

U. S. Acts To Keep Italians From Leaving

Action Is Duplicate Of Move Against German Nationals Made Week Before

Officers Will Watch Borders

Economic Co-Operation Between U. S. And Russia Seen

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The federal government acted today to halt the departure of Italian nationals from the United States, duplicating the action taken last week against Germans in this country.

Immigration and border patrol officers were instructed to take all necessary steps to prevent any Italian national from leaving the country pending further orders.

The step was taken to insure compliance with an executive order of the President June 14 which prohibited the departure of any Italian national from the United States pending further orders.

Establishment of close economic cooperation among the United States, Great Britain and Russia was envisaged today in diplomatic quarters today as a result of the German invasion of the Soviet Union.

Striking with bombshell effect comparable to the surprise Russian-German non-aggression pact of 1939, Germany's sudden war move eastward caused intense diplomatic activities in the capital.

The American government with held any formal statement of its views but State Department spokesmen said the German action was a convincing proof that Adolf Hitler was bent on domination of the entire world.

It was described in the same terms as the Japanese invasion of China and the German invasion of Poland.

The State Department reaction clearly branded Germany as the aggressor and thus raised the question of possible American assistance to the Soviet Union.

Officials would not indicate the American course of action pending a further study of all the implications of the development.

One high diplomatic source, however, said he expected close economic cooperation at least to British and American aid to the United States probably adopting a more liberal policy on exports of vital defense materials to the Soviet Union.

Golfers Downed In First Inter-City Match At Daytona

Sanford golfers bowed to members of the Daytona Beach Country Club in the tournament score of 19-13 to 18-14 in the first of the inter-city matches to be held between Orlando, Daytona and Sanford, Raymondo Landis, Sanford, won the first match, 19-13.

In the third hole of the afternoon Lawrence Lundquist won the competition with a net score of 72, while John Weism and Raymondo Landis were second and third place, respectively. Next Sunday the Daytona golfers will come here for a contest at the Sanford Country Club at 1:30 o'clock.

One local team won a match and another lost its match but two winning matches by Daytona decided the meet. Maxwell Stewart and Joe Masters won their match by defeating the Orlando Golfers, 11-9, and by the same score of five and one-half to three and one-half.

The second match was played by John Fry and E. D. Scott of Sanford against E. J. Landis and Raymondo Landis of Daytona. Sanford's Fry and Scott won, 11-9.

The "Star-Spangled Banner" is the great poem of America, Rev. Brooks stated. It is often said that it is not poetry, he continued, but it was written by a lawyer, Francis Scott Key. Not many people can sing, or even say, all its verses, but they should learn it, Rev. Brooks declared.

Lincoln's "Second Inaugural Address" is the American gospel, said Rev. Brooks, pointing out that in it Lincoln emphasized freedom and that he was more than any other man who ever lived who saw slavery as a sin. It is the only prayer that is not for the living but for the dead.

Rev. Brooks then said tributes to Woodrow Wilson and his "Fourteen Points" should be read.

Documents Which Reflect History Of U. S. Listed

Comparison Is Made With Seven Parts Of Bible In Talk

Rev. W. P. Brooks, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church, addressed the Rotary Club today at its regular weekly luncheon on the subject of "The Principles of True Americanism."

These seven documents he listed as the "Mayflower Compact," the "Declaration of Independence," the "Constitution of the United States," Washington's "Farewell Address," the "Star-Spangled Banner," Lincoln's "Second Inaugural Address," and Woodrow Wilson's "Road Away From Revolution."

Rev. Brooks was introduced by Rev. Martin Brant, who presided over the meeting in the absence of J. L. Ingley who is attending the Rotary International convention in Denver, Colo. Bradford Bryant reported on the progress of the U. S. O. drive which he said is very gratifying. And Charles Morrison led the club in singing a number of well known selections.

The "Mayflower Compact" was drawn up in the cabin of the Mayflower in 1620. Rev. Brooks said it was written by a lawyer which they agreed personally and voluntarily to establish a democratic form of government and to abide by its laws. This, he said, could be called the "genesis of Democracy."

The Declaration of Independence which he compared with "Exodus" in the Bible was our "roadmap from bondage to a free state." It tells our story, he said, and Benjamin Franklin, it represented at that time the true sentiments of America.

The "Constitution," Rev. Brooks said, is "Our Book of Fundamental Law" like the Ten Commandments. It tells our story, he said, and what it shall not do and thus protects the liberties of the people. "Not many places are left in the world," Rev. Brooks said, "which have such liberties as those guaranteed us by our Constitution."

Washington's "Farewell Address," Rev. Brooks said, is our great American prophecy. "We often hear it said that Washington said this country should have no entangling alliances," Rev. Brooks said, "but Washington was an isolationist. He sent commissioners abroad to make treaties with every country in Europe. Washington also said, 'Cerish public credit' and that 'the one great responsibility is morality and religion.'"

The "Star-Spangled Banner" is the great poem of America, Rev. Brooks stated. It is often said that it is not poetry, he continued, but it was written by a lawyer, Francis Scott Key. Not many people can sing, or even say, all its verses, but they should learn it, Rev. Brooks declared.

Lincoln's "Second Inaugural Address" is the American gospel, said Rev. Brooks, pointing out that in it Lincoln emphasized freedom and that he was more than any other man who ever lived who saw slavery as a sin. It is the only prayer that is not for the living but for the dead.

Rev. Brooks then said tributes to Woodrow Wilson and his "Fourteen Points" should be read.

U.S. Condemns Nazi Assault Upon Russians

Whether Lease-Lend Aid Will Be Sent To Soviets Still Is Open Question

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The United States condemned Germany's "treacherous attack" on Russia and declared "any rallying of the forces opposing Hitlerism would rebound to the benefit of American defense and security."

The statement, made by Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles after he had conferred with President Roosevelt, left open the question of whether lease-lend aid would be given Soviet Russia.

Welles added, however, the President and authority under the lease-lend act to furnish aid to any country resisting aggression.

"Hitler's armies are today the chief dangers of the Americas," Welles told a large press conference.

Germany struck at Russia by land and air in a dawn invasion Sunday and the Soviet government promptly accepted the challenge, hurling the might of its Red army against the Nazis with orders to "renew this proud history of our people," Moscow's radio broadcast said.

Foreign Commissar Molotov, broadening his attack, said that the Nazi Luftwaffe had been ordered to "renew this proud history of our people," Moscow's radio broadcast said.

He declared the Germans attacked at several points by land and air, and that the Luftwaffe had killed and wounded more than 200 persons in air raids on Kiev, capital of the Ukraine; Zhitomir, also in the Ukraine; Kaunas, capital of Lithuania; and other Soviet towns. Other attacks were made from Finnish and Rumanian territory, he said.

The German invasion, Molotov asserted, was started without declaration of war and without any claims having been made.

Sanford's Sons of the Legion rifle team, composed of Elmo Gradick, Tommy Cobbs and Billy Richard, won third place in the U. S. O. drive which he said is very gratifying. And Charles Morrison led the club in singing a number of well known selections.

39 4-H Club Girls Of Seminole County Return From Camp McQuarrie

Thirty-six Seminole County 4-H Club girls spent the last week at Camp McQuarrie, along with girls from Volusia and Orange counties, enjoying swimming, games, and handicraft work. Mrs. Rosa Andrews, home demonstration agent, said today.

It was the largest delegation ever sent from this county and was also the largest delegation of the three counties on the trip last week. Mrs. Andrews revealed. Among the girls winning ribbons for their work in handicraft were 11 from this county.

The girls constructed a frame garden from top soil, tin cans, and wood in frame enclosures. The enclosure was built and the ground was dug up and tilled with the cans opened at both ends. Good top soil was filled in for the bed and leaf mould worked in the soil. A frame for hanging moss or palmlike fans was built over the top of the garden to protect it from too much sun.

During the week the girls studied dairying and poultry, and practiced canning of tomatoes. Mrs. Bernice Coleman taught 30 of the 39 girls to sew and the others improved on their stitching and darning. Mrs. Andrews declared.

Winners of the handicraft competition in the smaller girls' division were Marjorie Haldeman.

Lithuania And Latvia Disclose Independence In Broadcast

HELSINKI, June 23 (AP)—Official spokesmen asserted today Finland would maintain her neutrality as long as possible in the war between Germany and Russia. Dr. A. A. Reunanen's declaration indicating she would be an active ally of the Reich. Frontier facing Russia was manned, but Finland declared her only purpose was self defense.

HELSINKI, June 23 (AP)—All three Baltic states which Russia absorbed last summer are expected here to revolt against the Soviet Union with the approach of the Nazi armies and declarations of independence for Lithuania and Latvia, already have been broadcast. Baltic refugees said Russia herself had expected revolts in Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia and pointed out that the main Russian defenses had been kept inside the original Soviet frontier.

British Destroy 64 Nazi Planes In Three Days

Bombers Pound Big Navy Base, Other Targets In Reich

LONDON, June 23 (AP)—Making an offensive sweep over northern France for the seventh successive day, the R. A. F. reported today the destruction of several more Nazi fighter planes, bringing the total for the last three days to 64.

The raid followed the twelfth straight night assault on German quarters, in which bombers pounded the big naval base at Wilhelmshaven and other targets. Giving the German invasion losses in France no letup, the R. A. F. destroyed 30 German planes over the English Channel and France yesterday at the loss of only two British fighters. The pilot of one of these is safe.

Revised reports from R. A. F. headquarters said 29 German planes were shot down by fighters and one by a Blenheim bomber after it was damaged by fighters.

The Air Ministry news service said yesterday's score brought the fighter command's daylight bag for the last seven days to 98 German aircraft against a loss of 19 British planes. It added that 68 planes downed in the last two days were of the new ME-109 type.

German air raiders, striking at Britain with larger forces than for some time, Saturday night mingled propaganda leaflets with bombs.

The leaflets asserted Britain was losing the battle of the Atlantic. A few persons were killed in a south coast town and several were injured.

New Products Of Citrus Is Theme Of U. S. Bulletin

GAINESVILLE, June 23 (AP)—What chemical research has done in bringing out new products of citrus is the theme of a new circular, "Citrus Fruit Products," written by two outstanding scientists and published by the State Agricultural Extension Service.

Authors of the circular are H. W. von Loesecke, chemist with the U. S. D. A. citrus laboratory in Winter Haven, and E. M. Chase, chemist with the Los Angeles, Calif., U. S. D. A. laboratory.

The publication covers work with preserved juices, vinegar, citric acid, canned fruit, jams, beverages, oils, glucosides, pectin, candied peels, marmalades, jellies, orange butter, and other products.

It also describes practical equipment and methods for making these products.

Ways of utilizing or disposing of so-called "waste" citrus materials are also discussed by the two scientists.

Copies of the circular, No. 577, may be obtained from the Division of Publications, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Aluminum Drive To Continue This Week

Harris Anderson, member of the volunteer group which is collecting aluminum for the government's defense effort said today the drive would continue until Saturday since the expected amount had not yet been collected.

Containers have been placed in front of the Post Office and the Atlantic National Bank for aluminum articles. Mr. Anderson asked Sanford residents to give pans, and other articles which they did not need toward the drive.

Aluminum collected will not go to any private company, Mr. Anderson emphasized, but will be used by the government. Articles collected here will be sent to Orlando, which is receiving headquarters for Central Florida. The aluminum will then be sent to Jacksonville and to the government.

Members of the Woman's Club are assisting in the campaign, Mr. Anderson said.

Lithuania Declares Independence From U. S. S. R. Second Day Of Conflict

Battle's Progress Pleases Germans

Japan's Reaction Is Watched By Observers In Far East

By Associated Press

The Baltic bastion which Soviet Russia created as a buffer against German attack was reported today to be giving way as Nazi panzer units pushed 10 miles into Russian territory and the Luftwaffe pounded the bases and communications of the Red Army.

Reports from Kaunas said Lithuania declared her independence from Russia at noon today—the second day of war between the Reich and the U. S. S. R.

The conflict raged from continued maneuvers for position in the far north where, in Finland, the 2,000-mile front touches the Arctic Sea, to a fierce encounter of men and machines, aloft and ground, in the central and southern sectors.

The Nazi High Command asserted Adolf Hitler's legions have driven ahead "on schedule and successfully" in the first lunges against Russia.

The clash of military titans who now have east side the presence of friendly troops in its train a series of hurried conferences in world capitals.

Far Eastern observers keenly watched Japan's reaction. Tokyo is bound by the three-power Axis pact to go to the assistance of either Germany or Italy in the event of an "attack" by a new belligerent; it is so bound to remain neutral in the fighting involving Russia.

Germany reported quick and destructive success by air today for the thunderbolts which Adolf Hitler loosed Sunday in a variation of war on his one-time ally, the Russian of Joseph Stalin.

Hapless Finland, weary from her 1939-40 war with Russia, but disengaged into a clash of great powers along with Rumania as an ally of Germany, suffered some of the first of Russia's counter-blow.

The Finnish High Command told Russian air raids at several points, including Alkari, and of attacks on two Finnish armored vessels. Helsinki's radio suddenly went dead this morning, indicating a raid on the capital.

But the Finnish press, making the best of matters, printed flaming dispatches comparing German successes in the first day of the titanic conflict with the biggest victories in the course of the entire European war.

The smoke of burning Russian towns and oil and munitions dumps delineated the sprawling border, these stories said.

The 2,000 mile battlefield, from the Arctic to the Black Sea, was lined with 5,000,000 fighting men—the might of Red Russia arrayed against that of Germany and of Germany's little new allies, Finland and Rumania.

It was in scope and in its meaning for the world the development of perhaps the greatest war in history.

But primary news from the fronts dealt almost exclusively with air raids. D.N.B. official German news agency, and the German radio, told of strong assaults on Sevastopol, Russian Black Sea base; on Kiev, capital of the rich Ukrainian wheat region; on Zhitomir, also in the Ukraine; and on Kaunas, capital of the old Lithuania which Russia seized last year.

Now Is The Time

If the democracies of the world have any hope at all of ever escaping from the menace of Hitlerism, now is the time for them to strike. Never again will they find Germany so vulnerable to attack from the west, and south, so preoccupied in the east, so utterly incapable of defending herself from united attack as she is today after tearing up another treaty and launching an unprovoked attack against Russia.

Every nation in the world, that cherishes its own freedom, every man who hates and fears world domination by Hitler, should unite at once and do everything in their power to completely eradicate Nazi socialism from the face of the earth before it is too late. This goes for the people of the United States as well as Britain. It goes for the people of France and other conquered European nations and the people of South America. This is no time to sit back and wait to see what will happen.

Germany now has a powerful antagonist in Soviet Russia. It was Russia that saved France in 1914 at the Battle of the Marne. It was Russia that saved western civilization in the first two years of the World War. It was Russia that brought about the downfall of Napoleon in his retreat from Moscow. It may well be Russia that, unwittingly perhaps, will save Britain and the United States, from the full fury of the Nazi legions, if they are quick to take advantage of the opportunity which Hitler has thrown into their lap.

Russia is a great country, rich in manpower and national resources. It has a front with Germany extending two thousand miles in length. It was something like five million men under arms and millions more in reserve. Like China it has endless territories of difficult terrain, to which it can withdraw in the face of adversity. It has great wheat fields, plenty of oil and iron, so necessary in time of war. The Russians should be able to put up a good fight, keep Germany fully occupied for several months. They should be able to destroy many German soldiers, many German tanks and airplanes.

But Russia cannot win the war alone, or maintain her resistance forever. Like all the armies of the world except Germany's, the Russian army is poorly equipped. Most of all it lacks speedy and efficient fighting planes. Its transportation facilities are terribly inadequate and its brains, both for its industrial machinery and its army staff, are quite as poor.

Hitler hopes to defeat Russia in three weeks, no longer than it took him to conquer Poland. If he can push his mechanized columns through to Moscow without too much resistance, it is possible that this phase of the war will be over in time for the all-out long overdue attack on England before the end of the summer. Then with Russian bases on the Bering Sea only a few miles from Alaska, with the British Empire knocked out of the fighting, he would be ready for America.

No doubt there will be some who will say that in helping to defeat Hitler, we will be helping communism. It will not be we who will be helping the communists but the communists who will be helping us. And in a free-for-all fight one cannot be too choosy as to his helpers. As a nation Russia has made no attempt to conquer the world. Germany has. Compared with Germany Russia is great, peace-loving power. We have nothing to fear from communism as long as we are prepared to fight for our freedom, our liberties and our way of life.

Last Fireworks

To the delight of many a small boy, Florida will soon join the parade of states which have placed their last fireworks sale behind them.

Declaring that the passage of this law by the Florida Legislature brings to 14 the number of states which have enacted similar statutes, the Tampa Times makes this pertinent comment:

The laws—all based on a model drafted by the National Fire Protection Association in 1938—provide for properly supervised public displays, operated under a permit and requiring a bond to cover possible injury to persons and property. Sale of fireworks for private use is prohibited.

Effectiveness of adequate legislation accompanied by strict enforcement was shown by a recent survey by the American Medical Association of Fourth of July injuries and deaths. The Medical Association reported that sharp reductions in fireworks casualties followed enactment of control laws.

There has been a steady decline in the number of deaths from fireworks, with only eight reported in 1940 as resulting directly from the Fourth of July celebration. All but two of the fatalities occurred in states lacking fireworks control legislation.

The sale of fireworks' enactment has been outlawed within the Tampa city limits, but the law prohibiting fireworks throughout the State should make the ban much more effective.

DISPELLING THE FOG

By CHARLES MICHELSON

There is a type of mind that regards the obvious as inconceivable and that always looks around for a tortoise explanation of any phenomenon, however simple.

It would be charitable to attribute to Senator Byrnes, and a very few others of the Administration, a type of this mind.

In the matter of the Bobbin Now-it's the name of the doctored cargo ship was summarized aboard the submarine, with all ship's papers. He and others tell of the ship's captain, Robert English, who they say is being held in custody by the British.

Partisans of the British are quick to point out that the ship was not a submarine, but a cargo ship, and that the papers were not on board.

Nothing could be more absurd; not even the implication of the suggestion of a couple of other "journalists" that the ship was a submarine.

The fact is that the ship was a cargo ship, and that the papers were not on board.

The fact is that the ship was a cargo ship, and that the papers were not on board.

The fact is that the ship was a cargo ship, and that the papers were not on board.

The fact is that the ship was a cargo ship, and that the papers were not on board.

The fact is that the ship was a cargo ship, and that the papers were not on board.

THE "GO-GETTER"

posed to have said this or who he said it to, nowhere appears. An official writing, except for an un-named Nazi authority, there has been no reply from the Hitler outfit to our protest at the sighting of an American ship, from any war zone; that carried no war material or munitions, and the identity of which had been ascertained by the radio. The newspaper interview, called from Berlin, stated that the Germans would sink any ship anywhere that was carrying "contraband." Contraband is anything that they care to use as an excuse for the destruction of lives and ships.

Naturally, there is much interest in what the American Government will do in the face of this deliberate assault.

It could be made the basis for a declaration of war, though that would seem to be the least likely outcome. We might ask indemnity and, if that was refused, could seize German property in reprisal or we could do as this country did more than a century ago—start to go after the raiders as pirates—laws entitled to no grace. This would parallel our action when we broke up the blackmarketing enterprise of the Barbary corsairs that used to seize American ships and hold their crews for ransom.

The alternative would appear to be to submit to the decision that Hitler rules the sea and agree that American ships could move north without the peril of being blown up wherever the raiders could find them. That would seem to be the farthest possible from the course this country will pursue.

As to Germany, she is expected to take one of two positions. First, she may adopt the policy indicated by the newspaper interview, asserting her intention of sinking ships bearing contraband—resisting to prevent the decision of what is contraband—while making no admission that the Bobbin Moor was the victim of a Nazi submarine. Secondly, she may deny any knowledge of the affair, and say that her U-boats was in that part of the world when the sinking occurred. That is what she claimed when the Athenia was destroyed. Very likely, we will know the Nazi position at least, the formal admission before this letter is published.

In speculation on what will come next, I know no man but one other newspaper commentator, just what is likely to happen or when it will happen, a considerable interval will elapse before the decision is announced. We remember the almost unbelievable procession of "news" that came out of London in the days of the sinking of the Athenia. The news that the ship was a cargo ship, and that the papers were not on board, came out in a series of statements that were completely contradictory.

The fact is that the ship was a cargo ship, and that the papers were not on board.

Pepper Asks Repeal 'Of Neutrality Act

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(AP)—Senator Pepper of Florida proposed Sunday that Congress implement President Roosevelt's demand for maintenance of the freedom of the seas by repealing the Neutrality Act which prevents American shipping from entering war zones.

At the same time, some members of the Senate bloc opposing administration foreign policy expressed benefit that the President's message of last Friday on the sinking of the American merchant ship Robin Moor by a German submarine might be the opening move in an effort to revise the neutrality law.

British Aid Group Marks Anniversary

By MRS. FRED T. WILLIAMS

Just one year has elapsed since the Bundles for Britain Club was organized, June 20, 1940. Mrs. I. D. Martin is responsible for this organization which has gone far beyond her expectations as a club, which would respond so readily to her appeal for help for the sufferers in England who were being bombed from their homes and were left to wander aimlessly on the streets until help could come to them.

Mrs. Martin has the honor of having sent from Sanford and Seminole County with the marvelous help of all kindred citizens and various other organizations and surgical instruments and other necessities in response to this cause.

Many letters have been received from headquarters in New York commending Mrs. Martin for her marvelous work. They state also that Sanford has been an outstanding city in responding to this cause.

Mrs. Martin wishes to thank all persons for the work they have done in the interest of Bundles for Britain and I quote her, "It is better to say 'I'm glad I did than 'I wish I had'."

The Sanford Herald editors have been very generous in giving space to this work.

Hostesses for an anniversary party Friday were Mrs. W. A. Leavitt and Mrs. Forbush. The home of Mrs. Leavitt was beautifully decorated with flowers in pastel shades received from the members of the club and after a brief business meeting which was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. Martin, letters of interest from New York were read. Mrs. W. A. Knowlton gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. Fred T. Williams, secretary, announced that the largest request from England was for emergency kits for men and women. Donations for making up the emergency kits will be announced later.

This was also a farewell party for Mrs. Dorothy Lamb who has served the Seminole County schools as visiting nurse for the past years. Mrs. Lamb has not only been a good nurse, but through her cheery disposition has brought rays of sunshine to those who were ill. She has instructed school students in night nursing and has been a great help to the community. A handsome check was given in expression of appreciation from the club.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. The meeting adjourned with 13 women in attendance.

Attending were: Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Ray Redding, Mrs. H. A. Leavitt, Mrs. E. H. Bennett, Mrs. A. E. Hill, Mrs. M. H. Burns, Mrs. Jeanne Putnam, Mrs. Louie West, Mrs. H. J. Parsons, Mrs. Kate Shuman, Mrs. E. E. Apley, Mrs. Leavitt, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. Walter Bacon, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Elizabeth Tracy and Miss Irene Hillman.

A. C. L. Railroad Discloses Record Equipment Order

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 23 (Special C. M.)—Having an extensive vice president, Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, announced today that orders have been placed by that railroad for 2,000 freight cars, says M. Davis, an announced that orders have been placed with Electro-Motive Corporation for nine diesel-electric passenger locomotives and with the Pullman Manufacturing Company for 10 Pullman lightweight streamlined stainless steel passenger train cars.

The order for 2,000 freight cars closely follows purchase of 1,000 new cars, orders for which were placed last fall and delivery of which was completed early in 1941. The new freight train equipment has been made necessary by the materially increased volume of traffic the Atlantic Coast Line is now handling.

The order for additional diesel electric passenger locomotives and lightweight, streamlined stainless steel passenger train cars is part of a program which will place a total of 12 additional diesel-electric locomotives and 22 additional lightweight passenger train cars in East Florida passenger service for the next winter season. The Pennsylvania Railroad and Florida East Coast Railroad, the other roads in the joint route, provide the additional equipment.

Six of the new lightweight passenger train cars, three sets of two cars each, will go to streamlined coach train operated between New York, Washington, and Miami over the Pennsylvania Railroad, Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, Atlantic Coast Line and Florida East Coast Railroad, from a 14-car train to a 16-car train daily.

The Champion, which will be in its third season of operation with the 1941-42 winter tourist season, was inaugurated Dec. 1, 1932, as a seven-car train.

The results of scientific tests for intoxication, where reckless or drunken driving is involved, are now admitted by courts in 30 states.

Careful Handling Of Eggs Prevents Loss, Expert Says

GAINESVILLE, June 23, (Special)—By taking good care of eggs on the farm, poultrymen will be making a valuable contribution to the food for defense program, N. R. Maheshof, Eaton county poultry specialist, pointed out today.

Carelessness in handling eggs for market lost a percent of the United States egg production in 1930. This loss represented 177 million dozen eggs with a cash value of nearly $25 million dollars. Careful handling means more eggs for food supplies of the country and other democracies and additional income for poultry producers.

The Extension specialist made these suggestions to poultrymen and farm flock owners:

Provide the flock with proper quality feed for good eggs.

Keep a deep, clean litter on the poultry house floor, and confine the birds in the house until noon if necessary.

Provide plenty of clean nests at least one to every five hens.

Provide infertile eggs for market. This will require removing the male birds from the flock as soon as hatching season is over.

Gather eggs frequently to reduce the number of dirty eggs.

Collect eggs soon as they are gathered to as near 60 degrees as possible to prevent spoilage.

Never place warm eggs in the case.

Do You Talk Directly Into the Telephone?

Your voice comes clearest to the other person when you talk directly into the mouthpiece. It says about half an inch away.

Do You Hang Up Gently?

Hang up with a bang and you seem like an act of discourtesy to the person with whom you've been talking. You don't mean to be of course, but it's apt to be misunderstood.

Do You Speak Rationally?

Speak in a normal, conversational tone. Loud talking irritates the voice and makes it unpleasantly harsh. Whispered words are indistinct.

Do You Answer Promptly?

It's the considerate thing to do and makes a good impression on the caller. Delay in answering may cause you to miss an important call, for the caller may call no more if there is no answer.

raise sufficient funds to take over the franchise. He offered to donate the use of a field equipped for night play if the league would operate the club there for the remainder of the season and give Palatka an option on the franchise until Feb. 15, 1942.

A bad throw by Delfino to first base with a man on second let in the Orlando run and gave them the game. Boyd had lined over his second hit of the game and gained second on slow fielding when Wovack slapped out a grounder to Delfino who threw it wild to LaValley, allowing Boyd to scamper home.

Only four men got hits off of the two pitchers, LaValley and Hardman getting one apiece from Swindell and Boyd and LaValley each making two hits off Jones. Both men walked a pair of batters and Swindell struck out six men to Jones' four.

Tonight the ex-Sanfordites play the Nationals again on the Orlando diamond. It will be a league game and only league passes will be allowed.

German Attack Seen As Blow At World

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—Leaders of the Communist Party in the United States described the German assault on Soviet Russia Sunday night as an attack not only upon the Russian people but upon the people of the United States and the entire world.

"It (Russia) is waging a struggle for the cause of the freedom of all nations and peoples of all nations and peoples," said a statement issued by William Z. Foster, party chairman and Robert Minor, acting party secretary.

ANKARA, June 23 (AP)—Turkey remained officially neutral in the new war between Russia and Germany yesterday, but disclosed new friendship ties with Germany.

(The Rome radio reported Turkey had proclaimed a state of siege.)

Whirly Heads West To Take More Money

Wright's Galloping Treasury Is Out To Top Seabiscuit

This is a little note of warning to the three-year-old in the West—head for the storm cellars, boys Whirlyway's on the way.

Having mopped up all the worthwhile east in the East, toppling it off with $3,975 in the last round of the Dwyer at Aqueduct Saturday, Warren was shipped to Chicago this week for the next stop at his target practice at Seabiscuit's all-time money winning record of $487,730.

He'll take a crack at the classic at Arlington Park and the American derby at Washington, each worth about $40,000. And from the way he has walked through the best of the lot at the Kentucky derby, the Preakness, the Belmont Stakes and the Dwyer, it looks like the three-year-old who might beat him either never was born or is now being equipped with a special 12-cylinder airplane motor to turn the trick.

The two Chicago affairs, if he wins them—and who wants to put up a bob or two he doesn't?—would boost the Kentucky cannonball's earnings to some $325,000. Yesterday's pay envelope, although not as large as usual, raised his two-year racing bankroll to $344,186. After the Windy City wars, Whirlyway will be sent back east for the Saratoga social and galloping season in August, with the approximately $71,000 Travers as his No. 1 appointment and the gold cup as a possible added attraction. He'll also take a whirl at Belmont's Fall prizes before wrapping up his three-year-old crown.

If there had been any lingering doubt about his seat at the head of the class—and don't forget there still are some folk willing to bet even against death and just about cleared it up, yesterday, this was no record smashing job like he did in the derby, although he did lower the state mark to 2:03 2-5 for the mile-and-a-quarter. And it wasn't any lightning fast move like he made in the Preakness, or a front-running canter as he had in the Belmont.
