TATE TO END CASE AGAINST GEORGE REMUS

Within Week Slayer's Fate Will Repose In Hands Of Jury For Christmas Verdict

All Participants Tired From Trial

Master Of Imogene Resumes Stand And Defends Memory

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 14.—With a sigh of relief Charles P. Taft, the aggressive young prosecutor who is fighting to send George Remus to the electric chair for the slaying of his wife, Imogene, announced today that the state would close its case within twenty-four hours.

Within a week, in all probability, Remus' fate will be in the hands of the jury, assuring the former flamboyant bootleg king a "Christmas verdict."

All hands are dead tired. It has been a long grind. Lawyers regard the trial, now in its fifth week, as most bitterly fought legal battle in the history of Ohio courts. The record is clogged with reams of testimony, much of it having to do with the mental condition of the strange man who says he killed his wife because his mind "exploded" after two years of "torment."

Remus himself is on trigger edge. He has had three major tantrums during a dozen minor ones. Mrs. Grace Campbell, sister of a slain Imogene Holmes Remus, turned the witness stand today and defended the memory of the man Remus killed Oct. 6, on her way to court to divorce him.

Cross-examined by Defense Attorney Charles H. Elston, Mrs. Campbell parried thrusts designed to make her say something that would incriminate her sister.

She had told of how Remus had recently threatened her sister. You were present when Mr. and Mrs. Remus talked of making a peaceful settlement?

I was.

Is it not a fact that Mr. Remus was demanding she return $150,000 worth of his personal jewelry that she was keeping from him?

Not to my knowledge.

Mrs. Campbell broke into tears before she was cross-examined five minutes. Elston asked her if her husband was not made a president of one of Remus distilleries.

Yes, the Rugby Distillery. He had the position for only a short time.

Reginald Owen Dies From Long Illness Contracted In War

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 14.—(INS)—Funeral arrangements were being made today for Major Reginald Owen, son-in-law of the late William Jennings Bryan and late army hero who died here last night from sickness contracted in the Dardanelles.

Sherman Lloyd Elected Kiwanis Club President; Other Officers Selected

Sherman M. Lloyd, local business man, was chosen president of the Sanford Kiwanis Club at the annual election of officers held today at the Valdez Cafe. Mr. Lloyd succeeds T. W. Lawton and will be installed with other officers at the first meeting to be held in January.

McLloyd has been a prominent member of the club for several years and has served the organization in several official capacities. Other officers selected today were: First Vice President, R. B. Chambliss; Second Vice President, Bert Fort; Treasurer, J. A. Pittman and Trustee, Edward F. Lane.

Members of the board of directors for the coming year will include Judge J. G. Sharon, S. L. Highleyman, T. L. Dumas, Dr. Ben

Local Attorney Answers Dighton's Statement On Court's Ruling In Case Of Ashcraft Receiver Vs. L. K. D. Inc.

Geo. A. DeCottes, of the law firm of DeCottes & Spencer, was asked today to comment upon the decision rendered by Judge Kooner sustaining the demurrer of L. K. D. Inc., charging there was no equity in the bill brought by E. H. Ashcraft, as receiver for the Seminole County Bank against L. K. D. Inc. et al. His reply was:

"The demurrer was sustained on the ground that there was no equity in the bill of complaint, and that said bill of complaint failed to state any facts, entitling the receiver to any equitable relief against L. K. D. Inc. Said demurrer was not sustained because of lack of necessary parties defendant. Any statement to the contrary is not true.

"The action of the court in sustaining our demurrer accords with the opinion expressed in my first statement regarding this case published in The Sanford Herald.

"The people of Sanford must be weary of reading about this controversy and hereafter I don't propose to bore them again. Last week, urged by insistent friends, I was persuaded to break a rigid rule adhered to since entering the practice of law and consented to discuss, through the press, pending litigation involving more or less personal matters and differences. This interview was given to correct an entirely erroneous impression created by Mr. S. R. Dighton, of the law firm of Wilson, Boyle and Dighton, against L. K. D. Inc., of which corporation I am president and in which corporation I own one-third of the stock.

"It has always been my habit to deal in unvarnished facts. It is not my custom to strain them through the sieve of convenience, evasion, expediency or policy.

"To this article, Mr. Dighton replied with a statement consisting of irrelevant matters, subtle innuendoes and elusive insinuations. No amount of specious denial on his part can change the truth.

"I have lived and practiced law in Sanford for more than twenty years. I have not found it necessary to move from place to place. I expect to spend the rest of my life here.

"A principle is higher than a consequence, and I have done the things which I know to be right, often in the face of misunderstanding and criticism.

"Time is an impartial judge. I can afford to be patient, and am quite content to let it rest at that.

"I shall not again burden the public with further comment."

City, County Schools Will Recess Friday

Sanford and Seminole County Schools will close next Friday for their annual Christmas vacation, according to an announcement today by T. W. Lawton, county superintendent, who also gave the date of reopening as Jan. 2.

Many of the teachers plan to leave this week-end to spend the holiday season at their homes while others will remain in Sanford in order later to attend the annual meeting of the Florida Education Season which convenes in Tampa on Dec. 23 for a three-day convention.

All school principals are ex-officio delegates to the meeting. The Seminole Health Council recently elected its quota of four delegates.

FOURTH DEATH APPEASING OF MAY BE ADDED NICARAGUA IS TO HAYES' LIST HARD MATTER

BLAKELY, Ga., Dec. 14.—(INS)—Mention of a fourth mysterious death in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hayes, that of a daughter, more than four years ago, was written into the record today at the trial of the elderly father on a charge of murder in connection with the death of his daughter-in-law, Gladys Hayes of Detroit, from a supposed poison.

Memories of sinister circumstances surrounding the death of Gladys Hayes several years ago were hurled into the case without previous intimation during the testimony of John Hudspeth, a neighbor of the Hayes, his statement came startlingly just before the state closed and the defense began its efforts to free Hayes.

Hudspeth testified that he discussed with Hayes the autopsy after the death of Gladys Hayes, he thought about it, and the witness replied that if poison were found probably the bodies of James and Amos Hayes, the sons had died previously, would be exhumed and examined.

Hiram McDowell, son-in-law of Hayes, testified that he gave the defendant from a quart to a half gallon of calcium arsenic, with which Hayes said he wanted to kill potato bugs.

Mrs. Hayes, who collapsed and had to be carried from the court room for a while yesterday afternoon, continued on the verge of another breakdown as the state piled up the circumstances by which it hopes to convict her husband.

She is indicted jointly with him for the alleged murders of her two sons and daughter-in-law, but her trial has been deferred. With the state's case closed last night, Lowrey Store, chief defense counsel, began to put on his testimony today. The court room was packed to capacity.

High School Again Attains High Rank In Florida System

Notice has been received by school authorities that the Seminole High School of Sanford has met all the requirements as to qualification of teachers and physical equipment of plant necessary for a standard accredited high school. State Superintendent W. S. Cavthon has advised T. W. Lawton, county superintendent, that Seminole High School is again a standard senior A high school, which means that it is recognized by the Florida educational authorities as being in the highest group or classification of high schools in this state.

Dr. Joseph Roemer of the University of Florida has notified E. E. McKay, principal, that the Sanford school is also on the list of accredited high schools of the south. This means that graduates of the Seminole High School are entitled to admittance into any college in the South without undergoing an examination. The Sanford school has been successful in attaining to the state standard list for a number of years and has been on the southern accredited list for the past three years.

In order to attain such recognition a school must meet every rigid requirement as to its teaching force, its building and its equipment.

Inclement Weather Delays Brock, Schlee

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 14.—(INS)—Due to inclement weather, Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, round the world flyers, postponed their contemplated world record endurance flight for twenty-four hours.

The "Pride of Detroit," poised like a great bird was on the runway at dawn today awaiting the word to take off. A strong headwind and darkness halted the flight.

Schlee and Brock intend to attempt to break the present endurance record, held in Germany, by remaining in the air sixty hours.

Revolution Averted

LISBON, Dec. 14.—(INS)—A revolutionary movement attempting the restoration of the monarchy has been frustrated by the police, a government communique announced today. Plans of the movement were learned by the police who broke up the rebel organization before any action could be taken, the communique said.

BRITISH women always take an active part in strikes.

Testimony Of Two Women Who Heard Cries Coming From Room Aid To State

RICHMOND, Dec. 14.—(INS)—"My God! My God! I've killed poor Elsie! What will I do?" These words, floating up out of the darkness of Elsie Snipes' apartment at midnight, into the open hallway above where they were overheard, the state says, by two young women, will be relied upon by the State of Virginia to send John W. Faison, to the electric chair.

This was the declaration of the commonwealth attorney in his opening statement to the jury today, as Faison surrounded by his loyal wife and his five young children, went on trial for slaying the beautiful young divorcee.

Faison's defense is that the girl shot herself with his pistol, while he was in her apartment.

The prosecutor struck a smashing blow at the suicide story of the defense, when he revealed that the two young women who lived in the apartment above that of Mrs. Snipes would testify to hearing those words.

He also said a letter written by Faison to the dead woman, in which he admitted he was so jealous "he believed his mind would crack," and threatening violence against "another man" and Mrs. Snipes, would be introduced to show the motive for the alleged murder.

CANTON WRESTED FROM RED REBELS IN HARD FIGHTING

All Foreigners Are Reported Safe Within The City; Naval Advisors Declare They Were Not Harmed During Capture

KONG KONG, Dec. 14.—After extremely heavy fighting resulting in many killed and wounded, Canton was wrested from the communistic rebels today.

The rebels who have had the city in their possession for several days, were gathered outside the city gates planning a count attack, but the success of such a venture appeared improbable due to the constant arrivals of reinforcements of General Changfakui's troops.

All foreigners in the city were reported safe. Naval advisors declared no foreigners were molested during the capture of the city by the rebels.

General Lifulin, assisted by General Heiho, attacked the city from Kongkong this morning. Fierce street fighting took place and it was only after severe fighting that each government building was recaptured.

The rebels were driven out of the city by afternoon. General Changfakui remained in Kongkong directing the restoration of order within the city.

Plausible scenes were witnessed at the waterfront in Hong Kong during the day when the steamer Fatsun arrived from Canton with 2,000 refugees. The vessel was packed to the gunwales and many of the refugees had been compelled to stand up the entire trip.

Hundreds of them were without homes or friends, without money, and hungry to a point near starvation. They recounted tales of terrible atrocities committed by the rebels in Canton.

One Man Killed And Several Injured In Arkansas Collision

HOXIE, Ark., Dec. 14.—(INS)—One man was missing, four seriously injured and two score passengers shaken up and bruised as a result of a head-on crash early today between the Kansas City-Louisville special crack Frisco passenger and a freight train five miles north of here.

Both engines, two mail cars and one baggage coach were overturned into a ditch while three passenger cars were derailed. Hal Thorne, engineer of the passenger train, is missing and believed to be buried under the wreckage.

E. A. Shiver, fireman, Jonesboro, Ark., was badly scalded.

J. K. Moore, Thayer, Mo., roadmaster, suffered a broken leg. Guy Nichols, Springfield, Mo., mail clerk, seriously injured.

Engineer Ed Box, of the freight train, seriously bruised.

According to railroad officials at the wreck, the passenger crew evidently overlooked orders to wait at Hoxie for the freight. The freight rounded the curve just a few hundred feet in front of the passenger and a head-on crash followed a few seconds later.

13 Cases Docketed In Municipal Court Before Judge White

Thirteen cases were on police court docket this morning, several of them dealing with violations of the traffic ordinances. J. A. Gamble, charged with violating stop law, was dismissed and James Reed paid $2 for operating an automobile with the tail light missing.

Joe Washington and Mary Law, his mother-in-law, aired their troubles before the court and both were dismissed on disorderly charges. Joshua Cobb, who claimed rheumatism responsible for his unsteady walk, paid $10 for drunkenness. Police recalled that Cobb on a previous occasion pleaded that "lightning had struck him" to cause the appearance of drunkenness.

Ed. Kandal, charged with operating a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, had his case postponed until Friday. The case of Herman Hutchinson, charged with disorderly conduct, was also continued. H. J. Lehman was dismissed on a charge of operating a car with only one light.

George Anderson charged with operating his car with only one light had his case postponed and that of Miss Ruth Hand, charged with driving with no lights, was dismissed. C. Bascom, a runaway youth, was ordered turned over to North Carolina authorities. Ardis Martin paid $5 for reckless driving and $3 more for violating the stop ordinance.

FUNERAL TO BE TOMORROW
Funeral services for Lee Hawkins Connelly Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Connelly, who died Monday night at John Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, Md., will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the parents on Park Avenue.

AMERICAN ACE LONG OVERDUE ARRIVES SAFE

Vast Crowds Enthusiastically Cheer Intrepid Flier When Sighted Over City

Faced Headwinds On Most Of Trip

Reports Sent Out At Noon He Had Landed Found To Be Untrue

VALBUENA Aerodrome, Mexico City, Dec. 14.—(INS)—Amid scenes of frenzied enthusiasm Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 3:39 P. M. this afternoon, ending his historic flight from Washington.

Great cheers went up from the spectators when "The Spirit of St. Louis" was sighted over the field and there was a general rush to be near the plane when it came to a stop after taxiing across the field.

Ambassador Dwight Morrow of the United States was the first to greet the tired flier as he leaned out of the cockpit of his machine.

President Calles of Mexico was on Ambassador Morrow's heels and as Lindbergh dismounted and stepped out of his tiny cabin he was given a warm greeting by the Mexican president, who had invited him to make the flight from Washington to Mexico City, a flight which has never before been attempted.

Scores of Mexican officers surrounded Colonel Lindbergh, while troops held back the great crowds who swarmed over the field, seeking to touch the man who had accomplished a daring flight on a mission of good will.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—(INS)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's failure to arrive in Mexico City is beginning to arouse some concern here. The United States consul at Tampico has reported that Lindbergh passed over that city at 8:50 A. M. Mexican time. This should have placed him in Mexico City at approximately 11 o'clock, Mexican time.

Other reports, however, indicate that the plane sighted at Tampico may have been the commercial plane which landed at Valbuena and was mistaken for Lindbergh's plane.

Colonel Lindbergh may have been slowed up by fog over the mountains between Mexico City and Tampico or he may have chosen to take a longer course in order to seek better weather conditions.

At 2 P. M. New York time, Colonel Lindbergh had been in the air twenty-five and a half hours which is more than two hours longer than he had anticipated taking for the flight. Although headwinds and fogs are reported, Colonel Lindbergh's time now is so slow that it is evident that he must have changed his course. If he has not made a forced landing, confusion existed at noon today over reports that Colonel Lindbergh has landed in Mexico City. The Western Union reported Colonel Lindbergh's arrival at 1 o'clock. Correspondents at Mexico City, advised by telephone of the landing of a plane at Valbuena Aerodrome, reported that Lindbergh had landed. Later advice stated, however, that a commercial plane had landed.

Girl Awaiting Trial For Slaying Amused

PAINESVILLE, Ohio, Dec. 14.—(INS)—Supplied with books and puzzle blocks, Mrs. Velma West, petite 20 year old blonde widow, charged with the murder of her husband, Edward West, 26, at Perry, eight days ago, today was dividing her time between reading and attempting to solve the book problems. She was reported recovering rapidly from her collapse of Monday.

The books were brought to her by her mother, Mrs. L. X. West, and the blocks were furnished by her little brother, Kenneth. Habeas corpus proceedings to obtain Mrs. West's freedom on bond, which had been granted by Francis W. Poulson and Richard Bestwick, attorneys for the accused, failed to materialize yesterday, and for the first time since the murder, neither Pulton nor Bestwick visited their client.

Murder in the first degree is charged in another indictment brought jointly against Carrie Clark and Mary Frederick alias Mary Baxter, white women.

J. C. Cobb was charged in another presentment with desertion and withholding support from his children. R. D. Dillard was indicted for embezzlement. The grand jury also returned another indictment against Annie Bellamy, Annie Irene Bellamy, Davie Bellamy, and Sadie Jackson for first degree murder. The indictment was drawn to correct an error in a previous presentment which had designated Davie Bellamy as "David" Bellamy.

Circuit court made little progress this morning, all of the time being taken up with the hearing of the case of Walter Grant, negro, charged with embezzlement of an automobile valued at $800.

Tommy Loughran Pressed To Beat Jimmy Slattery In Fifteen Round Battle

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Tommy Loughran, light-heavyweight champion by one man's say-so, and Jimmy Slattery, perfectly good holder of the title by another's, met last night at Madison Square Garden, just as though anybody cared, and the funny thing about that was that 11,000 people did.

They were all that were there when a referee and two judges said that Loughran had won at the end of fifteen rounds and their comments on the decision were highly edifying, not to say vouchsafers.

They liked what they saw but apparently they didn't like what they heard. Personally, the writer regarded the verdict as a bit finely drawn about the eyelids, but, at that, Loughran won, if anybody did. Certainly Loughran didn't lose.

However, that is neither here nor there because when the boys once call them, however sour, they stay-called and no defeated boxer ever cashed a nickel on the dear, old ovation the sympathetic souls tender him as he leaves the enclosure, so Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, is today the champion light-heavyweight of the world, including that part which is sponsored by the National Boxing Association. I am constrained to say that I have seen worse champions, past and present.

Loughran looked the part of a first class fighting man. So did Slattery, surprisingly so in view of James' disconcerting foldup several years ago. It just happened that Thomas seemed to hit the tape first, although just lasting to the wire, as they say at Churchill Downs. This was another of the surprises of the occasion, the intelligentsia having decided in advance that James was just a quarter horse and couldn't possibly go a distance of ground.

But in the stretch, it was Slattery who was coming and going and, just because they almost passed each other on the way, the button hole makers went yammering into the night.

It was Loughran's speed in the middle of the fight that got him the nod. Slattery was clearly ahead at the end of ten rounds, having weathered some heavy punching to the head in the early rounds and then coming along to take play away from his man by left handing him out of position.

Pleasure Cruises Will Be Conducted By British Airways

LONDON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—The first air pleasure cruise in history will begin on Jan. 31 when an Imperial Airways silver wing liner will hop off at Crydon Air-drome with 12 passengers.

The route of the cruise lies over Southern France, Spain, Africa and Italy.

"The cruise will be conducted with every possible comfort," said an Imperial Airways official today. "Stops will be made at Paris, Bordeaux, Biarritz, Perpignan, Barcelona, Alicante, Malaga, Seville, Tangier, Casablanca, Marrakech, Fez, Oran, Algiers, Biskra, Tunis, Catania, Naples, Rome, Venice, Pisa, Marseilles, and Lyons.

"Motor side trips will be made at the various stopping points. There will be no night flying and the danger has been reduced to a minimum." The entire trip, together with hotel, private motor fare, and fees for interpreters will be about $2,300.

Gene Tunney Assists Chicago's Charities

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Gene Tunney, assaying the role of "Santa Claus," will arrive in Chicago today to contribute his bit to the success of the Christmas charity drive. In accepting the invitation several days ago the heavy-weight champion replied that he owed Chicago "a debt of gratitude," which he was eager to pay.

This afternoon Tunney is scheduled to visit a war veteran's hospital, after which he will confer with promoter Jim Mullen relative to a title-defense bout here next summer. Mullen has papers drawn which he expects the champion to sign.

MANING AND LEE CLASH IN MAIN BOUT WEDNESDAY

Pacific Coast Star Matched With Quitman Fighter Who Has Good Record; Program Will Be Held At City Hall

The American Legion's weekly fight show on Wednesday night will feature Mel Maning and Bobby Lee of Quitman, Ga., in the main bout, according to an announcement this morning by Henry Godale, promoter. The bouts are to be staged at the City Hall instead of the Municipal Athletic Field where they have been held for the past several weeks.

Maning has fought here on two other occasions, securing a draw verdict both times. Godale was his last opponent and although Maning conceded about 10 to 12 pounds he proved to be a tough opponent for the Orlando fighter. Maning is a Pacific coast product and has only been in the southeast for a short time. He fought at Atlanta for a short time and then came to Florida. He has appeared in Jacksonville, Tampa, Orlando and Sanford.

Lee is a native of Quitman where he started his ring career. He was later taken in tow by an Atlanta promoter under whose guidance he has made fine progress. Lee is a whirlwind scrapper and mixes it with the best of them. He has met several top-notchers at Atlanta and lost only once, getting a draw decision on two other occasions and winning the remainder of his fights.

The semi-final of six rounds will see two duking boys meet. Kid Slim and Battling Moore will be the participants. Slim boasts quite a knockout record but this fact has not bothered Kid Slim, Orlando fighter, who believes that he himself will be the one to administer the sleeping potion, if any are handed out during the evening.

A good program of preliminaries has also been arranged and a good turnout of fans is expected, with the change in location of the fights.

Zbyszko Defeated By Gianni Raicevich

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Stanislaus ("Papa") Zbyszko, veteran knight of the mat has lost his first wrestling bout in this city. He was thrown here last night by Giovanni Raicevich in what was alleged to be a grudge contest. Raicevich was thrown by Zbyszko here fifteen years ago when "Papa," Giovanni, and you and I were young. Margie—and Giovanni has been seeking revenge ever since. Last night Raicevich pinned the portly Polander to the mat after 31 minutes and 26 seconds of grappling.

TILDEN RATED FIRST

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13.—(INS)—William T. Tilden, former national singles champion, is rated first in the men's singles in the rankings of the Middle States Tennis Association. E. Norris Williams is ranked second ahead of Manuel Alonso. Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, the Delaware champion, leads the women's list, with Miss Mary D. Thayer, of Philadelphia, in second place.

Annual Gathering Of Baseball Clan Begins Second Day

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The annual winter gathering of the baseball clan swung into its second day with the meetings of the National League as the chief event on the program.

Although managers and magnates have created a bullish trading market in the various hotel lobbies, no swaps have yet been consummated. While the steering committee is steering a safe and sane course behind closed doors, the managers steered the conversation away from proposed trades with equal caution.

Most of the trading talk centered on the St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers. Managers George Moriarty of the Tigers put Henrie Mannush and Lou Blue on the block for outfielder Harry Rice and George Sisler or a St. Louis pitcher. Cleveland offered to trade outfielder Homer Summa and pitcher Frank Miller for Rice and pitcher Elmer Van Gilder, but the Browns declined.

It was considered a certainty that Sisler would be traded, possibly to Washington in a three-team deal with Detroit. The Indians, who need a first baseman, were unable to get Sisler or Blue. The St. Louis club, having decided to let Sisler go, also will need a first sacker.

JAPANESE PLAN CELEBRATION OF QUEER "HENDAY"

Ancient Festival That Has Survived Since The Early Days Of Kingdom Is To Be Staged Again By Natives

TOKYO, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Tokyo is preparing to celebrate its annual "hen day," a queer festival which has survived from ancient times, and which is kept alive by the Obri (Honorable Hen) Buddhist shrine.

The hen is associated in Japanese folklore with making money although the reason for this association has long since disappeared. But thousands of superstitious persons still believe that a visit to the shrine of the Honorable Hen is indispensable to good business.

tival day with little stalls which sell "kamade," gorgeously decorated bamboo rakes which symbolize "raking in the cash."

In spite of the introduction of modern salesmanship into Japan these bamboo rakes are sold according to the age-old methods. The dealers get whatever price they can and the purchasers amuse themselves by spending the entire day wandering from shop to shop in the effort to get a rake more cheaply. A geisha girl steps up to a shop, selects a rake which appeals to her and asks, "How much, Honorable Shop-keeper?"

Making Bargain
"Twenty-five yen," is the surprising answer. The geisha girl laugh loudly, hiding her mouth politely with her handkerchief.

"Such nonsense," she cries. "I will pay you two yen."

But most of the fun lies in shopping, and she never buys until she has bargained for hours at various shops. She bunts for some remote shop whose business is bad, whose owner is willing to sell cheap.

A shrewd English poet once said something to this effect, "You never can tell till you've tried 'em and then you are like to be wrong."

For many years this ardent advocate of the prohibition cause has hammered his way up and down the country, cursing the evils of drink before the vast multitudes of the big cities.

He was one of the greatest preachers for the prohibition amendment, and since its enactment, he has been for years one of the loudest shouters for prohibition enforcement.

Such has been his attitude in public as to inspire one with the greatest confidence that here was a man who was conscientious, who practiced what he preached, who drank water.

"One such place might be the clump of trees in the field behind the barn on the farm belonging to Dry Crusader William Eugene ("Pussyfoot") Johnson near Smithville Flats, N. Y.

If such contraptions had been found in the East Room of the White House, we would not have been surprised.

Caustic Czechoslovakia

They do things with a snap in Czechoslovakia. In our country a bum road show comes to town and perpetrates upon the people an atrocity which isn't worth fifteen cents but for which is collected anywhere from a dollar to two and a half.

We hear sometimes of rotten eggs and cabbages. Usually in small out of the way places where men express their feelings in good old barbaric fashion, when a show is presented which would not do credit to the Bingville Opera House on amateur night.

But in Czechoslovakia they register their disapproval in even franker terms. Time tells it thus: "An awful kaffir curse, loud blank shots, and much booming of African drums, marked the opening at a theatre in drowsy, medieval Prague, last week of a U. S. thrill-drama, "The Witch Doctor," once known to Manhattanites as a poor imitation of "White Cargo."

"After three of the characters had been clumsily and blatantly "killed" on the stage, famed Czechoslovakian playwright Antoine Trych rose from his orchestra seat, drew an automatic pistol, and fired two shots over the heads of the actors.

How many times has that same feeling crept over us, as some bowlegged, swan-necked creature yodelled "You made me what I am today" at least a half note off the key, or, if dramatic, wailed in quivering twitter, "For God's sakes, save my child!"

THE SANFORD FORUM

Editor Herald. When Mr. E. J. Buck and I bought Elder Springs property, We did so for the purpose of developing it, making it the pride of Seminole Co.

The Court now has Mr. Clouse case before it, until they dispose of the case I shall not answer Mr. Clouse last statements, further than to say I do not own a truck of any kind nor does Mr. Buck.

Mr. Clouse was appointed receiver by request of Mr. Butzner, Mrs. Fraziers attorney, Mr. Clouse failed to state he was requested by Mr. Butzner to turn over the property and equipment to me on Dec. first.

I am informed he is building a competitive business while he is still holding Mrs. Fraziers property and boast that he will drill until he taps the water that supplies her Spring. So I have been told, does this look like he is trying to protect the property he is paid to protect.

I have lived here only two years but have decided to make Sanford my permanent home, have invested money and have caused my friends to invest large sums of money, and shall to the best of my ability protect their interests, with the assistance of our lawyers and courts in which we have the greatest confidence.

I offered to cooperate with Mr. Clouse in every way, I had been instructed by Mr. Butzner to take charge on such short notice, although he had been notified to turn the property to me, we have traded for the property to develop it and not to fight with any one.

I have been warned by friends of Mr. Clouse that my life would be shortened ten years by this transaction, this remains to be seen. In my closing statement I wish to say that I did ask the Young lady in Mr. Clouse's office to make me a list of the customers offering of course to pay her for time spent in doing this, but he would not allow her to make a list for me saying he had worked five years to get these customers and no one would get them. I did not ask Mr. Clouse to teach my men anything, only asked Mr. Bennett, if he would object to Mr. Robinson riding with him and help him deliver the water in order that he might learn the route. I shall ask Mr. Butzner, Mrs. Gibson, and my attorneys to answer Mr. Clouse statement in detail later.

Perhaps as interesting a piece of news from the business world as the newspapers have published in a long time is this: "An offer to make good a loss of $800,000 sustained by investors in debenture bonds of the Supreme Coal Company was made by Hayden, Stone and Co., the banking house which floated the issue."

As Brisbane Sees It

Zebras and Cassowaries. Hear Chatfield-Taylor. About Bank Stocks. Stop Gambling "Short" Sales.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Dec. 12.—This is written in the office of R. G. Fernald, editor and publisher of the ably Santa Barbara Morning Press, on the 400-mile return trip from San Simeon to Hodge via Los Angeles.

AND NOTING you see many interesting things, including several unending, coming down the "Cuesta Encantada," a hill on which stands the Hearst ranch house. He has fenced in against wolves and coyotes about 3000 acres and experiments in acclimating animals not native here.

HERE AT Santa Barbara, they once had a little earthquake, not much harm done, although eastern newspapers made what they could of it, as usual. If the quake left any signs, they are all gone, and the city buildings are now constructed on a plan that makes them as safe in an earth quake as a market basket would be.

CHICAGO WOULD be interested to see Hearst Chatfield-Taylor here, where he has come "to live forever, or pretty nearly," is he says.

LOOKING BACK to his house in Lake Forest, on the edge of Chicago, exposed to bleak winds from Lake Michigan, he rejoices like a spirit released from an Equimax purgatory. Why some men that might live here stay in the windy, dusty, slippery, snaky, hurried east, is too much of a puzzle for Hobart Chatfield-Taylor. He has tried all the places on earth and having found Santa Barbara, does not care how long his visit to paradise is postponed.

BUSINESS MEN, in this region are disturbed by a suggestion concerning bank stocks, checked by Mr. Mitchell of the National City and A. P. Giannini of the Bank of Italy, the two biggest banks in America.

BOTH WOULD take their bank stocks off the stock exchange, to discourage speculation, unbecoming in stocks of that character. Why not follow the British plan and forbid, under heavy penalty, any short selling of bank stocks, while encouraging bona fide investment in such stocks?

HOW WOULD that appeal to Messrs. Giannini and Mitchell? There is no good reason why those that choose should not buy good bank stocks, of which many will yield gigantic profits.

IN EVERY city along this California coast, 165 California cities altogether, there are branches of the great Bank of Italy. Each bank, even in smaller towns has back of it all the resources of the big bank, and can finance fully, any local enterprise, no matter what the amount needed. Forty percent of the bank's profits go to employees, and that bank gets service. The heads and employes of banks purchased and included in the Giannini find themselves better off than before. Citizens see the institution, deal with it, and want to invest in it.

UNDER THE new law, permitting branches, Mr. Mitchell's great New York bank will doubtless spread out to serve scores of the big communities, as Mr. Giannini's bank has done already. Let the people invest in sound bank stocks, but don't let stock jugglers gamble in them. Tens of thousands in this state have their earnings in Bank of Italy stock, and should have a constant market if they want it.

Alumni Football (Our annual fall refrain) Bill Jones had been the shining star upon his college team.

When husky William took the ball beneath his brazen arm They had two extra men to ring the ambulance alarm.

Bill hit the line and ran the ends like a one mad bull amuck. The other team would shiver when they saw him start to LUCK.

When he would buck to glory in the swirl of life's big game? Swept by the dreams of college life, before our faith is nicked— The world is but a cherry tree that's starting to be picked;

So with the sheepskin tucked beneath his arm in football style, Bill puffed on steam and dashed into the thicket of the pie;

He tried to run the ends of life, but with rib-crushing toss and a row collector tackled him and threw him for a loss.

Bill tried to punt out of the rut, but he turned the trick Right Tackle Competition scuttled through and blocked the kick.

Bill was no quitter, so he tried a buck in higher gear, But left Guard Envy broke it up and stood him on his ear.

But one day, when across the Field of Fame the goal seemed dim, The wise old coach Experience came up and spoke to him.

"Keep coming back with all you've got, without an alibi. If Competition trips you up or lands upon your eye, Until at last above the din you hear this sentence silled: 'We might as well let this bird through before we all get killed.'"

"You'll find the road is long and rough, with soft spots far apart, Where only those can make the grade who have the Uphill Heart And when they stop you with a thud or halt you with a crack Let Courage call the signals as you keep on coming back.

"Keep coming back, and though the world may romp across your spine, Let every game's end find you still upon the batting line; For when the One Great Scorer comes to mark against your name, He writes—not that you won or lost—but how you played the game."

in a warm closed cabin, lacks excitement. Soon the question will be, open flying machine for sensation or closed machine for comfort.

SPRING IS here, in California, Outside fertile Santa Maria, to the north, on thousands of acres of jet black soil, washed down from the hills to the ocean's edge, you see next season's green peas, the plants about six inches above ground.

ANOTHER BIG crop, oil, continues to surprise the world. Uncle Sam has 70 percent of the world's oil, and is going to eat his oil cake over again. Where wells were drilled, "exhausted" as the owners thought, and abandoned long ago, only the first little layer of oil was taken out. Those old wells are being redrilled deeper, and deeper wells yield the really big oil supply.

THE EXPLANATION IS NOT CLEAR

SARASOTA TIMES For anyone to say that the pointing out of errors of those entrusted with the affairs of the city of Sarasota in the past few years, should not be brought up in election time, is simply a case of trying to distract the attention of voters from the real issue, for were these errors not shown, the people would be in the dark as to what has transpired, and would probably re-elect the present office holders to the positions which they are seeking.

The Times feels that it becomes the duty of a newspaper to advise the people of the conditions that have prevailed under the leadership of those in whose hands the operation of the municipality has been placed, and when a newspaper so fails it has committed an unpardonable breach of the profession, it has failed in its duty to the people whom it represents and whose voice it is.

All have to admit even the candidates for re-election that the operation of the city of Sarasota has been along a line that would have brought distress to anyone in the operation of a private business. It is not only the present that so seriously concerns us, but the future, for there are problems that are going to arise in the future that will seriously affect the city if we do not correct the conditions that have obtained, and which promise to continue to prevail under the present administration.

What we have said in previous editorials are borne out by facts that are a matter of record on the city's records. They have not been hearsay, but they are matters that are substantiated.

What we have said about the present councilmen holding secret meetings is undeniably a fact, and they know the people do not desire their business transacted behind closed doors, for when they are so discussed and nothing is placed on the records, it can be readily seen that it ceases to be the people's business. What is covered up does not become public, for it is the indelible record that makes it public.

One instance of a secret meeting is borne out by the council's records and we will quote the resolution to prove this: "Whereas the city council sometime ago decided to dispense with the services of Mr. David B. Wright, as superintendent of recreation department, inasmuch as the said David B.

Wright, after repeated requests failed to co-ordinate his department with the city's general accounting system, and he could not advise with the city council regarding the activities of his department, all of which worked to the detriment of the city and was wholly unsatisfactory to the said council, and it was decided at that time to make the change WITH AS LITTLE PUBLICITY AS POSSIBLE, and

Whereas this action of the council has been the subject of a great deal of publicity much to the detriment of the city, and the council's ability to dispense with Mr. Wright's services has been questioned by certain of Mr. Wright's friends.

"Therefore Be It Resolved, that the council do dispense with Mr. Wright's services, effective March 15, and that his salary for the month of March be paid, which will be considered in lieu of notice."

The capitalization at the end of the first paragraph of the resolution "WITH AS LITTLE PUBLICITY AS POSSIBLE" is not council's, but ours. Does this not indicate that council held a secret session in this instance? Certainly, no body of men would discuss before representatives of the press, the voice of the people, business that they would desire to be given "LITTLE PUBLICITY AS POSSIBLE."

And we can prove that they discussed this matter after the regular council session had adjourned, and the representatives of the press had left the meeting. They re-assembled to discuss it in order to give it as "LITTLE PUBLICITY AS POSSIBLE."

Now, Mayor Bacon, Councilmen Dana Milligan and W. H. Stephens, all of whom are seeking election at the hands of the voters next Tuesday, have made an affidavit before a notary public that they held no secret sessions—they made an oath, the violation of which constitutes perjury.

So, then the voters of Sarasota going to elect to office men of his type, men who would make false oath as to their handling of the city's business. Are they going to elect to office men who regard an oath so lightly, and who handle the city's business in such high handed manner as to hold up publicity of its business?

Junior High Parent Teachers Association Has Regular Meeting

On Tuesday afternoon the regular meeting of the Parent Teachers Association of the Junior High School was held at the Junior High School on Palmetto Avenue, with the president Mrs. E. J. Routh presiding. The meeting was opened with the singing of "Silent Night," this was followed by the devotional exercises led by Mrs. W. M. McKinnon, who also gave a splendid talk which was enjoyed by all.

Following the devotional exercises a lovely surprise was given the members, the curtains on the stage slowly arose and disclosed to view a very beautiful background painted by Mr. Miller which represented the "First Christmas" and the "Modern Christmas" and so modern was the latter that Santa Claus came bounding down the chimney, taking his place at the foot of the Christmas tree.

The regular routine business was carried out and it was decided to hold a cake sale in January. A beautification committee was appointed with J. Tilden Jacobs as chairman assisted by Mrs. Cooner, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Pitchford.

Mr. Jacobs, the principal of the school gave a very interesting talk and at the adjournment of the meeting, he invited the members to the lunch room where fruit cake and walnut ice cream were served.

Azarian Circle Meets With Mrs. A. Gatchell

The regular meeting of the Azarian Circle of the First Baptist Church was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur Gatchell in San Lanta, with Mrs. Gatchell and Mrs. T. L. Hale as hostesses. The home was beautifully decorated with poinsettias and other cut flowers carrying out the colors of red and green. Numerous Christmas bells and a brilliantly lighted Christmas tree, added a festive touch.

The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Moreland after which a discussion of a Christmas party to be held Dec. 19 at the home of Mrs. W. C. DeCoursey, took place. It was decided that the circle go in a body to DeLand, Tuesday to attend the pageant "The Nativity," to be given at Stetson University.

A special hour followed the business session during which time Master Melvin Gatchell entertained the guests with several readings. A Christmas contest was also enjoyed, and the prize for writing the best telegram from the word "Christmas," was won by Mrs. C. C. Wells. Delicious refreshments were served late in the evening by the hostesses.

The members present were: Mrs. Arthur Hatcher, Mrs. Charles Echols, Mrs. L. T. Sheppard, Mrs. Robert A. Williams, Mrs. Troy Ray, Mrs. A. C. Chamberlain, Mrs. James Murray, Mrs. B. V. Hasty, Mrs. A. C. Hall, Mrs. C. H. McMahon, Mrs. J. G. Michael, Mrs. H. F. Giovanni, Mrs. S. J. Nix, Mrs. B. C. More, Mrs. A. M. Eary, Mrs. Ira E. Southward, Mrs. C. C. Wells, Mrs. H. A. Moreland, Mrs. C. A. Anderson Jr., Mrs. M. L. Fax, Mrs. W. C. De Coursey, Mrs. F. E. Bradley, Mrs. Walter W. Hanney, Mrs. T. L. Hale and Mrs. Arthur Gatchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wiggins of Washington, D. C., arrived here Wednesday to spend the holidays as the guests of Mr. Wiggins brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Wiggins at their home on Magnolia Avenue.

W. E. Scoggin and Warner Scoggin who have been spending the summer at points in West Virginia, have arrived here to spend the remainder of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bradbury announce the birth of a son, Friday, December 9. The baby has been named Robert Lee Bradbury.

Women's Club Social Group Enjoys Party

One of the loveliest fortnightly bridge parties given for the members of the Social Department of the Woman's Club this season, was that of Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. S. D. Highleyman, Miss Margaret Young and Mrs. Frederick Bender as hostesses. This affair was also the annual shower given for the Children's Home Society at Jacksonville.

The spacious club auditorium which held its self so well to the decorator's hand was never more beautifully decorated than on this occasion. Many tall floor baskets held vivid hued poinsettias while an abundance of Christmas greens and bright Christmas bells added a gala touch. The stage was arranged to present a living room at the holiday season. The walls were hung with garlands of Christmas greens, and at one end of the stage was a gorgeous Christmas tree bright with myriads of tiny multi-colored electric lights. Playing about the tree were two cunning youngsters dressed in pajamas, depicting the scene of Christmas morn. These children were Marjorie Torrance and Mary Higgins.

As the guests arrived they were greeted by a group of children dressed to represent characters from Mother Goose. These tots, Wilson Sneed, Owen Mc Culler, Sadie Vincent and Joyce King, received the many gifts for the shower.

The afternoon hours were quickly spent with games of progressive bridge and at the conclusion of the game, scores were collected and prizes awarded. Mrs. M. S. Wiggins who held top score, was awarded an Indian pottery vase. The second prize a silver bread knife, went to Mrs. George Harden.

At the tea hour the hostesses assisted by a group of Camp Fire girls served tempting refreshments of a salad course with fruit cake and coffee.

GEORGIABOXER TO APPEAR FOR 1ST TIME HERE

Fans Are Assured of Plenty Action With Both Of Participants Confident Of Victory

Two Duskies Will Box In Semi-Final

Several Good Preliminaries Are Also On Program Tonight

The American Legion drums and bugle corps boxing show which will be staged tonight at the municipal athletic field will introduce a new face to local fans of boxing. Bobby Lee, of Quitman, Ga., will be making his initial bow to the fans of central Florida when he faces Mel Maning, of Los Angeles.

While Lee is new in these parts he is by no means new in the boxing game. He was formerly a sparring partner to Jack Britton, welterweight champion, and a sparring partner in the Walk Miller stable fighters. Also he has met and defeated the best boys in and around Georgia.

In meeting Maning he will have to be at his best as Mel has been going great and is eager to add the scalp of Lee to his laurels. Maning has been matched to box Tony Leto on next Monday night in Tampa and will have to win to keep his place as a headliner. This he is confident of doing. He has been working out daily at the Orlando Athletic Club under the watchful eye of Henry Godale and has been showing steady improvement.

The semi-final of six rounds will see two local huskies pitted against each other. Kid Slim, the "Church Street Wonder," and Battling Moore will hook up for a tussle. Slim has yet to meet his match, but many believe Moore will test him out. Several preliminaries are in the making and the rounds of boxing are in store for the fans.

A special block of seats has been reserved for Orlando fans who will be present to see the bouts, which start at 8:30 o'clock.

STEAMSHIP LINES TO BUILD LARGER LINERS IN FUTURE

Trans-Atlantic Companies To Renew War For Supremacy In Holding Cream Of America's Traveling Public

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The battle for leadership on the Atlantic, quiescent since the World War, has broken out again, and bears all the signs of becoming as acute as it was in the years before 1914. Since 1919 the big British shipping lines, adopting a policy of conservatism and economy, have been content to watch and wait to see what the other fellow is doing. With the recent launching and putting into general service of one French and two Italian liners for the Atlantic route, however, it is felt that British prestige will suffer unless new vessels, larger and more luxurious than those of other countries, are built.

Of the major British shipping companies, the White Star was first in the field with an announcement that it intends to lay down a new vessel in the Spring of next year. The Cunard Line has not been slow in taking up the challenge, and announces that plans are now under way for the laying down of a vessel which will be the largest in the Cunard fleet.

The 100 Foot Ship

Although leading shipowners expressed doubt four years ago whether the 1,000 foot ship would ever be built, it is safe to say that within three years ships of 1,000 feet and 60,000 tons will be on the trans-Atlantic route.

It is understood that the Cunard

Stutz And Hispano Make 24-Hour Race On Indiana Track

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 14.—(INS)—The 24-hour automobile race between a Stutz stock car, America's fastest in motor vehicle, and a Hispano-Suiza motor car, Europe's best in automobile, will be held on the Indianapolis Speedway on April 16, 1928.

The event was scheduled for early this December but Charles Weymann of Paris, France, sponsor of one of the drivers of the Hispano, was unable to have his entry ready in time.

To show their good faith Weymann and Fred Moskovic, president of the Stutz company, have posted $5,000 each in an Indianapolis bank as a forfeit for non-appearance on the date set for the race.

The race which will determine the world's fastest stock car is the outgrowth of an argument in Paris last October. Moskovic attended the opening of the Paris Automobile Salon and offered to bet $25,000 that the best American stock car could outrun the best European stock car. Weymann called the bet.

Two nationally famous race drivers will pilot the Stutz entry in the race. They will be Frank Lockhart, winner of the 1926 Indianapolis Speedway 500-mile Memorial Day race and Gil Anderson.

Weymann will drive the Hispano entry part of the time and another European famous race driver will relieve him.

Company's plans call for a ship of these dimensions, which will be the equal, or nearly equal, of the record-breaking Mauretania in speed which will mean at least 25 knots.

The vessel will cost $30,000,000, and will take two years and a half to build. It will be constructed on the Rivers Tyne or Clyde, which contain the only yards in Britain capable of constructing such a vessel. It is promised that the new vessel will surpass anything now in use on the Atlantic as regards luxury. The vessel will carry between five and six thousand passengers in three classes.

The White Star Line's new vessel will be known probably as the Oceanic, and will be remarkable for the fact that it will be propelled by internal combustion engines instead of steam turbines. She will be the "last word" in luxury and speed, will cost between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 to build, and provide employment for thousands of people.

Seek Luxury Traffic

Since the war the tendency in shipbuilding has been to build smaller vessels, such as the recent vessels launched by the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company for their South American service.

The chief object of the new war is to capture the North Atlantic luxury traffic, from which the big companies obtain the majority of their revenues. It is promised, however, that accommodation in the cheaper classes will not be neglected, and that the arrangements will be of a luxury hitherto thought unattainable in second and third class Atlantic travel.

Discussing the reported plans for his company's new vessel, H. P. Borer, general manager in the United States for the Cunard Line, refused to be drawn on the matter of cost and size, but did not lift the veil sufficiently enough to indicate that his visit here is in connection with the new vessel.

"The American public are still tremendously keen on the big ships," Borer said. "Travel prospects on the other side are increasing every year and I have no doubt that more and more people will cross the Atlantic. I believe, in fact, that the number will be sufficient to fill any ships of any size that may be placed in the service."

Ball Clubs At American League Meeting Seeking To Purchase Oldtimers

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Having put over what, in our elegant circles was generally characterized as a fast one in "foxing" outfielder Heine Manush and first baseman Lou Blue away from Detroit, Dan Howley was about the premise at the annual American League today endeavoring to hawk the last of baseball's great trinity to the highest bidder. Cobb and Speaker, it would seem, are to be no more. Now George Sisler is about to go on a long journey.

Three clubs, the Washington Senators, the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox, were understood to be exchanging very dirty grimaces over the man who stepped off a campus at Michigan University some ten years ago to become, pronto and without preamble, one of the three great names of modern times. Five years ago, you couldn't have bought him for the entire Brooklyn ball club, with uncle Robbie thrown in or thrown out, according to the way you feel about that earthy.

Today, much of the old Sisler had departed because eye trouble cut him down in the full flush of his career. Yet he still had enough left to cause three ball clubs to go into a huddle for pad, pencil and pay roll.

As a result, it was rumored that Washington was willing to give up Joe Judge, first baseman, and Sam Rice, outfielder, for the privilege of George's daily society next season. The law only requires that you listen to this one, you don't have to believe it. However, it was pretty well admitted today that the Senators want Sisler and that Judge was on the market. Perhaps Howley and Stanley Harris will reach a basis of understanding, with this fact for a fact ground; perhaps not.

If they don't, the player is certain to go to one of the other two clubs. The transaction, when closed, probably will furnish the big deal of the meeting, if not of recent years. They saw there may be as many as seven players involved before the boys decide to close the book and call it a plot.

Perhaps a dozen other deals were on the fire today over a slow flame but whether they will come to a boil before Thursday night was an open question. However, it was a man's secret that Cleveland, Washington, St. Louis, Detroit and Chicago, of the American League and Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Boston, of the National League were here with the definite purpose of doing business in those poor hired men of the pastime.

Manager Declares Tunney Will Fight Bout Next Summer

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—(INS)—"You can say for me that Gene Tunney will appear in Chicago at an outdoor show next summer," Billy Gulson, manager of the world's heavyweight champion today thus answered a barrage of questions about Tunney's next defense of his title.

Gulson said he could not "call the fight" in so many words until after Feb. when a lot of things and Tex Rickard will have to do by then. He cleared up and out of the way. Tunney himself had nothing to say, stating he had come to Chicago to help the Christmas charity fund and not to discuss fighting.

Greyhound Racing Is Blamed For New Crimes In London

SOUTHEND, Eng. Dec. 14.—(INS)—The sudden wave of national interest in greyhound racing, has led to a new species of race-track crime, harking back to the days, when fine race horses were rendered unfit for use by villainous methods on the part of unscrupulous characters.

A number of dramatic attempts to steal or injure valuable greyhounds in the kennels behind the Southend dog track here, culminating in a murderous attack on a young kennel guard, have provided the police here with a baffling problem.

Leslie Barker, the guard, twice scared away marauders who apparently intended stealing some of the valuable greyhounds or injuring them to make them useless for the races. On a third occasion, Barker encountered a man in the kennels at night, and was struck on the head with a heavy instrument. The attacker fled without molesting the animals.

Approximately 100 dogs are kept in the kennels here. Their aggregate value is in the neighborhood of $50,000.

CAPTAIN ELECTED

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 14.—(INS)—Robert S. ("Bob") Warren, Portage, Wis., fullback, will captain the 1928 N. C. State College football team. Warren is a sophomore.

Loughran Trains For Battle Next Month

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—(INS)—Tommy Loughran, now the undisputed light heavyweight champion, will break training only long enough to eat his Christmas dinner, for he has another important fight on his hands early next month.

Loughran is staying over here for a day or two at the request of admirers who are presenting him with the championship belt tomorrow night after a theatre party. He will then return to Philadelphia to train for his bout with Leo Lomski, western challenger, here on Jan. 6.

at Valbuena and there was no confirmation of the report that Lindbergh had arrived.

After fighting his way down the coast through fog and headwinds at an approximate speed of 90 miles an hour, Col. Lindbergh, en route from Washington to Mexico City upon a non-stop good will flight, crossed the Mexican line between 6 and 7 o'clock, according to reports from points along the route.

Lindbergh was reported to have passed Tampica, Mexico, at 9:50 P. M. (T.), at which place he was turned inland toward the Mexican capital.

Aransas Pass, Texas, reported that Lindbergh flew over that place at 5:30 (E. S. T.) at a speed estimated at about 128 miles an hour. Aransas Pass is approximately 1,100 miles from Washington and 300 miles from Tampica.

Despite bad weather Lindbergh followed the course he had planned for himself, using a map he had drawn himself. His rate of speed was varied according to the weather conditions he encountered. Fort Aransas reported fog over the Gulf of Mexico coast but clear weather inland. Tampica is 220 miles from Mexico City.

Crowds began gathering at Valbuena airbase shortly after daybreak to welcome Col. Lindbergh.

Advices from Washington said that Lindbergh was encountering headwinds and that his progress was being hindered. It was believed at that time that the famous aviator would arrive here before noon.

Mexican and United States flags fluttered over the field, which is five miles from Mexico City. Mexican aviators eagerly scanned weather reports, speculating upon the speed that Lindbergh could make after crossing the Mexican line.

A squad of five of Mexico's best aviators were detailed for "escort duty," forming a guard of honor for Lindbergh as he approached the flying field.
