Hughes to Write More Novels

Rupert Hughes is still loyal to his first literary love, the novel despite his overwhelming success with photoplays such as "Scratch My Back," the screen comedy classic, "The Old Nest," the greatest picture of home ever presented, and that most human and humorous picturing of early married life, "Dangerous Curve Ahead," which comes to the Star theater for two days, beginning Friday.

Mr. Hughes has recently written a novel about people who live, move and have their being in the film world. It is now appearing serially in a popular magazine under the title of "Souls for Sale."

His first novel, "The Whirlwind" was published in 1920. This was followed by "Zal," "The Gift Wife," "The Old Nest," "The Amiable Chimes of Dirk Memling," "The Lady Who Smoked Cigars," "Clipped Wings," "Miss 318," "The Cup of Fury," "The Thirteenth Commandment," "The Unpardonable Sin," "Empty Pockets," "We Can't Have Everything," "What Will People Say," and "Beauty."

"The Birth of a Nation" Will Be Shown at the Star Soon

D. W. Griffith's American institution "The Birth of a Nation" is announced for appearance at the Star Theatre soon when it will be seen here exactly as given for a fortnight's presentation at the famous Capitol Theatre in New York City where it set a record when recently revived there.

This is the stirring story of American history dealing with the causes that led to the Civil War and the backwash of those days of hatred and sectional strife which resulted in the creation of an invisible empire of the Southland which put down disorder and started the people upon the road to success and the welding of the undivided nation into a more perfect union. Though the first of the great super-dramatic spectacles it still stands supreme as the most dramatic and thrilling production yet given to the world.

Such mighty figures of history as Lincoln, Grant, Lee, Sherman and others whose names have been written large in the record of those trying days are moving personages in a narrative which grips you with its human passions and power and tells in true romantic vein the story of the re-birth of a nation through a period of travail which tested the stoutest hearts and brought out the best and worst in men who were actors in its actual developments. Woodrow Wilson said it typified the writing of history by lightning.

Its production made screen history and so soundly established the name of D. W. Griffith that it has become synonymous with the biggest achievements of our age. The cast which would be so hopelessly expensive now that its counterpart could not be assembled in these days of productive costs, includes such screen favorites as Henry B. Walthall, Mae Marsh, Lillian Gish, Miriam Cooper, Mary Aldon, Josephine Crowell, Spottiswoode Aiken, Ralph Lewis, Joseph Henabery, Ralph Walsh, Donald Crisp, Howard Gaye, George Siegman, Walter Long, and Elmer Clifton.

The local pastors urge all the people of Sanford to get into these meetings and help to make the last sessions of the conference the most successful of all. Special song service each evening at 7:30 led by Prof. Boyd. The conference continues thru Sunday night, with services in all the local churches Sunday conducted by one of the conference speakers.

SAM SMALL WILL SPEAK AT BIG RALLY

FAMOUS ORATOR AND EVANGELIST WILL BE AT THE PRINCESS THEATRE

Hon. Sam Small, the famous orator and evangelist of Georgia, will be the speaker at a patriotic rally to be held in the Princess Theatre Tuesday evening, January 17th, at 7:30 o'clock.

The subject of Dr. Small's address will be: "America: For Caesar or for Christ," and a very timely and interesting discussion is anticipated.

For nearly three decades Dr. Small has been one of the prominent figures on the American platform. With Sam Jones, Dr. Small held evangelistic and tabernacle meetings in every section of the country, and the two "Sams" were heard by thousands. His quaint and peculiar way of expressing his thoughts coupled with the oratory which makes the speakers of the Southland attractive, has placed Dr. Small as a favorite before the public. He is a man of exceptional attainments and his practical experience as an attorney, journalist, author, soldier, minister, evangelist and lecturer, has given him a wealth of material upon which to draw.

Dr. Small is an Emory and Henry College man and is considered as one of the most noted living graduates of that old Virginia school. Taylor University conferred the Ph. D. upon him and the Ohio Northern University the D. D. He wears the button of a Confederate soldier and the pin of a Spanish war veteran, and his three sons were in active service during the great war. But it is his remarkable vitality and his versatile manner, both of thinking and of speaking, that draws large audiences wherever he speaks.

The meeting is under the local direction of the Minister's Association and the national auspices of the National Reform Association, the oldest reform organization in the United States, which is sending Dr. Small on a tour of the principal cities of the South in a campaign in behalf of the application of Christian principles to the solution of the unsettled problems of the present day. No admission fee is charged.

AUDIENCE "STAR" OF THIS PICTURE

"Who is the star in your photoplay, Mr. Hughes?" asked a visitor to the Goldwyn studios at Culver City, Cal. "The audience," answered the author, speaking of his first original screen story, "Dangerous Curves Ahead" which comes to the Star Theatre for two days commencing Friday (tomorrow).

This is probably the first picture that has been written by an eminent author which was not planned to fit the talents of some special star, or to bring into the spotlight the special line of cleverness for which that star was noted. While Rupert Hughes remarked that he would like to have Helene Chadwick play the leading feminine role, he wrote the story, not to bring before the public the beauty and artistry of this lovely actress, but actually to "star" the everyday happenings in the home life of the great human family. Says Mr. Hughes: "The high cost of production makes a tremendous distribution of pictures necessary, if the producer is to meet his expenses. Therefore the pictures must have universal appeal, find a responsive chord in every heart."

MEMBER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Friday the Thirteenth.

Which really means that we will have good luck.

And why not? Isn't Sanford making gigantic strides every day toward that goal for which we are striving?

Our celery crop is starting today. Our cabbage and other crops are bringing good prices. Our business is picking up along every line.

All we need is the cold weather and we seem to be getting that in large quantities but it is good weather, no freezes, nothing to hurt our crops, but just that good cold weather that means much to this section in the fruit and vegetable line, in the business line, in every line.

BRIAND IS ALL RIGHT

Vive, vive, Monsieur Artstide Briand, formerly premier of France but now resigned. He told the chamber of deputies that they had been asking for a hand in the shaping of the world's destinies, they had received it, they turned it down and now he left it with them. In other words he told them to go to—well, maybe to Marselles or some other seaport, maybe to Genicourt where they could be deloused at the old red mill, you know what we mean, boys. But anyhow, Aristide is the boy for us. He did his best, he was turned down at every point by his people and the chamber of deputies and like those people usually are—were so greedy they wanted everything—Briand quits and puts the whole matter up to them. If more men in public life would do the same there would be less kicking and haggling about what they do or do not do. The public is usually made up of a bunch that knows nothing, never had anything and never will have—except good advice or bad advice upon all topics.

REDUCING TAXES

Country in the Imperial valley of California elected a new set of officials on an economy platform. By a process of elimination, taxes were reduced a million dollars in one year. The effect was magic. Settlement of this hot valley far below sea level is now going on rapidly. People the world over have so sickened on burdensome taxes that they will almost be willing to move into glacial districts or torrid regions to escape the grip of the tax collector.

California is burdened with state and county commissions, bureaus and advisory boards of many varieties. And in this California is not alone. Every legislature of practically every state spends most of its time creating new offices, commissions and boards with good salaries for each and power possessed by each to employ special counsel clerks and stenographers. It is a beautiful opportunity for the politician to build up a machine for himself.

Reducing taxes is such a rare thing that it is not strange that any locality that can perform that miracle has a great ingathering of tax weary souls. There are but few countries anywhere in the United States where expenses could not be cut 25 per cent without affecting eficiency or service if the same rules of economy and working hours were in vogue as in private business. It is not at all strange that the tax wail goes up from every corner of the globe when one stops to watch proceedings.

The California experiment will be watched with interest. If the politicians and the smooth salesmen who sell bridges, road materials etc., do not get those officials into jail before four years roll around, it will be a different experience from other experiments at government administration in the interests of the many rather than the few. The propagandist will soon be at work in that field.—Reporter Star.

JURY DUTY

Judge Perkins gave a splendid talk to the Kiwanis Club yesterday in regard to the duty of American citizens toward the courts of the land in jury duty. It seems to be the general opinion of the world at large that only certain people should do jury duty because they have more time than the average busy citizen and especially the busy merchant or professional or business man of any kind. This is a mistaken idea and brings to our average juries only a certain class of men who from one session of court to the next look forward to doing jury duty because their busy neighbor "has no time to bother with court matters." And yet the same busy business man as he sits down at the home circle at night usually does the most growling about belated justice and the verdict of the courts in certain cases. It is the duty of every citizen of Seminole county to serve on the jury when he is summoned unless he is absolutely precluded on account of sickness or some urgent business that must be attended to at that particular moment. The courts will never get the proper results as long as the representative men of any county at every term of court ask to be excused. No one wants to serve on a jury. The hours are long, the work is tedious, the court room and the jury box and the juror's rooms are never the most comfortable in the world. But like voting it is not only the privilege but the duty of every American citizen to serve when he is called for jury duty. Like serving as county commissioner, as city commissioner, as any unpaid public official every citizen should serve his country, his county and his city in this capacity at some time in his life—and if he refuses he certainly should not kick on the verdict rendered or the manner in which his peers transact the business.

The busiest business man is the very man to serve on a jury. Judge Perkins would rather have this sort of a man than the one who has nothing to do and this with all respect to the man who has reached the period in life where he needs to do nothing. But it is the keen intellect of the busy man that counts in big things. It is the trained mind of the busy man that sees farther into the affairs of men, it is the efficient manner in which the business man and the busy man takes hold of jury duty and puts it through with the least loss of time. It is the busy man who wants to work on the jury like he works at his own business. It is the man who is willing to serve in any capacity that has the least to say about the so-called shortcomings of those who are serving.

Judge Perkins' talk is timely. Too bad it could not have been heard by every citizen of the county. It means much to our community as a whole and to each citizen individually to uphold the dignity and the honor and the service of the courts.

OUR BANKS SHOW CONDITIONS.

Banks of any community show the financial standing of a community as well as all business conditions. In this day of reconstruction from the effects of the world war when many communities or states farther north are suffering from depressed business conditions it is with a feeling of pride that the Daily Herald publishes the reports of the banks of Seminole county. They, one and all, show a substantial gain in business and better still show that conditions are normal here, that business must be on a solid basis and must be good for the banks to have so much money on deposit and with money out on good security that while the amounts loaned may seem small at this time of the year it also demonstrates that people are borrowing less and saving more.

The banks of Seminole county are listed among the safest and most conservative in the state. While they are ready at all times to assist in the upbuilding of the community in which they are located and are ready and willing to loan money they are also very critical about their handling of the money of their depositors and safeguard their interests by demanding the best of security before making any loans. It is safe to assert that Seminole county banks could weather any storm in financial circles—no such storm is in the offing regardless of false alarms—but should there ever at any time be a financial depression the people with money in Seminole institutions can be assured of the best of protection for the men behind the banks of this country are among the best men in our community. They are safe and sane bankers, they are willing to accommodate their customers at any time and do so. They are property owners and citizens of the county and they are making such a fine record in banking circles that they deserve special mention.

Two of our banks run well over the million mark in resources. It is something for which every citizen of the county can well feel proud.

First Five Years Are the Hardest

Patrons of the Star Theatre will have a chance to see the old truism of "The first five years are the hardest," portrayed in reel life, which is an actual reflection of real life, when the Goldwyn picture, "Dangerous Curve Ahead," by Rupert Hughes, begins its engagement there on Friday and Saturday, the 13th and 14th.

This original screen story by one of America's best known novelists and short story writers lets the observer share the joys and the troubles of a typical young American married couple, as well as see how they meet them. The story begins with the marriage, then details the daily differences that result in the usual family squabbles. Later on, when the children come, and the family fortunes improve, the kind of troubles change.

Social ambition begins to cloud the days of the young wife; and the conflict becomes a question of whether she should sacrifice the care of her children to her desire to shine in society. But this, too is solved in a dramatic episode new to the screen.

The first five years are finally lived through; the children have had innumerable hair-breadth escapes from injuring themselves or each other; and the husband and wife find that their hardest trials have been met and overcome.

E. Mason Hopper director "Dangerous Curve Ahead," is only a man with keen insight and strong sympathies could. The author, Mr. Hughes, declares that Mr. Hopper's work was a revelation of restraint and delicacy without sacrificing any dramatic values of the story.

Ole Buys a Car

The agent of a certain popular automobile made a sale to a Swedish farmer in a small town near Topeka. In his instructions to the purchaser he said: "You must be careful."

"Ay skall do dat."

"Also for the first 500 miles you must drive slowly—not over 15 miles an hour—or you will burn out the bearings."

"Ay do dat, too," said Ole.

"Your car has two gears, high and low. If you want to go fast, put her in high; if you want to go slow, put 'er in low."

"Yas sireo, you can bet on Ole—eef ay want to go fast lak overtang ay put heem in high, if ay want to go slow ay put heem in low. Shure, ay know."

The next day the neighbors noticed Ole driving his new car up and down the road in "low." He kept it up until it began to snort and steam, and was developing a terrific knock.

"Ole, you mustn't do that; don't you know you will ruin your car that way—you'll burn up the bearings," they cautioned him.

"Ya don't fool Ole. Da boss who sold me das car tole ma ay skall not drive over famteen miles hour for 500 miles. Ha said to go in hurry put car in high gear, to go slow, lak turtle, put heem in low gear. Ay skall run 500 miles in low gear; get out vay quick; ay got 400 miles to go."

The neighbors argued, expostulated and then laughed, and Ole with, "Ya skall all go to hell," struck out down the road at 15 miles an hour in low gear.—Capper's Weekly.

Point and Pahokee. Parsonages are maintained at Pahokee and Bare Beach.

One of the interesting reports made to the conference was that of the Orphanage Board. The present property of the orphanage consists of the original 17 acres of ground at Enterprise to which have been added during the past year 11 acres of orange and grapefruit grove. The grove costs $7,000, two thousand of which has been paid. A new boy's dormitory has been built at a cost of $10,000 entirely paid for. Other improvements including installation of a water plant and storage tank. The total value of the property is $35,000. The number of children now at the home is 71, an increase of 27 over last year. The health record is considered remarkable. There have been but two cases of sickness with the board believing this condition is due to the wholesome food, open air sleeping, swimming pools, etc. The work is done by the boys of the home under the superintendency of a competent farmer. The live stock on the place consists of 350 chickens; 100 ducks; 12 head of hogs; two cows and one horse. Under the direction of the preacher's relief fund, 11 homes have been secured for supernannuated ministers. These are valued at $35,500. The Tomkies Memorial Home is being erected in Tampa now to cost $3,500.

The Phifer State Bank is the conference depository. The report showed that $24,638.37 had been paid in the assessment for general work $70,161.03 on conference work; $13,340.30 on specials.

The new year begins with 10 districts, a new one, Palatka district, having been created at the last session of the conference. There are 187 changes in the conference, with 470 bringing the total to 136. The membership of the church in Florida as shown by the report is 46,950.

Adults baptized during the year. There are 227 Epworth Leagues with 7,922 members; 370 Sunday Schools, 3,756 officers and teachers and 41,506 scholars. There are 183 women members.

FLA. CONFERENCE OF M. E. CHURCH IS FLOURISHING

LAKELAND, Jan. 12.—Four hundred and nineteen houses of worship valued at $2,477,980 are maintained by the Florida Conference of the Southern Methodist Church, according to the Year Book for 1921 recently issued by the Conference. Eight parsonages valued at $57,000 and 67 station parsonages valued at $48,900 are maintained. Insurance carried on the property amounts to $60,575.

Property damage caused by fire and storms amounted to $5,597 in 1921, of which only $97 was received for insurance.

The Epworth League reported a total of 248 chapters, or an increase of 48 over the preceding year. Four Epworth League Unions were organized during the year bringing the total number in the state to seven. Three more are expected to take the field shortly.

The work of spreading Methodism among the Everglades received considerable attention in the publication. At the beginning of the year 1921 the Board of Missions created the Lake Okeechobee mission to take in the territory along the shores of Lake Okeechobee from Bare Beach around eastward to St. Lucie Canal and down Bare Beach, Miami Canal, Bascom's Point and other places. Rev. C. C. Ceel was placed in charge of the work in that district and later was given an assistant. Churches have been erected at Bare Beach, Miami Canal, Canal Point, Bacom's

Progressive, Thrifty People Find All Their Wants Catalogued in

The Classified Advertising columns

OF The Sanford Daily Herald

The progressive, thrifty group which comprises the Sanford Daily Herald readers—that is the class who use our Want-ad columns, both for selling and buying. They're folks who get more out of life on limited incomes than many do on big ones. Why? Because they devote thought to spending as well as to earning. They buy "used" items, for example, when they'll serve the purpose, and thus make a dollar go as far as three or four.

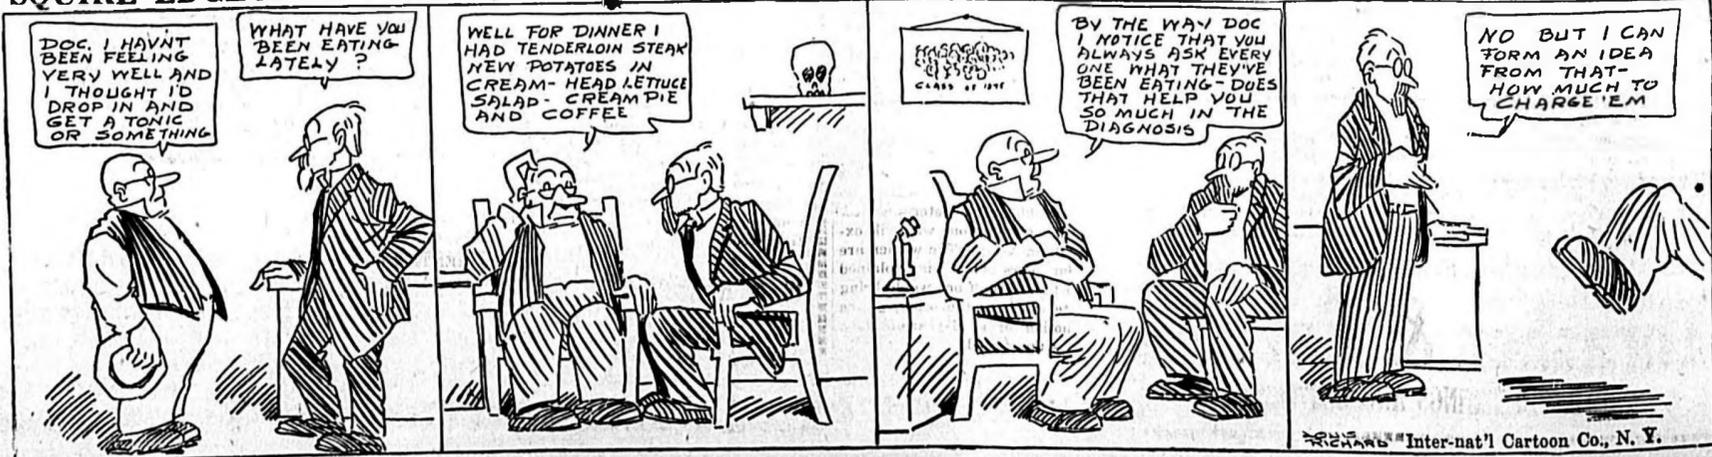

Have You a Want Today?

Then look through the Sanford Daily Herald's want ad columns now for specific information as to how you may fill it to your advantage.

THE WEATHER

For Florida: Fair tonight and Saturday and no chance in temperature; heavy frost in north and central portions and light frost in South portion tonight.

PERSONALS

Thirteenth day of the month and Friday.

And it looks like we might have a little fall of snow.

However, we don't think it will snow for several years in Florida.

The many friends of Tracy McCuller are glad to see him back in Sanford on a few days visit. He is now residing at Miami.

It seemed like it on the lake front last night but the merry dancers danced just as merrily and enjoyed the frosty weather all the more.

O. W. Talley and W. B. Talley, of Lakeland, were among the visitors to the city today. They are in the contracting business and their many friends here were glad to see them.

Jack Scarborough, cashier of the First National Bank of Quincy, Florida, is the guest of Hodson Ball. They were frat brothers at Washington and Lee Universities and boyhood friends in Quincy.

There has been no big damage here by frost the folks in the city limits declare. Some poinsettias and other tender flowers were caught in the exposed places but many of them in protected spots in the city are all right.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Herby of Dayton, Ohio, are the guests of their daughter Mrs. Schelle Maines and will remain during the winter months. Mr. and Mrs. Herby are former residents of Sanford and their many friends are glad to see them again.

The Sanford Band will render a concert at Eola Park in Orlando Sunday afternoon. The Orlando Chamber of Commerce has asked them to have the concert and will pay their expenses. It is expected that a large crowd will be present to hear the concert.

The dance on the lake front last night did not yield any returns on account of the cold wind that blew off the lake and made it rather uncomfortable. Nothing daunted the Tourist and Convention Committee will give another one later on as they need the money.

Dr. J. H. Wendler, business manager of the Florida Post and W. R. Griffin, managing editor of the Post were in the city today and made the Herald office an appreciated visit. They expect to print the first issue of the new Florida Republican daily on the first of February.

The band concert last night was just as good as they usually are and the cold spell neither deterred the band, the soloist, Chas. Brady, or the audience. The few cold snaps we have here are not severe enough to stop any of the regular routine of amusements. Last night seemed to be a busy night with about six different events on at one time.

LET CHIROPRACTIC Find the Cause and Correct It.

Chiropractic consists entirely of adjusting the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position.

The aim and end of spinal adjustment is to effect orderly arrangement of the spinal column to insure free course to health energy from the brain over the nerves, which all pass through between the joints of the column and extend to every cell in all parts of the body. When this end is effected health will result naturally to any part formerly unhealthy.

We will be pleased to have you thoroughly investigate Chiropractic. We invite such inquiry as the best means of acquainting the afflicted with the benefits to be found in spinal adjustment. More complete information and analysis of the spine may be obtained at our office, free of charge.
