mander-in-chief of the Pacific area, has just conferred with Pacific plans. It was dis-

Superfortresses hit Japan hard again while in the Philippines. Yank airmen one of a Japanese convoy of 11 ships. The Yanks lost eight planes.

Relief Forecast
From Severe Cold
Wave By Friday

Associated Press
Some relief from the season's most severe snowstorms was forecast today as a vast expanse of the nation was removing fresh snow from streets and highways.

West Virginia had the heaviest blizzard, but Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, and West Virginia were killed to some attributed to a storm centering in Ontario.

The south is expected to have little relief before Friday. Florida's citrus apparently escaped unharmed and its truck crops apparently suffered only minor damage as the coldest wave of the season sent temperatures down to the low twenties in some sections.

The State Marketing Bureau at Jacksonville said damage to truck crops is not heavy as was generally expected and was very spotted as a whole. Director William L. Wilson of the State Farmers' Markets also characterized the damage as light. Both emphasized that the surveys were preliminary.

Continued cold weather is in prospect for today with indications not to be as severe for tomorrow morning.

Fire Disrupts Phone Service For 600 Users

Burning Flames Dam- age Section Of Park, Eighteenth While Truck Stalls

Telephone service in the southern part of town, and all the way to Lake Mary, including about 600 telephones was disrupted yesterday afternoon as burning trash on the lot adjoining the Park Apartments at Eighteenth Street and Park Avenue spread to a nearby storage house and garage owned by John L. Galloway, 1718 Magnolia Avenue.

The intense heat of the fire, fanned by a driving wind, burnt into and fused the lead of a 300 cable telephone wire over the burning storage shed, the flames sweeping on to the nearby garage.

Mr. Leslie Went, nearby resident noticed the flames of the burning trash during the early part of the fire. W. C. Johnson, Herald reporter who had just arrived turned in the alarm at 1:16. Meanwhile, as the fire blazed onward unchecked for some time, he made another fire call. Fire Chief Cleveland then arrived and announced that the fire truck had broken down at the traffic light on First Street, cause of motor trouble.

Another fire truck (No. 1) had just come back from a call from a grass fire, and even with the firemen working fast, did not have enough hose loaded on it to make the run at the time of the alarm. Chief Cleveland and American First Army Jumps Off Below Duren In New Ott- ack Toward Bonn

A new Allied offensive hit the Germans on the western front. The southern wing of the American First Army jumped off below Duren in a fresh attack pointed toward the Rhine River city of Bonn, advancing more than a mile in three hours, penetrating Rollesbruch.

The American right flank hammered out new gains on the French frontier as the Seventh Army took the assault on Iglo section of the Siegfried defense in the German Palatinate.

The Third Army pressed 6½ miles east of Saargemünd, reaching Obergraben, a half mile from the German frontier.
The front advanced eight miles to points four miles south of the German Palatinate. In the north, Nazi defenses west of the Roer virtually collapsed.

Meanwhile massed artillery in close formation at the northern end south of the outskirts of Buds-eck were poised for assault.
From Altdorf, Germany, it was reported information from Germany today indicated that Hitler's elite followers were prepared to defend areas of industrial and economic value to the Allies after they were driven from the Rhine after Nazi army collapse. Hitler's plan was to withdraw his forces to the Rhine, fortify them, and conduct a guerrilla war.

Now the niggard tongue, long frozen,

Set on by untimely heat, Buddly begins to loosen Such a spate

Such a tumult as has taken

Prudent wall and landmark, bro-

All spring's penitent profusion Futile to erase its mark: Reckless promise, rash concethat already.

According to Dr. Peterson of Washington Miss Go-Round, who supported President Roosevelt in the recent election, the troubles in Greece stem from an understanding between Roosevelt and Churchill. It was agreed, he says, that "The American army would play second fiddle to the British army in all matters affecting not only Greece but Yugoslavia." This has been carried out to the last T," he concluded.

Maurice S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve system, is concerned over the fact that bank deposits held by individuals have increased from $6 billion dollars to $20 billion dollars since 1939, and "high government officials" fear for the effect which much money in the hands of the people will have on our postwar situation after the war is over. Well, if they are really concerned, about it, one good way to limit the cash on hand which the people have is for the government to quit giving so much of it away.

Air Plans

The proposal of the conference committees of the Civil Aviation Conference worked out at the International Civil Aviation Convention, after five weeks of consultation, has been accepted by the nations attending the conference.

This three-way treaty plan, which pledges the nations to sound and economical development of air transport in such a way as to avoid friction, is of course a compromise. It makes, for instance, no mention of the disputed freedoms of the air, which will be the subjects of separate agreements. But it, like the recommendations of the Economic Conference, and those of Dumbarton Oaks, is the result of long discussion of the problem by representatives of several nations, and as such is another step toward world peace. The very fact that it is a compromise is hopeful. Normal Angell, discussing in the Saturday Review of Literature recent books on world peace, says:

"In a world of sixty or seventy nations of infinitely varying background, ways of thought, scales of moral value, political and religious doctrine, each must be prepared to concede, to compromise, to tolerate differences, to grant to others the right to doctrines which differ from our own. Willingness to accept far less than what we believe to be the perfect, that spirit of tolerance and compromise which so many regard as craven and pusillanimous, is not a vice, but a virtue without which freedom and democracy are impossible."

City Rights

States' rights are often heard from, but what about cities' rights? This question has just been asked by Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, addressing a Cincinnati meeting devoted to the city manager plan of government, as well as by Florida's own Governor-elect Millard Caldwell. Dykstra's point is that cities are under-represented in many state legislatures, and do not get a sympathetic hearing from them. Milwaukee and Washington are closer spiritually than Milwaukee and Madison.

Senator Harold H. Burton of Ohio had this in mind when in 1938, opposing the proposal to end the WPA, he aid that, because of the commitments to rural constituents, many a state government is unable to see the situation in as clear a perspective as is the federal government.

Unemployment and relief are largely city problems. Surplus labor in rural areas moves into the city, for the city is the home of industry and the great services.

This is why cities are apt to go to Washington for advice and help instead of their state capitals. More emphasis of "state rights" will not stop this practice. If the states want rights, they must earn them by settling the problems at their doorsteps.

Guns And Books

Military training and experiences seem to have value, among other things, in clarifying young men's ideas as to what they want to do with their lives when they return to civilian pursuits. This is especially true of those entering or returning to college.

It is found that the veterans on the campus are usually able to get back into their academic stride more readily than might be expected, from reports of other groups. Large numbers of them, attending college on government financing under the G.I. Bill of Rights, are reported as taking up courses that will train them for definite professions or occupations. Many disabled veterans are entering college at the expense of the Veterans Administration, and thereby receiving at least partial recompense for their disabilities.

How are these men able to stand it and carry the work? Most of them fit into the schools without much difficulty and are said to be doing well in their studies. This is obviously a big improvement over the handling of such problems in former wars.

PRIVATE EMPLOYMENT RAILWAY AGE

The people of the United States, whether they know it or not, are choosing now, whether the country have been subject to a private enterprise which formerly approximated socialism. But private enterprise, full employment provided in this country, will be in Russia and Germany before and time more and more socializing. This was, as in this country, the nation's economy until they try during the war, has been established complete socialism. For it has been provided to furnish our and other governments with means of destruction. And never in history has it yet been shown that any system of socialism can in peace-time be as good as any other country. Virtual full employment, services and goods to cause a high and advancing standard of living for all the people.

Entirely different is the history of private enterprise. What shall be produced by those employed under socialism and every socialist policy is decided by government. What shall be produced by those employed under free private enterprise is decided by the consuming public—i.e., all the people. For private enterprise is operated for profit; for any private enterprise to make a profit it must sell at prices exceeding its costs; and to sell at prices exceeding its costs it must produce what the public will buy at such prices. That is, while producing for profit, private enterprise in this country is socialism, under which as in Russia and Germany, government owns and manages all property, or manages it as if it owned it. The other is free enterprise, or "private enterprise," under which almost all property is privately owned and managed, and is subjected to government interference only to prevent exploitation by private monopolies and to raise taxes for the ordinary functions of government.

This socialism can provide full employment when demanded not only by the experience of Russia and Germany, but also by that of other nations at war including the United States for Nature Favors the SOUTH!

For Living... Here in the South are found all the essentials for good living.

Friendly people, an equable climate, enterprising towns and communities offer a combination which makes life for those in this favored area more than mere existence.

This opportunity for better and happier living has been an important factor in the South's extraordinary growth of the last two decades. The greater satisfaction of workers surrounded by pleasant living conditions is reflected in higher production.

The stress of war has not lessened these basic advantages. In the return to a peacetime economy they will possess an added significance for those who are seeking the most suitable location for industrial or agricultural expansion.

Sanford Main Fire Department got enough hose strength to knock down the fire and make some connections, but were unable to save the storage shed and nearby nature. They did however, prevent spread of fire to the headquarters of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

When the No. 1 fire truck arrived at the fire, Chief Cleveland was faced with a formidable critical emergency in view of the dry weather and high wind which had earlier had incinerated houses on West Fifth Street with a single fire. The truck, with mostly only an obsolete hook and ladder outfit at the station to combat any other fire that might break out. Accordingly, he sent Assistant Chief R. T. Thomas in charge of the fire, returned to the station and found, as he had anticipated, that the men had not been able to get the No. 2 truck working again.

He then called the Sanford Naval Air Station which sent down a pump truck and three men who stood by until the regular truck was put in working order again.

Workers from the telephone company, unhooked by the cold, worked all night in an effort to repair the damaged cable said Carl B. Turner, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, who added that telephone lines would be restored to normal by Friday by the cooperative efforts of the telephone company, the utility companies and the public.

On Saturday morning, the men in City ordinance, which he would see to it was enforced, which prohibits burning of trash anywhere in the city limits with our permission of the Fire Department.

It takes from a half to two hours to re-load hose on a fire truck after each one, Chief Cleveland said. He wanted that with the truck that made the run there was difficulty encountered one of the blocks had been gas because one of the ports holes in the water jacket and which might easily have put this truck out of commission also.

The WFB authorities purchased new fire equipment, and an arado and two way radio equipment and a leveled car.

Volunteer firemen throughout the state were destroyed by the fire. Mr. Galloway reported the fire, represented were Troop No. 8, Troop 5, Troop No.

AMMUNITION

In revoking the 25 per cent premium previously allowed on "single" sales of certain ammunition, OPA said prices now must be computed in proportion to the full box price. When the premium on less than box lot sales was allowed, OPA said such sales constituted only a small portion of total sales in the nation. However, many retailers last year used the pro-cesses to evade ceiling prices, marketing all or purchased their manufacturing on breakers' lots.

CIGARETTES

Initial complaints of alleged illegal sales of cigarettes prompted District OPA Director Chassey W. Hether to caution smokers today that they alone hold the key to whether a full fledged black market develops from the present acute shortage.The shortage, he said, is obviously aggravated by smokers holding up advances of personal
