Java Rebels Ask Moscow To Help Them

Battle Is Raging For Soerabaja Control; Chinese Civil War Enters New Phase

BATAVIA, JAVA, Nov. 12. (AP)—Indonesian Nationalist leader has addressed a radio appeal to Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov to intervene on behalf of the unrecognized Indonesian republic. The appeal has been made by foreign Minister the unrecognized republic.

The Indonesian appeal for Soviet intervention comes after a similar appeal was addressed to President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee by President Soekarno of the unrecognized republic. It comes also as British Indian troops are engaged in a fierce battle with Indonesians in the streets of the Soerabaja Naval Base.

British Indian troops have gained control of practically all the Netherlands New Guinea Agency Aneta big naval base of Soerabaja. The British and Dutch crews are turning back fanatical charges by Indonesian nationalists.

The Dutch said that many Indonesians have been killed in the charges. But there are no indications thus far that the natives are ready to give up the fight. The British say their artillery has knocked out Japanese tanks manned by Indonesians in the fighting in Soerabaja.

Soedardjo, addressing himself to Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov, asked Molotov's help in winning control of the world for anti-British. The native leader said to be more anti-Dutch than the Indonesians. But he appeared to say that while it was plain to see that the Dutch are the Dutch re-assert their colonial rule, the Indonesians would be willing to tolerate the presence of British troops for a certain time.

At the same time it appeared China's warring Nationalists and Communists may be moving toward agreement at last. A spokesman for the Nationalists has disclosed that representatives for both sides have agreed to turn their differences over to a consultative council for settlement. The council will be called into session about Nov. 15.

Com. Dixie Kiefer, Filipino Woman In Plane Crash

Naval Hero, Killed In Plane Crash Quonset Skipper Survived Ten Wounds To Die In Accident

Beacon, New York, Nov. 12. (AP)—The Navy has officially confirmed that 49-year-old Dixie Kiefer, skipper of the Quonset, was one of the six persons killed when a twin-engine plane crashed on Mount Beacon, N. Y., yesterday. The wreckage was found early today.

The opening dance, "Accentuate the Positive," included: Patz Collins, Gail Bittling, Linda Leonard, Harriett Brown, Gretchen Kirchoff, Jacquelyn Roland and Phyllis Shames. The dancers were prettily costumed and were heartily applauded. The following did solo dances: Phyllis Bach, Janet Chapman and Jean Sayer. Jacquelyn MacDonald and Gretchen Kirchoff scored a hit with a Jive Dance. Phyllis Bach, Eloise Cook and Anita Aissen did some difficult acrobatic antics. Seven little girls in quaint costumes scored heavily with their "Cypsy Caravan." They were, Elise Lyon, Patricia Tooke, Marie McMillan, Maria Menendez, Mary Esther Powell, Yvonne Cullen and Janice Kinlaw. Jacquelyn MacDonald was heartily applauded for her "Can Dance." Jean Sayer's "Holiday for Strings" dance was well received. Directors were Mrs. P. H. Tepus, Mrs. A. B. Durdury and student directors Jean Sayer and Phyllis Bach. Accompanists were Miss Phyllis Allen, Miss Lillian Moran, Miss Evelyn Mathews and Clairbourne Jones.

Local officials at Beacon have identified one of the victims of a plane crash as a Navy hero who survived some of the heaviest fighting in the Pacific war. Commodore Dixie Kiefer has been identified as one of the six who died in the crash on Mount Beacon, N. Y., a Naval municipal official said today. The official disclosed the finding of this wreckage and the victims.

Kiefer was wounded ten times during two world wars. He was on the bridge of the aircraft carrier, the USS Tennessee, when a Japanese plane blasted it off Formosa and was executive officer of the Yorktown when it was sunk in the Pacific. At his death, the Commodore was commanding officer of the Quonset, Rhode Island Naval Air Station. The twin-engine bomber crashed at noon yesterday en route to Quonset from Caldwell, N. J.

Kiefer was widely known as "Captain Dixie" of the documentary film "Flight-Lady." In the Naval attack off Formosa, Kiefer was struck by 45 pieces of shrapnel as he stood on the bridge of his carrier, the Tennessee. His official handling of the vessel as the day burning after the Kamikaze attack kept her from being blown up by her own bombs, and saved her to continue the fight.

One-Third Of Service Men In Pacific In August Have Been Returned To U. S.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 12. (AP)—A mass movement of veterans of the China-India-Burma area to the United States has begun. Sanford Observes Armistice Day At Memorial Service

The answer to future world peace for this country, the greatest nation in the world, is to have national preparedness. This was the theme of the Armistice Day Memorial Service held in Sanford today. The speaker, Capt. William T. Easton, commander of the Sanford Naval Air Station, declared in a talk to a large gathering at the Sanford Municipal Handball court.

"Prevention of war by national preparedness is the only way we can keep face with the uncounted thousands of patriots who died in our country to make America strong," he asserted. Senator Lloyd F. Boyle, in introducing Capt. Easton, also emphasized the need of preparedness, and told that America by disarming (killed the man who had fought in the last war. Comdr. J. J. Rocco of Campbell-Lessing Post introduced Senator Boyle.

Today has been proclaimed a holiday in Sanford and throughout the nation as there is a pause in the tempo of busy activity in order to observe Armistice Day, honoring the dead of World War I and World War II, two of the most devastating wars in history, and which in one generation.

Downtown Sanford was decorated this morning with flags, natty wreaths placed by Mrs. Leslie Went were placed at the Municipal flagpole and the Band Shell was put in readiness for the program at which Captain William T. Easton, commander of the Sanford Naval Air Station, and State Senator Lloyd F. Boyle were scheduled to speak.

By order of Supt. T. W. Lawton, all schools in Seminole County were closed for the celebration. Most stores, offices, banks and municipal and county departments were closed today in honor of the holiday.

Miami Is Having Greatest Influx Of Tourists Ever

Hotel Rooms Renting At $25 A Day And Houses Up To $2500

MIAMI, Nov. 12. (AP)—Ho-Hum, another story about the housing shortage. This time it's that warm and frosty city of the south, Miami, Florida. Miami is faced with two problems—this season and if you can't guess what they are, it's either because you live in a deserted ghost town, or own three or four assorted houses in town and country. Miami's problem, of course, is the greatest influx of tourists in its history, and no place to put them.

The Riviera of the Americas is already jam-packed, and they're warning tourists to have advance reservations before they start south. The Miami Beach Convention Bureau has asked no large conventions for the season, but already 22 are on schedule. You just can't keep visiting friends from visiting.

Because the Army has released some resort hotels along the Beach, the upper bracket customer will be helped somewhat. But don't let that encourage you unless you can pay the rent—starting at $25 a day. Even small houses and apartments are being quoted at $1500 to $2500 for season's rental. And that's only if you can find them.

Speaker Tonight

DR. HAMILTON HOLT, president of the League to Enforce Peace and also an observer at the general San Francisco conference of the United Nations, will speak on World Peace at a Rotary Club dinner at the Mayfair Hotel tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

General Eisenhower will be first to step from the plane and immediately embraced his wife who was waiting for him. The small crowd, mostly Navy personnel, cheered the couple. The General, smiling broadly, kissed his wife, then put his arms around her waist and lifted her to the ground.

Next the General posed briefly for photographers. Surprisedly, he said "Kiss her, Ike." The General laughed and replied "You take your pictures and I'll take care of my business."

The General blames the situation on the redeployment of experienced maintenance men and the failure of replacements to arrive. Many of the men in the European command were high point holders, hence they have been drained off rapidly.

The General's 654 plane landed at the Logan Airport at 12:35 this morning. He arrived at the Hotel Statler at 1:35 P. M. about a half hour behind schedule.

General Eisenhower and his wife, who met him at the air field, will be guests of the day at Boston's Armistice Day celebration. They will go to Washington tonight.

The General's plane circled for some time over the field before finally coming in through a misty fog under a four hundred foot ceiling for a downwind landing.

General Eisenhower was first to step from the plane and immediately embraced his wife who was waiting for him. The small crowd, mostly Navy personnel, cheered the couple. The General, smiling broadly, kissed his wife, then put his arms around her waist and lifted her to the ground.

Armistice Day

It was just twenty-seven years ago that the first World War to end war and to make the world safe for democracy came to a roaring conclusion and the big guns all along the Western Front suddenly became quiet while in the place of the terrific cannonading came the cheers and shouts of men who had fought a mighty battle and won.

Now, on this first Armistice Day following a second World War to make good the promise of that first awful struggle, we pause to pay tribute to those brave men who made the supreme sacrifice that their buddies, their wives, and children might go through their lives in peace, in health, and happiness, and that future generations might enjoy the blessings of liberty and the joys of a tolerant and well ordered world-wide community.

But as we listen to the reports coming in from China, Java, Palestine, Egypt, Tripoli, South America and virtually every part of Europe itself, the fear is inescapable that the job is not yet finished and that there is much left to be done. Almost before the ink is dry on those historic documents that were to bring peace to the world, the gods of war are at it again and the thunder of battles, fought and to be fought, is heard around the world.

Upon the veterans of Normandy, Saint Lo, the Rhine Crossing and the Belgian Bulge as well as upon the heroes of Guadalcanal, Saipan and Okinawa rests the continuing responsibility of trying to bring peace to the world. They have felt the pain of battle and tasted the bitterness of "man's inhumanity to man". They are great in numbers and they are powerful influences.

They can if they accept this responsibility and persevere courageously in discharging it throughout the years to come, succeed in large measure in establishing a world organization of United Nations which can deal successfully with any future aggressor nation, or any combination of such nations, and they can at the same time see that the United States remains so powerful on land, on the sea, and in the air, as to maintain her prestige and influence everywhere.

Only in this way can there be any hope at all that the sons of the men now returning from war will not be called upon to take up arms and resume the battle where their fathers left off.

Perpetual Mayor

The world's most famous mayor is coming to this country, Edouard Herriot, former premier of France is probably also the mayor with the longest tenure who is still in office.

He served as mayor of Lyons, a city of more than half a million population, from 1905 to 1940, when the German occupation forced him out. He did not give up his post even when serving as premier. Now he has returned to his old office, and it is as a mayor that he is coming here. He has accepted Mayor La Guardia's invitation to attend the forthcoming meeting in New York of the American Association of Mayors.

Anyone with the least experience in American politics must respect the ability of a man who can stay in the chief office of a great city for 35 years. Joseph Chamberlain, the storm center of English politics from 1880 to 1906 and the father of Neville Chamberlain, Churchill's unforlorn predecessor as prime minister, was long mayor of Birmingham, and made the city over.

American mayors find the going harder. Half a century ago Chicago had the two Carter Harrisons, father and son, who served term after term. New Bedford, Mass., boasted Charles H. Askley who was elected more than a score of times. And then there is Jersey City's Frank Hague, who has been in longer than the rest of the country likes to remember. But not one can equal Herriot's record.

Human Distiny

An American newspaper correspondent in Berlin, among the many shocks of degradation he finds there, tells how the citizens of Europe's once proudest city now spend a large part of their time ransacking garbage cans for scraps of food. There we have one of the most vivid pictures yet presented, of the low estate to which Germany and its people have fallen.

It might also be regarded as a picture of what all of Europe is destined to become if another major war is allowed to develop on that historic continent.

It might even be taken as a possible picture of the world into which we and mankind in general are now entering. It is a world strangely combining the utmost culture, invention and opportunity with the utmost human ferocity and degeneracy that the new weapons and processes now make possible. And there arises more persistently than ever the tragic question whether our civilization will rise to heights of supreme achievement or destroy itself.

 Dear Sir,
 I certainly did get a great kick out of The Herald's article about that "big breeze from the Pacific." Of course, I know it couldn't possibly apply to me, but I enjoyed it just the same. I am again "one of the people" and I hope that I can get a chance to come down your way and mingle with the good people of Seminole County before very long and eat some of that satisfying, salubrious celery. With kind personal regards to you and The Herald's staff, I am Yours most cordially and sincerely,

Lower Freight Rates Caldwell Says Sheriff Predicted In Merger

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—Lower freight rates for Florida shippers and a single-road outlet to the East Coast were advanced last week as arguments for a proposed merger of Florida's East Coast Railway with Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

R. J. Doss, vice president of Atlantic Coast Line, read to an ICC hearing a 51-page document, repeating the advantages his road says would result from the merger.

Declaring "No other railroad has such a record of undivided support for the Florida East Coast" as Atlantic Coast Line, Doss told the hearing consolidation of the two roads would be of even more benefit to Florida than their past cooperation.

The vice president said Florida shippers would receive "a rather substantial benefit" in reduced freight rates and charges if the roads were under one operation.

He told the ICC representatives a lower scale of rates applies to freight hauled over a single line or two roads under a common management than applies to movement over two or more separately operated roads.

Caldwell Says Sheriff Guilty Of Stupidity

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 12. (AP)—Caldwell said last week that although Sheriff Lonnie Davis of Madison County jail and shot to death Oct. 11 after he had pleaded innocent to an indictment charging him with assault with intent to rape a five-year-old girl.

In a sharply worded statement the Governor served a note of warning upon the officials of Florida that in the future, particularly in cases of this kind, "I expect the highest degree of care to be exercised."

The Negro, Jesse James Payne, was taken from the unguarded Madison County jail and shot to death Oct. 11 after he had pleaded innocent to an indictment charging him with assault with intent to rape a five-year-old girl.

Outstanding Work At Geneva School

The Geneva School is becoming known throughout the State of Florida for the outstanding work being accomplished by the students with the aid of instructional materials granted by the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, Mrs. Ruth Hand, Educational Supervisor, said today.

Sloan Foundation. The methods of instruction are based on the belief that "boys should instruct boys and girls in the ways and means of developing better homes."

The students told of their activities as the principal conducted the visitors through the school and pointed out the work benches, tables, draperies, clothes racks, shoe shine boxes and other items which the students had made.

The science "corners" included displays of terrariums, charts and drawings depicting the life and destructive habits of the insects. The visitors were shown the garden which was grown by the students, and were also told of the progress of the insect and pest work used by the students in tending their garden.

At the conclusion of the tour the visitors enjoyed cake and punch made by the cooking class of the school.

This week's national book week and attention should be focused on our excellent Sanford public library under the supervision of MRS. ELTON MORGENTHAU, RALPH WALTON PARKER, said, "I consider that you have in the smallest school library, a copy of the vast and without men that could be packed out of all civil countries in a thousand years, have seen in fact, order the results of their learning and wisdom. The men themselves were hid and inaccessible, solitary, impatient of interruptions, lonely by nature, but the thought which they did not move to their bosom friend is here written out in transparent words to us, the strangers of another age." So why not visit our library and select a gem of a book to read?

The football game Friday night was a thriller, particularly for the Sanford fans. THEY DOSE BROOKLYN, BOBBY CULLUM, RICHARD SINGLETARY, WILSON SANDERSON and CLARENCE GRANHAM played a beautiful game. Next week will be Sanford's homecoming game and instead of having the usual attendance of 5,000, approximately 1,000 are anticipated.

The G. F. game was interrupted with fun and it looked as though half of Sanford's population turned up to see the annual battle.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Only one side to our railroad tracks.

Folks who are better off in our town live on the west side of the railroad tracks. We've got a lake there, and the local park, and some real nice land.

There used to be a phrase "from the wrong side of the tracks." It meant what you think... but you don't hear it any more. Not since Charlie Jenkins came home with the Purple Heart, and Willie Wells got the Silver Star. There isn't any "wrong side" of the railroad tracks now!

And that change is going on all over America... where our heroes have come from obscure homes... and greatness has overshadowed wealth and shallow social definitions.

From where I sit, it all comes down to tolerance... tolerance for what a man is and does... tolerance for his freedom and opinions, whether he's rich or poor, likes beer or cider, Shakespeare or the comic section. It's a great thing—tolerance!

Director Wilson Represents Mayo In Washington

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 12 (Special)—"While appearing before the House Agricultural Committee in Washington, Tuesday and Wednesday, representing our Commissioner of Agriculture, Nathan Mayo, I noted with interest and pleasure an apparently increasing appreciation of the importance of the marketing of farm products," said William L. Wilson, Director of Florida State Farmers' Markets, in a week-end discussion of current matters affecting the welfare of Florida's agricultural and horticultural industries.

"I made the trip to Washington with G. B. Hogan of our organization, who also appeared before the committee during the week.

"Our task, of course, was to present, particularly, the present problems facing Floridians, to summarize what we are attempting to do to cope with those problems, and to give our idea as to what the future holds, and what may or should be done from the National angle, to assist the farm population. I found on reaching Washington that for some reason there had been a development of considerable interest in what we are doing in this State. I attempted to give a clear, frank

THOSE new glass neckties, thinks Zadok Dumkopf, should make the morning dressing chore all the more miserable for the man who couldn't get the tie pin in properly even in the old-fashioned kind.

The recent Hollywood riots between pickets and cops gave even the humblest studio worker his chance to appear before the camera.

The hide of a walrus is an inch thick. This may account for that look of utter indifference he wears.

After reading about all those troubles in China, Indonesia and

South America, Zadok Dumkopf says he has come to the conclusion that the dove of peace is really a homeless pigeon.

Grandpappy Jenkins says a real old-timer is a fellow who can remember when people wore nightcaps instead of drinking them.

Now it's revealed that Hirohito has two white horses. What's he planning to do—start a rodeo?

Betcha Dollar Dyer says that he'd like to lay a saw-buck that if those two Hirohito nags ever got into a horse race they would run a dead heat—for last.

The South Welcomes Them.

THE postwar readjustment period will bring new blood to the South. Many young men from other sections who received their training in southern camps will return and make their permanent homes in the South.

They have discovered the South. They were charmed by the South's congenial climate and the quiet, easy manners of its people. They saw with their own eyes fertile lands that will produce a variety of year-round crops. They saw in the pasture lands, which provide green grazing two-thirds of the year, wonderful dairying possibilities.

They were impressed by the fact that egg production and poultry raising are at the peak in midwinter when these products of the farm are at the lowest ebb in the colder climates.

golden harvest from the egg and poultry industry, is 3,000 miles from the big markets of the east, while the average distance from the South to these markets is less than a thousand miles. Quick transportation will put fresh vegetables on eastern dinner tables 24 hours after the vegetables are gathered.

Every acre of fertile land in the South is an inexhaustible diamond mine, but the diamonds are in the form of rich sub-soils which will produce a variety of crops twelve months in the year.

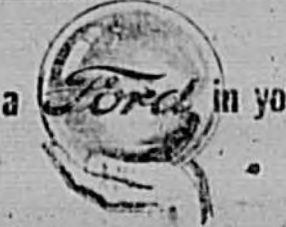

Today the South is the brightest and most promising section of the nation. In an economic sense, the South has turned its face away from the past and is viewing the future with hope and confidence.

The South will welcome these young men who have the vision to recognize and appreciate its possibilities.

Here's one of two men whose future should interest you

Yesterday, this fellow was an American fighting man.
 Today, he's an ex-soldier—wondering what kind of a future he'll find in the country he fought for.
 We've all agreed that his future interests us—that we have an obligation here. Loans, education, a chance for a decent job—they're not too much to give a man who had the toughest of this war.
 The way to discharge your obligation to this fellow is to buy extra Bonds in the Victory Loan. And the nice part of it is that, when you do this, you're taking care of another fellow's future, too.

You're making sure that you, yourself, will have a financial anchor to windward. You're putting your money to work, earning more money for you. You're making sure you'll have extra cash, in a few short years, for the things you want.

For the ex-soldier's sake, and for your own, buy all the Victory Bonds you can.

 bor inquiry—also are scheduled for discussion.
 The words start tomorrow. The Senate has passed up its session today in keeping with the Armistice Day holiday. The House will meet briefly and then recess until Tuesday.
 Congressman Sol Bloom of New York announced today that he has introduced a bill to authorize a contribution of 1,353,000,000 dollars for United Nations relief. The appropriation would be for the year ending in March of 1947. What makes the bill significant is that Bloom says he will oppose any restrictive amendments.
 The House has already approved and delivered to the Senate a bill appropriating $50,000,000 for United Nations relief. But there are strings attached—chiefly an amendment that forbids aid to any country that does not give American correspondents free access to news of United Nations relief activities.

ENTZMINGER AT OKINAWA
 OKINAWA, Nov. 11 (Special). Charles F. Entzinger, chief yeoman, Altamonte Springs, played an important part in the final drive that helped bring Japan's first atomic bombing over the city of Nagasaki on August 9, 1945. Entzinger was a member of the 3rd Construction Battalion on Okinawa. The outfit, one of the Seabee units responsible for the rapid development of the Ryukyus, landed into a formidable base, still was at its task here when the news of the Jap surrender reached it.
 The increase alone in the world's population during the past 50 years has been equal to its entire population 200 years ago, 545,000,000.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Florida Wildlife Federation has elected James Murphy, head of the Jacksonville sportsman's club, President of the conservation group for the coming year.

HOW MANY JOBS HAS A FLORIDA PINE? ...
 ... Hundreds of industrial uses have been found for this most versatile tree and the book is not yet closed. Science is discovering new and important ways to turn Florida pine into useful products.
THE TREE THAT OFFERS A GREAT FUTURE FOR FLORIDA!
 Florida has 26,000,000 acres of forest land, most of it suitable for pine. Properly developed, Florida pine should form the foundation of a golden prosperity as it contributes to Florida's industrial empire.
 ... and NOW, EVEN SAWDUST HEAPS BUILD PROFITABLE INDUSTRIES!

WOOD BECOMES SUPER-WOOD IN LAMINATES AND PLYWOOD

Revolutionary methods, perfected in wartime, are now available for production of postwar civilian goods. New types of plywood are fire and water-proof and when metal surfaced and backed, are as tough and shock-resistant as armor plate. It has a greater versatility and worth than actual solid wood. Its uses are manifold. Just sensational is the development of laminated woods, just as widespread its uses—and Florida pine is ideal for both plywoods and laminates.
 And now sawdust, and other scrap material converted into sawdust, can be commercially profitable. Machines now in operation convert the sawdust into briquettes for fuel and into other industrial products.
 Florida pine, long a source of wealth in the lumber industry, is vastly more valuable now. Our investigations indicate profit possibilities exist in Florida in laminating wood and plywood production, as well as in conversion of sawdust and waste into commercial products. Abstracts on new products from Florida wood, especially prepared for us by the Research Division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, are available from any Florida Power & Light Company manager.

U.S. Agrees To Join Study Of Palestine

Truman Accepts Proposal For Anglo-American Commission In Near East

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—President Truman has announced that the United States has agreed to a British suggestion that a joint Anglo-American Commission be named to study the Palestine problem.

Announcement of the agreement to form a committee also was made in London by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. However, Bevin expressed doubt that Palestine alone could make more than a contribution to solving the problem of Jewish migration from Europe.

The committee will be charged with examining the political, economic and social conditions in Palestine, and with studying the present situation of the Jews in Europe. Members of the committee are to learn the views of both Jewish and Arab leaders regarding the Palestine problem, and are to make recommendations to their respective governments.

President Truman also asked Congress to back up the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration with a new appropriation of $4,000,000. This figure represents one per cent of the country's national income for the year 1945, and was voted last August by the council of the relief agency in London.

Prime Minister Attlee Decries Economic War

Captain Easton Holt Advocates Cautions Against Atom Control By Wishful Thinking United Nations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—Britain's Prime Minister Clement Attlee spoke to Congress today. But he had little to say about the purpose of his visit to the United States.

Both houses of Congress met in joint session to hear the leader of the British Labor government. Attlee told the representatives and senators that the foundations of peace—as he put it—must be "world prosperity and good neighborliness."

In his 3,000 word address, the British leader frankly sought to remove what he called "some apprehensions" about his Labor party's program.

Attlee expressed the hope that he would live to see the world as orderly as a well-run town. He pictured the world's greatest task today as bringing home to all people before it is too late that our civilization—as he put it—must be based on the practice of international relations and in our national life of the Christian principle.

Obviously with the atomic bomb in mind, Attlee declared that the United States and the mightiest power on earth. And yet, he said, "America is a threat to no one."

The congressman who heard the British leader must approve any United States financial aid for Britain. Although Attlee is known to have conferred with Lord Keynes on the progress of negotiations for an American loan, he made no direct reference in his address to British requests for financial assistance.

Attlee stated that there is no reason for economic rivalry between the United States and his country. He said there was many men in England who "came from the war to find his home blitzed and his business ruined."

Attlee expressed his belief in the United Nations organization and said he hoped to see the world as orderly as a well-run town, with citizens, diverse in character but cooperating for the common good.

The British Prime Minister declared that the United States emerged from the war the most powerful nation on earth—yet a threat to no one.

U. S. Troops Not To Be Used In China

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—Secretary of War Robert Patterson issued two statements today. For one thing, he said American troops will not be used to suppress any civil strife in China.
