The Times-Union news story also said that "Senator Waybright was introduced by Frank Evans, of Lake Mary, and was frequently applauded." We grant without argument the first statement. Frank Evans did introduce the Jacksonville man, and did it very well indeed, but Senator Waybright, during his entire speech, was applauded only once whirlwind passeth, so is the wick- and that ripple emanated from the immediate vicinity of an everlasting foundation .- Prov. Judge Darlington, one of the Hathaway loud-speakers, who was stamping on the floor most enthusiastically.

All of this is, of course, entirely beside the point, as the big problem now is not the size of crowds, applause frequency, or the accuracy of news stories, but we merely mention it in the interest of better journalism.

For Better Homes

As a result of "Better Homes Week," observed nationally recently, many questions have arisen which might be expected to result in a better definition of what constitutes better homes. Everyone has his own idea of what a good home is, but the association which advances this particular week wants to know what you are doing to make your home better. Here are some of the questions asked. How would your premises score for these points?

"Water supply. "Disposal of waste. "Cooking facilities.

"Food storage facilities. "Screen doors and windows.

"Light and ventilation of your home.

"Sanitation (No cobwebs or 'dust, free from insects, bed bugs, moths, mosquitoes, clean everywhere).

"What kind of floors have you in your home?

"What kind of furnishings have you in your home? Plain, painted or varnished? Are they easy to move and
