County hikes gas tax, but lowers rate for property

By J. MARK BARFIELD Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD - It's going to get a bit more expensive to drive in Seminole County beginning Jan. L.

That's the date both a 4.3-cent federal tax increase and a once-cent county gas tax increase take effect. Using county estimates, the added taxes will cost a typical two-car household an extra $5.30 per month, nearly $64 per year. The county adopted the penny increase in August to pay for mass transit services.

The county's gas tax revenues, $775,000 next year, were folded in to the county's $353 million spending plan for the year beginning Oct. 1. About $86 million of the amount will pay for general county operations.

Residents will see a slight property tax reduction in November. Last year's rate of $5.42 per $1000 of taxable property will drop to $5.38. The unincorporated services tax will drop from $2.86 to $2.82 per $1,000.

Owners of $100,000 homes with $25,000 homestead exemptions will pick up an extra $3 next year because of the cut in the countywide tax. Owners of $75,000 homes will see $2 left over from property taxes. Don't spend it all in one

SANFORD - School will be out Friday for students at Tiger's Eye. Productions in Oviedo after a Seminole County judge denied a last minute attempt by the school's owner to continue operating despite a county order to close.

Tiger's Eye owner David McMillan and his attorney, David S. McDonald, said they will evaluate their options following the Tuesday ruling by Judge Robert B. McGregor denying a motion for temporary injunction. McGregor's ruling may be appealed to the Fifth District Court of Appeals.

On Friday, McMillan said he is scheduled to take some of the animals for an appearance at a public school.

Earlier this week, county commissioner Daryl McLain questioned the appearance of some of the Tiger's Eye large cats in an act at Orlando night spot J.J. Whispers. Due to the loud music and proximity to the audience, he said he See School, Page 5A

Hero faces armed robbery charges

TAVARES — A man honored as a national hero last year is being tried on charges that he masterminded a failed armed robbery of a Pizza Hut restaurant he helped manage.

Steve Lamar Rogers, 20, drew maps, carefully planned the crime and helped masked men try to rob the place on Aug. 4.

1992, prosecutors said Tuesday.

Rogers, a onetime aspiring police officer, was one of 17 people cited in 1992 for heroism by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission. He rescued an 89-year-old man from a burning, smoke-filled house during a 1991 fire in nearby Mount Dora.

Rogers was arrested a few months later and charged with the attempted armed robbery. Rogers' court-appointed attorney, Mark Nacke, said his client had nothing to do with the attempted robbery, aborted when some police officers showed up.

If convicted, Rogers would face life in prison.

FSU president released from hospital

TALLAHASSEE - Florida State University President Bernard Sliger, who suffered a stroke following open-heart surgery two weeks ago, has been released from a local hospital.

Sliger's personal physician, Dr. J. Orson Smith, said the longtime Florida State leader would continue speech and physical therapy on an outpatient basis.

"I am looking forward to continuing my therapy so that I can return to my responsibilities," said Sliger, 68, in a statement released Tuesday by the hospital.

Sliger, who served as the university's president from 1976 to 1991, had agreed in August to handle the job for a few months this winter as a search committee looked for a new president.

Dale Lick, who replaced Sliger two years ago, resigned under pressure in August after angering many faculty members and alumni by seeking a similar position at his alma mater, Michigan State University.

Members of the state Board of Regents also were troubled Lick would seek another job without their knowledge and at a time Florida State was embarking on the largest fund-raising drive in its history. drive in its history.

Parents seek damages for toxic spray

CRESTVIEW - Parents of children exposed to a toxic chemical coating sprayed on the roof of their school in nearby Baker have asked school officials to earmark $1 million for medical treatment.

respond at its next meeting, Oct. 12, in Fort Walton Beach.

A fourn scalant containing toxic isocyanates had been sprayed on the roof of the combined elementary and high school three times between last November and February while students and teachers were present.

The group also wants parents to retain the right to pursue additional compensation, be given a voice in selecting doctors and an administrator to handle the funds.

Board members did not comment on the requests, but did discuss rumors that Baker parents would pull their children from the school when a count is taken to determine state

Teen's death linked to gang initiation

FORT WALTON BEACH - A gang initiation may have been the reason why a 13-year-old was beaten and then drowned in the Gulf of Mexico, police say.

That's what one suspect told investigators. But Okaloosa County Sheriff's Department spokesman Rick Hord said Tuesday that it was unclear who was being initiated and investigators are unsure how true the story may be.

Paul William Russell, 19, and Joseph Frank Richardson, 17, both of Fort Walton Beach, have been charged with open counts of murder in the Sept. 13 death of Nickolas Maxwell Bishop, also from here, at a nearby beach.

Richardson was turned over to juvenile authorities pending a decision on whether he will be tried as an adult. Russell remained Tuesday in the Okaloosa County Jail at Crestview without bond. Prosecutors or a grand jury will decide whether the murder charges should stand and if so the degree.

Russell, known on the streets as Colors, Paleface and Droopy D, claimed the death was an initiation that went too far, investigators say. Witnesses, however, have told officers the hilling was planned.

Action urged on tourism

Lawmakers: Make tourist violence a federal crime

By PETE YOST Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON - Violence against foreign tourists should be designated a federal crime, congressmen said Tuesday as they urged quick action to stem attacks like the murders of German and British travelers in

"We're all in this together. We've got to take decisive action." Florida's commerce secretary. Greg Farmer, told Reps. Jim Bacchus and Neil Abercrombie and two dozen businessmen on an International Marketing Study Group set up by Congress.

President Clinton is expected to nominate Farmer next month as undersecretary of commerce for the U.S. Travel and Tourism Administration.

The study group, chaired by Bacchus, agreed to promote the idea of federal assistance through a Traveler Protection

We're all in this together. We've got to take decisive action.

-Greg Farmer

Such a law would be an "added deterrent" to the violence against travelers from overseas, enabling the federal government to help state and local authorities wage successful prosecutions, said Bacchus, D-Fla., and Abercrombie, D-Hawaii.

Abercrombie's office circulated a tentative draft of legislation to make anyone engaging in a state crime of violence against a foreign visitor "guilty of a like offense against the United States."

Under such a law, the federal government could pay expenses so that foreign travelers could be brought back to the United States to testify about violent crimes against family members or travel companions, said

Rep. George Gekas, R-Pa., would go even further. He introduced legislation Tuesday to establish a federal death penalty for killing a foreign tourist. The study group embraced a package of deterrents — Clinton's crime proposals with 50,000 additional police officers, a White House conference on tourism, and legisla-tion to get guns out of the hands of juveniles

"who are at the heart of so much of this problem," said Bacchus. In Tampa, Fla., meanwhile, an Illinois tourist was shot in the elbow Tuesday after slamming his car door on the arm of one of three would-be robbers at a motel. Kenneth Buckley, 22, of Peoria, was listed in fair condition at Tampa General Hospital.

County delays decision on historic road

By J. MARK BARFIELD Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD - After nearly two hours of debate Tuesday, Seminoie County commissioners de-cided to delay their decision on whether to vacate what may a historic roadway near Oviedo, the Orlando Lake Jesup Road. At least three commissioners indicated their willingness to grant George Means ownership of a contested pathway north of Black Hammock Road in return for a 30-foot roadway path on the east side of Means' property. When Means expressed re-luctance to decide on that proposal Tuesday, commissioners voted to delay their decision to

Means' neighbor, Bill Blackburn, and other Oviedoarea residents asserted the alleged path was created during the late 1800s as a commerce route from Oriando to Solary's Wharf, which linked Oriando by way of Lake Jesup and the St. Johns River to places beyond. Solary's Wharf is recognized as a key to the development of the general location of the site.

Mean's attorney Mack Cleveland said his client denied the existence of the road through his citrus grove, but wanted the matter resolved.

But Blackburn and others presented maps and other documents suggesting the old roadway was close to the site. Most of the maps showed a meandering path to the lake whereas the proposed right of way vacation was for a 30-foot-wide path straight from Jeslan Court to the lake. Commissioners renamed a portion of the contested path to Jeslan Court earlier this year.

Oviedo councilwoman Ida Cook asked commissioners not to relinguish the road.

"This is one of the last public right of ways to the lake," Cook said. "Other access, such as Black Hammock and Hiley's (Fish Camps), I would submit to 'you, are private."

Commissioner Daryl McLain then asked Blackburn if a portion of the road meandered onto his own property, would he be willing to dedicate it to the county. Blackburn answered would also support vacation of the path if Means gave the county a 30-foot future roadway elsewhere on his property.

Couch leads town meeting in Sanford

About a dozen local residents and businessmen met with Rep. Marvin Couch at a town meeting in Sanford last night. Chief among the concerns were the costs of health care, crime and workman's compensation for small businesses.

If they do, a simple blood test could warn prospective parents whether they are likely to bear a child with the disorder, called Canavan disease. Currently, a akin biopsy is necessary to get that information.

Like Tay-Sachs disease, Canavan disease is hereditary and probably had a "founding father" - a person in whom a genetic mutation first occurred - among the Ashkenazi Jews of Eastern Europe, a researcher said.

Canavan disease may be more common than Tay-Sachs, also a degenerative brain disease, though no one knows for sure, said the researcher, Dr. Reuben Matalon, head of genetics at Mismi Children's Hospital.

The incidence of Tay-Sachs is about one in 2,500 among Ashkenazi Jews, about 100 times higher than among other ethnic Canavan disease, which strikes mostly infants, is closely related to adrenoleukodystrophy, as described in the film "Lorenzo's Oil." Both cause destruction of myelin, the insulation around nerve cells.

Youngsters with Canavan disease are born seemingly normal and then become severely retarded. Their heads become enlarged, their muscles weaken and they become bedridden. They usually die by age 2 or 3, though a few live to be teen-agers or young adults, Matalon said.

Residents are prisoners of fear

SPRING HILL, Fla. - After the suspicious deaths of four elderly widows, frightened residents keep their doors double-locked and talk of guns and mace as they worry a killer is stalking their quiet community.

"When I got home about 9 p.m. last night, my wife had every light in the house on and she was sitting in a chair with a can of mace. It's a helluva way to live," said Bill, a retiree from Long Island, N.Y., who didn't want his last name used.

There is much talk these days about President Clinton's health care proposals. Based on costs being discussed, it would appear that only the wealthy can afford such care these days.

Yet right here in Central Florida, there are many offerings for those with very limited incomes. They are not cures. Rather, they offer information or advice to those concerned about their health, or looking to the future.

Knowing of a medical condition in advance can often help in prevention or easier As examples of the present offerings: the HCA Central Florida Regional Hospital Auxiliary will present free cholesterol and blood

There are many outstanding hospitals and special societies within easy driving distance from Sanford. Most of them have low-cost or free seminars and meetings dealing with almost any type of medical problem. People concerned about their cholesterol level should not refrain from having it checked when the cost is only $5. Prospective parents need pre-natal information, should ook into some of these offerings.

Persons troubled with prostate cancer or other problems should contact their local hospital or medical society for information. It is available at a low cost if not free.

Certainly our nation is in dire need of a strong health care system. The creation of one which will serve all people however, will not be accomplished in just a few months or even a couple of years.

Everyone should take advantage of low cost or free testing and/or educational information that is now available.

Latin America is changing. There is a boom going on, creating First World economies. Mexican wages have increased by about 40 percent since 1987. The Total Fertility Rate of Mexican woman has declined starkly from 6.6 births per woman in 1970 to 3.4 today, and sinking like a stone toward the lower rates of modern societies. We have a choice. security for everyone. And the language, the common currency in which this will be discussed, is literally currency: money.

By now even the most innumerate of us has memorized two figures, $1 trillion—the annual cost of health care—and 37 million—the number of uninsured. number of uninsured. By now even the apolitical among us is aware that there is a down and dirty debate ahead.

The argument is being waged on the turf of medical economics, not medical ethics. But there is a question even more basic than the six principles that Clinton ticked off: What is it that we want from the health care system?

Do we expect medicine to fix our broken legs, protect our children against messies, remove our parents' cataracts? Or do we expect medicine to the max: transplants for 85-year-olds, CAT scans for every back pain. hi-tech treatments for the terminal?

This was not a medical horror this health care plan atory. is to come from waste, fraud, ineffi ciency, profiteering. Surely, the edifices built by insurance companies, the salaries of hospital corporate CEOs, the profit margins of drug companies, the administrative mess, all bear witness to the blost. But as psychiatrist Willard Gaylin has written, there are "deeper and more challenging reasons for escalating health costs: our unbridled appetite for health care and our continuing expansion of the definition of what constitutes health."

It's easy to understand why these issues are being skirted. The health care debate could sink if it were weighed down any further. First on the list of moral questions is health security for all Americans. The focus is on the people who cannot get and cannot pay for the flu shot Like ethiciet Art Caplan, I regard, "rationing as a somber last resort, not the convenient option of first resort." But even Caplan says that the savings will at best buy us time, time in which we must wrestle with our real expectations and demands about health care. At the very end of the speech, the president warned. "Responsibility in our health care system isn't just about them. It's about you. It's about me. It's about each of us." This body-and-soul-searching has just begun.

Census: Radical shifts in nation's racial, ethnic mix

By TIM BOVEE Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON - The Census Bureau predicts radical shifts in the nation's racial and ethnic balance that will change the face of America from the classroom to Congress.

A study issued Tuesday by the nation's statistical agency pro-

OHispanics in 2010 will replace blacks as the nation's largest minority group.

Non-Hispanic whites will barely cling to their majority status. Asian Americans will triple the number of their births from today.

The Census Bureau report showed minorities and the population as a whole growing faster than previously expected. A smaller military abroad and new birth, death and immigration information caused demographers to make the revisions.

The bureau estimated the U.S. population will reach 392 million by 2050. That's 52 percent more than the 258.7 million Americans today.

Non-Hispanic whites' share of the population will drop from 76 percent now to 68 percent in 2010 and 53 percent in 2050. Their number will increase from 188.6 million to 205.8 million.

For minorities, it will be more than half a century of growth:

· Hispanics, from their present 9 percent of the population to 14 percent in 2010 and 23 percent in 2050.

• Blacks, from 12 percent today to just over 13 percent in 2010 and 16 percent in 2050.

 Asian Americans, now 3 percent of the population, to 10 percent at mid-century. They will remain the fastest growing racial group.

• American Indians, from a little below 1 percent to slightly above I percent. Although their share barely changes, their numbers will double from 2.1 million to 4.3 million.

Hispanics are defined by the Census Bureau as an ethnic group, not a race. That means they include people from all the racial classifications: American

Abortion-rights advocates say despite setback, they'll prevail

WASHINGTON - Abortionrights senators say that despite the Senate's refusal to jettison the longtime ban on federally financed abortions for the poor. Congress will ultimately make the procedure available to all

"With the new health-care reform coming up, this will be the beginning of a new day." Sen. Barbara Boxer, D-Calif.. predicted Tuesday.

But abortion opponents said the issue could sink the reforms.

The comments came shortly after the Senate voted 59-40 against lifting the 17-year-old ban against using federal Medicaid funds to help poor women pay for abortions. The only exception currently is for women whose pregnancies threaten their lives.

The Senate did ease the restrictions slightly to allow the assistance for women whose pregnancies are caused by rape or incest. The House approved an identical provision in June. meaning that the issue is dead for the year — even though President Clinton has supported efforts to end the prohibition.

The abortion measure was included in a bill providing $261 billion for health, labor, education and other programs in fiscal 1994, which begins on Friday. Once the overall bill clears the Senate, it will have to be compromised with the House-passed version before getting final approval.

Boxer and other abortionrights senators said they believed that despite Tuesday's vote, Congress would eventually accept Clinton's plan to include abortion coverage as part of his revamping of the nation's health-care system.

She and others said some senators who voted "no" Tuesday would not do so if the debate was over providing abortion to all women, not just the poor.

Others who voted "no" Tuesday because they wanted states to be allowed to continue providing their own money for abortions would not face that issue on the health-care overhaul, they said.

Indians, Asian Americans, blacks and whites. Hispanic blacks, for example, are expected to comprise about 1 percent of the population in

The report said births accounted for about two-thirds of the projected Hispanic increase; immigration accounts for the

The number of Hispanic births will double by mid-century, the Census Bureau said. Hispanic women now bear 2.9 children on average, the highest rate of any major ethnic or racial group.

The birth rate for non-Hispanic white women is 1.9. The Census Bureau projects white births will decline until 2010 and then start to increase.

Black births are expected to increase steadily by 60 percent between now and 2050, and Asian births are likely to triple. American Indian births will increase by half.

The nation's schools, even more than today, will need to figure out how to teach classes where Spanish, not English, predominates.

Martinez joins 100-100 club

MIAMI -- Dennis Martinez took a perfect game into the sixth inning and became the sixth pitcher to win 100 games in each league Tuesday night as Montreal beat the Florida Marlins 3-2, but it wasn't enough to keep the Expos from being eliminated in the NL East.

Philadelphia, which began the day with a magic number of one to clinch the division, beat Pittsburgh 10-7 just minutes before the Expos wrapped up the win over Marlins.

After three unsuccessful attempts at No. 100, Martinez (15-9) joined Cy Young, Nolan Ryan, Gaylord Perry, Ferguson Jenkins, Jun Bunning, and Al Orth in winning at least 100 games in both the National and American Leagues.

Stars outshine Panthers

MIAMI - Brent Gilchrist and Chris Tancill scored 54 seconds apart in the second period to begin a six-goal barrage that led the Dallas Stars to a 6-1 victory over the Florida Panthers in an NHL exhibition game Tuesday night.

Mike McPhee, James Black, Dean Evason and Dave Gagner scored third-period goals for the Stars, who are 4-2 in exhibition play.

C.J. Young scored the only goal for the expansion Panthers, who are 3-4.

Phillies wrap up NL East

PITTSBURGH - The Philadelphia Phillies, a rollicking throwback to baseball's grittler days. Tuesday night won the National League East, their first division title since 1983.

Len Dykstra got them going with four hits and three RBIs and Mariano Duncan capped it with a grand slam as the Phillies clinched with a 10-7 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Philadelphia completed a worst-to-first turnaround - a year ago, they were in sixth place, 26½ games behind the division champion Pirates - by clinching 10 years to the day since they last won the East in 1983.

NL West now a five-game race

ATLANTA - The Atlanta Braves realize that any team can beat another on a given night. It's just that the games are dwindling.

Pete Harnisch overpowered Atlanta on five hits in 845 innings Tuesday as the Houston Astros beat the Braves 5-2. The loss dropped the Braves into a first-place tie in the NL West with each team having five games remaining. The Glants won their 100th game late Tuesday night, beating Colorado 6-4 at Candlestick Park.

The Braves fell to 100-57 with two more games against Houston and three at home against Colorado. The Glants play one more against the Rockles then finish the season with four games at Dodger Stadium.

LAKE MARY - It was the Lyman Greyhounds' worst nightmare come to life. The frightening part was that they helped create the monster that did them in.

Taking advantage of almost every one of the many unforced errors by the visiting Greyhounds, the Lake Mary Rams blasted their way to a 15-3, 15-10 victory in a Seminole Athletic Conference girls volleyball match Tuesday night.

Afterwards, Lyman coach Christy Tibbitts didn't mince words about her team's performance.

haven't figured out how to change that. "The girls tense up and they can't come out of it."

It might not have been so bad had the Rams not been near peak form Tuesday night. Led by senior Diane Duber, the Rams controlled play at the net in the first game and were able to maintain a fairly consistent level of play through the second game.

"We were rocking the ball in the first game," said Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry, "Lyman picked up its game a little bit in the second game, but we stayed with it. We were real smooth tonight."

Mid-race fender-bender can't keep Russell from victory lane

By PAUL MARSEGLIA Special to the Herald

SAMSULA — Apopka's David Russell survived a mid-race incident to take top honors in the End of the Month Late Model Championship last Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

"Tonight was the first time I was glad to see a car run into me." said Russell, a four-time FASCAR (Florida Association of Stock Car Automobile Racing) Late Model champion.

"I cut a tire real bad and the car was heading for the pit gate and I couldn't stop it. The next thing I know, Rob Underwood hits me and we get hooked up. That slowed me down just before I got to the wall."

Russell, who set the evening's fastest qualifying time in the 22-car field, started the race from the sixth position by virtue of the draw.

The tangle with Underwood sent both drivers to the back of the pack for the new restart. Russell charged into second place on lap 33. Four laps later, he got around Pete Orr to take over the No. 1 slot.

Holding off a last-lap challenge by Orr, Russell took the checkers by less than two car lengths over his teammate.

"This is the first time we've raced this car," said Orr, "It's brand new, right off of the trailer. It's identical in every respect to David's car. We're real pleased with what it can do."

Jeff Burkett, who set the sixth-best fast time for the evening, used his advantage of starting on the pole to lead the

One area of the Rams' play that really pleased Henry was serving. In the first game, Lake Mary did not miss a serve. In the second game, the Rams committed just four service errors.

Jennifer Greissing had the hot hand in the first game, serving eight consecutive points for the Rams to open the game as well as the last two, the gamewinning point coming on a solo block by Duber. Joym Capo did second game, putting together a seven-point service run.

Carolyn Crager' led the Greyhounds with three kills while Laurel Ecker handed out four assists.

LIONS TOP TRIBE

SANFORD - While it may have been another loss, the Seminole Fighting Seminoles girls volleyball team turned in one of its most solid performances of the season in Tuesday night's 15.9, 15-10 loss to the visiting Oviedo Lions.

"Having both setters on the floor at the same time seems to be helping. They have to get used to the fact that they're sharing the floor, but I think that point's been made."

Catherine Foye led Seminole's attack with five kills, four good spikes, eight blocks, and 11 digs. Jill Jasewic contributed five good spikes, three blocks, and 16 digs. Aubrey Nelson added two kills, two good spikes, and two blocks. Kelly Richards had two service aces and three good

On lap 18, Lawrence got around Orr to take over the lead. Three laps later, Lawrence slowed and Orr regained his advantage.

"We were really running good. then the car just slowed," Lawrence said. "We pulled into the pits and found our ignition wire burned in two. That was really our fault. We worked on the car and when we finished, we didn't check the wiring. It looks like we left the ignition wire resting on the header."

'Patient' Orr registers fourth Late Model win

ORLANDO - Montverde's Pete Orr drove the Horsen Around Farms Camaro to victory lane Friday in the 50-lap Late Model championship at Orlando Speedworld. After setting the evening's fastest qualifying time. Orr lined up sixth on the grid. Using several early cautions to his advantage. Orr slipped underneath early leader Ronnie Burkett and was never headed as he raced to the checkers.

"We had a good field of cars and drivers tonight, so I decided to be patient, pick my way through the field, and not get any fenders knocked off so I would be around at the end," said Orr, the current World Series car was just great and it did everything it was supposed to do.' Orr, who notched his fourth win of the season, crossed the stripe four car lengths ahead of Burkett.

"Something went amiss on our car from the start of the race," said Burkett, the current FASCAR Late Model points champion. "The motor was perfect, but the handling would go away and then come back. We'll get it sorted out before the Florida Pro race next week." In tow behind the lead pair were Bill Posey, Chuck Abell, and Don Fenn. "The thing that makes my third place finish so important is you always want to win, but with the stuff that's been wrong with my car, third place is great," said new tires and sent me racing, so my tire problems were solved. My engine is 8 years old and only turns about 7,200 RPMs. Most of these guys turn between 7,800 and 8,000 RPMs. I guess our next project is the power plant."

The Limited Late Model main event featured hard-charging racing action from green flag to checkers as Jimbo Bjorkland held off repeated challenges from Jacob Warren and Michael Williams to win his second feature of the season.

Completing the top five were Gary Schlichter and George Dease. Other feature event winners last Friday night were Ed Meridith (Modifieds), Kelly Jarrett (Mini Stocks), Rick Johns (Sportsman), Wally Semrow (Bombers), Kenny Campbell (Run-Abouts), and Kenny

Decision to let go of grudge ends years of angry silence

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for writing that booklet titled "The Anger in All of Us and How to Deal With It."

I had a good friend when I was in college, but we had a falling out. I got angry. I was so angry I did not speak to her from 1979 until 1992. Then she came to visit her mother and found a college directory, so she started calling her old college friends who were listed, and I was among them.

I had just read your booklet about how to deal with anger, so instead of continuing to carry a grudge, I decided to speak to her. I followed up our conversation with a cordial letter explaining that I had read something that made me realize how unproductive unger was. She sent me a holiday card in return. telling me how much she had valued my friendship.

Life is really better now that I have gained some insight. (Wow, what joys I missed by not speaking to her!)

Thank you for stretching out your hand in yet another service for mankind.

GRATEFUL IN LUMBERTON, N.C.

DEAR GRATEFUL: Thank you for taking the time to write. Finding the courage to admit that an incident was poorly handled - and having the maturity to do something about it shows how far you have come since the old college days. Conhelped. But you did the work.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading those letters about inappropriate laughter at funerals, and want to tell you what happened

My father died at age 57 in 1985. I loved him with all my heart and was overwhelmed at the wake. I wasn't sure I could bear the pain of seeing him laid out, so I remained downstairs in the lounge while well-meaning friends and relatives tried to coax me into saying my final goodbye to my dad. One hour before they closed the casket, it dawned on me that my father deserved my respect. I slowly entered the room where he was as if my feet were sinking in quicksand. My husband supported me physically and helped me walk to the casket.

As I stood there, looking down at my father's face, my eyes filled with tears. Just as I was about to break down, my husband leaned over and whispered, "Honey, my fly just burst open!"

I could not contain my laughter. The people behind me saw my shoulders heaving up and down. Little did they know that I was laughing hysterically. algratulations. I'm glad to have though I made no sound. We quickly exited and went back

Cortisone helps treat lichen planus

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been diagnosed with oral lichen planus and have been informed there is no cure. This started out as a sore throat and lips. I saw an ENT specialist, dermatologist, had blood drawn. took antibiotics and had a biopsy done. What has caused this condition?

DEAR READER: Lichen planus is a recurring, noncontagious inflammatory eruption, marked by bumps that coalesce into patches or ulcers. The cause is unknown. In rare instances, however, drugs -such as the anti-arrhythmic quinidine - may cause lesions that resemble lichen planus.

Uncomplicated eruptions need no treatment; they merely come and go, more as a nuisance than a health hazard. If they ulcerate or become painful, a dermatologist would prescribe cortisone pills to relieve symptoms.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please discuss Didronel. It was prescribed for me to take once a day for the first two weeks of every three months. What is it for and how does it work?

DEAR READER: Didronel (etidronate) is a medicine that regulates bone metabolism. It is prescribed for two conditions.

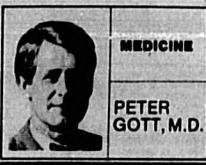

Paget's disease (a common disorder marked by spotty areas of bone destruction coupled with the formation of new, weaker bone) often leads to bone pain and fractures. Didronel appears to help such patients by stabilizing bone formation.

Osteoporosis, the age-related loss of calcium from bones, can also lead to bone pain and fractures. Didronel helps this condition, which is also treated with female hormones (in selected cases), calcium supplements and exercise.

I believe that it's important for you to know why you are taking the drug. Ask your doctor to explain the reason, the expected advantages and the potential side effects. You have a right to this information.

I advise patients to avoid medication unless they know the purpose for taking it, and the benefits and risks associated with its use.

It is a question that has been asked at least a zillion times: If you have an eight- or nine-card major-suit fit but two balanced hands, when should you play in no-trump and when in the ma-

There is no simple answer, but in general you play in the suit when your values are minimal. You play in no-trump when you have points to spare for your contract and all suits well stopped.

The advantage of the suit contract is that -- hopefully -- you exercise trump control. The plus in no-trump is that you may have another source of tricks available when a bad trump break would kill the suit con-

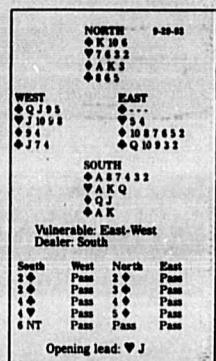

After South opened two clubs. North correctly resisted the temptation to respond two no-trump. If the contract was to be played in no-trump, he wanted South to be the declarer. And North knew that after starting with a "waiting" two diamonds. he had an easy rebid over anything but three clubs.

After spades were agreed. there were four cue-bids. Then South selected six no-trump as the final contract.

Some declarers in six spades were nervous that the opening lead was a singleton. So they immediately cashed the spade ace. Now there were two unavoidable rump losers.

In six no-trump, there was no risk of a ruff. So the declarer. could try a little safety-play in spades. After winning trick one. he led a low spade toward dummy and, when West played the five, he inserted dummy's io. Whether it won or lost, South's contract was ensured.

By Bernice Bede Osol YOUR BIRTHDAY Sept. 30, 1993

You might dissolve a partnership arrangement in the year ahead so that you can involved yourself in an endeavor independent of others. This could turn out to be a wise move.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) To-day you might be strongly tempted to do something that opposes your better judgment. If you ignore your own counsel, be prepared to pay the consequences of your folly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll have adequate drive and ambition today, yet you might attempt to take on things that exceed your limitations. This could cause problems in all of your endeavors. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In order to express your independence today, you might deliberately do things that buck the will of the majority. This won't add luster to your image. it could make you look selfish instead.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Limit family problems to their participants today instead of discussing them with outsiders. If you permit others to intervene, you might create something you'll regret.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

Be perceptive in gauging your audience today, so that you don't introduce into a conversation a topic about which you feel strongly to someone who holds an equally strong opposing view.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

Strive to be more careful than usual with your prize possessions today. If you leave something of value lying about it might tempt someone with sticky fingers to take it.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

You'll function best today if you're permitted to establish your own agenda. Try to steer clear of individuals who make demands on your time and attempt to dictate your activi-

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Disruptive developments could be made harder today if your attitude is negative. Reasonable solutions aren't likely if you tend to think things can't be worked out.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't get involved in petty politics with someone in your peer group today. This person is more adroit in this area than you are and could end up making you look bad.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Try not to let your ego or temper cause you to challenge authority figures today, especially persons who have some influence over your career. This is a match you can't win.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Getting in the last word shouldn't be too important today if it jeopardizes a valued relationship. This could be a win that turns out to be a big loss.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you're not on guard today there is a possibility you might get maneuvered in a position where you're held accountable for another's mistakes and debts.
