

Production Goals On Florida Farms Adopted At Meet

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 20. (Special) Food production goals for 1944 which call for higher acreage of food and feed crops and smaller numbers of hogs and broilers on Florida farms were adopted at a meeting of leading farmers and representatives of all Florida agriculture agencies and the War Food Administration in Gainesville Oct. 14-18.

Principal increases are being asked in tomatoes, snap beans for fresh market and processing, cabbage, peonies, oats and hay, and flue-cured tobacco. Smaller increases are requested in corn, Irish and sweet potatoes, hogs and pullets, cattle and calves, lima beans, cucumbers, eggplant, eggplants, watermelons, carrots, iceberg lettuce and peppers.

Acres devoted to shade trees and production of eggs, sheep and naval stores are expected to be practically identical with 1943 increases are anticipated.

Employers Warned To File Tax Facts Before October 31

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 20. (Special) John I. Fabs, Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Florida, has today called attention to the fact that employers are required to file their withholding tax returns on Forms W-1 for the period from July 1, 1943, through Sept. 30, 1943, during the month of October 1943. He calls attention to the fact that because the money deducted from the employees is in the nature of a trust fund, Congress has imposed substantial penalties for failure to file the returns on time and to pay the tax on time.

There is a minimum penalty of $10 for failure to file the return on time and a minimum penalty of $10 for failure to pay the tax on time, in other words, the tax on time and to pay the tax on time.

The Sittany Lions from Penn State put up a terrific fight but were tanked by the Navy, 11 to 6 at Annapolis, Md. Typical of Penn State's performance was the blocking of Brown (11) as he was being tackled by the Navy's Brown out of bounds (International Stadium).

Tank Gunners Are Taught Shooting By New Devices

AP Features. FORT KNOX, Ky. Tank gunners in monitory guns that don't shoot, and other novel training devices have been originated by the 785th Tank Battalion to teach gunners and tank commanders deadly accuracy in armored warfare.

This American invention is led by Maj. F. M. Smith, training at Fort Knox, Ky., using ingenious gadgets and interesting games that catch the imagination of the trainees. Among the devices from point of construction, yet his method is the heart of the gunnery training problem.

In the former board battle game devised by Sgt. Harold M. Mc, two model tanks are placed on a large table representing a 1,000 yard battlefield. The contestants sit opposite each other marked in the lens of his field glasses, and tell rapidly the target to the target. The size of a simple formula enables him to send his first shots close to objective. In armored warfare, split seconds can mean the difference between life and death.

Capt. W. S. Westfall, battalion gunnery officer, introduced a first set board replicas of the field glass and scale for use on black board drill. The scale is tacked up above a tank outline, the instructor places a burst with his pointer and the trainee orders the correction for the next shot. There's no guess work.

Capt. Westfall and Lt. Patsy F. Matone developed an aiming device that never shoots but teaches the student to get his gun on the target properly and quickly. The device is a small model of the big tank gun, with elevating and traversing hand wheels and the standard sight reticle.

The gunners and tank commander drill endlessly until all the techniques of tank gunnery come smoothly and easily. The trainees then go out on ranges on their tanks to fire real shells, they already know their job. Those targets 1,000 yards away are doomed. Many Japanese and German tanks will share that doom.

Debate On U.S. Foreign Plans Is Launched

AFL and CIO Demand Congress Outlaw Poll Tax In States; Coal Strike Grows

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Missouri state and federal governments today opened one of the Senate's most important debates in this generation on his own resolution, Senator Tom Connally of Texas declared today that the hour has struck for America to show its great might will be dedicated to world peace and against aggression henceforth.

The powerful AFL and CIO unions demanded that Congress outlaw the collection of the poll tax by which they said "10,000,000 American citizens are now disfranchised." Their demand defended the constitutionality of the bill passed by the House in May before the Senate committee.

The soft coal problem was complicated by reports that the W. I. L. is cool to a proposed plan, a contract with the Illinois operators, as miners strike spread in West Virginia and in Kentucky. Six big Alabama mines producing industrial fuel resumed production with less than normal crews.

Meanwhile Chester Bowles, general OPA manager, was nominated by President Roosevelt to succeed President Hottel as administrator.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—A continued rise in the cost of living and of earnings was reported today by the National Industrial Conference Board.

The private research organization estimated that living costs were up 1.4 percent with wages up 1.4 percent and lower-skilled clerical workers averaged 19.9 percent above those of January, 1941.

Its survey of 25 manufacturing industries showed that average hourly earnings declined 10 percent from the same 1941 month and that weekly earnings, adjusted for retail price increases, averaged 16.8 percent above January, 1941.

During September, the board said, living expenses went up 1.6 of 80 cities surveyed, declined 1.6 and held steady in seven.

Compared with September, 1942, the board said living costs were up 1.4 percent with wages up 1.4 percent, the greatest increase, 8.3 percent, and New Haven, Conn., the smallest, 2.1 percent.

Average hourly earnings in August were estimated at $1.02, while weekly earnings touched a new peak of $40.21. These figures were 8.6 percent and 13.1 percent, respectively, above August of 1942.

Kiwanians and Lions Will Tangle Tuesday For Benefit of Boys' Club

Announcement was made today by Capt. George Woods, captain of the Kiwanis softball team, and John Ivy, captain of the Lions Club team, that proceeds of tomorrow night's game at City Diamond Park will be devoted toward painting and improving the club house of the Sanford Boys' Club at Tenth and French Avenues.

The game last week between the All Stars and the Boys Club resulted in gate receipts of more than $28 which went to the Boys Club, fund, Capt. Woods stated.

Meanwhile, loud claims are being made by the rival team manager as to which club will win. Capt. Ivy stated today that in order not to trim the Kiwanians too severely he was thinking of making all of his right hand batter hit left handed.

To this challenge Capt. Woods stated that were it not that softball rules require the presence of 10 men in the field, he would eliminate his outfielders altogether, as he felt the Lion's heavy sluggers would be completely tamed by the Kiwanis pitchers. Capt. Woods added that he actually had a surplus of talent, but that his battery would be a mystery until the last moment.

Prof. Earl Kipper has promised that his loud speaker system will be in hand for the announcer, and if the weather is good, a large crowd is expected to be on hand.

When Berlin Breaks

Every historic city has a character of its own, and its own form of behavior in crucial times. Everybody knows, for example, how the British behaved when it looked as if London would be destroyed...

The Chinese, as they have proved again and again, can "take it." The Japanese are not so good at that, but more easily upset.

Well, what of the Germans? Their psychology under great strain is sure to become a big factor in this war, sooner or later.

An article by Gunnar T. Pihl of the North American Newspaper Alliance, written from Stockholm, next door to Germany, says that Berlin is always a nervous temperamental city.

War-Time Cleanliness

One of the hardest things for civilians to bear in countries that have been subjected to severe war privations is the lack of soap.

It is obviously necessary for everybody to save as much tallow and suet as possible, for war use.

The big idea is to do what Britain and other nations at war have been doing for some time—saving every possible scrap of such materials for war purposes.

But it is not necessary here for people to deprive themselves of so much fat that they invite disease. The idea is to be careful, and not waste such materials.

Courtesy

Emily Post is tired of having salespeople tell her in a rude tone of voice that there's a war on.

When anyone asks for a thing which a store no longer has, the salesperson would be better liked if he said quietly that he was sorry the store had none...

A famous teacher used to tell his pupils: "Never be in too much of a hurry for the pleasant word. There is always time in life for courtesy."

Thankfulness

People have started thinking about Thanksgiving—what day is best for this festival and what they have to be thankful for.

This is largely a personal problem, in which everyone has a right to his own conclusions.

RURAL COMMON SENSE

Never before in their young lives have Florida high school students had a greater opportunity to serve their country than that offered them during the 1943 crop production season. All the food that can be produced and harvested by Florida farmers and growers will be needed and the boys and girls in the high schools over the state can help in the job. Labor is short but the food must be produced and harvested if Florida is to do its full share in this phase of the war program. All Americans and their children are helping the Axis will be essential to the way out before the end of 1944, but as the momentum of the allied effort against the Axis gains speed, and the need for food and other supplies increases. With labor short, the farmers of Florida and the rest of the Nation face the task of maintaining or increasing their production at war time high levels. School officials are cooperating with workers of the emergency food labor program to mobilize the youth of the state into a force that will play a major role in the production battle to be fought in the field and grove this winter. That badly needed food will be produced and harvested. The program for having high school youths help in field work...

Farmers' Markets Begin Shipments Fruit, Vegetables

 400 acres, cabbage and squash will be grown on 300 acres each, 200 acres each will be planted to English peas and sweet potatoes. Other crops will include snap beans, eggplant, pepper, tomatoes, cucumbers and chris. Wauscha should have had a heavy movement of cucumbers, pepper, eggplant and squash last week but for the cold weather. Good supplies will be available this week, with the cucumber deal reaching its peak about November 1. Quality is reported the best in several seasons. "At Sanford, ideal weather for setting celery during last week is expected to raise the acreage above that of last year by November 1. Romaine, lettuce and escarole are also showing an increase in acreage. Small quantities of snap beans and English peas are expected to move today. Outlook is that supply of fruits and vegetables will not be sufficient to meet the demand. "Rain at Starke will decrease yield and quality of early sweet potatoes about 50 per cent." Late plantings are growing good and growers are expecting good yields and quality. The Pean crop is expected to be about 20 per cent of last year's crop. Acreage planted to leafy greens, squash and cucumbers, will be about the same as last year. "Farmers at Palatka are preparing to plant a large acreage to cabbage and will grow considerable mixed vegetables, such as turnips, English peas, etc. The potato situation is still unsettled due to failure of OPA to announce ceilings, but prospects are that there will be a good acreage. "Panacola reports a very good market in tomatoes, squash, greens, sweet potatoes and sweet hot peppers," he said.

Two Way Assaults On Europe are Believed Beginning

 Thunderbolts, Spitfires and Typhoons carried out supporting sweeps with the loss of one Spitfire. Ten enemy planes were brought down. A force of RAF Mitchell, White-winds and Typhoons swept into Cherbourg harbor at wavesight through a heavy hail of anti-aircraft fire that hit every plane. They bombed a medium-sized merchant ship setting it afire. The Germans resumed their propaganda raids early tonight, dropping high explosives and incendiary bombs on some planes in East Anglia. The Paris radio hinted that the recent attacks on Berlin were the beginning of something sinister and hitherto unknown. The mathematical regularity of the raids which, at the present stage, are purely apartment-al, hints that the beginning of reprisals, for the bombing of Germany are not far off. Berlin and Luxembourg radios went off the air tonight, indicating that another Allied raid might be under way against Germany. Hit Vienna Area. Meanwhile, up from the Mediterranean came four-engine bombers to sweep the Vienna area of Austria, the German radio announced, and later more big formations crossed Hungary's southwest border to bomb Trans-Danubia. The German radio said the attack was made "under cover" of a dense layer of clouds. It admitted "minor damage to one point," despite bad weather over the Alps. A force of 300 bombers and 200 fighter escorts was sent near Zagreb, German puppet capital of Croatia, which fired its guns later at 16 Allied planes, the German radio said. Budapest also had an alert. Long Range Fighters. In England the big aerial news was the disclosure that the twin-engine, twin-tailed, extra long-range P-38 Lightning fighters now were available for bomber escort. Believed carrying extra gas tanks, the Lightning, which can make 400 miles an hour and carry a cannon and few 50-caliber machine-guns, will be capable of reaching Berlin. The heavy, long range than the Thunderbolt, which on Sept. 27 escorted Flying Fortress as 300 miles to Enisei and back. The Lightnings are expected to make more than 1100-mile round trips, giving medium bombers the protection needed for distant attacks. The Lightning, the first fighters

 40 percent to 50 percent. WASHINGTON, Oct. 25, (AP)—Plans for three gigantic new aircraft carriers are the navy's grim notice of a realistic conclusion that war in the Pacific will continue past 1945. Secretary Knox's announcement that the 45,000-tonners will go on the ways "soon," serves also to underscore the decision that sea-borne airpower must be employed in increasing force to crush Japan. The new giants, bristling with firepower, carrying extra armor and capable of far greater speed than existing carriers, will be able to throw against the Nipponese big bombers which now are necessarily land based. Made It Official. The Knox announcement only made official information already reaching Capitol Hill. "The carriers will not be completed until late 1945," in plenty of time to participate in the battle of the Pacific," said one informed legislator. Upon the basis of information from high-ranking war and navy chiefs, he expressed that defeat of Japan could not be achieved earlier than 1947 and perhaps not until 1949. The evidence supplied by the carrier construction plans, was piled into information furnished members of the house and senate in secret sessions a few days earlier. Still generally hopeful that Germany will be defeated by the end of next year, members of congress emphasize privately the need for preparing against a let-down in public war psychology until Japan is licked. Important Factors. That emphasis has grown out of these factors: 1. Information that Japan is building planes faster than we are destroying them. 2. Little likelihood that the United States can obtain Siberian bases in the near future for bombing raids on Japan. 3. Growing appreciation of the difficulty involved in reopening Burma road. 4. Mounting realization—both by the public and members of congress—of the difficulties and distances of maintaining supply lines.
