

TO SEND RUNNERS TO SANTA RELAYS

College Athletes Are to Appear in All of the Principal Events

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, Gainesville, Apr. 12.—(Athletic News Service)—Coach Nash Higgins has his high powered relay team on the move for Atlanta Friday and Saturday to compete in the annual Georgia Tech Relays on Saturday. The University of Florida will enter in the half-mile, one-mile and two-mile relays, events reserved entirely for Southern Conference teams, and the sprint medley and distance medley relays open to any college and university athletes. It likewise finds the team competing.

In addition to the five major relays events, Coach Higgins has entered his half-mile and one-mile teams in the freshman relays. Strong material among the Hats is present this year.

The task of selecting his representatives in the variety relays is proving more difficult each day. Never in the history of Florida track has there been a similar situation existing among the dash men. Mike Knight, Forest Munger, Bruce Goodbread, Ed Newcome, Bud McEwan, Johnny Bryson, Bob Annew, Compton French comprise a group of outstanding sprinters. With the middle distance and distance runners, Capt. Dick Trogdon, Ralph Davis, Gus Click, John Prensley and Owen Rice, all of whom have shown great from this year, Florida is prepared to make a strong stand in the Tech relays. Coach Higgins is extremely proud of his 1929 material, and feels sure his boys will carry the Florida colors gloriously.

The two freshman relay teams will be selected from this group: J. P. McInnes, A. P. Hall, Ansel Boyette, J. P. Hall, P. A. Zimmerman, F. H. Brownette and P. J. Brown.

Florida's smashing 85 to 41 victory over Clemson in the dual meet here last Saturday, gave the Hators a great start in conference competition. Of the 14 first places, the Floridians captured 10. Following their appearance in Atlanta Saturday, the Higgins boys returned home to prepare for dual meets on April 22 with the University of Alabama, and April 25 with Auburn, both slated for Alabama soil.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Apr. 12.—(INS)—The Cleveland Indians were to attempt to redeem themselves in their second game with the Birmingham Barons here today. The Barons won yesterday's game, 8 to 5.

Sanford Smothers Winter Garden In Heavy Barrage 18-4

Pounding two pitchers for 22 hits, Sanford High School baseball warriors, yesterday trounced Winter Garden by a score of 18 to 4. The visitors garnered only four hits off Peters and Lake. Miller, with four hits out of five trips, led the locals in stick-work. Two of his clouts were off two and three bases. Peters slammed out a trio of safeties, two of them two-baggers.

Peters, taking the mound for Sanford, developed a streak of wildness, walking five men and hitting two others. He was taken out in favor of Lake. The box

Often the S. of Constipation Thedford's Black-Draught Drives Out Impurities.

Decatur, Ala.—Mrs. A. B. Roberts of 1704 Fifth Avenue, this city, says "My mother is a great believer in Thedford's Black-Draught. She has used it for many years in her family. When we were growing up, she gave it to us whenever we complained of indigestion."

"Since I have been married and had a home of my own, I have continued to use Black-Draught as a household medicine, and have found it very good for constipation and biliousness."

"Whenever I wake up in the morning feeling dull and languid, I know that I need something to cleanse my system. Sometimes I feel dazed and uncertain of myself. Governor Carlton's Policies

Rumors emanating from distant parts of the state and traveling in mysterious ways indicate that this is not altogether what might be called a "Carlton legislature." We do not suppose from this that there is any open hostility between the Governor and the legislators; but we do take it to mean that there exists a difference of opinion as to the present needs of the state and as to the manner in which the state government can best serve the people of Florida.

None of us knows yet exactly what the legislators have in mind. There have been a few bills introduced and rumors of countless others, but whether any of them can be passed it is impossible to say. There is the sales tax bill, and the luxury tax bill and the bill for taxing intangibles, and many other tax bills. And there are the divorce bill and the race-track bill. None of these may pass, but as they offer us the only indication we have thus far of the quality of this legislature, we are moved to hope that if there is to be any conflict between Governor and legislature, the Governor will win.

His opening address to the legislature has received almost universal praise from the press and populace of Florida. The ideas expressed in it, with one or two minor exceptions, seem to conform to the ideas which the people have, for retrenchment and for the re-establishment of this state upon a sound financial and economic foundation. The people evidently endorse the Governor's policies and will endorse the legislature's policies only if it carries out the Carlton program.

In recalling his speech we can remember no reference to a divorce bill, which is devised to attract a certain class of people to this state but which is bound to result in an undermining of moral conditions in the state and in the creation of at least one Reno in Florida. We can however distinctly remember what the Governor said in regard to gambling, and remember that he said enough so that we believe if there is any conflict with the legislature on this subject, the Governor will veto the bill.

This is no time for friction in our government but a time for wholehearted co-operation between all branches in preparing and carrying out a program which will bring the greatest benefit to the greatest number of people. We believe that Governor Carlton has in mind the proper solution for Florida's troubles and we hope that he will have the support of all the legislators. If not all, at least of those who represent Seminole County.

Subjected To The Elements

The price we pay to the Great God of Ceremony sometimes seems too high. It is a little thing, this standing with uncovered head while the "Star Spangled Banner" is played, and we should all do it, but sometimes when the wind is blowing and a light rain is falling and perhaps we have a slight cold anyway, it may prove a dangerous custom.

When Earl Haig died, Marshall Foch, old and not in too good health, walked hatless in a chill drizzle behind the body of the former English commander. Physicians said the cold which the French general contracted at that time brought on the pneumonia which so weakened his health that he too died a few weeks ago.

Ambassador Herrick, old and not as vigorous as he once was, participated in the Foch funeral. He walked, while a light rain fell behind the hears with his head uncovered. The cold which he caught on this two mile tramp ended with his death. General Pershing was one of those who attended the Herrick funeral. A chill wind blew, but the General, of stronger constitution, was able to master the severe cold which seized him.

Thus it was that Earl Haig started a regular procession of sickness and death. He would have been seriously grieved to know that Marshall Foch in order to participate in his funeral must take cold and die. It is said that George V of England caught the pneumonia which nearly killed him while taking his part in an Armistice day ceremony standing in the rain before Britain's Cenotaph.

On March the fourth when countless thousands gathered in Washington to see Herbert Hoover inaugurated as president of the United States, a light rain fell. Hoover was out in it, but did not catch cold. Senator Curtis, becoming Vice President, was less fortunate. His cold became quite bad and he was forced to seek the warm sunshine of Florida in order to recuperate.

Athletes who are strong and healthy do not always have to perform in the rain. Frequently at baseball games, rain checks are given to the spectators. But statesmen are not so favored by society. They must do their stuff regardless of the rain. No rain checks are given for official ceremonies. The show must go on.

ANOTHER BOOM STARTED

Considerable alarm is being expressed over the state that the almost instantaneous revival of real estate sales which started about a month ago presages the start of another boom in Florida. Frankly, we hope that this is not true. Certainly Florida has recovered in splendid manner from the late and lamented speculative period, and surely we have learned from it that what the state needs is more actual citizens of both the permanent and semi-permanent type. There is, absolutely no gain, except of a very short and slight nature, from purely speculative dealing in real estate.

So far as the revival is concerned locally, the situation seems most wholesome. True enough, there has been greater activity in city property during the past month than there has been for the past two years as a whole, but so far as the Press can learn, this activity is confined to purchasers who have decided that the Florida situation has sufficiently righted itself to make desirable the ownership of property here for personal use, and the transfers that have been made thus far give the community assurance of several new and highly desirable families, who will spend all, or part, of their time here.

This movement, without a doubt will assume larger proportions during the summer. It is an open secret that every man now in Tallahassee as a legislator has gone there with a determination to in some manner achieve a relief from the tax burden, which, while not oppressive in Florida as compared with some states, is still higher than to which we have been accustomed and is more than northern people would wish to pay

JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES II

"And the kindly earth shall slumber, Lapped in universal law." President Hoover, it is announced, will not commence illegal invasion of homes, misuse of firearms or other measures by federal agents in the enforcement of prohibition. This is one more move in the Hoover campaign for restoring the majesty of the law. Every good American, wet or dry, will applaud. The best way for law officers, from president to constable, to obtain a greater public respect for law is the way of rigid example. That is Mr. Hoover's point, notably taken.

Tallahassee, longing for more laws to make, should read the recent report of the Women's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor which indicates that Florida is in need of legislation in protection of the working conditions and wage standard of women in this state.

Seriously injured in an airplane accident at Trenton N. J. last week, William French asked for a cigarette while being taken to Mercer Hospital, says a New York World dispatch. But what was the name of the cigarette? On the same day Dr. John H. Mueser, president-elect of the American College of Physicians, announced whether it is better to smoke or not is not harmful to women. But he did not name the cigarettes. What good purpose can news stories like these serve as long as they give a waiting world absolutely no clue to the pressing problem of whether it is better to smoke or not? Lucky Strike, Old Gold, Camel or Chesterfield.

Chiropractors are not the only ones who note with scientific interest the low-backed bathing suits the ladies are wearing this year. Prominent among the purveyors of other outdoor interests is Avery Powell of the Florida Times-Union.

Cynics to the contrary notwithstanding, Harry Sinclair's three month jail sentence plus the six month sentence he may serve in prison later suggest that a day is coming in America when wealth and power are no longer beyond the law. The Sinclair sentence is inadequate to his whole offense but the spectacle of a millionaire being the harshest punished exercise in majesty of law.

Secretary of State Stimson's refusal to decide the question of Mrs. Gann's social rank at dinner in Washington did the dignity of his country an international service. A. official hostess for her brother, the Vice-President, it is hard to see how anyone could object to a social rank for her in Washington next to Mrs. Hoover—but the United States government has better things to worry over.

Of course, if the matter hadn't been settled soon Mrs. Gann might have starved to death.

Calvin Coolidge it is rumored, is to become a candidate for the United States senate from Massachusetts, following the example of another Massachusetts president John Quincy Adams, who went to Congress after retiring as Chief Executive. But if Mr. Coolidge writes many more magazine articles he may find that he cannot be elected to anything.

The proposed sales tax for Florida may not be wise but overhated opponents of the measure should be advised that the proposal falls considerably short of high treason. The sales tax has been tried in other places which are still on the map.

When the announcement was made several months ago that the beach-lumber mill was to stop cutting lumber, the inference, naturally, was that the firm was through when the supply on hand was exhausted, with the handling of lumber. Nothing, however, could be further from the facts in the case. They have now, A. L. Beach, the senior member of the firm, tells the Breeze, more lumber stacked on their yard than at any time during the third of a century that the firm conducted their mill here. They are handling, in a juggling way, the entire output of something like a half-dozen small mills in nearby territory—DeFuniak Springs Breeze.

Not one fever tick was found in Columbia county, a result of the "hand inspection" of all livestock during the recent two-weeks' period completed last week. Dr. Wilbur McPherson, county inspector Saturday.—Lakes City Gazette.

It would appear that the first movement of property will be at ridiculously low figures, and will consist chiefly of "distress" parcels—lots or homes upon which the owner has placed a sacrifice price because of financial entanglements which induce him to accept any reasonable offer which involves a large portion of cash, as nearly all of the deals now being closed are demanding.

This type of property will soon be taken up, and then the other holdings, upon which the owner may justly expect a fair price will be in demand. It is not possible that Florida property will ever demand the fabulous prices which once were placed upon even commonplace holdings, nor is it good that it

THE CARLTON TAX PLAN

DAYTONA BEACH NEWS-JOURNAL

A plan of taxation rather vaguely hinted at in the governor's message, is being more concretely discussed by officials throughout the state to whom the governor has sent copies of the plan. While it is not officially so-called this column will refer to it for convenience as the Carlton plan.

The crux of the plan is to place the burden of financing the county debts, including the school debts, on the highways of the state through a gas and automobile tax. The nucleus of the plan was proposed last fall by Paul Gaines, assessor of Seminole county, at a meeting in Tampa. Roy Johnson, of Orlando, perfected the details. It is an adaptation of a plan successfully worked out by Arkansas.

The plan is designed to give immediate financial relief to over-burdened counties—and they are all overburdened—in relief, coincidentally property now groaning under ad valorem road taxes, and at the same time, to build improved roads in those parts of the state where there are no roads. All property in the state is to be freed from road taxes and the roads are to be built and maintained entirely by those who use them.

It is pointed out by advocates of the plan that the road and bridge debt is 67 per cent of the entire debt of the counties, amounting to $170,791,000. Against this, the state and counties have constructed (but not yet completed) an excellent road system costing about $240,000,000. To date, the taxpayers have contributed approximately $80,000,000 of this total, leaving an unpaid balance of $160,800,000. This road system has been made to produce some revenue. In 1925, it brought in about $19,000,000 in gas and auto taxes and federal aid.

It is proposed to increase the revenue from the road system by $6,000,000 a year, making it approximately $25,000,000 a year by increasing the license fees on the average $16 a car, and in recompense, eliminating the personal property tax on autos, which is approximately $25,000,000 a year.

Now the report of the educational survey, recently outlined in somewhat over-amplified fashion in this column of The News-Journal, showed the crying need of the schools to be relieved of some of the burden of paying interest and capital on debts so that immediate current expenses might be met and a reasonable high standard of education maintained. The boards of public

CAIRNS AND THE CELESTY CITY

GAINESVILLE SUN

In the latest issue of the Florida Engineer & Contractor, trade publication, appears an interesting article on the city of Sanford. It is especially interesting to Gainesville people because it was written by G. H. Cairns, former city manager of this city and present city manager of the bustling celery center.

Activities of Sanford, other than celery, are set out in graphic style by Mr. Cairns. Manufacturing activity, shipping statistics and civic improvements are told in interesting style.

It so happens, however, that Mr. Cairns omits to mention the Sanford "zoo" which is one of the most interesting attractions of that city. Mr. Cairns is director of the zoo which includes bears, wildcats, camels, and other animals seen in the larger city

Only recently Mr. Cairns and his able assistants were being gained with a stranded car for a lion.

The article in the Engineer & Contractor serves to show us that Sanford is on the way, despite recent political setbacks. The Celery City is one of the Florida cities that are bound to flourish in the next quarter of a century in the employment of the city of the future. It is helping to put home on the map.

Whippet Sales Are 37 Percent Better Than For Last Year

PONTIAC, Mich., Apr. 13.—Although Whippet sales for the first quarter of 1928 set new high records for Willys-Overland, sales of these four and six cylinder models in the first quarter of the current year show an increase of 37 per cent over the same period of 1927. John N. Willys, president, said this week at Toledo. This unusual high sales volume is attributed to immediate wide public acceptance of the new cars which bring to the low price field a new standard of style and performance usually found only in the higher priced cars.

With this marked increase in Whippet sales in the first quarter over any similar period in Willys-Overland history executives point out that the company's car building schedule for the present year, which call for a record output, is fully justified.

It is pointed out that both the Whippet four and the Whippet six, in addition to setting new style trend in body design, color combinations, and fittings, also include distinctive mechanical improvements that have been important factors in the high sales volume. Both the four and the six are equipped with the new "Finger-Tip Control," which consists of a button in the center of the steering wheel placing all the functions of starting the motor, operating the lights and sounding the horn at the finger-tips of the driver. Since these cars were first shown, this feature has attracted the widespread attention, not only of the public but the entire automobile industry as well.

Oakland, Pontiac To Give Guarantees On All Used Machines

PONTIAC, Mich., April 13.—Another progressive step recently taken by a prominent automobile manufacturer toward better business methods in the merchandising of used cars, came to light here today when the Oakland Motor Car company announced adoption of a national policy under which Oakland-Pontiac dealers will be asked to furnish a written guarantee with all reconditioned used cars.

Under terms of the guaranty, parts are furnished free to replace any found defective during the first 750 miles of driving, provided the mileage is run up within thirty days after the sale. The car may be returned within 48 hours after the purchase if it proves unsatisfactory and the full purchase price applied to any other car, new or used, of equal or greater value in the dealer's stock.

A written guaranty printed on lithographed bond paper is issued by the dealer to the purchaser at the time of the sale, with all cars carrying the guaranty also have a windshield sticker on which is printed, "Reconditioned GUARANTEED Good Will Used Car."

The object of the new plan, according to M. L. Buck, manager of the used car department, is to provide the purchaser with positive evidence of the good faith of the dealer who makes the sale.

Prominent Detroit Men Are Listed In Rum Runner's Book

DETROIT, Apr. 13.—(INS)—A "blue book" chart for which hundreds of at least one millionaire and the names of some of society's politically and financially prominent Detroiters will be opened at the police trial of Captain Joseph Barkhiser, accused of being a "holled" department "operation" man for rum-runners, Police Commissioner William P. Rutledge announced today.

The "blue book" Rutledge claimed, is made up of the names of persons for whom Barkhiser had brought across the Detroit River from Canada to the United States. Rutledge declined to make public the names at present. At the same time, Commissioner Rutledge announced that the trial of Barkhiser, who for eight years was police harbormaster, will be public.

A second man was suspended in connection with the liquor scandal today. He is Sgt. Edward Shaw. The same charges as were against Barkhiser—"conspicuous unbecoming of an officer"—were placed against Shaw. Specific charges were to be made public later.

New Secretary Of Agriculture Was Missouri Buick Dealer Many Years

FLINT, Mich. Apr. 13.—President Hoover's recent appointment of former Gov. Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri as Secretary of Agriculture, brings for the first time a man from the automobile industry to the cabinet of the nation's chief executive. Secretary Hyde, long been a Buick dealer at Trenton, Mo.

The appointee has established a remarkable record both in political circles and as a business man. Coming as he does, from the very heart of the farm belt, Secretary Hyde, through his long association with problems confronting tillers of the soil, is especially qualified to meet the responsibilities connected with the position.

Being the son of a farmer, Hyde has a first hand knowledge of the farm problem. He took command of the new secretary will be largely of an administrative nature, and his automobile business experience will be of inestimable value in dealing with the ramifications of the farm question, because he, too, is essentially a business man.

A lawyer he administered to the farmer's legal needs; as a merchant of Buick cars his dealings with them brought him into even closer touch with their financial and domestic problems; as governor of Missouri he became the champion of her cause—and now as a member of President Hoover's cabinet he is to become instrumental in solving one of the most difficult situations confronting the American nation.

B. C. FORBES SEES FLORIDA AS BEST FINANCIAL FIELD

Economist Paints Fine Picture Of State In Issue Of Magazine

TAMPA, Apr. 13.—B. C. Forbes, economist and business editor, who advised investors to buy Florida real estate rather than popular stocks in a talk at the chamber of commerce dinner here March 19, repeated his advice in the April issue of Forbes' magazine.

Some recovering in the Florida real estate market already is noticeable, he said, and mentioned gains in important Florida cities. He then discussed agricultural promise, especially in citrus, truck and sugar cane, and predicted further development in future years.

Mr. Forbes wrote as follows: "Florida is now building solidly. In a talk before the Tampa chamber of commerce on March 19, I said: 'It would be much safer to buy well-selected Florida real estate than to buy the popular stocks on the New York Stock exchange.' Within a week the stock lost more than a billion dollars. On the following day they collapsed quite as fast as they had risen."

"Much property positively is on the margin of a crash. The next movement in that tropical state is bound to be upward. Some recovery has already set in. It is significant that more tourists, than ever before wintered in certain cities. Palm Beach was extremely popular. Miami and Miami Beach were very widely patronized. St. Petersburg had to call upon private families to take care of the overflow from her hotels. Jacksonville—the upgrade. In Tampa most lines of activity show distinct gains. Even more important, Florida has regained confidence in herself and in her future.

"Agricultural developments are impressive. The Dahlberg sugar growing and milling operations are being rapidly expanded and are becoming a factor of unique interest and promise. Barron G. Collier's operations in Collier county are on a gigantic scale. Palmer farms, near Sarasota, are achieving extraordinary results. Several thousands of acres under thorough water control, intensively planted by purchasers of individual farms, are yielding

ROBINSON FEARS 'RAZZING' WHICH IS AWAITING HIM

Pilot Of Robins Will Face "Kidding For Making Poor Trade"

NEW YORK, Apr. 13.—(INS)—Wilbert Robinson, pious pilot of the Brooklyn Robins, is strangely subdued this Spring as he leads his flock northward for inspection by the Brooklyn fans. For as he nears the gates of the city, where churches are erected toward the sky and pop bottles are thrown on the ball field, he can hear the star-growing rumble of the avil chorus in the distance.

The avil chorus is that section of Brooklyn fandom which is forever waiting for a chance to pick on the general Uncle Robbie.

This year the ranks have been swelled because of the suspicion that Uncle Wilbert has omitted a manager's unpardonable sin—getting stung in a trade.

Reports from the Southland say that Glenn Wright, the shortstop obtained from Pittsburgh, may be laid up for part or all of the season because of an injured arm. Many fans were dubious about the trade last Winter because it meant the loss of Jess Petty, the sterling southpaw. If Wright is incapacitated for any length of time, the club will be in a bad way.

Rancher Proves He Is Not Father Of Wife's Adopted Son

Investigation Revealed That Child Was A Wolf Found On Doorstep Of A Denver Home, and After It Was Taken In By A Foundling Home It Was "Appropriated" By Mrs. Long Before She Obtained A Divorce

DENVER, Apr. 13.—(INS)—Walter A. Long, captain in the U. S. Army during the Spanish-American War, and a rancher of Monte Vista, Colo., recently proved to the satisfaction of the law that a 3-year-old boy living with his divorced wife was not his son, and then secured to adopt the child.

Investigation revealed that the child was a wolf found on the doorstep of a Denver home, and after it was taken in by a foundling home it was "appropriated" by Mrs. Long before she obtained a divorce.

This legal investigation is only one of four that resulted from Mrs. Long's alleged attempt to convince Long the child was his own offspring.

The second in importance, at least to the homeless wife, was that Long started adoption proceedings and declared he was going to name the child Walter A. Long, Jr., and make him his sole heir. Long owns several ranches in the vicinity of Monte Vista.

Next, according to Long, will come action to have Mrs. Long's divorce decree set aside. He claims she obtained it on fraudulent grounds. He will then file divorce proceedings himself, he declares.

Uncle Wilbert is in for a merry shacking at the hands of the avil pounders.

Only Fair Start
If Wright is useless the club will have only a fair pitching staff and very little batting strength. The former Pittsburgh star has been coupled upon to win many a game through his ability to drive in runs.

And so Uncle Wilbert is bringing his nephews home with fear and trembling.

Gas Tax May Be Cut From Income Taxes, C. E. Myers Learns

"It won't make me mad," said C. E. Myers, Seaboard Oil Co. agent, "if Uncle Sam deducts gasoline tax from the income taxes of persons who have to pay income tax; and that deduction is legitimate according to a recent item in the Automobile Daily News. The ruling was made in a case in Michigan which has a gas tax of two cents and is applicable in all the 17 states that have gas taxes, ranging from two cents to five cents per gallon."

"The fact that the gas tax may be deducted from income tax will probably have some effect on motoring. Of course, almost without exception, the money levied from gasoline tax is applied to the funds for building and maintaining highways and it is quite probable that we could not find a better way of financing our fine system of highways."

"I notice, also, that the output of automobiles for the first quarter of this year is 54 per cent greater than the first quarter of last year with the Ford and Chevrolet output comprising 52 per cent of total production. I have noticed a gradual increase in the demand for Toluene Motor Oil for these makes of cars. The U. S. Bureau of Mines recently made an official acknowledgment of the high quality of Cabot Creek crude from which only Toluene 100 per cent Super Pennsylvania Motor Oil is made."

"Toluene Motor oils are sold with an absolute guarantee of satisfaction; if one oil does not equal or excel another you ever used, your money will be cheerfully refunded."
