans have voted to continue their U. S. ties.

The chief of the Chinese mission in Washington, Hung Chen, is responsible for nursing along the new policy of detente which has opened the way for Americans to visit the mainland. He needs to get word back to Peking that his government is raising roadblocks if it tries to score propaganda points by linking entry visas with political controversies like the one in Puerto Rico.

Are you a former member of the Seabees? If so, you're invited to attend a meeting of the newly formed Seabee Island X-4 on Saturday, Sept. 27.

This meeting will be held at the Chief Petty Officer's (CPO) Club at the Naval Training Center, Orlando, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

All Seabee veterans of World War II, The Korean Conflict and Vietnam-post-Vietnam eras are invited to join the organization.

Are you still awaiting a refund from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS)?

According to the district office of IRS, some 8,361 taxpayers have undelivered refund checks totaling $1 million waiting for them at the IRS.

Any Florida taxpayer who has not yet received his refund should call or visit his local IRS office as soon as possible, according to Charles O. DeWitt, IRS district director for Florida.

The most common reason for an undelivered check, according to DeWitt, is that the taxpayer has moved and left no forwarding address with the U.S. Postal Service.

In cases where the taxpayer suspects his check may have been lost or stolen, DeWitt urges the person to get in touch with the IRS office as soon as possible so that the IRS can put a tracer on the missing check.

Some refunds may have been delayed because of errors or omissions on tax returns, DeWitt says, and taxpayers affected should follow instructions received from IRS in order to speed up issuance of these checks.

All refund inquiries should be prepared to provide the name - address, actual name and address if different than it appeared on the return - social security numbers and the type of form filed.

And remember this: All undelivered refund checks will be cancelled after Oct. 1, according to DeWitt.

Any taxpayers in this area who have not received their return should contact the IRS office at Orlando (telephone 896-0331) or Jacksonville (354-1760). Persons living in the 305 area code number may dial toll-free for further information.

RAY CROMLEY Taxpayers Supporting Businesses

A survey of private and official research on the regulatory agencies makes clear what has made President Ford hopping mad on the subject.

Harassed by inflation and unemployment that won't go away, Mr. Ford can make no sense out of agencies, set up to help the citizen but which actually encourage inefficiency and discourage competition, inhibiting the adoption of new technology on which lower prices and higher employment depend. Not to mention that this country will, in the long pull, go down the drain technologically unless we match our competitors in West Germany, Japan and elsewhere.

What these studies say is clear.

Discarding the new techniques comes from the delays regulatory agencies seem to delight in, months spent nitpicking over procedures and the form in which the regulated companies make their reports and their petitions.

Commissioners are, on the whole, more interested in form than in substance. Primarily, one report indicates, because they're afraid to attack the real issues. For such attacks would split the commissions straight down the middle and lead to clashes most commissioners seem to dread.

Despite this caution, in most cases as it deepens, the commissioners indirectly sneak in ideology through seemingly innocuous rules and regulations.

In most of the unhappy cases, the adoption of new technology is made impractical or exceedingly difficult by the rulings of commission members who indirectly thus inject personal economic and social prejudices into their divisions - prejudices frequently hidden by the secrecy of crucial steps in the proceedings and by a censorship which often prevents disclosing who voted for or against what. These are classic instances of authority without responsibility.

A Brookings Institution staff paper some time back noted this all too common obsession:

"Regulatory agencies... use minimum price regulation to prevent low-cost industries or firms from capturing business from high-cost actual or potential competitors... (these agencies) have delayed or prevented a number of technological changes that threatened either to shift substantial business from one regulated firm or industry to another or to result in substantially less profit for regulated firms generally..."

The Brookings study sums this up by noting, "No matter how beneficial an innovation, it has little chance of timely adoption in a regulated industry if it will lead to a substantial redistribution of wealth among the regulated that cannot be compensated through some clever regulatory device."

Under the noses of the advancing communists, he hauled out uncrated electronic equipment on barges and flew out South Vietnamese planes. He saved the United States hundreds of millions of dollars.

Now von Marbod has been sent to Iran, as Defense Secretary James Schlesinger's personal representative, to work a new miracle.

The problem has been created by the Shah, who has squandered his oil billions on modern weapons faster than his armed forces can assimilate them. In the past two years, he has ordered a staggering $6.4 billion worth of military hardware from the U.S.

Letters To The Editor

Cutting Red Tape

The U.S. News and World Report of Sept. 20, reports the "latest idea against runaway government red tape."

The idea is to give Congress 90 days to veto any regulations promulgated by a federal agency before they take effect. Such a check on the bureaucracy has strong bipartisan support in both the House and Senate.

If this were amended to read no rule or regulation promulgated by a federal agency shall have any force or effect unless given Congressional approval within 90 days, this would accent the positive.

Not since the signing of the Declaration of Independence has such a God-given opportunity been given the citizens to check the headlong drive toward bureaucratic socialism and put back into the hands of the people's representatives in Congress the power to make the laws they will live under.

If they will not seize this opportunity and write their senators and representatives to take back into their hands the power to make laws, as was intended in our Constitution.

Name Withheld on Request

The list of federal agencies that bind you to their will with the red tape of bureaucratic rules and regulations is endless.

Now is the time for all who would stop this slide into bureaucratic socialism and be governed by their elected representatives - not by appointed bureaucrats.

DON OAKLEY Raising The Price On Ties

Greeting card publishers, purporting to act on behalf of all customers of the U.S. Postal Service, have filed suit in U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C. to overturn recent Postal Rate Commission rulings that will allow a 30-per cent increase in the cost of a first-class stamp by year's end - from 10 cents to 13 cents.

"We are asking the appeals court to prevent this unreasonable hike in the cost of first-class postage, which further interferes with an individual's right to communicate," says Robert H. Busler, president of the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers. "We do so not only for our own industry, whose products account for only 10 per cent of first-class mail usage, but for the millions of ordinary Americans who buy first-class stamps but have no organization or means of protesting."

While greeting cards may account for only 10 per cent of all first-class mail, they account for 100 per cent of the greeting card business. Since most cards are mailed, a 30 per cent rise in the cost of postage will result in a steady decline in card sales, the industry fears.

As Busler puts it: "These are the little ties that bind families and friends together across our continent. Every penny increase in the cost of mailing a personal note cuts back dramatically on the inclination - and the ability - of some folks to keep those ties alive."

One hopes the fear is exaggerated. After all, in a few short years Americans have witnessed not only postage stamps more than double but the cost of the average card more than triple. People seem to have learned to live with both changes.

Still, there may be a limit to what the public will absorb. Already, there are complaints in Washington that first-class postage will go as high as 25 cents within two years.

Back in the days when you could mail a card for four cents in an unsealed envelope, the cry was all for efficiency in the Post Office. Editorial writers regularly lambasted the department's annual deficits and demanded that it "pay its own way." Today, for all the increases in postal rates and cutbacks in service, the supposedly revamped Postal Service still can't operate without federal subsidies.

It's rough on all of us, greeting card publishers and unorganized taxpayers included, who communicate alike.

New regulations issued by the Federal Reserve System, to be effective Oct. 28, give credit card holders some much needed protection against the unscrupulous computer and its equally fallible human masters.

For instance, if a customer discovers an error in a credit card billing or other kind of open-end credit, such as a checking account loan, he will have 60 days to notify the lender. The lender in turn must correct the error in 90 days or forfeit the amount in question.

The file included a Sept. 11, 1973, memo about a column we had written. "The subject article," it states the memo, "indicated that Jack Anderson was in possession of classified Justice Department documents." The rest of the memo, including the name of the official who wrote it, was blotted out.

THEU'S TRIP - The real reason South Vietnam's deposed President Nguyen Van Thieu has applied for a visa to visit Britain, according to diplomatic sources, is to settle there. He, therefore, has reached an understanding with the British that his six-month visit will be considered "open ended."

He would prefer to live in the United States, but U.S. diplomats have talked him out of it. His arrival, they warned him, might touch off demonstrations. So he is now planning to reside in Britain where his son attends school.

Miracle Strip Damage At $150-Million

PANAMA CITY BEACH, Fla. (AP) - The Miracle Strip (a sparkling white-sand play-ground for thousands of sun-burned tourists, may never be the same.

The Miracle Strip undoubtedly will be reconstructed. But the painful lessons of Hurricane Eloise will most likely force re-evaluation of the devastated model far away from the sugary-white sand dunes.

Gov. Reubin Askew and other officials called Wednesday for safeguards to prevent a repetition of the ravages of Hurricane Eloise, which devastated beachside motels, amusement areas and cottages.

After touring the 10-mile-wide path of destruction from Fort Walton Beach to Panama City, Askew said he would ask President Ford to declare it a disaster area, bringing in federal aid.

Miracle Strip Damage At $150-Million

Harmon Shields, state director of Natural Resources, said $150 million in damages would be a conservative guess. Insurance Commissioner Philip Ashler put it at $200 million.

Askew said some of the damaged or destroyed buildings were built too close to the beach.

"I think we're going to have to take a long, close look at some of the construction," he said.

"Some of those structures simply won't be able to be built back in the exact location they were," the governor added at a late-afternoon conference in Tallahassee.

Storm Gladys Born; Faye Recovering

MIAMI (AP) - Gladys, the season's seventh tropical storm, was born in the Atlantic Ocean as the former Faye, downgraded to depression status, slowly regained strength.

Gladys was midway between the Lesser Antilles and the Cape Verde Islands late Wednesday and passed on toward the land several days, the National Hurricane Center said. Winds were estimated at 50 miles per hour.

At midmorning, the storm was located far out in the mid-Atlantic about 1,150 miles east of the Lesser Antilles at latitude 15.0 north and longitude 42.5 west. Gladys was moving northwesterly at about 10 m.p.h.

Meanwhile, forecasters said that former tropical storm Faye was gaining wind speed and could soon be upgraded from depression rank.

The depression was located about 800 miles south-southeast of Bermuda and was moving northwest about 10 m.p.h.

Winds were described as close to the tropical-storm strength of 39 m.p.h.

"I think we're going to have to take a long, close look at some of the construction," he said.

NATION IN BRIEF

Nixon Pressed On Two Fronts

To Testify About Spying

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Richard M. Nixon faces mounting pressure on two fronts for his testimony about intelligence activities undertaken while he was in the Oval Office.

In separate actions Wednesday, the former president received an invitation to testify—and the threat of a subpoena if he refuses—from a Senate committee, and was directed by a federal judge to answer questions under oath in a civil suit.

The Senate Intelligence Committee voted unanimously to invite Nixon's testimony on a broad and illegal plan for surveillance of domestic dissidents which the former president approved but later halted.

Manson, Sara Jane Recalled

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Sara Jane Kahn and Charles Manson bought a lot of candy from Van Watson when they were children.

Sara Jane was a serious pupil, but Manson "liked to play a little booky," says Watson.

Sara Jane, now Sara Jane Moore, is in jail charged with trying to kill President Ford. Manson is serving life in prison for the 1969 murder of actress Sharon Tate and six others.

And one of Manson's followers, Lynette Fromme, also is charged with trying to kill the President, in a separate incident.

Patty, SLA Pals Separated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With her Symbolist Liberation Army cohorts moved to another jail, Patricia Hearst finally was separated today from all remnants of the tiny band of terrorists that kidnaped her 19 months ago.

The newspaper heiress remained in a nearby county jail while William and Emily Harris, her fugitive comrades during much of the period since her kidnaping Feb. 4, 1974, were in Los Angeles, awaiting arraignment on 18 state felony counts.

Panel Plans Hearings On CIA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate intelligence committee hearings have raised the issue of whether the CIA is above the law because it is a secret intelligence agency.

The panel also plans public hearings next month on the CIA's mail-opening program following the disclosure Wednesday that the agency opened the mail of some prominent Americans, including a letter to Richard M. Nixon before he became president.

Moore: Frustrated, Alone

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sara Jane Moore says she acted alone and was driven by personal rage and frustration when she fired a shot at President Ford.

In a Los Angeles Times interview, the first since the attempted assassination Monday in San Francisco, Mrs. Moore said, "It was a kind of ultimate protest against the system."

Court Decision Cited Zone Laws Said Thrown Out

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — The U.S. Supreme Court, in a landmark decision concerning the State of New Jersey, this past summer ruled that governmental bodies cannot regulate the size of residential structures via zoning laws, planner Don Johnston told city officials here Wednesday night.

Ms. Johnston said the governmental units can regulate lot size, but not residential structure size, according to the decision.

Asked what this would mean to the zoning laws in the area, most of which set sizes of residential structures of part of the zoning laws, Ms. Johnston predicted the governmental bodies will continue with their laws until someone challenges them in the courts.

Mayor James Lorman in turn predicted there will be a number of court cases filed locally.

As for schools in the community, Councilman H.A. Scott said, "We've got schools running out of our ears," and that the municipality needs a community building.

Ms. Johnston said the trend in many small communities is to use school facilities, rather than constructing new community buildings.

BPW, SISTER Pool Efforts Transport Is Clubs' Goal

Every year around this time, little girls in the Sanford area get all prettied up for the annual Little Miss BPW Contest, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) of Sanford.

The purpose of the contest is to raise money for the BPW's civic projects—but as far as the 5- to 7-year-old girls in the area are concerned, it's a good excuse to have a lot of fun and perhaps win the Miss BPW crown and a chance to ride in Sanford's annual Christmas parade.

The contest is scheduled for Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. Thirty contestants will be competing for the title and additional entertainment will be supplied by the Sanford-Seminole Ballet Guild dancers. Emcee for the event will be Sen. Lori Wilson (1-Merritt Island).

The public is invited to attend the contest (children under 12 are admitted free) and later to toast the queen with punch and cookies.

The BPW's chief project is raising money for the County's Dental Clinic and over the years, several valuable pieces of equipment have been purchased for the clinic by the BPW.

This year, the BPW plans to concentrate its efforts on obtaining some form of public transportation for the Sanford area, according to club president, Nora Gordon. "We want to use our 'womanpower' and our money to do something about the public transportation problem," said Mrs. Gordon. "We have a population of 10,000 people in Sanford and we need it (transportation), so we should get together and motivate someone to do something about it."

Other officers in the BPW this year are Laura Jo Garrett, first vice president; Myrtle Gradick, second vice president; June Foley, third vice president; Margaret Ganas, recording secretary and Joanne Herringshaw, treasurer.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, formed in 1921, was the first organization in the world created to promote the interests of business and professional women.

Its objectives are to elevate the standards for women in business and the professions; to promote these women's interests; to bring about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women of the U.S. and to extend opportunities to these women through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

Gardener Shouldn't Grow 'Grass'

DEAR ABBY: I love to grow plants. About a year ago, someone gave me some marijuana seeds, and I planted them. Well, they thrived and are really beautiful.

I have never smoked marijuana, and I don't plan to. I know it's against the law to grow it, but would like to know what the fine would be if I were caught.

Please answer in your column for obvious reasons.

DEAR NO NAME: Arthur Groman, a top-notch California attorney, says that you would be charged with "possessing marijuana," and the penalty would vary, depending upon the quantity of marijuana found in your possession.

He suggests you destroy the marijuana and I planted them. Well, they thrived and are really beautiful.

Evening Herald, Sanford, FL Thursday, Sept. 25, 1975-7A

In Sanford, the BPW has sponsored an offshoot club, SISTER Inc. (Sanford's Interested Sarahs to Encourage Rejuvenation). As the name implies, SISTER's objective is specifically to rejuvenate the downtown Sanford area.

The group's first project in 1968 involved a downtown "cleanup" — with members and many willing assistants literally scrubbing sidewalks and buildings clean.

SISTER really came into its own, however, when the Sanford City Commission voted to close the old Sanford Zoo by October, 1971. The group determined to save the 50-year-old zoo, gathering petitions and organizing fund raising events. One of their members, Val Colbert, was named vice president of the fledgling Zoological Society and many other SISTERs became trustees.

"It took us six years to save the zoo," said Nora Gordon, who this year is president of SISTER as well as the BPW Club. "It's on its feet now and can make it alone, so it's time for SISTER to move on to something new."

Today, the SISTERs will present a $3,000 check to Zoological Society Director Al Rozen, the amount the organization had pledged to the zoo for 1975. They start making plans for their new project.

"What we will probably do," said Mrs. Gordon, "is join with the BPW and any other interested groups to see some public transportation brought to Sanford. I only hope that's not going to take six years to accomplish the way the zoo did."

Other SISTER officers are: Irene Laney, first vice president; Janice Springfield, second vice president; Vivienne Swarney, third vice president; Margaret Ganas, corresponding secretary; Margie Smith, recording secretary and Myrtle Gradick, treasurer.

Evangelism through musical drama, is the goal of the Agape Players, a group of college students from across the nation, who will present a program of music with a patriotic theme in the Sanford Civic Center tonight at 7:30 p.m.

There is no charge for the concert. A love offering will be taken.

Internationally renowned, the Agape Players will present the program, "Sights and Sounds of America" to Sanford audiences. This musical drama portrays the country's development from the first Thanksgiving onwards.

The group uses colorful costumes and their own musical arrangements to take a close look at America's heritage. Their purpose is to use song, dance, and drama to convince modern day Americans to return to the faith of their forefathers.

Concerted with the moral and religious collapse of such a great proportion of the nation, the Agape Players hope to inspire their audiences to a better way of life. "Sights and Sounds" presents a meaningful alternative course to Americans, according to the Agape Players.

The group is beginning its sixth year of national and international touring. The Agape Players now number about 90 persons, and have their headquarters in Orlando.

City Lease Negotiations Spark Move

Connell Off Police Panel; To Oversee Sewer Operation

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Council Chairman J.R. Grant has removed Councilman Gerard Connell from the council's police department committee, naming Connell instead to a one-man committee in charge of the city sewer package plant.

Grant took the action after Connell urged that the city reopen negotiations with Longwood Utilities Inc. on the possibility of the city leasing the sewer package plant and operating it to save money for customers in four city subdivisions.

Connell, before colleagues granted the privately-owned utility company a rate increase from $4.50 monthly to $7.50 to homeowners served, urged that a lease arrangement be considered.

Armand Blair of the utility company last week hinted that the firm will be back requesting another rate increase in January, when a new Department of Pollution Control regulation requiring Class C sewer plant operators to be on the job seven days a week at plants, goes into effect.

When Connell broached the lease idea last week, Blair asked that the rate increase be considered first, adding he could not speak for the firm's principals on the lease idea. He said the land developers, who own the firm, have no desire to be in the sewer business on a permanent basis.

Longwood Utilities Inc. originally requested an increase to $9.50 monthly. Councilman Don Schreiner was not present for the meeting when the rate of $7.50 monthly was approved and Connell voted against the rate increase.

Under the Connell plan, the company would provide repair and replacement of major items at the plant while the city would provide billing for city personnel and maintenance via a federally-funded Comprehensive Education and Training Act (CETA) sewer plant operator.

The billing would be charged to the company at the rate of 20 cents per bill.

Connell displayed charts of several plans for the city to aid in keeping the Longwood Utilities Inc. sewer rates down for residents in Sandalwood, Highland Hills, Longwood Groves and Shadow Hill subdivisions off E.E. Williamson Road.

Council member June Lormann said the charts "made us look foolish." Grant criticized Connell's recommendations, saying they required the city to do all the work and that it costs the city more than 20 cents each to bill customers for utility service.

During budget hearings, Connell noted that billing costs for customers of the city owned Skylark package sewer plant were not included in the budget and was told the sewer charge is placed on the water bill and costs nothing additional.

"I hear nothing out of him except the people out in Skylark," Grant said. City Clerk Onnie R. Shomate added, "I'm not putting all that about Longwood Utilities in the minutes."

Grant told Connell he expects a recommendation at next week's meeting on the sewer rate which should be charged. Current rate is $4.50 monthly. Connell said he has asked Skylark homeowners Association President Ron Korb if he may attend a meeting of the association to talk over the rates.

Latest NFL Contract Offer Suffers Big Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only two of the 26 teams have cast their votes thus far, but it appears the National Football League players are on the verge of throwing management's latest contract offer for a tremendous loss.

And once again the threat of more player unrest looms ever larger in a contract dispute which has been going on for nearly 20 months. Despite the negative reaction to the offer, though, the chances of another players' strike appear slim.

On Wednesday, the Houston Oilers voted early and unanimously to reject the latest proposal by the NFL Management Council, the owners' bargaining arm. And the Buffalo Bills issued a 42-1 vote in opposition.

The offer submitted last Monday in a meeting in Chicago between the NFLMC and NFL Players Association was termed by the owners "our best shot." But the NFLPA simply passed it on to its union members without a recommendation — and there were reliable reports that Kermit Alexander, president of the union, and the rest of the NFLPA leaders were almost wholly against it.

The union leaders had said Tuesday, when the talks broke off, that the teams would probably start voting today.

But the Oilers and Bills, clubs which refused to join last week's five-team walkout triggered by the New England Patriots, got the jump on the other 24 teams — and it appeared they were setting the tone for the voting.

Spokesmen for several other teams expressed their opinions that, when their ballots were counted today, the votes against the owners' offer would be similarly overwhelming.

Although there are nearly 1,200 active players in the league, the only ones voting will be the members of the union, the 950 or so who have paid their dues or pledged to do so. The verdict will be determined by a simple majority.

And if that verdict is to reject — as it appears almost certain — the next step will be up to the players. They'll have to decide whether to strike for a third time in 14 months, try to negotiate again or continue to play without a contract as they've done since Feb. 1, 1974.

Ed Garvey, the executive director of the union, has indicated Monday's four-year offer would have been acceptable based on the main economic items such as insurance benefits and pensions. The players' pension fund, by the way, is in danger of going broke if a new contract isn't signed this year.

But it was seven so-called non-economic items which continued the stalemate. They are the Rozelle Rule, impartial arbitration of grievances, representation on the retirement board, squad size, an agency shop, preseason pay and bargaining changes in the league's constitution and by-laws.

If more negotiations are held, it has been learned that management would begin talking with an offer not as good as the one now being voted on.

AL Orioles Need Help

Indians Hold Pennant Key

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Robinson and Boog Powell are with the Cleveland Indians now, but they could be key factors again in helping the Baltimore Orioles win an American League division title.

Battling the odds and the elements, Baltimore crushed the Detroit Tigers 8-1 Wednesday before rain forced postponement of a scheduled second game, pulling the Orioles to within 3½ games of first-place Boston in the Eastern Division.

The Red Sox, whose twinnight in New York was washed out, return home to open a four-game series tonight against Cleveland while the Orioles take on the hapless Tigers in a twin bill.

"I hope Booger's hot," Baltimore outfielder Paul Blair said of his former slugging teammate, who has whacked 26 homers for the Indians after being dealt away by the Orioles last winter.

And, the way Blair figures it, Cleveland's chances of finishing third in Robinson's inaugural season as manager might also help give Boston weekend fits while the Orioles are playing four games in New York.

"If we beat New York and the Indians beat Boston, Cleveland could wind up third," Blair said. "That would be a feather in Frank's cap and show what kind of job he's done. I think Frank's really going to help us out."

There's little doubt that the Orioles, with seven games remaining to Boston's six, need more on Sunday anyway.

If the games are needed, Boston would play its makeup doubleheader in New York Monday and the Orioles would entertain the Chicago White Sox in a single game.

Both will now face the Orioles, although Hunter undoubtedly would have opposed Boston on Sunday anyway.

Tom Seaver Loses Bid For No-Hitter In Ninth

CHICAGO (AP) — The New York Mets' Tom Seaver has been to the trough three times now. He's still coming up dry, and is as melancholy as ever.

Seaver's latest bid to join hurlers of no-hit fame was shattered Wednesday by a rookie sub for the Chicago Cubs whose name Seaver never even heard of before.

Joe Wallis, nicknamed "Tarzan" for his daredevil pastime of diving into water off cliffs, slapped a Seaver delivery for a clean base hit in the ninth inning of a game the Cubs eventually won 1-0 in the 11th.

There were two outs and an 0-2 count on Wallis at the time. It was the closest any Met pitcher has ever come to savoring no-hit sweetness and the third time Seaver has gone to the ninth with a no-hitter. It spoiled what would have been a story-book climax to a splendid comeback season by the Met right-hander.

"It was a desperation swing," said the 29-year-old Wallis, who was filling in for the flustered Jerry Morales, the Cubs' regular right fielder. "He fooled me with two fast balls and I was looking for another one."

Football's Fickle—Just Like A Lady

Football can be a very fickle lady. She's a lot like the girl with kaleidoscope eyes... so much to see, and it all depends on the mood she's in.

After two weeks of the high school season, Seminole and Lake Brantley have been peering into the right end of the spectrum. They've seen the green, red and blue tones of not great, either. And if Mark victory every time Oriedo, Whigham can beat his head against a wall for not completing every pass he throws, because the wind says it's a candle when I miss a pick.

Coaches must love it when a sports writer picks them to lose. Ever wonder how many games are won and lost on the bulletin board to throw to our receivers. Who do we play next week? That's the cry baby, using every advantage before going out and winning.

The dresser might know down deep that he can't win the big game, but refuses to admit it for fear his players will completely abandon ship before kickoff. They put on their pants one leg at a time, too," he says, not mentioning that the other team all wears pants double-x size.

There are too few realists in the coaching profession. Whatever psychology a coach uses during the week in practice, most of the players know after a few plays that they either can or can't win. That's not will or won't. But "can" opens a mental avenue worth traveling.

Likewise, there are similar factors in picking winners.

Take this week's schedule. Gainesville at Lake Brantley, Gainesville is 1-1. Forty points better than Seabreeze and six worse than Deland. The onemighty Hurricanes are no longer impregnable. On the other hand, they figure to have enough experience and savvy to lay low upstart Lake Brantley, even if the game is in Forest City.

Call it a gut feeling or whatever, but I can't dismiss the idea Lake Brantley is off very much in the ball game. Off week last weekend, and home field advantages. Good good call for an upset, right? Only problem with going for upsets is the percentage factor. And in picking percentage is everything. The same as the game being staged for purpose of winning.

Information like that the mother of Spruce Creek coach Bud Asher passed away and he missed three day practices this week only makes Seminole a bigger victory.

The fine line comes in when picking tossups. Lyman and Colonial come close to this.

New York, Denver Apply For Admission

ABA's Nets, Nuggets Want In NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Nets and Denver Nuggets, the most attractive teams in the American Basketball Association, are applying for admission to the more established National Basketball Association in moves that could seriously damage the ABA's future.

The Associated Press learned the developments Wednesday. Sources high in both leagues said the NBA hierarchy is aware of and approves of the moves which are designed to bring the Nets and Nuggets into the league as expansion franchises in 1976.

The moves, if successful, would strike a serious blow at the ABA when it is beginning to challenge the NBA on most fronts.

Sources said the deal is far from complete. The NBA owners have not approved it. The court suits — charging violation of the antitrust laws — have not been resolved.

City Lease Negotiations Spark Move

Connell Off Police Panel; To Oversee Sewer Operation

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Council Chairman J.R. Grant has removed Councilman Gerard Connell from the council's police department committee, naming Connell instead to a one-man committee in charge of the Skylark sewer package plan.

Grant took the action after Connell urged that the city reopen negotiations with Longwood Utilities Inc. on the possibility of the city leasing the sewer package plant and operating it to save money for customers in four city subdivisions.

Connell, before colleagues granted the privately-owned utility company a rate increase from $4.50 monthly to $7.50 to homeowners served, urged that a lease arrangement be considered first, adding he could not speak for the firm's principals on the lease idea. He said the land developers, who own the firm, have no desire to be in the sewer business on a permanent basis.

Longwood Utilities Inc. originally requested an increase to $9.50 monthly. Councilman Don Schreiner was not present for the meeting when the rate of $7.50 monthly was approved and Connell voted against the rate increase. Under the Connell plan, the company would provide repair and replacement of major items at the plant while the city would provide billing by city personnel and maintenance via a federally-funded Comprehensive Education and Training Act (CETA) sewer plant operator.

The billing would be charged to the company at the rate of 20 cents per bill. Connell displayed charts of several plans for the city to aid in keeping the Longwood Utilities Inc. sewer rates down for residents in Sandalwood, Highland Hills, Longwood Groves and Shadow Hill subdivisions of E.E. Williamson Road.

Council member Jane Lorman said the charts "made us look foolish." Grant criticized Connell's recommendations, saying they required the city to do all the work and that it costs the city more than 20 cents each to bill customers for utility service.

During budget hearings, Connell noted that billing costs for customers of the city-owned Skylark package sewer plant was not included in the budget and was told the sewer charge is nothing additional.

"I hear nothing out of him except the people out in Skylark," Grant said. City Clerk Ronnie R. Shomate added, "I'm not putting all that about Longwood Utilities in the minutes."

Grant told Connell he expects a recommendation at next week's meeting on the sewer rate which should be charged. Current rate is $4.50 monthly. Connell said he has asked Skylark Homeowners Association President Ron Korb if he may attend a meeting of the association to talk over the rates.

Sooners Of Course, Gators To Win Big

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
The Herald Service
Egad, friends, we have some sterling prognostications for you this week in a schedule dominated by top inter-sectional clashes.

The festivities get off to a big start Friday night as Oklahoma brings its spectacular offensive show to the Orange Bowl against home team Miami. Rolling in midseason form, the Sooners will trample Miami 35-14 under the mazzas — bel-heh!

Saturday is loaded with prime engagements starting with UCLA's Invasion of Colorado to meet the Air Force Falcons. The Bruins aerial attack triggered by John Sciarra will shoot down the Buffaloes, 38-12. The North Carolina Tar Heels have the unenviable task of hosting the mighty Ohio State Buckeyes.

Major Hoopie's

Football Forecast

still smarting from the 26-3 thrashing handed them by the Tech last year, will smash the Red Raiders, 32-14. The Crimson Tide will launch their drive for another league title with a 37-10 conquest of the Vanderbilt Commodores.

In one of the great all-time intrastate rivalries, Princeton's Tigers and Rutgers will get together for the 66th time on Tiger's field. In an old-fashioned do-or-die fray, the Orange and Black will edge Rutgers's Scarlet Knights, 19-13 — har-rumph!

Now go on with my forecast.

Rangers To Thank Fans After Topping Million Mark
ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Rangers will hold a "Thanks a Million" night Saturday in an American League game with Kansas City.

The Rangers have drawn over a million fans for the second consecutive year.

The Washington Senators, a 1961 expansion team which moved to Texas in 1972, never drew one million fans in their 11 years in Washington, D.C.

Everytime 14 years and older will receive a 16-ounce thermal mug. Last year fans got key rings.

Prep Football Player Dies
NEENAH, Wis. (AP) — A high school football player who complained of illness after competing in a junior varsity game at Campbellport, Wis., earlier this week died Wednesday evening.

Authorities said the victim, Robert Miller, 15, of Random Lake, had been hospitalized after telling teammates he did not feel well and later losing consciousness.

He was transferred, unconscious, to The Clark Memorial Hospital here for treatment of head injuries, a hospital spokesman said, and he died late Wednesday.

Authorities are investigating the exact cause of death.

Giants' Financial Status Appears Okay

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Baseball's tangled franchise situation remained unresolved today but the San Francisco Giants may be a step closer to financial stability.

The condition of the Giants is closely tied to the multitude of problems that faced the major league owners at their one-day meeting here, but Chub Feeney, president of the National League, indicated that the team's re-ink headcoaches could be over shortly.

"They feel their cash problem can be solved with the sale of the team," Feeney said.

Otherwise, the league has offered some assistance.

Feeney said the sale was expected to be completed within the next week.

The Giants' problem has been the result of declining attendance which baseball feels is due to an overcrowded franchise population in the San Francisco-Oakland area. That question, as well as the financial wellbeing of other clubs and the desire to return baseball to Seattle and Washington, D.C., were among the questions facing the franchise committee which reported to the owners here.

"The committee made a recommendation but no decisions were made one way or the other," said Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. "Because the recommendation was not acted on, and is still before the leagues for consideration, I prefer not to go into details of it."

The commissioner admitted that the committee's recommendation dealt with both End no-hitter.

"It was a desperation swing," admitted Wallis, whose previous claim to fame was going 3-for-4 in the minors against Denny McLain. "He fooled me with two fastballs and I was looking for another one."

Eventually the Cubs won the game 1-0 in the 11th. Wallis was ejected for a walk in the 10th but both Seaver and Cub starter Jerry Reuschel departed after the 9th.

"Five years ago losing a no-hitter would have been a big emotional letdown," said Seaver. "Today, I just wanted to get the next batter out. If I get the no-hitter, I get it; if I don't, I don't."

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati beat Houston 6-4, Philadelphia clubbed Pittsburgh 8-1, Los Angeles routed San Diego 14-0, Montreal beat St. Louis 6-2 and Atlanta edged San Francisco 7-6 in 11 innings.

Seaver has never had a no-hitter but he's had five one-hitters, including two in the ninth. Wallis, who was playing right field in place of ailing Jerry Morales, joins Chicago's Jimmy Qualls, who broke one up in 1969, and San Diego's Leroy Lee, who spoiled another in 1972, on Seaver's personal hit parade.

The 31-year-old right-hander gave up three hits and struck out nine in his 10 innings, raising his league-leading streakout total to 239. It was probably his last outing of the season.

Reds 6, Astros 4
Pete Rose singled in two runs and Dave Concepcion singled in another in the sixth inning to put Cincinnati ahead for good. Clay Kirby, 10-4, won it and Larry Dierker, 14-18, lost it.

Phillies 8, Pirates 1
Dick Allen drove in three runs and Dave Cash and Greg Luzinski collected three hits each for Philadelphia. Larry Christensen, 11-5, went the distance with a six-hitter and five strikeouts. Larry Dierker, 7-5, took the loss.

Dodgers 14, Padres 9
Steve Garvey drove in six runs with two home runs, a single and a double to pace Los Angeles' 18-hit assault on five San Diego pitchers.

Expos 7, Cardinals 2
Don Carrithers, 5-3, spaced nine hits and Larry Parrish hit his 10th home run of the season for Montreal.

Brewers 7, Giants 6
Dusty Baker singled in the tying run in the 11th inning and then scored the winner on a bases-loaded walk by Gary Lavelle.

Firefighter Price Burns Volusia Track

The limited sportsman championship week ended at Volusia County Speedway brought the limelight to Seminole County racers. The best finish was turned in by firefighter Billy Price in his 1966 Chevelle as he took fifth.

Billy had trouble with his car during the heats as he had to pull in and pull the bumper off the front tire when another car pushed it in during a wreck. Due to his bad finish in the heats he started way in the back of the pack at cars and took over half of the race for him to even work his car into contention.

Another Sanford racer Harold Johnson, was having his best race ever as his '64 Chevelle was right on the bumper of winner Leland Howard and Ed Meredith for the first part of the race. As the race unfolded, Johnson's car was in a timing chain or the cam broke, putting him out of the event.

Ed Meredith has his Longwood-based Chevelle back at the dirt after being away the last five weeks running the asphalt at Citrus County Speedway and showed that he still has as one of the most competitive cars to run at VCS as he ran second for 20 laps until the car overheated and began smoking.

Rap Hayes in another strong Chevelle out of Longwood was looking for a good finish as he was running in the

Sonics Select Six Rookies

LACEY, Wash. (AP) — The Seattle SuperSonics announced Wednesday six rookies had been selected to join the National Basketball Association team for veterans training.

Selected from 16 players at the Sonics' rookie camp here were: ...

trips to the plate. "That's just what he does. He had me fooled all day."

Seaver did not figure in the decision that went against the Mets Skip Lockwood, now 1-3, who walked in the winning run in the 11th. The Met ace said he was more disappointed in failing at his fourth try for his 22nd win than losing the no-hitter.

Seaver will finish the season with a 21-9 record — dwarfed only by his 25-7 record in 1969.

The Mets in a fight for third place with St. Louis, only have three games remaining against Philadelphia, and Manager Roy McMillan said Seaver's effort on Wednesday probably will be his last this year.

Pit Stop

By CARL VANZURA
Richard Petty has just about had every lucky break a racer could have this year. Combined with his skill it has been an unbeatable combination this year as he took his 11th victory of the season and seems to be unstoppable in his run for an unprecedented sixth Grand National title. Petty's win in the Wilkes 400 Sunday passed his career Winston Cup victory total to 175.

Cale Yarborough was leading the race by close to a lap when during his last pit stop one of his crew members left the air in-pitch wrench, which is used to take off the uree, hooked to the wheel causing Cale to be black-flagged and put Petty back in the lead. After that it was all Petty as he picked up $7,600 a King Richard, 46 minutes and 34 seconds of work. So far this year King Richard has won $302,855 in 25 races.

Oakland A's Win AL's West Flag

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Guess what? The Oakland A's won the American League West. Normally that wouldn't be news — but it is now that they've finally secured the American League West.

The A's, who usually nail this thing down earlier, took an agonizingly long time before collecting their latest flag with a 13-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night.

The defending World Champions had the opportunity to wrap up their fifth straight West championship last weekend, but lost three straight games. Meanwhile, the runner-up Kansas City Royals won all their games and kept the suspense going.

"It was a lot tougher job this time," Oakland Manager Alvin Dark admitted.

The Royals went down fighting, beating the Minnesota Twins 4-2 just a couple of hours before Oakland took care of the White Sox.

In the other American League games, the Baltimore Orioles bombed the Detroit Tigers 8-1 and the Milwaukee Brewers turned back the Cleveland Indians 10-3. A doubleheader between the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees was rained out.

Reggie Jackson slammed home runs his first two times up to launch the A's to their big victory. Jackson raised his home run total to 34, tying him with Milwaukee's George Scott for the league lead. At the same time, he was the winner of a two-run shot in the first inning and adding a bases-empty homer in the third off Chicago starter Jesse Jefferson, 5-11.

The A's scored at least one run in each of the first five innings as Vida Beane coasted to his 21st victory of the season behind the 13-hit A's attack. He left after six innings.

George Brett's tie-breaking single in the eighth inning helped Kansas City beat Minnesota.

The Twins pulled into a 2-2 tie by scoring twice in the top of the seventh inning. In the seventh, the Royals used five pitchers and the Twins five pinch hitters.

Orioles 8, Tigers 1
Baltimore's Jim Palmer notched his 22nd victory, beating Detroit with strong batting support from Paul Blair and Lee May. The victory moved the Orioles within 3 1/2 games of first-place Boston in the American League East and kept the Red Sox "magic" number at four.

Frazier in Shell; Ali Continues Needling

MANILA (AP) — Muhammad Ali continued his "peek-a-boo" psychological warfare today, saying he would throw an angry shell six days before their multi-million dollar heavyweight title fight.

"I'm going into silence," an opponent upset challenger said after having another of his workouts using an Ali character (trainer Eddie Futch) will speak for me.

Ali cancelled Friday's workout.

Fight observers are wondering what effect Ali's recent performance in the bout next Wednesday will have on EDDT Tuesday at the indoor Philippine Coliseum. Ali is a 2-1 favorite.

Outwardly insisting he is re-training cool, Frazier is beginning to show definite signs of eagerness. In fact, members of his camp say he is seething. They don't call him Smokin' Joe for nothing.

"I don't know what he's getting so upset about," says Ali. "I don't talk to him. I don't teach him. I just watch. He can watch me if he wants to, but he doesn't. He is afraid of what he will see."

The champion has been working out first at the Folk Arts Theater, mixing bombs and darts with regular routines. In addition to blasting his opponent as a "dumb, awkward pug, ugly as a gorilla," Ali puts on an act in the ring in which he mimics Frazier's moping steps.

"The rabbit hop," Ali calls it

Nets, Nuggets Apply To NBA

They invited the ABA champion Kentucky Colonels to join them. Brown confirmed that and said he and his wife Ellie, who owns the club, both sides are serious and want to complete the deal, sources said.

"The application (for admission) is a sure thing," said a source close to Denver president Carl Scheer.

Scheer and Nets' owner Roy Boe met Wednesday, completing a series of intricate negotiations that began a month ago. NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien has ABA President John Y. Brown said.

Brown said if the Nets and Nuggets go ahead with the deal, the clubs will follow. But the clubs were moving ahead anyway. The Nuggets scheduled a 1 p.m. news conference in Denver. Meanwhile, attorneys for the clubs were in court to file briefs which sources said would intend to head off any possible suits from the NBA Players' Association.

The scenario, which could result in the expansion of the 18-team NBA into four five-team divisions next year and move such players as Julius Erving, David Thompson and Marvin Webster into the league, began unfolding at least one month ago. As told by sources in both leagues, this is what happened:

—Boe and Scheer, wishing to reopen negotiations on a merger of the two leagues, applied for the NBA about membership. Their intent at the time was to try to force a merger.

Art Collection Deal Completed

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Five one-half years ago, Mrs. Harry Lynde Bradley offered Milwaukee a deal: Provide suitable quarters for her $11 million art collection and the community could have it as a gift.

The deal was completed this week, and amid festivities that ranged from symposiums on the future of art in the Midwest to polka and jazz concerts, the Milwaukee Art Center opened a three-level, 150,000-square-foot addition on the shore of Lake Michigan.

Most of the 800-piece collection is housed there, being displayed as a group for the first time. There are Picassos, Klee's, Bonnard's, Chagals and Toulouse-Lautrecs, amid paintings and sculpture by contemporary artists purchased as recently as three weeks ago.

The collection was appraised at $11 million for insurance purposes in 1970 but now may be worth as much as $20 million, an Art Center spokesman said.

"The best part is seeing people come in and enjoy looking at paintings that once scattered about," Mrs. Bradley said.

County Cuts 9-1-1 Budget

Central Dispatching Plans Short-Circuited

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Commission, by cutting more than $100,000 from a state-mandated, toll-free emergency communications system, has temporarily short-circuited the county's highly-touted plan for a centralized dispatch center.

County records show only $33,951 remains in the 1975-76 fiscal budget for the 9-1-1 supervisor's department.

Initially, the department chief submitted a request for $153,371, most of which was pared away by millage conscious commissioners.

However, 9-1-1 Supervisor John Spolski said he'll be looking this year to the commission and to the federal government for money needed to set up a Cooperative Dispatch Center (CDC), a center Spolski envisions as the nerve center of the 9-1-1 program.

"Until I get back with the commission, I'm still of the opinion a separate building should be located for the CDC," Spolski said.

He requested $100,000 for construction of the building and for equipment necessary for its operations. The remaining $33,000 covers only salaries and office expenses.

Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. said today the board is planning to combine the 9-1-1 program with fire dispatching.

"Until I get back with the commission, I'm still of the opinion a separate building should be allocated for the CDC (Cooperative Dispatch Center)."

—9-1-1 Supervisor John Spolski

Spolski, Vihlen said, is the "leading candidate" for the directorship of the combined programs.

"In that capacity, the director can prepare a viable civil defense program during the next year," the chairman said.

Spolski says he will seek federal funds to construct the CDC building and plans are to combine the two functions to provide Vihlen's "viable civil defense program" for Seminole County.

In the event federal funds can't be found, Vihlen said plans are to provide money for the CDC in the county's 1976-77 budget, a budget analysts predict will be even tighter than this year's.

The Telephone Act of 1974 provided for the 9-1-1 system. The state, however, did not provide money to set it up. Instead, the system is a quick alert toll free system which provides, in theory, rapid responses to emergencies.

A person who needs help would dial 9-1-1. The call would come into a dispatch center. Officials at the center would determine the need and dispatch the necessary vehicles to meet the emergency — be it one requiring fire, police or whatever.

Spolski, who was appointed earlier this year to the 9-1-1 supervisor's slot, now says 9-1-1 and civil defense are "compatible."

The law says the 9-1-1 program will be implemented sometime in 1977.

Spolski envisions an emergency communications system in Seminole County under new roof . . . the roof of the CDC.

But for now the county has no roof under which to house the system, because the county allocated no funds for a CDC.

Cites Rate-Hike Fear

Vihlen Will Seek PSC Move Reversal

County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr., said today he will ask the commission to reverse a decision made last week which turned utility matters over to Florida's Public Service Commission (PSC).

The reason, Vihlen said, is because he fears the PSC will grant higher increases to Sanlando Utilities, a firm whose rate hike requests were under consideration by the county before rate matters were handed over to the PSC at Tuesday's meeting.

"The people served by Sanlando are going to pay much higher rates than the board would have been willing to grant," Vihlen said.

Vihlen has asked County Attorney Tom Freeman for an opinion as to the legality of reversing Tuesday's decision.

But, the chairman says he'll ask for the reversal, legal or not.

Slate Named By DBA

Election of a new slate of officers topped the agenda of Thursday's meeting of the Downtown Business Association (DBA).

Forrest Foggin, owner of First Street Emporium, was elected president; Earl Black, of First Federal Savings and Loan, was elected vice-president; Brad Hollingsworth, assistant loan officer at Flagship Bank, was named secretary; and Bill Brown of the Atlantic Bank was chosen treasurer.

A New Board of Directors was elected with Bill MacLaughlin owner of Celery City Printing, and Sara Jacobson, owner of Interiors by Sara's, chosen for two-year terms. Ralph Larsen, Sanford Auto Parts; Mike Capho, Agg's Men's Store; and Development Consultant Dave Farr will serve one-year terms.

The Association heard, and approved, a motion by Sara Jacobson that the Sanford Art Association be asked to set up a booth containing donated art items to be sold to benefit Mother Wilson's Good Samaritan Home.

The booth would be set up during the Association's annual Art Show Nov. 14-15.

Midway School Mixing Studied

By JOE ASKREN Herald Staff Writer

A study on alternate methods of "improving the racial (balance) identifiability" of Midway Elementary School — now 93 per cent black — is under way said by Seminole County school officials.

Board Attorney Douglas Stenstrom said today the U.S. District Court in Orlando is "asking" for a court order to have the board improve the racial balance at the 37-year-old school.

"But they haven't given us any direction on how to do it," Stenstrom said. No time limit for the completion of the desegregation was set by the Justice Department, either.

"We feel we have a unitary school system to start with," Stenstrom said, referring to the county's 39 schools.

Stenstrom told board members Wednesday night it is going to be very difficult to find a solution to the Midway situation because it is "so complicated."

He said he has no idea when the study, being compiled by Dan Dage, assistant superintendent for instruction, and Ralph Ray, the board's public information officer, will be completed.

Stenstrom said no guidelines as to what ratio is desired has been indicated by the government.

Midway Principal Leroy Hampton said today he has an enrollment of about 300 pupils in kindergarten through the fifth grade. Only about five per cent of the pupils are white, he said. The school is in a black residential area off S.R. 46.

The justice Department filed a motion two weeks ago in the U.S. District Court in Orlando, but no hearing has been set by District Judge George Young. Stenstrom said the motion stems from the Rosenwald elementary school issue last February which was converted to a trainable mental handicap center and was approved by the Justice Department.

Past Seminole Classes Represented

Alumni Alert Promotes Stadium

An "Alumni Alert" for graduates of Seminole High School was held Thursday at noon at the Sanford Sheraton Inn.

The brainchild of Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Jack Horner, the "alert" gathered together representatives of several past graduating classes of Seminole High.

The representatives were asked to contact members of their respective classes, encouraging contributions to Seminole High School's new stadium.

"The stadium is for the public also — not just for the school," Horner said. "There are elaborate weight rooms and exercise facilities at the gymnasium that the public can use."

"We hope that graduates of Seminole will answer the call for financial support," Horner said. "Those who contribute will have their names placed on a bronze plaque that will be mounted at the stadium."

Those who wish to contribute to the fund can contact Jack Horner at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

First Successful Crop Hit Before Harvest

$1.5 Million Shrimp Farm Wiped Out By Eloise

PANAMA CITY (AP) — John Cheshire and a small group of associates say they could do nothing but watch as Hurricane Eloise shattered an eight-year dream by destroying the world's first mass-production shrimp farm.

When Eloise struck Tuesday, Cheshire, president of Marifarms, Inc., was ready to harvest the firm's first successful crop — 1.5 million pounds of fat white shrimp which had been nursed to maturity in enclosures in a nearby shallow bay.

Within a few minutes, the entire farm, valued at $1.5 million, was lost when the storm ripped apart the delicate system of nets and dikes in which the shrimp were penned.

"It's so damn frustrating," Cheshire said Thursday. "After eight years, we had this thing cold turkey. Success was in the grasp of our hands."

Because the firm was unable to obtain insurance for the project, Cheshire said, the entire crop, expensive nylon netting used to enclose 1,200 acres of bay and a 900-acre system of dikes must be written off as a complete loss.

Cheshire estimated the loss at up to $2 million, making Marifarms probably the largest single victim of the hurricane.

"Lloyd's of London wouldn't even insure us," he said. "We are trying to get a federal disaster loan, but I don't know. We need a million and a half dollars right away or we will be dead."

Bankruptcy, Cheshire said, would not only spell disaster for more than 1,000 investors who have sunk $10 million into the farm but also represent an incalculable loss for the nation.

"This project can't die," he said. "Shrimp are one of the highest sources of protein in the world, and we've learned to grow them, using no where near the amount of feed and energy required to raise beef, for example."

Cheshire said Marifarms can produce one pound of shrimp from 1 1/2 pounds of feed, compared to the current yield of one pound of beef for 12 pounds of feed.

It also takes half as much fuel to raise shrimp as beef and less than one-fourth the feed needed to catch an equivalent amount of shrimp at sea, he said.

"If all those destroyed motels on the beach are rebuilt and we list this die, our values are all mixed up," he added. "It's just that we believe in this so much and have worked so hard."

Hurricanes Churning In Atlantic

MIAMI (AP) — Two new hurricanes are boiling in the Atlantic Ocean today. And forecasters say one has drawn a bead on tiny, isolated Bermuda, which may begin getting gales late today.

Hurricane Faye's 75-mile-an-hour winds were centered about 300 miles southeast of Bermuda, at 28.7 north latitude and 69.3 west longitude, at 6 a.m. EDT today.

Faye was moving northward at 15 m.p.h. and was expected to maintain that course and speed through today, brushing Bermuda early Saturday. The National Hurricane Center in Miami said gales extend 125 miles north and east of the center and 75 miles to the southwest.

Hurricane Gladys, meanwhile, was centered near latitude 16.5 north and longitude 47.0 west, or about 900 miles east of the Lesser Antilles, at 6 a.m. It was moving west-northwestward at about 12 m.p.h.

School Bus Driver Gets Suspension

A Seminole County school bus driver has been temporarily suspended — with pay — after she was relieved midway through her route Thursday morning.

Woodrow Burned, director of transportation, said today he is investigating with school officials a "bad driving" report from pupil passengers on Mrs. Doris Hodges, 2514 Laurel Ave., a bus driver for the past four years.

Burned said Mrs. Hodges will receive sick leave pay until the investigation is concluded and a decision is reached.

Mrs. Hodges said she got "sick." Burned reported, but had taken no medication after visiting her dentist for some "gum work" recently.

If she is retained, she will be moved to another route, said Burned.

Burned said he drove her route today, and many of the children on bus No. 122 acted "smart alecky." They didn't know who he was, he said.

Croombs Junior High School Principal E. L. Blackshear said Thursday "she appeared ill," and was "in no condition to be driving."

Blackshear said the pupils told him Mrs. Hodges had momentarily slipped off the road several times and no warning lights were used when she stopped to pick up pupils.

Blackshear said Mrs. Hodges was "very shaky" and her speech was "incoherent" after she was taken off the bus at his school. He said she was taken home by a teacher and a substitute driver was called to finish the bus run.

"It is a bad situation," said Burned.

SISTER PAYS OFF PLEDGE
Nora Gordon, president of SISTER INC. (Sanford's Interested Sisters to Encourage Rejuvenation), presents final $500 payment on $1,000 pledge made to the Central Florida Zoo to Zoo Director Al Rozon.
